The Cornell Acacia Alumni Chapter

By EDWARD W. HUGHES, '26

On the evening of October 29, after the Columbia Football Game, there was held in Acacia Hall an open meeting of Cornell Acacians to consider the organization of an Alumni Chapter, a type of organization which has served well with other chapters and which will soon be required of all chapters if a new amendment to the National Constitution is ratified. There were fifteen alumni present as well as the actives and pledges. Venerable Dean Marble presided and Prof. Leland Spencer, '21, President of the Corporation, acted as secretary.

The alumni present were unanimously in favor of organizing such a chapter and a motion was made and passed that a committee of five be appointed to draw up a tentative Constitution and by-laws for submission to the alumni by mail or by TRAVELER. A series of resolutions suggested to the committee a desirable framework for their labors. The committee selected consisted of Dr. E. C. Showacre, '25, Chairman, Prof. Leland Spencer, '21, A. F. Boyles, '23, Prof. H. D. Laube, '26, and E. W. Hughes, '26. The last two named are actives, Prof. Laube being included to represent the legal profession and Hughes as Editor of the TRAVELER, which will be one of the beneficiaries of the new Chapter.

After several arduous sessions the following Constitution and by-laws were decided upon and are presented for consideration and criticism.

A few comments relative to the Constitution will not be amiss. The Preamble attempts to state, in a rhetorical fashion, the growing conviction among actives and local alumni that we are slowly losing contact with a large section of our alumni, many of whom have been unable to return to Ithaca for a visit and who have even neglected to keep in touch with us by mail. The Active Chapter formerly published many issues of the TRAVELER annually and several notices were mailed out besides. Now our mailing list has grown to include over two hundred and fifty alumni and the added expense has cut the TRAVELER to two numbers a year and we send separate notice of the annual banquet only. At present each active is paying close to fifteen dollars yearly to send these out and at our present rate of growth the cost of even two TRAVELERS will soon become prohibitive. The new organization hopes to collect and distribute more real news than the TRAVELER ever could alone, and to ask each alumnus to aid with pen and pocketbook. This will be accomplished by several mimeographed newsletters mailed in between TRAVELERS.

CONSTITUTION

PREAMBLE

We, the alumni of the Cornell Chapter of the Acacia Fraternity, having departed to our respective fields of work, and realizing that the shadows of time tend to obscure the pleasant reminiscences of the days that have been, do hereby adopt this Constitution in order to strengthen the ties of old and perpetuate the fraternal friendships of Active days, to maintain a more intimate fellowship one with another, to further at all times the interests of the Active Chapter, and to preserve and carry on the traditions, welfare and honor of the Acacia Fraternity.

ARTICLE I—NAME

Section 1.—This association shall be known as the Cornell Acacia Alumni Chapter.

ARTICLE II—MEMBERSHIP

Section 1.—Every Acacian who is an alumnus of the Cornell Chapter is eligible to become a member of this Chapter by subscribing to its Constitution and by-laws.

Section 2.—Every Acacian who shall become a member of the Cornell Active Chapter after the adoption of the Alumni Chapter Amendment to the National Constitution of 1927 shall, when he becomes an alumnus, thereby become a member of this Chapter.

ARTICLE III—OFFICERS

Section 1.—The officers of this Chapter shall consist of an Alumni Dean, elective, and an advisory committee of six Alumni Vice-Deans and an Alumni Secretary-Treasurer, all appointed by the Alumni Dean.

Section 2.—In order to maintain more efficient coordination with the Active Chapter, the Alumni Dean shall be a resident of Ithaca and shall be nominated annually, by a mail ballot, from the list of Ithaca members. The two receiving the most votes shall be nominated and the one receiving the majority of votes cast at the regular spring meeting shall be duly elected to office.

The Alumni Dean shall be installed at the time of his election and shall hold office until his successor is elected and installed. In case of a vacancy in the office of Alumni Dean it shall be filled from the list of eligibles by a majority vote of the remaining officers.

Section 3.—The Alumni Dean shall discharge all the executive functions of the Chapter, preside over all stated and special communications, call such special meetings as his judgment shall deem necessary, appoint all necessary committees, and have charge of the relations of the Chapter to the Active Chapter. Within two weeks after his installation he shall appoint the Alumni Secretary-Treasurer from the Ithaca members, and the six Alumni Vice-Deans with reference to diversity of geographic location and class membership. He shall authorize all disbursements, and appoint an auditing committee of three.

Section 4.—The six Alumni Vice-Deans shall be field assistants of the Alumni Dean and official spokesmen of the Alumni at large in carrying out the spirit of the preamble. With the Alumni Secretary-Treasurer they shall form an advisory committee to the Alumni Dean.

