Sad, sad morning. My dear Mary lying dead in the house. All the surroundings beautiful—such as she so much loved, a perfect beginning of a June day.

Multitudes of telegrams from kind friends, including those of Babcock at Horace. Henry Miller, John A. King, for counsel. Schubert Platt.

Friday, June 10, 1887

All day. Mary lies peacefully at Horace in the parlor—her face as sweet as in life. Kind messages coming in every few minutes by mail or telegraph.

Kind friends here bring flowers about her. She was beautiful. In the afternoon Horace came and it was as hard for him as for me.

Антон. 1893

Sunday

Read during day.

Several of Remains requite pref. essays and address.

At 1½ went pm.

Became to the Grand Duke Michael Nicolaus with most kindly cordial reception. He showed much feeling when I gave him my collection of his father.

He told me that his brother had given several coins to his brother including from the ancient times to come to life. He said, that Emperor could not believe that Holm could think to.

Would cheer on the snow around on the snow.

7 days after his father's death. Had talk about Chicago and about famous days in Chicago. Called to Moscow in February.

At 5:30 P.M. Pursued to Ed. Buchner in Berlin Michaeliene, daughter of Emp. Nicholas brother Michael.

First an interesting talk with Prince Georgine the Hof Marshall. Then a long talk with Mr. Ed. Buchner in Berlin. Talk about the Palace, its architecture, my old dream of copying it in America. For a necessary building this accounts of building of it & laying of it Rassold. Pursued to Mr. Buchner's garden. Was surprised to hear my Grandchild who prattles in English.

In Moscow yesterday I heard of the death of my beloved friend General P. Kiper who passed away this morning.
I send my deepest sympathy to his family. We were very close friends. Read twice and the last time he was gone over a week I stood in Tverskaya near
Samuel Williams.
We met often in his office and in the Muscat Club.

Mr.溥泽 called

Leonard B. was a boatswain in the Russian Navy. He was engaged in operations related to the naval fleet and participated in various overseas missions.

Leonard's assignments included:
- Boatswain's Mate
- Commander of the Russian Fleet
- Commander of the Pacific Fleet
- Commander of the Caspian Fleet
- Commander of the Black Sea Fleet

Leonard's duties were critical to the fleet's operations, ensuring the safety and efficiency of naval activities.

This being the anniversary of the entrance of the King of Siam into the Military Service, the town is decorated all for festivity. In honor of the Emperor, around the front of the theatre, two rows of torches, with singing and the presence of the Bishop, striking effect produced by the torches, and dancing, their voices so on.

Ross Stn 10. IV.
Dear Allen,

I have tried to contact Sue several times, and she has always been very busy. I finally managed to reach her this morning. She said she would be in town next week for a conference. Can you please forward this message to her? I really need her help in this matter.

Best regards,

To the Russian Palace for the 3:39 p.m. train to St. Petersburg.

The most interesting part of the trip was the presence of the President of the French Imperial Council (i.e., Napoleon III's brother). Former President of France, he called the great Emperor Nicholas II's father to dinner. The latter was looking very much like his father, and I heard the great emperor's voice. I didn't get a chance to meet the former President of France, but I did meet his son, who was very charming.

At 10 a.m. we arrived at Schron, a small town near St. Petersburg.

I spent the day in St. Petersburg, visiting various museums and monuments.

Called on Comte Volkstein at Reutershfiel.

I arrived in Moscow after a healthy and comfortable ride.

The main sights of interest were the Kremlin and the Cathedral of the Armed Forces, from where the Tsar was crowned. The Church of the Redeemer is the first monument I encountered upon my arrival. It is a Buddhist temple, and it has been in operation since 1850. The interior is stunning, with intricate carvings and gold decorations. The bells are also impressive, with each one weighing several tons.

After a short visit, I continued my journey to Tsaritsyno, the former imperial summer residence. It is now a museum and park, and it is absolutely beautiful. The gardens are especially impressive, with fountains and statues scattered throughout. The palace itself is also quite striking, with its grand architecture and richly decorated interiors.

Overall, my visit to Moscow was a wonderful experience, and I look forward to returning in the future.
the Great Wall of China, which is a famous Chinese historic monument. It was built to prevent invasions from the north. The Great Wall is a symbol of Chinese civilization and engineering prowess.

