

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

In the News this Week

Old-Fashioned Spring Day Pleases
Gala Crowd . . . Varsity and J-V
Crews Win on the Lake . . . Baseball Team Defeats Yale and Colgate . . . Seventeen Faculty Members to Lead Alumni Institute, on Arts in Industrial Democracy . . .
Engineering Alumni Honor Dexter S. Kimball, Retiring Dean . . .
Snively, Coffin Visit Cornell Clubs

MAY 28, 1936

VOLUME 38

NUMBER 30

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

Subscription price $4 per year. Entered as second class matter, Ithaca, N. Y. Published weekly during the college year and monthly in July, August and September

VOL. XXXVIII, NO. 30 ITHACA, NEW YORK, MAY 28, 1936

PRICE 15 CENTS

INSTITUTE PROGRAM On Arts Today

Seventeen members of the University Faculty are contributing their services this year, as last, to lead discussions on the general subject, "The Arts in an Industrial Democracy," for Cornell's second Alumni Institute, which opens June 15 and closes June 18. Cornellians and their families and friends will be welcomed for the three days immediately following Commencement and the Class reunions, to live in the University dormitories, eat together in Willard Straight Hall, and take part in the discussions which, in the words of the committee, will constitute "a broader survey of the symptoms, and in some cases a deeper analysis of the causes, of contemporary conditions."

The Alumni Institute opens Monday evening following Commencement, June 15. An informal reception in Willard Straight Hall will have brief talks by President Farrand, Professor William C. DeVane, chairman of the Faculty committee, and C. Reeve Vanneman '03, president of the Cornell Alumni Corporation, which is responsible for inaugurating the Institutes.

Tuesday morning's session will be devoted to "The Contemporary Stage," with Professor Alex M. Drummond, director of the University Theatre, giving the opening lecture. Three discussion groups, following, will meet with Professor William Strunk, Jr., PhD '96, English, by then returned from a year in Hollywood, on "Shakespeare on the Screen;" with Professor James F. Mason, Romance Languages and Literatures, on "The French Contemporary Stage;" and with Professor Walter H. Stainton '19, assistant director of the University Theatre, on "Modern Staging."

"The Proletarian Movement" will be the subject of the opening Tuesday afternoon lecture, by Professor George H. Sabine '03, Philosophy, followed by round table discussions on "Proletarian Literature," conducted by Professor DeVane; on "Painter and Proletariat," Professor Kenneth L. Washburn '26, Architecture; and "The Prospect of Collectivism in the United States," led by Professor Paul T. Homan, Economics.

Tuesday evening Professor Otto Kinkeldey, Musicology and University Librarian, will discuss "Modern Music."

Wednesday's program will be devoted to "Art in Modern Structure," the morning's lectures given by Professor Francke H. Bosworth, on "Architecture," and Professor Gilmore D. Clarke '13, Planning, on "From Jones Beach to Versailles." In the afternoon Professor S. C. Hollister, director of Civil Engineering, will consider "Engineering" and Professor Walter L. Conwell '09, Civil Engineering, will speak on "Highways."

Wednesday evening Professor Drummond will present "Illustrations of the Modern Stage and Screen."

"The Effect of an Industrial Democracy on the Dwelling" will be considered Thursday morning, June 18, with two professors of Architecture, John A. Hartell '25 and William M. Dunbar '18, giving, respectively, "Historical Resume" and "Special Examples." The following round table discussions will be on "The Traditional Artistic Expressions in the House," led by Professor Ethel B. Waring, Home Economics, and "The Newer Artistic Expressions," led by Professor Margaret Wylie, Home Economics Extension.

The Alumni Institute will close with a picnic luncheon at Taughannock Thursday noon. In addition to the program of lectures and discussions, an early morning bird walk may be arranged for Wednesday or Thursday morning, the Beebe Lake swimming pool and Campus tennis courts will be open, and arrangements have been made for Institute guests to use the Ithaca Country Club golf course.

One payment of fifteen dollars a person includes the Institute fee, room in the dormitories, and meals. A folder containing detailed information and reservation card is available from Foster M. Coffin '12, secretary of the Institute committee, Willard Straight Hall.

ELECT COUNCIL OFFICERS

John M. Batten of Cape May, N. J., captain-elect of the football team and Varsity pitcher, was elected president of the Student Council and of the Class of '37 in Campus balloting last week. Student in Hotel Administration, he is a member of Quill and Dagger and Zeta Psi, and is chairman of the undergraduate committee for Senior subscriptions to the ALUMNI NEWS.

David D. Dugan, son of William D. Dugan '07 of Hamburg, is secretary of the Class and of the Council, and Karl L. Landgrebe, Jr. of Birmingham, Ala. is treasurer. Dugan, Arts, was a member of the soccer and hockey teams and is substitute left fielder on the baseball team. He is a member of Quill and Dagger and Phi Delta Theta. Landgrebe is treasurer of Al-Djebbar, honor society in Chemistry, was Junior Class representative on the Student Council this year, rowed as a Freshman, and is on the baseball squad. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

SPRING DAY HAPPY Brings Gala Week End

The first Spring Day parade in Ithaca since 1927 wended its way up State Street hill Saturday morning and across the Campus, past the reviewing stand opposite Willard Straight Hall, and up Tower Road from the Library to Alumni Field with eighty floats and exhibits in line. Streets and sidewalks along the way were packed with a holiday crowd of townspeople, Faculty families, alumni, and such undergraduates and their house-party guests as were either sufficiently awake from the Navy Ball the night before to be abroad or not in the parade itself. Just behind the marshals came a huge trailer bearing Rosie, the sacred white elephant of Siam brought to Ithaca at great expense, with her accompanying trainer and mastiff dog, and following, a sour-faced camel in gaudy trappings. Then came a long and varied line of floats entered by Ithaca business firms, converted water wagons, trucks, and cars bearing appropriate signs and the representatives of many student organizations, publications, fraternities, and societies, new cars from Ithaca automobile dealers, and finally, by the time the Campus was reached, the few entries drawn by horses.

Judges were Mrs. Farrand, Captain Leslie B. Downing of the Military Department, and Ithaca Police Commissioner and Engraver, H. J. Van Valkenburg. First prize for commercial and industrial floats went to Treman, King & Co., for a four-oared shell mounted on top of a truck, its crew going through the motions of rowing, urged on by a small-boy coxswain, and athletes in other sports dressed in Treman, King equipment standing by. Honorable mention went to one of the seven floats of the Ithaca Typographical Union. For comic floats the first award went to Psi Upsilon's automobile completely covered with rusted and decrepit bedsprings, with a sign, "Did You Say Spring Day?" and honorable mention to Sigma Chi's truck with a cow unmistakably displayed and labelled, "No Bull! She's the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." A small boy trudging along completely covered except his arms and legs with a mammoth "book" bearing the College Book Shop sign won the cup donated by Harry N. Gordon '15 for being the most appropriately dressed entrant.

Most in evidence in the parade and later at the Circus was the prevalence of loud speakers in constant variety of manner and matter. Crowds swarmed to Alumni Field, to see Rosie go through her tricks, to throw baseballs at the clowns, watch the Ho-Nun-De-Kah Indians perform, to be arrested and fined by the Spring Day judges, try their luck at the various games of chance, and see the bronco busters work.

The Campus turned out enmasse to enjoy a perfect Spring Day, which began Friday night, when the Drill Hall dance floor, larger than usual, was crowded with more than 3,000 persons at the Navy Ball. Dancing was impossible near the two orchestras, as the crowds surged first to stand before the stage where the great Cab Calloway performed and yodelled, and then across the hall to gaze awestruck at Ozzie Nelson and his glamorous songstress, Harriet Hilliard. Fraternity boxes which lined the white-draped walls were designated with Greek letters on life rings, and two signal masts in the center bore crows' nests, spotlights, and international code flags between.

Even the weather smiled, as the season's record crowd of 4,000 saw the baseball team defeat Yale on Hoy Field while the ROTC polo team was taking Cortland Polo Club into camp on upper Alumni Field; and the Lake was perfect for the crew races later, when thousands lined the shore and crowded into boats of all sizes and descriptions to see the Varsity and J-V win. Among the many alumni who came to town for the week end, some of those known to be here were William H. Forbes '06 of Cleveland, Ohio; Jerome D. Barnum '12, of Syracuse, whose son, Jerome, Jr. is a Freshman; Truman Lacey '26 of Binghamton, Daniel G. Robinhold '27 of Forty Fort, Pa., and Theodosia Taylor '34 of Springfield, Mass. President Roosevelt, invited by the committee to come to watch his son race, pleaded the rush of governmental affairs which prevented. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. rowed at No. 6 in the Harvard J-V shell.

Co-chairmen of the Spring Day committee were Walter L. Chewning '36 and William D. Sells '36. Credit for obtaining Rosie and for the successful Spring Day parade goes to Henry Untermeyer '36.

JOB PROSPECTS BETTER

Prospects for employment of Seniors are brighter this year than at any time since the beginning of the depression, according to Herbert H. Williams '25, director of the University Placement Bureau. He reports more inquiries, more "scouts" from business and industry looking for Seniors, and greater variety of work available than for several years.

Most of the Hotel Administration men, he says, will be quickly placed, as will those in Engineering, especially Administrative, Mechanical, and Electrical Engineering. Students in Arts and Sciences, too, he says, are better off than last year. Many of them go into teaching or graduate work; by fall, according to Williams, almost all will be placed.

MUSIC HALL NIGHT

Enjoyment on both sides of the footlights and appropriate Spring Day informality marked the Dramatic Club's ninth annual Music Hall Night, comprising a succession of "dramatic souvenirs and other simple follies," presented in the Willard Straight Theatre Friday and Saturday evenings.

