THE College of Arts and Sciences is about to abandon the numerical marking system. A new system will be adopted of which the important feature will be the use of letters, not exceeding five in number, for grading examination papers. The range of letters to be employed and their application are not yet determined. A committee of the Faculty is now considering these and other details of the matter. The reason for the change is the Faculty's belief that the new system will be more convenient than the old, that it will be fairer to the students and that it will lend itself better to uniform grading among the several departments of the college.

THOSE PRESENT at the meeting of the Board of Trustees last Saturday were President Schurman, Commissioner of Education John H. Finley, Charles Ezra Cornell, Charles H. Blood, C. Sidney Shepard, Willard Beahan, Henry R. Ickelheimer, Andrew D. White, John H. Barr, Robert T. Morris, John N. Carlisle, George C. Boldt, Frank H. Hiscock, James H. Edwards, Frank H. Miller, Jared T. Newman, Mynderse Van Cleef, Robert H. Treman, John C. Westervelt, Thomas B. Wilson, Henry H. Westinghouse, Charles E. Treman, Roger B. Williams, Cuthbert W. Pound, J. DuPratt White, William F. Pratt.

PROFESSOR C. V. P. YOUNG has returned from his trip in the West, where he studied the physical training systems of Oberlin University, the University of Chicago, Northwestern University, the University of Wisconsin, and the University of Missouri. Comparing the methods of these institutions with those in the East which he visited earlier in the term (Amherst, Columbia, College of the City of New York, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Princeton, West Point, and the preparatory schools, Andover, Hill and Lawrenceville) he made the following statement: "With regard to physical training, one thing that strikes the observer is that it is regarded more seriously and is on a more dignified basis than is the case of the eastern institutions. There is a much stronger tendency to regard the systematic training and development of the body as an essential part of a student's equipment for future usefulness. Also, there is considerably more uniformity of methods in the West than in the East, and I should say that, in general, better results are being attained. It is noticeable that in those institutions in which discipline is lax and the general standards low, speaking comparatively, organized physical training is either neglected entirely, or the few requirements that do exist are very indifferently enforced."

PROFESSOR CHARLES H. TUCK will make an investigation of agricultural conditions in Europe next year. It will be his sabbatic year. A leave of absence from the University has been granted him for either one semester or the whole year. He has not decided whether he will take the full year or not.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE from May 1st to the end of the academic year has been granted to H. H. Love, professor of plant breeding. He is going to Europe for study.

SEVERAL BUILDINGS on the Campus were named by the Trustees last Saturday. It was voted to call the proposed drill hall The New York State Drill Hall at Cornell University. The new auditorium of the College of Agriculture was named Bailey Hall. The main building of the College of Agriculture was named Roberts Hall. The name James Law Hall was chosen for the main building of the Veterinary College.

A SHAM BATTLE was fought between two sections of the cadet corps last Saturday afternoon. The Blue army, commanded by Colonel L. G. Meads '14, and consisting of the first and third battalions, was the attacking force. It marched under sealed orders to Varna, where the commander received information that an important hypothetical powder factory was situated at the new stock judging pavilion of the agricultural college. The Red army, consisting of the second battalion and the signal corps, and commanded by Major R. E. J. Summers '14, received orders to protect the "factory." The "Reds" took a position—declared by the umpires to be impregnable—on the ridge overlooking the rifle range, half-way to Varna, and by holding that position they won the battle. The wireless detachment of the signal corps did effective work. Several hundred non-combatants witnessed the engagement.

THE WARM WEATHER has made the Campus a livelier place during the ten minutes between lectures. Now the Arts men come out and sit on the steps of Goldwin Smith, the lawyers stroll on the lawn in front of Boardman, and the Sibley men play ball games—with an indoor baseball—over at the north end of the quadrangle.

OFFICERS of the Interfraternity Association have been chosen from the class of 1915 for next year, as follows: President, K. C. McCutcheon, Kappa Sigma; secretary, Arthur Dole, jr., Psi Upsilon; executive committee, Charles M. Colyer, Phi Kappa Sigma; H. C. Kellern, Alpha Tau Omega; H. R. Mallory, Sigma Chi; O. A. Reller, Beta Theta Pi, and A. D. Williams, Delta Kappa Epsilon. A meeting of the executive committee will be held some time next week to draw up rushing rules for next year.

THE NEW AGRICULTURAL QUADRANGLE is rapidly nearing completion. The grading north of the main building is practically completed, but the walks will not be laid until next fall. Twelve large elms have been moved to the new quadrangle from the ground immediately to the north. This work was done by Henry Hicks & Son of Long Island, under the direction of the landscape art department.

HONORABLE MENTION has been won by Miss Charlotte Pekary '15 in the annual competition conducted by the Society of French Professors. These competitions are open to students in practically all colleges and universities. The award won by Miss Pekary was in theme writing.

