Volume 42 - Number 4 October 19, 1939

"Look, Pop! It's a Homer!"

Not last week's game; not something that happened yesterday; not even a minute ago. But right now! Seeing things—miles away—at the very instant they happen! That's the new thrill that television now makes possible.

BUT television is destined to do more than this for us. The foundation is laid for a whole new industry—careers for artists; jobs for hundreds of engineers and thousands of skilled workmen making television transmitters and receivers; jobs for thousands more selling and servicing this new product and providing the raw materials required. These are important possibilities of television.

For more than 60 years, General Electric scientists, engineers, and workmen have been finding new ways for electricity to serve the public—in factory, farm, and home. The new products and services made possible by their work have helped to produce the steady rise in the living standards of the American people.

And right now, as television emerges from the laboratory to take its place among the accomplished marvels of this age of electricity, these G-E pioneers are once again creating, not only "More Goods for More People at Less Cost," but also MORE AND BETTER JOBS AT HIGHER WAGES.

G-E research and engineering have saved the public from ten to one hundred dollars for every dollar they have earned for General Electric

ALUMNI HOMECOMING To Be November 4

Reservations already received for rooms in Willard Straight Hall and elsewhere in Ithaca indicate that many alumni from near and far will be in Ithaca for the Alumni Homecoming week-end of November 4.

Some events here, it is hoped, will be reminiscent of the same November week-end ten years ago, when the Varsity football team beat Columbia, 12-6, on Schoellkopf Field. Again this year Columbia will play here, and again, as in 1929, the Dramatic Club will play "Ten Nights In a Bar-room" in the Willard Straight Theater Friday and Saturday nights. Of that other performance Morris Bishop '14 wrote in the ALUMNI NEWS that it "wowed them out of their seats. The audience yelled, hissed, and wept. . .," the staging department having borrowed the old curtain and tormentors from the Lyceum to lend reality to the scenes. The Club this year promises just as thrilling a performance as was given by the undergraduate actors of that day. First show will be Friday evening, November 3, in the Willard Straight Theater. That evening, also, the Senior societies are planning a football rally in Bailey Hall.

Alumni who arrive Friday afternoon will have opportunity to see the Varsity and Freshman cross country teams in their second meet of the season, against Syracuse, starting at 4:30 from upper Alumni Field and finishing there also; and the Freshman football team in action against Blair Academy, on lower Alumni Field at 4:30.

Annual meeting of the Cornell Law Association, Saturday morning at 11 in Myron Taylor Hall, is expected to bring many alumni of the Law School, to elect officers, hear from Dean Robert S. Stevens and from the Law placement committee, and to vote on the Association's affiliation with the Cornell Alumni Association. Delegation of Law alumni from Westchester County is expected to come up again this year with William F. Bleakley '04 and Ralph S. Kent '02, president of the Law Association, and to have their usual dinner downtown Saturday evening.

From 11:30 to 1:30 Saturday, the University will serve luncheon in the Drill Hall for all alumni and their guests, members of the Faculty and their families, and all others who are going to the football game on Schoellkopf Field, beginning at 2.

After the game there will be a reception in Willard Straight Memorial Room for all alumni, their guests, and Columbia alumni, undergraduates, and their friends. A number of fraternities are planning alumni dinners and meetings during the week-end.

Saturday night in the Drill Hall, the Student Council will sponsor a Homecoming Dance, for alumni and undergraduates both of Cornell and Columbia and their guests. The committee, headed by Richard E. Holtzman '41 of Millersburg, Pa. has announced the engagement of Al Donahue's orchestra for this, and promises a "real old-time party."

CORNELL ENGINEER

The Cornell Engineer for October announces in its leading article the plans for the Robert H. Thurston centennial celebration by the University October 25. Alan H. Morgensen '23 writes on "Fundamentals of Human Engineering," based on his experiences in conducting training programs in work simplification in industrial plants all over the United States and Canada. Professor John R. Bangs, Jr. '21, Administrative Engineering, contributes Part I of an article entitled, "Management Looks to the Future," in which he comments upon a Creed of Management adopted by the recent International Management Congress, and discusses its application in business and industry. This issue also contains a welcome to Engineering Freshman by Dean S. C. Hollister, and one from the editors, headed by Beach Barrett '40 of Kew Gardens, editor-in-chief.

REPORT ON OPTICS

New president of the Optical Society of America is Kasson S. Gibson '12 formerly instructor in Physics and now with the National Bureau of Standards in Washington, D. C. He was elected October 14 at the close of a three-day annual meeting at the Lake Placid Club, to succeed Professor R. Clifton Gibbs '06, Physics.

Among the papers presented was one by Professor Frances G. Wick '05, an authority on luminescence and now head of the physics department at Vassar, on work she did at Cornell in luminescence of sugar and ice. Carl W. Gartlein, PhD '29, Physics, reported on "Apparatus for Investigation of the Aurora Borealis," and a paper on structure deviations in certain isotopes of antimony was given by Diran H. Tomboulion, PhD '36, and Professor Robert F. Bacher, Physics.

Professor Floyd K. Richtmyer '04, Physics and Dean of the Graduate School, continues as editor of publications for the Optical Society of America.

WOMEN WORK FOR FUND Club Federation Organizes

Club and regional committees of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs all over the country are renewing efforts for the Federation Scholarship Fund, with a goal for this year of the principal needed to endow three more scholarships to be raised by next June. Mrs. R. H. Shreve (Ruth Bentley) '02, general chairman of the Scholarship Fund committee, reported to the executive committee meeting in Ithaca October 7 that more than $11,000 has now been pledged, principal sum of $10,000 being required to endow each scholarship.

Cornell Women's Club chairmen who are now at work for the Fund include: Albany, Caroline A. Lester '24; Boston, Mrs. Samuel S. Evans (Ella M. Behrer) '27; Buffalo, Mrs. George D. Crofts (Frances E. Johnson) '05; Chicago, Eunice Stebbins '97; Cortland, Barbara C. Fretz '23; Delaware Valley, Mrs. William H. Hill (May A. Thropp) '20; Kansas City, Mrs. Rudolph Hirsch (Maude W. Martin) '00; Middletown, Fannie H. Dudley '15; New York City, Mrs. Frank J. Pagliaro (Edith A. Bennett) '25; Northeastern Pennsylvania, Marion M. Bush '32; Northern New Jersey, Mrs. Russell T. Kerby (Regina Brunner) '15; Northern New York, Margaret M. Owens '37; Philadelphia, Mrs. Russell C. Gourley (Marion W. Gushee) '16; Rochester, Mrs. William F. Donoghue (Mary A. Heughes) '02; Schenectady, Mrs. P. Paul Miller (Sara E. Speer) '21; Southern California, Anna C. C. Besig '23; Utica, Margaret C. Tobin '35; Washington, Frederica G. Ritter '32; Western Connecticut, Mrs. Charles E. Craven, Jr. (Charlotte Baber) '08; Western New York, Mrs. R. A. McCutcheon (Ethel Laverty) '02.