Section 5.—The Alumni Secretary-

Treasurer shall receive and keep a strict account of all moneys due and coming to the Chapter, pay all bills upon authorization by the Alumni Dean and prepare an annual account of all income and disbursements, said account to be audited by the auditing committee and presented at the spring meeting. He shall keep all records of the Chapter and take full minutes at all meetings held during his term of office, keep membership records with latest permanent address of each member, mail summons to each member for all stated and special meetings, mail a list of all Ithaca members to each member for Alumni Dean nominations at least one month prior to the election, immediately inform the Alumni Vice-Deans should a vacancy exist in the office of Alumni Dean, and send out newsletters as provided in the by-laws.

ARTICLE IV—AMENDMENTS

Section 1.—Amendments to this Constitution, when proposed by twelve or more members, shall be submitted to the members by mail. If approved by two-thirds of those voting within thirty days after mailing of the notice, the Alumni Dean shall declare the amendment carried.

Section 2.—This Constitution is subject to the National Constitution and by-laws and any conflict with them is automatically an amendment of this Constitution.

BY-LAWS

I.—DUES-FUNDS

Section 1.—The annual dues shall be two dollars, payable in advance.

Section 2.—The payment in advance of twenty-five dollars shall entitle a member to a Life Membership with complete exemption from the annual dues provided in Section 1. Life Membership fees shall be made payable to the Cornell Acacia Alumni Chapter Endowment Fund.

Section 3.—At least one-half of the total annual income, excepting Life Endowment fees, but including dues paid and interest on the Endowment Fund, shall be paid to the Active Chapter to aid in publishing the TRAVELER. The balance shall be used for current expenses, enlarging the Endowment Fund, or for the TRAVELER.

II.—QUORUM

Section 1.—A quorum necessary for transaction of business at a stated or regular meeting shall consist of seven members in good standing.

III.—CLASS CORRESPONDENTS

Section 1.—The Alumni Dean shall appoint annually a class correspondent for each class except those represented by the Alumni Vice-Deans. Each Alumni Vice-Dean shall be class correspondent for his class.

Section 2.—It shall be the duty of the class correspondent to attempt to keep in touch, either personally or by mail, with each member of his class and send in all news accumulated to the Alumni Secretary-Treasurer for use in newsletters or TRAVELER.

IV.—GOOD STANDING

Section 1.—A member shall be in good standing, eligible for office and entitled to vote, only if his dues for the fiscal year ending the July 31 last past have been paid in full, or if he is a Life Member.

V.—MEETINGS

Section 1.—There shall be two annual stated meetings. One in the fall at the time of the Homecoming Football Game and one in the spring during the Commencement Class Reunions. The Alumni Dean shall fix each year the exact time of meeting and the members shall be notified by the Alumni Secretary-Treasurer at least two months in advance.

Section 2.—Meetings for special business may be called by the Alumni Dean or by petition of three or more members, but only such business as is stated in the summons may be transacted.

Section 3.—A joint meeting with the Active Chapter may be called jointly by the Alumni Dean and the Venerable Dean for the purpose of electing a new Active Chapter Advisor as provided for in the National Constitution.

VI.—AMENDMENTS

Section 1.—An amendment to these by-laws may be proposed at any time by three or more members and submitted by mail to the members for a vote. A majority of those voting thirty days after mailing the notice shall be necessary to effect the amendment.

Section 2.—These by-laws are subject to the National Constitution and by-laws and any conflict with them is automatically an amendment to these by-laws.

The Alumni Secretary-Treasurer has been made an appointive office on the grounds that the Dean can best find who is willing and capable of serving. The Vice-Deans and class correspondents are created in the belief that the desired liaison with lagging members can best be established by alumni who were associated with them in student days.

The annual cost of two dollars is far below that paid for most other similar organizations, such for instance as your Masonic Lodge. The dues have been kept rigorously within the cost of two TRAVELERS and a reasonable number of newsletters. Life Membership has been made as cheap as seemed possible. The many notices of meetings and so forth are expected to be included in the newsletters to minimize mailing costs. The actives do not want to be released entirely from the TRAVELER expenses, nor do they expect any great thing from the Alumni Chapter this year. We are looking toward the near future.

The committee found that it would be impracticable to have any sort of connection with the present Building Fund Corporation. Actives are eligible for office therein and any change would call for reincorporation.

The committee is presenting this matter to the Ithaca alumni first in order to raise funds for a general presentation and to secure a list of men eligible for office. In due time a list of Ithaca members will be mailed with an invitation for those joining to send in their vote for Alumni Dean along with their dues, which we believe should be only one dollar for the balance of the year.

You may not like some things about the Constitution or by-laws. We would call your attention to the fact that amendment has been made especially easy and that the important thing is to get started.

