

Every Cornellian's Paper

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

In the News this Week: Alfred D. Warner '00 and James W. Parker '08, Alumni Trustees, Report on Stewardship to Their Electors. Freshman Co-Ed Plays on Polo Team. Varsity and Freshman Cross-Country Beat Alfred in First Meets. Freshman Football Team Shows Promise but Loses to Syracuse.

Volume 37

Number 5

October 25, 1934

Lehigh Valley Service

Your Timetable!

THROUGH CONVENIENT SERVICE TO AND FROM ITHACA

DAILY
Eastern Standard Time

	The Black Diamond	The Star
Lv. New York (Pennsylvania Station).....	11.05 A.M.	11.30 P.M.
Lv. New York (Hudson Terminal).....	11.00 A.M.	11.20 P.M.
Lv. Newark (Park Place-P.R.R.).....	11.00 A.M.	11.30 P.M.
Lv. Newark (Eliz. & Meeker Aves.).....	11.35 A.M.	12.00 Mid.
Lv. Philadelphia (Reading Ter'l, Rdg. Co.).....	11.20 A.M.	11.20 P.M.
Lv. Philadelphia (N. Broad St., Rdg. Co.).....	11.26 A.M.	11.26 P.M.
Ar. Ithaca.....	6.27 P.M.	6.30 A.M.

Sleeping Car may be occupied until 8.00 A.M.

RETURNING
Eastern Standard Time

	The Black Diamond	Train No. 4
Lv. Ithaca.....	12.47 P.M.	10.52 P.M.
Ar. Philadelphia (N. Broad St., Rdg. Co.).....	7.40 P.M.	7.32 A.M.
Ar. Philadelphia (Reading Ter'l, Rdg. Co.).....	7.48 P.M.	7.42 A.M.
Ar. Newark (Eliz. & Meeker Aves.).....	7.51 P.M.	6.49 A.M.
Ar. Newark (Park Place-P.R.R.).....	8.20 P.M.	7.21 A.M.
Ar. New York (Hudson Terminal).....	8.31 P.M.	7.22 A.M.
Ar. New York (Pennsylvania Station).....	8.20 P.M.	7.20 A.M.

New York Sleeping Car open at 9.00 P.M.

Lehigh Valley Railroad

The Route of The Black Diamond

To Users of Good Cross Section Paper

We insist that our plates be accurate. We use rag stock papers in both thicknesses. You can be sure that your records will keep. Our sample book shows the graduations and the description gives the sizes of plates and paper.

Write
Cornell Co-op. Society

Barnes Hall Ithaca, N. Y.

PROFESSIONAL DIRECTORY OF CORNELL ALUMNI

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT

FRANK · S · BACHE · INC.

BETTER BUILDING
Construction Work of Every Description in Westchester County and Lower Connecticut
F. S. BACHE '13
94 Lake Street White Plains, N. Y.

THE BALLOU PRESS

Printers to Lawyers
CHAS. A. BALLOU, JR., '21
69 Beekman St. Tel. Beekman 8785

REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE

Leasing, Selling, and Mortgage Loans

BAUMEISTER AND BAUMEISTER

522 Fifth Ave.
Phone Murray Hill 2-3816
Charles Baumeister '18, '20
Philip Baumeister, Columbia '14
Fred Baumeister, Columbia '24

F. L. CARLISLE & CO., INC.

15 BROAD STREET
NEW YORK

Delaware Registration and Incorporators Company

Inquiries as to Delaware Corporation Registrations have the personal attention at New York office of JOHN T. McGOVERN '00, PRESIDENT
122 E. 42nd Street Phone Ashland 7088

Apartments Business Properties
Country Homes Chain Store Locations

Rostenberg Realty Co. Inc.

L. O. ROSTENBERG, A.B. '26, PRES.
23 Orawaupum St. White Plains, N. Y.
Tel. White Plains 8020-8021
Member Westchester County Realty Board And Real Estate Board at New York

TRUSTEES REPORT TO ALUMNI

Warner and Parker, Alumni Trustees, Give Accounts of Stewardship to Their Electors Upon Completion of Their Terms

By Alfred D. Warner, Jr. '00

In accordance with the controlling rule, I have the honor as my second term comes to a conclusion, to present my report to the Alumni Corporation.

During my seven years of service (on each occasion my election was to fill short term vacancies, respectively three years and four years), it has been my privilege to witness extreme changes in the world of politics, economics, and finance. These changes have brought the administering authorities of our Alma Mater face to face with many unusual problems. The consideration and the disposition of such problems, if you will allow me to say so, is something to merit your sincere confidence and commendation.

Although most of the detail work, as is quite customary and proper, is done within the several standing committees, there is no matter, however small, which does not come before the Board for ratification, and practically all matters of major import or of statutory character, engage directly the Board's consideration followed by appropriate action.

Income Helped by Gifts

A business the size of Cornell University, comprehending resources totalling fifty million dollars, and an annual turnover amounting to between eight and ten million dollars, naturally has been confronted with many problems during the period of the depression, which in general displayed its most devastating effects during the years 1932-3. The matter of reducing revenue, becoming more acute

Alfred D. Warner, Jr. '00

This is the first opportunity the ALUMNI NEWS has had to print the reports, given at the Cornell Alumni Corporation annual meeting June 16, of the two Alumni Trustees whose electoral terms were completed at that time. As resumés of the work of the Board of Trustees by its members who were elected by the alumni, these reports are interesting and important to every graduate of the University.

Alfred D. Warner, Jr. '00 of Wilmington, Delaware, was first elected to the Board by the alumni in June, 1927, to fill the unexpired term of Frederick M. Randall '00, deceased. In 1930 he was reelected Alumni Trustee to fill the unexpired term of Edwin N. Sanderson '87 who had been elected by the Board itself after the death of Colonel Henry W. Sackett '75 to fill Sackett's term. Warner was a member of the Heckscher Research Council. He was not a candidate for reelection as Trustee.

James W. Parker '08 of Detroit, Michigan, was elected Alumni Trustee in June, 1929, to succeed Roger H. Williams '89. He was re-elected by the alumni last June to serve another four-year term. He has been a member of the Trustees' committee on buildings and grounds, and of the Engineering College Council.

each year and still a serious matter, has doubtless reached its low valley for the fiscal year just ending. The budgetary authorities have met this situation from year to year with characteristic courage, and all the elements comprising the university community have contributed in one way and another to enable an approximate balancing of the budget. It can well be understood how difficult it has been to solve this situation, when I remind you that the major source of income, namely that derived from the Endowment Fund assets, has dropped from a yield of 5.25% to about 4.30%. The lessening productivity of other income sources, including contributions through the Cornellian Council, also added to the perplexities of our President and those associated with him on the budget committee. It is to be wished for most earnestly, that their arduous and difficult labors with the budget for the current year and for the new fiscal year beginning next July, will not have to be repeated for many years to come.

Gifts and bequests have been announced from time to time in usual course, but it is not improper to mention again the recent heartening additions to our Endowment coming from former Trustees, Mr. Westinghouse and Mr. Sheppard. Since Cornell's future development, both academic and physical, is so dependent upon contributions of this nature, whether large or small, we can view with approval

(Continued on page 6)

By James W. Parker '08

At the conclusion of five years of service as Trustee of Cornell University, elected by the alumni in June of 1929, I have the honor to present this report to the Alumni Corporation.

I shall presently describe briefly some of the occurrences during these five years, which appear to me to be of especial interest to the alumni; but first I should like to draw attention to the significance of certain characteristics of the University's organization which I believe have had an important influence upon the institution's attainments thus far and will have upon its future development. I refer to the part borne by the alumni, not only in the tangible support given through contributions and bequests, but in the shaping of the University's administrative policies.

Alumni Influence Great

Of the thirty-nine members of the Board of Trustees, nine are members ex-officio, and of the remaining thirty, twenty-seven are alumni of the University, some appointed by State authority, but most of them elected either by the Board itself or by the graduates of the institution. The graduates' representation therefore is not confined to the group of alumni they themselves elect. The opportunity thus afforded for alumni influence in the affairs of the University is certainly no inconsiderable one.

