

CORNELL CHRONICLE

Vol. 9 No. 27

Thursday, April 6, 1978

Beebe Lake Restoration . . . . .	Page 3
Vet Open House Planned . . . . .	Page 3
Campus Council Meets . . . . .	Page 4
Concerts . . . . .	Page 5
Lectures on Campus . . . . .	Page 6

View from Sage Graduate Center

British Leaders to Be Here For Discussions of 'Crisis'

Former Prime Minister of Great Britain Edward Heath and Michael Foot, current leader of the House of Commons, will be the featured speakers April 13 and 14 as part of a three-day discussion of the question "The British Crisis: Real or Imagined?"

Heath, prime minister from 1970 to 1974, will speak at 8 p.m. Thursday, April 13, in Bailey Hall. Foot, leader of the House of Commons since 1976, will speak at 8 p.m. on April 14 in 120 Ives Hall. Both speeches are free and open to the public.

Heath and Foot are both coming to the United States specifically for their Cornell speeches. Neither is scheduled to make another appearance in America on this trip, according to Isaac Kramnick, professor of government at Cornell and a co-chairman of the conference.

"We are honored and thrilled to have men of the political stature of Mr. Heath and Mr. Foot at Cornell to talk about Britain's future," Kramnick said. "We don't know specifically what either man will talk about, but they're not likely to review the past. They want to look to the future."

Heath and Foot would look at the future of their country from very different points of view. Heath, still a member of Parliament of the Conservative Party, is a leading rival of Margaret Thatcher for party leadership. Foot is a powerful figure in the current Labour Party government of Great Britain.

Before and after the major addresses, an international array of scholars and political figures will participate in five roundtable discussions that will view the question of the decline of, and current outlook for, Great Britain from several perspectives.

The colloquia, all of which will be held in the Guerlac Room of the Andrew D. White House of the Society for the Humanities, are scheduled for 3 p.m. on April 13, 9:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. on April 14, and 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. on April 15.

The appearances of Heath and Foot are sponsored by the Oliphant Fund, a student-administered fund for bringing major speakers to Cornell, the Interfraternity Council and the University Unions Board.

The entire gathering was initiated by the Center for International Studies at Cornell, and organized by Kramnick and Daniel A. Baugh, associate professor of British history.

"The present situation in Britain will be assessed, and for these three days Cornell will be the place to be if you're interested in Great Britain," Kramnick said.

"The 'British Crisis' is generated by the apparent ineffectiveness of a parliamentary government in the face of the power of the civil service, trade unions and party organizations," Baugh explained.

"As a result," he said, "Great Britain cannot solve basic economic problems. Class resentment disturbs industry and productivity. This seems to be chronic. At this time, the political system seems unable to put

Continued on Page 2

Class of 1982 to Get Preview

Hosting Program Resumes

The Office of Admissions is asking for help from Cornellians and area residents: If you see a young man or woman between April 16 and 30 who looks lost, bewildered or confused, do all you can to help. He or she may be a member of September's entering freshman class.

More than 1,000 prospective members of the Class of 1982 are expected here during the last two weeks of April to participate in the Accepted Applicant Hosting Program.

The Hosting Program is conducted during the last two weeks in April because virtually all students accepted for the Class of 1982 are notified by April 15. Those who plan to enroll must notify the University not later than May 1.

The program, which began last year, is intended to acquaint prospective students with virtually every aspect of Cornell life.

"To get an idea of what life at Cornell is really like, you should plan on spending at least a full weekday on campus," according to a brochure mailed to accepted secondary school students. "Take a tour, visit a class, talk to some students, and check out the dormitories and dining halls. There is no better way to get a feel for Cornell than to experience it yourself."

Last year, approximately 1,000 prospective students visited the campus, and more are expected this year, according to Debbie Dickason, a senior who is coordinating the program.

The program was instituted partly to increase Cornell's "yield" of freshmen. "Yield" is the percentage of students accepted by Cornell who actually enroll. Cornell's "yield" was up 3 percent last year and admissions personnel feel the Hosting Program played at least a small part.

Robert W. Storandt, director of admissions, sees the Hosting Program as "a very significant factor in overall recruitment terms" as well as in three specific areas.

"The invitation to visit Cornell and the comprehensive program probably give many students—and their parents—a better feeling about Cornell even though they may not participate in the Hosting Program," he said.

"The extensive 'early orientation' to Cornell, which many of our visitors receive, is bound to help some of those who decide to enroll to get off to a better start here in the fall.

"In a few cases, the program may help students to decide that Cornell is not for them, and that too represents an important service," according to Storandt.

Cornell faculty welcome visiting students to sit in on classes. Tours and group discussions are held through the admissions offices of the undergraduate colleges, and student volunteers host visiting students in their rooms overnight.

Cornell students are still being sought to host the visitors in their rooms, according to Dickason.

"The most important part of the Hosting Program is simply to get prospective students to come to campus," Storandt said.

Continued on Page 2

Campus Election Ballots Available at Council Office

If any students or employees have not received election ballots for Campus Council and trustee positions, the ballots may be obtained by calling or visiting the Campus Council office, 133 Day Hall, 256-3715.

There will also be walk-in voting on Wednesday, April 12, at the following locations and times: Willard Straight Hall, 8 a.m.-10 p.m., Big Red Barn, 8 a.m.-10 p.m., Noyes Center, 8 a.m.-8 p.m., North Campus Union, 8 a.m.-9 p.m., Dairy Bar, 8 a.m.-3:30 p.m., and First National Bank in Collegetown, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

Application forms for Campus Council or Campus Life committees are also available in the council office. The deadline for receiving completed forms is Friday, April 14.

Libraries to Curtail Serials Purchases

The University Libraries will have to cut back on the number of periodicals it purchases next year by about 10 percent, despite substantial budget increases, according to Hendrik Edelman, assistant director of collection development.

The cutbacks will be particularly felt in the sciences, the social sciences and reference collections, where a number of duplicate and triplicate copies will be eliminated, although some periodicals may even be dropped altogether. Edelman blamed rising production costs and the devaluation of the American dollar abroad, where many journals are published.

He said the serials problem is particularly acute in the sciences as compared to the humanities for several reasons. Additional copies are more than a convenience in the sciences, he said, explaining that they are needed because of the time factor involved in scientific research which results in a heavy demand for current articles.

Edelman also pointed out that nearly 90 percent of the sciences collection at Cornell is in serials and that, while the libraries currently subscribe to 55,000 different serials, there are many new serials being published each year to which the University is unable to subscribe.

He said the situation is one that is forcing the faculty to establish priorities that are undoubtedly shaping the future development and emphasis of research at Cornell.

Support of Africana Center to Continue

Cornell University will continue to support its Africana Studies and Research Center with other funds, if retiring Board of Trustees Chairman Robert W. Purcell decides to redesignate to minority financial aid the income from a $1 million gift he made in 1968.

University Provost David C. Knapp said that the University had reviewed the Africana Studies and Research Center program in 1976 and had decided to continue funding it.

"Mr. Purcell was instrumental in providing funding in 1968 to increase the University's commitment to minority affairs," Knapp said. "A change in the use of income from his gift would not in any sense represent a weakening of support for minority programs here."

The terms of the 1968 Purcell gift say, "for the five-year period 1969 to 1973 inclusive the income from the fund will be divided equally and one-half thereof will go to support the COSEP program and the other half to support the Afro-American studies program which is currently being inaugurated."

Purcell has maintained that division of the funds since 1973 as well, although he has been free to change the terms of the gift.

In a newspaper interview Friday (March 31), Purcell said he was now considering allocating all income from his gift to minority financial aid because he thinks it might benefit minority students more.

'British Crisis' Is Subject

Continued from Page 1

forward policies aimed at the best interests of the nation as a whole."

"Britain and the World" will be the topic of the first roundtable discussion. Panelists are Lawrence Freedman, research fellow at the Royal Institute of International Affairs in London, and Richard Rosecrance, the Walter S. Carpenter Jr. Professor of International and Comparative Politics at Cornell.

"British Industry and the Economy" is the second topic, and will be discussed by Stephen Blank, research associate with the Conference Board in New York; Gerald Dorfman, a professor at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University, and Robin Marris, professor of economics at the University of Maryland.

Three speakers are slated to discuss "Politics and the Modern British State": Ira Katznelson, professor of political science at the University of Chicago; Ralph Milliband, professor of sociology at Leeds University in England, and Jorgen Rasmussen, professor of political science at Iowa State University.

"The United Kingdom and Devolution" is the subject to be covered by Jack Brand, professor at the University of Strathclyde in Glasgow, Scotland, and Milton Esman, the John S. Knight Professor of International Studies at Cornell.

The final colloquium will be on "The British Crisis: Summary Views." The speakers are Tom Nairn, senior fellow of the Scottish International Institute in Edinburgh and a leading spokesman for the Scottish National Movement; Jon Stallworthy, the John Wendell Anderson Professor of English at Cornell, and Peter Stansky, professor of history at Stanford.

More than a dozen other journalists and scholars will participate in the program, though they will not deliver prepared talks. They include Anthony Lewis of The New York Times, Dick Leonard of The Economist in London, David Calleo, professor of political science at Johns Hopkins University, and Colin Leys, professor of political science at Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario.

Daffodills to Raise Funds

The folks you see on campus Friday with bunches of daffodils will be conducting the annual sale of the flowers for the benefit of the American Cancer Society.

Members of Alpha Tau Omega

Fraternity will be on the quadrangles, in the Straight and at other spots throughout the campus from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday.

The daffodils sell for a 25-cent donation.

Barbara Castle to Talk

Barbara Castle, one of the most influential women in British politics for more than 30 years, will speak as a participant in the three-day conference on "The British Crisis: Real or Imagined?"

Mrs. Castle will speak at 4:30 p.m. April 13 in 120 Ives Hall on "Women and Equality in Britain." Her talk is free and open to the public.

Mrs. Castle, Labour Party member of Parliament for Blackburn, is best known for having carried through Parliament the Equal Pay Act, which extended equal pay to women. She achieved this after she was appointed first secretary of state and secretary of state for employment and productivity in 1968, a position she held until the change of government in 1970.

"We just learned via telegram on Monday that Mrs. Castle would be with us," said Isaac Kramnick, professor of government at Cornell and a co-chairman of the conference. "Her participation in the conference brings an added dimension and we are, of course, delighted."

Mrs. Castle will appear at Cornell as the Kappa Alpha Theta Lecturer. That endowed fund brings women speakers to campus annually. Her appearance is sponsored by the Women's Studies Program at Cornell also.

Mrs. Castle entered Parliament in 1945 and has held several significant positions. From December 1965 to April 1968 she was minister of transport, the first woman to hold that office. In that capacity she was responsible for the most comprehensive Transport Act in British history.

Interested in overseas affairs, Mrs. Castle in 1949 and 1950 was an alternate British delegate to the General Assembly of the United Nations, where she worked on social and humanitarian questions.

When the Labour Party took office in 1964 she received a Cabinet appointment as minister of overseas development with the task of building up the new department.

As a member of the opposition, she was "front bench spokesman" on employment and productivity from 1970 to 1971, and on social security from December 1971 until December

Barbara Castle

1974. On the return of the Labour government to office in March 1974, Mrs. Castle became secretary of state for social services, a post she held until April 1976.