Ruth I. Stone '10, member of the executive committee from Chicago, is assisting Mrs. Shreve in organizing the Fund campaign in several mid-western states. District chairmen now active are: Arizona, Mrs. William L. Chapel (W. Emma Barrett) '34 and Mrs. Ashley Robey (Elizabeth E. Chadwick) '32; Northern California, Mrs. Francis G. Short (Louise E. Baker) '19; Florida, Mrs. Charles S. Dion (Gertrude Martin) '23; Georgia, Mrs. John W. McConnell (Corrinne G. Messing) '28; Idaho, Dakotas, Nebraska, Mrs. William F. McClelland (Pauline B. Brooks) '11; Indiana, Mrs. Harry V. Wade (Agnes T. Lester) '26; Iowa, Helen F. Smith '01; Kentucky, Mrs. Arthur T. Ringrose (Guerine Tinker) '30; Maine, Gertrude S. Bates '16; Minnesota, Mrs. Ralph B. Ryan (Margaret W. Bentley)

'34; Montana, Mrs. Alvin V. Taylor (Helen J. Smith) '24; North Carolina, Mrs. William F. Glasson (Mary B. Park) '03; Central Pennsylvania, May M. Mattson '23; South Central Pennsylvania, Mrs. Wellington W. Kuntz (Margaret P. Coppens) '96; Rhode Island, H. Ruth Requa '11; Tennessee, Helen F. Northup '23; Texas, Mrs. Keets C. Baker (Gertrude D. Kellogg) '11; Virginia, Mrs. Walter H. Kniskern (Katherine E. Selden) '05, Alice E. Rowe '07, and Mrs. Edwin M. Slocombe (Beatrice A. Gilson) '04.

Besides Mrs. Shreve, Mrs. R. C. Osborn (Agda T. Swenson) '20, president of the Federation, has announced as chairmen of Federation committees for this year Mrs. James W. Kideney (Isabel R. Hauck) '22, Club scholarship projects; Mrs. Frederick D. Colson (Edna M. McNary) '00, membership; Mrs. Allan H. Mogensen (Adele A. Dean) '23, relations with secondary schools, spring teas; Lois C. Osborn '16, Cornell Day for Women; Mrs. James B. Calkins (Gladys F. Gilkey) '19, Conference on Fields of Work for Women; Mrs. Oswald M. Milligan (Clara Cagwin) '07, publicity; Mrs. Simon H. Gage (Clara C. Starrett) '18, scholarship awards.

UTICA MAKES AWARD

Cornell Women's Club of the Mohawk Valley held its first meeting of the year at the home of the president, Mrs. Chester A. Dill (Frances Crossman) '30, in Utica, with fourteen alumnae present. It was voted that the Club's annual award of fifty dollars should be presented to Mary E. Whitaker '42 of Poland. The next meeting, a Hallowe'en party, was to be October 19, at the home of Frances W. Rendell '39.

LETTERS

Subject to the usual restrictions of space and good taste, we shall print letters from subscribers on any side of any subject of interest to Cornellians. The ALUMNI NEWS often may not agree with the sentiments expressed, and disclaims any responsibility beyond that of fostering interest in the University.

THEY SHARE THE WORK

TO THE EDITOR:

Referring to your issue of September 28, page 5, I note your extract from the local newspaper, and complimentary remark about me. I do not deserve it, for others have done a lot of work, particularly Max Savitt '26. I am sure he deserves more credit than myself.

—GEORGE MUNSICK '21.

Readers will recall that we quoted comments of W. J. Lee, sports editor of The Hartford Courant, concerning five of this year's Freshmen from Central Connecticut, and his credit to "Cornell men in this section" for interesting them in Cornell. Munsick, president of the Cornell Club of Hartford, modestly disclaims the principal credit for "rounding up this delegation," which the ALUMNI NEWS attributed to him on good authority. We are glad to print Munsick's disclaimer (though it wasn't sent us for publication) because it indicates that there is a working Cornell alumni organization in Hartford.—Ed.

FRESHMAN IMPRESSIONS

"TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN:

"A letter from a 'Frosh' who feels very much at home. Along with the numerous welcomings we have had this past week, there is a feeling of friendliness and, as I feel, a sort of co-ownership of the buildings and Campus. Everything, again as I feel it, is for us and if anything were not just right a word would change it.

"The libraries (I have found three but heard of a fourth today) have the most hospitable and kindly librarians. Each is interested to see if you have the book you're after and sometimes suggests another book or books in another library.

"Today Professor Meek was in the Straight library browsing through the 'Fortunes' and making me feel that the Faculty is standing by us and not over us.

"I have had 'Freshman cramps' too, but now my legs are used to the hills and distances and I feel like a mountain goat as I run up and down the hills.

"Tonight I can't decide between a movie, a dance, or an address on 'The World Situation.' Things have never come so on top of one another.

"Yours for a Cornell with more hours in its day.—M. S. S. '43."

Although not written to the ALUMNI NEWS nor by an alumnus, we reprint this letter from The Cornell Daily Sun because it reveals so much about the University today, and because it is quite typical, we think, of the Freshman Class.—Ed.

POUGHKEEPSIE STARTS

First dinner meeting of the season for the Cornell Club of Dutchess County was attended by thirteen members, at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie, October 5. Next meeting, it was decided, will be at the new Cornell boathouse during a Saturday afternoon football game, with a radio tuned in. Lloyd L. Rosenthal '32, vice-president of the Club, presided and introduced L. Joseph Stone '33, instructor in child psychology at Vassar College, who spoke on his work there.

FOOTBALL REALISTICALLY

(R.B. in "State and Tioga," Ithaca Journal)

The nicest spot from which to watch a football game at Ithaca is the press box. That isn't because you can see the play better from that location. Indeed, the press box isn't a very good place from which to observe the formations and their execution. It's too low, the angle of vision is too flat, and in consequence the plays are obscured by the players. The box at the top of the Crescent allotted to scouts from the other colleges is a much better place to see what's going on, what happened, and what made it happen.

The superiority of the press box arises solely, from the fact that the people around you are quiet, realistic, and detached. They let you alone to watch the game and are unafflicted by emotion, alcohol, feathers, and other outward evidences of intense partisanship. They observe the proceedings more in the manner of medical students in an operating theater who remain mute, however gratified, when the responsible surgeon finally achieves the appendix he was fishing for rather than the innocent kidney which at one time they rather feared would come up in the haul.

I like football and I like people; but not in combination. People defile football, and football too often brings out the wolf in people, making them noisy, assertive, truculent, and unpleasant. You don't get people in the press box—just newspaper men who see the proceedings as what they are; a good game played good-naturedly by skillful boys who, unlike their elders, seem astonishingly able to retain their sense of proportion and their manners under the most disadvantageous circumstances.

