"JULY 3, 1925

My Dear President Farrand :

It is my wish, if certain conditions are acceptable, to present to Cornell University the sum of Twenty-five thousand ($25,000.00) Dollars as a memorial to my late husband, Dr. Louis Alexander Dreyfus, and for the general purpose of assisting needy and worthy students to obtain their university education. The conditions to which I refer are as follows :

That Cornell University upon acceptance of said sum of Twenty-five thousand ($25,000.00) Dollars, shall undertake to pay from the income thereof One hundred ($100.00) Dollars monthly to Mr. Ike M. Dryfoos, residing at The Annex, Fremont, Ohio, during his lifetime, which said sum of One hundred ($100.00) Dollars per month shall be mailed sufficiently early to be in his hands on the first of each month. Mr. Ike M. Dryfoos is now sixty-eight (68) years of age.

Upon the death of Mr. Ike M. Dryfoos, there shall be established two scholarships, to be known as the "Dr. Louis Alexander Dreyfus Memorial Scholarships", and to be awarded annually preferably to one man and one woman student in the University.

It is my wish that the value of the scholarships should be approximately Six hundred ($600.00) Dollars each, annually.

It is my wish that the scholarships should be awarded to needy and worthy students and preferably to candidates from the public high schools of Richmond County, New York. Should no appropriate candidates from the public high schools of Richmond County present themselves, I would like candidates from the public high schools of Sandusky County, Ohio, to be given next consideration. Fremont was the birthplace of Dr. Louis A. Dreyfus and I wish that town to be preferred before any other town in Sandusky County.

It is my further wish that in the case of men students first consideration be given to candidates who are specializing in chemistry, in any branch of engineering or agriculture and in case of women students to those who are specializing in home economics or in the field of arts and sciences.

While it is my wish that the above mentioned conditions of award may be followed, it is understood that if in the future, conditions may change so as to make their application undesirable, the Trustees of Cornell University shall be free to utilize the income of the fund as in their judgment would best serve the general purposes of the University, always preserving, however, the name the "Dr. Louis Alexander Dreyfus Memorial Scholarships."

If such a gift under the conditions outlined, would be acceptable to the Trustees, I shall be glad to forward my check for the sum mentioned.

Yours very truly,

BERTA E. DREYFUS,

(MRS. LOUIS ALEXANDER DREYFUS.) "

This gift was accepted under the conditions outlined in the above letter and the President was requested to express to Mrs. Dreyfus the appreciation of the trustees.

18. The Comptroller reported the sale to the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company for the sum of $350 of a plot of land 16 feet wide off the south end of the boat house lots recently purchased on Westport Street.

19. The transfer of the lease executed between Cornell University and James Edwin Creighton to the Misses Martha Van Rensselaer and Flora Rose was approved and authority was granted to the Comptroller to modify the terms of this lease to give a correct description of the lot now leased to the Misses VanRensselaer and Rose and which was heretofore substituted for the original lot leased to Professor Creighton.

20. The matter of parking cars west of White and McGraw Halls was referred to the President and the Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds with power.

21. The general question of the parking of cars on the campus was referred to the Committee on Buildings and Grounds with power.

22. Professor Burr reported from D. Appleton & Co., the publishers of President White's "Warfare of Science" (the royalties on which are a gift to the University for the uses of the President White Library), a proposition for the publication of a revision of that work. The revision, long in preparation and much desired by Dr. White, is within the powers prescribed Professor Burr as his literary executor, who, however, asks approval of the terms offered by the publishers. They are ready to bear all the costs of revision, but wish to raise the price of the work from $6 to $8 or to $10 and to substitute a royalty of flat 12½% of this selling price for the present sliding scale of 10, 15, and 20%.

The report made by Professor Burr was accepted and the issuance of a revision of this book on the terms suggested was approved.

A committee consisting of the President, the Comptroller and Professor Burr was appointed with authority to act for the University in any questions which may arise in connection with the proposed revision.

23. It was voted that it was the sense of the committee that the custody of the Andrew D. White papers should remain in Cornell University.

Adjourned.

"1406 Hopkins St., N. W., Washington, D. C.,
Thursday, November 5th, 1925.

Prof. Livingston Farrand,
President Cornell University.

DEAR SIR :

In reply to your letter of November 2 informing me that my offer of five thousand dollars as advance payment on my legacy by my will of April 30, 1924, is acceptable to the authorities of the University, I hereby enclose check or draft for said five thousand dollars, the money to be used precisely as indicated in aforesaid will, namely : One thousand dollars to remain in the treasury of the University, to perpetuate the fund, the remainder of the money to be used for two purposes.

A—To establish and maintain at the University an agency for systematic search of fitting professional opportunities to assist Cornellians who may be in need of such help in getting settled in their life work ; and

B—To assist meritorious and industrious students at Cornell whose pecuniary resources are not sufficient for their comfort, by grants to them of reasonable sums of money while they are in pursuit of study at the University.

In the administration of this fund I do not wish such grants to be loans, obligating the recipients to repay ; I desire them to be grants with no obligations attached. But I suggest to all beneficiaries from this fund that whenever in after life they feel themselves in condition to afford it, or else upon their demise, they add to this fund from their means. And secondly, I do not wish the usefulness of this fund to be limited to the income it may draw. I have no objection to the principal as well being used for the purposes above indicated—all except a nest egg of a thousand dollars of the principal as above mentioned which should be left in the fund to perpetuate it and to attract possible increments from other persons benevolently inclined and interested in Cornell.

I do not wish to be dictatorial. With the exception of the few limitations above set out you have a free hand. My only motive in making this advance payment is: Now that I have determined to dedicate my estate to the benefit of Cornell I haven't the patience to wait until my death before the money may become available. Nor do I think it is right for me to withhold it in idleness when it may just as well be set to work right away. Indeed it is my present intention, if I live a few years longer to send you another advance payment.

One other matter of some importance. Now that the fund is established by the enclosure to this letter, of course you will have to name it in order that you may be able to refer to it by name. And it is but natural that you should name it after me, and you will probably do that. But I do not expect that. If you prefer any other appropriate name, well and good. I only mention this because, in case you should wish to name it after me, I would like to have the name of my dear beloved and departed wife included in its name. Her Christian name was Olive. She was all her adult life just as enthusiastic about this legacy as I am. It was the favorite subject of conversation with us, and if she had outlived me her last will would have been identical with mine so far as Cornell is concerned.

Yours for dear old Cornell

ALBERT JONAS."

The Board adopted the following resolution :

Resolved, That the gift of Albert Jonas of $5,000 be accepted and that there be and is hereby established the Albert and Olive Jonas Fund, the objects of such fund being those described in a letter from Albert Jonas to the President of the University, dated November 5th, 1925, and

Resolved, That the President be requested to express to Mr. Jonas the deep appreciation of the Board of Trustees of his generous action.

25. J. H. Northrup was appointed Assistant Mechanician in the Hydraulic Laboratory at a salary of $100 per month.

26. The President presented a letter from Dean Georgia L. White dated October 28th, 1925, and his reply thereto as follows:

OCTOBER 28, 1925.

President Livingston Farrand
Cornell University, Ithaca, New York.

MY DEAR PRESIDENT FARRAND:

After long and careful consideration I desire to tender to you and to the Trustees of Cornell University, my resignation as Dean of Women to take effect July the first, 1926.

When I came to Cornell University it was with the understanding that, while the function of Dean of Women was not yet clearly defined, it would be in general to keep in touch with the demands made upon college women after graduation,—economic, professional, social, physical, political,—and cooperate with those responsible for the various departments of University life to see that, as far as possible, the University afforded to its women students the opportunities to secure the training to meet these demands; and to stimulate the women to make the most of these opportunities.

My understanding of the reason for the special need of a Dean of Women was that, while the members of the faculty might have the same interest in all the students of the University, they were not as familiar with the changing demands made upon the women after college or their needs in the University and, as there were no women of professorial rank upon the faculties of the colleges other than Home Economics, it was thought wise to have a Dean of Women with a degree of Doctor of Philosophy and some years of actual connection with the academic as well as the administrative side of college life to represent the viewpoint and the needs of the women when questions concerning the University policies and proposed changes were under discussion.

As the position has developed, however, the emphasis has come to be almost entirely on the social and disciplinary phases of the work,—phases in which I have no especial interest except in so far as they are part of a constructive program,—and the position itself is at present so little an integral part of the general life of the University that its isolation makes it, from my viewpoint, and for me, untenable. I am asking you, therefore, to accept my resignation.

May I take the opportunity at this time to express to you and to the Board of Trustees my great appreciation of the full co-operation which I have had from you and from the Board, throughout the entire period of our connection.

Very sincerely yours,

GEORGIA L. WHITE,
 Dean of Women.

NOVEMBER 4, 1925

Dean Georgia L. White
Cornell University.

DEAR DEAN WHITE :

I write to acknowledge with deep regret the receipt of your letter of October 28th in which you tender your resignation as Dean of Women, to take effect July 1, 1926.

We have previously discussed the possibility of this step and your letter, therefore, does not come to me as a surprise. Its receipt, nevertheless, causes me a degree of concern which I find it difficult to express.

I shall do no more at this time than to say that I shall of course present your resignation to the Board of Trustees as you request, only stating once more that I do so with great reluctance. I shall wish to discuss with you in detail the fundamental problems you raise and I shall count upon your willingness to confer with members of the faculty with a view to the solution of those problems, if such solution be possible.

While there may be legitimate differences of opinion as to the course and policy which Cornell should pursue in questions relating to women students in the University, there is, I know, no difference of opinion with regard to your own ability, personality and service and the regret which I feel at your decision will be shared by every member of the Cornell community.

Sincerely yours,

LIVINGSTON FARRAND.

The Board adopted the following resolution :

Resolved, That the resignation of Georgia L. White as Dean of Women be accepted with regret and

Resolved, That the Board record herewith their deep appreciation of Dean White's devotion and valuable service as Dean of Women since her assumption of that office in 1918.

27. The Plan Commission presented a report which was received by the Board and it was

Resolved, That the Board express its great appreciation to the Architectural Advisory Board, the Plan Commission and the Landscape Architect for the very careful and elaborate work done by them and it was further

Resolved, That the report of the Plan Commission be received and ordered printed and then transmitted to such members of the faculty, alumni, Cornell Clubs, etc., as the President may determine, with a request that they make such comments and criticisms as they may desire regarding the plan. Such comment and criticisms to be in writing and be filed with the President not later than the fifteenth of January, 1926. Such comments and criticisms as are received to be turned over to the Plan Commission after that date.

28. Mr. E. N. Sanderson presented the following letter from Mr. Victor Emanuel of the Class of 1919 :

" 61 Broadway, New York, Nov. 10, 1925

*Mr. E. N. Sanderson,
52 William St., New York City.*

DEAR MR. SANDERSON :

With reference to my recent conversations with you, especially that of last Thursday at the Stock Exchange Luncheon Club, I have decided to follow your suggestion and make an unrestricted contribution of $25,000 to Cornell University to be used in any way the Board of Trustees deems desirable.

However, during our last conversation you brought to my attention the fact that the very excellent St. John collection of Wordsworth had to be sold and that the University was most anxious to add it to its permanent collection in the library. While I am not unmindful of the necessity of increasing the salaries of the educational staff, in the support of which I would perhaps find greatest satisfaction, I feel that the University would suffer great loss if it did not have excess to this collection as it had in the past. It will, therefore, be entirely satisfactory to me if $15,000 of my contribution is diverted to the purchase of the St. John collection.

Such expenditure will leave only $10,000 for unrestricted income for the University, but if the St. John collection is purchased in this manner, it is my intention next year to make an additional gift of $15,000 to the University for unrestricted income, which will increase the total amount of my contribution to $40,000.

In order that I may contribute something by way of encouragement to those who labor in the interests of the Cornellian Council, and as a mark of my appreciation of their support of the University, I would, if consistent, be pleased to avail of that agency for transmission of this gift to the University.

I want to take this opportunity to express to you my own appreciation of your interest in the University and the loyal way in which you have served Cornell. I only hope this small contribution I am making will help her in her needs.

Sincerely yours,

VICTOR EMANUEL."

The Board adopted the following resolution :

Resolved, That the generous gift of Mr. Victor Emanuel of $25,000 to Cornell University be accepted in accordance with the terms of his letter of November 10th, 1925, to Trustee Sanderson, and further

Resolved, that an appropriation of $15,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary be and it is hereby appropriated for the purchase of the Wordsworth Collection made by the late Cynthia Morgan St. John, and further Resolved, That the President be requested to express to Mr. Emanuel, Cornell University's deep appreciation of his generous gift.

29. The following resolution on the death of George Brinkerhoff Turner was presented and adopted by the Board:

It is with deep regret that we are called on to record the death of George Brinkerhoff Turner, a former trustee of Cornell University, which occurred suddenly and unexpectedly at his home in Auburn, New York on the 12th inst.

Mr. Turner was born in the year 1850. He entered Cornell University in 1869 with the Class of 1873 and graduated with that class. Soon thereafter he was admitted to the Bar of the State of New York, and entered upon a legal career. He was a public spirited citizen, and early interested himself in public affairs, giving generously of his time and energy towards the welfare of his community.

He had a genial personality which, united with his loyalty and devotion to his friends, drew about him a wide circle of friends, and made him a delightful social companion. He was honored from time to time with positions of trust and importance in the judicial, educational, and civic affairs of his city and county. In all of his positions of public trust, he had the full confidence of his constituents, and discharged his duties and obligations in both public and private life with ability and fidelity.

His loyalty to the University was most unusual. His visits here were frequent; and he is accorded the reputation of having attended every Commencement since the opening of the University. From 1892 to 1907 he was a Trustee of the University as a representative of the Alumni. He was a valuable member of the Board and gave it the benefit of his wise counsel and sound judgment. He represented a high type of citizenship. His death is to be greatly deplored.

Resolved, That the foregoing be spread upon the minutes of the Board, and that the sincere sympathy of the Trustees be extended to the members of the family of Mr. Turner.

COMMITTEE ON GENERAL ADMINISTRATION

JANUARY 2, 1926

Present—Trustees Van Cleef, Chairman ; Farrand, R. B. Williams, C. E. Treman, R. H. Treman and Pound ; Faculty Representatives Burr, Emerson and Moore, and Comptroller Bostwick.

Regrets were received from Trustees Cornell, Wilson, Senior, Westinghouse and J. DuPratt White and their absence excused.

2. A gift of $50,000 reported by the President as having been made from the Robert Boyd Ward Fund was accepted and the President requested to express to the donors the appreciation of the Trustees. This gift was made in accordance with the terms expressed in the following letter :

*"Robert Boyd Ward Fund, Inc.,
512 Fifth Avenue, New York,*

DECEMBER 9, 1925

MY DEAR PRESIDENT FARRAND :

It is our pleasure to herewith offer to contribute Fifty Thousand ($50,000) Dollars to Cornell University on the following terms :

1. The sum is to be paid to the treasurer in five annual amounts of $10,000, beginning with January, 1926.

2. The annual amounts are to be disbursed on the order of the President of Cornell University for such items as he may select embraced within (a) apparatus, equipment or supplies needed for any of the laboratories of any department in the University, (b) publication of research work done for or in the University, (c) original research work or in aid of scientific learning by lecturers of ability, provided the demand for such items has arisen unexpectedly during the current calendar year of the annual payment and which was not anticipated or provided for in the budget.

3. Any amount of an annual payment unexpended during its calendar year may be carried over to succeeding years or unconditionally added to the general income funds of the University, as the President may elect.

4. The gift is in no sense an endowment, but is a gift of income to furnish a fund available to the President to meet, in part at least, needs of an emergency nature which must and do constantly arise owing to the inability to anticipate and provide for every need where resources must be economically apportioned in the budget demands of the various departments.

For your information this organization was founded and endowed by Mr. William B. Ward in memory of his father, Robert Boyd Ward, the founder of Ward Baking Company. Charles A. Ward, '02, is also a son of Robert Boyd Ward. The gift being a limited one is not a permanent memorial, and it will be enough for you to designate it on your books as the "Robert Boyd Ward" gift during its continuance.

Merely to determine the utility of such a gift, we should like to receive a report of its uses at such annual periods as may be convenient to the comptroller of the University. We do not desire to be consulted before any use of it. The president of the University is to have plenary powers in that respect within the spirit of the gift. If at any time the purposes herein mentioned are not broad enough to exhaust the fund, we probably would enlarge the list if so requested by the president.

Please do not use the writer's name in any public statement of this gift at any time. If these terms are agreeable, let us know of your acceptance and we will forward you the first installment about January 5, 1926.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT BOYD WARD FUND, INC.

By Ralph S. Kent,
Vice-President.

*President Livingston Farrand,
Cornell University,
Ithaca, New York."*

Present—Trustees J. DuPratt White, Chairman ; Farrand and Wakeman ; Comptroller Bostwick and Superintendent Curtis.

Regrets were received from Trustees Sackett, Sanderson, Westinghouse and Whitman and their absence excused.

1. A proposition was received from Mr. F. C. Cornell offering to sell to the University his residence property south of the residential halls site. After careful consideration it was voted as the sense of the Committee that while it would be greatly to the advantage of the University to acquire this property and while it greatly appreciated Mr. Cornell's willingness to cooperate with the University, it could not advise the investment of present University funds to the amount required for the purchase.

3. Authority was granted to the Comptroller to execute the necessary contracts for the installation of the heating and sanitary equipment of the new greenhouses when the bids for the same have been accepted by the State Architect.

4. In anticipation of a request to be made by the State College Council for permission to move the present curvilinear greenhouse to a site north of the new head house, this committee approves the moving of such greenhouse.

5. On a re-study of the plans for a new water supply system for the University, Trustee Whitman advises that it would be advisable to make certain changes in the original plan and it is recommended that the appropriation for the construction of this system be made at $175,000.

6. The question of improving the acoustics in the main lecture room of the Baker Laboratory of Chemistry and the painting of the hallways was discussed and action deferred.

requirements of each plant species, especially of types that are difficult to root, was very unusual and made his work here most effective. Aside from his technical services Mr. Hunn contributed to the life of the College a genial personality that endeared him alike to his students and to his colleagues in the Faculty. He will be sadly missed among his associates and it will be difficult to find anyone who can carry on the special work in which Mr. Hunn had attained such unusual success.

Resolved, further, that the Faculty extend to Mrs. Hunn and her family our expressions of deep sympathy, and include these resolutions in the faculty records."

8. The death of Prof. W. A. Stocking, Jr., was reported and the following resolution adopted by the University Faculty was concurred in by the Board of Trustees:

"The University Faculty deeply deplores the death of Professor William Alonzo Stocking, Jr., who died on February 3, 1926, after a long and painful illness. Born in Connecticut on May 13, 1872, he was graduated from the Agricultural College of his native state in 1895. Entering Cornell for further work, he was graduated B.S.A. with the class of 1898. After spending the next four years as Assistant Professor of Dairy Bacteriology at his Connecticut Alma Mater, he returned to Cornell to study for the advanced degree of M.S.A., which he received in 1904. Then began his useful and distinguished career of more than twenty years at Cornell as a teacher of dairy bacteriology, a subject which he developed from modest beginnings to a position of great importance. Becoming an instructor in 1904, he was advanced to an assistant professorship in 1906 and in 1909 was made a full professor and head of the Dairy Department. In a State in which the dairy industry has a large place, he was thus charged with great educational and administrative responsibility. He did his work with unvarying efficiency, patience, and tact. He took an active and significant part in the organizations of dairymen in the State and the Nation, serving as President of the American Dairy Science Association from 1916 to 1918 and of the New York State Dairymen's Association from 1922 to 1924. In 1924 he represented the University and the United States Department of Agriculture at the International Dairy Exposition at Milan, and traveled in various European countries studying the problems of the dairyman.

As Acting Dean of the College of Agriculture in 1913-14 he held the confidence and respect of the Faculty, the students, and the agricultural interests of the State.

He had the scholar's passion for learning, and in 1923 resigned the headship of his department in order to be relieved of administrative duties and devote himself exclusively to teaching and research.

A man of simple and refined tastes, he loved the open, and was never happier than when close to nature at his summer home in the Adirondack Mountains. Yet he was no recluse, and for his large humanity was honored and beloved by those with whom he came into close contact, in the class room, in his Faculty relationships, as a churchman, and as a citizen. In all the walks of life which he trod, he gave of his best without stint; and his works do follow him. The pupils whom he taught and we, his colleagues, shall treasure the memory of his kindly and beneficent personality."

