Keeping water out in the rain

MASONRY WALLS made of brick, stone, or concrete have long stood the test of time. But today, they can be made even better with a coating of silicone water repellents. These amazing materials prevent damaging rainwater from entering the countless tiny pores or openings in masonry structures.

When the water freezes after penetrating, it can cause spalling—cracks off small pieces. And, if it seeps all the way through to the inside of a building, paint peels . . . woodwork warps . . . plaster stains and cracks.

Now, silicone water repellents provide the answer. Brushed or sprayed on the surface, they line—not seal—the pores in masonry. Even heavy rain driven by hurricane winds cannot break through this invisible raincoat . . . yet, because the pores are not sealed, moisture from within can evaporate freely.

The people of Union Carbide produce silicones for other uses, too . . . automobile and furniture polishes, lubricants, electrical insulation, and new rubber-like products . . . all of which help bring more and better things for all of us.

Atomic power in Caesar's day?

Certainly!

It was there, in the ground, in the air and water. It always had been. There are no more "raw materials" today than there were when Rome ruled the world.

The only thing new is knowledge . . . knowledge of how to get at and rearrange raw materials. Every invention of modern times was "available" to Rameses, Caesar, Charlemagne.

In this sense, then, we have available today in existing raw materials the inventions that can make our lives longer, happier, and inconceivably easier. We need only knowledge to bring them into reality.

Could there possibly be a better argument for the strengthening of our sources of knowledge—our colleges and universities? Can we possibly deny that the welfare, progress—indeed the very fate—of our nation depends on the quality of knowledge generated and transmitted by these institutions of higher learning?

It is almost unbelievable that a society such as ours, which has profited so vastly from an accelerated accumulation of knowledge, should allow anything to threaten the wellsprings of our learning.

Yet this is the case

The crisis that confronts our colleges today threatens to weaken seriously their ability to produce the kind of graduates who can assimilate and carry forward our rich heritage of learning.

The crisis is composed of several elements: a salary scale that is driving away from teaching the kind of mind most qualified to teach; overcrowded classrooms; and a mounting pressure for enrollment that will double by 1967.

In a very real sense our personal and national progress depends on our colleges. They must have our aid.

Help the colleges or universities of your choice. Help them plan for stronger faculties and expansion. The returns will be greater than you think.

If you want to know what the college crisis means to you, write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

Work-Study Plan for Master's Degree in Chosen Field

sponsored by

Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory

in conjunction with

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

CANDIDATES BEING CHOSEN NOW FOR COURSES BEGINNING IN JUNE AND SEPTEMBER

---

Knolls, operated by General Electric for the Atomic Energy Commission, is developing a two-reactor system for the new Triton, the world's largest submarine; another new project...to design a reactor for a Navy destroyer power plant system. Qualified young engineers and physicists who join the new WORK-STUDY PLAN can start immediately on some phase of these large-scale programs.

The Plan pays approximately 85% of full salary the first year and 100% the next. The Master's degree can be obtained in 2½ years or less, depending on individual background. The candidate takes his M.S. in the field of his choice, with a minor in nuclear engineering.

If you have a B.S. degree in engineering or physics, you are eligible to apply.

1st SEMESTER:	Half time at R.P.I.—fees and tuition paid; half time on job, half pay.
2nd SEMESTER:	Half time on job, half time off for special nuclear courses at laboratory; full pay; fees and tuition paid.
SUCCEEDING TERMS:	Full time on job—full pay; up to 4 hours off each week to attend classes at R.P.I. Full tuition refund.

One of the nation's convenient new shopping centers is the Thruway Super Plaza near Buffalo, N.Y. Construction financed by The Bank of New York.

Economists agree that a family's ability to buy goods beyond the actual necessities of living starts somewhere above the $4,000 income level. The number of families that can afford such "luxury" items has increased by more than 10 million since 1950. Today, three out of five families in the nation have incomes of over $4,000, and their ranks are growing faster than ever before.

America's market for all types of goods and services is not only expanding, it is becoming more and more demanding with regard to quality, style and value. Two-thirds of all retail sales are now concentrated in 168 metropolitan areas where mushrooming new suburbs and shopping centers are visible evidence of a new era in marketing opportunity.

Farm & Home Week Visitors Come

FORTY-SIXTH FARM & HOME WEEK had 11,369 persons registered, only 681 short of last year's registration, despite some pretty bad weather. Professor Elton K. Hanks '26, general chairman, says there was an increase in attendance of farmers and farm leaders and a decrease in the number of young people (because of shortage of accommodations for them). Visitors came from every county in New York State.

The familiar Farm & Home Week booklet was arranged differently this year: events for all of the three participating Colleges, Agriculture, Home Economics, and Veterinary, were listed together instead of separately, by hour and day. The week started with a choice of a welding equipment demonstration, a motion picture of a salmon run, or a discussion-demonstration on the selection of adapted strains of poultry and ended with a lecture-demonstration on owls. Packed in between were more than 300 events.

Governor Commends Work Here

Governor Averell Harriman was the main Bailey Hall speaker this year. He was introduced by President Deane W. Malott, who traced his notable career in public service and remarked that, as a man of wealth, he could have been a railroad tycoon or a playboy. The Governor praised "the enterprising experimental work" that has been done in Agriculture, Home Economics, and the Veterinary College, cited the State's production records, and outlined how problems of the farmer, consumer, teacher, and older person are being met. New York is second in the country in production of apples and dairy products, first in onion production and duck raising. He endorsed a proposal by New York State dairy leaders that the US Department of Agriculture place a temporary freeze on the price of Class 1 fluid milk. Class 1 fluid milk is largely that sold in containers at retail. Prices ordinarily drop in the spring months as production increases. The Governor recommended that the Class 1 price be kept at the March level through July. He said regulations to block the seasonal drop would mean six to seven million dollars for New York farmers.

The year 1957 is starting out with some uncertainty, but probably will exceed 1956 in gross national product, industrial production, and disposable income, said Dean William I. Myers '14 of the College of Agriculture in his Farm & Home Week address. He called 1956 the best year in history for the total US economy. He reminded his audience that although the economy is still going strong, more than eleven years after the Japanese surrender, the last great depression began in 1929, which was eleven years after the end of World War I. "We've learned a good deal about controlling busts and booms since the '30's, and have added some economic shock absorbers to arrest downward spirals," he said, but asked: "Have we learned enough to avoid a severe depression this time?" Three major areas to watch, he noted, are housing and other construction, the speculative boom, and prices of basic commodities. He foresaw no severe drop in housing even though 1957 will show the second moderate decline from the peak year of 1955. A small increase is expected in factories and business buildings in 1957, along with continued growth in highway and school building programs. Overall, he said, there is little likelihood of a drastic drop in construction the next few years. The speculative boom has also been kept in fairly good control so far by the Federal Reserve and Treasury with the cooperation of business men. Violent overspeculation in the stock market has been avoided and overoptimism corrected without disaster. "Our weakest area is debt," he declared. "From 1950-57, total public and private debts increased from $491 to $693 billion, or 40 per cent. Most of this increase was in private debts which climbed from $252 to $425 billion, or 70 per cent. We have been borrowing heavily to keep the boom going, but debt expansion cannot continue forever at present rates in which demand exceeds current savings. There has been criticism of the 'tight-money' policy, but we must restrain booms if we want to avoid busts. The situation requires watching, judgment, and courage."

Speakers Discuss Current Topics

In a talk relating to the Week's overall theme, "Family Living Today," Stanley E. Munro '23 of Syracuse, representative of the US Savings Bond Division, said that in 85 per cent of American families, wives either share or have a dominant role in handling the family finances. The husband rules the pocket-book in 15 per cent of the families. Both husband and wife share responsibilities for saving in 60 per cent of the families. In the remaining 40 per cent, more wives than husbands are most active in financial matters (25 per cent vs. 15 per cent).

Discussing the role of chemical additives in modern foods, another speaker said "there has been too much conjecture about the possible dangers resulting from the use of chemicals, conjecture not backed up by sufficient evidence." The question "is not should chemicals be added to foods, but rather, what chemicals and how much?" Two economists declared "we are sowing the seeds of deflation!" "Unless the present rate of gold production increases, relative gold supplies inevitably will decline and become

Home Ec Alumna Recalls First Farmer's Week—Mrs. Roger H. Cross (Grace Bristol) '14 (right) of Fayetteville, who has missed only one Farm & Home Week since 1910, calls on Dean Helen G. Canoyer of the College of Home Economics. Mrs. Cross recalls that she and other students sat on benches in the basement of Roberts Hall, giving information and directions to visitors at early Farmer's Weeks. She said it was drafty, but fun! Mrs. Cross's husband graduated from the College of Agriculture in 1914. Three of their four children are Cornell graduates: Mrs. Arthur E. Durfee (Martha Cross) '41, wife of Professor Durfee '40, Assistant Director of Extension, and Mrs. James E. Naylor (Barbara Cross) '44, both Home Economics alumnae, and Roger H. Cross, Jr. '48, who received the BME.

deflationary," they explained. It was reported that physical punishment was the type most frequently used in 400 families interviewed in a New England study of child-rearing practices; that children who are read to at home are better prepared to learn to read when they enter school. Science has discovered that chickens go for tasty dinners, just like everyone else. Reporting results of several hundred scientific tests with 15,000 birds and hundreds of flavors, a Veterinary College professor said: "We found the domestic chicken to have a very well-developed sense of taste."

Consider Farming Business

Six panelists discussed the timely question, "Farms Are Getting Larger—What of It?" Ralph G. Space '24 and Ronald W. Space '53 of Freeville, father and son dairymen, presented dairy viewpoints and Thomas E. LaMont '27 of Albion, fruit growing. Integration and outside financing, the hottest issue with New York State poultrymen these days, was discussed in another forum, moderated by A. William Jasper, PhD '54, managing editor of the Poultry Tribune, and with Charles K. Laurent, PhD '52, head of the poultry department of University of Georgia, as a participant. Four Extension specialists agreed in a forum that "time-saving is more important than money-saving in many of America's kitchens." With more money to spend, with more women working, more home equipment and gadgets, and a wider choice of prepared foods, the trend in the kitchen is toward letting someone else do it. Time was when people looked down their noses at those who opened a can or a package of food. Now the can opener has become respectable.

In addition to lectures and discussions, 100 displays of the latest in agricultural research and equipment, home economics, and veterinary medicine were on view. Women were interested in a microwave oven where potatoes were baked in five minutes and an egg poached in twenty seconds. There were sighs when they heard that the present cost of such an oven is $1150. Siamese tractors, joined together and operated as one unit, were shown. A plastic greenhouse was on display. Visitors saw themselves on television in a demonstration in Roberts Hall of closed-circuit TV equipment.

More than 500 vocational agriculture students from fifty-three schools in twenty-five counties received an hour of specialized training in land judging during the week. A tea for Home Economics alumnae was held in the Martha Van Rensselaer Hall Faculty lounge.

Agriculture Alumni Elect

About 120 persons attended the forty-third annual meeting of the College of Agriculture Alumni Association, at luncheon in Willard Straight Memorial Room, March 21. H. Joseph Pendergast '38 of Cobleskill was elected president, succeeding Thomas E. LaMont '27, and thus becomes a director of the Cornell Alumni Association. Warren A. Ranney

'29 was elected a vice-president, joining Morton Adams '33 and Russell M. Cary '36, and Professor A. Wright Gibson '17, Director of Resident Instruction in Agriculture, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Professor Harry H. Love, PhD '09, Plant Breeding, Emeritus, recently returned from Formosa and Thailand, was presented a Citation for Distinguished Service to Agriculture from the New York State Agricultural Society. It was presented by University Trustee Warren W. Hawley, Jr. '14, who is president of the Society. Professor Love retired June 30, 1949, and has been in the Orient for much of the time since then. He was cited for "a half-century of service to the agriculture of New York State, adjoining States, and Canada through the general improvement of small grain production . . ." for his research and training of others, and "for unselfish contribution, at the risk of his own health, to insuring greater food supplies to densely populated China, Thailand, Puerto Rico, Formosa, and other countries."

Dean Myers Reports

Dean William I. Myers '14 said that the College of Agriculture with 1584 undergraduates and about 500 graduate students taking their major studies there is second in size only to Iowa State University, with Ohio State and Michigan State close behind. The College, he said, is admitting all applicants who are reasonably qualified to carry on the work there, except those for the pre-veterinary course, where stringent selection is made necessary by the Veterinary College limitation of numbers. Agriculture, he said, has room for 300-400 more good students than it has and he noted that business and industries allied to agriculture offer "plenty of good jobs" for graduates of the College. He said that State contracts may soon be let for constructing a Food Processing building at the Geneva Experiment Station and a Poultry Research building here, and that this year's State budget includes $3,400,000 for a new Animal Husbandry building here. The contract with International Cooperation Administration and the Philippine government for rehabilitation at the College of Agriculture in Los Banos, which started in 1952, is likely to be renewed for three more years, to 1960, and Dean Myers said that Halsey B. Knapp '12 has gone there to direct the work for Cornell. Several Faculty members this summer will replace others there.

"The number one problem," the Dean said, "is still to pay better salaries to our Faculty if the College is to maintain its leadership." He noted that "salaries of professors and associate professors here are $1000 to $1500 a year less than those in the best Midwestern institutions with whom we must compete, and we need a higher scale to hold the best of our younger men."

Puerto Ricans Meet

ONE HUNDRED CORNELLIANs, wives and husbands, with members of the bench and bar of Puerto Rico, gathered in San Juan, March 13, at a dinner sponsored by the Cornell Club of Puerto Rico for Judge Mary H. Donlon '20, University Trustee. Judge Donlon was in Puerto Rico to hold the March term there of the US Customs Court.

Fernando Chardon '28, president of the Cornell Club of Puerto Rico, presided. Judge Donlon gave a report from "The Hill." She was introduced by Judge Martin Travieso '03, retired chief judge of the Supreme Court of Puerto Rico.

Third Generation Grows

ANOTHER THIRD-GENERATION Cornellian who came to the University in 1956 is Helene W. Hopper '60. Previously listed only as the daughter of Thomas W. Hopper '28 and Mrs. Hopper (Helene Miner) '29 of Swarthmore, Pa., she is also the granddaughter of the late James H. Miner '00. Thomas M. Hopper '53 is her brother and Maryellen Hopper '56, her sister.

Twenty-seven of the new students last year are now known to be third-generation Cornellians. All are asked when they enter to list relatives who are alumni, but some are always left out. Corrections and additions to the published lists are welcome.

At Academic Ceremonies

PRESIDENT DEANE W. MALOTT will officially represent Cornell in the academic ceremonies at the inauguration of Edward H. Litchfield as chancellor of University of Pittsburgh, May 10. Chancellor Litchfield was Dean of the School of Business & Public Administration from April 1, 1953, until he went to Pittsburgh last July 1; had been a member of the School Faculty here since 1950. As part of the inauguration ceremonies, Director Glenn A. Olds of CURW will participate in a discussion of "The Place of the Humanities in a Free Society."

Trustee Floyd R. Newman '12 will be the University's delegate at the inauguration of President Novice Fawcett of Ohio State University in Columbus, April 29. Mrs. Christian L. Martin (Mary Hershey) '22 served as delegate from Cornell at the inauguration of Frederick deW. Bolman, Jr. as president of Franklin & Marshall College in Lancaster, Pa., April 6.

Now In My Time! Suspends

ROMEYN BERRY '04 died unexpectedly, March 22, in Tompkins County Memorial Hospital. He had suffered a broken hip in a fall at his home, Stoneposts, in Jacksonville, March 5. Funeral was in Sage Chapel.

Grandson of John Stanton Gould, professor of Agriculture at the University from 1869-74 and a member of the first Board of Trustees, the writer of "Now in My Time!" early acquired his interest in Cornell. His mother lived with her parents in Cascadilla Place when it and Morrill Hall were the only University buildings. Berry received the AB in 1904 and the LLB in 1906. He was a member of Beta Theta Pi, Sphinx Head, the Savage Club, Masque, and Phi Delta Phi. He played Freshman football in 1899 and became assistant manager of the Varsity track team and treasurer of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America. He was editor of the Widow for two years (one with George Jean Nathan '04 as business manager) and added Kenneth Roberts '08 to the board. Berry wrote "The Big Red Team" and the first original show produced by Masque, "The President of Oolong." With Roberts he wrote the Masque opera, "Panatela."

He practiced law in New York City from 1906-17, then after service as a first lieutenant in the US Army, returned to the University as Graduate Manager of Athletics. He was on the advisory committee of the IC4A, the American Olympic Committee, and the committee on rules of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. He was executive secretary-treasurer of both the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball and Baseball Leagues at the same time and earlier, president of the Baseball League. In New York, he was a representative of the Cornell Club of New York on the Athletic Council, a director of the Associate Alumni, and a member of the Alumni Committee on Athletics. While he was Graduate Manager, Hoy Field was completed and the Crescent was constructed. He was much in demand as a speaker, and is still remembered as the stentorian announcer of track meets in Barton Hall before there was a public address system.

Berry resigned as Graduate Manager in 1936 and shortly moved to the farm at Jacksonville. His first writing for the ALUMNI NEWS was a brief column, "Sport Stuff," that ran from 1920-29. He wrote a news page, "On the Campus & Down the Hill," in 1936-37, and "Now In My Time!" has appeared almost without interruption since 1937. Berry's picture here was taken about when this column started. Through the years, his columns have stirred the interest of more Cornellians of all vintages, both men and women, and brought more comments than any other feature of the NEWS. He was frequently quoted in other alumni magazines and his columns won awards for the NEWS in national competitions of the American Alumni Council.

For twenty-six years until his death, Berry wrote for his neighbors of Tompkins County and for many who had moved away a weekly column, "State and Tioga," in The Ithaca Journal. He contributed also to American Agriculturist and regularly to the football programs of home games. For part of 1936, he spent most of every week in New York City, writing "Notes and Comments" in the "Talk of the Town" for The New Yorker. His books include Sport Stuff (1927), Dirt Roads to Stoneposts (1950), Stoneposts in the Sunset (1951), and Behind the Ivy (1951), a collection of his ALUMNI NEWS columns published by the University Press. He also contributed to the book, Our Cornell. For some years he conducted a radio program, "Chats on the Barnyard Gate," broadcast from University Radio Station WHCU and heard over other Eastern and Midwestern stations.

