Do married men live longer?

THEY CERTAINLY DO! In fact, census figures show that death rates for married men average about 30% less than those for single men.

This happy fact may be one reason why more and more married men prefer a Prudential retirement plan. Prudential income endowments, like all Prudential insurance, can be planned to cover your own special requirements, to include many specific benefits you may wish to have, to be paid in the way you prefer. Above all, such plans provide a safe and sure way to protect your family while at the same time you build a fund for your own future enjoyment.

Yes, it is a good feeling to know your chances for a long life with your family are excellent—but it is better still to know that the unknown future is provided for. Ask your Prudential representative about a Prudential program especially designed for you—he'll be glad to help you at any time.

New Football Coach

APPOINTMENT of George K. (Lefty) James, above, as head football coach was announced by President Edmund E. Day, January 10, on recommendation of the Board on Physical Education and Athletics. Assistant coach under Carl Snavelly for nine years and chief strategist under Edward C. McKeever for two years, James was the first choice of an alumni committee appointed by the President which canvassed sixty candidates. Members of this committee were Alumni Trustee George R. Pfann '24 of the Board, Frederick M. Gillies '18, Bernard A. Savage '26, Bartholomew J. Viviano '33, William W. McKeever '39, and Frank K. Finneran '41.

With the promotion of James, Emerald B. Wilson, Assistant Director of Physical Education and Athletics, was assigned to supervise the University's physical education program, set up by James in the early war years. James supervised the compulsory physical training of Army, Navy, and civilian students. Wilson, former head coach of basketball, will continue as assistant to Director Robert J. Kane '34.

James immediately announced that all the other assistant football coaches would be retained. They are Mose P. Quinn who is also baseball coach, Arthur B. Boeringer, Pat Filley, Ray Van Orman '08 who is also lacrosse coach, Alva E. Kelley '41, Harold F. McCullough '41, and Robert L. Culen. James will assign coaches from this staff to the Junior Varsity, Freshman, and 150-pound teams, and will supervise all football activities.

The new coach, who was schooled in the single-wing system under Snavelly at Bellefonte Academy and Bucknell, hopes to combine this system with the T formation, introduced at Cornell by McKeever. He has tentatively scheduled the start of spring practice for April 14.

James, now forty-one years old, was born in New Cumberland, Pa., and played football and other sports at the high school there. He first met Snavelly at Bellefonte, where he played end. He also played end at Bucknell where Snavelly started his college coaching. James captained the freshman football and varsity baseball teams at Bucknell and was graduated in 1930.

From 1930-34, James played semi-professional baseball, umpired in baseball leagues in Pennsylvania, and was coach at Canton and Jersey Shore, Pa., High Schools. He rejoined Snavelly in 1934 as assistant football coach at the University of North Carolina. He came to Cornell in the spring of 1936 when Snavelly succeeded Gil-mour Dobie as head coach.

Early in his stay at Cornell, James also was Junior Varsity basketball coach and acted as head coach of baseball during Quinn's absence in the Navy.

James will start the 1947 season without the services of one of the co-captains elected after the Pennsylvania game November 28. Joseph L. Martin '44 of Camden, N. J., full-back, left the University after the Christmas holidays. The other co-captain is Walter A. Kretz '45 of Amityville, L. I., a halfback.

Basketball Campaign Hot

VARSITY and Junior Varsity basketball teams played nine engagements in the first three weeks of January.

The Varsity won three of its five games and suffered its first loss in the Eastern Intercollegiate League. It also lost the services of Captain Robert W. Gale '48, center and the team's top scorer in the first eight games with 115 points. Playing against Harvard in Barton Hall, January 11, Gale injured his knee in the first half but continued in action until a substitute replaced him late in the second half. X-rays showed a cracked kneecap.

Cornell defeated Harvard, 56-29, with Gale scoring 15 points. Without him, Cornell lost to Yale, 36-39, at New Haven January 18 but eked out a 38-35 victory over Dartmouth at Hanover January 20. The Yale victory was distinctly an upset, for Cornell had defeated Yale handily, 64-41, in their first meeting in Barton Hall.

In games outside the League, Cornell lost to Syracuse, 48-52, at Syracuse, January 8 and defeated Canisius, 39-36, in Barton Hall January 15, thereby squaring the season's account with the Buffalo team. In their first game at Buffalo, Canisius won, 50-40.

The Yale defeat cost Cornell first place in the League standing as of January 21. Columbia and Princeton topped the teams with two victories and no defeats. Cornell was third with three victories in four games.

Cornell failed to protect an early lead in the Syracuse game, and the Syracuse reserves pulled the game out of the fire in the last eight minutes. Cornell held a 31-23 lead at the half. William C. Arrison '48, guard, was the high scorer with 13 points. Gale, who did not finish the game because of five personal fouls, scored 10, as did Hillary A. Chollet '49, guard.

The Harvard game was close until the four-minute mark in the second half when Cornell broke a 26-26 tie to score 15 consecutive points. James T. Gale '48, forward, almost matched his brother in scoring, dropping 14 points to 15 for the captain.

Gale's absence from the lineup was noticeable in the Canisius, Yale, and Dartmouth games. Cornell's point total, well above 40 in the earlier games, dropped into the 30's in these three.