My dear President Farrand :

The Alpha Kappa Chapter of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity desires to establish a fund to be known as the Rowlee Memorial Fund as a slight testimonial to one of its members, the late Professor Willard W. Rowlee.

The Chapter will—

(1) Present to the University a set of the Alumni News, Volumes I to XXVIII inclusive.

The Fraternity requests but does not direct that—

(1) The set of Alumni News be placed in Willard Straight Hall for the use of Cornell students.

This check, as the voucher states, is in payment of a scholarship to a student in the College of Architecture who may be chosen by this Faculty. I might say that unquestionably this will be known as the Catharina B. Pendleton Scholarship; and for your information I will say that we have been notified that a like sum will be sent in January, 1927, and from a former letter from Mr. Hilton, who is acting for Mrs. Pendleton, that if this seems to give satisfactory results, it will probably be continued in the following years.

Very sincerely,

10. The following letter was presented and the memorial fund therein proposed to be given was accepted and the President requested to express to the donor the appreciation of the Trustees.

" February 8th, 1926.

Dear Dr. Farrand :

Through the unkindness of an inexorable fate, I have been appointed, by Judge O'Malley, Chairman of the Memorial Fund Committee for the 25-Year Reunion of the Class of 1901, and it is the hope of myself and my Committee that we may raise from the members of the Class a minimum of $25,000, payable before June 1st, 1926, to provide a permanent Memorial Fund which shall be known as "The 25-Year Reunion Memorial Fund of the Class of 1901" (or some more convenient designation). This fund we wish to turn over to the President of the University to be invested with the general funds of the University, and the proceeds to be subject wholly to the discretion and judgment of the President and Trustees for such use or uses as they may determine from year to year. In other words, we want to make it an absolutely unrestricted Fund so far as the proceeds are concerned, although the Fund itself must be maintained in permanency as "the 1901 Memorial Fund."

I have recommended to our Committee such disposition of the proposed Fund without first consulting you, and I apologize for this presumption on my part on the ground that my years of experience in the administrative offices of the University convinced me that gifts to the University would accomplish the most good if given in the above manner.

I have not yet begun the active campaign of solicitation, but expect to do so in the immediate future. In the meantime, I have received from Mr. Heatley Green, accompanied by one of his characteristic letters, his check for $1,000, which I am herewith turning over to you as the initial contribution to the Fund in question. If I may presume to do so I should like to have the privilege of turning over to you immediately all contributions as they are received, and place upon you the obligation of the recipient or Trustee of these Funds, to the end that they may be made immediately available to the University, and that you shall take the proper steps to have the Fund set upon the Treasurer's books.

In taking this action I trust that I am not imposing too much upon your good nature, but if I am doing so you, of course, will be perfectly frank in declining the office to which I have unanimously elected you, subject, of course, to your offering an alternative suggestion which will accomplish the purpose I have in view in a better manner. In the meantime, with cordial regards and best wishes, as always, I am

Very sincerely yours,

J. P. HARRIS."

11. Professor Burr reported that Mr. Henry J. Patten, '84, had furnished the necessary funds for the purchase of a set of Mercurius Politicus and the President was requested to transmit to Mr. Patten the appreciation of the Trustees.

12. There was reported an effort on the part of interested alumni to complete the raising of a fund of $200,000 for the establishment of a distinguished service professorship as a memorial to the late Professor John E. Sweet.

13. Authority was granted the Comptroller to execute on behalf of the University an agreement, approved by the University Attorney, with the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company granting to the University the right to continue the operation of its locomotive crane used in connection with the Central Heating Plant over certain side tracks and switches at East Ithaca, and indemnifying and saving harmless the railroad company from and against all damage, loss or injury, including injuries resulting in the death of any person which might result from such operation of its locomotive crane over and upon the side tracks and switches.

14. The advisability of purchasing additional land to be used in connection with the proposed dam for the storage of water supply east of Varna was referred to the Chairman of the Buildings and Grounds Committee and the Comptroller with power.

15. The President reported his action in accepting on behalf of Cornell University a gift from an anonymous donor of 833 shares of Stromberg Carlson Common Stock and, at the suggestion of the donor, his authorization of the sale of said stock and the investment of the proceeds in Eastman Kodak Common Stock to the value of approximately $100,000. It is the wish of the donor to have this gift regarded as a contribution toward the increase of the endowment of the University to obtain which he understands the Trustees are contemplating an organized campaign in the near future and of which effort he cordially approves. It is understood that it is the wish of the donor that part or all of the income from said gift be used to further this definite effort to increase the endowment of the University or for such purposes related thereto as may be deemed appropriate by the Trustees of the University, and that when no longer needed for such purposes said income shall be used for the benefit of Cornell University as the Trustees may determine.

It was voted that the action of the President be approved, that the gift be accepted and that the President be requested to transmit to the donor the hearty thanks of the University for this generous addition to its resources.

16. The Comptroller was authorized to pay Mr. C. B. Cady one-half his regular salary, not exceeding $50 a month, until further action by the Board.

17. The death of Professor Sutherland Simpson on March 2nd, 1926, was reported and the Comptroller was authorized to pay to Mrs. Simpson one-half his annual salary for the current year.

18. The offer of Miss Mary E. Prentiss to give to the University the portrait of Albert N. Prentiss was accepted and the President requested to express to Miss Prentiss the appreciation of the Board of Trustees.

Adjourned.

"On the retirement of John Henry Tanner, Professor of Mathematics, we his colleagues wish to record our appreciation of his long career of usefulness as a teacher and his worth as a man.

Coming to Cornell with extensive experience in teaching, he graduated, in 1891, with especial mention in mathematics, and was at once appointed instructor. Since that time he has continuously served the university and has advanced its interests by his work in class room, by his textbooks, and by his self-sacrificing zeal. He has cheerfully given his full share of time for the usual work of committees; from 1897 to 1904 he served as Secretary of the Faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences. He has also accepted various special assignments, notably that of Visitor to the Infirmary, for which he was peculiarly qualified by his kindness and ready sympathy.

His advice, often sought by students and colleagues, has always been considerately given. He has found especial pleasure in quietly assisting needy students; probably not even he himself could estimate the number of his generousities. The permanence of his interest and faith in Cornell University is impressively attested by the gift which he and Mrs. Tanner have made for the ultimate establishment here of a Mathematical Institute.

As Treasurer of the American Mathematical Society for more than a decade, he succeeded by his excellent judgment in placing its finances on a secure foundation. In every connection as citizen and member of the community he has furnished such an example of loyalty to high ideals and noble purposes as must long inspire all who have known him. Now that he is relieved from active teaching it is our earnest hope and sincere wish that he may have many years of health and vigor to enjoy the fruits of his labors. May his counsel long continue to encourage and sustain his fellows."

29. John H. Tanner was elected Professor of Mathematics, Emeritus, without salary, effective as of March 1st, 1926.

30. Action on the petition by the students for the discontinuance of compulsory drill was deferred until after the receipt of the report of the Committee on University Policy.

31. A committee consisting of J. DuPratt White, the University Attorney, the Comptroller and Harold Flack was appointed and authorized to compromise such claims against subscribers to the Semi-Centennial Endowment fund as to the committee seems to be for the best interests of the University.

32. The Rules and Regulations of the trustees were amended by repealing Paragraph 6 of Article V of such Rules and Regulations which provided for the giving of a bond by the holder of a fellowship or scholarship.

33. A committee of six consisting of Trustees Farrand, VanCleaf, R. H. Treman, J. DuPratt White, Horace White and R. B. Williams was appointed by the Chairman with power to negotiate with Mr. Franklin C. Cornell for the purchase of his property lying south of the residential halls plot.

34. The resignation of William Metcalf, Jr., as Alumni Trustee was accepted with regret.

35. An appropriation of $6,500 was made for the Cornellian Council to cover expenses for the current year.

36. Trustee J. DuPratt White made a report on the activities of the Cornellian Council for the current year.

37. The Chairman, President Farrand and Comptroller Bostwick were made ex-officio members of the committee appointed to consider limitations on the expense of fraternity and sorority houses and their operation and their possible future in relation to Willard Straight Hall and the University's residential halls system.

38. The President reported that the Dr. Louis Alexander Dreyfus Scholarships were now available.

Adjourned.

In the death of Sutherland Simpson, Cornell University has lost one of its ablest teachers and most tireless research workers. Born on Flotta, one of the Orkney Islands, February 3, 1863, he spent his early years on his father's farm and on the sea. In 1884, at the age of twenty-one, he went to Edinburgh to work in the physiological laboratory under Professor Rutherford. During the fifteen years spent in this post he found time to complete his education, securing the degree of B.Sc. in 1894 and the degree of M.B.Ch.B. in 1899. In that year Sir Edward Sharpey-Schaefer became Professor of Physiology at Edinburgh and under his stimulating leadership Sutherland Simpson entered upon his life work as a teacher and investigator in Physiology. He received the degree of Doctor of Medicine (Gold Medal) in 1901, and D.Sc. in 1903. Nine busy years passed in Edinburgh, years filled with conscientious teaching and productive research, which, in 1908, brought him the call to Cornell University as Professor of Physiology. This position he held until his death, devoting himself to the development of his subject, organizing, and equipping his department. Throughout these years he has given himself tirelessly to teaching, administration and research, acquitting himself with honor in each of these fields. In Cornell his research activity resulted in the production of fifty-six scientific studies of which the majority dealt with the glands of internal secretion. This work was greatly facilitated during the later years by the development of the Physiology Field-Station. Untiring devotion to research, although enthusiastically prosecuted, did not in any way interfere with his teaching duties. As a lecturer he was clear and forceful; but it was in the personal contacts of laboratory and demonstration that he particularly imparted much of his inspiration and enthusiasm.

Dr. Simpson was a Fellow of the Royal Society of Edinburgh and a member of the American and British Medical Associations, the American and British Associations for the Advancement of Science, the American and British Physiological Societies, and other special scientific bodies. Possessing a genial personality, a sympathetic nature, a keen intellect, great energy, and high ideals of scientific work, he was as big of mind and heart as of body and his presence radiated good feeling and friendliness wherever he went. These qualities endeared him to his colleagues and students. His loss is keenly felt by all who knew him.

I have the honor to present the following Report on the progress of the University during the academic year 1924-25.

The University has suffered the serious loss by death of the following distinguished figures:

William H. Sage. A trustee of the University from 1888 to 1904. Mr. Sage died at Albany on October 23, 1924.

George A. Blauvelt. A trustee from 1919 to the time of his death on October 16, 1924.

Burt G. Wilder. Professor of Neurology and Vertebrate Zoology, Emeritus. Died at Newton Centre, Massachusetts, on January 21, 1925. Professor Wilder was a member of the original Faculty of the University and retired from active service in 1910.

James E. Creighton. Sage Professor of Logic and Metaphysics and Faculty Representative on the Board of Trustees. Died October 8, 1924. Professor Creighton was the senior member of the Faculty and served as Dean of the Faculty of the Graduate School from 1914 to 1923.

THE TRUSTEES

On January 1 two Faculty Representatives took their seats on the Board of Trustees—Professor R. A. Emerson to succeed James P. Hall, whose term had expired, and Professor Frank Thilly to fill the unexpired term of Professor J. E. Creighton, whose death occurred in October.

In January, 1925, E. R. Eastman, as President of the New York State Agricultural Society, succeeded H. E. Babcock as a member of the Board and W. F. Pratt was re-elected by the New York State Grange.

The Governor of the State re-appointed Horace White a Trustee for five years and appointed G. R. Van Namee to fill the unexpired term of the Trusteeship left vacant by the death of G. A. Blauvelt in October.

THE STUDENTS

The official enrollment of students for the year ending June 30, 1925 was 5698 as compared with 5588 for the previous year. In my last Report attention was called to the situation created by the increasing demand for admission to certain colleges of the University and notably that of Arts and Sciences. After careful consideration of all the factors involved and upon recommendation of the Faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences, the Trustees voted to limit the number of admissions to the freshman class of that College to five hundred. The process of selection from the large number of applicants offered many difficulties but steps were taken immediately to deal with the problem. A committee of the Faculty was appointed, which committee makes a careful study of the credentials of each applicant. While the evidence as to scholastic standing and capacity is given leading consideration, careful inquiry is made in each case as to the character, personality, and general promise of useful service and citizenship. The information so gathered is being carefully scrutinized and from such information a selection will be made of those individuals who, in the judgment of the committee, seem to offer the most promise of future worth.

It is recognized that no decisive criteria for judgment are available but there is also no question in the minds of the Faculty that certain improvements can be brought about and the results of the year's experience will be awaited with keen interest.

A similar limitation is being administered in the College of Architecture as well as in the College of Medicine in which last the procedure has been in operation for several years.

I have no particular comment to offer on the general character and morale of the student body except to report that the year has been characterized by general good order and discipline, only interrupted by such minor or individual infractions as are incident to any community of the size of Cornell.

The self regulation of student conduct, which is now so well recognized, has continued to operate with success. There is some doubt expressed as to the success of the so-called honor system and certain specific problems connected therewith, are being given renewed attention by both faculty and students. It is obviously difficult in an institution as complex in its organization as Cornell to create a unified public opinion upon which as a basis any such system must necessarily depend for its success. There is reason to expect, however, that continued experience and acceptance of responsibility by the student body will solve this problem as it has many others relating to student behavior and discipline.

In this connection it is appropriate to emphasize the part which the new Willard Straight Hall may be expected to play in the social life of the University. Mention has just been made of the importance of obtaining a sound public sentiment upon which self government or any democracy must rest. It is the confident expectation that the new center of student life so generously provided by the donor of Willard Straight Hall will contribute in a marked degree to that end. One of the chief aspects of this new center will be its government and administration by the students themselves. Every effort will be made to encourage not only acceptance of responsibility but independence of operation always within the general limits of policy and procedure which must necessarily be laid down by the Trustees and Faculty. The University is fortunate in having obtained Mr. Foster M. Coffin, formerly Alumni Representative, as Director of the Hall.

MATERIAL DEVELOPMENT

The most conspicuous addition to the material equipment of the University is Willard Straight Hall which is now rapidly approaching completion and which it is hoped will be open for use very shortly after the beginning of the next academic year. From the architectural point of view, as well as from that of promise of usefulness, this generous gift of Mrs. Elmhirst is welcomed with particular enthusiasm.

Owing to delay in legislative appropriations the work on the new buildings of the College of Agriculture has been temporarily checked. Steps preliminary to the construction of the Plant Industry Building have, however, been taken by the removal of the greenhouses to their new site north of the Dairy Industry Building. There is every reason to hope that the Legislature of 1926 will provide the necessary funds for completion of these much needed buildings.

An interesting addition now under construction is presented by two units of the Faculty Apartment Houses on Thurston Avenue. Unless unforeseen obstacles intervene these will be available by the opening of the University year.

Acting under the authority of the Board of Trustees and by advice of the Architectural Advisory Board, the firm of York and Sawyer has been commissioned to prepare plans for new buildings for the College of Engineering and for extension of the University Library. While funds for such construction are not in sight, the critical need is so evident that the wisdom of preparing definite plans at this time is obvious.

For similar reasons F. L. Ackerman has been commissioned to prepare detailed architectural plans for a new gymnasium to be located in the neighborhood of the present intersection of East and South Avenues.

A special committee of the Cornellian Council has undertaken an active campaign to obtain funds for a memorial unit in the Men's Dormitory Group. It is to be hoped that this effort will meet with success and that the construction of certain additional units for which funds are already partly in hand may be inaugurated during the coming year.

Much thought has been given during the year just past to the development of the natural possibilities of the Cornell campus from the point of view of landscape art and embellishment. It is recognized that without greatly increased resources elaborate enterprises in this field cannot be undertaken but beginnings have been made which are of far-reaching significance. The appointment of Mr. Bryant Fleming as Consulting Landscape Architect to the University and to the Architectural Advisory Board has already proven of significant value in formulating the campus plans. Under the provisions of the generous gift of Colonel Henry W. Sackett the work of preserving and replanting the gorges which bound the University grounds is now actively proceeding under the immediate direction of Professor E. Gorton Davis.

The report of the Comptroller contains a list of donations for various purposes which have come to the University during the year. These total nearly $500,000 and are encouraging evidence of public confidence in the work of Cornell.

The Messenger Foundation, which provides for lectures by distinguished visiting authorities, was inaugurated last year by Professor James H. Breasted, of the University of Chicago, who spent a month at the University and delivered a course of twelve lectures on The Origins of Civilization with great success. The Messenger Lecturer for 1925-26 will be Professor R. A. Millikan of Pasadena and for 1926-27 Professor H. J. C. Grierson of Edinburgh.

Under the provisions of the Schiff Fund, Professor Kurt Koffka of Giessen, Germany, spent the academic year as visiting professor and was a valued addition to the Faculty.

Through the generous cooperation of the International Education Board, Professor O. H. Larsen of Copenhagen spent the spring months as visiting professor in the College of Agriculture with great benefit to the students as well as to his colleagues in the Faculty.

In addition to these visiting professors an important group of authorities was brought to Cornell for single lectures under the provisions of the Schiff and Goldwin Smith Funds. The importance of these visits by men of eminence can hardly be over-estimated and additional resources which would enable various departments of the University to obtain the presence of leading figures in their fields of knowledge are much to be desired.

As usual, the reports of the Deans of the several Colleges, appended hereto, give a clear picture of the particular problems with which Cornell is dealing at the moment.

A step of importance is the establishment of the College of Home Economics under the provisions of the act of the last Legislature in relation thereto. While no profound change in operation is brought about by that action, it is a deserved recognition of the leadership won by that Department in recent years.

The presence of the State Colleges, admittedly one of the great assets of Cornell, offers certain problems of organization which the faculties of the University are now seriously considering. It is inevitable that, with the artificial lines set up for administrative efficiency, academic complications should result. It is a pleasure to report that representatives of the faculties of the State and Endowed Colleges are meeting in a full spirit of cooperation to the end of coordinating the courses of study in related fields. Marked progress is being made in the coordination of courses in the Biological Sciences and in Education and consideration is being given to other subjects.

The Dean of the University Faculty in the course of his report calls attention to the decline in the number of applications for undergraduate scholarships, for which decline no reason is clear. Whether it is to be interpreted in terms of economic conditions or not remains an open question. This comment by the Dean suggests a situation to which careful consideration is being given. I refer to the problem of the student of insufficient financial resources and the provisions for his aid.

Cornell has always been distinguished for the welcome which it extends to the poor but promising and worthy student and for the sound democracy which the presence of such a group does much to insure. It would be unfortunate from every point of view if anything should occur which would jeopardize the maintenance of that atmosphere.

It must be recognized, however, that with the increased size of the University and the relatively small size of the city of Ithaca, together with the increased cost of living, the opportunities for self support on an adequate scale are insufficient. It is also true that there are every year in the University many students who by reason of scanty funds are forced to devote so much energy to outside remunerative work that not only does their academic standing suffer but in many cases their physical health is seriously impaired. This situation creates a heavy demand upon the funds at the disposal of the University for loans to worthy students. These funds have increased during recent years in a very encouraging way, as may be seen in the Comptroller's report. While we could still use to advantage for this purpose more money than the income of such funds now offers, the day is not far distant when, if the University maintains its present size, our loan funds will be entirely sufficient to meet every legitimate demand.

Nothing is more appealing to the average right-minded individual than the case of a student struggling against odds for an education and this attitude prompts a considerable number of gifts to the University, restricted to that purpose. I venture to suggest that whenever opportunity offers the donors of such funds be urged to include in the terms of their gift a clause permitting the Trustees to apply the income to other University purposes if and when in the future the conditions may indicate the desirability of such action.

In this connection it is interesting to note the tendency in American universities to call upon such students as may be in a favorable financial position to pay a larger proportion of the cost of their education than is now the case. This is sound policy from every point of view. The obvious method of accomplishing the end is by increasing the tuition charges and with such steps Cornell is familiar.

In order to guard against undue hardships to desirable but less favorably situated students careful provision should be made whenever tuition is increased for lessening the burden upon such students by compensating provision through scholarships or loans.

The Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences reports steps of importance in strengthening the fundamental departments which are grouped in that College. I must call attention again to the physical disadvantages under which the College of Arts and Sciences labors by reason of the crowded condition of Goldwin Smith Hall. I have no practical suggestion to offer for relief until added construction will permit the location of certain departments of the College of Arts and Sciences in other buildings on the quadrangle. It is, however, a serious situation which demands the attention of the Trustees.