Berry is survived by Mrs. Berry, the former Hester Bancroft '22, whom he married in 1932, a son, Warner B. Berry, and two daughters, Mrs. William N. McDonald III of Pelham Manor and Mrs. C. Hamilton Sanford, Jr. of Hamden, Conn., who was for a time in charge of alumni records at the University. The first Mrs. Berry, sister of the late Raymond Nutting '04, died in 1928.

"Rym" had a unique gift for chronicling and interpreting this and all universities. He disclaimed being a historian and said frequently, "I paint in watercolors; I am not a photographer." But his writings in the ALUMNI NEWS and elsewhere have preserved an exhaustive and valuable volume of tradition and information. He could also be a crusader on occasion, battling with sturdy wit for the preservation of memorials, against alumni interference in affairs of the University, poking fun at academic bureaucracy, or gently recalling the loss of traditions that seemed important. He did not regret change and he steadily advocated freedom of inquiry and the self-development of youth. A classic example is his rejoinder in the NEWS to attacks on the University's Russian program by a New York World-Telegram writer in 1944; a rejoinder that brought numerous gifts to Cornell.

"Of course we've got Communists," Berry wrote, "and of course we're teaching Russian; also German, Plant Breeding, and both schools of thought on the Gold Standard. If you don't approve, perhaps you'd better cancel your $5 pledge and use $2.75 of the money to buy the Becker Book and find out why we have universities, what their job is, and what the particular job of this one is. . . . Stop writing me letters. Stop teaching your son he must believe what you finally came to believe after you had been given a four-year chance to figure things out for yourself—if it has a ball and chain attached to it!"

Rym's calls at the NEWS office, to bring in his copy written in pencil on yellow sheets and to visit about affairs in general, were enjoyed by all the staff. They will be greatly missed, as are those of other valued confidantes and friendly critics such as the late Woodford Patterson '95 and Professors William Strunk, Jr., PhD '96, and Dexter S. Kimball.

Robert J. Kane '34, Director of Athletics & Physical Education, opened his Confidential Letter, March 28:

A great Cornellian passed away last Friday. Romeyn Berry deserved the tab of greatness as very few have. He was a vivid personality whose mark in the world is imperishable. His influence, however, is a provincial one; provincial because he virtually dedicated his great writing talent to Cornell and to Ithaca. Thus he did not receive the wide renown he most certainly would have had if his sphere had not been so circumscribed. He did not seek renown. In fact, he avoided it when it beckoned.

But we as Cornellians must always be humbly grateful he left us such a vast fund of Cornellianna and that he chose to live among us. I have before me his book, Dirt Roads to Stoneposts, and reading his glittering, flowing prose once again I feel a gnawing loneliness, an emptiness. Lord, he was good! Rym was profound and confoundingly knowledgeable, but it was Mother Nature who intrigued him most. He had a touch light as a zephyr. His was a gay pen. Never, never did he use it to demean or to be hurtful.

It was my good fortune to have known Rym well. I was proud to be his friend. It gave me a lift to know that he approved of me. He served in my job for seventeen years and Schoellkopf was on his regular beat when he visited the Campus. He was immensely helpful to me, particularly in the early years of my service. He could have been bitter, but Rym had too much nobility for that. And he loved Cornell too much. He knew all her failings, her inadequacies as well as her virtues, and he loved her. I know as probably no one else does just how much Cornell benefitted from his ambassadorship. His influence in athletics was international, his many friends in the business were loyal and highly respectful.

The Ithaca Journal seemed destitute Monday evening without his column. The ALUMNI NEWS can never be the same. Nor shall we, his friends.

Alumni To Elect University Trustees

BALLOTS are being mailed to approximately 89,800 Cornellians whose addresses are recorded to enable them to elect two Alumni Trustees of the University. Every living person who matriculated in the University is entitled to vote. If the official ballot is not received, it may be obtained from the Treasurer. Ballots must be returned to the Treasurer's office in envelopes provided not later than Monday, June 3, to be counted. Result of the election will be announced at the annual meeting of the Alumni Association during Class Reunions in Ithaca, June 8. The two candidates who receive the largest number of votes will be elected, provided they each receive at least one-third of all votes cast. Last year 17,674 votes were counted.

Elected Alumni Trustees will serve for five years beginning July 1. They will succeed Edwin T. Gibson '08 and Ruth F. Irish '22, whose terms expire this year. Gibson was first elected to the Board of Trustees five years ago and Miss Irish has been a member for two terms, since 1947. Gibson has been nominated for re-election. The six candidates this year are pictured on the opposite page.

A standing committee of the Alumni Association on Alumni Trustee nominations annually solicits suggestions for nominees from all the Association's constituent alumni organizations. It keeps a continuing record of those suggested and undertakes to evaluate their qualifications and assure the nomination of at least two new persons for each vacancy whom it judges to be best able of those suggested to serve the current needs of the University. Since the committee's object is to discover the best-qualified new candidates, it does not consider those who run for re-election. The University Charter provides that nominations must be signed by ten or more Cornell degree holders and filed with the Treasurer not later than midnight, April 1.

Members of the committee on Alumni Trustee nominations are designated by the respective constituent organizations of the Alumni Association and by the Alumni Trustees on the University Board, for four-year terms. Chairman of the committee this year has been Stoddard H. Knowles '45, who represents the Graduate School of Business & Public Administration Alumni Association. Its other members are Dr. Nelson W. Cornell '18, Medical College Alumni Association; Dr. Louis A. Corwin '19, Veterinary College Alumni Association; Horace R. Lamb '20, Law Association; William Littlewood '20, Alumni Trustees; George H. Stanton '20, Federation of Cornell Men's Clubs; Charles

M. Stotz '21, Architecture Alumni Association; Marion Quell '26, Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs; G. Norman Scott '27, Association of Class Secretaries; Walter M. Bacon '30, Society of Engineers; Mrs. Robert B. Crane (Almena Dean) '30, Home Economics Alumnae Association; William M. Vaneman '31, Alumni Association directors; Richard D. Vanderwarker '33, Society of Hotelmen; William H. Sherman '36, Agriculture Alumni Association; Jansen Noyes, Jr. '39, Cornell Fund committee; and Audrey M. McCluskey '44, School of Nursing Alumnae Association.

Memorial to McKelway '52

A VISITOR to the Hart Library, on the top floor of Goldwin Smith Hall, will be struck by an unusual sight. At almost any hour of the day or evening he is likely to find huddled around a long table a group of students wearing earphones, their faces fixed in rapt attention. An engraved plaque on the wall behind them reveals that they are listening to a record from the St. Clair McKelway, Jr. '52 Memorial Collection of Poetry Recordings.

The collection has been established by the Department of English with a fund given by Classmates and friends of McKelway, who was killed while serving with the Air Force in France, June 3, 1954. It has a high-fidelity amplifier tuned for voice reproduction with six pairs of earphones which may be plugged into jacks built into a library table and a richly varied assortment of records. They range from Chaucer (two Canterbury Tales read in Middle English pronunciation) to T. S. Eliot (two dramas and a series of poems) and includes ballads, Elizabethan songs, and complete plays by Shakespeare, Dryden, Oscar Wilde, Sean O'Casey, and Shaw. It has records of modern poets reading their own verse: Dylan Thomas, Auden, E. E. Cummings, MacLeish, Marianne Moore, Robert Frost, and others, both English and American. There are also recordings of Max Beerbohm, Frank O'Connor, and William Faulkner reading from their own fiction.

Dean Francis E. Mineka of the College of Arts & Sciences notes that both students and Faculty members have welcomed the McKelway Memorial Collection with enthusiasm. "As records are added through the years," he says, "it will grow into an important and distinguished part of Cornell's facilities."

First Lieutenant St. Clair McKelway, Jr. was killed in a helicopter accident near Bordeaux. He received the AB in June, 1952; was editor of the Widow and a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon, Sphinx Head, Sigma Delta Chi, and Pi Delta Epsilon. He was the first Class of '52 correspondent for the ALUMNI NEWS.

Six Candidates Nominated for Alumni Trusteeships

"Rym" Will Be Missed

EDITOR: I have just read of Rym Berry's death and have just read a Rym Berry column in the latest ALUMNI NEWS, so it would appear that Rym was hard at it until the bitter end. Nobody else ever quite did for his alma mater what Rym did for Cornell; that is, celebrate week after week the love of times gone by while relating the shapes of the past with the shape of things that are. His stuff was always full of the sadness of bells, the ascendancy of youth, the love of truth, and the beauty of the seasons in Ithaca; and Cornellians everywhere must feel, as do I, that it is a very sad thing to have this link with ivy broken, as it is surely broken now, by the death of so ardent a student of the moods and faces and meanings of a beloved University.

Is University Changing?

EDITOR: No alumnus or alumna of two decades or longer returns to the Campus without a sense of mixed emotions of nostalgia, pride, and a goodly dose of misgivings. One recalls the semi-rural atmosphere, the pleasant architecture, the fairly commonplace close relationship between student and professor (to say nothing of the even closer association with the instructor group); that character building phenomenon known as the "Honor System." Pride is engendered by the growth of the physical structure of the University. This same growth, however, evokes much misgiving.

What has happened to the Honor System other than that it no longer exists; to the all-important facet of higher education, close association between student and teacher; to the very architecture of the beloved Campus? Is Cornell becoming a factory, teaching at a rather impersonal and superficial level? Is architecture going from the pleasant campus style to the ultra-utilitarian, without regard for tradition? Apparently, Gilmore D. Clarke '13, who knows architecture as well as Cornell, has the same misgivings anent the architecture. One cannot help but remember and note that in his travels both here, and more so in Europe, he saw that renowned meccas of learning did not endanger their ancient university format while they expanded physically to accommodate the ever increasing number of students. Nor did the student-teacher relationship suffer. Why can't this also be true of Cornell? What are we trying to do? Are we really sincere in our effort to educate our future Cornell alumni, or are we going to stamp out, machine like, men and women who'll be the owners of the coveted diploma from Cornell University?—DR. MORRIS CHAMURIGH '26

University records show that in 1926, with 4819 students, there were 447 full-time Faculty members of the rank of assistant professor and above: a ratio of 10.8 students for each Faculty member. Comparable ratio in 1956 was 10,116 students and 958 Faculty members: 10.6 to one.—Ed.

Professor Guterman Dies

DIRECTOR Carl E. F. Guterman, PhD '30, of the Agricultural Experiment Station died, March 27, at his home, 120 The Byway, Forest Home, after a year's illness. He was fifty-three.

Professor Guterman had been Director of Research for the Colleges of Agriculture & Home Economics since that position was created in 1942 and was also Director of the University Agricultural Experiment Station since that time. He came to Cornell as a graduate assistant in Plant Pathology in September, 1925, having received the BS in June at Massachusetts Agricultural College. For three years, 1927-30, he held a fellowship for investigating lily diseases and in 1930 he was appointed assistant professor of Plant Pathology. From 1933-36, he was assistant to the Dean of Agriculture and Director of Experiment Stations, and in 1936 was appointed professor of Plant Pathology and Assistant Director of the Experiment Station. He was a director of the Cornell Research Foundation and a member of the Housing Research Center executive committee and Social Science Research Center governing board.

Since 1948, he had been a member of the New York State Council of the US Department of Agriculture and in 1954, was elected chairman. He was appointed to the State Agricultural Mobilization Committee in 1951. From 1950-53, he was a member of the food protection committee of the National Research Council. An active member of the American Association of Land Grant Colleges & State Universities, he served with the experiment station legislative committee from 1951, the committee on pesticides from 1953, and was chairman of the experiment station section in 1952-53. Last year, he was elected chairman of experiment station directors for the Northeastern States. Professor Guterman was a member of the American Institute of Biological Sciences and the scientific advisory committee of Boyce-Thompson Institute for Plant Research. In 1947, he went to Hawaii at the in-itation of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters Association to study their research program. In 1955, he went to the Philippines to review projects developed by Cornell staff members at the College of Agriculture at Los Banos.

Professor Guterman was adviser of Kappa Sigma and for a time was treasurer of the Kappa Sigma Alumni Corp. He was a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and a member of Sigma Xi, Phi Kappa Phi, Gamma Alpha, Ithaca Art Association, and other societies. He wrote numerous articles on plant diseases and on the administration of agricultural research. University of Massachusetts awarded him the honorary DSc in 1955.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Guterman, former assistant professor of Textiles & Clothing; a daughter, Mrs. David C. Fairbanks (Phyllis Guterman) '47; a son, Donald C. Guterman '53; and two stepsons, Ross D. Wetzsteon '54 and R. Scott Wetzsteon '58.

Cornellians See Freshman Prospects

UNDERGRADUATE Secondary School Committee of 128 men during the spring recess called on some 500 boys who have been accepted for entrance to the University next fall. Undergraduates of the committee were briefed here before they left for their homes and given the names of the prospective Freshmen in their areas. The students looked up these boys and their parents to tell them about Cornell and answer their questions. Names of accepted boys were distributed among committee members by student chairmen for each of the fifteen areas covered, with forms on which to report on their interviews. They worked with local alumni of the national Committee on Secondary Schools to get acquainted also with boys who are juniors now and might be interested in coming to the University. The students also attended parties arranged by Cornell Clubs in their areas for prospective Cornellians, to talk with these youngsters about the University and student life here.

This program of assistance to the work of alumni in secondary schools was started by undergraduates a few years ago. It has been found that first-hand information and answers to questions given by undergraduates to boys who have been accepted for admission helps assure that more of them decide to come to Cornell.

Chairmen of the Undergraduate Secondary School Committee this year are Paul J. Graf '57 of Webster Groves, Mo. and Gordon W. Anderson '58 of Winnetka, Ill. For the fifteen areas where the committee worked, the chairmen were Stephen W. Hatch '60 of Muncie, Ind.; Stephen W. Skrainka '57, Ladue, Mo.; Robert D. Smoots '57, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Robert M. Bryant '58, Hanson, Mass.; Scott M. Papenfus '57, Rutherford, N.J.; David R. Dunlop '59, Roselle Park, N.J.; George W. Herkner, Jr. '57, Short Hills, N.J.; C. Stanley Lomax '59, Garden City; Harold W. McCrone '59, Baltimore, Md.; Thomas G. Erickson '59, Winnetka, Ill.; James D. Strickler '56, White Plains; Bruce C. Beck '57, Philadelphia, Pa.; John R. Dempsey '57, Tonawanda; Michael M. Deuel '59, Washington, D.C.; Lawrence D. Pearson '58, Pittsburgh, Pa.

More Alumni Volunteer

To assist the University in finding the best-qualified boys and girls to apply for admission, the Alumni Committee on Secondary Schools now has sixty-two local men's committees and thirty-nine women's committees throughout the country. Many of these are adjuncts of Cornell Clubs, but there are some committees where there are no Clubs. Their members keep in touch with the schools in their areas, talk with prospective students, and interview many who apply for admission, sending reports of these interviews to the Admissions Office for assistance in selecting candidates. Robert W. Storandt '40, Associate Director of Admissions, is executive secretary of the national committee.

New men's committees recently formed are in Colorado Springs, Colo., with Lieutenant Hugh E. Kingary '54 as chairman; Davenport, Iowa, Thomas W. Priester '50; North Central Ohio, Albert W. Hartman '37, Mansfield; Oklahoma City, Okla., Harry L. Tredennick '42; Phoenix, Ariz., Frederick L. Heisley '48; Reading, Pa., William A. Smith III '49, Wyomissing; Rockford, Ill., Richard E. Ford '42; Springfield, Ill., Millard F. Bingham III '27; North Texas, Robert C. Moore '50, Dallas; Toledo, Ohio, John C. Grof '41; Tulsa, Okla., Herbert Gussman '33; Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Frank T. Armstrong '31, Ashley; Worcester, Mass., Robert C. Shoemaker '14.

Chairmen of the women's secondary school committees will meet at the University, May 17 & 18, with members of the Admissions Office staff and the College admission committees.

Get Harvard Awards

SEVEN CORNELLIANs in the Harvard Law School hold scholarships this year. They are Edward J. Lynch '52 and Charles G. Schulz '54, who will graduate this year; Michael H. Greenberg '55, Jack B. Helitzer '55, Eric L. Keisman '55, and Daniel G. Partan '55, who will receive their degrees in 1958; and Sidney Segelstein '56, who graduates in 1959.

On the Sporting Side - By "Sideliner"

Spring Season Opens Well

SPRING SPORTS started off with an enthusiastic flourish. The crews stayed in Ithaca for the spring recess, March 23-31, and were able to get out on the Lake twice each day. Coach R. Harrison Sanford was delighted and estimated his oarsmen were about 100 miles ahead of last year at the same time. Baseball team under its new coach, George Patte, amazed everyone by winning three games and tying one on its five-game Southern sojourn. The lacrosse team won one, over tough Loyola of Baltimore, and dropped two others to University of Baltimore and to Rutgers. Tennis team won two of five matches and the golfers won one and lost four. Track, sailing and rugby candidates, presumably, were able to go home and visit their families during the vacation.

Baseball Team Shows Strength

The first four baseball games took place at Lexington, Va., where the Big Red, with only three days of open air practice, downed Washington & Lee, 4-2, March 25. The next day it surprised again by taking the measure of Virginia Military Institute, 16-6. Only defeat was at the hands of the same VMI on Wednesday, 5-3. But the next day, VMI became a victim once again, 9-1. On Friday, darkness stopped an 8-8 game with Gettysburg at Gettysburg, Pa. Washington & Lee contest and the first game with VMI replaced Monday and Tuesday contests cancelled by Fort Lee at the last minute.