The Canisius game was one of the most exciting in Barton Hall's history. The visitors pulled into a 16-6 lead in the first thirteen minutes, but Cornell fought back to trail by only 5 points, 18-23, at the half. Roger D. Booze '45, who plays at center and forward, and Arrison topped the scoring in the half. Cornell gained a 26-25 lead in the first five minutes of the second half, lost it, and tied the count at 33-all. With three minutes to go, Booze dropped a field goal. Niland of Canisius converted a free throw, and Chollet put Cornell 3 points ahead, 37-34. Cornell froze the ball, allowed one more Canisius field goal, and won.

James Gale with 8 points and Chollet and Arrison, each with 7, topped the scoring against Yale, but Cornell's attack was weakened early in the second half when Booze left the game for five fouls. Yale's Lavelli scored 14 points, 8 of them on successive free throws.

Edward T. Peterson '48, the 6-foot, 9-inch center whose play has been on and off during the season, was definitely "on" against Dartmouth. He scored 17 points, 10 of them on field goals. He clinched the victory with a pivot shot in the last four minutes.

J-V Wins One

The Junior Varsity team found the going a bit tougher over the same stretch, winning only one of four games.

They defeated the Cortland State Teachers junior varsity, 48-37, before the Harvard game in Barton Hall January 11. Losses were to Syracuse, 37-39, at Syracuse January 8; to Canisius, 42-53, at home January 15; and to Colgate, 37-60, at Hamilton January 18.

Best scoring performances were 12 points by Richard Savitt '50 against Canisius and the same total by Paul L. Lansaw '50 against Syracuse.

Navy Takes Swimmers

AFTER twenty-six consecutive victories in dual meets, Cornell swimmers met defeat January 11 by the slim margin of 3 points. The victor was the US Naval Academy in the pool at Annapolis. The score was 39-36.

A week later, Cornell returned to the win column with a decisive 56-19 victory over Colgate at Hamilton. The Junior Varsity team also scored a victory over Colgate the same day, 56-9, in competition cut to eight instead of the usual nine events.

Petrus G. A. Van Dijk '49 set the pace for Cornell at Annapolis, winning the 220-yard freestyle in 2:24.5 and the 440-yard freestyle in 5:21.7. Charles H. Reynolds '48 won the 100-yard freestyle in 0:55. Cornell's 400-yard freestyle relay team of John K. Cousens '48, Robert A. Ornitz '48, Robert K. Dennett '48, and Richard J. Reynolds '49 also earned a first place.

Against Colgate, Van Dijk again won the same events, a feat matched by Richard Reynolds in the 50- and 100-yard freestyle races. Irving M. Katz '47 won the 150-yard backstroke and Ralph C. Ware '47, the diving. The 300-yard medley relay team of Katz, Joseph R. DiStasio '48, and Dennett and the 400-yard freestyle relay team, this time composed of Cousens, Richard J. Huff '48, Captain H. Martin '47, and John B. Rogers '49, also won.

Wrestlers Lose

WRESTLING team dropped two decisions, one by 4 points, in mid-January. Syracuse won, 19-15, at Syracuse January 11 and Lehigh triumphed, 29-3, at Bethlehem January 18. The Junior Varsity wrestlers also lost to Lehigh, 16-14.

Cornell's three victories in the eight Syracuse bouts were all scored on falls. Kenneth R. Ryman '49 threw Erickson in the 121-pound class, Joseph W. Calby Jr. '50 tossed Cowell in the 128-pound class, and Captain Carl W. Almquist '47, former intercollegiate champion at 155 pounds, threw Mulligan in the 165-pound division.

Cornell's 3 points against Lehigh were salvaged by a decision earned by John G. Raine '48 over Burns, 3 points to 2, in the 135-pound class.

In the Junior Varsity match, falls were scored by John Wilkinson, III '50 in the 175-pound class, and Harry J. Collingwood '50 in the unlimited division.

Fencers Start Again

FENCING team, returning to competition for the first time since the war, scored victories in its first two engagements. The fencers defeated Columbia, 14½-12½, in New York City January 10 and the US Military Academy, 15-12, at West Point January 11.

In the two matches, Marshall Natapoff '48 won five saber bouts, James A. Chase '49 won two epee duels and tied one, and Thomas H. Latimer '49 and Stuart M. Paltrow '49 each won four foils bouts.

Two Hockey Losses

HOCKEY team scored one point in two games in January, losing to the US Military Academy, 1-8, at West Point January 11 and to Yale, 0-13, at New Haven January 18. The lone goal was scored by Walter S. Schmidt, Jr. '49, left wing.

A game with Colgate on Beebe Lake January 8 ended in a "no contest" decision because of insufficient lighting on the rink. The teams played one period in fading daylight, with Colgate achieving a 2-1 lead.

Polo Season Opens

ROTC POLO team opened a fourteen-game indoor schedule at Newark, N. J., January 18, losing to the US Military Academy, 6-13. Charles Gandal '48 and Cecil D. Cooper '47 each scored 3 goals.

The balance of the schedule:

Skiers Place Third

SKI team placed third behind St. Lawrence and Colgate in intercollegiate competition at Snow Ridge, near Turin, January 11 and 12. Point scores in the combined slalom and downhill events were St. Lawrence 502.9, Colgate 509.7, Cornell 548.2, Syracuse 568.4, Union 644.8, and Hamilton 669.4.

