A NEW MEMBER of the Board of Trustees of the University is Mr. Frederick W. Sessions, of Utica. When the administration committee met in Ithaca last Saturday it was informed that Mr. Sessions had been elected president of the State Agricultural Society. He is a member of the Cornell University Board of Trustees by virtue of that office. He is a merchant in Utica and is also the proprietor of a large and scientific dairy farm near that city. The committee was informed that Governor Whitman had reappointed Frank H. Miller, M.D., of New York City, to the Board. Mr. Miller, one of the five State Trustees, was originally appointed by Governor Dix. He is the donor of the Jane Miller Prize in the Veterinary College.

THOSE PRESENT at the regular meeting of the Trustees' committee on general administration last Saturday in Ithaca were Chairman Van Cleef, President Schurman, and Trustees Cornell, R. B. Williams, Edwards, C. E. Treman, and Pound. Trustees Hiscock, Westinghouse, A. D. White, and T. B. Wilson were unable to be present and were excused. All the members of the committee on buildings and grounds were present except Mr. Boldt, and he was excused.

DEAN IRVINE'S resignation from the faculty of the law school was received by the administration committee last Saturday and was accepted. Judge Irvine will keep his residence in Ithaca while serving as a member of the Public Service Commission. The Trustees renewed the appointment of DeWitte B. Wyckoff as acting assistant professor of law. A sabbatic leave of absence during the year 1916-17 was granted to Professor Alfred Hayes, jr., of the law school.

PROFESSOR GEORGE G. BOGERT '06, of the College of Law, has been selected by the committee on commercial law of the conference of commissioners on uniform state laws to draft the proposed uniform conditional sales act. The conference is an agency of the American Bar Association, the object of which is to promote uniformity of law throughout the United States. It has prepared and secured the adoption by many state legislatures of a number of statutes, especially upon commercial subjects. Among these statutes are the uniform stock transfer, general sales and bills of lading acts, drafted by Professor Samuel Williston of Harvard, and the uniform partnership act, drafted by Dean William Draper Lewis of the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

A GIFT of duplicates of Dante literature by the University Library to the National Library of Iceland has been authorized by the Trustees. They are in the Willard Fiske collection and number somewhat over two hundred pieces. Mr. Fiske had by verbal and written statements said that these duplicates might sometime be sent to the Icelandic Library. At his death his will gave all books in his possession not specifically given to the Cornell University Library to the Icelandic Library. There was a small collection of Arabic books which had been packed to come to Cornell but had never been sent. The question of their ownership under the will was raised, but the Icelandic Library graciously waived the question and allowed the Arabic books to come here. The duplicates in the Dante collection were among books which had been received from Mr. Fiske from time to time before his death, but it is believed that his intention was to have the duplicates go to the Icelandic Library.

A QUEER HABIT which many students have of paying their bills at the last possible moment was illustrated last Friday, which was the last day for the payment of tuition for the second term. The Treasurer's office was almost swamped by the rush. About $40,000 was received in tuition on that one day. A few students who didn't get to the window on Friday have presented petitions for reinstatement in the University.

THREE LECTURES were given this week before the students of the College of Architecture by Mr. Victor Horta, who was until recently director of the Academy of Fine Arts in Brussels and was for more than twenty years honorary professor of architecture in the University of Brussels. The subjects of his lectures were: "The nationality of Belgium and its influence upon her architecture," "Medieval architecture in Belgium," and "The evolution of Belgian renaissance architecture and classic architecture in Belgium in the nineteenth century." In addition to his academic activities Mr. Horta has maintained a large practice, having built some public and numerous domestic structures in Brussels. He has lectured in England and in this country at Harvard and Columbia Universities and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

PROFESSOR GUERLAC has been transferred to another "sector" of the French front, so he wrote to a faculty colleague here on February 12—"to a little city, in the rear. We hear the cannon but do not feel it. I can at last sleep on a pillow again, and my situation is materially improved."

ABOUT the middle of last month was formed in Boston "The Old Ironsides Association" with the objects of preserving the frigate "Constitution" from decay and of keeping its name on the rolls of the U. S. Navy. The president of the association is Mr. M. H. Gulesian, the public spirited Armenian of Chestnut Hill. At his suggestion the music of Professor B. G. Wilder's baritone setting of Oliver Wendell Holmes's famous poem, "Old Ironsides," published by the Ditsons four years ago, was arranged for the orchestra of the St. James Theatre and rendered last week at each of the three daily performances.

THE MUSICAL CLUBS of Harvard, Yale, Princeton, and Cornell will be represented at a meeting to be held on March 11 at the Harvard Club in New York. The purpose of the conference is to try to arrange itineraries for the Christmas tours of the four clubs so as to avoid a conflict of dates between any two of them in any town. The call for the meeting was sent by the manager of the Harvard glee club. Cornell will be represented by De Gray White '17, of Butler, N. J., manager of the musical clubs.

THE WOMEN STUDENTS have decided to give their pageant on May 26, on the women's playground.

Alumni Trusteeships

Nomination of Miss Kate Gleason

Miss Kate Gleason, of Rochester, N. Y., has been nominated as a candidate for election by the Alumni this year to the University Board of Trustees. She is the fourth person to be placed in nomination for one of the two trusteeships which will be filled by the Alumni in June. The others are James H. Edwards '88, renominated; Herbert D. Mason '00, renominated, and Clyde Potts '01.

The biographical sketch filed by Miss Gleason's nominators says:

"After pursuing an engineering course in Cornell University during 1884-85, and doing special work in 1888, she entered into active work in the Gleason Works of Rochester, where her efforts have met with pronounced success. She has been the secretary and treasurer of this company, which through her interest and ability has grown to a remarkable extent.

"Her efficiency as a business woman makes her absolutely at home in any executive meeting and able therein to wield a considerable practical influence.

"Moreover, she is a skilled mechanical engineer and has been admitted to membership in the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

"In Europe where she studied and traveled extensively, she has received signal honors and appreciation for her contributions to her profession.

"She thoroughly understands people and how to work with them, and instantly commands attention and consideration from her colleagues in the business and professional world."

Training Camps Organized

A Permanent Office Established—Card Catalogue of College Graduates

The Military Training Camps Association of the United States is an organization formed by the merger in January 1916, of the students' and the business men's organizations which had camps last summer at Plattsburg, Ludington, Fort Sheridan, and at other places under the direction of the War Department. President Henry Sturgis Drinker of Lehigh University has been elected chairman of the governing committee of the Association; J. L. Derby of New York, treasurer; Grenville Clark of New York, secretary, and D. K. Jay of New York, executive secretary. The joint organization will continue to have, from the educational standpoint, the advice of the University Presidents' Advisory Committee, which co-operated in the students' training camps movement.

