CHANGE IN CAMPUS MAP.

Central Avenue to Be Taken Out of the Quadrangle.

During the coming summer the appearance of the Quadrangle on the campus will be greatly changed. The course of Central avenue is to be diverted so that that driveway will no longer traverse the Quadrangle. Where the avenue now runs—east of Morrill, McGraw and White Halls—the roadway will be turfed over. The entire width of the open square will then be one expanse of lawn.

Between the Library and Morrill Hall Central avenue will turn to the westward and will run past Morrill, McGraw and White on the west side of those buildings, and join University avenue by a passageway between Sibley College and Franklin Hall. There is a possibility that even this passageway will be abandoned and that the outlet to University avenue will be between Franklin and Morse Halls. The decision to change the campus map was made at last week's meeting of the executive committee.

It is a curious fact that this alteration of the course of Central avenue will put that thoroughfare, with respect to the three oldest University buildings, just where it was originally intended to be—on their west instead of their east side. These buildings were intended to face the west. The change will serve two purposes. It will make the avenue crooked and so tend to prevent its use as a speedway for motor cars and cycles, and it will increase the beauty of the Quadrangle.

An Orderly Senior Banquet.

The class of 1909 held its senior banquet at the Ithaca Hotel last Thursday evening. In comparison with one or two events of the kind in recent years the banquet was most orderly. There was no lack of fun and good fellowship and the affair was a great success. President Schurman, in his speech, congratulated the class on getting together "as gentlemen and scholars" to celebrate their departure from the University. Lewis Henry was toastmaster. R. E. Coulson, president of the class, recommended that the class give as its memorial enough money to complete the Moakley House Fund. Deans Smith and Hull and John L. Ahern '94, of Buffalo, spoke briefly. The principal speaker was Attorney General Edward R. O'Malley '91, who said in part:

"The thing for the college man to avoid is the mistake of assuming on graduation that things are all wrong. This is not so. There is much of good remaining in this world. There is more real merit among men than at any time before. There is more of charity and less of selfishness. In my judgment, there is much better government, national, state and municipal. Government is more democratic today. There is a quicker response upon the part of public men to the popular will than at any time before. There are more men who vote on a given question today on its merits, independent of party lines, than ever before. Partisanship in state and local matters is disappearing."

A portrait of Dr. James Law, the first director of the Veterinary College, was presented to the college last Friday. It is a gift of the New York State alumni of the college. The presentation was made by Dr. G. S. Hopkins and the portrait was accepted on behalf of the University by President Schurman. Addresses were delivered by ex-President White and Director Moore.

At the last meeting of the University Faculty the proposed changes in the calendar were discussed, but no action was taken.

Professor Nathaniel Schmidt will give a course in oriental history at the summer session of the University of Wisconsin.

GETS A NEW HOUSE.

Cornell Club of New York Takes the Old Huntington Residence.

New quarters have been obtained by the Cornell University Club of New York. A ten-year lease of the former Collis P. Huntington house at the southeast corner of Park avenue and East Thirty-eighth street was made last week. For five years the club has occupied a narrow house at 58 West Forty-fifth street. There was no room for growth and for more than a year the organization has been looking for a better place. The Huntington house was decided upon, but there was difficulty in getting the consents of some neighboring property owners to the presence of a club. All the necessary consents have now been obtained.

The new clubhouse is at the highest point of the Murray Hill section, facing one of the widest and most attractive avenues in town. Four short blocks to the north is the Grand Central Station and an express station of the Subway. Fourth and Madison avenue surface cars run past the house beneath Park avenue, connecting with cross-town surface lines at Thirty-fourth and Forty-second streets. A station of the Third Avenue elevated railroad is near the house. Altogether the new location is easily accessible.

The house is a four-story and basement structure, 50 feet wide on Park avenue and 60 feet deep, with a rear yard 20 feet deep. It is to be entirely remodeled by the club according to plans prepared by Frank Ayres Wright '79, of the firm of Rossiter & Wright. These plans provide for a large club breakfast and grill room on the basement floor, with another large room for lounging and for pool and billiard tables on the same floor, as well as an office, a coat room, telephone booths and a large kitchen. The kitchen will be thoroughly modern. On the second floor will be a public and a private dining room, a library and a governors' meeting room. All these apartments will be spacious.

