An Open Letter to Subscribers Who are In Business:

Dear Cornellian:

ABILITY AND INCLINATION TO BUY

Given these two conditions, and purchases follow. If your business depends on sales, consider the Alumni News.

Like you, most of our 5,000 readers are substantial persons - well established in business and the professions. They are more than likely married, living comfortably in their own homes, with a child or two or three, and at least one car - well able to provide for their businesses, themselves, and their families. They are considerably above the average magazine reader in the range of their purchases and ability to buy.

As to inclination, judge by your own reading of the Alumni News each week. If you are a typical subscriber you open it with interest and scan it from cover to cover. You read it in a frame of mind that is mellow and receptive to news of fellow-Cornellians, including what they make and sell.

Isn't this as nearly an ideal set-up as you'll find for presenting your services and your product? To a small group, it is true, compared with magazine circulations of millions, but all the more valuable because these folks are pre-selected and pre-disposed to give interested consideration.

Just a few dollars of your current advertising budget invested in Alumni News advertising will quickly bring proof of profitable sales. Why not test this idea? Your letter of inquiry will promptly bring complete information.

Yours very truly,

H. A. Stevenson '19
Managing Editor.
PRESIDENT VISITS NINE ALUMNI CENTERS

Will Travel Again This Month With Foster Coffin

President Day returned last Friday from his first long swing around the Cornell Club circuit. Starting in Buffalo February 19, he travelled west as far as Minnesota and Iowa, and for twelve days had meetings every day, closing his tour in Kansas City, Mo., March 2. He spoke at nine dinners, seven luncheons, and three teas, not to mention other meetings and informal conferences. Reports which preceded him back to Ithaca were unanimously in agreement with that from Chicago: "We salute you, Dr. Edmund Ezra Day! For the great pleasure, the definite sense of security for Cornell, the fine inspiration that you have given us. May we as alumni contribute in full measure to fulfillment of your visions!"

Talks To Many Alumni

Despite a schedule crowded as only that of a university president could be, Dr. Day has this year met with alumni in many sections of the country, including New York City, Boston, Providence, Worcester, Springfield, Albany, Schenectady, Utica, and Elmira. He has engagements for later this spring in Rochester, Syracuse, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington. A year ago, in connection with a trip to the Pacific Coast he accepted invitations to speak to alumni in Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and New Orleans.

The President will make another journey into the Middle West later this month, when he will be accompanied by Foster M. Coffin '13, Alumni Representative. They will be in Pittsburgh March 22, Columbus March 23, Cincinnati March 24 and 25, Louisville March 26, St. Louis March 27 and 28, and in Indianapolis March 29.

Buffalo

The Cornell Women's Club of Buffalo entertained President Day at luncheon at the Hotel Statler February 26. The sixty-six women present included several mothers of Buffalo undergraduates. The oldest alumna present, Mrs. Frank H. Severance (Lena L. Hill) '79, was accompanied by her daughter, Mildred Severance '15. Aline M. Jokl '30, president of the Club, introduced Dr. Day and R. W. Sailor '07, editor of the ALUMNI NEWS. Mrs. James W. Kidney (Isabel T. Houch) '22 was chairman of the luncheon committee.

The men's Cornell Club held its annual banquet that night at the Hotel Buffalo, where for many successive years they have dined the Saturday nearest Wash-masters. Bruno V. Birker '20 presided, and the group visited with the President until after 9. That evening approximately 100 alumni of Milwaukee and from other parts of the State attended the annual banquet of the Cornell Club of Milwaukee. Sunday noon President Day was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Birker for dinner at their home, and this was followed by a reception and tea at the home of Robert A. Uihlein '05 and Mrs. Uihlein, to which the parents of the forty or more present undergraduates from Milwaukee were invited. That evening the President attended a supper and spoke before the Milwaukee-Downer Seminary Parents and Teachers Association, of which the principal, Helen K. Burtt is a former teacher of her daughter.

Minneapolis, St. Paul

In the Twin Cities President Day was entertained February 28 at luncheon at the Minneapolis Club while the Minneapols chimes in the Court House played the "Alma Mater." That afternoon he paid a brief visit to St. Paul Academy and in the evening was greeted by approximately fifty men and women Cornellians at dinner at the University Club in St. Paul. James C. Otis '01 presided, and introduced Warren W. Fisk '27, president of the Cornell Club of Minneapolis; Professor Edward G. Cheyne '00 of the University of Minnesota; R. P. Shawood '30, representing the younger local alumni; and Otto G. H. F. Kueffer '38, the oldest Cornellian present.

Des Moines

Probably the record for distance travelled to meet the President on this trip was established by some of those who came to the Cornell Club dinner at the Hotel Kirkwood in Des Moines, Ia., March 1. Among the fifty-five men and women present to swell the total of twenty-one who live in Des Moines were delegations from Ames, Davenport, and other Iowa cities; one came from Spencer, 200 miles away, and many travelled more than 100 miles. At luncheon President Day discussed secondary school problems with the principals of Des Moines high schools, the superintendent of schools, and the director of secondary education. President D. W. Morehouse of Drake University was also a guest. Carl C. Proper '96, president of the Cornell Club of Central Iowa, presided at the luncheon and at the dinner that evening.

