A Message from the President

NOTHING that has happened since I came into office has seemed to me quite so heartening as the Alumni Fund of 1942-43, which broke all previous records. When the year started, it was felt by those directing the Fund that every effort should be made to maintain and possibly better a bit the total of last year's collections, $115,856; no one, in view of higher taxes, rising costs of living, absences for military service, and all the other disruptions of the war, looked for any large increase in the year's contributions.

But the books closed with a total of $185,131.90, exceeding the previous high of $178,508, made thirteen years ago in 1929-30. The total number of contributors, 8,405, is well over a thousand more than that for 1941-42. Such an outcome for this year's campaign is an achievement of which every Cornellian may be proud.

My own reaction is a combination of gratitude and encouragement. I am exceedingly thankful that so large a revenue has been made available at just this time. As an unrestricted contribution to the past year's budget, the Alumni Fund puts an operating deficit which threatened to be somewhat appalling down to a figure which is quite tolerable. Administrative anxieties which were serious have thus been alleviated. I wish the alumni to know of my deep appreciation of the invaluable financial aid they have rendered.

I wish to extend my warmest thanks to the numerous Class committeemen who have made most of the direct contacts with the actual contributors. Without the work done by these men and women in the field, the Fund could not have possibly come through so successfully. As a matter of fact, it is the continuing improvement of Class organizations which gives greatest promise for the further strengthening of Alumni Fund work.

The past is now secure. From it we can all draw immense satisfaction. Let us make sure that the good work goes on. In it lies one of the firmest assurances of the continued progress and enduring greatness of our University.

Council Report for 1942-43

EDWARD E. GOODWILLIE
PRESIDENT

IN THIS thirty-third Annual Report of the Alumni Fund Council your Executive Committee and Officers report with pride a new record in alumni support for Cornell. During the year ended June 30, 1943 unrestricted gifts for general University purposes totalled $185,131.90 from 8,405 alumni. At the same time through its independent Alumni Fund for use in that College in New York, the Medical Alumni Association received $2,391 from 335 of its alumni for a combined Alumni Fund total of $187,522.90 from 8,740 alumni.

In addition the Council received for the permanent endowment of the University $17,457.07 on old pledges to the Semi-Centennial Endowment Fund and $9,738.60 on Class Memorial Fund pledges. Other special purpose and restricted gifts which came to the University from the Alumni during this period included $2,137.89 for the Federation of Women's Clubs Scholarship Fund, $5,067.50 for Alumni Regional Scholarships, $65,208.64 in bequests, and $64,139.83 for miscellaneous special purposes. During this time the University also received a total of $11,992.19 earned interest on the endowments created as Class Memorial Funds and the general Alumni Endowment, but none of these gifts is included in the Alumni Fund totals reported here.

This Annual Report is sent again this year as a tribute to those alumni who, by their gifts, have helped the University so importantly at this critical time. It is sent also in recognition of the generous and loyal effort of our approximately two thousand volunteer Class Committee members who have played such an important part in bringing our Alumni Fund up to its present level of importance. The Council officers and Executive Committee welcome this opportunity to express their grateful thanks to these contributors and workers.

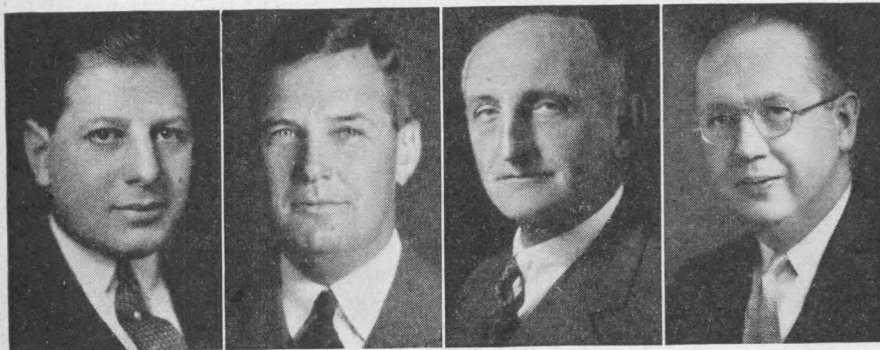

No report of this year's Alumni Fund would be complete without an expression of our grateful thanks to the Class Secretaries' Association and their special "Bonded Reunion" committee under the Chairmanship of Dr. Lyman R. Fisher '28. The inauguration, endorsement, and stimulation by our Class Secretaries of the plan for sending War Bonds and War Stamps back to Ithaca instead of holding reunions had an important influence on the results of this year's Alumni Fund. The flow of these dual-purpose gifts which brought over $17,000 to the Alumni Fund before the close of our fiscal year in June is continuing with no let-up now, several months in our new 1943-44 year.

