ALUMNI CHILDREN ENTER UNIVERSITY

Twenty-Three Are of Third Cornell Generation

Of the 2,073 new students entering the University this fall, 245 are known to be the sons and daughters of alumni. They report 234 alumni fathers and thirty-seven alumnae mothers. Five others report Cornell grandparents but not alumni parents. This total of 250 new students of direct Cornell descent is seven more than last fall, when 243 entered the University.

Besides these direct alumni antecedents, 920 brothers and sisters, uncles and aunts, cousins, and other relatives who attended Cornell are reported, as compared with 849 last year.

This year, twenty-three entering students are of the third Cornell generation; last year there were twelve. This year's are listed opposite, with the names of their alumni parents and grandparents. In addition to these, William Anderson '42 is the grandson of Edwin J. Tuttle '88, Ruth A. Hansen '42 is the granddaughter of the late Herbert J. Leighton '80, Frank Hoag '42 is the grandson of the late Frank P. Hoag '75, Lloyd Moulton '42 is the grandson of the late Guy Moulton '81, and Flora Mullin '42 is the granddaughter of the late Charles H. Taylor '05.

In these listings of Cornellians' sons and daughters, children are Freshmen unless otherwise indicated by Class numerals. Asterisks (*) designate persons who are deceased.

Information as to Cornell parentage is for the most part taken from students' registration blanks, but some undoubtedly have failed to indicate their Cornell relationships. Additions to the list will be welcomed by Foster M. Coffin '12, Alumni Representative, Alumni House, Ithaca.

Both Parents Alumni

This year twenty-six entering students have been found to be the children of both Cornell mothers and fathers. Twenty-one of these are listed below; the other five appear in the list of third-generation Cornellians. Last year's total was twenty-eight. In this list, mothers' maiden names only are given.

SYRACUSE BEATS RUNNERS

Varsity and Freshman cross country teams lost to Syracuse at Syracuse last Saturday. The scores were the same, 18-37, almost perfect for Syracuse.

Four Syracuse varsity runners, paced by Southard, crossed the line before Emery G. Wingerter '40 of Red Bank, N. J., placed fifth. Wingerter was timed in 27:36, compared with Southard's 26:53 for the five-mile course.

The Freshmen ran two and three-quarters miles with two Syracuseans, Stansbury and Radcliffe, finishing together in 13:16. Albert Schmid of Peekskill finished third for Cornell.

TIE AND LOSE AT SOCCER

A two-day trip to Bethlehem, Pa., and Princeton, N. J., last week end brought a tie and a defeat to the soccer team.

Cornell tied Lehigh, 1-1, Friday and lost the services of Arthur K. Peters '40 of Jackson Heights. Peters, a forward, broke a leg in the third period. The fracture was reduced in St. Luke's Hospital, Bethlehem, and Peters returned to Ithaca by train as his teammates went on to Princeton.

Princeton won, 2-0.

David Podrisky '40 of New York City scored the Cornell goal in the Lehigh game, converting a penalty kick in the first period. Lehigh tied the score late in the same quarter. After four fifteen-minute periods, the teams played two ten-minute extra periods. It was Cornell's third tie of the season.

For more than three periods Cornell held Princeton scoreless, but the home team rallied in the closing minutes to score twice. It was Cornell's second defeat.

LIGHTWEIGHTS BEAT YALE

The 150-pound football team won its second successive victory on Schoellkopf Field last Saturday, defeating Yale, 19-0. Last year Yale shared the championship of the Eastern Intercollegiate Lightweight Football League with Princeton.

In four games, Cornell, a League member this year for the first time, has won two and lost two, with games still scheduled with Villanova and Pennsylvania away from Ithaca.

The lightweights capitalized on Yale mistakes to start three touchdown drives on a slippery field. Francis C. Everts '40 of Glens Falls set up the first opportunity by blocking a Yale punt, the ball going out on Yale's 22. Robert S. Nicol '40 of Evanston, Ill., and Wright Bronson '40 of Akron, Ohio, carried the ball to the two-yard mark where Everts scored on an end-around.

William P. Mathers '41 of Brookline, Pa., initiated the next two scores. In the third period he recovered a fumble on Yale's 13. Robert F. White '39 of Cleveland passed to Nicol on the one-yard mark and Nicol scored the touchdown on the next play.

In the fourth period Mathers intercepted a pass on Cornell's 45. White, Nicol, and Bronson alternated in bucking the line and running the ends, with White scoring from the three-yard line.

The lightweights, coached by Allie Wolff, started the season by losing to Princeton and Rutgers. Then came a victory over Lafayette as the team's play showed steady improvement.

FRESHMEN LOOK BETTER

Early season estimates of the strength of the Freshman football squad were not encouraging; especially when it was compared to the players who reported in the fall of 1937.

In four games, the team coached by Mose Quinn has won two games and lost two, with the Pennsylvania engagement still on the books.

The team defeated Kiski, 14-6, and Manlius, 7-6, and lost to Penn State's Freshmen, 33-0.

When Syracuse's first-year team came to Schoellkopf Field for a twilight-floodlight game last Friday, it was expected that the visitors would win by a wide margin. For Syracuse had shown unexpected strength in earlier games and had defeated Penn State, 20-0.

The result was a 6-0 victory for Syracuse. The teams started in twilight with a regulation ball, then switched to a "ghost ball," painted white, when the lights were turned on. Syracuse scored its touchdown in the last quarter after Louis C. Buffalino of Swampscott, Mass., fumbled on Cornell's 20-yard line late in the third period.

The end of the quarter interrupted the Syracuse march, but the visitors resumed the drive and scored from the one-foot line on fourth down. A placement by Syracuse's George Batten, brother of John M. Batten '37, was blocked.

Cornell came back with a thirty-one-yard march that reached the Syracuse 29, but there the visitors stopped Cornell on the ground and in the air.