Such representation provides the means of intimate observation of the trends of development within the University and of bringing to bear upon those developments the informed opinions of a great body of former students whose interest in the welfare of Cornell is astonishingly vital. If would be a grave mistake to believe that the support for which the University can look confidently to its alumni, is confined to the monetary contributions which they may from time to time find it possible to make.

James W. Parker '08

In addition to their duty as trustees for the University's property, and those statutory responsibilities laid upon them by the Charter which involve ratification of appointments and of all administrative action taken by the officers of the University, the members of the Board of Trustees have an active part in formulating policies which in the years to come will determine the character and spirit of the whole organization. Though most of these matters are initiated by recommendation of the President and the Faculty, the ultimate decision lies with the Trustees. Cornell is happy in the enjoyment of a peculiarly cordial spirit of cooperation which exists between its Faculty and the Trustees, and in the unbounded loyalty and confidence which both entertain for the President of this University.

Of a great many of the things that have happened in the last five years the alumni are already informed, through the reports made each year by other Alumni Trustees, and through the reports and addresses of the President and members of the Faculty.

Meet Financial Problems

The Trustees have looked on sympathetically and, when occasion permitted, with helpfulness at the recurrent problem of budgeting expenses within the available income, and the substantial success with which that problem has been met by the administrative officers of the University. Each year has shown a gradual diminution in the return on invested funds in spite of the painstaking thought given to their prudent management; and each year has seen an apparently inevitable falling off of alumni contributions. It is a satisfaction to look back upon the establishment by the Board, in this period, of the office of Provost and the appointment to that position of a man of rare administrative talent. It is not an exaggeration to say that the shifting from the President of a large part of this burden of financial planning, has made possible his continued improvement in health during the most trying period a president of this University has had to endure since the foundation years.

That the University community has adjusted itself to the economic conditions of the times and that Cornell is by no means crippled by these conditions, are matters within your knowledge. With good sense and wise consideration for the economic difficulties which still beset the alumni, the Cornellian Council has refrained from any active solicitation of new subscriptions to the Alumni Fund and from pressing former subscribers for a renewal of contributions they now find it well-nigh impossible to make. That such a policy has been pursued affords all the more reason for believing that in course of time the income from this source will top the amounts received in the more prosperous past. It is indispensable that the alumni shall continue and presently increase their contributions if the normal development of the activities in which Cornell is rightfully engaged shall not be impaired by reason of the limitations imposed by its present endowment.

Physical Plant Improves

As one becomes more familiar with the plans which have been adopted for the steady improvement of the campus and the buildings of the several colleges, one is struck with a realization of the enduring nature of the establishment. Though changes come slowly, nevertheless continual progress is being made toward finer landscaping and toward more adequate buildings to meet the changing needs of the University. It is a profound satisfaction to know that through the generous provision of the late Colonel Henry W. Sackett, the beauty of the Cascadilla and Fall Creek gorges will be preserved in perpetuity. Moreover, the establishment of a University arboretum is projected on a great tract of land extending along the upper reaches of Fall Creek and Cascadilla and for which much of the land has already been acquired. Cornell is planning for the beautification of its setting through many years to come.

Progress is being made systematically with the development of the plan for student housing, providing as you know for the inclusion of fraternity houses in a comprehensive dormitory group. The character of all the recent buildings, the men's dormitories, the Balch Halls for women, Willard Straight, and now the Myron Taylor Hall, gives evidence of the adequacy of the architectural policy now being followed.

The appointment of the present Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds has proved to have been a very happy choice. Mr. Conant Van Blarcom, a graduate in Mechanical Engineering in the Class of 1908, came to the University in this capacity after long construction experience. He is doing notably good work, of which evidence can be seen in the shipshape look of the grounds, the improved maintenance of the buildings, and the competence with which the whole job is being managed.

The Trustees must from time to time decide policies touching very nearly the current interests of the Faculty and students, as well as of the alumni. Their recent decision to give financial support to the Athletic Association to permit carrying on the spring program of athletics is a case in point. I mention this especially because it has become evident to those who are best informed, that the time has come when the interrelation of intercollegiate and intramural athletics and the responsibility of the University Administration toward both must be reviewed. Quite possibly an altogether new policy should be established. The whole question is one on which thoughtful alumni comment and advice will be useful.

Occasionally the Board has withheld favorable action, as in the case of the Faculty's recommendation that military training be made elective, rather than compulsory for two years, as is now the case. The proposal was studied with care and with the utmost consideration before a decision was reached. I am in entire agreement with that decision on the ground of expediency; though I venture to say that of those who did concur in it, many were actuated by quite divergent motives. It is hard to believe at any rate that the students of the University will be any the worse for the modicum of discipline which compulsory drill introduces.

Some occurrences of real importance have obtained less than their fair share of attention. Early in 1932, the Cornell Research Foundation was incorporated to hold and manage all patents of which the University occasionally becomes possessed, by-products of the mass of scientific research which is continually going on. The Foundation affords the means of controlling the use of such discoveries in the interest of the public and of the University in an orderly and considered fashion.

Engineering College Council

You will be interested, I think, to know that the College of Engineering is finding it possible to make increasing use of the Engineering College Council which is composed of a group of engineering alumni appointed by the Trustees for the purpose of bringing that College in closer touch with its own graduates. The Engineering Faculty has frequently consulted with this Council in the formulation of plans for the improvement of the College and through it has sought the opinions of Cornell engineers on matters of curricular policy.

There is reason to believe that the Council will presently provide the means of enlarging the contact of the Engineering College with the industrial life of the country. It has addressed itself earnestly to increasing the participation in engineering research as one of the most effective ways of strengthening Cornell's influence in the engineering field and in doing so has reflected the almost unanimous opinion of the many Cornell engineers who have been consulted.

The Council believes that the addition of an engineering laboratory is of immediate importance and that the first unit of such a laboratory, designed to serve the needs of all three engineering schools, should be built at moderate cost, without waiting for the larger endowment required for the ultimate building program. In the meantime it has recommended that the College of Engineering so modify its organization as to permit the carrying on and publishing of investigational work by members of the Faculty, many of them men already eminent in their respective fields and capable of making important contributions to engineering progress. It is a great satisfaction to report that in arriving at these conclusions, the Council has continually had the cordial concurrence and support of the President and of the Faculty of the College of Engineering.

The discussions which members of this Council have had with Cornell engineering graduates in a number of different cities have afforded us a new insight into the possibilities of good for Cornell University which lie in taking the alumni into its confidence. Invariably we met with an attitude of thoughtfulness and loyalty that makes one believe that here is a source of supporting strength which the University has only begun to evaluate correctly.

In concluding, I wish to express my great appreciation of the honor of having represented the alumni as a member of the Board of Trustees during the term of office I have just completed.

CHICAGO GOLFERS WIN

Four alumni and a Cornellian-in-law won the university golf tournament at the Chicago Golf Club on October 14 with a score of 375. Ernest P. Waud '05 was captain and the other members of the team were Alden H. Little '02, Albert J. Love '09, David F. Taber, Jr., '16, and H. O. Wetmore, who is Taber's brother-in-law. John J. Bryant, Jr. '98 was manager and trainer of the team, which defeated teams representing Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Dartmouth, and University of Chicago.

DISCUSS WOMEN'S CLUBS

The executive committee of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs met in Ithaca on October 12 during the convention of the Cornell Alumni Corporation, and for breakfast on October 13 with a number of alumnae from the various clubs who had returned for the convention.

Officers and directors present at the meeting on Friday were Mary H. Donlon '20, president of the Federation, Mrs. R. H. Shreve (Ruth Bentley) '02, Mrs. R. W. Sailor (Queenie Horton) '09, Mrs. Nan Willson Bruff '09, Mrs. Robert C. Osborn (Agda Swenson) '20, and Mrs. Thomas G. Ferguson (Irene Davis) '21.

Some thirty alumnae took part in the breakfast discussions of club projects and programs led by Mrs. Shreve, Mrs. Osborn, and Dr. Ferguson, chairmen respectively of the Federation committees on vocational guidance, membership, and alumnae scholarship and loan fund.

