VOL. II NO XLIX

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR Dec. 14, 1916

EDITORIAL

The Christmas spirit is upon us here and now, since the time has come when we can say "next week, we go home." Although ready it's a question of the first train after the last class and one Freshman invites another to the Cat Burning. For know ye, there are Freshmen who have a string of black cats, one for each day before Christmas, and they keep tab by ceremoniously doing away with one every night.

Christmas is a shorter vacation this year, but we believe it is still long enough to get in the usual double joy, - going home, and then coming back to Cornell.

Somebody write a Christmas jingle for us to count off days from now until Friday week. We wish all of our budding poets would contribute and if necessary, we can rim an "all-jingle" number of the Bulletin.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

The first play hour was devoted almost entirely to folk dancing, under Miss Atkinson's direction. Afterwards, some of the girls stayed and watched the Varsity basket ball practice.

By the way, it wouldn't be a bad idea for the girls to support the home games as much as they possibly can. The men say that they appreciate the girl's enthusiasm, a lot.

We have nothing definite aboutasket ball practice, but see your class managers this afternoon or to-morrow about the second practice for this week.

CLASSES.

Juniors and Freshmen, don't forget the joint class meeting tomorrow night. If you haven't signed up for dinner in Risley that night, do it at once.

Christmas is coming, Remember the Day Calendar and Christmas Greetings of the Co-op.

Bulletin Board meeting: Friday at 5:15 in the office of the Advisor of Women.

Bulletin Staff meeting today at 5:15 in Risley Recreation Room. This meeting calls for the business manager and the day editors. Please be there.

REVIEW.

The December number of the Cornell Women's Review is out and it certainly is mighty good. There are several interesting articles about the proposed new dormitories and how the girls earned their ten dollars for the fund. Effey Ruloy contributed a good little Christmas poem, and of course there are lots of alumnae notes.

The next number will be an athletic number, and promises to be very attractive. There will be cuts of the various teams and articles by members of the physical training department. So if you haven't signed up, sign up now before you miss anything more.

If anyone has subscribed, and does not receive a copy, please notify the office so the correction can be made at once.

DRAMATIC CLUB.

The council is considering a revised system whereby leading parts, council memberships, minor parts, committee chairmanships and committee memberships will all be made to count in graded order, toward the award of a Dramatic Club shingle. Under the present system nothing below minor parts counts toward the shingle.

A Christmas Party will be given at the Old Ladies' Home, Saturday at 3:30 p.m.

On Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, a Christmas meeting will be held at the Old Ladies' Home.

Everybody welcome.