Plans for the camps next summer are being worked out by the Association, which has established its main office at 31 Nassau Street, New York, with other branches at Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and other points.

The first summer military training camps for students were instituted in the summer of 1913, and were held in the East at Gettysburg, and in the West at the Presidio of Monterey, California. These were followed by students' camps in the summer of 1914 at Burlington, Vt., Ludington, Mich., Asheville, N. C., and the Presidio of Monterey, Cal., and in the summer of 1915 by students' camps at Plattsburgh, N. Y., Ludington, Mich., and the Presidio of San Francisco, Cal. In 1915 camps were established for business men at various points. The one held at Plattsburgh was the largest.

The university presidents on the governing committee are: President Hibben of Princeton, (Chairman of Presidents' Advisory Committee on Student Camps); President Lowell of Harvard, President Hadley of Yale, President Schurman of Cornell, President James of Illinois, President Wheeler of California, President Denny of Alabama, and President Drinker of Lehigh (Secretary of Presidents' Advisory Committee).

The Training Camps Association has established a permanent office at 31 Nassau Street, New York, and a large clerical force is now card-cataloging the names of all who attended the business men's camps and the students' camps heretofore held, and the names of all university and college alumni and students throughout the country so far as they can be obtained from college catalogues and alumni registers, and the names of all others who may apply for enrollment in the camps for next summer, including students in the graduating classes of high schools, and other schools rated as such, and the graduates of the same. When these catalogues are completed, full information will be sent out to all persons interested as to the camps to be held next summer, with enrollment blanks to be signed by those desiring to attend. The present membership of the association composed of all men who have attended these camps for the last three summers, numbers about 4,100 men, and the indications are that the enrollment for the coming summer will run up into many thousands.

Rochester Subscribes $2,000

Cornellians of That City Make a Grand Addition to the Alumni Fund

General Chairman L. A. Wilder, of the Cornellian Council campaign committee in Rochester, reported on March 2 that as a result of their whirlwind campaign for the Alumni Fund, 171 subscriptions had already been obtained which represented a total annual subscription of $2,000. There are about 300 Cornellians in Rochester and nearly 75 per cent of them are now on the subscription list. The average subscription is about $12.

During the early part of February the preliminary work of organization was done. The lists were carefully revised and verified. Six teams of six men each were selected with a captain for each team. To each team was assigned the task of visiting fifty-five Cornellians and the members of the teams worked in pairs.

The campaign was launched at a luncheon on February 22 at which President Schurman was the guest of honor and which was attended by 125 Cornell men. The Secretary of the Council spoke briefly on the work of the Council, and President Schurman heartily endorsed the enterprise. President Agate of the Cornell Club of Rochester made the announcement of the campaign, which it was proposed should be finished in three days. Mr. Agate requested the Cornellians of Rochester to spend as much time as possible in their offices during the remainder of the week, so as to make the task of the committee as easy as possible.

At the end of three days the campaign was practically completed and a direct personal appeal had been made to virtually every Cornell man in Rochester, with the splendid result of $2,000 in new annual subscriptions to the Alumni Fund.

The Cornellian Council desires through this medium to thank the Cornell Club of Rochester for their most hearty cooperation in this work for the University.

If the other city campaigns yield as good results proportionately as the campaign in Rochester, the time is not far off when the goal of $100,000 a year for Cornell from her alumni will be reached.

MISS ARAMINTA McDONALD '17, of Delhi, N. Y., was elected recently to the presidency of the Women's Student Government Board, and Miss Helen Adams '17, of Silver Bay, was elected president of the Y. W. C. A.

A School of Foreign Commerce
National City Bank Plans to Co-operate with Universities

The National City Bank of New York recently presented to faculty representatives from Cornell, Harvard, Princeton, Columbia, Pennsylvania, and New York University, a plan which provides that a limited number of picked students from each of these institutions shall be trained annually by the bank for posts of responsibility in foreign fields. The bank will take in June of each year from one to three sophomores and from one to three seniors from each of the six universities. The sophomores will agree to spend their summer vacations in the bank's offices in New York, and will be under moral, but not legal, obligation to accept permanent positions if they meet the requirements of the bank. These men will receive $50 per month and railroad fare to and from New York. Two summer vacations and a period of six months, embracing roughly the first or second term of the senior year, will complete the course of training. During that time the men will study in classes such subjects as banking, credits, foreign exchange, commercial geography, and foreign languages. The progress of each man will be carefully watched. If he meets the required standards of the bank he will get a post in its foreign service in Europe, South America, or the Orient.

Professor A. A. Young, of the department of economics, will make the recommendations from Cornell. The bank stipulates that character, personality, scholarship, knowledge of a foreign language, and practical business experience shall be considered in choosing the men. More than thirty Cornell undergraduates have already made application for positions.

Professor Young will soon bring before the University Faculty the question whether university credit should be given, as the bank desires, for time spent in its employment during the senior year.

The same plan was presented recently in Chicago by officers of the National City Bank to representatives from six large middle western universities—Chicago, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Northwestern, and Illinois.

A statement issued by the bank says:

"The development of American foreign commerce and its advancement after the war, in face of the keen competition which may be expected, demands that American business interests in the foreign field must be conducted by Americans. Years ago the English and Germans recognized the principle that a lasting foreign trade was dependent upon the exportation of their men fully as much as the exportation of their commercial products and capital. Most of all, the development of American foreign commerce depends upon the character and training of the men who are to carry on the work. * * *

"Following the successful example of the German and English banks, the National City Bank, in the establishment of its branches in South America, endeavored to select only young Americans for its service, and met at once with the difficulty of finding young men properly trained to fill its positions of responsibility abroad.

"The future success of American foreign commerce rests with the placing of American business interests abroad in the hands of Americans. Young men are needed who know the language and customs of the country where they will be stationed, who can acquire the foreigner's manner of doing business with an appreciation of his point of view, and who still can retain their loyalty to the United States and the development of American commerce. Heretofore our young men have not had the training which would fit them for this service.