CHICAGO CORNELL HOTELMEN GREET PROFESSOR MEEK

First week in October, Professor Howard B. Meek, Hotel Administration, spoke at the annual Hotel Exposition, which also brought to Chicago many Hotel alumni of the Midwest. Chicago branch of the Cornell Society of Hotelmen gave a dinner for the Professor at The Stevens Hotel. Pictured, left to right, are Richard D. Culver '36 of the Hotel Sherman, Chicago; Professor Meek; Joseph P. Binns '28, general manager of The Stevens; Sidney N. Phelps '39, and C. Oscar Strand '39, lately promotion manager and managing director, respectively, of Hotel Ezra Cornell, and now with The Stevens.

AWARD SUBSCRIPTION PRIZE

Lackawanna Cornell Club of New Jersey had fifty members participating in its first annual golf tournament, at the Murray Hill Country Club, Summit, September 30, and for dinner and a smoker afterward.

Prizes (including a year's subscription to the ALUMNI NEWS) were awarded to Donald E. Marshall '22, for a low gross of 87; to Charles S. Yawger '02, who won a toss with George C. Norman '35, both with the low net of 74; and to J. Waldo Myers '13, whose "brilliant 123" was high gross score.

THEATRE TO BROADCAST

University Theatre project for plays of New York State, starting its second year, has announced a series of radio programs to be broadcast from Station WESG the last Sunday of each month. A special company of University students will dramatize such stories as that of the Taughannock "stone man;" the famous tunnel escape from the Confederate prison in Elmira; the story of Ruloff, famous Ithaca philologist and murderer; Jemima Wilkinson; tales of the "underground railroad" as it operated in Central New York; buried treasure of the Finger Lakes region; the Wyoming massacre; the story of the last witchcraft trial in Central New York, and others which have been collected, written, or arranged by Professor Alex M. Drummond, Public Speaking, and Robert E. Gard, AM '38, who has been in direct charge of the project since it was started last year.

It is possible, Professor Drummond says, that several other radio stations in large cities throughout the State may carry transcriptions of these programs.

Launched in September, 1938, with a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation and the aid of American Agriculturist, the project has brought many plays dealing with State lore, the best of which are now being made available to schools, colleges, and community producing groups in the State. Some have been written at the University; others were sent in by their writers over the State, including those submitted in a contest sponsored by American Agriculturist.

The New York State play project is being continued this year. The season's first group of State plays to be presented by the Dramatic Club will be October 27 and 28 in the Willard Straight Theater.

PUBLISH FRATERNITY GRADES

For Last Academic Year

Held back by the Department of Public Information until most fraternity and sorority pledging had been completed, the University released last week (and the Sun published) a tabulation of their academic grades for last year. All houses have been given notice, however, on the authority of President Day, that next fall their rankings will be published at the opening of the University, "let the chips fall where they may."

The list for last year shows a considerable amount of shifting in rank among individual houses, as compared with that of 1937-38; and noticeable improvement in average grades of some houses, especially some of those who were near the bottom of the list for two years ago. It is notable, also, that whereas the former list showed three fraternities with averages below 70, this list has but one. Passing grade is still, of course, 60.

Average grades of independent students in the University exceed those of fraternity and sorority members: men 1.36 per cent above the general fraternity average; women 1.08 per cent above the sorority average. Average grade of all women exceeds that of all men by 3.33 per cent.

Last year was the first publication of such a compilation since that for the year 1923-24, the last one done by the late David F. Hoy '91. Tabulation for the last two years has been directed by George D. Haupin '16, Assistant Registrar. Averages and rankings:

NEW IN ARCHITECTURE

Another appointment in the College of Architecture, announced last week, is that of Eric Gugler as associate professor of Architecture. His appointment was made necessary because Professor Francke H. Bosworth is on leave of absence this year.

Professor Gugler received the BArch at Columbia in 1911; received the Charles F. McKim Fellowship for two years study abroad, and has since traveled extensively in Europe. He is a Fellow of the American Institute of Architects and chairman of its committee on competitions; is a trustee of the American Academy in Rome and this year chairman of its jury in architecture; and is a member of the board of overseers' committee for the Graduate School of Design at Harvard University. He was architect for the remodelling of the White House offices in Washington, D. C., early in the present Administration; has practiced architecture continuously since 1914 except for Naval service during the world war; will retain his office in New York City for continuing his practice.

FOOTBALL IN CHICAGO

Cornell Club of Chicago announces a football smoker Thursday evening, November 2 at the Stevens Hotel, with "good food, good beer, superb music, pictures, headline personalities, and a low price." November 18 Chicago Cornellians will be hosts at this year's annual luncheon with Dartmouth, with a direct wire from the field in Hanover.

About ATHLETICS

CORNELL 20, PRINCETON 7

Three touchdown dashes, two of them by M. Witmer Baker '40 of New Cumberland, Pa., gave the football team a 20-7 victory over Princeton in Palmer Stadium at Princeton, N. J., last Saturday.

Baker scored twice within five minutes, first from the Princeton 26-yard line on a reverse from Kenneth G. Brown '40 of Millerton and a few minutes later from the Cornell 13-yard mark on an end sweep. Both runs turned the Princeton right flank. Both times Nicholas Drahos

'41 of Cedarhurst place-kicked the points. Thus, within five minutes and without having registered a first down, Cornell piled up a 14-0 lead.

The first touchdown was set up when Alva E. Kelley '41 of Tarentum, Pa., partially blocked a punt by Allerdice, the back who was easily the Princeton star of the game. The ball went out of bounds on Princeton's 26-yard line, the third play of the game. The second came after Allerdice had punted to Cornell's 13-yard line. Baker ran the 87 yards without a threat, behind perfect blocking.

Princeton rallied in the second period as Allerdice began throwing passes. One was good for 27 yards, but Harold F. McCullough '41 of Brooklyn intercepted the next toss on the Cornell 20-yard line and returned to the 43. There Mortimer W. Landsberg, Jr. '41 of Mamaroneck picked up 6 yards. Kirk Hershey '41 of Philadelphia, coming around from left end, took the ball from Howard S. Dunbar '41 of Roselle Park, N. J., after Landsberg had faked into the line, and ran 49 yards for the final Cornell touchdown. Princeton blocked the kick for the extra point. Thus the first half ended, 20-0.

The second half was a different story. Cornell, apparently protecting its lead, settled down to a running game, but it made no progress against the stiffened Princeton defense. In fact, Cornell failed to make a first down in the last thirty minutes of play.

Princeton, when it took possession of the ball, took to the air, for Princeton's running game was equally ineffective. Allerdice sometimes, through four passes in one series of downs, took desperate chances. His tactics finally produced a touchdown in the third period. The drive started from the Princeton 36-yard line. Allerdice passed 17 yards to Aubrey, 20 more to Stanley, and, after one running play good for 3 yards, 24 more to Stanley for the score. Aubrey converted the point.

Allerdice continued the passing game in the final period as Princeton sought another score. Once Princeton was interrupted and it looked as if Cornell might score another touchdown. Kelley broke through to block a punt, and Louis J. Conti '41 of Philadelphia ran the ball to the Princeton 7-yard mark. Landsberg plunged to the 3-yard mark, but Louis C. Bufalino '42 of Swampscott, Mass., fumbled as he dove for the goal line and Princeton recovered. Neither team threatened thereafter as Cornell intercepted four Princeton passes in the closing minutes.

