CORNELL

Berry '04 Gets Expert Dietary Advice from George Rector '99 (See page 276)

ALUMNI NEWS

VOL. 42 March 7, 1940 NO. 21

When You Go East or West, Stop off at

CORNELL

DAILY AIR CONDITIONED TRAINS

WESTWARD Read Down		Light type, a.m. Dark type, p.m.		EASTWARD Read Up
†11:45	8:10	9:40	Lv. New York Arr.	8:35	7:45
11:59	8:25	9:55	" Newark "	8:18	7:29
12:15	8:30	9:45	" Phila. "	8:15	7:45
9:09	4:10	*5:21	Arr. ITHACA Lv.	12:52	*11:12

Enjoy a Day or Week End in Ithaca

9:09	5:21	4:10	Lv. ITHACA	Arr.	11:01	12:52
12:30	8:20	7:05	Arr. Buffalo	Lv.	8:05	10:00
10:58	4:55	7:30	" Pittsburgh	"	10:35	11:45
5:20	3:00	1:15	" Cleveland	"	12:20	5:41
12:45	9:30	7:40	Arr. Chicago	Lv.		10:15

*New York sleeper open to 8 a.m. at Ithaca, and at 9 p.m. from Ithaca

†Daily except Sunday, sleeping car New York to Ithaca open at 10:30 p.m.

A Co-op Special for Cornellians

■

Sheaffer Fine-line Pencils

in

Cornell Red and White with engraved Cornell seal

$1.25

postpaid

■

The Cornell Co-op.

BARNES HALL, ITHACA, N.Y.

PROFESSIONAL DIRECTORY
OF CORNELL ALUMNI

NEW YORK AND VICINITY

REA RETA*—Folded and interfolded facial tissues for the retail trade.

S'WIPE'S*—A soft, absorbent, disposable tissue; packed flat, folded and interfolded, in bulk or boxes, for hospital use.

FIBREDOWN*—Absorbent and non-absorbent cellulose wadding, for hospital and commercial use.

FIBREDOWN* CANDY WADDING—In several attractive designs.

FIBREDOWN* SANITARY SHEETING—For hospital and sick room use.

*Trade mark reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

THE GENERAL CELLULOSE COMPANY, INC.
GARWOOD, NEW JERSEY
D. C. Taggart '16 - - - Pres.- - Treas.

HENRY M. DEVEREUX, M.E. '33
YACHT DESIGNER
295 CITY ISLAND AVE.
CITY ISLAND, N. Y.

HARRY D. COLE '18
REALTOR
Business, commercial or residential properties in Westchester County.
Appraisals made.
RKO Proctor Building Mount Vernon, N.Y.

LAW OFFICES
WILLIAM HARRIS '09
60 Park Place NEWARK, N. J.
Phone, Market 3-2520-1-2-3 Cable Address "Willhar"

STANTON CO.---REALTORS
GEORGE H. STANTON '20
Real Estate and Insurance
MONTCLAIR and VICINITY
16 Church St., Montclair, N.J., Tel. 2-6000

ITHACA

LANG'S GARAGE
GREEN STREET NEAR TIOGA
Ithaca's Oldest, Largest, and Best
Storage, Washing, Lubrication, Expert Repairs
ERNEST D. BUTTON '99 JOHN L. BUTTON '25

BALTIMORE, MD.

WHITMAN, REQUARDT & SMITH
Water Supply, Sewerage, Structural, Valuations of Public Utilities, Reports, Plans, and General Consulting Practice.
EZRA B. WHITMAN, CE. '01
G. J. REQUARDT, C.E. '09
B. L. SMITH, C.E. '14
West Biddle Street at Charles

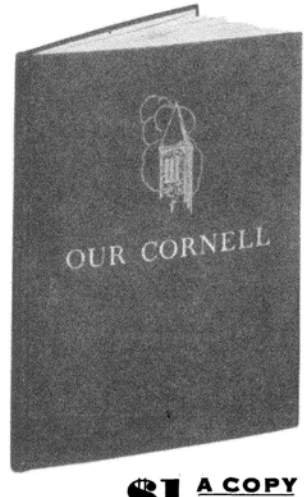
WASHINGTON, D. C.

THEODORE K. BRYANT
LL.B. '97—LL.M. '98
Master Patent Law, G. W. U. '08
Patents and Trade Marks Exclusively
309-314 Victor Building

KENOSHA, WIS.

MACWHYTE COMPANY
Manufacturers of Wire and Wire Rope, Braided Wire Rope Sling, Aircraft Tie Rods, Strand and Cord.
Literature furnished on request
JESSEL S. WHYTE, M.E. '13 PRES. & GEN. MGR.
R. B. WHYTE, M.E. '13, GEN. SUPT.

YOUR BUSINESS CARD
In the Professional Directory reaches 5000 Interested Cornellians.
For Special Rate write:
CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS
3 East Ave. ITHACA, N.Y.



THEY SAY - - -

"I have dreamed some old Cornell dreams with the help of OUR CORNELL. . . ."

"The book stirred up pleasant and rich memories and made delightful reading. . . ."

"OUR CORNELL has been read several times. The little volume well presents those phases of Campus life so close to the heart of a Cornellian. . . ."

"It will help me to describe to parents the peculiar atmosphere of Cornell. . . ."

"There is always room in my library for such treasures about Cornell. . . ."

"OUR CORNELL is brilliant. . . ."

Clip this ad, write name and address on margin or attach your gift list and personal cards to be enclosed, and mail with payment to: . . .

$1 A COPY POSTPAID
90 Pages—Gold Stamping

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS,
3 East Avenue, Ithaca, N. Y.

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

Subscription price $4 a year. Entered as second class matter, Ithaca, N. Y. Published weekly during the college year and monthly in July and August

VOL. XLII, NO. 21 ITHACA, NEW YORK, MARCH 7, 1940 PRICE, 15 CENTS

FIX CORNELL DAYS
For Prospective Freshmen

Undergraduate planning for the seventh annual Cornell Day, May 4, started last week when most fraternities sent their representatives to a meeting with Ray S. Ashbery '25, Alumni Field Secretary and general chairman.

It was agreed that as in previous years, fraternities will provide accommodations for the schoolboys who are brought to the Campus for the week-end by alumni. About half the boys selected to come will be nominated by fraternity chapters; the rest by participating Cornell Clubs through their secondary school committees. Fraternity nominations made to the Alumni Office are referred to the local Cornell Clubs, who interview candidates and their school officials, investigate scholastic records, and ascertain that candidates are qualified to enter the University. Reports are made to the Alumni Office, which in turn notifies the fraternity to issue its invitations to those who are found qualified. At the same time, committees of Cornell Clubs throughout the country are looking up suitable boys in their own localities and reporting the names of those they will bring to the Alumni Office.

Cornell Clubs provide transportation to Ithaca for most of the Cornell Day guests, alumni contributing their cars and acting as "chauffeurs" to bring the boys to Ithaca. Most will arrive May 3, the boys being registered in Willard Straight Hall and there assigned to fraternity accommodations arranged in advance. Undergraduate hosts will conduct their guests on tours of the Campus, visiting the Colleges and departments in which they are interested, and the boys will be guests at the annual Engineering Show arranged by that College, a student carnival at the College of Agriculture, athletic contests Saturday afternoon, and a Cornell Day rally in Bailey Hall Saturday evening with President Day as a featured speaker. Most fraternities will have members of the Faculty for dinner Saturday night, to talk about the University and answer questions about courses, entrance requirements, and other qualifications.

Alumni "chauffeurs" will be housed in Willard Straight Hall and other University buildings so far as possible, their responsibility being only to bring the boys and take them home.

"More and more," Ashbery says, "the problem is becoming one of keeping the number of Cornell Day guests—both boys and alumni—to that which can be cared for properly in one week-end. It is not a matter of getting more boys to see Cornell, but of selecting those who are best qualified to enter the University, from the many who wish to come. For this reason, quotas are being established for each region, to include both boys selected by Cornell Clubs and those nominated by fraternities. It is necessary to limit numbers to these quotas, and to make sure that all names of boys and alumni who will come for Cornell Day are registered with the Alumni Office before they arrive."

Women Here April 27

Similar plans are also being made for Cornell Day for Women, April 27. For this, alumnae "chauffeurs" of Cornell Women's Clubs will bring selected girls for the day at the University, with undegraduate women as their hostesses. Guests will be shown about the Campus and especially the College in which each is interested; gather at an "Information, Please" discussion about Cornell in Willard Straight Memorial Room; have luncheon at Prudence Risley Hall with President Day and Alumni Trustee Mary H. Donlon '20 as speakers; and will be given a tea dance by Willard Straight Hall and the Panhellenic Association.

Regional quotas are also being set up for girls, with members of Cornell Women's Clubs investigating the qualifications both of their own selections and of girls nominated by undergraduate women. General chairman of the Cornell Day for Women committee is Lois C. Osborn '16, of Cortland.

CONNECTICUT WOMEN MEET

Eighteen members of the Cornell Women's Club of Western Connecticut braved a storm and bad roads February 20 to attend a supper meeting at the home of Mary C. Coughlin '26 in Stratford. After a business meeting, Miss Coughlin told of her recent visit to Washington as a member of the State Democratic central committee.

LAWYERS DINE

Law Association dinner at the Hotel Commodore, New York City, February 7, was attended by 130 persons, including alumni of the Metropolitan area and several members of the Law Faculty.

President Edmund E. Day spoke on the need for well rounded, educated lawyers as general advisers. Dean Robert S. Stevens described the work of the Law School, noting the increase in number of courses and in the number of the entering class this year. Benjamin L. Barringer '33, secretary of the New York City placement committee, reported on its work. William F. Bleakley '04 was toastmaster.

OFFICIALS VISIT CLUBS
In Detroit and Buffalo

President Day and Emmet J. Murphy '22, new Alumni Secretary, were guests of honor at the annual dinners of two Cornell Clubs, February 23 and 24.

In Detroit the first day, they met at luncheon the headmasters and principals of a dozen schools, each of whom had been invited by the member of the Cornell Club of Michigan's secondary school committee who works with that school. Also present were Matthew Carey '15, Alumni Trustee and chairman of the regional committee for McMullen Scholarships in Engineering; Frank Nitzberg '22, member of the Alumni Association secondary school committee; and J. Kenneth Payton '30, chairman of the Michigan Club committee.

At a tea that afternoon of the Cornell Women's Club of Detroit were twenty-five alumnae, with Mrs. Stephen J. Vedro, Jr. (Esther M. Sanford) '29 presiding, and Mrs. L. Irving Woolson (Helen L. Chappell) '26 introducing the President and Murphy, who spoke briefly.

That evening at the University Club, sixty-five men were present for the annual dinner of the Cornell Club of Michigan. Carey, as toastmaster, reviewed briefly the history of the Club and its accomplishments since the first meeting, March 25, 1899, and read a letter from Charles E. Curtis '85, who had presided at that first dinner. He introduced a dozen past presidents of the Club who were present. The Club's annual award for meritorious service he presented to Payton as chairman of the secondary schools committee.

President Day reviewed the progress of the University in many phases since he had previously visited the Club two years ago. He announced the gift of $200,000 for a professorship by John W. Anderson '89, a member of the Club. Murphy outlined the joint program of alumni and the University contemplated in the recent reorganization of the Alumni Association.