Shining bright features were the pitching of Sophomore Robert M. List of Westfield, N.J. and Junior Theodore A. Thelander III of Indianapolis, Ind., and the splendid hitting of third baseman Jay M. Reynolds '58 of Ticonderoga, right fielder F. Norman Juvonen '59 of Hubbardstown, Mass., and Captain Richard A. Shigekane '57, first baseman, all of whom are hitting the ball over .400.

List pitched six sparkling innings of the victorious opener over Washington & Lee, allowing only one run on a lone hit, and struck out twelve. Ted Thelander relieved him and likewise gave up one run on one hit in his three-inning chore. Cornell got four hits. Game was called after seven innings when rain started and made the 35-degree temperature even more dismal.

VMI was walloped with 16 runs on eleven hits by the Bacon Cage-trained Red players. The VMI defense was more than slightly helpful. It made ten errors to Cornell's two. Eugene Mirrer '59 of Brooklyn was given credit for the win, but he needed help from List. Peter S. Vrooman '58 of Rome started the game and gave up six hits and 3 runs in one and two-thirds innings. Mirrer allowed 3 runs in four and one-third, but allowed five walks and had two wild pitches. List gave up no hits, no runs, and allowed one base on balls in three innings. Captain Shigekane, the five-foot-six National Scholar and Tau Beta Pi from Hilo, Hawaii, banged the ball for four hits and knocked in 5 runs.

It was good pitching and hitting by VMI's Bobby Ross that contributed most to the only defeat. He gave up only three hits in the 5-3 win for VMI and hit a home run in the third inning of this seven-inning game, to tie the score at 3-3. Ross is star T-quarterback for the Cadets. Robert J. Kelley '59 of Mount Morris started on the mound for Cornell and allowed five hits and one walk in two and two-thirds innings. Joel S. Birnbaum '59 of Roslyn Heights replaced him and permitted two hits in two and two-thirds, allowed one walk and had one wild pitch, and Mirrer finished and gave up no hits in one inning. Birnbaum was the losing pitcher. Shigekane, B. Edward Tibbits '58 of Mohawk, and Jay Reynolds each had a single.

Good pitching by List and Thelander shackled VMI in the third and rubber game for a 9-1 triumph. Norm Juvonen and Reynolds each had three hits. Even toward this critical game of the series the non-playing Cadets displayed relative indifference. Only twenty-one spectators appeared. It was four more than the day before.

A single in the ninth with two outs brought in a run and tied the score for Gettysburg. It was too dark to continue. Cornell took a 3-run lead in the first inning on singles by Juvonen, Shigekane, and Reynolds and a triple by Nelson R. Schiff '58. Schiff came through to make it 4-3 in the third when he singled to bring in Tibbits. Third baseman Larry Leidel was the big gun for Gettysburg. His triple scored 3 runs in the fourth and it was his single in the ninth that brought in the tying run. Both teams made eight hits for their 8 runs. Mirrer and Thelander divided the pitching chore.

Lacrosse Team Wins One

The lacrosse team, too, went into its first competition with little practice. But this year it had the new hard-surface tennis courts on Upper Alumni Field as a fine place for conditioning.

On Tuesday, March 26, it showed its lack of finesse in losing to the University of Baltimore by a lopsided 14-3. But its one ace-scorer, attack man Edward C. Hinchliff '57 of Rockford, Ill. was busy with job interviews in the early part of the week. He made his presence felt on Thursday when the team defeated Loyola, 9-7, and he scored six times. Cornell was behind, 4-2, in the first quarter but rallied to tie the score, 5-5, at the half on 3 successive goals by Hinchliff. He tallied again at the start of third period and Loyola crept back to 8-7 at the beginning of the fourth. Hinchliff again came through with another with 2:45 to play. Hinchliff made three against Rutgers, but the Rutgers had too much.

Bruce W. Pfann '59, son of George R. Pfann '24 and Mrs. Pfann (Betty Wyck-off) '27, was a strong midfielder in the three games. He won eight of ten face-offs in the Baltimore game and controlled the ball on all but three in the Rutgers game.

Rutgers Game Summary

Cornell substitutions—Deuel, Shirley, Frisch, Seiler, Liles, Cowles, Rooney, Greenberg, Ryan, Jarvie, Polk.

Tennis Team Wins & Loses

Coach Richard Lewis was mildly disappointed at the showing of his Varsity tennis squad on its Southern trip. The team won two matches and dropped three. Charles F. Knight '57 and William J. Meyer '58 were not on the trip and would have made the team stronger.

It defeated Clemson, 5-4, March 26, and Furman, 9-0. Losses were sustained at the racquets of William & Mary, 6-3, and to Kalamazoo, 9-0, and Presbyterian, 8-1. A match on March 25 with Davidson was called off because of rain. Those who saw action were Captain Craig W. Fanning '57, Floyd L. Downs '58, Kenneth T. Derr '58, William H. Pope, Jr. '59, Herbert R. Johnston, Jr. '59, J. Lawrence Schnadig '59, and Nelson T. Joyner, Jr. '59.

Golfers Get Practice

Golfers were even more handicapped than the other teams in preparing for Southern competition. Results showed it. Rollins College of Winter Park, Fla., gave the Red golfers a 26½-½ lacing, March 27. University of North Carolina routed them by nearly the same margin, 25-1½, March 29. University of Richmond was a 25½-1½ victim, however, the next day. On Friday Maryland won, 22-5. Despite these beatings, some of the Cornell men played exceedingly well in view of their lack of practice. John F. Tallman '58 had a 75 and Captain Harry E. Halac '57, a 76, against Richmond. Douglas D. Mair '59 had a 75 against Maryland.

Crews Get Good Start

All 200 oarsmen of the Varsity, Freshman, and 150-pound squads were out in force on the Inlet and Cayuga Lake for double drills during the nice recess weather. Most of last season's spring recess was spent on the machines in Teagle Hall.

Coach Sanford was noticeably pleased with his heavyweight boats. He is trying Clayton W. Chapman '57 at stroke in place of Philip T. Gravink '57 who has been at the key oar for all three years of this crew's fine record together. "It is just an experiment. Gravink looks good at Chapman's 6 oar, but I'm not so sure we are strengthening the boat with Chapman at the stroke oar. We shall see after a good trial." Only newcomer in the Varsity is Robert W. Staley at No. 2 instead of John A. Blanchard '56. The all-Senior boat now lines up as follows: Chapman, stroke; George F. Ford, 7; Gravink, 6; William J. Schumacher, 5; Todd Simpson, 4; David F. Davis, 3; Staley, 2; John M. Van Horn, bow.

Freshman Coach Carl F. Ullrich '50 has high hopes for his boatloads, too. "They are big boys and willing workers. The second boat is pressing the first, which pleases me," he said. Robert R. Harvey of Duxbury, Mass., six feet one and 185 pounds, is at stroke in the first Freshman boat. He is a new oarsman. Charles C. West of Manitowac, Wis., who rowed at Exeter, is at No. 2. Others are 7, Stanley P. Watkins of Franklin, Ohio; 6, Jerold W. Dorfman of Bronx; 5, Robert J. Banta of Syracuse; 4, George C. Puram of Larchmont; 3, David H. Knight of Raymond, Maine; bow, Frank B. Bates of Williamsville. Bates rowed at 7 for Kent School last season. Coxswain is Albert S. Krech of Ridgewood, N.J., son of Edward M. Krech '27, who was coxswain in 1928, and brother of Edward Krech, Jr. '54, coxswain of the 1953 & 1954 crews and 150-pound coach in 1955. Rowing No. 2 in the second boat is Peter McManus, son of Peter J. McManus '32 of Ithaca, who rowed in the Poughkeepsie championship crew of 1930.

The 150-pound oarsmen are working out under a new coach, Walter W. Schlaepfer '51, former commodore of the 150's now in the insurance business in Ithaca.

Other Sports

THE FIRST and last bouts of the University open boxing championships, held in Barton Hall March 20, were the most exciting. David C. Auble of Ithaca, Eastern Intercollegiate 123-pound Freshman wrestling champion, won the 130-pound bout by stopping David J. Rietz '59 in 1:08 of the second round. He sent Rietz down for a 9 count in the first round and it was stopped in the second before too much damage was done. In the heavyweight bout, Philip G. Taylor '60, Freshman football halfback, won a split decision over Raymond B. Snyder '60. Taylor was brutally aggressive and Snyder's superior boxing ability did not have a chance to function. The other bouts turned out as follows: 140 lbs., David M. Vaughan '60 defeated Warren T. Cooke '60, technical knockout 0:50 of second round; 150, Michael H. Milts '59 defeated William J. Lauck III '58 on decision; 160, William B. Scott '59 won over Allan L. Mullgrav '59 on decision; 170, Ronald D. Farness '58 won over Michael R. Coddington '60 on decision; 180, Peter E. Ebertz '58 won by a technical knockout over David J. Mahar '57 in 1:00 of third round. This was Ebertz's third straight University title. The meet was supervised, as usual, by Professor Frederick G. Marcham, PhD '26, History. Major John A. Engelmann of the Air Force ROTC and Robert J. Czub '58 were referees.

George C. Willis '58 and R. Stevens Smethurst '57, wrestling at 130 and 167 pounds, were both defeated in preliminary bouts at the National Collegiate Championships at Pittsburgh, March 29 & 30. These were Cornell's only entries. Oklahoma University edged Pittsburgh for the championship.

Captains elected of winter sports teams for 1957-58 are: fencing, William T. Cotton '58 and Frank R. Wiley '58; skiing, Julian M. Strauss '58; swimming, R. Scott Wetzstein '58; wrestling, Richard F. Vincent '57. New managers are: basketball, Rodney F. Beckwith '58 and Richard A. Niles '58; polo, George M. Baer '58; skiing, Harrison W. S. Peddie '58; squash, Sheftel J. Cohen '59; swimming, Lawrence J. Severino '58; wrestling, Robert E. Hunkins '58.

"You might have read something about Washington and California being denied participation in the Intercollegiate Rowing Association Regatta at Syracuse next June 22. Fact is that the IRA was very sorry it was unable to invite these two Coast schools to the regatta. It was unable to because the NCAA has placed both institutions on probation due to their football violations. The NCAA prohibits any school on probation from competing for championships. The IRA, as are practically all leagues and associations in the country, is an affiliated and cooperating member of NCAA. The crews had nothing to do with the violations, to be sure; but it was the institutions, and not a segment of their sports programs, that were placed on probation."—From the "Confidential Letter" of Robert J. Kane '34, who is a member of the IRA Board of Stewards.

Football Players Do Well

ROUND-UP of the present occupations of Varsity football players in 1939 and 1940 is given by Robert J. Kane '34 in his "Confidential Letter" of March 28 to members of the Athletic Association.

"The 1939 and 1940 football teams were pretty special, as football players, as students, as engaging young men, as Cornellians," Kane writes. "They lost two games in two years and one had to be given away because of an official's mistake and the other was a 22-20 squeaker. What are they doing today? Well, here's a brief rundown. . . . Near as we could figure it, only three or four of these boys would be admitted today."

Paul J. Blasko '41 he lists as a major in the Marine Corps; John W. Borhman, Jr. '41, manager, Hotel Gibbons, Dayton, Ohio; Louis C. Bufalino '42, treasurer, Huse-Liberty Mica Construction Co., Lynn, Mass.; Jerome H. Cohn '41 owns a restaurant in Los Angeles, Cal.; Louis J. Conti '41, executive, American Tank Storage Terminals, Chicago, Ill.; Nicholas Drahos '41, writer, artist, technician, New York State Conservation Department; Howard S. Dunbar '41, neurosurgeon, assistant professor Neurosurgery, Cornell Medical College; Frank K. Finnmer '41, "recently sold out share of a coin-machine business and is between investments now;" Kirk Hershey '41, Navy test pilot, commander; Kasimer E. Hipolit '41, history teacher, Ithaca High School; Alva E. Kelley '41, head coach of football, Brown; Mortimer W. Landsberg, Jr. '41, stockbroker, owns seat on New York Stock Exchange; Walter J. Matuzak '41, veterinarian, owns small animal hospital in Syracuse; Harold F. McCullough '41, backfield coach, Cornell; Henry A. Moran '40 owns two restaurants in Syracuse; William J. Murphy, Jr. '41, manager, Northeast territory for Schenley Distributors, Inc.; James T. Schmuck '41, sales manager, Seymour Packing Co., Topeka, Kans.; Walter Scholl, Jr. '41, office manager, Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, New

Bequests Bring Aid

PAYMENT of $25,357 final residue from the estate of John B. Richards '96 has come to the University. Richards received the PhB in 1896 and the LLB in 1897. He was business manager of the Cornellian; a member of Alpha Tau Omega, Aleph Samach, and Sphinx Head. He practiced law in Buffalo and died September 12, 1946. About $34,000 was received from his estate in 1948.

A fund to aid worthy students in the Law School who need financial help is a memorial to the late Francis K. Dalley '94. It is a bequest from his sister, Gretta D. Dalley. Dalley was in the Law School for two years and received the LLB in 1894.

Early Cornell

From The Era, 1879-80—The University farm, including the Campus, consists of 264 acres. Independent of the buildings, the property is valued at $94,000. Costs of the principal buildings were: South and North, $160,000; the McGraw, $120,000; the Chemical Laboratory, $23,500; Sibley, $30,000; Sage College, $150,000; Sage Chapel, $30,000; Cascadilla, $35,000; the President's House, $35,000 . . . There are 148 Freshmen. '83 will lead in Arts. Seventeen ladies applied for admission to the Class of '83 . . . University barn is completed, a short distance back of the President's House. Professor Roberts is congratulated on having a barn so well suited to his purposes and to the needs of the University farm . . . First class for vocal instruction and singing is organized. Professor Max Piutti is the instructor and 200 are attending. If Professor Piutti succeeds in training a sufficient number of voices for the formation of a chapel choir, he will be deserving of the thanks of every student, so poor has the singing at the Sage Chapel services become. In nearly every other college there is a well-trained glee club, but at Cornell no such organization exists . . . One of our lecturers says that the habit of gossiping is "unusual and extraordinary" among the ladies . . . The Senior Class now numbers eighty-four . . . Seniors petition the Faculty that Commencement be abolished, without success . . . Advertisement: Sage College. Rooms for the Special Accommodation of Lady Students. Gentlemen Received as Table Boarders. Terms Moderate.

An Undergraduate Observes

By David L. Hye '57

Students Will Go to Greece

PROJECT TO GREECE, 1957, plans are well underway. Under the guidance and leadership of the Rev. A. Lee Klaer, Presbyterian and Reformed Chaplain at Anabel Taylor Hall, twenty-six Cornell students to be joined by two Dutch and two Scandinavian students, will leave New York on a KLM DC-6, June 17. Last year's group of thirty-three students and staff from CURW started construction of an adult dormitory and conference building, now known as the "Cornell Center," on the campus of the American Farm School in Thessalonika, Greece. This year's group hopes to complete the building. The students will investigate a suggested project for 1958 in Copenhagen: the development of a folk school for arts craft and design.

They will go from there through Germany, Switzerland, and Italy and sail from Naples for the seaport of Patras in Greece. While in Patras they will visit a work camp managed by the World Council of Churches. From there they will go to the Isle of Ithaca where people from the US City of Ithaca have helped to construct a new dorm for a nautical high school, the only school of its kind in the Ionian Isles. From Ithaca they will go north to Salonika, where they will be joined by ten students from the Middle East and will complete work on the Cornell Center.

The Cornellians will leave Greece, August 9, and tour Italy, France, and Belgium in two trucks owned by CURW. They will return to the US early in September.

The American Farm School is a four-year agricultural college, founded in 1904 by an American missionary. Its purpose is to train young men in the productive use of their land and water resources and in leadership in their rural communities. The Rev. William W. Mendenhall, former director of CURW, serves the Congregational Christian Service Committee in Greece. Bruce Lansdale, MSA '49, is president of the School. Both Lansdale and Mendenhall were anxious to relate the resources of the Cornell community to the needs of the Greek people, and urged a student mission to Greece to meet a need recommended by a recent study made with help of the Ford Foundation. As a result of this, Project to Greece was started in 1956. Students participating pay or raise their own expenses, which amount to $800 each. The remaining building materials needed for the Center will cost $6000.

While most of us enjoyed a relatively restful eight-day spring vacation, members of the crews worked out on Cayuga. Elsewhere in more comfortable environs, proved by the many red faces now in evidence, some Cornellians spent a week in the warm Florida sun. During six hours in New York City, we saw eight Cornellians that we knew; some making use of their student membership in the Museum of Modern Art (a requirement for one of our Fine Arts courses), others at "Happy Hunting" (one of the few good Broadway shows to which tickets were available at reasonable prices during vacation), and a few window shopping on Fifth Avenue. At our home town Cornell Club meeting, plans were being made to send prospective students to Cornell Day and Engineers' Day, May 3-5.

Rhythm Club presented the Gerry Muligan Quartet and the J. J. Johnson Quintet at its annual spring concert in Bailey Hall, April 6.

Joan T. Seward '59 from Valley Cottage, an Agricultural Engineering student, was selected Queen of the 1957 Farm & Home Week. She was presented a crown and trophy by Professor Stanley W. Warren '27, Agricultural Economics, at the square dance in Barton Hall the Thursday before spring vacation. She was chosen from among ten candidates for the title. Martha L. Drake '59 of Sands Point and Carole A. Hencle '58 of Baldwinsville were the Queen's attendants.

First prize of $100 in the forty-sixth annual Eastman Stage in Public Speaking, held during Farm & Home Week, was won by Harold W. Garman of Burt, Senior in Agriculture, for his speech on why he wants to give up pomology to enter the Christian ministry. Second prize of $25 went to Teow S. Wee '58 of Singapore, Malaya, whose topic was "The Asian Looks at America." Arguing the negative of the proposition "Resolved: That all Federal aid for education should be withheld from any State that does not comply with the Supreme Court ruling on desegregation in the public schools" brought George F. LaMont, Senior in Agriculture, son of Thomas E. LaMont '27 and Mrs. La-Mont (Mary Snell) '33, first prize of $100 in the twenty-eighth annual Rice Debate Stage and Sieglinde M. Dieken '58 of Bellmore, second prize of $25.