"After carefully investigating the situation, the bank decided that it was necessary to work out certain practical courses of study and to create what in effect is a school of its own, for the purpose of training young men along practical banking lines. Last August twenty young college graduates were taken from a number of universities, organized into a class and put through a definite training. The class as a whole has justified the initial experiment."

130 BUSTED OUT

One hundred and thirty students have been dropped from the University for failure in the midyear examinations. The number in each college is as follows: Arts and sciences, 41; law, 11; medicine (Ithaca division), 1; veterinary, 6; agriculture, 26; civil engineering, 21; mechanical engineering, 24. The College of Architecture did not drop any. The number of students dropped last year was 142.

A COMMITTEE of students is canvassing this week for contributions to various war relief funds. Each contributor names the fund to which his gift is to go—Belgian, Armenian, Polish, or Jewish.

Pennsylvania Wins in Debate
Cornell Successful Against Columbia—
The Question of "Preparedness"

The Cornell triangular debating teams Friday night finished second in the contest for the championship. The affirmative trio defeated Columbia in Ithaca, and the negative team lost to Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. Pennsylvania, by defeating Columbia also, captured the 1916 championship. It was the first time since 1913 that any one of the three universities had won both its debates. The judges' decisions in favor of Pennsylvania were unanimous in both debates.

Cornell's affirmative team was composed of H. A. Wichelns '16, of Brooklyn, leader; R. H. Blanchard '17, of Niagara Falls; and J. G. Schurman, jr., '17, of Ithaca.

The question under debate was expressed thus: "Resolved, that the proposed Administration policy of armament increase is demanded by the best interests of the United States."

Schurman, who spoke first, pointed out the likelihood of war. The United States, he said, was committed to policies and to the protection of possessions in a manner that might easily involve the nation in international disputes. Wichelns outlined the Administration's plan for a continental army and for gradual increase of the navy, and sought to demonstrate its adequacy for present needs. Blanchard showed the importance of the proposed improvements in the coast defences, and refuted successfully some of the arguments of his opponents. His success in the final rebuttal probably turned the tide for the affirmative. The judges, A. C. Flick of Syracuse, J. W. VanAllen of Buffalo, and H. W. Fitch of Canandaigua, voted two to one in favor of Cornell.

Cornell's negative team, which was defeated by Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, consisted of C. N. Whitman '16, of Ithaca, leader; L. H. Jayne '16, of East Setauket; and W. H. Farnham '18, of Buffalo. They argued against the plan on the ground that it was totally inadequate for the needs of the country, but the judges voted unanimously in favor of the affirmative.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Oscar Frederick Priester '17, of Davenport, Iowa, has been elected chairman of the Freshman Advisory Committee for next year. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity and is a brother of W. F. Priester '15.

How the Freshmen Were Helped Advisory Committee Reports on its Work for the Year—Visited 1150 Men

The report of the chairman of the Freshman Advisory Committee (Weyland Pfeiffer '16, of Scarsdale), covering the committee's work in 1915, indicates that this organization is still increasing its usefulness. Its plan of visits to freshmen by members of the two upper classes was put into operation in the fall of 1912. Since then the work has grown to include an information service, inspection of rooming houses, supervision of room agencies, and hearing of complaints arising between landladies and freshman tenants. The enforcement of the "freshman rules" has just been added to the committee's duties. The committee consists of twenty-one seniors, including the chairman, and sixty-three juniors, eighty-four men altogether, who work in units of four. The report says:

"Much was done to better the rooming house conditions, and to assist the freshmen in making their selection of suitable quarters. Mr. C. E. Cornell, a member of the University Board of Trustees, visited the various rooming houses and compiled a list of those houses which he thought offered desirable living conditions in respect to such matters as heat, light, ventilation, plumbing, and fire protection. As a result several houses which did not appear on last year's list were added to this year's list. The list, in the form of a booklet, was sent to every freshman of whom the Registrar had any record, together with a letter explaining the function of the committee, and a copy of the Standard Contract.

"As there had been several adverse criticisms of last year's Standard Rooming Contract a notice was inserted in the Cornell Daily Sun, the ALUMNI NEWS, and the two Ithaca daily papers asking for suggestions from landladies, undergraduates, and alumni to be used in the formation of a new contract. Since only four replies were received from this notice the contract was changed in very few essential points."

One of these few changes was the adoption of a provision that if the tenant leave the University he shall pay to the proprietor one-half the contract rental "for the balance of the year" instead of "for the balance of the term."

"This contract," the chairman says, "has proved very satisfactory, and I would recommend that it be retained by the new committee, with the addition of a signature in duplicate by the student's parent or guardian. Such complaints as have been received have been settled out of court by the arbitration committee specified in the contract and composed of Lieut. Twesten [the University Proctor], Mr. C. E. Cornell, and the present chairman of the Freshman Advisory Committee. One case was taken to court by a landlady, but the judge refused to hear the case until the matter had been acted upon by the arbitration committee above mentioned."

The committee received applications from several student organizations which wished to act as "The Authorized Rooming Agency." The work was ultimately given to The Student Agencies, and the reports show that they did their work satisfactorily. They placed about three hundred men at an average room rental of $2.71 a week. The report goes on:

"In order to stop unnecessary confusion at the depots when the freshmen arrived in the fall the chairman asked the business managers of the various undergraduate publications to sign an agreement to keep their competitors away from the trains until the third of October. The various laundries in Ithaca were approached in the same manner and complied with the request. In this way confusion was lessened to a great extent. However, a number of unauthorized rooming agencies and transfer agencies sprang up and used various devices to confuse the freshmen and to make them think that these agencies were authorized. As a result, of course, considerable strife resulted. In order to stop any possible violence Mayor Tree kindly consented to post a uniformed policeman at the stations. This officer was at hand when all important trains came in, and was of great help in maintaining order. A member of the Freshman Advisory Committee was also on hand to lend any possible assistance in directing the freshmen."

Only one information booth was maintained by the committee and that was in Goldwin Smith Hall. It was operated during the two days of freshman registration. The results show that four hundred and forty freshmen used the booth.

