PLAN NEW LABORATORY For Engineering College

Furthering the plan for development of the College of Engineering with new buildings at the south end of the Campus, the Board of Trustees committee on University development has recently published an illustrated brochure describing the projected Materials and Metallurgy Laboratory. This building is planned as the southernmost structure of a group of which Olin Hall of Chemical Engineering, now nearing completion, is the first. It will be located along Cascadilla Creek, where the Old Armory now stands.

The new brochure devotes a page to each of four units of the proposed building, for materials testing, metal processing, applied metallurgy, and non-metallic materials. It contains architects' sketches of each and a general plan of the Laboratory group. Estimated cost of the four units totals $1,625,000, with $475,000 additional for equipment.

The booklet points out that "Cornell's program is based on the axiom that the engineer must always face the future. In these times especially, it is imperative that he be equipped to keep pace with the rapid advance of science, so that new discoveries may be given practical application without delay. Whether the basic problem is national defense, as today, or world reconstruction, as surely it will be later, the engineer's task will demand greater breadth of understanding and depth of technical knowledge. In no phase of engineering has the need for strengthening the educational program been more keenly felt than in that concerned with materials."

Maxwell M. Upson '99 is chairman of the Trustees' committee on University development. Its other members are H. Edward Babcock, Neal D. Becker '05, Floyd L. Carlisle '03, President Edmund E. Day, Frank E. Gannett '98, Stanton Griffiths '10, Walter C. Teagle '00, and Provost H. W. Peters '14, secretary. Cornellians may obtain the new booklet upon request to H. W. Peters, University Provost, Morrill Hall, Ithaca.

STUDENTS GET HELP

Survey recently completed in the office of University Treasurer George F. Rogalsky '07 indicates that students in the University last year received more than $1,250,000 in scholarships, loans, and for part-time work. Reports from the Treasurer's books, from the University Placement Bureau, from Mrs. Anna Fielden Grace '10, Manager of Residential Halls, and from fraternities, sororities, restaurants and other places of student employment indicate that approximately one-half of undergraduates and 70 per cent of graduate students in Ithaca received financial aid through the University or contributed to their own support.

Approximately 600 students in the Graduate School received $460,862 from the University as assistants, instructors, or holders of scholarships, fellowships, or investigatorships. Few of these had other employment.

Of the 6,053 undergraduates in Ithaca, approximately 41 per cent, according to the Placement Bureau, had part-time employment. They earned board and room rent valued at approximately $280,000, received $72,902 for employment under the NYA program, and probably earned an additional $35,000 for miscellaneous services.

Undergraduates held 1,750 scholarships, including State cash and tuition scholarships valued at $161,290 and University scholarships valued at $192,080;

TO DISCUSS WAR EFFECTS At New York Club Luncheon

Cornell Women's Club of New York at its forty-fifth annual luncheon January 31 follows the lead of the University in going "all out for victory." Highlight of the Club season, the luncheon will be at the Hotel Pierre at one, preceded by a reception for members and guests at 12:15.

Speakers will be Mrs. Leonard K. Elmhirst of Totnes, England, donor of Willard Straight Hall in memory of her first husband, the late Willard D. Straight '01; J. Carlton Ward '14, president of Fairchild Engine & Airplane Corp.; Sarah G. Blanding, Director of the College of Home Economics; and H. Edward Babcock, chairman of the University Board of Trustees. Their talks will present a comprehensive picture of the effect of the war on the home, industry, students, and University policy. A special message from Charles C. Collingwood '39, CBS news commentator in London, will come to the luncheon by radio.

Mrs. Elmhirst has been active in England in home and civilian defense; was a relief worker in Plymouth, near her home, after it was bombed. Ward went to France before it fell with an American mission to assist in aircraft production; is a member of the Engineering College Council. Miss Blanding has been active in reorganizing Home Economics courses for war preparation and recently has been called in consultation by the women's division of the Office of Civilian Defense. Babcock, a member of the Board of Trustees since 1930, will discuss the war-time problems of the University and how they are being met.

Ruth F. Irish '22, president of the Club, will welcome the guests and introduce Alumni Trustee Mary H. Donlon '20 as mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. George H. Hill (Dorothy Lampe) '26 and Charlotte Gristede '29 are chairmen of the luncheon committee which has members of Classes from '15 to '41.

Before the luncheon, officers of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs will meet at the Hotel Barbizon.

won 124 University prizes and grants totalling $9,681; and received 337 loans from the University totalling $53,957. The number of undergraduates benefited by scholarships and loans, excluding duplicates, was approximately 1,000, more than 16 per cent of those enrolled at Ithaca. These totals do not include free tuition granted to residents of New York State in the State Colleges of Agriculture, Home Economics, and Veterinary Medicine.