About ATHLETICS

POLO TEAM LOSES

A more experienced and better organized Cortland Polo Club four scored a 5 to 4 victory over the Cornell team in a hard-fought encounter on the Cortland field Saturday afternoon.

The Red riders got off to a poor start in the opening chukkers, allowing their opponents to gain a 4 to 1 lead which enabled them to withstand a desperate varsity rally in the latter half of the match. It was only through the fine defensive play of Tom Lawrence that the Cortlandites were kept from piling up a much larger lead in the opening periods.

A. Nathalie Colvocoresses '38, of Phoenix, Ariz. played at the number one position throughout the first chukker, but had little chance to distinguish herself as the superior-offensive power of the Cortland men kept the ball constantly in varsity territory. Bill Eggert replaced her in the next two chukkers, but on reentering the game in the fourth period Miss Colvocoresses barely missed a tally on an exceptional back shot and shortly afterward completed a pass to Jack Lawrence in front of the Cornell goal, enabling him to score easily.

Bob Ames of the Cortland aggregation accounted for three of his team's five scores. On several occasions he became lax in his play, however, and had four fouls called on him. It was in this respect that Cornell lost a golden opportunity to win the match by failing to convert on Women Come Out for Polo—A. Nathalie Colvocoresses '38 (left) of Phoenix, Arizona, comes to the University with polo experience, both on women's teams and on mixed teams at her home. She played half the game against Cortland on Saturday in No. 1 position. Anne N. Simpson '36 (right) of Lyons, N. Y. is a member of the Polo and Riding Club and is reported to be a candidate for the polo squad. (Photo by Morgan) five of six fouls. One of the varsity points resulted through a fluke as the ball glanced off Ames' mallet in front of the Cornell goal for a Red tally.

John C. Lawrence '37 of Smithtown Branch, who counted twice and played a good all around game; his brother Thomas '38, who shone on the defense, and John S. Leslie '35 of Wyckoff, N. J. displayed the best brand of polo exhibited by the team, although Miss Colvocoresses, William E. Eggert, Jr., '35 of Ridgewood, N. J. and Albert J. Lindemann '35 of Milwaukee, Wis. played fine games.

HARRIERS BEAT ALFRED

The cross-country team decisively defeated the harrier squad of Alfred University Saturday, 19-36. They ran over a new course of 4.7 miles, beginning on Tower Road in front of Roberts Hall, out past the heating plant, then to Forest Home, and back and around again.

Captain Bruce Kerr won handily in the good time of 23:39, far ahead of the second man, Java of Alfred. Java led at the end of the first round, but Kerr was close behind and the spectators were not surprised to see him well ahead as they approached the finish. The distance he made up on the second turn around the course was remarkable, as he finished 25 seconds ahead of Java. The order of finish:

1—Kerr, Cornell.....	23:39
2—Java, Alfred.....	24:04
3—Taylor, Cornell.....	24:26
4—Meaden, Cornell.....	24:29
Mezitt, Cornell.....	24:29
6—Bassett, Cornell.....	24:50
7—Chapin, Cornell.....	24:50
8—Dawson, Alfred.....	24:54
9—Oldfield, Alfred.....	25:08
Knapp, Alfred.....	25:08
11—Minick, Alfred.....	25:25
12—Coxwell, Cornell.....	25:26
13—Stalker, Cornell.....	25:40
14—Marry, Cornell.....	25:42
15—Elmer, Cornell.....	25:48
16—Giesecke, Cornell.....	25:49
17—Van Campen, Alfred.....	26:05
18—Sammons, Cornell.....	26:15
19—Crary, Cornell.....	26:17
20—Hodge, Alfred.....	26:18

In a preliminary meet the freshman team gained its first victory, winning from the Alfred yearlings, 23-32 over a 2½ mile course.

Cornell, the leader, was never threatened once the field got under way, even toward the end of the race looking back occasionally to urge on his teammates. The most spectacular footwork of the day was displayed by Bohner, who slowly came up to third place from tenth at the start. He ran abreast of Hughes, number one freshman of Alfred, and fought for second for several hundred yards. In the last 50 steps he put forth his last bit of energy to nose out his adversary.

Coach Moakley expressed the opinion

after the meet that the present freshman cross-country team is one of the best he has ever had. The order of finish:

1—Cornell, Cornell.....	12:25.4
2—Bohner, Cornell.....	12:41
3—Hughes, Alfred.....	12:41.2
4—Kiet, Alfred.....	12:50
5—Loughlin, Cornell.....	12:54
6—Gaffney, Cornell.....	13:24
7—Mickritz, Alfred.....	13:27
8—Vance, Alfred.....	13:29
9—Agor, Cornell.....	13:32
10—Faatz, Cornell.....	13:32
11—Gibbs, Cornell.....	13:34
12—Ryder, Cornell.....	13:35
13—Myers, Alfred.....	13:35.2
14—Tausig, Cornell.....	13:47
15—Tacox, Alfred.....	13:50

NEW FENCING COACH

After a lapse of two years the University again has a paid fencing coach in George Cointe of New York, who was scheduled to arrive October 22 to take charge of the fencing squad. The new coach came to America in 1923, having graduated from the Fencing School of Joindee, France. For the past six years he has been instructor at the Saltus Fencing Club in New York City, and last year he coached the New York University freshman team which won first place at the Intercollegiate. Cointe was endorsed by F. Barnard O'Connor '13, president of the Amateur Fencers' League of America.

FRESHMEN DEFEATED

A fighting freshman football team with several promising performers for later years was defeated 13-7 by the passing game of the Syracuse yearlings on Schoellkopf Field Saturday. A larger-than-average crowd saw the Syracuse team complete two passes to score with touchdowns by Black. Otherwise, play was quite even.

Cornell drew the first blood after three minutes of play as Hooper, Red halfback, paved the way for the score with a magnificent kick. He averaged about 50 yards for the afternoon on his boots and this was a large factor in the Red's game.

Hooper kicked one 55 yards to Syracuse's 9-yard line and Fitzpatrick punted right back for the Orange, but only to the 30-yard line. Hooper then took it through for 5 yards, Syracuse was penalized 5 yards for offside play, and then Hoffman reeled off 8 yards.

Two first downs for the Red and two plunges by Hooper put the ball over for the score. Leventry, former Kiski star, booted the extra point to make it 7-0 for the Red.

Husselby, in as substitute in the Orange backfield, was the spark that set the stage for both of the Orange touchdowns. This wiry runner worked the ball down to the 23-yard mark with his off-tackle slants, and then after Levert threw Richards for a 10-yard loss, this same Richards stepped back and threw a pass to Black over the Cornell goal for the first score for the Orange. Richards then rushed it over for the point to tie the score.

The other Orange score came in the third period with Husselby again leading the advance to the scoring position. After the ball reached the Cornell 10-yard line, the Red team tightened and pushed the Orange yearlings back to the 17-yard line. On fourth down, Richards again threw a long pass to Black over the goal line. Black grabbed the pigskin after it had tipped the fingers of the Cornell halfback, Larmond. Austin failed in his rush for the extra point.

Cornell tried a series of passes that netted them half the length of the field, but no score, just before the game ended.

Elliot H. Hooper of Aurora, Ill., and Alvin T. M. Gally of Lynbrook were the outstanding members of the Red backfield, with John I. Condon of Narberth, Pa., Arthur E. Hoffman of Syracuse, and George E. Schaaf of Buffalo performing capably as substitutes. Jack H. (Hor Dog) Kasparian of Wynantskill at tackle and Captain Peter R. Hughes of Mt. Vernon at center were the mainstays of the yearling line.