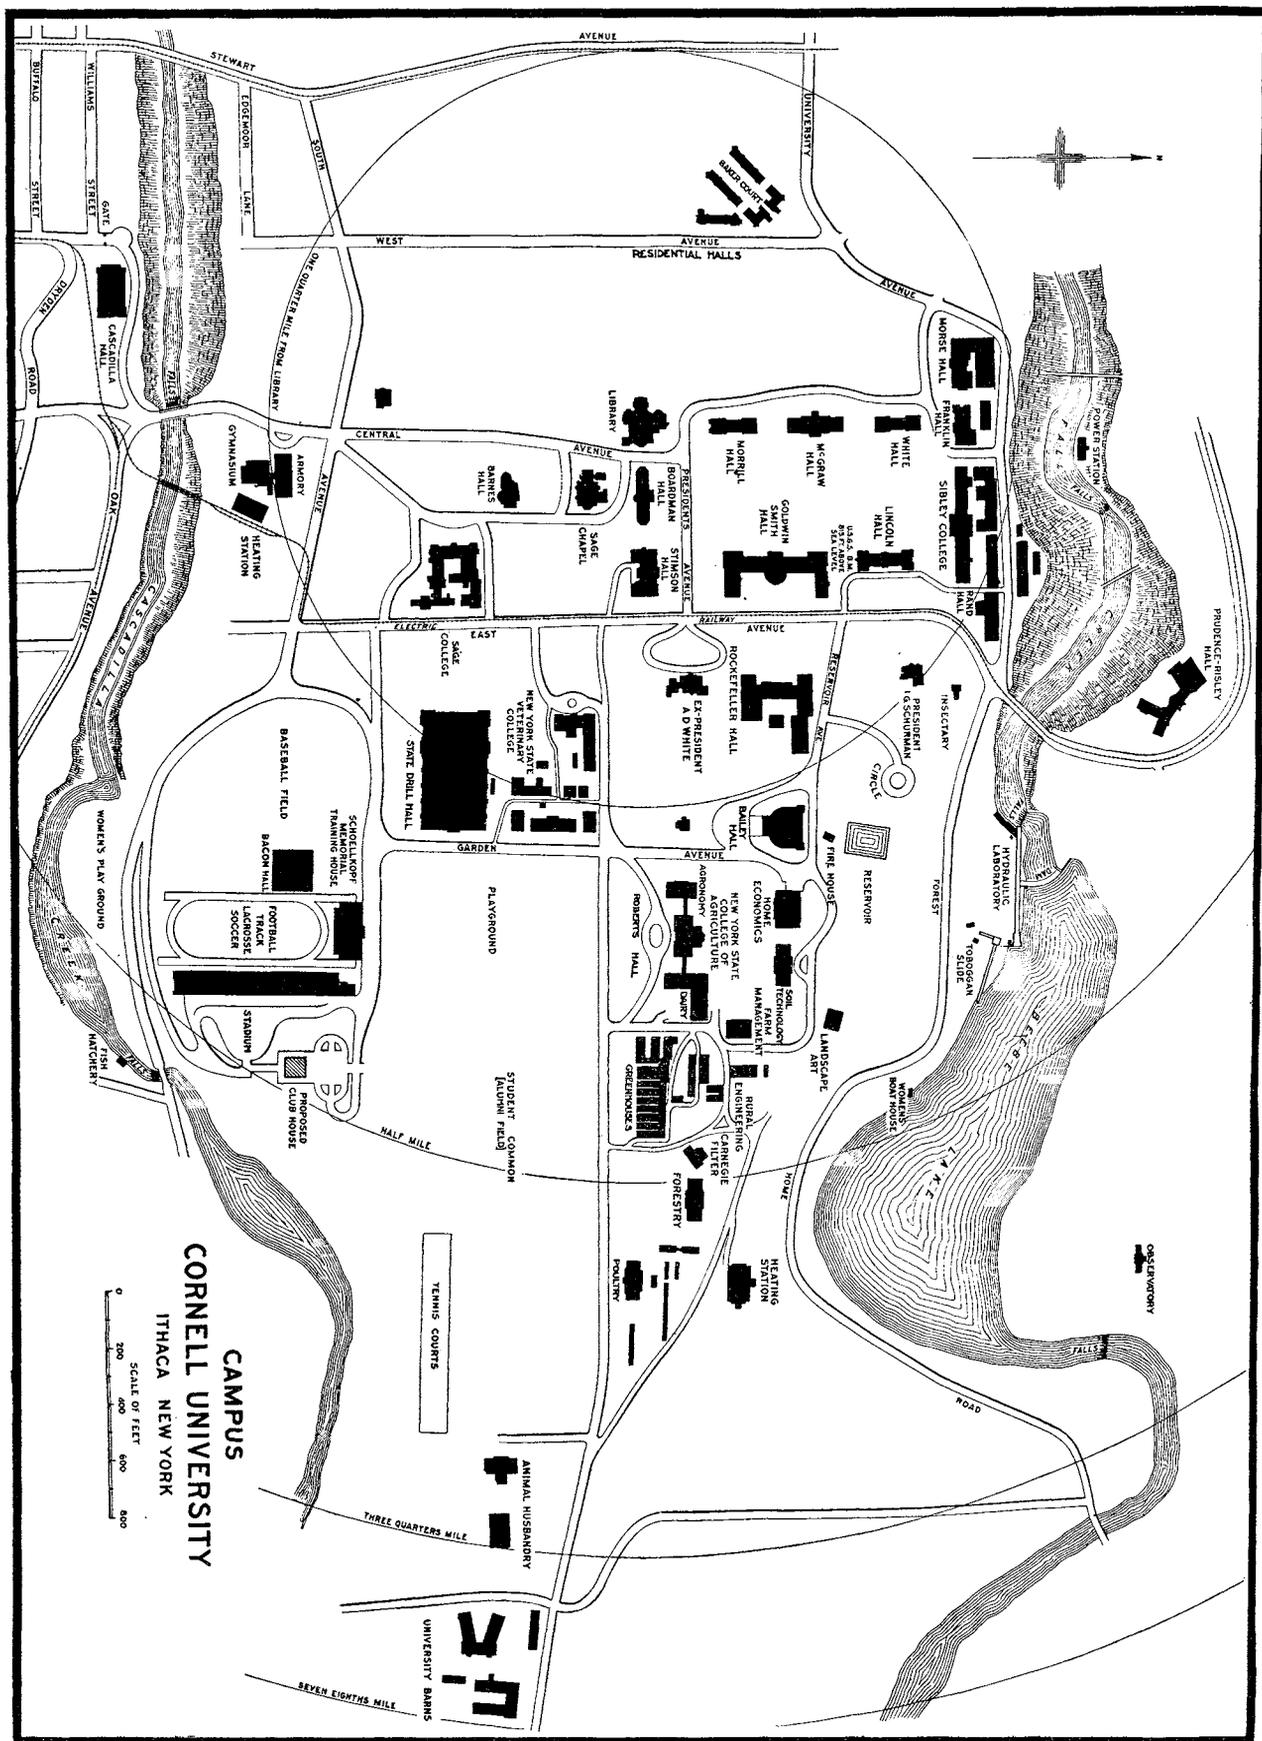

The chairman recommends that the information booth be maintained next year, and that there be a similar booth in Sibley Dome during the time of the freshman entrance examinations. He recommends that the freshmen be advised to have mail sent to that booth in care of the committee, and that they have their marks sent there also. Mr. Hoy, he says, has signified his willingness to co-operate in the plan.