Kansas City

Last stop of the President's tour was in Kansas City, Mo., March 2. A full program included an address at a convocation of the University of Kansas City in the morning, a luncheon given by George J. Mersereau '93 at the Kansas City Country Club, with principals of high schools and preparatory schools as guests, a tea with the Cornell women at the University Women's Club, and dinner at the University Club. Alumni attended the dinner from several points outside Kansas City. Ellsworth L. Filby '17, president of the Club, was toastmaster.

About Athletics

FIFTH IN INTERCOLLEGIATES

Five men, scoring 14 1/2 points, earned fifth place for Cornell in the seventeenth annual Intercollegiate AAA championships in Madison Square Garden last Saturday. One of them, Lester E. Murdock '40 of Buffalo, who earned his Varsity letter as a Freshman in last summer's meet with Oxford and Cambridge, scored in two events.

Bright spot of Cornell's showing, in addition to the feats of Murdock in the high and broad jumps, was the second place of Edmund V. Mezitt '38 of Weston, Mass., in the mile run. Mezitt just nipped last year's winner, Burns of Manhattan, at the tape, with Bradley of Princeton the winner in 4:19.5.

Murdock tied for second in the high jump at 6 feet 3 inches with Wise of Princeton and placed fourth in the broad jump at 23 feet 1 1/4 inches for a total of 53 1/2 points. Mezitt and Welch each scored 4 points with their second places. Herbert H. Cornell '38 of Brooklyn and John H. Nевич '39 of Flemington, N. J., each added a point with fifth places, Cornell in the two-mile run, Nevius in the 600-yard run.

Ahead of the Varsity in the team scoring were Columbia, whose 27 points retained the team title won a year ago; Manhattan 24, Yale 18, and Princeton 16. Other scores: New York University 15, Rhode Island State 14 1/2, Dartmouth 10 1/2, Harvard 8 1/2, Pittsburgh 7, Penn State 6, Fordham 5, Amherst 3, Boston College 3, Northwestern 2, Pennsylvania 3 1/2, Colgate 3 1/2, Brown 1, MIT 1/2.

Cornell's three sprinters, James B. Pender '39 of Lawrence, Mass., Walter T. Tatum '38 of Long Beach, and Walter W. Zittel '40 of Buffalo, were eliminated in the first qualifying heats of the 50-yard dash.

Zittel qualified for the final of the 600-yard run, finishing second to Herbert of NYU in a 1:15 trial, but was shut out of the scoring in the final. Nevius won his preliminary heat in 1:14.3. He led the field for nearly half the final, but faded badly in the stretch.

The one-mile relay team failed to survive the qualifying heats, and the two-mile relay quartet did not score in the final. A Freshman medley-relay finish sixth in a non-scoring race.

With William W. McKeever '39 of Spring Lake, N. J, and Alfred F. Van Rans '39 of Brooklyn failed to qualify for the weight events. Van Rans tossed the 16-pound shot 45 feet 6 inches, and Mc Keever bettered 48 feet in the 35-pound weight throw.

WIN TWO AT HOME

Excited spectators asked for a score of 60, so the Varsity basketball regulars returned to action in the last four minutes of the Yale game in the Drill Hall Saturday night. Vaughan, a Sophomore, and Co-captain Rich, a Senior, promptly contributed two goals for the 4 points needed to make that total.

Thus ended the home season, with Yale the loser, 36-60, as Cornell put on an amazing show of high-powered scoring. Leonard, another Sophomore, topped Rich by the margin of a free throw, with 15, as the leading point-getter.

The victory over Yale, following a 40-38 conquest of Syracuse in the Drill Hall March 2, gave the team a most satisfying week. Co-captain Wilson was unable to play because of a cold.

Despite the lack of Wilson's scoring ability (he challenged for the Eastern Intercollegiate League lead before his illness), the team appeared to play faster basketball in its two games last week. Rich was moved from forward to center and took over the pivot assignment on the offense. His superior speed and agility put more vigor into Cornell's attack.

The victory over Syracuse gave Cornell the unofficial championship of Central New York. Cornell won from Syracuse and broke even with Colgate. Syracuse defeated Colgate twice.

Vaughan, who has developed into one of the best forwards on the squad, scored the goal that beat the Orange five. Cornell trailed, 2-2, at the half, lost ground at 22-29; then pulled up to within one point, 39-38. There McDonald scored a goal. Syracuse went ahead one point on Stewart's goal, but Niederhauser, substitute forward, tied the count with a free throw. Vaughan broke the deadlock, and Rich came through with two baskets for a 38-34 lead as Gorecke scored for Syracuse.

Haller and Stewart tied the score again at 38-38. With five minutes to go, Vaughan took a pass from McDonald and popped in the winning goal.

The Yale game was a runaway after the first ten minutes. Erickson scored first for Yale, but Cornell threw in five straight goals, two by Rich, two by Leonard, before Yale put on a rally to shave Cornell's lead to two points, 13-12.

With McDonald and Rich each contributing two more goals, the other forwards added together another string of six goals and forged ahead to its 38-33 lead at the half.
For the first eight minutes of the second half, the teams played on even terms as Cornell missed frequent scoring chances. With the score 44-44, both Yale and Cornell launched a flurry of scoring that left the count at 52-34. Cornell reserves were rushed into action, and the scoring slowed up until Dauner broke away for two quick baskets.

Sullivan of Yale nettled a goal before Cornell's regulars returned to score the last 4 points. Rich, McDonald, and Dauner plowed their last games in the Drill Hall, with Wilson, the fourth Senior, watching from the sidelines.