Cornellians competed with students in more than 100 US colleges and universities during February in the 1957 National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament. The Cornell team of Paul E. Trent '58 from New York City and Frank I. Goldring '57 from Miami Beach, Fla., shared first-place honors with Oberlin College. The competition was sponsored by the National Association of College Unions. Contestants played sixteen hands mailed to them by the tournament chairman, director of the University of Texas student union. Geoffrey Mott-Smith, contract bridge authority, scored the hands to determine campus, regional, and national winners. Close to 2000 students entered the competition this year.

Kappa Delta Epsilon, women's honorary, has elected Roberta E. Arvine '58 of Great Neck, president. Julianne Gilbert '58 from Elizabeth, N.J., Anita E. Podell '58 from Red Bank, N.J., and Ruth A. Horwitt '58 from Elgin, Ill. will serve as vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively.

"Sell conservation with magic" is the motto of David L. Hanselman '57, Senior in Agriculture. Son of Edwin C. Hanselman '27 of Ithaca, he has made more than 200 public appearances and is making many more this spring, using magic to impress on his student audiences the importance of sound conservation practices. His tours, sponsored by the Department of Conservation here and the State Conservation Council, supplement the social studies and science emphasis on conservation in high schools throughout the State.

Donna Williams '58 of Columbus, Ohio, has been elected editor-in-chief of the 1958 Cornellian. Jane B. Purdy '58 from East Aurora and George D. Link '58 from Rochester will serve, respectively, as associate editor and business manager of the book. This will be the sixth time in the last eleven years that a girl has headed the Cornellian board; they did also in 1947, '48, '49, '50, and '52.

Jack D. McFadden '58, an Arts student from Long Beach, Cal., has been elected president of Cornell United Religious Work. He is a member of Sigma Phi. David Abrams, ME '58, from New Rochelle; Ralph E. Lamar, Ag '58, from Southampton; Nancy C. Cole, Arts '58, from Manchester, Conn.; and W. Jeanne McKibben, Arts '59, from Erie, Pa. are, respectively, administrative vice-president, Campus vice-president, Freshmen vice-president, and secretary.

THE FACULTY

Trustee Albert K. Mitchell '17 of Albert, N. Mex. and Mrs. Natalie Granton Galbraith, headmistress of the Ethel Walker School in Simsbury, Conn., will be married June 27. Mrs. Galbraith is the widow of Colonel Bruce Galbraith, foreign correspondent for The London Times who was killed during World War II. She has just completed a term as president of the National Association of Principals of Schools for Girls. Mitchell, one of the country's largest producers of purebred Hereford cattle and a member of the National Advisory Committee on Agriculture, is the father of Mrs. Linda Mitchell Davis '53 and Albert J. Mitchell '56. Mitchell's first wife died in 1934.

Alan Nelson, Jr., three-year-old grandson of Alumni Trustee Leroy R. Grumman '16 and Mrs. Grumman (Rose Werther) '19, was accidentally drowned, March 23, in a swimming pool in a neighbor's yard. The child was the son of Mrs. Grace Grumman Nelson of Glen Head.

Professor Frederick C. Steward, Botany, has been named a Fellow of the Royal Society, whose approximately 500 members include the most distinguished scientists in the world. Founded in 1662 as the Royal Society of London for Improving Natural Knowledge, the Society now elects each year a maximum of twenty-five British Fellows from all branches of science. Professor Steward was born and educated in England; joined the Faculty here in 1950.

Five Faculty members have been invited to be charter fellows of a new organization, the American Academy of Microbiology. They are Dean William A. Hagan, MS '17, Veterinary Bacteriology, Director James A. Baker '40 of the Veterinary Virus Research Institute, and Professors Eugene A. Delwiche, PhD '48, Georges Knaysi '24, and Max R. Zelle, Bacteriology & Dairy Industry.

Professor Peter J. W. Debye, Chemistry, Emeritus, received the $1000 Kendall Co. Award in Colloid Chemistry, April 8, in Miami, Fla. at the annual meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Mark Barlow, Jr., Assistant Dean of Men since 1951, will leave in July to become dean of students at Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn. He received the AB in 1947 at Wesleyan, where Victor L. Butterfield '27 is president. Mrs. Barlow (Jane Atwood), MA '51, was Counselor of Student Activities in the Deans' office until last year.

Professor Harold W. Thompson, English, has received honors recently from five organizations: the American Guild of Organists and its Ithaca chapter, American Folklore Society, New York Folklore Society, and the Mediaeval Academy of America. Both the American Guild of Organists and its Ithaca chapter have awarded him honorary membership, the latter at a luncheon in February in his honor. Professor Thompson served the American Guild as editor for more than thirty years. During 1957, he is on the council of the American Folklore Society, of which he is an ex-president, and he is honorary vice-president of the New York Society. He was the first president of the latter and for many years its editor-in-chief. He has also been elected a member of the Mediaeval Academy and has an article on "Wainright: The Problem of the Picts" in the January issue of its journal, Speculum. Professor Thompson continues to teach two courses in Folk Literature, each limited to 150 pre-registered students. His assistant this year, leading ballad singing, is Ellen Stekert '57.

Professor J. Paul Leagans, Extension Education, is Ithaca chairman for the 1957 drive of the University of Chicago Alumni Foundation. He received the PhD at Chicago in 1949.

Richard I. Fricke '43 resigned as professor of Law in February to become an attorney in the office of the general counsel of Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn, Mich.

Mrs. Eleanor Billmyer, Assistant Director of Public Information, was installed as president of the Ithaca Press Club, March 15. Before coming to Cornell, she was a reporter for the New Brunswick (N.J.) Daily Home News and was editor of the Federation News, a weekly newspaper of the Chicago Federation of Labor. She was assistant editor of the ALUMNI NEWS from July, 1950, until February, 1951.

A daughter was born, February 22, to Professor Charles H. Uhl, PhD '47, Botany, and Mrs. Uhl (Natalie Whitford), PhD '47.

New college textbook, General Geography, by Professor Oscar D. von Engeln '08, Geology, Emeritus, and Bruce C. Netschert '41, has been published by Harper & Brothers. Professor von Engeln retired in 1948 after teaching at the University for more than forty years. He and Mrs. von Engeln live at 115 Kelvin Place in Ithaca. Netschert is a resource economist for Resources for the Future, Inc. and from 1952-55 was a consultant in the materials area of the National Security Resources Board and Office of Defense Mobilization.

John L. Munschauer '40 and Mrs. Munschauer (Grace Wood) '43 have a second daughter, Susan Elizabeth, born March 27. Munschauer is Director of the University Placement Service. The children's grandfather is Edwin A. Munschauer '12.

Addresses which appear in these pages are in New York State unless otherwise designated. Class columns headed by Class numerals and the names and addresses of the correspondents who write them are principally those of Classes which have purchased group subscriptions to the NEWS for all members. Personal items, newspaper clippings, or other notes about Cornellians of all Classes are welcomed for publication.

'88 BL—Colonel Ernest E. Johnson, shown above with the late Mrs. Johnson who died last summer, lives on St. Simons Island, Ga. Johnson, who will be ninety-four this September, has been an editor of the Saturday Evening Post, the New York Times, and the Savannah Morning News and during World War I was a colonel of Infantry with the A.E.F. in France. In an autobiographical sketch, sent to the NEWS by Everett L. Kent '11, Colonel Johnson recounts some of his experiences:

"The year of 1882 saw me on a wild adventure into Colorado. There, at about 19, I got a bully job the next day after hitting Denver. I was enlisted in a crew of land surveyors for the firm of Maxwell & Oliver. We prowled all over Northwest Colorado at $1.50 a day and rations. The grub was grand, for most of it was shot or snagged out of wild mountain brooks by the boys of the crew—all college kids and about as raw as they make them. Our field commander was one Major Oliver from Dalton, Ga., a cadaverous ex-Confederate officer in Lee's Army of Northern Virginia. An eight-gallon keg of lightning was his sole medical provision for all hands. The major was a genial soul at heart and every week end he sat at the bung of the keg and enjoyed the life of the Wild West until he curled up near the campfire to sleep off his 40-watt jag. We boys had a grand interval of big game shooting and trout fishing until the major came out of his coma.

In the intervals between the three summers that we were on the job out in the wilds I was a cadet in a small military academy in Boulder, Colo. . . . In 1885 I got my degree at the one-horse military academy and at once lit out for Cornell. Why I spotted it is a mystery to this day. I had a bully career there in football and other extravagant fun and came off with an academic degree for something or other and the record of being the bulliest poker player on the Hill. A report was current that one week I snuck over to Elmira and just about cleaned up all the best pokerists in town with three spectacular hands and one mighty bluff. I left Cornell with $1500 in my jeans as convincing proof that college education is good business. With that jackpot I bought a country newspaper in Ohio. In town was a gentleman of means and of crafty character who had an incurable desire for office. I got on his tail in my paper and made it healthy for the office seeker to buy my paper. He did—and at double the cost to me. . . .

After a tour of ten years on the editorial staff of Saturday Evening Post, I was chased off to the sunny South by my doctor to save me from an early demise and there in the South I have lived ever since. It is not all idleness and sloth. Down here the Civil War is still going right on and the Wool Hats never heard of Appomatox. You can get a slug in any bar by whooping it up for Dixie or a slug in your gizzard to finish you by adverse comment on Herman Talmadge or General Morgan of the Confederate Army. . . . Day dreaming of the faraway days when we were undergraduates and deep in some of the capers boys can conjure up to make life tolerable has its moments. Ho, for the light heart and elastic gizzard of youth The whole pageant of the Cornell of my undergraduate days parades before me in the moments of my happy day dreaming.

'04 AB—William F. Strang, a past grand master of Masons in the State of New York, received last November the Masonic Service Award for Distinguished Service for 1956. He was presented the award on behalf of the Masons of Monroe County, "in recognition and appreciation of [his] able leadership, outstanding accomplishment, and valued counsel. . . ." Strang's address is 800 Powers Building, Rochester 4."

'08 BS—Percy O. Wood, who has been conducting a general insurance business in Ithaca for forty-three years, announces that he has incorporated and taken as a partner Richard E. Hughes '36, formerly assistant manager of the Albany branch office of Traveler's Insurance Co. Wood lives at 204 Willard Way in Ithaca.

Chester H. (Chet) Loveland (above), in answer to a request for news, writes as follows:

lows: "I mislaid the note you sent me so am sending you a short paragraph relative to my activities and my picture. The telephone and water supply businesses, of which I am a part, are growing rapidly. I still have offices at the same place (i.e. 300 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal.) and am working every day at my management job. Our properties have far more than doubled in size in the last five years and are still growing rapidly. My family consists of my wife, two daughters, and seven grandchildren who are well and active. Here's the best of luck to the Nineteen-Tent and the same to my old friends and Classmates." Chet, it's a long time 'no see!' Our Fiftieth Reunion is not far away and we hope you'll arrange to disconnect the phones, shut off the water, and head East at that time, if not before.

From George W. Griffiths comes the following: "Would say I am not exactly retired as I spend a few hours now and then at business, and quite many more on various activities. As an elder in the Presbyterian Church I find plenty to do to keep me busy. My spare time in winter, especially the first three or four months, are spent in Florida, fishing and knocking around, which accounts for my failure sometimes to answer your letters promptly. Sorry I missed the last Reunion at Ithaca but just could not make it at the time. My address is still care of Southwork Mfging Co., Camden, N.J."

R. E. (Billy) Wall, after operating a Chevrolet dealership in Warsaw, N.C. for 34 years, has practically retired and his nephew and partner, John Fonvielle, operates the business, now in its 36th year. Billy's address is 406 Hill St., Warsaw, with time out for fishing in Florida.

Out of 460 copies of the Nineteen-Tent recently mailed to all 1910 men of known address, only 3 came back with a P.O. notation that the party addressed could not be located. This indicates that our Alumni Office in Ithaca is doing a fine job keeping current the Class addresses. Should any of you 1910ers wish any extra copies of the "Tent" please notify your secretary, who will be glad to mail them to you.

Charles G. Beavers (above) prepared for Cornell at Poly Prep in Brooklyn, but left before graduation to enter business. After many years with J. P. Stephens Co., Inc., he retired and since then has devoted a good deal of his time to one of his favorite sports, namely boating. He and his recent bride on their honeymoon spent several weeks at El Dorado Apts., Coconut Grove in Coral Gables, Fla. After a number of days in Naples they reached Fort Myers Beach and were greeted by Ted Frank, Ed Wheelan, and Prof. Earl L. Lord '09, who is now horticultural consultant for the State of Florida.

While touring Florida, several people mistook Charles for Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and even a couple of kids wanted his signature. Charlie, who has quite a penchant for slightly different head gear, was wearing the blue yachting cap that he obtained in Nassau last year and it was the same color as the Dodgers and the Pirates wear. Photo shows him on a cruise around Long Island on a friend's boat doing his bit peeling potatoes. On Charlie's own boat the friend would be doing the peeling. He's now headed for Sarasota, Ocala, and Silver Springs. Be on the lookout for him.

In a recent letter from Puerto Rico, Davy Davidson notifies us that he is busy on construction activities for IBEC Housing Corp. and thoroughly enjoys surf bathing, warm sunshine, and cool breezes. Stepping out from his seventh floor apartment he can choose the Atlantic on one side, or the smooth bay on the other. Our comments: "Davy don't pitch."

'12 Men—Men of the Class met in New York to celebrate a sacred rite in March, the 69th anniversary of the Blizzard of 1888. To be sure, the blizzard fell its hardest that year March 12, and the party this year was March 15, but due honor was nevertheless done, with a nod on the side to the Ides of March.

Special interest this year revolved around plans for the celebration of the Forty-fifth Reunion, in Ithaca this June. Dale Carson, long-time president of the '12 group in Metropolitan New York, presided, but most of the conversation came while Walt Kuhn (Class president and Reunion chairman) was in the chair.

Men were there from some of the outlying districts: Bob Austin from Albany; Davy Davidson from Clark Summit, Pa.; Jack Magoun from Harrisburg, Pa.; Sarge O'Connor from Washington; Lee Tschirky from Philadelphia; and Foster Coffin from Ithaca. Another welcome guest was Jerry Reinsmith from Allentown, Pa., an adopted member of the Class. He will bring his trio of musical entertainers to the Reunion—a repeat command performance. Jerry and his two partners were a feature of the '12 Reunion ten years ago.

The Metropolitan registrants at the dinner at the Cornell Club included Nat Bachr, Jim Barrett, Lew Bowman, Si Crounse, Frank Cuccia, Joe Grossman, Al Hess, Bill Hooley, George Hopp, Cliff Johnston, Bob King, Paul Leinroth, Al Lockwood, Deed Merrill, Bill Moore (with Jack Rodger '16, a guest), Remmy Ostrander, Karl Pfeiffer, Walt Rudolph, Vern Ryder, Oscar Seager, Dudley Shaw, Harry Specht, Sheep Stockly, and Howard Wilson.

Despite his vociferous, and apparently sincere, protestations, Dale Carson was unanimously re-elected to head the New York group for 1957-58. And re-election in President Dale's case carries also the duties of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. He always rides in by acclamation.—F.M.C.

Harry E. Southard

South Bend 14, Ind.

Here is news of one of our Classmates who has been many miles removed from these United States since he left Cornell. Frans Eduard Geldenhuys, who came to Cornell from Johannesburg, South Africa, has just been appointed Ambassador to The Hague, Netherlands, by the Union of South Africa. Frans assumed duty of his new post in February of this year, and he and Mrs. Geldenhuys are now in the South African Embassy, Alexander Gogelneq 2C, The Hague, Netherlands.

Frans took Ag at Cornell and stayed on to take post graduate work, receiving the PhD in 1917. He then returned to South Africa as a teacher of agriculture and science and in the ensuing years became chief of the agricultural division of economics in the Department of Agriculture for the Union of South Africa, then under secretary, and later director of forestry. In 1936 he was appointed South African commercial counsellor for the southeastern European countries, with offices in the South African legation in Rome. After that assignment he returned to Pretoria, South Africa, where he has been very active in connection with the natural resources of his country, the selection of immigrants, and on the council of the University of Pretoria.

His present appointment as Ambassador at The Hague is for three years and he is already planning and hoping, when he leaves there, to return to South Africa via the United States. Congratulations, Fran, on this latest appointment. How about taking just a little respite from those diplomatic chores in 1958, to come back to Cornell for our 45th Reunion?

Recently I saw a pamphlet containing a letter from Beneficial Finance Corp. to the special consultant to the governors of the Federal Reserve System written in connection with the Federal Reserve's study of the Federal Control of Consumer Credit. The letter was signed by the president of Beneficial Finance, but I thought I detected in it the clear style of my predecessor as editor of the column, Nei (Morris) Neifeld. Those of you who are interested in the subject probably could get copies from Nei, addressing him at his firm, Morristown, N.J. If you write him, send him some notes about yourself or other '13ers; he knows the problems of the column editor and will send the news to me.

Sheldon E. Brink has been wintering in Florida, in the "land of sunshine and signboards," as he calls it. His address there is 4134 NW 23 Court, Miami. Sheldon says he has not retired, just has stopped teaching school for an indefinite period. Sounds like sort of a recess period. I am glad to say he is looking forward to attending our 45th Reunion next year. Also have reports about another of our gang, Neill Houston. He is still down in Sanford, Fla., in good health and good spirits and working harder than ever, building up that big plantation of his. And going somewhat further away from home, I can give a little up-to-date news—just a little—about Aki (Herbert A. R. Austin): he is a consulting engineer and located at 850 Richards Street, Honolulu, Hawaii.

That will have to be all for now. So long.