Again in Buffalo the next day, the President and Murphy were guests of alumnae, at a luncheon of the Cornell Women's Club of Buffalo. Mary P. Tillinghast '36, president of the Club, introduced them to the seventy-five who were present.

For the annual banquet of the Cornell Club of Buffalo that evening, 225 persons filled the dining room of the Hotel Buffalo. The travelers from Ithaca were joined by Creed W. Fulton '09 of Washington, D. C., president of the Alumni Association, and Walter J. Matuszczak

'41, captain-elect of the football team. President Day reported on the progress and problems of the University; Fulton outlined the new alumni organization and its objectives; and Matuszczak talked about the football season and described last fall's Dartmouth game as motion pictures were shown. Toastmaster was George A. Newbury '17, and he was introduced by Neil M. Willard '18, president of the Buffalo Club, who reviewed briefly the events of the year. Spencer E. Hickman '05 reported on the work of the scholarship committee, of which H. Halsey Miller '11 is chairman.

A feature of the evening was the election of three directors from a slate of nine candidates, each of whom was the subject of a humorous one-minute "campaign speech" by his "manager"—all past presidents of the Club. Directors elected are Maurice W. Howe '16, George M. Trefts, 3d '27, and Walter S. Merwin '35.

"NORTHWEST PASSAGE"

(R.B. in "State and Tioga," Ithaca Journal)

Saturday afternoon we suddenly became fed up with farm life in February. So we hitched up the Ford and went to the movies; the first time in six months, I think. When we arrived, we were pleased to discover that it was "Northwest Passage" we were to see.

The friendship between Mr. Kenneth Roberts and your reporter, which began when we lived on Catherine Street and Mr. Roberts occupied fetid quarters on University Avenue, has been continuous and intimate, and our relation to all of his books through the period of their incubation and birth has been the vicarious one of a worried, bachelor uncle. Consequently, we were filled with two related anxieties as we waited for the show to start. What had Hollywood done to Mr. Roberts's epic, and how would Mr. Roberts feel about it?

We're pretty sure now we know the answer to both questions. The first time Mr. Roberts saw the film he would have been angry and resentful over the manner in which his scholarly integrity, his meticulous accuracy, had been tossed overboard. And then from the murder mood he would have passed gradually through a resigned acceptance to a feeling of astonished admiration for the men and women who had miraculously changed "Northwest Passage," the book, in "Northwest Passage," the movie. An artist himself, he would have quickly realized that you've got to tell a story one way when the medium of expression is the printed page; quite another when you've got to do it by photographing actors in strange scenes and settings.

In some way that I cannot now account for, the movie by a different trail leaves you right where the book did: awed and drugged by the vastness of Rogers, the soldier, and grieved by the weak spots in his character which made his life a tragedy and himself considerably less than a satisfactory man.

If I know Kenneth Roberts, and I think I do, he was grateful to Hollywood for what they did to Rogers, once he got over cussing and swearing over what they did to Roberts.

About ATHLETICS

CORNELL 41, HARVARD 34

The basketball team defeated Harvard, 41–34, in Barton Hall February 28, in its drive for second place in the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League.

Wellington L. Ramsey '41 of Haverford, Pa., scored 16 points against Harvard, his six goals in the second half assuring a victory as Harvard twice came within 3 points of tying the score.

Cornell jumped into a 4–0 lead. Harvard pulled ahead, 7–5, and again tied at 9–9. Ramsey, James E. Bennett '41 of Poland, Ohio, and Will D. Templeton '42 of Niagara Falls scored goals and Cornell was never again headed, leaving the floor with the score 25–18 at the half.

Ramsey and Romano of Harvard staged a personal scoring duel in the second half. Each scored three baskets in the first five minutes. When Harvard cut Cornell's lead to 31–28, Ramsey started a new rally for Cornell, repeating a few minutes later when Harvard pulled up to 35–32, and scoring once more in Cornell's final spurt. The box score:

Cornell (41)	G	F	P	Harvard (34)	G	F	P
Bennett, f	4	5	13	Lutz, f	1	1	3
Ramsey, f-c	8	0	16	Simpson, f	0	0	0
Bowen, f	0	0	0	Webber, f	1	0	2
Templeton, c	1	1	3	James, f	1	0	2
Bouton, c	1	0	2	White, c	0	1	1
Jolly, g	0	0	0	Rothschild, c	1	0	2
Burgess, g	0	0	0	Romano, g	8	0	16
Vaughan, g	3	1	7	Legg, g	0	0	0
Jack, g	0	0	0	Finnegan, g	0	0	0
				Buckley, g	4	0	8
Totals	17	7	41	Totals	16	2	34

Half-time score: Cornell 25, Harvard 18. Referees, Kearner and Sinnott.

Dartmouth won the League championship last Saturday by defeating Princeton, 38–36, at Princeton. At week's end, Cornell held second place with seven victories and three defeats. League standings:

	W	L	P	OP
Dartmouth	10	1	540	424
Cornell	7	3	388	335
Princeton	6	4	376	365
Yale	6	5	481	458
Columbia	3	7	383	392
Harvard	3	7	369	432
Pennsylvania	1	9	377	508

Bennett continued to hold second place in individual scoring, with 127 points. Broberg of Dartmouth, with one game to play, had already set a new League scoring mark of 163 points. Ramsey held fifth place with 101.

The Junior Varsity basketball team lost to Dickinson Seminary, 38–34, in a preliminary to the Harvard game. Ivan R. Wood '40 of Mount Morris was the high scorer, with 12 points.

FIFTEENTH IN ICAAAA

The track team finished in fifteenth place in the annual indoor Intercollegiates in New York City last Saturday, two men scoring 4 points.

Emery G. Wingerter '40 of Red Bank, N. J., finished fourth in the mile run and George A. Knoerl '42 of Buffalo took fourth place in the sixty-yard high hurdles.

Winner of the title was New York University with 27 points. The other team scores: Manhattan 21, Penn State 17½, Pittsburgh 15, Pennsylvania 12, Yale 11½, Fordham, Princeton, and Tufts 10 each, Dartmouth 9, Georgetown and Maine 8 each, Rhode Island State 7½, Army 4½, Cornell 4, Boston College, Syracuse, and Virginia 3 each, Harvard 2½, Holy Cross 2, Amherst and Colgate 1 each.

In the Freshman medley relay, not counted in the scoring, the Cornell quartet finished fourth.

WRESTLERS LOSE

With Captain Robert H. Mathers '40 of Upper Darby, Pa., in charge in the absence of Coach Walter C. O'Connell '12, the wrestling team lost to Pennsylvania, 9–17, at Philadelphia, Pa. last Saturday.

Coach O'Connell was confined to his home with a broken arm, suffered in a fall March 1.

Captain Mathers continued undefeated by earning a decision over Taubman in the 121-pound class. Lagan, Pennsylvania's 128-pounder, tied the score with a decision over Morton A. Serrell '40 of Holmdel, N. J.

In the 135-pound class, Joseph S. Mount '41 of Ithaca lost to Levering in an overtime bout, and Pennsylvania gained an 11–3 lead when Captain Bond threw Lee R. White '40 of Cortland in the 145-pound class.

Other Cornell winners, by decisions, were James N. Trousdell '40 of Glen Cove in the 155-pound division and Forbes H. Brown '42 of Broadalbin in the 175-pound class. Other losers were Achilles L. Jeannopoulos '40 of New York City, 165-pounder who last year wrestled in the heavyweight division, and Reginald R. Harrison '41 of Bantam, Conn., in the unlimited class.

BOXERS DRAW TO LOSE

The boxing team failed to win a bout against Penn State at State College, Pa. last Saturday but earned three draws, losing, 1½–6½.

Referee Cavanaugh of West Point awarded draws to Leonard D. Gluckson '42 of Atlantic City, N. J., in the 127-pound class; David C. Peace '41 of Rydal, Pa., in the 165-pound division; and Matty L. Urbanowitz '41 of Buffalo in the 175-pound class.

Cornell forfeited the 145-pound bout. The heavyweight, Thomas A. Schultz '40 of Baltimore, Md., lost by a technical knockout to Alter in the first round. John W. Brown '42 of Irvington, N. J., 120 pounds; Captain William Fine '40 of Canastota, 135 pounds; and John M. Clark '41 of Ithaca, 155 pounds, lost on decisions.

OUTSWIM PENNSYLVANIA

With three first places, Captain Eugene S. Thorpe '40 of Eden led the swimming team to a 44-31 victory over Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, Pa., last Saturday.

Thorpe won the 100-, 220-, and 440-yard freestyle races in the respective times of 0:56.6, 2:22.2, and 5:19.6. George F. Critchlow '42 of Trenton, N. J., won the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:43.6 and a Cornell trio the 300-yard medley relay in 3:15.6. On the team were Critchlow, Melvin J. Blessing '40 of Buffalo, and Jeffery W. Graham '41 of Villa Nova, Pa.

Thorpe's time of 2:22.2 in the 220-yard freestyle race set a new Cornell record.

HOCKEY KEEPS GOING

The hockey team, in a late-scheduled game, defeated Syracuse, 4-0, at Syracuse February 29.

Residents of Syracuse—George L. Babson, Jr. '42 and Carl J. Geiger '40—scored three of the Cornell goals. Kenneth O. Reed '41 of Ithaca opened the scoring in the first period, with Babson, on an assist from Geiger, and Geiger, taking a pass from Babson, tallied in the second. Babson scored in the third and final period on a pass from Robert L. Wiggans '40 of Ithaca.

The team finished the season with a record of five victories and six defeats.

FENCERS LOSE TWICE

The fencing team lost twice on its New York City trip last week-end, bowing to New York University, 7-20, March 1, and to Columbia, 10-17, last Saturday.

Best showing was made by Richard I. Brown '41 of New York City, with three victories in epee bouts in the Columbia meet.

ARMY TAKES POLO

The ROTC polo team lost to Army, 6-19, at West Point last Saturday, with Marcus M. Day, Jr. '42 of Detroit, Mich., scoring 5 of Cornell's goals. The other was tallied by Herbert F. Schiffer '41 of Elberon, N. J.

Army gained a 2-1 lead in the first period, made it 7-2 in the second, and held Cornell scoreless the next two chukkers for a 14-2 lead. Each team scored 5 goals the last two periods.

SCORES OF THE TEAMS

Basketball
Cornell 41, Harvard 34

Wrestling
Pennsylvania 17, Cornell 6

Boxing
Penn State 6½, Cornell 1½

Fencing
NYU 20, Cornell 7
Columbia 17, Cornell 10

Hockey
Cornell 4, Syracuse 0

Polo
Army 19, Cornell 6

Swimming
Cornell 44, Pennsylvania 31

Junior Varsity Basketball
Dickinson Seminary 38, Cornell 34

Freshman Basketball
Syracuse 49, Cornell 36
Cornell 42, Cortland Normal 25

Freshman Boxing
Penn State 6, Cornell 2

Freshman Hockey
Nichols School 10, Cornell 1

Freshman Polo
Royal Hussars 14, Cornell 13

Freshman Swimming
Cornell 50, Wyoming Seminary 16

SPRING SCHEDULES

Three squads will travel south during the spring recess to launch a program of spring sports involving seventy Varsity and twenty-four Freshman events.