During her early years in Parliament, Mrs. Castle was Parliamentary private secretary to Harold Wilson, then president of the Board of Trade.

'Hosting' In Second Year Here

Continued from Page 1

"We'll have a good program and Cornell sells itself."

Cornell and College Ambassadors play an important role in the program, Dickason said. Students from these groups help to staff the Office of Admissions at 410 Thurston Ave., serve as tour guides and act as lunchtime hosts. All activity during the Hosting Program is coordinated through the Thurston Ave. office.

"A key element in the Hosting Program is the participation of the whole Cornell community," Storandt said. "Many of the most favorable comments received last year were based on students' experiences with dormitory staff, traffic personnel and other helpful staff members. The fact that persons other than admissions staff are interested in these students was very evident, and very much appreciated."

Three Films Depict Life Among British

Three modern British films, offering different views of the people and life in that country, will be shown free of charge on April 10, 11 and 12.

The films—"The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner," "Kes" and "The Magical Mystery Tour"—are being shown in conjunction with the three-day conference, April 13, 14 and 15, on "The British Crisis: Real or Imagined?"

"The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner" will be shown at 8 p.m. Monday, April 10, in the Willard Straight Hall Theatre. "Kes" will be at 8 p.m. in the Straight Tuesday, April 11. "The Magical Mystery Tour" will be shown at 10 p.m. Wednesday, April 12, at Uris Hall Auditorium.

"The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner," the first major role for Tom Courtenay, moves on two levels simultaneously. It follows the hero's career in a reformatory, and at the same time in flashbacks it looks at those aspects of his life that led up to the crime that sent him to the reformatory. The 1962 film was directed and produced by Tony Richardson.

"Kes" is the story of a neglected child in a coal-mining community who appears headed for a life of delinquency until his discovery and training of a young kestrel hawk. The 1970 film was honored in Europe and America and won the best British screenplay award of the Writers Guild of Great Britain.

"The Magical Mystery Tour," produced, directed and written by the Beatles, centers on a tour taken by the Beatles and various friends in a yellow bus. The adventures follow from the music of the record album of the same name and are countryside gambols and fantasy trips. The film, originally produced for British television and subsequently banned in England, has been infrequently seen in this country.

Job Opportunities At Cornell University

The following are regular continuing full-time positions unless otherwise specified. Please do not inquire at individual departments. An Equal Opportunity Employer.

Individuals on lay-off status will be given preference in referrals.
(*) Indicates new this week

CLERICAL POSITIONS

Admin. Aide, A-18 (Asst. to Trade Book Mgr. - Campus Store)
Junior Accountant, A-18 (Lab Nuclear Studies)
Admin. Aide, A-18 (University Development)
Admin. Aide, A-18 (Facilities & Business Ops.)
* Chief Account Clerk, A-17 (Buildings & Grounds Care)
Sr. Admin. Secy., A-17 (Personnel Services)
* Admin. Clerk, A-16 (Accounting - Endowed)
Admin. Secy., A-15 (University Press)
Admin. Secy., A-15 (Alumni Affairs)
Library Asst. III, A-15 (Univ. Libraries, Olin)
Multilith Machine Op. II, A-15 (CRSR)
* Admin. Secy., A-15 (Life Safety Svcs. & Ins. Rad. Safety)
* Admin. Secy., A-15 (Economics)
* Admin. Secy., A-15 (Admissions)
Principal Clerk, A-14 (Summer Session)
* Principal Clerk, A-14 (Graduate School)
Dept. Secy., A-13 (Psychology)
Dept. Secy., A-13 (Univ. Libraries, B&PA)
Key punch Operator, A-13 (Office of the Bursar)
* Library Asst. II, A-12 (Univ. Libraries, Olin)
Library Asst. II, A-12 (Univ. Libraries, Olin)
Sr. Clerk, A-12 (Purchasing)
Library Asst. V, NP-12 (Veterinary Library)
Admin. Aide, I, NP-11 (Diagnostic Laboratory)
* Admin. Clerk, NP-9 (Diagnostic Laboratory)
Admin. Secy., NP-8 (Albert R. Mann Library)
Library Asst. III, NP-8 (NYSSILR)
Admin. Secy., NP-8 (Director's Office, Geneva)
Steno II, NP-6 (Nutritional Sciences)
Steno II, NP-6 (Floriculture & Orn. Horticulture)

SERVICE & MAINTENANCE

Electrician (Maintenance & Svc. Ops.)
Sr. Exp. Machinist, A-21 (Chemistry)
Experimental Machinist, A-19 (LASSP)
Univ. Service Officer, A-17 (Public Safety)
* Custodian, A-13 (Residence Life)
* Custodian, A-13 (Residence Life)
* Janitor, NP-6 (Bldgs. & Grounds Care)(2)
* Custodian, A-13 (Bldgs. & Grounds Care)
* Animal Technician, NP-8 (Vet Admin. - Lab Animal Svcs.)
* Field Asst. II, NP-7 (Seed & Vegetable Sciences - Geneva)

TECHNICAL

Synch. Oper. Tech., A-19 (Lab Nuclear Studies) (2)
* Computer Operator I, A-17 (Computer Services)
Research Tech. III, NP-12 (Plant Pathology - Geneva)
Research Tech. III, NP-12 (Animal Science)
Research Tech. III, NP-12 (Plant Pathology - Geneva)
Research Tech. III, NP-12 (Food Science & Tech. - Geneva)
Research Tech. III, NP-12 (Vet Microbiology - L.I.)
Research Tech. III, NP-12 (plant Pathology-Geneva)(2)
* Lab Tech. II, NP-11 (Diagnostic Laboratory)
Lab Tech. II, NP-11 (Vet Microbiology)
Experimentalist I, NP-11 (Entomology - Geneva)
Lab Tech. II, NP-11 (Div. Nutritional Sciences)
* Res. Tech. II, NP-10 (Div. of Nutritional Sciences)
Elect. Tech. II, NP-10 (NYSSILR)
Tech. Aide I, NP-9 (DCS - Mastitis Control)
Technical Aide I, NP-9 (Diagnostic Lab)
Research Tech. I, NP-8 (Plant Pathology)
Jr. Lab Tech. NP-6 (Pomology & Viticulture, Geneva)
* Program Aide I, NP-5 (Coop. Extension - NYC)
Field-Veterinarian, CPO7 (DCS - Mastitis Control, Canton)
Sr. Systems Programmer, CPO6 (Computer Services)
* Architect/Engineer II, CPO4 (Bldgs. & Prop. - Geneva)
Systems Analyst III, CPO4 (Lab Nuclear Studies)
Res. Supp. Spec. II, CPO4 (Lab Nuclear Studies)
Comp. Tech. Admin. I, CPO4 (Computer Services)
Broadcast Engineer II, CPO4 (ETV Ctr., Media Services)
Applications Programmer I, CPO3 (Lab Nuclear Studies)
Res. Supp. Spec. I, CPO3 (Vet Physiology, Biochem. & Pharmacology)
Asst. Mgr. - Rad. Safety, CPO3 (Life Safety & Rad. Safety)
Applications Programmer I, CPO3 (Physical Biology)
Systems Programmer I, CPO3 (Computer Services)
Research Supp. Aide, CPO2 (Veterinary Anatomy)
* Extension Support Aide, CPO2 (Natural Resources)

ADMINISTRATIVE

Director, Univ. Relations, CPO9 (Public Affairs)
Director, Design & Proj. Mgmt., CPO9 (Fac. & Bus. Ops.)
Director, CPO9 (Computer Services)
Director, CPO7 (Career Center)
Regional Director II, CPO6 (U. Develop., Bryn Mawr, Pa.)
Public Affairs Officer, CPO6 - Cornell Law School (Public Affairs)
Publications Manager, CPO6 (NYSSILR)
Assoc. Admin., CPO6 (Div. Nutritional Sciences)
Dining Manager II, CPO5 (Dining Services)
Admin. Manager I, CPO5 (Bldgs. & Grounds Care)
SDS III, CPO5 (Basic Studies - Engineering)
* Development Officer I, CPO4 (Univ. Development)
Staff Writer II, CPO4 (Univ. Development)
Res. Supp. Spec. II, CPO4 (Assoc. Editor)(Univ. Libraries)
Student Records Coord. II, CPO4 (Graduate School - Fellowship Office)
Catering Manager, CPO4 (Dining Services)
Res. Supp. Spec. II, CPO4 (NYSSILR)
Editor II, CPO4 (Media Services - Sea Grant)
Exec. Staff Asst. II, CPO4 (Affirmative Action)
Asst. Production Director (University Press)
* Student Dev. Spec. II, CPO3 (Residence Area Program Coordinator) (Dept. Residence Life)
Admin. Svpr. II, CPO3 (Univ. Development)
Health Associate I, CPO3 (Univ. Health Services)
Admin. Svpr. II, CPO3 (Graduate School)
* Student Dev. Spec. I, CPO2 (Resident Director - Sperry) (Dept. Residence Life)

Continued on Page 4

‘What is a Veterinarian?’

A “behind the scenes” look at a veterinary hospital and a chance to find out what a veterinarian really does will be offered to the public during the 12th annual open house at the State College of Veterinary Medicine, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, April 15.

The open house, organized by the student chapter of the American Veterinary Medical Association, features self-guided tours covering most of the areas in which a student is expected to be proficient before receiving the D.V.M. degree—anatomy, physiology, parasitology, pathology, radiology, medicine and surgery.

Visitors will be able to watch a cow digest hay through a special window in its side, compare the skeletons of humans and other animals, listen to the heart beats of various animals, see surgical instruments, and ask questions about animal health and veterinary medicine.

Special buses will take visitors from the main college campus to the Equine Research Park, where some 80 horses and ponies are housed. Scientists from the College of Veterinary Medicine and the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Cornell are studying such things as the best nutrition program for growing horses and causes of reproductive failure. Stresses on the horses’ legs at different gaits are analyzed using high-speed photography and a computer. New drugs to control parasites and muscle pain are being evaluated.

New Tuition Plan Offered to Parents

Parents of Cornell students will have the opportunity to participate in a system for paying expenses for the education of their children through regularly scheduled payments over 10 months, beginning with the 1978-79 academic year.

The University plans to notify parents of current students of the availability of the service provided by American Management Services, Inc. of Pawtucket, R.I.

The two prime features of the system are budgeted monthly payments with no interest charges by AMS, and a “Life Benefit Coverage” which guarantees payment on the remaining budgeted amount in the event of the death of the participating parent.

The full cost of the AMS system is $30 per year, including the Life Benefit Coverage.

“Many colleges throughout the country now offer the opportunity for parents and students to pay their tuition, room and board charges on an installment basis to benefit people who find it more convenient to pay a smaller amount monthly rather than making large lump sum payments each semester,” according to John S. Ostrom, University controller.

“During the fall, we examined several programs and concluded that the AMS program can provide a flexible and convenient approach at a modest cost,” Ostrom said.