Somewhat amazing were the statistics. Cornell registered two first downs to eleven for Princeton, but gained 229 yards rushing to 88 for Princeton. The three touchdown runs produced 172 yards. In the air, Cornell completed two of six passes for 22 yards, against twelve of thirty-four passes for 155 yards for Princeton.

Cornell's pass defense, except for Princeton's one drive, was notably effective, with seven interceptions, three of them by McCullough. Dunbar, who pulled out of the line on pass defense, intercepted two. McCullough had the edge in punting over Allerdice.

Walter J. Matuszczak '41, the blocking back, was rested through most of the second half. He was injured in the Syracuse game. His understudy was Richard L. Stimson '41 of Syracuse. In Matuszczak's absence, signals were called by Baker, Scholl, or McCullough.

The victory was Cornell's eighth against Princeton since the first game in 1891. Princeton has won eighteen and one game ended in a tie.

The lineups:

Cornell scoring: Touchdowns, Baker 2, Hershey (sub for Schmuck); points after touchdown, Drahos 2 (placekicks).

Princeton scoring: Touchdown, Stanley (sub for Longstreth); point after touchdown, Aubrey.

Cornell substitutes: Ends, Hershey, Burke; tackle, Blasko; guards, Wolff, Christensen; backs, Landsberg, Murphy, Scholl, Stimson, Bufalino.

Princeton substitutes: Ends, Stanley, Meyerholz; tackles, Rice, Herring; guard, Tschudy; centers, Alger, Robinson; backs, Wells, Van Lengen, Peters, Irwin.

Referee, W. D. Maginnes, Lehigh; umpire, E. F. Hughitt, Michigan; linesman, W. L. Cornog, Swarthmore; field judge, E. E. Miller, Penn State.

LIGHTWEIGHTS, FROSH WIN

On the home football front last Saturday, two Cornell teams turned in convincing victories.

In five hours of football for a handful of spectators who were more interested in the radio story of the Varsity game at Princeton, the 150-pound team defeated Villanova, 33-7, in its opening Eastern Intercollegiate Lightweight Football League game. The Freshman eleven, finishing under lights, blanked Scranton-Keystone Junior College of Scranton, Pa., 34-0.

The lightweights turned in a game that, for thrills, matched any Varsity encounter of recent years: Villanova scored a quick touchdown when Dominic, end, fell on a Cornell fumble in the end zone. Lombardo, fullback, kicked the point to give the visitors a 7-0 lead at the quarter.

Villanova appeared to be the better team until the middle of the second period when Cornell earned a safety as Lombardo fumbled and recovered in his end zone. A few plays later, Philip D. Astry '42 of Shaker Heights, Ohio, threw a 23-yard pass to Calvin O. English '41 of Elizabeth, N. J., for a touchdown. It was a spectacular play, Astry fighting off a would-be tackler and English making a diving catch. English place-kicked the point for a 9-7 lead for Cornell at the half.

The second half was a rout. Astry scored on an 18-yard run; English scored on a 70-yard run; Felix De Rosa '41 of Elmhurst raced 50 yards on a pass interception; and Astry plunged over from the 2-yard mark.

English started his 70-yard run when Bronson, receiving a punt, juggled the ball. English cut in front of him, took the ball in mid-air, and raced down the sideline unmolested.

The Freshmen were just too big for the Scranton-Keystone team and had too many reserves, virtually every man on the squad getting into the game.

Marches of 55 and 40 yards in the second period ended with Philip T. Goldenberg of Hartford, Conn., scoring from the 8- and 1-yard lines. Goldenberg in action reminded some spectators of Bart J. Viviano '33. Goldenberg also did most of the passing while the first string was in the game.

The third touchdown of the second period was set up by a pass interception, William J. Andrews of Philadelphia returning 48 yards to the 2-yard line. William H. Lehmacher of Glenbrook, Conn., scored. Joel R. Swanson, Jr., of Harwick, Pa., place-kicked two of the points, John S. Bonarek of Lackawanna the other.

Bonarek scored the fourth touchdown early in the fourth period on a 30-yard dash through the line and also converted the point. The final score came on a 35-yard run by Thomas D. Wells of Farmington, Conn. A running play was attempted for the point but it missed.

SOCCER TEAM AHEAD

The soccer team turned in a 4-1 victory over Haverford on lower Alumni Field last Saturday, with Sidney L. Scott '40 of Upper Montclair, N. J., and John H. Osborn '41 of Warwick East, Bermuda, scoring two goals apiece.

The victory left Cornell and Princeton as the two undefeated teams in the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Soccer League. The others are Pennsylvania, Lehigh, Swarthmore, and Haverford.

Osborn's goal in the first period and Scott's in the third gave Cornell the lead. Atkinson scored for Haverford on a free kick in the third quarter, but Scott and Osborn each scored in the last period.

GOLF COURSE STARTED

Construction of a nine-hole golf course has been begun by workmen of the Department of Buildings and Grounds supervised by Robert Trent Jones, golf architect of New York City and Rochester.

Jones attended the University in 1928-30 as a special student in Agriculture, taking courses in landscape gardening.

He has laid out the course on the east side of Kline Road, which turns north from Forest Home at the bridge there over Fall Creek. Across the road, on the west side, is the course of the Country Club of Ithaca. The new University course is also across the road from the Fuertes Observatory and adjacent to the broadcasting towers of Station WESG.

Trent has directed construction of more than 100 courses, among them those of Colgate University, the Montclair Athletic Club, Bonnie Briar in Larchmont, Bath Springs at Banff, Alberta, and the Seigniory Club at Montebello, Canada.

The course, which is bounded on the east by Warren Road, will be 3,260 yards long, with par of 36. It will comprise, when finished in the fall of 1940, about sixty-nine acres of the University poultry farm and parts of the Hasbrouck and Warren farms recently acquired by the University. The work has been made possible by a Trustees' appropriation of $25,000 to the Department of Physical Education and Athletics. Although details are not determined, it is anticipated that students will be charged a nominal fee for playing on the course.

Sufficient land is available for future expansion to eighteen holes.

ODDS AND ENDS

John R. Tunis, writing in the October American Mercury about professionalism in college football, brackets Cornell with Boston University, Colorado, Columbia, Harvard, Indiana, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, NYU, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Stanford, and Yale, and says of this group: "Then come the colleges in which a majority of the eleven are not paid, either openly or covertly, but where one or two key men are helped through, often—though not invariably—by the alumni. The president usually knows this, but the chief business of college presidents is not to allow the right hand to know what the graduates are doing."

Moses L. Goldbas '39, intercollegiate 125-pound boxing champion, is now in the Law School. He weighs 165 pounds.

Bicycles used by football players during the summer have been put away because of the danger of accidents on the Campus. Best use of a bicycle was credited to Mortimer W. Landsberg, Jr. '41 of Mamaroneck, who traveled to and from his home on the wheel.