Among the Freshman regulars is Frederick G. Grimshaw, Jr. of Philadelphia, a Mercersburg Academy graduate who plays guard. He is the son of Frederick G. Grimshaw '00. One of the backs who has been used considerably is James E. Milks of Arlington, Va., son of Harley H. Milks '10.

Another back, used frequently in the blocking position, is Carl Snively Jr., son of the head coach.

The squad also includes:

DISCUSS ALUMNI AFFAIRS AT CHICAGO

Cornell went to Chicago November 4 and 5 for the biennial convention of the Cornell Alumni Corporation. For two days, at the Hotel Sherman, varied phases of the University and its relations with its alumni were thoroughly discussed. Attending the convention were official delegates from twenty-one Cornell Clubs over the country and a number of other out-of-town alumni, a goodly sprinkling of Chicago Cornellians, and a large representation from Ithaca.

Attending from the University were President Edmund E. Day; J. DuPratt White '90, vice-chairman of the Board of Trustees; Deans Carl E. Ladd '12, Agriculture and Home Economics, Robert S. Stevens, Law, and S. C. Hollister, Engineering; Professors Riverda H. Jordan, Education, and Charles L. Durham '99, Latin, of the Faculty committee on secondary schools; James Lynah '05, Director of Physical Education and Athletics; Foster M. Coffin '12, Alumni Representative; Ray S. Ashbery '25, Alumni Field Secretary; Mrs. Olive Northup Snyder '22, Assistant Alumni Representative; and Herbert H. Williams '25, Director of the University Placement Bureau. In addition to officers and committee chairmen of the Alumni Corporation the convention also heard from Robert P. Butler '05, president of the Cornellian Council; Mrs. Robert C. Osborn (Agda Swenson) '20, president of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs, and R. W. Sailor '07, editor of the ALUMNI NEWS.

Hear Progress Reports

Newton C. Farr '09, chairman of the Chicago convention committee, opened the sessions introducing Mrs. Franklin N. Corbin, Jr. (Margaret G. Arronet) '21, president of the Cornell Women's Club of Chicago, and Frank J. Durham '16, president of the Cornell Club of Chicago. C. Reeve Vanneman '03, president of the Corporation, reviewed briefly the Corporation's activities, with special mention of the work with secondary schools. Coffin as secretary of the Corporation, presented the biennial report of the board of directors, detailing activities since the last convention; and Archie C. Burnett '90 reported as treasurer.

The three Deans described briefly the work of their respective Colleges, reporting recent developments and some of the needs and future plans.

At luncheon Friday noon, nearly 200 persons crowded the Crystal Room of the Hotel Sherman, with singing led by Malcolm D. Vail '12 and John M. Breckenridge '26 at the piano. Alumni Trustee Alfred H. Hutchinson '09, presiding, introduced Lynah, who spoke of the undesirability of alumni pressure on athletic coaches, and suggested a concerted effort by the University to help students determine their vocational aptitudes early in their courses. "Three short ones" were led by Vail for William F. E. Gurley '77, loyal Cornellian of Chicago, who was the oldest alumnus present.

Report of William H. Thorne '11, chairman of the Corporation's committee on relations with secondary schools, was read after luncheon by Creed W. Fulton '09, and Professor Jordan spoke of the work of the Faculty committee and of what alumni can do as individuals and through Cornell Clubs to attract desirable students to Cornell.

Alumni Coordination

Elbert P. Tuttle '18, chairman of the Corporation committee, presented by means of a blackboard chart a proposed plan of alumni coordination. A governing board of fifteen would comprise two representatives each from the ALUMNI NEWS, the Association of Class Secretaries, the alumni associations of the various Colleges, the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs, and the Cornell Alumni Corporation; a member of the University Board of Trustees; the Director of Willard Straight Hall; a representative of the Student Council; and two members to be elected by these thirteen. This board would act as a nominating committee for the election of Alumni

ALUMNI CORPORATION PRESIDENT

Creed W. Fulton '09 of Washington, D. C., succeeds C. Reeve Vanneman '03. Formerly vice-president of the Corporation and a director-at-large, Fulton was chairman of the committee which organized the Varsity C Association. He received the ME in '09, won the "C" in baseball, is a member of Sphinx Head and Seal and Serpent. He is a member of the firm of Baker-Fulton, Inc., 907 Fifteenth Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

Trustees of the University, establish alumni aims and policies, coordinate the activities of the five constituent groups, and approve their budgets. Functions of each of the five groups were described substantially as at present. Cornellian Council was shown as a sixth group, related to the alumni board through a single executive, whereas the other five are brought together through an alumni director, responsible to the board. Discussion of the proposal was general, and the convention passed the following motions, made by Tuttle:

"That the Cornell Alumni Corporation accept in principle the proposed plan of alumni organization, as recommended by the committee and approved by the board of directors."

"That the board of directors of the Corporation be requested to call a conference of delegates to be selected by each of the constituent groups, with two delegates from each group, to consider the adoption of this plan or a modification of it or a substitute plan that will be acceptable to all constituent groups."

President Day, called upon by President Vanneman, expressed his interest in the matter, since "my chief concern this year and next will be with improving the organization through which the work of the University can be done." He pointed out, however, that distinction should be made between principles of alumni organization and functions. He termed the Cornellian Council, the ALUMNI NEWS, and the work of placement as functions, and the other groups of the proposed plan, principles of organization. He said also that the interest of the University Trustees and Administration is not solely in the possible service of alumni to the University, but that the relationship is one of mutual enrichment; the University to its alumni for individual development throughout their lives. "Neither responsibility," he said, "can be delivered until an effective organization of the alumni makes such delivery possible."

New Officer Announced

At the convention banquet Friday evening about 300 Cornellians and their ladies dined, enjoyed entertainment from the College Inn of the Hotel Sherman, and danced. Toastmaster at the dinner was Professor Durham, and he introduced President Day and Mr. White as the speakers. The President spoke of the nature of the democratic tradition, how it is threatened in America today, and what is the part of the universities, and especially Cornell, in preserving it. His address we shall summarize next week, together with the remarks of the Deans.