Baseball and tennis teams will start their campaigns April 1 and the golf team April 2, the Department of Physical Education and Athletics announced. The spring schedules:

VARSITY BASEBALL

April 1 North Carolina State at Raleigh
2 North Carolina at Chapel Hill
3 Elon at Elon, N. C.
4-5 Wake Forest at Wake Forest, N. C.
6 Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, Pa.
12 Yale at New Haven, Conn.
13 Princeton at Princeton, N. J.
17 Colgate at Ithaca
19 Harvard at Ithaca
20 Princeton at Ithaca
24 Syracuse at Syracuse
27 Dartmouth at Ithaca
May 1 Columbia at Ithaca
3 Harvard at Cambridge, Mass.
4 Dartmouth at Hanover, N. H.
11 Columbia at New York City
15 Syracuse at Ithaca
18 Yale at Ithaca
22 Colgate at Hamilton
25 Pennsylvania at Ithaca

FRESHMAN BASEBALL

April 27 Colgate at Hamilton
May 3 Mercersburg at Ithaca
4 Syracuse at Ithaca
11 Penn State at State College, Pa.
15 Colgate at Ithaca
17 Syracuse at Syracuse

ROWING

(Varsity, Junior Varsity and Freshmen)
May 4 Navy at Annapolis, Md.
18 Carnegie Cup at New Haven, Conn.
25 Harvard-Syracuse at Ithaca
June 18 Poughkeepsie Regatta

150 LB. ROWING

May 18 Henley Regatta at Cambridge, Mass.

VARSITY TRACK

April 26-27 Penn Relays at Philadelphia, Pa.
May 4 Princeton at Princeton, N. J.
11 Pennsylvania at Ithaca
18 Heptagonals at Philadelphia.
May 31-June 1 Intercollegiates at Cambridge, Mass.

FRESHMAN TRACK

April 26-27 Penn Relays at Philadelphia, Pa.
May 11 Penn State at State College, Pa.
18 Syracuse-Colgate at Ithaca

VARSITY TENNIS

April 1 American University at Washington, D. C.
2 North Carolina State at Raleigh
3 Wake Forest at Wake Forest, N. C.
4 North Carolina State at Raleigh
5-6 North Carolina at Chapel Hill
20 Yale at Ithaca
27 Navy at Ithaca
May 1 Syracuse at Syracuse
7 Colgate at Ithaca
10 Columbia at New York City
11 Harvard at Cambridge, Mass.
14 Penn State at Ithaca
17 Princeton at Princeton, N. J.
18 Army at West Point
20 Cortland Normal at Cortland
25 Pennsylvania at Ithaca

FRESHMAN TENNIS

May 9 Colgate at Hamilton
15 Syracuse at Ithaca
17 Princeton at Princeton, N. J.
18 Army at West Point

VARSITY LACROSSE

April 13 Princeton at Princeton, N. J.
20 Penn State at State College, Pa.
27 Hobart at Ithaca
May 4 Johns Hopkins at Ithaca
8 Colgate at Hamilton
11 Syracuse at Ithaca
18 Army at West Point
25 Pennsylvania at Ithaca

FRESHMAN LACROSSE

April 20 Hobart at Ithaca
May 4 Penn State at State College, Pa.
18 Syracuse at Ithaca

VARSITY GOLF

April 2 Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, Pa.
3 Swarthmore at Swarthmore, Pa.
4 Georgetown at Washington, D. C.
5 Virginia at Charlottesville, Va.
6 Navy at Annapolis, Md.
24 Syracuse at Syracuse
May 1 Colgate at Ithaca
3-4 League matches at Ithaca
10-11 League matches, away
15 Syracuse at Ithaca
17 New York State Intercollegiates, away

FRESHMAN GOLF

May 1 Penn State at State College, Pa.
18 Penn State at Ithaca

ODDS AND ENDS

Gardner M. Reynolds '41 of Ithaca, one of the promising wrestlers in the heavier divisions, has left the University to enter a flying school at Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Thirty oarsmen responded to the first call for indoor practice in the Old Armory last week. The baseball squad also heralded the approach of spring by holding its initial meeting.

ADD SPORTS: The Varsity ping-pong team defeated University of Buffalo, 6-1, in the Willard Straight game room, March 2.

NOW IN MY TIME!
By Romeyn Berry

All studies—the classics, the humanities, the sciences, pure and applied—become of equal dignity when pursued with enthusiasm and scholarly integrity. It was with that revolutionary postulate upon its lips that Cornell first crashed its way into the company of older foundations, and with the fantastic results that cloistered Oxford is now sponsoring investigations into the mysteries of applied agriculture and Yale University is offering an excellent course for the fitting of trained nurses.

It is no less fantastic to observe that here at Ithaca our own Law School has produced, in the person of Mr. George Washington Rector '99, Cornell's most widely read author and probably America's most gifted white cook.

These thoughts spring from the arrival last week of Mr. Rector's most recent book, Home At The Range, in which he again applies the philosophy and imaginative art of French cookery to the situation of the underprivileged American housewife, who must realize her culinary hopes, if at all, with nothing to help her except a two-burner gas stove, a can-opener, and the works of Mr. George Rector '99.

It would be difficult to account for Mr. Rector's rise to his present position of extraordinary usefulness, if you were not told that as an undergraduate occupying bleak lodgings in the McNamara Flats at the foot of Williams Street, he found daily relief from the study of Torts, Crimes, and Domestic Relations in composing tasty dishes in a battered saucepan held in one hand over a gas jet, provided by Mr. and Mrs. McNamara for the sole purpose of illumination.

It is true that Cornell now shares the credit of producing Mr. George Rector with the Cafe de Paris and the Cafe Marguery where he is affectionately regarded as an Old Blue, but this reviewer believes that the human sympathy which characterizes his published works was born in the McNamara Flats.

Most French chefs who turn to literature in middle life glibly instruct the American housewife to "take two cups of brown stock, saffron, two leeks, and a glass of Chablis." Mr. Rector, on the other hand, knows from his years of bitter hardship spent in cooking over the gas jet in the McNamara Flats that few housewives can command those ingredients. He is therefore careful to point out in his directions that canned consommé will do the work of brown stock and kitchen herbs, and that when cooked up in a saucepan hard cider can seldom be distinguished from stewed Chablis. It is because of this adaptability and understanding of conditions on Mr. Rector's part that his literary works now occupy an honored place in a million American homes, while no other French chef has ever sold 128 copies west of Rahway, N. J.

It is doubtless to the Cornell scholarly tradition that Mr. Rector owes his complete lack of academic snobbery; to his French preceptors, M. Marguery and M. Mowrier, his artistic feeling for inspired cookery.

But for the lucid understanding which enables him to make his genius available to the underprivileged housewife, the credit must go, I think, to Mr. and Mrs. McNamara. George Rector '99 could never have done it, but for those years of scholarly inquiry when in spite of constant terror he persisted in perfecting his Hot Dog Rector and his Toasted Onion and Cheese Sandwich a la Rector over the gas jet in the full knowledge that at the first savory whiff Mr. McNamara would throw him out end-over-end into Stewart Avenue, and Mrs. McNamara would then cast his battered saucepan, and his equally modest wardrobe, after him.

DETROIT BOWLERS LEAD

Bowling team of the Cornell Club of Michigan has won the championship this year of the Detroit Intercollegiate Bowling League, for the second third of the season. Captain is Franklin E. Millan '27; other Cornell stalwarts are J. Kenneth Payton '30, Donald G. Lambert, Grad '23–4, and Clinton R. Tobey '17.

NEW YORK HAS CROWD

Readers of Romeyn Berry's column in last week's NEWS will have gathered that he had been present at a party in the Cornell Club of New York, at which several alumni sang. This week's cover and the pictures opposite are visual evidence. Not only was Mr. Berry present, along with Coach Snavely and members of the football team, but he was master of ceremonies at the Club's "Football Fantasy of 1940," February 19. A reception, dinner, and movies of the Dartmouth game crowded the Club that night, to say nothing of the singing.

The cover shows Berry being advised by George Rector '99 on matters of diet (we think it was butter they talked about), in the Club Campus Room.

Pictured opposite, left to right, are: Charles H. Blair '97, president of the Cornell Club of New York, Coach Snavely, and George R. Pfann '24, Alumni Trustee; George J. Young '23, Willard I. Emerson '19, John C. Hollis '19, Wallace B. Quail '19, Walter A. Davis '24, Preston A. Wade '22, and Wade Duley '23; and those "fresh young voices," Berry '04, Robert Burns '07, Edward E. Goodwillie '10, William H. Forbes '06, and W. LeRoy Umstad '06. Photographs are by John H. Levick '25.

FROM FAR BELOW . . .
By Bob Bliss '30

We were talking to George Rector '99 recently about his stay in Hollywood when he acted in the picture "Diamond Lil" and helped Mae West emote through scenes reminiscent of the old days of New York when Lillian Russell, "Diamond Jim," and the gang ate themselves out of shape in Rector's, aided and abetted by the wonders produced from the kitchen of father Rector and son George, fresh from Cornell and the atelier of Marguery, of Paris.

Naturally, we expected George would have some special asides on the glamorous Mae that would be something. Well, they were! As the legend goes, Miss West had a portable bungalow on the set, and when she wasn't being her screen self she took to her hideaway.

George raises those mephistophelian eyebrows and strokes that perfect white waxed mustache at this point.

"And what good times we used to have in that bungalow. . ."

"Yes?", and we leaned closer, our imagination straining at the halter.

"Do you know what we used to do?" George teased our fool's fancy.

"Go on, faster, faster. . ."

"We'd make black bean soup—the best you ever tasted!"

* * *

You hear a lot about going back to the soil these days. Comes the revolution and we want to have a hedge—an anchor to windward—and that sort of logic. It can be done. It has been done most successfully by a youngster who hasn't been out of Cornell ten years, who was a city slicker, and thought of farming in terms of polo, until he decided to go to Cornell and take Ag.

Situated on top of 500 rolling hilltop acres in Dutchess County, where you see the Berkshires to the east and Catskills to the west, and just about as far from the hum of Wall Street as you can get, Myron Fuerst '30 is carving out his phenomenal future.

Starting with the axiom that there is no compromise with quality, he has built in three short years one of the finest herds of Aberdeen Angus cattle in the country. They're those black blocky beauties that literally bulge with filet mignons. Professor Hinman up in Animal Husbandry tells us that this youthful success who is president of the Eastern Aberdeen Angus Association is one of the best friends Aberdeen Angus cattle have ever had. He's got about 125 purebreds, and they're a sight when you see a yardful at their feeding cribs. The effect is something like night in the East River tunnel!

Then he's brought over from France on two or more trips some of the best Percheron horse blood now resident in this country. If you want to see stallions that weigh over a ton, take a run up to Pine Plains. They thrive on a diet of hay and blue ribbons!

Here's the strangest part of this livestock myth. It's a business; not an expensive hobby. It makes money because the guy is a student at his business, buys and produces the best, takes care of it, and develops top notch results. And it's sure a wonderful life, with acres of satisfaction. Did 'j ever see a pack of coach dogs running among Angus cattle? It's a color scheme you won't soon forget. You can make a business of farming—and a good one!

PITTSBURGH SMOKER

Smoker and "game night" of the Cornell Club of Western Pennsylvania, at the University Club in Pittsburgh February 26, brought out forty-five Cornellians. John P. Batchelar '36 was in charge. "This was a meeting without a program except to get acquainted and to promote fellowship," writes President Darwin F. Carrell '23. "There were bowling, cards, and good old-fashioned Cornell bull sessions."

Annual dinner, at the University Club in Pittsburgh April 1, will have Emmet J. Murphy '22, Alumni Secretary, and Coach Carl G. Snavely as guest speakers.