OBITUARY

HAROLD DEWOLFE HATFIELD '15 died from a heart attack on October 13, 1934, at his home, 235 Lincoln Avenue, Highland Park, New Brunswick, N. J. He was head of the civil engineering department of Rutgers University, and had been in poor health for several years. Hatfield was born in New Brunswick, Canada, September 16, 1888, and entered the University in 1911 as a freshman in mechanical engineering, after having graduated from Connecticut State College. He left after one year to become instructor at Howard University, but returned for the Summer Sessions of 1912 and 1913, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science in mechanical engineering at George Washington University in 1915, and his master's degree the next year. For some years he was employed at the Remington Arms and Ammunition Company in Bridgeport, Conn., and from 1918 to 1922 was vocational supervisor for the Federal Board for Vocational Education of the Veterans Bureau. He was appointed professor of industrial engineering at Rutgers May 15, 1928, and two years later became head of the civil engineering department. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Maysie Hatfield; a son, Lyman; a brother, Walter Hatfield of Salisbury, Conn., and a sister, Mrs. Glendon Allen of New Brunswick, Canada.

BRIEF NEWS OF CAMPUS AND TOWN

OPEN SEASON for undergraduate honor societies is now declared. Almost daily the Sun reports the names of those who have been chosen to carry on the high aims and purposes of one or more of our many such.

ALEPH SAMACH has elected the following juniors, chosen for Campus prominence in extra-curricular activities: William H. Borger, Pearl River; Llewellyn W. Collins, Jr., South Orange, N. J.; Ernest A. Downer, Poughkeepsie; Edward J. Doyle, Jr., Winnetka, Ill. Grandin A. Godley, Tenafly, N. J.; Henry S. Godshall, Lansdowne, Pa.; Howard T. Heintz, New Rochelle; Herbert A. Hopper, Ithaca; Donald T. Houpt, Ambler, Pa.; Clare J. Hoyt, Walden; William M. Hoyt, Jr., Summit, N. J.; Edward M. Hutchinson, Chicago, Ill.; John J. Kreimer, Cincinnati, O.; Robert E. Linders, Jersey City, N. J.; James W. McCulloch, Jr., Chicago, Ill.; William C. McLaughlin, Poughkeepsie; Robert B. McNab, Missoula, Mont.; John H. Mayer, Kansas City, Mo.; John L. Messersmith, Westfield, N. J.; Thomas F. Newman, Jr., Yonkers; Harold F. Nunn, New York; Robert A. Scallan, Terrace Park, O.; Charles R. Scott, Jr., Montclair, N. J.; William G. VanArsdale, Castile; Harrison S. Wilson, Philadelphia, Pa.; Wallace D. Wood, Bayonne, N. J.; John R. Young, LaJolla, Cal.

CHI EPSILON, honorary civil engineering society, has chosen Professor Paul H. Underwood '07, Haywood G. Dewey, Jr. '35 of Rochester, and six juniors: Robert W. Baunach, South Orange, N. J.; Alfred Crew, 3d., Paterson, N. J.; Arthur F. Glasser, Paterson, N. J.; Donald P. Keel, Buffalo; John F. McManus, New York; and Alfred L. Parme, New Rochelle.

RED KEY, one of whose functions is the entertainment of visiting teams, chooses from the Junior Class Albert G. Beyerle, Baltimore, Md.; George R. Brownell, Westfield, N. J.; Willard C. Campbell, Hempstead; Richard D. Culver, Westhampton; George M. Dimeling, Clearfield, Pa.; Charles E. Dykes, Springfield, O.; Jacob S. Fassett, 3d., Woodmere; James C. Forbes, Shaker Heights, O.; John F. Forsyth, South Orange, N. J.; Arthur F. Glasser, Paterson, N. J.; Donald C. Graves, Evanston, Ill.; Frederick D. Hart, Springfield Gardens, Richard L. Hibbard, Akron, O.; George A. Lawrence, Hammondsport; Paul M. Mattice, Ithaca; Nils V. Montan, Montclair, N. J.; Harold D. North, Jr., Cleveland, O.; Addison B. Scoville, Jr., Mt. Vernon; Paul R. Wood, Jenkintown, Pa.

YE HOSTES, honor society in hotel administration, has conferred its key upon Arthur C. Kenaga '35, Lakewood, O.; George Fauerbach '35, Yonkers; Harry C. Youmans, Jr., '35, Jersey City, N. J.; William B. Morrison '36, Ithaca; Robert B. MacNab '36, Missoula, Mont.; Frank H. Briggs '36, Long Branch, N. J.; Charles E. Dykes '36, Springfield, O.; William E. Gilman '36, San Jacinto, Cal.; Richard D. Culver '36, Westhampton; and Jacob S. Fassett, 3d., '36, Woodmere.

NOT HONORARY, but presumably for hard work, The Cornell Countryman has elected to its business staff Walter S. Bennett '35 of South Orange, N. J., William H. Sherman '36 of West Webster, and Douglas C. Deuel '36 of Churchville. New members of the editorial board are Clinton R. Stimson '36 of Spencer, Helen P. Cothran '37 of Gasport, and Emma C. Spangler '36 of Chatham.

R. B.'S COLUMN in the Ithaca Journal, "State and Tioga," is a fertile source of those interesting sidelights on University happenings which formerly added interest to this page. He cites an incident of "academic snobbery" at the Syracuse-Cornell freshman game that he says "would tend to indicate that Cornell is the most western of the Eastern Colleges and not—as some have claimed—the most eastern of the Western ones: At half-time the head cheerleader read off to the crowd the mid-way scores of other football games then going on all over the country. There were some 1,500 customers clustered in the otherwise empty stands, and when the head cheerleader—possibly an excellent mathematician from the Missouri valley—chanted 'Will—yums, fo'teen—Bode-Woyne, nuthin', at least 1,400 of them responded antiphonally, 'It's Bode-in, young feller, Bode-in.'"

ARCHITECTS from Ithaca, Rochester, Utica, Rome, Elmira, Binghamton, and Cortland, members of the central New York chapter of the American Institute, held their fall luncheon in Willard Straight Hall on October 20. They were addressed by S. F. Voorhees, regional director for New York of the NRA code commission for the building industry. Arrangements were made by Dean George Young, Jr., '00 of the College of Architecture.

THE "LANGUAGE DINNERS" at Willard Straight on Wednesday evenings for members of the Faculty, their wives, and students, are to be continued this year. Everybody is welcome at any one of the tables where only a foreign language is spoken. At the first of these for the year last week, about 35 divided themselves into groups speaking, respectively, French, German, and Italian.

THE COSMOPOLITAN CLUB entertained Dr. Francis C. M. Wei, Chinese scholar and president of the Central China University, here to deliver the first of the series of University lectures October 16 on the Goldwin Smith Foundation. He told his hosts that China is rapidly becoming modernized.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB, following the lead of the Athletic Association, is selling coupon books which admit their holders to all the regular performances given by the Club at lower rate than for individual tickets.

MURIEL LESTER, founder of Kingsley Hall and sometimes called "the Jane Addams of London," visited the Campus October 20 in the course of a tour of American universities. A special program was played on the chimes in her honor and she was given a reception in Willard Straight Hall by members of the Faculty and students.

A NEW ASSOCIATION of fraternity stewards is being formed to furnish services and buy fraternity supplies and merchandise in wholesale lots. It will be conducted under the joint managership of two seniors, Moreland T. King of Rochester and Benjamin B. Adams, son of Professor Bristow Adams.

INCREASINGLY IMPORTANT to the community is the work of the Freshman Advisory Council, whose members at this time of year take the time to call on all freshman in their rooms, simply to get acquainted and to acquaint the new men with the customs and spirit of the place. As phrased by President Farrand when he addressed the 150 upperclassmen who are doing this work, they are helping the new men "to get out of Cornell what Cornell has to give."

WEEKLY EXCHANGES of two members of each of the thirteen sororities on the Campus, to take dinner as the guests of another house, will be resumed early in November. The custom was started last year as a means of promoting friendly relations among the various groups.

A NEW CLASSIFICATION appears in the classified column of the sun these days—that of "Rides Wanted." Some do and some do not offer to share expenses, and judging by the regularity with which the section is used, it must bring results.

THE FIRST SNOW FLURRIES of the season came on Friday, October 12, and the same day Mr. Delos Bacon of Slaterville Springs came to town with twigs in full bloom from an apple tree on his place.