Parking Revisions Hearing Set

The Campus Council Transportation Committee has scheduled a public hearing for 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 11, in G-92 Uris Hall. Committee members and representatives from the Office of Transportation Services will be present to discuss proposed revisions in parking permit eligibility standards and parking area designations, to take effect Sept. 1, 1978. Summaries of the committee’s proposal will be available at the Campus Council Office, 133 Day Hall, by Friday, April 7.

A letter to parents from Ostrom outlining the system will be mailed in April, along with a detailed brochure from AMS. Ostrom stressed that Cornell shall not consider a bill paid until money is received through AMS, which is acting as an agent for parents and students.

The first year’s participation requires 10 monthly payments; subsequent years can be budgeted over 10 or 12 months.

AMS, which has been in operation since 1972, has provided its service to parents and students at more than 150 colleges, including Bowdoin, Creighton, Denver, Maine, Northeastern, Providence, Southern California, Tufts and Yale.

Based on the experiences of other colleges, Cornell expects approximately 5 percent of its students to participate in the plan.

“Our theme this year is ‘Veterinary Medicine: Profound Contributions to Mankind,’ ” explained Roy Pollock, one of the event’s student organizers.

Students will be available to discuss careers in veterinary medicine, and Robert Brown, director of student administration and admissions, will be on hand to answer questions about the college and college applications.

The open house, which draws several thousand visitors annually, is designed primarily for adults and children older than 10, but a special exhibit for younger children also is planned.

Visitors should park in the B parking lot adjacent to the College of Veterinary Medicine off Route 366, three miles west off Route 13, and follow signs to the start of the self-guided tours. Visitors are urged to come early in order to take in all the exhibits.

Funds Needed

Beebe Restoration Begins

A major effort to restore Beebe Lake will begin this month with fund-raising projects and a “work day” to improve trails, establish picnic sites and clean up the area.

The effort is sponsored by the three University unions, residents of Clara Dickson Hall, Ecology House, the Outing Club and Cornell Plantations, which has jurisdiction over the Beebe Lake area.

Funds for the restoration will come in part from a benefit dance, with music provided by the Trading Company, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday, April 8, sponsored by Clara Dickson residents. Donation for the dance is $1.

Dickson residents also will hold a “Dickson Night Club,” complete with table service and a series of talent acts, from 9 p.m. to midnight on Friday, April 14. Admission to the night club is $1.

A “Beebe-thon” for joggers will be held on Saturday, April 15 (rain date Sunday, April 16) from noon to 4 p.m. Participants sign up sponsors, who agree to pay a certain amount for each lap around Beebe Lake that the jogger completes. Entry forms and more information are available at the Willard Straight Hall desk.

Prizes will be awarded for the jogger doing the most laps around the lake (approximately one mile each) and for the jogger with the greatest number of sponsors.

The first clean-up and restoration effort will take place on

Rhodes Plans Study Of Funding Priorities

Stating that “nothing is more important to the future of the University than getting our program into balance with our income,” Cornell President Frank Rhodes said at a news conference Tuesday that next year he hopes the University will begin taking a long-term look at priorities and funding levels at the school, college and department level.

He added that over the past two or three months he has been developing guidelines and procedures that might be used in such a review.

On the issue of University investments in South Africa, Rhodes restated the trustees’ position that the function of any investment is income to fulfill the University’s educational mission, that the trustees have responsibility for investment decisions and that their decisions should take into account social, environmental and political concerns as well as economics. He added that the trustees have agreed that all views on investments expressed by the campus community will be given a hearing.

He stressed the complexity of the South African issue. There is a difference among honest people, he said, “as to whether pulling out is going to be more effective in the long term than staying in and trying to influence policy.”

He added that to think “we can wash our hands of the South African situation by divesting stocks is an oversimplified notion.” Questions such as whether companies investing in South Africa should be prohibited from recruiting Cornell students for jobs, whether the University should accept gifts from such companies or boycott their products must also be considered, he said, making the problem much more pervasive and complex than many have admitted.

In the wide-ranging session, Rhodes spoke optimistically about making salaries for clinical staff in the College of Veterinary Medicine competitive with those paid by other institutions, but he said that the authorization to increase salaries would probably come as a separate bill in the State Legislature rather than as part of the state’s regular or supplemental budget bill.

He pointed out that the limit on faculty salaries in the State University system (except for medical school faculty) has contributed to the turnover of nearly 40 percent of the veterinary college’s clinical staff in the past four years.

Rhodes said he is encouraged by the increase in applications for admission to Cornell’s endowed units. Freshmen applications have increased 10 percent and transfer applications even more.

Applications are down in the statutory units, he added, but even the College of Human Ecology, where the decrease has been fairly severe, still receives four applications for every available opening.

Key Offices Now Open Until 5 p.m.

All departments in the Division of Campus Life, as well as the Offices of Financial Aid, the University Registrar and the Bursar, are now open until 5 p.m., according to Vice Provost Mark Barlow Jr.

The hours have been extended from 4:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. in order to provide more service for students, particularly those who have lab courses which are normally over at 4:20 p.m.

William D. Gurowitz, vice president for campus affairs, said many offices in campus life had already been open until 5 p.m. or later. The Traffic Bureau is also now open half an hour earlier at 7:30 a.m., in order to facilitate business with those who have to be at work at 8 a.m.

Offices will not always be fully staffed during the extended hours, according to Gurowitz. “We realize that the staff may not be able to provide full service during those times, but they will be able to be of help, answer some questions and be present,” he said.

CORNELL CHRONICLE

Published weekly and distributed free of charge to Cornell University faculty, students, staff and employees by the University News Bureau. Mail subscriptions, $13 per year. Make checks payable to Cornell Chronicle Editorial Office, 110 Day Hall, Ithaca, N.Y. 14853. Telephone 256-4206. Editor, Randall E. Shew, Managing Editor, Elizabeth Helmer, Circulation Manager, Barbara Jordan.

Warning: Jogging Is Safety Hazard

Area law enforcement officials have issued a warning regarding the hazards of jogging, and point out that the law covering pedestrians applies to joggers as well.

The New York State Vehicle & Traffic Law states that “Where sidewalks are provided and they may be used with safety it shall be unlawful for any pedestrian to walk along and upon an adjacent roadway.”

The law further states that “Where sidewalks are not provided any pedestrians walking along and upon a highway shall when practicable walk only on the left side of the roadway or its shoulder facing traffic which may approach from the opposite direction. Upon the approach of any vehicle from the opposite direction such pedestrian shall move as far to the left as is practicable.”

Law officials explained that the dangers have increased significantly in recent years with jogging becoming more popular and that not only is there a danger for the jogger or pedestrian who may be struck by a vehicle but also a danger to motorists who may swerve to avoid striking a jogger or pedestrian and as a result may collide with other oncoming vehicles.

The law officials said they wish to encourage joggers to use other facilities than the public highways for jogging whenever possible, and when they do use highways and sidewalks that they use the less traveled streets and roadways.

The joint statement was issued by Ithaca Police Chief James M. Herson, Cayuga Heights Police Chief Harlin R. McEwen, Tompkins County Sheriff Robert L. Howard, State Police Lieutenant James T. McCarthy, Cornell University Department of Public Safety Director William E. McDaniel, and Ithaca College Safety Division Director Louis M. Withiam.

Comment

Chronicle Comment is a forum of opinion for the Cornell community. Address comments to Elizabeth Helmer, Managing Editor, Chronicle, 110 Day Hall. Letters submitted for publication in the Chronicle must be typed, double space, with 75 characters to a line, no more than 600 words in length. The Chronicle intends to adhere to this limit because of space and financial restrictions. The deadline is Monday noon at 110 Day Hall. Letters addressed to someone other than the editor, personal attacks against individuals or unsigned letters will not be printed.

'Parking Penalties Appear Uneven'

Editor:

The recent Cornell/Hobart lacrosse game provided one more example of the erratic policies, action—or inaction—of the Traffic Bureau. What campus car owner has not been punished to the full extent of the law for some ambiguous infraction, such as failing to see one of the Bureau's sometimes miniscule parking regulation signs? Or have you ever been ticketed during a vacation period for being one of ten cars in a lot that holds possibly a hundred, because "that's the rules"?

During the recent lacrosse game, people parked seemingly anywhere a vehicle could be wedged. I saw a row of cars stretching from Sage parking lot to the back of the bookstore on the wrong side of the street in open violation of the no-parking signs, which in this case are quite visible. None of these ten to fifteen cars appeared to have been tagged. (It would be interesting to know how many tickets were issued during the game—if any.)

If this weren't bad enough, when some enthusiastic fans couldn't find enough pavement to park on, they resorted to some very soggy grass areas, leaving behind foot-deep ruts. For starters, check out the area on the south side of Campus Road just to the east of the parking lot by Grumman Hall.

Who pays to have the lawn put back in shape? Apparently, the drivers who caused the mess weren't ticketed. They certainly weren't towed. We all know whose rising tuition it will eventually come out of.

Stephen Helmer
Graduate
Urban Planning

Human Progress Thesis Competition Announced

Prizes of $500 each will be awarded for (1) an undergraduate thesis and (2) a graduate thesis giving evidence of the best research and the most fruitful thought in the field of human progress and the evolution of civilization during some period in human history or during human history as a whole.

The prize-awarding committees emphasize that under the terms of the awards no one is excluded from competing. "Human progress and the evolution of civilization" will be construed in the widest possible sense, and entries from the broadcast range of fields will be welcomed.

Entries must conform to the following rules:

1. They must be legitimate undergraduate or graduate theses submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for a degree, and in the form acceptable for that purpose.

2. Each entry must be accompanied by a certification from an appropriate faculty member stating that the entry is an undergraduate or graduate thesis, as the case may be.

3. Each entry must be presented in a suitable folder, with pages loose, not stapled together.

Deadline for submission is 4 p.m., Tuesday, May 9, at the office of the Dean of the University Faculty, 315 Day Hall.

Barton Blotter: Wallets Stolen

At least 10 wallets on campus were lightened this past week, to the tune of $294 total, by thieves.

Those entries were interspersed with several broken windows, two stolen wall telephones and four stolen fire extinguishers in this week's morning reports from the Division of Public Safety.

Other entries referred to such things as cars written on with spray paint, a forged parking sticker, a false fire alarm, car ruts in a playground, slashed car tires, bicycle thefts, firecrackers being thrown and records and a stereo being stolen.

The wallets that were stolen were all left unattended by their owners.

Fall Break Plan Also Offered

Council Adopts Photo Rules

The Campus Council has approved a photograph policy that would authorize only uniformed members of the Department of Public Safety to take photos of protestors at public events, but would authorize the judicial administrator to hold any undeveloped film, videotape and prints and determine who can have access to the photographic materials.

The policy must be approved by University President Frank Rhodes before it goes into effect.

The existing photo policy, established by the Senate in 1972, states that public safety officials are responsible for the safe-keeping of film or prints.

And while the present policy authorizes safety officers to take photos when they believe a violation is about to occur, the proposed policy would allow the taking of photos only when an officer believes a person is committing or has committed a violation of University regulations, federal or state law or local ordinance.

All photographic material transferred to the judicial administrator is to be destroyed or erased seven days later if no complaint is filed or 10 days after the conclusion of a judicial proceeding, except when the judicial administrator believes there is the likelihood that the material will be subsequently used in a local, state or federal criminal proceeding.