Coach Carl Snively and Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern will again coach a North all-star team for a game with a South team at Montgomery, Ala., December 30.

Coach of the Freshman soccer team is George W. Crowther '37, a Varsity player in 1936 and 1937.

Kasimir E. Hipolit '41 of South Bound Brook, N. J., who underwent an operation last year that will prevent his return to football, is assisting the coaching of the Freshman squad. Hipolit was on the Varsity squad last season.

A Standard Oil Company crew, coached by Norman Sonju, assistant rowing coach, won a two-mile lifeboat race in New York harbor recently.

THURSTON CELEBRATION

Faculty committee on arrangements for the Robert H. Thurston centennial celebration by the University and the ASME October 25, has been appointed by Dean S. C. Hollister, Engineering. The committee comprises Director William N. Barnard '97, Mechanical Engineering, who will have charge of exhibits of Dr. Thurston's publications and apparatus; Professor Walter L. Conwell '09, Civil Engineering, in charge of the Bailey Hall convocation and marshal of the academic procession; Professor Charles C. Winding, Chemical Engineering, in charge of housing of guests, delegates, alumni, and other visitors; Professor Robert F. Chamberlain '08, Electrical Engineering, transportation; and Professor Frank O. Ellenwood, Mechanical Engineering, the centennial luncheon in Willard Straight Hall.

A general committee appointed by President Edmund E. Day last May has Dean Hollister as chairman; its members, Trustees Bancroft Gherardi '93 and Maxwell M. Upson '99; Director Barnard and Director William A. Lewis, Jr., Electrical Engineering; Willis H. Carrier '01, president of the Cornell Society of Engineers; former Alumni Trustee James W. Parker '08, representing the ASME; and Raymond F. Howes '24, secretary.

NOW, IN MY TIME!

By Romeyn Berry

There was a piece in the football program which said, "The entire squad is given two doses of gelatine daily. The training staff is convinced that gelatine restores energy. Football is, without question, an energy-consuming sport. Science has found a way to maintain energy and the Cornell staff has availed itself of it."

After the game your reporter was beset by a group of old timers who wanted to know if this statement was true or whether it was press agent stuff. They were assured it was both. They then inquired if the gelatine did any good and were referred to the scoreboard. The only answer to a football question that can be depended on to silence an old timer completely is the score board.

And why should the ancients gag at the idea of gelatine—tell me that—after all these years and after all the other things? At one time Science used to pass hot beef tea along the sidelines at Percy Field. She used to pass it in a steaming bucket and ladle it out in a tin dipper. Very tasty, too, although some complained that it needed more salt and others of the more delicate and imaginative type could have wished that the bucket didn't look so exactly like the one that held the mop on week days.

In another epoch energy was maintained both by harsh words from the coach and by small pills administered to the lagging between the halves by Dr.

Beaman. These pills were referred to by the initiated as "speed balls" and you weren't supposed to tell your mother you'd ever had one.

Later on, you remember, it was sugar. When a substitute on the far end of the bench was handed two lumps of sugar by Dr. Sheehan and told, "Here, suck them babies, don't chew 'em," he realized that the high command up at the middle of the field was preparing for the worst and contemplated the possibility of being obliged to use even him.

Beef tea in the mop bucket, speed balls, lump sugar, and now gelatine! I'd say we were making progress and that it ill becomes old timers to talk. So far, too, the score board confirms this opinion.

As a matter of fact, this gelatine isn't bad at all. They mix it with canned grapefruit juice and it tastes like canned grapefruit juice. I dropped in at Schoellkopf the other day and had a couple of fast ones on the house. After that I went home and carried twelve large buckets of water out to the chickens without turning a hair or once breaking my stride. Energy—a million!

And a lot of those other old timers we've been talking about couldn't do that, I bet you, not even on gelatine! After the first eight buckets they'd be clamoring for one of old Dr. Beaman's "speed balls."

CLEVELAND GOING STRONG

Cornell Club of Cleveland reports that its first Fall Dance in years—for alumni, undergraduates, and entering Freshmen—was an unqualified success. "The Cornell Club Scholarship Fund was benefitted by $204. Q.E.D." Chairman of the committee was Charles H. Day, Jr. '34.

Weekly meetings in Cleveland started September 29, with luncheons every

GUEST SPEAKERS FOR UNIVERSITY'S ROBERT H. THURSTON CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OCTOBER 25

Appointments of more than 100 official delegates have already been made by technical schools, colleges, and professional societies of the United States and Canada to the University's celebration of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Robert H. Thurston, first Director of the Sibley School of Mechanical Engineering. All Cornellians are invited. Besides President Day and Dean S. C. Hollister, these four will speak at a convocation in Bailey Hall at 10 a.m. October 25. Left to right: Dr. William N. Barnard, colleague of Dr. Thurston on the Engineering Faculty and his biographer; Admiral Wilson Brown, superintendent of the U. S. Naval Academy where Thurston first taught; Dr. James P. Adams, vice-president of Brown University where Thurston was an undergraduate; Dr. Harvey N. Davis, president of Stevens Institute of Technology where Thurston set up the first mechanical engineering teaching laboratory.

Friday except the first in each month, in a private dining room at Fischer-Rohr's, 1111 Chester Avenue, at 12:15. First Friday each month the Club is holding dinner meetings in the same place, at 6:15. At dinner October 6 several former all-American players led a general discussion of "Football, Past and Present." October 13, at luncheon, Edwin S. Baker '15 was scheduled to give an observer's report of the Cornell-Syracuse game in Ithaca.

TRENTON STARTS

Cornell Club of Trenton, N. J., opened its season October 4 with eighteen members at a smoker at the home of Donald B. Rice '14, on the grounds of New Jersey State Hospital. William H. Hill '21 presided, and Howard T. Critchlow '10, chairman of the secondary schools committee, led discussion of plans for the year. It was decided to entertain undergraduates from Trenton and vicinity during the Christmas recess. A block of seventy-five tickets for the football game in Princeton was distributed.

AT VETERINARY MEETING

Many members of the Veterinary College Faculty and alumni attended the seventy-sixth annual meeting of the American Veterinary Medical Association in Memphis, Tenn., August 28 to September 1. Dr. Cassius Way '05 presided as the new president of the Association. Dean William A. Hagan, MS '17, was a member of the committee on education; Dr. Henry H. Dukes, Veterinary Physiology, was chairman of the committee on proprietary pharmaceuticals. Dr. Jesse Sampson '30, Dr. Hugh S. Cameron '31, Dr. Herbert J. Metzgar '18, and Dr. Leonard J. Goss, PhD '38, formerly of the Veterinary Faculty, presented papers.

INTRAMURAL INVITATION

All students as they registered this year received a small paper-covered Handbook of Intramural Activities, prepared for this season by Nicholas Bawlf, supervisor of intramurals for the Department of Physical Education and Athletics.