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

ITHACA, NEW YORK

FOUNDED 1899 INCORPORATED 1926

Published for the Cornell Alumni Corporation by the Cornell Alumni News Publishing Corporation.

Published weekly during the college year and monthly in July and August: thirty-five issues annually. Issue No. 1 is published in September. Weekly publication ends the last week in June. Issue No. 35 is published in August.

Subscription price $4.00 a year, payable in advance. Canadian postage 35 cents a year extra; foreign 50 cents extra. Single copies fifteen cents each. Subscriptions are payable in advance and are renewed annually unless cancelled.

R. W. SAILOR '07
Publisher and Editor-in-Chief

Managing Editor H. A. STEVENSON '19
Circulation Manager JAMES W. BURKE '33
Associate Editor FOSTER M. COFFIN '12

Member Intercollegiate Alumni Extension Service

Printed by The Cayuga Press

ITHACA, N. Y. OCTOBER 25, 1934

THE PROBLEM OF JOBS

One of the reports at the recent alumni convention was by the director of the University Placement Bureau. It was a report of much good done at little expense.

The Cornell Club of New York has been operating along similar lines but without the volume of placement work among students. The bureau at the Cornell Club has been doing fine work among alumni both in placing unemployed and in improving the situations of many who already were occupied.

Neither bureau can function as effectively as they know how because of lack of funds. The Cornell Club is of course handicapped by the present apathy toward clubs in general but is willing to put on as comprehensive a program of employment as increased membership will permit.

The question is, of course, the broad general one of how much service of this sort a university should give to its alumni. The practice varies widely at different institutions. Many colleges record a high percentage of placement of the outgoing senior class. In general the teacher's colleges are equally solicitous for their alumni as well. Efforts with other groups are sporadic. The work is usually done by the college, rather than by the alumni association although at least one of these regards placement as its first objective, ahead of the alumni funds and of preparatory school proselyting.

To those that have a thoroughgoing program of placement the alumni seem to express appreciation in other ways of a tangible sort. The whole problem is closely tied up with such matters as alumni giving, bequests, proselyting, and other returns that affectionate alumni render to the institution that has contributed so much to their happiness.

We hope that eventually an exhaustive study will be made of employment, looking to the possible expansion of the bureaus at New York and Ithaca, with the possible encouragement of similar establishments in other alumni centers.

WARNER'S REPORT

(Continued from page 1)

the plans of the Cornellian Council, further to stimulate this source of financial support.

There is not much to be said regarding completed additions and improvements during the past year, aside from reference to the splendid new home for the State College of Home Economics. The Martha Van Rensselaer Hall ably speaks for itself; the State of New York has made a wonderful investment in the future serviceability of its citizens. Reference to the new Riding Hall and the general improvements to the Campus should not be omitted, and we can all take pride and pleasure in these works too, which though of smaller size are of major importance from a utility viewpoint. The notable additions to the dormitory group are the two fraternity houses, Psi Upsilon and Sigma Phi. These are the first units to be built pursuant to the new plan inaugurated some two years ago, permitting the erection of such residences on University property. The plan, though frankly experimental, is one of great merit and the first two houses erected in accordance therewith, can well be regarded as symbolizing the successful start and the permanent establishment of a program which should accomplish much good for the University and the fraternity system as well.

The need for further additions and improvements is always actively before the Board. During the past three years there would have been little propriety in urging you to absorb the cost of a building or group of buildings. As a matter of fact, you are to be commended for the self sacrifice with which you have carried on your commitments to your Alma Mater through the Cornellian Council. To add to the burden with a campaign for this or that might have invited a resentful response. Cornell is not interested in that sort of spirit among its alumni and friends. Conditions, however, are expected to change during the next year or two, and in such event you will be called upon with the slogan "Be not weary in well doing." To this end, it is my sincere wish we may all be adequately serviced at the "recovery service station" in the not distant future.

A year ago the Board of Trustees took action upon the question of the substitution of elective for compulsory military training. The question had been raised by the Faculty and had been extensively reviewed and considered by a special committee of the Board for some months. The Board action to the effect that such change should not be made at the time, was for reasons of public policy unquestionably the correct action to take. Although the committee recommendation received my support, I felt at the time and still feel, the matter should be accorded somewhat different treatment. It has always been my view that the physical development of the individual student is almost as important as the mental, for usually a sound mentality and sound thinking go hand in hand with a sound physique and sound health.

Need Physical Training

It has seemed to me that Cornell very properly should compel some form of physical activity, preferably out-door, from four to six o'clock each and every afternoon. In other words, we should have compulsory physical training and not merely compulsory military training. If such a policy were adopted, it would then remain with the individual student as to what form his physical training should take, and with the popularizing of military training as it has been developed at Princeton, I have little doubt but that our Cadet Corps would more than make up in quality of spirit, efficiency, and patriotism what it might lose in quantity of uninterested and unenthusiastic participants.

In conjunction with the matter last discussed, it has seemed to me the financial distress of the Athletic Association, which has been working to a head during the past two years, warrants the inauguration of an enlarged and modernized Department of Physical Education to include a division of military training, if legally permissible, as well as divisions for athletics, both intercollegiate and intramural, and for general physical training and education. This would involve a complete merging of compulsory physical, military and athletic activities under the centralized control of University authority, operated by a full-fledged department keenly alive to the values to be derived from the development of those qualities of patriotism, enthusiasm, fair-play, team-work, and endurance, so highly desirable in each and every individual student. I venture the thought there could be no better basis nor no better stimulus for a sounder mind, nor for sounder thinking.

In conclusion, may I again thank you for the honor and privilege accorded me to serve on the Board during these past seven years.

PRESIDENT FARRAND as chairman of the citizens' committee on the State's unemployment relief bond issue, has issued a statement urging the public to vote favorably this fall for the $40,000,000 bond issue as "a humanitarian question with no political aspects."

LAW COMMISSION WORKERS

The offices of the New York State law revision commission in Myron Taylor Hall are manned by a number of Cornellians. Dean Charles K. Burdick of the Law School, chairman of the commission, is on leave of absence working mostly in New York City. One of the commissioners is Warnick J. Kernan '05 of Utica, and Professor Horace E. Whiteside '22 is a special investigator.

Professor John W. MacDonald '25 as executive secretary and director of research of the commission is in direct charge of the Ithaca office, of which the staff is headed by Mrs. Clarence J. MacDaniels (Gertrude Scott) '26. Among the research assistants working here are Simon Rosenzweig '27, Lloyd L. Rosenthal '34, Margaret V. Lybolt '34, and Albert A. Arent '35.

DRAMATIC CLUB OFFERINGS

The Dramatic Club for the coming term will continue its policy of offering the most popular of the recent Broadway successes, together with older plays of most permanent interest.

Following the success of Noel Coward's Private Lives, the first production of the Club's twenty-sixth season, Lennox Robinson's play of Irish provincial life, The Far-off Hills, will be presented in the Campus Theatre on Saturday, October 27, and again on Saturday, November 3.

On Thursday, November 1, the Dramatic Club will sponsor a dance recital by Ted Shawn and his group of eight men dancers. The Shawn dancers appeared last fall in Willard Straight Theatre and were received with such acclaim that they have scheduled a return engagement.

The next play will be Robert Sherwood's satire on autocracy, The Queen's Husband, which will be presented on Saturday, November 10, and repeated on Friday and Saturday, November 16 and 17, the week-end of the Dartmouth game. This play, about a mythical Balkan country, is of special interest at this time when the attention of the world is on the "hot-spot" of Europe.

Sidney Howard's adaptation of Rene Fauchois's play, Prenez Garde a la Peinture, called The Late Christopher Bean, will be the offering for Saturday, November 24. It will be repeated the week-end after the Thanksgiving recess.

One of the most eagerly anticipated events of the year is the production of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, H. M. S. Pinafore, which is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, December 14 and 15. Last year's triumphantly successful production of The Mikado was followed by insistent demand for another of the Savoy Operas. Pinafore will combine the talents of the Musical Clubs, the Orchestra, the Department of Music, and the Dramatic Club; it promises to be the high spot of the Campus entertainment season, as The Mikado was last year.

