At the time of his death Professor Morris had been a member of the Faculty of Cornell University for thirty-seven years, of which thirty-five were spent in active service. His labors began with the opening of the University in 1868, and he had the rare privilege, with his associates in the original Faculty, of shaping in a peculiar manner the destiny of the University. His loyalty and enthusiasm in hours of depression, his frankness of criticism, the resourcefulness of his varied experience, and the transparent sincerity of his character, were weighty factors in the early history of the University.

He lived to see the firm establishment and extraordinary development of the department which he founded and fostered through many years of discouragement, and to win the grateful affection of a host of students to whom he was an unselfish friend and constant benefactor.

The Faculty mourns the loss of an efficient colleague, a helpful friend, and an upright, useful citizen.

Resolved: That a copy of this expression of esteem and regret be entered upon the records of the University Faculty and transmitted to the family.

"Trustees of Cornell University,

Gentlemen:

The University Faculty received Nov. 3, 1905, through the Library Council the following resolution of the Board of Trustees:

"Resolved, that it is inexpedient at the present time to extend the privileges of the library and that the University Faculty be requested to make a report as to the expediency of establishing a subsidiary circulating library."

The subject was considered by the University Faculty at its meetings of Nov. 15th and Nov. 23d. Two resolutions were adopted and the undersigned were appointed a committee to draft a communication to the Trustees accompanying them.

The University Faculty felt itself unable in compliance with your request to "report as to the expediency of establishing a subsidiary circulating library" without at the same time reiterating its conviction that a more pressing need, a need by no means to be met by a subsidiary circulating library, is some extension of the privilege of drawing books from the main library for home use.

Accordingly they took the following action, "Resolved, that in the judgment of the University Faculty the extension to juniors of the library privileges now enjoyed by seniors is expedient."

Yees and nays being called for, the resolution was unanimously adopted by the following record of votes.

In 1908 and 1909, the first two years of the Syllabus of 1905 must be offered, together with a third year from either Syllabus. In 1910 the full four years of the Syllabus of 1905 must be offered."

"2. The paragraph at p. 54 of the present Register to be amended as follows:

"To secure exemption from the entrance examination in English, (see p. 37), the Regents' diploma or sixty count academic certificate must meet the requirements laid down at p. 38."

On motion the Faculty then adjourned.

Wm. A. Hammond
Secretary.
At the call of the President, the Faculty met in Special Session, and was called to order at 6 P. M., with the President in the Chair.

It was moved and carried that Tuesday afternoon of Commencement Week be fixed as the date for the dedication of the Goldwin Smith Hall.

The fixing of the day for the dedication of the Rockefeller Hall was deferred until the President and the Professor of Physics, Professor Nichols, should have conferred upon the subject.

A communication from Professor W. L. Phelps of Yale University was read, in which Professor Phelps awarded the Guilford Prize to the essay presented under the pseudonym of E. W. Hazard, and on motion this award was confirmed. The Secretary was then instructed to open the envelope superscribed with the pseudonym E. W. Hazard, which was found to contain the name of Miss C. Z. On motion of the Professor of Medieval History, Professor Burr, the Faculty then went into the Committee of the Whole to consider the subject of the needs and prospects of the Graduate Department under the resolution presented at the last meeting by Professor Sill, and the President called the Professor of German, Professor Hewett, to the Chair.

The Committee of the whole having risen, the Chairman reported passage in the committee session of the following resolution:

Introduced by the President:

"Resolved, that a special committee be appointed to consider and report upon the following matters in relation to the Graduate Department:

(a) The publication of a separate announcement of courses for the Graduate Department."
(b) A more thorough organization of the Department.

(c) Deficiencies in professorships and equipment to meet the just demands of graduate students.

(d) The utility and the need of fellowships and scholarships.

(e) Publication of investigations.

Introduced by Professor Burr:

"Resolved, that a graduate student who has completed the required term of academic residence, and has given satisfactory evidence of ability to produce a worthy thesis, but whose thesis is as yet incomplete, may, at the request of the special committee in charge of his work, and with the approval of the general committee on Graduate work, be admitted to his examinations for his degree, and, if these be passed, may be accorded such further time as may prove indispensable for the satisfactory completion of his thesis—-it being of course understood that the degree is in no case to be conferred before the completion and acceptance of his thesis."

Introduced by Professor Creighton:

"Resolved, that the resolution of the Professor of Medieval History be referred to the Committee on Graduate work, with instructions to consider and report at the next regular meeting of the Faculty."

The resolution introduced by the President in the Committee of the whole and recommended by the Committee to the Faculty was then voted upon and carried as the Faculty's action.

The Dean of the Law School, Professor Huffcut, moved that the President appoint a Committee to consider and report on the most desirable method of expressing to Mr. Carnegie the Faculty's appreciation of his services to the cause of higher education by his benefaction to the teaching profession, and the motion was carried. As such Committee the President appointed Professors Huffcut, Hewett and Burr.

On motion the Faculty then adjourned.

Secretary.
The regular meeting of the University Faculty was called to order at 5.05 P.M. by the President. The minutes of the last meeting were read and after correction of the title of the Carnegie Foundation were approved.

A communication from the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees was read informing the Faculty that the Board is at present unable to establish further graduate scholarships, and the communication was ordered filed.

The following communication from the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees was forwarded to the Faculty by the Secretary of the Library Council:

"Referring to the communication from the Secretary of the Library Council as printed in the Executive Committee's minutes of February 13th, 1906, it was Resolved, that the library privileges as now enjoyed by seniors be extended to juniors, also that a subsidiary circulating library on open shelves be established for the promotion of the general culture of the whole student body."

The President laid before the Faculty certain complaints made by professors regarding the interference with University work by ball playing on the campus. On motion of the Professor of Statistics, Professor Willcox, the complaints were referred to the Committee on University Policy to consider and report.

The President announced to the Faculty the appointment of Mr. C. O. Harris to be travelling fellow in Greek for the year 1906-1907.

A petition from Miss Margaret Otis, asking permission to hand in her thesis in manuscript copy instead of type was granted.

A petition from Mr. Edward G. Cox, asking to be allowed to receive his degree of Ph. D. in absentia was referred to the Dean with power.

The committee appointed to consider the hour of drill reported as follows:
1. That the present drill hour beginning at 4.45 P.M. is undesirable and detrimental to the interests of the department of Military Science and Tactics.

2. That an hour from 12.15 to 1.15 P.M. would be so great an improvement that the committee decided to make a serious and patient investigation in the effort so to readjust the work of the several colleges as to make this change possible.

3. That the result of that investigation has been to show that the change proposed would be impracticable, not only in Sibley College of Mechanical Engineering where it could not be introduced without requiring afternoon recitations in mathematics following upon five hours of work during the morning, but also in the other colleges where the resulting sequence of work would be almost as undesirable.

4. That in their judgment the change proposed is eminently desirable and that if the facilities of the several colleges are materially increased in the future the question should be reopened.

and on motion the report was adopted.

The Dean reported the following rule recommended as an addition to the Rules for the Guidance of Students, and the recommendation was approved.

2a. No student will be allowed to make up in the University specific entrance deficiencies unless he has satisfied at least thirty units of Advanced Entrance Subjects. Each hour passed up in advance of entrance shall count as one unit.

On behalf of the Committee on Student Organizations the Dean reported the following revision of Rule II referred back to that committee by action of the Faculty on April 11th, 1906.

Rule II. No student shall represent the University on a Varsity athletic team in the four main branches of sport (rowing, base ball, foot ball, track athletics):

a. For more than three years including therein any years in which he has represented another college or university in any of those branches;
b. After the class with which he entered this or another institution has graduated unless he has been out of residence for one or more terms for reasons other than failure in work or breach of discipline.

In applying Rule II a and b, only those years are to be counted which are regarded as an equivalent of the college years in this University.

The Professor of Philosophy, Professor Creighton, moved to strike out the last sentence in the report, but the motion was lost. The question then recurring to the adoption of the Committee's recommendation, Rule II of the report was adopted.

The Committee appointed on April 11 to draft a communication to the University of Alabama reported as follows, and on motion the report was adopted.

"To the University of Alabama, renowned among the universities of the South, upon the auspicious occasion of the celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of her inauguration, Cornell University sends cordial greeting and sincere congratulations.

In the method of the founding of her noble schools, whose first wealth accrued to them through the sale of public lands, in the large and genial spirit of her installation upon non-sectarian lines, in her sturdy maintenance of the highest ideals of scholarship and citizenship, Cornell University recognizes in the University of Alabama an elder sister.

From the difficulties of pioneering in a new and undeveloped region, from the later vicissitudes of war when her scholastic edifices and her cherished library were reduced to ashes, she has risen more glorious than ever and has turned to fresh vistas of prosperity.

The University has advanced, and will advance, in material welfare with the industrial progress of the state, but amidst this success she has not lost sight of her duty as a spiritual and intellectual guide. Her contributions to learning in the past and the development of character within her halls bespeak for her a beneficent future. For the realization of such a future, Cornell University sends her fervent good wishes, and has commissioned one of her most worthy sons, Dr. Eugene Corson of Savannah, Georgia, to convey them to the University of Alabama upon this happy occasion.