BOXERS BEAT YALE

The boxing team finished its season by whipping Yale, 3½-2½, in the Drill Hall last Saturday. Three technical knockouts were registered along the way.

The teams started in at the 135-pound class bout, Cornell having forfeited the 115- and Yale the 125-pound engagements. They were still tied when the 135-pound match ended in a draw.

A technical knockout by Fine, a decision for Wilson, and a technical knockout for Grossman in the next three bouts clinched the victory. The winning point, by Grossman, came in startling fashion, for Miller of Yale had scored a wide margin in points in the first two rounds.

But in the third, Grossman, with a wild swing, opened a cut over Miller's left eye, and Referee Steve Halaiko stopped the match.

The last two bouts ended in knockouts for Danielson of Yale and Siemer of Cornell.

The summary:

115 pounds: Forfeited by Cornell.
125 pounds: Forfeited by Yale.
135 pounds: Tausig, Cornell, and Wright, drew.
145 pounds: Furse, Cornell, scored technical knockout over Jones, 1:55, second round.
155 pounds: Wilson, Cornell, defeated Proxmire, decision.
165 pounds: Grossman, Cornell, scored technical knockout over Miller, 1:50, third round.
175 pounds: Danielson, Yale, scored technical knockout over Hooker, 1:55, second round.

Unlimited: Siemer, Cornell, scored technical knockout over Smith, 0:05, second round.

Coach Wolf has entered Goldbas, the 135-pounder who did not fight last week; Siemer, Tausig, and former Captain Wilson in the intercollegiates at Penn State this weekend.

Wolf's first season at Cornell brought three victories and two defeats in dual meets. The varsity defeated Toronto, Rutgers, and Yale, and lost to the Naval Academy at Annapolis and the Military Academy at West Point.

ARMY RIDERS WIN

The ROTC polo team lost to Army at West Point last Saturday, 19-9, with Captain Christian the only effective Cornell scorer. To his total of 8 goals his mates contributed just one, by Naquin. Cornell used its own mounts in the match, transporting them to West Point in a new seven-horse van.

Army started strong, piling up a 12-3 lead in the first three periods.

Naquin played at No. 1, Christian at No. 2, and Pollack played Back, with Tabor as substitute.

FENCERS LEAD TRIANGULAR

Fencers wielded foil, saber, and epee with efficiency last Saturday to top Penn State and Yale in a triangular meet in the Drill Hall. Cornell scored 13 points, Penn State 9½, Yale 4½.

Cornellians swept over Syracuse in foil and epee tests, and bested Penn State by one point with both foils and sabers.

Steyer and Lowenfeld each won two foil bouts, with Ratzkin breaking even. In the epee, Pratt won twice, with Parker and McLellan splitting two bouts.

In the saber matches, Demtol and Shaw each won two bouts. Isenberg and Steyer lost their only starts in this division.

FRESHMAN SCORES

The Freshman basketball team broke even in two games last week. They lost 49-48, to Syracuse, as Karlukpe popped in a goal five seconds from the final gun.

Last Saturday the team finished its season by defeating Dickinson Seminary, 43-33. The team's record was seven victories, five defeats.

Freshman boxers, badly shaken up in an auto accident, lost, 2-1, to the Elmira YMCA at Elmira March 1, and then took a 4½-2½ defeat from Yale in the Drill Hall last Saturday. Landsberg, 155-pounder, scored two technical knockouts in the two matches. Three of the Yale bouts were lost by forfeits.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE STARTS

Cornell's third year of football under Coach Snively was informally launched February 25 when upwards of sixty candidates reported for drill in the Bacon practice cage. Snively plans practice sessions each Friday until the regular spring practices are started early in April.

These Friday sessions, the coach said, are primarily for newcomers to the Varsity squad. Individual instruction will be emphasized. But, he said, "if any Var-
DR. BAILEY IS EIGHTY

Dr. Liberty Hyde Bailey, Professor of Agriculture, Emeritus, and Director of the Bailey Hortorium, will be eighty years old March 15. He has spent the winter in Ithaca; is well, and hard at work classifying and naming plants and publishing the results of his research, at the same time keeping up his horticultural interests.

Perhaps no one in the United States has a wider knowledge of plants than Dr. Bailey. From the far corners of the world correspondents send him specimens for identification and study, many to be preserved among the Hortorium collection, which is growing at the rate of about 5,000 sheets a year and is unique as a record of the cultivated plants.

But his work is not confined to his laboratory. Last fall during a botanizing trip to the West Indies after seeds of certain rare palms, he was adrift at sea in an open boat for several days through a tropical storm without food and water; and two years ago he came across the continent by airplane, called home by his daughter, Ethel Zoe Bailey, Grad '12, who has worked closely with her father, is curator. The Hortorium is constantly used by graduate students and members of the College staff as an unequalled laboratory for the study of plants.

For his many contributions to horticulture, botanical science, and the development of country life, Dr. Bailey has received a long succession of honors from all over the world, including honorary degrees from University of Wisconsin, Alfred, University of Vermont, and University of Puerto Rico. He has botanized in most of the countries of the world, and his published books have brought him international recognition as an authority in these fields.

Now at eighty, vigorous, keen, and stalwart, he is still hard at work in his office and laboratory on Sage Place, halfway up East State Street hill, adding to the world's knowledge, and enjoying his work mightily.