The Seventeenth Grand Conclave

By Ashley Robey, '25 and Dean R. Marble, '24, Cornell Delegates

The Seventeenth Conclave, misnamed the "Mile-Hi Conclave," for it was held in Estes Park, Colorado, which is nearly two miles above sea level, was not only a success from every standpoint but also an inspiration which will live long in the hearts of the delegates, members of Acacia, and their families who were privileged to attend. The success of the Conclave was due largely to the untiring efforts of the arrangements committee and the Denver and Colorado chapters of Acacia which were the sponsoring hosts. To the committee and the chapters named we desire to "give credit to whom credit is due." Some members of the above committee were responsible for the unofficial newspaper of the conclave, "The Triaditty" which appeared each morning furnishing everyone with a full program of the daily events, news items of interest, and general gossip.

Besides the sixty-six official delegates from the thirty-three active chapters and four members of the Grand Council, there were nearly one hundred members of Acacia and visitors in attendance at the Conclave. Cornell Chapter was represented by Dean R. Marble, the active chapter delegate, Ashley Robey, who substituted as adviser delegate for Mr. W. W. Ellis, who could not attend, E. W. Hughes of the active chapter, R. Claud Bradley from the Alumni, and the parents of Robey, who were visitors. Among the visitors attending were some twenty-five wives and mothers of Acacians and about fifteen children. One of the founders of Acacia, Dr. W. J. Marshall, attended part of the Conclave and we were privileged to hear his address concerning the Fraternity, its growth, and the individual opportunities which "we as educated men have to take a more important part in the affairs of the community in which we reside."

The arrangements committee saw to it that a wide variety of entertainment interspersed the business sessions and this contributed largely to the success of the conclave and the pleasure of its delegates and visitors. For the men there was fishing, hiking, horseback riding, motor trips, mountain climbing, and tournaments in golf, tennis, horse-shoe pitching, and bridge. A similar program was arranged for the women, and too while the men were busy in their business session there were teas and receptions for the fairer sex. Cornell won in none of the tournaments though teams of Marble and Bradley, Robey and Hughes were entered in bridge, while in horseshoes, Bradley and Marble each showed skill but were eliminated by some of the hands from the "Cow Colleges" of the middle west. Robey placed only fifth in the golf tournament, even though Hughes went along to give a "long Cornell Yell" on auspicious moments.

In order to obtain publicity as a group in the "Triaditty" we claimed the record mileage for the summer of the groups representing the various universities present. The mileage was figured from railroad and steamship tables and was only for the period between the ending of school in the middle of June until the Conclave the first of September. It totaled 32,805 miles. Hughes alone was responsible for over half of the total, having toured Europe and being credited with 17,620. Bradley having "traveled restrictively" thru-out the south, central, and far western U. S., was next with 7,240 miles. Then came Marble and Robey with 4,340 and 3,605 miles respectively. Had we only been able to count up the mileage until school opened in September the grand total of distance covered by Cornell's "four horsemen" would have been over 40,000 miles.

The attendance cup won by Cornell at the Ocean City Conclave in 1925 was won by the Illinois Chapter as our mileage claim was allowed only for the distance direct to Estes Park from Ithaca. This severe cut put us way down in third place for the cup, but it has been such an attractive mantlepiece decoration during the past two years that we vow to get it back in 1929.

The business sessions of the Mile-Hi Conclave were well organized and as a result all of the matters to come before the delegates were disposed of in record time. I doubt if any of the Conclaves within the past few years have enacted as much constructive legislation as did this one.

Grand President Dye, in his address to the delegates, reported that the finances of the Fraternity were in excellent condition and suggested that some legislation seemed desirable allowing the Grand Council to invest some of the funds in good securities, other than Federal Banks or Federal securities as now required. He felt that the financial system now used by the active chapters had failed in two respects. That the bills of the individual members were not diligently collected, and that the proper respect toward the financial obligations to the Grand Fraternity was not shown. To remedy these conditions he suggested that the Grand Fraternity be given power to step in and help the local chapters to collect their bills and that the Chapter Adviser act as a collector for the Grand Fraternity of all national dues, initiation fees and other moneys due the Grand Fraternity. One of the new amendments provided for the first suggestion but the Conclave voted down any motions providing for an intermediate collecting agency for the Grand Fraternity. He advised the appointment of a committee to investigate different book-keeping systems in hopes of finding one more suitable to the needs of the active chapters. Such a committee was appointed and at the next Conclave we hope to have more satisfactory system worked out. In speaking of the chapter inspection system our Grand President did not favor the traveling secretary idea but did feel that a new system was necessary. He advocated a province system whereby the Grand Counselor would be in charge of regular inspectors, each inspector making the necessary inspections within his province. This system was eventually worked out and adopted by the Conclave.

From now on our pledges will have a sixth Grand Officer to remember. At the suggestion of Grand President Dye, an office of Judge Advocate was created, the duties of this office being to act as legal adviser to the Grand Council and all of the local chapters, and to be chairman, ex officio, of all committees on Jurisprudence. The first man to fill this new office is Bro. David Embury of the Columbia Chapter. Bro. Embury spent a great amount of time as chairman of the committee that revised the Constitution and By-laws and was the unanimous choice of the Conclave for this office.