According to Herbert H. Williams '25, director of the University Placement Bureau, there has been a steady increase in recent years in the proportion of students working their way through the University by part-time employment. There has also been an increase from year to year in the financial aid available through the University, especially to students in the College of Engineering, where the principal of the John McMullen Fund, now more than $2,000,000, is constantly being augmented.

CHILDREN PARTY GUESTS

Members enjoyed with a group of children of Cornellians the annual Christmas party of the Cornell Women's Club of New York, December 10 in the Club rooms at the Barbizon Hotel. Story of St. Nicholas in Holland and singing of Dutch Christmas carols by Mrs. Herbert Schackian was interrupted by St. Nicholas himself with his attendant, "Black Pete." They distributed presents to the children by name in the traditional Dutch manner.

St. Nicholas was the husband of Mrs. Roger W. Woolley (Virginia Van Vranken) '25, and "Black Pete" was Lochlin Syme, son of John P. Syme '26 and Mrs. Syme (Helen English) '26. Other special guests were Olga and Joseph Hajek, Jr., children of Mrs. Joseph Hajek (Olga Weber) '29; Mary and Phyllis Kahn, daughters of Mrs. Charles I. Kahn (Louise Kreuter) '24; Sue and Bernard Savage, Jr., children of Bernard A. Savage '26 and Mrs. Savage (Carmen Schneider) '27; Ina Schackian, Duncan Syme, and Ann Woolley.

Mrs. Woolley was in charge of the program; refreshments were in charge of Sarah M. Cole '30; and Dr. Gertrude Fisher Kinsey '22 and Joyce Farnham '40 were hostesses. Members brought books, magazines, and contributions for subscriptions to be sent to men in military service.

Women of the Class of '40 met at the Club December 8, with Betty M. Bishop as chairman. The next evening, the Class of '39 met with Gladys E. Frankle as chairman. Christmas party of the women of '29 was December 17, with Charlotte Gristede in charge.

About ATHLETICS

DARTMOUTH TIES US

Dartmouth tied for the top of the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League last Saturday by defeating Cornell, 49-29, at Hanover. Cornell had won its first two games, with Harvard and Yale. Dartmouth, after losing to Harvard, defeated Pennsylvania and Cornell.

Dartmouth was in command throughout the game, gaining the initial advantage by converting free throws on Cornell fouls and running up a 22-9 lead at the half, with Olsen, center, setting the pace.

George W. Bouton '42, the only Cornell player to score consistently, started a brief rally in the early part of the second half, but Olsen and Monroe, a forward, began scoring heavily and stretched Dartmouth's lead. Personal fouls sent Samuel W. Hunter '43, guard, and John F. Harper '43, center, out of the game. Bouton scored 11 of his 12 points in the second half, but he was outscored by Olsen with 18 and Monroe with 16.

League teams now stand as follows:

	W	L	PC
Cornell	2	1	.667
Dartmouth	2	1	.667
Harvard	1	1	.500
Pennsylvania	1	1	.500
Yale	1	2	.333

WRESTLERS DEFEAT COLGATE

The wrestling team scored its second consecutive victory last Saturday at Hamilton, defeating Colgate, 34-0, with four of the matches decided by falls.

The falls were scored by Eric J. Miller '44, Joseph S. Mount '42, Anthony J. La Scala '43, and Fenton E. Brown '43.

Colgate forfeited the first match, and Robert L. Kenerson '44 earned a decision over Webb, 4 points to 1, in the 128-pound class. Miller threw Goulard with a half-nelson in 2:05, Mount tossed Holloway with a crucifix hold in 2:18, and La Scala pinned Seaker with a key-lock in 2:01 of the third period.

In the 165-pound class, Robert L. Harris '42 won an 8-1 decision over Sante. Brown's fall over Rasi was with a body scissors 0:44 of the second period. The heavyweight bout ended with a decision for Gordon H. Steele '44 over Guenther.

Fenton Brown is scheduled to go into the Army February 1. His brother, Captain-elect Forbes H. Brown '42, was inducted before the season started. On Brown's departure, Frederick A. Schaefer III '42 is expected to take over the 175-pound division. Schaefer, whose home is in Honolulu, T. H., likes to wrestle barefoot.

POLO SCHEDULE

A schedule shortened by the war was announced last week by the ROTC polo team. Games scheduled with the Pegasus Club of Rockleigh, N. J., may not be played because the club property has been offered for sale.

The schedule:

February	7	Pennsylvania Military College at Ithaca
	14	Pegasus Club at Rockleigh, N. J.
	21	Pegasus Club at Ithaca
	28	US Military Academy at West Point
March	7	Yale at West Point
	14-21	Intercollegiates at West Point

The Yale game has been scheduled at West Point instead of New Haven, Conn., so that players and horses may be accustomed to the indoor playing field for the Intercollegiates the following two week ends.

The Freshman polo team will play the McDonogh School in Ithaca February 28.