The established success of our Council policy of class organization through committees makes it unnecessary to plan any special changes in procedure over recent years. Your Executive Committee continues as a working group and concerns itself with the problems of strengthening and improving our class organizations. An important part of that work is the publicity and mailing program which has been directed especially well this year by a committee of Dorothy Lampe Hill '26, Henry W. Roden '18, George C. Castleman '30, and H. Victor Grohmann '28, Chairman.

As a result of the elections at the annual meeting in Ithaca on May 22, 1943, your President and Vice-Presidents Harold T. Edwards '10, Matthew Carey '15, and Harold L. Bache '16 were reelected for one-year terms. William Kleitz '15 was elected for a one-year term as a vice-president to succeed Charles T. Mordock '97. New members of the Executive Committee elected for three-year terms were Edward E. Anderson '17, Clyde Mayer '21, and John Fair '27. These gentlemen succeed Henry W. Roden '18, George Munsick '21, and Walter W. Buckley '26 whose terms expired.

No report of the activities and achievement of the Alumni Fund Council for the year just concluded would be complete without a tribute to the outstanding work done by our Executive Secretary Walter C. Heasley, Jr. '30 and his office group at Ithaca. They did a grand job and their contribution to the success of the Fund is deserving of special recognition by your Executive Committee.

WALTER C. HEASLEY, JR.

THE real basis for the record-breaking Alumni Fund of 1942-43 was the Class Committee organization work which was done during the past three years. The individual class records can be traced in each case to the work which has been done by some conscientious and generous Class Representative. During the period of this Report the Class of 1910, Harold T. Edwards, Representative, again set the pace for all-around performance and was beaten out for final championships by other strong class committees only by narrow margins.

*Heasley and Larry E. Gubb '16,
President, Cornell Alumni Association*

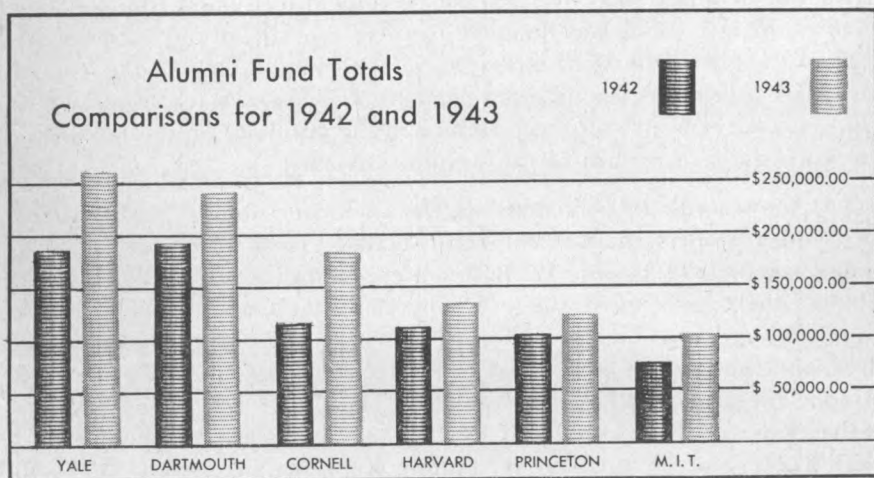

During the year it was impossible to make any great headway in the expansion of our class committee organizations due to the calls upon the time of volunteer workers. For this reason the Executive Committee of the Council supplemented our class solicitation with a direct mail appeal in addition to publishing this successful Annual Report in this form. We know definitely that over $31,000.00 came directly as a result of that mail campaign, which was designed to cover the gaps in our class organizations caused by the War, especially in the younger classes. The cost of this mail appeal was less than ten per cent of the known result because of the generosity of our volunteer alumni in the publicity profession and in the furnishing of certain of the supplies involved.