Charles S. Dake '50 placed second in the slalom, tenth in the downhill race, and third in individual points.

NEW BASKETBALL ARRANGEMENTS ACCOMMODATE CROWDS IN BARTON

With the court turned east and west on the huge drill floor, new steel stands to the eaves (background above) and seats surrounding the court and in the balcony, nominal capacity is now 8,200 spectators. Glass backboards permit play to be watched from any angle. This is the Harvard game, where 6,500 spectators overflowed the seats. Bollinger '46

TO THE EDITOR:

I note with some concern that some clod has had the bad taste to send a cartoon from Collier's to the ALUMNI NEWS in which it was recently reproduced.

This does a great injustice to our good friend Jimmy Munns. It does not even look like him, and everyone knows that Jimmy could not get into an attic without the aid of an elevator.

Things have surely come to a pretty pass when readers of the esteemed ALUMNI NEWS stoop to such tactics as to poke fun at our venerable and serious-minded Class president. Fie!

Engineers Talk Labor

CORNELL Society of Engineers, meeting January 14 at the Cornell Club in New York, had 120 members to hear "The Labor Situation" discussed by Thomas G. Spates '13, vice-president in charge of personnel administration, General Foods Corp. Carl F. Ostergren '21 is chairman of the Society's meetings committee.

To Study Alcoholism

MEDICAL COLLEGE in New York, with $150,000 from seven distilling companies and the Research Council on Problems of Alcohol, will undertake a five-year study of the causes of chronic alcoholism. The research was announced January 14 by Dean Joseph C. Hinsey and Dr. Lyman C. Duryea, medical director of the Council.

Dr. Oscar Diethelm, Psychiatry, will direct the study, using facilities of both the Medical College and New York Hospital. "At this stage, and for some time to come," the announcement said, "the project will be focused on the study of causes of alcoholism rather than on how to treat it, and for that reason the patient group under study will probably not be large." It is planned to make a complete study of each patient, his personality status and an analysis of his relation to his environment and life situation. He will be given constant physical studies and laboratory and psychologic examinations, both as a bed or ambulatory patient in the Hospital and as an out-patient after his discharge.

Funds for the project, which is a continuation of work that a research team at the Hospital has been carrying on for five years, were contributed by members of the Research Council, together with special grants from the National Association of Alcoholic Beverage Importers, Inc.; Park & Tilford Distillers, Inc.; Glenmore Distilleries Co.; National Distillers Products Corp.; Schenley Distillers Corp.; Brown-Forman Distillers Corp.; and Hiram Walker & Sons, Inc.

Time Was . . .

Twenty Years Ago

February, 1927—Another Junior Week has been filed away in the dockets of history. Only fragments of decorative crepe paper, an epidemic of head colds and blisters on the feet, fond and beautiful memories, and a faint sweet fragrance of talcum powder remain in the fraternities. At this writing, the halls which lately resounded with the blast of sackbut and saxophone are still, save for the gurgles and murmurs of occasional loud sleepers, and save for the swish of the janitor's broom, relentlessly sweeping the Junior Week of 1927 into the ash-cans of Oblivion.

A tour of inspection undertaken by your agent at 2 a.m. on Sunday failed to reveal those scenes of debauchery castigated by the reverend members of Boards of Temperance and Morals. At one of the older houses a dance was in progress which for decorum might have been the Inaugural Ball of John Quincy Adams. Another party visited by this member of the Morals Squad, disguised in a dress suit, might perhaps be described as a bit of a brawl, though nothing took place more sinful than gymnastic dancing and a good deal of noise.

With the illusion of spring about us, Coach Wray sent two Varsity crews onto the Inlet February 11, the earliest date ever recorded.

Ten Years Ago

February, 1937—"John D. Williams '39 of Cleveland has been suffering from motor troubles. On January 15 he discovered downtown, and purchased for $15, a second-hand automobile. Before he had driven the car all the way up to the DKE house it had cost him $50 more. The items on the bill were: for speeding, $25; for driving without license plates, $10; for driving without an operator's license, $10; miscellaneous, $5. Having learned his lesson, Mr. Williams parked his purchase on the tennis court and borrowed a fraternal motorcycle on which to go back downtown for a whole lot of licenses. That was $10 more. It appears that one must have an operator's license for a motorcycle also. Officer Dinty Moore made all the arrests involved.

"The problem of making the new Alumni House at 3 East Avenue 'a more human place' is being abundantly solved by the University's group of professional artists. They are to exhibit there in turn, at monthly intervals. Professor Kenneth L. Washburn '27 is the first exhibitor, and is showing six oils (landscapes, mostly) and a bronze figure. He will be followed by Professors Brauner, Stone, Midjo, Baker, et al."—Romeyn Berry '04

From Far Below...

By Bob Bliss '30

A HALF-PINT Broadway playboy named Alvin Paris made a snowball and started it rolling down a long hill the other day. Paris was brought up on charges of trying to bribe a couple of professional football players to throw a championship game. He dined 'em and wine'd 'em in the best sales tradition, including throwing a chorus girl at them who could sit on her head, among other things. Then he waded in with the pitch, to scramble metaphors, and offered them happy, independent old age and all those things based on material things that the average guy goes for. You know the rest!