The ROTC polo team lost to Warrior Ridge, a local pickup team, 15-14, in the Riding Hall last Saturday. The Varsity led at the half, 11-7, but Henry D. Hopper '43 of Ridgewood, N. J., scored 3 goals and set up a fourth in Warrior Ridge's closing rally.

SPRING SPORTS GO ON

Cancellation of spring training trips for the baseball, golf, and tennis teams was announced last week by Robert J. Kane '34, Assistant Director of Physical Education and Athletics.

Shortening of the second term and elimination of the spring recess brought about the cancellation, but with two other possible exceptions, Cornell plans to conduct a complete schedule of spring sports. The baseball team will play all its Eastern Intercollegiate League games. Two scheduled regattas, however, may not be held: the Spring Day races with Harvard and Syracuse and the Poughkeepsie regatta.

Spring Day had been planned for May 23. Under the new calendar, that day will be the final one of term examinations, and the Harvard-Syracuse regatta may be postponed one week. The Poughkeepsie regatta is tentatively scheduled for June 15.

In baseball, the schedule will be completed May 30 instead of in mid-June. The Dartmouth game May 23 has been shifted to May 25, Commencement Day, and the team will also play Dartmouth at Hanover May 27 and Columbia at Ithaca May 30.

Adjustments are being made in other spring schedules, and some study is being given to a limited summer program of athletics for the new third term starting May 25.

All coaches are cooperating, Kane says, in the Department's wish to give opportunity for participation in sports to the largest possible number of students.

NAVY FENCERS WIN

By the margin of three epee bouts, the fencing team lost to the US Naval Academy 12-15, at Annapolis last Saturday. Cornell won the saber matches, 5-4, and lost the foils tests by the same score. Navy won the epee bouts, 6-3.

Five Cornell fencers each won two bouts. They were Sholom S. Bloom '42 of Brooklyn and Rubin Clarvit '43 of New York City in foils, Alan T. Mickel '44 of Albany in epee, and Hamilton Millard '44 of Asheville, N. C., and John W. Tunnell '42 of Philadelphia, Pa., in saber.

SWIMMERS LOSE TO ARMY

The swimming team lost to the US Military Academy 30-45, at West Point last Saturday, taking only two of the nine first places.

Only individual Cornell winner was Warren H. Fisher '43 in the 440-yard freestyle. Fisher's time was 5:11.2. Fisher also placed second in the 220-yard freestyle.

Winning the 400-yard freestyle relay, the Cornell team of James F. Morgan, Jr., '43, Robert A. Moore '43, William W. Paty, Jr. '42, and Harold H. Millar '44 was timed in 3:51.2.

HOCKEY TEAM LOSES

The hockey team lost to Colgate, 5-7, on Beebe Lake last Saturday, a brother of a Cornell player scoring 4 goals for the visitors.

Jerome A. Batt '43 and Gregor Batt of Buffalo both started at left wing. Jerome Batt scored Cornell's first goal in the first period, and Robert D. Ladd '43 of Ithaca also scored to give Cornell a 2-1 lead going into the second period.

Colgate's Batt scored 3 goals in that period, but Cornell stayed ahead, 5-4, on 2 goals by David M. Sisson '44 of Tupper Lake and another by George L. Babson, Jr., '42 of Syracuse.

Colgate won the game with a 3-goal rally in the third and final period.

FRESHMEN WIN AND LOSE

Freshman teams broke even in competition last week, the basketball team defeating Manlius School, 77-25, at Manlius Saturday after the wrestlers had

RAISE BURR SCHOLARSHIP

Members and alumni of the Telluride Association are raising a scholarship fund to be awarded at the University in memory of the late Professor George Lincoln Burr '81, History. For twenty-three years until his death in June, 1938, Professor Burr made his home at the Telluride house on West Avenue when he was in Ithaca.

Elmer M. Johnson '22, chancellor of the Telluride Association, says, "The Burr Scholarship is an attempt to perpetuate at Cornell the memory of one of the great teachers who did so much for the University and even more for so many individual men and women. Open either to a graduate or undergraduate student, it will be among the most valuable scholarships offered for work at Cornell. The scholar will receive his board, room, and tuition to attend any College in the University. He will be selected at the annual convention of the Telluride Association."

Of the expected fund of $15,000, Johnson says that $9,000 has already been collected from Telluride men, graduates of more than thirty colleges and universities, and from others of Professor Burr's former students and associates.

RUBINSTEIN, VIRTUOSO

Bailey Hall was almost completely filled for the University concert January 13 by Artur Rubinstein, Polish pianist.

The variety of his selections and his virtuosity appealed greatly to his audience, and the artist was recalled many times. At times, his performance was quite unorthodox, but his hearers were apparently agreed that it was always great, whether he was expressing the robust animation of the "Petrouchka," written for and dedicated to him by the Russian composer, Stravinsky, or playing with rippling fluidity and restraint the "Prelude in A Minor" and "Ondine" by Debussy.