Dr. B. T. Galloway Director of the College of Agriculture

Dr. Beverly Thomas Galloway, Assistant Secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture, was appointed by the University Board of Trustees last Saturday to be Director of the New York State College of Agriculture. The appointment was made after a thorough consideration. Dr. Galloway was highly recommended for the place which was vacated by the resignation of Professor L. H. Bailey and which has been filled this year by Professor W. A. Stocking as acting director.

Dr. Galloway is best known as the organizer of the government's Bureau of Plant Industry. When he went to the Department of Agriculture twenty-six years ago as an assistant plant pathologist, there were only four men engaged in studying plant diseases for the government, with an appropriation of $7,000 a year. Dr. Galloway took the lead in the work, and so built it up that in 1901 Congress established the bureau with an appropriation of $200,000 annually—an amount which grew by leaps and bounds until now about $2,700,000 is annually spent in research. The bureau workers go all over the world.

Dr. Galloway is a botanist. He is that kind of botanist known as plant pathologist. He is the man primarily responsible for the development in this country of applied plant pathology. It was he who first showed that the study of parasitic fungi was of real importance to agriculture and it was his work in that field that led to the development of the present widespread practice of the control of plant diseases by spraying.

Assistant Secretary Galloway is known as "the silent man" of the Department of Agriculture. He is in no sense a politician, being devoted wholly to his scientific and executive work, and his appointment as assistant secretary was hailed as a distinguished example of reward of merit in the service of the government. His ability in administration has been tested by thirteen years at the head of the Bureau of Plant Industry and a year in the office of Assistant Secretary of Agriculture. Since he became the right-hand man of Secretary David F. Houston, he is acknowledged by his colleagues to have made his personality distinctly felt in increasing the efficiency of the whole Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Galloway was born at Millersburg, Missouri, on October 16, 1863. He was educated at the University of Missouri, where he received the degree of Bachelor of Agricultural Science in 1884. His alma mater in 1902 gave him the degree of LL.D. For two years after his graduation he was an assistant in the department of horticulture at Missouri. Then, in 1887, he was appointed assistant pathologist in the government's Division of Vegetable Pathology and Physiology. A year later he was promoted and made the head of that division. In 1900 he organized and became the first chief of the present Bureau of Plant Industry.

As the chief of that bureau he has developed a corps of research workers the like of which would be hard to find in any other bureau of the government. It conducts a great amount of research work and turns the results over to the public in the form of definite recommendations for changes in existing agricultural practice. In his anxiety to see that his men receive proper credit for their accomplishments, he has managed to keep himself in the background and has given no thought to whether his own name became widely known.

The bureau's activities are worldwide. Its representatives co-operate with farmers in almost every county of the United States. Its experts search the world for grains, fruits, vegetables, grasses and legumes which may be cultivated profitably here; carry on experiments in selection and breeding to procure improved varieties of plants; watch for and combat destructive plant diseases; find new markets for plant products, and devise improved methods of handling, shipping and marketing perishable crops.

Letters which spoke highly of Dr. Galloway were received from Cornell graduates in the Department of Agriculture at Washington. L. C. Corbett '90, assistant chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry, wrote:

"It gives me great pleasure to write what I said to you in regard to my most worthy friend and chief, Dr. Galloway. First of all, Dr. Galloway is a student and lover of men. Second, he has the scientific viewpoint, and third, he has capacity and ability to organize and to administer large affairs. I have had thirteen years of close personal contact with him and in all of his dealings with which I am familiar he has controlled the situation by the force of his personality, which is based on the best of judgment, the keenest appreciation of the rights of others, and a true love for his co-workers. His long experience here in the department has made him easily the leader among men associated with agricultural enterprises in this country. He is a modest man, but his force of character and ability are exemplified in the organization, development and meaning of the Bureau of Plant Industry and in the later times in the reorganization which he is working out for the whole Department of Agriculture.

"We in the department consider him one of the greatest assets of this great institution, and while as a Cornellian I am interested in matters Cornellian, the loss which the Department of Agriculture would suffer in Dr. Galloway's departure from our midst would work a great handicap upon the department. If Cornell were fortunate enough to secure him as the leader of its agricultural activities, I would feel that the institution was greatly to be congratulated, for I know of no man in the agricultural field today who could better undertake the problem which is facing the College of Agriculture at Cornell University than Dr. Galloway. As a Cornellian, I hope you may be able to induce him to accept the position. As an officer of the Department of Agriculture, I hope you may not be able to induce him to leave us, for we need him."

Dr. L. O. Howard '77, chief of the Bureau of Entomology, wrote:

"I received your telegram last night and sent you a night letter as follows:

"Telegram delayed. Will write tomorrow. Consider Galloway best and strongest man available. Great organizer; successful with Congress; keen leader of research. Great loss to us here if chosen."