New York's mayor indignantly did his best to clean up the situation and now New Jersey's attorney general is on the trail and budding legislators in various States are clamoring for a sweeping investigation of all sports, amateur and professional.

Well, we're no moralist, but maybe it's a good thing to throw open the windows once in a while and let in a little fresh air. Sports, including the college variety, have been tainted now and then by self-seekers who had an axe to grind that was far from the realm of manly bodies and clean competition as end results of undergraduate participation.

Don't get us wrong; we don't know of any gambling syndicates that pad their paunches on college sports. But lots of people hate to be on a losing side, and have other ways of shaping the ends that make for happy alma mater scoreboards. We're all for smoking it out.

GODDESS MINERVA RETURNS FROM WAR TO DECORATE WILLARD STRAIGHT HALL "IVY ROOM"

There have been good coaches and bad coaches; as men and as technicians. They have been pampered and pilloried. Usually a strong-willed group of alumni can steer matters so the proper scalps are gotten in time. Maybe it's that inalienable alumni right that makes Joe Alumnus think he can pull the wires long after he has taken the Lehigh out of Ithaca, sheepskin in hand.

We maintain that a thoughtful study of the problem by the authorities on the home grounds—and by that we mean the administration at Ithaca—is where the problem belongs and the privilege remains. When we get so organized in this man's world called sports that we weigh gate receipts against character, and manpower against win-power, let's take stock of what the probability is of our college "economy" becoming slightly lopsided.

It is our private opinion that Cornell, far from being smug on the cleanliness of its sports, can point a bit with pride. But let us not overlook the danger of the too-enthusiastic alumni support of the winning-side thesis, or all the fun goes out of the play.

General Maxwell Taylor of West Point says his cadets are going to quit the long-haul, one-night-stand leagues and settle down to backyard games, because he wants the boys to have more "fun." That's a word we'd almost lost sight of in the ruckus. Maybe we ought to go back where we started and try to re-instill a little more fun in the game for the players!

Veterinarians Make Gift

VETERINARY Alumni Association, meeting January 2 in Olin Hall, presented to the University a check for $5,000, to be used as a loan fund for Veterinary students. Created last January in memory of all deceased Veterinary alumni, the "Veterinary Memorial Fund" was over-subscribed in one year. President Edmund E. Day accepted the check for the University. General Alumni Secretary Emmet J. Murphy '22 also spoke.

Dr. Winfield F. Stone '35 of Albany

During the Christmas recess, Hugh Troy, Jr. '26, recently back from the Pacific as a captain of Army Intelligence, conceived and executed in brilliant colors this decoration on the red canopy over the serving counter in the former Army mess hall, now the "Ivy Room" of Willard Straight Hall.

"Minerva, goddess of both War and Learning, finds these dual controls perplexing. Too long a rover of the world's battle-fronts, she has neglected the Ivy League seats of learning which sprout from her lamp of knowledge. Owls, flocking there in unprecedented numbers, find the plant sagging under the burden of so many fellow-scholars. 'Minerva, come home and water your Ivy,' they screech, as we see the harried Goddess casting aside her implements of war to heed their plaintive hoots."

Troy was assisted in executing his mural by Royal H. Woodin of Ithaca, Sophomore in Architecture, and his name is also signed to it.

was elected president of the Association, and so becomes a director of the Cornell Alumni Association. He succeeds Dr. Edward R. Cushing '18 of Plainfield, N. J., who presided at the meeting. Dr. Frederic F. Fehr '03 of Buffalo was elected vice-president and Professor Alexander Zeissig '23, on leave in Albany as rabies consultant for the State Department of Health, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Annual meeting of the Association was held during the thirty-ninth annual conference for veterinarians, which brought 330 veterinarians, many of them alumni, to the Campus January 2-4. The three-day conference included lectures by the staff of the Veterinary College and guest speakers, clinical movies and panel discussions on professional subjects. Among the alumni guest speakers were Drs. James F. Roberts '12 of Batavia, John L. McAuliff '18 of Cortland, George H. Hopson '28 of New York City, and Sidney M. Martin '38 of Chateaugay.

Conference dinner in Willard Straight Hall this year honored Professors Earl Sunderville '08, Veterinary Anatomy, and Howard J. Milks '04, Materia Medica, who will retire this year. Professor Raymond R. Birch '12, Veterinary Medicine, presided, and Provost Arthur S. Adams spoke for the University.

Jobs Open

JANUARY Job Bulletin of the University Placement Service lists eighty-six positions available to alumni registrants. Most of these require technical training; thirteen are for women.

Bulletins are sent periodically to all registrants of the Placement Service whose names are on file either at Willard Straight Hall, Ithaca, or at 107 East 48th Street, New York City.

Manila Club Resumes

TWENTY-FIVE Cornellians, meeting in Manila for dinner December 11, revived the Cornell Club of the Philippines, which was inactive during the war. Six of the group were undergraduates-on-leave in the Army, who brought the latest news of the University. The others, ranging from the Classes of '09 to '42, included five alumni who had held a Cornell Reunion during the war in the Santo Tomas internment camp.

It was recalled that before the war, the Cornell Club of the Philippines outnumbered with 180 members the alumni group there of any other university; Michigan being next with 175.