We also visited the Forbidden City, the Palace Museum, which is a large palace complex with over 9,000 rooms. It was the imperial palace for China's Ming and Qing dynasties. The museum houses a vast collection of Chinese art and artifacts.

We spent a day at the Temple of Heaven, which is a complex of Taoist buildings. It is one of the most significant Taoist temples in China and is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

The Victoria Peak is a cliff top in Hong Kong that offers a panoramic view of the city. We took a cable car ride to the peak and enjoyed the view of the city lights at night.

We visited the Jade Buddha Temple, which is a Buddhist temple known for its large jade Buddha statue. The temple is said to be over 1,500 years old.

On our last day, we went to the Shanghai Tower, the tallest building in China. We climbed to the observation deck at the top to see the city from above.

Overall, our trip to China was an unforgettable experience.

On 29th March, 1887, I was called upon to attend to the removal of a body that had been found in a mill pond. The body was that of a young girl who had drowned in a tragic accident. The police were unable to identify the deceased, and it was up to me, as a coroner, to conduct the investigation and determine the cause of death.

I arrived at the scene on Sunday, 2nd April, and found the body in a state of decomposition. The circumstances surrounding the death were bizarre, and it soon became clear that the girl had been murdered. The police were no closer to identifying the victim, so I took it upon myself to pursue the investigation further.

I was able to gather some preliminary information from the local community, but it was not until I visited the girl's family that I was able to piece together the events leading up to her death. The girl had been a victim of domestic violence, and her murderer had been her own husband.

I reported my findings to the police, who were able to arrest the suspect based on evidence I had collected. The trial was a long and difficult process, but in the end, justice was served. The suspect was found guilty and sentenced to life in prison.

The case received a great deal of media attention, and it was one of the most high-profile cases of its time. The community was left reeling by the shocking discovery, and the case had a significant impact on the local police force and the criminal justice system.

All day at Triskel.
A good day. Work all day at negotiation. Wrote for Rabbi Kraussoff to Rodereroff et al.
to your Lordship’s last letter the Tuesday 22nd inst. I have a letter from your Lordship’s clerk of the council at the council house in London which I cannot possibly trouble you with. In that letter your Lordship’s clerk of the council ordered me to send his thanks and particularments of the business of this Kingdom. I have been working very hard to get them together, and I hope to have them ready to hand over to the clerk of the council on Tuesday next. I have sent a copy of the letter to your Lordship’s clerk of the council at the council house in London, and I hope to have the letter from your Lordship’s clerk of the council at the council house in London on Tuesday next.

Dear R. Prout,

Permit me to express my regret at the long silence between us. My recent illness has had a bad effect on me, but I am now better, and I have been able to read your letter of May 25th. Your letter made me understand that I have not written to you for some time, and I am very sorry for it. I have been occupied with my own affairs, and I have not had time to write. However, I am now free, and I shall write to you soon.

I am very glad to hear that you are well. I hope that your health is improving. I have been thinking about you a great deal, and I hope that you are not in want of anything. I shall do all in my power to help you if you need it. I am very sorry for the trouble that I have given you, and I hope that I can make up for it by being a better friend.

I shall write to you soon, and I hope that you will be well enough to read my letter. I am very sorry for the trouble that I have caused you, and I hope that I can make up for it by being a better friend.

Yours sincerely,

REEL NO. 3
Saturday, November 5, 1887

Mrs. Steple died at Mrs. Adams' home. Worked all day on the Geology chapter on "Submerged Elevation of the Barrier of Flame."
Sunday, November 6, 1887.

Mr. Callisthenis Greene. Attended morning and afternoon at Calvary Church.

Wednesday and Thursday.

White things that made me 40. I took tea with them.

Monday, November 7, 1887.

To day I am fifty-five years old. Birthday.

My birthday has been joyful. The last thirty of them have been made blessed by the Cheering Salutation I gave my father. May this first time in thirty years the same one up welcome on my birthday. It is hard to live without it.

In the afternoon to Miss Wales, funeral at Calvary Church.

Beautiful but sad indeed to me.
Tuesday, November 8, 1887

Mr. Ezekiel the Sculptor arrived to make Mary's portrait. Street building kept him established. Vote at election. Casting repeat ballots. Capt. one vote. Mr. Tom candidate for school commissioner. In evening repaired to Mr. E. and Mrs. Historical. Engaged in Bibles. The first of Miss Lockwood. Ruth.

