The Ten Commandments of a Retail Clerk

1. THOU SHALT NOT fail to properly record every sale or transaction handled by you.
2. THOU SHALT NOT fail to place every penny received, or placed in your custody, in the cash register in the manner prescribed by your employer.
3. THOU SHALT NOT use, abuse, consume, take or otherwise remove any merchandise, property or other item of value to your employer without proper proof of payment or other appropriate transfer of ownership.
4. THOU SHALT NOT fail to appear at the work place in a timely fashion, fully prepared in mind and body, ready to begin work, not before. . . not after. . . but AT the appropriate time!
5. THOU SHALT NOT fail to diligently apply yourself in a manner predicated to fully satisfactorily complete, to the best of your ability, all of the duties properly assigned to you!
6. THOU SHALT NOT fail to utilize your knowledge, talent, or skill in a manner predicated to earn, to the fullest extent possible, the wages and benefits negotiated by your Union and paid by your Employer!
7. THOU SHALT NOT fail to treat each customer in a manner which might reasonably be expected to encourage them to continue to shop in your store!
8. THOU SHALT NOT be rude, discourteous, or uncooperative with fellow employees or cause any unnecessary interruption or retardation in productivity or job performance at the expense of your Employer!
9. THOU SHALT NOT allow personal wishes, desires or problems to interfere with, or otherwise be detrimental to, your attitude toward customers, fellow employees, employer or your job performance!
10. THOU SHALT NOT be absent from work without:
  - (a) A worthwhile, valid reason, of a sufficient magnitude to warrant possible loss of pay to you, and inconvenience to your employer and fellow employees.
  - (b) Proper notification in advance of the impending absence.
  - (c) A willingness to provide your Employer, and fellow employees, with a reasonable explanation for such absence.

THOU SHALT NOT be persecuted, or otherwise put upon by your Employer, fellow employees, or any other persons, except at their own peril, and will have the fullest support of your Union, if you will but make a reasonable effort to keep the foregoing ten (10) commandments.

These may not be written in stone, but they should certainly be engraved in your mind.

Dear Rosemary:

This Letter of Understanding is to confirm our conversation in our recent negotiations concerning our new FoodMax contract which will become effective April 12, 1993 and expire April 1997.

Per our understanding, we will, from time to time, hire experienced journeyman meatcutters at a rate which is above the published contract rate. These individuals will receive future increases in their rate of pay on the appropriate anniversary dates of the contract in the same amounts and on the same dates as those individuals who are on the top full-time clerk rate of pay.

It is my understanding that this provision will be ratified as part of the major agreement. After ratification, please sign indicating your concurrence and return a copy to me.

Sincerely,

Richard H. Marty