Richard T. Cotton (above) moved from Kansas to Washington two or three years ago, where he is an entomologist with the agricultural marketing service of the USDA and lives with his wife at 1902 Fox St. (Apt. 204), W. Hyattsville, Md. Last July, the nonpartisan National Civil Service League celebrated its 75th anniversary by an award dinner at which he and nine other men were given a scroll, a personal memento, and $100. They were chosen from 130 nominees, suggested by 33 different agencies or department heads, for devotion to the principles of public service. Dick was captain of soccer in our Senior year; probably had soccer feet from birth, since he was born in Lydney, England. He took the MS here in

'18 and the PhD at George Washington. I'll let a press release take over from here:

"Dr. Cotton is an outstanding world authority on the complex of fifty or more insects that attack stored grains and cereal products. Most of the American and much of the world literature on this subject has come from his pen. During his service with the US Department of Agriculture, he has performed or supervised much of the research directed towards the biology, habits, and distribution of this group of insects, and towards methods of their control in stored grains on the farm, in the country or terminal elevators, and towards methods of treatment of storage structures, warehouses, mills, and bakeries. With the advent of government purchase and storage of surplus grains, the importance of this field of study increased immensely and the procedures used today by the Commodity Credit Corporation are based largely upon those developed by Dr. Cotton and his staff in past years. . . .

"Dr. Cotton has had a long and fruitful career with the Department of Agriculture since 1919. He is the author of more than 200 articles, bulletins, books, and reports. His book, Insect Pests of Stored Grain and Grain Products, is the standard text on this subject. He represented the United States at the International Meeting on Infestation of Foodstuffs, sponsored by the FAO in London.

"In 1954 he received the Distinguished Service Award of the USDA for his outstanding service to world agriculture and for his untiring efforts to advise individuals, agencies, and companies in all countries on procedures best suited to solve their particular problems."

Erich E. Schmied, 2630 Midland Avenue, P.O. Box 6207, Memphis 11, Tenn., is president of S & W Construction Co., Inc., in Memphis. He is married and has one daughter who is married to Paul R. Davis of Shreveport, La. They have three daughters. "There are other graduates of Cornell in Memphis, but I know of no other of the Class of 1915," Erich writes.

Fred C. Traub, 3400 Edmondson Avenue, Baltimore 29, Md.: "Have after many years returned to my home town. Am proud to have four grandchildren, three girls and one boy."

Julius F. Rudd, 1116 El Rado Street, Coral Gables, Fla.: "Have located here permanently so that I can look after my citrus grove. Am still active in the paint, varnish, and lacquer industry."

E. R. Morse, 4204 Loch Raven Boulevard, Baltimore 18, Md. is still with Canteen Co. as sales manager of Baltimore area. His youngest son Gordon will soon receive his commission as lieutenant colonel in the Air Force and is located at Otis Air Base, Cape Cod, Mass.

Dr. James F. Shigley, 322 So. Burrowes Street, State College, Pa., is professor emeritus at Pennsylvania State University. He writes: "Eight grandchildren. December 31, 1956, I shall have completed thirty years as a member of the board of health of State College—the past seven years as chairman of the board."

Henry R. (Maj.) Mallory, Box 128, Cooperstown, retired a couple of years ago and lives on a farm at the above address. (Let's have news of what you do up on the farm, Maj.)

Hugo J. Kralovac, 6912-14 Cermak Road, Berwyn, Ill.: "After twenty-five years in Chicago's Loop, ten years on Ogden Avenue, we are now in our own building in this nice western suburb of Chicago."

Floyd D. Dean, Box 6, Northbrook, Pa.: "Retired at end of November (1956) to this pleasant spot which will be my address henceforth."

Eli M. Tisdale, 4200 Kirtland Avenue, Nashville, Tenn.: "Am practicing architecture in Nashville. My partner is my son who got his degree at Georgia Tech (he got away from me). In addition to the son I have a daughter living in Oak Ridge, Tenn. Six granddaughters and not one grandson—sure love my little 'gals' though. Have been reading and enjoying the ALUMNI NEWS for some forty-one years."

A postcard from LeClaire Smith showing the surf on the beach at Bondi, Sydney, Australia, says, "Am writing this on the beautiful beach. The surf is the best I've ever seen. Al Marks has invited me to a cocktail party at his home in Hawaii—am looking forward to it. Regards, Smitty."

'17 Men—"Be Sure You're Seen With Seventeen, June 7-8-9, 1957." Reservations are coming in rapidly for our Big 40th. Gabe Lund writes from Guayaquil, Ecuador: "I am planning to attend our 40th-year Class Reunion in June. I am now trying to arrange my work here so I can be with you. Look forward to seeing all my Classmates again." Gabe is an engineer on a big road project in Ecuador. Another long distance reservation came in from Dunbar Hinrichs from the Virgin Islands, where he writes eight months of the year, with the remaining four in Connecticut. Bert Cushing reports from Winter Park, Fla., that he will be with us in June. We were sorry to learn from Bert that Harry Mack is slowly recovering from a serious operation. If health permits, Harry will attend our Big 40th. For seven months of the year, he lives at 461 Huntington Ave., Winter Park 7, Fla. Emmons Day now lives at 1516 Louisiana Ave., (P.O. Box 927), St. Cloud, Fla.

Honors continue to follow and catch up to deserving 1917ers. Erwin L. Malone, ME, has received the PhD from Columbia University. His address is 10 Brookside Road, Maplewood, N.J. Harold J. Humphrey, BS, received the distinguished service award of the National Association of Frozen Food Packers at their recent convention in Miami, Fla. Harold is research director, Birds Eye-Snyder Division of General Foods.

George A. Newbury presided at the convocation, held March 17 in Buffalo as a part of the convention of the thirty-one colleges that are participants in the United Negro College Fund. George was at his best before an audience of about three thousand. He is president of the Manufacturers & Traders Trust Co. in Buffalo. Congratulations to Frank Snow, who was recently married. Frank is professor of chemistry at Bennett High School, Buffalo.

Our thanks to Byron Hicks and Mahlon H. Beakes of the Class of '19. By told us where we could find Clayton Brown, a lost

'17er and Mahl reported it in the March issue of his ALUMNI NEWS '19 column. Clayt is about ready to retire after forty years' service with old Standard Oil Co. of N.Y., which is now Socony Mobil Oil Co. His address is 44 East Center St., Woodbury, N.J.

By the time you read these notes our annual Class dinner will be history—so it is now On to Ithaca! "Be Sure You're Seen With Seventeen, June 7-8-9, 1957."

—H. R. Johnston

'18 Men—Twenty-five members of the Class met for dinner at the Cornell Club of New York, March 5, with the idea of getting reacquainted in preparation for the Forty-year Reunion in 1958. William V. Nixon, University Director of Development, told us of the forward-looking plans in Ithaca. Other get-togethers will be arranged for next fall and the spring of 1958.

Remember the date! Wednesday, April 24, 1957. Our annual Class dinner at the Cornell Club, 107 East 48th Street, New York City. Dinner will be at 7 p.m. but our dinner chairman, Ed Carples, says to come early—so let's do that! It would be fun to see some of the long lost brethren located at a distance. How about wangling a business trip to New York about that time? It would do you good, and we here in New York would be delighted to see you.

Norman T. (Fig) Newton, Robinson Hall, Harvard, Cambridge 38, Mass., writes that he is "still busy at Harvard wearing several hats: professor of landscape architecture; chairman of the department of agricultural sciences; and secretary of the faculty of design." I'll say you're busy Fig, because you haven't told the whole story. A letter from Bradford Williams, secretary of the American Society of Landscape Architects, reports that "Norman T. Newton was recently elected as the Society's President for a term of two years, to take office at the conclusion of the Annual Meeting in San Francisco on July 10th."

Raymond K. Howe, 134 Crestwood Avenue, Tuckahoe 7, reports the welcome advent of a second grandchild and then recounts the following remarkable and commendable experience: "My wife and I took in two Hungarian refugee girls, 23 and 29, the middle of December. They couldn't speak a word of English, but with the help of a Hungarian-English dictionary and the sign language we have made out quite well. The older girl had been a construction boss in Budapest, taking architects' plans and directing the men in building apartment houses. She got a job within a month as an architect with engineering firm and already had had a raise. We found out through an interpreter that she was within a year of getting her architect's degree. The younger one worked in a textile factory and is now working in a shirt factory in Yonkers. They both go to school two nights a week to learn English and we have spent hours with them helping them learn. If they had been able to speak a little German I could have done better but this Hungarian is strictly on its own. These people are so polite and very grateful for all we are doing so it has been a very heartwarming experience."

"P.S. I was shocked to read of Turk Dresser's death in the News. I ran cross country and track with him."

Ray and his fair lady deserve much honor and credit for their generous gesture in taking these courageous people into their home and their hearts.

Harold J. Mollenberg, 111 Saratoga Road, Snyder 26, is president of Mollenberg-Betz Machinery Co., Buffalo, an organization whose principal business is air conditioning and refrigeration. They have been in business since 1909 as engineers and erectors of equipment and builders of special machinery and have handled erection and installation of equipment throughout the Northeastern area. Although we never see each other, Harold and I have mutual business contacts with organizations like Dairymen's League Co-operative Ass'n., so one of these days I'm hoping to see him.

Kenilworth, Ill.

Well, hello y'all, y'all! Greetings from the land of corn pone, hominy grits, mocking birds, Florida Fords (Fleetwood variety), frozen orange juice factories, and fabulous hotels. This is the life! Sittin' by the seaside, watching Mary Ann siftin' sand, and gettin' some in our shoes, too.

You can have your old blizzards, colds, and flu;

You work all hours and get in a stew;

I'm for the sunshine, and swimming too,

Golf all day, and hoist a few,

But dammit there's always a fly in the glue—

How to live without money—I can't, can you?

Already half of April has disappeared, but the balance is on the horizon, so there's still time to do some more Aprilizing. Some like April in Paris, some like it in Portugal, but I like April in Pompano Beach, and so does Henry Cundell, who is still real estating in nearby Boca Raton. Hank's business is just active enough to keep him tied down to the East Coast, and we think it makes sense. Not so Lester A. Fay of Arlington, Va., who for the last 10 years has been in the chief engineer's office of the US Engineers Corps Division Civil Works, engaged in flood control, river and harbor projects. Lester says phooey on Phlorida; he's going to be different and retire North to his wife's ancestral homestead near Worcester, Mass. in a few years. Our hat's off to a guy who's been father of the bride three times and can talk about retiring. There's 5 grandchildren, too. Off comes the hat again.

Say, whatdye know! Kelly Sachs and Jeff Kilbourn made Calif. all right. They even went farther. A private eye from a neighboring Class informs us that they were discovered on a banana boat bound for Hawaii. After the affair at Las Vegas, they probably had to skip the country. What a surprise they'll get when they find they're still in the United States. They'll not be a-wasting their time though as they expect to learn what Leis are all about, (as if they didn't know!) Watch for another adventure of this unpredictable pair in an early issue.

We've had some glowing reports on the large number of contributions to the Cornell Fund by our Class, so far. We've seen some excellent letters by our representative veep, Dick Edson, and some of the regional chairmen, and the substantial response to their appeal is gratifying. Even so, it is still far, far short of what it should be. Now that you have Uncle Sam's hand out of your pocket for a while, dig a little for Cornell, wontcha? Daniel M. (Chick) Krauskopf, Clifton Forge, Va., is one of the few who can report 100 per cent results, occupying the unique position of being regional chairman of a group of one in his area.

Some choice tid-bits on a few 1920-ites who make like they're working in Florida will get aired next time. So in two weeks you sho' nuf come back, you heah?

It is interesting to observe the varying philosophies held by Classmates on the subject of retirement. One wrote not long ago that he intends to keep on until he drops in his tracks. At the opposite pole is Willard A. Kiggins, Jr., who, March 31, embarked on a life of leisure "while still young enough to enjoy it." The occasion arose from the sale last December of A. H. Bull Steamship Co., of which Kig was president, to the American Coal Shipping Co., jointly owned by the United Mine Workers Union, the coal-carrying railroads, and mine owners representing 70 per cent of US coal production. Their object was to make sure of having enough bottoms to meet demands for the fuel in Europe.

Thus passes a family enterprise established in its recent form by Kig's maternal grandfather in 1902, though tracing further back to 1888. Willard went to work for the Bull Lines immediately after graduation repairing ships in drydock, thereafter rising through the positions of purchasing agent, operating manager and operating vice president, to the presidency. The fleet under his command has varied from 15 to 25 vessels, moving in the Caribbean, the coastal trade and throughout the world.

What now? Kig plans to spend seven months of each year on his 42-acre place in Landgrove Township, Vt., near the town of Londonderry (the post office address). Relieved of confining cares by neighboring farmers who will cut the hay and tap the sugar maples, he intends to indulge to the full his tastes for painting, drawing, and trout fishing. If these or the magnificent view to the east, south, and west from his 1600 feet elevation pall, he will turn his hand to local business enterprises. Kig acquired his farm six years ago and has fitted easily into the local scene. Curiously, other seafarers who have settled within a radius of ten miles include three naval captains, an admiral and a merchantman.

Kig will not entirely pull up his roots in Scarsdale, but plans to exchange his home for an apartment there. The Caribbean will still exert its fascination, particularly since son Gilbert Kiggins '53 holds a job in Puerto Rico. Then, too, Kig and his wife, Kathryn, can always span the continent to see their daughter, Mrs. Mary-Kathryn Balliett, wife of an oil man residing in the San Francisco suburbs. Between times, they will view hitherto unfamiliar parts of the country, such as the great State of Texas. It sure looks as though that Scarsdale apartment is going to gather dust!

Kig is giving up most of his directorships, including the Chemical Corn Exchange

Bank, but will remain a director of Selden (Sunny) Ostrom's New Rochelle Federal Savings & Loan Association as long as Sunny wishes. Sunny, by the way is recuperating at La Playa Apartments, Reddington Beach, St. Petersburg, Fla.

Way back in 1952, your correspondent suggested in print that the Class charter the S.S. Puerto Rico, its bar well stocked, for a Reunion cruise. That dream has gone a-glimmering, but I'm sure we would all settle for a clambake on those Vermont acres.

'22 Men—This year's annual Class dinner, recently held at the University Club in New York City under the chairmanship of H. O. Chapman, attracted a good many Classmates from distant points. Among those travelling over 200 miles to attend were: Ken Boos, Santa Barbara, Cal.; Caesar Grasselli, Wilmington, Del.; Hib Johnson, Racine, Wis.; Frank Nitzberg, Detroit, Mich.; Hank Schultheis, Alexandria, Va.; Frank Trau, Sherman, Tex.; and Al Verbyla, of Lenoir, N.C.

John F. Hopf is a proprietor of the newly opened Pascack Motel on the New York State Thruway at Spring Valley, Rockland County. Special rates will be arranged for '22ers coming to and from their 35th Reunion.

Roger B. Corbett is president of New Mexico College of Agriculture & Mechanic Arts, State College, N. Mex. He is the son of the late Lee C. Corbett '90 and the father of Roger L. Corbett '51 and Ann F. Corbett '52.

Ash McCowen and Mrs. McCowen expect to attend Parents Week End, April 26-28. Their oldest son, Robert, is a Sophomore in Civil Engineering at Cornell, and their youngest son, Scott, has entered the New York State Maritime College in the Bronx.

Frank W. Lake of Midland and Frank Trau of Sherman will head the Texas delegation at the 35th Reunion in June. Already signed up for the Reunion, to be held June 7 & 8, are 116 Classmates, a record number for this stage of Reunion planning.

A note from Larry Pryor announces that he has returned from Hot Springs, Ark., where he has been taking the Baths and playing the horses. He adds that if they paid off on the fourth horse each time he might be in the money, but that he'd hate to have to make a living at the business. There will be more about Larry's activities in a later column but meanwhile he can be addressed at Silver Lake Plantation, Greenville, Miss.

Lyman Burnham, 140 Walnut St., Englewood, N.J., turned television actor for a two-minute stint while vacationing at Lake Placid not long ago. The occasion was Arthur Godfrey's Ice Carnival and Lyme performed as one of four amateur dancing couples. The idea was to stimulate the interest of young men in figure skating and Arthur dubbed the gray-haired performers as "well along in years but young in heart."

John B. Hartnett, with Haloid Co., Rochester, since 1936, is currently vice-president in charge of sales and advertising. Daughter Nona, 17, is a freshman at DePauw University, and his son Sean, 15, attends Harley School in Rochester. Home address: 128 Thornell Rd., Pittsford. Joseph Kopko has been appointed vice-president and trust officer of Marine Midland Trust Co. in Elmira; his home address is 150 Lake Street. His daughter, Sylvia, graduated from Elmira College in '56 and his son, David '53, is now assistant to John Munschauer '40 of the University Placement Office at Cornell.

Earl L. Arnold is manager of film emulsion and plate manufacturing divisions of Eastman Kodak, Kodak Park, Rochester. He is also chairman of the commission which operates the new Rochester Community War Memorial Building, which is used for conventions, exhibitions and civic events as well as serving the American Hockey League and the National Basketball League teams. Home address: 310 Beach Avenue, Rochester. Also in that area, Edgar H. Banner has accepted the position of engineer in charge of power plant and facilities at the Rochester State Hospital, 1600 South Avenue.

Dewitt Miles writes that he has been practicing law in Yonkers and Hasting-on-Hudson for the last thirty years. His daughter Priscilla Ann, is a Freshman in the Arts College and his son, Dewitt, Jr., graduated from Denison University at Granville, Ohio. Dewey's home address is 20 Oakdale Drive-way, Hastings-on-Hudson, and he says he is looking forward to our 35th, with the added word, in parenthesis: "Joe Lendway—please note!"

This final paragraph announces the retirement of your current correspondent. I have to go abroad to find out why my publishers are not selling more books in London, Paris, Milan and Barcelona—as if I didn't know—and your new man is Dr. George (Yap) Young, so send additional items to him at 60 Maple Avenue, Morristown, N.J. Johnny Cole says that, as of March 12, about a hundred checks have come in with others coming slowly with each mail, but speaking for Yap and myself I'd like to thank those of you who were good enough to add some personal news along with the checks. All will be used. As I said before, this column is not designed for fiction.

