

2005 BARTELS SPEAKER

Dennis Ross

Former U.S. Ambassador, Special Middle East Coordinator, currently Counselor and Zeigler Distinguished Fellow of the Washington Institute for Near East Policy

For more than twelve years, Ambassador Dennis B. Ross played the leading role in shaping U.S. involvement in the Middle East peace process and in dealing directly with the negotiations. A highly skilled diplomat, Ambassador Ross was this country's point man in both the G.H.W. Bush and Clinton administrations for exploring all avenues and approaches to settling this age-old conflict.

Cornell Chronicle