MILWAUKEE CLUB OFFICERS

Cornell Club of Milwaukee February 26 elected Philip Ryan '29 its new president, succeeding Bruno V. Birket '20. Ryan is with the Cutler-Hammer Company, 315 North Twelfth Street, Milwaukee, Wis. Other new officers of the Club are Ernst Clarenbach, Jr. '31, vice-president; Henry S. Ruess '33, secretary; and Pickens Johnson '22, treasurer.

CONFER ON DEMOCRACY

Students of Cornell, Dartmouth, and Pennsylvania will confer in Willard Straight Hall April 29 and 30, on the subject, "Making Democracy Work," it was announced last week. Headed by the presidents of the three institutions, committees of faculty and students in each are already at work and in touch with each other by correspondence to organize material for discussion.

Prominent authorities are being invited to address the conference, and to take part in discussions at five separate round tables, on "Local Government," "Censorship and Propaganda," "Economic Organization in a Democratic Society," "Economic Foreign Policy," and "The Labor Contract in a Democratic Society." Each of these discussion groups will have an undergraduate member of the host committee as chairman, and for each a member of the Cornell Faculty committee will act as adviser. It is expected that six students from each university will participate in each round table, making about sixty student guests in addition to those of Cornell participating, with members of the faculty committees at Dartmouth and Pennsylvania also invited.

The conference was inaugurated by the board of managers of Willard Straight Hall. The Cornell committee on arrangements (and discussion chairmen) is composed of Frederick H. Bullen '38 of Pueblo, Colo.; Bernard Garrill '38 of Brooklyn; Robert J. Hufcett '38 of Buffalo; Austin H. Kiplinger '39 of Washington, D.C.; Edmund Pleiter '38 of Hackensack, N. J.; John A. Pistor '38 of Upper Montclair, N. J.; and Roy H. Steyer '38 of Brooklyn. John S. Niederhauser '39 of Menlo Park, Cal., is Cornell's member of the student executive committee of three. Besides President Day the members of the Cornell Faculty committee are Foster M. Coffin '12, director of Willard Straight Hall, and Pietsch; Seymour E. Gartrell '04, Frank A. Southard, Jr., and Julian L. Woodward, Economics; Max A. Shepard, Government; and Russell H. Wagner, PhD '28, Public Speaking. Hugh L. Elsbree '26 is a member of the Dartmouth Faculty committee.

NEW DOWNTOWN CLUB

Cornellians in the downtown district of New York City have joined with alumni of Columbia, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Williams, and Yale in the formation of a daily luncheon club which will operate on the premises formerly occupied by the Cornell-Pennsylvania Downtown Luncheon Club, Inc. Last year alumni of Cornell and Pennsylvania formed an organization, which was later joined by Williams.

Popular demand for a luncheon club to include the other colleges has grown during the year, and the new club will be known as The Training Table. It will open about April 1 in newly decorated, attractive quarters at the corner of William and Beaver Streets.

SUMMER COURSE IN DESIGN

The College of Architecture announces for this year its fourth Summer Session in Architecture and Landscape Architecture, featuring again a course in design emphasizing the interrelation between the two subjects. As before, this course will provide one of the few opportunities in this country for students of either Architecture or Landscape Architecture to work out field problems common to both professions. It is open to those with at least three years’ training in design, or equivalent experience; the dates, July 5 to August 12, 1938.

This year the course will be given by Professor Edward Lawson '13 of the College Faculty and Professor Roger Bailey '19 of the department of architecture in the Yale School of Fine Arts. Professor Lawson, winner of the Rome Prize in Landscape Architecture, has recently returned from a sabbatic leave of eight months abroad, during which he made an extensive collection of colored photographs and motion pictures, to be made an extensive collection of colored photographs and motion pictures, to be

NOW, IN MY TIME!

By Romeyn Berry

Members who breakfast at the Cornell Club of New York now have something to talk about besides Roosevelt. It seems that—

Early in the winter the Yale Alumni Association of Plainfield gave a party for the Yale football team. The only outsiders invited were a Harvard man, a Princeton man, and our Mr. Bart Viviano '33 who comes from Plainfield, and who once played football himself. During the evening the committee raffled off a football on which all the Yale players had written their names, by no means omitting the name of Mr. Clint Frank.

Our Mr. Viviano won the raffle, of course, and stuck the ball under his chair while keeping one suspicious eye on the Harvard representative. They then turned out the lights and showed movies of the games Yale won in 1937, which seems to have been practically all of them.

Toward the end of the screen portrayal of the Cornell engagement Mr. Viviano, naturally enough, sought the anodyne of a momentary slumber and when he woke up some so-and-so had stolen the foot-ball. In response to Mr. Viviano's prompt screams the committee did everything a committee could possibly do under such circumstances. They turned on the lights, searched the check room, requested any Yale man who might have it to hold up his right hand, and frisked the Princeton and Harvard guests repeatedly—all without striking pay dirt. The ball was not found, and Mr. Viviano had to walk out completely disillusioned, with his hands on his watch, pocketbook, and commutation ticket.

But wait! Last week there arrived at the Palazzo Viviano in Plainfield a package containing the inscribed football and a long letter from the Yale Athletic Association. Mr. Malcolm Farmer said, in part, that the ball had turned up mysteriously on his New Haven doorstep along with the New York Tribune and the morning's milk; that he was rightfully embarrassed; that he preferred not to go into the matter too deeply because he didn't want to get into another jam with Harvard like Affaire Hinkey of the sensitive nineties, and here was the ball anyhow and what the hell.