As for records, in percentage of the class contributing, which is the best index of performance, the results fall logically into three groups. The Class of 1892, George W. Bacon, Representative, led all classes with 50% of the Class contributing. Among their contemporary classes they were followed by the Class of 1895, Harry J. Clark, Representative with 40%, and the Class of 1897, Fred F. Bontecou, Representative with 37%. Among the later and larger classes 1910, Harold T. Edwards, Representative, led with 33.4% followed by 1914, H. W. Peters, Representative, with 32.5%, and 1909, Creed W. Fulton, Representative, with 30.7%. In the third group, and second only to 1892's record performance, the Class of 1912 Women, Marian McCaulley Van Deventer, Representative, led with 46.2%, followed by the Class of 1903 Women, Lucy M. Tomkins, Representative, with 42.7%, and 1906 Women, Jane Cheney Landmesser, Representative with 39.7%.

In total amount contributed there were seven classes among the men which contributed over $5,000.00 and seven among the women which contributed over $300.00. Among the former, the Class of 1909, Creed W. Fulton, Representative led with $19,811.38 with a slim margin over 1910, Harold T. Edwards, Representative, with $19,385.50, while 1907, Howard M. Rogers, Representative was third with $8,619.25, followed by 1892, 1916, 1914, and 1903. Among the ladies, the Class of 1923, Carolyn Slater Treman, Representative, led with $1,388.62, while the Class of 1912, Marian McCaulley Van Deventer, Representative, was second with $398.35, followed in order by 1920, 1931, 1903, 1933, and 1935.

In total number of contributors, the race was between the classes graduated in the ten years prior to the last war. The Class of 1917, Edward E. Anderson, Representative, emerged the winner with 267, followed in order by 1914 with 252, 1916 with 240, 1910 with 219, and 1915 with 215. Among the women, eight classes had over fifty contributors. They were led by the Class of 1933, Carleen Maley Hutchins, Representative, with 73, followed by the Class of 1939, Madeleine Weil Loewenstein, Representative, with 64, and the Class of 1923, Carolyn Slater Treman, Representative, with 61.

Bonded Reunions

THROUGH the Class Secretaries' Association plan for "Bonded Reunions" Cornell took the lead among American Colleges and Universities and won national recognition from ODT Director Joseph B. Eastman and Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau '13. Secretary Morgenthau said, "By following Cornell's example thousands of schools and colleges could help bring victory nearer and at the same time strengthen their educational resources for after the war." Director Eastman's reaction was, "It would be a fine thing if alumni of other schools and colleges and universities adopted Cornell's plan for 'Bonded Reunions'. Our railroads need all the help we can give them in handling vital wartime traffic."

"Bonded Reunions" came about as a result of a thorough and thoughtful review of possible reunion conditions when the Class Secretaries' Association held its annual mid-winter meeting in New York in February, 1943. A special committee consisting of Dr. Lyman R. Fisher '28, Clark S. Northup '93, Anna Fielden Grace '10, Harriet Hosmer '18, Henry W. Roden '18, Helen Worden Carpenter '28, and James D. Pond '28 had made a survey of the rooming, feeding, and transportation difficulties and recommended that any type of reunions in Ithaca was out of the question for the duration. The committee further recommended that rather than attempt local reunions, the Association should sponsor "Bonded Reunions" for the duration. The plan was that Secretaries whose classes would normally return to Ithaca in 1943 were to write to their classes and urge their members to send at least one Series F War Bond to Ithaca instead of going themselves.