"Dr. Galloway is a remarkable man. Early in the administration of this department by Secretary Wilson he brought about a reorganization of the scientific work and the establishment of several great bureaus instead of many independent divisions, harmonizing the work to a great extent and putting the department in a position to effectively administer the large appropriations which immediately thereafter began to increase by leaps and bounds. He himself became the chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry and was the adviser of the secretary of agriculture in most matters and his principal assistant in helping to shape legislation. When he was appointed assistant secretary of agriculture under the present administration, the appointment was greeted with great satisfaction on account of his high scientific standing, his ability as an organizer and his appreciation of research work, as well as on account of his practical mind, which saw the directions which research should take in order to bring about practical results. Already, although only a year has elapsed, the department finds itself in a much better position for effective work than it was before. I fear that if he leaves us his loss will be keenly felt. I find myself very much upset by the thought that he may leave the department, but as a loyal Cornellian I cannot withhold from you my earnest belief that he is the best man in the field to succeed Professor Bailey as director of the College of Agriculture at Ithaca. You need a man of wide reputation and of great organizing ability, and one who is accustomed to deal with legislative bodies. In all of these respects Dr. Galloway's qualifications stand higher than those of anyone I know."

The Drill Hall Located

To Stand on the Knoll Southwest of the Veterinary College

A site for the new drill hall was chosen by the Trustees at their meeting last Saturday. It is between East and Garden Avenues, where the Fuertes Observatory now stands. The building, which the state has agreed to pay for, will measure about 200 by 375 feet. The site was chosen on the recommendation of the building committee, after consultation with the state architect. The board adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, that the location of the New York State Drill Hall be within the limits of the tract of land bounded on the east by Garden avenue; on the south by the east and west driveway from East avenue, south of the house of W. D. Bancroft eastward to Garden avenue; on the north by the south line of the lands reserved for the use of the New York State Veterinary College, and on the west by the east line of the lots facing on East avenue."

Successful Music Festival

New Auditorium Found to Be an Excellent Concert Hall

The ninth Music Festival, the first one held in a suitable hall, was a great success. The new auditorium of the College of Agriculture, seating almost 2,000, was practically filled at every one of the four concerts. The department of music was highly pleased with the success of the undertaking. Probably it is safe to predict that the auditorium will be used every year for these festivals. Financial success must have been achieved, although of course the expenses were heavy.

The Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Frederick Stock, conductor, was here for all the concerts. Mme. Schumann-Heink, who sang at the first concert on Thursday evening to a crowded house, was in splendid voice. Her program was chiefly from Smetana's "The Moldau" and from Wagner.

Professor Dann's chorus of more than 200 voices was heard to better advantage than ever in Sage Chapel. This chorus earned enthusiastic praise from the visiting soloists at the festival. Most of the soloists had been heard here at former festivals. They included Mrs. Florence Mulford, contralto; Mrs. Grace Bonner Williams, soprano; Lambert Murphy, tenor; Gwilym Miles, baritone; Willard Flint, bass, and Harry Weisbach, violinist.

WOMEN'S CLUB OF ITHACA

The Cornell Women's Club of Ithaca has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Miss Mary Fowler; vice-president, Mrs. H. C. Troy; secretary, Miss Rebecca Harris; treasurer, Mrs. A. A. Allen; directors, Miss Bessie Speed and Mrs. G. W. Herrick. Mrs. Gertrude Shorb Martin was chosen to represent the club at the meeting of the Associate Alumni, and Miss Helen Knox as the club's delegate to the Federation of Cornell Clubs. The final meeting of the year will be a picnic to be held at the home of Miss Emma Bowers, 408 Hector Street, on Saturday afternoon, May 30. A large attendance is desired.

Woodford Prize Contest

Won by Harold Riegelman, of New York

Harold Riegelman, of New York, won the forty-fourth annual Woodford prize in original oratory with a speech entitled "The Hyphenated American." The contest was held in the Armory Monday night. H. Z. Harris, of Rochester, received honorable mention for his speech "To the Future." The other speakers were: F. E. Rogers, "The Fraternity and the University;" Remington Rogers, "The Minimum Wage for Women;" and C. L. Zinssmeister, "Socialism and Social Reform."

By the term "hyphenated American" Riegelman characterized the immigrants. He called them one of the greatest of the nation's resources, and deplored the Americanizing forces which seek to deprive the foreigner of his individuality and to make him forswear the customs and traits of his country.

President Schurman introduced the speakers. M. G. Bishop '13, winner of the Morrison poetry prize last year, read the poems of P. B. Schumm '15, winner of the prize for 1913-14, who was unable to appear because of illness.

The judges of the Woodford contest were Neal D. Becker '05, of New York; Professor W. H. Mace, of Syracuse University; and Hubert C. Mandeville, of Elmira.

Interscholastic Track Meet

Two Hundred and Fifty Boys from Thirty-nine Schools Entered

Thirty-nine schools, nearly double the number entered last year, will take part in the annual Interscholastic Track Meet at Percy Field Saturday. The trials in the dashes and hurdles will be held in the morning. The finals in these events, together with the field events and runs, will be held after the Harvard meet in the afternoon. About two hundred and fifty athletes will take part in the meet.