All of which goes to show that Truth crushed to earth will rise again; that you can't keep a squirrel or a Viviano on the flat; and that you can always depend on Yale to do the right thing if you give her time—lots and lots of time!

ROCHESTER DANCES

Cornell Club of Rochester celebrated its annual Washington's Birthday dinner dance at the University Club. Three hundred members and guests attended. John A. Riegel '30 was chairman of the committee, with Conway L. Todd '26 in charge of decorations. Alexander M. Beebee '14 was in charge of music.

VETERINARY HONORS

Phi Zeta, honor society of the Veterinary College, has elected as an honorary member Dr. Lloyd E. Moore of Amsterdam, two Faculty members, and three Seniors and five Juniors of the College. Professor Clifford W. Barber, PhD '35, and Henry T. Batt are the new Faculty members. Seniors are Harold K. Cooper of Ithaca, Milton H. Covert of Lodi, and John W. Earl of Mountain View, N. J.; Juniors, Wilson B. Bell of Ivor, Va., Robert Ferber of Flushing, Isador I. Sunderville of Brooklyn, and Edwin J.
ATHLETICS
sity men come out, we won't drive them away.” The sessions are open particularly, he added, to Varsity players who plan to play a new position this fall.
First announced candidate for a new position: Frederick G. Jaicks ’40 of Hinsdale, Ill., an end last year, for center.
To help Snively, Assistant Coach Max Reed returned to Ithaca last week. Assistant Coach James Taturn, now busy with preliminary baseball practice, will also lend a hand. Assistant Coaches John H. Rowland, George K. James, and Mose Quinn are still occupied with basketball. Last year’s captain, Edward E. Hughes ’38, is on the staff temporarily.
There will be no spring practice game this year. Colgate played here in 1936, Bucknell in 1937. And there’ll be no Varsity game on November 5, lack of developments indicate.

ODDS AND ENDS
The hockey team will have co-captains next winter. The players elected Albert D. Bossan ’39, Belmont, Mass., and Jack R. Babson ’39, Syracuse. Samuel S. Stahl ’35, Peabody, Mass., football center last fall, was graduated in three and one-half years and is now attending Harvard Business School. . . . Coach John F. Moakley, in his seventy-fifth year, can still take a high hurdle. He did the trick recently on Schoellkopf. . . . Coach James M. Tatum hopes to convert Jack W. Lozier ’38 from a pitcher to a first baseman. . . . The rifle team took first place from ten other colleges in the New York-New Jersey ROTC matches, scoring 7,589 to second-place Fordham’s 7,535. . . . A plea for sportsmanship was heard via the loud speaker at the Yale basketball game Saturday night. It came as a result of booing the referees in the Syracuse game earlier in the week. That booing was charged to technical foul against Cornell. Incidentally, “no smoking” is now the rule during basketball games; the ban has not been extended to other sports. . . .
Honorary captain of the Freshman hockey team is Stanley B. Roberts, Jr. of New York. . . . The lacrosse team is another set of brothers, of Geneva. . . . Boxing coaches are still occupied with basketball. Last year’s captain, Edward E. Hughes ’38, is on the staff temporarily.

NORTH ’07 REPORTS
Harold N. North ’07 reported to seventy-eight members of the Cornell Club of Cleveland at its regular luncheon March 3 on the recent “small business man’s conference” in Washington, D. C. President of the Ferry Cap and Set Screw Company, he was one of the committee of twelve selected from the conference to meet with President Roosevelt.
The Club announces that Foster M. Coffin ’12, Alumni Representative of the University, will be a guest at a smoker the evening of March 30.

SPRINGTIME
When April comes and walks are bare,
And sunshine warms the fragrant air;
When daffodils and tulips blow,
And memories grow dim of snow;
Of leafless trees and darkened days,
And treacherous ice, and storms' delays,
To meet the spring I'll venture forth
When April comes.

When April comes and robins sing
In praise of life and love and spring,
Then I'll go forth perchance to meet
A smiling child with capering feet,
Who in life's springtime does not know:
Life's winter comes.

$3,000,000 FROM STATE
Appropriations to the University in the 1938 State budget recently adopted in Albany total nearly three million dollars. Of the total of $2,996,712.26, the College of Agriculture receives for the current year’s expenses $1,906,390.00; the Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva, $375,750.00; the College of Home Economics, $607,760.00; the Veterinary College, $262,245.00; and for the State Drill Hall, $1,960.00.

These items are mostly for salaries, maintenance and operation. They include, however, $50,000.00 for completing and equipping the new Veterinary College laboratory building and $5,000.00 for remodeling and reconditioning James Law Hall; $15,000.00 for purchase of new equipment for the College of Home Economics; and $5,000.00 for installing an irrigation system at the College of Agriculture’s vegetable research farm on Long Island.
The remainder of the total appropriation is comprised of deficiency items for expenses previously incurred. These include some $69,500.00 to the College of Agriculture; $32,300.00 to the Geneva Experiment Station; $1,800.00 to Home Economics; and $1,400.00 for the Drill Hall.

'11 TO DINE IN NEW YORK
The Class of ’11 announces a dinner meeting at the Cornell Club of New York, March 14, at 6:30. Coach Carl G. Snively will be their guest, and motion pictures of the Cornell-Pennsylvania football game will be shown.