Concerning THE ALUMNI

'85 Arch—Robert J. Eidlitz is one of fifty prominent New Yorkers serving on a committee directing a drive for support of the Henry Street Settlement visiting nurse service through 1935.

'95 ME—George T. Ladd is one of the directors of the newly-formed T.W.A., Inc., organized to consolidate the operations of Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc. for bidding on air mail contracts.

'97 ME—Procter & Gamble Company, which reported to its stockholders that the year ending October 1, 1934 had been one of the largest in sales volume in the company's history, has re-elected Ralph F. Rogan a director.

'00 BArch—An omission in our note of October 4 is that F. Ellis Jackson was the architect of Myron Taylor Hall.

'03 AB; '20 LLB—Floyd L. Carlisle, head of the Niagara-Hudson Power Corporation, was the winner in an action brought before the State Supreme Court to restrain the Attorney-General from subpoenaing him to produce evidence regarding all his business affairs for the last ten years in an investigation under the Martin Act of the Maryland Share Corporation of which Carlisle is a director. The presiding Justice ruled that investigations under the Act must be confined to subject matter related to the issues involved. Randall J. Le Boeuf, Jr., '20, who is general counsel to the power company, appeared for Carlisle.

'05 LLB—Neal Dow Becker president of the Intertype Corporation and a member of the foreign trade committee of the Merchants' Association of New York, spoke over radio station WABC October 13 on "Foreign Trade—the Extra Ten Percent that Means Profits."

'06 A—Frank B. Elser is co-author with Marc Connelly of a new play, "The Farmer Takes a Wife," which opened with favorable notices in Washington October 8. The play deals with life on the Erie Canal near the close of its heyday. June Walker and Henry Fonda appeared in the leading roles.

'08 AB, '13 PhD—Burton J. Lemon is in charge of the exhibit of the United States Rubber Company at A Century of Progress in Chicago.

'09 AB—Robert E. Coulson is a member of the law firm of Whitman, Ransom, Coulson & Goetz, in New York City. He lives at 120 East End Avenue.

'10 CE—John S. Longwell is chief engineer and general manager of the East Bay municipal utility district and lives at 1081 Clarendon Crescent, Oakland, Cal.

'11 Med—Lee S. Crandall is curator of the Bronx Zoo in New York City.

'12 AB—Gerard N. Lemon last June received the degree of LLB from the New York Law School. His address is 255 West 90th Street, New York City.

'13 ME—Sterling W. Mudge last March was promoted from division lubricating manager to assistant general manager of the New York division of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company. He lives at 11 The Place, Glen Cove, Long Island, N. Y., where he is serving his fifth term as city commissioner of finance. He is vice-president of Glen Cove Investors, Inc.

'14 A—Elisha A. Hanson, Jr., Washington attorney and counsel for the American Newspaper Publishers Association, speaking at a joint smoker of Cornell and Syracuse alumni at the University Club in Syracuse the night before the Cornell-Syracuse game, said that the freedom of the press is imperilled by the news policies of the present administration. Unless publishers are alert the "news about Washington will be just that news which the administration wants you to have, supplied to you by official agencies charged with the responsibility of bottling up all sources and preventing the dissemination of any information other than that officially sponsored." Hanson attended the game next day in Ithaca. He has two sons now in the University, Kurtz McR. Hanson '37 and Arthur B. Hanson '38.

'14 ME—William E. Lundgren is president of Lundgren and Mause, Inc., insurance brokers, at 81 John Street, New York City. He lives at 444 East 52nd Street, New York.

'15 CE—Alan F. Williams is division engineer for the Western Pacific Railroad at Elko, Nev. His address is P. O. Box 529, Elko.

'16 ME—Frederick E. Lyford is examiner with the railroad division of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Washington, D. C.

'21 Law—Isadore S. Worth of Trenton, N. J. is a member of the special committee recently appointed by the president of the Federal Bar Association of New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut to study the question of Federal incorporation of banks, investment trusts, public utilities, holding corporations and interlocking subsidiaries in line with the suggestions of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

'21 CE—Samuel D. Brady, Jr., has been prominent in coal-code matters in Washington, D. C., and last April was elected vice-chairman of the northern West Virginia coal code authority. He is president of the Osage Coal Company and of the Oakmont Smokeless Fuel Company of Morgantown. His address is Sunset park, R. F. D. 4, Morgantown, W. Va.

'22 AB—George H. Thornton is president and general manager of Thornton-

Fuller Company, Dodge and Plymouth automobile dealers since 1914. His address is 632 Overhill Road, Ardmore, Pa. He writes that Emmett J. Murphy '22 spent the summer with him and that he had entertained this summer Burke Patterson '23, Otho H. Morgan, 2d., '24, and Samuel S. Pennock, Jr., '22.

'22 BS—Mrs. William S. Peterson (Cornelia S. Walker) lives at 2216 Nella Vista Avenue, Hollywood, Cal. Her second child, Carolyn Walker Peterson, was born July 20, 1933; the first, William Albert, is three years old. She writes that Mrs. George N. Moffat (Agnes N. Hall) '21, who lives in Columbus, O. and was touring with her family, and Floyd R. Parks '21, visited her during the summer.

'23, '24 ME; '24 BS—Allan H. Mogensen and Mrs. Mogensen (Adele A. Dean) are living at Greenfield Hill, Fairfield, Conn., having moved there from Croton-on-Hudson for the summer and decided to stay, at least until next June. Mogensen was laid up several months this summer with a broken leg, but is now recovering. He is an industrial consultant working at the Remington Arms Company, Ilion, N. Y. and Bridgeport, Conn., and at the du Pont rayon and cellophane plants at Old Hickory, Tenn.

'24 ME—Henry G. Warnick is traffic supervisor for the New York Telephone Company in the Bronx-Weschester area. He now lives at 60 Tower Place, Yonkers, N. Y.

'24 BChem—John D. Macdonald started in the real estate business May 1, 1934 with his brother, D. S. Macdonald, at 640 Madison Avenue, New York City. They operate as Donald Macdonald, Inc., and specialize in upper East Side renting. In October, 1933, Macdonald was elected a member of the University Glee Club of New York.

'24 MD—Dr. Herbert C. Brokenshire sailed from New Orleans on October 11 for his post at the Davao Hospital, Davao, Philippine Islands, where he has been serving under the American Board for Foreign Missions since 1926. He often makes trips into the interior, sometimes where no white man has been before, and members of the pagan tribes as well as Filipinos come to him for help. He has put his hospital on a paying basis in the eight years he has been there, and it is known as an international and interracial center of healing.

'24 CE—Mrs. Philip H. Carlin (Dorothy W. Allison) is assistant office engineer for the Delaware River Joint Commission. Her address is 3359 Vaux Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

'25 Agr; '25 AB—A one-page tabloid picture newspaper sheet, "Daily Yell," with dateline of October 5, 1934, announces the birth of a baby girl to Howard P. Abrahams and Mrs. Abrahams (Florence Blostein). One of the captions quotes Allen Abrahams—apparently an older son—as referring to "smart alec advertising men like my pop." The address given is 72 Barrow Street, New York City.

'25, '27 AB—Rachael Childrey is district superintendent of Southwark District for the Family Society of Philadelphia. Her address is 205 South McAlpin Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

'25 AB; '27 AB, '29 AM—Ross E. Scanlan is teaching public speaking at City College in New York. Mrs. Scanlan (Elizabeth Goepf) is registered in the graduate school of Columbia University for her PhD in English literature and is director of dramatics at the St. George Hotel in Brooklyn. Last summer, before her marriage on August 11, she was technical director of the New York Grand Grand Opera company during its season at Asbury Park, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Scanlon live at 520 West 124th Street, New York City.

'25 EE—Charles V. DeWitt on September 27 married Mildred Daschbach of Thornburg, Pa. They live at 147 Taylor Avenue, Beaver, Pa. DeWitt was recently transferred to the Beaver Falls, Pa. office of the Duquesne Light Company in charge of industrial electric sales.