Another very important piece of legislation which was passed by the Conclave was the amendment providing for the compulsory formation of an alumni chapter of each active chapter. We believe that this will be of great benefit as the years go on in developing and maintaining the proper contact between the alumni and their respective chapters.

The entire Constitution was gone over and changes of phrasing made here and there where the meaning was ambiguous. In addition, fifteen amendments were passed by the Conclave, several of which have already been discussed when they were brought up in the review of our Grand President's address. One of the others provided for the substitution of "National" for "Grand" in the titles of all of our "Grand" Officers so that they will be known as "National" officers. Another amendment provided for a permanent committee on Jurisprudence, the newly elected Judge Advocate being chairman ex-officio of this committee.

As suggested previously one of the amendments allows the Grand Council to step in and give aid to the local chapters in collecting unpaid bills due the Active Chapter. Any member who is delinquent in his financial obligations at the end of each half year period is suspended and if such bill shall still be unpaid at the end of a year following the half year in which it was incurred the member shall be expelled from the fraternity by the Grand Council. The new amendments forbid an Acacian to join other national social college fraternities without losing his membership in Acacia. They also limit the office of Venerable Dean to a one year period of service and provide for a national bond to cover the treasurers of all chapters. Before final ratification all of the amendments and the revised Constitution must be accepted by two-thirds of the active chapters.

This in brief gives a few of the high lights of the Conclave business sessions. The offices of President and Treasurer did not expire this year so they are still the same as before. Bro. W. Elmer Ekblaw was re-elected to the office of Secretary and as before mentioned Bro. David Embury was elected Judge Advocate. Our new Counselor is Bro. Arthur I. New of Northwestern Chapter and Bro. George Washington of the Kansas Chapter is our new Editor of the Triad.

It was decided to hold the next Conclave in Asheville, N. C.

Informal

The opening dance of the season was held Saturday evening, Oct. 22, following the Cornell - Princeton game. Many alumni who were back for the game remained for the dance and they, together with some of the older actives and town alumni, reviewed many pleasant happenings of past days. Over fifty guests and Acacians were present, everyone enjoyed dancing and many enjoyed a game on the new pool table during the evening. Between dances the various groups gathered to gossip or to admire the tastily arranged decorations of orange and black, and red and white, the colors of the contestants of the afternoon's clash. Brothers and mesdames Willard W. Ellis and Roy E. Clark favored us as chaperones.

Victrola Party

The fact that the actives are somewhat busier on the hill this year than last, has been shown in that we have had only one Victrola dance-party as yet. It was on Saturday evening, the fifth of November. However, this type of entertainment has lost none in its popularity as was evidenced by the large attendance. Decorations consisted entirely of the new wall-paper and woodwork finishings which helped dress up the house during the last summer. The two newlywed couples that chaperoned, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Laube and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Mills, performed the task like "old-timers." Home-made punch and candies were served during the evening.

Christmas Formal

The first formal dance of the year was held at Acacia Hall on the evening of the ninth of December. Christmas decorations of reds and greens lent a charming background to the formal attire of the gentlemen and the beautiful gowns of the ladies. It being only a week before most of the participants departed for their homes for the holidays, most of the discussion was along holiday lines and in anticipation of the good times in store.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Andrae, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred D. Mills, and Rev. and Mrs. Wm. H. Powers honored us by chaperoning the event. (In case any of you want to get married see "Bill". He can do it right because we know of one afternoon when he performed three guaranteed ceremonies.) To the assembled multitude punch was served between dances, while during the dances the punch was furnished by the dancers assisted by the orchestra. It was rumored that we might expect a visit from old Santa Claus himself a week later and we are thinking seriously of having a party so that he may stop over for a while to enjoy and refresh himself before continuing his heavy schedule of work.

Visitors

The following visiting Acacians of other chapters have signed our guest book during the past year:

Thomas C. Billig	Franklin
W. A. Hosmer	Harvard
W. E. Ekblaw	Illinois
Frank Essick	Penn State
W. F. Hall	Penn State
L. N. Parmenter	Syracuse
Arland L. MacKinney	Yale

Renovations

Our lease on "614" terminated this fall, so early in the spring a search was made for a more suitable home. Nothing desirable was discovered so our efforts were turned full blast upon our land lady in an attempt to secure many badly needed repairs before signing a new lease. The results were gratifying. During the summer a new foundation was built under the central portion, the back staircase was torn out and the kitchen enlarged. In the line of "appearances," the kitchen, halls and entire first floor were redecorated, while all external woodwork was painted. For comfort, the plumbing was overhauled and an attempt made to rejuvenate an aged roof. In the fall some of the actives supplied the labor for building a concrete driveway which now makes access to our parking space easy. All that we need now is a fire escape and we'll be quite contented.