BOSTON WOMEN MEET

Newcomers welcomed at a tea February 9 of the Cornell Women's Club of Boston, Mass., were Dorothy M. Palmer '36, now dietitian at Massachusetts General Hospital; Mary E. Randolph '38, dietitian at New England Deaconess Hospital; and Claire E. Cregg '39. Another guest was Georgia L. White, formerly Dean of Women at the University. Mrs. Louis C. Graton (Josephine E. Bowman) '00 reported on the meeting of the Federation of Cornell Women's Club directors and annual luncheon of the Cornell Women's Club of New York at which she represented the Club. The meeting was at the College Club in Boston. Mrs. Robert S. Williams (Bertha M. Downes) '02 was hostess. Mrs. James B. Palmer (Martha L. Kinne) '24, president of the Club, presided.

LETTERS

Subject to the usual restrictions of space and good taste, we shall print letters from subscribers on any side of any subject of interest to Cornellians. The ALUMNI NEWS often may not agree with the sentiments expressed, and disclaims any responsibility beyond that of fostering interest in the University.

'16 MOVES IN ITS TROOPS

TO THE EDITOR:

In your recent issue, it chanced that Cornell '16 was reported as having held a large and extremely successful dinner at the Cornell Club of New York, the report being embellished by a smart photograph of the diners, and the layout being enhanced by a reproduction of a scroll containing the signatures of this outstanding group.

All this covered one entire page, with the exception of some minor trivia concerning the Class of '15. It all seemed quite appropriate and properly related at the time; but imagine our surprise when we discovered that a certain Matt Carey '15 proceeded to have facsimiles of this page printed, and superimposed on the same a box containing certain derogatory remarks and boastful observations to the effect that his maties had been all but squeezed off the page by a "bunch of signatures," and then went on to cast aspersions on some 100 members of the Class of '16 who had been unable to attend the dinner and had sent in their written regrets to the committee, referring to them as "wife-ridden mice" and terminating his screed with some boastful predictions that his Class would humble its betters this coming June, forevermore.

Well, we could say volumes, for the quarry is easy game, indeed. We would remind our friends that his dudgeon is uncalled for, since the Helvetians should know their place when the Romans are in urbe. We express the hope that this fellow will think up his own publicity hereafter, and just unloose his grip on our coat-tails, for the hills seem steeper now even to such stalwarts as the incomparable '16ers and the drag becomes too irksome.

In retrospect, however, it is all understandable, for the Class of '15 only had one brief year in the sun and thereafter it dwelt in sepia shadows, a habit that still seems to persist. We also believe that certain of these facsimiles found their way into the United States mails, in which case there is a law applicable to the situation. If not, there ought to be. Will you be good enough to bring this bit of surreptitious chicanery to the attention of your readers and oblige.

—THIRD PERSON PLURAL '16

KNOXVILLE DINES

Fifty Cornellians of Knoxville, Tenn., met for dinner February 25 and enjoyed motion pictures of the Ohio State football game and of the Campus in color. Harry A. Hageman '98 was in charge of the meeting.

PIANIST PLEASES

Bailey Hall audience at the fourth program of the University concert series February 27 was treated to a more-than-usually intimate recital, it felt, by Dame Harriet Cohen, English pianist.

Only lately arrived in this country from a tour of Europe, she played a suite, "Visions and Prophecies," recently rearranged by its composer, Ernest Bloch, and dedicated to her, for its first public performance. Another, "Winter Waters" by Arnold Bax, likewise dedicated to her, she played last fall for Sibelius in Finland, and as encores she played two Finnish folk songs which Sibleius had given her. Three other selections, by Czechoslovakian composers, which their authors had given her in Prague, she gave their first performance in America. Interpolated in the program, likewise for their first performance here, were two sarabandes written by Brahms in 1854 and 1855, only recently discovered. These announcements made by Professor Paul J. Weaver, Music, together with the artist's evident emotion as she played, made this a most interesting concert.

Tall and graceful, Dame Harriet was warmly applauded for her brilliantly spirited performance of a widely varied program. Entirely from memory she played twenty-one numbers, including four encores, and gave to each a charming individuality that is unusual.

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS
FOUNDED 1899
3 EAST AVENUE ITHACA, N. Y.

Published weekly during the University year, monthly in July and August: thirty-five issues annually.

Owned and published by the Cornell Alumni Association under direction of a committee composed of R. W. Sailor '07, Phillips Wyman '17, and Walter C. Heasley, Jr. '30. Officers of the Association: Creed W. Fulton '09, 907 Fifteenth St., N.W., Washington, D. C., president; Emmet J. Murphy '22, 3 East Ave., Ithaca, secretary; Archie C. Burnett '90, 7 Water St., Boston, Mass., treasurer.

Subscription: $4.00 a year in U. S. and possessions; Canada, $4.35; Foreign, $4.50. Single copies fifteen cents. Subscriptions are payable in advance and are renewed annually unless cancelled.

Editor-in-chief R. W. SAILOR '07
Managing Editor H. A. STEVENSON '19
Assistant Editor MARGARET S. MOORE '37
Office Manager RUTH RUSSELL '31

Contributors:
ROMEYN BERRY '04 L. C. BOOCHEVER '12
W. J. WATERS '27 R. L. BLISS '30

Printed at The Cayuga Press

ANDERSON'S GIFT

Editorially last week, The Cornell Daily Sun expressed appreciation of the gift of John W. Anderson '89 to Cornell. We reprint the Sun editorial, in part, because it well represents Campus opinion. The Sun's heading was "Professors Make a University."

"John Wendell Anderson deserves the warmest gratitude of all loyal Cornellians for his fine gift of $200,000 to endow a professorship at the University. When we offer this thanks it is not merely because a loyal alumnus has given Cornell a large sum of money. We are thinking of the type of gift and the conditions—or rather, absence of conditions—attached to it.

"People interested in education admit that the value of a university, and its ultimate standing among other institutions of learning, may be reduced to a simple factor: the quality of its faculty. Though a school may produce championship football teams, or have the most shapely coed cheerleaders in the country, the people who count—those who hire graduates and grant funds for advanced study—are not impressed.

"While Cornell is fortunate to have distinguished men in many of its schools, particularly in the scientific fields, there are those schools where the lack of funds has resulted in the loss of good men, or in an inability to expand the curriculum in accordance with the needs and demands of the students. . .

"It is then, particularly praiseworthy to note this step toward bolstering the Faculty. The fact that Mr. Anderson has left the allotment of the fund to those who best understand the situation—the President and Trustees—will insure its effective use. Though we may dream of new gymnasiums and modern Engineering buildings, our first need is to stop the loss of good men, and to expand the Faculty where we can. Those who appreciate this need will celebrate a gift which should do Cornell so much good."

SHOFF '28 IN CHICAGO

Cornell Club of Chicago, Ill., had as luncheon speaker February 15 Captain Sheldon T. Shoff '28, reserve pilot for American Airlines. He has been flying since 1927; is sometimes chief pilot on the regular run from New York City to Boston, Mass.

MOHAWK VALLEY ELECTS

Cornell men and women to the number of 175 gathered February 21 for a Founder's Day dinner at the Yahnundasis Golf Club in Utica. They were addressed by Professor Charles L. Durham '99, Latin, who told of the early days of the University and its present stature, and by Coach Carl G. Snavely, who spoke of football and showed motion pictures of games last fall with Ohio State and Pennsylvania. The speakers were introduced by Henry T. Dorrance '20.

Paul J. McNamara '07 was elected president of the Cornell Club of the Mohawk Valley, succeeding Harold J. Shackelton '26, who presided. New vice-presidents are Robert C. Groben '31 and Robert C. Warner '26; treasurer, Jacob I. Goldbas '34; athletic director, Harold T. Clark '31; keeper of the rolls, Norman F. Crossley '33.

LAWYERS ARGUE CASES

Cornell lawyers are being invited this year to act as judges to hear the moot court arguments of the first-year class in the Law School. March 1 a panel of six judges on the bench in the moot court room of Myron Taylor Hall included Franklin R. Brown '07 and Elmer E. Finck '14 of Buffalo, City Judge Harold E. Simpson '19 of Ithaca, and W. Clyde O'Brien '21 and Herbert R. Reif '21 of Rochester. March 8 the panel includes Abraham W. Feinberg '07 of Ithaca and five county judges and surrogates, of whom Barber B. Conable, Jr. '01 of Warsaw and William H. Coon '22 of Cortland are Cornellians.

Early in his course, each first-year Law student is given a practice moot court argument by his Faculty adviser, and these are worked upon in small groups each with the help of a member of the Faculty. First competitive round of arguments is heard by the Law Faculty. In these two spring rounds, heard by visiting judges, eliminations are made to select final teams of two men each, with an alternate for each and a seventh man as court clerk. Final argument will be heard in April before another distinguished panel of visiting judges, as the culmination of the year's work.

COMING EVENTS

Time and place of regular Club luncheons are printed separately as we have space. Notices of other Cornell events, both in Ithaca and abroad, appear below. Contributions to this column must be received on or before Thursday to appear the next Thursday.

SATURDAY, MARCH 9
Ithaca: Swimming, Syracuse, Freshman & Varsity, Old Armory, 2
Fencing, Pennsylvania, Barton Hall, 2:30
Freshman basketball, Manlius, Barton Hall, 7:30
Dramatic Club presents "What A Life," Willard Straight Theater, 8:15
New York City: Association of Class Secretaries luncheon and meeting, Midston House
Basketball, Columbia
Syracuse: Wrestling intercollegiates
State College, Pa.: Boxing intercollegiates

TUESDAY, MARCH 12
Ithaca: University concert, Siberian Singers, Willard Straight Theater, 8:15

THURSDAY, MARCH 14
Chicago, Ill.: Professor Henry S. Jacoby, Engineering, Emeritus, at Cornell Club luncheon, University Club, 12:30

SATURDAY, MARCH 16
Ithaca: Freshman track meet, Mercersburg, Barton Hall, 2:30
Track meet, Syracuse & Colgate, Barton Hall, 8
Clinton: Fencing, Hamilton

FRIDAY, MARCH 22
Ithaca: Sage Chapel Choir and University Orchestra in Brahms' "Ein Deutsches Requiem," Bailey Hall, 8:15

TUESDAY, MARCH 26
Ithaca: University concert, Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, Bailey Hall, 8:15

THURSDAY, MARCH 28
Chicago, Ill.: Emmet J. Murphy '22, Alumni Secretary, at Cornell Club party

FRIDAY, MARCH 29
New York City: Fencing intercollegiates

SATURDAY, MARCH 30
Ithaca: Spring recess begins
New York City: Fencing intercollegiates

MONDAY, APRIL 1
Pittsburgh, Pa.: Emmet J. Murphy '22 and Coach Carl Snavely at Cornell Club annual dinner, University Club
Raleigh, N. C.: Baseball, North Carolina State College
Washington, D. C.: Tennis, American University

TUESDAY, APRIL 2
Chapel Hill, N. C.: Baseball, North Carolina University
Philadelphia, Pa.: Golf, Pennsylvania
Raleigh, N. C.: Tennis, North Carolina State College

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3
Cleveland, Ohio: Emmet J. Murphy '22 and Coach Snavely at Cornell Club smoker with undergraduates, Cleveland Club, 8
Elon, N. C.: Baseball, Elon
Wake Forest, N. C.: Tennis, Wake Forest
Swarthmore, Pa.: Golf, Swarthmore

THURSDAY, APRIL 4
Wake Forest, N. C.: Baseball, Wake Forest
Raleigh, N. C.: Tennis, North Carolina State College
Washington, D. C.: Golf, Georgetown

FRIDAY, APRIL 5
Wake Forest, N. C.: Baseball, Wake Forest
Chapel Hill, N. C.: Tennis, North Carolina
Charlottesville, Va.: Golf, University of Virginia

SATURDAY, APRIL 6
Philadelphia, Pa.: Baseball, Pennsylvania
Chapel Hill, N. C.: Tennis, North Carolina
Annapolis, Md.: Golf, U. S. Naval Academy

ON THE CAMPUS AND DOWN THE HILL

RESIDENT LECTURERS this term are having a stimulating effect on the Campus. Louis MacNeice, young Irish liberal poet, is giving two well-attended courses in poetry; lives at the Telluride house. Professor P. Debye, Baker lecturer in Chemistry from Berlin, Germany, visited the Dutch Kitchen "where there is noise" on a recent Saturday evening. He was accompanied by his twenty-two-year-old son, Peter, who is working with his father here.

