CORNELL UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

1922-23

To the President of the University:

SIR: I beg leave to submit my annual report on the condition and needs of the University Library, and the work done during the year ending June 30, 1923.

In my last report I called your attention to the need for early consideration of the pressure already being felt for more room, not alone for the housing of the books, but for other needs; and this year in particular, when an unusually large number of books have been given to the library, the need for storage and more room for workers has been felt.

The Wason collection of books on China and the Chinese which has been in hand since 1918 has now been absorbed into the library, classified, catalogued, and shelved. With the exception of a comparatively few manuscripts, including some beautifully hand-painted volumes that are being held for more careful consideration, all are now accessible to users.

During the year the largest gift of books came from Mrs. Mary A. Wynne, wife of Lewis B. Wynne, late of Washington, D. C., and their son, John H. Wynne, Cornell '98. The exact number of volumes in this collection cannot be given at this time since they are not all unpacked, but the number is not far from 20,000 volumes. This library being very general in character, especially in the fields of history and literature, duplicates books already in the library to a considerable extent, nearly one-half thus far checked being duplicates. Already there have come to hand some rare and exceptional items, and others may be expected. The most striking among these thus far discovered is a copy of Landor's Simonidea, printed in Bath, England, in 1806. This work was thought to have been completely lost down to 1889, when copies came to light.

A collection of books was received from Professor T. F. Crane, when his campus home was given up. The duplicates in this collection were forwarded to Wells College Library at the request of the donor, leaving about 200 volumes to add to the University Library.

With the settlement of the estate of Professor W. T. Hewett the library received his distinctly valuable collection of Bibles and Bible commentaries together with the materials that he had accumulated for the work done on the History of Cornell and on the Bibliography of Goldwin Smith.

Ex-Governor William Sulzer, late in the year sent to the University Library his collection of letters, telegrams, scrap books, etc., dealing with the period when he was interested in the affairs of the State of New York. Much of this material had been well arranged and bound. This makes a good addition to the political history of our State.

The family of Mrs. Cynthia Morgan St. John some time since gave to the library the Ithaca imprints and books about Ithaca and by Ithaca writers, which she had collected during many years. This collection has now been merged with the Ithaca imprints that were already in the University Library and a special group made of books and periodicals printed in Ithaca down to 1870, arranged chronologically by date of printing. Among these is a long series of almanacs with varying titles. Beginning with 1842 a series known as the Farmer's Almanack comes down to within the past few years. The greater part of this was the gift of Mr. William A. Church, the present representative of a long line of printers and publishers, whose work extends over a period of one hundred years.

The second installment of Egyptian papyri was received during the year and it has been carefully worked over by Professor Westermann and his assistants, with the object of arranging and classifying the materials for all future use. The separate pieces have been photographed to provide prints for use in New York City where Professor Westermann goes next year, while the originals together with the photographic plates remain in our library.

From the New York State Library by exchange we have been able to add about 40 volumes of early Senate and Assembly journals, carrying the library set of New York State documents from the 21st session back to the 9th session.

To the library manuscripts through the kindness of Mr. C. W. Curtis, '88, we have been able to add an original author's copy of the national song, "I wish I was in Dixie's land," 1859, which was written by the one-time famous minstrel, Daniel D. Emmett.

An interesting gift was received from W. F. E. Gurley, '77, in the form of an edition of Champlin's Cyclopedia of painters and paintings, beautifully Grangerized at a large expense. The usual four volumes have been swelled to twelve volumes by the introduction of prints, etchings and other forms of illustration, thereby making a work of great reference value in fine arts for all time.

At the close of this library year Mr. Andrew C. White, who has been continuously connected with the library since 1889, retires from active service. Those who have worked with him day after day know how faithful and valuable his services have been. Besides his main duties as superintendent of accessions he has carefully looked after the needs of Barnes Hall Library as a labor of love. The Library is fortunate in having secured for the work laid down by Mr. White, the services of Mr. A. V. Babine, who received his early training in library work in this library and has had wide and valuable experience in other libraries of the United States.

The usual lectures on bibliography two hours each week during the year have been given.

ACCESSIONS DIVISION

The special gifts to the library have already been mentioned and a list of the donors is appended to this report.