The Dean of the College of Engineering discusses the registration of students in that college, which shows a slight decrease as compared with the preceding year, and it is pointed out that this is in accordance with the trend in engineering schools in all parts of the country.

The Board has had presented to it in successive years the critical need of the College of Engineering for new buildings and equipment. The lapse of another year without relief has made that need all the more apparent.

I wish to record as well the demand for greater provision for research in the many fields of engineering. The location and the organization of Cornell offer particular advantages in this direction if adequate financial support were available. I commend this point to the careful consideration of the Board and of the Engineering College Council, which was appointed last year.

The report of the Dean of the College of Law shows a gratifying increase in the attendance of that College and points out specific conditions of development for which the College must prepare in the near future if its relative position is to be maintained and strengthened.

The important step of placing the College on a graduate basis will be inaugurated in September 1925.

The crowded condition of the Library of the College of Law and the inadequate provision for its care become each year more serious. I urge that a study of this problem be made with a view to recommending practical steps for relief.

It is also clear that the creation of additional professorships in the College of Law cannot long be postponed if efficiency of instruction is to be assured. The addition of even one full chair to the present faculty would greatly ease the existing pressure.

The Medical College has closed a year of successful operation, although the reduced income of the College has presented serious obstacles to its development. It is a particular satisfaction to report that the interesting experiment known as the Cornell Clinic is now on a self-supporting basis.

As is well known to the Trustees, it will be necessary to obtain satisfactory hospital provision as well as greatly increased endowment if the Medical College is to fulfill its possibilities. Conversations have been under way for several years looking toward the obtaining of the needed facilities and support with distinct hope of a successful conclusion. There is nothing definite to be reported at this time.

The Dean of the College of Architecture emphasizes a problem which has significance beyond the limits of that College. He raises the important question of the functions of a possible College of Fine Arts which must be determined before intelligent plans can be constructed for a new building or the development of an adequate curriculum in this field.

The year in the State Colleges has been one of progress as the reports of the respective Deans will clearly show. Particularly interesting has been the co-operation in the Colleges of Agriculture and Home Economics with the International Education Board, the General Education Board, and the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial. The administrative situation created by the absence of Dean Mann on his important mission in Europe for the International Education Board has been met by the Administrative Committee, consisting of the three Directors of the College of Agriculture. These officers have discharged their added responsibilities with notable efficiency and success.

In the academic situation of the University I doubt if any problem exceeds in importance that of the University Library. I refer particularly to its inadequacy of accommodation, both for books and readers, and the attenuation of its funds available for purchases. The Trustees are already giving careful attention to the question of building and with this must be considered the necessity of increased maintenance funds.

It is evident from the catalogue of immediately critical needs which has just been rehearsed that the amount of money required for their satisfaction reaches a sobering total. This should not be a cause of discouragement but Cornell University must obviously look forward in the immediate future to a systematic effort to obtain the required resources. It is equally obvious that the sum called for will greatly exceed the possible capacity of the Alumni or of those immediately connected with the University and Cornell must look to a wider public for the necessary support. We believe that the record of the University is one which can be counted upon to command the attention and respect of many persons in a financial position to assist and who are not in any present recognized relation to Cornell. To secure the necessary interest of such individuals we must look to the Alumni and there is no question that their cooperation will be gladly given.

Nothing in the recent history of the University has been more noticeable or more cheering than the loyal and enthusiastic support of the institution and its policies shown by its graduates. Not only by financial contributions through the Cornellian Council but in countless expressions in other ways this loyalty has reacted most favorably upon the spirit of the institution at Ithaca. While regretting the unavoidable delay in increasing the remuneration of the teaching staff to a point approaching adequacy, the Faculty shows undiminished devotion to their task. It is recognized that the Trustees are fully alive to the outstanding necessity of improving the living conditions of the staff and it is fair to describe the present Cornell atmosphere as one of genuine optimism.

In conclusion I wish to record my deep appreciation of the un-failing support which the Administration has enjoyed during the year just past from the Trustees, the Faculty, the Students, and the Alumni.

Respectfully submitted,
LIVINGSTON FARRAND,
President.

SUMMARY OF FINANCIAL OPERATIONS

To the Board of Trustees:

I have the honor to submit herewith a summary of the financial operations of Cornell University for the fiscal year 1924-25:

This year the increase in the tuition charge in the colleges of Arts and Sciences, Architecture and Engineering from $250 to $300 took effect. The resultant increase in tuition was $132,599.71. The gifts of alumni through the Cornellian Council available for current expenses increased from $48,743.63 to $77,833.51.

With the exercise of careful economy the expenses of the year of the endowed colleges at Ithaca were kept within the income available so that the year ended with a credit balance of $2,596.54. By this balance and by an appropriation of $35,000 from profits realized upon securities sold during the year, the debit balance of the income account on June 30, 1924, of $434,802.15 was reduced to $397,205.61.

Of this deficit, accumulated during the few preceding years, $120,714.93 resulted from the purchase of land bordering on the campus and desired by the University to protect or supplement the existing campus; $78,053.23 was for the equipment of new buildings, and $198,438.45 resulted from the ordinary running expenses of the University.

In the Medical College in New York City the net deficit in current income was $67,085.47, which, added to the accumulated deficit July 1, 1924, of $67,633.34, resulted in an accumulated deficit at the close of the year of $134,748.93. This deficit results almost entirely from the failure of income from the International Traction Company securities received as part of the endowment of the college.

The expenses of the State colleges at the University, in excess of certain income available from University and Federal funds, are met from appropriations by the State of New York. The expenses of the Veterinary College were $178,469.62; of the College of Agriculture, $2,317,736.24; and of the New York State Experiment Station at Geneva, N. Y., $262,939.31.

Gifts were received during the year to the amount of $498,200.63. Of this amount $160,024.40 came through the Cornellian Council. On account of principal of the Semi-Centennial Endowment Fund subscriptions, $147,959.97 was received, making $3,581,943.26 paid to date on account of the total of $6,501,287.01 of such subscriptions.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES D. BOSTWICK,

Comptroller.

NOTE: The complete report of the Comptroller and the Treasurer, bearing the certificate of audit of Messrs. Haskins & Sells, certified public accountants, 37 West Thirty-Ninth Street, New York City, together with the reports of the Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, the Manager of Purchases, and the Manager of Residential Halls, will be forwarded to the members of the Faculty and Alumni upon receipt of specific request addressed to the Secretary of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

APPENDIX I

REPORT OF THE DEAN OF THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY

To the President of the University:

SIR: I have the honor to submit the following report of the University Faculty for the year 1924-25.

Since my last report the Faculty has lost by death two of its members, Professor Emeritus Burt Green Wilder and Professor James Edwin Creighton. Professor Wilder was appointed Professor of Comparative Anatomy and Zoology in 1867, among the earliest appointments to the young faculty, and was active continuously from that date until 1910, when he retired as Professor of Neurology and Zoology, emeritus. Professor Wilder was a vigorous and popular teacher and was one of the first men at Cornell to lift ordinary undergraduate instruction to the level of research.

Professor Creighton was appointed instructor in Philosophy in 1889 and was promoted to the professorship of Logic and Metaphysics in 1895, a chair he occupied until his death on October 8, 1924. He was the responsible editor of the Philosophical Review for over thirty years, and to his painstaking, learned, and exacting guidance is largely due the creation of a department of philosophy conspicuous for its graduate work. In the last quarter of a century no member of the Faculty had devoted to its problems more untiring and solicitous attention. At the time of his death he was a Faculty representative in the Board of Trustees. Unfortunately, ill health kept him from active participation in the Board's deliberations almost from the date of his election.

During the year the Faculty had the unusual experience of having no special session. It met in nine regular sessions and one adjourned session, the first session of the year having been adjourned out of respect to the memory of Professor Creighton, who died on the day of the scheduled meeting.

The Faculty membership for the year 1924-25 was as follows; At Ithaca, 346; Medical College in New York City, 71; Experiment Station at Geneva, 8; Total 425. In addition to the active membership there were 24 professors emeriti.

FACULTY REPRESENTATIVES ON THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

In accordance with its procedure adopted on October 11, 1924, the Faculty elected Professor Rollins Adams Emerson to serve as its representative in the Board for a term of three years, January 1, 1925, to January 1, 1928, and Professor Frank Thilly for a period of one year beginning January 1, 1925. The election of Professor Thilly was to fill the vacancy created by the death of Professor Creighton. The Faculty voted on November 12 that a member who has been elected to serve as representative in the Board of Trustees for a period of not more than one year shall be eligible to re-election. On the subject of Faculty representation in the Board of Trustees I add here an interesting letter from Dean Hall, which the Faculty placed upon its records of February 11:

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

The Law School

Office of the Dean

Chicago, January 21, 1925

To the Members of the Cornell Faculty:

I cannot let the expiration of my term as a Faculty Representative on the Cornell Board of Trustees pass without expressing to the members of the Faculty again the pleasure I have had in this service and my appreciation of the opportunity it has given to renew and strengthen the ties of former years. As I have already written the President, it has been one of the happiest experiences of my academic life, and, while I cannot believe that Cornell has profited by it as much as I have, I am for myself very glad that you saw fit to try the experiment of a non-resident Representative. I understand that nothing in the nature of a formal report for the period of my service is either expected or desired, but I wish to say—for what it may be worth—that in my judgment there has been no action taken by the Board during this time that did not give sympathetic and adequate consideration to such academic and educational points of view as might be supposed to be held by any substantial number of the Faculty, and that no important action whatever has been taken save with practical unanimity. Cornell has as much reason to be proud and satisfied with the service of its active trustees as with the work and reputation of its better departments; and the spirit of unity and hopefulness that is one of the fine spiritual creations of the new administration is rapidly welding Trustees, Faculty, students and alumni into a greater, better, and more harmonious Cornell than we have ever known. Not since the visions and ideals of its earliest years has the future seemed so full of promise as at the end of this first quarter of the new century; and I cannot close with a better hope than to wish length of days to the spirit of our leader and the enthusiasm of all who work with him for Cornell.

Very sincerely,

J. P. HALL.

WAR ALUMNI

The rights and privileges of alumni, without academic degrees, were conferred upon the following students, who served in the army or navy during the World War, but were unable to return to the University to complete their studies: Harold George Brewer, Arts ex-'19; Ezra Halsey Day, M. E. ex-'19; Murray McConnel, C. E. ex-'17. The Faculty on May 13, 1925, modified its requirements for the distinction of War Alumnus by fixing the completion of two terms in the University as the minimum academic residence.

MILITARY SCIENCE AND TACTICS

On April 15, 1925, the Faculty authorized the Department of Military Science and Tactics to transfer freshmen and sophomore cadets to athletics, the number not to exceed two hundred. During the period when drill was required only of freshmen the Faculty had fixed this number at one hundred.

The Faculty authorized its standing Committee on Military Science and Tactics to exclude students from re-registration who, except for reasons beyond their control, fail to complete their Drill requirements term by term in the freshman and sophomore years, as prescribed by the Faculty's rule.

High standards of training and morale in the Cornell Unit of the Reserve Officers Training Corps have been maintained throughout the year under the administration of the Commandant, Colonel J. C. Nicholls.

THE COMMITTEE ON STUDENT AFFAIRS

During the year, including the Summer Session of 1925, the Faculty through its standing Committee on Student Affairs dismissed eleven students for conduct detrimental to the welfare of the University. Although the number is larger than usual, the maintenance of discipline in the University presents no strikingly difficult problems. A serious breach of law and order was committed by a considerable percentage of the freshman class in a rush at the Strand Theatre following the Cap Burning ceremony. Measures have been taken which promise to prevent a recurrence of this disorder, which required disciplinary action by the Committee. The University's sole rule governing the conduct of students is as follows:

A student is expected to show both within and without the University unflinching respect for order, morality, personal honor, and the rights of others.

In a population of five thousand young men and women the most effective agent for the enforcement of the foregoing rule is found, not in disciplinary machinery, but in the instinctive respect which the great majority of students have for sound and wholesome traditions and in the spirit of reverence for the University and its work instilled in youth by the professors and administrative officers. The Proctor, whose observation of student conduct is probably wider and more accurate than that of any other individual in the University, reports that the use of intoxicating liquor has greatly and demonstrably diminished in the last few years.

By joint action of the Committee on Student Affairs and the Administrative Board of the Summer Session all subscription dances during the Summer Session were abolished.

UNIVERSITY UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS

In the last few years there has been a decline in the competition for these scholarships. In 1914 there were 137 competitors. In 1919 and the five following years the figures were: 108 (1919), 93 (1920), 77 (1921), 75 (1922), 80 (1923), 78 (1924). It is not clear to what cause this decline is due. The general economic prosperity perhaps lessens the pressure for students to seek this type of support which involves a high standard of preparation, or the teachers in High Schools and preparatory schools are less concerned in directing the attention and training of students to this form of self-help. During the past year the Faculty's Committee vacated three of the twenty scholarships in the freshman class and three in the sophomore class for unsatisfactory records.

In the competitive examination held in September, 1924, the percentage of candidates who elected the several examination subjects, English being required of all students, was as follows:

French	Spanish	Latin	German	Elementary	Mathematics Advanced
33.28%	16.58%	71.68%	6.40%	43.52%	23.04%

PHYSICAL TRAINING AND THE GYMNASIUM

In my report for 1921-22 I referred to our outworn Gymnasium and its inadequacy to provide for the physical training of students during the winter months. Among the building needs of the University this, in my opinion, is the most urgent. The present structure is now wholly obsolete for the University's student population. During spring and autumn the facilities for open air exercise are very numerous, but during a considerable part of the winter the student's chief resources for physical recreation and the maintenance of health are the winter sports on Beebe Lake, the cramped and unattractive accommodations of the Gymnasium, the small quarters on the top floor of the Schoellkopf building, and walking, an obsolescent form of exercise in the rising generation. A new gymnasium should be built at as early a date as possible or the old one reconstructed, the latter alternative being probably in the long run the more expensive and the less satisfactory.

Dean of the University Faculty.

APPENDIX II

REPORT OF THE DEAN OF THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

To the President of the University:

SIR: I have the honor to present the report of the Graduate School for the year 1924-25.

The enrollment during the academic year has been 583, an increase over that of 1923-24 of slightly more than ten per cent. This is not notably greater than the average increase in enrollment during the past four or five years and indicates normal growth.

The number of students registered during the summer of 1924 was 365, an increase of twenty per cent over the number registered during the preceding summer. In the summer enrollment under personal direction there was an increase of twelve per cent over that of 1923. The most notable increase was in the number of students registered in the Summer Sessions. There were nearly twenty-four per cent more registrations in the Summer Sessions of 1924 than in those of 1923. This increase is not peculiar to the past summer but has been noted in previous reports. It does, however, indicate that certain problems growing out of graduate instruction in the summer must be met without delay.

Students registered under personal direction during the summer are ordinarily candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy and must have completed before such registration not less than two terms of graduate work. Under the supervision of some member of their special committee, such students are as a rule able to work more or less independently. In some fields, notably certain branches of biology and agriculture, research can be conducted more readily in summer than at other times. Members of the Faculty, as well as graduate students, find it desirable therefore to be in residence during the summer. On the whole, the work of students under personal direction in the summer is highly satisfactory and involves few difficulties.

On the other hand, the rapidly increasing enrollment of graduate students in the Summer Sessions presents problems of major importance. Most of the courses offered in the Summer Sessions are designed for undergraduates or special students. To this condition, presumably, is due the refusal of the Faculty to grant residence credit to candidates for the Doctor's degree for work done in the Summer Sessions. Registration of graduate students in the Summer Sessions is, therefore, limited to candidates for a Master's degree and to non-candidates. Of students who were not candidates for an advanced degree, 69 were registered during the summer of 1924 and only 60 during the academic year. Of candidates for the Doctor's degree, there were 259 enrolled during the academic year and only 72 during the summer. Of candidates for a Master's degree, 319 were registered during the academic year and 293 in the Summer Sessions.

If the tendency of the past few years toward a rapidly increasing enrollment of candidates for the Master's degrees in the Summer Sessions is to be encouraged, adequate provision for graduate instruction should be made at once. Although candidates for the Doctor's degree may not obtain residence credit directly for work done in the Summer Sessions, candidates for a Master's degree receive credit for such work and may, on recommendation of their special committees, after having been granted that degree, have this residence credited toward the Doctor's degree. This condition, as well as the interests of candidates for a Master's degree who do not later undertake work for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, makes it imperative that the whole problem of graduate instruction during the summer be given serious attention. Provision for more advanced courses in the Summer Sessions is the most obvious immediate need.

Dean of the Graduate School

REPORT OF THE DEAN OF THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

To the President of the University:

SIR: I have the honor to submit to you the following report of the College of Arts and Sciences for the academic year 1924-25.

The registration in the College as reported by the Registrar of the University has been 1977 students, of whom 645 were women and 1332 men. These figures show an increase of 58 over the registration of 1923-24, which was 1919. The increase is entirely in men students, the number of women being the same for each of these two years.

In my report of last year attention was called to the inadequacy of our facilities for housing and instructing so large a number of students in this College. In order to meet the situation a ruling of the Trustees was enforced that "all prospective undergraduate students intending to register in the University at Ithaca for the first term of the academic year shall be required to apply for registration not later than August first of that year." Thus, despite the increase in the total number of students registering in the College throughout the year, the class of entering freshmen was reduced to 490, whereas in the preceding year it had been approximately 535.

It was apparent, however, that this particular means would no longer be effective in reducing the number of admissions once it became generally known that the ruling would be enforced. Accordingly, after discussing the situation in committee and on the floor of the faculty, it was voted by the faculty to recommend to the Trustees of the University that the number of freshmen students to be admitted to this College in any one year should be limited to 500. In confirmation of this proposal action was taken by the Board of Trustees on November 22, 1924: "that the number of freshmen students admitted to the College of Arts and Sciences be limited to five hundred, it being understood that such limitation shall apply only to candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and that this rule shall not be so administered as to exclude applicants holding state scholarships who satisfactorily comply with all requirements for admission."

The administration of this limitation of new students has been placed by the Faculty in the hands of a Committee on Admission consisting of the Dean as Chairman, the Secretary of the College, and Professor W. B. Carver as executive secretary of the Committee. This Committee has devised the following scheme of selection.

Application for admission to the College is initiated as heretofore with the Registrar of the University, and with the Treasurer who receives from each applicant a deposit of $25. As rapidly as these applications are filed the Registrar fills out a form giving the name and preparatory school of the applicant, together with a statement of his credentials and the method by which he proposes to satisfy the conditions of entrance. Copies of this form are sent to the Committee, and to the applicant. The Committee then sends blank forms which have been prepared, one to the applicant and another to the principal of the school which the applicant is attending, or which he last attended. "Form I," sent to the applicant, is a fairly elaborate questionnaire, with the aid of which detailed information is secured concerning the applicant's personality, interests, family conditions, object in securing a college education, etc. "Form II," sent to the principal of the school, asks searching questions regarding the applicant's aptitude for scholastic work, the position he occupies in his class, his scholastic successes and failures, his interests in the social environment of the school, and invites a personal testimonial regarding the applicant's character and promise of achievement. The internal evidence of the applicant's own statements on Form I, and the detailed statement of the principal on Form II, are the chief data employed by the Committee in estimating the promise of applicants for admission. In addition to these sources of information, the applicant is also requested to name three persons of his acquaintance, not relatives or teachers, who can testify as to his character and ability to profit by a college education. Letters are sent to these sponsors requesting a frank statement concerning the general qualifications of the applicant.

As these replies are received, they are assembled and studied by the Committee, after which they are thrown into three general classes: Class A, those applicants whose credentials leave no doubt as to their promise; Class B, those who for one reason or another, such as low standing in their classes, or possible social defects, are graded as doubtful; and Class C, those who are judged to be unpromising. The members of Class A are notified that they will be admitted in September, 1925, provided they satisfy the formal requirement of the fifteen units prescribed at entrance, including the units specified in special subjects. The members of Class C are notified that the information at the disposal of the Committee does not warrant their acceptance.

The members of Class B are advised that they must await a final decision by the Committee at a date not later than August 15 when their credentials, including their entrance records, are complete in our files.

The procedure followed by the Committee in this first year of selective admission is necessarily tentative and experimental. The work is therefore being administered with the greatest degree of flexibility, both in fairness to applicants who are not fully acquainted with the limitation that has been set, and also in order that the Committee may collect a wide range of information which will enable the College to adopt a uniform method of selection with due regard for the diverse merits of its applicants.