The artist's brilliance, color, and remarkable enunciation of tone were especially demonstrated in the opening "Toccata in C Major" by Bach, and Beethoven's "Sonata in F Minor" was expertly executed. A closing group of five selections from Chopin he played with remarkable delicacy and clearness. He continued the variety of his program with encores by Chopin, Granados, and DeFalla.

VETERINARY ALUMNI HERE

Thirty-fourth annual conference for veterinarians at the Veterinary College January 7-9 brought many alumni among the veterinarians from the Northeastern States who came to review the newest developments in their profession. Program of technical lectures and demonstrations continued for the three days, with speakers from the University and the profession. Conference banquet in Willard Straight Hall January 8 was in honor of Professor Denny H. Udall '01, Veterinary Medicine, who will retire next June after teaching at the College for thirty-eight years.

Veterinary Alumni Association, after a dinner meeting January 8, presented to the University an oil portrait of Professor Howard J. Milks '04, Materia Medica, who has taught at the College since 1909. Painted by Professor Olaf M. Brauner, Fine Arts, Emeritus, this is the eighth portrait presented by the Alumni Association to be hung in the Flower Memorial Library in James Law Hall. The others are of the original Veterinary Faculty and of Professor Udall. All have been purchased with contributions from members of the Association; chairman of the committee for the latest, Dr. Winfield S. Stone '35.

Dinner meeting of the Association was attended by 175 alumni members. Dr. Udall was elected president for this year, succeeding Dr. Albert E. Merry '06. New vice-president is Dr. Albert L. Brown '15, and Dr. Donald W. Baker '29 of the College was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Dean William A. Hagan, MS '17, discussed the College today; Dr. Clarence P. Zepp '19, the Association's director of the Cornell Alumni Association, reported; and Emmet J. Murphy '22, University Alumni Secretary, spoke. Dr. Baker recounted his visits with alumni on the Pacific Coast last summer, including Dr. Walter E. Howe '97, a member of the first Class to graduate at the College, now retired after ten years as chief of the Federal staff of veterinarians in California.

NURSES WANTED

Nursing Council on National Defense is engaged in recruiting at least 50,000 new student nurses for 1942. "Mounting needs of the Army and Navy Nurse Corps, US Public Health Service, and other government services as well as civilian health demand a rapid increase in number of graduate nurses," the Council says. "Young women with one or more years of college," it is pointed out, "are likely to be given preference over high school graduates in entering good schools of nursing, and to advance more quickly to positions of responsibility. Opportunities for usefulness are almost unlimited, especially in post-war reconstruction all over the world."

Many schools of nursing admit new students in February. The Nursing Council on National Defense, with offices at 1790 Broadway, New York City, represents the national professional organizations of nurses, the American Red Cross, and the nursing services of the Federal government.

CHICAGO HEARS OF STEEL

Speaker at the regular Thursday luncheon of the Cornell Club of Chicago January 15, at the University Club, was Frederick M. Gilles '18, assistant general superintendent of Inland Steel Co. His subject was "Steel and the War."

FRATERNITY PLEDGES

New pledging rules prescribed by the Interfraternity Council last fall provided for the impersonal matching of preferential lists filed, respectively, by the fraternities and Freshmen, after rushing. Matching of these lists was done by a committee of the Council under supervision of Dr. Elias Huzar, Government, and Freshmen received the resulting printed bids from the committee. Fraternities submitted "quota" lists naming the men they desired to pledge and supplementary lists in order of preference. Freshmen were asked to list the fraternities they wished to join, in order of preference. Result was that more than twice as many Freshmen as in 1940 were pledged the first day. The rules continued for two weeks from the opening of Freshman registration, and at their end, it was announced that six fraternities had exceeded their quotas, nineteen Freshmen had pledged to houses they had not listed as first.

William D. Graham, Jr. '42, president of the Interfraternity Council, summarizing the results of the new rules, says: "To some alumni, it may have seemed that their patient efforts in rushing certain boys have gone wide of the mark, and they do not know whether to blame the boys, their chapters, or themselves. The fact is that the system put a premium on prompt decisions both by fraternity chapters and by Freshmen. The fraternities had no background of experience with this system, and the Freshmen, of course, never will have. Compared with the early catch-as-catch-can system, with second-term rushing of unhappy memory, or with the almost unregulated rushing of the last decade, this year's plan seems to have brought a certain amount of order out of chaos, to have cut down the ghastly waste of valuable time at a critical period in the academic year, and on the whole, to have given the average chapter about an average number of Freshmen."

The Interfraternity Council has set a specified week of the second term in which member fraternities may conduct initiations. The time is a closely guarded secret, in order that pledges may not learn the date in advance. Vice-president of the Interfraternity Council this year is H. Craig Allen '43 of Chatham, N. J., and Julius L. Hoyt '43 of Walden is secretary-treasurer.