The policy states that no negatives or prints (from any sources) are to be released by the judicial administrator to third parties, including law enforcement officials, except following a subpoena.

Both Joseph B. Bugliari, director of legal services, and William D. Gurowitz, vice president for campus affairs, said that placing a subpoena restriction on outside law enforcement officials might prove cumbersome for officials when pursuing evidence in criminal investigations.

Bruce Katz, judicial committee chairman, said that the restriction may prove cumbersome, but that it was essential for protecting the civil liberties of those photographed.

The revised photo policy does not restrict the use of photos taken or supplied to the University by individuals other than members the Department of Public Safety.

Other provisions of the photo policy require that safety officers have the authorization of the Vice President for Campus Affairs or his designee in the Office of the Dean of Students before bringing photographic equipment to an event. Cameras are to be aimed only when photographs are actually being taken.

In other business, the council adopted a new calendar proposal as an alternative to its earlier recommended two-day midterm break. The alternative was passed since faculty members had expressed problems with the original proposal due to difficulties arising from scheduled labs during the proposed two-day break.

The resolution states that no classes are to be held on Friday, Oct. 13 or Saturday, Oct. 14, and that classes scheduled for those dates be either rescheduled or cancelled, at the option of the instructors involved. The council has suggested that the proposal be adopted on a trial basis in the 1978 fall term.

The recommendation will be submitted to the Faculty Council of Representatives for consideration. Also suggested in the new proposal is the planning of recreational activities by the Division of Campus Life for people remaining on campus Oct. 13-15.

The council has requested that the transportation committee reconsider changes it had recommended for issuing parking permits. The committee will hold a public hearing on the matter at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 11 in Uris G92. The committee has proposed changes that would affect some 200 to 300 permit holders, particularly those with E permits, currently parking on the interior campus.

Trustees To Meet; Agenda Set

The report of a study of student loan delinquencies will be presented to the Executive Committee of Cornell's Board of Trustees at its meeting April 11 in Ithaca.

The light agenda will include a variety of other reports on finances, maintenance, and personnel matters, including a change in the "spend to save" program.

The student loan study was undertaken because of concern over increasing loan delinquency and default among students, both at Cornell and nationally. The report will include actions taken to deal with the problem.

Musical Manuscript Is Focus

Howard Mayer Brown, professor of music at the University of Chicago and Andrew D. White Professor-at-Large at Cornell, will give a public lecture, "A Chansonier From the Time of Lorenzo the Magnificent," at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 12, in Barnes Hall.

The lecture will focus on the literary and artistic, as well as musical, significance of a late 15th-century musical manuscript, known as a chansonier.

Brown, who is president elect of the American Musicological Society, specializes in musical iconography, the study of the visual arts, particularly during the Renaissance, and its relationship to the history of music.

Brown will also be conducting a number of seminars for students and faculty during his visit on campus.

On Tuesday, April 11, and Thursday, April 13, Brown will discuss music and society at 9:05 a.m. in the Grout Seminar Room of Lincoln Hall. The model system, which is the theoretical basis for early music, will be the topic of two seminars, also at 9:05 a.m. in the Grout Seminar Room, on Tuesday, April 18, and Thursday, April 20.

Job Opportunities

Continued from Page 2

* Student Dev. Spec. I, CPO2 (Resident Director - Ecology House) (Dept. Residence Life)

Extension Support Aide, CPO2 (Ag. Economics)

Extension Support Aide, CPO2 (Coop. Extension Admin.)

Admin. Spvr., CPO1 (Conference Office)

Asst. Editor (Cornell Univ. Press)

PART-TIME & TEMPORARY

* Temp. Svc. Clerical (Hum. Dev. & Fam. Studies, temp. ft)

Temp. Svc. Clerical (B&PA, temp. pt)

Temp. Svc. Clerical (Cornell Glee Club, perm. pt)

Temp. Svc. Clerical (Geological Sciences, temp. pt)

Temp. Svc. Clerical (NYSSILR, temp. ft)

Admin. Secy., A-15 (Int'l Student Office, perm. pt)

Admin. Secy., A-15 (Africana Studies & Res. Ctr., perm. pt)

Library Asst. III, A-15 (U. Libraries, Olin, temp. pt)(2)

Sr. Acct. Clerk, A-13 (Materials Science Ctr., perm. pt)

Sr. Account Clerk, A-13 (C.U. Press, perm. pt)

Dept. Secy., A-13 (Johnson Museum, perm. pt)

Library Searcher I, A-13 (U. Libraries, Olin, perm. pt)

Library Searcher I, A-13 (Echols Collection, Olin, perm. pt)

Dept. Secy., A-13 (Engineering Admissions, 9 mos./year)

Secretary-Steno, NP-10 (NYSSILR, perm. pt)

Admin. Secy., NP-8 (NYSSILR, temp. ft)

Steno II, NP-6 (NYSSILR, temp. pt)

Steno II, NP-6 (Coop. Extension, Sea Grant/Stonybrook, temp. pt)

Clerk Typist, NP-3 (Film Library, Media Svcs., perm. pt)

* Museum Guard (Johnson Museum)(2) (perm. pt)

Temp. Svc. Labor (Neurobiology & Beh., temp. pt)

* Temp. Svc. Labor (Plant Breeding & Biometry)(3)(temp. ft)

Sr. Data Clerk, A-13 (Univ. Unions, perm. pt)

Lab Asst. III, NP-5 (Nutritional Sciences, perm. pt)

Research Aide I, A-14 (Psychology, temp. ft)

Research Tech. III, NP-12 (Ag. Engineering, pt)

Res. Supp. Spec. III, CPO5 (NYSSILR, temp. ft)

Pharmacist, CPO5 (Health Services, temp. pt)

Syst. Programmer III, CPO5 (Computer Services, temp.)

Syst. Programmer II, CPO4 (Computer Services, temp.)

Ext. Supp. Aide, CPO2 (Comm. Svc. Educ., temp. pt)

Temp. Svc. Prof. (Conference Office, temp.)

Temp. Svc. Prof. (LNS, temp. pt or ft)

Regional Director, CPO4 (Univ. Development - Cleveland, pt)

Appl. Programmer I, CPO3 (Computer Services, temp. pt)

Syst. Programmer I, CPO3 (Computer Services, temp.)

Appl. Programmer I, CPO3 (Computer Services, temp. pt)

ACADEMIC & FACULTY POSITIONS (Contact Department Chairperson)

* Sr. Res. Associate II, CPO8 (Electrical Engineering)

* Asst. Librarian, CPO2 (Univ. Libraries, Undergraduate)

* Lecturer In Sanitation (School of Hotel Administration)

Asst. Prof. - Nutritional Biochemist (Animal Science)

Asst. Prof. - Meat Science (Animal Science)

Asst. Prof. - Reproductive Physiology (Animal Science)

Kabuki Theatre Is Talk Topic

"Social Background of the Kabuki Theatre" will be the title of a talk by Donald H. Shively, professor of Japanese history and literature at Harvard University, at 4 p.m. Friday, April 7, in Kaufmann Auditorium of Goldwin Smith Hall on the Cornell University campus.

The illustrated lecture on Kabuki, a major Japanese theatrical form with an international reputation, is sponsored by Cornell's China-Japan Program.

Shively, who is interested in the relationship of literature and drama to the social and cultural history of 18th- and 19th-century Japan, has written extensively on the period. He is the co-author of the recent book, "Studies in Kabuki: Its Acting, Music and Historical Context."

Kabuki has existed for more than three centuries and has been an important means of preserving and presenting 18th-century Japanese cultural values and attitudes in a historical context.

Shively is currently chairman of the Department of East Asian Languages and Civilizations at Harvard and executive director of the Japan Institute there. He was managing editor of the Journal of Asian Studies and is now editor of the Harvard Journal of Asian Studies.

Composer to Visit For Concert, Talk

Composer Donald Erb will visit campus April 13 and 14 as part of the yearlong Tenth Festival of Contemporary Music at the University.

At 8:15 p.m. Thursday, April 13, a concert of his music will be presented, free to the public, in Barnes Hall. Discussion by the composer will precede performances, live and on tape, of his Concerto for Violoncello and Orchestra and "To Warsaw With Love." The Concerto, written for cellist Lynn Harrell who appeared as guest artist at Cornell recently, was premiered earlier this year by the Atlanta Symphony with Harrell as soloist.

At 4:30 p.m. Friday, April 14, in Barnes Hall, Cornell composers Robert Palmer and Karel Husa will join Erb in a panel discussion, "Directions in Contemporary Music."

Since 1966, Erb has been professor of composition at the Cleveland Institute of Music and co-director of Portfolio, a contemporary music series in Cleveland. He is a graduate of Kent State, the Cleveland Institute and Indiana University and also studied composition privately in Paris with Nadia Boulanger.

Student Wins First In Festival Design

Alissa Bucher, a sophomore in the College of Architecture, Art and Planning, has won the $200 first prize in the design competition for the site of The Ithaca Festival 1978.

Her design was selected from some 20 entries, 14 of which were from classmates in architecture at Cornell, according to festival coordinators.

In fact, her classmates really didn't lose that much. They'd agreed that whoever won the prize money would turn it over for a party, true to traditions of work and play among student architects at Cornell.

The festival is scheduled for June 2 and 3 in the open area on The Ithaca Commons adjacent to Rothschild's Department Store. The design includes a hanging tent with booths, performing areas and platforms with space for audiences.

The entries were judged by a panel comprised of local architects and Cornell faculty.

Beverly Sills to Be In Bailey Concert

American opera singer Beverly Sills will appear at Cornell University at 8:15 p.m. Friday, April 28, in Bailey Hall. The performance will be the last of the Bailey concert series.

Tickets for the concert will go on sale Monday, April 10, at the Lincoln Hall ticket office. Due to the extraordinary demand, there will be a limit of four tickets per person, according to Mariann Carlin, concert manager. For more information, call 256-5144 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Sills will be accompanied by pianist Charles Wadsworth who is a founding member and pianist of the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center. The program will include songs and arias by Handel, Mozart, Rossini, Bellini and others.

Sills, the Brooklyn soprano who made her New York City Opera debut in October 1955, will have been with that company exactly 25 years when she retires as a singer in the fall of 1980 and becomes its codirector.

Sills has also sung with the Metropolitan Opera and many other leading national and international companies, and has appeared in a variety of roles,

Beverly Sills

among them Pamira in Rossini's "The Siege of Corinth" and Elizabeth I in Donizetti's "Roberto Devereux."

Sills announced her plans to retire from singing in January. After performing at the Metropolitan and in San Diego next year, she will make her last singing appearance at the City Opera during the spring of 1979. She also plans to continue her recently begun career as a television talkshow hostess.

There will be free bus service the night of the concert between parking lot B and Bailey Hall with a stop at the Dairy Bar.

Folk Singer Seeger To Give Concert

Folksinger Pete Seeger will appear in concert at 8 p.m. Saturday, April 15, in Bailey Hall. The concert is sponsored by the Folk Song Club in cooperation with the University Unions Program Board and the Cornell Concert Commission.

Tickets for reserved seats are available in the Willard Straight Hall ticket office for $2.50, $3 and $3.50.