A number of problems have already been suggested, though no solutions have been attempted. One of these problems concerns the geographical distribution of our students. An analysis made by the Registrar of 478 freshmen who entered the College in September shows that 347, or 72.6%, last attended a school in New York State, while 82, or 17.1% last attended a school in one of the two adjacent states, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Only 49, or about 10% of these freshmen came from schools of other than these three states. Would it not be desirable to have a wider geographical distribution of students, and can we encourage applicants of the proper calibre in larger numbers from more remote regions?

Another problem concerns the student's age at entrance. The regulations prescribe that men shall be at least 16 and women 17 years of age, but the average age of all freshmen appears to be 18 and the median age even higher. This fact, coupled with the Registrar's discovery that 478 freshmen offered a surplus of credit averaging 1.41 points beyond the normal requirement of fifteen units, causes one to wonder if the traditional four years of College work is not a longer period of time than some of these students should find profitable before they pass into active pursuits of gainful occupation, or into the graduate and professional courses of study.

The new method of admission will furnish, prior to matriculation, information of each individual applicant, such as we have not previously had. We hope to make use of this information, both in assisting the student in planning his course of study, and by following his career in the College with greater care than has hitherto been possible. Some answer to the two problems mentioned, as well as to many other questions of moment, will undoubtedly be given by correlating the student's preparatory school and college records.

The suggestion made in last year's report, regarding the desirability of organizing the Biological work of the University in the interest of undergraduate students of this College, has been carried out. A committee appointed by yourself to consider this subject, and consisting of Professors B. F. Kingsbury, J. G. Needham, and H. D. Reed, Chairman, has, after a careful study of the situation, effected the organization of a Department of Animal Biology which, together with the existing department of Botany, will serve the needs of this College in the general field of Biology. The new plan brings together all relevant courses, irrespective of the professional college with which they chance to be affiliated. The departments, as previously listed in the College, which enter into this combination are Anatomy, Biology, Entomology and Embryology, Physiology and Biochemistry, and Zoology. The courses hitherto offered, together with others which have been added to make the plan complete, have been rearranged with regard to prerequisites and normal sequences, and will now be published together as an integral offering of undergraduate courses in the field of Animal Biology. It is hoped that many will now be directed to this rich field of study and research who, in the past, have seemed to suppose that the biological work of Cornell was too specialized and too professional to meet the needs of a student in Arts and Sciences.

The following changes have been made by the faculty in the group requirements for graduation. The subject of Mathematics which hitherto has been a member of the fourth group of studies, with Physics and Chemistry, now becomes an independent group. The number of groups in which a student must distribute his elections is thus increased from seven to eight; but whereas the present requirement is a minimum election of six hours in each group, the student will hereafter be permitted to omit one of the eight groups—excepting groups 1, English and Public Speaking, and 2, Foreign Languages, each of which must be satisfied before the end of the sophomore year.

By a further change Astronomy has been added to Chemistry and Physics in Group 4, although this subject will not at present be open to freshmen students.

By recent enactment of the Faculty $2\frac{1}{2}$ units in Mathematics will be required for entrance to the College, beginning with the class entering in 1927. This action adds intermediate algebra to the prescribed subjects for admission. The advanced requirement appears to be one that is now met by at least 90% of those who entered the College this year, and is in accord with the entrance requirements of other universities.

By the generosity of Mr. George C. Boldt, jr., three scholarships have been established in the College in memory of his father, George C. Boldt. These scholarships carry an annual stipend of $500 each, and by action of the Faculty, will be awarded to male students of the senior class at the close of their junior year, on the basis of scholarly attainment and the need of financial assistance. The Faculty has placed the administration of these scholarships in the hands of a committee of three: Professors T. R. Briggs, A. B. Faust, and Donald English, Chairman.

The annual reports of the various departments of the College suggest a variety of problems, the solution of which, in many instances, involves financial assistance, although in some, the questions are those of policy and administration. A few of these problems are selected for your consideration, in order that certain more pressing departmental needs may be recorded, together with a statement of such steps as are now being taken to meet them.

The Department of Astronomy is about to assume a more important place in the College, now that this subject has been added to the group of physical sciences from which an election is required of most students. It is not improbable that the elementary course in Astronomy will function as a significant feature in our curriculum. In connection with courses offered in Physics and Mathematics, advanced work in Astronomy will, no doubt, be elected by larger numbers of students. This development, which we anticipate, raises a question as to whether Astronomy is not a department which should more properly belong among the pure sciences of this College, than in its present situation as a department of Civil Engineering. Without relinquishing its obligations to provide courses in Geodesy for students of Engineering, it is possible that the Department could find a more natural field and a more ready support if its maintenance were transferred to the budget of this College.

The Department of Chemistry is now equipped with admirable completeness to meet the demands of its special course leading to the degree of B. Chem., to furnish instruction in the elementary phases of Chemistry, required by this and other colleges of the University, and to provide advanced courses and facilities of research in a wide variety of special fields. The most crying need of the department is an increase in its budget in order to make possible a sliding scale of salaries for assistants, which shall lead upwards from $500 to $900 per year. The assistants in Chemistry constitute a body of 54 men, mostly graduate students, and the present uniform stipends of $500 and $600 appear to be too meagre to compensate adequately for the work done, or to attract to these positions men of the quality needed as assistants and research workers.

In the Department of Classics the resignation of Assistant Professor B. C. Holtzclaw takes effect at the close of the year. During his four years at Cornell Professor Holtzclaw has made his influence felt as a capable and inspiring teacher of Greek. In order to fill this vacancy Dr. Harry Caplan, Instructor in the Classics, has been advanced to the grade of Assistant Professor. By a redistribution of courses and sections it will be possible to carry the work of the department without the addition of another teacher, although need will possibly be felt for the assistance of a reader.

In the Department of Economics the organization and conduct of the large elementary courses under the direction of Assistant Professors Slichter and Kendrick has been very satisfactory. We regret the withdrawal of Dr. Kendrick to take up a more specialized field of work in the College of Agriculture. The principal needs which the department now feels are an expansion of its teaching staff, in order that a larger offering may be made, especially to students of an advanced grade, and an increase in office facilities for purposes of conference between faculty and students. The provision of a new laboratory for Accounting on the third floor of Goldwin Smith Hall, together with the partitioning of the room thus vacated into smaller offices, will, in some measure, relieve the present congestion.

The Department of Education has profited greatly, as has the University community, by the presence this year of Dr. Kurt Koffka of the University of Giessen as Acting Professor of Education on the Jacob H. Schiff Endowment. Both by his personality and by his acute and stimulating thought, Professor Koffka has made a deep impression upon the students of the department and upon the faculty at large. The contribution made by his series of twelve public lectures will live after his departure in the form which they will take upon publication in the International Library of Psychology, Philosophy and Scientific Method.

The Department of English has effected a reorganization of its elementary courses which involves a larger participation in this work by the older and more experienced members of the staff. A special course in Elementary English is now planned for students of this College, which will be supplemented by an elective of one hour to be conducted by Professor Sampson.

The Department of Geology has announced a new course treating of some of the larger problems of Geology, which will follow and supplement the work done in its elementary one-term course. The chief needs of this department are more adequate housing, and an improvement in the salary scale of laboratory assistants. The department also suggests a summer field class in which students of Geology might be given a better field training than they now get in the short excursions about Ithaca.

The Department of Government has been perfecting the organization of its work, and next year, with the additional offerings made possible by the appointment of Assistant Professor Robert A. McKay to the staff, it will have a well-rounded sequence of courses. The department has achieved gratifying results by the employment of tutorial methods, and by the development of independent projects of study, even in its elementary classes, where a limited number of the best students are allowed to work informally in lieu of certain routine requirements exacted of the rest of the class.

The elementary course in Ancient History has been conducted with marked success by Mr. F. E. Marcham, Lecturer. With the appointment of Mr. M. L. W. Laistner to the chair of Ancient History, the courses of this department will next year be resumed on the usual plan. Since Mr. Marcham was obliged to restrict his enrollment to one hundred, Professor Bretz's introductory course in American History was opened this year to a limited number of freshmen students. Henceforth the courses in Ancient and English History will be expected to make provision for freshmen, although in special cases students of this class will still be admitted to Mr. Bretz's course by permission.

In the Department of Mathematics regret is felt over the retirement of Assistant Professor Marston Morse, who leaves us to accept appointment at Brown University. The staff of the department will, however, be strengthened next year by the return of Professor D. C. Gillespie who has been absent this year on sabbatic leave. As regards departmental needs, hope is expressed that funds may soon be available to supplement an amount already appropriated in order that Rooms 20 and 22 of White Hall may be refitted to serve as a departmental library.

In the Department of Philosophy the death of Professor J. E. Creighton has been a serious blow. We have sadly missed both his wise counsel in the faculty, and his marked ability in the classroom.

The new elementary course in Physics seems to meet the requirements of this College more adequately than did the old one which it replaces. The department finds a pressing need for additional clerical assistance, in order that the members of the teaching staff may be relieved of certain routine duties, and thus be enabled to devote more time to teaching and research.

The Department of Psychology registers a need for additional assistance in the conduct of its laboratory courses, and for a mechanician to prepare apparatus for teaching and research.

The Department of Public Speaking calls attention to the very unsatisfactory quarters which it now occupies, and especially to its need of a seminary room for the use of advanced students. Additional appropriations are desired for the purchase of a speech-recording apparatus, for the support of debating, and for the work in Dramatic Art. The suggestion is also made that the University would benefit by a clinic for the treatment of a considerable number of students with defective speech. The department would be glad to co-operate in supplying this lack which it finds "obvious in view of the highly organized work in hygiene, medical inspection, and corrective physical training."

The Department of Romance Languages has suffered a serious loss in the resignation of Professor R. H. Keniston, who has accepted appointment in the University of Chicago. The place thus vacated has been filled by the appointment of Professor G. I. Dale of Washington University, a graduate of Cornell. Effort was made during the year to secure an outstanding teacher with secondary school experience who should assume charge of the elementary courses of the department. Although this effort failed, it will probably be renewed, unless it should seem feasible to discontinue some of the courses which parallel work done in secondary schools.

The Department of Zoology, which like Geology is housed in McGraw Hall, calls attention to the unsatisfactory character of the quarters it occupies, and also requests an appropriation for additional clerical assistance.

During the past year, the various committees of the College have served faithfully and well.

In the Committee on Educational Policy the vacancy occasioned by the illness and death of Professor Creighton has been filled by Professor Becker.

By action of the Faculty, the Committee on Academic Records will hereafter consist of nine members appointed by the Dean, each to serve for a period of three years, when he becomes ineligible to immediate reappointment. This action brings the Committee into line with other standing committees of the College.

The Underclass Advisory Board has conducted its work in a most satisfactory way, under the capable leadership of its chairman, Professor Laurence Pumpelly, whose retirement, after the completion of his term of office at the end of the academic year, is deeply regretted.

The Committee on the Goldwin Smith Lectures, so ably conducted by its chairman, Professor O. G. Guerlac, has arranged for thirty-two public lectures in the course of the year. These lectures have been largely attended and have proved a distinct educational asset, both to the College and to the University community.

The Committee on the Goldwin Smith Reading Room has succeeded in securing additional book-presses and new lighting. The room has also been re-decorated, and a considerable addition to the supply of books will be on the shelves next autumn.

R. M. OGDEN,
Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

APPENDIX IV

To the President of the University:

	1924-5	1923-4
Third year.....	37	24
Second year.....	50	27
First year.....	76	52
Special.....	4	5

Of the 167 law students 43% live outside the state of New York.

The following table shows the amount of collegiate preparation which the regular law students registered during the past year have had:

2 years of college work at Cornell.....	66
2 years of college work outside Cornell.....	38
3 years of college work at Cornell.....	4
3 years of college work outside Cornell.....	10
College degrees from Cornell.....	31
College degrees from other universities.....	18

Total..... 167

As a result of the examinations held in June, 1924, and February, 1925, there were dropped from the college 7 students, all first year men; and there were placed on probation 25 students, the total being made up of 15 first year men, 9 second year men, and one third year man.

Since June 1, 1924, 22 students have been recommended for the degree of LL.B. and have had that degree conferred upon them by the Trustees.

During the second term of the year 1924-25 Professor O. L. McCaskill has been on sabbatical leave of absence. Leave of absence has been granted to Dean Bogert for the college year, 1925-26. Professor Charles K. Burdick has been appointed by the trustees acting Dean for that year.

Herbert D. Laube has been recommended to the trustees for appointment as assistant professor of law for a period of two years commencing September, 1925. It is expected that he will take over certain courses during the absence of Dean Bogert in 1925-26, and the absence of Assistant Professor Whiteside in 1926-27. Mr. Laube is now a professor of law in the St. Louis University School of Law, where he has achieved an excellent reputation as teacher and scholar. He holds the degrees of A.B. from University of Wisconsin; A.M. from University of Michigan; LL.B. from Columbia University; and S.J.D. from Harvard. He has had three years experience in the practice of the law.

Much to the regret of the faculty and students of the College, the Honorable Charles M. Hough, for many years a non-resident lecturer on Patent Law and Bankruptcy in the college, was obliged to withdraw from his lectureship on account of ill health. Judge Hough's courses have been interesting, and exceedingly stimulating and helpful to the students. His visits to the school have been an inspiration to the students and faculty alike.

The non-resident lecturers for the college year 1924-25 were: L. Ward Banister, Esq., of Denver, Colorado, "Water Rights and Irrigation Law", 6 lectures; Hon. Leonard C. Crouch, of Syracuse, Justice of the Supreme Court, Appellate Division, Fourth Department, State of New York, "Trial Practice", 3 lectures; Hon. Thomas Ewing, of New York City, Former United States Commissioner of Patents, "Patent Law", 6 lectures; Hon. Frank Irvine, of Ithaca, former Public Service Commissioner for the state of New York, 2nd District, "Public Service Law and Practice", 2 lectures; Hon. Robert von Moschzisker, of Philadelphia, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, "Dangers in Disregarding Fundamental Conceptions when Amending the Federal Constitution", the Frank Irvine lecturer on the Phi Delta Phi Foundation.

The total registration in the College of Law in the summer of 1924 was 83, as contrasted with 44 in 1923. The faculty was composed of the following members: Henry W. Ballantine (Minnesota), Contracts; Armistead M. Dobie (Virginia), Damages, Taxation; O. L. McCaskill, Practice; Austin W. Scott (Harvard), Trusts; Robert S. Stevens, Partnership, Private Corporations; William R. Vance (Yale), Insurance, Wills; Horace E. Whiteside, Personal Property, Agency.

During the year, 1328 volumes have been added to the library, making a total of 58,814. Of these volumes 373 were gifts. Among the more important sets added or completed during the year were: American Maritime Cases; Constitutional Review; Conveyances; Federal Reporter; League of Nations (Treaty Series); Remington on Bankruptcy; Reports of Patent Cases; Revised Reports; Revue Legale (New Series); Review Trimestrielle du Droit Civil; Shepard's California Citations; United States Circuit Court of Appeals (C. C. A.); United States Supreme Court Reports (Co-op ed.).

The librarian has been remarkably successful in disposing of that portion of the Benno Loewy law library which consists of duplicates. He has received $2,083.20 from such sales.

Earl J. Bennett, Esq., of the class of 1901, has during the past year given the sum of $1,000 for use in making additions to the admirable collection of statute law which he founded. This generous gift will enable the librarian to fill in some gaps in the collection, and gradually to perfect it.

During the year the faculty recommended to the trustees that an effort be made to obtain the briefs and records on appeal in the New York Court of Appeals, and to have them bound as permanent records for the library. These records are frequently very useful in the intimate examination of cases. All the larger law school libraries have one or more sets. There are now in the library the bound records covering volumes 81 to 177 of the New York reports, for the years 1880-1903. These records are not entirely complete. Through the kindness of the Hon. Frank H. Hiscock, Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals, the current records, commencing January 1, 1925, have been presented to the College. Although funds are not available immediately for the binding of these appeal papers, they will be stored and bound as soon as an appropriation for that purpose is made.

At the commencement of this year, Edgar A. Hamilton, Esq., LL.B., 1913, the executive head of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Baltimore, Md., established a prize of $1,000 to be known as the Corporate Suretyship Prize, and to be given to a senior in the College of Law during the year 1924-25. The holder of the prize is required by the terms of the gift to devote special study to the subject of Corporate Suretyship, and to write a paper on that topic.

During the year there has been consideration of the question of graduate instruction by the members of the law faculty. A faculty committee has conferred with the Dean of the Graduate School. The faculty believes it impossible at present to offer instruction and research which might lead to a graduate degree in Law. The limited number of the present faculty, and the consequent press of undergraduate work upon them, makes it impossible to ask them to give more courses or to supervise extensive research work. It was felt, however, by the faculty that such members of the law faculty as desired to do so might indicate to the faculty of the graduate school their willingness to give instruction to students in the Graduate School, studying for masters' degrees, and to supervise a limited amount of research on their part. All of the members of the law faculty except one thereupon expressed a willingness to undertake a limited amount of graduate work. The dean of the Graduate School was notified of such action by the individual members of the law faculty and it is understood that certain law courses will be announced as available to graduate students during the next college year.

The curriculum of the college has undergone a careful examination for the purpose of ascertaining whether any subjects or branches of the law are being over or under emphasized, and what subjects might profitably be added to the curriculum. As a basis for a report on this subject, a faculty committee compared our curriculum with that of thirteen other law schools, believed to be leading schools of the country. The committee made some recommendations as to increases and decreases in the amount of time to be allotted to various courses, and recommended that a course in Labor Law be added. The faculty acted upon these recommendations and modified the curriculum offered by the college. A questionnaire was sent to ninety-seven graduates of the college, who had taken the course in Practice Court, for the purpose of ascertaining their views with respect to the value of this course. Forty answers were received. Nearly all of those answering were enthusiastic in their praise of the Practice Court and believed that the time devoted to it should not be diminished.

On the recommendation of the President a conference was held with certain representatives of the College of Arts and Sciences, for the purpose of considering the courses given in both colleges which are similar, or to a greater or lesser extent, duplicate one another. Special attention was given to Constitutional Law, International Law, Labor Law, Jurisprudence, and Taxation. The result of the conference was that the representatives of both faculties obtained an accurate knowledge of the content of the courses under examination. Such knowledge will probably lead to a molding of the courses in such a way as further to differentiate them in method and function. It was agreed that certain law courses might be announced in the circular of the College of Arts and Sciences, if the several departments in that college thought that these courses were of value to Arts and Science students; and similarly the law faculty, with the permission of the departments concerned, is announcing related courses given in Arts and Sciences. Provision will be made in the future for obtaining from each student as he enters the Law school a record of the courses in Arts and Sciences which he has taken, in order to shape his law school curriculum so as to avoid undesirable duplication. Students in Arts and Sciences intending to study law at Cornell will also be notified of the related courses in the law school, so that they may make suitable elections in the curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences.

A luncheon of the Cornell Law Association was held at Philadelphia in July, 1924, at the time of the meeting of the American Bar Association. About thirty members attended. The Hon. Charles E. Hughes was to have addressed the gathering, but was prevented by urgent business in Washington.

At the autumn meeting of the Law Association the Hon. Silas H. Strawn of Chicago, addressed the Law Association and the College of Law, on the topic, "A Few Fundamentals". At this meeting, William L. Ransom, Esq., LL.B., 1905, of New York City, was elected president of the Association. He has already given much time and energy to the work of the Association.

Several conferences of the officers and executive committee of the Association have been held during this year, and as a result three scholarships of $200 each have been offered to the University for the year 1925-6. One scholarship is given from the funds of the Association, one by Judge Ransom, the president of the Association, and one by E. J. Marshall, Esq., LL.B., '94, of Toledo, Ohio. These scholarships will, if accepted by the trustees be awarded by the faculty to students in the College of Law. Due to the fact that the college is now a graduate school, but few of the university scholarships, prizes, and loan funds are available to students in the law school. The establishment of the three scholarships mentioned above is therefore especially welcome. It will doubtless enable some worthy students to remain at their work here, who otherwise might be forced to leave the university.

The Law Association has also energetically undertaken the publication of a directory of its members, which will be used as a basis for the exchange of legal business. This directory will be very useful to the members of the Association and it is believed will stimulate a desire to join the Association, on the part of many Cornell lawyers who are not now members.