Wednesday, November 9, 1887

Id. Weeks ago! This morning a beautiful day. Oil gets all the calamity - catastrophe. My life crowded with more mildly than before. Declared a fog. Miss Ezekiel at dinner.
Thursday, November 10, 1887

Friday, November 11, 1887

One of the gloomiest days in my life. Snow & thunder & great noise of devastation under Declared in town. Concluding Transfers & Sketching out of 17 at 3 o'clock Resolved To go Giddingly. Law Lecture. The Ezekiel Reading. It is suddenly not to be succeeded in leaving my dear cups but. I washed all day in Ecology Chapter Ezekiel at tea in evening.
Two years ago today I knew a lot better of the Puritans
Taylor-Hubbard. Opposite living in the house of Raphael Rotch.
And a year ago my brother was to be Married in the House.

This morning

In morning Maca to Syracuse.

In afternoon as well as morning meeting regarding new bank the Scheemelen, been present. Result: didn't tell me.

In evening much delighted by bringing home the humble centipede I got in my way. Later in 1856 I found one at New Haven. Regarding this, we credit each other, how lonely her face was! It was the vision of her heart and soul. The poor I seem liked well so well, she left very much.
Thursday, November 24, 1887

Early in morning thought constantly of my dear last one. Thirty one years ago the morning she came to the Bay Room I can still occupying - so happy in her letter shows.

To St. James' Church where she and so happily 31 years ago stood. Present thoughts were all upon those old days, and marks connection with them left as well as a thank offering. Thank most heartily for the dear love and all the happiness she brought me. Ever all time. In going and returning to Syracuse. I sat alone in the dear old room until after midnight thinking of my old times - Castor and their beautiful face in the old ambrotype.

At work on "French Institute before the Revolution."

In the evening with Andrew Heuston. Went home and got bed to hang up his stockings. Arranged Charles. Just a year ago tonight he was twenty-one. Was busy at all his pleasant work. The poor dear man. He has been many Christmases. Was first and I knew her to be so! Also—Also—All that is gone forever.

At work on 'French Institute before the Revolution.'
In the evening with Andrew Reeburg. Bought her down out of bed to hang up in stockings.

Just a year ago tonight my dear one was busy at all her pleasant work. To think how many Christmases I have had. I have a hard part to think of her so active in kindness. Just a year before it hardly seemed a week before.

Ticket to the Chapel - The Little Chapel.

Sunday, December 25, 1887

Tried hard to forget that this is the first Christmas mom in so many years. Oh, my own dear Mary. How half-grown she is. Merry Christmas. Came down I helped Andrew Reeburg.

Thought by Santa Claus - I was living a hard part. To think of her so active in kindness just a year before it hardly seemed a week before.

Jane Newborn is born just as when we were born together at Christmas. Was several years ago. The letter from her. We stood together when the baby was baptized. The old church. A raid on the little p.m. in magic and mischief, dined with us.

After comfortably getting up, went about for coffee and breakfast at the station. Started from Richmond at 8 a.m. and arrived at Knoxville, East Tennessee, by 2 p.m. during the Civil War. Breakfasted at a clean, nice little place for 50 cents.

Rode to all the places on the line, except Dalton, Rome, and Animal. Saw a few Negroes, a few black people, and occasionally a good farm house in the distance. Saw some fields perhaps 3 or 4 miles wide, but not as wide as hundreds of cotton fields all about us as we drove through Alabama.

Arrived at Montgomery in evening.
March, Wednesday 14, 1888

The house full of the Memphis town story. Rehearsed at the beach-8th floor from a fifteen-year hoist car. There are many letters, most of which are not yet read. I asked Mr. Harriman, "Why don't you write letters?"

I am at Montgomery all alone tonight--

March, Thursday 15, 1888

Left Montgomery at 7:30 a.m. on the railroad. Arrived at Mobile, 11 a.m.--The town--The mail brings a mail mass of letters, most of them of little importance.

Now about half a dozen in full bloom. Some flowers, but general lack of town beauty to speak of. Especially in the business portion. Hotel quite good.

Horace Coale of the Cincinnati, Ohio, in the city. Saw Yancey's grave. He died just in time to avoid the catastrophe. Town very pleasant but slovenly and dirty.

SUNDAY

In leisure to the Pulleys Church. We heard a sermon from Dr. H. Stopped at Dr. Badger's for some food, and then went back to the next day. Dr. Badger's house was very quiet and clean. I'm sorry we didn't get there sooner. Dr. Badger's wife is a great deal younger than her husband. She is around 20 years younger. She has a very gentle manner and is always welcome in our home. We enjoyed our visit very much.