Albert O. Silverman, written up in a recent column, reports that he is now associated with Commercial Factors Corp. at 2 Park Avenue, New York City.

It is with great regret that we report the death of Floyd Ramsey after a long illness. Known personally to most men of '24, he was also familiar to Cornellians of all ages as one of the great backs of Cornell football history. The sincere condolences of the Class go to his family.

Raymond F. Howes, AB, University of Pittsburgh MA '26, is with the American Council on Education with offices at 1785 Mass. Ave. NW, Washington, D.C. The Council is concerned with policy formation, research, and coordination in higher education. In his work with the Council, Ray has authored or co-authored many books including Debating, Our Cornell, Coleridge the Talker, and Toward Unity In Educational Policy. He has also functioned as associate editor for the Quarterly Journal of Speech, and as editor of the Educational Record.

During World War II, he served in the Bureau of Naval Personnel, becoming officer-in-charge of the College Training Section (V-12 Program). He achieved the rank of full commander and received the Secretary of the Navy's Commendation and Ribbon. As staff associate and administrative assistant to the president of the Council, Ray makes speeches to educational groups around the country and is secretary to the Council's committee on relationships of higher education to the federal government. He is a member of Delta Sigma Rho, Sigma Delta Chi, Omicron Delta Kappa, Savage Club of Ithaca, Quill & Dagger, and the Cornell Club of New York.

His home address is 4916 41st St., NW, Washington, D.C. He is married and has two sons, Raymond T. '55 and Bradford R. '58, who is in the ME School. Ray has also entered the grandfather class. Laura Louise Howes, born May 1956, made him eligible.

William W. Scull, ME (above) lives at 371 Dorchester Rd., Akron 20, Ohio. His business address is B. F. Goodrich Co., 500 S. Main St., Akron. Bill is director of manufacturing services covering engineering, purchasing, timestudy & methods, traffic, industrial administration, raw materials, inventory control, and machine development. He is active in Community Chest work, the Chamber of Commerce, and is a trustee of the Salvation Army Advisory Board and Rotary. He is married and has one son, William W. Scull, Jr.

MacDonald, Maplewood, N.J.; newsletter editor, your correspondent.

Walt Buckley reports that these officers have been duly elected as a result of a mail ballot sent to all Class Council members, the Council members being the forty underwriters to the ALUMNI NEWS Group Subscription Plan. (My previous column indicated the ballot went to the entire Class, but now I recollect that one of the functions of the Class Council is to elect the officers from its constituency.)

Speaking for the entire Class, may I express our sincere and genuine appreciation to Walt Buckley for his able leadership as Class president, for his enthusiastic interest in Class affairs and for his excellent record of attendance at Class meetings and Reunions over a span of thirty years. A salute from each and every Classmate to you Walt!

And the best of luck to the new Class leaders!

Our supply of information for this column is becoming quite scarce. We feel that you all like to see your names in print. If so, send on the last word of yourself, or of Classmates whom you see, work or play with, or just plain know what they are doing.

Some of you seem to be busy at one thing or another. Raising future Cornellians is one of them. Gerald Blumberg, AB, a lawyer with offices at 9 Rockefeller Plaza, New York City 20, is one doing his share. He now has four, but we know he is not top man in this category. Just who is? It should interest us all to find out.

Wallace C. Blankinship, BS in Hotel, is with Stouffer Corp. as director, frozen food division. He recently completed a large frozen food processing plant and is distributing Stouffer's prepared foods to super markets from Chicago to New York. He lives at 1175 Edgecliff Drive, Bedford, Ohio.

H. Glenn Herb is also with the Stouffer organization and his address is now 156 N. Wabash Avenue, Chicago 1, Ill.

James B. Burke, CE, 327 Homestead Avenue, Haddonfield, N.J., has been appointed general convention chairman for the 42d annual convention of the National Association of Purchasing Agents, to be held in Atlantic City, N.J., May 26-29. Some of you who may have been wavering about attendance should now be sure to be there.

Charles P. Stolberg, CE, is foreign manager for H. K. Ferguson Co. In early 1956 he made a long tour through England, France, and Belgium and then went to New Zealand after our last Reunion. This year he will remain in the vicinity of London, England, where his firm is building a titanium plant for Imperial Chemical Industries. His home is 3613 Lynnfield Road, Shaker Heights, Cleveland 22, Ohio.

Some competition for Gerald Blumberg comes from John St. John, AB, 816 W. 5 Street, Los Angeles, who had his fifth child last New Year's Eve. John is with Van Norman-Morrison, Inc., insurance brokers. Going farther along the trail, Henry Evans, EE, superintendent of the system planning division of Delaware Power & Light Co., is now a grandfather. His grandson was born last July. Henry lives at 26 W. 40 Street, Wilmington 2, Del.

As we hear of possible future wearers of the Red, we also hear of those we have known, who have left us in this life. It is always distressing to note these events. We recently received a message informing us of the passing of R. Norman Dryden, January 22, 1957, at Galt, Ontario, Canada.

'33 AB—Dr. Solomon Aronoff, MD, has been advanced to the rank of fellow in the American Academy of Allergy. His address is 70 Columbia Terrace, Weehawken, N.J.

'35 BS—George C. Brown, professor of music at Kansas Wesleyan University, Salina, Kans., is now on leave and studying in Milan, Italy. He was a member of one of the three massed choirs that sang at the recent funeral of Arturo Toscanini in Milan. Mrs. Brown (Marjory Bush) '34 and their two children are with him in Milan.

'35, '36 BSinAE—Harold E. P. Barta (above) has been appointed manager of the project engineering sales division for The Pfaudler Co. of Rochester, world's largest manufacturer of glassed steel processing equipment. He was formerly director of overseas selling for Sharples Corp. and manufacturer's agent in the Delaware Valley for Rheinhütte of Wiesbaden, Germany. He lives at the University Club, 25 Broadway, Rochester 7.

Nelson Rockwood writes that he has resigned from Union Producing Co. after serving as geologist with them for 18 years. He is now consulting geologist with Leslie Bowling in New Orleans, La. He is the new vice-president of the Cornell Club of New Orleans. Address: 2228 Calhoun St., New Orleans. Edward J. Doyle, Jr. and his wife have taken up "curling" while their five children keep the home fires burning. Address: 616 Lake Avenue, Wilmette, Ill.

Sidney Davidson has the plush job of representing H. Hentz & Co., New York Stock Exchange members for 100 years, at their Miami Beach office. He writes "business is good, and so is the living here." (Having taken a Cook's tour of Miami Beach last month; I can testify that Sidney's last comment is an understatement.) His address: 7600 Carlyle Ave., Miami Beach 41, Fla.

John J. Gardner writes that he has served as district attorney of Cortland County for six years and is presently Cortland's city attorney. Address: 3 Bellrose Ave., Cortland.

John E. Bauernschmidt writes that he is coordinator of production planning for Harris Seybold Co. John has three sons, ages 13, 11, and 9. Address: 3168 Warrington Rd., Shaker Heights 20, Ohio. Edward M. Hutchinson's long range plans are to combine the '61 Reunion with his daughter's graduation from Cornell that year. Hutch has four more children coming up which should carry him through '76. Address: 9620 S. Damen Ave., Chicago 43, Ill.

Douglas H. Neville is back in Rochester at Kodak's home office after 18 years in the hinterland. New address: 20 Birmingham Drive, Rochester 18. S. D. Hildebrandt, Jr. sends the confidential news that Jim Forbes was doing well at 3:30 a.m. this past January 1, so far as Steven could tell on the phone. Steve is in industrial sales work, operating as a manufacturer's representative under his own name in Cleveland.

Among the ream of '36ers sending dues but no news are the following 15 picked at random: J. Vernon Ashworth, Walter Grimes, Asa George, Charles Swan, Charles P. Magoffin, Donald Dryfoos, Karl D. Rundell, Thomas J. Curry, George B. Davis, Harold Deckinger, Robert W. Shreve, John C. Roemmelt, Jr., George J. Visneyi, William C. McLaughlin, and H. H. Sturdy.

Plans are rapidly shaping up for our Twentieth in Ithaca, June 6-7-8-9. If you haven't already written Stu Waring at Room 2912, 51 Madison Avenue, New York City, telling him you'll be there, please do so right away. We have to know how many are coming in order to know whether to order one case of beer or two.

A letter from Bob Facer the other day tells us he is doing famously for his firm, Paragon Homes, Inc. Bob and his wife, Marge, were the top distributors nationwide for 1956 in their upper western New York State territory and received a week's trip to a famous winter resort, plus a diamond wristwatch for Mrs. Facer, as a reward for their leadership. When you see Bob in Ithaca in June, look out!

We were pleasantly surprised the other day by a visit from John Wentworth. John and his boy, Steve, dropped in to see us primarily to assure us of John's attendance in Ithaca, June 6-7-8-9. He and his wife and his two children now live at 43 Hersey Street, Hingham, Mass. He is very happy in his new position as district sales manager for Dockson Corp. John handles all sorts of welding equipment and supplies and the territory which he supervises ranges from Nova Scotia to North Carolina.

Here's an address change: Abraham D. Whitman, formerly of Worcester, now lives at 69 Marion Street in Marblehead, Mass.

*Stephen J. deBaun

Continuing to round out the portrait of the Class of 1938, Nineteen Years Later (after a lapse of one issue, during which the artist was caught napping), we turn to the at home side of the canvas.

To no one's surprise, we appear to be predominantly family men. According to the figures projected to form the basis of this picture, 66 per cent of us are married. We thereby show our approval of the institution to be one shining percentage point above the national average. (The census had it that, in 1954, about 65 per cent of those of marriageable age were married.) Fifty-three per cent of our married group mentioned having children. It would be safe to guess that the figure is actually higher, that perhaps for some who wrote in, it was the time of day or night when even the best of children are unmentionable!

The prevalent number of wives per '38er seems to be one. The prevailing number of children is almost as modest: two, with three and five youngsters apiece following in order. Indications are that the war postponed marriage and the starting of families for most eligible '38ers. Nine, thirteen, twelve, and eleven dominate the age groups of our children. And at least seventy of us had new additions to our families last year. Girls, by the way, have it over boys by 4 per cent. Due to our innate courtesy, no doubt.

More than 260 of our Class of 920 last year moved to new locations—in the same town or city, to other States, and outside (or back to) the United States. Ten per cent of us had the excitement of building or buying new and larger homes.

As with most energetic citizens, the '38er busies himself with outside interests of one sort or another. These activities have an interesting range. Sports come in for a good share of our leisure—fishing, golf, tennis, and hunting predominating. One is a regular official at track meets. A number of us are active in Army, Navy, or Air Force reserves. Several have written or are writing books on the side; one writes satirical verse; another, a religious TV series. A healthy number of us work on community, school, or welfare committees, some on Cornell secondary school and scholarship committees.

At least fifty of us are active in local or State politics. There are among us those who find time to serve on boards of education, teach, study, take and exhibit color movies, paint, work with boys' groups, operate ham radios, act as Cornell Club officers, go camping, and help their children with their homework.

All in all, the Class of 1938, Nineteen Years Later, presents a well-rounded picture—moderate, reasonably secure and happy, active, and, if not electrifying, still progressing. Absent, of course, are many of the contours and nuances needed to complete the portrait. What are our politics? How do we fit into Kinsey's categories? What do we think of taxes, the link between smoking and cancer, liquor, the state of the nation, and Elvis and Mamie (Eisenhower and/or Van Doren)?

Perhaps some of these shadings will reveal themselves in our next column, when we'll start printing your individual answers to the questions that started all this. See you then.

Lyf Cobb, formerly of the University Development Office, joined the ranks of business men when he recently became head of the Sears Roebuck office in Ithaca. We hate to see the Class strength among University personnel diminished, but at least we can be happy over the fact that this change will not affect the Ithaca contingency. He and wife Susie (Elsie Cook '40) and three children, Margy 9, Ty 7, and Billie 4, will continue their residence at 12 Lewis Street, Dryden.

Your correspondent joined Bob Wiggans at an Ithaca Rotary meeting and learned the good news of Elizabeth Ann's arrival January 21. This is their fifth child. Bob and wife Dotty (Dorothy Cummings '41) have a dairy farm at King Ferry on Cayuga Lake. He also reported the interesting news that ten days after the birth of Elizabeth Ann, his brother, Glenn Wiggans '43, became the proud father of his fifth child.

On a trip to Syracuse, took advantage of some free time to visit with Hank Moran at his restaurant on Route 5. Hank was the usual congenial host and after catching up on each other's activities, he took me out to his home for a visit with his wife and four children. Hank's oldest son, who towers above his proud father, was reluctant to tell me where he plans to pursue his college education, but some college or university is bound to have a good athlete.

Jim Young of Cherry Creek is operating a dairy farm there in partnership with his brother. In his spare time he sells insurance for Farm Family Life Insurance Co. Jim is the father of three children, two boys and one girl, and expects this number to increase at any moment.

Duane Clark's wife, Beverly Benson '42, reports that he is and has been on an extended tour of the Far East and that if luck is with them, he will be home on Good Friday. Upon his return, we should have an interesting report and in the meantime, I take this opportunity to inform him that his 13-year-old, Duane II, became an Eagle Scout.

'40 Women—A dinner meeting of the Cornell Women's Club of Boston March 12 afforded me with a very pleasant visit with Mary Savage Kyle of 24 Meriam Street, Lexington 73, Mass. Mary is also active in the Boston alumnae chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta. Her son Robert S. is now 2½ while Richard E. will be 1, April 26. Husband Peter E. Kyle '33 is a consulting engineer for Lessells & Associates in Boston.

Harriet Gunning, Box 99, Framingham, Mass., is our Class New England regional chairman for the Cornell Fund. Harriet is the nursery director at Mass. Correctional Institution, where she has worked for 15 years. She sends news of Mrs. Robert R. Duncan (Shirley Getman), Box 21, Ravena. Sue has two children, Patty, who is nearly a teen-ager, and David, 3. Sue teaches home economics on a temporary basis and thoroughly enjoys it. Her husband is also a teacher and attends Albany State Teachers College.

Mrs. Karl M. Mayhew, Jr. (Bette Limple) of 18 Pleasant Street, Canton, has five children. Her husband is the owner of Mayhew's Wholesale Candy. Bette is Canton Town village historian and one of the associate editors of the Quarterly for St. Lawrence County Historical Association. Bette has learned the colonial art of flax spinning and now enjoys giving talks and demonstrations to interested groups with costumes she made herself.

The Guilfoyles (Dan '49, Danny, Jr. age 13, Michael Hoag 10½, Stephen King 6) have now been in New England for nine months. Our boys have been very disappointed at not seeing the deep snow we promised them for the winter. We formerly lived in Nyack. Dan is a Turner Construction Co. superintendent in charge of equipment installation at the new North Andover Western Electric plant. Our address is 11 Buswell Street, Lawrence, Mass. I would deeply appreciate any news from and about Classmates.—Henrietta Hoag Guilfoyle

'42 Men—Richard R. Ryan, 1621 Sixth Street, Corpus Christi, Tex., who is now on the staff of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, writes that in December, 1955 he was married to Robbie C. Wolfe, after having been

Ballantine brews the flavor in beer today...

Enjoy the liveliest taste in town!

It takes more than good brewing to make good beer! It takes Nature's choicest hops and barley, grown in selected fields. Ballantine taps all their natural goodness — with an art handed down through six generations of brewing perfectionists. No wonder this is honest-to-goodness beer! Taste the wonderful difference!

almost the most confirmed bachelor of the entire Class. He says he has changed considerably, for the better in at least this regard. Dick was previously with the Daily Independent in Gallup, N. Mex. until November when he moved to Corpus Christi.

Wilbur F. Herbert, 3455 Estes Street, Wheatridge, Colo., is still with Coors Porcelain Co. and was presented with a daughter in November. He also has two sons.

Expanding operations have necessitated the establishment of five new managerial positions in the engineered products department of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., and H. Douglas Hurlburt (above) has been appointed to fill one of these positions as manager of automotive floor mat sales. He has been with Goodyear since graduation. His present address is 1191 North Revere Road, Akron, Ohio.

Ed Miller writes that "starting January 30, 1957, I am going to be at the Artillery School at Fort Sill, Okla." We are certainly most disappointed to lose him from our Cornell Fund team. Ed was previously with one of the carpet firms and then more recently with Reynolds Metals. His new address is Capt. E. G. Miller 0-464667, Asst. F. A. Officers Advanced Course, Class 4, Fort Sill, Okla.

'44, '47 AB; '46—Louis J. Daukas and Mrs. Daukas (Janet Buhsen) '46, 133 Bailey Road, Rocky Hill, Conn., announce the birth of James Nicholas Daukas, February 11. The baby is their third child and first son. Daukas is president of the Class of '44.

'44, '47 AB, '49 MBusAd—J. Joseph Driscoll, Jr. has been named senior corporate systems analyst for Scott Paper Co. He joined the company in 1955 as staff methods consultant and one year later became office methods analyst. He lives at 429 Conshen State Road, Cynwyd, Pa.

'45 Men—At this writing spring is theoretically on its way out, although the weather report is promising snow flurries tonight. Ithaca, I understand is getting its share of late winter weather, but then it always did. I have always said if you have nothing better to talk about you can always talk about the weather. My mailbox has been very empty the last few months so I guess nobody reads the column. If anybody happens to read this one—I don't care what Class you may be or even if you happen to be a Dartmouth or Vassar alumnus or alumna, as the case may be—write me a note and I'll guarantee you will break into print.

I heard today that Rym Berry '04 had passed on. Here was a writer that everybody will miss. Of all things written in the News, his column was probably more widely read by more people. I had the honor of knowing Rym while at Ithaca and it was always interesting not only to read what he wrote but to listen while he spoke. So tonight let's drink a highball or whatever your choice may be—at nightfall to a great Cornellian—Rym Berry.