Unanimously, the pre-war officers of the Club were re-elected: Fay C. Bailey '19, president; Pedro SyQuia '24, secretary; and Victor Buenacmino '11, life secretary. The meeting was reported by PFC John Marcham '48, staff member of the Daily Pacifican, Army newspaper. He is the son of Professor Frederick G. Marcham, PhD '26, History.

Carey '15 Nominated

NOMINATION of Matthew Carey '15 for election as Alumni Trustee of the University for the five-year term beginning next July 1 was filed with the University Treasurer, January 21.

Carey is secretary of the Class of '15, served as Alumni Trustee from 1939-44, and was president of the Alumni Fund Council for two years, 1944-45 and 1945-46, when the Fund set new records. He is a past-president of the Cornell Club of Michigan and is chairman of the Michigan-Indiana alumni committee for McMullen Regional Scholarships in Engineering. On the Board of Trustees, he was a member of the committee on buildings and grounds, Board of Student Health and Hygiene, and audit committee.

He received the CE in 1915; was Senior president of the Student Laundry Agency, and is chairman of the board of directors of Student Agencies, Inc. He was a member of the undergraduate committee which organized the first Student Council; is a member of Tau Beta Pi. He heads the Detroit, Mich., firm of Matthew Carey & Co., dealers in municipal bonds and consultants on municipal finance. He and Mrs. Carey live in Grosse Pointe, Mich. Their daughter is Idell C. Carey '50.

University Charter provides that any ten degree holders may nominate a candidate for Alumni Trustee by filing nomination with the University Treasurer on or before April 1. Ballots are mailed shortly thereafter to all degree holders, and the election of two Trustees each year is announced at the annual meeting of the Alumni Association at Ithaca in June. Carey is the second nominee for the five-year term beginning next July 1, Charles M. Stotz '21 having been nominated last September 17. Term of Alumni Trustee Albert R. Mann '04 expires June 30 and a second will be elected to succeed Mary H. Donlon '20, who was coöpted by the Board last June for a five-year term.

Connecticut Women

SEVENTEEN members of the Cornell Women's Club of Western Connecticut met January 15 at the Darien home of Mrs. Richard Seipt (Virginia Barthel) '32.

Great Music

AUDIENCE at the Bailey Hall concert of the sixty-six-year-old Roumanian artist and statesman, Georges Enesco, January 14, had a rare musical experience. His almost ungainly, saturnine bearing emphasized sharply the youthful appearance, suppleness, and strength of his hands and the exquisite music they drew from his violin.

Playing quite apparently for the music alone, he demonstrated his complete mastery of his instrument and the scores he played, and thoroughly won his audience. He must have impressed them all as a great and sincere artist of remarkable ability. His program included the music of Corelli, Mozart, Schumann, Chausson, Debussy, Szymanowski, Scarlatti, and Sarasate, with two encores by Kreisler and Bach. Not the least of the concert's success was due to the violinist's accompanist, Sanford Schlusel.

Washington Celebrates

FOUNDER'S Day dinner of the Cornell Club of Washington, D. C., January 11 at the Roger Smith Hotel, had as guest speaker Professor Dexter S. Kimball, Mechanical Engineering, Emeritus. Greetings were extended by the Club president, Ralph I. Graves '07, and Mrs. Henry Gichner (Isabelle Saloman) '29, president of the Cornell Women's Club of Washington. The toastmaster, Archie M. Palmer '18, also called upon Sao-ke Alfred Sze '01, former Chinese Ambassador to the United States. More than 100 Cornell men and women attended the dinner and dance which followed.

Chairman of the committee was Ralph L. Hill, Jr. '31.

Cornell Alumni News

On The Campus and Down the Hill

Cornell Daily Sun published a series of five articles last month by an anonymous Sophomore, urging that military drill be made elective. An editorial note pointed out that they did "not necessarily represent an editorial policy" of the Sun. Premise of the series was that "the people of the United Nations pin their hopes for world peace on universal disarmament. . ." The day after the last article, a Sun editorial titled "Abolish Compulsion!" endorsed most of the points made by the anonymous writer. It was eight years after World War I that nearly 2,000 students signed a petition to abolish compulsory drill. This and subsequent efforts, one of which won approval by the University Faculty, were never acted upon by the Board of Trustees. This time, it is only a few months after official cessation of hostilities.

Georges Enesco, here for a violin concert in Bailey Hall January 14, renewed old acquaintance with Music Department Librarian A. Scherschewsky ("Sherry" to the students), who graduated with him more than half a century ago at the Vienna Conservatory. Sherry was on stage, beaming at his old friend as he turned the pages for Enesco's accompanist.

Queen of the CURW "Snow Ball," elected January 18 by the 200 dancers in the Willard Straight Memorial Room, was Marion E. Hosie '45, daughter of John W. Hosie '10 of East Aurora, and very pretty in a strapless black velvet gown. Music was by Richard E. Flight '47 of Ithaca and his orchestra.

Coaches' Night in the Willard Straight Hall Memorial Room was well attended January 21. George K. James, new coach of football, made the principal speech of the evening; he drew a round of applause when he declared "A coach must give the crowd the idea that he is leading the parade, when actually he is being chased by the alumni." Director of Athletics Robert J. Kane '34 introduced James along with Assistant Director Emerald B. Wilson; Walter C. O'Connell '12, wrestling; R. Harrison Sanford, rowing; Mose P. Quinn, baseball; Dr. Ran Van Orman '08, lacrosse; Richard Lewis, tennis; Professor Frederick G. Marcham, PhD '26, History and boxing; Royner C. Greene, basketball; G. Scott Little, swimming; William A. Dillon, Jr., skiing; Georges Cointe, fencing; and Frank J. Kavanagh, trainer. Movies of the 1946 football season were shown, with free hot chocolate and doughnuts.