'25 EE; '26 BS—Myron Zucker and Mrs. Zucker (Isabel Schnapper) won fifteenth prize in the largest class of the Better Homes and Gardens national home remodeling contest for the reconstruction of their 1916-model house into a Colonial style with appropriate development of the grounds. A partial result, Zucker writes, is that Mrs. Zucker is now chairman of the garden club's civic committee, whose aim is to brighten up Royal Oak as other garden clubs have done in other towns. Their home is at 1708 Crooks Road, Royal Oak, Mich. Zucker is in the engineering division of the Detroit Edison Company.

'26 CE—About November 1 Maurice B. White expects to move to 36 Marston Place, Montclair, N. J.

'26 A—Herbert C. Hardy on September 6, 1934, married Katharine Kellond Taylor at Brookline, Mass. He was recently elected assistant vice-president of The National Rockland Bank of Boston. His address is 30 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.

'27 EE; '29 AB—Simon S. Nathan and Mrs. Nathan (Germaine D'heedene) have a second daughter, Rohnda, born May 21, 1934. Nathan is branch manager for Electrolux, Inc. Their address is 27 Coventry Road, Worcester, Mass.

'27 AB, '28 AM; '28 AB—Victor L. Butterfield is instructor in English and working for his PhD in the philosophy department at Harvard. During the second term, Mrs. Butterfield (Katharina Geyer '28) writes us, he will be assistant professor of philosophy and psychology at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis.

Their address is 212 North Green Bay Street, Appleton.

'27 EE—Buel McNeil is working for the Chicago real estate firm of Farr and Company, headed by Newton C. Farr '09. His address is 4556 Woodlawn Avenue, Chicago Ill.

'27, '28 ME—John S. Fair, Jr. is gang foreman, Enginehouse No. 2 of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Harrisburg, Pa. He was transferred last July 3 from Altoona, where he had been assistant foreman in the passenger car department of the car shops and in command of Troop C, 104th Cavalry, Pennsylvania National Guard. His address is now 1210 North 16th Street, Harrisburg, Pa.

'27 AB—Raymond C. Fingado is employed by the New York Telephone Company in its commercial office on Staten Island. His address is 185 Fingerboard Road, Rosebank, S. I., N. Y.

'28 AB—Dorothy M. Searles is teaching in the Morrisville Agricultural School, Morrisville, N. Y.

'28 AB—Richard M. Kochenthal on September 26 married Irma Kruger of Baltimore, Md. They live at 405 East 54th Street, Apt. 6A, New York City. Kochenthal is associated with the Celanese Corporation of America at 180 Madison Avenue, New York.

'28 AB—William J. Huber is an insurance counsellor, recently promoted to be president's field staff associate for the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company, for whom he has been working five years. His address is 60 East 42d Street, New York City.

'28 BS—Gerard A. Pesez is in the accounting department of Electrical Research Products Company, Inc., 250 West 57th Street, New York City.

'28 AB—Carl S. Walz is teaching mathematics at Lafayette High School, Buffalo. His address is 27 Crowley Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

'28 CE—John S. McKee is a partner in the Lake States Engineering Co., general contractors. His address is 111 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Ill.

'28 ME—Alexander Rose is service engineer with the Riley Stoker Corporation of Worcester, Mass. He lives at the Standish Hotel, Worcester.

'28, '29 EE—Wilbur C. Sutherland is to be married in December to Linda M. Munroe, Pennsylvania College for Women '31, of Pittsburgh. After November 21 his address will be Negley Apartments, Pittsburgh. He is sales engineer with Danforth Company, distributors of Westinghouse air conditioning equipment, and an announcer on the staff of KDKA.

'29 BS—Elsie L. Clark was married June 30, 1934, in Sage Chapel to Alfred Paolini, Syracuse '31. They live at 408 University Avenue, Syracuse, where Paolini is employed by the county highway department. They expect soon to move to Lufkin, Texas, where he has accepted a new position.

'29 AB—J. Miller Sinclair is on the legal staff of the Great American Tea Company, 102 Warren Street, New York City.

'30 AB, '34 LLB—The engagement of Charles E. Treman, Jr., to Margaret E. Huffard of Plandome, Long Island, has been announced. Treman was captain of the track team which combined with Princeton to defeat Oxford and Cambridge in England four years ago. The date of the wedding has not been announced.

'30 ME—On October 4 Raymond F. Ranges married Janette Rebele of Pelhamwood, N. Y. He is an engineer with the New York Telephone Company in New York City.

'30 AM—Constance Connor Brown is director of the Studio of Theatre Arts 1731 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., and a member of the staff of the department of public speaking of the University of Maryland. For the past three years she has been associate in the department of public speaking at George Washington University where she established a student dramatic club and has directed its productions. Frank Westbrook, assistant director with Miss Brown, last year was assistant in the Public Speaking Department and on the direction staff of the University Theatre here. Beginning October 15 The Studio of Theatre Arts offers regular courses in acting, in stagecraft, and in direction, and announces the production of three plays in the Wardman Park Theatre, Washington, in December, February, and April.

'31 AB, '33 CE—Joseph N. Cuzze is a civil engineer employed by Maurice Scharff, consulting engineer, taking an inventory of structures for the Consolidated Gas Company of New York. His office is at 1 Wall Street, and he lives at 243 Summit Avenue, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

'31 ME—Armstrong H. Forman is employed by Carr-Lowrey Glass Company, studying the production of glass bottles by automatic machines. His address is 18 West 25th Street, Baltimore, Md.

'31 AB—A daughter was born on October 6 to Mrs. Robert Hodges (Barbara Wyckoff) of New York City.

'32 ME—Allan R. Greene is test engineer in the mechanical department of the Atlantic Refining Company. His address is 2532 South 22d Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

'32 AB—Richard H. Sampson married Barbara S. James of Chicago on June 15, 1934. He is studying at Kent College of Law and is in the real estate finance department of Farr and Company, headed by Newton C. Farr '09, 140 South Dearborn Street, Chicago. He lives at 4811 Kimbark Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

'32, '33 ME—Calvin A. Elwood is with the Republic Steel Company of Chicago, Ill.

'32 CE—Harry Welty and William C. Agnew live at 377 West Onondaga Street, Syracuse, N. Y. Since July Welty has been in Syracuse as junior engineer with the New York Central Lines.

'33 ME—Herman A. Dreyer, bow oar in the 1932 and 1933 varsity crews, is working in the Chicago plant of Procter and Gamble Company.

'33 ME—Edgar H. Bleckwell is working for the du Pont interests at Fairfield, Conn.

'33 CE—Philip C. Wadsworth is assistant engineer for the American Bridge Company in the erection of the new high level bridges on the Cape Cod canal.

'33 BS—On April 2, 1934, Waldo G. Smith was appointed junior forester, United States Forest Service. He is temporarily in northern Georgia as estimator on a timber survey in the Nantahala National Forest. His address is Camp F, U. S. Forest Service, Walhalla, S. C.

'34 BS—Josiah R. Concklin is farming at Pomona, N. Y.

'34 ME—John B. Brush is in production work with Procter and Gamble Company and lives at 4903 Pershing Avenue, St. Louis, Mo.

'34 ME—Robert R. Thompson, who rowed number 4 on the junior varsity crew in 1932 and number 6 in 1934, is with Procter and Gamble Company in their Chicago plant.

'34 A—Rodney Bliss of Omaha, captain of the Golf Team in 1932 and 1933 and former Nebraska state amateur champion, made a good showing in the national amateur golf tournament early in September at Brookline, Mass. He scored a decisive victory over his opponent in the opening round.

'34 BS—Miriam Conrad teaches home economics in the high school at Spencer, N. Y., and coaches girls' soccer, basketball, and the cheer leading squad. She may be addressed care of Mrs. Sydney, Spencer, N. Y.

'34 AB—Robert L. Bates is doing graduate work and is assistant in the department of geology at the State University of Iowa, after working the past summer on the Virginia geological survey. His address is 927 Iowa Avenue, Iowa City, Ia.

