My father used to play with my brother and me in the yard. Mother would come out and say, "You're tearing up the grass." "We're not raising grass," Dad would reply. "We're raising [children]."

CONGRATULATIONS!

...to Anh Diep, a resident in the Anatomic Pathology Section, who was selected to receive a Society of Toxicologic Pathology (STP) Student Travel Award for the 2010 STP/IFSTP Joint Symposium to take place later this month in Chicago, IL.

This award will provide Dr. Diep the opportunity to present her poster, titled "Acute Changes in Rathke's Cleft After a Single Intravenous Administration of Bacterial Lipopolysaccharides in Rats", at a national scientific meeting and she will be honored, along with fellow award recipients, at an Awards Ceremony during the symposium.

CONGRATULATIONS!

...to Aly Spealman (Davisson and Kotlikoff labs), who won Runner-Up for the American Association of Anatomists (AAA) Langman Graduate Student Platform Presentation Award for her Experimental Biology 2010 abstract entitled "C-kit+ cardiac precursor cells exhibit a unique oxidant and antioxidant gene expression profile."

The award honors Jan Langman, an outstanding embryologist and educator. Aly presented her work at the EB2010 conference in April in front of the AAA Advisory Committee in competition with other graduate student finalists. Her position as a finalist included a $250 travel award. In addition, Aly also gave an oral presentation in the platform session, "Stem Cells".

PRESENTATIONS

Dr. Donald Schlafer, Professor of Comparative Reproductive Pathology, was invited to present his work on two different occasions in the month of April:

On April 6th, Dr. Schlafer was invited to the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, at Walter Reed in Washington, DC, to participate in their Surgical Pathology Seminar series. He has presented lectures and acted as an external moderator in this series for many years.

Dr. Schlafer presented a seminar on April 29th at the University of Kentucky's Maxwell H. Gluck Equine Research Center entitled, "Exploring Fetal Life In-utero in the mare: Placental Pathophysiology". The seminar was presented as part of the research and diagnostic seminar series co-hosted by the Diagnostic Center at the University of Kentucky.

These seminars are distributed throughout the world and are an important component of residency training programs in many institutions.