I do have one piece of news which concerns a new job for one of our Classmates. Andrew B. Murray, former personnel director of the Greenbrier Hotel at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., has been named director of personnel for Fred Harvey Co., according to an announcement by Miller Adams, president of the company. Andy brings to the Fred Harvey organization a broad background of personnel administration. He served as personnel director for Statler Hotels in Detroit and Buffalo and has taken postgraduate work at Cornell and Wayne universities.—Ric Carlson

'45, '44 BS—Mrs. Frank J. Katzka (Margery Tukey) lives at 1275 Tippecanoe Street, San Bernardino, Cal., where her husband is assistant county auditor. She has two children, John, 7, and an adopted baby daughter, Joanne Leslie, now 14 months. Mrs. Katzka would like to hear from other Cornellians living in the area.

'47 Men—We seem to be off and running for Reunion! Recent communiques from Barry Cohen indicate that bubbling activity will be forthcoming shortly, including a definite announcement from Barry to all '47 men. It appears that Don Ayers has agreed to be costume chairman: why anyone would give him such a job is beyond me, but I hope that he bears in mind our more sensitive souls, who might cringe at a display of the knees in Bermuda shorts, etc. Very ticklish, Don, and I wish you good luck. There will be many more Classmates who will be engaged to devote extra time toward making your Tenth Reunion a success. In advance, a merry thank you.

Uncovered a dark secret (at least no one ever gave me a hint of the news) the other day by reviewing the letterhead for the Cornell Alumni Association of New York City: Hugh Chapin and Bill Evers are members of the board of governors. No chance to find out how long this has been going on. More Classmates in our age group should be taking an active interest in Cornell affairs.

Was startled out of my office chair last week by a phone call from Charlie Lockwood. He has deserted Georgia and moved north to the Greensboro Country Club, N.C., where he is general manager. Feel sure that he won't be able to resist Ithaca at Reunion time. Don't forget to bring Arline, Charlie. That voice of yours sounded very good.

Let me go back to that June Reunion business. Maybe a few pertinent figures will sting a number of you in such fashion that you will rise to the occasion and present yourself in Ithaca. The Class of '46 had 26 men back for 5th Reunion and 47 for the 10th, or 2.6 per cent of the Class and 4.7 per cent respectively. Now the Class of '47 had 38 men (4.2 per cent) back for the 5th Reunion in 1952, a far better showing than the '46ers garnered. What will June bring to us? I'm going to shoot a little blue sky into the picture and challenge the Class of '47 to beat the Tenth Reunion record: Class of '40 with 161 men back and registered. If nothing else works, I shall try to send all of you Chamber of Commerce clippings which glorify Ithaca in the spring. Juice up your Class spirit and I won't need to bother you.—Barlow Ware

'47 BS—Mrs. Joan Weisberg Schulman lives at 10704 Lockridge Drive, Silver Spring, Md., and has one son, 3 years old. Her husband is chief engineer of the Davies Laboratories Division of Minneapolis-Honeywell Co.

'48 BSinME, '49 MME—Albert A. E. Bock (above) has been promoted to manager of product engineering at the Grafton (Mass.) plant of the Eastern division of Wyman-Gordon Co. He joined the company in 1949 as a research and development engineer, took a metallurgical trainee course in 1950 and was appointed supervisor of methods and engineering in 1951 and supervisor of product engineering in 1954. Bock is married to the former Inez Wiggers '49 and lives at 78 Jamieson Road, Holden, Mass.

'48, '49 BME—Daniel C. McCarthy is assistant to the director of manufacturing, Chrysler Corp. He was previously with Ford Motor Co. Address: 17158 Evergreen Road, Detroit 19, Mich.

'50 Men—John Marcham's resignation as newsletter editor and ALUMNI NEWS columnist has been received with regret by Class Secretary Bob Nagler. Your former Reunion writer has been tapped to try to fill John's big shoes; I'll do my best. We've enough news to keep us in business but we can use much more. Send it in, please. We will print it in these columns in order of receipt.

Thomas J. Elder is father of a brand new daughter, born December 12. Tom is helping Bethlehem Steel build the Rappahannock River Bridge and he and Mrs. Elder (Lee Hall) live in White Stone, Va. A daughter, Sabrina arrived January 2 for the Abraham Schweids. Abe is stationed at the US Naval Hospital at Great Lakes. Home address: 224 Douglas Ave., Waukegan, Ill. John Jaso writes that son Billy arrived January 7, joining brothers Johnny and Ritch. John resides at 17919 Wildwood Ave., Lansing, Ill.

Another Classmate and former Ithacan, David J. Culbertson, was promoted at IBM recently. Dave has been named consultant for management development, a new staff group located at IBM's world headquarters in New York City. He is married to the former Helen Eaton '50 of Ithaca. The Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington, D.C., has a new physician in the person of Dr. Harry W. Daniell, MD '54. Captain Harry entered the Army in July '56 and had been stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., until his reassignment.

News of Class Brass: Bob Nagler has been appointed vice-president of The Dreyfus Corp., 50 Broadway, N.Y.C. Manley Thaler, our Fund chairman, announces the arrival of Peter, January 17. He and Mrs. Thaler (Joanne Gold) '52 also have Jeffery, 3½. Rodg Gibson is now manager of employee and institutional sales for General Electric Appliances in Cleveland. Rodg was also recently elected president of the Maple Heights Republican Club and was made a captain in the Air Force Reserves. (Gibson, it's too bad that you've slowed down so since '50.)

That wraps up this one. For the entire Class I hereby steal the privilege of publicly thanking John Marcham for his service in pounding out this column for so many months. Well done, John!

'50 Women—An impressive pair of documents arrived the other day from Pat Carry (who lives a few blocks to the north of me in New York City at 215 East 66th Street), accompanied by a note saying, "The enclosed will explain better than I can, what has been occupying my time." One was a reproduction of a clipping from The Miami Herald of December 30, 1956, which reported: "Nearly 11,000 acres in St. Lucie and Martin counties have been sold for a sum reported to be over four million dollars. . . . Title was taken in the name of Patricia Carry of New York City." The article went on to say that the purchaser was a large New York investment house and that the new owners were planning a development, but plans would not be announced for several months. The second document was an annual report of Janeway Ventures, Inc., which lists Pat both as secretary and treasurer of the corporation as well as a director.

Mrs. Charles L. Phillips (Janet Praeger) has written in to update the Class about her activities. "We are enjoying our second tour in Germany. We are living in Butzbach, near Frankfurt. My oldest little girl, Becky, is in first grade in the Army dependent elementary school here and has just turned seven. Lorraine will be five in June and Charlie was three in March. It seems a little funny not to have a baby in the family any more, but it certainly was a wonderful feeling to take my battered diaper pail and high chair and throw them in the garbage can last May when we moved overseas." The Phillips' mailing address is Hq CCA, 3 AD, APO 39, New York City.

And Florence Conover Peck reports: "News from here includes a new home address—232 Linwood Avenue, Albion—and a new position for husband Nathan, as a horticulturist for Birds Eye Laboratories in Albion." A daughter, Amy Elizabeth, was born February 9 to David J. '48 and Helen

Eaton Culbertson in the Good Samaritan Hospital in West Palm Beach, Fla. Please continue to send news to me at 340 East 53rd Street, New York City.

'51 Men—Continuing our list of Class council members, here are the New York City area men: Al Gleitsman, 110-35 64th Ave., Forest Hills; Bob Johnson, c/o Johnson & Johnson, 500 George St., New Brunswick, N.J.; Jerry Kinne, Brookhaven National Labs, Upton; Norm Ronemus, 141C Haddon Hills Apt., Haddonfield, N.J.; Stu Minton, 110-20 71st Ave., Forest Hills; Jan White, 1680 York Ave., New York; and Bill Eustis, 442 East 58th St., New York.

Dick Rippe, 44 Parkway Village, Cranford, N.J., reports this new address for him and his wife (Marianne Aber '53). Dick is now a field service engineer assigned to Babcock & Wilcox's New York district. Recently married was John Schappi of 2511 Q Street, NW, Washington, D.C.

Rounding out another season as Cornell's Freshman basketball coach is Sam MacNeil, 132 Glenside Road, Ithaca. The MacNeils announce the arrival of a second son, their third child, last October.

From New York City comes word, via Bill Eustis, that plans are underway for a Class party about May 3. A similar event in early March saw Bob Caplan, Ken Jones, Jim Stocker, Marshall Berger, Morton Meyer, and Bill Eustis present.

In our Class newsletter, recently sent to each member of the Class, Bob Caplan stated that one of the goals set by your Class Council was the achievement of 200 dues payers for this fiscal year. At the time the newsletter was published, the total was 132. Current reading is:

BOX SCORE
DUES PAYERS: 144

A short reminder: The Cornell Fund drive had only 63 donors as of March 15. Last year our Class led all others with 347 donors. Let's go!—Bill McNeal

'51 Women—News from widely travelled Connie Ripley: "Reunion seems only a minute ago, but a lot has happened since. I spent my two-week vacation last August in Dallas, Tex., at the National Soaring Contest (a flying meet) and despite the 110-degree heat, a very good time was had by all. People from all over the U.S., Canada, parts of Europe and South America were there and the Texans really turned on the southern hospitality.

"In October, another gal and I left Boston and took the month to drive across the country to San Francisco. We had a lovely trip, leaving New England at the height of its fall color, crossing the tip of Canada, and then across Lake Michigan by ferry—which is really a miniature ocean trip—and into Wisconsin. From there, we dropped south to Dallas and warm weather again. We had clear skies all the way, and no trouble with crowded roads, etc., as we drove west, stopping at Carlsbad Caverns, Juarez (Mexico), and eventually into Arizona, where we were swimming every afternoon at our motel pools. A stopover at the Grand Canyon cooled us off and, needless to say, left us quite awe-struck too. We drove south and west through Oak Creek Canyon, a smaller but equally beautiful place which is used as a backdrop for many 'westerns.' We stopped over in L.A. to visit some friends and then took the coastal route up to San Francisco. Monterey Peninsula was a fitting and gorgeous climax to the trip.

"We've settled into an apartment in San Francisco now and are busy exploring the city and its environs. One of our best sojourns was last week end when we drove up to Squaw Valley for some skiing. Lake Tahoe and the high Sierras at the peak of winter are an unparalleled sight. The intriguing feature of the trip was our hotel. It was on the Nevada side of the lake and outfitted with slot machines, crap and roulette tables! (No, I didn't win anything.)

"I'm working at Columbia-Geneva Steel (division of US Steel) and my address is 290 Alhambra St., Apt. 10, San Francisco 23, Cal."

From Pearisburg, Va.: Barbara Burke Whitman (Mrs. Elkins O.) reports the arrival of Ann Louise, Nov. 29. She joins brother Frank, 3, born in Louisiana, and Billy, 2, born in Connecticut. Her husband is personnel director at Celanese Corp. of America, Celso plant.

Wini Wildman White reports a new address for her family: 18 Tappan Landing Road, Tarrytown. Her husband is Gordon White '53 and they have two boys, David, 3, and Stevie, 1½.—Doris Paine Kirchner

'52 Men: Thomas A. Martin
210 Martine Avenue
White Plains, N.Y.

Since most of us are engaged in the usual but pleasant pursuits of career and family, Leon Hirsch's present activities should be of particular interest. His letter is quoted in part, for I felt any paraphrasing would prove inadequate. From the Hamilton House, New Delhi, India, he writes: "After finishing work under a Ford grant I have been trying to get more insight into India. I recently have walked with Vinoba Acharya Bhawe. This involved sleeping out, getting up at 3 a.m., walking 10 to 15 miles and eating strictly vegetarian food with one's right hand off a banana leaf on the floor. I am tremendously impressed with Vinoba. Although a Westerner might not agree with his philosophy there can be no criticism of his trying to get land for the landless."

Bill Lyon, wife and daughter, recently moved to 1462 Clinton Avenue, South Plainfield, N.J. After 4½ years with Baltimore Gas & Electric, he accepted a new position with American Gas & Electric in New York City. Irwin S. Broida reports a new son and a new address: 110-18 Colonial Avenue, Forest Hills 75.

Mike Farrell, '52 Class director for the Hotel School, will soon be writing a column for their bulletin and would appreciate news about the members of the school. Mike, an accountant with Price Waterhouse, lives with his wife at 756 Tuckahoe Road, Yonkers.

Paul E. Welles has been promoted to the post of Philippine resident supervisor for Merrel-National Overseas Laboratories, a division of Vick Chemical Co. By publishing time he should have established residence in Manila, but until an address is provided, mail should be sent to the home office of Vick in New York City.

Lt. Charles H. Hodgdon, pilot in the USAF, reports from his new location at Yikito Air Base, Japan, that he has met several Cornellians in Tokyo and that he seems to be enjoying the country. Mail may be addressed as follows: 6007th Recon. Group, APO 328, San Francisco, Cal.

Jack Craver reports continued progress on Reunion plans, but admits that now as the date approaches he'll be needing some additional help. He intends to contact several people and hopes that they will be able to contribute some assistance. Anyone interested in volunteering can call the Roosevelt Hotel. The new items to date are that Al Rose is working on the barbecue which may be held with the Class of '54 and that the actual cost may be below the original estimate.

It is difficult to compile more news of '52 so recently after the arrival of the pre-Reunion newsletter. Phebe Vandervort Goldstein spent a lot of time and really turned out a top notch product. After I had enjoyed reading it though, I thought back to the time when we chose the kangaroo as our Class mascot. It was a wise choice to symbolize all the hopping around we've done—not to mention the many youngsters we have now, too. It was fun to feel that you had recent news of so many. That news will be further rounded out by these tidbits, too late to be included in the newsletter.

Mrs. Richard C. Smith '52 (Barbara Shear) is busy painting and landscaping her new home in the "planned" community of Garden City, 421 Valley View Drive, Monroeville, Pa. (near Pittsburgh). Kimball is 3½ and Pamela is 2, while Dad is kept busy as assistant personnel director of Nesta Machine Co. They'll be back, as well as Mrs. David P. Beardsley, ME '52 (Beverly J. Brokaw.) The Beardsleys' new ranch home, 24 Kohl Drive, Rochester 16, is a pleasant change after a year in Japan with the Army. Bev taught school for two years, but now is the proud mother of Terry Joan born August 8, 1956. Mrs. Alan Laties (Peggy Leiken) might possibly be in Mexico, but otherwise will travel back to Ithaca from 1106 Lyndon, Houston, Tex. She is working in the micro-biology department at Baylor Medical College, where Alan is a student. Charlene (Skip) Moore is a chemist and lives at 549 Hoosick St., Troy, and will have an easy trip to get back on "the Hill."

Sorry to say many replied with "maybe" or "not running." Responsibilities and growing families can make stay-at-homes of the most loyal Cornellians. Among these is Mrs. George Sutton, ME '52 (Evelyn D. Kunnies), who has a new house at 4111 Barberry Drive, Lafayette Hill, Pa. Her boy James E. is 2 years old. It would be hard to top Mrs. Wilbur J. Sovocool '50 (Mary Anne Cranston) for travel; they're currently in Newfoundland with the Air Force (Box 6, 6622 Air Transport Sqn, APO 862 New York City) and scheduled to return home this summer; or for a busy home with Robert 3½, Sharon 2, John and Wayne one-year-old twins and the latest addition, Patricia, born Jan. 7. Mrs. Donald F. Bolles (Nancy Courtright) is happy to have a new home at 15 Mallow Lane, Levittown, Pa., as well as better hours for Don since his recent transfer to the Trenton bureau of the Associated Press; which means more time with David Courtright, 3, and Francis Elizabeth, 18 months. Yet, she is sorry to miss Reunion. The same regret was voiced by Mrs. Andrew Bartlik (Joan Hanssler) who lives at 12 Chatsworth Ave., Larchmont, and has Barbara Dawn, 2½, Drew 1½, and Karen 3 months to stay home with. Salt Lake City, Utah is a "fur piece" away but Mrs. Bruce Lentz '51 (Gretchen Lawson) invites any one in that area to stop by for a visit at 1792 Grover Lane, S.L.C. 17, and meet Bruce II, an active and busy two-year-old.

I've run out of column space. I'll have more news of Classmates returning for Reunion in the next issue.

'53 Men: Samuel D. Licklider
Box 247, Cornell Med. Col.
New York 21, N.Y.

After completing duty with the Navy (educational and training officer on Guam) in November, Robert A. Glah, 1421 Hillside Rd., Wynnewood, Pa., has taken the post of executive secretary for Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity. For those who would like to see first-hand how Bob is going about pouring fresh blood into this old organization, his oak-paneled offices are at 335 S. 16th St., Philadelphia 2, Pa.

Also hot on the path of progress is Dayton's favorite son Robert D. Olt (Essex House, Indianapolis 4, Ind.), who is engaged in the development of bigger and better crystals for the Linde Air Products Division of Union Carbide. Majoring in production management, William C. Dixon is back at Cornell in his first year in the School of Business & Public Administration. Bill occupies a good share of 101 Boldt Tower.

Mark D. Inskeep, Naval Draft Hospital Corpsman 3rd Class, is researching body armor, helmets, and other "ballistic protection gadgets" for the Marines at Camp Lejeune. Maybe you'll be going down to Paris Island soon, Mark; some of the boys down there claim they need added protection against the common fist. Alan Ellison has received the LLB from Western Reserve University. Address: 14349 Washington Blvd., University Heights 18, Ohio. Gerald T. O'Neill runs the Penn-Strand Hotel in Stroudsburg, Pa.

Andrew Edwin, 9 lb. 2 oz., joined the Alfred Schnogs, January 16. They live at Kenilworth Apartments, Garth Rd., Scarsdale. John W. Nixon and John Brophy toured the Continent together last summer. Nixon is now in training with Metropolitan Life. Address, along with Marley Halvorsen '54, is 410 W. 24th St., New York City 11. The Roslyn Savings Bank of Roslyn has secured the services of Samuel U. Mitchell. Sam's address is 30 Meritoria Drive, East Williston.