The Professor of Statistics, Professor Willcox, moved that Rule 9 of the Rules for the Guidance of Students be amended so as to read:

9. If the work of a student is unsatisfactory in quantity or quality the case will be investigated and the student may be temporarily debarred or permanently excluded from the University. In the former case special conditions upon his subsequent registration may be imposed.

Moved, that the above be referred to the Committee on University Policy, and the motion was carried.

The Professor of German, Professor Hewett, moved that the matter of the time for beginning and closing lectures be referred to the Committee on University Policy to consider and report and it was so ordered.

On behalf of the Committee on Student Organizations, to which was referred on December 8th, 1905, the question of leaves of absence of athletic teams, the Dean reported as follows:

"No leaves of absence shall be granted to athletic teams to compete with other than representatives of educational institutions", and the recommendation was adopted.

The Professor of Statistics, Professor Willcox, moved that the Committee on Editing the Announcement of Courses on behalf of the College of Arts and Sciences be requested also to see to it that all references to courses in that college made in the announcements of other colleges agree with the announcement in Arts and Sciences, and the motion was carried.

The Professor of Law, Professor Huffcut, on behalf of the committee appointed April the 11th to draft a communication to Mr. Andrew Carnegie reported as follows:
To Andrew Carnegie

Greeting and Good Will:

In recognition of the noble purpose that found expression in the establishment and endowment of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, we, members of the Faculty of Cornell University, desire to make known to you the grateful appreciation in which we hold this unique provision for promoting the usefulness and dignity of the vocation of the teacher. To many of us it brings relief from anxiety, and to all an added sense of security: but we welcome it as well for the permanent and beneficent influence it will exert upon scholarship and teaching throughout America. May the consciousness of a service so beautiful and so enduring lend an added serenity to the many years which from our hearts we wish you.

Cornell University,

May, 1906.

Room C, Boardman Hall,
June 7, 1907.

The regular meeting of the University Faculty was called to order at 5:00 P. M. by the Dean. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The committee appointed at the special meeting of the Faculty held on May 6th to draft resolutions regarding the death of Professor Huffcut, reported as follows:

The Faculty of Cornell University records upon its Minutes this memorial of Ernest Wilson Huffcut whose beneficent influence upon the life and work of the University extended far beyond his daily service to the College of Law of which he was the distinguished Director.

He was closely identified with the University as student or teacher for more than twenty years and always a potent factor in its varied activities. Entering Cornell in 1880 he received the degree of Bachelor of Science in 1884 and the degree of Bachelor of Laws in 1888. Here he was instructor in English from 1885 to 1888; professor of Law from 1895 to 1903 and Dean of the Law Faculty and Director of the College of Law from 1903 until his untimely death in the present year.

Possessed of logical understanding of his theme, rare eloquence and perfect clarity of expression, a large intellectual and social sympathy, and a dominant instinct for progressive action, he was accorded a foremost place by his fellow workers in the field of legal education in this country. These same attributes won for him a like regard in the deliberations of this Faculty and its committees, and in his relations with alumni and student organizations. His spirit of devoted service to his University in all its concerns, -- those of lesser importance as well as those more vital to its welfare, -- was ever voiced with persuasive grace and practical wisdom. In the death of Dean Huffcut the State has been deprived of an exemplar of civic duty and Cornell University has lost a most gifted and loyal son.

F. Irvine,
E. R. Woodruff,
C. L. Burr,
C. H. Hull.

The resolutions reported by the committee were ordered to be spread upon the Minutes, and a copy of the same to be sent the family of the deceased.

The professor of Oratory, Professor Winans, reported that the '86 Memorial Prize in Declamation was awarded at the contest held Friday evening, May 24, to Horace Lathrop Dawson, a senior in Sibley College, and the report was ordered to be filed.

The professor of Oratory reported further that at the Woodford Contest held Friday, May 3rd, the prize was awarded to William Winthrop Taylor, a senior in the College of Law, and the report was ordered to be filed.

The committee consisting of Professors Faust, Thilly and Cooper appointed to adjudge the German Prize Essay, reported that the essay presented in competition did not reach the standard required by the founder of the prize and they therefore recommended that the prize be not awarded this year, and the recommendation of the committee was approved.

The professor of Philosophy, Professor Creighton, was then called to the chair, and the Dean on behalf of the Departments concerned presented the following nominations for University fellows and Scholars:

UNIVERSITY FELLOWS

Fellow in English --------- Elmer James Bailey, Ph. B. '94, and Ph. M. '97 Rochester, A. M. Hamilton '05.

Honorary Fellowship in Philosophy------------------ Dr. Lester B. Donahue, A. B., Ph. D. Catholic Univ. of America.

President White Fellow in Modern European History------ Miss Louise Fargo Brown, A. B. Cornell (re-appointed).
The committee consisting of Professors Burr and Cooper appointed to award the Luana L. Messenger Memorial Prize, reported their selection of the essay entitled "The Relation of the Socialistic Movement to Human Progress", whose author signed the pseudonym "A. Trethven". On motion the report of the committee was approved and the Secretary was instructed to open the envelope superscribed with the name "A. Trethven", and the envelope was found to contain the name of Miss C. Z. Hartman, a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences.

A communication from the Medical College informed the Faculty of its approval of the recommendation from the Committee on University Policy regarding the transfer of dropped first year students from one college to another (see Minutes of Dec. 19 - page 365), and the communication was ordered to be placed on file.

The committee appointed to confer with the committee of the Trustees regarding the application of Mr. Shepard for the Forestry degree (see Minutes May 3, page 379), reported as follows:
WHEREAS Mr. William C. Shepard duly entered the department in Cornell University known as the New York State College of Forestry at Ithaca, N. Y. in 1901, and satisfactorily completed the first two years of the course in the College of Forestry leading to the degree of Forest Engineer; and

WHEREAS the New York State College of Forestry was suspended in 1905 by action of the Board of Trustees of Cornell University, and all courses leading to the degree of Forest Engineer were discontinued because of the failure of the state to make the customary annual appropriation to the college; and

WHEREAS Mr. William C. Shepard entered the Yale Forestry School of Yale University in 1905 and will complete the regular course in said school in June, 1907; and

WHEREAS the Yale Forestry School is a graduate college and only confers the degree of Master of Forestry on those already holding a first degree; and

WHEREAS it will be impossible for Mr. William C. Shepard to secure the degree from the Yale Forestry School unless Cornell University confers upon him at the same time its first degree of Forest Engineer; and

WHEREAS Cornell University has in the case of seven former students of the New York State College of Forestry who had completed three years of the course in Forestry at the time said college was suspended and who completed the course in the forestry schools of Harvard and Yale universities, recommended to the Board of Trustees the conferral of the first degree upon such students on finishing their course in the above mentioned forestry schools of Harvard and Yale Universities; and

WHEREAS the question whether the case of Mr. William C. Shepard should be treated in the same way as the seven above mentioned students is partly a question of equity to be settled by the Trustees of Cornell University, arising out of the fact that the course in Forestry in the State College of Forestry administered by the Trustees of Cornell University was suspended by the aforesaid action of the Board of Trustees, notwithstanding announcements previously made in the Cornell University register that degrees would be conferred upon certain conditions which could not be complied with by Mr. Shepard in the State College administered by the Trustees of Cornell University solely on account of the aforesaid action of the Board of Trustees; and

WHEREAS it appearing that the quality and quantity of the work performed at the Yale College by Mr. Shepard has been reasonably sufficient providing it had been performed in the said State College at Cornell University together with the other work previously performed in such State College to entitle Mr. Shepard to the Cornell degree of Forest Engineer; and

WHEREAS the Board of Trustees has appointed a committee to confer with a committee of the University Faculty to consider the questions of educational policy and University policy; and

WHEREAS the two committees of conference have met and discussed these questions and have unanimously recommended the conferal of the Cornell degree of Forest Engineer upon Mr. Shepard:

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Faculty of Cornell University recommend to the Board of Trustees that the degree of Forest Engineer be conferred upon Mr. William C. Shepard by the Trustees of Cornell University."

And the report of the committee was on motion adopted.

On motion of the Dean it was voted that when the Faculty adjourns it adjourn to meet on Tuesday, June 18, at 10:00 A.M.

On motion of the professor of Greek, Professor Sterrett, Miss H. H unm was given permission to hand in her doctor's type-written thesis partially in writing.

On motion the Faculty then adjourned.

June 18, 1907.

Pursuant to the action of June 7th the Faculty met in adjourned session at 10:00 A.M., and was called to order by the Dean. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The following resolutions with reference to the retirement of Professors Hart and Jones were drawn up by a conference of certain members of the Faculty after consultation with the President, and on motion they were adopted as the action of this Faculty, and ordered to be spread upon its minutes.

"At the end of the present academic year Professor James Morgan Hart will retire from active service as a member of the Faculty of Cornell University. His colleagues in the institution which he has served so ably and so faithfully cannot let the occasion pass by without giving expression to their high regard for his services as a teacher and scholar, and for his personal worth as a man.