Athletic events scheduled for Saturday are as follows: Baseball, Princeton; Freshmen vs. Tome School at Ithaca; track, Harvard at Ithaca; Interscholastic Track Meet at Ithaca; lacrosse, Hobart at Ithaca; tennis, Pennsylvania at Ithaca; golf, Pennsylvania and Columbia at Philadelphia.

Freshman Baseball.—Cornell freshmen, 7; Columbia freshmen, 3.

For the Study of Cancer

Medical College Allied with Hospital to Conduct an Important Research

The Cornell University Medical College is to have the direction of a hospital in New York City devoted to the study and treatment of cancer and allied diseases. The General Memorial Hospital, at 106th Street and Central Park West, will be devoted wholly to that work, in alliance with the Medical College. A large sum of money has been given by Dr. James Douglas to be added to the present endowment of the hospital for the support of the enterprise. Especial attention is to be given to the development of the new means of cancer treatment by means of radium.

A statement given out this week at the Medical College follows:

Alliance of Hospital and College

"The Board of Governors of the General Memorial Hospital have voted to enter into an affiliation with Cornell University Medical College for the conduct of the General Memorial Hospital as an institution for the study and treatment of cancer and allied diseases.

"This affiliation is rendered possible by the gift of a large sum from Dr. James Douglas, which in addition to the present endowment of the institution will render the hospital largely independent of an income from other sources.

"The grounds for the affiliation are to be found in the facts:

"First: That this institution was originally created for the purpose of cancer treatment and research, but the original funds were insufficient to enable it to enter this field exclusively.

"Second: The Board of Governors feel with Dr. Douglas that the study of cancer and the development of the new means of its treatment can be successfully carried out only through the combination of the efforts of laboratory workers specially trained in this field and clinical surgeons.

"The laboratory staff maintained by the College and the Huntington Fund are available for this work and the Medical Board of the Hospital will be composed of such men, together with the surgeons, as are specially interested in cancer treatment and research.

"All forms of tumors and malignant diseases as well as cancer are to be included in the scope of the work.

"The institution duplicates on a large scale other hospitals which have been created in this country and abroad for similar purposes, the best known examples of which are Middlesex Hospital in London and the Samaritan Hospital of the University of Heidelberg."

To Experiment with Radium

One of the most interesting facts about the new project is that means will be provided for a thorough study of the use of radium in the treatment of cancer. Dr. James Douglas is reported to have turned over to the hospital the use of his one-half interest in the radium mines in Colorado, which are now owned jointly by him and Dr. Howard A. Kelly, of Baltimore. Between them, it is said, they control about three grams of the material, or about $250,000 worth. The co-operation between the hospital and the Medical College will give adequate opportunity, for the first time, for a thorough study of radium in pathology.

Dr. Douglas is the president of Phelps, Dodge & Co. and of the Copper Queen Consolidated Mining Company. He is a native of Quebec and is a graduate of Queen's University at Kingston, Ontario (B.A., 1858). McGill University gave him the degree of LL.D. He was professor of chemistry at Morrin College, Quebec; came to the United States in 1875 and was placed in charge of the copper works at Phoenixville, Pa., and later was connected with the copper industry of Arizona. He was president of the Arizona & South-eastern Railroad Company and other large Arizona corporations, and with the late Dr. T. Sterry Hunt did much work in hydro-metallurgy of coppers. He is a member and was twice president of the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

RIES HEAD OF GEOLOGY

Various sub-departments of geology (physical geography, mineralogy, paleontology, and economic geology) were, by action of the Board of Trustees last Saturday, consolidated under one head and the committee of professors which has hitherto administered the department was dissolved. Professor Heinrich Ries was appointed head of the department.

Changes in the Faculty

Professorships for Winans and Bos-sange—Some Instructors Promoted

Several appointments and promotions in the Faculty were made at the meeting of the Board of Trustees last Saturday.

D. Kennedy Fraser, a graduate of the University of Edinburgh, was elected assistant professor in the department of education, on account of the coming retirement of Professor De Garmo. Mr. Fraser studied at the Teachers' Training College at Edinburgh and also at the University of Leipzig. During the last year he has been a student here under Professor G. M. Whipple.

Ralph Hayward Keniston was appointed assistant professor in the department of Romance languages. He will teach Spanish, taking the place of Professor Olmsted, who goes to the University of Minnesota. Mr. Keniston is a graduate of Colby College and is now an instructor at Harvard.

Dr. Laurence Pumpelly was promoted from an instructorship to be assistant professor in the department of Romance languages. He is a graduate of Williams College and has studied at Strassburg and the Sorbonne.

Assistant Professor E. Raymond Bos-sange was promoted to a professorship of design in the College of Architecture.

Assistant Professor J. A. Winans was promoted to a professorship in the department of oratory. The Trustees decided that that department should be known hereafter as the department of public speaking.

Dr. Abbott Payson Usher was promoted from an instructorship to an assistant professorship in economics.