The Cornell Law Quarterly has successfully completed its tenth year of publication. It is in satisfactory financial condition and has over a thousand paid subscribers. Since only about eighteen hundred law degrees have been conferred by Cornell University, the subscription list of the Quarterly is believed to be rather remarkable in size. Of course many of the eighteen hundred graduates have now died, or are not in practice. The completion of the tenth year of publication was celebrated by the present and former editors of the Quarterly at a dinner given in Ithaca on May 22, at which the Hon. Frank H. Hiscock, Chief Judge of the New York Court of Appeals, and the Hon. Robert von Moschzisker, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, were the guests of honor.

The entrance requirement of a college degree will become effective in the law school in September, 1925. It is interesting to note that the general tendency among law schools continues to be one of increased entrance requirements. During the last year, two more New York State law schools (Albany and Buffalo) have announced advances which soon will require two years of college work, and one school (New York Law School) has set a standard of one year of college work for 1926. In 1927, eight of the ten schools in the state will require two or more years of college work for entrance, one will require one year, and only one school will be content with high school preparation. This same tendency is manifested in other sections of the country.

One of the greatest needs of the college, is the addition of an eighth man to the staff of the faculty. No law school in the United States which has an equivalent standing is operating on the basis of a seven-man faculty. All the better schools have from eight to sixteen faculty members, and the tendency is toward increase. The standard teaching load for a faculty member in the best law schools is now six hours a week. At Cornell the load is almost exactly seven hours and is only kept within reasonable bounds by the process of alternating courses. Twelve courses in the curriculum are offered only every other year. This system of alternation somewhat limits the opportunities of the students, and furthermore handicaps the teachers in the school, because it requires them to keep in constant touch with decisions, statutes, books and articles relating to six or seven topics of the law, instead of the normal number, four or five. It is desirable as soon as possible to eliminate these alternating courses, and give each course every year. This can be done only by the addition of another man to the faculty. This additional teacher is also needed on account of the extreme desirability of adding one or two courses to the curriculum, as, for example, Roman Law and Comparative Law. The salary scale of the college continues to be somewhat below that maintained in other schools of corresponding scholastic rank. It is hoped that there can be, in the near future, an increase in this direction which will enable the university to retain its teachers as against all outside academic competition.

It is believed that some good could be accomplished for the school and its graduates by a more thorough organization of the work of placing graduates in law offices and other positions. At the present time, the dean maintains an employment bureau for each year's graduating class, and aids many in securing positions. He has no list of recent graduates who would like to make a change, nor has he any adequate data as to Cornell law offices where assistance is desired. If this work were organized and coordinated, much greater efficiency could be achieved. Perhaps the Cornell Law Association might profitably undertake this function.

In my opinion much good could be accomplished on behalf of the College of Law if its faculty were brought into closer contact with the colleges of this section of the country, so that college students expecting to study law might have our institution brought to their attention. Whatever can be done with dignity and propriety towards affecting a liaison with neighboring colleges ought to be undertaken. This is especially important during the first few years when the college is operating on a graduate entrance requirement.

GEORGE G. BOGERT,
Dean of the College of Law.

APPENDIX V

REPORT OF THE DEAN OF THE MEDICAL COLLEGE

To the President of the University:

SIR: I have the honor to submit the following report of the Medical College for the year 1924-25.

The work of the College during the past year has been highly satisfactory and productive. Instruction under the new curriculum, which is now in complete operation, appears to have been more effective and it is the opinion of the Faculty that it will continue to increase in efficiency. The staff of instruction has been energetic and enthusiastic and the success of the College has been due to the devotion of its teaching staff. Research activities have been more numerous and have given better results than perhaps in any year in the history of this College. While appreciating the fact that the primary purpose of the Medical College is the instruction of students, research has always been held to be vital for the spirit necessary to develop physicians and investigators of the highest type. This was appreciated by the founders of the College and from the first the College has maintained a notable position among teaching institutions largely because of this fundamental concept.

The Faculty members of the Council, Professor Conner and Professor Elser, have been untiring in their efforts. Their serious consideration of the problems of the College has been reflected in the Council by the readiness with which the trustee members have invariably supported the recommendations of the Faculty. Professor Conner having served for nine years and believing that it is for the best interests of the College to have various representatives in the Faculty serve on the Council, declined re-election and Professor Hartwell was elected to succeed him. Professor Hartwell has devoted many years to the welfare of the institution, having demonstrated his ability upon numerous occasions, and will undoubtedly render valuable service in this capacity.

There have fortunately been few changes in the Faculty. Professor Dana, who since the beginning of the College, has been head of the sub-department of Neurology, now desires to relinquish his administrative duties and a part of his teaching. He is one of the most highly cultured and distinguished neurologists in the world and has contributed his wealth of knowledge for the benefit of the students of this University, and the College is reluctant to have him disassociated from it. He has long been interested in historical medicine, having acquired a notable collection of books and prints bearing upon the subject, and I am happy to report that during the Spring term he gave a series of lectures on the subject which were highly appreciated by the students and Faculty. It is proposed to continue and develop them further under Professor Dana's direction. This will fill a long felt need in the course of instruction, and it is hoped mark the beginning of a comprehensive course in this important subject.

Assistant Professor Kennedy has been promoted to Professor of Clinical Medicine, Department of Neurology, and will assume the administration of the sub-department. Professor Kennedy is a teacher and clinician of the highest ability who has been connected with the College for ten years and we are most fortunate in being able to command the services of such a distinguished scientist to succeed Dr. Dana.

Professor Keyes, who has been Head of the sub-department of Urology, and Director of the Urological Service at Bellevue Hospital for fourteen years, desired to relinquish his duties at the Hospital. He will, however, continue to head the department. Dr. A. Raymond Stevens has been appointed Associate Professor of Clinical Surgery, Department of Urology, and Director of the Urological Service at Bellevue Hospital.

Major John M. Hewitt, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, assigned to the College by the War Department, having completed his tour of duty, has been transferred and will be succeeded by Major William H. Allen. Professor Hewitt has rendered notable service in stimulating interest among the students in military science and his departure is regretted by the Faculty and students alike.

Dr. David P. Barr, A.B., 1911, M.D., 1915, who held the position of Assistant Professor of Medicine, has been called to Washington University where he assumed the Professorship of Medicine at the beginning of the current academic year. Professor Barr received practically all of his training at Cornell and has gone to his new post with the best wishes of his colleagues.

The University has also been honored by the appointment of another Cornell graduate, William S. McCann, A.B., Ohio State, 1911, Cornell University, M.D., 1915, to the Professorship of Medicine at the University of Rochester.

It is a source of great satisfaction to the Faculty that these young men have been so signally honored and we believe that in producing scientists and teachers to assume such important posts, the University is fulfilling its highest function.

The generally satisfactory work of the student body continues to justify the wisdom of limiting the classes to our capacity of efficiency and to select those applicants who appear to be best qualified for the study of medicine. The method of selection continues to be a difficult problem and no satisfactory solution has been evolved. The expense of medical education is so great, that it is a serious matter to admit students who fail during the course. Every effort should be made to develop methods of elimination which will reduce the number of dropped students to a minimum.

Detailed reports of various departments are on file in my office and I shall not attempt to review them in detail but shall simply mention the more important features.

The medical clinics at Bellevue and New York Hospitals have continued their high standard of efficiency in teaching and research. The Bellevue Clinic under the direction of Professor DuBois, in affiliation with the Russell Sage Foundation, is training a number of young men and actively investigating numerous problems. A new development which is contemplated next year under the Department of Medicine is the establishment of a laboratory of Applied Therapeutics. This has become possible through an appropriation by the Chemical Foundation, Inc., and will be in charge of Dr. John W. Churchman, who has been appointed Associate Professor of Applied Therapeutics. Dr. Churchman has long been interested in studying the effects of various diets upon bacteria and has made notable contributions in chemotherapy.

Professor Gibson, head of the Department of Surgery, has for some years been anxious to establish a course in experimental surgery. A beginning has been made this year by offering an elective course to senior students under the supervision of Assistant Professor Coryllos, who is admirably trained for this work. It is hoped to develop and expand a course so that it may be included as a part of the regular curriculum.

The Department of Anatomy, under Professor Stockard, in addition to carrying heavy teaching, has been especially active in investigations.

Professor Chambers has made considerable progress in his studies of the physical structure of the cell and protoplasm. His work is receiving wide appreciation not only in this country but abroad and he is at present giving a series of lectures in London, Oxford, Cambridge, Liverpool, and Edinburgh upon the invitation of at least several British Universities which organized a common lecture fund. Professor Chambers has also been awarded the John Scott Medal and Prize of $1,000 by the University of Pennsylvania, for his instrument for microinjection and the work he has been able to do with it on cell structure. Associate Professor Morrill is continuing his investigations on the influence of various substances on growth and regeneration following amputation of extremities in the salamander. These studies have given some important results in connection with the influence of various protein diets on regenerative growth. Dr. Nonidez has published several papers during the past year on the influence of the gonads as glands of internal secretion on changes in growth and body structure in birds. Professor Stockard and Dr. Papanicolaou have continued their work on the influence of ovarian and testicular hormones on the physiological reactions of the female mammal. In association with Professor Ward at the Woman's Hospital they have been able to extend this work on lower animals to the human and have made significant observations on the ovulation cycles. In association with Dr. Bagg of the Memorial Hospital they have also studied the effect of radium on some of the glands of internal secretion. In order to carry on his researches concerning the problem of growth development and heredity, Professor Stockard has felt the necessity for a farm on which groups of animals in large numbers could be observed through a period of years. This has at last become possible through an appropriation by the Rockefeller Foundation which will provide for a farm of some twenty acres, together with the necessary buildings and equipment, and for maintenance and investigations during the period of five years. This generous aid will enable Professor Stockard, who is the foremost student of such problems, to make observations which have not heretofore been possible anywhere.

The Department of Physiology has had one foreign Rockefeller Fellow and one National Research Fellow, as well as Professor Ling of the Peking Medical College working in the laboratory this year. These men are excellently chosen and have been of aid and a stimulus to Professor Lusk and his associates.

Professor Benedict, head of the Department of Chemistry, reports a very satisfactory year. With his associates he has continued his studies on carbohydrate metabolism and has developed new methods for the determination of various compounds found in the blood. The principal research activities of the department have been centered upon the isolation of a new compound from the blood and studies of its properties. Professor Benedict repeats that there should be an Assistant Professorship created in the department as soon as feasible.

The Department of Pathology has continued to function admirably in teaching. Professor Ewing, however, reiterates that he has insufficient space and personnel to carry on extensive researches. It is hoped that both of these deficiencies may be met in the near future.

The Department of Bacteriology and Immunology has enjoyed an unusually active year. Under the new curriculum the teaching in the department has been extended and the added burden has been borne very satisfactorily. Several contributions have been published and a considerable volume of research work is under way.

The Departments of Pharmacology and Hygiene have continued numerous activities along research lines. Owing to the changes in the curriculum, Professor Torrey has had no teaching and has therefore been able to devote his efforts entirely to research. With Dr. Kahn he has continued his studies on the bacterial flora of the intestinal tract and several notable contributions may be anticipated. Professor Hatcher has continued his studies on the effects of various drugs, especially digitalis and morphine. He has been especially interested in the behavior of drugs after they enter the blood stream and he has developed methods for the extraction of alkaloids from the blood and tissues.

The various sub-departments of Medicine and Surgery, which include the specialties, are, generally, in a satisfactory condition so far as teaching is concerned. It would, however, be more satisfactory if the heads of these departments, generally speaking, exhibited more interest in the affairs of the College and became better acquainted with the problems of the Faculty. This is particularly the case in connection with the Clinic. In most instances the work of teaching is not heavy and its effectiveness is largely dependent upon the manner in which the various divisions of the Clinic function. Indeed, the operation of the Clinic has become perhaps the most important duty with which the head of the department may be concerned. Various efforts have been made from time to time to enlist the cooperation of the heads of the departments ranking as specialties but in such instances these have been unavailing. On the other hand, several of the professors have given considerable attention to other clinics. It is my opinion that the most effective operation of the Clinic has become so important that the Faculty must insist upon active cooperation and participation on the part of all departmental heads.

The Clinic has been operated upon a pay basis since November 1, 1921, and continues to be a most interesting experiment in medical sociology. The results have surpassed expectations and it may now be regarded as having passed the experimental stage. Various problems have from time to time been foremost in its operation. Owing to the unexpected demand for such service it was at first difficult to provide adequate professional service. This was, however, accomplished within the first year of operation and the high standard which was then established has been effectively maintained. The next serious matter which faced us was to make it actually self-supporting by moderate increases in the fees and by effecting economies in administration. It has during the past year become definitely self-supporting. At the present time it is accumulating a small surplus which will in all probability be used up during the summer months. The College has continued its annual appropriation, equalling the amount necessary to run the Clinic prior to placing it on a pay basis, and is permitted to use this sum for the benefit of the Clinic. It is now proposed to use this appropriation for research work in the Clinic itself and in the various laboratories allied to it. Appropriations will be made to aid specific pieces of work along practical lines. The results will be reviewed and in such cases where the problem has not been solved but gives promise the work will receive continued support. The Out-Patient Department offers an admirable field for the study of ambulatory and incipient tests which have heretofore been largely neglected and it is hoped that by giving support to such studies important results may be achieved, particularly in the field of preventive medicine.

The Senior Class was again privileged to participate in a Symposium on Tuberculosis arranged by the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University under the direction of Dr. James Alexander Miller. Cornell gave a Symposium on Cancer at the Memorial Hospital to which the Senior Class of the College of Physicians and Surgeons was invited, together with our seniors. Both symposia were highly meritorious and serve to correlate bits of information which have been gained throughout the medical course. Such interchanges between medical schools avoid duplication of effort and serve as well to promote cordial relations between rival institutions.

I am pleased to report that the relations existing between the College and the various hospitals with which we are associated, appear to be cordial and I believe mutually beneficial. The governing bodies and officers of the New York, Bellevue, Nursery and Child's, Woman's Hospital, and the John E. Berwind Maternity Clinic invariably afford hearty cooperation. In the latter institution, the professional conduct of which is entrusted to Cornell, our students receive a superior training in practical obstetrics. Cornell is also responsible for the entire professional work at Memorial Hospital, which continues to be a very active and important institution. The responsibility which is chiefly borne by Professor Ewing is a heavy one and the Faculty realize that personally and collectively it is our duty to afford him all practicable aid and support.

In previous reports I have referred to the one outstanding deficiency in the organization of the College, namely, a large general Hospital which will fully cooperate for the benefit of medical science and education. This question has been given very serious consideration by the officers of the administration and the Committee on Educational Policy. There are many difficulties in the way of securing such an ally but the future of the College in that and all other respects never appeared so bright as at the present time, and I believe we may comfortably anticipate a future which will gratify our aims and ideals.

WALTER L. NILES,
Dean of the Medical College.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE ITHACA DIVISION OF THE MEDICAL COLLEGE

To the President of the University:

SIR: I have the honor to present this report of the Ithaca Division of the Medical College for the academic year 1924-25.

The revised curriculum as reported last year has been continued and while to most of us at Ithaca it does not seem to be an improvement on the former arrangement, it is still too early to form a judgment. With the decreased required hours in classroom and laboratory it was hoped that the students would devote the free time to outside reading, but the free time is so little and the work is all so new to them that practically all of the students confine themselves to routine work. This, in my opinion, is as it should be. In the first year or two of the course the work ought to be carefully planned for the student, and if in the medical course, free time for outside work along independent lines is to be provided it should be in the last years, after a background for such work has been laid.

There have been, as usual, some changes among the younger members of the staff of instruction, but the senior members have remained as last year with the exception of Dr. Howard S. Liddell who resigned to accept a fellowship of the National Research Council. I wish to commend the work of the teachers in the college. All of them have been most conscientious and efficient in performing their duties as teachers and very active as investigators.

In the Department of Anatomy the teaching work has continued very heavy. The instruction is mostly laboratory work so that the hours required of the instructors are far too many. While the number of medical students and the time necessary for their instruction has remained as it was last year, there has been an increase in the number of Arts students. This was particularly marked in the elementary course on the "Structure of the Human Body," where the registration reached nearly one hundred. It was therefore necessary to change the instruction from demonstrations to lectures and to add four additional optional demonstrations a week. If this increase in registration continues it will be necessary to increase the staff of the department.

The collections are growing steadily, but with the increased required teaching the staff has too little time for their care and preparation. The increased use causes more rapid deterioration. It will soon be necessary to have an Assistant to devote his entire time to them. The other needs of the department have been outlined in previous reports.

In the Department of Histology and Embryology there has been an increase in the number of students taking courses. The work has been normal and satisfactory and Dr. Kingsbury is high in his praise of the instructors and assistants. The promotion of Dr. Howard B. Adelman from an instructorship to an assistant professorship is a most satisfactory acknowledgement of ability and devotion to duty. It should add strength and permanence to the department. Dr. Kingsbury had been granted a leave of absence for the second term. This he did not take, partly for family reasons and partly because he volunteered to give half of the lectures in the large Arts course in Physiology during Dr. Simpson's illness. His wide acquaintance with the literature of Histology, Embryology and allied lines, and his enthusiasm for research makes him a most stimulating teacher for both beginning and advanced students.

In the Department of Physiology it has been necessary to make many readjustments because of Dr. Simpson's serious illness and the lack of one instructor. Shortly after the Christmas holidays Dr. Simpson was completely laid up for the rest of the year. By late June he had regained his strength sufficiently to be able to be back in Stimson Hall and to undertake again the management of his department. If this improvement continues he will, by fall, be able to take over also, in addition to the direction of research, light teaching duties. To provide for the instruction during Dr. Simpson's illness a considerable amount of added work was assumed by Dr. J. A. Dye, Instructor in the department. In the elementary course in Physiology he completed the lectures in the first term and gave half the lectures during the second term, until the spring recess; all of them thereafter. Dr. B. F. Kingsbury gave the lectures to half this class until the spring recess. In this course there were two hundred forty-two students registered in the first term and four hundred seventy-seven in the second. In the second term, to care for the advanced teaching of medical students, the laboratory work was directed and given by Dr. Dye with the help of the assistants and an additional temporary assistant. The lectures and recitations were given in part by Dr. Dye, special fields being taken over by Professors from other departments who were especially qualified for the work and who volunteered for the service. Professor Sumner gave the Physiology of Nutrition, Professor Papez the Physiology of the Nervous System, and Professor P. A. Fish of the Veterinary College the Physiology of the Special Senses and the Endocrines. To all of these gentlemen our sincere thanks are due for their efficient service. The management of the department I have undertaken, advising with Dr. Simpson whenever possible. While the work has lacked the guidance of Dr. Simpson's vigorous and stimulating teaching, the courses have been carried on very satisfactorily. Research has been less active than in former years, nevertheless the investigations under way by the staff and some graduate students have been continued. The facilities of the Physiology Field Station have been of great assistance. Dr. Liddell, the Fellow of the National Research Council, who has continued his research work here this year has been reappointed by the Council for another year.

In the Department of Biochemistry the work has continued as in former years. A special room has been fitted up for teaching and research in metabolism, thus giving added facilities in this important field.

Of the thirty students admitted to the first year class at Ithaca this year twenty-three were seniors in Arts Colleges,—twenty-one from Cornell and two from other institutions. Two of those who already had received their A.B. degrees were from Cornell and five from other institutions. Five members of the class were women. These students were selected from a large number of applicants and there are more applicants for next year's class than for this. With the increasing number of those applying the problem of selecting those to be admitted is becoming increasingly difficult each year. While the grades obtained by the students in their undergraduate Arts courses must continue a valued criterion in their selection, the Faculty is convinced that marks alone are not at all a satisfactory guide to the selection of students and that other factors are of as great, perhaps greater, importance. To obtain from former instructors and Professors a just estimate of a student's qualifications for the study of medicine is not at all easy and the weighing of the information obtained requires careful judgment. If the contacts of the students with their teachers in the Arts Colleges were somewhat more intimate so that a better judgment could be obtained from them the problem would be considerably simplified for us. So often now-a-days the contacts of students with their teachers in college are only casual.

The books in the Charles Edward VanCleaf Memorial Library, under the direction of Professor Emeritus Gage, are being classified, arranged, and catalogued. The progress already made makes them much more easily available. The part time librarian employed to do this has been most helpful.

