On reference to J. H. North's History of Arizona, I find that the Kennedty Bridge was built sometime after the decease of Gen. Saltus. So the tradition must relate to some other bridge.