The best part of the work accomplished, the chairman thinks, was the personal visits to the freshmen by the members of the committee. Each member had, on an average, twenty men to visit. Every member was required to sign an agreement to discuss no fraternity matters with the freshmen. With each freshman was left a printed card reading "Freshman Advisory Committee: introducing Mr. ———," which he might retain for future reference in case he needed the services of the committee. Each visitor was required to hand in a report covering certain points.

"It was found by these reports that of the eleven hundred and fifty men visited, one hundred and thirty-two lived in the College Avenue [Huestis Street] section, one hundred and nine in the Dryden Road section, and one hundred and twenty-seven in the Stewart Avenue section; these sections proved to be the most popular among the freshmen. It was learned also that about three hundred and thirteen freshmen hired their rooms through The Student Agencies, thirty-nine used independent agents, and the remainder hired their rooms through friends or by themselves. This shows an increase over last year in the use of the official agents. The use of the Standard Contract also seems to be increasing, for whereas last year two hundred and eight used the contract, this year four hundred and fifty-one used it; fifty-eight used an independent contract and the remainder used none at all. In regard to the condition of the rooms visited, in a very few cases have they been poor and in these cases the fact has been brought to the attention of the landlady by a member of the committee. A number of men were found who needed work badly; in all cases they were referred to the C. U. C. A., and work was also looked up for them by the committee. * * *

"A number of houses were reported for not having suitable fire protection. A few of these were among those included in the official rooming list and I would suggest that either these be taken off the list this year or else that the proprietors be made to install sufficient fire protection. As to the houses not listed, I would suggest that the proprietors be asked to install fire escapes of some standard variety, together with fire extinguishers."

The chairman notes that members of the committee visited the freshmen who entered the University at the beginning of the second term.

THE MAP on the preceding page is printed here for the purpose of showing the more recent Campus developments. It shows the beginnings of the system of student residence halls. The great size of the new drill hall is well indicated. In some respects the map is not entirely accurate. The Fuertes Observatory has not yet been rebuilt on its new site north of Beebe Lake. The baseball section of Alumni Field is not correctly outlined on this map: the field will extend further to the southwest and there will be a sharper curve in South Avenue at that point.

THE FRATERNITIES which do their rushing in the second term have agreed not to pledge any freshmen who are dropped from the University for failure in the work of the first term. This might be taken as a hopeful sign that the fraternities here are beginning to establish scholastic standards for their members. But such a hope as that is premature. This agreement is simply a natural result of second term rushing. The requirement that a freshman must complete one term of university work before he is eligible to membership in a fraternity was made to insure uniformity of rushing and not with an eye on scholastic standards. But, whatever its reason may have been, its effect is pretty sure to be good. Freshmen who look forward to membership in fraternities will have an additional motive, though it may not be a very high one, for keeping up their work. It may even come to be good form for freshmen to work hard in their first term, and to forego idleness and frivolity. At any rate, the freshman who has come here merely because it is the fashion to go to college and who is interested more in his social than in his educational opportunities will be less likely to satisfy a social ambition without paying a price in hard work. The effect may be beneficial to him, and it is pretty sure to be beneficial to his classmates. The rule will tend to eliminate idlers from the fraternity houses, and that will be a good thing for the fraternities.

PHILADELPHIA BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Cornell Club of Philadelphia will be held at the Adelphia Hotel at 6:30 p. m., Saturday, March 18. A steak dinner, with embellishments, has been arranged for. Al Sharpe will be present, movies taken in Ithaca will be shown, and there will be other attractions.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Several members of the Cornell University Club of Northern California enjoyed their annual banquet Saturday evening, February 26, at the University Club in San Francisco. Leroy R. Goodrich, Thomas Building, Oakland, was elected president, and S. W. Foster, 201 Sansome Street, San Francisco, was elected secretary-treasurer for the ensuing year.

The club has a large membership and some of the members are sharpening sticks to pry up the slow movers for better attendance at future gatherings, especially for the crew celebration dinner in June and the football blowout in November. It is hoped that all Cornell men, whether members of the club or not, who can be in San Francisco on June 25 or November 25 will notify the secretary and attend these dinners, for an enjoyable evening is assured at both meetings.

JOHN R. MOTT '88 will preach in Sage Chapel on March 12. On the afternoon of that day he will preach in Bailey Hall.

Women's Club of Ithaca

Proceedings at the Annual Meeting for Women of the Senior Class

The Cornell Women's Club of Ithaca held its annual meeting for the women of the senior class on the afternoon of February 26 in the drawing-room of Sage College.

Several undergraduates addressed the club. Miss M. L. Morris '17, one of a group of seven girls doing co-operative housekeeping in an apartment on Eddy Street, told how they were able to secure room and board, a telephone, and the rental of a piano for $3.75 a week each. This scheme of co-operative houses for small groups in charge of upperclass girls is an experiment on the part of Mrs. Martin, Adviser of Women, to help solve the housing problem.

Miss Emily Schultze '17 spoke of the dramatic activities of the women. Miss Alma Wichelns '15, now assistant in the department of physical training, told of several innovations in the department, among them the organization of a normal class, which now has an enrollment of nineteen. The gymnasium with its equipment has now become quite inadequate, Miss Wichelns said, and she urged a campaign among women graduates and undergraduates to raise money for a much needed new one. To this plea Miss Gertrude Bates, president of "Sports and Pastimes," added another for a new gig for the crews. She also announced that in the spring the girls were going out for baseball and that a series of games is to be played by four teams from Sage College, four from Prudence Risley, and others from outside houses.

Mrs. Willard Beahan of Cleveland, president of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs, addressed the seniors particularly, urging them to join Cornell clubs and to take an interest in Cornell affairs even after graduation.