The amount of money available for purchase of books at the beginning of the college year was $34,433.39 of which $9,993.02 was the income from funds devoted to special collections. The large reserve that had accumulated during the war period had been generously used in previous years so that the reserve fund during the past year has been about the normal amount. The general library during the year added 10,912 volumes of which 511 are counted in the special collections of Dante, Petrarch, Icelandic, and Wason books.

The following table sets forth the present status of the various groups of books and other materials in the library:

PERIODICAL DIVISION

The work of this division covers the receipt and record of all serial publications received by the library and the use made of such materials so far as they are kept in the periodical room. A constant stream of serial materials pours daily into the library. When there is reason to expect that they will come regularly, a complete record is made. When only odd numbers are received they are filed alphabetically with specimen numbers for such needs as may arise. The indexes to such materials are kept in the periodical room, thus facilitating the work of using, not alone the current numbers, but the bound volumes.

Periodicals currently received:

By subscription	1,220
By gift and exchange	1,040
Bound volumes kept on open shelves	3,079
Current periodicals on open shelves	761
Volumes bound during the year	2,972

CATALOGUE DIVISION

Although the force of catalogue workers was increased during the year the books accumulated during the past few years have not been entirely catalogued. Much of this material is not of current use, but ordered on the general plan of building up the library against future needs and therefore the delay has not interfered with the use of the library. Whenever an item is in immediate demand it is made a special order and put through at once. With the added workers in this division the limit of working space now available has been reached.

The following record shows the number of entries, both typewritten and printed, filed in the general catalogue:

Number of titles added to the catalogue	7,030
Number of written cards added	8,752
Number of printed cards added	11,777
Number of cards added to the Library of Congress catalogue	29,309
Number of cards added to the Harvard Library catalogue	2,880

The work of cataloguing the Wason books dealing with China and the Chinese has been finished with the exception of the manuscripts and some books in Chinese that need the services of a native of China.

The work of preparing the annual list of publications by University officers to be appended to the President's Annual report has been done in this division. A cumulative list of these entries has been made with the expectation that a bibliography covering such publications from the beginning of the University may some time be published.

READERS DIVISION

The use made of the general library so far as records are kept is about the same as last year. The reading room use shows a small decrease which may come from the crowded condition of the reading room at times, which would cause students to take for home use such books as are allowed to go from the library. The home use shows a corresponding small increase.

The library has been kept open 308 days during the year, being closed on Sunday and the five leading holidays. The number of registered borrowers for home use was 1,846. The record of use is as follows:

Reading room use	117,145
Seminary room use	3,782
Laboratory and department libraries	5,521
Home use	43,194
Foreign loans	190
Borrowed from other libraries	104

Some 20,000 volumes of the most used and valuable books are kept in the library at all times, and so far as possible are placed on shelves that students may get first hand knowledge of the books. In addition to these, about 5,000 volumes have been held in special reserve from time to time as the class work required.

Since the period of the war there has been a noticeable increase in the careless, not to say lawless, use of books in the library. In order to give students an opportunity to know books from personal contact as large a number as is possible, is placed on open shelves. This privilege is abused by some who take books so placed from the library without making any record, thus depriving others of the use of the books, sometimes permanently, when they are not returned. Some books thus taken are brought back to the library in time, but the number permanently removed is altogether too large. If the honor system of the University could be applied to the use of the library it would be a distinct gain for all users.

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

The three collections having special curators, one working full time and the other two on half time, have made the usual additions provided for by the endowment for each. The delay in receiving the income from the Wason endowment has postponed consideration for a special curator for this collection. To get the materials catalogued and available for use funds were borrowed from the general book fund, which amount is being replaced as the earnings on the Wason fund are turned over. When this loan has been replaced and additional funds are available, it will be possible to begin purchases to fill in the many lacunae now in the collection.

STACKS DIVISION

The annual inventory of the year brought to light over 200 volumes that had been reported lost, which loss was due to careless borrowers who had taken them without leaving any record. The usual number of misplaced volumes on the shelves in the stacks were restored to their classified places.

The annual checking of the books drawn for use in the Department libraries and laboratories, showed a small increase in the number of volumes so drawn with a small per cent of volumes that could not be accounted for. This may be due, in part, to the practice of allowing such books to be drawn by individuals without the matter being reported back to the main library. Such conditions are reported to the borrower with the expectation that they will be corrected and the volume returned to the library, or the record changed.

Respectfully submitted,
 WILLARD AUSTEN,
 Librarian.