In previous reports I have discussed the importance of the Ithaca Division of the Medical College in its relation to the other departments of the University here at Ithaca and to the Medical College in New York. It does not seem to me that the importance of these relations has diminished. The considerable amount of instruction that is given directly to the students, graduate and undergraduate, in other colleges of the University at Ithaca, is not alone the only effect. The very presence of a part of the Medical College upon the campus exerts an influence upon the other colleges and departments which, while difficult to define, is very appreciable and important. To strengthen this influence requires the building up of these departments in the Medical College along certain lines. To effect this demands that, as in the past, the teachers shall be selected for their abilities not only as investigators and teachers of Medical subjects but also because of the influence that they are able to exert upon this larger group. A separate endowment for the Ithaca Division of the Medical College would be most desirable. It is hoped that before long some far-sighted friend of the University may see this opportunity and grasp it.

ABRAM T. KERR,
Secretary of the Ithaca Division of the Medical College.

APPENDIX VII

REPORT OF THE DEAN OF THE NEW YORK STATE VETERINARY COLLEGE

To the President of the University:

SIR: I have the honor to submit herewith a report of the New York State Veterinary College for the academic year 1924-25.

The Veterinary College has operated in the usual way and with satisfactory results. The methods of teaching have been given special attention. The rapid development of new knowledge concerning the nature, prevention, and treatment of animal diseases renders the formulation of courses of instruction that embody adequately the subject matter that should be covered and that should be utilized by the practitioner, an increasingly difficult task in the time available. The opportunities for service in the veterinary profession are so diversified that there is a demand for either lengthening the course or requiring one or more years of university training for entrance. However, the situation at present suggests more attention to the curriculum and the teaching rather than increasing the compulsory requirements for the degree. It is believed emphatically that every student who is able to do so should obtain a thorough education before entering the veterinary college, and such a course is recommended most earnestly.

Since the close of the World War there has been a steady reduction in the number of veterinary students in this country; while in certain parts of Europe, the reverse has been true. There were registered for this academic year 76 undergraduate and 5 graduate students, or a total of 81. In the 12 recognized veterinary colleges in the United States, there was a total enrollment of 523 students, or an average of 44. The number is about equally divided among the four classes which means that there will be graduated not to exceed 130 veterinarians each year for the next four years, or less than three for each state in the union. The approaching scarcity of trained veterinarians is already recognized and the opportunities in the profession are becoming better known. An understanding of the necessity of veterinary service to animal husbandry and public health will attract a sufficient number of students. The indications are favorable for a larger registration this fall.

The veterinary college has given instruction to 170 students in other colleges of the University with a total of 461 credit hours. The greater part was given in the subjects of Bacteriology, Pathology, and Physiology. Because of the illness of Dr. Simpson, Professor of Physiology in the Medical College, Dr. Fish took over 22 of his lecture hours in human physiology. The University has given instruction to veterinary students in animal husbandry, botany, chemistry, histology, and zoology.

The South Wing of James Law Hall has been completed and equipped. It has provided adequate office room, an amphitheatre, a satisfactory diagnosis laboratory, and a library with spacious stack and reading rooms. These have increased greatly the facilities of the college and given it a completeness that has not existed heretofore. The amphitheatre provides a suitable place for the annual veterinary conferences and other large gatherings.

There have been few changes in the faculty. Dr. John M. Hendrickson, of Ohio State University, was engaged as assistant in the study of poultry diseases, and Drs. M. G. Fincher and H. C. Stephenson have been promoted from instructors to assistant professors. The college has been very fortunate in retaining members of its teaching and research staff.

The non-resident lecturers this year include Dr. Theobald Smith of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, Princeton, N. J., Dr. U. G. Houck, of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Washington, D. C., and Dr. Alexander Kotlan from the Royal Veterinary College of Hungary, who gave lectures of unusual interest. In addition, several practitioners gave most helpful talks on topics of immediate practical importance to senior students. These lectures have fulfilled their purpose, which is to emphasize the essential factors embodied in efficient professional service.

The seventeenth annual conference for veterinarians was held in January. The attendance was large and the keen interest taken by the practitioners in the papers and their discussions is an indication that the veterinary profession of the State is appreciative of this assistance and that it is trying to meet its obligations to the live stock owners and to the State. The spirit of optimism that prevailed suggested faith in the future of the profession.

The Diagnosis Laboratory has rendered valuable assistance to the practitioners and live stock owners as heretofore. There has been a steady increase in the number of specimens of diseased tissues and organs received for identification. In addition there is a growing interest in cooperating with the college in applying autogenous vaccines for the more perplexing infections among cattle. The results have been encouraging in some cases and in others quite the reverse. Dr. Carpenter has done considerable work in determining the incidence of Brucella abortus in market milk—more especially from herds in which abortion exists. The laboratory has furnished, at the cost of production, the usual amount of tuberculin to practitioners. There has been a reduction in the amount of hog cholera serum requested. This is as it should be, for the practitioners of the State are able by its proper use to control this heretofore destructive disease. There have been a few cases of rabies. For a period of more than a year there was not a positive case among the many specimens sent for diagnosis. Anthrax has been less prevalent than heretofore. One of the real benefits to the State of the diagnosis laboratory is that with the increasing use made of it by the practitioners the destructive diseases of animals communicable to man are gradually disappearing.

The research work has continued with very satisfactory results. Infectious abortion in cattle and the immunization of young pigs against hog cholera, have been the chief topics of study at the Veterinary Experiment Station. Decided progress has been made in elucidating the intricate problems connected with the mode of infection in the Bang abortion disease and the determination of the immunity produced in the affected animals. Data of much importance relative to the agglutination test and its value in the control of abortion are being accumulated. These investigations have demonstrated that the disease can be controlled successfully by the practitioners who heed the findings and follow their teachings. The study of poultry diseases has been helpful. Fowl plague, that has been known in Europe for many years, was identified in fowls sent to the college for diagnosis and we were the first to report it in the United States. Many other important researches are in progress, and will be found in detail in the annual report of the college to the legislature.

The legislature of 1925 appropriated $137,020 for maintenance, including $17,500 for researches on cattle, swine, and poultry diseases. This is an increase of $8,160 over the present budget. In 1924 an appropriation of $37,000 was made for the construction of a second story to the Surgical Hospital. Plans for this are completed and it is expected that the work will be done this summer. The college has been treated generously from the point of view of teaching, but when the vast investment in live stock in the State and the heavy losses from animal diseases are considered, it is felt that much larger sums could be devoted advantageously to research. The protection of animal husbandry lies in the acquisition of knowledge of animal diseases and the formulation of methods for their control. These depend on research and this college is the only agency of the State engaged in, or equipped for, that work.

The immediate needs of the college are advances in salaries for the instructing staff. The great reduction in the number of veterinary students and the corresponding increase in the opportunities and demands for competent veterinarians naturally attract underpaid teachers, and good teaching requires experienced men. For research adequate to the needs of our animal husbandry, a new laboratory and animal house and more workers are required.

The entire faculty has cooperated fully to the end that the college should fulfill its mission in the University and to the State.

V. A. MOORE,

Dean of the New York State
Veterinary College.

APPENDIX VIII

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS IN THE COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

To the President of the University:

SIR: We have the honor to submit a report of the New York State College of Agriculture, the New York State College of Home Economics, and the Agricultural Experiment Stations under the administration of the University, for the academic year 1924-25. Inasmuch as the State College of Home Economics was designated by the state legislature and separately organized in the middle of the second term of the year we at this time offer a report common to the two college units as heretofore, postponing the beginning of a series of separate reports for the College of Home Economics until after a full year of separate operation.

TEMPORARY ADJUSTMENTS IN ADMINISTRATION

At its meeting in June, 1924, the University Board of Trustees granted Dean A. R. Mann leave of absence in order that he might be free to render an important service in the great work now being carried on by the International Education Board. That Board undertakes to aid education on an international scale by pooling in some measure the educational resources of the various countries, by aiding persons or agencies whose exceptional contributions to education have been made ineffective by the war, and by supporting through initial stages enterprises that have promise both of worth and of future growth from their native support. An important phase will be the giving of opportunity for persons occupying strategic educational positions in one country to strengthen their work by study in another country. In carrying forward this program particular attention is given to the fields of agriculture, forestry, veterinary medicine, and home economics; and Dean Mann was selected by the International Education Board to lay the groundwork of this part of their international service. Recognizing both the distinguished honor thus accorded to Dean Mann and his eminent qualifications for the task, the University has cooperated by releasing the Dean on August 1, 1924, with the expectation that his leave in Europe will continue through two years. The experience gained by Dean Mann in this large and significant undertaking will not fail to find application later to the work of the College and the agriculture of the State.

During Dean Mann's absence the immediate administration of the College is entrusted to a committee composed of the directors of research, extension, and resident instruction.

THE STATE APPROPRIATIONS

The total of the appropriations made to the College by the legislature of New York State in 1925, including deficiency items, is $1,625,230, a net increase of $95,670 over the total of last year. Part of the increase ($37,500) results from the action of the legislature of 1924 in raising the State's annual contribution to the county home bureaus to $600 and in placing the county junior extension work on a similar supporting basis. While this was determined by the legislature of 1924 no appropriations were actually made at the time and the legislature of 1925 therefore voted the appropriation of not only $20,400 for 1925-26 but also $17,100 for the deficiency of 1924-25. The item of fuel, light, power, and water was increased over that of last year by $26,000, the figures for both years including deficiencies. Of the total increase about $52,000 is applicable to the salaries of the staff of instruction, research, and extension in agriculture and in home economics. While providing but half of what were judged to be imperatively needed salary advances this gives very substantial and greatly appreciated relief to a considerable number of the staff. The appropriation shows decreases of $15,000 in accessory instruction in Cornell University and of $10,400 in repairs. Lesser deviations from last year's schedule in other items bring the total net increase to $95,670.

THE PURNELL ACT

The Purnell Act providing increased support for the Experiment Stations, after having been under consideration for some years, was enacted into law by the National Congress and becomes effective July 1, 1925. The state legislature has assigned the funds thus appropriated to Cornell University for use in the Experiment Stations under its administration. Under the terms of the law each of the states receives an allotment of $20,000 the first year with annual increments of $10,000 until the total received in 1929-30 and thereafter is $60,000. The funds are applicable to research in any of the lines of work ordinarily falling within the scope of colleges of agriculture and of home economics, but the law makes special reference to "such economic and sociological investigations as have for their purpose the development and improvement of the rural home and rural life"—newer phases not clearly contemplated under the earlier acts in support of research.

For the purpose of considering procedure under the Purnell Act with a view to unifying the programs carried forward and of providing a measure of cooperation, a meeting of Experiment Station Directors was held at St. Louis on April 20 and 21, 1925. This conference recommended the following problems of national scope:

In the field of Agricultural Economics:

Distribution and marketing of farm products.

The problem of surpluses of farm products.

In the field of Home Economics:

Vitamin contents of food in relation to human nutrition.

Rural home management studies.

In the field of Rural Sociology:

Rural social organization and agencies essential to a permanent and effective agriculture.

In the field of Production:

Factors influencing the production and quality of meats.

The conference also suggested problems for cooperative attack in regions designated as North Atlantic States, South Atlantic and Cotton States, Corn Belt States, and Intermountain and Pacific States. For the North Atlantic States the cooperative program already adopted by them was approved.

SPECIAL GRANTS

The General Education Board has made a grant to the University of $10,000 a year for five years for increasing the facilities for graduate study in the Department of Rural Education. It is proposed to inaugurate graduate work in the methods of extension teaching and to expand the work in elementary education. In connection with the latter development Dr. Clyde B. Moore, until now of the University of Pittsburgh, has been appointed Professor of Rural Education. The undoubted shift of emphasis from the problems of production to those of distribution and to those of rural social conditions, which has been evident for some years, has resulted in an effort on the part of the College to make a corresponding expansion of program in these newer fields. This grant is a welcome aid in this direction and together with the added appropriation for marketing first made by the State last year and the Purnell funds from the Federal Government, will make a strong center of work in these allied subjects.

The Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial has made to the University a grant of $13,000 annually for four years to be used in initiating work in child care and training in the College of Home Economics. This has been supplemented for 1924-25 by grants of $3000 for the purpose of providing quarters and equipment and of $7000 for carrying on extension work in child care and training in selected counties in the State. There can be no doubt of the great need for the type of work indicated nor of the eagerness of the demand for it on the part of the homes of the State. It represents a large undertaking for the College of Home Economics and provision will need to be made not only for carrying the work after the expiration of the special grant under which it is begun, but for strengthening the work in psychology, sociology, and other contributing fields. The College of Home Economics is fortunate in having the work begun under Dr. Nellie L. Perkins, who has for some time been lecturer in social psychiatry in the University of Michigan and director of the Wayne County Psychopathic Clinic connected with the juvenile court at Detroit, Michigan.

A grant of $750 was received from the American Agriculturist establishing a temporary fellowship for the study of the marketing of farm products, the holder to be under the direction of the Staff of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Farm Management.

The Williamson Vegetable Growers' Association fellowship for the investigation and demonstration of the control of diseases and pests of muck crops, after having been in operation for seven years, has been renewed for two years from April 1.

The New York State Grange has withdrawn the twelve scholarships for many years open on competitive examination to those intending to enroll in the winter courses. Instead of offering these scholarships, the Grange will now make loans to the students of the winter courses.

THE STATE COLLEGE OF HOME ECONOMICS

The bill designating the School of Home Economics as the State College of Home Economics, whose passage was presaged by the legislative action of last year, was passed by the legislature of 1925 and became law by signature of the Governor on February 24, 1925. This is in recognition of the fact that the services rendered by the two colleges are so distinct as to require the separate organization of the faculties and of some other agencies of administration. It will be of very great advantage, particularly to the home makers of the State, to have a separate college responsive to their needs in the fields now recognized as within the scope of home economics. It is at the same time apparent that a degree of uniformity of procedure in the two Colleges is essential, particularly in the administration of state and federal funds and in the organization of many of the college activities. To conserve the advantages of unified action the two Colleges have been placed under the administration of the same Dean, and the services of other agencies, such as the library, business office, publication office, and secretary's office, will be used in common.

While for many years the lines of work in Home Economics have been fairly well differentiated, the Board of Trustees has this year approved the organization of the following departments: Foods and Nutrition, Textiles and Clothing, Household Art, Household Management, Institution Management, and Family Life.

THE COLLEGE BUILDING PROGRAM

While the executive and legislative authorities of the State have expressed their approval of rapidly furthering the college building program to which the State is expressly committed, no further appropriations for this purpose were made in 1925, the view being advanced that this program should be a part of the larger state building program for which a state bond issue is proposed. The College must therefore resign itself to still another year of the really embarrassing space conditions that have hampered the work for many years. Of the appropriations made in 1923 there remains available a sufficient amount to provide for certain operations necessary in preparation for the erection of the plant industry and library buildings but not enough to make in addition more than a small beginning on the construction of these buildings. Chief among the preparatory operations is the construction of a new greenhouse range for the Departments of Floriculture and Ornamental Horticulture and Vegetable Gardening, and this work was begun in May. During the summer the rural engineering laboratories will be removed to a site to the south of the animal husbandry group, the offices of the departmental staff having already been shifted to the new dairy building. The old college heating plant will be remodeled into a garage to accommodate the college automobiles and tractors now inadequately cared for in the area in the rear of East Roberts Hall. These various operations do not in themselves increase the working space of the departments but they serve to clear the site of the new buildings. The plans for these buildings are complete so that it should be possible to enter upon construction promptly after the funds are made available.

COOPERATION WITH THE INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION BOARD

Aside from the release of Dean Mann from his regular duties for two years, commented on above, there have been other cooperative efforts on the part of the College and the International Education Board during the year. It has been a pleasure to welcome to the College a number of men of recognized position in educational work in Europe, sent here by the Board, who have spent a number of weeks here in studying the organization of agricultural education in the United States and in getting into intimate touch with the work of some of the departments of the College. It is a pleasure also to acknowledge the generosity of the Board in providing the services of Professor O. H. Larsen of Copenhagen for a period of six months. Professor Larsen was appointed as Professor in the Department of Agricultural Economics and Farm Management and he has brought a distinct contribution because of his knowledge and experience in the field of cooperative marketing, so well developed in his home country.

The International Education Board has also joined with the College in a project carried on with the University of Nanking in China. The plan contemplates a thoroughgoing study of plant improvement in China upon the basis of modern methods of hybridization and selection. The College will release, for part of the year and through a series of years, some of its experts in plant breeding and their support will be furnished by the International Education Board and the University of Nanking, the latter institution providing also the land and facilities for the work to be done. The plans definitely include the training of native Chinese to carry forward plant improvement work permanently and it is hoped that several centers for such work may be developed in China. The beginning of this project is undertaken by Dr. H. H. Love who is in China for the season of 1925.

CHANGES IN THE COLLEGE STAFF

The staff has lost by resignation during the year, M. V. Atwood, Professor in Extension Service and Assistant Chief of Publications, August 9, 1924, Winifred Moses, Assistant Professor of Home Economics, June 30, 1924, and E. F. Guba, Extension Assistant Professor of Plant Pathology, May 30, 1925. With the end of the academic year will also terminate the service of Dr. J. R. Schramm as Professor of Botany. After eleven years of noteworthy service Dr. Schramm is undertaking, at the request of the Union of Biological Societies and of the National Research Council, the very important task of instituting and editing an abstracting journal including the whole range of the biological sciences and covering the biological literature of the world.

Professor Wilford Murry Wilson retired from active service as Professor of Meteorology on June 30, 1925, having on January 24 reached the age of sixty-five years. Dr. Wilson attended Alleghany College and later took the degree of M.D. from the Memphis Hospital Medical College. He entered the service of the Government in 1885 as an observer in the Signal Corps, which later became the U. S. Weather Bureau. In this service he has continued for forty years at many posts and in charge successively of the weather bureau stations at Memphis, Milwaukee, and Ithaca. Dr. Wilson came to Cornell University in 1906, soon began his lectures in meteorology, and in 1910 was appointed Professor of Meteorology. He was the first man to receive appointment as Professor of Meteorology and the first to organize a Department of Meteorology. For eighteen years Dr. Wilson has conducted undergraduate courses, during seven years he has directed the work of graduate students, and during the last five he has taken an active part in the agricultural extension program. His contribution in the last-named field involved the formulation at the College of highly specialized fruit-spray forecasts and harvest forecasts, and the cooperation of many persons at the College and in the counties in broadcasting these forecasts. In 1924 the fruit-spray forecasts were used in twenty-eight counties, and the harvest forecasts in thirty-five counties. This service has been so conspicuously successful that Congress has now made an appropriation for its development on a wider scale. Dr. Wilson is to retain his position as Meteorologist and Section Director of the Weather Bureau with headquarters at Ithaca. The College congratulates Dr. Wilson upon his fine career and wishes for him many happy years among his long-established associations.

During the year 1924-25 twelve members of the professorial staff have been on sabbatic leave of absence during one or both terms. In addition, Professor P. W. Claassen was released for the year in order that he might accept the invitation of Hsing Hua College in China that he spend a period there in teaching and in reorganizing the college courses in biology. Director Thatcher was in Washington during several weeks as a member of the President's Agricultural Commission.

The following appointments became effective during the year: J. Nelson Spaeth, Research Assistant Professor of Forestry, Joshua Allan Cope, Extension Assistant Professor of Forestry, Dr. Paul F. Sharp, Professor of Dairy Chemistry, Dr. Faith M. Williams, Assistant Professor of Home Economics. Dr. M. D. Leonard was given temporary reappointment as Assistant Professor of Entomology, in order to complete for publication the state list of insects, and as already noted above, Professor O. H. Larsen of Copenhagen was added to the staff of Agricultural Economics and Farm Management for a period of six months.

Appointments effective July 1, 1925, have been approved by the Board of Trustees as follows: Dr. Loren C. Petry, Professor of Botany, Dr. Clyde B. Moore, Professor of Rural Education; in the College of Home Economics, Dr. Nellie L.

Perkins, Professor of Home Economics, and Dr. Edith H. Nason, Assistant Professor of Home Economics. Dr. L. L. Bernard has been appointed Acting Professor of Rural Social Organization during the first term of 1925-26 to take the work of Professor Dwight Sanderson, who will be on sabbatic leave.

THE STUDENT ENROLLMENT

The enrollment of students in agriculture since 1914 has followed a closely similar course in all of the older and larger colleges. Taking the ten largest colleges of agriculture together, their highest enrollment was reached in 1915-16. The war brought a sharp decline to about one-half the prewar figures. The two years following the close of the war saw a sudden return to nearly the highest previous figures, due in part to the return of students whose course had been interrupted by war service. Since then there has been a steady decline, bringing these colleges again to about one-half the prewar enrollments. This College followed the same general trend but the loss during the war was greater than the average and the recovery of numbers immediately after the war was far less marked than in many of the other colleges. In our own College the decrease in undergraduates in agriculture has been in part counterbalanced by increases in home economics and in graduate students so that the total enrollment is now less than twenty-five per cent below that of 1915-16.