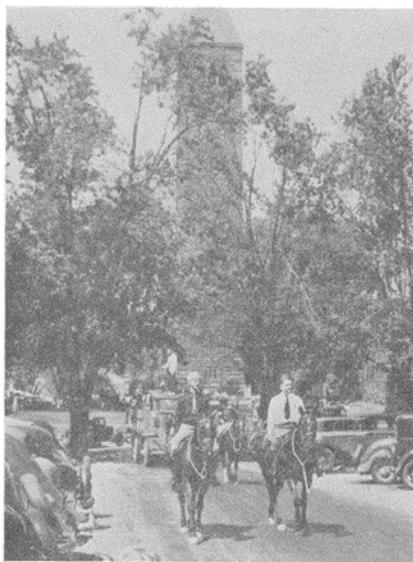

Nearly fifty members of the Dramatic Club appeared in the ten skits, each introduced by a suave and ironically polished Charles Brunelle '36 as master of ceremonies. They included "Co-Ed," by Violet Brown '35, an amusing Sunday evening interval in a girls' dormitory; the Rover Boys of the '90s and their lady love, by George Fass '29; "The Cockle-pfeifer Case," a murder mystery to end murder mysteries, by the late Judson W. Genung '26 and Barnard W. Hewitt '28; and "The Last Mile," by Henry Hillman '34.

Rowan D. Spraker, Jr. '37 actually mystified the audience with his facile sleight of hand; Mary Stewart '38 and Daniel F. Mulvihill, Jr. '39 appeared in a tap-dancing number; and a quintet from the Glee Club and two girls and a boy rendered close harmony.

ITHACA ARTISTS EXHIBIT

Professor William M. Dunbar '18, member of the Willard Straight Hall board of managers and chairman of its art committee, has written for the ALUMNI NEWS the following about the exhibit of local artists which closed this week:

"Artists of Cornell capped the climax of a beautiful spring in Ithaca. Works,

FIRST SPRING DAY PARADE IN NINE YEARS

The head of the column proceeding up Tower Road from the Library toward the Circus grounds on Alumni Field. On the big truck just behind the marshalls is "Rosie," featured white elephant, and her student barker (on top of the truck's cab). More than 1,000 paid to see her perform at the Circus. Photo by Fenner.

chiefly of the professional painters and sculptors, were put on view in Memorial Room of Willard Straight Hall for ten days. The exhibition was opened with a tea Sunday evening, May 17. The great room, bright with pictures and crowded with visitors, was gala; and throughout the week which followed provided inspiration to thousands of people.

"Many of the works shown were of first rank. The enthusiasm of undergraduates, Faculty, townspeople, and out-of-town visitors indicates the quality of the work shown. But more than this, it brings to notice again one of the curious weaknesses in the University's physical equipment; namely, that Cornell, in contrast to many institutions of its own and lesser rank, has no facilities to make an effective response to the present popular—not to mention the scholarly or professional—interest in art. This is especially unfortunate for a university located far from art centers. Cornell could make its own art center were funds available.

"Although Willard Straight Hall has no rooms where pictures can be properly lighted or conveniently protected, the management of the building this year has arranged several exhibitions of interesting painting, notably that of Vincent van Gogh, shown in the library.

"The exhibitors in Memorial Room were: Professor William C. Baker '98, Hester Bancroft Berry '22, Professor Olaf M. Brauner, Professor LeRoy P. Burnham, Professor Harry R. Camden, Professor Gilmore D. Clarke '13, Professor Clara L. Garrett, Jean Marie Graves, Professor John A. Hartell '25, Alison Mason Kingsbury, Professor Edward Lawson '13, Professor Christian Midjo, Professor Walter King Stone, Virginia True, Professor Kenneth L. Washburn '26, and Dean George Young, Jr. '00 and Mrs. Young (Helen Binkerd) '00.

CHANGES AT GENEVA

The Division of Botany at the State Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva has been changed by the University Board of Trustees to the Division of Plant Pathology, and the former seed laboratory is created a separate Division of Seed Investigations, with Professor Mancel T. Munn in charge. He came to the Station in 1912 as assistant in Botany and has been in charge of the seed laboratory since it was created in 1920. An acknowledged authority, he has several times represented the United States Government at seed conferences in Europe.

Dr. Otto A. Reinking, now consulting plant pathologist for Wisconsin, has been appointed head of the Division of Plant Pathology at Geneva, to succeed Professor Fred C. Stewart, whose retirement July 1 as head of the Division of Botany we announced recently. Widely experienced with plant diseases in the United States, Hawaii, the Philippines, and Central America, Dr. Reinking was also for three years engaged in plant pathology research in Germany, returning last October to take up work with the United Fruit Company. He received the PhD degree at Wisconsin in 1922.

Since July 1, 1923, administrative control of the Geneva Experiment Station has been in the hands of the University Board of Trustees.

SNARELY ON TOUR

Meeting alumni in four cities last week, Coach Carl G. Snavely warned of the danger of becoming too complacent about Cornell's athletics, and expressed the hope that the present widespread interest in athletics would be reflected in all branches of the University's activities.

At Rochester May 19, 140 Cornellians gathered for the dinner of the Cornell Club. Arthur B. Curran '16, president of the Club, presided, and Dr. Willis E. Bowen '02 led the singing. Also at the speakers' table were Walter L. Todd '09, Dr. Floyd S. Winslow '06, Frank E. Gannett '98, and Judges Harry L. Taylor '88 and Harley N. Crosby '96. Before the meeting Snavely and Louis C. Boochever '12, who accompanied him from Ithaca, held a conference with representatives of Rochester newspapers.

Three dinners on successive nights were held in Detroit, Milwaukee, and Chicago. Foster M. Coffin '12, Alumni Representative, joined Coach Snavely in Detroit Wednesday morning, May 20. After a luncheon with a small group of alumni, interviews with the press, and a visit to the Cranbrook School, dinner followed at the Intercollegiate Alumni Club. Matthew Carey '15, president of the Cornell Club of Michigan, introduced the speakers.

Thursday, May 21, was spent in Milwaukee, the day's schedule similar to that in Detroit. Bruno V. Bitker '21, president of the Cornell Club of Milwaukee, presided at the dinner at the University Club. The group included athletic directors and selected boys from some of the local schools. A special guest was Otto V. Kruse '09, president of the Cornell Club of Philadelphia, who by chance met the two Ithacans in Chicago and made the trip to Milwaukee with them.

The Cornell Club of Chicago had postponed its annual banquet until after spring football practice in order to insure Coach Snavely's attendance. Fred H. Bird '11, chairman of the committee, brought out a crowd of two hundred for almost a record. The dinner was held at the Sherman Hotel May 22, with William H. McCauly '08 as toastmaster. Special guests were wearers of the football "C."

Coffin and Snavely caught the night train for Ithaca, to arrive in time for the athletic events of Spring Day.

HONOR DEAN KIMBALL Alumni Pay Tribute

Dexter S. Kimball, who retires this year as Dean of the College of Engineering after thirty-five years of active service at Cornell, was the guest of honor of more than two hundred alumni at a dinner given by the Cornell Society of Engineers at the Pennsylvania Hotel in New York City May 21.

Edward C. M. Stahl '13, president of the Society, presided, and introduced, besides Dean Kimball, Professor Herman Diederichs '97, Director of Mechanical Engineering and Dean-elect of the College; Professor S. C. Hollister, Director of Civil Engineering and soon to be associate Dean; Professor Paul M. Lincoln, Director of Electrical Engineering; Maxwell M. Upson '99 and James W. Parker '08, University Trustees; and C. Reeve Vanneman '03, president of the Cornell Alumni Corporation.

Parker, on behalf of the Society and representing more than 14,000 Cornell engineers, presented Dean Kimball with an illuminated scroll, signed by Stahl as president and John P. Syme '26 as secretary, which said in part:

"We are justly proud of Dean Kimball's national fame as an engineer and as a leader in the field of engineering education, and we are mindful of his outstanding professional achievements which have contributed so significantly to the prestige of our College of Engineering. And yet, in the intimacy of this group of Cornellians, our foremost desire is to record the deep affection and the unbounded respect which we feel for one who in the discharge of his official duties has ever evinced those qualities of gentle humanity and gracious friendship with which he has adorned his technical skill and his attainments.

"By the breadth of his intellectual interests and by his literary and artistic knowledge and sympathies, Dean Kimball has set a lofty standard for his fellow-members of the profession who, cherishing his leadership, would bring to their own scientific accomplishments a maturity and richness of understanding of those finer things in life that confer a rounded beauty on human relations.

"May he, in his vigorous health and strength, long continue to live that life of service with which he has so amply blessed his fellow men."

Students in Engineering are honoring Dean Kimball at a dinner in Willard Straight Hall May 28. Harold D. North, Jr. '36, whose father received his ME degree in 1907, is toastmaster. A later dinner is planned by the Engineering Faculty.

Dean Kimball was born in New River, New Brunswick, Can., October 21, 1865. He worked as an apprentice and machinist on the West Coast and received the Bachelor's degree in engineering at Stanford in '93, completing the four-year course in three years. For a time he was a designer in marine and mining work, first for the Union Iron Works in San Francisco and then for the Anaconda Mining Company, until he was brought to Cornell as assistant professor of machine design in 1898 by Professor John H. Barr, MME '89. After three years in Sibley, however, he left to be works manager of the Stanley Electric Manufacturing Company, until Albert W. Smith '78, then became director of Sibley College, called him back in 1904 as professor of machine construction. In 1915 he organized the pioneer course in Industrial Engineering, and has become widely known for his work in correlating engineering training with the practical problems of business and industry. In 1920, when the three previous Schools of Engineering were brought into one College, he became its first Dean. Twice, in 1918 and in 1929-30, he has been acting President of the University.

Not only as an engineer but as an educator has Dean Kimball achieved widespread recognition. His publications include hundreds of technical articles in both fields, a half-dozen widely used textbooks, and several non-technical articles on education and books, his hobby. He was at one time a director of the McGraw Hill Publishing Company, a member of the staff of Alexander Hamilton Institute and chairman of its board, a director of the Ithaca Savings Bank, receiver of the Ithaca Traction Corporation, and last year was president of the Ithaca Chamber of Commerce. He has received honorary degrees from the University of Rochester, Case School of Applied Science, Kansas State College, and Northeastern University; was Brackett lecturer at Princeton in 1929 and lecturer on industrial organization at the Stanford Graduate School of Business in 1930; was president for two years of the American Engineering Council, and besides numerous professional societies is a member of Sigma Xi, Tau Beta Pi, and Phi Kappa Phi. Three years ago he was awarded the Lamme medal by the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, and more recently he received the Warner medal of the ASME.