Stephen Holland, 6 Waverly Place, Lawrence, is back with the family business, Simon Holland & Son, steel fabricators in Brooklyn. Permanently associated with 1801 S. Ocean Drive, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Arthur F. Harre, Jr. is spending some of his time at present with the Robert Gair division of Continental Can Co.—"after a 3-year hitch with Uncle Sam's throttle jocks." Richard J. Cummins, 79 Plymouth Rd.,

Hillsdale, N.J., has grabbed off that fat plum called JAG (Judge Advocate General to the uninitiated). He ranks first louie at Dover AFB, Del.

Since getting his wings in late 1954, John K. Chadwick has been with Fighter Squadron Ninety-Three at Alameda, Cal. Six months of carrier flying in 1956 and presently flying the Douglas A4D Skyhawk. Ithacaward this June, adds John. Robert S. Bickley has sufficiently pulled himself together after those harrowing experiences with the Arabs to be completing his first year of business school at Columbia University.

Midland, Mich.

Two February marriages to report: the first, Alice F. Bissell, daughter of Norman F. Bissell '27, to William J. Hession, Jr., in Marshfield, Mass., February 23; also Constance D. Davis was married February 16 to Donald E. Pierson in Yonkers.

A note from Mrs. Glen B. Ostrander (Marilyn A. Gall) gives their new address as 1007 Vermont Avenue, Pittsburgh 34, Pa. Glen '53 was discharged from the USAF in June of '56. He is now working for US Steel in the sales training program. Janet Rae Ostrander was born July 29, 1956.

Mrs. Charles Kirsch (Nikki Schwartz) writes of the birth, November 2, of Jeffrey Michael. Her address is 66-15 Wetherole Street, Forest Hills. November 1, Mrs. Jerome Manning (Nicky Jacobs) gave birth to a daughter, Joy Ellen. The Mannings also live in Forest Hills, and Nikki writes that she and Nicky were in Mt. Sinai Hospital together.

A note from Mrs. M. S. Zucker (Naomi Pollin) announces the birth of a son, Eric, January 19. Prior to Eric's arrival, Naomi worked as a medical social worker in the clinic at Vassar Hospital. The Zuckers' address is 29 Flannery Avenue, Poughkeepsie.

Congratulations are also in order for Mrs. H. B. Coyle '52 (Debbie Knott) on the birth of Deborah Jean January 30. Dee's brother, Dave, is 2½. Debbie writes of the arrival, January 29, of Ann Elizabeth to Sallie Lou Smith Goodell. The Goodells are living at 8 Anselm Terrace, Brighton 35, Mass. They also have a son, Bob, Jr.

I have a good newsy letter from Anne Buck: "I just returned from a flying visit to Europe, with a chartered plane full of skiers from Rochester. I had no intention of going, but the morning of the flight a vacancy occurred—so being the lucky one with a valid passport I was called . . . We flew KLM direct from Rochester to Munich. While in Munich I spent an evening with Nan Reed Ruiz, who has a 3-month old boy. Then went to St. Anton, Austria, for skiing for a week. While in Paris I saw Claude Laugier [MS '52] . . . Also while in Paris I saw Nancy Livingston '55 who is working there at First National City Bank of New York . . . Never had such a fun vacation." What a grand trip!

'53 PhD—Stanley W. Holmes is chief geologist for Consolidated Denison Mines and Can-Met Explorers, Ltd., Spragge, Ontario, Canada. Consolidated Denison is the world's largest uranium mine, with a proposed daily tonnage of 10,000 tons.

'54 Men: Lt. Alvin R. Beatty
527-A Pine Avenue
Albany, Ga.

Received a long letter from Ken Hershey which I'd like to quote in full. "Yesterday, March 13, I received quite a treat: five issues of last year's ALUMNI NEWS, Christmas gifts from home, and cards from several '54ers. Conditions are improving, however, because last year while in Thailand it was May 1 before I received similar items. I see from the Nov. 1 NEWS that you too are among Uncle Sam's democracy defenders. I hope this letter will reach you before our Third-year Reunion in June, but again I have my doubts. If you are fortunate enough to be able to attend, please give my best wishes to the entire Class and let them know I'll be drinking to their health as they reminisce over the good old days.

"The Army Engineers ran out of places to send me in the Far East so last August they decided to isolate me by sending me south of the Equator to a remote little island named New Ireland, paradise of the South Pacific. Here I have been for nearly eight months trying to survey a group of islands in the Bismarck Archipelago for future defense purposes. I have an FS ship (800 tons), 5 launches, 5 trucks, about half a million dollars worth of survey equipment and 9 G.I.'s The Australian government is supplying 30 men to help the operation along, but per usual it's American $$ supporting the project. We have a nice officers' home in Kavieng with a golf club across the coral road, and the club house is always well-stocked with beer. The tennis down here has been especially good, so during off hours we usually manage to exhaust ourselves with sport and beer. I'll be returning to Tokyo, for the fifth time since Dec. '55, about May 15. From Tokyo the Army map society of field engineers has sent me to Okinawa, Formosa, Indochina, Philippine Islands, Viet Nam, Thailand, Cambodia, New Guinea, Australia, Guam, and here. All in 16 months. I've also been lucky enough to spend seven months in Japan, running about from Nikko to Sasebo, from Ito to Chibo . . . what a beautiful country! I'll be returning to the States by way of Europe on the SS Viet Nam, a French Liner which leaves Yokohama May 30 and arrives Marseilles July 2 . . . if the Suez is open. . . . My regards to the Class and bill me for my share of Reunion."

Dave Narins writes from Goodfellow AFB, Tex., where he's midway through a six-month training program in the B-25. Hugh Whitney and Bill Peters recently graduated from the same base. Dave reports seeing his Cornell roommate, Al Musso, who is working for the Creole Petroleum Corp. in Venezuela and is temporarily attending school in Baytown, Tex. Al and another Cornellian, Enrique Conill of Havana, Cuba, are both engaged men, awaiting spring weddings. Dave also notes that Mort Rochman has entered the Air Force. He'll leave for Bittsburg, Germany, after schooling at Warren AFB, Wyo.

According to the first Cornell Fund report, '54 men are off to a pretty good start—31 per cent of the dollar goal and 15 per cent of the donor goal, as of March 15. If we're again to hit the top, you'd better send your check now.

'55 Men: Richard J. Schaap
Q. M. Training School
Ft. Lee, Va.

Since my last column, I have been busily preparing for a six-month vacation at the Fort Lee Camp for Boys. While emptying old ash trays and throwing away used gin bottles, I came across correspondence that I thought had been irretrievably lost. So, quickly, I had better clear up the case of Andrew Dadagian: Andy, who is rooming with Frank Baldwin, Jr. (the first 50 people who write and tell me who his father is will receive, free of charge, three-minute hearings before the Men's Judiciary Board) at N.Y. Medical College, will marry Kenag Melikian, a student at Russell Sage College, August 10. A rumor that Miss Melikian caught Andy by running a 9.5 hundred has been emphatically denied.

From Fort Lee, my home-to-be, Don Meyer reports that the Quartermaster Corps is nothing more than a graduate division of C.U. Just by lifting one elbow, Don has seen Joe Marotta, Bill Boyle, Norm Harvey, Nils Nordberg and Art Winoker '56. After leaving Bill Boyle, Harvey, Marotta & Nordberg, Meyer expects to return to work at Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane.

Marcus Reidenberg, at the Einstein Medical Center in Philly, is engaged to a U. of P. co-ed named June Wilson. Besides his regular medical courses, Reidenberg is doing graduate work in physiology and summer research on hypertension. Now, doctor, this is my problem . . .

A fifth of news from the fourth estate: Gordon White, former Sunman among other shingles, is working for the Master's at Columbia School of Journalism. Recently, Gordy was assigned to spend Mondays in Albany as press secretary to State Senator George R. Metcalf, representing Tioga, Cayuga, and Tompkins Counties. The Editors of The ALUMNI NEWS Have Instructed Me to Inform You That Mister White Wrote "An Undergraduate Observes" Last Year in Your Favorite Publication. (They also wanted me to say that he has had photographs in the News, but I'll never be that commercial.) Philip Levine, who was managing editor of the Sun but, unfortunately never wrote anything for the AN, has started a six-month hitch at Fort Dix after spending several months, weeks, days and nights writing scripts for Mike Wallace on "Nightbeat."

Quickies: Dick Goldgraben and his wife are in Long Beach, Cal., where Dick's assigned to the Naval Shipyard. Bob Ferris is engaged and, on a lesser note, working for the Royal-McBee Corp. at Port Chester. Maurice Skurnik married Joan Iris Hessel, worked in a mailroom, became an assistant TV director, and entered the Army at Fort Dix, in that order. Charles Githler and Ann Busch Githler '55 have a 5-month-old son, Charles III. The father is on his way to Army duty in Germany.

'55 Women: Mrs. Harry C. Olsen
ROICC BuDocks Contracts
APO 284, New York, N.Y.

The Bob Beldens '56 (Joan Weisberg) have left their home at 150 Rice St., Alliance, Ohio, for a sojourn with the Army at Aberdeen, Md. Joan also writes that their busy household has become busier with the arrival of Scott Chandler Belden, January 6. Congratulations! Down in Millen, Ga. Mrs. Blair Edenfield '54 (Christine Petermann) has settled on a 500-acre dairy farm. Young David is just about a year old now and keeps Chris in plenty of exercise keeping up with him. Their address is 614 North Masonic St., Millen, Ga.

Fran Goldberger, 901 Avenue H, Brooklyn 30, writes that she is a production assistant with NBC, more specifically doing research for the "Wide Wide World" show. In the same breath, she says that it is not so glamorous as it sounds but that viewing a show from the inside of a control room is lots more fun than from the living room chair. Sounds pretty glamorous to me. Also in New York, the Richard Grabows '44 (Nancy Eisenberg) are still busy in their law professions. Dick has left his employ with Emile Zola Berman (Sgt. McKeon trial, to refresh our memories) and is now with his father's firm, Grabow & Katz. Nancy keeps herself up to date on law with her position as a private secretary to a practicing attorney. They live at 65-60 Wetherole St., Forest Hills. Sara Lou Levenson, 429 E. 65th St., New York City 21, is a secretary at the NYU-Bellevue Medical Center. A few more short ones: Alice Izzard is a systems service girl with IBM and lives at 265 East Ave., Rochester 4. Hannah Oppenheimer is a social worker in Allegany County after a year of graduate study at the New York School of Social Work. Her address is Box 85, Belmont. Myra Rosenthal was married to Bruce H. Newman in July '56, and has now taken permanent residence at 11933 Magnolia Blvd., No. Hollywood, Cal. At last report, Chris Triebe (Rt. 4, Kingsport, Tenn.) is in or on her way to California, after getting the BS in nursing and experience at Holston Valley Community Hospital in Kingsport.

Mrs. Eugene R. Baker (Ruth L. Smith) studied law at Harvard after graduation and is now at 141-30 84th Rd., Jamaica 23, where she is a claims examiner at N.Y. Life Insurance Co. Her husband is a lawyer. The Robert Fickens '53 (Millicent B. Sigler) are at 709 E. State St., Ithaca, and both are back at Cornell. Penny is a laboratory technician in the Entomology Dept. and Bob is a PhD candidate in Vertebrate Zoology. Elizabeth Burroughs completed her dietetic internship at Duke University last September and is now keeping the University of Michigan students in vitamins and balanced meals through her position there as dietician. Her address: 8250 Portage Lake Rd., Dexter, Mich. Speaking of foods, my dieting eyes watered with the news from Jackie Slinde that she and Marty Benning judged a cherry pie baking contest in their county. Jackie is teaching in Holley, where she lives at 18 N. Main St.; Marty is doing 4-H work and her address is 420 E. Main, Batavia. Expect there have been quite a number of newsworthy events since I last picked up my pen in Feb., so do let me hear about them.

ment, rumor has it, playing basketball for a Naval station; the last official poop I can come up with, however, since Navy communications are not quite so rapid, is that he and fellow-ensign Jim Burke both soloed Feb. 18 at Saufley Field NAAS, Pensacola, Fla.

Andy Kaufmann writes that in addition to his job as education officer at NAS Memphis, previously reported, he's been working with the Memphis Little Theatre, and is eager to hear from any Cornellians in the area. Address: 3948 Austin-Peay Hwy., Memphis 8, Tenn.

Ran into Norm Some at a Cornell get-together last month; he's working for Western Electric on the SAGE defense project, which he explained to me in great detail—all of which I'm afraid I have forgotten. (It was a great party.) After completing a special training course in digital computers and radar at MIT, Norm will be assigned to a team supervising installation of the SAGE system. His current address is 6 Walnut Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

Don Golos sends word that he's now a clerk for the USMC, stationed amid sun, surf, sand, oranges and other forms of natural beauty at the Marine Corps Air Station, Disbursing, Miami, Fla.

A couple of address changes: Dick Reisman is currently imprisoned in room 2659 of the Sterling Law Building, Yale Law School, New Haven, Conn., 'phone UN 5-2847. Mailing address is 2659 Yale Sta., New Haven. Also, Ric Nordlander, when not playing with his chemistry set at Caltech, finds repose at 1339 San Pasqual St., Pasadena, Cal.

Tom Dawson reports that Don Jaeckel and wife, the former Sue Clayton, are the proud parents of a wee lass by the name of Debra Lee; Tom also said that he's seen Gordon Polley about Boston several times lately. Gordon is in the Navy, stationed at Newport, R.I. Charles Dane and the former Dorothy Lee Blow '58 were married recently, and are now at 3529 Ordway St., NW, Washington 16, D.C. My most faithful correspondent, the Army Home Town News Center, has the following to report: John M. Wootton (home address: 318 Washington St., Boonton, N.J.) and Lyle F. Norton (West Oneonta) have been graduated from the basic officer course at the Quartermaster School, Fort Lee, Va. Ed Wolf was sworn in as a 2/Lt. in the Signal Corps Feb. 14 by his father, who is CO of the 2071st ARASU in Baltimore. Bill Post (57 Helmr Pl., White Plains) was graduated Jan. 31 from the Army Finance School basic course at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.; Dave Brownell has completed training at the AAAGM school at Fort Bliss, Tex. All the above are second Johns, by the way.

'56 Women: Linda J. Hudson
153 Hamilton Road
Ridgewood, N.J.

A note from Nancy Kohler, Class Reunion chairman, includes some wedding news from Rochester and the surrounding area. Marjorie Lapidés was married to Samuel Schlein, February 16. They have returned by now from a Bermuda honeymoon and are at 1190 Park Avenue, Rochester. January 26 was the day Joan Delehanty and Robert M. Douglas became Mr. and Mrs. They were married in Brockport. Pat Far- ley was one of Joan's attendants. They're right outside Ithaca in Willseyville now. Address there is R.D. 1. Nancy writes that she is pretty busy herself with upcoming wedding plans, but hopes to make a trip to Ithaca before too long. Her address in Rochester is 1674 Ridge Road.

St. Louis, Mo. was the scene of the wedding of Jean Harris and Martin E. Offenberger. They were married March 21. From Mary Ellen Bunce in Scotia comes word of another '56er on the other side of the classroom. Mary Ellen is teaching seventh grade home economics in Scotia. She says, "I had the boys for the first two weeks. They really kept me on my toes." She finished her practice teaching at Cornell in February and went to Scotia right away. Among the Cornellians in the area are Nancy Thomas Edwards. Nancy's husband Arthur works at General Electric in Schenectady. Mary Ellen's address is 213 Catherine Street.

There's another prospective Cornellian, Class of '75. His name is Charles Allen and his parents are Damarias (Doser) and Charles Klaus. He was born March 6. Dede and Chuck and young Charles are all at 930 South Crater Road, Petersburg, Va. while Chuck is with the Army at Fort Lee, Va.

One of the alumnae vice-presidents, Elizabeth (Bitsy) Wright, and husband Bill Tower are way down south at 506 South Hyman Avenue, Greenville, Miss. Bill is in jet flight training at Greenville AFB. Bitsy isn't working there now, but hopes to find a job when they move again and stay put for a while. Bill and Bitsy were married December 29 in Pittsford. In the wedding party were Bill's sister, Sandra Tower '60, Robert Heinzman '53, James Storey '54, and Tom Shea, Grad.

Guess that about takes care of the news for this month. Hope I find the mailbox a bit fuller over the next two weeks or I don't know what I'll have to write about for the next issue.

NECROLOGY

Arthur R. Congdon, 110 West Court Street, Ithaca, March 25, 1957. In 1903, when Sheldon Court first opened, he went there as a clerk in the bookstore and in 1908, upon the death of Charles L. Sheldon, Jr., whose father built Sheldon Court, he took over the management. He retired as manager in 1942. Daughter, Mrs. Andrew W. McElwee (Barbara Congdon) '36.

— or why you don't pay more for gasoline

"The oil companies have come up with a lot of advances to meet competition and keep customers.

"Nothing, it seems to me, illustrates this better than the efficiency of the transportation system they've developed.

"If you were to mail a gallon of gasoline from Los Angeles to Seattle, for example, you'd pay 82c postage.

"For 59c less, Union Oil finds the oil in the ground, sinks a well and pumps it out, pipes it to a refinery, converts the crude oil into finished gasoline, pipes the gasoline from the refinery to the terminal, moves the gasoline by ship from one port to the other, where a truck picks it up and delivers it to your neighborhood service station.

"We then put it in your car, wash your windshield, check your oil, tires, battery and radiator, brush out your car and carry your account for a month before sending you a bill.

"All for 23.1c, if you deduct the 9½c Washington tax on a gallon of gasoline which we collect to build roads.

"On the average, a barrel of Union Oil crude moves 665 miles between the time it leaves the ground and goes into your car as gasoline. Our cost for this trip is about 1c a gallon.

"That's the world's biggest transportation bargain. And one reason why gasoline doesn't cost more than it does."

Sam Taber, our Senior Pipeline Engineer, estimates the petroleum companies move more than 4 billion barrels of crude oil and finished product a year by pipeline.

This unique method of moving goods to market was perfected by the oil industry. As was the tank car, the tank truck and the tank ship.

It is the lowest cost transportation system in the world, developed by an intensely competitive industry to keep its prices down.