Mr. White recalled the many buildings that have been erected at Cornell and the

STUDENTS RUN NEW YORKER

Thirty Seniors in Hotel Administration recently took over for a Monday morning the direction of the forty-one story Hotel New Yorker in New York City. Under the direction of Professor Howard B. Meek, the group spent three days in New York, attended the annual convention of the State Hotel Association in Grand Central Palace, visited the site of the World's Fair, and helped to entertain visiting hotelmen at the annual convention smoker given by the Cornell Society of Hotelmen.

Students elected Alexander J. Kish of Ithaca to assume for the morning the desk of Ralph Hitz, president of the New Yorker's operating company; John F. Farr of Elmira to be executive vice-president; and Harry J. Letteer of Sheffield, Pa., vice-president. The others, from Stanley C. Hoffman of Cincinnati, Ohio, manager of room service, and James L. Rankin of Cortland, chief house officer, to Esther L. M. Cooper of Brooklyn, housekeeper, and Leslie N. Scott of Ithaca, pastry chef, all chose their jobs, having had experience at summer work in hotels. Only minor difficulties were reported, such as when guests swamped the acting room clerk with inquiries about New York subways which he, being unfamiliar with their intricacies, found some trouble in answering.

The students were guests of the Hotel Pennsylvania at luncheon, inspected the Waldorf Astoria, where Henry B. Williams '30 is assistant manager, and were shown through the SS. Ile de France at her French Line pier. Headquarters at the Hotel Exposition was the Cornell booth, where the work of the Department was exhibited and information was given.

At the annual smoker of the Cornell Society of Hotelmen, the evening of October 25 at the Hotel Commodore, the 400 or more guests included many celebrities of the hotel world in New York for the convention, students and Faculty members from Ithaca, and many alumni members of the Society. Frank A. Ready, Jr. '35, chairman of the committee, introduced the president of the Society, Howard L. Dayton '27 of Albany, Ga., who welcomed the guests.

LETTERS

Subject to the usual restrictions of space and good taste, we shall print letters from subscribers on any side of any subject of interest to Cornellians. The ALUMNI NEWS often may not agree with the sentiments expressed, and disclaims any responsibility beyond that of fostering interest in the University.

LIKES FOOTBALL CHARTS

TO THE EDITOR:

Congratulations on the Gridgrams of this fall's football games in the recent issues of the ALUMNI NEWS. They afford an excellent review of the games for those of us who are unable to attend or listen to them over the radio. I enjoy them a lot. Keep up the good work.

MILTON E. YOUNG '30

BEST GAME OF '99

TO THE EDITOR:

In your issue of October 27, "Now In My Time!" by Berry '04: I can't give Berry much on that one, although I do, along with a raft of others, note him one of our best as a general rule on matters collegiate and related thereto.

But where was that great observer in the fall of '99 when Bill Edwards brought the Tigers to Ithaca and after battling all afternoon our great Bobby Young [George H. Young '00, quarterback] kicked a field goal that put us through as the winner? That was the high spot of that season as I recall it.

FIVE ALUMNI SCHOLARS Clubs Help Freshmen

Alumni Club Scholarships have been awarded by President Day to five members of the Freshman Class. This year's new scholarships are financed by four Cornell Clubs, who nominated the candidates. Selection is based upon character, scholastic ability, and physical fitness, on the basis of application blanks supplied to Clubs by the University.

Cornell Club of Elmira scholarship is held by Gordon A. Bailey, who prepared at Southside High School, Elmira, and has entered Civil Engineering.

Cornell Club of Essex County, N. J., scholarship was awarded to Robert B. Vincelette of Upper Montclair, N. J. He prepared at Montclair High School and Williamsport-Dickinson Seminary; is in Agriculture.

Cornell Club of New York scholarship went to Donald R. Goodkind, from New Brunswick, N. J., High School; in Civil Engineering.

Cornell Club of Philadelphia supports two scholarships. One was awarded to Richard Belyea of Upper Darby, Pa., who was also the winner of a McMullen Regional Scholarship, in Administrative Engineering. The other is held by Raymond Jenkins of Philadelphia, who prepared at Germantown High School and Mercersburg Academy; is a Freshman in Arts and Sciences.

Under the rules promulgated last July, awards are for two years, subject to the holder's maintaining an academic average of at least seventy percent, and may be continued for two more years.

Awards were made after approval of Club nominations by an alumni standing committee composed of C. Reeve Vanneman '03, William J. Thorne '11, Otto V. Kruse '09, Harold E. Irish '16, and Ray S. Ashbery '25, and by the University committee on Club Scholarships. This committee consisted of Dr. Cornelius Betten, PhD '05, Dean of the University Faculty; Professor Earl H. Kennard, PhD '13, Physics, until November 1 chairman of the Faculty committee on undergraduate scholarships; Dr. Eugene F. Bradford, Director of Admissions; and Woodford Patterson '95, Secretary of the University.

ESSEX COUNTY MEETS

Cornell Club of Essex County, N. J., at its regular monthly meeting October 17 heard Dr. Henry H. Kessler '16 describe his recent experiences in Germany. He was appointed by President Roosevelt to represent the United States at an international medical conference there, and had but lately returned.

Forty-five members attended, and at a brief business meeting President Joseph Kastner, Jr. '12 presided. Clarence J. Pope '10 reported on the newly-established regional scholarship. S. A. Perkirks, Dartmouth '21, invited the Club to join with the Dartmouth Club at a football luncheon November 1. The invitation was accepted, and George R. Pfann '24, Alumni Trustee and former Varsity player, was selected to speak for Cornell. At the invitation of Dr. E. Farrell, Pennsylvania '23, for a joint meeting with Pennsylvania alumni, it was agreed that the regular evening meeting November 21 at the Montclair Golf Club should be a Cornell-Pennsylvania get-together.