Seeger is one of the founders and leaders of the Clearwater Project, a program which has involved the cleanup of the Hudson River and the building of an authentic sloop used during the Hudson sailing period. The sloop has traveled all along the Hudson, with the crew and Seeger carrying an anti-pollution message and presenting musical festivals in towns.

'More Excellent Way': Sage Topic

The Rev. Floyd H. Flake, minister of Allen A.M.E. Church in Jamaica, N.Y., will be the speaker at the Sage Chapel convocation at 11 a.m. Sunday, April 9. His sermon topic will be "The More Excellent Way."

Flake has had a varied work background in the fields of religion, education, business and social work. From 1973 to 1977, he was the dean of students, University chaplain and director of the Martin Luther King Jr. Afro-American Center at Boston University. He has been a marketing analyst for the Xerox Corp., and has held pastorates in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Gulls appear to be looking for birdwatchers at Shoals Marine Laboratory on Appledore Island.

Ornithology Program Planned

Avian Courtship Seen at Shoals

Thousands of herring and black-backed gulls act out their yearly drama of courting, mating and raising young within view of the Shoals Marine Laboratory's lecture room windows on Appledore Island in the Gulf of Maine.

Black-crowned night herons, glossy ibis, snowy egrets and little blue herons—all near the extremes of their nesting range—made the island their summer home. Cormorants and a small colony of black guillemots nest nearby.

More than 100 species of birds have been identified in the SML environs during the summer—and many can be studied at close range by participants in SML's adult education programs in ornithology.

The programs, led by ornithologists from Cornell's Laboratory of Ornithology and the University of New Hampshire, include early morning bird walks, formal lectures and field trips to the nesting sites of herons, cormorants and gulls. Harbor seals, often with young, can usually be seen during field trips to nearby islands.

Professional staff of SML will be available during all the programs to discuss the history of Appledore and the other Isles of Shoals, coastal zone management, commercial fishing, intertidal biology and geology and to lead other field trips.

The three ornithology programs planned this summer are designed to be both educational and relaxing, according to John M. Kingsbury, SML director, and marine meals from Appledore's shores and surrounding waters (including lobster in season) are a specialty of the SML kitchen.

Ornithology I is scheduled from 10 a.m. Wednesday, May 24, through 11:30 a.m. Friday, May 26; Ornithology II will run from 11 a.m. Friday, May 26 through 1 p.m. Sunday, May 28; Ornithology III will run from 2 p.m. Friday, Sept. 8 through 3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 10.

The programs are open to alumni of Cornell and the University of New Hampshire and all other interested persons 12 years of age or older.

More information on the programs is available from SML, 202 Plant Science Building, Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. 14853. The telephone number is (607) 256-3717.

Lutheran Chaplain Named at Cornell

The Rev. E. Frederick Holst is the new Lutheran chaplain at Cornell. Formerly pastor of the Augustana Lutheran Church in Tonawanda, N.Y., Holst has also been installed as the new pastor of the Lutheran Association in Ithaca.

He is a graduate of Wagner College and the Philadelphia Lutheran Theological Seminary, and received a master's degree in American studies from Union College in Schenectady in 1969.

While serving in Tonawanda, Holst participated in the development of a plan for the expansion of campus ministry in the Buffalo area. He is an active member of the Inter-Lutheran Commission on Campus Ministry on the Niagara Frontier. Holst has also been appointed Lutheran chaplain at Ithaca College.

Copy submitted to the Chronicle for publication must be typed, double space, and submitted to the Chronicle Office, 110 Day Hall, no later than Monday noon preceding Thursday publication.

Cornell Alumni University's "education vacation" is open to University employees, faculty and students.

Alumni University Open to All

Though its name is Cornell Alumni University, the four-week "education vacation" from July 9 through Aug. 5 is open to all—Ithaca area residents, Cornell faculty and students, University employees, everyone, according to G. Michael McHugh, director of the program.

CAU, now in its 11th year of summer operation at Cornell, once was almost exclusively for Cornell alumni, but "now we have the personnel and facilities and program to offer this exciting, diversified experience to everyone," McHugh said.

Complete registration information and material may be obtained by contacting Cornell Alumni University at 158 Olin Hall on the Cornell campus. The telephone number is 256-4800.

CAU offers both an adult continuing education program and social activities. In addition, two programs for children are offered:

Youngsters from 3 through 11 visit a wide variety of educational and recreational locations on and off campus. Teenagers are given a choice of educational, creative and recreational activities.

"Our Freedoms—Public and Private" is the overall theme on which two seminar courses are given. "The Freedom of a Society" is offered July 9-15 and July 23-29. "Individual Freedom and Its Costs" is offered July 16-22 and July 30-Aug. 5.

There are 16 special interest courses also. Each is one week long. The courses cover such diverse areas as field natural history, photography and the humor of Moliere.

The seminar faculty members are Frederick M. Ahl, professor of classics; Clive A. Holmes, associate professor of English history; James B. Maas, associate professor of psychology; Gene E. Likens, professor of ecology; Antonie W. Blacker, professor of zoology; Harold Feldman, professor of human development and family studies; Margaret Feldman, professor of psychology at Ithaca College; Patricia J. Carden, associate professor of Russian literature, and Charles C. Russell, professor of communication arts.

Degler to Deliver Becker Lectures

Carl N. Degler, a Pulitzer Prize-winning historian, will deliver the Becker Lectures at Cornell University on April 10, 11 and 12. His subject is "Women in the Shaping of the Nineteenth Century Family."

The lectures, all of which will begin at 4:30 p.m., will be in 110 Ives Hall on April 10 and 11 and in 165 McGraw Hall on April 12.

Degler is the Mary Byrne Professor of History at Stanford University. In addition to the Pulitzer Prize, he has won the Beveridge Prize and the Bancroft Prize.

Degler's major books are "Out of Our Past: The Forces that Shaped Modern America," "Neither Black Nor White: Slavery and Race Relations in Brazil and the United States" and "The Other South: Southern Dissenters in the Nineteenth Century."

The Becker Lectures are presented annually by Cornell's Department of History to honor the memory of Carl L. Becker, a historian who was a member of the Cornell faculty from 1917 to 1941. He served as University historian in retirement while writing "Cornell University, the Founders and the Founding." Becker died in 1945.

China Specialist to Lecture

John King Fairbank, a specialist on China and a member of the Harvard University faculty since 1936, will speak at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 11, in Kaufmann Auditorium of Goldwin Smith Hall.

Fairbank, whose appearance here is sponsored by the Committee on University Lectures, will discuss "Trends in the Interpretation of Chinese History."

Fairbank has studied and traveled widely in China. He first went to Peiping in 1932 as a Rhodes Scholar. Since then he has been in China, as well as Southeast and East Asia, during every decade except the 1940s.

The author of numerous books on China, Fairbank's best known work is "The United States and China."

Fairbank has been the Francis Lee Higginson Professor of History at Harvard since 1959.

On April 13, at 9 a.m. in Room 105 of the Conference Center, Sal J. Giudice, senior vice president, human resources, American Can Co., and Robert D. Firth, vice president, personnel and organization planning, Xerox, will discuss "Top Management Philosophies for Managing the Personnel Function." William B. Wolf, professor in ILR, is the moderator.

At 1:30 p.m., William Johnson, director of personnel development, IBM, will make a presentation on "Managing the Personnel Specialists within a Multi-Unit Company." Lee Dyer, associate professor in ILR, is the moderator.

The 3:15 p.m. topic is "Top Management of the Personnel Function: Relations with Line Management." The discussants will be Harry B. Williams, vice president, corporate personnel, R.R. Donnelley & Sons, and Wolf.

On April 14, the program begins at 9 a.m. with a presentation by Tony Jack, general manager, human resources services, Continental Group, on "Precepts for Dealing with the Outside Environment: Negotiating with Government Agencies." Fred Foulkes, professor in the Graduate School of Business Administration at Harvard, will be the moderator.

The series concludes with a 10:45 a.m. presentation by Fred Massarik, professor in the School of Social Management at UCLA, on "Top Management of the Personnel Function in the 1980s."

Marler Is Fuertes Lecturer

Peter Marler, professor of zoology at Rockefeller University, will be the Louis Agassiz Fuertes Guest Lecturer at the Laboratory of Ornithology, 159 Sapsucker Woods Road, at 7:45 p.m. Monday, April 10. His topic will be "Birdsong, Communication and Evolution."

Marler is known for his research on animal behavior, particularly the function and evolution of animal communication systems. He has studied vocalizations in birds, monkeys and apes.

The Fuertes Lectures were endowed by Olin Sewall Pettingill, former director of the laboratory, and George M. Sutton, noted wildlife artist and zoologist, in order to bring outstanding lecturers in ornithology to the laboratory.

Health Careers Symposium

Cornell students interested in health careers can participate in the third annual "Does Medicine Care?" symposium at the Robert Packer Hospital, Sayre, Pa., on Saturday, April 15.

"This symposium will provide students an opportunity to examine social and ethical problems in patient care that may not be covered in their undergraduate curriculum," said Jane D. Crawford, health careers coordinator at Cornell.

No tuition is charged for the program, but students are asked to register in advance. A ride sign-up sheet and more information are available in the Health Careers Office, G-14 Stimson.

Schoenberg, Atonality Talk Topic

Allen Forte, professor of music at Yale University, will lecture at Cornell University on "Schoenberg and the Transition to Atonality" at 4:30 p.m. Thursday, April 13, in 121 Lincoln Hall.

Forte's interests include the development of a general theoretical framework for the study of atonal music, and his lecture will cover recent work in this field.

Bulletin Board

Environmental Study Group

A study group to investigate significant environmental and/or energy problems is being organized. Graduate students and advanced undergraduates representing disciplines including biology, agriculture, engineering, chemistry, economics and sociology will apply their knowledge to relevant, complex problems.

Students should register for Entomology 695 for fall and spring terms. The course is a 2-credits per semester program. The time of classes is to be arranged. For more information, call David Pimental at 256-2212.

Bloodmobile Next Monday

Alpha Phi Omega is sponsoring a Red Cross Bloodmobile on campus from 10 a.m. to 3:45 p.m., Monday, April 10 in Willard Straight Hall. Persons who want to donate blood may call the Red Cross to make an appointment (273-1900) or sign up at the Straight from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. today and Friday, April 7. Also, walk-ins will be accepted.

Older Students Group to Meet

An organizational meeting for Older Students Group will be held at 7 p.m., Wednesday, April 12 in Conference Room No. 2, North Campus Union. For more information call Vivian Geller at 6-4221.

Prize Deadline Extended

The deadline for submission of entries in competition for the Moses Coit Tyler Prize has been extended to April 25. Entries must be submitted by that date to Professor Stuart Blumin at the history department office, 450 McGraw Hall.

Literary Evaluation Is Topic

A headline in last week's Chronicle may have been misleading. Jurij Striedter will speak on "Literary Evolution and Evaluation: Czech Structuralism" at 4 p.m., Friday, April 7, in the Guerlac Room of the Andrew D. White House.