Ross Peter Anderson '08, instructor in chemistry, was promoted to an assistant professorship.

George A. Works was elected professor of rural education in the College of Agriculture. Mr. Works was born in Augusta, Wis. He received his early school training in the Augusta High School and the River Falls Normal School. In 1904 he received the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy from the University of Wisconsin, and in 1902 the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture from the Wisconsin State College of Agriculture. He has had considerable experience as a teacher and as high school principal and superintendent of schools. After receiving his degree from the University of Wisconsin he continued in the department of agricultural education until the fall of 1913, when he went to the University of Minnesota as assistant professor of agricultural education.

David Lumsden was elected assistant professor of floriculture in the College of Agriculture. He is a graduate of the Sleaford Collegiate School and also of the Veitchian School of Agriculture, both in England. In those schools he took special work in floriculture. He spent a number of years in practical work in floriculture in England and America, at one time having charge of the glass houses and floral decorations for the Duke of Westminster. In this country his practical work has been chiefly in New England. For the past six years he has been in charge of the work in floriculture at the New Hampshire Agricultural College. He is a member of a number of horticultural and floricultural societies.

L. H. Boulter '13, and J. W. Hebel were appointed instructors in English. J. A. Bridgman '14 was made assistant in chemistry, and Bleecker Marquette and A. H. Sweet were appointed assistants in history.

The resignations of Professor Walter Mulford and Assistant Professors C. A. Rogers and A. M. Besemer were accepted.

Awards of Prizes

Best Essay on Browning Written by a Chinese Student

The Browning Prize, founded by Professor Hiram Corson in memory of his wife, has been awarded to Suh Hu '14, of Shanghai, China. The prize is a gold medal of the value of fifty dollars or that amount in money, and is awarded for the best competitive essay on Robert Browning. The competition is open to junior, senior, and graduate students. Mr. Hu is the president of the Cornell Cosmopolitan Club.

The French Prize, also founded by Professor Corson and having the same value, has been awarded to Grace Florence Marcus '15, of Brooklyn, for an essay on "The Cosmopolitanism of Madame de Staël."

The Barnes Shakespeare Prize, founded in 1887 by Mrs. Alfred Smith Barnes, of Brooklyn, has been awarded to Colena Henrietta Michael '14, of Colden, N. Y. Her essay was entitled "The Infinite Variety of Antony and Cleopatra."

The College of Law

Woodruff Acting Dean—Stagg Promoted—New Professor in Drew's Place

The Trustees last Saturday granted leave of absence for next year to Dean Irvine of the College of Law. Professor E. H. Woodruff was appointed acting director of the college for the year, and Professor C. T. Stagg was appointed secretary of the college.

C. T. Stagg was promoted from an assistant professorship to be professor of procedure.

A leave of absence for next year was granted to Professor W. L. Drew.

Charles Kellogg Burdick was appointed professor of law to take the place of Professor Drew in the Faculty. He is a son of Professor Francis M. Burdick, who was a member of the Law Faculty here (1887-1891) and was afterward for many years a professor in the Columbia Law School. Charles Kellogg Burdick was born in Utica on February 7, 1883, and is a graduate of Princeton (A.B., 1904) and the Columbia Law School (LL.B., 1908). He was on the editorial board of the Columbia Law Review for two years. After admission to the bar in 1908, he was associated with Wilmer, Canfield & Stone in New York City, the present dean of the Columbia Law School, Harlan F. Stone, being a member of that firm. In 1909 he went to Tulane University and taught there for three years. Since 1912 he has been a member of the faculty of the University of Missouri. He was a member of the faculty of the summer session of the Columbia Law School in 1912 and 1913, and is engaged to teach there during the coming summer. He was married in 1909 to Miss Ruth Nutting, of New York City.

JUDGES AND SURROGATES

The following graduates of the College of Law are now county judges in this State: M. M. Sweetland '90, Tompkins; C. W. Knapp '93, Wayne; Charles B. Swartwood '97, Chemung, and G. F. Bodine '98, Seneca. H. N. Crosby '97 is surrogate of Chautauqua County, and Victor Boire '02 is surrogate of Clinton County.

THE NEW CLUB formed by upper class men of the College of Law has decided to call itself the Boardman Law Club, in honor of Judge Douglas Boardman, the first dean of the school.

Rochester to Co-operate

University Will Work with the College of Agriculture in a Special Field

Announcement has been made that the University of Rochester is to co-operate with the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell in a special field of agricultural research. Ivan C. Jagger '11, instructor and investigator in plant pathology at Cornell, has been appointed assistant professor of plant pathology at the University of Rochester. He will devote the greater part of his time to a study of vegetable diseases which are costing the gardeners in the Irondequoit region of western New York many thousand dollars annually.