DEAN DEXTER S. KIMBALL

He is in great demand as a speaker, and extremely popular with students of all Colleges as he hurries about the Campus, usually closely followed or preceded by his wise little Scotch terrier, "Wally." This year, for example, the Cornellian was dedicated to him and he was the guest speaker at the Freshman women's banquet and the Cornell Day rally in Bailey Hall, among many other student honors.

MID-HUDSON WOMEN MEET

The Mid-Hudson Cornell Women's Club met on May 21 at the home of Mrs. Henry C. Strahan (Martha Wool) '24, president of the Club. Fifteen members were present. It was voted to have the next meeting a picnic on the evening of June 2, at the home of Mrs. Clifford V. Barker, the wife of Clifford V. Barker '21, at Staatsburgh.

HEERMANS PRIZE PLAYS

This year's Forbes Heermans prizes for the best original one-act plays on American themes were won by Seymour B. Berkowitz '36 of Newark, N. J. and Charles Brunelle '36 of New York City. First prize of $100 was awarded for "The Life of John Doe" by Berkowitz; and second of $50 for "Barge Baby" by Brunelle. Robert M. Gorrell '36 of Bremen, Ind. gained honorable mention for his play, "Nearer My God to Thee."

The winning plays will be presented by the Dramatic Club June 12 and 13, during Class reunions.

The plays were submitted under assumed names, so the judges did not know that they were making awards to three members of the playwriting courses of Professor Alex M. Drummond, director of the University Theatre. "The Life of John Doe" was presented by the Dramatic Club March 9 last year and by the Summer Theatre July 26 and 27. It depicts impressionistically, partly in verse, the life cycle of its principal character. "Barge Baby" draws from its author's observations during a summer as a newspaper reporter on Long Island, and deals with life on a sand and gravel barge. Brunelle has been active in the Dramatic Club, of which he is secretary-treasurer, and is a founder and president of the Radio Guild.

Judges of this year's contest were Professor Walter H. Stainton '19, assistant director of the University Theatre; Professor Eva M. Duthie, Rural Social Organization Extension; and Raymond W. Short '28, instructor in English.

The annual Heermans prizes for undergraduate plays are endowed with a trust fund of $15,000 left to the University by Forbes Heermans '78 at his death in 1928. He was a playwright, journalist, and novelist, best known as the editor of David Harum, by David Noyes Westcott.

"SHIP-SHAPE" AT REUNIONS

The audience at the Musical Clubs' reunion week show, "Ship-Shape," in Bailey Hall June 12, will be passengers on an ocean liner, entertained by the ship's company, with Thomas B. Tracy '31 as "first mate."

The Instrumental Club will be the ship's orchestra, and they and the Glee Club are rehearsing now in preparation for a rollicking cruise. This will be the last public appearance of the Musical Clubs this year. Combining a Senior Week and reunion audience, and with many special numbers on the bill, the performance is expected to be colorful and interesting, exceeding even the Junior Week show which attracted much favorable comment, both in Ithaca and before alumni audiences on its spring recess tour.

ENTERTAIN DEBATERS

Alumni of Columbia, Mo., meet April 24 at the Tiger Hotel in honor of the Cornell debaters who visited Columbia to debate with the University of Missouri. Other guests included Professor and Mrs. Bower Aly and Professor and Mrs. J. W. Rankin of the Department of English of the University of Missouri. Twenty-five Cornellians were present. Professor William J. Robbins, PhD '15, Dean of the Graduate Faculty of the University of Missouri, presided. Professor Wilbur E. Gilman '23 was chairman of the committee which arranged for the entertainment of the visiting debaters.

CLASS OF '13 ACTIVE

The Class of '13, this year midway between its last regular reunion, in 1934, and its twenty-five-year celebration two years hence, is nevertheless active.

George H. Rockwell, Class secretary, writes that he has appointed a committee to compile a permanent record of '13 reunions, in order that "neither the University nor any of its classmates shall ever forget the reunions of this estimable Class."

"The committee desires to draw on the fertile memories of its classmates and their respective cameras the world over by having them send to Marcel K. Sessler, 60 Broadway, New York City, any and all items of fun and interest concerning themselves or others on the occasion of any reunion they may have attended. Any article received, small or large, will put you in 'Who's Who in 1913'."

Besides Sessler, who is chairman, the other members of the committee to gather these memoirs are Tristan Antell, Louis A. Bonn, Walter A. Bridgeman, Clark M. Dennis, Aertson P. Keasby, and Ernest J. Kluge.

From Sessler we learn that: "During the past year and a half, '13 luncheons have been held every now and then (but more now than then) for an ever-growing group who enjoy the refreshing edification of Greta Garbo, Myrna Loy, et al. We've even had miscreants like 'Jake' Fassett ['12] to join our festal board, indicating a broad-minded attitude on our part in inviting members of other classes."

Any who wish to sit down to these noon-day vacations are invited to drop Sessler a line for notification of the next one.

LONG ISLAND DANCE

Cornellians of Long Island and their guests will make merry at the annual dinner dance of the Cornell Club of Nassau County, May 29 at the Munsey Park Country Club, between Manhasset and Roslyn. Last year's party nearly overflowed the accommodations; this year's was expected to be fully as successful.

George C. Butler '28 is chairman of the committee. Herman Stuetzer, Jr. '31 is president of the Club.

JUNIORS WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

Award of four Senior scholarships for next year in the College of Arts and Sciences was announced last week. Two George C. Boldt Memorial Scholarships of $400 each have been awarded to Alfred Semkowitz of New York City and William S. Leather of Schenectady, the third being divided between Charles Kaplan of Brooklyn and Lloyd G. Mount of Central Square. They were established in 1923 by George C. Boldt, Jr. '05, in memory of his father, who was for many years a Trustee of the University and largely responsible for the system of men's residential halls.

The Cornelia L. Hall Scholarship, of $110, open to women in Arts from Tioga, Chemung, or Tompkins Counties, was awarded to Mary Nardi '38 of Ithaca, with Sarah E. Thomas '37 of Binghamton, alternate.

160 MORE GIVE TO FUND

In the week to May 23 the Alumni Fund gained $4,270.18 from 160 new contributors and by additional gifts from several former subscribers; it now totals $81,116.56 from 4,670 contributors, according to Archie M. Palmer '18, executive secretary of The Cornellian Council.

This week's ranking still shows the Class of '10 leading in amount, with $3,559.50; '35 in number of subscribers, with 188; and '70 in percentage of members giving, at 20. Likewise '16 and '94 hold their respective second and third places in amount, but '06 has displaced '21 for fourth place and '93 and '05 come into eighth and ninth places, respectively, pushing the Class of '00 into tenth place and crowding '28 and '26 out of the high ten, eight of whom are over $2,000.

Third place in number of contributors now belongs to the Class of '13, with 149, one more than '26. Likewise '18 has gone ahead of '23 to eighth place and '17 displaces '22 and '33 at tenth, with 131 subscribers. Twenty-three Classes now have more than 100 subscribers each.

Two quinquennial reunion Classes, '06 and '16, come into the high ten in percentage of subscribers, in eighth and tenth place, respectively, crowding out '86 and '90.

More than thirty of the Council's Class representatives, Palmer says, have written to their classmates urging them to support the effort to "make Cornell the 1936 leader of all universities in number of contributing alumni," and it is anticipated that before the end of the fiscal year, June 30, at least 8,000 Cornellians will have responded with unrestricted gifts.

ITHACA WOMEN ELECT

At its last meeting until fall, a dinner at Forest Home Inn, the Cornell Women's Club of Ithaca re-elected Mrs. Arthur A. Allen (Elsa Guerdum) '12 its president. Dorothy DeLany '23 is vice-president; Maxine Moore '34, treasurer; Mrs. Eugene Durham (Mary P. Porter) '22, secretary; and Mrs. Simon H. Gage (Clara C. Starrett) '18, a member of the board of directors for two years. Mrs. Clive M. McKay, formerly of the Home Economics staff, spoke on "The Russian Woman of Today," from her travels last year in Russia.

OFFER PRIZES FOR PLAYS

Playwrights now in college or who have left college within the last three years are to be encouraged by a prize competition and the award of fellowships and scholarships recently announced by the newly-organized Bureau of New Plays, Inc.

The Bureau will award six cash prizes of $500 each for original full-length plays, unpublished and not produced by any professional theatre, in the following classifications: the best play of human relations, either comedy or drama, on a romantic or domestic theme; the best play on a social theme; the best melodrama; the best farce; the best satiric play; and the best character play, modern or historic. Manuscripts submitted will also constitute the basis for awards of scholarships of $1250 each and fellowships of $2500 each. The competition opens June 1, 1936, and closes October 31, 1936. Manuscripts must be accompanied by recommendation from the head of the dramatic or English department of the author's college, as to quality and maturity of the work.

The Bureau of New Plays is sponsored by seven leading motion picture concerns: Columbia, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Paramount, RKO Radio, Twentieth-Century Fox, Universal, and Warner Brothers. Offices are at 1270 Sixth Avenue, New York City. Theresa Helburn is director of the Bureau, and judges will be selected from a panel of distinguished authorities on the theatre, including educators, playwrights, actors, and directors.

About ATHLETICS

TWO CREWS WIN

Perfect rowing weather, with the Lake smooth, a warm sun, and the green hills of the east shore packed with a cheerful crowd estimated at 25,000 persons, saw the Varsity win by three lengths and the J-V crew come down the two-mile course a good two lengths ahead of Harvard. The crowd on shore and in boats of all sorts was of course concentrated near the finish line off the old salt block near McKinney's, but Stewart Park was full, the Lake road almost the full length of the course was lined with cars, and scattered picnic parties could be described from the Lake among the trees far up the hillsides, as airplanes swooped overhead.

The Freshman eight started strongly, rowing a 34 beat, and held their only rivals, the Syracuse yearlings, even at the mile. But then the Orange boat dropped from a 36 to 32, steadied nicely, and pulled ahead, to win by a length, in 10 minutes 57.8 seconds, with the Freshman crossing the line in 11:1.8.