The club voted $25, made by the sale of its "Sandwich Book," to be given to the Pageant Committee and $10 as a gift to the Y. W. C. A.

ALEXANDER MEIKLEJOHN, president of Amherst College, who took his doctor's degree at Cornell in 1897, lectured before the College of Arts and Sciences this week on "The liberal college."

The Sun has elected Alpheus W. Smith, of the freshman class, to its board of editors. The new editor is the son of Albert W. Smith '78, dean of Sibley College.

ANNUAL INSPECTION of the cadet corps will be held on May 5 and 6.

ATHLETICS

Basketball

Cornell Gets Third Place

The defeat by Pennsylvania in the Armory Monday night spoiled the team's chances to tie for the league title. Pennsylvania again leads the league, and has no more games to play. The result of the Cornell-Princeton game, to be played in Ithaca on March 9, will determine the championship. Should Cornell win, the title will be Pennsylvania's. If Princeton wins, the Tigers and Quakers will divide the championship. Cornell is certain to end the season in third place. The league's standing:

	Won	Lost	Grade
Pennsylvania.....	8	2	.800
Princeton.....	7	2	.778
Cornell.....	5	4	.556
Yale.....	4	5	.444
Dartmouth.....	3	7	.300
Columbia.....	1	8	.111

Cornell 44, Columbia 13

The Columbia team was overwhelmed in the Armory last Saturday night. The final score was 44 to 13. Cornell's total was the highest made in any league game by any team this year. It was due not so much to brilliant playing as to the loose guarding of the weak Columbia five. Cornell had scored 17 points before the New Yorkers caged a single goal, and the first half ended with the score standing 33 to 3. Cornell might well have passed the fifty mark had not Dr. Sharpe sent in the scrubs early in the second half. The summary:

Cornell		Columbia
Brown.....	right forward	Kornsand
Lunden.....	left forward	Leonard
Sutterby.....	center	Burghard

Goals from field—Sutterby 6, Brown 5, Shelton 4, Lunden 2, Austin 1, Greenwald 1; Littauer 2, Wilbur 1. Goals from fouls—Brown 5, Sutterby 1, Leonard 7. Substitutions—Ortner for Lunden, Flock for Brown, Allen for Flock, Howard for Sutterby, Roth for Shelton, Greenwald for Austin, Wegener for Wilbur. Referee—Reed, Springfield. Umpire—Powell, Buffalo.

Pennsylvania 10, Cornell 9

The game with Pennsylvania was a close and hard fought struggle. Less scoring was done than in any other league game this year. Both teams were playing on the defensive the larger part of the time, and the guarding was unusually close. The score at the end of the first half was 6 to 2 in favor of Pennsylvania. Sutterby's field goal was the only score by Cornell in this period. Brown missed all four of his chances to score from the foul line. During the second half Pennsylvania did not score once from the field, while Cornell made three field goals. The accurate foul shooting of McNichol for Pennsylvania was the determining factor. He had four chances to score in the second half and took advantage of each one of them. After Shelton's field goal had tied the score 9—all toward the close of the game Cornell fouled and McNichol caged his fourth shot from the foul line. Leading by one point, with time almost up, the Penn five resorted to strategic delays. Keeping the ball near their own basket they tossed it back and forth with great cleverness, taking no chance of losing the ball by shooting for Cornell's goal. Their policy was successful, for time was called before the Cornell five could get the ball. It was Pennsylvania's ability to keep the ball moving rapidly that won the game as much as McNichol's remarkable foul shooting. Cornell was the stronger and heavier team and shot more accurately for the basket. The summary:

Cornell		Pennsylvania
Brown.....	right forward	Martin
Lunden.....	left forward	Williamson
Sutterby.....	center	Jefford

Substitute—Connelly for Williamson. Referee—Tom Thorpe of Columbia.

Dartmouth 29, Cornell 24

Dartmouth clearly outclassed Cornell in a fast game in the Armory on February 29, and won a decisive victory by the score of 29 to 24. The New Hampshire team, which had been playing poorly all year, found itself that night and played a brilliant game throughout. Cornell started out well and was leading 6 to 2 after the first few minutes of play, but Dartmouth soon evened the score at 8 all and forged rapidly ahead. The first half ended with the score 14 to 10 in the Green's favor. At the beginning of the second half Sutterby scored from the field and Brown dropped a goal from the foul line before Dartmouth got started, but the visitors soon began a brilliant spurt which put them away ahead. With the score standing 23 to 13 the Cornell five tried desperately to regain lost ground. Dartmouth was smothered for a time, but many of Cornell's shots from the field went astray from over-anxiety to score, and frequent fouls were called for careless blocking and holding. Dartmouth's lead, however, was cut down to three points. There the progress stopped. Rector's field goal and Sisson's foul goal brought Dartmouth's total up to 29. Brown scored the last basket of the game, and the end came with Dartmouth five points ahead. The summary:

Cornell		Dartmouth
Brown.....	right forward	Rau
Sutterby.....	center	Steenrod
Austin.....	right guard	Sisson

Fencing

Columbia 5, Cornell 4

Columbia defeated Cornell by a score of 5 to 4 in the first fencing match of the season. The bouts were held in Barnes Hall last Saturday. Captain Mouquin of Columbia won all three of his bouts, two of them by the narrow margin of one point. The strength of the two teams was nearly equal, as is shown by the fact that Cornell, although losing the odd bout, scored 72 touches to Columbia's 68. Captain Stanton, of the Cornell team, is unable to fence at present because of a recent illness. He is expected to be in shape in time for the intercollegiate meet. The summary:

P. de Lima '16—Lost to Allison, 7 to 8; defeated Arnaud, 8 to 2; and lost to Mouquin, 6 to 7.

O. M. da Costa '16—Defeated Arnaud, 8 to 7; lost to Mouquin, 5 to 6; and defeated Allison, 13 to 11.

N. M. Davies '16—Lost to Mouquin, 2 to 6; lost to Allison, 9 to 11; defeated Arnaud, 14 to 10.

Wrestling

Cornell 28, Columbia 0

Cornell won every bout in a wrestling meet with Columbia held in New York on March 3. The score was 28 to 0. In every one of the seven classes the Cornell man gained a fall on his opponent. Not one of the bouts went the full nine minutes. The summary:

115-pound class—H. MacKenzie '16 threw Rosenzweig in two minutes ten seconds.

125-pound class—J. Wigsten '17 threw Rosenthal in three minutes forty seconds.

