CHECKLIST OF HOLDINGS ON BORNEO i
IN THE CORNELL UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES

THE CORNELL UNIVERSITY SOUTHEAST ASIA PROGRAM

The Southeast Asia Program was organized at Cornell University in the Department of Far Eastern Studies (now the Department of Asian Studies) in 1950. It is a teaching and research program of interdisciplinary studies in the humanities, social sciences, and some natural sciences. It deals with Southeast Asia as a region, and with the individual countries of the area: Burma, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaya, the Philippines, Thailand, and Vietnam.

The activities of the Program are carried on both at Cornell and in Southeast Asia. They include an undergraduate and graduate curriculum at Cornell which provides instruction by specialists in Southeast Asian cultural history and present-day affairs, and offers intensive training in each of the major languages of the area. The Program sponsors group research projects on Thailand, on Indonesia, on the Philippines, and on the area's Chinese minorities. At the same time, individual staff and students of the Program have done field research in every Southeast Asian country.

A list of publications relating to Southeast Asia which may be obtained on prepaid order directly from the Program office is given at the end of this volume. Information on the Program staff, fellowships, requirements for degrees, and current course offerings will be found in an Announcement of the Department of Asian Studies, obtainable from the Director, Southeast Asia Program, Franklin Hall, Cornell University, Ithaca, New York 14850.

INTRODUCTION

The present checklist is an attempt to list all publications on Borneo in the Cornell University Libraries. Most of them would be in the Wason Collection, while a small number would be scattered through various collections on the campus.

The first step in compiling this checklist was to record all entries under corporate- and subject headings beginning with Borneo, Brunei, Sarawak, North Borneo, Pontianak, Bandjermasin, Dyak, Iban and other geographical and ethnic names related to the island. A further subject approach was applied by looking up various likely subjects, such as Agriculture, Ethnology, Education, and checking them under the appropriate geographical subdivisions, e.g. Agriculture--Sarawak.

The next step was to go through the Wason shelflist, and check the entries under classifications likely to yield items on Borneo, such as DS646.3 through DS646.38, GN630, etc.

A final check was made against Conrad P. Cotter's Reading list of English language materials in the social sciences on British Borneo (Honolulu, 1960), against North Borneo, Brunei and Sarawak: a bibliography or /i.e. of/ English language historical, administrative and ethnographic sources by Conrad P. Cotter, Wilhelm G. Solheim III and Thomas R. Williams (n.p., 1963?) and against Cornell's Southeast Asia accessions list. A small number of publications which escaped our earlier efforts have thus been found.

Finally Professor John M. Echols was good enough to go through the collected titles, and to add from his wide bibliographical knowledge not only titles we had thus far failed to list, but also to make suggestions leading to further improvement of the checklist.

The result of our combined efforts is a checklist of Cornell holdings of monographs and serials on Borneo which, as of May 1966, is practically exhaustive. We realize that we may have missed a number of pertinent publications, but in my opinion this should be very small.

Any further supplement to this checklist should be comparatively easy to make by checking through Cornell's monthly Southeast Asia accessions list, beginning with its May 1966 issue. However, for added volumes in serial holdings we would have to recheck all the recorded serials on Borneo.

One small point which needs to be made is that, in contrast to Cotter's bibliographies, the present checklist does not record any articles on Borneo; we have limited ourselves to monographs and serials.

We should like to thank Professor Echols for giving so much of his time and experience to this project, and Mr. Michael B. Leigh for undertaking this useful compilation.

Lastly, we should appreciate any information on errors and omissions which undoubtedly will occur in this publication.