MOTION PICTURES of football games have proved indispensible to the coaching staff in teaching the game. Now Coach Blair Gullion is also having movies made of basketball games, from a platform high in the balcony of Barton Hall. Camerman, as for the football pictures, is Jack Herson of Ithaca.

HARRIET COHEN, English pianist who played in Bailey Hall last week, was entertained at dinner that evening at the Telluride house, and the next day at a tea given by the Hillel Foundation.

PEACE EFFORTS in Ithaca will be furthered by a series of ten Saturday afternoon lectures by Professor Walter F. Willcox, Economics, Emeritus. He is local chairman of the American Union for Concerted Peace; will lecture under sponsorship of the Internationl Relations Club, following the weekly broadcasts of the Commission to Study the Organization of Peace. On another front, the Cornell United Student Peace Committee, organization of which we reported last week, has elected John C. Jaqua, Jr. '40 of Winchester, Ind., chairman pro-tem, and Clarice K. Burke '40 of Ilion, secretary.

BABY NAVY BALL, sponsored by the 150-pound crews, netted enough to pay their expenses to Philadelphia, Pa., May 25 to race Pennsylvania, they have announced. The Athletic Office finances but one trip, to the American Henley regatta at Cambridge, Mass., May 18, but the oarsmen hope to arrange still others, themselves.

FRESHMAN Governing Board, through its president, Richard L. Walters '43 of Woodmere, petitioned the Student Council last week to consider a new plan for fraternity rushing which would prohibit pledging Freshmen for one month after registration day. This would give both Freshmen and the fraternities more time to make their selections than the present system, which allows pledging the fourth day after Freshman registration. The Sun agreed editorially that "some improvement in the present chaotic system is in order," suggested that the proposed plan would only make matters worse, and invited consideration of deferred pledging until the second term or second year. It pointed out, however, that many houses need to pledge Freshmen early "in order to operate without loss."

ESCORT BUREAU, providing "escorts for all occasions," is the newest Campus enterprise. It is conducted by James H. Lorie '43 of Kansas City, Mo., president, and Michael G. Blansfield '42 of Waterbury, Conn. Announced in Sun advertising the day before the Leap Year Dance, the Bureau at once received several inquiries. In the best tradition, it now has a file of about thirty male escorts, and fills orders according to the personal qualifications specified by its clients. To serve those who prefer athletes, several "C" men are registered; but the most important requirement, the Bureau says, is that escorts shall be good conversationalists. Clients are asked to report on escorts after each engagement. Later, the Bureau looks forward to supplying "dates" for men as well as women students.

ITHACA COUNCIL of Social Agencies has reelected Professor Laurence H. MacDaniels, PhD '17, Pomology, its president; Professor Dwight Sanderson '98, Rural Sociology, a vice-president; and Mrs. George R. Chamberlain (Grace W. Caldwell) '92, secretary-treasurer.

LECTURES this week include Professor Richard F. Jones of Washington University, "Science and Criticism in the Classical Age of English Literature," on the Goldwin Smith Foundation, March 4; and Dr. Donald B. MacMillan in an illustrated lecture, "Beyond the Arctic Circle," sponsored by the Schiff Foundation and the Explorers Club, March 8.

SAGE CHAPEL PREACHER March 10 is the Rev. Henry Sloane Coffin, president of Union Theological Seminary, New York City.

NEW BOATHOUSE is being erected by the Department of Physical Education and Athletics at Esty's, two miles down the Lake on the east shore, on the foundations of the old one which burned several years ago. Providing space for all shells needed for a regatta on the Lake, it will enable races to be started at ten-minute intervals, thus insuring that all will be run in the frequently-brief periods when water conditions are best. More immediate use of the building will be to let the crews on the water earlier. The Lake there is open now, while twenty-five inches of ice still block the Inlet.

LIBRARY HALL, downtown, where the University was inaugurated and where in early years Commencement exercises were held and many noted speakers appeared, will soon be remodelled for a reading room and book space for the Cornell Library. This part of the building was also the Happy Hour Theater, of hallowed memory, which closed eleven years ago; has been unused since. An oil portrait of Ezra Cornell, who built the building and endowed it for the people of Ithaca in 1866, will hang under the proscenium arch of the former stage. Henry C. Thorne '10 is architect for the remodelling.

OUR COLUMNIST in New York City, Robert L. Bliss '30, becomes March 15 executive assistant to Ralph M. Ingersoll, editor and publisher of the new afternoon picture newspaper shortly to appear in New York. Ingersoll was one of those who conceived The New Yorker magazine, and until he announced plans for the new daily, was the publisher of Time. Bliss has been assistant to Maximilian Elser, Jr. '10, chief of the press bureau of J. Walter Thompson Co.

MARCH came in in Ithaca in dual character, both as a lion and a lamb, with warm sun and snow the same day. December, January, and February, the Weather Bureau office announced, had an average temperature several degrees below normal, and Ithacans are hoping that the backbone of winter is broken.

A CAPELLA CHOIR of thirteen voices, largely undergraduates, organized by Professor Richard T. Gore, University organist, made its first public appearance with a program of Lenten music, in Sage Chapel March 3.

FRESHMAN DESK BOOK for the Class of '44, to be published next summer by CURW, will be under the editorship of Robert E. Ohaus '41 of Irvington, N. J. He replaces Alfred G. Jennings '41, who resigned. Business manager is Howard Kaplan '41 of Brooklyn; advertising manager, Edward H. Mandel '41 of New York City.

LARGEST FIRE in recent years completely destroyed the Osborn Block on East State Street, early February 27. Ice-coated firemen fought the blaze through the night and all that day; prevented its spreading to adjoining store buildings. The A & P store which has occupied the building for several years was completely wiped out, and records of the Soil Conservation Service office on the second floor were destroyed. For many years, Robert C. Osborn had a candy and novelty store in the building.

NECROLOGY

'92, '93 AB—GEORGE ALBERT BOLLES, February 15, 1940, in an automobile accident near St. Petersburg, Fla. He was teacher, principal, and superintendent of schools at Clarence, Cattaraugus, and Springville; then became a hardware merchant in Naples. He received the BPd degree from Albany Normal College in 1894; the AM from Hamilton College in 1895; and the PhD from Central University, Indianapolis, in 1899. Entered Arts in 1888 from Naples.

'93 ME (EE), '94–'98 Grad—WILLIAM VINCENT KELLEY, February 9, 1940, in Spokane, Wash., where he lived at 103 West Fourteenth Avenue. He was secretary of the Cornell Club of Eastern Washington and alumni representative for that area, traveling around to secure information for Cornell. He was a corporal in the Spanish-American War, then worked for the New York Telephone Company in New York City; later set up his own engineering business. In 1911 he moved to Spokane to operate a family wheat ranch near Oakesdale. Entered Mechanical Engineering in 1891 from City College of New York; received the "C" in track, lacrosse, and football. He was a lifelong friend of Glenn S. (Pop) Warner '94. Sons, William V. Kelley, Jr. '26, Thomas D. Kelley '31, and John F. Kelley '34; cousin, Coach John F. Moakley.

'03—JOSEPH PATRICK BURNS, July 4, 1939, in Watertown, where he lived at 741 Gotham Street. He attended the University Preparatory School in Ithaca, before entering the Arts course in 1899; remained a year.

'05 DVM—MELANCTHON HAMILTON, August 16, 1939. For thirteen years he had been a practicing veterinarian for the Farmers' Institute and a lecturer for the department of Farms and Markets, at Delhi. For the last nineteen years he had been veterinarian, farmer, and diaryman at Oneonta, where he lived at 19 Watkins Avenue. Entered Veterinary in 1900 from Park College. Widow, the former Katherine H. Mills '14; son, the late Horace Hamilton '29; daughter, Mrs. Robert W. Ginnane (Katherine M. Hamilton) '37.

'09 DVM—J(OHN) LYNN LEONARD, October 29, 1939, from a heart attack. Formerly with the New York City Department of Health, he directed the Leonard Hospital for Pet Animals at Astoria, now being continued under the direction of George W. Little '09. He entered the Veterinary College in 1906 from Spencer High School. President, College Class. Son, William J. Leonard '41.

'10 ME—ALLAN PATTON MCCLINTOCK, October 6, 1939, at Pittsburgh, Pa., after an illness of a year. He had been eastern sales manager with Locomotive Superheater Co., New York City, and more recently had traveled on business as a mechanical engineer. During the World War, he was first lieutenant in the Ordnance Department. Entered Mechanical Engineering in 1906 from Mt. Vernon High School, Mt. Vernon.

'11 MD—MRS. WILLIS POWER BAKER, (Margarete Darvas), March 22, 1939, at Santa Ana, Calif. She had been a member of the Santa Ana board of education, and president of the Tuberculosis Association. Entered Medicine in 1907 from Morris High School, New York City. Son, Harvey W. Baker '39; daughter, Ruth H. Baker '42.

'12 CE, '13 Grad—ABRAM L. VAN SICLEN, February 19, 1940, in Brooklyn. His home was at 88-78 193d Street, Hollis. He was with the Public Service Commission of New York City and State, and then became a civil engineer with The Texas Co., oil concern. Entered Civil Engineering in 1908 from Jamaica High School. Alpha Chi Rho; Long Island Club; Freshman track team.

'13 DVM—WILLIAM JAMES SELKIN, March 23, 1939, following a major operation. He had been with the United States Bureau of Animal Industry, in St. Louis, Mo., immediately after graduation, and recently in Jersey City, N. J. Entered Veterinary in 1910 from Albany High School, Albany.

'15 LLB—ROBERT EMMETT BURKE, February 25, 1940, at his home on Kitchell Road, Morristown, N. J. He had practiced law in Morristown, and was vice-president and counsel of the First National Bank. During the World War he was a captain of Field Artillery. Entered Law from Morristown High School in 1911; Phi Delta Phi; Sigma Nu; College crew; assistant manager tennis; Freshman advisory committee.

'27 AB—JAMES LEON MAIRS, January 27, 1940, in St. Paul, Minn. after a cerebral hemorrhage. He had been with Halsey Stuart & Co., Stanley Gates & Co., vice-president of Harold E. Wood & Co., and partner in Mairs-Shaughnessy, Inc., investment securities, all of St. Paul, Minn. He entered Architecture in 1923 from the University of Minnesota. Chi Phi; Musical Clubs; ROTC band.