The Club has published a folder containing programs for all its regular meetings of the year and dates of its monthly luncheons in Newark, at the Downtown Club. It also lists the Club officers and chairmen of standing committees.

PRESIDENT VISITS CLUBS

President Edmund Ezra Day was guest of honor at alumni meetings in Scranton, Pa., and Hartford, Conn., October 24 and 25. He was accompanied by Foster M. Coffin '12, Alumni Representative.

The men's and women's Cornell Clubs of Northeastern Pennsylvania joined forces for a dinner at the Scranton Club on Monday evening. Seth W. Shoemaker '08, president of the men's club, presided, and introduced the president and secretary of the women's club, Helen Burdick '23 and Jean-Marie Palmer '36, and Seward M. Smith '21, representing the Wilkes-Barre delegation. Besides President Day and Coffin, Royal Taft '71, now approaching his ninetieth birthday and one of the two surviving members of his Class, was a speaker.

Robert P. Butler '05, of Hartford, president of the Cornellian Council, presided at the dinner on Tuesday. He was introduced by William S. Vanderbilt '17, president of the Club. Butler noted the fact that three records were being broken: this was the first time a President of Cornell had attended a Cornell meeting in Hartford, that it was the largest Cornell meeting ever held there, and that it was the first time the men and women had met together. There is no Cornell women's club in Hartford but the company of 140 at the dinner included many alumnae as well as non-Cornellian wives and husbands. In the group were many representatives from other parts of New England, and Butler introduced Thomas I. S. Boak '14, Alumni Trustee and president of the Cornell Club of New Haven; Donald E. Breckenridge '19, president of the Cornell Club of Springfield, Mass.; H. Hunt Bradley '26, president of the Cornell Club of Providence, R. I. Others introduced included B. H. Blood '89, past president of the Hartford club; Edward S. Sanderson '94 of Waterbury; and F. Ellis Jackson '01 of Providence, candidate for district director of the Cornell Alumni Corporation.

FEDERATION OFFICERS SPEAK

At the October meeting of the Cornell Women's Club of the Mohawk Valley, Mrs. R. C. Osborn (Agda C. Swenson) '20 and Ruth E. Davis '17, respectively president and secretary of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs, spoke on the work of the Federation. It was October 14, at the home of Mrs. Kenneth W. Fuller (Ferne A. Griffith) '29 in New Hartford.

October 15 Mrs. Osborn and Miss Davis spoke at a buffet supper of the Cornell Women's Club of Albany, at the home of Mrs. Arthur G. Pellman (Helen A. Weber) '23. Mrs. Howard E. Salsbury (Helen L. Jaquish) '22, president of the Club, has announced that the next meeting will be November 21, with C. Reeve Vanneman '03, past president of the Cornell Alumni Corporation, the expected guest of honor.

MICHIGAN ELECTS OFFICERS

Cornell Club of Michigan held its Fall Smoker and annual meeting at the Detroit Golf Club October 11. Thirty-five men attended dinner and about seventy the smoker following. President Harold W. Holmes '05 called a business meeting to order and officers for 1939 were elected as follows: Harold Cole '16, president; Morris D. Sample '94, vice-president; Don F. Morse '33, secretary; Edgar W. Averill '28, treasurer; Philip J. Kent '14, industrial secretary.

Thereupon, the meeting was turned over to George B. Walbridge '00 as toastmaster, who introduced James Lynah '05, University Director of Physical Education and Athletics. Lynah talked on the athletic situation, and afterwards answered many questions.

Music was in charge of Arthur L. Rose '10, and chairman of the committee on arrangements, Benjamin H. Micou '16.

ALUMNI CONVENTION

increase of the University's endowment since the Semi-Centennial campaign of 1919, when he had last spoken in Chicago. He cited comparable increases of other universities, however, ranging from University of Rochester with endowment 92.6 percent greater, Dartmouth 278 percent, Yale 205 percent, Harvard 202 percent, to Pennsylvania 123 percent, to show that Cornell's increase of but 77 percent puts her in an unfavorable relative position.

He announced that the University Trustees, "determined on a major effort to correct that situation," had created a new standing committee with the duty to find funds for the endowed Colleges. This committee is composed of the chairman and vice-chairman of the Board, the chairmen of the three other standing committees, and the President of the University. "At their last meeting," said Mr. White, "the Trustees created a new position, next to the President of the University, of a secretary of this standing committee who shall devote all of his time and attention to stimulating large gifts to the University and coordinating the activities of the Cornellian Council with those of the Trustees.

"With the national wealth of this country being depleted in effectiveness by being scattered, this is the strategic time to appeal to sensible men of large affairs who wish to save their means for worthy uses."

After the Saturday morning session, busses took the convention party to Evanston to see Wisconsin defeat Northwestern, 20-13, and they returned for a closing cocktail party at the hotel.

Saturday the Cornell Women's Club of Chicago entertained visitors at luncheon. Mrs. Corbin, presiding, introduced Mrs. R. H. Shreve (Ruth Bentley) '02, who spoke of the scholarship fund for women shortly to be raised by the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs; Mrs. Osborn, who told of the activities of the Federation; and Mrs. Snyder, who described the work of the Alumni Office, especially in its relation to alumnae and women's Clubs.

District Directors elected by the convention are William J. Thorne '11 of Syracuse, Wallace B. Quail '19 of New York City, C. Reeve Vanneman '03 of Albany, Mrs. William F. Donoghue (Mary G. Heughes) '02 of Rochester, F. Ellis Jackson '00 of Providence, R. I., Henry R. Gundlach '11 of Baltimore, Md., Eugene C. Barchelar '02 of Pittsburgh, Pa., Creed W. Fulton '09 of Washington, D. C., Julian A. Pollak '07 of Cincinnati, Ohio, Clarence A. Peirce '07 of Chicago, Ill., Paul C. Stark '12 of Louisiana, Mo., and Carroll R. Harding '10 of San Francisco, Calif. These twelve elected as directors-at-large Mrs. Osborn, Otto V. Kruse '09 of Philadelphia, Pa., and Tuttle, of Atlanta, Ga.