MISS DONLON IN CHICAGO
Cornell Women’s Club of Chicago entertained Mary H. Donlon ’10, Alumni Trustee, at dinner February 17. Miss Donlon was in Chicago as a member of the Republican program committee.
ON THE CAMPUS AND DOWN THE HILL

DISAPPEARING SNOW last week interrupted the interfraternity ski races and caused postponement of the Varsity meet scheduled last week end with Colgate, Hamilton, Syracuse, and Hobart. As snow melted from the hills, the Outing Club showed motion pictures of skiing in the Austrian Alps, in Willard Straight Memorial Room.

TWO OF THREE RACES were run, however, of the interfraternity contests. Freeman Svenningson '38 of Montreal, Can., won for Kappa Alpha the three-mile cross country race, from Ithaca Country Club to Varna and back; and Frederick W. Edmondson, Jr. '37 of Pittsburgh, Pa., brought the Delta Upsilon colors home first in the slalom, run on Varna Hill. D. U. leads in the unfinished series; a downhill race will be run if and when it snows again.

CHESS TOURNAMENT for the University championship started in the Willard Straight game room last week; a ping-pong ladder tournament is being hotly contested; and this week eliminations have begun to determine who shall represent Cornell in the intercollegiate pocket, straight rail, and three-cushion billiards meet to be contested by telegram.

STUDENT COUNCIL has elected Robert J. Huffcut '38 of Buffalo a member, replacing Frederick H. Bulen, of Pueblo, Colo., who was graduated in February. The Council also ratified the election of Richard R. Anderson of Pelham Manor as chairman of the Senior Class Day committee, and of Philip W. Callanan of Auburn as chairman of the Senior Ball committee.

WALTER HAMPDEN, who played a one-night stand in "Ethan Frome" at the Strand Theatre last week, revealed to an Ithaca Journal reporter that he too is a former student of Cornell. Bulletins from the College of Agriculture, in February, had been largely responsible for his instruction in dairy farming that made his ninety acres in Connecticut a model for others Faculty members noted in the roster.

ONE OF THE DUTIES of compets for the track team management is to prepare the reply postcards which invite certain members of the Faculty and others to officiate at track meets in Ithaca. For years the reply card has read: "I will be present to officiate at the track meet of (date filled in)" with a place for signature. For thirty years, the cards of Professor Lane Cooper, English Language and Literature, who is chief inspector, have come back to the Athletic Office with the word "will" crossed off and "shall" substituted. But compets never learn!

Laurence H. McDaniels, PhD '17, Polymathy, first basses; Edward M. Palmquist '31, Botany, Walter B. Carver, Mathematics, and Albert W. Laubengayer '21, Chemistry, second tenors; and Gabriel A. Lebedeff, MS '31, Plant Breeding, first tenor.

EIGHT DELEGATES from the Campus will attend a model League of Nations Assembly, Central Atlantic division, at Rutgers University April 7-9. Six members of the Cornell contingent will represent Great Britain in the deliberations and two, Palestine. The League Assembly met here last spring.

COFFEE HOUR in the Library of Willard Straight Hall, where men students and members of the Faculty may visit informally, was inaugurated by the board of managers last Thursday, and will be a weekly affair. At the first one Mrs. Edmund E. Day poured, and it proved a pleasant interval. The success of similar weekly teas for undergraduate women led to the innovation, with William W. McKeever '39 of the Willard Straight board chairman of the committee.

SAGE CHAPEL PREACHER March 13 is the Rev. Edwin McNeil Poteat, Jr. of Euclid Avenue Baptist Church, Cleveland, Ohio.

LECTURES for the week include Professor Dexter S. Kimball, Engineering, Emeritus, at the Willard Straight Sunday evening hour March 6, on "Great Inventions and Their Effects"; the first of a series of open forums of the Campus Peace Council, led by Dr. E. A. Schaal, secretary, Institute of International Relations, Professor Walter F. Willcox, Statistics, Emeritus, and the Rev. James A. G. Moore of CURW, on "The United States and the Far Eastern Situation," March 9; and Professor Floyd K. Richmyer '04, Physics, a Sigma Xi lecture March 11 on "The Solar Corona."" Describing his experiences as a member of the recent expedition in the South Pacific.

LAST OF "THE RHINE" will shortly disappear, under orders from the Ithaca board of public works. Last week the board voted to evict the "squatter" families in six dilapidated shacks on Morris Avenue, a block-long street down near the Inlet and the railroad. The city acquired the structures for non-payment of taxes, and for years they have been the subject of perennial slum clearance discussions. Now they will be torn down.

DID YOU EVER HEAR of the "co-ed light"? It seems (according to the Sun) there is an ancient tradition that any woman student who first turns the switch of the light that hangs outside of Lincoln Hall any evening will marry a Cornellian. Feminine footsteps seen in the snow near the switch last week, with the light burning brightly, led the Sun writer to recall this "tradition," entirely new to us.

YOUNG COMMUNIST LEAGUE, through Leon M. Marsh '39, educational director of the Cornell branch, charges that "there is a nest of these would-be Fuhrers functioning secretly on this campus" in a letter to the Sun. The League, he says, has "positive proof" of the identity of three students who distributed what his letter terms "the pro-Fascist Stalin Supporter" during Farm and Home Week.

STUDENT NEWSPAPERS of Eastern colleges and universities which meet regularly in athletics send delegates to an editorial conference at the offices of the Columbia Spectator February 25 and 26. They agreed to a regular exchange of news and photographs. Daniel W. Kops '39 of New York City and Robert W. Storandt '40 of Rochester represented the Cornell Daily Sun.