Term Paper Help Offered

The Writing Workshop is presenting Term Paper Clinics, five of which remain during April. Each clinic is a two-hour mini-course on researching and writing term papers. The schedule is: April 6, from 7 to 9 p.m. in Mann Library; April 11, from 7 to 9 p.m. in Mann Library; April 16, from 3 to 5 p.m. in Uris Library, for the humanities; April 17, from 7 to 9 p.m. in Uris Library, for social sciences; April 20, from 7 to 9 p.m. in Uris Library, for social sciences.

Horticulture Series Presented

Basic plant care and flower arranging are being presented in the Dickson Horticulture Series at 8 p.m. the next four Sundays in the new Wing Hall Lounge. The dates and topics are: 8 p.m., April 9: "Basic Methods: Giving Your Plant What It Wants"; 8 p.m., April 16: "Cheap Thrills: Houseplants on a Budget"; 8 p.m., April 23: "BYOB: Terrariums and Bottle Gardens" (bottles and plants will not be provided); 8 p.m., April 30: "Flower Arranging Using Wild Materials" (provide your own container). For more information call Fred Turin at 256-2603.

Special Seminars

Agriculture and Life Sciences
AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS: "Multi-Commodity Buffer Stocks in International Trade," Seon Lee, 12 noon, Warren 401.

FOOD SCIENCE: "Is the World Need for Proteins More Critical than the Need for Calories?" Jean-Pierre Hahicht, 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 11, Stocking 204.

VEGETABLE CROPS: "Response of Vegetable Crops to Acid Rain Under Field and Simulated Conditions," Mamoun B. Mohamed, 4:30 p.m., Thursday, April 6, Plant Science 404.

Arts and Sciences
ANTHROPOLOGY AND SOUTH ASIA PROGRAM: "Toward a Theory of Mechanism of Corruption with Reference to India, Japan and Indonesia," Minoru Ouchi, visiting fellow of South Asia Program and Rural Development, 4:30 p.m. McGraw 165.

CHEMISTRY: "The Applications of GC/MS to the Diagnosis and Study of In-Born Error of Metabolism," B. Halpern, University of Wollongong, 4:40 p.m., Thursday, April 6, Baker Lab 119.

ORGANIC/INORGANIC CHEMISTRY: "Quest for the Pentagonal Dodecahedrane," Leo A. Paquette, Ohio State University, 8:15 p.m., Monday, April 10, Baker Lab 119.

PSYCHOLOGY: "Hormones and Behavior," Norman Adler, University of Pennsylvania, 4 p.m., Friday, April 7, Uris Hall 202.

Biological Sciences
BIOCHEMISTRY: "Role of Phospholipids in Lipoprotein Structure: Studies with Enzymatic Probes," Nikhil Pattnaik, 12:20 p.m., Monday, April 10, Wing Hall Library.

ECOLOGY AND SYSTEMATICS: "Discrepancies in the Parallel Evolution of Community Structure in Two-Species Communities of Anolis Lizards: Data and a Theoretical Model," J. Roughgarden, Stanford University, 4:30 p.m., Friday, April 7, Langmuir Penthouse.

GENETICS TRAINING: "Extra Chromosomal Ribosomal Genes in Lower Eukaryotes: Structure and Evolution," Jan Engberg, University of Copenhagen, 4:30 p.m., Monday, April 10, Bradfield 108.

NEUROBIOLOGY AND BEHAVIOR: "Innate Knowledge: Some Problems in Developmental Ethology," Peter Marler, Rockefeller University, 12:20 p.m., Tuesday, April 11, Langmuir Penthouse.

NEUROBIOLOGY AND BEHAVIOR: "Courtship of Uletheisa Ornatrix (Arctiidae): Chemical Attraction and Seduction," Bill Connor, 12:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 12, Langmuir Penthouse.

PLANT PHYSIOLOGY: "Biochemical Events during the Early Stages of Germination in the Garden Pea," J. Bryant, University College, Cardiff, Wales, 11:15 a.m., Friday, April 7, Plant Science 404.

Centers and Programs
COMPUTER SERVICES AND COMPUTER ACTIVITIES GROUP: "Comments on Output from the SAS General Linear Model (GLM) Statistical Computer Routine When Used on Unbalanced Data," S.R. Searle, 3:30 p.m., Thursday, April 6, Warren 345.

COMPUTER SERVICES: "Writing EXECs," L. Brenner, 3:30 p.m., Friday, April 7, Uris Hall G-14.

Engineering
CHEMICAL ENGINEERING: "Production of Microbial Biomass from Lignocellulosic Wastes," M. Moo-Young, University of Waterloo, 4:30 p.m., Monday, April 10, Olin Hall A-145.

MATERIALS SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING: "Hydrogen Trapping Iron and Steel," H.H. Johnson, 4:30 p.m., Thursday, April 6, Bard 140.

MECHANICAL AND AEROSPACE ENGINEERING: "The Application of Quasi Linearization to Rail Vehicle Dynamics," J.K. Hedrick, MIT, 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 11, Grumman 282.

OPERATIONS RESEARCH: "Disadvantageous Middlemen," Ehud Kalai, Northwestern University, 4:30 p.m., Thursday, April 6, Upson 305.

OPERATIONS RESEARCH: "Equilibrium on a Congested Network," Tom Magnanti, MIT, 4:30 p.m., Friday, April 7, Upson 305.

PLASMA STUDIES: "Fusion Power: Is There Another Way? Maybe Wall Confinement," Robert Gross, Columbia University, 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 12, Grumman 282.

THEORETICAL AND APPLIED MECHANICS AND GEOLOGICAL SCIENCES: "Elastic Body Waves—Recent Advances in the Computation of Synthetic Seismograms," Chris Chapman, University of Toronto, 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 12, Thurston 205.

Veterinary Medicine
MICROBIOLOGY/PATHOLOGY: "Virulence Plasmids in E. Coli," Carlton Gyles, University of Guelph, 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 12, Vet Research Tower G-3.

Graduate Bulletin

(Sage Notes from the Graduate School)

Graduate Summer Tuition Awards provide $80 per credit hour for courses taken during the summer session at Cornell. Applications for the summer tuition awards are available in the Fellowship Office, 116 Sage Graduate Center. Completed applications must be submitted to the student's Special Committee Chairperson by April 17.

Applications for the 1978-79 New York State Senate Legislative Fellows Program are available at the Fellowship Office, 116 Sage Graduate Center. Ten fellows are chosen each year to spend a year in Albany, N.Y., during which time they receive first-hand knowledge of the operation of New York State government. Fellows receive a salary (taxable) of $11,000 for the year as well as the normal benefits of other senate employees. Applicants must meet the following eligibility requirements: be a matriculated student in a recognized graduate program at an accredited college or university at the time of application; be a resident of New York State or attend an educational institution in New York State; have a strong orientation toward public service; show evidence of strong research and communication skills. Applications must be submitted to the Student Programs Office of the Senate by April 15; notification of awards will be made on or before June 10. Additional information is available at the Fellowship Office.

WILLARD STRAIGHT HALL

1978-79 Financial Aid Renewal Applications are now available in the Financial Aid Office, 203 Day Hall. Graduate students seeking aid consideration (loans and/or work study) for next year should obtain forms and submit completed applications to 203 Day Hall. The application deadline is April 15, but graduate students are strongly encouraged to submit completed forms before then.

Any students who have not yet completed requirements for an M.A., M.S., or Ph.D. degree but who expect to complete requirements by the May 19 deadline should fill out the "Provisional Commencement List" form available at the Graduate School Office. Names will be set in type for the Commencement program, but removed if requirements are not complete by May 19. Deadline for submission of this form to have name placed on the Commencement program is April 28. May 19 is the deadline for submission of all materials for a May degree. No exceptions to this deadline will be made.

Attention Professional Master's Students: A limited amount of scholarship money is available for Professional Master's degree students for the 1978-79 academic year. The award packages, including scholarship, loan and job, will be administered by the Office of Financial Aid, 203 Day Hall, and will be based primarily on demonstrated financial need. Continuing graduate students in Professional Master's degree programs who wish to be considered for this scholarship program should obtain a 1978-79 Financial Aid Application (FAF) from 203 Day Hall. Students should write "PM" (for Professional Master's) on the top of their application. The deadline for filing completed applications with the Financial Aid Office is April 15. Continuing graduate students who apply by April 15 will be evaluated and notified by mid-May. Those who apply after the deadline will be considered on a funds remaining basis only. Eligible graduate students who have already submitted an application and who wish to be considered for this scholarship program should notify the receptionist at the Financial Aid Office (6-5145). Any additional questions may be directed to Liza Attridge, graduate financial aid counselor.

Career Center Calendar

April 6 — Career Fantasy Workshop, Part I of a series, 2:30-3:20 p.m. Register at the Career Center. Participation is limited.

April 6 — Test Preparation Course, Part IV, 6 p.m.
April 10 — Stuart M. Brown, director of Science, Technology and Society, will speak about Medical Ethics, 7:30 p.m., Stimson G-1.

April 10 — A representative from the University of South Carolina MBA program will be at the Career Center to talk with interested people. Check with us for an appointment.

April 10 — Career Conversations: Elaine Smith Feiden will talk about the rare book business, 12:15 p.m., Living room, Sage Graduate Center. Bring a lunch if you wish.

April 11 — Resume Critique, 11:15 a.m., Career Center. Sign up in advance.

April 11 — Test Preparation Course, Part V, 4-6 p.m.

April 11 — Graduate School Financial Aid Workshop, 2:15 p.m., Career Center. Sign up ahead of time.

April 12 — An interviewer from a summer camp in New York State will be at the Career Center. Call for an appointment.

April 13 — Career Fantasy Workshop, Part II of a series, 2:30-3:20 p.m. Interested people should sign up for entire series.

April 13 — Test Preparation Course, Part VI, 4-6 p.m.

April 14, 15 and 16 — The Cornell Chapter of the National Society of Black Engineers will hold its fourth annual conference. This year's topic will be "Engineering as it relates to Africa and developing countries — the contributions of Black Scientists in the United States." Guest speakers include Tony Brown of "Tony Brown's Journal." For details about time and place, contact the Career Center (256-5221).

Calendar

Continued from Page 8

12:15 p.m. Catholic Mass. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.
12:15 p.m. Eucharist, Episcopal Church at Cornell. Anabel Taylor Chapel.

12:15 p.m. Women's Studies Friday Seminar: "The Acquisition of Sex Roles Among the Quechua of Peru," Billie Jean Isbell, anthropology, Cornell. I&LR Conference Center 105.

12:20 p.m. "Personal Liberation and Systemic Change," a bag lunch study seminar sponsored by CRESP. Anabel Taylor Forum.

1 p.m. SALAT-AL-JUMA (Friday prayer for Muslims). Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.

3-7 p.m. Happy Hour. North Campus Thirsty Bear Tavern.

4-6 p.m. Happy Hour. Noyes Center Pub.
4 p.m. *Cornell Varsity Baseball—Columbia. Hoy Field.

4 p.m. *Cornell Varsity B Lacrosse—Cortland. Schoellkopf.

4 p.m. *Cornell Tennis—Columbia. Cascadilla Courts.

4:30 p.m. Department of Music presents panel discussion by

Erb, Husa and Palmer: "Directions in Contemporary Music."