135-pound class—R. K. Reynolds '17 threw Barish in one minute five seconds.

145-pound class—E. S. Post '17 threw Cohen in three minutes fifty seconds.

158-pound class—F. C. Sager '16 threw Girdner in seven minutes forty seconds.

175-pound class—J. A. McKeage '16 threw Krulewitz in three minutes fifty seconds.

Heavyweight class—H. Snyder '16 threw Raegner in two minutes forty-three seconds.

Cornell 19, Pennsylvania 7

The team won its third straight dual meet when it defeated Pennsylvania at Philadelphia Saturday night by a score of 19 to 7. Cornell won four falls and one decision, while Pennsylvania could get only one fall and one decision. Two of the bouts were very close, and were decided only by means of an extra period. In the 135-pound class R. K. Reynolds '17 and Kiser, of Pennsylvania, wrestled nine minutes to a draw, but Reynolds threw his opponent in the first extra period. In the 145-pound class E. S. Post '17 lost to Captain Milligan, of Penn, by a very narrow margin. Two extra periods were necessary, and Milligan won by staying on top of Post 14 seconds longer in one period than Post could keep the Penn man down in the other. Pennsylvania's champion Greek, Dorizas, made short work of Cornell's heavyweight, Snyder. It took him just one minute and fourteen seconds to pin Snyder's shoulders to the mat. The summary:

115-pound class—H. Mackenzie '16 threw Service, Penn, in 6 minutes 49 seconds.

125-pound class—J. Wigsten '17 threw Olsen, Penn, in 3 minutes 44 seconds.

135-pound class—R. K. Reynolds '17 threw Kiser, Penn, in 10 minutes 28 seconds.

145-pound class—Milligan, Penn, won decision from E. S. Post '17, in 15 minutes.

158-pound class—F. C. Sager '16 won on decision from Levin, Penn, in 9 minutes.

175-pound class—J. A. McKeage '16 threw Statler, Penn, in 5 minutes 20 seconds.

Heavyweight class—Dorizas, Penn, threw H. Snyder '16, in 1 minute 14 seconds.

The Indoor Track Meet

Cornell Teams Win Four of the Events —Second in Four Others

Cornell won a large share of the glory at the second annual indoor meet of the I. C. A. A. A., held at Madison Square Garden, New York, last Saturday night. Four of the events were won by the Cornell teams. Yale also won four events. Cornell took four seconds, two thirds, and a fifth place. Yale entered only one other event, and took third place in that.

Cornell teams won the 75-yard hurdles, the shot-put, the broad jump, and the 24-lap team race. A. W. Richards '17 was the best individual performer in the meet. He won first place in the high jump and the broad jump, and finished second in the shot-put. In the high jump he defeated Oler, of Yale, who defeated him last May at the inter-collegiate outdoor meet. Richards's mark was 6 feet 3 inches, one inch better than Oler's. He won the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet 3 inches, and put the shot 43 feet 5 3-4 inches, four inches less than D. F. Cross, of Michigan, who won the event. Cornell's other individual winners were F. H. Starr '16 in the hurdles and Captain J. S. Hoffmire '16 in the 24-lap team race.

The five Cornell men in the shot-put averaged 40 feet 3-4 inch, just a foot more than the Michigan team, which finished second. In the broad jump Cornell averaged 21.4 feet, nearly a foot more than the Pennsylvania team, which won second place.

In the 24-lap race, a distance of 2 2-5 miles, Cornell finished first, second, third, and fifth. This race was scored by the cross-country system. Hoffmire won by about 40 yards. F. J. Burke '16 was second, J. C. Corwith '16 was third, and A. H. Main '16 was fifth. All of these men ran on the cross-country team last fall.

Cornell's high hurdlers took their event by a wide margin. Starr and L. E. Gubb '16 were first and third, respectively, in the finals, and H. E. Millard '16 was not eliminated until the semi-finals, when he tripped badly on a hurdle. Watt, the other Cornell entrant, did not survive the preliminaries.

Cornell finished a close second to Yale in the six-lap relay. Each man ran 1 1-5 miles. H. E. Irish '16, C. L. Beckwith '16, and D. F. Potter '16, ran the first three places for Cornell, and Potter gave L. V. Windnagle '17 a lead of several yards on Overton, of Yale, the cross-country champion. Overton cut down the Cornell man's lead and won easily in the last lap.

The Cornell two-lap relay team, composed of A. F. VanWinkle '16, W. C. Bartsch '17, J. S. Lewis '16, and W. B. Shelton '18, lost a close race to Princeton. The first three men gained a slight lead, but Moore, of the Tiger team, was too much for Shelton in a close finish.

In the twelve-lap relay the Cornell team was made up of several men who had run previous races. M. I. T. was an easy winner, but the Cornell four, Windnagle, Taylor, Beckwith, and Potter, beat out Columbia for second place.

The Cornell pole vaulting team, F. K. Foss '17, F. M. Gillies '18, J. H. Moore '16, M. G. Cheney '16, and R. F. Luce '17 averaged 10 feet 10 3-5 inches, and took second place. Yale won the event with an average mark of 11 feet 3-5 inch. Foss tied for first place with Buck, of Yale, and Newstetter and Sewell, Pennsylvania, at 12 feet. Gillies, the big tackle on the varsity football team, cleared 11 feet 6 inches in this event.

The high-jumping team averaged 5 feet 7.8 inches and was third in the event. Yale and Penn took first and second places. The medley relay race was won by Harvard, with Cornell third. The race was run in relays of two, four, six, and eight laps. The Cornell dash men fared badly in the preliminary heats. J. S. Lewis '16 reached the semi-finals, but was eliminated there.

Harvard Gets Track Meet

Stanford Admitted to the I. C. A. A. A. A. but Pittsburgh Is Rejected

Harvard will conduct the next track and field championship of the I. C. A. A. A. A., the forty-first, at Cambridge on May 26 and 27. This decision was reached with scarcely any opposition at the meeting of the executive and advisory committees of the organization in New York last Saturday.

Three other important matters received attention: A new constitution and by-laws were adopted in accordance with the recommendations of the conference on amateurism held last December; Stanford University was elected to membership in the Association; and the application of the University of Pittsburgh was rejected. The reasons for dismissing the application of Pittsburgh were given as follows in the New York Tribune of last Sunday:

"The California institution has maintained a standard of eligibility in keeping with the ideals of the I. C. A. A. A. A., and its application was gladly accepted.