Within its modest brown covers are a statement of aims and objects, a schedule of sports and the leagues into which they are divided, names of the student officers of the Intramural Athletic Association and its constitution, eligibility and other rules, explanation of the "point system" and awards, rules for various sports, and a table showing that last year 625 teams numbering 5,250 men took part in twenty-two different sports. 1938-39 champions in all sports and leagues are also named, and the standings of all fraternities are given for two years past, with the winners of the intramural trophy since 1927-8.

Alumni who are interested can undoubtedly get a copy of the booklet by writing to the Department of Physical Education and Athletics.

FROM FAR BELOW . . .

By Robert L. Bliss '30

Rugged individualism flourishes at Dartmouth. There's something about the makeup of the mountains that permeates the whole air of the place. Or maybe it was the character of that staunch founding father, Eleazer Wheelock.

Anyway, Dartmouth's going to celebrate Thanksgiving on the old deal basis, November 30. And that's not so strange either. Seems when Eleazer moved from Bristol, Connecticut, to Hanover back in the 1770's, he'd already celebrated the Connecticut Thanksgiving on November 16. Then he found that New Hampshire was fattening its turkeys for November 30. The states used to decree the day then, although in the subsequent trial of Eleazer for breach of thanks, he stoutly maintained that the first Thanksgiving had been set by God. We don't know what he'd do today with quite a bit of confusion as to whether Mr. Roosevelt or God is in charge, or in fact, which is which.

Anyway, we admire our Indian brothers for their stand. Long live Dartmouth!

And since we seem to be going the rounds, we understand that the Yale News, oldest college newspaper, is boosting circulation with broadsides to Vassar, selling its new "woman appeal" which will make the sheet good reading.

This, with Mr. Kelley now doing his stint for the magazines (and every loyal Yaleman hereabouts ready to crucify him on sight) seems to have brought about a state of emergency in New Haven literary circles.

Had your fall tonic yet? No, we don't mean boneset tea or any potpourri out of the herb garden, but your first fall trip to Ithaca. There's a great lift to that first trek that will yank you out of the Indian summer doldrums. The leaves are turning, and there's a snap in the air that makes you forget impending coal bills and worry about turning off the water at the farm for the winter. It just gets you. Of course, the spectacle on the field makes your corpuscles do hand-springs. But then, just to add a healthy dash of whipped cream and ground nuts, it's a victory—over Syracuse. Need we say more?

SHOTS OF THE WEEK: The red ivy on the southwest corner of the Drill Hall. . . . And on the west wall of Willard Straight. . . . The students now calling Aaron Wells "Teddy Zinck". . . . A transport plane droning up off the Ithaca airport after easing down a batch of Syracusans. . . . The crowd downtown after the game making the night hideous. . . . The Ithaca Hotel clearing out every stick of furniture before dawn the morning of the game. . . . That old reunion tintype man, foregoing his annual southern trip to cover the football crowds. . . . Nobody talking about war.

TOUCHDOWN IV IS ACCLAIMED BY STUDENTS

William S. Page '40 of Grosse Point, Mich., (son of Blinn S. Page '13) acts as master of ceremonies at a mass meeting staged in front of Willard Straight Hall last week to introduce the black bear cub which has been refused admittance to Schoellkopf Field as a football mascot. Mildly interested at first, Touchdown soon scrambled out the car in which she was brought, and climbed an elm tree along Central Avenue, where she stayed until the party was over.

COVER PICTURE

Man on our cover this week is William J. Murphy, Jr. '41, of Glen Ridge, N. J. Starting his third season in the backfield of Cornell football squads, he played in both the Syracuse and Princeton games. The photograph was taken at practice by J. Hubert Fenner, University photographer.

ROCHESTER CLAMBAKE

Sixty members of the Cornell Club of Rochester enjoyed the Club's annual clam bake, at the Newport House on Lake Ontario, October 11. Songs and music were led by George S. Babcock '16, Joseph A. Alaimo '31, and Howard A. Sauer '17; and speakers were Henry W. Norwood '03, Ray F. Fowler '08, Howard J. Ludington '17, Dr. Barton Baker '22, and George D. Ogden '25. Chairman of the committee was Thomas E. Johnson '32.

Ogden, who is a candidate for election as judge of the Rochester city court, was the scheduled speaker at the regular Wednesday luncheon of the Club October 18, at the University Club. His subject was "Justice in Rochester."

CORNELL ALMANAC

The Cornell Almanac for 1939-40—the third annual volume of daily reminder and handy information—appeared in September, ready for returning undergraduates. More than 5,000 copies have been distributed free in University dormitories, fraternity and sorority houses, and over the desk at Willard Straight Hall.

Like its predecessors, the book is devoted mostly to pages divided into daily spaces through the University year, containing for each that day's events in sports, dances, and other undergraduate events, with room for the owner's own notes. It contains also such useful information as athletic eligibility rules, cocktail recipes, songs, WSGA rules, the fraternity rushing agreement, a list of student publications and clubs, their officers and competitions, beauty spots near Ithaca, and fraternities and associations with addresses and telephone numbers. Several Campus illustrations are included, and of course many advertisements.

Spiral-bound in heavy paper with a faintly-printed picture of Ezra Cornell on the cover, the Almanac is published by the Cornell Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, with John H. Gray '40 of Newark, N. J., as editor and Lawrence W. Wheeler '40 of Sterling, Ill., as business manager. It was printed by The Altol Press, New York City, of which Edgar Altholz '36 is a member.

BREWERS ELECT THREE

United Brewers' Industrial Foundation at its third annual convention in New York City October 5 elected as its chairman Carl W. Badenhausen '16, president of P. Ballantine & Sons, Newark, N. J. Directors elected included Adolph Coors, Jr. '07, president, Adolph Coors Co., Golden, Colo., and Alvin F. Griesedieck '16, president, Falstaff Brewing Corp., St. Louis, Mo.

More than 500 brewers and representatives of allied industries attended the convention; heard reports from the seven states in which the Foundation's program to abolish objectionable conditions surrounding the sale of beer is operating; voted to extend the program to other states.

"INFORMATION, PLEASE"

An ingenious "Cornell Information, Please" program gave hilarious amusement to eighty-one members of the Cornell Women's Club of New York at the first fall dinner, October 10, at the Hotel Barbizon. A "board of experts" comprised one of the elder Club members, Mary R. Fitzpatrick '93; one of the youngest, Madeleine Weil '39; and three former presidents, Mrs. George W. Tucker (Elsie F. Rand) '07, Martha E. Dodson '07, and Fanny G. Selden '10. Mistress of ceremonies was Jessamine S. Whitney '05. It was announced that for each question the "experts" failed to answer correctly, the membership committee would pay to the Club treasury ten cents; forty cents was thus realized by the Club. Catharine M. Curvin '29 was chairman of the dinner and of the committee which arranged the series of eleven questions about the University and Cornell personalities.

Miss Curvin also introduced Dr. Mary M. Crawford '04, a director of the Cornell Alumni Association, who described her visit to Ithaca October 6 and 7 for meetings of the Association directors and the executive committee of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs, and spoke of the Federation Scholarship Fund and of Club memberships.