The enrollment of 1924-25 is given below in comparison with the preceding year. Of the 1239 regular and special students, 483 may be regarded as automatically transferred from the College of Agriculture by the organization of the State College of Home Economics:

	1923-24	1924-25

THE EXPERIMENT STATIONS AND THE EXTENSION SERVICE

The research and extension activities have been prosecuted with vigor during the year. The economic condition of the farm population has been very difficult and one would expect this to be reflected particularly in the support given to extension work. In spite of difficult conditions existing, the counties have maintained the full complement of farm bureaus, have made appropriations for two new home bureaus, and have made temporary provision for one new county club agent during the year. Moreover the attendance at community extension meetings has increased materially over the past two years.

In the research field the two most noteworthy developments are those growing out of the passage of the Purnell Bill, previously referred to, and the grant of $20,500 to be expended through the Experiment Station at Geneva for the study of the production of canning crops and particularly of the diseases and the injurious insects affecting vegetables and fruits grown for canning.

The results of both research and extension are best recorded statistically and in terms of concrete things accomplished. For this detailed information reference is here made to the report of the College presented to the legislature in January and printed by the State.

It is a pleasure to record, in conclusion, our appreciation of the generous contribution of time and thought to the problems of the College of Agriculture by which you have very greatly aided us in the work of administration. We are under similar obligation to the responsible representatives of the State Government with whom the needs of the College have been considered.

CORNELIUS BETTEN,
Director of Resident Instruction.
R. W. THATCHER,
Director of Experiment Stations.
C. E. LADD,
Director of Extension.

APPENDIX IX

REPORT OF THE DEAN OF THE COLLEGE OF ARCHITECTURE

To the President of the University:

SIR: I beg to make herewith the annual report of the College of Architecture for the academic year 1924-25.

The number of applications for admission to the college this past September was so much in excess of the number for which educational facilities were available that the task of making a reasoned selection was an even greater one than heretofore. During the past few years this problem of how such a selection might be best made has been one which has received constant study by the Committee on Admissions. In October the decision was reached by that Committee and confirmed by the Faculty that this selection should be based on such knowledge as could be gathered of the applicant's personality, character, and fitness for professional work in addition to scholastic standing. This information is now being gathered in the case of every applicant by means of questionnaires, filled out by the applicant, his school principal, and by such other persons as the applicant may refer to.

Beginning with those who applied for admission this past February this procedure has been followed, but I believe that as yet it is too soon to evaluate the success or failings of our present procedure.

Last March a request was made that the Board of Trustees authorize the preparation of plans for a building for this College. If the preparation of such plans is undertaken questions will be raised which can be answered only by a determination as to what the future of this College should be.

This College is engaged in the preparation of students for the practice of the profession of Architecture, Landscape Architecture, and either that of the Painter or Sculptor. In so far as its instruction covers the fundamental graphic arts it is a School of Fine Arts. Music is classed as one of the Fine Arts. Educationally it has comparatively little in common with the graphic arts, yet there is a certain value in a close physical association of all the fine arts if it is desired that the influence of the Fine Arts in the future be made more potent, be made to extend beyond that group of students enrolled in professional courses. In somewhat the same manner the question of the relation of Archaeology and Aesthetics to the History of Art, and the practice of art as a part of the present curriculum of this college is one which can hardly be settled by this Faculty. It is rather a question for which the answer, to a certain degree, will be indicated by a decision as to what place a School of Fine Arts should take in the University. Up till now this college has to an almost exclusive extent directed its efforts towards the training of those students enrolled in it.

As yet there has been but little demand for courses primarily designed for the non-professional students nor has this Faculty attempted to any great degree to stimulate such demands.

The answers to these questions are of importance in so much as to some extent they determine what part, in the future, this educational division of the University should strive to play; what importance the appreciation and understanding of the Fine Arts should properly assume in general education.

This Faculty believes that this College has as its first duty the thorough training of its own students but at the same time it feels that in the future the influence which might be exerted by it could well be extended over a wider field.

These questions are questions in which the Faculty is vitally interested and for which it desires answers, but it is hardly competent to answer them itself. They are questions of general University policy.

F. H. BOSWORTH,
Dean of the College of Architecture.

APPENDIX X

REPORT OF THE DEAN OF THE COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

To the President of the University:

SIR: I have the honor to submit the following report upon the work of the College of Engineering for the year 1924-25.

The most important matter that came before the College during the past academic year was the participation in the investigation of engineering education now being conducted by the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education and made possible through the granting of a fund of $100,000 by the Carnegie Corporation of New York. Practically all engineering schools and colleges in this country were invited to cooperate in this investigation by sending out questionnaires to faculty, alumni, and students and by doing a certain amount of the work of summarizing these questionnaires. This work has now been completed and the documents referred to have been submitted to the central committee of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education. In addition to these studies, the Committee of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Educa-- tion, through the director of the investigation, is also making a study of other phases of the problem and also of engineering education in European countries. The scope of this investigation is very broad, involving studies of the background and antecedents of both students and faculties, an examination of existing curricula, and a statistical study of the field occupied by graduates and former students of engineering colleges. It is too early to make any prediction as to the value of the results that will be obtained, but the preliminary reports are very encouraging. At any rate the entire matter of technical education is being examined more thoroughly than it has ever been before.

The total number of students registered in the college again decreased somewhat as compared with the preceding year. This is in accord, however, with the general trend all over the country. Statistics compiled by the Bureau of Education of the United States have shown a steady decline in the number of such students for several years. No doubt this is partly due to the great interest now manifested in the new Schools of Business Administration such as that recently established at Harvard. A similar decline in the number of engineering students accompanied the rapid rise of colleges of agriculture a number of years ago.

Locally, there is the added reason of a very rigid enforcement of our entrance requirements. These being somewhat higher than most institutions of similar character in this country tend naturally, and we believe wisely, to discourage any but those who are well prepared to do college work in these lines from making application. The two great problems in engineering education now appear to be the intelligent selection of students and the improving of the methods of instruction. It is doubtful if we shall see any radical change in curricula either as to content or length of the college period. While the total number of students has decreased, the number registered in the School of Civil Engineering has somewhat increased. This is interesting and encouraging, for this line of engineering has not been very active for some years. The good roads movement may account to some extent for this revival.

There is little to report concerning the curriculum of any of the three schools of the college, no notable changes having been made in any of them during the year. Such changes as have been made are in the direction of liberalizing the several courses and this is of course highly desirable.

Considerable progress has been made in research and two bulletins have been issued under the auspices of the newly established Experiment Station, namely, a bulletin on A Double Integrator for Electrical Line Transients, the work of Professor Karapetoff; one on Empirical Relations for Coals of the United States by F. C. Evans; and one on Viscometry in the Sibley School of Mechanical Engineering, the work of Professor Upton. At least two more bulletins are in preparation for next year.

Other research work has been conducted as follows.

Professor Schoder has nearly completed his long experimental study in hydraulics and expects to publish results in the near future. Professors Scofield and Wright have made good progress in investigating the changes of temperature and expansion during the setting of lumnite and Portland cements, mortars, and concretes. Professor Conwell is investigating soils for highway purposes.

Under the direction of Director Diederichs and with the aid of the Heckscher Foundation the following researches have been conducted: Flame propagation in closed cylinders, Heat transmission from steam to heavy oil, The nature of martensite, The behavior of Deisel Engine oils under varying pressure and temperature.

In Electrical Engineering Professor Ballard has continued his research on vacuum tubes and Professor Karapetoff has continued his work on the mechanical solution of equations involved in electrical design.

The College has received the following gifts and donations during the year and grateful acknowledgment is hereby made.

From the Bell System Laboratories: A Variable Frequency Oscillator, an Amplifier Voltmeter-Milliammeter, an Artificial Transmission Line, and several pieces of auxiliary apparatus.

From the Philadelphia Electric Company: A number of Voltmeters, Ammeters, and Tachometers.

From the Brown Boveri Company: A Voltage Regulator of their own manufacture.

From Goddard and Goddard Company: A number of Milling cutters and similar apparatus.

From National Engineering Company: A Simpson Sand Mixer.

From Weirton Machine Company: A Lee Steam Turbine direct connected to a Gould Centrifugal Pump.

From Public Service Corporation of New Jersey: A 25 K. W. Curtis Turbine.

From Yarnell-Waring Company: A Lea V notch Recorder.

From Wayne Tank and Pump Company: A feed water softening apparatus.

The School of Civil Engineering is indebted to the National Geological Survey for material assistance in rebuilding the gauging station in Fall Creek at Forest Home, having received from it the loan for an indefinite period of an Au Water-stage recorder. The Ward Kurtz Company has also given material assistance in conducting tests on concrete cements.

In addition to these gifts of a material nature Dr. and Mrs. Toms of Nyack, N. Y., founded the Allen Park Toms Award in memory of their son, a graduate of the Sibley School of Mechanical Engineering. This award has a value of $250 and is founded for the purpose of aiding worthy students. Three undergraduate scholarships were provided for from the McMullen bequest. These will go into effect next October.

It does not appear to be necessary to recapitulate the many needs of the College since you are already fully cognizant of them. Concerning these needs the most hopeful advance is the new building plans that are now being developed. With these completed a determined effort to secure new buildings will, without doubt, be rewarded with success; and the time has come when this matter cannot be longer delayed.

DEXTER S. KIMBALL,

Dean of the College of Engineering.

By way of comment, the number of registrants, 1998, should be compared with the number for 1923, 1894, and for 1922, 2148. This latter number included the figure for the School of Physical Education, 432, which was discontinued following that session. You will see, then, that we had the largest registration of bona fide Summer Session students that we have had in recent years. The number of graduate students, 190, should be compared with 224 in 1923 and 135 in 1922. The seeming decrease for 1924 as compared with 1923 does not mean that there were fewer graduate students working during the Summer Session, but that a very considerable group were enrolled under the new plan of "personal direction" study and did not register for courses in the Summer Session. In the past this group actually registered for the Summer Session in order to get residence credit. There was a sufficient number enrolled this year under personal direction to have brought the figure up to last year's, had they been included. The number (318) of undergraduates of Cornell can be compared with the figure, 420, registered in 1922. The figure for 1923 is not available. The undergraduates from other institutions, 244, may likewise be compared with 189 in 1922. This comparison shows a certain falling off for our own undergraduates and an increase for the number from other institutions for the current summer, but the data do not indicate whether this is more than a passing tendency. There are not satisfactory figures for comparison for degree holding students of past years, but it is significant that so many graduates from other institutions are attending our Summer Session. Comparative figures for teachers enrolled are given and seem to show certain definite trends. No further comment seems necessary on this table.

The matter of geographical distribution gives some ground for thought. Although most states of the Union are represented in the Summer Session, yet it would seem reasonable to draw more largely from the Central and Middle Western States than is the case. The question is raised whether it would not be worth while to extend our advertising in this district more widely.

Regarding the attendance in the various courses, the table shows the trends for the past six years. One very encouraging feature is the increasing enrollment in Education, which seems to justify the policy of expansion which has marked this department in the past few years.

The work in Drawing and Painting seems to be a legitimate development of the Summer Session which is very encouraging.

The enrollment in the Music courses for the past two summers would seem to indicate a steady demand for certain courses dealing with music in the public schools in addition to courses similar to those offered in our regular session. It would seem that the policy of making a conservative offering of this sort in co-operation with our Department of Music is worthy of continuation.

The large enrollment in Physical Education was confined almost entirely to the unusual number of persons who elected the course in Equitation offered in conjunction with the Department of Military Science. There was much favorable comment regarding this course and also some rather definite criticism. In view of the fact that the horses used are the property of the United States Government and that there is no assurance that they will always be at the disposal of our resident Military staff for instructional purposes, it is very likely that this course will be omitted in future.

The courses in Public Speaking were attended as largely in 1924 as they had been in 1923, which indicates that the growth of this department is likely to be permanent. In this connection it is desirable to call attention to the dramatic presentations made by the Public Speaking Department throughout the session. Groups of plays were offered each week on from two to three evenings, a nominal fee being charged to cover the cost of presentation. This development proved so successful that it seems desirable to encourage a continuation along these lines for the coming summer.

The courses offered in Engineering show a decided increase in enrollment, which speaks well for the interest manifested by that college in the summer work.

A table is presented showing the cost per student hour for each department involved in Summer Session work. A comparison should be made of each one of these items with the average cost for all courses, namely, $5.22 per student hour for the entire offering. It is felt, that a relatively high cost of any course may be entirely justifiable if the course is intrinsically valuable. However, as long as the Summer Session is of necessity practically self-supporting, it must be borne in mind that no particular course should show too great a deviation above the average.

The tables presented give a very definite basis for consideration of certain enlargements of the staff and extensions of the curriculum for the session of 1925, in order to make the session more valuable to our increasing number of earnest students.

A word should be said about the social conditions during the Summer Session. It has been the experience of all the larger institutions that a small minority of the summer enrollment is made up of students who are not fundamentally interested in scholastic work and this group is the source of certain difficulties in the way of proper conduct and deportment. The Cornell Summer Session has had this experience during the past few years, and, while the presence of certain students of this sort is perhaps inevitable, it does seem that the number may be minimized and the opportunities for distraction from serious work may be lessened if certain regulations are put into effect toward that end. It is therefore recommended that the Administrative officers of the University, who are particularly entrusted with the regulation of student conduct, confer with the purpose of taking whatever means are possible to regulate the session of 1925 somewhat more carefully.

R. H. JORDAN,
Chairman of the Summer Session.

No marked changes have taken place in the housing situation for women during the past year and the need for more dormitories for women is still immediate and urgent.

It was necessary for me to be away from Ithaca from February until May, on account of illness. During this period my assistant, Miss A. Elizabeth Neely, '19, as acting Dean, carried on the work of the office in such a way as to win the most cordial response and hearty cooperation, not only from the women of the University but from all those with whom she worked.

REPORT OF THE REGISTRAR

To the President of the University:

SIR: I have the honor to submit herewith my twenty-ninth annual report as Registrar of the University. The report covers the academic year 1924-25 including the Summer Session of 1924.

THE YEAR

	Days in Session	Sun- days	Holi- days	Vaca- tion	Total

STUDENTS

The accompanying table shows the attendance for 1924-25, gives the number of students who have received instruction this year, including those in the 1924 Summer Session, in the 1924 Summer School in Agriculture, in the 1924-25 Winter Courses in Agriculture and the Summer School in Law, but excluding duplicates, as 7415.

The accompanying table shows the attendance in each course since the opening of the University in 1868.

MATRICULATES

The following table shows that 2698 students have registered during the present year for the first time. The table also shows the method of admission. Students entering for the first time in the Summer Session and in the Summer School in Agriculture are not considered as matriculates, but for convenience are listed in this table.

Graduates.	182	Coll. Ent. Board Exams.	21
Advanced standing.	275	Medical (N.Y.C.).	59
Regents' credentials.	570	Summer Session (1924).	775
School certificates.	483	Summer School in Agr. (1924).	228
By examination.	9	Sum. Grad. (Per. Dir.).	4
As special students.	52	Summer School Law.	40

Total. 2698

The small number entering by some of the methods mentioned above is due to the fact that two or more methods have been combined in a single case, the student, however, being listed in the group to which the major portion of his entrance belongs.

ADMISSION FROM OTHER COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

The Registrar has charge of all credentials presented by applicants coming from other institutions. This system has given uniformity of action on similar certificates when the applicants enter different colleges at this University.

In the following list should be included properly a number of cases of special students who, coming from other colleges, would have been eligible for admission to advanced standing. Such students, however, preferred to be admitted as specials. Some later changed to a regular course but are not included in the tables.

The number of students admitted to advanced standing as candidates for the first degree during the past thirty-nine years, is, as nearly as may be ascertained, as follows. The former courses in Chemistry, Pharmacy, Medical Preparatory, and Optional have been omitted from the table but the numbers have been retained in the totals.

During the past thirty-nine years there have been admitted from 560 other institutions of collegiate rank 6,989 students. The distribution in general of these students can be seen by reference to the table on page xciii of the Report for the year 1907-08.

ADMISSION ON SCHOOL CERTIFICATE, REGENTS' CREDENTIALS, AND EXAMINATIONS

The Registrar has charge of the credentials of those entering by school certificate, by Regents' credentials and by examinations, including the examinations conducted by the College Entrance Examination Board.

During the past sixteen years the number of applicants admitted by school certificate, by Regents' credentials, and by examinations, has been as follows:

APPENDIX XIV

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

To the President of the University:

SIR: I herewith respectfully submit the annual report of the use made of the University Library so far as the use is recorded, together with the work necessary to make and keep the library materials available for use. The special needs of the library are set forth in the reports from the several divisions into which the work falls.

The library has been open for use during the year 308 days, from 8 until 10:30 when the university is in session, and from 9 until 5 on vacation days. The doors have been closed on Thanksgiving day, Christmas and New Year's days, Fourth of July, and Labor day, being open on all other public holidays. The library is the literary laboratory of the university and students have access to this laboratory more hours during the day than they have to any other laboratory. The evening opening necessitates a larger force of workers, as no one is expected to be on duty more than seven hours a day, and if student help were not available, the cost of keeping the library open so many hours would be greatly increased. There is, however, great need for a trained library worker to take charge of the work during the evening hours instead of the monitorial plan, as at present.

ACCESSIONS DIVISION

The accessions to the University library are shown by the accompanying table.

The library has been passing through a trying time during the past few years. The earnings of the book funds are the same as in past years but the cost of books has increased so much that in some cases the purchasing power has been reduced by half. The Sage endowment is entirely taken up by the annual grants allotted to the various groups of subjects, about which books are bought. Urgent requests are made for more money in many of these divisions, but the annual grants cannot be increased.

The earnings of the Fiske endowment, so much as is allotted to the purchase of books, is used for binding, and a reserve fund for special needs. The increased need for these purposes makes a demand on this fund beyond its capacity and we are not able to grant some requests for things greatly needed.

The acquisition of new sets of periodicals and society publications has been kept up to a certain extent, for which a reserve fund from sales of duplicates has been to a certain extent available.

The special book funds seem to be caring for purchases in the special fields, but the general book endowment funds need to be increased.

From Mr. Wm. F. E. Gurley, '75 we received the following incunabula:

- Augustin. Libros de Trinitate. 1489.
 Nicolaus de Lyra. Postillae super Biblia. 1481.

Among gifts should be mentioned 35 volumes in Braille from Dr. L. L. Seaman, '72.

The classification work has not only taken care of the current accessions, but the Loewy books dealing with Freemasonry, so far as they have been unpacked, numbering several hundred titles, have been classified by the Library of Congress system of classification, although not catalogued, so they are available for consultation at the shelves, by any who desire to do so.

The work of receiving and recording the current periodical literature is done by the periodical division, where also all periodicals are made ready for binding. This work is of prime importance since periodicals wrongly bound and wrongly lettered are a constant annoyance to users. The record of the work of this division is as follows:

Periodicals received by subscription	1,240
Periodicals received by gift and exchange	1,048
Vols. of periodicals bound	3,010

The use of newspapers and general periodicals kept in this division falls under the supervision of this division also. For this use over 3,000 bound volumes are kept on the open shelves and about 700 current publications in the periodical room.

CATALOGUE DIVISION

The importance of keeping books added to the library fully catalogued does not need emphasis and to this end all the available space for doing this work has been used during the past year, but very little more than current orders have been taken care of. The large collection of Loewy and Wynne books, are still uncatalogued, because there is no room to add to the force of workers in the catalogue division. So far as these collections are on shelves it has been possible to select out items wanted and make them available for use but the large part of the Loewy books are still in packing boxes, for want of shelf space.

The work done by this division is shown by the following:

No. of vols. and pamphlets catalogued.....	11,264
No. maps catalogued.....	76
No. of Manuscripts catalogued.....	4
No. of written cards added to catalogue.....	8,613
No. of printed cards added to catalogue.....	8,779
No. of cards added to the L. C. catalogue.....	40,914
No. of cards added to the Harvard catalogue.....	3,520

In addition to the regular work, the catalogue division has received and prepared for printing the annual list of publications by the members of the university.

