

THE STATION NEWS

Vol. IX, No. 21.

May 25, 1927.

Geneva, N.Y.

ANNOUNCEMENTS HAVE been received of the marriage last Saturday at Trumansburg of Miss Ruth Reynolds and Leslie R. Hawthorn. Upon their return to Geneva, Mr. and Mrs. Hawthorn will make their home at 43 Hoffman Avenue. Mr. Hawthorn's mother journeyed from the family home in London to attend the ceremony. The NEWS extends congratulations and best wishes !

MR. JOHNSON, junior project leader for Ontario County, is bringing a group of boys to the Station tomorrow for a practical demonstration of cattle judging with the Station herd as the subject of study. It is expected that out of this group will be chosen a judging team to represent Ontario County at the State Fair judging contest for boys. A picnic supper will be one feature of the day, to be followed by lantern slides to be shown in the Library later in the evening.

MRS. THATCHER left for Chicago early yesterday morning where she will meet her mother, Mrs. Fulmer, today, the two returning to Geneva tomorrow. Mrs. Fulmer is planning to spend the summer in Geneva and will find a hearty welcome from her many friends here.

PROF. W. H. ALDERMAN, chief of the Division of Horticulture at the University of Minnesota, spent some time at the Station the first of the week. Mr. Alderman was an assistant in the Horticultural Department here from 1908 to 1911, going from here to the West Virginia Experiment Station and then to Minnesota. With his family he has been spending the past year on an automobile tour which has taken them to California, through the Southwest and the southern states to Florida, and thence northward through the eastern states on the way back to the middle west.

THE entire personnel of the Dairy Division is scheduled to appear on the program at the Dairy Science Association meeting in East Lansing, Michigan, next month, according to the printed programs now out.

As a reminder to those who participate in the State Fair, attention is again called to a meeting of the Exhibits Committee to be held next week when information will be wanted about plans for the 1927 Fair.

MRS. HENING'S father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Evans, arrived in Geneva last Saturday, having driven from Pomona, California, to Geneva in 16 days. They expect to spend the summer in Geneva.

MR. SLATE and Dr. Nebel went to Rochester yesterday to look over the lilacs in Highland Park. Incidentally, the Sells-Floto Circus was also in Rochester yesterday.

MISS HOGAN continues to absorb most of the prize money in the Geneva Times' ad writing contest, having again taken first place in last week's contest.

MR. G. W. CAVANAUGH, professor of agricultural chemistry at Cornell, visited the Inspection Laboratory last week.

PROF. CROSBY, entomologist at the College of Agriculture, and Mr. Mills, one of the spray service men, were recent callers at the Station.

W. J. GODDISON, a veteran cheese maker of northern New York and a former resident of Geneva, visited the Dairy Division yesterday. Mr. Goodison is now with the Department of Agriculture and Markets at Albany. He said that plans were being made for the manufacture of a "big" cheese for the State Fair. Mr. Goodson was accompanied by Mr. Roberts also an inspector in the Department.

MR. WM. LYDON is serving on the jury in the local police court today.

DR. SHERMAN, Prof. Fisk, and Prof. Chapman, all of the Dairy Department at Cornell, called at the Station during the past week. Mr. Dahlberg is planning to go to Cornell Friday for a conference on some proposed ice cream investigations.

SEVERAL of the Station bird fanciers visited the goose and duck preserve maintained at Junius by Mr. Peck. This rather unique establishment supplies geese and ducks of unusual breeds to parks and other public collections. Mr. Peck also makes an exhibit of wild fowl at the State Fair each year.

MENTAL agility proved inadequate in a combat with brute force on Jersey Field last Friday evening when the "Upstarts" came from behind to take a hotly contested five-inning game from the "Intellectuals" with a score of 12 to 11. The victors waged an uphill fight thruout the contest, trailing their opponents until the last half of the fifth when the winning runs were shoved over the plate with timely hitting. Scintillating catches by centerfielder Jones were the outstanding features of a game replete with brilliant work on both sides in the field and at bat. The score follows:

Intellectuals -- 6-2-1-2-9--11
Upstarts ----- 2-3-2-3-2--12
Shriner, Clark and Eglinton;
Hening and Pederson.

Resumption of hostilities is dependent upon more favorable weather conditions than have been enjoyed the past few days.

WE HEAR a persistent rumor, which we have been unable to verify, that Harry King, the hard-working short stop for the "Upstarts" has been fined and indefinitely suspended on the grounds that he was "fixed" to throw the game to the "Intellectuals" last Friday.