ON THE CAMPUS AND DOWN THE HILL

DETERMINED CAMPAIGN waged in the Sun editorial and correspondence columns for official recognition of Touchdown IV as Cornell's football mascot has been met with stony silence from the Athletic Office. The bear has not appeared with the team. This week it was pointed out to us that the Sun did not promise to have Touchdown IV on the field at the Syracuse game, as we said last week, but said instead that "sponsors of Touchdown V" promised its appearance. We are told that the promise was made good with the appearance of a dummy bear in front of the Crescent between the halves of the game.

STUDENT COUNCIL last week approved by a 7-6 vote a proposal made by the Campus traffic office that all student drivers be required to carry liability insurance. It wasn't quite the same proposal, though, when the Student Council finished with it, as the one the traffic office submitted and which had been approved by the Faculty committee on student affairs. The original proposal exempted graduate students and said nothing about Faculty members. But the Student Council included both these classes of drivers in its recommendation. Quid pro quo! Now the proposal goes to the Board of Trustees for its decision.

CORNELLIANS in Princeton for the game were invited to attend a Big Red Hop in the Princeton University Gymnasium Saturday night. Decorations were in Cornell colors. During intermissions a table tennis exhibition was given by Kreer and Nelson, Princeton's intercollegiate doubles champions, and Bish White's Quartet from the Triangle Club show sang.

NUMEROUS CHANGES have taken place among the pastors and student pastors of Ithaca churches this fall. The Rev. Raymond H. Huse, for four years pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, has been transferred to Syracuse as superintendent of the Syracuse West district of the Central New York Conference; is succeeded here by the Rev. John A. Redmond, from the Central Methodist Church, Utica. In the First Congregational Church, the Rev. William F. Hastings has been succeeded after twelve years here by the Rev. Edward L. Christie, from Marietta, Ohio. The Rev. J. Irving Reese has resigned from the Tabernacle Baptist Church to enter evangelistic work in Binghamton, and his successor has not been announced. The Rev. Paul C. Payne, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, has been elected general secretary of the Board of Christian Education for the Presbyterian Church in the United States, effective

FIRST SNOW came to Ithaca last Saturday—just a few scattering flakes, as if to remind us that the hunting season for pheasants, rabbits, squirrels, and partridge was to open Monday. For several weeks flying wedges of Canada geese have been passing southward, and a blue haze lies low over the Lake and hills toward evening.

December 1. He will live in Philadelphia, but will preach here through the remainder of the year. New head of Temple Beth-El, and director of the Hillel Foundation at the University, is Rabbi David A. Polish, who came from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, replacing Rabbi Ephraim Fischhoff. Two other new student pastors are the Rev. William J. Chase, Episcopalian, replacing the Rev. James A. Rockwell; and the Rev. Frederick H. Allen, Jr., Presbyterian, assisting the Rev. Hugh Moran.

FRESHMAN TROPHY for the highest scholastic average in the College of Agriculture, presented annually by Alpha Zeta, has been awarded for last year to George L. Suhrland '42 of Schroon Lake. His average was 87.03.

MRS. EMMONS L. WILLIAMS, whose husband was University Treasurer and Comptroller for forty years, died at her home in Ithaca October 5. She had lived here nearly fifty years; was active in Ithaca charities, social service, and hospital activities. First married to Ezra Cornell '87, grandson of the Founder, after his death she became the wife of Mr. Williams, who died in 1921.

VISITOR at the College of Engineering last week was Toshio Yamamoto, a member of the administrative staff of the Fujihara Institute of Technology in Yokohama, Japan. The Institute was founded and endowed last June by Ginjiro Fujihara, Japanese industrialist, and now has 200 students in a three-year preparatory course to be followed by three years of university work. Yamamoto is visiting leading engineering colleges in the United States and will prepare a report for the trustees and officers of the new Fujihara Institute.

STUDENT DELEGATES numbering more than 200 attended the annual New York State Intercollegiate Conference of the Student Christian Movement here October 13-15. They were addressed by President Day and other leaders from other places, and five separate discussion groups considered and reported on "How Religion Can Count," toward a personal philosophy of life; in citizenship and public affairs; in international relations; the work of the church; and education.

CORNELL QUARTERLY was proposed as a new literary magazine at a meeting of interested undergraduates in Willard Straight Hall this week. Members of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity, and of Book and Bowl, honorary literary society, are said to be interested. The last Campus literary periodical was The Columns, was which published monthly from April, 1926, through June, 1932.

NEW DORMITORIES for women students have been made from one wing of the Faculty apartments built by the University on Thurston Avenue. The building has been rearranged to accommodate groups of three and four women, and they use a private dining room at Prudence Risley Hall, nearly across the street. Head resident of the new dormitory is Grace Sawyer, a graduate of Syracuse. WSGA has appointed Phyllis L. Andre '40 of Drexel Hill, Pa. as president.

LECTURES this week include a public meeting of the American Student Union, October 19, with Professor Carl L. Becker, History, leading a discussion on "The International Situation and Its Origins."

SAGE CHAPEL PREACHER October 22 is The Rev. Paul C. Johnston, minister of the Third Presbyterian Church, Rochester.

CAMPUS VISITOR last week was William M. Stowell '85, the first time he had been here since he received the BME fifty-four years ago last June. He was driving through from his home in Springfield, Ill., with Mrs. Stowell and their daughter, on their way to the New York World's Fair. Only familiar buildings to him were Morrill, McGraw, White, Sibley, Cascadilla, and the Old Armory, and he expressed surprise to learn that the University Chimes had been moved from McGraw Hall tower. He was quite amazed at the size to which the University has grown, when he was taken around the Campus by Walter C. Heasley, Jr., '30, executive secretary of the Alumni Fund.

TICKET SALES for University concert series, both in Bailey Hall and Willard Straight Theater, are substantially ahead of the same period last year, the Music Department says. Last year about 1800 of Bailey Hall's 2041 seats were sold for the series, leaving about 250 for single concerts. All artists who will appear here this year are either already in this country or have definite assurance of being able to get here, according to Professor Paul J. Weaver, so the war will not interfere with any performances.

NECROLOGY

'91 ME(EE)—HERBERT MCADAM WILLSON, June 1, 1939, at his home in Sharon, Pa., where he lived most of his life, and where he was a member of the mercantile firm of J. M. Willson & Sons. Phi Gamma Delta; president, Electrical Association.

'94 PhB—JENNIE MARIA JENNESS, June 8, 1939, in Brooklyn, where she lived at 1113 Prospect Place. Miss Jenness was appointed to the staff of Girls High School in 1894, and taught chemistry there for forty-four years. She entered the Arts College in 1890 from Girls High School in Brooklyn. Goede; The Wayside Club; Cornell Congress; '86 Memorial Speaker; Class Secretary (1894). Concerning THE FACULTY

FRANK E. GANNETT '98, University Trustee and chairman of the National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government, urged Congress, in a telegram to important Senate and House committees, to repeal all grants of power which might be used by the President "to get the nation into war without consent of the people's representatives." He added that by declaring that an emergency exists, the President can now take advantage of a clause which gives him "absolute, unlimited power to stop free speech over the radio at home. He can take over the entire radio broadcasting of the nation."