The board of directors elected Fulton president of the Corporation for a two-year term; Mrs. Osborn and Tuttle, vice-presidents; and re-elected Archie C. Burnett '90 of Boston, Mass., treasurer, and Foster M. Coffin '12, Alumni Representative, secretary.

Cornell Clubs represented at the convention were those of Albany, Atlanta, Chicago, Chicago women, Cleveland, Hartford, Ithaca, Ithaca women, Maryland, Michigan, Milwaukee, New England, New York, New York women, Omaha, St. Louis, Southern Ohio, Trenton, Washington, Western Connecticut women, Western Pennsylvania.

NOW, IN MY TIME!

By Romeyn Berry

Alumni who take a friendly interest in the fluctuating fortunes of Cornell sport will be gratified to learn that the editor of the Cornell Sun is again castigating the Athletic Office for alleged ineptitude in the sale and distribution of football tickets. This hasn't happened for years and years. Through the mercy of Providence, one does not have empty seats and ticket editorials at the same time.

When the ticket editorials start to appear, along with anonymous letters from "Cornellian" and "Indignant," your disillusioned sports director knows that the empty seat era is momentarily over, and that he may sit back in the comfortable assurance that God's in his Heaven, all's right with the world.

The Dartmouth game sold out completely ten days prior to the event. Nothing like that has happened around here in the memory of the oldest living undergraduate. Indeed, Schoellkopf has never previously sold out in its entirety since the Crescent was added and that battery of supplementary bleachers procured. The last previous complete sell-out for an Ithaca event was for the Colgate game of 1923, and even in that case there were tickets procurable up to the Thursday immediately preceding the contest.

The only other occasion I can recall on which an Ithaca box office closed up the same day it opened was the one for the Spring Day observation train in 1921. Remind me to tell you about that sometime! There were professors still in line when Miss Feeley snapped shut the ticket window, and every last one of them instantly lost his cultivated Oxford accent and reverted to the same flat vowels, the same robust expletives he had employed when, as a boy, he had been called upon to address mules in Missouri.

It is the keystone of my simple faith that the quantum of football annoyance

(and resulting abuse) is a constant. The only variable is the target for the invective. A disappointing team, and it's the coach who catches it; a rapturous season, and the passions find their outlet against the ticket office; an autumn neither hot nor cold brings down wrath upon the schedule and the publicity department.

The easiest critic to endure is the dilatory ticket purchaser who did not foresee a sell-out.

Nor have we reached the end of our unhappiness. The prediction is here ventured that at all Ithaca cocktail parties after the Dartmouth game there will be pathetic stories of the delays the patrons suffered in getting to their seats; of fenders ripped off in the effort to be the first out of a traffic jam and off to that same cocktail party. And it will not ease the annoyance of these complainants to tell them they could have avoided delay by getting to the game forty minutes before the kick-off; could have saved their fenders by leaving the bus in the barn and hoofing it to Schoellkopf just that once.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Philadelphia, Pa.; Abraham Sbar of Brooklyn; Frank A. Crowley of Worcester, Mass.; Joseph Rosokoff of Tonawanda.

Tackles: Charles R. Sweeney of Scranton, Pa.; Norman L. Christensen of Englewood, N. J.

Backs: W. William Stilwell of West Brighton; Henry S. Dragon of Albion; William S. Fitzpatrick of Tulsa, Okla.; Edward D. Mead, Jr. of Caldwell, N. J.; Will D. Templeton of Niagara Falls; Peter M. Wolff of Highland Park, Ill.; George E. Freas of New York City.

All of the Freshmen's 21 points have been scored by Dragon with three touchdowns and three points after touchdowns by placekicks.

ODDS AND ENDS

Syracuse won the Central New York football championship last Saturday by beating Colgate, 7-0, the first time it has turned the trick since 1924. Syracuse, it will be recalled, won from Cornell, 19-17, earlier in the season. . . . Coach Snavely personally scouted Pennsylvania against Michigan at Ann Arbor last Saturday, as the Varsity players took a busmen's holiday and saw the Syracuse-Colgate game. . . . Michigan, incidentally, defeated Pennsylvania, 19-13. . . . Dartmouth tuned up for the Cornell game (generally rated as the outstanding game in the East for November 12) by defeating Dickinson, 44-0.

ON THE CAMPUS AND DOWN THE HILL

"DUCHESS OF DARTMOUTH" was to be chosen by vote of students from three pictures of "dates" to be submitted with appropriate information by their escorts, selected by the Dartmouth Hop committee, and posted in Willard Straight Hall Wednesday morning. The "Duchess" will be officially received by the Mayor of Ithaca and the president of the Student Council, appear at luncheon and a reception at Willard Straight Hall, and will be introduced on the loud speakers at the football game and at the Hop Saturday evening. An unexpectedly large number of entries had been received by the committee at the deadline Monday night.

PROGRAM of the Wisconsin-Northwestern football game in Evanston, Ill., November 5 says that Kenneth Simms '41, end on the Northwestern squad, "lists Brud Holland, great colored end at Cornell University, as his favorite athlete and hopes to follow Holland's footsteps to a place among the headlines of intercollegiate football."

SORORITY HOUSE TELEPHONES at certain times of the day are continuously busy. One house realistically approaches the problem of monopoly by requiring the person who last had a call to answer the next ringing.

WINTER COURSES in the College of Agriculture started November 3, to continue for twelve weeks, through Farm and Home Week. Enrolment was more than 100, with many of the students adults who have come to "brush up" on some special phase of agriculture.

ARMISTICE DAY convocation at eleven o'clock in Bailey Hall will take the form of a panel discussion between Dartmouth and Cornell students speaking on "The United States and Foreign Wars." Classes will be suspended for an hour. Dartmouth representatives are Sydney G. Craig '40, vice-president of the Dartmouth Forensic Union, and John R. Willetts '40, manager of the Dartmouth Speakers Bureau and winner of several debates. For Cornell, Austin H. Kiplinger '39 of Washington, D. C., and Dallas M. Coors '40 of Ithaca will speak. The meeting was arranged by the Student Council.