'31, '32 ME—WALTER HOUGH TRYON, August, 1939. His home was at 960 Creekside Drive, Niagara Falls. He entered Civil Engineering in 1927 from Hamilton College. Phi Sigma Kappa. Father, Clarence A. Tryon '01; brother Clarence A. Tryon, Jr. '35.

Concerning THE FACULTY

WRITING to Romeyn Berry '04, Clarence A. Martin '90, former Dean of Architecture, tells of his early life and how his whole career was changed by one northbound train. Born in northern Ohio, he spent two years at Cornell, then worked in York and Philadelphia, Pa. Waiting one day in 1894 in the Allentown station for a train back to Philadelphia, he saw an express come in, heading north for Wilkesbarre, Ithaca, and Buffalo. "The sight of that train did something to me and without premeditation or hesitation I boarded it for Ithaca without so much personal baggage as an extra pocket handkerchief, merely wiring back to square myself with my job and to have clothing sent me at Ithaca." After two weeks in Ithaca he was asked to return in September as an instructor in the College of Architecture, but refusing that offer he went to New York City, found a good job. "Love of the open country" eventually overcame him, for when the offer was repeated with added bait, he accepted even though his prospects in New York were excellent. "I've never regretted it," he says. Living at 215 Sunset Avenue, Sarasota, Fla., among the coconuts and palms, he and his wife are in perfect health. Mrs. Martin (Gertrude Short) '00, first advisor of women at the University, is a recognized leader of the intellectual interests in the community, organized and is in charge of a weekly forum for the discussion of current events. Martin is interested in city government. Their son is Clarence A. Martin, Jr. '25.

MISS R. LOUISE FITCH, Dean of Women, is chairman of a national Delta Delta Delta committee on award of $1,000 as a graduate research scholarship. Miss Fitch is to speak at a dinner meeting of the American Association of University Women in Reading, Pa., March 13.

PROFESSOR OSCAR D. VON ENGELN '08, Geology, and Mrs. von Engeln are traveling through the Southeastern States, where Professor von Engeln is visiting and photographing sites of geomorphic interest.

PROFESSOR JOHN R. BANGS, JR. '21, Administrative Engineering, spoke on "The Young Engineer and His Future" March 1 at Newark College of Engineering, Newark, N. J. In New York City he attended a meeting at the Alexander Hamilton Institute as consulting editor on management problems, and also an executive committee meeting of the management division of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He is chairman of the management program for a June meeting in Milwaukee, Wis., and of the industrial marketing program for the annual convention next December.

PROFESSOR HADLEY C. STEPHENSON '14, Veterinary, was a member of the team which won the second annual Ithaca Journal doubles elimination bowling tournament, defeating the runners-up by 64 pins. Team prize was $90.

PROFESSOR PAUL T. HOMAN, Economics, is giving seven lectures on "The Problems of Industrial Monopoly" at Johns Hopkins University during February and March.

PROFESSORS HERBERT H. SCOFIELD '05, Leonard C. Urquhart '09, and Charles E. O'Rourke '17, Civil Engineering, attended a convention of the American Concrete Institute in Chicago, Ill., February 27-29. Scofield then went to Detroit, Mich. for committee meetings of the American Society for Testing Materials.

THE CARAVAN OF VERSE, to be published in the spring by the Caravan Publishing Co., New York City, contains a poem entitled "Analogy" by Professor Riverda H. Jordan, Education. He has also been represented in the World's Fair Anthology.

FARMERS' SONS are more likely to follow their fathers' footsteps than sons of men in other occupations. Professor Walfred A. Anderson, PhD '29, Rural Sociology, came to this conclusion after studying three generations of 850 Cornell students. Twice as many farmers' as non-farmers' sons follow the father's occupation, and although the tendency is decreased in the third generation, it is still there. Few sons of non-farmers switch to farming, hence farming is largely self-perpetuating.

PROFESSOR CLIVE M. MCCAY, Animal Nutrition, has recently published "Nutritional Requirements of Dogs," and "Seven Centuries of Scientific Nutrition."

PROFESSOR FRANK B. MORRISON, Animal Husbandry and Animal Nutrition, spoke recently before the Maine Dairymen's Association at Lewiston, Me. His topic was "New Discoveries in Feeding Dairy Cattle." During farm and home week of Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kan., he gave three lectures, on "General Dairy Problems," "New Facts about Proteins in Livestock Feeding," and "The Significance of Vitamins in Practical Livestock Production."

Concerning THE ALUMNI

Personal items and newspaper clippings about all Cornellians are earnestly solicited.

'98 LLB—Completing his eleventh consecutive term as a member of the House of Representatives, Daniel A. Reed '98 has served over twenty-one years in the House. Former football coach at the University, he is a member of the Interparliamentary Union, a representative sent to Oslo, Norway, last fall, member of the joint committee on forestry, member of the ways and means committee, member of the Republican conference committees on agriculture and trade agreements, and chairman of the Republican committee on national debt policy.

40TH REUNION
CLASS OF 1900 JUNE 14-16 1940

'00—First comments relative to the coming Forty-year Reunion of 1900 have been received as follows: Walter Nuffort —"Will get up this June if I have to walk. Let me know if there is anything I can do to help NOW." Charles C. Remsen—"Expect to be in Ithaca June 14-16; at least, will try my best." Fred N. Hufnagel—"Planning to be there." Harry W. Redfield—"I would not miss it, if alive."—G. H. Y.

'06, '07 ME; '11—The Stock Exchange firm of Orvis Brothers & Co. of which Warner D. Orvis '06 is senior partner has moved its main office to 14 Wall Street, New York City, from 60 Broadway, where it had been for thirty years. Arthur E. Orvis '11 is also a member of the firm.

'08 ME; '09 MME—Mark H. Landis is president and general manager of Erd Co., Inc., 225-233 Ringold Street, Waynesboro, Pa. He writes: "This company conducts or operates a laboratory for engineering, research, and development of new products of manufacture and manufactures special machinery, instruments, etc. to design them." Landis lives at 228 Philadelphia Avenue, Waynesboro.

'10 LLB—Stephen M. Lounsberry of Owego has been designated as a delegate to the Republican national convention.

'11 ME—William G. Christy, smoke abatement engineer of Hudson County, N. J., is vice-president of the Jersey City Rotary Club, of the Jersey City Boys Club, and of the Hudson County chapter of the New Jersey Society of Professional Engineers. His address is 1 Kingswood Road, Weehawken, N. J.

'12 LLB—L. Nelson Simmons of Ithaca has a son, Nelson E. Simmons who is a freshman at Hamilton College.

'12 ME—Stanford Review for February, 1940, contains a picture and brief biographical sketch of Leonard F. Fuller '12, who is chairman of the electrical engineering department at the University of California. He received the PhD in '19 from Stanford; has been with the Federal Telegraph Co., Ohio Insulator Co., and General Electric Co.; was in charge of design and installation of high power trans-oceanic telegraph stations for the United States Army and Navy in the Philippine Islands, Hawaii, Alaska, Panama Canal Zone, Porto Rico, France, and other places; and has received the Morris Liebmann Prize, Institute of Radio Engineers, for radio inventions and development of radio apparatus.

'13 BS—Bruce P. Jones of Hall is president of the New York Seed Improvement Cooperative Association. The Association is the official certifying agency of the College of Agriculture and the State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

'14, '15 ME—Head of the aircraft-engine engineering committee, Norman N. Tilley '14 recently took office as vice-president of the Society of Automotive Engineers. After graduation Tilley taught experimental mechanical engineering at the University for three years; then was an instructor in the U. S. Army Air Service, in 1920 becoming engineer officer at Kelley Field. During the next two years, he again taught and then joined the engineering division of the Air Service, continuing until 1929 when he became chief engineer of the Kinner Airplane & Motor Corp. In 1931 he was in charge of engineering at the American Airplane & Engine Corp.; in 1932 joined Continental Motors Corp. He is now on the engineering staff of the Lycoming division of Aviation Manufacturing Corp.

'14 AB; '12 AB—Emerson Hinchliff writes that he heard, on an English short wave broadcast from London in Italian, Dr. Gustav-Egloff '12 referred to as "one of the most eminent American petroleum experts."

CLASS REUNIONS IN ITHACA, JUNE 14-16, 1940

'69, '70, '71 '75 '80 '85 '87, '88, '89 '90 '95 '00
'05, '06, '07, '08, '09, '10 '15 '20 '25, '26, '27, '28 '30 '35 '38

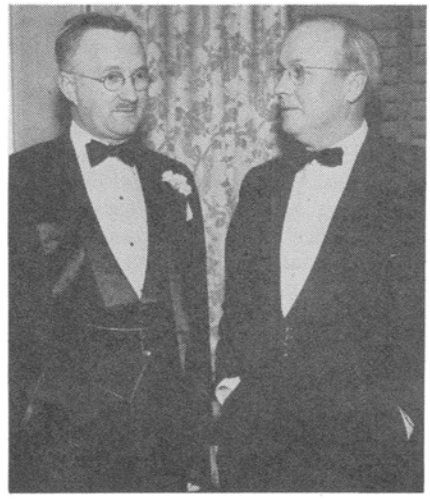
15-25-40
"Once in a Lifetime"
June 13-14-15-16th
1940

'15—Twenty-fifth Anniversary reports from members of the Class are now being received by the Class secretary. Some of these, briefed, appear below; others will be published in this column in succeeding issues of the ALUMNI NEWS.—M. C.

'15 BS—Floyd W. DeGolyer is a partner with his father in W. DeGolyer & Son, sawmill and retail lumber yard near Gloversville; also operates a small farm. During the War he served on the transport "Aeolus" and made nine round trips to France. Then for two years was on a farm near Johnstown, and since then has been with his father. Hobbies are shooting, taking moving pictures, and "attempting occasionally to catch trout in nearby mountain streams." Three nephews and one niece, children of Calvin S. DeGolyer '10, are in the University now and he says that "the chances are good that I will have children of my own there in the future." He has three, two girls and a boy.

'15 ME—Working as mechanical engineer with the Bureau of Locomotive Inspection in the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington, D. C., Wilbur J. A. Barnes '15 is also a member of the Bar of the Supreme and Appellate Courts of the District of Columbia, having received the LLB in 1930 from George Washington University. His career started with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad as student, and continued with jobs in Lehigh Navigation Electric and Harwood Electric Companies in Pennsylvania, in the U. S. Railroad Administration, Washington, in the U. S. Naval Experiment Station, Annapolis, and then "back to Washington in present connection, family growing up, wind not as good as formerly, chest slipping, guess we'll stay in this section for a while if fate so wills it." Brother of Laurence A. Barnes '24, he was commander in 1939 of the Potomac River Power Squadron; was a charter member of the U. S. Power Squadron in the District of Columbia.

'15, '16 ME—Frank L. Hornickel since graduation has been with the Anchor Coal Co. of which he is now president, first in West Virginia and now with offices at 1148 Terminal Tower, Cleveland, Ohio. During the War he was a second lieutenant in the 324th Field Artillery, which was part of the Thirty-second Division—one of the three divisions which crossed the Rhine after the Armistice. He writes: "My chief diversion is arranging business trips to take in two or three Cornell football games a year and being kidded by my coal associates about Cornell and Brud Holland in particular, he not being so popular in West Virginia."