The University of Rochester, in taking up this public service along lines somewhat outside of its curriculum, recognized the fact that more effective work could be done in co-operation with the State College, which has adequate resources for the study of agricultural problems. Feeling that the agricultural college might not be able to devote a large amount of attention to the Irondequoit section, the neighboring institution offered to pay the salary and provide laboratory facilities for a man nominated by the state college at Cornell. Mr. Jagger was the man selected for the place. The College of Agriculture will supply him with any additional equipment needed and will also contribute five or six hundred dollars annually for field expenses. If, in studying an unexplored field in which very little scientific investigation has been done, valuable conclusions are reached, they will be published by the State College, which has agreed to give to the University of Rochester full credit for its co-operation in the investigation.

Mr. Jagger was born and reared on a large vegetable farm in East Palmyra, where he learned the practical side of his work. Since his graduation at Cornell he has been attached to the instructing staff, and has kept up an investigation of vegetable diseases. He will close his experimental work late in June and will go to Rochester about July 1. Besides conducting his research there he will probably teach advanced students in biology.

THE REV. CHARLES W. GILKEY, of Chicago, will preach in Sage Chapel next Sunday.

ATENTION is called to the announcement that special cars will be run from Chicago for Cornellians who expect to attend the alumni reunion on June 12 and 13. The announcement will be found in another column.

THE COMING REUNION promises to be the best one ever held at Ithaca. There are more attractions on the program, for one thing, and another indication of success is that the class reunion committees are reporting prospects of large attendance. Most of the reunion committees have made arrangements for permanent and commodious and comfortable class headquarters. Another thing about this occasion will be that no Cornellian, whether his class is having a reunion or not, need feel himself to be left out if he comes to Ithaca. He will find a welcome at the headquarters of the reunion class which is nearest to his own class. Could one spend two June days more pleasantly and profitably than in Ithaca, meeting old friends and seeing the Campus at its best? Every man who comes back should be sure to inspect the new athletic field. It is so nearly completed that one can get a good idea of how it is going to look when the work is done.

CHICAGO REUNION SPECIAL

Arrangements are being perfected to run one or more special cars direct from Chicago to Ithaca via Lake Shore and Lehigh Valley Railroads for those who desire to attend their class reunions or those who wish to be present at the Commencement exercises in June.

Train will leave the LaSalle Street

Station at 1:40 P. M. June 11th. Arrive in Ithaca at 8:05 A. M. June 12th.

It is the wish of the committee that those living in adjacent territory, in the West and Northwest, that contemplate visiting their Alma Mater next June, so arrange their trip as to take this train with us. An early reply is desired, as a special train is amongst the probabilities. Those who wish to take advantage of this service, or would like further information regarding rates communicate with any of the Chicago Committee:

SEVENTY-FOUR'S INVITATION

To the Classes of '72, '73, '75 and '76:

The class of '74 is to hold a reunion this year during Alumni Week, June 11, 12, and 13; and we most cordially invite those members of the classes of '72, '73, '75, and '76 who are to be in Ithaca during that period to meet with us at our headquarters and to join in our class dinner, which is to be at 7 P. M., June 13.

More than thirty members of the class of '74 expect to be present, and it will add greatly to our enjoyment to have with us as many as possible of the members of the four classes that were most intimately associated with us during our college days.

Our headquarters is to be at 516 University Avenue, one block west of the place where the street car line crosses University Avenue.

Those who can be present at our class dinner will please inform the Secretary by June 12.

J. H. COMSTOCK, Secretary, '74.

THE TWENTY YEAR CLASS

Twentieth anniversary reunions have always attracted a large attendance and the reunion of the class of '94 next June seems likely to prove no exception to the rule. The reunion committee have arranged a program that will be attractive to both men and women. They have a house for headquarters, a luncheon and get-together meeting for June 12, and a smoker for men on June 13. The class has invited any members of '92, '93, '95 or '96 who may be in Ithaca on alumni days to attend the '94 functions.

NINETEEN-NINE

Your class vote has decided that our Five Year Reunion shall be held on Friday and Saturday, June 12th and 13th. There will be no 1909 reunion house, but any man who wants a room has only to drop a postal to the secretary.

We want the biggest Five Year Reunion ever held at Cornell. We want more than this—we want the most congenial, the most enthusiastic, the most worth-while. Sit right down and write that room-mate of yours and keep on writing him until June. Keep the ball rolling. Connie Roland writes that he has personally booked eight men to come—and is bringing up a special car from New York. Go and do thou likewise.

ROBERT E. TREMAN, Secretary.

DINNER AT PARIS ON JUNE 4

The annual European Cornell Dinner will occur in Paris on Thursday, June 4th. The principal English speaker will be Professor C. H. Van Tyne, of the University of Michigan, who has been on the staff of the Cornell Summer School at one or two sessions. The chief French orator will probably be Professor Boutroux, of the French Academy, father of Professor Pierre Boutroux, of the Graduate School of Princeton. Theodore Stanton '76 will preside and act as toastmaster. Professor E. W. Olmsted '91 will reply to the toast "Our Alma Mater."

Further particulars may be obtained from Henry C. Charpiot '86, Honorary Secretary, 26 rue Laffitte, Paris. All Cornellians now in Europe, or likely to be there at the time of the dinner, are invited to attend.