THREE HUNDRED or more enjoyed last Sunday afternoon's concert in Willard Straight Memorial Room by the University String Sinfonietta. Led by Professor Ronald Ingalls, Music, this group of thirty-eight players, largely of the Faculty, gave two ancient numbers and two modern ones, none previously heard in Ithaca.

PROTECTIVE POLICE, Fire Company 8, of Ithaca, recently elected Arthur N. Gibb '90 its captain. The Company was formed in January, 1868, as a citizens' organization to protect property against incendiary fires; is now devoted largely to maintaining its traditions. This year's first lieutenant is George D. Carpenter '06; second lieutenant, Allan H. Freeman '11; secretary, Professor Benton S. Monroe '96; English; treasurer, John Reamer; sergeant-at-arms, Rodney G. Robinson.
Concerning
THE FACULTY

MYRON C. TAYLOR '94 has been reappointed by Governor Herbert H. Lehman a member of the University Board of Trustees for a five-year term.

R. LOUISE Fitch, Dean of Women, and Edith W. Oates, AM '30, social director of Willard Straight Hall, attended the annual meeting of the National Association of Deans of Women, held in Atlantic City, N. J., February 22-25.

DEAN ROBERT M. ODEN '01 of the College of Arts and Sciences told the national conference of the Progressive Education Association meeting February 25, that a new kind of science course must be developed: "a course in which doing and feeling lead to knowledge... Teaching, for most students, should not be concerned primarily with accumulation of facts, but with doing, feeling, knowing. In order to understand anything, one must first do it. The new type functional courses in science are not immediately available and they can not be effectively planned by educators. We shall have to await the scientist's own reconstruction of his enterprise."

PROFESSOR MARTIN P. Catherwood, PhD '30, and Thomas N. Hurd, PhD '36, Agricultural Economics, played the parts of taxpayers with petitions at a model town board meeting during the Albany convention of the Association of Towns of the State of New York. Professor Catherwood "complained" about the conduct of some highway employees, and Hurd found it difficult as a "nonresident taxpayer" to find out where he paid his taxes.

Six Professors attended the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators, held in Atlantic City, N. J., February 28-March 3. They included Professors Riverda H. Jordan, Frank S. Freeman, and Howard R. Anderson, Education; and Julian E. Butterworth, Emery N. Ferriss, and Clyde B. Moore, Rural Education.

PROFESSOR HOWARD B. MEEEK, Hotel Administration, and Mrs. Meek were guests of honor at a formal dinner given by Ye Hosts and at a reception, held by the student Hotel Association February 21. On Tuesday Professor Meek was interviewed by the Cornell Daily Sun reporter over WESG and told briefly of his recent world tour. On Wednesday he addressed the Ithaca Rotary Club on "Around the World in One Sabbath Leave." He said that Japanese businessmen, while expressing loyalty to their Emperor, were "greatly concerned" over Japan's foreign policy. Speaking of Italy and Germany, he said that "the hold of Hitler and Mussolini on their people is much stronger than we over here believe. That attitude which sees them sitting uneasily on their dictatorships is somewhat wishful thinking."

ROBERT B. MEIGS '26, assistant deputy comptroller of the University, has a daughter, born February 23. Meigs lives on Comstock Road, Ithaca.

PROFESSOR CHARLES A. TAYLOR '14, Extension, was taken to the hospital with pneumonia February 25. After the continued use of the oxygen tank, he rallied, and his condition is now reported as favorable.

PROFESSOR JOHN R. BANOS, Jr. '21, Administrative Engineering, was invited to give two lectures before classes in "humanities" at Massachusetts Institute of Technology February 25. Next fall he will institute a new course, Human Nature and Management, for Administrative Engineering students here.

DR. EUGENE F. BRADFORD, Registrar and Director of Admissions, represented Cornell at a pre-school conference at the Pingry School, Elizabeth, N. J., March 4 and 5. Directors of admission from about sixty-five colleges and headmasters and pupils from approximately forty public and private schools in the New Jersey area were present, to discuss entrance requirements and offerings of the various colleges.

PROFESSOR MORRIS G. BISHOP '13, Romance Languages, spoke March 8 on "Paris at the Dawn of the Twentieth Century" in French, under the auspices of Le Cercle Francais.

By Cornellians

THE ANCIENT WORLD

This is Volume I of a series, "The Civilization of the Western World." Attractively printed and profusely illustrated, it is modern treatment of history that will add to the reader's understanding of the present.

Professor Caldwell emphasizes especially human achievement. "I have endeavored," he says, "to give as brief a statement of the political history as is consistent with sound scholarship... This has been followed with a survey of political, economic, and social institutions and activities and a description of religious life and cultural achievements... Although I have followed the usual division into periods for purposes of analysis, the continuity of the whole story of human advance and the interaction of peoples upon each other have received proper consideration."

The book contains chronological tables, a bibliography especially designed for elementary students, and a complete index.