FRESHMAN MEN elected their Class governing board and officers in two elections run by the Student Council last week. Robert D. Hughes, Jr. of Dayton, Ohio, is president; Herbert D. Bliss of Youngstown, vice-president; John A. Burditt of Rutland, Vt., secretary; and Frederick G. Grimshaw, Jr. of Altoona, Pa., treasurer. The other members of the board are Frederick H. Bird, Jr. of Winnetka, Ill., Edwin R. Culver III of St. Louis, Mo., Nathan Pollack of Brooklyn,

PUBLIC SALE of tickets for the football game with Dartmouth, which opened November 1, was stopped that same day. Next morning it was announced that the 22,000 advance reservations, with Monday's sale to students and other holders of ticket books and the first day's public sale, had completely accounted for every seat that could be placed on Schoellkopf Field. The 20,950 seats in the Crescent will be full, as will be 4,155 in the west stands and 1,200 at each end of the field. Sale at Hanover was some 5,000 tickets. It is estimated that approximately 30,000 persons will see the game.

and Edward A. Rogers of Cleveland, Ohio. Election was by proportional representation, 523 votes being cast for board members and 324 for the officers. The Sun published as news that there were no fraudulent ballots.

FIRST PRODUCTION at home of the Dramatic Club this season was the Chinese play, "The Yellow Jacket," in the Willard Straight Theater November 4 and 5. Complete with property men visible to the audience, it was well received.

NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR OF 1939 will have several scenes familiar to Cornellians incorporated in the "waterfalls mural" in the New York State Building. Painted from photographs will be Ithaca Falls, Triphammer Falls, Sackett's Falls in Cascadilla Creek, and other views in Buttermilk, Taughannock, and Enfield gorges.

SAGE CHAPEL PREACHER November 13 is the Rev. Arthur H. Bradford, minister of the Central Congregational Church, Providence, R. I.

LECTURES for the week include "The Color Sense of Insects," by Dr. Dorothea Ilse, associate of the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, the Royal Entomological Society, and the Laboratory of Entomology at Cambridge, November 7, on the Schiff Foundation; Dr. A. E. Ruehle of the Bell Telephone laboratories before the American Chemical Society, on "Spectrophotometry in the Study of the Structure of Vitamin B₁," November 8; President Edmund E. Day at a fellowship dinner of the AAUW, November 9; Professor R. S. Knox of University College, Toronto, on "A Modern Scottish Poet," November 11, sponsored by the English Department; and Professor Bristow Adams, Agriculture Publications, "How to Read Your Newspaper," at the Willard Straight Hall coffee hour November 13.

FOOTBALL TEAM manager Eugene E. Batchelar, Jr. '39 was put to it, the housing situation being what it is for the Dartmouth game week end, to find a nice quiet place for the team to stay the night before the game. Finally he arranged to quarter them in the University Infirmary Annex.

STUDENT COUNCIL last week provided for organizing the men's dormitories into social units, with elected officers at the head of each section.

BEQUEST to Cornell announced some time ago as from Mrs. Merry M. Dennis of Rochester for "athletic scholarships," which caused some consternation in Ithaca, will not materialize, it is learned. A tax deposition filed recently shows that the net value of the estate has shrunk to an amount insufficient to pay specific bequests. Cornell's bequest was from the residuary estate.

SIDNEY L. HOWELL, for twenty years a grocer in Ithaca with the firm of Wanzer and Howell and a founder and for the last twenty-one years president of the Ithaca Savings and Loan Association, died November 5 at the age of seventy-two. He was a former supervisor from the fourth ward and chairman of the board; the father of Sidney P. Howell '17 and Mrs. William T. Stevens, 3d (Helen I. Howell) '22.

CHAMPIONSHIP livestock judging team at the recent Baltimore livestock show was that of Cornell, coached by Dr. John I. Miller, PhD '36, Animal Husbandry. James W. Neal '40 of Wichita Falls, Tex., and Richard E. Turrell '39 of Susquehanna, Pa., stood first and second, respectively, and the team defeated University of Florida, Pennsylvania State College, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, West Virginia University, University of Maryland, and North Carolina State College.

CHARLES Z. KLAUDER, architect of the Baker dormitory group and the University's War Memorial, died in Philadelphia, Pa., October 30.

RAILROAD ENTHUSIASTS Club is the newest Campus organization. Recently they were addressed by R. L. Sullivan, genial Lehigh Valley representative who accompanies Varsity teams on most of their trips. November 5 thirty-three members, accompanied by Professor John E. Perry, Railroad Engineering, visited the Lehigh shops at Sayre, Pa., saw and rode in the cab of a new streamlined motor unit soon to be put into service. John B. Holt '41 of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, and Howard P. Lynch '41 of Brooklyn handled the arrangements.

NECROLOGY

'81—DR. FRANK CARY, September 8, 1938, at his home in Greenbush, Wis. He spent three years in the Natural History Course. He received the MD degree from Rush Medical College, Chicago, Ill. During the War he was a major in the Medical Corps, serving at Gerstner Field and Rockwell Field. Wife, the former Harriet Heyl '81; son, Louis H. Cary '12.

'85 BAg—CASIMIRO EUGENIO AMOROSO LIMA, September 10, 1938, in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. For many years he had managed his rural property of Monte Olivete, near Rio de Janeiro. Agricultural Association.

'19—BERTRAND KING FOLGER, September 9, 1938, in Buffalo. He spent two years in Civil Engineering. During the War he was a sergeant in the Officers' Training School at Camp Gordon. Later, he was a mining engineer with the H. N. Eavenson Association, Pittsburgh, Pa.