Rowing the middle course, with Syracuse next to the shore and Harvard further out in the Lake, the Junior Varsity pulled ahead at the start in the John Ostrom, rowing a smooth and even 32. At the half-mile they were half a length ahead of the Harvard shell, in which Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. rowed with a will at No. 6. At the three-quarter there was open water between the boats, with Syracuse left behind, and at the mile mark the John Ostrom led by a length. Harvard threatened in the last mile, however, and stepped it up to 38 in a final spurt which gained some ground, but the Cornell stroke, increased to 36, held the lead to nearly two lengths at the finish. Cornell's time was 10:56.2; Harvard, 11:03.8; and Syracuse came across the line in 11:17.4.

The Varsity race was rowed as the sun neared the western hills, in the same lanes. Cornell started with a 37-beat sprint which left Harvard and Syracuse astern of the John Collyer, but steadied to a 34 at the half-mile, and from there increased the lead, with Harvard and Syracuse fighting it out between themselves most of the way down. The varsity crossed the line in 10:38.6; Harvard nearly three lengths behind, in 10:47.6; and Syracuse five lengths back, crossing in 10:54.2.

The Cornell boatings were the same as had won from Yale and Princeton on Lake Carnegie the week before.

Yachts and passenger boats were seen on the Lake from Syracuse, Auburn, Alexandria Bay, and New York City, and the press boat was the cruiser Comarjah, loaned by Henry O. Palmer '07 of Geneva and ably skippered by Erle E. Snelgrove, president of the Geneva Regatta Association.

Tickets for Poughkeepsie

The University athletic office has received a limited quota of tickets from the stewards of the Poughkeepsie regatta for the observation train June 22. They will be available to Cornellians June 1 at $4.75 each. Checks should be sent and made payable to the Cornell University Athletic Association, and each order should include 25c extra for registration and postage.

WIN TWICE AT BASEBALL

The Varsity baseball team scored four runs in the sixth inning on Hoy Field Saturday afternoon to beat Yale, 8-3, and win its second League game and the fifth of the season. Batten, the starting pitcher, was replaced by Lozier in that inning,

THE VARSITY WINS BY THREE LENGTHS ON CAYUGA LAKE

It is estimated that 25,000 spectators saw the race from the east shore of the Lake. Within two hours this picture, taken from the finish boat opposite the old salt block at McKinney's, was in New York City and Boston for the Sunday morning papers. New York Times Wide World Photos transmitted it from the Troy Studios in Sibley College by a mechanical device attached to the telephone call box, the first time from Ithaca. Watch for race pictures also in the news reels.

and he allowed only four hits and one run. Doering and Dugan hit three-baggers in the fourth, but only the former scored when two succeeding batsmen failed. The box score:

CORNELL (8)		AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Kreimer, 2b	5	2	2	5	3	0	0
Buckhout, rf	5	1	1	1	0	0	0
Batten, p, lf	5	2	3	1	2	0	0
Downer, cf	4	1	3	2	0	0	0
Doering, c	4	1	1	8	0	0	0
Johnson, ss	5	0	1	1	2	0	0
Dugan, lf	2	0	1	1	0	1	0
Lozier, p	3	0	0	0	1	0	0
Florance, 1b	5	1	0	9	1	0	0
McNamara, 3b	2	0	1	0	1	1	0
Rosenheck, 3b	1	0	1	0	0	0	0
Total	41	8	14	28	10	2

YALE (3)		AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Kohlman, cf	5	0	2	0	0	0	0
Cummins, 2b	4	0	0	0	4	0	0
Horton, rf, p	5	0	1	4	0	0	0
Kelly, 1b	5	0	0	7	4	2	0
Marcus, lf	3	1	1	4	0	0	0
Jordan, c	2	0	0	1	1	0	0
Bosworth, c	1	1	0	1	1	0	0
Klimczak, 3b	4	1	3	2	2	0	0
Blake, ss	3	0	1	1	3	1	0
Walker, p, rf	4	0	2	0	1	1	0
Total	36	3	10	24	16	4

Cornell.....1 0 0 1 1 4 0 1 *—8
 Yale.....0 0 0 2 0 1 0 0—3

Runs batted in: Downer 2, Kimczak 2, Walker, Dugan, Kreimer, Batten, Johnson 2.
 Two-base hit: Batten. Three-base hits: Marcus, Doering, Dugan. Sacrifice: Blake. Stolen base: Rosenheck. Double play: Batten, Kreimer and Florance. Left on bases: Yale 10, Cornell 12. Struck out: By Batten 1, Lozier 3, Walker 4. Base on balls: Off Batten 1, Lozier 2, Walker 2, Horton 1. Passed ball: Bosworth. Hits: Off Batten 6 in 4 innings, Lozier 4 in 5, Walker 11 in 6, Horton 3 in 2. Winning pitcher: Lozier. Losing pitcher: Walker. Umpires: Ames and Barber. Time of game, 2:11.

Two more games remain, against Dartmouth, June 12 in Ithaca and the next day at Hanover.

On May 20, with "Lefty" Lozier pitching, the team beat Colgate at Hamilton, 8-4. Lozier came in in the fourth inning, after Baker had allowed four runs, and managed to have ten Colgate players left on bases during the last five innings. The Varsity scored 3 in the fourth, 4 in the sixth, and one in the seventh, with Walter Johnson '38 getting two hits in twice at bat. He played shortstop in place of Schaehrer, kept in Ithaca by a class, Captain Kreimer played at second in place of Rosenheck, also detained in Ithaca, and McNamara held down third.

The Freshman team closed its season on Hoy Field May 20, defeating Cook Academy, 6-4. Coach Robert S. Grant '34, busy with Law finals, had previously handed over his duties to James Tatum, the team having won five of eight games.

BEAT ARMY AT TENNIS

The tennis team ended its season Saturday by defeating Army, 5-4, at West Point. The last two points of the final doubles match, won by Sobel and Peavy, decided the issue. Marcus, Simpson, Diamond, and Peavy won their singles matches, but Doughty and Sobel lost; and in the doubles only the last match went to Cornell.

The team this year lost but one match, to Columbia, and defeated Penn State, St. John's, Georgetown, and McGill.

LACROSSE SEASON OVER

The Varsity lacrosse team on Saturday closed a season handicapped by noticeable lack of material, losing to Syracuse on Alumni Field, 7-17. More skilled in stickwork than the Varsity, Syracuse took an early lead and held it throughout. The team won from Colgate last week and has lost five games.

Romeyn Berry '04, in his Monday's Ithaca Journal column, "State and Tioga," pays this tribute:

"The greatest gift of God," says Mr. Nicholas Bawlf, 'is Youth. And,' adds the great coach, after one of his pupils has chosen to drive the ball with swift accuracy into the goal tender's stomach instead of into the vacant goal, 'look at the kind of dumb bunny He always gives it to'."

POLO CLOSSES EVEN

The ROTC polo team evened its season of two outdoor games by defeating the Cortland Polo Club on the newly-reconditioned Upper Alumni polo field Saturday, 15-7, thus avenging its 15-0 defeat of last week by Princeton.

Roberts, the Lawrence brothers, and Christian overcame the Cortland handicap of 5 in the first period and scored in every other one of the six. Thomas Lawrence, playing at No. 3, starred with 5 goals. Henry Untermeyer '36 played as substitute in his last game for Cornell, after having that morning overseen the successful Spring Day parade, and made 2 goals. Substitute player on the Cortland team was Dr. Richard M. Sears '33.

GOLFERS WIND UP SEASON

Its final scheduled match, with Colgate at Hamilton Monday, cancelled, the golf team played its last game May 20, and lost to Syracuse, 2-7. They lost six and won five matches, and ended their first year in the Eastern Intercollegiate Golf Association tied with Penn State for second place in the Middle Atlantic division, with three wins and two defeats. Princeton led with five victories. The Varsity defeated Pennsylvania, Haverford, Georgetown, Pittsburgh, and McGill, and lost to Princeton, Colgate, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, and twice to Penn State.

The Freshman golf team defeated Manlius School at Manlius May 20, 8-4.

FARM WOMEN from all over the world, meeting in Washington, D. C. May 31 to June 12, are expected to visit the Campus during the Commencement week end.

COMING EVENTS

Time and place of regular Club luncheons are printed separately as we have space. Notices of other Cornell events, both in Ithaca and abroad, appear below. Contributions to this column must be received on or before Thursday to appear the next Thursday.

MAY 30

At Philadelphia: Intercollegiate track meet

JUNE 12

At Ithaca: Class reunions: '71, '76, '81, '84, '85, '86, '87, '91, '96, '01, '03, '04, '05, '06, '11, '16, '21, '22, '23, '24, '25, '26, '31, '34; registration, Drill Hall
 Alumni-Faculty luncheon, Drill Hall, 12-2
 Annual meeting Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs, Willard Straight Hall, 2, followed by reception at 4:30 for Senior daughters of alumnae
 Baseball, Dartmouth, Hoy Field, 2:30
 Organ recital, Sage Chapel, 5
 Senior and alumni singing, Goldwin Smith portico, 7
 Dramatic Club presents the Heermans Prize plays, Willard Straight Theatre, 8:45
 Musical Clubs show, Bailey Hall, 8:45
 Senior Ball, Willard Straight Hall, 11

JUNE 13

At Ithaca: Class reunions
 Alumnae breakfast, Willard Straight, 7:30
 Civil Engineering breakfast, Sibley, 8
 Architects' breakfast, White Hall, 9
 Association of Class Secretaries, Willard Straight Hall, 9
 Annual meeting, The Cornellian Council, Baker Laboratory, 9
 Annual meeting, Cornell Alumni Corporation, President Farrand, Alumni Trustee elections report, Baker Laboratory, 10:30
 Alumni-Faculty luncheon, Drill Hall, 12-2
 Rowing pageant, Inlet, afternoon
 Class dinners as announced, 6
 Dramatic Club presents the Heermans Prize plays, Willard Straight Theatre, 8:15
 Reunion rally, Bailey Hall, 9:30
 At Hanover: Baseball, Dartmouth

JUNE 14

At Ithaca: Baccalaureate sermon, Rev. Thomas W. Graham, Bailey Hall, 4
 Senior singing and Class Day, Goldwin Smith portico, 7
 Women's Senior singing, Balch Hall court, 9

JUNE 15

At Ithaca: Commencement, Drill Hall, 11
 Second Alumni Institute opens, Willard Straight Hall, 8:30

JUNE 16

At Ithaca: Alumni Institute
 The Contemporary Stage, with Professors Drummond, Strunk, Mason, and Stainton, Willard Straight Hall, 9:30
 The Proletarian Movement, with Professors Sabine, DeVane, Washburn, and Homan, Willard Straight Hall, 2
 Modern Music, Professor Kinkeldey, Willard Straight Hall, 8:30

JUNE 17

At Ithaca: Alumni Institute
 Art in Modern Structure, with Professors Bosworth, Clarke, Hollister, and Conwell, Willard Straight Hall, 9:30 and 2
 Illustrations of the Modern Stage and Screen, Professor Drummond, Willard Straight Hall, 8:30

JUNE 18

At Ithaca: Alumni Institute
 The Effect of an Industrial Democracy on the Dwelling, with Professors Hartell, Dunbar, Waring, and Wylie, Willard Straight Hall, 9:30
 Picnic luncheon at Taughannock, 1:30

BRIEF NEWS OF CAMPUS AND TOWN

SPRING DAY aftermath, from the Sun's classified column: "Lost—Woman's blue bathing suit, near Beebe Lake late Saturday afternoon. Finder call Charles Keller at . . ." Didn't see the crew races, did you Charley?