MRS. HERMAN C. DAVIDSEN, wife of Professor Davidsen, Grad '30-'31, former member of the German Department, sailed two weeks ago to rejoin her husband in Berlin, where he is a member of the Berlin foreign office. While in the United States, Mrs. Davidsen was for a short time the guest of Professor A. W. Boesche, German, and Mrs. Boesche.

PROFESSOR LOUIS M. MASSEY, PhD '16, Plant Pathology, was elected president of the American Rose Society, October 6, at the forty-first annual meeting in Brooklyn.

A SON WAS BORN October 8, 1939, to Professor Charles K. Thomas '22, Public Speaking, and Mrs. Thomas of 610 Mitchell Street.

PROFESSOR MORTIER F. BARRUS, PhD '12, Plant Pathology, sailed September 29 for Venezuela to organize the extension workers there and to help overcome plant disease problems. His co-workers include Dr. Carlos S. Chardon '19, former president of the University of Puerto Rico, and Albert S. Muller '23.

PROFESSOR WILLIAM I. MYERS '14, Farm Finance and head of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Farm Management, was a speaker at the annual meeting of the Ohio extension staff, October 10-13, at Ohio State University; Columbus, Ohio.

PROFESSOR ANDREW C. HAIGH, Music, and Mrs. Haigh gave a piano recital at the opening meeting of the Ithaca Women's Club, October 2. October 6, they played at Hiram College, Hiram, Ohio, for the benefit of the refugee fund. Their out-of-town schedule follows: October 19, Women's Club, Hamilton; October 20, Colgate University Chapel, Hamilton; November 6, Town Hall, New York City; January 31, College of William & Mary, Williamsburg, Va. Besides these four recitals will be given at Wil- lard Straight Hall. The Haighs introduce a novelty in concert programs in giving a combined recital on one piano, including duets and solos, where only one piano is available.

THREE OF AMERICA'S rarest birds, the trumpeter swan, the Attwater prairie chicken, and the California condor, were color-filmed and their songs recorded by Professor Arthur A. Allen '08, Ornithology, on a four-months journey to the Southwest and the West Coast. The songs of more than one hundred birds were recorded, and 120 species were taken in color film. The expedition was financed by Albert R. Brand, Sp '33, research associate in Ornithology. David Allen, thirteen-year-old son of Professor Allen, and Charles Brand, son of the sponsor, were Professor Allen's assistants.

SEVERAL MEMBERS of the Cornell faculty attended the Third International Microbiologists' Congress in New York City the week of September 8. They are Professor Walter H. Burkholder, PhD '17, Plant Pathology, Jean Ferguson '31, research assistant in Veterinary Medicine, I. C. Gunsalus, Bacteriology, James M. Sherman, Dairy Industry, and Dr. Clifford N. Stark, PhD '26, Bacteriology.

DR. DALE R. MITCHELL '21, has been appointed acting president for one year of Bradford Junior College, Bradford, Mass. He is the first man in more than a hundred years to head the College. For ten years after graduation, Mitchell taught English here, while continuing his studies, and in 1930 received the PhD. In 1931 he joined the English department at Bradford Junior College. He succeeds Dr. Katherine M. Dentworth who has been president for twelve years. Mrs. Mitchell is the former Margaretha F. Lyon '30.

PROFESSOR GEORGE S. BUTTS '25, Supervisor Farm Study Courses, left September 1 for Washington, D. C. where he is enrolled in the graduate school of the United States Department of Agriculture. He is on sabbatic leave for the next six months.

PROFESSOR HARRY J. LOBERG '29, Engineering, was a leader in a clinic on market research at the National Industrial Advertisers' Conference in New York City, September 20-23. He discussed sales analysis with the aid of a series of specially prepared charts.

SIXTEEN NEW MEMBERS have been appointed to the staff of the College of Home Economics. Among them are: Dawn Rochow '39, assistant resident in the Department of Economics of the Household, and Jessie Freeman '36, extension instructor in the same department; Emma J. Brown '35 and June Thorn '39, research assistants in the Department of Foods and Nutrition.

★ ★ ★ ALUMNI HEADQUARTERS?

★ An Interesting question. During his college years the undergraduate attended sparkling banquets, dined and danced at the hotel, and reserved rooms for visiting parents. When he returns as an alumnus, he naturally expects to find his friends where he last saw them.

GELATINE

THE Knox Gelatine Energy Drink now has a definite place on the training tables of leading universities. Coaches and trainers have found that athletes have more endurance, recover more quickly from hard competition, show noticeably fewer muscle strains and injuries when they get their Knox Gelatine every day.

Men and women in all walks of life are increasing their endurance and lessening fatigue by this same simple method. Try it yourself. Take the Knox Gelatine Energy Drink every day for a few weeks. See if you, too, don't feel better, work better, play better. Most people need all the energy they can get to win out in the game of life.

TEAR THIS OUT AS A REMINDER

THIS WAY: Empty 1 env. Knox Gelatine in glass $\frac{3}{4}$ full of cold water or fruit juice (or half water, half fruit juice). Let liquid absorb gelatine. Stir briskly, drink rapidly or it will thicken. Take 4 env. a day for 2 weeks, then 2 env. a day. (Before or after meals.) Try it for a month. Notice the difference.

CAUTION: Be sure you use pure, unflavored Knox Gelatine. Only Knox was used in the scientific experiments. Ready-flavored gelatine desserts which are about 85% sugar and only about 10% gelatine will not do. Free Booklet on energy feeding. Write to Knox Gelatine Co., Johnstown, New York.

Follow your team PLAY-BY-PLAY with Atlantic

Again this year The Atlantic Refining Company invites you to follow your favorite team through the facilities of the Atlantic Football Network. So whenever you can't get out to the game yourself, tune in one of the stations in the box below and enjoy a lot of football fun the instant it takes place out on the gridiron.

THE ATLANTIC FOOTBALL GAME

Be sure to stop at your neighborhood Atlantic Dealer's for your free copy of the Atlantic Football Game. You can actually see exciting football action take place right before your eyes; you never know what's going to happen next. Here's loads of fun for you and the whole family. You'd better hurry because the supply is limited.

THE ATLANTIC FOOTBALL FORECASTS

Don't fail to see the Atlantic Football Forecasts which are posted every Wednesday at all Atlantic Dealers. This is the amazingly accurate system — compiled by Dick Dunkel — which has predicted the winners of practically every college game in the country for the past nine years with better than 80% accuracy, exclusive of ties. This year, let it help you pick your winners . . . every week.

FOOTBALL FUN ALL SEASON

Atlantic wishes you a lot of football enjoyment this season, and hopes you will follow your own team — as well as many others — over the Atlantic Football Network.