'32 BS—JUNE ELIZABETH NICHOLSON, October 16, 1938, in Garrett Park, Md., when she was struck by a train. She had been with the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. C., for several years. Pi Beta Phi.

WIN WELDING PRIZES

Eleven Cornellians, of whom ten are alumni of engineering and one of Architecture, have received prizes totalling more than $7,000 in a recent contest conducted by the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation of Cleveland, Ohio. Contestants wrote papers on the uses of arc welding in the following fields: automotive, aircraft, railroad, watercraft, structural, furniture, commercial, containers, welderies, functional machinery, and industrial machinery.

Robert V. Proctor '13 won second prize in the structural division, and received $2,747.39. Based on his experience as general manager of the Commercial Shearing and Stamping Co. of Youngstown, Ohio, his paper discussed welded steel lining for shield driven tunnels.

LeRoy M. Davis '23 won third prize in the functional machinery division, worth $1,526.33. Hydraulic test engineer with the Pennsylvania Water and Power Company, he discussed prewelding of turbine blades for propeller units of high capacity.

Other prizes, ranging from $712 to $101, were won by Charles B. Curtiss '09, proprietor of the Bay City, Mich., Foundry and Machine Co.; George S. Edmonds '94, superintendent of motive power for the D. & H. Railroad in Albany; Edward R. Greer '08, engineer with the Rotary Snow Plow Corporation, Minneapolis, Minn.; Richard E. Lasher '19, manager of the Munson Mill Machinery Co.,

Utica; James T. Lewis, Jr. '27, assistant works manager of the Cleveland, Ohio, Crane and Engineering Co.; Richard E. J. Summers '14, president of Summers Engineers and Constructors, Inc., New York City; Guy H. Thayer '90, engineer with the Port of Portland, Ore.; Harry Wunsch '30, engineer with the Silent Hoist Winch and Crane Co., New York City. Architecture representative is Harold C. Whitehouse '15, senior partner of Whitehouse and Price, Spokane, Wash.

Judging of the papers submitted in this contest was done in Ithaca during July. Thirty engineering experts from all parts of the country, including four members of the Faculty, read and analyzed more than 2,000 papers and awarded 446 prizes totalling $200,000. Cornell members of the committee of judges were Professors Robert F. Chamberlain '08, Miles G. Northrop '22, and Lawrence A. Burckmyer, Jr. '24, Electrical Engineering; and Professor Charles E. O'Rourke '17, Civil Engineering.

NEW HOTEL SCHOLARSHIP

New York State Hotel Association has established a scholarship fund of $500 a year for students in Hotel Administration. Grants will be made by the Faculty of the Department, with preference given to students from the State.

William M. Leffingwell '18, president of The Glen Springs at Watkins Glen, is chairman of the committee of the Hotel Association in charge of the fund. Other members are Charles F. Wicks, supervising manager, United Hotels Companies; and John J. Hyland, manager of the DeWitt Clinton, Albany.

BREWERS' DIRECTORS

Alvin F. Griesedieck '16 of St. Louis, Mo., is one of six new members added to the board of directors of the United Brewers Industrial Foundation. He is president of Falstaff Brewing Corporation, of St. Louis, Omaha, Nebr., and New Orleans, La. Two other Cornellians are also directors of the Foundation: Adolph Coors, Jr. '07, president of Adolph Coors Company, Golden, Colo.; and Carl W. Badenhausen '17, president of P. Ballantine and Sons, Newark, N. J.

Program of the Foundation includes the promotion, through advertising and otherwise, of law enforcement, moderation, and recognition of the public interest by members of the brewing industry. It fosters conforming action among wholesalers and retailers for cooperation with the authorities in the elimination of anti-social conditions which sometimes surround the sale of beer, and supports and encourages retailers who conduct their business as law-abiding citizens operating legal, respectable premises. Directors met in Chicago October 10 to plan the program for the Foundation's second annual convention, held in New Orleans, La., November 3.

Concerning THE FACULTY

FRIENDS, associates, and former students of Dr. Abram T. Kerr '95 gathered for a half-hour October 30 in the amphitheatre of Stimson Hall, the building where until his death last August Dr. Kerr had been secretary of the Medical College in Ithaca for thirty-six years. Professor Benjamin F. Kingsbury, PhD '95, Histology and Embryology, presided, and spoke of Dr. Kerr's long service at Cornell. Dr. Dean F. Smiley '16, Medical Adviser, spoke of his influence in establishing hygiene instruction here; and Professor Simon H. Gage '77, Histology and Embryology, Emeritus, spoke of him as a former student.

PROFESSOR DONALD W. BAKER '29, Veterinary Parasitology, and Mrs. Baker have a daughter, born in Ithaca October 31. They live at 333 The Parkway.

PROFESSOR LUTHER M. NOSS, Music, University Organist, has accepted appointment as university organist and assistant professor of music at Yale, beginning next fall. Graduate of Northwestern, he came to Cornell in 1935 from Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., having received the degree of Master of Music at Yale in 1932 and studied abroad in 1932-34 as a Charles H. Ditson Fellow of the Yale School of Music.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC and the University's student musical organizations are cited in the recently-published Macmillan Encyclopedia of Music and Musicians, edited by Albert E. Wier. Biographies are given of Professor Paul J. Weaver, head of the Department, and of Professor Otto Kinkeldey, Musicology, and University Librarian. The Music Clubs Magazine, edited by Mrs. Weaver for the National Federation of Music Clubs, is also cited.

A LETTER TO TIME magazine, written by Professor Howard R. Anderson, Education, advocating a "defense program" for America, and appearing in the issue of October 10, aroused a storm of protest from Time readers. John S. Livermore '26 of Rochester wrote, "Unless Correspondent Anderson's 'defense program' was a tongue-in-cheek stunt, it is high time he was taught that all Cornellians worthy of the name are accustomed to follow an inadvertent brp with apologies, not an announcement of the Alma Mater." Explaining his letter which asked for "immediate expansion of appropriations for defense needs to three billion dollars per annum . . . and gradual rectification of national frontiers to include within the United States all territory from Alaska to Panama,"

Professor Anderson said he had definitely written it with his tongue in his cheek, thinking it a good chance to be ironical.

