ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We thank the International Joint Commission for sponsoring the initial inventory of Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River. This part of the inventory was administered by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Buffalo District Office. Jon Brown was the contact person for this portion of the study. Funding was administered through USGS Cooperative Agreement #143-HQ-97-RU-01553. The inventory of Lake Erie and the Niagara River was funded by the New York Sea Grant Institute under Outreach Project #A/O-5. Dave White served as contact person for this portion of the study.

We would like to thank our dedicated interviewers in the field – Meg Faville and Karlene Smith, and an intern from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Doug Gorecki, who assisted us for part of the summer. Also, we appreciate the cooperation shown by marina and yacht club operators who took time from their busy summer schedules to talk with us.

This inventory was initiated at the request of the International Joint Commission (IJC), which is working to develop new criteria for the management of water levels in Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River. The purpose of this inventory was to identify all marinas and yacht clubs operating in 2002 along Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River that are impacted by fluctuating water levels and describe their operations. The inventory area was expanded at the request of the New York Sea Grant Institute to include Lake Erie and the Upper Niagara River. Thus, it now represents a complete inventory of marinas and yacht clubs currently in operation along New York's Great Lakes coastline.

The inventory was conducted during the summer of 2002 by Cornell University's Human Dimensions Research Unit. Using a 1997 inventory conducted by Sea Grant as a base list, marinas were contacted and interviewed between May and August, 2002. Marinas not on the 1997 inventory but observed in the field were contacted and interviewed by field staff. Each marina and yacht club fitting the following criteria is included in the inventory:

The business must have ten or more slips for rent, either seasonally or overnight. The business must be accessible by the public (e.g., not a communal dock shared by neighboring residents).

We contacted 207 marinas and yacht clubs and completed interviews with 194 (94% of total). The interviews inventoried services provided by each marina and yacht club and GPS readings were taken at each business. Six marinas refused to be interviewed and seven owners or operators were never available for interviewing.

The inventory lists marinas by water body and by county location (Table 1). We found 112 marinas along Lake Ontario, 54 along the St. Lawrence River, 15 along Lake Erie, and 26 along the Niagara River. For the marinas that we interviewed, 122 were open seasonally, while 72 were open year-round. The most common dates of operation for seasonal marinas were April 1st through October 15th. The average length of ownership was 16 years.

The marinas and yacht clubs we interviewed had 15,825 seasonal slips or moorings for rent and 1,693 transient slips (Table 2). Lake Ontario marinas had 7,257 seasonal slips or moorings and 665 transients, while the St. Lawrence River had 3,165 seasonal slips or moorings and 691 transients. Lake Erie marinas had 2,572 seasonal slips or moorings and 215 transients, while the marinas on the Niagara River had 2,831 seasonal slips or moorings and 122 transient rentals. The average size of a marina in Lake Ontario, the St. Lawrence River, Lake Erie and the Niagara River were 76, 73, 186, and 134 berths, respectively. Overall, the average size of a marina in our study area was 90 berths.

Most of the marinas inventoried sell gas (diesel and/or regular), and have pump out stations and restrooms (Table 3). Additional services, listed in the inventory, include boat launching facilities (ramp, hoist, lift), hydraulic trailer, dump station, dry stack for winter boat storage, boat repairs, motor repairs, marine supplies, boat sales, restaurant/food service/bar, accommodations, handicap access, and dry slips for in season use.

Latitude and longitude coordinates were recorded for almost all marinas and yacht clubs and can be found in Table 4. The coordinates are reported in decimal degrees.

Table 1. Listing of marinas and yacht clubs with mailing address and phone number, by water body.