Pledges of the forty-eight member fraternities of the Council are listed below at the end of organized rushing. Many houses have pledged additional men since. All not designated by Class numerals are Freshmen.

COUNTRYMAN GOES BACK

Cornell Countryman for January is principally a review in pictures of the development of the Colleges of Agriculture and Home Economics since their beginnings on the present site in 1905. Early members of the Faculty, buildings, and alumni as undergraduates are pictured.

KARAPETOFF TALKS ON WAR

Some fifty members of the Cornell Women's Club of Bergen County, N. J., their husbands and friends, were addressed January 8 by Professor Vladimir Karapetoff, Electrical Engineering, Emeritus, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. MacArthur in Tenafly, N. J. Professor Karapetoff spoke on the objectives of war effort and for the peace following, and after his talk played four piano selections. Honoring his birthday that day, refreshments included a birthday cake. Among the guests was Ruth F. Irish '22, president of the Cornell Women's Club of New York.

NOW, IN MY TIME!

By Romeyn Berry

This is about Senior societies. They seem to have changed their technique.

The students created no traffic problem last week by rushing in to register for the new wartime course in calisthenics and health-building. It was then announced in the Sun that the Senior societies were taking over the task of creating an undergraduate opinion calculated to bring more boys into the program.

In my time, no such public announcement would have been made. In my time, it was assumed that the societies to be effective in moulding public opinion had to practice reticence, had to work under cover; that being extra-legal bodies possessing no authority whatever, the students would resent any attempt by the societies to exercise leadership or to influence events. On the other hand, it was recognized—most clearly by the University Administration—that through their individual members, most of whom held influential undergraduate positions, the Senior societies could and often did urge forward effectively worthy objects, discourage ill-advised ones.

In the last fifty years, 'most every desirable change in undergraduate custom, 'most every new social device of a public spirited nature, has been created by the Senior societies working alone or in amiable combination. The discouragement of dangerous underclass rushes, dropping the expensive practice of sending lavish bouquets at Junior Week, the creation of the Student Council, the common financing of all teams under the Athletic Association, the adoption of the Freshman cap to identify and more quickly knit together the entering Class: these are a few examples of things brought about largely by the Senior societies without many people being aware of the relation between cause and result.

No new project would be launched without reasonable assurance of general approval in influential spots. Then would appear a letter in the Sun suggesting the new thing along with an editorial mildly favoring it. First thing you know, the matter was being talked about between classes. Student leaders didn't do much of the talking, but it soon appeared that they were all for it in a quiet way. Obstructionists were made to feel that they were in a hopeless minority. The tide of opinion became stronger and stronger, and within a week or two, sometimes, the new policy had been adopted with something like unanimous approval.

I remember when the first athletic season tickets were introduced, in the spring of 1902 I think, at $5 a copy. The price seemed a little steep at the time, and the Freshman table debated the matter rather bitterly at lunch. When their voices became high, the head Senior got up from his table, came down and stood over the youngsters. "You're for 'em," he said. "If there is anything about those season tickets you don't like, keep it to yourself. Right now they're necessary to finish up the season and to send the crews to Poughkeepsie. This house is for 'em, and that means you are. Don't forget that."

Your reporter was a Sophomore then, and didn't know the ropes, but in that moment he began to suspect that some of them were pulled by the Senior societies.

Old-timers don't like changes much. They are mildly astonished to see Senior societies come out in the open and assume authority. But if that's the way the students want it, that's the way they ought to have it. It's their college (as far as undergraduate matters go), and they ought to be allowed to run it their own way. Old-timers shouldn't interfere. It's better to have student affairs run wrong by the students than to have them run right by old timers. And it's the odd fact that nine times out of ten, the students turn out to be right; the old-timers all wrong!

LEHIGH VALLEY ELECTS

Cornell Club of the Lehigh Valley has elected as its president for 1942, Robert L. Fox '09 of Bethlehem, Pa. Vice-president is A. John Baumgarten '25; secretary, M. Irwin Hunter '26; treasurer, Morris D. Farr '25.

CLUB HEARS COLLYER '17

Cornell Club of Dutchess County at its annual dinner December 29 at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie had as speaker Trustee John L. Collyer '17, president of the B. F. Goodrich Co. He discussed conditions at the University, in athletics, and the world situation with special reference to the rubber shortage. Ernest R. Acker '17, president of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., was toastmaster. Forty-five alumni, sixteen undergraduates home for Christmas recess, and seven other guests attended.

The Club elected Arthur T. Williams '34 its new president; Herbert W. Saltford '33, vice-president; D. Reynolds Clarkson '32, secretary-treasurer. Robert P. Stiegitz '31, retiring president, was elected a trustee of the Vail Memorial Fund.