NECROLOGY

'S4 PhB—HARRY JAY PATTER, February 24, 1938, in Chicago, Ill., where he lived at 1361 Dearborn Street. An Alumni Trustee from 1935 to 1937 and representative of the Class of '34 on the Cornellian Council since its founding in 1908, he constantly worked and gave for the betterment of the University. On graduation, he joined with his brothers in the grain business, working three years in Chicago and four years in branch offices in Buffalo, Portland, Me., and Boston, Mass. In 1924 he became a member of the firm, which in 1933 consolidated with Bartlett, Frazier & Company under the name of Bartlett, Patten & Company, and became one of the largest grain traders in the world. In 1920, he became treasurer of the reorganized firm of Bartlett, Frazier Company, in which position he remained for many years. In the early 1930's he was a director of the Cornell Association of Chicago. Later he became greatly interested in archeology, assisted in excavating a number of Grecian tombs dating from the fourth century B.C., and discovered an ancient Roman mosaic floor in the region of Corinth. He was a member of the directing committee of the Princeton Archeological Expedition in Austria, and a trustee of the American Museum, dedicated in 1934 in Corinth. He was a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of London and vice-president of the Chicago Historical Society. In 1937 he gave $50,000 to the University, and provided that $1,000 of the income should go to the Alumni Fund annually. Among his other gifts were a collection of Babylonian cuneiform clay tablets and cones dating from 3,500 B.C. to 614 B.C., a valuable Greek papyrus manuscript, and a facsimile of the Ellesmere manuscript of the Canterbury Tales. As an undergraduate he was chairman of the executive committee of the University Yuleum Bureau and a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

'93 LLB—HAROLD CROWELL MITCHELL, February 22, 1938, in New York City, where he lived at 3495 Broadway. He was president of the Allsteel Scale Company, 25 West Broadway, where he also had law offices. He had represented the

‘75 BArch—Edward B. Green, Buffalo architect, was awarded the chancellor’s medal at the thirty-eighth annual University Day convocation and mid-year commencement exercises of the University of Buffalo, February 12. This medal was provided for in the will of Charles P. Norton, sixth chancellor of the University, and is intended to “personify civic patriotism and vivify public service in the eyes of the citizens of Buffalo.”

Green and his associates in the firm of Edward B. Green & Son, of which he has been head since 1917, were the architects for the Albright Art Gallery and for six of the buildings on the Buffalo University campus, in addition to a number of buildings in downtown Buffalo and public buildings in other cities.

The Chi Journal of Psi Upsilon

‘97 LLB; ’39—Colonel Joseph W. Beacham, Jr. (right) and Alfred F. Van Ranst ’39 were guests of honor at the Little Chi dinner of Psi Upsilon, held January 30 by the fraternity’s alumni in New York City. Colonel Beacham was captain of the football team in 1896-97 and Van Ranst is captain-elect for the 1938-39 season. Colonel Beacham related amusing incidents from his football experiences. Van Ranst also told humorous stories of the past two seasons, but he stressed chiefly that the team during the fall of 1937 has achieved the proper mental attitude toward football. He said that the players derived actual fun from the game, that they did not play in a dead-serious vein, intent only on winning—that they played for the sheer joy of the game.

Colonel Beacham is retiring from active service in the Army as commander of the R.O.T.C. at the University of Pennsylvania, and is now on furlough.

’00 LLB—John T. McGovern, legal advisor to the Carnegie Foundation, was one of the two principal speakers at the eighteenth civic testimonial football banquet, to Notre Dame football team of 1937 and its coaches, held January 11 at the University by the Notre Dame club of St. Joseph Valley. The Notre Dame Alumni for February says, “Mr. McGovern paid glowing compliment to the football team and the coaches to Notre Dame, laying particular stress on the faculty, which he said must exist to produce such results, yet which is so often overlooked in the analysis of an institution. Striking in this address was the opinion that honest aid, rendered by alumni to deserving students who wish to attend Notre Dame, even if they possess athletic ability, is within the bounds of academic respectability and to be encouraged. Mr. McGovern generalized his point to include all alumni of the colleges and universities, stressing the need for curbing the evils of outright hire of athletes and the diversion of athletes from the institution or the courses of study which they naturally prefer.”

‘08 AB—Word comes from Kenneth Roberts’s publishers that total printings of his best-seller novel, Northwest Passage, have reached 335,500 in America, the nineteenth printing being now on press. In England, where the book was published early in January, printings totaled 53,000 in four weeks. Advance orders before publication in Australia February 1, were for more than 10,000 copies. Payot et Cie will shortly publish Northwest Passage in France.

‘09 CE—Robert W. Clarke is budget examiner in the Department of Finance of the State of Connecticut. His address is 833 Windsor Avenue, Windsor, Conn.

‘12—Donald MacIntyre, formerly in Sydney, Australia, is now a real estate broker at 145 West Twelfth Street, New York City.

‘13 LLB—Dennis P. McCarty is in the real estate business in Syracuse; lives on Orchard Road, Solvay.

'24 BS—Don J. Wickham, principal field officer of the Agricultural Conservation Program for New York State, said in a Farm and Home Week talk that twenty practices have been approved for New York farmers for which payments may be made under the 1938 program. Practices are divided into five general groups: practices for improving soil-conserving and soil-building crops, seeding practices, soil-improving practices, and soil erosion control practices. The most important of them to New York farmers is the use of superphosphate in establishing new seedings and to improve pastures, haylands, and sod orchards. About $1,500,000 was earned by this one practice alone in New York State under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation program, he said. The 1938 program requires a minimum application of 300 pounds of twenty per cent superphosphate to the acre, used in establishing or improving soil conserving crops, to qualify for payment. With the wide variation in practices available to New York farmers, there should be something every farmer can do to improve his farm and receive some compensation for doing it, he pointed out. His office is in Roberts Hall, Ithaca.