SENIOR SINGING started last week in the portico of Goldwin Smith Hall, bringing nearer to its close the last year as undergraduates of the Class of '36. Final examinations start next Monday, and then it is but a short interval to Senior Week and the University's sixty-eighth Commencement.

CORSON FRENCH PRIZE for the year has been divided between Francis M. Rogers '36 of New Bedford, Mass. and Charles Kaplan '37 of Brooklyn. Founded in 1902 by the late Professor Hiram Corson, in memory of his wife, it goes to the writers of the best essays dealing either with French philology or French literature.

SURE SIGN of spring in Ithaca is Treman, King's annual bathing suit show, always crowded to the doors. On two evenings last week three Senior women, two Sophomores, and a Freshman modelled the newest numbers before an appreciative crowd. Grace E. Roberts '27 was in charge of the show.

AESCULAPIUS, women's pre-Medical society, was addressed by Dr. Abram T. Kerr '95, secretary of the Medical College, May 19.

SCOUTING CLUB, its members about twenty-five Boy Scouts now undergraduates, re-elected C. Frederick Wise '38 of Philadelphia, Pa. president, at its first annual banquet recently.

POP'S PLACE on College Avenue, just off the Campus, has been sold by John G. Papayankos to Constantine J. Manos, who has operated the lunch and confectionery business for the twelve years since its former owner's retirement from active management.

PLEBE this year at the United States Naval Academy will be Ralph E. Witter of Ithaca, Freshman in Agriculture, whose appointment to the Academy was announced last week.

INTERFRATERNITY WRESTLING matches brought to Coach Walter C. O'Connell '12, recently, confirmation of the old saw, "Like father, like son." Approached by a hesitant Junior who asked if he could wrestle in both the 165-pound and 175-pound classes, Walt advised the boy not to try it, saying that such things haven't happened since the days when he had coached at Yale and "Pop" Foster of the Yale team won at 175 pounds and five minutes later defeated Pennsylvania's famous heavy-weight, Bob Folwell. "You said that was in 1917?" asked the youngster. "No," replied Walt, "in 1907." "Well," the boy replied "perhaps I could do it. You see, 'Pop' Foster was my father." Robert L. Foster '37 entered both bouts.

COMING EVENTS in the College of Agriculture include the nineteenth annual poultry judging and breeding school, June 16-19; and the twelfth summer school for town and country ministers, July 20-31. Recently the Animal Husbandry Department entertained student judging teams from nine Eastern state colleges, and last week sixty-five breeders attended "beef cattle day," now to become an annual affair.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON at Cornell is one of eight chapters to receive a bequest to provide "annual prizes for deserving undergraduates" from the estate of James A. Hawes, New York City lawyer and secretary of the fraternity for twenty years.

CURW joint policy board has elected Marion L. Stevens '37 of Binghamton its president for the next academic year.

TRAVELERS to Dryden and Cortland out of Ithaca will shortly drive through a new underpass under the E. C. & N. tracks near Varna. The new construction eliminates the two right angle curves and the old overhead bridge on the concrete road to Dryden.

DELTA UPSILON, with the advantage of having John H. Nevius of the Freshman track team on its squad, won the interfraternity track meet, held May 21 and 22, with 25 points. Their nearest rival was Theta Kappa Nu, with 22. Intercollege contests were won by Agriculture, with Mechanical Engineering second, Arts third, and Hotel fourth. This year Varsity and Freshman track men were allowed to compete, but not in events in which they compete in intercollegiate competition.

DEBATE ASSOCIATION has elected Ralph N. Kleps '37 of Batavia its new president and nine new active members. Grace H. Jones '37 of Topeka, Kans. is president of the Women's Debate Club for the coming year.

NEGLEY FARSON in his current best-seller, The Way of a Transgressor, describes a boat race at Poughkeepsie and refers to Coach Courtney as "the greatest rowing coach this world will ever see."

SAGE CHAPEL PREACHER May 31 is Dr. Augustus Taber Murray, of the Society of Friends.

ANNIVERSARY, May 24, of the sending of the first telegraph message in this country, which came to have great significance to Cornell University, passed with not so much as a reminiscent click from Professor Morse's ninety-two-year-old instrument, now preserved under glass in Franklin Hall.

ELEVEN GENTLEMEN farmers, members of the New York Farmers, founded fifty-five years ago by several wealthy owners of country estates near the Metropolis, had a dignified field day at the College of Agriculture last week. They toured the College farms and laboratories, met Dr. George F. Warren '03 and were entertained at luncheon at Martha Van Rensselaer Hall. No comment on the future of farming was forthcoming.

ITHACA ENTERPRISES, Inc., having raised approximately $77,000 to be used to attract new business and industry to Ithaca, last week elected four Cornellians among its nine directors. They are Sherman Peer '06, Henry A. Carey '12, Dean Dexter S. Kimball, and Harry G. Stutz '07.

SOCIOLOGY STUDENTS last Monday inspected the Ithaca Police Court, the City and County public welfare offices, the West Side Settlement House, and the Beebe Mission. The day's trip was conducted by Professor Julian L. Woodward '22, Economics, and the social service department of CURW.

NEW BUSINESS firm in Ithaca is Rural Directories, Inc., which opened offices May 8 in the First National Bank Building, to publish rural maps and directories based on refinements of the former "clock system" for the numbering and location of farms. H. Stilwell Brown '27 is executive vice-president of the new firm, and its advisory board includes Professor Dwight Sanderson '98, Rural Social Organization, and Paul Work, MSA '13, Vegetable Crops, and Willard E. Georgia '25, State director of the Resettlement Administration.

LECTURES have included Carlos D. Hart '06, superintendent of Western Electric's cable works at Point Breeze, Baltimore, Md., May 22, before Seniors in Mechanical Engineering; and "Oscar of the Waldorf," father of Leopold Tschirky '12, in Hotel Administration the same day. On May 27 the Democratic Club sponsored a public lecture by the State Attorney-General, John J. Bennett.

Concerning THE FACULTY

JACOB GOULD SCHURMAN, former President of the University, celebrated his eighty-second birthday May 22, in Europe. Most of the time since last September he has been in London, but early in May he left for a trip to the continent with his daughter, Mrs. John Magruder, and Colonel Magruder, who is military attache at Berne, Switzerland. Harold MacDonald '07, President Schurman's nephew, recently returned from Europe, reports that "Uncle Gould" is in perfect health and very active.

PROFESSOR JOHN E. PERRY, Engineering, last week attended the session of the National Boy Scout Council in Atlantic City, N. J.

JUDGE FRANK H. HISCOCK '75, chairman of the Board of Trustees, was named last week an honorary vice-president by the American Unitarian Association, meeting in Boston, Mass.

PROVOST ALBERT R. MANN '04 has been elected a trustee of the Baptist Education Society of the State of New York.

FIFTY STUDENTS of Household Art in the College of Home Economics were given a recent demonstration of flower arrangement in the President's house by Mrs. Livingston Farrand, most of the blossoms coming from her own garden.

PROFESSOR E. FRANKLIN PHILLIPS, Apiculture, was paid glowing tribute and presented with a watch by Rotarians of the 28th District at a dinner in Rochester May 19. His term as district governor of Rotary expires July 1.

CAPTAIN ROBB S. MACKIE, formerly stationed here with the ROTC and in command of the band, and Mrs. Mackie were the Spring Day house guests of Jess J. Dall, Jr. '16 and Mrs. Dall. The MacKies are now at Fort Humphreys, Va.

PROFESSOR ANDREW L. WINSOR, PhD '29, Rural Education, spoke on "The Psychology of Adolescence" before the Child Study Club of Ithaca May 21.

J. COLBY LEWIS, 3d. '34, technical director of the University Theatre, married in Sage Chapel May 20 Marie Jeannette Zobel '35, who has often had parts in the Dramatic Club productions. They live at 205 College Avenue, Ithaca.

"B.A.," Stanford '00 and since 1914 editor of publications in the College of Agriculture, is the subject of an intimate sketch by John T. Kangas '38 in the Cornell Countryman for May. His many and varied interests and activities, the Monday nights at home when Professor and Mrs. Adams hold open house for all who wish to come, his travels, and even his neckties, are interestingly touched upon. "B.A. is more than a man; he is an institution," concludes the youthful author.

PROFESSOR GEORGE J. RALEIGH, Vegetable Crops Extension, and Mrs. Raleigh have a son, born May 21 in Ithaca.

DR. EUGENE L. OPIE, of the Medical College in New York, was a member of the New York City commission which nominated Dr. David Seegal of Columbia as head of the newly-created research division of chronic diseases in the City Department of Hospitals.

BOOKS By Cornellians

A GARDEN ENCYCLOPEDIA

The Garden Encyclopedia. Edited by Edward L. D. Seymour '09. New York City. William H. Wise & Co. 1936. x+1300 pages, illustrated with 60 pages of photographs and many drawings. $4.00.