Professor Hart is an able representative of the best type of modern American scholarship. The son of a distinguished educator, and fortunate in his many-sided training and broad intellectual equipment, he has shown himself no narrow specialist, but a scholar of wide and liberal attainments. His thorough and appreciative knowledge of many languages and literatures, together with his ripe experience of the world, has enabled him to illuminate the field of English studies with light from many sources. His work as an investigator has been accurate and painstaking, and his contributions to learning have been numerous and valuable, extending over a long period of time and covering a wide range of subjects. One of the earliest students of English in America to profit by the newer and more scientific methods of continental scholarship, his advice has been frequently sought and his example followed by his younger colleagues throughout this country. His work upon the German universities, by pointing out to American scholars the opportunities and advantages of European training, has been of the highest service to the universities of America.
The high standards of scholarship which he has set, and his own realization of them, have won for him an honored name, and brought credit to this University.

As a teacher Professor Hart has held strenuously to the belief that the study of literature is a mental discipline demanding of the student the full exercise of his intellectual powers. He has not neglected the aesthetic and emotional sides of literary appreciation, but has carefully avoided assigning to them an undue prominence. He has always manifested a keen interest in the intellectual development of his students and in their personal welfare, helping them by his counsel and influence not only during their undergraduate days, but after they have entered upon their active careers.

Professor Hart was a member of this Faculty at the opening of the University. For a number of years he was one of those who labored unselfishly to place instruction in the modern languages and literatures upon a sound basis, interesting himself in all the educational problems that confronted the new and struggling institution. After a long term of distinguished service in another university, he returned to Cornell in 1890 with the prestige of mature scholarship and national reputation.
For seventeen years he has been an active member of various governing bodies in this University, participating in their deliberations and serving upon their committees. In the treatment of questions arising before the Faculty he has maintained fearlessly his ideals. He was one of the leaders in establishing the elective system of studies in the College of Arts and Sciences. His persistent efforts have resulted in improving the instruction in English in the University and in the schools of the State of New York, and the better preparation in English of students entering from this State is largely due to his continued insistence upon higher standards. During his headship of the Department of English Literature the number of students taking English courses has constantly increased.

As a man Professor Hart has the esteem and affection of his colleagues. His open, direct, and loyal nature, his generous hospitality, his extensive knowledge of men and affairs, make of him a charming companion and a valued friend, whom we hope to keep with us for many years to come. His single-hearted devotion to scholarship and the keenness of his intellectual powers lead us to expect from him many further contributions to the fields of learning in which he has so long been active. Upon his withdrawal from active service in this University, we, his colleagues, tender him our heartiest assurances of good will and affection.

"On the retirement of Professor George William Jones from active participation in the work of the Cornell University Faculty after a distinguished service of thirty years, we the members of that faculty desire to place on record our high estimate of his worth as a teacher, a colleague and a man.

Joining the Department of Mathematics before the end of the first decade of its history, already a teacher of ripe experience, he bore an honorable part in the formative years, and during the still more critical period of rapid expansion which followed, in helping to shape those sound educational ideals which have prevailed in that department.

The influence of Professor Jones has been carried far beyond the bounds of the University both by his text-books and by the large number of successful teachers who have received at least part of their training in his class-room. Like many other sound mathematicians he has given much attention to the philosophy of the fundamental concepts, and to the pedagogical value of mathematical studies in a scheme of liberal education. Being a born teacher he has always adapted himself easily to the capacity of his pupils. A master of the Socratic method, he would probe to the bottom of the student's knowledge by judicious questions, and then build on solid foundations. He has been wont to say that the mathematical class-room should be not merely a lecture room, but also a laboratory, a place for drill in applied logic. Many of his students have said that they received their first notion of what sound reasoning means from the searching and kindly criticism of Professor Jones.

The logical bent of his mind is well exemplified in his text-books of algebra and trigonometry, in which those subjects are each beaten out into a chain of carefully stated theorems and problems after the manner of Euclid's Geometry, there being never a word wasted, and no long word used where a short one would do as well.

In matters of discipline Professor Jones has always shown a fine blending of firmness and kindness; and he has been helpful and friendly to all, both inside and outside the class-room. It will never be known how many scores of persons have gone to him each year for advice and guidance, and have been helped by him, pecuniarily and otherwise, his ready aid to the needy extending even beyond his means. His helpfulness is of a tonic quality, and he has no countenance for the shirk or the law-breaker until they show fruits of repentance. He is regarded by a long line of Cornell men and women as an embodiment of the manly Christian virtues, and by the people of Ithaca as a useful and public-spirited citizen.

Professor Jones has also been conscientious in attention to the business of the faculty, and he takes a deep interest in questions of educational policy. A man of well-poised judgment, he does his own thinking, and is not easily misled by high-sounding phrases that may make the worse appear the better reason. We shall long remember how he has been wont, in few but pregnant words, with old-fashioned courtesy, to express his earnest advocacy of whatever promotes good order and sound scholarship.

At all times and places he is an example of soldierly devotion to duty; a champion of good causes, however unpopular; a friend of the weak and friendless; an enemy of none but evil-doers; and a wise helper of all who wish to live nobly. His work is not done, even at three score years and ten. May he stay with us long!
The Faculty then proceeded to cast a ballot for candidates for advanced degrees. On motion the name of William Chambers Shepard was added to the list as candidate for the degree of Forest Engineer. The tellers appointed the count the ballots reported the casting of thirty-one ballots, all of which were for all of the candidates on the following list:

The Professor of Veterinary Medicine, Professor Law, on behalf of the Committee appointed to draft resolutions on the death of Professor Caldwell, read to the Faculty the following memorial, which on motion was approved and ordered to be spread upon the minutes:—

"The Faculty of Cornell University inscribes the following tribute to the memory and worth of the late George Chapman Caldwell, Professor of Agricultural Chemistry in the institution from its inauguration in 1868 up to his retirement as emeritus in 1902, of analytical chemistry since 1875 and of general chemistry since 1891.

Educated in Harvard and Göttingen, after a teaching experience in Antioch College, O. and the Agricultural College of Pa., he was the first professor appointed to the faculty of Cornell, where he presided for 34 years over the Chemical Department, while it grew from a small class-room and laboratory until it taxed the capacity of two large buildings with a teaching staff of 21—one of the leading centers of chemical education and achievement in the world.

In the chemical profession he early took high rank, his book on agricultural chemical analysis, the first work on that subject in English, was at once accepted as an authority and aroused an active interest in the important field which had been so brilliantly exploited by Liebig in Germany. His text books on analytical chemistry received a corresponding wide appreciation and adoption.

It was characteristic of Professor Caldwell that he kept himself in closest touch with all advances in a rapidly developing and almost illimitable subject, and unfolded this to his students in class room and laboratory, inculcating and enforcing such precision of method and thoroughness as would make all work of a full and permanent value. The many students, trained under him, and who now occupy prominent positions in teaching, in government service, in agricultural experiment stations and in collegiate and industrial positions, and their uniform success, bears forcible testimony to the efficiency and value of Professor Caldwell's teaching.

His varied and comprehensive acquaintance with all divisions of the field of chemistry and the critical acumen with which he had worked out each subject received deserved recognition when, in 1892, he was elected to the presidency of the American Chemical Society.

This great capacity for accurate and excellent work was early recognized by the Faculty, in which he served as Secretary from 1872 to 1886. The intimate acquaintance thus secured with all departments of the University work rendered him a trusted and valued adviser in all matters of university policy.

Not of an assertive nature Dr. Caldwell stood out as a great man on the basis of strenuous work, thoroughness in every detail, accuracy in every result, and a sound judgment in seeking and arriving at the truth.

His social life harmonized with his professional. His was the quiet, abiding friendship, the valued advice, the sterling example, the safe guidance. His students owed their prospects in life no less to this worthy influence than to the great excellence of his instruction, and everywhere they unite in thankfulness that they were brought under the influence of such a man. His name is to us a memory of one of the early builders of the University, a man deeply imbued with the scientific spirit, one who inspired his students to their best efforts in spite of the personally unostentatious disposition, a sincere lover of truth, and a worker who never wearied in well-doing.

On behalf of the Committee on Graduate Work to which on the 15th of January a resolution of the College of Agriculture was referred, the Dean reported the recommendation that in view of the re-organization of the Graduate Department action at present be postponed upon the question whether more than one year's residence during any twelve consecutive months shall be given to graduate students; further that the requirement of previous application for permission to do work during the summer be waived for the present year; further, the committee reported that it saw no objection to the College of Agriculture informing students who are doing work in the summer that they will not be recommended to receive credit for more than one year's residence for work done during any twelve consecutive months, and the report of the committee was adopted.

The joint Committee on Graduate Work and the Special Committee appointed to consider and report on the organization of a Graduate School (under legislation of November 8, 1907, Minutes, page 401) reported as follows:

RESOLVED, that the University Faculty be requested to recommend to the Board of Trustees the establishment of a Graduate School with its Faculty to have exclusive jurisdiction over all graduate work and advanced degrees.

RESOLVED, that the Faculty of this Graduate School shall, at the time of its organization, consist of those Professors who are actively engaged in supervising the work of graduate students as members of special committees in charge of major and minor subjects, and thereafter of such persons as it may designate with the approval of the Board of Trustees.