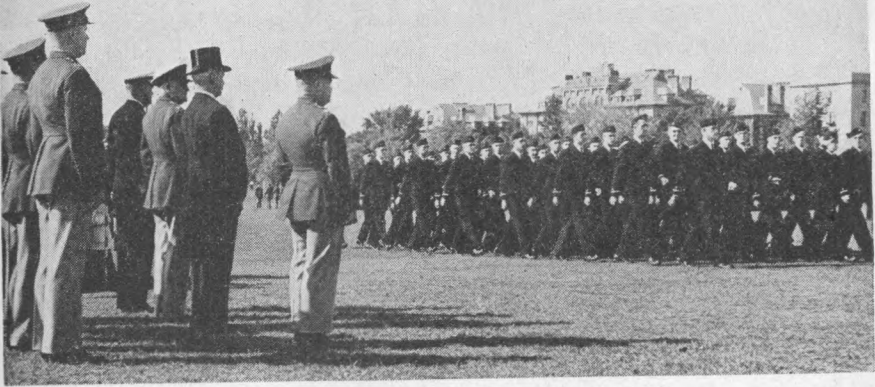

The idea had the several obvious advantages of aiding the national War Effort, helping the University through a difficult period, saving needless travel, easing a difficult dormitory and feeding problem at Ithaca, and of actually costing less ($18.50) than a trip to Ithaca.

Forty-eight Class Secretaries sent out 28,204 letters in behalf of "Bonded Reunions" to members of reunion and nonreunion classes during the spring, with the result that this supplementary and class-financed activity added $17,155.55 to the Alumni Fund for the year. That flood of gifts continues and the total in our 1943-44 year gives promise of being substantially greater than last year. The Council extends its grateful thanks to the Class Secretaries' Association!

Military and Naval Review on Alumni Field

THE transformation of the University under the war program was for a time more easily felt than seen. The adoption of plans for accelerated study, the increased emphasis on fields bearing directly upon the war effort, and the deepening seriousness of purpose in the student body: these brought about a difference in the Campus life that could readily be sensed, even if it was not clearly visible. True, the Naval Training School brought several hundred young officers onto the Hill, but the presence of a large civilian student body kept the Quadrangle and the corner by the Library and Sage Chapel looking like parts of a normal college campus. With the beginning of the term early in July, all that was ended. The student body is now predominantly in uniform, and those of us on the ground can see in better perspective the changes that have taken place.

“Of the 7200 men and women getting instruction in Ithaca beginning with the November Term at the University, some 4200—all men—are in the armed forces. This group of 4200 is distributed as follows:

Naval Training School.....	800
Navy V-12 Program.....	1700
(including 300 Marines)
Naval Aviation Cadets.....	100
Army Specialized Training Programs...	1600

Of the 3000 civilian students, 100—all women—are in the Curtiss-Wright Engineering Cadette Program. The remaining 2900 civilians are divided: 1350 men and 1550 women. In addition to the 7200 students on the Campus at Ithaca, there are slightly more than 500 in the Medical College and the School of Nursing in New York City. Practically all of these medical students either are already, or shortly will be, in the Army and Navy.

“In view of the fact that normal registration at the opening of the University in late September during the later pre-war years was approximately 6900, it can readily be seen that the total Campus population is somewhat above normal proportions. The striking fact is that it has now gone so largely military. This is, of course, as it should be.

“Naturally, the University is pleased that the varied Army and Navy programs now on Campus are in such substantial proportions and moving forward so effectively. At the same time, the administration cannot but be concerned over the financial outcomes. Unfortunately, it is not yet possible to calculate the effect of the total operations on the University's budget. In contracting with the University for the services which are now being supplied, the fundamental principle being applied by the War and Navy Departments is one of reimbursement on a budgeted cost basis. What this principle means in concrete terms has thus far become evident only in the case of certain specific services, of which the most important are housing, messing, medical care, and physical training. With respect to these important sections of the total program, the University is assured of reimbursement on terms which ‘carry the load,’ though with no margin of profit. Contracts will be reviewed periodically, and any evidence of net gain on the part of the University will doubtless lead to renegotiation of the rates.