If any single book may be called indispensable to the average garden maker, this seems to be the book. It stands a searching test of its contents by one who for nearly ten years had had pointed out to him the defects and omissions of literally hundreds of garden books.

Even that bugaboo of all garden writers—the matter of climate and regional differences as they affect plants—is most satisfactorily encompassed. Under "Climate" one finds a brief but informative statement telling from what parts of the world one may expect to have plants do well in his own section of this country. Then with each plant name (alphabetically arranged) is given its place of origin. Further, under "Gardening in Different Sections," the reader finds the country divided into nine general regions, with for each a statement of its climate, soil conditions and requirements, gardening practices, and plants that do well.

Not only for its completeness but for its simplicity of arrangement is the book distinctive. No devious abbreviations are used; it is strictly alphabetical, not only as to botanical and common names of plants but including the many and diverse related gardening subjects, from acid soil to winter work in the garden; and the illustrations and their captions are informative. Seymour's long connection with the horticultural industry, as garden consultant, lecturer, writer, and editor, is guarantee enough of the book's accuracy.

If you have a garden, you will find what you want to know in the Garden Encyclopedia.

NECROLOGY

'87 BS, '88 MS—ERLE HOXSIE SARGENT, September 9, 1935, at his home in Couperville, Wash.

'77 BCE—THEODORE LUQUEER MEAD, May 4, 1936, at his home in Oviedo, Fla. After receiving the BCE degree he remained at the University two years in the Natural History Course, and for more than fifteen years had grown orchid seed in Florida for Professor Lewis Knudson's experiments with the plants. Alpha Delta Phi.

'92 PhB—GEORGE CLOSSON BURRAGE, May 19, 1934. He had taught in the South for many years, recently at Piedmont College, Demorest, Ga. Mrs. Burrage was Elizabeth Hill '93.

'94—ISAAC COLLIER THOMPSON, July 1, 1935, at Belleview, Fla. He entered the Optional Course in 1890, remained two years, and spent the next year in the Law School.

'94, '95 BS—OSCAR HENRY FERNBACH, May 13, 1936, in San Francisco, Cal., where he was radio editor of the San Francisco Examiner. He had been city editor of the old Morning Call and financial editor and marine editor of the Examiner, and took an active part in Cornell affairs in San Francisco. He was wounded in the Philippines during the Spanish American War and went overseas with the 77th Division in the World War, becoming a Captain and serving as interpreter on General Pershing's staff. He was a member of the first board of editors of the Widow, in 1895, with Woodford Patterson '95, Walter G. Pietsch '96, Louis A. Fuertes '97, and James K. Fraser '97. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Masque, Cadet Band, Fencers' Club.

'99 DVM—DR. FLOYD GAGE SCAMMEL, January 20, 1936, in Syracuse. He entered the Veterinary College in 1898, having received the DVS degree at Columbian University in Washington, D. C. in '96. He lived and practiced his profession in LaFayette.

'04—DR. GUSTAVE CHRISTOPHER HOEFLING, September 10, 1935, in New York City, where he was a physician at 450 East 138th Street. He spent one year at the Medical College in New York, 1900-01, and returned in 1908-09 for a special course.

'05 AM—DR. WALTER EDWARD KING, May 1, 1936, in Detroit, Mich., where he was associate director of medical research and biological laboratories for Parke, Davis & Co. Receiving his Bachelor's degree in 1900 at Wabash College, Dr. King was an assistant in Veterinary Bacteriology from 1902-05, and received the MD from the Detroit College of Medicine in 1914. For three years from 1907, after two years with Parke, Davis, he taught bacteriology at Kansas State Agricultural College, then returned to Detroit and was with Parke Davis and director of the Beebe Laboratories. Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi, Delta Tau Delta.

'06 DVM—WILLIAM BURRITT SMITH, May 8, 1936, at his home in Arcade. He entered the Veterinary College in 1903.

'09 LLB—M CARL ALMY, May 12, 1936, in Bath. Former Territorial Commissioner in Seward, Alaska, he was stricken last fall and returned to his home. He entered the Law School in 1906 from Alfred University.

'15 BS—WILLIAM BUTLER REMEY, April 29, 1936, in Seattle, Wash. He entered the College of Agriculture in 1911 from Washington, D. C. Brother, Charles M. Remy '96.

'11 Sp—MRS. CATHERINE SCHURMAN WARE, May 4, 1936, in Utica. Eldest daughter of former President and Mrs. Jacob Gould Schurman, she attended Miss Masters School and took a special course in Agriculture in 1910-11. On July 12, 1919 she was married in Sage Chapel to Raymond Ware, then secretary of the Thomas-Morse Aircraft Corporation in Ithaca. They have recently lived in Hamilton. Sister, Mrs. Vladimir B. Petropavlosky (Barbara R. Schurman) '21; brothers, Robert Schurman '07, George M. Schurman '13, Jacob Gould Schurman, Jr. '17.

'32 MS—VICTOR EUGENE GOULD, April 6, 1936, at his home in Wolfville, N. S., Canada. He entered the Graduate School in Ornithology and Zoology in 1931, having received the BS degree at Acadia University that year.

Concerning THE ALUMNI

'90 BS—Clarence J. Shearn was counsel for the Comptroller of the currency in a recent suit brought by the Government to force nine member banks of the New York Clearing Association to make good a deficiency in the assets of the closed Harriman Bank and Trust Co.

'92 CE—Colonel William G. Atwood was elected to the board of managers of the Empire State Society of the Sons of the American Revolution at their annual meeting in New York City April 23.

'94 ME—William G. Kranz has moved his residence from 12608 Cedar Road to 2330 Roxboro Road, Cleveland Heights, Ohio. His business address is 10600 Quincy Avenue, Cleveland.

'95 ME—George T. Ladd, president of the United Engineering & Foundry Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., told stockholders recently that the company is employing more than its normal number of employes, and that operations at present are being maintained on the basis of a forty-hour week, thus requiring considerable overtime pay.

'97 ME—Frederick D. Herbert, of the Kearfott Engineering Company, has been elected a director of the National Council of American Shipbuilders for a two-year term.

'99 ME(EE)—John W. O'Leary, president of the Machinery and Allied Products Institute, who led a round-table discussion on increasing employment at the United States Chamber of Commerce meeting in Washington April 28, is quoted as saying that the real solution of the unemployment problem is not to share the present jobs, but to create more.

'00 BSA—Herbert P. King of Trumansburg, president of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation and a director of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said in an interview that the farmer is slowly on the road to better times, and that the next Administration must submit pretty much to an agricultural program in its setup.

'01 BArch; '02 BArch—Private enterprise has side-stepped the housing problem by sponsoring programs "stuffed with red herrings," Frederick L. Ackerman of New York City said at the American Institute of Architects' recent convention at Old Point Comfort, Va. R. H. Shreve '02, chairman of the Institute's committee on housing, led a discussion on a movement to develop a unified national small-home program at the same convention.

'02 MD; '16 Sp; '02 AB; '15 Sp—Dr. James S. Greene '02 spoke on "Stuttering and the Stuttering Personality;" Dr. John F. Fairbairn '02 on "Otolaryngology;" Dr. Richard Kovacs '15 on "Physical Therapy;" and Dr. Charles G. Heyd '16 on "Surgery" at the annual convention of the New York State Medical Society the latter part of April in New York City. Dr. Heyd presided at the annual dinner of the Society.

'03 AB—Floyd L. Carlisle is a member of the national committee of the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation.

'04 LLB—Supreme Court Justice William F. Bleakley spoke at the annual convention of the Westchester County Teachers' Association in Yonkers April 25.

'05—Norris B. Henrotin has rented a penthouse apartment at 125 East Eighty-fourth Street, New York City.

'04 COMES BACK THIS JUNE WITH '03, '05, AND '06. HERE THEY ARE AT THEIR TWENTY-YEAR REUNION

'05 AB, '07 LLB; '11 AB—J. Cameron Argetsinger, who has been secretary and general counsel of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, has been elected a vice-president. Mrs. Argetsinger was Lulu M. Williams '11.

'05 LLB—William L. Ransom, president of the American Bar Association, spoke at the annual dinner which closed the convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D.C. His subject was "The Blessings of Liberty," and he cited trends of recent years as proof that Congress and the Executive have been encroaching on individual rights and human liberty. He said that if this continues the United States will be in the same position as Germany and Italy.

'05 AB—Wallace T. Holliday, president of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio, is a vice-president of the 102d. annual convention of Delta Upsilon fraternity, to be held in Columbus, Ohio, September 3-5, 1936. It is planned during the convention to erect a memorial in Ohio to James A. Garfield, former President of the United States and a member of Delta Upsilon at Williams College.

'07 MD—Dr. Henry C. Barkhorn was chairman of the arrangements committee, toastmaster, and speaker at the dinner, April 26, in honor of Dr. Wells P. Eagleton, celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of his appointment as medical director of the Newark Eye and Ear Infirmary, 77 Central Avenue, Newark, N. J.

'09 AB—Lewis Henry, attorney, of Elmira, has recently returned from a trip to the Orient. In the Philippine Islands he visited the plant of the Insular Lumber Company, said to be the largest hardwood lumber mill in the world, of which he is a member of the executive committee. He also visited the mines of the Oriental Consolidated Mining Company, located in northern Korea, of which he is president. These mines produce gold on a concession of 500 square miles, and have been in active operation for forty years. They are the most extensive gold mining operations in the Orient, with workings down to a depth of 3700 feet.

'10 AB—Millard V. Atwood addressed the Ithaca Rotary Club May 5. He said that rugged individualism in America is giving way to social individualism (enlightened selfishness) and with it, liberalism; and that business is coming to see that benefits must be spread more evenly.

'11 MS—Albert B. Buchholz is an inspector for the New York State Education Department.

'11 CE, '12 MCE—Horace A. Vanderbeek writes on "My China Adventure," in the Cornell Engineer for May. He gives an interesting picture of his experiences, friends, and students while he was teaching civil engineering in a government engineering college in China. He says in closing, "I went 'over the hill to see what I could see,' and came back glad that I had been there."

'11—Paul V. Shields has chartered the Interclub class sloop, Wahini, for summer racing on Long Island Sound.