RESOLVED, that the Faculty of the Graduate School shall have a Dean and Secretary, the Dean to be elected annually by the Faculty and the Secretary to be appointed by the President of the University and to receive a salary for his services.

It was then voted to take up the resolution seriatim. The Professor of Entomology, Professor Comstock, moved the adoption of resolution one. The motion was carried. It was then moved that resolution two be amended by inserting after the word "Professors" the words "and Assistant Professors" and after the words "such persons", the words "or such classes of persons".
and these amendments having prevailed, the resolution as amended was adopted. It was thereupon voted as a substitute for resolution three to leave the question of organization and officers of the Graduate School for the determination of the new Faculty when constituted. The entire report of the Committee as thus amended was then adopted.

As a Committee to judge the Woodford Prize Competition, the President named Professors Burr, Church and Craig.

On behalf of the special committee appointed by the President to consider the acceptance of Regents' credentials in lieu of examinations for entrance to Cornell University, the chairman, Professor Hull, recommended "that during the years 1909-1915 inclusive, a Regents' credential, in order to be accepted in lieu of any entrance examination, must show a mark or at least 60%", and the recommendation was adopted.

On behalf of the same Committee, Professor Hull recommended that the Faculty direct its chairman to write a letter to the Educational Department of the State of New York, saying, "that the arrangement by which Regents' credentials are to be accepted during the years 1909-1913 inclusive is a provisional one and will not be continued after 1913 unless, upon trial, it shall be found that students admitted with marks below 75% are satisfactorily prepared," and further that a copy of this letter be placed in the files of the minutes of this Faculty. The recommendation was adopted.

The President outlined a plan for the reconstruction of the University Calendar and gave notice that he would present the same for the Faculty's consideration at their next regular meeting.

On motion the Faculty then adjourned.

On motion of the Professor of Agriculture, Professor Warren, it was voted that the Faculty does not deem it desirable to recommend to the members of the instructing staff any official costume for the commencement ceremonies.

A communication was received from St. John's College, Annapolis, Md., announcing the celebration of the 125th anniversary of the

A communication from the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees informed the Faculty of the following action taken by the Trustees on the subject of a Graduate School:

The Committee appointed to prepare resolutions on the death of Professor Mark Vernon Slingerland reported as follows:

On Wednesday, March 11, 1909, death removed from among us our respected friend and valued colleague, Mark Vernon Slingerland.
His death is a serious loss to the world of natural science in which he was a conscientious and honored student, as well as to the Faculty of this University where his opinion and voice were respected, and a deep source of grief to a wide circle of friends in University and town.

Mark Vernon Slingerland, whose case to this community as a student in 1888, was graduated in 1892, and entered the instructing staff of this University in the same year. His progress thereafter was rapid, but also substantial. As a student, his career was marked by earnestness, courage, and industry. As a teacher, he was direct and forceful.
As an investigator, he was conscientious, unbiased, persevering, and accurate. In his special field of economic entomology, his authority and leadership received unquestioned recognition. As a student of the life history and means of controlling insects which prey upon domestic animals and cultivated plants, his investigations embraced an exceptionally wide range. While the numerous monographs he prepared have been of incalculable benefit to those engaged in the field of plant and animal production, they remain also as enduring monuments to a life which, though lamentably short, yet overflowed with a special type of beneficent usefulness. His opinion, advise, and judgment were valued alike by student and colleague. Those who knew him as a friend were privileged. They appreciated him as a man of character wedded to truth, unswerving in conviction, and consistent in maintaining his ideals. Though diffident in expressing opinions, his mind was of the eminently practical kind which, discarding unimportant details, concentrates on the immediately escential. His memory is cherished as a man whose life, though short, stands as a notable example of one who gave his years unselfishly and devotedly to the discovery of useful truths in the realm of natural history in their relation to the economy of plant and animal life. Measured by years, his life was short; measured by achievement he lived long. As a scientist, we honor his memory; as a man and a colleague, we mourn his loss.

It was voted that the Faculty adopt the resolutions prepared by the committee and that a copy of the same be sent to the family of the deceased.

On motion the Faculty then adjourned.

The Committee appointed by the President, under instruction of the Faculty of April 28, the Committee consisting of Professors Hull, Nichols, Olmsted, A. W. Smith, and Woodruff, reported the following minute upon the retirement of Dean Crane; and it was voted to adopt the minute and inscribe the same on the Faculty records:

"Upon the retirement from active service in Cornell University of Thomas Frederick Crane, Professor of Romance Languages and Literatures and Dean of the University Faculty, we, the members of the University Faculty, desire to inscribe upon our minutes the following appreciation of his long, faithful, and efficient labors, and of his admirable character.

A graduate of Princeton in 1864, Dean Crane entered upon his duties as Professor in Cornell at the time of the opening of the University in the fall of 1868. He has filled since then the various positions of Assistant Professor of European Languages from 1866 to 1873, Secretary of the Faculty from 1870 to 1871, Professor of Italian and Spanish from 1873 to 1881, Professor of the Romance Languages and Literatures and Head of the Department since 1881, Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences from 1896 to 1902, Dean of the University Faculty since 1902, as well as that of Acting President of the University during the second half of the year of 1899, when President Schurman was representing the interests of the United States in the Far East as Chairman of the Philippine Commission. In all of these responsible positions Dean Crane has acquitted himself with faithfulness, tact, ability, and success.

He has won our admiration by the thoroughness and breadth of his scholarship. His training in Greek and Latin and in the Modern Languages, acquired in America and abroad, has been both accurate and comprehensive.

As a student of literature, he has attained, by a lifetime of systematic and extensive reading, an acquaintance with classical and modern European literatures of which few scholars in America can boast. This intimate knowledge of books has rendered his services to the University Library of incalculable value.

His own contributions to literature as author and editor have been numerous and of a high scholarly character, and his charming gift of expression has delighted many an audience unacquainted with his books. In appreciation of his distinguished service to literature, Princeton, his Alma Mater, conferred upon him in 1903 the degree of Litt. D.

In administrative functions Dean Crane's rare tact has gained for him the confidence not only of his colleagues but of the students as well, to whose interests he has always lent a willing ear.

As a teacher he has been able to communicate to his students something of his own enthusiastic regard for his subject. He has inspired many with a desire to continue independently the work begun in class, and all who have come under his magnetic influence have felt their souls kindle with a love of art and letters.

Finally as a member of this community, as a man, as a friend, in our joys and in our trials, we have ever found in his heart a ready echo to our own emotions. His cordial participation in the social life of the University, his keen humor, his practical good sense, his exquisite courtesy, his charity for others, his tender sympathy for those who grieve, have so endeared him to his colleagues that his loss from among our number would be still more bitter, were it not that we hope and trust that he will long remain a member of the University community, though retired from active duties.

On behalf of the president of the University, the Dean announced the appointment of the following Chairman of Committees, appointment to take effect June 17:

Committee on Admission by Certificates:
Professor G. P. Bristol.

Committee on Student Affairs:
Professor L. M. Dennis.

Committee on Undergraduate Scholarships:
Professor C. E. Bennett.
The Dean recommended the granting of leaves of absence to the following holders of University Undergraduate Scholarships:

Mr. L. H. Groser,
Miss F. M. Carpenter.

and the recommendation was approved.

The Dean inquired whether the Faculty desired to reconsider the report of the Committee on University Insignia, certain members of the Faculty having objected that insufficient time had been given for discussion of the same. It was thereupon voted to re-open the question of the University emblem. It was moved and carried that the former Committee be re-appointed to further consider and report on this subject. The Professor of Law, Professor Woodruff, declining to serve and the Dean retiring from office at the end of the present year, it was voted to request the Dean to name two further members of the Committee.

It was moved and carried that when the Faculty adjourns it adjourn to meet on Tuesday the 13th instant at 10:30 A.M.

The following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, that there be added to the regulation governing literary prizes the following: "The successful essay shall be deposited by the Secretary of the University Faculty in the University Library and the library rules regarding the circulation of manuscripts shall apply to prize essays."

The President, in accordance with the Faculty's request of February 12, 1909, appointed Professors Burr, Thilly, and Hammond a Committee to prepare congratulatory addresses to the Universities of Leipzig, Geneva, and Cambridge, England. The Committee submitted the following addresses which, on motion, were ordered to be inscribed on the minutes:

To the Rector and Senate of the University of Leipzig:

The Trustees and Faculty of Cornell University, through their President, Jacob Gould Schurman, send greetings:

We congratulate the great Saxon University on the noble history of her five hundred years, and rejoice in her grand achievements for the advance of human culture.
We gratefully recognize our debt to German scholarship, and to Leipzig as a leader in the quest of truth. The ideals realized by Leipzig in education, science, and philosophy have elevated our own academic life, and the sound training which many of our professors have received from her distinguished scholars has exerted a vital influence upon the spirit and method of scientific investigation in this University and in this country.

The regular meeting of the University Faculty was called to order at 4 P. M.