Contemporary Music Festival. Barnes Auditorium.

5:15 p.m. Catholic Mass. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

6 p.m. Shabbat Services (Reform). Anabel Taylor Chapel.

6 p.m. Shabbat Services (Conservative). Anabel Taylor

Founders Room.

6:45 p.m. Shabbat Services (Orthodox). Young Israel House.

7 & 9 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Black and White in Color." Statler Auditorium.

7 p.m. Dungeons and Dragons meeting. Uris G-94.

7:30 p.m. Cornell Christian Fellowship meeting. Anabel

Taylor Founders Room.

7:30 p.m. Jordani Natural History Society annual auction,

H.E. Evans, auctioneer. Stimson Hall G-25.

7:30 p.m. Pentangle II Free Film Series presents an evening of films by Stan Brakhage. Uris Hall Auditorium.

8 p.m. International College Life Series: "Perspective Solution to Global Problems?" Frank Obien. Reception at 7 p.m.

All International students and faculty are welcome. Sponsored by Campus Crusade for Christ and Chinese Bible Study Group.

Martha Van Rensselaer Auditorium.

8:15 p.m. *Rose Club presents Mother Mallard's Portable Masterpiece Co. Straight Memorial Room.

8:15 p.m. Cornell University Theatre presents "Telemachus

Clay" by Lewis John Carlino. Lincoln Drummond Studio.

9:30 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "The Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz." Uris Hall Auditorium.

11:30 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Rosemary's Baby."

Uris Hall Auditorium.

Saturday, April 15

9:30 a.m. Shabbat Services (Orthodox). Anabel Taylor

Edwards Room.

10 a.m. Shabbat Services (Conservative). Anabel Taylor

Founders Room.

1 p.m. *Cornell Track—Colgate. Schoellkopf.

1 p.m. *Cornell Varsity Baseball—Pennsylvania. Hoy Field.

1 p.m. Jordani Natural History Society sale. Stimson G-25.

2 p.m. *Cornell Tennis—Pennsylvania. Cascadilla Courts.

4:30 p.m. Catholic confessions. Anabel Taylor G-24.

5:15 p.m. Catholic Mass. All welcome. Anabel Taylor

Auditorium.

6-9 p.m. *Statler Club New York New York Night Dinner.

Information 256-2331.

7 & 9 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Black and White in Color." Statler Auditorium.

7 & 9:30 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "The Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz." Uris Hall Auditorium.

7 p.m. Dungeons and Dragons meeting. Uris G-94.

8 p.m. *Statler Club New York New York Dance. Information

256-2331.

8 p.m. *Cornell Folk Song Club presents Pete Seeger in concert. Co-sponsored by Cornell Concert Commission and University Unions Program Board. Reserved seats only. Bailey.

8:15 p.m. *Cornell University Theatre presents "Telemachus

Clay" by Lewis John Carlino. Lincoln Drummond Studio.

8:15 p.m. Department of Music presents "Guido's Other Hand: Music of the Renaissance." Barnes Auditorium.

11:30 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Rosemary's Baby."

Uris Auditorium.

Sunday, April 16

9:30 & 11 a.m. Catholic Mass. All welcome. Coffee hour follows Mass. Anabel Taylor Auditorium.

9:30 a.m. Episcopal Church Worship Service. Sunday school and nursery provided. Anabel Taylor Chapel.

10 a.m. Ithaca Society of Friends (Quakers). Discussion and

First Day School. Babysitting provided. Anabel Taylor Forum.

11 a.m. Ithaca Society of Friends (Quakers). Meeting for worship. Anabel Taylor Forum.

11 a.m. Sage Chapel Convocation: Morris Goldfarb, University Jewish Chaplain.

11:15 a.m. Protestant Church at Cornell. Anabel Taylor

Chapel.

1 p.m. Ruhani Satsang, Divine Science of the Soul meeting.

Public welcome, no donations. Straight Loft 2.

4 p.m. Department of Music presents Student Recital:

Daniel Dorff, saxophonist and clarinetist. Barnes Auditorium.

6:30 p.m. Intermediate Hebrew Conversation. Anabel Taylor

314.

8 p.m. International Folk Dancing. Intermediate level.

Straight North Room.

8 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "The Maltese Falcon." Uris

Hall Auditorium.

Exhibits

Olin Library: "Delights to the Eyes—Shells and Books,"

through April 27.

Uris Library: "Elegant Ancestors," Nineteenth-Century

clothing from the Cornell Costume Collection, through April 29.

Willard Straight Art Room: Jewish ritual objects, prints, photographs, weavings, paintings and antique pieces of Jewish ceremonial art, through April 7.

Herbert F. Johnson Museum: "Indian Drawings from the

Paul Walter Collection," through April 16; "Sara Roby Foundation Collection: Selections," through June 4; "Art Insights:

Making Senses," through April 15; "Abstract Expressionism:

The Formative Years," through May 14; "The Enchanted

Domain," through May 28; "Immanent Domains," through

April 28; "New Muses: Cornell Artist Awards," through May 7.

Announcements

Johnson Museum free guided public tours every Saturday at 2 p.m. and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Tours last approximately 45-60 minutes.

Calendar

April 6-16

All items for the Chronicle Calendar must be submitted by mail or in person to Fran Apgar, Office of Central Reservations, 32 Willard Straight Hall, at least 10 (ten) days prior to publication of the Chronicle.

* Admission charged

Attendance at all events is limited to the approved seating capacity of the hall.

Thursday, April 6

12 noon. Bible Study. Episcopal Church at Cornell. Everyone welcome. Anabel Taylor G-3.

12 noon. Women's Studies Colloquium: "Genre and Gender: New Trends in Feminist Literary Criticism," Nelly Furman, Romance Studies, Ives 216.

12 noon. Catholic confessions. Anabel Taylor G-24.

12:15 p.m. Catholic Mass. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

4 p.m. Open Prose and Poetry reading. All welcome. Goldwin Smith Temple of Zeus.

4:30 p.m. Graduate Student University Orientation - Fall 1978. Organizational meeting for all interested graduate students. For more information call 256-4131. Sage Hall Living Room.

4:30 p.m. Messenger Lecture Series: "Revival and Metamorphoses of the Gods in Nineteenth Century Art and Literature": 6. "The Cave at Ithaca," Jean Seznec, Marshal Foch Professor of French Literature, Emeritus, University of Oxford, Malott 251.

5 p.m. Beginning Hebrew. Conversation. Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.

5:30 p.m. Exploration of the Siddur. Anabel Taylor 314.

6:30 p.m. Intermediate Hebrew Conversation. Anabel Taylor 314.

7 p.m. Zoo Animal Talk: "South Africa" by John King. Schurman D-215.

7 p.m. The Christian Science Organization welcomes students, staff and campus visitors to the weekly readings and testimonies meeting. Anabel Taylor Founders Room.

7:30 p.m. Israeli Folk Dancing. Anabel Taylor One World Room.

8 p.m. B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation presents an evening with American Jewish writers: Susan Fromberg Schaeffer, author of "Anya," and Jim Kates, poet and contributor to Response Magazine. Goldwin Smith 221.

8 p.m. *Cornell Cinema and CUSLAR presents "Burn." Uris Hall Auditorium.

8:15 p.m. *Cornell University Theatre presents "Telemachus Clay" by Lewis John Carlino. Lincoln Drummond Studio.

Friday, April 7

12 noon. Catholic confessions. Anabel Taylor G-24.

12:15 p.m. Catholic Mass. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

12:15 p.m. Eucharist, Episcopal Church at Cornell. Anabel Taylor Chapel.

12:15 p.m. Women's Studies Friday Seminar: "Images of Suspicion and Distrust in 'Women's Films' of the 1940's," Andrea Walsh, Human Development and Family Studies, I&LR Conference Center 105.

12:20 p.m. "Personal Liberation and Systemic Change," a bag lunch study seminar sponsored by CRESO. Anabel Taylor Forum.

1 p.m. SALAT-AL-JUMA (Friday prayer for Muslims). Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.

3-7 p.m. Happy Hour. North Campus Thirsty Bear Tavern.

4-6 p.m. Happy Hour. Noyes Center Pub.

4 p.m. University Lecture: "Literary Evolution and Evaluation: Proposals and Problems of Czech Structuralism," Jurij Striedter, Slavic Languages and Literatures, Harvard University. Co-sponsored by Committee on Soviet Studies. A.D. White House Guerlac Room.

4 p.m. China Japan Program presents an illustrated lecture: "Social Background of the Kabuki Theatre," Donald Shively, Harvard University. Goldwin Smith Kaufman Auditorium.

4:30 p.m. Biochemistry Seminar: "The Heat Shock System: A Model for Understanding Transcription and Translation Control in Drosophila," Mary Lou Pardue, biology, Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Stocking 204.

4:30 p.m. Astronomy and Space Sciences Colloquium: "X-Ray Bursters and Interstellar Grains," Charles Alcock, Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton. Space Sciences 105.

5:15 p.m. Catholic Mass. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

6 p.m. Shabbat Services (Conservative). The liturgy will be sung to music by Salomo Rossi, Italian Baroque Jewish composer. Anabel Taylor Founders Room.

6:30 p.m. Shabbat Services (Orthodox). Young Israel.

7, 9 & 11 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Annie Hall." Statler Auditorium.

7 p.m. *Hillel Shabbat Dinner. Reservations should be made by April 6 at Hillel Office, Anabel Taylor G-34. Anabel Taylor One World Room.

7 p.m. Dungeons and Dragons meeting. Uris G-94.

7:30 p.m. Cornell Christian Fellowship meeting. Anabel Taylor Founders Room.

7:30 p.m. Screening of "Farrebique" by Georges Rouquier. Sponsored by Council on Creative and Performing Arts, Cornell Cinema, Department of Romance Studies, History Department, IFMAC, Telluride Association and Pentangle II. Uris Hall Auditorium.

8 p.m. Jewish Arts Festival at Cornell presents "David's Harp," a Yiddish musical done in translation as Reader's Theatre. Anabel Taylor One World Room.

8 p.m. Eco-Justice Conference: "Justice on a Finite Planet: Capitalism, Socialism or Some Other Alternative," Richard Landry, Paul Sweezy and Murray Bookchin. Baker 200.

8:15 p.m. Department of Music presents Brown University Concert Chorus, William Erney, conductor. Barnes Auditorium.

8:15 p.m. Cornell University Theatre presents "Telemachus Clay" by Lewis John Carlino. Lincoln Drummond Studio.

9:45 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Midnight Cowboy." Uris Hall Auditorium.

10 p.m. Risley Free Film Series presents "Magical Mystery Tour" starring the Beatles. Risley Theatre.

Saturday, April 8

9:15 a.m. Eco-Justice Dialogue: "Visions and Realities: Capitalism or Socialism," Joel Gajardo Velasquez and Michael Novak. Anabel Taylor One World Room.

9:30 a.m. Shabbat Services (Orthodox). Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.

10 a.m. Shabbat Services (Conservative). Anabel Taylor Founders Room.

10:30 a.m. *Cornell Varsity B Lacrosse—Farmingdale. Schoellkopf.

1 p.m. *Cornell Varsity Baseball—Cortland (2). Hoy Field.

