The track season was marked by many brilliant individual performances.

Beginning the season ahead of schedule, Cornell entered a special two-mile relay at the Millrose games in early February. Our quartet, consisting of Ken Ziegler, Phil Hoag, Art Smith, and Bob Beck, made a creditable showing, and finished one second behind victorious Dartmouth.

First major test for the entire squad, however, was the IC4A meet held in Madison Square Garden, March 7. Charley Shaw, Art Smith, and Kenny Ziegler teamed up to score 7 points, as Cornell placed tenth in a field of 33 schools. Captain Ziegler made the 600-yard event a real thriller as he finished a scant foot behind Fordham's AAU champion, Jack Campbell. Charley Shaw ran fourth in the 60-yard dash, while Art Smith took fifth in the 1000-yard run.

Replacing a cancelled meet with Yale, Penn State, newly-crowned IC4A champion, invaded Barton Hall March 14 for what was confidently expected to be a walkaway for the Nittany Lions. The final count, Penn State 63, Cornell 40, and many new records indicated the fine showing that our underdog track team made. Penn State set three new meet records, highlighted by Johnny Glen's 6-foot 3½-inch high jump, which shattered an 18-year-old Barton Hall mark; Saul Hanih tossed the 16-pound shotput 45 feet 11¾ inches, and Joe Bakura pole vaulted 13 feet 6 inches, both new meet records. Cornell's own Ken Ziegler set a new meet mark of 51-5 in the 440, as did Art Smith in the 880, running a 1:57.1.

Underdogs again, the well-conditioned Big Red runners showed the results of hard training by winning the Cornell-Colgate-Syracuse Triangular Meet for the tenth consecutive year. The scene was Barton Hall, the date March 21, and the final results were Cornell 35, Syracuse...

27½, and Colgate 14½. Captain Lynn Radcliffe of Syracuse, the individual star of the meet, captured both the mile and the mile and one-half runs, the latter in record time of 1:56.1. He also ran on the Orange mile relay team which pushed the Colgate quartet, anchored by Captain Al Diebolt, present holder of the Barton Hall 440 record, to a new meet record of 3:23.2. Outstanding for Cornell were Ware Warfield, who won both the high and low hurdles, and Charley Shaw, victor of the 75-yard dash. Bob Sanford placed first in the weight throw, and in the other field events, with the exception of the shot-put, Cornell won or tied for first.

Cornell's trackmen met top-notch competition in the Penn Relays on April 24 and 25. The team managed to place in but one event, the shuttle hurdles, where the combination of Dye, Warfield, Hart, and Hesselbach took third place behind Yale.

Cornell next met Princeton at Palmer Stadium on May 2. Weakness in the field events beat the Big Red, for Cornell swept seven of the eight first places in the track events. Charley Shaw and Art Smith were Cornell's individual stars. The former won the century dash in 9.8 and the 220 in 21.5, while the latter took the quarter-mile in 49.3 and the half-mile in 1:54.7. This meet again showed our strength on the track in contrast with our weakness in the field events.

On May 9th our traditional rival, Penn, bowed to Cornell on Schoellkopf Field 71-64. Charley Shaw again took both the 100 and the 220, while Art Smith also turned in a double winning the quarter-mile and the half-mile. Ware Warfield took first in the high hurdles and second in the low hurdles. Penn gained most of its points in the field. Captain Ed Beetem alone won 18 points with firsts in the shot-put, discus, and hammer throw, and second in the javelin.

The Heptagonal Games at Cambridge May 16th foreshadowed a poor showing in the Intercollegiate two weeks later, as Cornell came in sixth behind Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth, Princeton, and Pennsylvania, in that order.

The Intercollegiates at Randall Island on May 29th and 30th, won by powerful Penn State, wound up the Big Red's track season in surprising style. Sparked by individual performances, Cornell placed ninth in a field of thirty-four. Charley Shaw, Cornell's 1942 high-scorer, took second behind Penn State's vaunted Barney Ewell in both the 100 and the 220. Charley, incidentally, equaled the school record of 9.7 for the hundred in a preliminary heat on Friday. Art Smith took a third in the 440, while Clark Sanford finished fifth in the hammer and John Haughwout tied for third in the pole vault—a creditable finish for the 1942 track and field season.