The New Pool Table

This Fall a certain sum of money, which, as is the custom, was laid aside for house improvements, was expended for a new pool table. The old one was a veteran of many years and many battles and had shown its age for some time. No amount of renovating would make it younger so the old was replaced by the new as it ever is the world over. All our pool shooters would have been able to qualify shortly as blacksmiths—it took such strength of arm to drive the cue ball around the table with its age deadened cushions. No doubt many of the alumni will regret the passing of this old—shall we say "waster of precious time"? No, for recreation is always necessary and what form of recreation can be found more pleasant than a good game of pool or billiards? Let any alumnus drop in, as we wish they would more frequently, and we will endeavor to give him a good game on a good table.

JOHN PAUL BLANCHARD

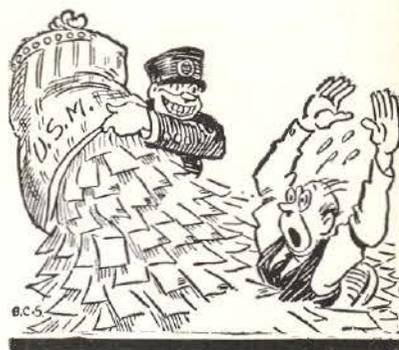

MARCUS A. MCMASTER, '18, has written to the Editor a long letter which is a fine example for other Cornell Acacians.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:

I started a letter to you on Aug. 19 at the suggestion of a Brother in Willoughby, Ohio, but that letter was never finished. In it I said that I had visited twenty states and the District of Columbia during the past ten months and I can now add two visits to Canada since that time. I have run into several of the Cornell Acacians at different places. I was entertained by MILTON BENSON and his wife at Takoma Park, Md., near Washington and saw their lively baby "Sonny," or more formally, Joseph. At Louisville, Ky., I enjoyed good fellowship with the head of the Department of English of the Univ. of Louisville, DR. J. FRANKLIN BRADLEY. I just missed seeing R. CLAUD BRADLEY again in New York, as I left when he arrived here and returned to find him gone. I heard about him, however, from the Columbia Brothers here at the Columbia Chapter House, where I have been staying and also from Brother and Mrs. GARRELTS who live across the street from this house. It is over a year now since I saw DODSON, GOODMAN and WEEDEN in Brooklyn and New York. At Knoxville, Tenn., I had a real old-time visit with Brother and Mrs. O. W. DYNES last Spring and it being late, they woke up their small son, a native of Tennessee, and their older daughter, a New Yorker, in order that I might see them also. Two years ago I saw Brother FERNSCHILD at some of the Washington Lodge social affairs, not to mention the N. Y. Alumni picnic of October, 1926. This October there were four of the Cornell Acacians at the picnic and we had quite a reunion while indulging in hot dogs and home made cake. While traveling in the neighborhood of Champaign and Urbana, Ill., I stopped at the Illinois House Saturday night and Sunday one week-end last July and liked the splendid reception and hospitality I received there, from the Illinois Acacians, Brother Paden of Missouri Chapter and Brother MERL GILLIS, my former roommate in 1921, so much that I returned to the same place on the two following week-ends and if I should tell of a picnic on my final visit there, you might suspect that they have become a hobby with me. One Sunday, while in the midst of trying to persuade the nurserymen in and about Painesville, Ohio, that they ought to give me an order for fruit stocks or lily bulbs from France, granulated peet or Dutch burlap squares from Holland, and bamboo canes from either China or Japan, I visited Brother ARTHUR MUNSON and his wife and their ten months' old daughter Peggy in Cleveland and there enjoyed visits to several parks and a drive through the fine suburban home district of that city. One evening of that same week I saw BILL HAVENS and his wife at Willoughby, near Painesville, and there again we had a great chat about old times, and they woke up their youngest, a girl, who came into the family since I first saw them in 1921, and also the boy, who was much smaller then. The oldest daughter, who had been quite a favorite of mine six years ago, I did not see, but I am assured that she too is the picture of health, as certainly are the two I saw, for their rosy cheeks were a wonderful sight to behold.

I was also fortunate enough to visit the Texas Chapter House at Austin, the George Washington House at Washington, the Chicago Chapter House and the Ohio Chapter House. I received a most enthusiastic welcome at each of these and certainly have reason to appreciate the "Four Fold Tie." Last Friday night I had a splendid time at a Columbia Chapter dance.

Yours fraternally,

MARC. A. McMASTER

GEORGE C. RUBY, '14, is a consulting engineer, located at York, Penna. A recent increase in his family is recorded in Cupid's Calendar. George was back for the Columbia game and his reactions are best recorded by extracts from his own breezy letter:

HELLO FELLOWS:

Here we are again back at the old desks and feeling younger than before our visit. Perhaps I was a bit lax in showing my appreciation of the pleasure crowded into our day and a half at the house. There was but one way a little more could have been jammed into the total hours and that was by eliminating the two-thirty to seven o'clock sleeping time and even that added its bit of pleasure. Climbing into the old double decker felt exactly like the old boat at 708 Seneca, and when Smithy talked in his sleep and yelled "Watcha doing there?" it sounded perfectly natural as we grew the same variety. Even the old fire whistle tooted its toot in celebration of our home-coming but this time I just rolled over and said "Go yourself."