The Professor of Statistics, Professor Willcox, was elected Chairman of the session.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

On behalf of the President as Chairman of the Committee on University Policy, the Secretary presented the following report:

1. The Committee considered the questions referred to it by the University Faculty on May 14, 1909, as to the relation between the Committee on Student Affairs and the Committees of the so-called Honor Systems in the various colleges, and it was RESOLVED, That in the opinion of the Committee no difficulty in disciplining cases of fraud in examination has arisen this year and that such difficulties are less and less likely to arise as time goes on. The Committee recommends that whenever a student leaves under the operation of a student honor system the matter be reported to the dean of the faculty concerned.

2. On the subject of the official publications of the University the Committee begs leave to submit the following report and recommendations:

   (a) That greater uniformity in the official publications of the University is desirable;

   (b) That the University Register should be carefully revised;

   (c) That in this revision there should be retained in the Register only those matters which should constitute a permanent record of the University year, while all matters that are primarily of an informational nature and intended for prospective students should be incorporated into a separate general announcement, or circular of information, and that specific and detailed information, intended for actual students, should be included in the separate announcements of the individual colleges.

The Committee therefore begs leave to recommend:

   (1) That all of the official publications of the University be combined into a uniform series called "The Official Publications of Cornell University". In this group there should be included the annual Register, the general Circular of Information, the Announcements of the separate Colleges, the President's Report, an Illustrated Circular, the Announcement of the Summer Session, and such other pamphlets as may be officially authorized.

   (2) That the Register as a book for general informational purposes to be sent to prospective students, be superseded by an annual "General Announcement" or "Circular of Information", and that the main purpose of the Register hereafter shall be to serve as a permanent record of the University year; and further that a charge of twenty-five cents per copy be made for the Register, the chief purpose of this charge being to indicate that the volume is not intended for general gratis distribution for informational purposes.

(3) That a uniform size of 6 x 9 inches outside measurement be adopted for the official publications of the University, and that all special publications of the several colleges conform to this size as far as is feasible.

(4) That there shall be uniformity throughout the series in

(a) Method and style of announcing courses, involving the elements to be announced and their relative order;

(b) The use of abbreviations, capitals, italics, punctuations, etc.

(5) That Professor Durham be appointed a Committee of one, with power, to edit the first series of the aforesaid publications, to rewrite the Register, and to prepare the General Announcement and the Illustrated Circular.

It was voted that the recommendations of the Committee be adopted and that the Secretary be instructed to communicate to the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees that part of the Committee’s report which refers to the University Publications.

The following resolutions on the retirement of the Professor of Mathematics, Professor Wait, prepared by a Committee appointed by the President, were approved and ordered to be spread upon the minutes:

On the retirement of Professor Lucien Augustus Wait, from active teaching after a long and successful career, his colleagues in the University Faculty desire to place on record their high estimate of his services to the cause of education and sound learning.

Called in 1870 to an Assistant Professorship in the Department of Mathematics in the third year of its history, fresh from study at Harvard, he bore an important part in shaping the policy of the Department, and in establishing its well-known high standards. His unusual ability as a teacher and organizer led to his promotion in 1877 to the Associate Headship of the Department, relieving Professor Oliver of much of the administrative work; and he became sole head at Professor Oliver's death in 1895.

His administration has always been notable for efficiency, harmony, and devotion to high ideals of scholarship. In planning the mathematical instruction, he has kept steadily in view its various aims and purposes, including intellectual discipline, preparation for the scientific professions or for work in pure science, and the training of teachers and investigators. How well he has succeeded in the difficult task of holding an even balance among the diverse interests is well-known to all who have had any personal concern in the matter. On the disciplinary side, he has been careful to have the instruction of every grade placed upon a sound logical basis; on the scientific side, while keeping in close touch with the related departments in the College of Arts and Sciences, he has also studied the needs of the various professional Colleges; and in the interests of prospective teachers he has always given due prominence to the pedagogical side of the work.

A notable feature of his administration is the encouragement he has given to the research work of his younger colleagues and of the graduate students. He has always planned that each instructor, after his initiatory period, should take some share in the graduate work, and should not be so over-burdened as to leave him no time for his private investigations. Professor Wait has also encouraged the preparation of suitable text-books, being ever eager to adopt progressive methods of presentation and instruction, and has himself set an example of thoroughness and effectiveness in the class-room.

While firm in enforcing the rules and standards of the Department, his unfailing courtesy is proverbial; and his qualities as a teacher and a man have gained him a warm regard of a long line of Cornell alumni, and of the Faculty and Trustees, many of whom are numbered among his former students.

A man of ripe and varied culture, Professor Wait has taken a deep interest in all the educational problems which have come up before the Faculty, and his accustomed attitude has exhibited a fine blending of the progressive and the conservative. He shall miss his genial presence from our meetings, but we hope he may long remain a member of our University community.

On motion, the Faculty then adjourned.

Secretary.

Addendum:

The following resolutions on the death of Goldwin Smith were drafted by a committee consisting of Professors Burr, Corson, and Bennett, appointed by the President under the Faculty's instructions as recited in the minutes of this date.

By the death of our beloved colleague, Goldwin Smith, this Faculty has lost its senior member, and Cornell University one of its truest and most sympathetic friends. From its opening, in 1868, through all its existence he has identified himself with the University's interests. During its earliest years while he was resident with us, by his brilliant and inspiring lectures and not less by his personality he was an inestimable influence. His very presence was a power. After his retirement to Canada he still for many years continued to return to us for his course of lectures; and always his coming was hailed, alike by Faculty and students, as a great and inspiring occasion. None were too mature to listen to him gladly; and, whether in the class room or in that social converse to which he so generously welcomed even his boys, he was not only a rare intellectual force but a potent inspiration to character. Who of us can ever forget that spare and stately though slight stooping figure,- that face so eloquent of thought and experience, so noble in its grave and lofty calm,- that mirthful and mirth-provoking smile which ever and anon broke like a sunbeam through its sadness,- that quizzical twiching of the mouth which heralded and softened his satire,- that voice, so quiet and yet so expressive? These, with his pure and noble life and his loyal and unselfish services to Cornell, will be a memory long cherished by this Faculty. He will stand
The regular meeting of the University Faculty was called to order at 4:00 P.M. by the President.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

A Committee appointed by the President, consisting of Professors Comstock, Burr and Hull, to draft resolutions on the retirement of Professor Wilder, submitted the following report which was adopted:

"On the retirement of Professor Burt Green Wilder from active service in Cornell University, we, his colleagues in the University Faculty, wish to express our regret that the time has come when he feels that he must take this step and our appreciation of the work he has done here during his long period of service.

With Dr. Wilder's retirement there passes from active service the last member of the original faculty of Cornell, a body of men who while working out the educational policies of the new University had a marked influence in determining the course of higher education in this country. In this creative work his own part was large and lasting.

The vitality and charm of his teaching, a charm as notable in his written as in his spoken words, drew to him from the first the hearts of his students; and the enthusiasm and devotion to truth which he brought to his work have borne fruit in the production of a large school of now distinguished pupils, who regard his influence as one of the chief factors in their intellectual development.

While we regret that this personal influence in lecture room and laboratory is now to cease, we hope that he may long be able to continue the researches to which he has devoted himself so unselfishly and successfully, and we extend to him in his new freedom our hearty good will and best wishes."

The former Dean of the Faculty, Professor Crane, who was appointed by the President in June of the current year to represent this University at the ceremonies attending the foundation of the University of Mexico, made a report of his mission there. The following address was prepared for that occasion by a Committee consisting of Professors Crane, Bristol and Durham, and it was ordered that it be spread upon the Faculty's minutes.

To the United States of Mexico on the foundation of a National University in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of their Independence Cornell sends greeting and congratulations.

Cornell University, in common with the whole civilized world, has beheld with wonder and admiration the marvellous growth of the United States of Mexico, especially during the last three decades. The increase of commerce, the extension of means of communication between federal states, the promotion of agriculture and the development of mineral resources have assured the material prosperity of the country. A long period of peace at home and abroad and a patriotic administration of civil government have united the federal states into a powerful and enlightened nation.

To celebrate their progress in the past and to guide their future advance the Mexican people lay to-day the foundation of a National University. May this new institution, crowning the educational system of the country, encourage the search for truth in every realm of human knowledge; may it foster the immaterial interests of the nation and, working in harmony with sister institutions in other lands, promote the intellectual welfare of mankind.

The Secretary was further instructed to enter upon the records the address to the Friedorh-Wilhelms University at Berlin, prepared by a Committee consisting of Professors Jenks, Thilly and Hammond, and forwarded by the University delegate, Professor Jenks, to be presented at the Centennial Celebration in Berlin, October 10th to 12th:

CORNELL UNIVERSITY sends to the Friedrich-Wilhelms University at Berlin cordial felicitations and greetings on the auspicious occasion of the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of its foundation.
Established in the time of Germany's need by wise statesmen, the great Berlin University by its promotion of exact research in all fields of human inquiry and by the unfolding of scientific principles salutary for the State and Society has been an ever-flowing source of the people's strength, a wise guide in the learning and culture of the Fatherland and of all lands.

In recognition of this world-wide service, of which the American Republic is a grateful beneficiary, Cornell University has delegated Jeremiah Whipple Jenks, Professor of Economics and Politics, to bear its message of greeting and good-will to the Rector and Senate of its illustrious sister institution.

