CORNELL UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF LAW

SUPPLEMENTARY ANNOUNCEMENT FOR 1922-23

May 1, 1922

The following additions have been made to the Faculty:

ROBERT SPROULE STEVENS, A.B., LL.B., Professor of Law. (In place of Charles Tracey Stagg, LL.B., resigned).

HORACE E. WHITESIDE, A.B., LL.B., Lecturer in Law and Secretary of the College of Law.

The following courses, not previously announced, will be added to the curriculum:

Municipal Corporations. Second term. Two hours. Given in 1923 and alternate years thereafter. Case book to be announced. Professor BURDICK.

Creation, control, alteration, and dissolution of municipal corporations; their charters, proceedings, officers, and agents; their powers and liabilities; taxation and indebtedness. (In place of Course 42 previously announced).

Administrative Law and Public Officers. Second term. Two hours. Given in 1924 and alternate years thereafter. Case book to be announced. Professor BURDICK. Appointment or election of public officers; their qualifications and the performance of their duties; de facto officers; expiration of terms, resignations and removals; rights, duties and liabilities growing out of public office. (In place of Course 42 previously announced).

Bankruptcy. First term. Two hours. Given in 1922. Case book to be announced. Professor McCASKILL.

A study of the National Bankruptcy Act and its construction.

International Law. Second term. Two hours. Details regarding course to be announced later.

A discussion of the rights and duties of nations and their subjects or citizens in time of peace or war, where international questions are involved.

Damages. First term. Two hours. Given in 1922 and alternate years thereafter. MECHEM and GILBERT'S Cases on Damages. Professor Wilson.

Nature; exemplary; liquidated; nominal; direct; consequential; avoidable; counsel fees; certainty; compensation; physical and mental suffering; aggravation and mitigation; value; interest; special rules in certain tort and contract actions.

Restraints on Business and Industry. First term. Two hours. Selected Cases. Professor STEVENS.

An examination of the conflict of rights between competitors or between employers and employees, and of the paramount interest of the public in business or industrial warfare. A study of the restrictions placed by the law, as a result of this conflict and the interest of the public, upon the freedom of the individual to dispose of his property or labor or to conduct his business. The course embraces a consideration of the common and statute law as to methods of unfair competition, contracts in restraint of trade, illegal combinations, and some incidents of labor disputes.

Taxation. Second term. Two hours. Selected Cases. Professor STEVENS.

A study of the following topics: The taxing power and the limitations placed upon it by constitutions, the purpose of the tax, and the situs of the property or the domicile of the person. Direct and indirect taxes. Property and privilege taxes. The assessment and equalization, the collection and payment of taxes. The nature of the obligation to pay a tax. Remedies for the imposition and collection of unauthorized taxes. Special attention will be devoted to some fundamental principles involved in Income, Inheritance, and Corporation Tax Laws.

The following changes in courses as described in the catalogue for 1922-23 are announced:

Problems. (In place of Course 8 on Brief Making previously announced). Required of first year students in both terms. Two hours of instruction with a credit of one hour. Professor WILSON and Professor McCASKILL.

This course is designed to afford training in analysis of legal problems and constructive thinking in determining the relationship between law and facts. Attention will be given to the use of law books, the making of briefs, and to oral presentation in controversy.

Equity I. (In partial replacement of Course 23 on Equity Jurisdiction previously announced). Required of first year students in second term. Two hours. Ames's Cases in Equity, Vols. I and II, and Pound's Supplement to Vol. I. Professor STEVENS.

The course involves a study of the origin, nature and fundamental principles of equity jurisdiction; the equitable rights and remedies pertaining to torts; and such equitable remedies as are afforded by bills of peace and bills of interpleader.

Equity II. (In partial replacement of Course 23 on Equity Jurisdiction previously announced). Required of second year students in the first term. Three hours. Ames's Cases in Equity, Vols. I and II. Professor STEVENS.

The principles of equity jurisdiction as applied to the specific performance of contracts, and the rescission and reformation of contracts.

Actions. (In partial replacement of Course 7, entitled Procedure I, previously announced). Required of first year students in the second term. Two hours. Sunderland's Cases on Common Law Pleading. Professor McCASKILL.

The common law forms of action as developed through the writ system, and the influence of the writ system on the substantive law of rights.