You fellows are certainly the pumpkins in making an old timer feel at home. You have it all over our old gang like a tent in that respect. My greatest thrill came Saturday morning. As you know, I was up before breakfast and up on the hill before breakfast. That I'll admit was entirely different from the spirit of '14. Well, after the chimes finished the "Ole Twister" and a few classics I headed for eats. The eight o'clock crowd was tearing up the hill in the standard breathless fashion with a frequent gang on four wheels and a radiator. When suddenly, while rattling by, one old $25.00 worth exploded with a "Hi George." It was Tiny (Robey) and his two o'clock reception committee. Well, buddy, believe me or not, the old chest puffed out about six inches and I knew everybody on the hill and darn if I didn't start helloin' the whole parade. It was the same old hill with its scares and thrills of '15, and me as solid a part of it as ever. It was sure all one great sensation.

You will now think that any regrets for me were impossible, but there was one big one which simply couldn't be pushed aside. And that was that the whole '14-'15 outfit could not share my pleasure. They simply cannot realize what they have been missing by not coming back and dropping twelve years of their present age accumulation. I am sure they have not forgotten the rest of us although we look in vain for a word from them in every issue of the TRAVELER. It must be the lack of some peculiar psychological urge that permits them to think that they will write or come back for a visit and then stop at that point without finishing the story and feeling the satisfaction of experiencing the last line, "and they lived happily forever after." Some time in the near future our gang must have a reunion and then what a story there will be. Then they will realize anew that being an Acacian holds a reward which makes living more worth while.

Fraternally,

GEORGE

The SUITER brothers, NORMAN W., '16, and VAUGHN D., '19, were the other two members of the party that blew in with GEORGE RUBY for the Columbia Game. As you may judge from George's letter, they had a great time reviewing the past.

C. E. DECAMP, '22, is still president of the newly organized Niagara Frontier Alumni Association and reports that many successful meetings have been held. They are planning big things for next year. "Deke" was down for the Princeton and Columbia games.

WILLIAM L. HAVENS, '15, is a consulting engineer in Cleveland, Ohio. "Bill" was in Ithaca for the Columbia Game and spent several days at the house at that time. Further details are included in the long letter from MARCUS McMASTER.

C. E. GRIFFIN, '21, was also back for the Columbia game. On the strength of his remarks after that contest it would be very educational to hear what he has to say about subsequent games. "Griff" is in chemical work at Niagara Falls.

L. H. NORTON, '24, is proud of his new wife, witness the following:

DEAR BROTHERS:

Some of you have probably wondered what has become of me, but I know you understood my silence when you received the invitation to an important event to take place here next Thursday. I have tickets for the Princeton game, and I am looking forward to being with you again, also to make you acquainted with your new sister. There are undoubtedly several new faces among you that I will be glad to see. Hoping to see you soon, I am

DEAR BROTHER ALUMNUS

Again the TRAVELER visits you. A trifle later than is desirable, but the delay was necessary in order to include the Alumni Chapter Constitution. The Editor has attempted to secure more alumni news and you will find more information about your classmates than you did last June. But the response to our appeal for letters was far from gratifying. Most of our "dope" came from a few old faithfuls. We know your intentions are good, so won't you please drop us a line now, before it slips your memory?

There are about forty new addresses in the Chapter Roll. Is yours correct? Please let us know. Only two members are known to be "lost": Hermit H. Gill, '08, and Frederick L. Pel-low, '20. Can anyone tell us their location?

The recent Conclave at Estes Park was the most successful in the annals of the Fraternity. Your Editor was fortunate enough to be one of the visitors and does not hesitate to endorse the trip as the most enjoyable of his young lifetime, despite a summer in Europe and many happy sojourns about the States and in Canada. The next Conclave, which will probably be in the North Carolina Mountains, gives every indication of equaling or eclipsing the recent gathering in Colorado in attendance, usefulness, good-fellowship, entertainment, etc., and "yours truly," for one, intends to be there if at all able. It is now too early for most Cornell Acacia Alumni to plan for their vacation in nineteen twenty nine. But after all, there will only be a few issues of the TRAVELER before that time so you might as well get accustomed now to reading about North Carolina.

A Grave Error

For many years Arthur R. Keith, '08, has been listed on the Chapter Roll among those Acacians who have departed from this world for the Chapter Eternal. H. C. "Cliff" Reed, a classmate of Keith, recently was informed by him that even as with Mark Twain, the report of his death had been greatly exaggerated.