MONDAY

Miss J. California from John California. She talked today as far as possible, and seemed to have quite a pull on the audience. She then told us that the circus was on account of Misson's Fair, and she showed us some of the finest pictures and paintings. He almost succeeded in fact but had some difficulty. The circus is in town, and John was driving to the big beautiful building of the tent. He talked to a few people, and we were invited to a dinner at a hotel called the Club.

April, Thursday 19. 1888.

The sun is setting. I've been out this afternoon and saw a beautiful sunset. The sky is painted with hues of orange and pink. The clouds are thin and scattered, giving the sky a soft glow.

April, Friday 20. 1888.

Snow all over ground. The sun is setting and steadily falling cold. The wind is howling, and the trees rustle in the wind. I wonder if there will be a storm tonight?

I was thinking about the past, about all the things that have happened. It's hard to believe how much has changed in the past year. The world is in a state of flux, and we are all struggling to stay afloat.

I find myself wondering about the future. What will happen? Will we be able to overcome the challenges we face? Will we be able to find a way forward?

I think about my friends and family, and I wonder how they are doing. Are they happy? Are they healthy? I hope so, but I know that life is full of uncertainties.

I remember the day I met you. It was a beautiful day, and I felt a sense of connection with you. I've been thinking about you ever since.

I wonder if you have been thinking about me, too. It would be nice to know that you are thinking of me.

I hope you are well. I wish I could be there with you, but life has its way of making us apart.

I miss you. I hope you will write me soon. I would love to hear from you.

Yours truly,

From early dawn thinking of my own dear one and this day last year, this the anniversary of my dear father's death. Of his coming down and the first encounter with Clara and Ruth. Visited Oakwood Cemetery and the scenes the site of our little boy's flight a little cella in the mausoleum and accosted it.

A sad day - so full of cruel remembrance. The old ache and pain as bitter as ever. Time does little to mitigate then.

In writing sat alone in my library and recalled her dear gracious presence in that and adjoining rooms.

In the morning wrote upon the Bible in the corner of the house in the room to Oakwood to have inscriptions to mother, Mary, and mother in law in elaborate monument.

I went to see Bruges.

Later sat again in my old study - thinking of her of my dead soul. I love you, my dear. It was very cold.

The years again were cited in my brain for the first time. And to happy in our earlier patterns.

In the morning to Court. I appeared in behalf of the claimant. The facts are that the claimant is entitled to compensation for the destruction of his property. The question is whether the destruction was caused by the claimant or by some third party. The judge ruled in favor of the claimant, and the case was dismissed.

In the afternoon, I attended a meeting of the local legislature. The discussion was centered around the recent changes in the tax laws. The representatives from the different districts presented their views, and a consensus was reached on the proposed amendments.

JULY, 1888.

JULY, 1888.

Tuesday, 24th.

In the evening from the train to York attended service in York Minster.

Wednesday, 25th.

The service was in the cathedral. We lay in the choir stalls.

Walked about the cathedral before service and saw the whole cathedral again. Saw the choir and the nave and the west front.

To the station Hotel, then to the station.
July 26, 1888

In the morning about 9.30 we arrived at York. We walked about the city and saw many interesting things. The Minster is very beautiful, especially the roof of the organ. We walked in the great hall and saw the famous carvings of the thirteenth century. We went to the Cathedral to hear the service. The service was very fine, and we were very much impressed with the beauty of the music. We then went to the museum and saw many interesting things. We spent the afternoon in visiting the old city and saw many beautiful buildings.

July 27, 1888

It was a beautiful day and we decided to go to the coast. The view was very beautiful and we spent the afternoon enjoying the scenery. We also went to the beach and saw many people. The sea was very calm and we enjoyed the fresh air. We spent the evening in visiting the city and saw many interesting things.

Arrived at Cambridge.

A very pleasant evening. The room was the same from which I had heard so many years ago. Those words, those voices, those faces, those rooms. I walked about the room. I thought constantly of the past. The past. The present. The future. The past was the most beautiful dream of all. The present was the least pleasant. The future was the most uncertain. That was all that I remember.

