

sometimes I cannot overcome my depression of spirits; I firmly believe, that every thing, is for the best, and ordained for some wise purpose, beyond the comprehension of short sighted mortals; there is a superintending Providence, above, who governs all things, and on him I will rely, under every circumstance.

Caroline intends remaining with us, about a fortnight longer her little girl is a great source of amusement; she is very playful, and enjoys perfect health. Has Sister's dear little boy any teeth, or does he go alone? Give him for me dear Mother, and present my best love to Mrs Johnson and Abby.

all here, desire, affectionate remembrance to you; I am most tenderly your Daughter