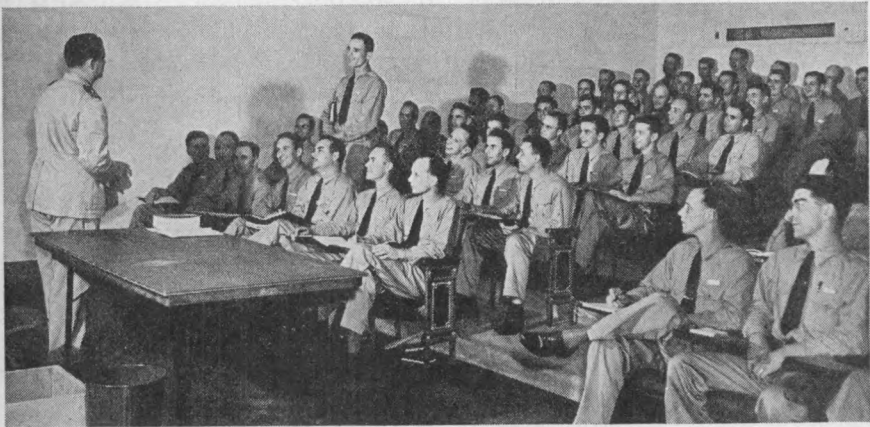

“On the side of the costs of actual course instruction—and this, of course, is the largest part of the total undertaking—the basis of repayment to the University has not yet been finally determined. A tentative basis has been established in the case of the Army. Here it would appear that the payroll will be covered in full, provided salaries are kept at the University's average rate of pay in the departments doing the teaching, and further provided that teaching load and section size are kept at levels prescribed by the Army. Whether or not it will be feasible to meet these specifications fully, remains to be seen. If they are not so met, the University will not be fully reimbursed for the salaries of staff members engaged in the program.

"On the side of the Navy, no attempt has been made even to estimate costs of instruction. The procedure which has been adopted provides for a token payment, with the understanding that actual costs will be examined toward the close of the term. On the basis of this examination of costs, there will be negotiated a final contract which will reimburse the University for the instructional costs that have been incurred, insofar as the staff arrangements made by the University are held by the Navy to be reasonable.

"Obviously, there are many elements in all this that make it impossible to arrive at this time at any dependable estimates of the results of the total operations. Only in the course of several months' experience will it be possible to ascertain the full budgetary effects of the University's large and increasing participation in the war training program.

"Meanwhile, we may all take real satisfaction, I think, in the extent to which the War and Navy Departments have looked to Cornell for important contributions to the technical and professional training of Army and Navy personnel. Cornell is one of about a dozen institutions which are engaged with both branches of the service. The available capacity of the Engineering College is being used by the Navy. The Army and Navy are together using the Medical College virtually to capacity and, in addition, four Army programs and two Navy programs have been activated at Ithaca. At the more advanced level, the Naval Training School for officers continues its intensive work in Diesel and steam engineering and for deck officers. Altogether, the University's array of varied war training activities is an impressive one. The work in all its phases appears now to be moving forward smoothly and effectively.

"In planning our wartime educational program, we have resolved from the outset that the University should devote its energies and its resources, its men and its materials, wholeheartedly to the struggle in which our country is engaged. It is inevitable that in times like these our teaching and our research programs will be subject to radical dislocations, not only in the humanities but in almost all divisions, in order to meet the demands which current exigencies have placed upon us. These dislocations will in no way operate adversely upon the long range purposes of the University, provided we continue to be successful in keeping alive those functions which offer a sound basis for peacetime education.

"Despite the appalling difficulties of the war period, we shall firmly hold to the enduring values for which the University stands, and we shall not abandon for a moment our responsibility to maintain a firm foundation upon which we can build immediately when the war job is done."

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE ALUMNI FUND 1943

THIS year again the Alumni Association of the Medical College in New York made an appeal to their members for a separate and special Alumni Fund for use in that part of the University. This second Medical College Alumni Fund was conspicuously successful in view of the very substantial proportion of the alumni of the College who have entered the armed services since this Fund was started two years ago.

This year a total of $2,391.00 was received from 335 alumni of the College compared with last year's $3,117.50 from 410 donors. The Executive Committee of the general Alumni Fund Council welcomes this opportunity to congratulate the Alumni Association of the Medical College and to report here the names of the contributors to this Fund.

Many other alumni who took work at both Ithaca and New York have made substantial gifts to the general Alumni Fund as they have done for years, and it is unfortunate that under present conditions of record-keeping their names do not appear in this list as well as in their undergraduate classes earlier in this record.