May the Friedrich-Wilhelms University through future centuries continue its high, unhampered mission of enlarging the domain of beneficent truth and of enlightening and quickening the ideals of human progress."

It was voted that Professor Crane be requested to represent the University at the 25th Anniversary of the foundation of Bryn Mawr College, and that the President be asked to name two additional delegates after consultation with Professor Crane.

A petition from Mr. Juan Alonso, asking for credit in two years of gymnasium work and in four hours of Political Economy, was granted subject to the approval of the Departments concerned.

A petition from Mr. Sebastian Silva to be allowed four hours credit in Political Economy was granted subject to the approval of the Department of Political Economy.

It was voted that the question regarding the dates for the payment of undergraduate scholarship moneys be referred to the Professor of Latin, Professor Bennett, and the Treasurer of the University.

On behalf of the Committee on University Undergraduate Scholarships, the Chairman of the Committee, Professor Bennett, recommended that scholarships be awarded to the persons whose names corresponded with the following numbers: 41, 85, 22, 18, 47, 2, 70, 71, 12, 72, 42, 26, 63, 85, 88, 73, 58, 29, and the recommendation was approved. The Secretary was then instructed to open the envelope containing these numbers and read as follows:

The Committee, appointed by the President under the faculty's request on October 14, 1910, and consisting of Professors Bennett, Faust and Wilcox, reported the following resolutions on the retirement of Professor Waterman Thomas Hewett, and the resolutions were adopted by rising vote:

"On the retirement of Professor Waterman Thomas Hewett from the chair of German, this Faculty desires to place on record its sense of his long and faithful services. Coming to the University in 1871 as Assistant Professor of North European Languages, made full Professor in 1885, and head of the department of German in 1901, he continued for nearly forty years a prominent and honored member of our teaching staff. From the outset his attachment to the new institution was one of great sympathy and loyalty, and he continued always to take the greatest interest in the policy and traditions of the University. As its historian, he was instrumental in putting into permanent form much important material belonging to the records of the earlier days; while to a promotion of a better esprit de corps he contributed in no small degree by the generous and gracious hospitality which so many of us remember.

Especially careful and sagacious in the choice of the departmental colleagues whom he gathered about him, he left his department, upon his retirement, admirably equipped for continuing without interruption the efficient work it had been doing under his supervision.

Professor Hewett's publications were extensive and varied. As one of the first graduate students to take the doctor's degree at Cornell, he chose as the subject of his thesis "The Frisian Dialect." Later he became interested in the study of mediaeval education and student life, topics on which he contributed careful essays to various journals.

With the serious purpose of raising the standard of modern language text-books, he spent many years in editing German classics for use in American schools and colleges. By his scholarly researches on the text of Goethe's "Herman und Dorothea," he won not only for himself but also for American scholarship distinguished honor. The results of these investigations were promptly recognized by the Goethe Weimar Gesellschaft and were given an important place in the authoritative text of Goethe's works published by the Society.

This honorable and useful career we here recall and record with affection and gratification, trusting the ill health which now afflicts our former colleague may be of brief duration and that he may speedily be restored to his wonted strength and vigor.

On motion it was voted to amend the statute covering the '96 Memorial Prize, as printed in the Prize Pamphlet of 1909, as follows:

Section one shall read, "The Assistant Professor of Oratory and Debate is empowered to select from the students who are pursuing, or who have completed the work of the second term in public speaking, ten speakers, whose general excellence, in his judgment, warrants their competing for the prize."

Section two shall be stricken out.

Section three shall be made section two, and shall read as follows: "The contest for the prize is held on the evening of the third Friday in May, under the direction of the Assistant Professor of Oratory and Debate."

It was voted to amend the statute covering the '94 Memorial Prize as follows:

Section two shall read, "A committee appointed by the President shall select the debaters, not to exceed eight in number, who are to take part in the final competition."

Section three shall read, "The final competition shall be held at a public debate to be held annually, under the direction of the President of the University, on the evening of the 10th of January, unless that day shall fall upon a Sunday, in which case the debate shall be held on the evening of the 9th."

be publicly announced by him at least four weeks before the date set for each debate."

The Committee, appointed to prepare congratulatory addresses to St. Andrews University, the University of Breslau and the University of Christiania, made the following report:

"To St. Andrews University, Cornell University sends Greetings and Congratulations on the auspicious anniversary which she is about to celebrate. Established five centuries ago on what then the frontier of civilization, St. Andrews at once began to spread the blessings of the higher education throughout Scotland, and by her example led to the foundation of other Scottish universities. She has ever fostered and advanced this learning; she has contributed by her quickening influence to the growth of that passion for study which is one of the chief glories of the youth of Scotland; she has been the alma mater of many whose names have added lustre to Scottish history.

We, who number our years by decades where St. Andrews numbers hers by centuries, cherish sincere admiration for her past, we are grateful for the influence afforded us by her noble example, and we wish for her in the coming years an ever-increasing prosperity and an ever-widening influence.

We are sending as our delegate, Jacob Gould Schurman, the President of the University, to convey to you these congratulations and to join in your season of festivity.

"To the Rector and Senate of the Royal Prussian University of Breslau, Cornell University sends Greetings and Felicitations on the celebration of the hundredth anniversary of its corporate existence.

Cornell congratulates her sister university on the completion of a century of noble and fruitful endeavor and of solid contributions to knowledge. When the Leopoldina and Viadrina were united a century ago, the new spirit of German freedom was first beginning to manifest itself. With the national movement then inaugurated Breslau has steadily kept pace. In common with other German universities, she has profoundly influenced the recently organized schools of higher university study in America,—our own among them. The names and works of Breslau professors are familiar to us, as to all American scholars. Several of her most eminent teachers have in recent years visited Cornell and thus drawn closer the natural bonds already existing between the two institutions.

It is, therefore, with especial pleasure that we mark the close of a century of distinguished achievement on the part of Breslau University, and express the wish that the new century, opening with such happy auguries, may be crowned with ever greater prosperity than the last.

As our representative, we send you Jacob Gould Schurman, President of the University, to convey to you these congratulations and to join with you in your festivities of commemoration.

"To the University of Christiania

Cornell University

By the hand of her President,

Jacob Gould Schurman, sends congratulation and hearty greeting on the completion of a century:

To the mother of so many sons who in this transatlantic home of their adoption here nobly done honor to the land of their Norwegian birth, all America is deeply debtor. But Cornell University, enriched by a lover of Scandinavia and her literature with a library for their study, owes to the University of Christiania a nearer debt.

To the academic home of Keyser and Wunch and Storm, of Sophus Bugge and of Olaf Rygh, she pays her reverent gratitude, and for the centuries to come can wish her only a future worthy of her fruitful past.

As a teacher he labored with unwearied patience and undivided loyalty to inculcate the best intellectual attainments of clear thinking, sound reasoning, and accurate exposition. His ideals were of the highest and towards their realization he exacted of himself and of his students a whole-hearted devotion.

As a citizen he conceived nobly and performed faithfully his obligations, in promoting charitable and philanthropic work, in efforts to improve the moral environment of the student, and in extending a helping hand to those in need of aid or encouragement.

To the bereaved family of our late associate and friend we express our warmest sympathy and regard."

Secretary.
Room C, Boardman Hall,
December 15, 1911.

The regular meeting of the University Faculty was called to order at 4 P.M. The Professor of Creek, Professor Bristol, was elected chairman of the session.

A communication was received from the Secretary of the Board of Trustees as follows:

"A resolution adopted by the University Faculty on November 10, in regard to the conferring of degrees at times other than the annual Commencement, together with a communication from Professor Bristol on the same subject, were on motion, referred to the full Board."

Communications were received from the Universities of Breslau and Christiania, acknowledging the courtesies of Cornell University in sending delegates and congratulatory addresses.

A communication was received from the President, regarding absenteeism on the part of students on the Saturday following the Thanksgiving recess. The President urged that Professors and students regard strictly the obligatory character of attendance upon University work on that date.

The Professor of Physics, Professor Merritt, presented a report of his recent mission, as a delegate of this University to the Association of American Universities.

On behalf of the Committee on University Undergraduate Scholarships, the Secretary recommended the following changes in the statute governing the Frank William Padgham Scholarship:

First: Section 3: For the words "shall pass the best examination in a competitive examination in studies required for admission to the Sibley College of Mechanical Engineering", the substitution of the following: "shall pass the best examination in a competitive examination on certain studies which may be offered for admission to the Sibley College of Mechanical Engineering."

Second: Section V of the statute shall read: "The subjects for the competitive examination shall be the following:

2. Third Year German.
3. Third Year French.
4. English.

Of these four subjects the candidate must take three, including the mathematics.

Further, that the appointment to a vacancy under Section VII of the present statute, be made by the Committee on University Undergraduate Scholarships, on the recommendation of the Faculty of Sibley College.

The recommendations as above recited were adopted.
In response to the request of the Faculty on November 10th, the President appointed the following committee to consider the question of "registering students in the class with which they expect to graduate": Professors Hammond, Barnard, Durham, Young, and the Registrar. The Secretary, on behalf of that committee recommended that students be registered as belonging to the class with which they are normally expected to graduate, and the resolution was adopted.