1 p.m. *Cornell Tennis—Binghamton. Cascadilla Courts.

1:30 p.m. Eco-Justice Panel Discussion: "Alternative Economic Systems: How Do They Deal With Ecological Limits," Bruce Winterhalter, David Pimentel, Jean Rosenberg, Mark Sagoff. Anabel Taylor One World Room.

2 p.m. *Cornell Varsity Lacrosse-Dartmouth. Schoellkopf.

4:30 p.m. Catholic confessions. Anabel Taylor G-24.

5:15 p.m. Catholic Mass. All welcome. Anabel Taylor Auditorium.

7 & 9:30 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Midnight Cowboy." Uris Hall Auditorium.

7, 9 & 11 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Annie Hall." Statler Auditorium.

7 p.m. Dungeons and Dragons meeting. Uris G-94.

8 p.m. Yugoslav documentary films: "Nikola Tesla," "Ivan Mestrovic" and "Beograd." Morrill 106.

8:15 p.m. *Cornell University Theatre presents "Telemachus Clay" by Lewis John Carlino. Lincoln Drummond Studio.

8:30 p.m. *Cornell Outing Club square dance with Roger Knox calling. Straight Memorial Room.

Sunday, April 9

9:30 & 11 a.m. Catholic Mass. All welcome. Coffee hour follows Mass. Anabel Taylor Auditorium.

9:30 a.m. Episcopal Church Worship Service. Sunday school and nursery provided. Anabel Taylor Chapel.

10 a.m. Ithaca Society of Friends (Quakers). Discussion and First Day School. Babysitting provided. Anabel Taylor Forum.

11 a.m. Ithaca Society of Friends (Quakers). Meeting for worship. Anabel Taylor Forum.

11 a.m. Sage Chapel Convocation: Floyd H. Flake, pastor, Allen A.M.E. Church, Jamaica, NY.

11:15 a.m. Protestant Church at Cornell. Anabel Taylor Chapel.

1 p.m. Ruhani Satsang, Divine Science of the Soul meeting. Public welcome, no charge, no donations. Straight Loft 2.

1-5 p.m. "Celebration of Jewish Arts." Jewish Dance, music and visual arts. Performances and exhibits by local artists. Straight Memorial Room.

4 p.m. Department of Music presents Student Recital: Margaret Whiteside, violinist, and Sooi-Beng Tan, pianist. Sonatas of Beethoven, Brahms, Ives. Barnes Auditorium.

6:30 p.m. Intermediate Hebrew Conversation. Anabel Taylor 314.

7:30 p.m. Ecology House Lecture Series: "Environmental Values," Richard Baer. Ecology House located off Triphammer Road.

8 p.m. International Folk Dancing. Intermediate level. Straight North Room.

8 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Laura." Uris Hall Auditorium.

8:15 p.m. *Cornell University Theatre presents "Telemachus Clay" by Lewis John Carlino. Lincoln Drummond Studio.

Monday, April 10

10 a.m.- 3:45 p.m. American Red Cross Bloodmobile sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega. Straight Memorial Room.

12 noon. Catholic confessions. Anabel Taylor G-24.

12:15 p.m. Western Societies Program, Center for International Studies, Part 2 of the series on "Immigrant Workers in Contemporary Europe": "Guest Workers in Germany: The Prospects for Pluralism," Ray Rist, visiting fellow in the Department of Human Ecology. Uris Hall 204.

12:15 p.m. Shulhan Ivri—Hebrew Table. Lunch with other Hebrew speakers. Rockefeller 159.

12:15 p.m. Catholic Mass. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

4 p.m. Jugatae Seminar: "Yolk Protein Synthesis in Locusts and Other Insects," G.R. Wyatt, Biology, Queen University, Kingston, Ontario. Caldwell 100.

4:15 p.m. Intercollege Program in Archaeology and Southeast Asia Program Lecture: "Ban Chiang: An Emerging View of Early Bronze Age Southeast Asia," Chester F. Gorman, University of Pennsylvania. Goldwin Smith D.

4:30 p.m. Fundamentals of Jewish Thought. Anabel Taylor G-30.

5 p.m. Beginning Hebrew Conversation. Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.

7:30 p.m. Food Science 150 Lecture: "Why Are Foods Processed?" M.C. Bourne, food science, Geneva. Uris Hall Auditorium.

7:30 p.m. Yiddish Conversation. Anabel Taylor 314.

7:30 p.m. "America and World Community": "Spirituality, Femininity and World Community," Alice Pempel, Womens Studies Program. Anabel Taylor One World Room.

7:45 p.m. Ornithology Seminar. Public welcome. Stuart Observatory, 159 Sapsucker Woods Road.

9 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Mississippi Mermaid." Film Club members only. Uris Hall Auditorium.

Tuesday, April 11

12 noon. Catholic confessions. Anabel Taylor G-24.

12:15 p.m. Catholic Mass. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

12:15 p.m. Cornell Women's Caucus. Ives 118.

4 p.m. *Cornell JV Baseball—Ithaca College. Hoy Field.

4 p.m. *Cornell Varsity B Lacrosse—TCCC. Schoellkopf.

4:30 p.m. Geological Sciences Seminar: "Tectonic Development of the Central Appalachians as Recorded in the Virginia

Thursday, April 6, 1978

Piedmont and Blue Ridge." William Brown, Kentucky. Thurston 205.

4:30 p.m. Astronomy and Space Sciences Colloquium: "The Radio Properties of Optically Selected QSO's," R. Sramek, NAIC, Cornell. Space Sciences 105.

4:30 p.m. University Lecture: "Trends in the Interpretation of Chinese History," John King Fairbank, Francis Lee Higginson Emeritus Professor of History, Harvard University. Goldwin Smith Kaufmann Auditorium.

4:45 p.m. Marine Biology free films: "Saga of the Sea Otter" and "The Great Sea Farm." Plant Science 233.

5 p.m. Southeast Asia Free Film Series: "Karba's First Year," "Childhood Rivalry in Bali and New Guinea" and "Bathing Babies in Three Cultures." Morrill 106.

5:15 p.m. Episcopal Church at Cornell Evening Prayer. All welcome. Anabel Taylor Chapel.

7:30 p.m. Communication Arts Lecture: "Practical Educational Strategies for Rural Development," Philip Coombs, International Council for Educational Development. Ives 110.

7:30 p.m. Folk Dancing for Couples. Singles, beginners, all ages welcome. Martha Van Rensselaer Auditorium.

7:30 p.m. Cornell Railroad Historical Society meeting. Program

3: "They Made Movies in Ithaca" and "Break Free." Open to all railroad enthusiasts and modelers. Kimball 212.

8 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "La Guerre Est Finie." Uris Hall Auditorium.

8 p.m. Jewish Grad Group discussion: "Kosher Laws and Food Science," Joe Regenstien. Sage Main Lounge.

Wednesday, April 12

12 noon. Science, Technology and Society Program colloquium: "Social Control of Science as an Issue Emerging between the Wars," Daniel Kevles, California Institute of Technology. Brown-bag lunch meeting in 701-702 Clark Hall.

12 noon. Weightwatchers meeting. All welcome. Warren 201.

12 noon. Catholic confessions. Anabel Taylor G-24.

12:15 p.m. Catholic Mass. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

3:30 p.m. Cornell Women's Varsity Lacrosse—Ithaca College.

4 p.m. *Cornell Varsity Baseball—Colgate. Hoy Field.

4:30 p.m. FCR meeting. Ives 110.

4:30 p.m. Biophysics Seminar: "Self Assembly of Cell Ultrastructure," T. Hyashi, biology, Illinois Institute of Technology. Clark 700.

4:30 p.m. Music Department Lecture: "A Chansonier from the Time of Lorenzo the Magnificent," Howard Brown. Barnes Auditorium.

4:30 p.m. Geological Sciences Seminar: "Elastic Body Waves - Recent Advances in the Computation of Synthetic Seismograms," Chris Chapman, University of Toronto. Thurston 205.

4:30 p.m. Japanese Free Film Series: "Ikiru" (Kurosawa, 1952). Sponsored by China-Japan Program. Uris Hall Auditorium.

7 p.m. H.F. Johnson Film Series: "Permutations," "Lapis," "Chakra," "Light" and "Late Superimpositions." Films by Smith, Belson and the Whitneys. H.F. Johnson Museum.

7:30 p.m. International Folk Dancing. Instruction and requests. Straight Memorial Room.

7:30 p.m. "America and World Community": "Spirituality, Femininity and World Community," Alice Pempel, Womens Studies Program. Anabel Taylor One World Room.

7:30 p.m. Andrew D. White Professor-at-Large lecture: "Time and Eternity," Saul Kripke. Final lecture in series. Clark Hall 700.

8 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Open City." Uris Hall Auditorium.

8 p.m. Cornell Backgammon Club. Noyes Center 3rd floor lounge.

8:30 p.m. Cornell Forum Lecture: "Some Recent Trends in Soviet Foreign Policy" Adam B. Ulam, Harvard. Ives 120.

Thursday, April 13

12 noon. Proseminar on Continuing Education: "Continuing Education in Industrial and Labor Relations," Lois Gray, associate dean and director of Extension, NYSSILR, 307 Stone Hall.

12 noon. Bible Study. Episcopal Church at Cornell. Everyone welcome. Anabel Taylor G-3.

12 noon. Women's Studies Colloquium: "The Development of a Lesbian/Feminist Sculpture," Deborah Jones, Women's Studies. Goldwin Smith 24.

12 noon. Catholic confessions. Anabel Taylor G-24.

12:15 p.m. Catholic Mass. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

1:30 p.m. Campus Club Lecture: "Herbs - Step by Step," Audrey H. O'Conner, editor, Cornell Plantations. Riley Robb Orvil C. French Seminar Room.

4 p.m. *Cornell JV Baseball—Cortland. Hoy Field.

4 p.m. Open Prose and Poetry reading. All welcome. Goldwin Smith Temple of Zeus.

4:30 p.m. Music Department Lecture: "Schoenberg: The Transition to Atonality," Allen Forte. Lincoln 121.

4:30 p.m. Kappa Alpha Theta, Center for International Studies and Womens Studies Program: "Women and Equality in Britain," Barbara Castle, Rt. Hon. M.P. Labour member of Parliament for Blackburn. Ives 120.

5 p.m. Beginning Hebrew Conversation. Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.

5:30 p.m. Exploration of the Siddur. Anabel Taylor 314.

6:30 p.m. Intermediate Hebrew Conversation. Anabel Taylor 314.

7 p.m. Zoo Animal Talk: "Birds," W. Dilger. Schurman D-215.

7 p.m. The Christian Science Organization welcomes students, staff and campus visitors to the weekly readings and testimonies meeting. Anabel Taylor Founders Room.

7:30 p.m. Israeli Folk Dancing. Anabel Taylor One World Room.

8:15 p.m. *Cornell University Theatre presents "Telemachus Clay" by Lewis John Carlino. Lincoln Drummond Studio.

8:15 p.m. Department of Music Lecture-Concert. Music by Donald Erb. Contemporary Music Festival. Barnes Auditorium.

Friday, April 14

12 noon. Catholic confessions. Anabel Taylor G-24.

Continued on Page 7