Y.W.C.A.

Large Cabinet meeting today at 5 o'clock in Barnes to discuss plans for the meeting on Sunday at which Miss Margaret Slattery will speak.

The following is a brief summary of the performance given, last Saturday, by the Frosh, with a few Sophs taking minor parts.

ACT I

TIME- 5:30 P. M. PLACE- Risley or Sage

After returning from the Star, the Frosh are seen hastily dressing; - an unusual excitement prevails in the fourth floor (Annex). Let us seek the cause, - Of course it is the Frosh Banquet!!

ACT II

TIME- 7:30 PLACE- Conservatory Hall

Scene I- A general dash for the mirror where maidens fix the stray locks and empty the contents of slipper bags.

Scene II- The hall fills with laughter and applause. The change of diet is appreciated! Everyone enjoys the toasts and speeches for they are all unusually clever.

Scene III- Dancing to splendid music on a dandy floor. The centre of attraction, however is a scene called "The Cornell Women's Review", in which the celebrates of the evening see themselves as others, (particularly the Frosh) see them.

ACT III

TIME- 12- 1 PLACE- Risley or Sage

The bed-time of the Frosh is delayed for obvious reasons; and by likewise obvious methods and obstacles, the Sophs who are apparently sleeping the sleep of the just, are aroused from their slumbers. The wee sma' hours of the morning, see strange sights but not new ones. (We discreetly draw the curtain)

ORCHESTRA.