'15 CE; '09 CE—More than 600 persons attended the annual dinner of the Cleveland Real Estate Board in Cleveland, Ohio, February 1, given in honor of Edwin S. Baker '15 (above right), retiring president of the Board. Newton C. Farr '09 (left), of Chicago, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and a director of the Cornell Alumni Association, was the principal speaker. Other Cornellians prominent in the Cleveland Real Estate Board are Willard J. Crawford '07, James A. Webb '09, and Ladimir R. Zeman '16. The party, at the Hotel Carter, was under the personal supervision of Paul R. Gros Jean '35, sales manager of the hotel.

'16 ME—Otto de Lorenzi, assistant general sales manager of the Combustion Engineering Corp., New York City, showed motion pictures and lectured to seniors in Mechanical Engineering February 19. He described the combustion of coal in modern boiler furnaces and the operation of modern stokers with water-cooled walls.

'16 CE—Nickel Plate Road, the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad Co., has appointed Felix S. Hales '16 as bridge engineer, with headquarters in Cleveland, Ohio.

'16, '17 BS—John A. Vanderslice of Pottstown, Pa., has been the proprietor of a chain of roadside service stations since 1934. His son, John A. Vanderslice, Jr., is a Freshman in Hotel Administration.

'17 CE; '29 MS—Gabriel E. Lund is in Petrolea, Columbia, an oil drilling camp, with 110 Americans and 2,000 Colombians. He writes: "No women are allowed in camp or on the concession as yet. We have no stores or anything in this camp. Some day this may develop into a town, but just now it is merely a large clearing in the heart of the jungle." The Barco Concession, which is what that part of Colombia is called, was described in Life last November 13. Herbert V. Lee, MS '29, is working in the same concession.

'18, '19 LLB—John H. Schmid practices law at 72 Wall Street, New York City; lives at 45 Elston Road, Upper Montclair, N. J.

'18—Hans Huber is with J. M. Huber, Inc., printing inks, 460 West Thirty-fourth Street, New York City.

'19 BS—John N. Spaeth, member of the committee on forestry of the National Research Council, is head of the forestry department at the University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill.; is cooperating with the Central States Forest Experiment Station in an economic forest survey of five Illinois counties around Urbana.

'19, '20 BS—William E. F. Wright is with the Farm Credit Administration in the Federal Land Bank of Georgia, his territory including both the Carolinas, Georgia, and Florida. He lives on Montgomery Road, Savannah, Ga. and has an office in Columbia, S. C.

'20 Grad—Henry A. Ladd is at Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville.

'22, '24 CE—Rudolph T. Erickson is employed by Adams Faber Co., Inc., 31 Mamaroneck Avenue, White Plains. He is in charge of all construction work in New York State and lower Connecticut.

'22—James B. Van Mater, vice-president of the Atlantic Highlands (N. J.) National Bank, is treasurer of the Harbor Control Board in his community. Married, he lives at 21 Grand Avenue, Atlantic Highlands.

'23, '24 ME—"Adventures in Industrial Citizenship," by William Hard, in The Reader's Digest for March, 1940, describes some of the work simplification being done in industry by Allan H. Mogensen '23 of Westport, Conn. Mogensen has been notably successful in increasing efficiency of operations in many industries, largely by training workers. "With simplified work, costs are reduced, prices lowered, and consumption enlarged, which in turn means bigger volume of production and bigger volume of employment."

'24—Edwin B. Janes works for Standard Air Conditioning, Inc., 2006 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. as salesman.

'24, '25 ME—Miller R. Hutchison, Jr. is a mechanical engineer in the camera works of Eastman Kodak Co., State Street, Rochester.

'24—Edgar F. Hungerford is manager of the Southern California Telephone Co., Los Angeles, Calif. Address: 2445 Daly Street, Los Angeles.

'25—Henry R. Schuette is a banker at the Manitowoc Savings Bank in Manitowoc, Wis. He is married and has three children, Kathryn, eight, Ann, six, and Gesine, two.

'25, '26 ME—William H. Jones is division superintendent for the Philadelphia Electric Co., with offices at 5 East Lancaster Avenue, Ardmore, Pa. His home is at 429 Strathmore Road, Brookline, Upper Darby, Pa. His two children are William H. Jr., seven and Barbara, four.

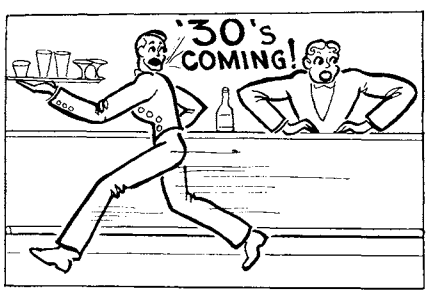
'27—Frances N. Dean works on The Madison (N. J.) Eagle; lives at 15 Willmer Street, Madison.

'27, '29 CE—Paul J. Cunningham is with the Thousand Islands Park Commission, 104 Stone Street, Watertown.

'28 AB—H. Stanley Krusen, with Harriman Ripley & Co., investment bankers, New York City, is chairman of the Republican committee of the city of East Orange, N. J., succeeding the late Andrew J. Whinery '10, University Trustee. Republicans carried every election district in the city last November, winning by a three-to-one majority. Krusen lives at 19 South Maple Avenue, East Orange.

'29 ME, '32 MME, '36 PhD—Russia will carry on its war against Finland to ultimate victory. This was the opinion expressed by Abraham S. Rabotnikoff '29, teacher of science in the Ithaca Junior High School, at a gathering of 150 Finns at Van Etten. He added that the Red leaders do not seem to care how many lives they sacrifice or how much money they spend to achieve their goal, which they believe indispensable to future expansion. Rabotnikoff fought with the White Guards in the Russian Revolution.

'29; '98 PhD—Benjamin M. Duggar, Jr., son of Benjamin M. Duggar, PhD '98, is editor and publisher of Professional Art Magazine, Madison, Wis. He was for a time in the art department of J. Walter Thompson Co., Chicago, Ill., then a representative of the Bureau of Advertising, A.N.P.A., Chicago. He is married and has three sons, Rolfe Demarest, Benjamin Charles, and Bruce Robertson; lives at 1938 Rowley Avenue, Madison.



'30 AB—Alfred Leibowitz is with Novelty Yarns Corp., Seventh Avenue and Twelfth Street, Brooklyn; lives at 8538 214th Street, Queens Village.

'30 AM; '94 AB; '27 AB, '29 AM—Constance C. Brown, daughter of Mrs. Herbert D. Brown (Harriet Connor) '94, is writing a textbook on acting, with Mrs. Ross E. Scanlan (Elizabeth Goepp) '27. They are both formerly of the direction staff of the University Theatre. Mrs. Scanlan teaches speech at Queen's College, New York City, and Miss Brown, after closing her Studio of Theatre Arts in Washington, D. C., spent two years as director of the El Capitan College of the Theatre in Hollywood, Calif. Some of her former pupils include Robert Stack, the leading man for Deanna Durbin in "First Love," Bunty Kutler in the Jeannette MacDonald picture now in preparation, Ellen Morgan in "The Man Who Killed Lincoln," and Lawrence Tibbett, Jr., in "The Man Who Came to Dinner." Mrs. Brown is spending the winter with her parents at Glenora-on-Lake Seneca.

'30 MF, '32 PhD—Harold G. Wilm is at Rocky Mountain Forest and Range Experiment Station, Fort Collins, Colo.

'31 AB, '33 AM, '36 PhD; '02 CE; '02 AB—Jeremiah S. Finch, a member of the English department at Princeton University, writes: "This past summer we spent in England, where I was engaged in research in the British Museum, returning just in time to miss the outbreak of the War." Married in 1937 to Matilde Effler of Albany, he lives at 142 A Hodge Road, Princeton, N. J.; is the son of Jeremiah C. Finch '02 and Mrs. Finch (Nina M. Tree) '02.

'31 PhD—Alberto Graf-Marin of Santiago, Chile, visited the Cosmopolitan Club in Ithaca during the Christmas vacation.

'32 ME—Allan R. Greene is assistant plant engineer of the Cities Service Oil Company's Warner's Refinery at Linden, N. J.; lives at 1247 Lenox Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

'32 BS, '33 MF—In the Green Mountains National Forest, Thomas W. McConkey is in the timber management division of the U. S. Forest Service, Rutland, Vt.

'32 MD—Dr. Harriet L. Hardy is director of health education at Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass.

'33, '34 BS—George W. Davis, director of fish and game service in the Vermont Department of Conservation and Development, showed colored motion pictures of skiing, hunting, and fishing in Vermont at a recent Sunday evening hour in Willard Straight Hall. Most of the pictures he had taken himself. He was for a time with the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries and later with the U. S. Forest Service in the Green and White Mountains National Forests.

'34 ME; '04 CE—John H. Garrett, son of Professor Seymour S. Garrett '04, Industrial Economics, is with the Guaranty Trust Co. in New York City.

'34 AB, '37 MD—Dr. Putnam C. Kennedy is an interne in the medical service of Boston City College. For a time he was a resident in pathology at the Mallory Institute of Pathology.

'34 AB, '36 LLB—Jacob I. Goldbas, former boxer and coach, refereed the Army-Western Maryland boxing bouts February 10 at West Point and the Syracuse-Penn State meet February 24.

'35
Five-year Reunion
June 14-16, 1940

'35—Plans are progressing for our Reunion in June with the following committee chairmen lining up their respective jobs: G. Paul Torrence, Jr., publicity; Paul J. MacNamara, entertainment and banquet; C. Donald English, costumes; and John W. Ballard, Jr., rooms and registration.—J. W. T., Jr.

'35 BS—Donald E. Curtice is treating engineer with the American Lumber & Treating Co. at their plant at Macon, Ga., 1906 Vineville Avenue.

'35 AB; 36 AB—Daniel D. Krakauer, who is assistant supreintendent of Kay Manufacturing Corp., Brooklyn, last August 10 married Rose Nehemiah. They live at 360 Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn. He writes that Jerome J. Weissman '36 married after graduation from Fordham Law School, has passed the Bar examinations, and lives at 690 Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn.

'35 ME—John W. Todd, Jr., son of John W. Todd '06 has completed a year in the sales training class and is now in the specialty sales division, handling construction materials, for the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., Pittsburgh, Pa. His first child, a daughter, was born February 15. Address: 1438 Severn Street, Pittsburgh.

'36, '37 AB—George J. Visnyei is seeking a market for his patented deep sea salvaging apparatus. A working model of it has been successfully tried out in Cayuga Lake. The invention which works through air, compressed into egg-shaped pontoons by hydraulic water pumps, picks up an object through the use of iron claws.

'36 AB—Mrs. Edward L. Clark (Mary Bates) is library assistant in the Van Buren branch of the Newark Public Library; lives at 106 Fifth Street, Newark, N. J.

'36 BS, '37 MF—Herbert J. Mols, inspector in charge of Plymouth and Bristol

THE MERCERSBURG ACADEMY

Prepares for entrance to all Colleges and Universities. Especially successful in preparing boys for College Entrance Board Examinations. Located in the picturesque Cumberland Valley at the foot of the Blue Ridge Mountains. A large faculty from the leading colleges and universities of the country give thorough instruction and aim to inspire in every pupil the lofty ideals of thorough scholarship, broad attainments, sound judgment and Christian manliness.

BOYD EDWARDS, D.D., LL.D.
Headmaster, Mercersburg, Pa.

