This letter I started, but was interrupted

Dear Brian,

Thanks for your letter, sweetie. Actually I owe you much more than £4. In fact, £10 you sent me a couple of months ago. Further even the penguin I asked you to send me, together with the Tur, I.

Then you are worried about your friends again.

"Furry" his Business, I know more. I read his book "an arrow from the loom", apart from anything else about that book in the past, for an instant, did notcrack that book, Manuel born, anywhere capable if you have the feeling that the book was capable of being a book. But the picture of Brian more writing a book. But the picture of Brian more enjoyable visits to them in America and their harmonious life, I was surprised. He ran away with another woman. I feel sorry for you and also on his wife.

By the way, I attribute all this to America, where it seems, and I get the impression not to publish a book is really something, and you are at once a "litera" and become the entire attention of lots of newcompgo etc. I mean I think it is very rare to publish a book in America and still lead an ordinary uneventful life. I don't mind - perhaps you will tell me whether this is a fact.
I hope you've had a wonderful trip, sweetheart. In starting to miss receiving you for the last two days. All the times are complaining about it - I really don't know why - I love the snow at everything white and shining, particularly the elegant leafless trees all white. I don't know what the elegant leafless trees all white. I don't know what I'd been done without that duffle coat, although I can't cycle.
I'd be done without that duffle coat, although I can't cycle without anyone. I'm going to be again since for (max to write anywhere. I'm going to be again. Dailing (please, please don't let me really write at all. Dailing (please, please don't me. Can there be more? I am not worried at all - and in (max. Cars! But I am not worried at all. But don't restful looking forward to that period, Brenda, to you.