DR. GEORGE W. WHEELER, MD '07, professor of Medicine at the Medical College in New York, became October 1 superintendent of the New York Hospital, with which the Medical College is affiliated. He had been assistant superintendent since last July, and clinical bacteriologist of the central laboratories since 1932. He retains his membership on the Medical College Faculty.

FRANK E. GANNETT '98, University Trustee, said that the establishment of a sound monetary system is the first step toward a permanent recovery, speaking before the Indiana State Grange in Goshen, Ind., October 19. He stressed that "when we have a dollar that over a long period of years will have approximately the same purchasing power, we shall then have a dollar that will be fair to debtor and creditor."

Conta, Grad '38, last year a John McMullen Graduate Scholar, in Experimental Engineering; and George K. Williams '31, in Mechanics.

INCUBATOR TREES grown at the Geneva Agricultural Experiment Station by Professor Harold B. Tukey, Grad, Horticulture, are reported by the Associated Press. In breeding new varieties of fruit trees, immature fruits are cut open and the embryo placed in an "incubator" for early maturing. Several trees thus propagated are now growing at the Station.

Concerning THE ALUMNI

Personal items and newspaper clippings about all Cornellians are earnestly solicited.

'88 PhB—Dr. John R. Mott, chairman of the International Missionary Council and president of the World Alliance of the YMCA, sailed October 6 on the Queen Mary on the first stage of a trip to the World Missionary Congress, to be held in Madras, India, in December. He said, "While we have had the Congress in preparation for the last three years, it has taken on an added significance due to the division and strife now existing between nations of the world. It is called to promote united thinking, planning, and action for peace and goodwill. Things could not be more critical than they are today. I am not a pessimist, but I am alarmed. As I see it, there is hope in the fact that current events have awakened the world conscience. The world is now sufficiently startled and humbled, and if ever it can be thoroughly awakened to a determination for peace it is now."

'90 Grad; '90 Grad—William F. Pierce retired July 1, 1937, as president of Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, and he and Mrs. Pierce (Louise S. Fagan), Grad '90, now live at Edgewood, Md.

Was engaged in newspaper work in Rochester after leaving college and before entering the ministry." His address is 150 West Church Street, Fairport.

'02—This summer's picnic for "dozen-kid" families, held at the Old Mohican Club, Delair, N. J., attracted among others, the dozen children, each, of Mac Parker, Philadelphia radio news commentator; Donald Rose, Philadelphia Evening Ledger columnist; and Emmet T. Ormsby, of Chicago, American League umpire. The Ormsby family occupied an entire floor of the Chateau Crillon, Philadelphia, and were interviewed by every major radio station in Philadelphia and by several newspaper feature writers. These picnics are given annually by William B. Kugler '02 (see below), president of Kugler's Restaurant, Philadelphia, who expects that next year's will be even larger, as he has discovered several new "dozen-kid" families since July. This is only one of Kugler's hobbies. When he came to Cornell in 1898 he had already won several rowing, swimming, and cycling medals. At the University he stroked the Francis Boat Club crew, which defeated the first crew Syracuse ever had, on Lake Onondagua in June, 1900. A close friend of Dale Carnegie, Kugler helped him to gather material for How To Win Friends and Influence People. He is a student of Lincolniana and an ardent trap-shooter.

'04, '05 ME—Howard Dingle is president of the Cleveland Worm and Gear Company and vice-president of The Dingle-Clark Company, Cleveland, Ohio. He lives at 2646 Fairmount Boulevard, Cleveland Heights, Ohio. His son, John R. Dingle, is a member of the Class of '42.

'05 AB—Hendrik Willem Van Loon returned October 7 from his first visit to Europe in six years and said it would probably be his last. "America suits me better," he said. "With all its rawness, its publicity, its foibles and weaknesses, it is the only country, and our democracy is the kind of government that suits us best." He went to Europe, he said, because his mind had "run dry" and because he could not get "the right angle" on a book over which he had toiled for several years. The impasse cleared away suddenly one day in the Lapland country, and he is now anxious to get back to his home in Connecticut and finish it. The book will be called A History of the Average Man, and will be a reply to the credo expressed in Hitler's Mein Kampf. "The reply will be: 'To hell with your superman; give me an average man every time,'" Van Loon said. "I kept away from Germany where they have a nice spot in a concentration camp waiting for me. The strangest things happened to me while I was in Copenhagen, where I was called on by a publisher whom I had known in Berlin. He tried to get me to promise not to write or speak against Hitler, and then he invited me to Germany. My wife said that if I went, it would probably be in the papers that I had committed suicide." Speaking of Great Britain, he said, "It is easy to be generous with the property of someone else. The British Empire is at the beginning of the end; it is starting to crumble. Partition of Czechoslovakia was not the only solution. Hitler wouldn't have fought, because he doesn't have enough food and supplies for a war, and everyone knew it."

'07 BArch; '13 BS—Carl C. Good for Business

Advertising in the Cornell Alumni News increased materially during the business year 1937-38. Advertisers find it profitable to carry their messages directly to our five thousand Cornell graduates and former students through this personal news-magazine.

It will be good for your business to advertise in the Alumni News this year . . . Because . . .

You Buy Quality Circulation. You reach more than 5,000 Cornell men and women, prosperous, loyal, and interested. Their tastes, inclination and ability to buy are far above the average. They constitute a selected market for quality products.

Your Advertisements Will Be Read. The men and women who read the Alumni News are not urged into it by high pressure methods. They buy the paper because they want it, and they read each issue from cover to cover. Furthermore, it's small enough so that every advertiser gets preferred space.

You Get Your Money's Worth. A full page costs Alumni News advertisers less than one cent for each interested reader. With us, you don't buy unproductive circulation.