CORNELL IN PICTURES

"The finest book of Cornell pictures ever published; superb in selection, arrangement, and reproduction . . . a real thrill."

Only $1.00 postpaid

Thirty familiar Campus buildings and scenes—air views—gorges—waterfalls. In decorative portfolio with plastic binding—each one suitable for framing.

Write name and address on margin, clip this ad and mail with dollar bill to

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS
3 East Ave. ITHACA, N. Y.

counties with the Timber Salvage Administration, with headquarters in Taunton, Mass., has a daughter, Brenda, born December 18.

'37 MD—John H. Branson married Virginia L. Brown of Riverhead, July 27. They live in Concord, N. H., where Dr. Branson is school physician at St. Paul's School.

'37—Harold L. Hess received the MBA degree at Harvard Business School last June. He is in the production department of the Symington-Gould Corp., Depew.

'37 AB—Married November 30, 1939, in New York City, the former Beatrice M. Moore is now Mrs. Duane P. Stump; lives at 352 Laurel Street, Hartford, Conn. Mrs. Stump writes: "I am particularly desirous of meeting any Cornell women living in or near Hartford, as another Cornellian—Lucile Sipson '37—and myself are anxious to seek out the possibilities of forming a Cornell Women's Club in the city."

'37 AB; '11 BS in Agr, '18 AM, '21 PhD; '14 BS—Life magazine was bombarded with pictures of pretty schoolteachers, after a New Englander had complained that out of 1,500 schoolteachers he had recently seen, only four were attractive. Among pictures published in the February 12 issue of Life was one of Helen L. Mordoff '37, daughter of Professor Richard A. Mordoff '11, Meteorology, and Mrs. Mordoff (Laura C. Fish) '14. Miss Mordoff, formerly of Newfield High School, now teaches English at the Glens Falls Junior High School.

'38 BS—Harold F. Shepard is assistant secretary of the Batavia Production Credit Association; lives at 8 Morris Avenue, Batavia.

'38, '39 BS; '37, '39 BArch—Announcement has been made of the marriage of Sylvia Moore '38 to James C. Freer '37 of Knoxville, Tenn. Their residence address is 545 West 236th Street, Riverdale. Business address: Shreve, Lamb & Harmon, 11 East Forty-third Street, New York City.

'38 AB—Virginia Herring is assistant to the director of the Committee on Cultural Relations with Latin America, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City. She writes that she spent three months in Mexico last summer, studying Spanish, playing tennis, and swimming, while she was helping the Committee's fifteenth annual seminar there.

'38 CE—Sidney Walzer, with Babcock & Wilcox, New York City, married Marjorie R. Stearns, November 21, 1939, in New York City. Mrs. Walzer attended the Jose Marie School, Belgium, Woodmere Academy, and the Ethical Culture Normal School. They live in Rockville Centre.

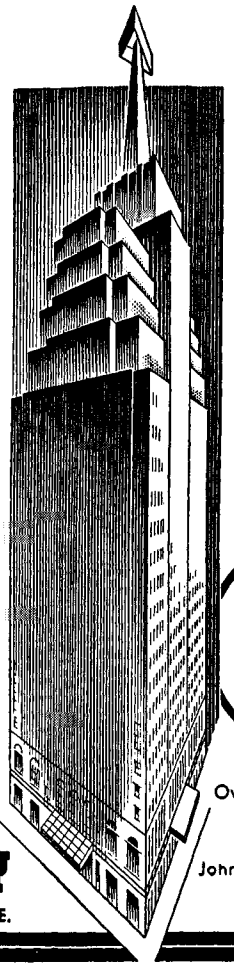
'38 AB; '11 BSA—Howard J. Simons, son of Extension Director Lloyd R. Simons '11, married Patricia J. Pratt of Washington, D. C., December 28, 1939, in Arlington, Va. Mrs. Simons is a junior at Wilson Teachers College in Washington. Simons is employed in the office of land use co-ordination, U. S. Department of Agriculture. They live at 2020 Shepherd Street, N.E., Washington, D. C.

'39 AB; '05; '39 AB; '07 AB; '10 AB—Living at the Dunning home at 118 East Seventy-third Street, New York City, are Elaine Dunning '39, daughter of Henry S. Dunning '05, Barbara E. Babcock '39 daughter of University Trustee H. Edward Babcock, and Marian Putnam '39, daughter of Henry S. Putnam '07 and the late Mrs. Putnam (Frances E. Thomas) '10. Elaine Dunning is teaching physical education at Dalton preparatory school, and taking graduate work at New York University night school; Barbara Babcock attends the Miller Secretarial School; and Marian Putnam is an apprentice in "Independent Women."

'39 BS—Milton W. Pinckney is salesman for DeLaval Separator Co., 165 Broadway, New York City. His mailing address is Grand View Avenue, Cornwall-on-Hudson.

'39 AB—Helen E. McTighe is doing secretarial work at Binghamton High School. Her address is 48 Lincoln Avenue, Binghamton.

TOWERING MANSIONS
Designed and Dedicated to Heighten the Joy of Living
LINCOLN HOTEL
● Live like a king when you visit New York. Stay at Manhattan's Mighty Hotel Lincoln, superb in every detail of location, luxury and hospitality.
NEW YORK CITY
44th TO 45th STS. AT EIGHTH AVE.



1400 ROOMS
Each With Bath Shower And Cabinet Radio
HOME OF THE FAMOUS BLUE ROOM
Outstanding Music And Entertainment
Ownership Management
MARIA KRAMER
President
John L. Horgan, Gen. Mgr.
HOTEL EDISON
Same Management

CORNELL HOSTS

A Guide to Comfortable Hotels and Restaurants
Where Cornellians and Their Friends Will Find a Hearty Cornell Welcome

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

STEPHEN GIRARD HOTEL
CHESTNUT ST. WEST OF 20TH
PHILADELPHIA, PENNA.
Nearest downtown Hotel to Penna. 30th St. and B. & O. Stations.
WILLIAM H. HARNED '35 . . Manager

WASHINGTON, D. C.

CORNELL HEADQUARTERS IN WASHINGTON
Lee Sheraton Hotel
(formerly Lee House)
COMPLETELY AIR CONDITIONED
Fifteenth & L Streets, N.W.
KENNETH W. BAKER '29 Manager

Cleves Cafeteria
1715 G Street, Northwest, Washington, D.C.
CARMEN M. JOHNSON '22, - Manager
HELEN J. ROGERS '38, - Asst. Manager

SOUTH

Stouffer's

N. TOWNSEND ALLISON	'28	Pittsburgh
ERNEST TERWILLIGER	'28	Detroit
B. F. COPP	'29	Cleveland
R. W. STEINBERG	'29	New York
L. W. MAXSON	'30	New York
H. GLENN HERB	'31	New York
W. C. BLANKINSHIP	'31	Cleveland
J. W. GAINEY	'32	Cleveland
J. WHEELER	'38	New York
BRUCE TIFFANY	'39	New York

NEW YORK AND VICINITY

HOTEL Ambassador
John P. Masterson, '33, Asst. Manager
PARK AVE • 51st TO 52nd STS • NEW YORK

CORNELLIANS
will be particularly welcome at
The Stratford Arms Hotel
117 WEST 70TH STREET
TRafalgar 7-9400 NEW YORK
Five Minutes From Times Square
(Write for reservations)
ROBERT C. TRIER, 'Jr. 32, Resident Manager

Cornellians EAT and TRAVEL
Five Thousand Loyal Alumni Prefer to Patronize the
CORNELL HOSTS
Whose Ads they Find Here
For Advertising at Low Cost write:
3 East Ave. ITHACA, N.Y.

ITHACA

DINE AT GILLETTE'S CAFETERIA
On College Avenue
Where Georgia's Dog Used to Be
Air Conditioned the Year 'Round
CARL J. GILLETTE '28, Propr.

CENTRAL NEW YORK

DRUMLINS
At Syracuse, N.Y.
OPEN ALL YEAR AROUND
CAFETERIA DINING ROOM TAP ROOM
GOLF TENNIS WINTER SPORTS
L. WIARD '30, Restaurant Manager
R. S. BURLINGAME '05, Owner

ALBANY

Wagar's Coffee Shop
Western Avenue at Quail Street on Route 20
ALBANY, N.Y.
Managed by - - Bertha H. Wood

NEW ENGLAND

Stop at the...
HOTEL ELTON
WATERBURY, CONN.
"A New England Landmark"
Bud Jennings '25, Proprietor

The Bill of Rights
Charter of American Liberty

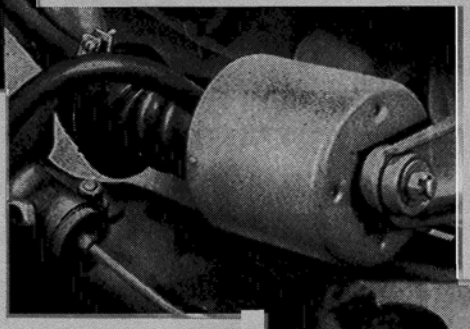
It deserves a place in every real American home, office and school. You can now get copies for yourself and your friends. Beautifully printed in blue, red and black on vellum paper, 12 x 16 neatly framed. Send $1.00 each for as many copies as you want, to

THE CAYUGA PRESS
113 E. Green St., Ithaca, N. Y.

ESTABROOK & CO.
Members of the New York and Boston Stock Exchange
Sound Investments
Investment Counsel and Supervision
Roger H. Williams '95
Resident Partner New York Office
40 Wall Street

Hemphill, Noyes & Co.
Members New York Stock Exchange
15 Broad Street . New York
INVESTMENT SECURITIES
Jansen Noyes '10 Stanton Griffis '10
L. M. Blancke '15 Willard I. Emerson '19
BRANCH OFFICES
Albany, Chicago, Harrisburg, Indianapolis, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Trenton, Washington

Can you do this with your steering column gearshift ?



Just touch it without removing your hand from the steering wheel . . .

Feel a hidden power cylinder supply 80 per cent of the shifting effort—automatically . . .

Sit back and let the gearshift do the work for you—instead of having to shift for yourself!

CHEVROLET

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Only Chevrolet has this Exclusive Vacuum-Power Shift—80% automatic—only 20% driver effort. You won't find it on any other motor car, regardless of price!

"THE GREATEST ADVANCE SINCE THE SELF-STARTER"

Eye It.. Try It.. Buy It!

NOWHERE ELSE—FEATURES LIKE THESE!

NEW "ROYAL CLIPPER" STYLING • BIGGER INSIDE AND OUTSIDE • NEW FULL-VISION BODIES BY FISHER • "THE RIDE ROYAL"—Chevrolet's Perfected Knee-Action Riding System† • PERFECTED HYDRAULIC BRAKES • ALL-SILENT SYNCRO-MESH TRANSMISSION • LARGER TIPTOE-MATIC CLUTCH • NEW SEALED BEAM HEADLIGHTS WITH SEPARATE PARKING LIGHTS • IMPROVED SHOCKPROOF STEERING† • NEW CRYSTAL-CLEAR SAFETY PLATE GLASS

†On Special De Luxe and Master De Luxe Series

85-H.P. VALVE-IN-HEAD SIX

$659 AND UP, at Flint, Michigan. Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice. Bumper guards—extra on Master 85 Series.

CHEVROLET MOTOR DIVISION, General Motors Sales Corporation, DETROIT, MICHIGAN

"CHEVROLET'S FIRST AGAIN!"