Pleading. (In partial replacement of Course 7, entitled Procedure I, previously announced, and in total replacement of Course 28, entitled Procedure IIa, previously announced.) Required of second year students in the first term. Three hours in 1922 and five hours thereafter. Sunderland's Cases on Common Law Pleading, selected cases on equity pleading, and Hinton's Cases on Code Pleading. Professor McCASKILL.

The object of this course is to point out the requisites of good pleading under all systems. The common and peculiar features of the common law and equity systems are studied, noting what features have been adopted, rejected, or modified by the code system, together with any new features introduced by the latter. Attention is also paid to the English Practice Act and some of the newer practice acts in this country, including the New York Civil Practice Act. The stress is laid on the code system of pleading as it exists under the various codes, but an attempt is made to show how this system has been built up, the strength and weakness of its various parts, and to bring out constructive suggestions as to the future development of pleadings.

Sales. (In place of Course 27 previously announced). First term. Required of juniors and seniors. Three hours. Given in 1923 and alternate years thereafter. Woodward's Cases on Sales. Professor BOGERT.

This course is concerned with the formation of the contract of sale of personal property, the respective rights and duties of buyer and seller regarding the performance of the contract, the origin and incidents of warranties regarding the goods sold, and the remedies open to buyer and seller, respectively, in the various contingencies incidental to sales of goods.

Trusts. To be given as announced under Course 39, except that it will receive three hours of credit a week, will be required of juniors and seniors, and will be given in 1922 and alternate years thereafter.

Domestic Relations and the Law of Persons. Will be given as announced under Course 25, except that it will be offered in the first term as an elective to juniors and seniors, and will be given in 1922 and alternate years thereafter.

Insurance. (In place of Course 24 as announced). First term. Elective for juniors and seniors. Two hours. Given in 1923 and alternate years thereafter. Case book to be announced. Professor WOODRUFF.

The special subject matter treated is the insurance contract, and the peculiar applications of the principles of contract, agency, evidence, and equity to this species of contractual obligation. The contracts of fire and life insurance are selected for detailed study; statutory provisions affecting insurance contracts are considered; and attention is given to the main features of state control of insurance.

Wills and Probate Law. (In place of Course 22 as announced). First term. Elective for juniors and seniors. Two hours. Costigan's Cases on Wills. Mr. WHITESIDE.

Includes a discussion of the right to dispose of property by will and the nature of the modern testamentary instrument; a detailed study of the law's formalities for the due execution and revocation of a will and of the various classes of legacies and devises; also an examination of the nature, jurisdiction, and procedure of probate courts in their relation to the administration of decedents' estates.

Future Interests. (In partial replacement of Course 38 entitled Property III). Second term. Elective for juniors and seniors. Two hours. Kales' Cases on Future Interests and selected cases. Professor BOGERT.

Future interests in property and the rules governing their creation: remainders, perpetuities, accumulations, powers.

Titles. (In partial replacement of Course 38, previously announced). Second term. Elective for juniors and seniors. Two hours. Aigler's Cases on Titles. Professor BOGERT.

The execution of conveyances of real estate, their construction, the law regarding the recording of such instruments, the drafting of deeds, and the searching of titles to real estate.

Practice. In place of Course 29, entitled Procedure IIb, and course 36, entitled Procedure IIIa, previously announced). First term. Required of seniors. Two hours in 1922 and four hours thereafter. Case book to be announced. Professor McCASKILL.

A study of the various steps taken in a civil action from the issuance of process to the rendition of judgment. The nature and purpose of process, service, return; appearance, general and special; defaults; selecting the jury; the right to open and close; the opening statement; methods of presenting evidence; exceptions; motions and non-suits; directed verdicts; charging the jury; verdicts, general and special; findings by court and referee; new trials; special proceedings; procedure in the Federal courts; appeals.

Negotiable Paper. Will be given as announced under Course 21, except that it will be elective to juniors and seniors and will be conducted by Mr. WHITESIDE.

Law of Public Service and Carriers. Will be given as announced under Course 34, except that it will be offered in the second term as an elective to juniors and seniors.

Mortgages. Will be given as announced under Course 30, except that it will be given in the second term as an elective to juniors and seniors and by Professor WILSON.

Suretyship. Will be given as announced under Course 31, except that it will be given as an elective to juniors and seniors in the second term.

Quasi-Contracts. Will be given as announced under Course 33, except that it will be given in the second term as an elective for juniors and seniors.

Property Ia. Will be given as announced under Course 5 except that it will be conducted by Mr. WHITESIDE.