New Yorker for January 18 prints a story, "The Death of Matthew White," by Mrs. Gertrude Thomson Bryant, editorial assistant in the office of Vice-president S. C. Hollister.

Lectures: "Recent Work on Human Genetics," by Professor J. B. S. Haldane of University College, London, and "The Social Life and Language of Animals," by Professor Nikolaas Tinbergen of Leyden, January 13; "The Objectives of Our Policy in the Far East," by John C. Vincent, director of Far Eastern Affairs, US Department of State, January 22; "Zoological Explorations in West China, 1938-46," by Professor Ch'eng-Chao Liu, PhD '34, of West China Union University, January 24.

Law School Faculty members held a forum and audience-discussion on the portal-to-portal-pay issue, January 9, and in December, one on the John L. Lewis trial and its implications. Law students and those of Industrial and Labor Relations, invited to both, and of Business and Public Administration, invited to the former, packed the moot court room in Myron Taylor Hall on both occasions and took a lively part in the discussions.

FOUNDER'S DAY reception in Willard Straight Memorial Room, January 12, the day after Ezra Cornell's 140th birthday, was arranged by the Cornell Clubs of Ithaca (men and women). Guests of honor, introduced by County Judge Norman G. Stagg '26, president of the Cornell Club of Ithaca, included President and Mrs. Edmund E. Day, several emeritus professors, and four of the Founder's family: Mrs. Franklin C. Cornell, widow of Franklin C. Cornell '89, grandson; Solon A. Sternbergh '49, great-great-grandson, and Mrs. Sternbergh; Deborah and Gail Cornell, daughters of the late Franklin C. Cornell III and great-great-grandchildren of Ezra Cornell. Invited presidents of student organizations constituted most of the undergraduates who attended, with about 100 members of the Faculty and resident alumni. Mrs. Don Price led the Women's Glee Club in song.

Billiard expert Charles Peterson made his annual pilgrimage to the game room in Willard Straight Hall, January 15 and 16, dazzled the Cornell aficionados with two trick-shot exhibitions, and spent the rest of his time giving free lessons to the students who thronged around his table. Peterson tours American colleges, Army and Navy posts and hospitals, under auspices of the National Billiard Association and the Association of College Unions. In the old days, Mark Twain could say that "A proficiency at billiards is the sign of a misspent youth." Now you learn the game at college.

Radio awards came to two programs originating in University Station WHCU last month. National Council of Farmer Co-operatives selected "Today and Yesterday," sponsored Sunday mornings by the Dairymen's League and featuring commentary by Farmer Romeyn Berry '04, as the best radio advertising done by America's 10,000 farmer-owned co-ops. "The World at Noon," sponsored weekdays by the G.L.F. Exchange, won second place.

Music notes: a student recital of voice, piano, and violin was well attended in the Willard Straight Memorial Room, January 12. Henry L. Woodward of Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., gave an organ recital in Sage Chapel, January 19. Professor John M. Kuypers, Music, conducted the University Orchestra in a concert in Bailey Hall, January 26.

Announcement was made by University officials December 30 that employees of maintenance and service departments would henceforth receive time-and-a-half pay for their work over forty hours a week and paid vacations up to three weeks, depending upon length of service. The new scale affects some 600 employees of the departments of Buildings and Grounds, Residential Halls, Physical Education and Athletics, and the University Infirmary.

Behind in studies and facing possible probation, Donald P. Berens '47 of Massillon, Ohio, resigned as president of the Student Council. The Council, however, refused to accept his resignation, voted him a five-week leave of absence, and called on Vice-president Clyde S. LaDow '47 of Corydon, Pa., to take over during this period.

Two of Faculty Die

DEATH took two members of the Faculty in Ithaca last month: Professor Olaf M. Brauner, Fine Arts, Emeritus, January 3 at his home, 414 East Buffalo Street; and Professor Charles E. O'Rourke '17, Structural Engineering, January 10, after a long illness.

Professor Brauner was born in Christiania (Oslo), Norway, where he studied at the Royal Academy. He went to Boston, Mass., in 1883 and graduated there at the Massachusetts Normal Art School and the School of Drawing and Painting of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. He came to Cornell in 1895 as instructor, and was named professor of Drawing and Painting in 1909. He retired on his seventieth birthday, February 9, 1939, after forty-four years in the College of Architecture, and continued his painting at home.

Professor Brauner's portraits, seascapes, and sculpture were exhibited widely both here and abroad. Of his several hundred portraits, he considered among the best one of President Livingston Farrand, done for his family, and those of Professor Edward B. Tichener, Countess Erik Holstein of Denmark, Irene Castle, and Herbert L. Pratt of New York City. Among his other works are the bronze bas-relief War Memorial plaque in the Kappa Sigma house, and several portraits of the Veterinary Faculty presented by the alumni of that College and hanging in the Veterinary library.