FLORISTS and their employes came to the University to discuss business methods and professional techniques, at invitation of the Department of Floriculture and Ornamental Horticulture, January 13-16. Leonard H. Vaughan '03, Chicago, Ill., plantsman, spoke on the florist business in war time at their banquet January 15 in Willard Straight Hall.

FELLOW DIRECTS SHOW

"Across the Continent," noticed in last week's ALUMNI NEWS, played again to crowded houses in the Willard Straight Theater January 16 and 17. Director of the rousing old-time melodrama was Richard Moody, who came to Cornell in 1940 the winner of a National Theatre Conference fellowship, to study in the Graduate School for the PhD with Professor Alex M. Drummond, Director of the University Theatre. Moody was in charge of courses in dramatics at the University of Illinois for several years and director of the Illini Theater Guild.

PRINTERS DO WELL

The Cayuga Press, printers of the ALUMNI NEWS in Ithaca, have just completed first printing of 100,000 copies of a booklet, "Farm and Factory: Building America," for the National Association of Manufacturers. This is one of a new series of twelve "You and Industry Booklets" which the NAM will distribute to teachers for use in classes. It is attractively illustrated and printed in two colors. Another of the series will shortly be started at The Cayuga Press.

Henry E. Abt '25, director of the group cooperation department, is in charge of manufacturing the booklets for the NAM. R. W. Sailor '07, editor of the ALUMNI NEWS, is secretary of The Cayuga Press and Harry E. Buck '21 is executive vice-president and treasurer.

MESSANGER LECTURES of the spring term, 1941, "The Idiom of Poetry" by Frederick A. Pottle, Emily Sanford Professor of English Literature at Yale, have been published by the University Press.

SORORITY PLEDGES

Women pledged to the University's thirteen sororities this year are listed below. All are Freshmen unless otherwise designated by Class numerals. Initiations are held during the second term by a ruling of the Pan Hellenic Association, of which Dorothy E. Marshall '42 of Wellsville is chairman.

ON THE CAMPUS AND DOWN THE HILL

JUNIOR PROM committee announced Monday morning that it had voted to cancel the Prom scheduled for Barton Hall February 6. The Sun published a statement from the committee chairman, Robert V. White '43, expressing regret and saying: "After ten days of negotiations with the leaders of the musical world, the committee has found there is no band available which would be suitable for the traditional Cornell Prom. Since Junior Week has been curtailed, and women students virtually allowed only two nights to attend houseparties, the committee feels that a second-rate band would not have the drawing power necessary to make the Prom a success financially as well as socially." Before Christmas, the Student Council set a limit of $2,000 for all expenses of the Prom, which necessitated cancelling a band contract then made. After Christmas recess, on representations from the committee, this definite limit of expenditures was abolished, the Council admonishing the committee merely to avoid unnecessary expense. But efforts to find a suitable band since have been unsuccessful.

STUDENT COUNCIL has moved its regular place of meetings from Willard Straight Hall to a room provided for it in the building at 1 Sage Avenue where the Counsellors of Students have offices. It was announced last week that a member of the Council would be on duty three afternoons a week in the meeting room to receive "criticisms and suggestions" from undergraduates.

"DESIRES RESIDENCE in fraternity house or other location affording good table scraps, large male pup seven months old. Disposition jolly; intelligence above average. Maternal parent purebred Newfoundland; paternal ancestry offers interesting possibilities for speculation. Name is 'Tigger.' Tel. 3862."—From the Sun classified column.

JAYNE COTTER, promising young actress in the current Broadway success, "Spring Again," is the sister of Frank T. Cotter and G. Edward Cotter, students in the Law School. All three were born in China, the children of the Rev. Francis J. M. Cotter, an Episcopal missionary. The family came back to America in 1926, after the siege of Hankow, and both boys received their first degrees at Wesleyan University. Frank played football and baseball there, was a member of the student governing board, and took prominent part in dramatics. He won scholarships in the Law School and has helped to pay expenses by working continuously. He will receive the LLB in March and will go into the New York City law offices of Sullivan & Cromwell. Edward Cotter, in his first year of Law School, is a guest this year at the Telluride house.

REGISTRATION for the second term is being carried on this week, under the University's accelerated program, with first-term courses not yet completed. Registrar Eugene F. Bradford announced last week that lots of ten or more registration coupons could be filed together in Morrill Hall the first three days, but students must personally register in their respective Colleges. Some members of the Arts and Sciences Faculty dismissed regular classes this week, in preparation for the block week of term examinations which begins January 26. Some in all Colleges gave prelims.

LIBRARY of the Schools of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, in Sibley Dome, is being enlarged from seventy-five to 175 seats, will have the mezzanine floor levelled for use as a reading room and connected to the main floor by an interior stairway, and fluorescent lighting throughout. Removed to the former Sibley Dome assembly room two years ago, the library doubled the number of its patrons last year. William H. Hyde, Jr. is librarian.

