

S. Harvath '13 ASSOCIATE EDITORS L. Bentley '18 D. Schmidt '18
 G. Bleiman '19 E. REYNOLDS E. Stufflebeam '18 B. Bate '18
 A. Street '19 W. STAFFORD E. Glover '20 E. REISER

VOL II NO

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR

March 10, 1917.

DAILY CALENDAR.

Y. W. C. A.

Rehearsal for Far Away Princess, part Cast,
 R. R. R.
 A. T. A. Meeting, Sat. March 20, 7:30, A. C. R.

EDITORIAL.

It is to be expected that entering girls will look for merit in all our University publications, among them the Bulletin. The girls quite naturally place a high standard, and, if they are at first disappointed, criticisms are inevitable. "destructive criticism" is likely to precede "constructive," but it is indeed time, as yesterday's editorial suggested, for the girls to make their criticism valuable and efficient.

There is nothing like a personal interest in a thing to make you approve of it. Subscribe to the Bulletin: you will soon develop a vital interest in what is printed there, and be unable to get along without the morning paper. Then decide just what will make our little daily more satisfactory. If you will convey your views to one of the day-editors, you may be sure of a courteous and sympathetic interview. Moreover, support your own opinion materially. One way to do this is to see that all notices are published.

If you will take a patriotic, loyal interest in the Bulletin, and give it your support consistently, you will be fully repaid in many ways.

One Who Knows.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT.

There will be a meeting of the Executive Committee, Monday at 7:30 in Dr. Matzke's office.

DRAMATIC CLUB.

There will be a rehearsal of the Far Away Princess today for the following: Dorothy Griffith, Inez Ross, and Louise Inches immediately after lunch in R. R. R. The rehearsal for tomorrow will be for all the cast.

PAGEANT.

There will be a meeting of the Costume Committee of the Pageant, Monday in Risley Organization Room at 5:15. Every member must attend or see G. Bleiman, Risley 237, before Monday.

Sunday night at Barnes Hall, 7:15 the Cornell girls will have an opportunity to hear Miss Margaret Blattery, a member of the Massachusetts Board of Education. Miss Blattery has made a special study of college girls and their problems and therefore this opportunity to hear her should not be neglected. Tickets of admission must be shown. Miss Blattery will also speak at the Methodist Church, Monday afternoon at four o'clock.

CLASSES.

1918 - Remember the sleigh ride that we are going to have on Tuesday if the snow only appears. All out for the occasion and make it a real class get-together.

Will the following please report in R. R. R. at 5 o'clock on Monday.

- M. Montgomery
- L. Bean
- M. Luscher
- D. Ball
- L. Case
- M. Barstow
- I. Hoag

Practically every Junior in the class has now been assigned a part in the Christening. If there is any one who has not yet found out her part, please do so before Tuesday as rehearsals will start then.

REVIEW.

That the Musicale given Thursday under the auspices of the Review was a success is shown by the fact that nineteen dollars was taken in. The next entertainment in the series will be given in a short time.

The Vaudeville a La Mode which will be given tomorrow will be repeated some night next week for the benefit of the Review.

A. T. A.

A. T. A. Meeting Risley Organization Room, Saturday March 10th, 7:30 p. m.

ADVERTISEMENT.

Have you tried Highland Linen writing paper? The quality is good and the surface is delightful when writing. Buy at the Co-op.