On behalf of the special committee above named and the Committee on Excuses from Physical Training, the Secretary recommended further that the required Drill of the Freshman year (Gymnasium in the case of women) must be taken during that year; otherwise the student will not be permitted to register again in the University, without the consent of the University Faculty; that the required Physical Training of the Sophomore year must be taken during that year, otherwise the student will not be permitted to register again in the University without the consent of the University Faculty.

It was further recommended that the foregoing rules be not applied to students receiving conditions, that is, a mark of 41-59 inclusive. Conditions must, however, be removed within one year from the date at which they are incurred and responsibility rests upon the student for making early arrangements with the professor in charge for the removal of such conditions.

Further, that this rule go into effect for Freshmen with the beginning of the academic year 1912-1913, and for Freshmen and Sophomores with the beginning of the academic year 1913-1914, and the recommendations of these joint committees were adopted.

The Professor of Botany, Professor Rowlee, on behalf of the Committee on Student Affairs, recommended that A. E. Cowley be expelled from the University for having forged a check, which he presented and cashed at the First National Bank. The Chair having ruled that in such cases a vote by ballot was necessary, a ballot was taken which resulted as follows: 56 votes for expulsion, 3 votes against expulsion.

The Professor of Botany, Professor Rowlee, on behalf of the Faculty members of the A. B.C. Committee of the Athletic Councils and other student organizations, presented the outline of a plan for the establishment of a Central Record Office. This plan had already been submitted to and approved by the Committee on Student Affairs and as Chairman of that Committee, the Professor of Botany introduced the matter into the Faculty. It was thereupon voted that the Faculty recommend to the Board of Trustees the establishment of a Central Office for the collection and distribution of student records, at least three times per semester, preliminary to the final term records, the main purpose of the plan being to provide adequate facilities for furnishing information regarding delinquent students, to parents, student organizations, fraternities and University authorities.

The Professor of Law, Professor Irvine, introduced the following resolution:

"That the trustees be requested so to amend the statutes as to empower the Committee on Student Affairs permanently to remove students from the University, provided the trustees deem any amendment necessary in order to confer such power."

The resolution was adopted.

The committee appointed on June 2, to consider the desirability of changes in the dates for Commencement and Alumni Week, reported as follows:

"Report of Committee on Date of Commencement:

The request of the Seniors and Juniors of last year for a change in the date of Commencement eliminating the greater portion of the period between the end of "Block Week" and the present date of Commencement was referred to the Calendar Committee for a report as early as possible the present year. As regards this question, your committee unanimously recommends that the date of Commencement be made approximately one week earlier than called for in the present schedule, making it fall on Thursday or Friday of the week in which examinations close.

The reasons advanced for an earlier Commencement are:

(1) The very considerable expense demanded of nearly one thousand candidates for degrees for so long a period after all work of instruction has ended.

(2) A desire of the Seniors that more undergraduates should be able to witness the final exercises and assist in the entertainment of Commencement visitors.

(3) Not to maintain that such exercises are primarily for candidates for degrees and their friends and should be held at the earliest possible date and without the distractions of other University events during that period.

We would further report that it seems desirable to change, to some extent, our procedure with regard to records in order that reports and necessary clerical work may be completed before such earlier date for Commencement. We would suggest the following as possible aids in the adjustment of these administrative matters:

(1) That there be printed and posted, not later than April 15, a list containing names of all who are clearly candidates for degrees the following June having no more than a normal term of work to complete for their degree.

(2) That additions to this list be made only by petition to be endorsed by the Dean of the College and the Professors in charge of the courses which the student must complete before graduation, and that no such petition be considered after May 15.

(3) That as soon as possible after May 15, all members of the instructing staff be supplied with a list of the candidates for graduation.

(4) That numerical grades for students whose names appear on this final list be made optional with the Professor in charge excepting where a candidate fails to pass.

(5) That questions of substitution or variations from standard requirements in order to graduate, be referred to committees in the various Faculties with power.

The question of change of date for Alumni Meetings and Reunions was also referred for consideration. It seems to the committee that the Faculty has no jurisdiction in the matter of placing Alumni Week or Alumni Day. So far as we can ascertain, there is a feeling on the part of many Alumni that Senior Week should belong to the Seniors and that it would be more desirable to have Alumni gatherings under conditions where the actual operation of the University could be inspected and with provision for their entertainment and information which cannot be provided under the present circumstances.

Respectfully submitted,

Dec. 15, 1911

L. M. Dennis,
T. A. Hammond
J. S. Shearer.

The Professor of Chemistry, Professor Dennis, moved that the Faculty recommend to the Board of Trustees the adoption of that part of the report which reads as follows:

"That the date of Commencement be made approximately one week earlier than called for in the present schedule, making it fall on Thursday or Friday of the week in which examinations close" and it was so voted.

The Professor of Physics, Professor Shearer, thereupon moved that the legislation so recommended, take effect at once, and the motion was carried.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The following appointments in the Cadet Corps were confirmed: Second Lieutenant Jose Aurelio Vicente Corpus to First Lieutenant, vice A. E. Rowland honorably discharged; Charles Walter Davis to be Second Lieutenant.

The committee, appointed by the President (Professors Thilly, Bennett and Cooper), to examine the essays, presented in competition for the Guilford Essay Prize, reported that they had adjudged the following essays worthy of final consideration:

- The Sophists, signed "Justice"
- The Study of Poetry, signed "William Copeland" and the report was ordered to be filed.

A communication from the Faculty of the College of Agriculture, recommended that the degree of Master in Landscape Design be established. It was thereupon voted to request the President to appoint a committee of seven, of which he shall be a member and Chairman, to consider the recommendation of the College of Agriculture, and report.

A communication from the President, as Chairman of the Committee, to which had been referred, with power, at the last regular meeting of the Faculty, the question of a possible change in the hour for holding Commencement exercises, reported that no change be made.

In the same communication, the President called attention to the necessity of having marks for Seniors in the hands of the Registrar promptly. It was thereupon voted that the Secretary be instructed to send to each Department... of Instruction in the University, notices regarding the Faculty's legislation concerning the filing of examination reports with the Registrar, and to request the utmost expedition in regard to report of the marks of Seniors.

The following resolution, introduced by the Director of the College of Architecture, Professor Martin, was referred to the Committee on University Policy, for consideration and report:

"That the term reports for students intending to graduate at the end of any term, shall be filed with the Registrar at such time as may be determined upon by the Deans of the faculties concerned. Proper notice of the date fixed shall be given all departments of the University, along with a list of candidates."

On motion of the Professor of Law, Professor Woodruff, it was voted to instruct the Secretary to have an abstract of the proceedings of the Faculty printed at the end of each academic year, omitting congratulatory addresses and memorial minutes, for distribution to the members of the Faculty in October. The Secretary was further instructed to prepare an index of this abstract at the end of each five year period.

It was voted that the Committee on Excuses from Physical Training, in cases of delinquent students where the infliction of a penalty appears to be desirable, be authorized to impose such additional work in the Departments of Drill and Gymnasium, as the Committee may deem necessary to secure the general enforcement of the statutory requirements.

The following memorial resolutions were adopted by rising vote:

"Professor William Albert Finch, a member of the Faculty of Cornell University for a period of over twenty years, died on March 31st, 1912. At its first meeting after his death, this Faculty desires to inscribe upon its records an acknowledgement of the great loss which the University has sustained by the death of Professor Finch.

Professor Finch was graduated from this University in 1880 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and was the same year admitted to the Bar, having been engaged in the study of the law during his undergraduate days in the office of Francis M. Finch. He immediately took up the practice of law in Ithaca, becoming a member of the firm of Halliday and Finch. Appointed in 1891 to an assistant professorship in law, Professor Finch was the first graduate of Cornell University to return as a member of the Faculty of the College of Law. He was promoted the following year to an associate professorship, and in 1895 to the full professorship which he held until his death. During the years 1896 to 1901, he acted as secretary of the faculty of the College of Law, having full charge of the administrative work of the College during that time.

Specializing in the law of real property – a branch of the law requiring the closest application for that comprehensive mastery which was his – his presentation of it in class room and through his writings was clear and illuminating. Yet he was no narrow specialist; it is an indication of the breadth of his scholarly interests and sympathies that he was accustomed to refresh and recreate his mind by constant studies in science and the classics.

Never robust, and suffering from ill health during the larger part of his life, especially during the last years, he nevertheless entered into his daily task with a spirit serene but enthusiastic, a self-sacrifice brave but unostentatious, that brought friendly cheer and inspiration to his students and his colleagues.