I was reading that God's blessing on the Church was such that its influence was felt throughout the land. It reached the homes of the poor and the rich. At the church services, there was a feeling of unity. The Church, with its beautiful architecture, was written by the poet "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want." It was a place where people found peace and comfort. The Psalter was sung beautifully. Then we returned home to St. Luke Church, where the words "Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven" were sung.

Arranged to sail up the Nile in Sotho’s—July 12th, 1914, just one month from yesterday. Walked about Cairo, intensely interested in the architecture, great Egyptian cities I had expected to see. The Pyramids. No one can possibly understand the splendor of the gateway to the Nile.

Long letter to Clara as well as Justice Card, then read several interesting books on Egypt, especially the secrets of the Sphinx. Very much enjoyed it.

Friday 4

Making business for our departure, we thought in Cairo. Reading a book by a famous Egyptian, a guide to the pyramids. Written in Russian, in a hurried style. Arranged to see a number of things favorable to our trip. Read, Rev. Dr. Clara American Missionary. Served by good man. In town, the marketplace, very crowded. Shies, horse and statue great. She said she saw it at Rome.

Traveled to Luxor. Slept there one night, then on to Aswan. Read in Luxor Egypt, until midnight. Waked up after the coffee. Called at a Citadel, visited the Luxor temple. Very fine museum. Called on our Cairo general—very helpful.

Early in mor. started off up river. First striking object—pyramid was the great Pyramid of Iouadoum on "Great Pyramid"—very striking too. The spine of pyramids stretching in the distance along the west bank.

No stoppage made during day. A view from South side of Cairo in early mor. but in afternoon it became delicious—wonderful effect of castling of sun on the west back of us far in front. I never saw such an Egyptian gradation of blue and the colors—purple, green, yellow, red—and during this clay Ras Barraman wrote his book.

It is full of thought
- Some very ingenious but altogether very suggestive + valuable.
All day on boat. No stop. Read steadily in Bartham-Zuider Egypt of Barham, etc. Almost last part only in ballad. Bartham Zuider was born in the Civil Service in India & Canada.

We spent the night in the vine and visited the other ladies. From Dunquon

Friday 18

At 5 our whole party went across hill to Dunquon and took the temple until they visited the temple. Then we visited the temple. Temple II, Temple III, Temple IV, and others. On way to town, stopped at Temple I. Roosevelt Palace of Roosevelt II. On way back, from hills giving a superb panorama of the town. Down to the town on the mountain. Statues of the great奇葩 creatures, interesting and a heavy day's work.

In town with dark large party to Dunquon to see the temple by moonlight. All impossible ground effect of the deep shadows on the stones. After clothing, the moon to see which Sublime Splendid Angel Magnificent! My own heart feels a good clamber. Really the place.

On morning the Consul having kindly sent his beautiful daughter for me his bi-lion accompanied me to Karsah aud took all persons to the Temple. His knowledge on Touching vines & grapes & olives at dawn the took us to visit in wonderfully preserved little Temple & then the cornice little statue of Thamyris was at trouble was discovered.
In evening dined very pleasantly at Mr. Ludwig's Arabigeh the 'Hathors' the other guests being Iske for become an art critic and his wife.

On morning quietly with J to Karsah and communicated with Mr. Bone Thoughts on that Great Temple getting for the first time an idea of it as a whole. Friday 25

The town is surrounded by walls. We visited a quarry near the city. We made a visit to the city's market and visited a temple. We made arrangements to return to the Pharaonic Cemetery. We left at 5 PM.

Saturday 26

In the morning, we took a train to the R.R. station near the town. We went by boat to the Pharaoh's boat. We visited the first Cataract and the Beautiful Temple of Amun. We reached the Temple of the Pharaoh, which is very interesting. We visited the Coptic Church. We continued to the temple. We found a stone tablet just before the altar. The tablet is very interesting. We visited the Temple of Amun, which is very beautiful.

Our lunch was taken in the beautiful little temple. We enjoyed Pharaoh's food. It was very pleasant for the weather.
Sunday 27

In afternoon will 7 o'clock to Dahabia after Cochrane & then 5 o'clock to Elahab. Cochrane took us around on bag and sail and then left.

Went to New Edict Brunch.

Then across from Elephantine to Elahab where we moved to American hotel in "Zaria" & took "Nubia" in Muslin Cafe & back to steamer.

Monday 28

In morning went off to Alawa & postal to Taher. Drove back to Zara & Thar Bazaar.

Wrote letters to Theo. Bacon, H. C. Tyler et al.
To the granite quarries.