'34 AB—Shelby N. Lever is a medical student at the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University. He lives at 919 Bard Hall, 50 Haven Avenue, New York City.

'34 AB; Grad.—Ruth Fielden and Thomas L. Jacobs, assistant in the Department of Chemistry, were married in Ithaca on October 4. They were attended by Mrs. Jacobs' brother-in-law, and sister, John B. Grace, '08-9 Sp., and Mrs. Grace (Anna Fielden) '10.

A Suggestion

Can you think of a more welcome gift to college friends than a subscription to THE ALUMNI NEWS?

Regularly each week, by your thoughtfulness, your former room mate or special friend can receive news of the Campus and of other Cornellians.

We'll send the first issue with your card upon receipt of name and address and your check for $4 for a year's subscription.

Address

Cornell
Alumni News
Box 105 Ithaca, N. Y.

MERCERSBURG ACADEMY

Offers a thorough physical, mental and moral training for college or business. Under Christian masters from the great universities. Located in the Cumberland Valley. New gymnasium. Equipment modern. Write for catalogue

BOYD EDWARDS, D.D., S.T.D., Head Master
Mercersburg, Pennsylvania

ESTABROOK & CO.

Members of the New York and Boston Stock Exchanges

Sound Investments

Investment Counsel and Supervision

Roger H. Williams '95
Resident Partner New York Office
40 Wall Street

The 1934 Football Squad

Name	Class	Pos.	Exp.*	Age	Wt.	Ht.	Home
Abbott, David M.	'38	C		21	165	5-10	Ithaca
Andrews, James DeWitt	'37	LE	3	19	166	6-4½	Savannah
Ash, Maxwell	'35	2B	5	20	185	5-9½	Atlantic City, N. J.
Batten, John Mecray	'37	2B	3	19	174	5-11½	Cape May, N. J.
Borland, Thomas Cooper	'35	LG	2	20	185	6-½	Oil City, Pa.
Borger, William Henry	'36	LG	1	19	191	6	Pearl River
Bragg, Everett Carme	'36	RE	4	21	166	5-11	White Plains
Brownell, George Ramsey	'36	1B	4	20	154	5-9½	Westfield, N. J.
Buell, Burt Charles	'36	LT	4	21	184	5-10	Bolivar
Clayman, Donald Clinton	'36	RG	4	21	192	5-9½	Rochester Jct.
Clement, Gregory, Jr.	'37	4B	3	20	144	5-10	Philadelphia, Pa.
Condon, William	'35	3B	5	23	170	5-11	Philadelphia, Pa.
Cramer, David	'35	1B	5	24	154	5-8	Utica
Cyranowski, Nicholas	'36	C	4	19	185	6-4	Yonkers
Deming, Richard Carlton	'36			20	175	6-1	Athens, Pa.
Frederick, Albert Joseph	'35	2B	1	22	175	5-9	Elmira
Gilman, William Earl	'36	LT	4	20	197	6-2	San Jacinto, Cal.
Godshall, Henry Stites, Jr.	'36	RE	4	19	170	5-11	Lansdowne, Pa.
Griest, William Richards	'37	RG	3	18	183	5-9	Lancaster, Pa.
Gunsch, Leonard Paul	'37	4B	3	19	172	5-11	Highland
Hutchinson, Edward Morris	'37	RT	1	21	190	6-1	Chicago, Ill.
Irving, Frank Jay	'35	RE	2	22	172	6-1	Los Angeles, Cal.
Jenkins, Irving Aaron	'37	LT	3	20	184	6-1½	New York City
Johnson, William Halsey	'37	3B	3	20	177	5-11	Bronxville
King, Joseph Patrick	'36	RT	4	23	185	6-1	Albion, Neb.
Kuck, Harry Hilken, Jr.	'37	RE	3	19	173	6	Savannah, Ga.
Lockwood, George Edward	'35	C	5	21	181	5-8½	New Rochelle
Manson, William Wayne	'37	3B		20	155	5-10	East Orange, N. J.
Meagher, Robert Tiegg	'37	2B	3	19	170	5-9	Elbridge
Meiss, Frederick Louis	'35	C	5	22	188	5-10	Rome
Moran, Edwin Gilbert	'37	2B	3	19	178	6-2	Groton
Murdock, Faank Kenniston	'35	RT	2	24	170	5-11	Natrona Hts, Pa.
Nelson, Philip Milburn	'35	RG	1	23	195	6-4	Jamestown
Nunn, Harold Francis	'36	LE	1	19	176	6	The Bronx
Ostrynski, Wallace Willard	'36	4B	4	21	181	5-10	Richland
Peirce, Andy W.	'36	3B	4	20	164	5-9	LaGrange, Ill.
Pfeiffer, Egbert Wheeler	'37	C	3	19	175	5-11	New York City
Pluta, John	'36	1B	4	21	149	5-8	Johnson City
Politi, Frank Joseph	'36	LG	4	20	171	5-10	New York City
Puterbaugh, John Louis	'35	LT	1	21	189	6-4	Dallas, Texas
Rankin, George Craig	'35	RT	4	21	176	5-11	Richmond Hill
Risley, Henry Brainard	'37			19	196	6-½	Brooklyn
Rossiter, William	'37	LE	3	20	169	6-0	Bronxville
Schwartz, Harry Marchmont	'37	RT	3	20	161	5-7	New York City
Scott, John Wilson	'37	1B	3	21	170	5-10	Niagara Falls
Slawson, Alfred Meek	'37	LE	3	18	155	5-10½	Canistota
Steele, Francis Rue	'37	RE	3	19	163	6-2	Chestnut Hill, Pa.
Stiles, Earl William	'37	LE	3	19	175	5-9	Richville
Stofer, Gordon Fairchild	'37	1B	4	21	170	5-11	Olmstead Falls, O.
Stoffle, Merton Wayne	'37	LE	3	21	170	6-0	Boulder, Col.
Switzer, Walter David	'35	4B	1	22	163	5-9	Williamsport, Pa.
Weidman, John Hynds, Jr.	'37	C	3	19	150	5-9	Marcellus
Williams, Raymond Walter	'35	RE	4	23	178	6-1	Ithaca
Willsey, Carl Allen	'35	RE	5	23	171	5-10½	Buffalo
Wilson, Griswold, Jr.	'37	RG	3	19	184	6	Cleveland, O.
Wilson, Harrison Stackhouse	'36	4B	1	21	166	5-10	Germantown, Pa.
Ziegler, Willard Wilson	'37	3B	3	19	176	5-9	Oil City, Pa.

*Experience Key: 1, Varsity 1 year; 2, Varsity 2 years; 3, Last year's freshman; 4, Squad 1 year; 5, Squad 2 years.

PROFESSIONAL DIRECTORY OF CORNELL ALUMNI

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT (cont.)

WALTER S. WING '07, Gen'l Sales Mgr.

60 East 42nd Street, New York City

BALTIMORE, MD.

WHITMAN, REQUARDT & SMITH

Water Supply, Sewerage, Structural
Valuations of Public Utilities, Reports,
Plans, and General Consulting Practice.

EZRA B. WHITMAN, C.E. '01
G. J. REQUARDT, C.E. '09
B. L. SMITH, C.E. '14

Baltimore Trust Building

KENOSHA, WIS.

MACWHYTE COMPANY

Manufacturers Wire and Wire Rope
Streamline and Round Tie Rods for Airplanes

JESSEL S. WHYTE, M.E. '13, VICE-PRESIDENT
R. B. WHYTE, M.E. '13, GEN. SUPT.

TULSA, OKLA.

HERBERT L. MASON, LL.B. '00

Attorney and Counselor at Law

18th Floor, Philtower Building
MASON, WILLIAMS & LYNCH

WASHINGTON, D.C.

THEODORE K. BRYANT '97, '98

Master Patent Law, G.W.U. '08

Patents and Trade Marks Exclusively
309-314 Victor Building

Cleves Cafeteria

1715 G Street, N. W.
½ block west State War and Navy Bldg.

BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON & DINNER

RUTH CLEVES JUSTUS '16