Of course we were interested to know how we had been "cheated out of" a good alumnus for such a long time. At the time of the Columbia Game this fall, Vaughn D. Suiter, '19, confessed to complicity in the "murder." It appears that during the war Keith's address was "lost." After some search by the TRAVELER, Suiter inquired of a certain theatrical firm in New York City with which the "deceased" had done business and they asserted that he had passed away.

And thus was it reported in the TRAVELER. So you can imagine the astonishment of one of Art's friends when he was greeted with a cheery "This is Art Keith," upon answering a phone call in New York City. Of course he immediately asked him from what place he was speaking. And so for the first time Art discovered that he was defunct.

Keith is one of the early Cornell Acacians and was elected delegate to a Grand Conclave soon after initiation. There he was made chairman of a committee for revising the ritual and the initiation ceremony now in use is largely the result of his efforts. He served also on the Grand Council as Grand Treasurer and has been of great value to the Fraternity in many other ways. We could not afford to lose him as easily as we almost have.

Mail Bag

EDWIN K. BALL, '22, is working on agricultural marketing for New York State and is now located in Rochester. Excerpts from his letters will prove that he is the same old "Ed":

Saw old married man ERNIE BRACKETT walking collegiate style down Main St. a day or two ago. Do you know if he is located in Rochester? . . . Received your letter with the sweet news that if I'd be an honest man I'd shortly be exactly $4.00 poorer. I would like to wax applesaucy to the effect that being for dear old Acacia it is a pleasure indeed to part with the stuff that makes princes out of paupers and all that sort of rot. However, as I don't happen to have a four dollar bill I've made a check for five (to cover cost of packing and shipping). If it worries you just what to do with the extra one why give it to Brad and have him buy a wheelbarrow load of bricks for the Acacia bungalow, or give it to Hugo to run the press next year. . . . That was a fine issue of the TRAVELER that came out in June. Razz the Alumni or whatever it was called was hot stuff. If your annual dues are not too steep you can count me in as a charter member of a Contributing Alumni Association.

Fraternally,

ED.

Edwin was as good as his word and at the end of a recent visit to Ithaca he turned in the first payment for dues received by the Cornell Acacia Alumni Chapter, despite the fact that it is not fully organized.

C. M. HARRINGTON, '12, who served in France as Captain in the 308th Infantry, is still keeping in touch with military work, a process made easy by his residence in Plattsburg, N. Y., the location of the famous Plattsburg Barracks. His various other interests are best covered by abstracts from his own letter:

Aside from being Surrogate of this County, I am a member of the Board of Education of this City and a Vice-President of the Plattsburg National Bank and Trust Co. All of these various duties keep me rather busy, in addition to trying to keep up my private practice. However, my hobbies are hunting and fishing. . . I took to bird hunting and am quite an enthusiast now. Mrs. Harrington and I have been married now for seven years, and while we have no children, we have eight dogs, so you see we have averaged better than one dog a year. Most are pointers for bird hunting. The others are miscellaneous dogs ranging from pet dogs to rabbit dogs. You can tell the Acacia men for me that I would be glad to have them come up and hunt with me at any time. . . I hope that sometime before we all get too old we can have a real Cornell-Acacia reunion. I think if we would all come back to Cornell some time with everone carrying an armful of bricks that perhaps we could build an Acacia House with little effort. . . Fraternally yours,

C. M. HARRINGTON

Item for the TRAVELER

DEAR BROTHERS:

Item for the TRAVELER. My daughter Helen Louise was admitted to the Freshman Class at Cornell. (55 Sage)

As I have a boy at Princeton, you can see "where my money goes." Otherwise I could better boost the new house. Perhaps some day "the worm will turn." I must get in touch with Bradley some of these days in New York.

Wishing you all a great year—

Fraternally,

WALTER NUFFORT ('08)

Another Acacian, Dr. Wm. H. POWERS, '27, has a daughter in Cornell. Miss Nuffort and Miss Powers are both members of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority. A couple of the boys got busy on the "tip" copied above with the result that both young ladies were invited to the Christmas Formal. And after that affair there were many who wished that they had been so thoughtful. Kuhn and Baty were the lucky ones.

J. C. THOMAS, '23, has settled down in Harvey, Ill. Extracts from his letter, written in June, follow:

Started to build me a little house in April, 1926, and moved in during January, 1927. There is still considerable inside trim work to do, but I'm taking my time about that. . . With hopes that things are beginning to look more cheerful for our new home for Acacia and with best wishes for yourself, I am

Fraternally yours,

CLYDE

H. C. REED, '08, is still proprietor of Ithaca's "Store of Personal Service." "Cliff" frequently attends initiations, pledging ceremonies, meetings and so forth and is one of the Editor's right hand men in keeping in touch with the Alumni. He it was who informed us first that Bro. KEITH is very much alive, and just recently he forwarded the following excerpts from a letter from FLOYD HODSON, '21, who is in Venezuela.