'11 LLB—George V. Holton, general counsel of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Corporation, recently accompanied company officials on an inspection trip to their South American oil lands.

'12 BS—Paul Stark is treasurer of Stark Brothers Nurseries, Louisiana, Mo. He writes that his son, Paul, Jr., is graduating from Lawrenceville School this June, and will enter Cornell next fall.

'12 ME—George P. Brockway is the purchasing manager of the American Optical Company, Southbridge, Mass. He was recently elected vice-president from district 9 of the National Association of Purchasing Agents, Inc. His address is 20 Columbus Avenue, Southbridge.

'13 BS—Professor Gilmore D. Clarke, Regional Planning, has been appointed by President Roosevelt a member of the Federal Commission of Fine Arts.

'14 ME—William E. Lundgren is a member of the board of governors of the Sands Point Bath Club, Sands Point, Long Island.

'14 BS, '18 PhD—William I. Myers, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, appeared before the Senate banking and currency committee in Washington, D. C. April 29 to oppose moves to reduce interest rates on the farmers' indebtedness to the Government.

'14—Dr. Edmund Jacobson, assistant professor of physiology at the University of Chicago, has developed a meter so delicate that it measures the electric voltage of nervous shocks in human persons. It was demonstrated at the annual convention of the Midwestern Psychological Association in Evanston, Ill. April 23. He has disproved the theory that the nerves and muscles of healthy persons are in a state of slight activation, called tone, at all times.

'15 AM—Elmer A. Sperry, Jr. vice-president of Sperry Products Co., Inc., of Brooklyn, received the Edward Longstreth Medal for 1936 from the Franklin Institute on May 20 in Philadelphia, Pa.

'15, '16 CE—Major Gerald E. Brower, Air Corps, USA, writes to Weyland Pfeiffer, '16 Class secretary: "Returned from the Philippines via Suez and Europe last summer. Hated to come back to the United States, as I became a confirmed 'sunshiner' and could spend the rest of my life in the tropics without a regret. Met a number of Cornellians in the Orient—all doing well. Am just finishing a year's course of instruction at the Command and General Staff School here, [Fort Leavenworth, Kan.]. Graduate June 19 and am ordered to duty next in the office of the Chief of Air Corps in Washington, D. C." His address in Washington will be c/o Office of Chief of Air Corps, Munitions Building.

'16 BS; '10 BS—Russell V. Black, consultant director of the New Jersey State Planning Board, spoke on problems of city planning May 4 at the opening session of a three-day conference in Richmond, Va. of the American Planning and Civic Association. On May 5, Philip H. Elwood, Jr. '10, consultant of the Iowa State Planning Board, discussed county planning before the conference.

'16—Charles W. Hanson was elected vice-president of the New York Building Congress at its annual meeting in New York City April 29.

'16 BS—Lawrence E. Gubb, president of the Philco Radio Corporation, sailed recently for Bermuda with the first contingent of 2,500 Philco dealers who will attend the company's three-week "sea convention."

'16 LLB—Alex M. Hamburg writes that he is actively engaged in New York City and Washington, D. C. in income tax matters. He was recently admitted to the Bar of the United States Supreme Court. His offices are at 63 Wall Street, New York City.

'17 AB, '22 PhD; '18, '19 BS—Dr. Leon F. Curtiss and a co-worker of the Bureau of Standards are confident that if cellophane is substituted for rubber in unmanned sounding balloons, an altitude of twenty-eight miles may be reached, considerable money saved, and more light thrown on the origin of our weather and on the nature of the cosmic rays. Rubber balloons have ascended a little more than twenty miles. They have also developed a radio system for these balloons which weighs only one-and-a-half pounds but has a range of eighty miles, making it possible to record data on the ground to be used at once in forecasting weather. Mrs. Curtiss was Chloe L. James '18.

'18, '21 WA—Herbert C. Drescher, senior county vice-commander of the Queens Council of Veterans of Foreign Wars, spoke at the Americanization Day exercises April 26 at Forest Park, Queens.

'18 AB—Donald J. Nightingale is with Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., 35 Wall Street, New York City.

'18 AB—Arthur L. Loomis, secretary-treasurer of Kirkpatrick-Pettis-Loomis Co., Omaha investment bankers, has been elected president of the Nebraska Investment Bankers Association.

'18 ME—Crawford C. Halsey is a certified public accountant with Pogson, Pelonbet & Co., Room 1901, 25 Broadway, New York City. He lives at 553 Grove Street, Upper Montclair, N. J.

'18 AB, '21 MD—Mrs. William F. Walenta (Madeline Fries) is a physician practicing in Brooklyn and Long Island. She writes that in June she and her husband will celebrate their fifteenth wedding anniversary. Her husband has been a practicing physician in Brooklyn for the past twenty-five years; they have a daughter, Marion Louise, eleven years old, and live at 4324 220 Place, Bayside.

'19 AB, '22 MD—Dr. Michael Lake is practicing medicine at 57 West Fifty-seventh Street, New York City. He lives at 50 West Twelfth Street. He recently described safety work at R. H. Macy & Company, at the annual meeting of the Medical Society of New York City.

'22 AB—Hubert Roemer, advertising manager of the New York Herald Tribune European edition, returned to Paris on the Conte di Savoia, April 25.

'22, '23 BS—Walter R. Dann is rate engineer of the Southern New England Telephone Company. His new address is 204 Canner Street, New Haven, Conn.

'23 CE—Edward D. Scruggs, who is with the Savings Banks Trust Company, 14 Wall Street, New York City, testified for the Trust Company and a bondholders' protective committee at the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on the reorganization of the Missouri Pacific Railroad system in Washington, D. C. April 23. His address is 30 Fifth Avenue.

'24 AB; '95, '96 BS; '95 Sp—Mrs. John T. Rice (Elinor L. Troy) '24 of Far Rockaway has a daughter, born May 13. Mrs. Rice is the daughter of Professor Hugh C. Troy '95, Dairy Industry, and Mrs. Troy (Mary M. Wall) '95.

'24 Sp—Clinton V. Pickering, of the Aetna Life Insurance Company, was chairman of the publicity committee for the fourth annual Life Insurance Week, beginning May 11. Cooperating were 130 life insurance companies, and the national campaign was featured by extensive advertising, addresses, and radio broadcasts.

'24 Grad—C. Stephen Raushenbush, chairman of the Pennsylvania Security League, was one of the speakers at the convention of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers held in Philadelphia, Pa. April 20-22.

'24 AB—George R. Pfann, Alumni Trustee and a member of the athletic policy board of the University, has given up his job as football coach at Swarthmore, a position he has held for five years. As assistant United States Attorney, Pfann recently told the United States District Court that there exists in New York City a gang of men known as "the little stock exchange" who deal wholly in stolen securities.

'25 AM; '04 AB—Pearl Buck and George Jean Nathan will be members of the jury of award for the recently announced Book of the Month Club's four fellowships, to be awarded annually to encourage unrecognized authors.

'25 ME—Robert R. Bridgman is running the time study department at the Ford Motor Company in Buffalo. He lives at 190 South Creek Road, Hamburg.

'25 LLB—Herman Wolkinson has removed his law offices to 72 Wall Street, New York City.

'28—Joseph J. Ascheim, of New York City, is engaged to Alice A. Cohen, also of New York.

'29 AB—Enos A. Pyle, of 701½ North Cayuga Street, Ithaca, has passed the New York State Bar examinations. He is a law clerk in the offices of Allan H. Treman '21.

'29 AB—John S. Riedel has opened offices for the general practice of law at 79 Wall Street, New York City.

'29 CE—J. Kenneth Hall and Mrs. Hall, who was Mary Farrand, daughter of President and Mrs. Livingston Farrand, have a daughter, Natalie Farrand Hall, born May 12 in New York City.

'29—Harold E. Wilcox was elected chairman of the Merchants Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce of Ithaca, May 13.

'29 BS—Frank K. Beyer and Mrs. Beyer, of 121 College Avenue, Ithaca, have a son, born May 19. Beyer is registered in the Graduate School and is an instructor in Forestry.

'29 ME—Robert M. Smith married Catharine T. Deyo of Poughkeepsie on April 25. Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Vassar and Katherine Gibbs School. Smith is employed by the Rutherford Press in New York City. They will live at 291 Montross Avenue, Rutherford, N. J.

'30 BS—Myron M. Fuerst married Agnes W. Holt of Jacksonville, Fla. May 2 in Pine Plains.

'30 BArch; '93 ME—George E. Howard, Jr., son of George E. Howard '93, is the father of twins, a boy and a girl, born May 5. He is an architect in Washington, D. C. He has another son, George E. Howard, III, whom, his grandfather says, "they hope will be Cornell '53." Howard, Sr. is a consulting engineer to the glass industry, with offices at 601-602 Butler County National Bank Building, Butler, Pa.

'30 AB—Laurence E. Tomlinson has recently been appointed director of the information and research service of the National Reference Bureau in Washington, D. C. The activities of the Bureau have been extended to supply information to the general public as well as to scholars and technicians. In Washington since 1930, Tomlinson is also on the staff of the Library of Congress and a member of the editorial board of Counterviews, the new monthly magazine of diverse opinions.

'30 AB, '32 ME—Fritz E. Loeffler is engaged to Muriel Dowdell, of New York City. He is with the Union Carbon and Carbide Corporation in New York.

'30 DVM; '30 BS—Dr. David Hopkins and Mrs. Hopkins (Helon G. Baker) have a third daughter, Dorothy Ann, born November 9, 1935. They live at 21 Laurel Street, Brattleboro, Vt.

'30—Samuel Dalsimer, who is in the advertising business, has moved to 125 East Eighteenth Street, Brooklyn. He is married.

'30 Grad—Kathryn E. Connell teaches in Blodgett Vocational High School, Syracuse. As president of the New York Home Economics Association, she presided at the annual conference in New York City recently.

'31 AB—Robert D. Richtmyer, son of Dean Floyd K. Richtmyer '04, of the Graduate School, is an instructor in physics at Leland Stanford University.

'32 AB; '33 AB—The marriage of Elinor H. Tolins '32 to Paul N. Lazarus, Jr. '33 has been announced.