Professor Brauner was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Kappa Phi, and Gargoyle. He is survived by his second wife and seven children, four of whom are Cornellians: Mrs. Paul F. Rhines (Karen Brauner) '28, Erling B. Brauner '29, Olaf A. Brauner '32, and Arnliot R. Brauner '33.

Professor O'Rourke received the CE at Cornell in 1917, having served in 1916 as assistant to Professor Carl Crandall '12, Civil Engineering, then Ithaca city engineer. He left the University in 1917 as instructor in Civil Engineering, to enter the Army; was discharged as a second lieutenant in the Air Service. He returned to Cornell as instructor in 1919, was named professor of Structural Engineering in 1934. For several years, he had been Faculty adviser on baseball.

Professor O'Rourke was widely known as a consulting engineer and as the author, with others of the Engineering Faculty, of some ten textbooks on engineering design. He was a member of Sigma Phi Sigma, Tau Beta Pi, Pyramid, Gargoyle, and Chi Epsilon. Mrs. O'Rourke lives at 424 Hanshaw Road. Their children are Mrs. Harry L. Smith (Patricia O'Rourke) '39 and Robert E. O'Rourke '45.

The Faculty

Alumni Trustee Albert R. Mann '04 flew to Europe in January to study for about six weeks the condition of higher institutions of research and education in Germany and Austria for the Rockefeller Foundation working in cooperation and with the assistance of the US Departments of State and War. He is visiting higher institutions in the American, British, and French zones in Germany and also those in Vienna. Mann retired last June as vice-president and director of the General Education Board of the Foundation, but, at the request of the Foundation, stayed on to help supervise an agricultural research program in Mexico in cooperation with the Mexican Government and to make this study in Germany and Austria.

University Trustee Martin P. Catherwood, PhD '30, who is on leave as professor of Public Administration, was re-nominated New York State Commissioner of Commerce, January 13 by Governor Thomas E. Dewey.

Provost Arthur S. Adams is the subject of an article, "The Navy's College Training Program and Its Administrator," by Dean Homer B. Vandervelde of the School of Commerce, Northwestern University, in the December issue of The Delta of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Dean William I. Myers '14, Agriculture, became acting chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in January and also a director of the Continental Can Co. Deputy chairman of the board of the Bank, he took over at the resignation of the chairman. Dean Myers reports on his recent trip to Europe for the Rockefeller Foundation in an article, "Communism May Win," in the January Farm Journal.

President Sarah G. Blanding of Vassar College, formerly Dean of Home Economics, was chosen one of the ten outstanding "women of the year" in the annual poll conducted by editors of Associated Press newspapers throughout the country. She was selected as outstanding in the field of education because she was chosen as president of Vassar from among 200 noted men and women, and because of the honors she has received for her morale work during the war.

Professor Alfred L. Anderson, Grad '10-'11, Geology, presented a paper on "Drainage Diversion in the Northern Rocky Mountains of East-Central Idaho," at the annual meeting of the Geological Society of America in Chicago, December 26-28.

Professor Walfred A. Anderson, PhD '29, Rural Sociology, has been elected president of the Rural Sociological Society of America. The only other Cornellian so honored was the late Professor Dwight Sanderson '98, Rural Sociology, Emeritus. Howard W. Beers '28 of University of Kentucky was named vice-president; Leland B. Tate, PhD '34, of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, secretary-treasurer; and Douglas Ensminger, PhD '29, of the US Department of Agriculture, to the executive committee of the Society.

Professor H. Darkes Albright, PhD '36, Speech and Drama and assistant director of the University Theatre, was elected vice-president of the American Educational Theatre Association at a recent joint meeting of that association and the Speech Association of America in Chicago, Ill. To the section on college theatre curriculum, he presented a paper, "Content for Theatre Courses in Small Departments." Other members of the Department of Speech and Drama also delivered papers at the conference: Professor Alex M. Drummond, "In the Graduate School," to a meeting on integration of theatre education; Professor Herbert A. Wichelns '16, "The Study of Public Address," to the rhetoric section of the Speech Association; and Frederick W. Haberman, "John Thelwall: His Life, His School, and His Theory of Elocution." Professor Emeritus James A. Winans '07 of Dartmouth, formerly head of the Speech Department and now a resident of Ithaca, spoke on "A Liberal Education" at a general section of the SAA, the American Speech Correction Association, the American Educational Theatre Association, and the National University Extension Association.

Raymond F. Howes '24, administrative assistant to the Vice-president, contributes an article, "Cornell Plans Expanded Diesel Engineering Program," to the January 1 Higher Education, published by the US Office of Education.

Speaking against year-around college instruction for peacetime, Provost Arthur S. Adams took issue with Professor Ernest J. Simmons of Columbia University, formerly head of the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures, on the CBS network program, "In My Opinion," January 16. Provost Adams spoke from Station WHCU in Ithaca and Professor Simmons from New York City.

Professor David Daiches, English, joined former Minnesota Governor Harold Stassen and Lyman Bryson, CBS counsellor on public affairs, in a discussion of John Stuart Mill's "On Liberty" on the "Invitation to Learning" program, January 12.

Professor Harold W. Thompson, English, president of the New York State Folklore Society, was chairman at a joint folklore conference of the Society and the New Jersey Folklore Society, January 18 in New York City. Anne Lutz, Grad '32, discussed folksongs of the Ramapo.