The Team Weak in Batting

The two defeats which the team suffered last week were due chiefly to inability to bat. With a view to improving the hitting, Dr. Sharpe made some changes in the field, and in the Williams game on Saturday there was a new batting order. Gordon, a sophomore, playing in center field, was put at the head of the batting list and Captain Schirick was put in fourth place. But the batting did not show much improvement. Cornell had several opportunities to bring in runs with a timely hit, and failed to make use of the opportunities. Among the best of the batters in the Williams game were Taber and Adair.

Williams, 4; Cornell, 3

The team had Williams beaten in the eighth inning at Percy Field last Saturday, but the New Englanders came back in the ninth with three hits, including a three-bagger, and two runs, which won the game for them. Bryant pitched a good game, but he had two weak innings, the first and the ninth. Cutler, a Williams sophomore, held Cornell to seven widely scattered hits. The home team had several splendid chances to win, but could not hit at the right times.

In the first inning Bryant passed Statler, who went to second on Toolan's sacrifice and scored on Swain's clean single to right field. Ainslie next hit cleanly to right field, scoring Swain, but Bryant struck out the next two batters. After that, until the ninth inning, Bryant was too much for the visiting batters.

In the third inning Cornell had the bases full with only one man out, but Bills batted into a double play at first base. If his line drive had been a foot or two higher two or three runs would have come in. In the fourth and again in the fifth Cornell had men on bases, but was unable to bring them home. The runs obtained in the sixth and eighth innings were directly due to errors. In the eighth, with Taber on third and Adair at bat, a squeeze play was worked perfectly.

The weakness of Cornell's batting was shown by the fact that two men were out for attempting to bunt the first strike. The score follows:

Lacrosse.—Cornell tied the Crescent Athletic Club Saturday at Bay Ridge, each team scoring three goals. Three former Cornell players were on the athletic club team—T. H. S. Andrews '10, R. O. Walbridge '10, and W. H. Fries '11. A large number of alumni saw the game. Danforth made two of Cornell's goals in the first half and Randolph made the third in the second half. Last Friday, at Hoboken, the Cornell team defeated Stevens in a practice game by a score of 6 to 1. This was the second victory over Stevens this spring.

The Michigan Track Meet

Cornell Stronger in Field Events and Distance Races

Cornell proved to have a too well balanced team for Michigan in the dual track meet held at Ann Arbor Saturday. Moakley's charges proved superior to the Wolverines in all the events except the sprints and the shot-put, winning by a score of 74.1 to 41.9. In thirteen events Cornell won nine first places and Michigan three. The quarter mile resulted in a dead heat between Caldwell '14, of Cornell, and Jansen of Michigan. Michigan's fast trio of sprinters, Bond, Seward, and Smith, won all three places in the 220, and first and second in the 100. Ingersoll '15 finished third in the 100 and fourth in the 220, while Reller '15, the best of the Cornell dash men, had not rounded sufficiently into condition after his recent illness to place in either race.

The 440 was an exciting race in which Caldwell allowed Jansen, an intercollegiate point winner, to gain a good lead on him early in the race. By a strong sprint at the finish the Cornell man managed to tie. Beckwith finished third for Cornell.

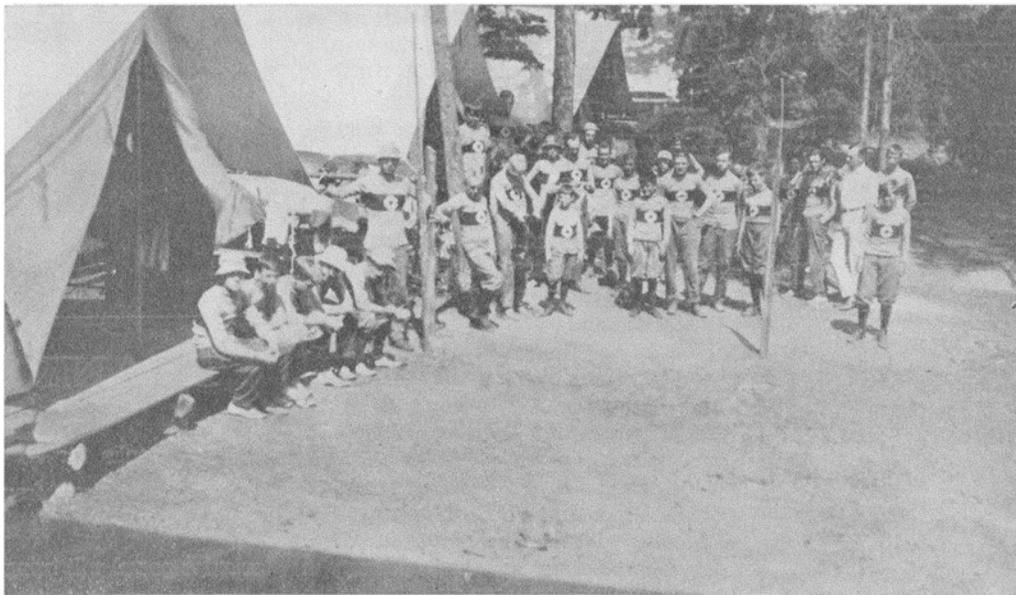

Speiden '15 won the half mile in the fast time of 1:57 2-5. Murphy of Michigan finished second, just ahead of Irish of Cornell. Beckwith '16 was a close fourth. The mile and two mile runs were easy for Cornell. Hoffmire '16 and Speiden '15, Cornell's entrants, finished first and second in the mile, while Potter '16 and Souder '16 did the same thing in the two mile.