We hear very little news here, as the mail service is slow. Radios, up until recently, have been forbidden by law. Now, with special permits, etc., permission may be obtained to install a radio under government supervision, by having the government buy a radio for you. You then pay the government a handsome commission and $5.00 each month, as long as you have a radio. (Sentence deleted by H. C. Reed.) Notwithstanding, we are investigating radios. . . I was very glad to hear about the House, the men and their prospects. Give them my remembrances and tell them that we are getting along O. K. . . .

Sincerely,

FLOYD HODSON

LUTHER G. JONES, '25, was confined to a hospital for a short time in October as the result of an auto accident. A pair of inebriates with a large car wrecked Luke's new Essex and badly bruised Mrs. Jones, as well as making Luke a "surgeon's delight."

ROGERS CHURCHILL, '24, is hard at work on his Ph.D., in the history department at the University of Chicago. He recently passed several of the preliminary examinations.

NEW MEMBERS

JAMES BERNARD BATY

J. B. hails from the Lone Star State, having begun this mundane existence in Taylor, Texas, April 5, 1903. He graduated from the Taylor High School in 1920 and entered the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, where the noblest sons of Texas gather and strive to develop their mental capacities.

He took a course in Civil Engineering and received his B. S. degree in June, 1925, along with a reserve commission in the United States Army. Shortly before graduation he spent a short time in California with the production department of the Standard Oil Company of California.

After graduation from A. and M. he began his career as a Sanitary Engineer for the State Health Department and for the past two years has traveled over the greater part of the State performing his duties and no doubt eluding the sheriff like a good Texan. Believing that his knowledge of Sanitary Engineering was not all it might be, he sought an institution in which he might pursue graduate work in his chosen field. Hence his arrival at Cornell and his introduction to the Acacia Fraternity. And we have been hearing all about "God's Country" ever since.

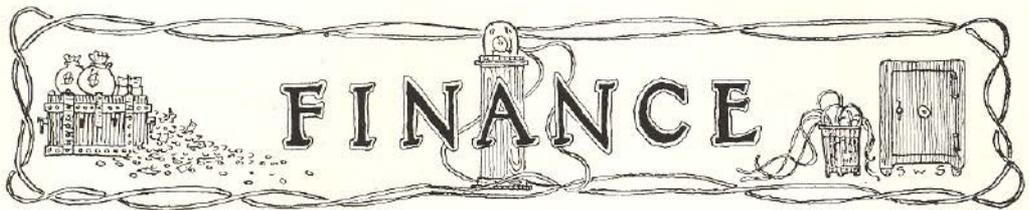

Baty holds his Blue Lodge membership in Brazos Union Lodge No. 129, Bryan, Texas, having been raised there March 5, 1926. He was pledged to Acacia September 30, 1927 and will shortly discover that all the tough traveling is not on the hot sands of Texas.

EDWIN HAROLD HADLOCK

"Ed" was born September 17, 1902 at South Gorham, Maine, a country place, just eight miles from Maine's largest city. It is with this last information that he hopes to escape the title "farmer." At the age of nine his folks moved out of the woods into Portland and there he attended the public schools. Graduating from Portland High in June, 1920, he entered the University of Maine that Fall. Edwin chose Electrical Engineering, but after two years he apparently became "shocked" at the ways of the E. E.'s for he transferred his allegiance to Mathematics. He was an officer of the local Math. Club, but in general his undergraduate activities were sadly hampered by frequent week-end trips to Portland. "He had a reason." In June, 1924, he received an A. B. degree and after two years as an instructor and graduate student an M. A. in mathematics was conferred.

In quest of the elusive Ph. D. he left his native haunts and journeyed to Cornell. He was made an instructor in Math. and spends his spare time harassing Freshmen with Engineering Calculus.

Hadlock was raised to the Degree of Master Mason in Mechanics Lodge No. 66 at Orono, Maine, November, 1925. He became a member of the Order of the Temple, the Masonic Club of the University of Maine. He was pledged to Acacia September 30, 1927. He will soon be in great demand when the boys have some mathematics to be worked out.

BENTON G. ABBEY, '22, is teaching physics at Hobart. As he is working for an advanced degree in the Cornell Graduate School he frequently makes the short trip to Ithaca and often visits the house.

R. CLAUD BRADLEY, '23, is running a chicken farm at Enid, Okla. He traveled many thousand miles this summer about the middle and far west and turned up in Estes Park, Colo., for the Conclave. Claud was the only Cornell alumnus present.

LEWIS GOODMAN, '22, is now an electrical engineer in Brooklyn, N. Y. "Lew" stayed over night recently in Ithaca while on a certain trip, the reason for which will be found inscribed on Cupid's Calendar.

DENSON GAINES, '24, is back in Ithaca working. "Rip" is staying at the House and has become quite a welcome visitor. He tells us that ROSS CHRISMAN, '25, is getting on well at Sharon Center, Ohio, and is very proud of his year-old son.