CEM, local fraternity organized here in May, 1940, has been accepted as the eighteenth chapter of Triangle, national fraternity in engineering. CEM has quarters this year at 127 Linden Avenue.

EXCHANGE CLUB of Ithaca has elected James B. Trousdale '22, University Auditor and Assistant Treasurer, its new president. Professor Charles I. Sayles '26, Hotel Administration, was elected a vice-president, and James E. Matthews '17, Assistant University Treasurer, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

UNIVERSITY CHORUS which Professor Paul J. Weaver, Music, planned to train to accept an invitation to broadcast with the NBC Symphony Orchestra and make a recording of the "Folk Song Symphony" by Paul Harris, Composer in Residence, has been abandoned because of the war emergency. Dr. Leopold Stokowski and the RCA Victor Co. had invited Professor Weaver to bring his singers to New York City to broadcast in mid-April. It was intended to recruit singers from the men's and women's Glee Clubs and the Sage Chapel Choir, but in the present emergency the Department decided not to ask students to spend the time necessary for rehearsals nor the University to expend the sum required, although funds had been appropriated by the Trustees.

TERM-END review parades of the ROTC are being held this week in Barton Hall. Orders from the War Department have resulted in request to students who have completed the first two years to turn in their uniforms and receive back their deposits. They have been allowed to keep their uniforms, but now they are needed in the threatened shortage of wool.

MRS. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT will attend Farm and Home Week February 9-14 in her capacity as assistant director of the Office of Civilian Defense. She will speak in Bailey Hall on "Civilian Preparedness in a National Crisis." Among other speakers will be Margaret G. Bondfield, former British Minister of Labor, and Alumni Trustee Mary H. Donlon '20, who will discuss "The Future We Fight For."

DELTA GAMMA members were gracious hostesses to members of the University January 17 in their new chapter house on Triphammer Road. The house was completed this fall by its builder, Donald McPherson '31. Interior decoration was in charge of Ruth Darville '15, Mary K. Hoyt '20, and Marjory A. Rice '29. Landscaping of the site is being done by Philip M. White '34.

JOHANA HARRIS, Music, who is the wife of Roy Harris, Composer in Residence, played with the Coolidge String Quartet in its third concert of the University series, January 21. She appeared in the Brahms "Quintet for Piano and Strings." Recently, Mrs. Harris made a recording with this group of her husband's composition, "Quartet for Piano and Strings."

MOBILE KITCHEN provided by the Ithaca branch of the British War Relief Society is contributing to England's war effort by serving hot meals to workers in a shipbuilding yard near Liverpool. Sign on the new kitchen, reading "From the Citizens of Ithaca, N. Y.," was noticed by a worker in the shipyard and he wrote of it to his sister-in-law, who is the wife of Arthur Davies, engineer and electrician in Martha Van Rensselaer Hall.

SAGE CHAPEL PREACHER January 25 is the Rev. Paul Scherer, Lutheran Church of the Holy Trinity, New York City.

STUDENT PLAYERS OF CURW presented January 14 in the Barnes Hall auditorium "The Hour Glass" by William Butler Yeats and "Hearts to Mend" by Harry Overstreet. They were directed by Mrs. Margaret R. Hasenpflug, graduate assistant in the University Theater.

Concerning THE FACULTY

EGON PETRI, Pianist in Residence, played the "Emperor Concerto" with the National Symphony Orchestra, December 14, in Constitution Hall, Washington, D. C. Commenting on his performance, the Musical Leader says, "Never in the history of the Washington Orchestra has there been so long a queue of patrons for a concert just before a program. It is gratifying to know that Mr. Petri will return here in a program of solos with the Chamber Music Guild Quartet on Feb. 11."

GEORGE S. FRANK '11, University Manager of Purchases, has been granted a six-month leave to serve with the OPM in Washington, D. C. He reported for duty January 5.

PROFESSOR HAROLD W. THOMPSON, English, was elected president of the American Folklore Society at its annual convention in Andover, Mass., in December. At the convention of the Modern Language Association in Indianapolis, Ind., he was elected secretary of the comparative literature section.

THREE SELECTIONS in the list of noteworthy compositions published by the Pennsylvania Forensic and Music League, are by Cornellians: Dr. Roy Harris, Composer in Residence, Reuel Lahmer, Music, and Dr. Harry G. Bull '08, Ithaca physician with whom music is an avocation.

PROFESSOR ROBERT A. POLSON, Rural Sociology, has been reelected secretary-treasurer of the Rural Sociological Society. As a member of the State Defense Council, he will assist in setting up volunteer registration offices for civilian defense, and will serve as advisor to county defense councils.