Brodt '14 of Cornell finished first in the high hurdles, but was disqualified for knocking down four hurdles, and Millard, the sophomore hurdler, won first place. Armstrong for Michigan finished second, and the other Michigan entrant was disqualified. Cornell's entrants in the low hurdles, Captain Shelton '14 and Starr, a sophomore, took first and second respectively. Fritz '14 and Milton '15 cleared 12 feet in the pole vault and tried no higher, as the best of the Michigan men could only tie Halsted '14 for third at 11 feet.

Morrison '15 was the only one of Cornell's high jumpers to perform creditably. He cleared five feet nine inches, winning first place. Cady '16 and Warner '15 tied for second with three Michigan men. Morrison also won the broad jump with a mark of 22 feet 5½ inches, over a foot better than his performance in the Pennsylvania Relays a week ago, where he finished third, a jump of 22 feet winning that event. Captain Kohler of Michigan won the shot put against McCutcheon '15 and Lahr '15 of Cornell, but was beaten in the hammer throw by McCutcheon with a throw of 148 feet 8 inches, another mark which would have won the event at the Pennsylvania relays. Shot-put—1, Kohler, Michigan, 44 ft. 3 in.; 2, McCutcheon, Cornell, 42 ft. 6 in.; 3, Lahr, Cornell, 40 ft. 5 in.

Hammer throw—1, McCutcheon, Cornell, 148 ft. 8 in.; 2, Kohler, Michigan, 144 ft. 11 in.; 3, Munns, Cornell, 137 ft. 6 in.

Freshman Football.—The Athletic Council has referred to the finance committee the matter of engaging S. E. Robb '11 to coach the 1918 freshman football team. Robb coached very successfully the 1915 and 1916 teams, and Graduate Manager Kent is hopeful of his return next fall.

ALUMNI NOTES

'75, A.B.—Col. Henry W. Sackett arrived in New York from France last week on crutches, as the result of injuries to his right leg from an automobile accident near Nice on April 4. For this reason, he failed last Saturday to attend a regular meeting of the University board of trustees, for the first time during the fifteen years he has been a member of the board. Col. Sackett was on his way to Limoges, as counsel for large manufacturers of French china, to prepare for the defense of suits for more than $500,000 brought against them by the United States Government under the old tariff law. While he was in the surgeon's hands at Nice, cablegrams from his New York office announced the withdrawal of these suits and released him from a protracted stay in France; so that except for this accident he would have been able to preserve his unusual record of attendance at meetings of the Trustees.

'86, M.E.—Professor Ernest Merritt of the department of physics was elected a member of the National Academy of Sciences at the stated session of the Academy in Washington on April 23.

'95, B.L.—The First National Bank of Williamsport, Pa., of which William P. Beeber is president, has completed a new eight-story bank building.

'97, B.L.—Dr. H. H. Crum, of Ithaca, has been appointed as one of the twenty district sanitary supervisors of the State Health Department. The salary is $4,000 a year.

'02, M.E.—Rayner M. Bedell is laboratory assistant to Peter Cooper Hewitt, New York City. His home is at 20 North Mountain Avenue, Montclair, N. J.

'04, M.E.—R. S. Trott is president of the Trott Automobile Company, 723 Chamber of Commerce, Detroit, Mich. He is promoting for that company a spring suspension for automobiles, a device of which he is the inventor.

'04, A.B.—Dr. F. E. Caldwell '79 announces the marriage of his daughter, Isabel Caldwell (A.B. '04, M.D. '06) to Francis E. Boeche, on February 7. Mr. and Mrs. Boeche will make their home in Stockton, California.

'05, C.E.—A son, Paul Edward, was born on April 28 to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holmes, of Toledo, Ohio.

when you buy a

Remington Typewriter

It is not a question of your judgment only, or of ours; when you buy a Remington you are backed by the judgment of over three-quarters of a million Remington users. There is no other army of typewriter users like it. The collective voice of the typewriter using world says "Remington."

You are backed in your judgment by Remington sales of a machine a minute—the high water mark of typewriter production—unanswerable evidence of Remington progress and Remington leadership.

When you buy a Remington you know what you are getting.

Write to us for our latest illustrated booklet describing all the new improvements of our 10 and 11 visible models