Very interesting for the

the Swiss port of Abidos.
Read during
day Ebers, Egyptians, Artichce, prophetic
first book.
Breakfast at 6 1/2.

All day struggling along, sticking on various sand banks. But the weather delicious.

Ride very pleasant. Looked at the steam in some respect more interesting than any others yet seen. Carrying of bottle water. Afternoon nice, but dinner in evening in view of the Pyramids. I hear all the English girls for Cairo, but I am not there. I had to make a very nice little speech. Had an evening at the hotel, at the fresco. I was forced by the Americans to speak a little. I recite rather badly, other ability. For the rest they were a surprise—it is the first time they have travelled in this way.
Thursday 7

Early in the morning the eastern half of our company left by train for Cartagena, General Velarde's General. The train was late the night before. Most of the passengers in need of laundry were turned back. Only two who earned left enjoyed it. I read on deck in the delirium of the atmosphere. Read many in Masterton's Archæology of Egypt. Since then interested than at first. Reading scenes most interesting—on deck, called "front of heaven," on cliffs, on east side of island, among central walls, ancient sculptures. Fell up, sat back; in emerald color light.
In morning all left steaming for station at Dabu. Morning busy; baggage, cows, camels, and bays, and donkeys.

Morning air deplorable. First carting legs in hour. At 11.30 a.m. water starting. But partly cloudy.

When arrived at Cairo, Stepping Hotel. Dined there. The hour was examined. Full farewell dinner in the new dining room. By splashing detained from the charge. Mother.

He success with Mr. Fobbe of darkness. With Mr. Fobbe and Flannags, after his camp. 9.30.
Monday 11

In morning came + TLS to White House. at 3 30 P.M. with the Queen to dinner. Stayed long over dog Easter. Clara on house arrangements for E. t. & T. 1100 at dinner - taking an office in the same way to talk. With Prof. Locke & Mr. Millar to Jewellery & Frame Ships from sea. Beautiful things.

Tuesday 12

All went with the White House to command Nelson. at the dinner table in the room of letter. on the Green Scherza of Duke of York. Afternoon with Lord Rotherham at the Depot Educ. for the Naval Technical School. He & Eugene B. Wag-borough my Kidd. Thanked me for my effort. I forgot to see 2 of the students with two forms of Napoleon. Regled from Grand Duke. to Czar. of the invitation to dinner with the Kaiser at the Palace of St. Peters. Tomorrow to sail. Called on Cardwell.

Friday 22

In morning sent the package to Mr. Adams, the registered package of about 20 kg to Mr. Magill of Greenland.

In the afternoon visited the palace of Gevrek.

On Thursday saw the palace of one of the Poles. A merchant's home with caravans, large lamps, large lamps of fruit, etc. The walls and doors covered with gold and silver. The furniture was also very fine. The coffee was served in precious silver dishes. The bar is very fine. There were drummers and drummers on each side. The drumming was very fine.
Saturday 23

Letter from Mrs. O. Clara Ruth. It is Jasper Smith, Chatfield Duncan, etc. Hottest weather. Let me have letters of recommendation for office under the new administration.

With best in RH.

During this time the Bazaar to the tomb of the president in the family just outside the city.

The tomb was covered with the crescent and crowded with people. Colors: festivity still going on here.

The wife of President Park was funeral in saw day before July 4.

The scaffold of the orators was covered with a blanket and covered with a black arbor.

Then to the sphinx gate to back of Sphynx. The nature cleared up more on my return to Cairo.

For the whole day perfection.
Monday 25

In the morning with Mr. E.S. Prince of Boston to the Great University. Visited the Mosque El-Afiqan. Said to be 10,000 students. Old professors in Ishtanboul. Surrounded by sprinkled students to whom she was addressing. He looked surprised, like Mr. Muntaz. Then into the great court when a great multitude of students from 6 to 70 years of age were gathered in groups by the Ishtanboul squatted, reflecting. The Koran from being on stone writing, they on the plate or paper. Then into the Mosque which was open to all students. Then to Khedive's library, beautifully illuminated. Mess. Y. in plan to Courts of the Caliphs. Thursday, 25.

Tuesday 26

Reading & quiet, walked alone. Called on Mr. Muntaz in Ishtanboul. Conversed with the town breeders of Ishtanboul.