Professor Bristow Adams, Extension Service, Emeritus, has been elected by the Faculty to the University Board on Physical Education and Athletics for a three-year term, beginning January 1. He succeeds Professor Walter B. Carver, Mathematics. Professor Adams, who was a runner at Stanford, from which he graduated in 1900, was for many years Faculty adviser on track.

Walden String Quartet, in residence at the University, appeared in a joint concert with Gregor Piatigorski, cellist, at the Museum of Modern Art in New York City, January 12. Included in the concert honoring the fifth anniversary of the founding of the Koussevitzky Foundation was a string quartet by Professor Robert M. Palmer, Music, which he wrote on commission from the Foundation. Members of the Walden group are Professors Homer Schmitt, first violin; Bernard Goodman, second violin; Eugene Weigel, viola; and Robert Swenson, cello.

Disproving general belief that cerebral and spastic palsy are caused only by a brain injury at birth, Professor James W. Papez, Anatomy, curator of the University's brain collection, finds after exhaustive research on the human brain that the majority of cases are caused by minute growths within the brain cells, and that but 15 per cent are caused by injury. Professor Papez discovered the growths or virus bodies, which he believes are contracted through bites of certain insects and possibly by transmission through germ cells from parent to child, by applying a special coloring method to very thin sections of brain tissue, making them visible at a magnification of 1800 times.

Professor R. W. Dean, Entomology, at the Geneva Experiment Station, has won an award, consisting of a medal and cash prize, from the Eastern branch of the American Association of Economic Entomologists for his report on the use of DDT for the control of apple maggot. This is the Association's 1946 award for the outstanding contribution in economic entomology. Professor Dean has been working at the University's Hudson Valley Fruit Investigations Laboratory in Poughkeepsie.

At hearings at the Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C., January 3, Professor Lowell C. Cunningham, PhD '34, Farm Management, voiced opposition to lowering the January milk price.

A daughter, Katherine Merriman Stainton, was born January 4 in Ithaca to Professor Walter H. Stainton '19, Speech and Drama, and Mrs. Stainton (Helena Merriman) '31.

Mrs. Margaret Riis Hasenpflug, PhD '43, former graduate assistant in the University Theatre and Department of English, now teaches English at Triple Cities College in Endicott.

WELL, just as we said in our last ad, we can still supply the Morgan Cornell Calendar and the Cornell Engagement Calendar & Date Book. It's the first time in a number of years that we didn't sell out before Christmas, but this year we will be able to fill all mail orders for some time to come. $1.75 and $1 respectively, postpaid.

Some new plastic gifts that arrived too late for the last ad: Smoker's Set (cigarette case and book match case), both with Cornell Seal, at 50c set. Coaster Sets, imprinted "Cornell," $1. Ash Trays, imprinted "Cornell," 50c and Poker Chips Sets, imprinted "Cornell," at $3.

Prof. C. V. P. Young '99 was in and we talked about his new book, Across the Borderline. You may have noticed the ads in previous issues of the Alumni News, and of course we are filling mail orders at the Co-op. $2, postpaid.

And you might like to include a copy of Cornell in Pictures while this popular view book is still available. We're on our last case and it's out of print. $1 postpaid.

Readers Comment on

ACROSS THE BORDERLINE

By CHARLES V. P. YOUNG '99

"Very interesting and beautifully written . . ."

"I sat down to glance at it—and read it through! I feel it has both inspired and helped me."

"I am sure that you could not have arrived at so many worthwhile conclusions if you had not had a life rich in experience . . ."

"Your thesis is, I think, very unique and clever, and it reveals much thought and meditation."

"I shall continue to enjoy its word pictures for a long time."

"I spent all Sunday afternoon reading and studying Across the Borderline. It was an unusual experience to find myself time and again 'in tune'."

"What a lovely, skillful style you have! I have read Across the Borderline three times, and I expect to read it again."

"I have, as the years passed by, become much more confused than I was in the convictions of my earlier days, and have about given up any speculation. Nevertheless, I was greatly intrigued by the working out of the problem along the line that you did."

"Many thanks for giving me the opportunity to go along with you on this imaginary tour of the universe and to discover in you an imagination that I only in part suspected! It was a nice trip."

"You have a fine imagination, and I have no doubt that when we have crossed the borderline, we shall find some of your imaginings true."

"My second reading of Across the Borderline confirms my first impression of its value. I am convinced that we need efforts of this kind to make belief in immortality intelligible to the thought of today."

"Warm congratulations on your book. It seems to me to be quite the best imaginative conception of the future life that I have read since the famous books of Elizabeth Stuart Phelps appeared about a generation ago."

for you
since '82"

"WE'RE symbols of a unique industrial team that has been working for you for 65 years. With our research team-mate — Bell Telephone Laboratories — we've helped to give you the world's best telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

"My part of the job is to supply high quality products that meet exacting standards.

"I manufacture telephone equipment...purchase all manner of supplies for Bell Telephone Companies...distribute equipment and supplies to them from stocks maintained at my factories and my 29 warehouses...install central office equipment.

"Right now, I'm providing more telephone equipment and supplies than ever before. Using all my knowledge and skill, gained through years of experience, I'm going at top speed to catch up with the greatest demand on record.

"Remember my name...it's Western Electric."