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

The four special collections for which curators are needed are the White Historical library, the Fiske Italian collection, the Fiske Icelandic collection, and the Wason Chinese collection. Three of these have special curators. Additions to the Chinese collection have been curtailed because the full earnings of the endowment have not been received, and so much of the general book funds were borrowed to cover the cost of orders out at the time the collection was received that but few new orders have been placed. When the full earnings on this fund are available, a special curator will be needed to keep the collection up to standard.

The curators of the other special libraries report a crowded condition of the shelving space, and for the White library, the curator says:

"The shelves are so crowded that it is impossible to have the books arranged as they should be. There should be more room for students. There are now twelve desks available while this year we should have had twenty-four to be able to assign one to each graduate student who needed one. Even with double the number we have, none would have been left for members of the faculty, visiting students, and undergraduates, who often need suitable places to work in the library for longer and shorter periods."

READERS DIVISION

The use made of the library, the end towards which all the other divisions are working, is shown by the following statement, as far as the use has been recorded:

Registered borrowers.....	1,931
Borrowing libraries.....	153
Vols. given out for reading room use.....	121,794
Vols. given out for seminary use.....	4,605
Vols. given out for laboratory use.....	6,227
Vols. given out for home use.....	43,401
Vols. lent to other libraries.....	385
Vols. borrowed from other libraries.....	105

During the year, 25,651 volumes have been reserved for use in the library and not allowed to go out except over nights and holidays.

The crowded condition of the library is not so marked in the reading room as elsewhere, although at times every seat is occupied. Some readers, using the general reading room, are doing a class of work that should be done in a seminary or special research room, but the lack of such accommodations prevents making such assignments. The library has never had facilities for placing at the disposal of scholars, that come to use the library, research rooms away from the constant confusion inevitable in a reading room used by undergraduates.

STACKS DIVISION

As the library increases in size, the work of this division becomes increasingly important. Books must be in their places or accounted for when wanted, if a library is serving its users.

The annual inventory always finds a good many volumes on the wrong shelves and a considerable number missing altogether, inevitable in a much-used library. The inventory of the books deposited in the department libraries shows a larger number of books missing from these collections than the size of these collections warrant. Closer supervision over these outlying libraries should be provided and a more frequent checking of the books than is now done.

Because of the congested condition of the book stacks in the main library a great deal of extra shifting and rearrangement of books has been necessary during the year in order to keep them in classified order without which nothing can be found. The supervisor of the stacks reports:

"The question of space demands immediate attention. With the putting up of additional presses against the stair railings, every foot of space in the building has been utilized for stack purposes. There is no space left and unless steps are taken at once, it will be necessary to pile books on floors and tables as has already been done in some cases.

This condition defeats the first principle of the library, viz., quick service, since it is obvious that with congestion there cannot be order, and without order there cannot be service."

WILLARD AUSTEN,
Librarian.

The gifts of alumni through the Cornellian Council available for current expenses increased from $48,743.63 to $77,833.51.

With the exercise of careful economy the expenses of the year of the endowed colleges at Ithaca were kept within the income available so that the year ended with a credit balance of $2,596.54. By this balance and by an appropriation of $35,000.00 from profits realized upon securities sold during the year, the debit balance of the income account on June 30, 1924 of $434,802.15 was reduced to $397,205.61.

Of this deficit accumulated during the few preceding years $120,-714.93 resulted from the purchase of land bordering on the campus and desired by the university to protect or supplement the existing campus; $78,053.23 was for the equipment of new buildings, and $198,438.45 from the ordinary running expenses of the university.

In the Medical College in New York City the net deficit in current income was $67,085.47 which, added to the accumulated deficit July 1, 1924 of $67,633.34 resulted in an accumulated deficit at the close of the year of $134,748.93. This deficit results almost entirely from the failure of income from the International Traction Company securities given by Colonel Payne for the endowment of the college.

For accounting purposes the University is separated into five divisions: (A) the endowed colleges in Ithaca, (B) the Medical College in New York, (C) the Veterinary College in Ithaca, (D) the Agricultural College in Ithaca, and (E) the State Experiment Station at Geneva, N. Y. In sub-division A, which for accounting purposes may be termed the University, are included many general items of income and expense which inure to the benefit, in a varying degree, of the four other divisions, or to the use and benefit of the students registered in the colleges constituting those divisions. Some such items are the expense of the general administrative offices, the library, the infirmary, the residential halls, and the departments of music, hygiene, and military and physical training.

During the year the enlargement of the stadium at Schoellkopf Field by the Athletic Association was completed. Work has progressed rapidly on Willard Straight Hall and it is expected that the building will be turned over to the University this fall. The University is also constructing two apartment houses on Thurston Avenue, opposite Prudence Risley Hall. These houses will contain eighteen four-room apartments and will form the nucleus of a larger group if they prove successful and there is a demand for them.

The Department of Buildings and Grounds has been unusually busy during the year, largely with the routine work of the University. During the war much repair work was postponed and is now being done.

The demands upon the Department of Purchases continually increase and the results justify the organization of this department.

A central store room has been opened in the basement of Morse Hall from which office, electric, janitor and some laboratory supplies, and hardware are issued to the several departments. In connection with the store room there is operated a paper cutter, punch, padding machine, multigraph, mimeograph and duplicator, so that work of this nature may be promptly done for any department at a minimum expense.

In the residential halls 1,034 students were accommodated and 852,763 meals served. The average amount received for a meal was slightly under 40 cents, and the profit to the University was 7 and 3/10 mills. Alumni reunions and conventions of learned societies were successfully handled. At the University luncheon in the Drill Hall on alumni day approximately 3,800 people were served, and the serving of meals for the members of the American Chemical Society and the New York State Bankers taxed the facilities of the University.

Itemized reports of the Treasurer, the Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, the Manager of Purchases, and the Manager of Residential Halls are appended hereto.

CHARLES D. BOSTWICK,
Comptroller.

APPENDIX II

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

To the Comptroller:

Herewith please find the report of the Department of Buildings and Grounds for the year 1924-25.

The University property in charge of the Department of Buildings and Grounds has been maintained and is in as good condition if not improved over what it was a year ago. As in previous years, the Department did a very considerable amount of work other than maintenance. The principal items of chargeable work were: The renovation of the house at 11 East Avenue formerly owned by Prof. Rowlee; finishing a portion of the north attic of Goldwin Smith Hall for the Department of Economics; completing the roads and grading about the Baker Laboratory of Chemistry; paving South Avenue; new bridge across Cascadilla Creek at Dwyer's Dam; new steam and return lines 1500 feet long from South Avenue to Morrill Hall together with connections to the Willard Straight Hall; repaired a part of the wood stave pipe section of the conduit from Beebe Lake to the Power House; rewired and refixed Sage College; also made a beginning on putting in the sewer, water, steam, and electricity to the Faculty Apartments on Thurston Avenue. The gas will be put in by the New York State Gas and Electric Corporation. The north half of Morse Hall was razed.

A memorial in memory of the late Charles H. Hasbrouck, '94, who gave his Forest Home property to the University, was built the past year. The site selected for the memorial was the wooded area opposite the Hasbrouck Lodge between the Kline Road and Fall Creek. The memorial, designed by Mr. C. E. Lowrie, Landscape Artist of New York City, is a stone seat, built of the local quarry face stone similar to the stone used in the Baker Laboratory of Chemistry. The entrance to the area is marked by stone gate posts with a path leading from the entrance to the seat. The memorial faces the creek and is so placed that it commands a very pretty, attractive, and extended view of the stream and its wooded banks. Nearly $700 has been spent on the memorial to date. It is the intention to further improve and beautify the place and make a very attractive spot.

For the State Colleges, the Department under Special Fund Estimate authorization, fitted up the attic of the Dairy Industry Building for office use; began work on the removal and remodelling of the Rural Engineering Buildings in order to clear the site of the proposed Plant Industry and Library Buildings.

The janitorial service for the year has been very satisfactory. The wages were increased slightly and while the increase is not large it was enough so that the personnel of the janitorial staff can be improved. There were only two changes in the force during the year, both on account of ill-health. At the present price of living, the pay of the janitors is not as liberal as it should be.

The buildings are in good repair particularly with reference to small items, the greatest need at the present time being interior decoration which was carried on more extensively in the year just closing and will be continued in the year to come.

The power plant and transmission lines as well as electrical equipment have been maintained in good condition and with many substantial betterments of transmission lines. The flow of Fall Creek for the year was such that it was only necessary to take on City service for a few days in July, September, and November. There has been, as will be seen further on in the report, a considerable increase in the use of electric current during the year. This fact together with the growth of the University including the Willard Straight Hall and the Faculty Apartments make it desirable to keep in mind the enlargement of the power house to provide increased capacity.

The fuel situation for the year was very comfortable with prices practically the same as in the year before. The coming year starts in with nearly or quite one-third of the total yearly requirements in storage.

The Grounds Section of the Department was very active during the year as a large part of the chargeable work called for a large amount of excavation and work properly done by common labor. In addition, this section had charge of the quarry operation in supplying stone to Willard Straight Hall.

The water supply including filtration and distribution had a comfortable year supplying the University needs, not including the State Colleges, with an adequate supply of good water. The daily average consumption was about 382,000 gallons.

The new roof on the Drill Hall was commenced in the fall of 1924. The work was about three-fourths completed at the end of the year. The State appropriated $75,000 for this work.

The Heating Plant furnished an adequate supply of steam to heat the buildings of the institution including the State Colleges. There was an increase in output this year over that of last year. The increasing demand for steam together with the growth of the University, considering the present boiler capacity, makes it desirable to provide additional source of supply. To meet the situation an appropriation was made for an additional boiler, making the fifth in the plant, a duplicate of the ones now installed.

At the Agricultural College, considerable work has been done by this Department under the Special Fund Estimate providing roads, walks, and grading about the Dairy Building, clearing the site of the proposed Plant Industry Building of water and sewer pipes and providing new quarters for the rural Engineering Department.

For the Veterinary College, the Department has prepared plans and specifications which were paid for by the Veterinary College for the Second Story of the Surgical Ward. There is an appropriation of $37,000 covering this work.

The following tabulations and statements will show the number of employees, the cost and expenditures of the Department of Buildings and Grounds for the year 1924-25:

A summary giving the number of employees since 1915-16 follows:

1915-16.....	87	1920-21.....	156
1916-17.....	115	1921-22.....	176
1917-18.....	108	1922-23.....	153
1918-19.....	118	1923-24.....	179
1919-20.....	121	1924-25.....	260

The average number of employees for the year is 260, as compared with 179 last year or an increase of nearly 48 per cent. The increase in number is very largely in Grounds labor. The reason for this is the large amount of work other than maintenance that the Department did last year. South Avenue paving and bridge, grading of Reservoir and East Avenue, and Special Fund Estimate work for the State Colleges are the larger items.

COSTS

SUMMARY OF EXPENDITURES, 1924-25

Salaries.....	$ 16,585.87
Maintenance and Operation.....	192,309.01

SALARIES, 1924-25

Appropriation.....	$ 21,600.00

Net expense.....	$ 16,767.95

The total expenditures of the Department were about 10 per cent more than a year ago, while the amount paid out for salaries was slightly less. This probably is accounted for by the fact of the large amount of improvement work requiring a large labor force and no additional salary expense.

	$212,748.91	$192,309.01	$20,439.90

The total expenditure of $192,309.01 compares with $184,988.86 a year ago. This difference of $7,320.15 is largely in four items: Care of Buildings, Heating, Grounds, and Fire Service. The Care of Buildings increase was due to increase of wages; the increase in Heating expense, insufficient appropriation; Grounds, to being more generous with the upkeep; and the Fire Service, for more inspection and general operating costs.

The cost of janitor service for the year 1924-25 is given in the following table:

Total Cost of Janitor Service.....	$38,042.16
Amount paid by State for Drill Hall Janitors.....	2,940.00
Amount paid by Care of Buildings.....	$35,102.16

The cost of the care of buildings per square foot of floor area, from 1918 to 1925, has been: 1918-19, $.027; 1919-20, $.035; 1920-21, $.035; 1921-22, $.036; 1922-23, $.038; 1923-24, $.037; 1924-25, $.04.

The increased cost of $.003 is due to increase in wage amounting to $2,045.77 and to the fact that the towel supply for the coming year which is usually cared for after July 1st, is now completed and the separate buildings charged with their allotment.

*The total amount of current reported for the year 1923-24, 1,713,635 KWH, was too large by 104,000 KWH, the amount taken from the City, which was duplicated in the total. Deducting the 104,000 KWH gives the revised total of 1,609,635 KWH, as above.

It will be noted from the above record that the current used in 1923-24 was 6328 KWH or .4 per cent increase over 1922-23 and the current used in 1924-25 exceeded 1923-24 by 201,592 KWH or 12.5 per cent. The City current used in 1923-24 was 104,000 KWH and in 1924-25 only 26,400 KWH. This difference in the City current is due to two causes; namely, stream flow and to dam construction in the year 1923-24 when it was necessary to shut down the University Plant for a few days.

It will be noted by comparison with the record of last year that the large increase in electric current used by the University is principally in the Residence Halls and Baker Laboratory and College of Engineering power requirements. There are other increases in consumption but sufficient decreases to more than offset them.

If the rate of increase of the year 1924-25 over 1923-24 continues, it will not be long before the capacity of the present power plant will be reached.

The fuel required to operate the University Heating Plant for the year was 29,055 tons; all other departments exclusive of the State Colleges, 1,933 tons, making a total of 30,988 tons. It will be noted that the heating plant only increased 778 tons while the other departments decreased 190 tons, making a net increase of 588 tons. The increase and decrease as noted above are due largely to the discontinuance of local independent heating plants and connecting them up with the central plant.

The expenditure for fuel for the past year was $130,117.11 as compared with $131,956.15 a year ago. It will be noted that the cost of heating plant fuel, including unloading, was $3.87 a ton the past year compared with $3.83 in 1923-24 or 4 cents a ton, practically a negligible amount. The other departments fuel cost was $6.54 as compared with $7.79 a year ago; the reserve, $11.28 as compared with $8.50 the previous year. This great difference is due probably to being more largely domestic sizes of anthracite and less of the finer grades and smokeless bituminous coal.

The distribution and the total output of steam for the year are shown by the table on page 125.

The total amount of steam used during the year was 357,568 M pounds, 12,441 M pounds more than the last year, or 3.4 per cent. This increase is largely in the Agricultural College, 7,833 M pounds; Residential Halls, 2,546 M pounds; Cascadilla, 620 M pounds, and Sage College, 561 M pounds more than in the year previous. The remainder of the increase, or 11,560 M pounds, is made up in small amounts by the buildings heated from the central plant. The total output represents approximately 11,500 M pounds steam per ton of coal. The cost a thousand pounds of steam at the plant was 40.74 cents as compared with 40.4254 cents last year. The cost distributed at the buildings is 72.53 cents a thousand pounds compared with 69.01 cents a year ago. The difference in the manufacturing cost in the two years is small. The increased cost in distribution of 3.53 is due in part at least to the increased interest and depreciation brought about by the large expenditure for the new steam line from South Avenue to the north end of Morrill Hall, the balance by unusually heavy maintenance and supply expense.

The total appropriations for the year amounted to $80,681.84, being $9,732.02 less than the year before, while the amount spent, $51,703.21, was $18,194.79 more than the previous year. The large items of expenditure were for the South Avenue Paving and Dwyer's Dam Bridge, and the grading and paving of East and Reservoir Avenues about the Baker Laboratory of Chemistry. These two items amount to $36,629.84, or over 70 per cent of the whole expenditure of the year on improvements and betterments.

These expenditures do not include any Special Fund Estimate work that the Department did for the State Colleges during the year which was a very considerable amount.

APPENDIX III

REPORT OF THE MANAGER OF PURCHASES

September 10, 1925.

To the Comptroller:

During the past year the Purchasing Department has undergone rather radical reorganization in order to allow for the establishment of a central storeroom. The issue of supplies from the offices in Morrill Hall and Roberts Hall has been discontinued, thereby eliminating stores record keeping and stores accounts in the two offices.

The west wing of Morse Hall has been remodeled and equipped for a storeroom and all office supplies, electrical supplies, janitor's supplies and some laboratory and hardware supplies are now issued and billed to the various departments of the University from there.

In connection with the storeroom is operated a paper cutter, punch, padding machine, multigraph, mimeograph and duplicator so that work of that kind may be done for any of the departments with the least delay and at a minimum expense.

A visible index of perpetual inventory is kept for about a thousand items stocked in the storeroom and through the stores accounts are also carried the issues to departments from the Chemical Storeroom in Baker Laboratory and the pool orders for laboratory equipment and supplies and for photographic work and supplies.

The storehouse is also used as a clearing house for the transfer or sale of unused equipment and a large quantity of material has been transferred or turned into cash in this way. The University Messenger Service is operated in connection with deliveries from the storeroom.

Increased office space at Roberts Hall has been made available this past year and has relieved the crowded condition which hampered that office during the preceding two years.

Included in this report are tables showing a summary of requisitions received and orders placed during the year; a summary of requisitions handled by months; a statement of purchases by months made by the offices in Morrill Hall and Roberts Hall, a statement of purchases made by the office in Morrill Hall on State Funds; a statement of charge slips issued by both offices before and during the transfer of stock to the central storeroom, and a statement of stores orders on the storeroom.

It is interesting to note that 4,376 stores orders were issued amounting to $29,232.57, as against 3,305 orders amounting to $23,369.48 the previous year. The percentage of stores orders to total orders was 20.3% as against 16.8% the previous year.

The total inventory value of stores supplies on June 30, was $16,362.81. Additional items are being constantly added to stock as fast as the necessity for them becomes apparent and satisfactory prices in quantity can be obtained.

GEO. S. FRANK,
Manager of Purchases.

REPORT OF THE MANAGER OF RESIDENTIAL HALLS

August 28, 1925

To the Comptroller:

Permit me to present the report of the Department of Residential Halls for the year 1924-25.

During the year one cottage at 308 Wait Avenue has been added to the dormitory system.

In the period from July 1, 1924, to June 30, 1925, a total of 852,763 meals were served by the Residential Halls, in their dining rooms and cafeterias. In the halls of residence 1,034 students were accommodated.

The number of students accommodated in the various Residential Halls follows:

For Men Students:

Baker Court	191
Cascadilla Hall.	170
Founders Hall.	61
Boldt Hall.	63	485

During Alumni Days the halls of residence and dining rooms were used to capacity. With the increased numbers of Alumni returning under the Dix plan of reunions it is not possible to house them adequately in the present dormitories. Two buffet luncheons were served at the Drill Hall, the first providing for 1,297 and on Saturday (Alumni Day) 3,800 people were served.

In September the members of the American Chemical Society attending the meeting in Ithaca were housed in Prudence Risley Hall, Sage College and the Men's Residential Halls. Meals were served for them in Risley Hall and Sage College Dining Rooms.

The week following Commencement in June, members and guests attending the New York State Bankers' Convention were housed in Prudence Risley Hall, Sage College and the Baker Dormitories and were served meals in the Risley Hall and Sage College Dining Rooms.

During the college year 140 students were regularly employed in the dining rooms and cafeterias, receiving in return their board or a fixed wage per hour. May I mention again the keen spirit of cooperation shown by both the regular and student employees.

In Cascadilla Hall three bath rooms were remodelled. This work should be completed during the coming year. The installing of a new lighting system has been started.

In Prudence Risley Hall a new hot water system for the eastern section of the building has been installed. All the bath rooms in the building have been painted. The rooms on the fifth floor have been redecorated. This work should be continued throughout the building. New upholstering for the furniture and new draperies have been supplied for the first floor.

In Sage College in the study rooms and corridors a new lighting system has been installed. The six small drawing rooms have been redecorated and the dining rooms have been remodelled and redecorated. The work of redecorating should be continued throughout the building. New furniture and draperies are needed in the six small drawing rooms on the first floor.

In Baker Court and Founders Hall the system of locks has been repaired. The floors in all these buildings need repairing and the woodwork throughout the buildings should be refinished.

A standard system of lighting similar to that in Boldt Hall would be more satisfactory to the students in these buildings and such a system would result in a saving in the amount of electricity used.

At 5 East Avenue a new roof has been placed on the house.

At 7 South Avenue the interior of the house has been redecorated and a new lighting system has been installed. The outside of this house should be painted.

At 332 Wait Avenue the drawing rooms and corridors have been redecorated.

The laundry has run to capacity during the year. During the busiest periods both the dormitory and dining room departments have been handicapped because the laundry could not turn out work faster, due to lack of space for more adequate equipment.