PROFESSORS A. C. DAVIS '13 and Will M. Sawdon '08, Experimental Engineering, and David Dropkin '33, Westinghouse research associate, will attend the annual meeting of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers in Philadelphia, Pa., January 27. Professor Davis will report on "Some Factors Influencing the Heat Output of Household Radiators."

AMERICAN SOCIETY of Animal Production at its annual meeting in Chicago, Ill., elected Professor Leonard A. Maynard, PhD '15, Animal Nutrition, vice-president.

PROFESSOR ALBERT W. LAUBENGAYER '21, Chemistry, in a paper read before the annual Symposium of Physical and Inorganic Chemists in Columbus, Ohio, revealed that the first single crystals of the little known element boron have been produced at the University. "The research," he said, "is directed toward a more exact understanding of the properties and crystal structure of boron. As less is known of this substance than of any of the other common elements, a more perfect knowledge of the characteristics will facilitate the synthesis of new compounds with conceivably useful properties."

PROFESSOR GEORGE I. DALE '10, Romance Languages, was elected secretary of the Portuguese teachers' group at the Christmas recess meetings of the Modern Language Association in Indianapolis, Ind. Professor Morris Bishop '13 presided at a discussion session. Other members of the Department attending were Emerson Hinchliff '14 and Mario B. Rodriguez.

NEW INSTRUCTORS and assistants in the College of Home Economics include Mrs. Jeanette G. Powell '26, Extension; Mrs. Warren Berger (Florence D. Dixon) '39, Foods; Elizabeth W. Olesen '40, Nursery School; Elizabeth L. Schmeck '40, Costume Shop; and Doris A. Strong '41, Household Economics.

PROFESSOR GARNER RETIRES

Professor Enoch F. Garner '10, Machine Design, has retired because of his health, after thirty-one years of teaching in the Sibley School of Mechanical Engineering. He and Mrs. Garner are spending the winter in Clearwater, Fla.

Receiving the ME at Maryland Agricultural College in 1903, he worked a year for Bethlehem Steel Co. before returning to Maryland as an instructor. He entered Sibley College in 1907 as an instructor and candidate for the ME, remaining three years and returning in 1913 as instructor in Machine Design. He was appointed assistant professor in 1920. He is the author of a book of Problems in Machine Design, and a member of the ASME.

POULTRY SCIENTISTS

Two of five members of a new technical advisory committee for the Poultry and Egg National Board are Cornellians. Professor Leo C. Norris '20, Poultry Nutrition, and Hubert J. Sloan, PhD '29, head of the poultry department at University of Minnesota, were appointed by the president of the Poultry Science Association to advise on nutritional research in poultry and eggs and collect and interpret information on the value of poultry products. Professor James G. Halpin '05, the first Cornellian to specialize in poultry and now head of the department at University of Wisconsin, represents the Poultry Science Association on the National Board. This board is maintained by the industry for consumer information.

Since our last report many changes have occurred. The Faculty has voted to shorten the University year so that the four-year courses can be covered in three years. Commencement will be May 25, and it is likely that Reunions will be that week end. Because room in the dormitories may be limited, the program may be curtailed, but we aren't licked yet. We will enjoy the Class companionship which we had anticipated. Suggestions are most welcome, so send us your ideas at once!

Mark Monday, February 16, 1942, on your calendar! Plans are underway for a 1917 meeting at the Cornell Club of New York City on that date. Detailed announcement will be made later.

JOHN COLLYER spoke recently at the annual dinner of the Cornell Club of Dutchess County. Several 1917 men were present, and John says they were all enthusiastic about returning for our Twenty-fifth Reunion.

A recent report from JOHN SLIMM is that ERNIE KURZ is at Broadacres Sanatorium, Wallser Road, Utica, and would like to hear from his Classmates. Ernie has always been one of our most faithful "Reuners" so here's our chance to let Ernie know we are thinking of him. Write Ernie at the above address.

Your correspondent was very fortunate in being able to journey home for Christmas, and on the trip I managed to run into a number of our Classmates.

LYFORD COBB, our president of the Willard Straight Hall board of managers, met me at the New York Cornell Club and we had quite a reunion. Lyf is at present working for the newspaper supplement, "This Week." He and Susie Cook, recently married, are now living very happily in New York.

In Hartford I bumped into BOB KNOWLTON, who is still with the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Corp. He says that Hartford is becoming a good Cornell stronghold.

Enroute to New York I had a very pleasant visit with HANK MORAN, who proudly showed me some mighty attractive pictures of his good-looking baby boy. Hank has left the Burroughs Business Machines and joined the F. W. Woolworth Co. He is a consultant for their restaurant systems.

At LaGuardia Airport I encountered CLARENCE PADGHAM, who had driven down from upper New York State to meet some young lady. Clarence is working with the GLF.

Members of '38 will be interested to know that I bumped into BOXIE ROBERTS at the Cincinnati Airport. He is working in a defense plant outside of Louisville, Ky.
