

PROGRAM

Twentieth
Annual Conference
for Veterinarians

January Twelfth
and Thirteenth
Nineteen Twenty-eight

New York State Veterinary College
At Cornell University
Ithaca, N. Y.

PROGRAM

THURSDAY, JANUARY 12, 1928

Amphitheatre, South Wing, James Law Hall

MORNING. J. N. FROST, presiding.

- 9:30 Opening remarks V. A. MOORE
- 9:45 The anatomy of the fowl, for post mortem work. E. SUNDERVILLE
- 10:15 The transmission of Bacterium pullorum infection among adult chickens. E. L. BRUNETT
- 10:45 Vaccination of dogs against rabies, with particular relation to the single-dose vaccine. H. W. SCHOENING
U.S. Bureau of Animal Industry,
Washington, D. C.
- 11:30 The Use of colloidal carbon suspension in veterinary and human medicine. R. L. CONKLIN
MacDonald College, Quebec, Canada
- 12:00 Diseases in captive wild animals from a practitioner's standpoint. W. E. MULDOON
Peru, Ind.

General Discussion

1:00 Luncheon

(There are cafeterias in the Home Economics Building, Willard Straight Hall and Cascadilla.)

AFTERNOON. P. A. FISH, presiding.

- 2:00 The physiological and pathological changes of the ovary and their clinical recognition. W. W. WILLIAMS
Springfield, Mass.

- 3:00 Brucella abortus studies.
 A. The thermal death point of Br. abortus
 B. Report of agglutination test on 3000 samples of human sera.
 C. M. CARPENTER
- 3:30 The relation of the bull to the spread of
 Bang abortion disease.
 HERBERT L. GILMAN
- 4:00 Handling Bang abortion disease—a program for the veterinary practitioner.
 R. R. BIRCH

EVENING

- 7:00 Alumni Association meetings in James Law
 Hall (rooms to be assigned).
- 9:00 Smoker _____

FRIDAY, JANUARY 13, 1928

MORNING. R. R. BIRCH, presiding.

- 9:00 Some practical points concerning the use of anti-hog cholera serum and hog cholera virus.
 J. W. BENNER
- 9:30 The blood of animals in health and disease.
 C. E. HAYDEN and P. A. FISH
- 10:00 Johne's disease and Johnin.
 W. A. HAGAN and A. ZEISSIG
- 10:45 Importance of minerals in stock feeding.
 F. B. MORRISON
 Agricultural Experiment Station, Geneva, N. Y.
- 11:45 Current problems concerning milk control.
 GEO. W. GRIM
 Milk Control Officer, Ardmore, Penna.
- General Discussion.
- 1:00 Luncheon
 (A light lunch will be served at the college).

AFTERNOON. D. H. UDALL, presiding.

- 2:00 Physical examination of dogs. H. J. MILKS
2:45 Some case reports from the Small Animal
Clinic. H. C. STEPHENSON
3:15 Osteomalacia. J. N. FROST
4:00 Health control in breeding animals.
M. G. FINCHER

EVENING

6:30 Banquet—Ithaca Hotel V. A. MOORE
Toastmaster

New York State Veterinary Medical Society.
A. L. DANFORTH
President of the Society, Watertown, N. Y.

American Veterinary Medical Association.
H. P. HOSKINS
Secretary of the Association, Detroit, Mich.

Non-professional education for veterinarians.
JAMES SULLIVAN
Department of Education, Albany, N. Y.

Address.
PRESIDENT LIVINGSTON FARRAND

The members of the faculty will be glad to give any demonstration that is possible during the conference if those who wish it will notify us in advance. The librarian will be pleased to give any assistance to those who wish to use the library.