'32—Albert T. Burns is achieving a considerable reputation as a portrait painter. He lives in Ithaca at 202 Center Street. Burns spent one winter as assistant to Ezra Winter on a Radio City Music Hall mural and has worked in Hollywood, doing illustrations for publicity.

'32 AB, '34 LLB—Armand Adams won his first State Supreme Court case, May 14.

'33 BS—Eleanor B. Johnson, a director of the Cornell Women's Club of New York and a member of the Junior Group of Staten Island Chapter, D.A.R., is engaged to Edward W. Hunt of New Brighton. She lives on Wardwell Avenue, Westerleigh, S. I.

'33 BS; '33 BArch—Alice C. Wiegand of Elmhurst was married to Robert A. Eyerman, Jr., in Sage Chapel, May 17.

'33 BS—Abraham George, former football star, is resident superintendent in charge of field CCC operations at the Arnot Forest, the 1880-acre tract owned by the University between Ithaca and Elmira.

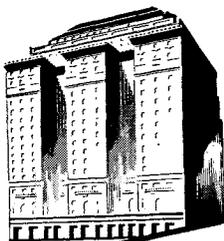

'34 LLB—Edward L. Stevens, Jr. is a lawyer with Edwards and Smith, 90 Broad Street, New York City.

'34 BS—Mina L. Bellinger, teacher of home economics in the Ithaca High School, is engaged to Fred M. Hewitt of Corning, a graduate of Colgate. They will be married early in the summer, at Nunda, the childhood home of the parents of both.

'34 AB—Robert A. Cardinali is a research chemist for Peter, Cailler, Kohler, Swiss Chocolate Company, makers of Nestle candy. He writes, "I have recovered almost fully from a serious operation on the brain which I underwent last year. I am now spending my time between the laboratory and learning photography as a hobby. No wife in prospect, as yet." His address is 463 South Fifth Street, Fulton.

Stay at the Roosevelt. It is readily accessible to any part of Manhattan and in the very center of the mid-town business district. Roosevelt service is quiet yet swift and efficient. Folks tell us that our rooms make grand offices, and many of our local friends take one by the day, just to get away from their own telephone and finish up a pressing job.

A UNITED HOTEL

The ROOSEVELT
 Bernam G. Hines, Managing Director
 Madison Ave. at 45th St., New York
 (With entrance in the Grand Central Station)

'34 AB; '32—Hiram McK. Denton is manager of a gas station and grocery store at Cranberry Creek, and Northville correspondent for the Gloversville Leader-Republican. Last summer he worked for the State Conservation Department on white pine blister-rust control from May until the end of September. He is engaged to Mary L. Baldwin '32, of Norwich, who, receiving her R.N. from St. Luke's Hospital in New York City in March, 1935, is now head nurse on one of the children's wards at St. Luke's. Denton's address is South Main Street, Northville.

'34 EE—Richard F. Hardy is employed in the bond underwriting department of The First Boston Corporation, New York City. He lives at 52 North Arlington Avenue, East Orange, N. J.

'34—Lieutenant Leonard Umanoff is a Reserve Army officer on active duty with the CCC, stationed with Co. 3207, CCC Camp P-104, West Haverstraw.

'35 BS—Harry C. Youmans, Jr. is in the front office of The Carter Hotel in Cleveland, Ohio, as room clerk. His mail address is 1437 West 101 Street, Cleveland, Ohio.

'35 ME; '35 ME—Jean F. Mitchell is a sales engineer with Ingersoll-Rand, 11 Broadway, New York City, in the Cameron pump division. He lives with Hugh Mason '35, who works for the same company, in the condenser department.

'35 BS—Donald Pasko is employed at the State Fish Hatchery in Gloversville.

'35 BS; '23 BS—Horace D. Wells and Henry T. Blewer, have been appointed assistants on the agricultural economics staff at the University of Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station. They will assist in a land utilization study throughout Delaware, and are now stationed at Dover, Del.

'35 BS—Adolph M. Lucha is working at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York City and living at Hotel Marie Antoinette, Broadway and Sixty-Eighth Street, New York City.

'35 AB; '37—Harry F. Fowler of Saranac and Elaine F. Koehler of Lynbrook are engaged.

'35 AB—Orla E. Loper married Nellie Burgess of Ithaca, May 4. They will live in Pittsburgh, Pa., where Loper is doing graduate work at the University of Pittsburgh and is an assistant in the physics department.

'35 AB; '35 AB—Adrienne I. Baron and Murray R. Socolof were married in New York City on December 22, 1935. They have recently moved to the Hotel Stanley, New Britain, Conn.

'36—Sadie Goodman is in England, studying English History at the British Museum in London.

Smart Living

Accentuating always those qualities which are pleasing to a discriminating clientele.

RATES:
 Single from $2.75
 Double from 4.50
 Suites from 10.00

Fay B. Mareness, Mgr.

HOTEL SYRACUSE

THE MERCERSBURG ACADEMY

Prepares for entrance to all Colleges and Universities. Especially successful in preparing boys for College Entrance Board Examinations. Located in the picturesque Cumberland Valley at the foot of the Blue Ridge Mountains. A large faculty from the leading colleges and universities of the country give thorough instruction and aim to inspire in every pupil the lofty ideals of thorough scholarship, broad attainments, sound judgment and Christian manliness.

BOYD EDWARDS, D.D., LL.D.
 HEAD MASTER, MERCERSBURG, PA.

WALTER S. WING '07, Gen'l Sales Mgr.

60 East 42nd Street, New York City

YOUR BEST FRIEND
 WILL THANK YOU . . .
 For a Year's News of Cornell
 Send Your Card with Name and Address

We'll Bill You
THE CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

CORNELL HOSTS

Good Places to Know

ITHACA

DINE AT

GILLETTE'S CAFETERIA

On College Avenue

Where Georgia's Dog Used to Be

Air Conditioned the Year 'Round

CARL J. GILLETTE '28, Propr.

NEW YORK AND VICINITY

IN NEW YORK

HOTEL SHERMAN SQUARE

70th St. and Broadway

Rooms with bath . . $2.50 single $3.50 double

● ● Special Weekly and Monthly Rates

MILT SMITH '32, Manager

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Cleves Cafeteria

1715 G Street, N. W.

½ block west State War and Navy Bldg.

BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON & DINNER

RUTH CLEVES JUSTUS '16

HEMPHILL, NOYES & CO.

Members New York Stock Exchange
15 Broad Street New York

INVESTMENT SECURITIES

Jansen Noyes '10 Stanton Griffis '10
L. M. Blancke '15 Willard I. Emerson '19

BRANCH OFFICES

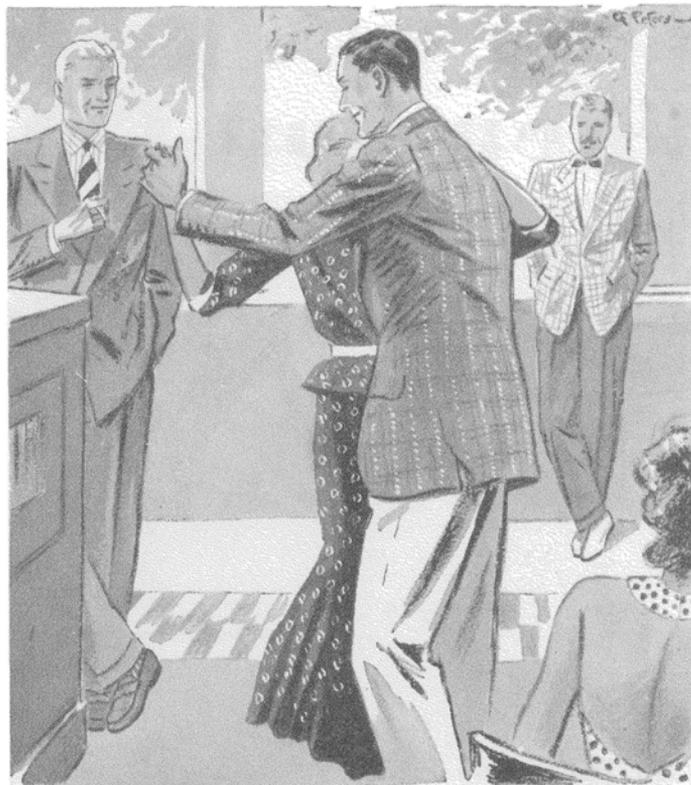

Albany, Altoona, Bridgeport, Camden, Detroit, Harrisburg, Indianapolis, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Pottsville, Trenton, Washington.

ESTABROOK & CO.

Members of the New York and Boston Stock Exchanges

Sound Investments
Investment Counsel and Supervision

Roger H. Williams '95
Resident Partner New York Office
40 Wall Street

How to mix a Summer Wardrobe

Take one flannel suit, preferably in gray, add two or three pairs of slacks, and one or two brightly patterned sports jackets!

Then mix with a little thought and taste —and you're ready to mingle with the smartest crowd anywhere—provided, of course, the style ingredients come from the modern Rogers Peet!—who will also supply the final dash of attractive accessories!

Rogers Peet flannel suits, $55 and $65.

Rogers Peet sports jackets, $35 to $55.

Rogers Peet slacks, $10 to $25.

Other Rogers Peet suits, $45 to $95.

Rogers Peet Company

FIFTH AVE. LIBERTY ST. NEW YORK: WARREN ST. 13th ST. 35th ST. at Forty-first St. at Broadway at Broadway at Broadway at Broadway
BOSTON: 104 TREMONT ST. at Bromfield

When You Left Cornell, Did You Remember to Get Your Cornellian

**?

---

In case you did not, we are holding your copy for you for a reasonable length of time.

If you subscribed, the balance due is $5.00.

We will be glad to send it to you c.o.d. or by parcel post direct if you will let us hear from you.

We also have available copies of the 1922, 1924, 1925, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930 and 1931 CORNELLIAN. These are $7.00.

We have a few copies of the unusual edition of 1934 at $9.00 a copy.

We have recently procured one or two copies each of the scarce edition of the CLASS BOOK of 1916 and the CLASS BOOK and CORNELLIAN combined of 1918. These are also $7.00 per copy.

We regret there are not available any copies of the 1926, 1932, 1933, and 1935 editions.

---

THE CORNELL ANNUALS INCORPORATED

209 East State Street
Ithaca, New York