Frank Irvine, Chairman
C. T. Stagg
Ernest Merritt

"By the sudden death of Ralph Stockman Tarr, Professor of Physical Geography, the University Faculty have lost a beloved colleague, an active investigator, and a teacher of attractive and stimulating personality. Coming to Cornell as assistant Professor of Geology, and soon winning a Professorship, he gave to the University the best twenty years of his life. Eminently an outdoor geologist, he pushed his physiographic studies into remote regions. For whatever was significant in the forms or surface of the earth he had a keen vision. And what he had seen he described with insight into its causes. His teaching was quickened by his work afield. The fresh air of the glacier stirred in his classroom, and the pictured landscape lived because he knew the meaning of its parts. The gift was his in an exceptional degree of simple and vivid presentation. By his writings he not only contributed to advance our knowledge of the work of ice in sculpturing the land, but he raised the whole field of physiographic studies to a collegiate plane by basing his exposition of them upon a competent scientific knowledge. As a man he was sincere and outspoken; steadfast in his convictions, but tolerant of the views of others. For youth and the interests of youth he retained without effort a sympathy as helpful as it is rare. This expression of esteem for a colleague cut off in the midst of his achievements and his plans is inscribed with sorrow upon the minutes of the university Faculty.

E. W. Olmsted,
C. H. Hull, Chairman.

On motion the Faculty then adjourned.

Secretary.
The regular meeting of the University Faculty was called to order at 4 P.M.

The Professor of Statistics, Professor Willcox, was elected Chairman of the session.

The Committee, consisting of Professors Creighton, (Chairman), Schmidt and Bretz, appointed by the President to adjudge the Luana L. Messenger Prize, reported that two essays were submitted and recommended, on the ground of insufficient excellence, that the prize be not awarded this year, and the recommendation was approved.

The Faculty of the College of Civil Engineering recommended that the Undergraduate Fuertes Medal be awarded to Mr. Edwin Healy, and the recommendation was approved.

Professor F. J. E. Woodbridge of Columbia University, appointed to adjudge the Guilford Prize Essays in the final competition, reported his recommendation that the award of the prize be made to an essay, entitled "The Sophists," written by Murray W. Bundy, and the recommendation was adopted.

The Committee consisting of Professors Woodruff (Chairman), Jenks, and Sill, appointed by the President to adjudge the Sherman Bennett Prize, reported its award to the writer of the essay, entitled "Free Government," signing himself with the pseudonym "Herschell Selig," and the recommendation of the Committee was approved. The Secretary, being then instructed to open the envelope bearing the superscription, "Herschell Selig," found it to contain the name of the author, Mr. Harry Z. Harris, a student of the second year in Law.

The Committee, consisting of the President, the Secretary of the Faculty, Deans Bailey, Hull and Kimball and Professors Woodruff and Fleming, with Dean Martin added, to whom was referred, in accordance with the Faculty's action of April 19th, the recommendation of the Faculty of the College of Agriculture that the degree of Master in Landscape
Design be established, reported that they had considered the matter referred to them and recommended the establishment of the degree, and on motion the report of the Committee was adopted.

On April 19th, the following resolution was referred to the Committee on University Policy for consideration and report:

"That the term reports for students intending to graduate at the end of any term, shall be filed with the Registrar at such times as may be determined upon by the Deans of the faculties concerned. Proper notice of the dates fixed shall be given all departments of the University, along with the list of candidates."

The Committee reported that it deemed it inadvisable at the present time to pass upon the resolution, as above recited.

The President forwarded to the Faculty the following action of the Executive Committee:

"The matter of the rules governing the awarding of the Guilford Essay Prize was referred to the President, with the suggestion that he ask the Faculty to revise the same."

It was thereupon moved that Sections 7 and 8 of the statute governing the Guilford Prize be stricken out and the following substituted therefor:

"The essays shall be read and the prize awarded by a committee of three professors, appointed each year by the President from the University Faculty."

The motion was carried.

A petition from four hundred and fifty members of the Senior Class requested the University Faculty to adopt the academic gown for the exercises of the coming Commencement. It was thereupon moved that the Faculty adopt the academic gown for the exercises of Commencement, in accordance with the request set forth in the petition. It was then moved that the motion pending be laid upon the table, and it was so ordered.

On the recommendation of the Committee on Student Affairs, it was voted to amend Rule 11d (eligibility rules), by inserting the words "or has been," so that the rule shall then read "if he is or has been a member of the staff of instruction of the University, even if he be registered as a candidate for a degree."

On motion, it was voted to rescind the action of April 19th, instructing the Secretary to send notices to each member of the instructing staff, regarding the Faculty's legislation, on the filing of examination reports.

The Professor of Law, Professor Woodruff, introduced the following resolution:

"Whereas, at this University, the degree of Bachelor of Science had not heretofore been conferred upon the completion of technical or professional courses, but was for more than thirty years, conferred upon the completion of a general course, the principal characteristic of which was the inclusion of modern languages in place of Latin and Greek, and

Whereas, during that period about 800 candidates were granted the degree of Bachelor of Science upon the completion of such general course.

Therefore, in view of the long period during which the degree with its distinct connotation was granted and the large number upon whom it was conferred,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the University Faculty hereby rescinds its approval, heretofore granted, of the action of the Faculty of the College of Agriculture, in recommending that the degree of Bachelor of Science be conferred as a baccalaureate degree in the College of Agriculture."

and moved that the resolution, as above recited, be made a special order for the next regular meeting. It was thereupon moved to lay the motion on the table, and this motion was carried by a vote of 20 to 16.

On motion the Faculty then adjourned.

Room C, Boardman Hall,
May 31st, 1912.

Pursuant to the call of the President, the Faculty met in special session at 4 P.M.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The following communications from the Board of Trustees were conveyed to the Faculty:

1. "On the recommendation of the Faculty of Agriculture, approved by the University Faculty, the degree of Master of Forestry was established."

2. "On the recommendation of the special committee, the degree of B.S.A. (Bachelor of Science in Agriculture) was changed to B.S. (Bachelor of Science), the change to take effect June 1, 1912, it being clearly understood that the Trustees expressly reserve the right to re-establish or establish the degree of B.S. in the College of Arts and Sciences, or other colleges of the University, whenever the Trustees may deem expedient."

3. "Resolved, that the members of the College of Agriculture, taking their degrees in June 1912, may, if they desire, have the degree of B.S.A., provided they send notice of their desire to the President’s office at once."

A communication from Sibley College informed the Faculty that Sibley Prizes were awarded for the current year as follows:

1st. prize ($30.00) to Charles Harry Berry (1912)
2nd. " ($25.00) " Oswald David Reich (1912)
3rd. " ($20.00) " Charles Edwin Thomas (1913)
4th. " ($15.00) " Ambrose Ryder (1913)
5th. " ($10.00) " Nathaniel Shapiro (1912)

Communications were received from Sibley College and the College of Civil Engineering, requesting the approval of the University Faculty to changes in entrance requirements, as follows:

"That the foreign language requirement for admission to these colleges (Sibley and Civil Engineering) be changed so as to accept three units in any one of the following: German, French, Latin, Greek, Spanish or Italian."

and it was thereupon voted to approve the recommendation, as above recited.

A communication from the College of Agriculture asked for the Faculty’s approval of action taken by that College on April 25th, 1912, as follows:

"That Solid Geometry and Plane Trigonometry shall be listed with the entrance requirements for this college, with an appended foot-note to the effect that they are required of students, entering for Forestry and Rural Art,"

and the recommendation was approved.

From the same College, a further recommendation was received as follows:

"That three units in any foreign language now allowed for entrance shall be accepted for entrance to this College," and the recommendation was approved.

The president announced his appointment of the following delegates to represent the University:

At the celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the University of Michigan (June 23-27), Professor J. W. Jenks;

At the celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of Mount Holyoke (June 8-9), Professor T.F. Crane;

At the celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Royal Society (in July at London), Professor J. H. Comstock.

On motion the Faculty approved the following congratulatory addresses to be presented on the occasions mentioned above:

D. VIII X. Apr. A.D. MDCCCLXII Ithaca ex civitate Novaeboracensi."

Michigan.

(Prepared by a committee appointed by the President and consisting of Professors Bretz, Jenks, Hammond).

"To the University of Michigan, Cornell University sends greetings and felicitations on the seventy-fifth anniversary of her foundation.

Cornell congratulates the eldest of the State Universities of the Middle West on the completion of three-quarters of a century of sound educational achievement and wise leadership, on her distinguished services to the Republic of Letters and to the Civic Commonwealth. Mother of statesmen, scientists, humanists, she has contributed much to the civilization of the continent through the labor of her sons.

Cornell owes a special obligation to her sister University for the enrichment of her teaching staff and for the first and second incumbents of her presidency, Andrew Dickson White and Charles Kendall Adams, by whom the ideals of Michigan were carried to the younger institution. These personal ties are further strengthened by President Harry Burns Hutchinson, a former member of the Cornell faculty, and to him are extended hearty good wishes and congratulations.

It is peculiarly fitting that on this happy occasion Cornell should delegate Jeremiah Whipple Jenks, an alumnus of the University of Michigan of the class of 1878, now Professor of Economics and Politics, to bear this message to his alma mater."

On motion of the Professor of Law, Professor Woodruff, it was voted to refer to the Committee on Student Affairs, for consideration and report, the question of the practicability of changing Spring Day (as a University holiday), to an earlier date.

On motion of the Professor of Latin, Professor Durham, it was voted to take from the table, the resolutions on the subject of the B.S. degree, submitted by Professor Woodruff at the meeting of May 10th, and to make them a special order for the Faculty's regular October meeting.

On motion, the Faculty then adjourned.