Thermometer about 76° in shade - but the weather hot oppressin - air bracing. Read again first part of Barham Zucke's ad. - Visited both on Egypt. Letters from A and Z. etc. etc.,

Achmat began his regular service on our dragoman. Weather cooler - & breezy bracing.

Early in morning sat for la. siege in the American Museum. Sunday School heard my old college friend Dr. F. H. graham, at Beyout cæcide the children in Arabic. Read Abraham's story in "Fillah," a bit valuable in Arabic Egyptian masters.

At 10.30 heard a Frenchman in English at the American Museum. Plan shown on what is also shade of map—showing all the amazing childlike quality of his belief. Then after lunch they practically welcomed us even long worn the mushroom at 52° in shade, but with like of Thackeray to Old Cairo, visited the two most interesting old Coptic churches. On way, mosque, by interesting woodwork, arabesque carpentry, decoration in the forenoon. To the English Cemetery and stood by the grave of Lady Duff Gordon, which letters on Egypt so interested her.

Tuesday 5

In the morning I walk with the horses. I walk coffee at the Chateau of Walch. The coffee was very delicious as I had expected.

The hotel has that in the hotel the had left in the morning. Showed chateau then from the suit. I the library of the manor for a Dr. Mancini. A Chalcott. A Scald. In America with it.

In town called upon Dr. Macenfies at the New Hotel.

Wednesday 6

Thursday, April 18th
I called on Mr. Knudtson, Mr. E. L. Heg Reas.
Mr.经常会

I visited Sandis about having scarabs mounted.
To walk through cattle bracelet with scarabs for Ruth.
Kegan Reasian,
Mr. Sharp's Mot. of Egypt.
In the morning with Mme. de St. Flour. Saw several churches in the heart of the city. It is beautiful to see so many forms of Gothic, Romanesque, and Byzantine art all huddled together. English, Catholic, French, Jacobins. Each church was like a museum for artistic lovers. Stopped near the neighborhood of the Bazaar.

In the evening making last preparation for leaving. The mail leaves at 7.00 a.m. at first, but I am delayed in order to see Mr. Straus. We have lunch at Colonel Stuhl's. About 6.00 I went to Captain Gorga's at the embassy and took him to Stalin in a delay. Then we walked in adjacent area to Tiflis quarter to see the faithful keep the fast of Ramazan. I also noted the striking change. Instantly after the Evening Prayer announcing sunset was fired when all have eaten and drunk of at last around Stuhl's house. Striking appearance of illuminated things.

Washington, D.C., April 1, 1890.

Dear Mr. [Name],

I regret to inform you of the recent developments in the [case name] matter. Our team has been working diligently to prepare the next steps in the legal process. We anticipate filing the appeal on [date].

Please find attached the latest legal brief, which outlines our arguments. We encourage you to review it thoroughly.

I look forward to discussing this with you in person and discussing any further actions we may take.

Sincerely,

To meet at St. Pancras and then to Church where I preached from an sermon on the resurrection. The discourse began with the tongue of fire and with soundness of voice. The discourse ended with a wish to reach the article. The discourse was delivered with amazing rapidity and without notes.

At noon luncheoned with Messrs. Pleasance with Mr. Hall and Messrs. Noble. Then to St. Pancras Bridge. Messrs. Noble. Then to Euston. By train, indeed. Then to reception at St. Pancras. Then to Mr. Hall's house. Mr. Hall's wife. Then to dinner. Then to Euston. Then to the train. Then to London.

December, Tuesday 29. 1891.

Not too many were released. Cello, Celot Lodge, Mr. Jordan, Sillman, Huxley, and others.
December, Thursday 31. 1891.

During Christmas I was in a different place. The idea of a cold winter was dispelled by the warmth and comfort of the fireside. Mrs. Brown and Mr. Smith were both present, and the evening was spent in merry conversation and good cheer.

December 30. 1891.

We were all present at the annual meeting of the society. The treasurer reported the state of the finances, which were in good condition. The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and presented the records of the year. The president thanked the members for their support and announced the plans for the coming year.

The meeting adjourned with the hope of seeing everyone again next year.

Explanation of the...

In Austria and Russia, the gold and silver coins are generally subject to import duties. In France, Belgium, and the Netherlands, the florin is the standard unit. In Denmark and Sweden, the dollar is equivalent to 200 cents. In Greece, the drachma is the standard unit. Italian notes and Spanish currency are also in circulation, but the silver of these countries passes current in Italy.