"The University of Pittsburgh, on the other hand, was said not to have adopted the same uncompromising attitude in its allegiance to the amateur propaganda. Summer baseball has been sanctioned there, and it was otherwise asserted that the general standard of Pittsburgh's athletics did not at this time warrant it being taken into the association.

"Charles B. Miller, physical director at Pittsburgh, made an eloquent appeal on behalf of his school, but without avail. Penn State College, Pennsylvania and the College of the City of New York were the only three of fifteen colleges represented at the meeting that favored Pittsburgh's admission."

D. M. Lake, Princeton '16, was elected president of the association for the ensuing year. The executive committee was enlarged from four to six men, and P. F. Sanborne '16, the Cornell manager, was elected a member of it.

SKIS AND GOLOSHES were still in daily use when the first call for candidates for the collegiate crews went out this week. Only nineteen men responded. It is expected that the number will increase greatly as soon as the ice goes out of the Inlet.

OBITUARY

John G. Webster '82

John Gurden Webster, B.S., '82, died on January 11, 1916, at Painted Post, N. Y., at the age of fifty-nine. He graduated from the medical school of the University of Buffalo in 1884, and for many years he was one of the leading physicians of Corning, N. Y. His wife and a stepdaughter survive him.

Abraham Knechtel '01

Abraham Knechtel, a graduate of the College of Forestry with the degree of F.E. in the Class of 1901, died on December 10, 1915, at Ottawa, Canada. He was chief forester of the parks branch, department of the interior, Dominion of Canada. In a notice of his death The Civilian, the official paper of the Dominion civil service department, says:

"Mr. Knechtel was fifty-six years of age and was born in Brussels, Ont. He was one of the pioneers in scientific forestry on this continent. From Michigan Agricultural College he was graduated in 1900, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science. He then took a special forestry course at Cornell University, receiving the degree of Forest Engineer. For seven years prior to his coming to Ottawa to take up work in the Forestry Branch, he was attached to the Forest, Fish and Game Commission of the State of New York, and in that connection laid out the first forest plantation established by the state. In 1904 he was sent to the St. Louis Exposition to lay out a forest nursery there for the Commission. In recognition of his services there he received a special medal. In the same year he was sent by the New York Commission to Europe to study forest conditions and practice there. Since becoming connected with the Canadian Civil Service in 1908 he had been widely known, not only in his official capacity but also as a popular lecturer. He was one of the men whose great work it has been to arouse interest and pride in the Dominion's priceless forest reserves. His early death is widely regretted. A widow, two sons and two daughters survive him."

H. H. Emerson '13

Harry Holman Emerson, C.E., '13, died at Conneaut, Ohio, on February 28. He was run over and killed by a locomotive. He had been a draftsman with the Bessemer & Lake Erie Railroad there since his graduation. On January 24 he was made acting supervisor of structures and he held that office at the time of his death. His home was in Bath, N. Y.

ALUMNI NOTES

'71, A.B.—Justice P. C. J. De Angelis of the Supreme Court of the State of New York has been designated by Governor Whitman to be a Judge of the Appellate Division of that court in the fourth department. He succeeds the late Judge James A. Robson. The assignment of Justices to the Appellate Division is for a term of four years. Judge De Angelis's term of office as Supreme Court Justice will expire December 31, 1920. His home is in Utica.

'80, B.S.—Professor William Trelease of the department of botany of the University of Illinois has been elected president of the Illinois Academy of Science.

'96, LL.B.—Captain Edward Davis, 13th Cavalry, U. S. A., has been detailed as military attaché to the United States Legation in Athens. He has been with his regiment at Columbus, New Mexico. He came to Ithaca early this week for the purpose of consulting President Schurman, former Minister at Athens, and from here he went to Washington.

'97—Herbert Gouverneur Ogden '97, who has withdrawn from the firm of Sheffield & Betts, and Henry Sheldon '97, who was associated with that firm, have formed a copartnership under the firm name of Ogden & Sheldon, with offices in the Equitable Building, 120 Broadway, New York, where they will continue the practice of patent, trademark and copyright law.

'98, LL.B.—The unofficial Democratic state convention, held at Syracuse last week, designated candidates for delegates and alternates at large to the national convention, to be voted for at the spring primaries. John J. Kuhn of Brooklyn is the first on the list of four alternates.

'99, Sp.—F. M. Nellis, special representative of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company, has changed his address from Boston to 69 Fairmount Road, Ridgewood, N. J.

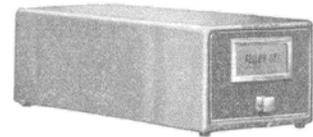

'02, M.E.—J. P. Kittredge, manager of the National Malleable Castings Company, Sharon, Pa., has a son, Donald Filley, born February 10, 1916.

College Men and Business Men and Professional Men Need This Data File

Did you ever keep an index of readings, of references, of lectures—or a handy little file of clippings, technical data, useful information and ideas that are useful to you personally? It certainly is convenient and valuable.

This Data File consists of a one-drawer steel Cardfile for 4x6 cards; 125 guide cards for indexing; 500 buff color ruled 4x6 cards; and a pocket-case of black seal-grain leather.

Put a dozen cards in the leather pocket case and you have a note book and idea-collector always on hand. Comes in handy for taking lectures, noting references etc.,—later you file them in your Cardfile and there they are when you want them.

The Cardfile is attractively finished in hand-rubbed Olive green enamel and has satin-finished brass knob and label-holder. It is only fourteen inches long—there's a place for it on your desk.

The outfit costs $10.00.

Simply pin your check or a ten dollar bill to this ad—or ask for a Baker-Vawter Data File. Add 80 cents and you can have a Corbin lock on the Cardfile.

'11, M.E.—John Macdonald Grant, of Brisbane, Australia, has been serving as an officer in the British expeditionary force on the Gallipoli peninsula. That he left there safely when the force was withdrawn appears from a postcard which he sent to a friend in New York. The card was one of the printed forms used in the British army, and read: "I am quite well. I have received your letter dated Nov. 14. Letter follows at first opportunity." The card was dated January 22 and was postmarked "1st Aust. Divisional Train, Field P. O." January 24. Grant was a lieutenant of the Australian Engineers in Brisbane and volunteered for the expeditionary force in August 1914. When he was in college he was a candidate for the freshman crew and in his senior year he was captain of the cricket team. He may be addressed in care of the Australian Signal Corps.