The three upper floors will be devoted to sleeping rooms, some for permanent use by resident members and others to be reserved for non-resident members. All these rooms will be well furnished and supplied with hot and cold water and each room will contain a telephone. For the temporary use of Cornell men, whether they are members of the club or not, there will be lockers and dressing rooms in the basement, affording a convenient place for quick change of dress for the theater or other evening engagement. There will be no lack of well equipped shower baths. The improvements are to include new plumbing throughout, a new heating plant and a complete renovation from cellar to roof.

The terms of the lease were negotiated by a committee consisting of Howard HasBrouck '90, chairman, and Seymour P. Thomas '72, both ex-presidents of the club. The alterations will be directed by a building committee consisting of John C. Westervelt '94, chairman, Robert J. Eidlitz '85 and Roger Lewis '95, president of the club. The finance committee is Mr. Lewis, chairman, Bert Hanson '93, Frederick Willis '01, Herbert D. Mason '00, Otto M. Eidlitz '81 and Edward Burns '03.

About $50,000 will be required for improvements and furnishings and to provide for exigencies during the first years of the club's occupancy of the new quarters. About $33,000 has thus far been subscribed—this amount from about one-fourth of the club membership. Otto M. Eidlitz '81 and Charles C. Dickinson '91 have each subscribed $5,000—$1,000 each as a gift outright and $4,000 as a loan to be secured by club debentures. It is believed that, with a new house now assured, the remaining 75 per cent. of the members of the club will subscribe the $17,000 necessary to complete the fund. The club will issue its obligations, redeemable in ten years, upon payment of subscriptions in amounts of fifty dollars or multiples thereof, such obligations to bear interest at 3 per cent. until one year after the club shall occupy the new house, and at 4 1-2 per cent. from that time on. These obligations will be redeemable at any time at the option of the Club.

It is believed that the membership and patronage of the club will so increase that the annual income will enable the club to redeem these obligations in pro rata amounts from year to year.

Mr. Wright, the architect in charge of the alterations, will file his plans in a few days, and the new house is expected to be ready for occupancy about September 15 next.

VICTORY ON THE TRACK.

Cornell Scores 76 1-2 Points to 40 1-2
Scored by Princeton—Records Broken.

The Cornell track team won a decisive victory over Princeton at Percy Field on Saturday, the final score being 76 1-2 to 40 1-2. Cornell won first place in nine of the thirteen events—the two-mile run, half-mile and quarter-mile, both weight events, the pole vault, the high and broad jumps and the low hurdles. Dawbarn of Princeton won both dashes, and McGee of Princeton won the mile run. Talcott of Cornell and Dwight of Princeton tied for first place in the high hurdles.

Talbot threw the 16-pound hammer 167 feet, making a mark 2 feet and 2 inches better than the intercollegiate record of 164 feet 10 inches, made by John DeWitt of Princeton in 1902. Talbot also won the shot-put, his mark being 42 feet 4 inches.

A fine showing was made by Talcott, who beat Dwight of Princeton in the low hurdles and tied with him in the high hurdles. In the former event the two men cleared the last hurdle together and Talcott won in the race for the tape. The time made by the two when they tied in the 120-yard hurdles was a new Cornell record and was within one-fifth of a second of the intercollegiate record.

Cook of Cornell competed in only one event, the pole vault, which he won after a pole had broken under him. He vaulted 12 feet. After winning this event he walked over to where the broad jump was in progress and took a seat on the bench, but he went to the clubhouse as soon as he saw that Nixon had the victory in his grasp. Nixon, who is a sophomore, won his C in this event.

Grant of Cornell ran a plucky race in the mile, but McGee of Princeton beat him by a few yards. Taylor of Cornell beat Parsons of Princeton by fully forty yards in the two-mile. French in the half and Hitchcock in the quarter gave good accounts of themselves.

In the high jump Cornell took 8 1-2 points to Princeton's 1-2 point.

The summary:

100-yard dash—Won by Dawbarn, Princeton; MacArthur, Cornell, second; Jessup, Princeton, third. Time 10 1-5 seconds. (P. 6, C. 3.)

Shot put—Won by Talbot, Cornell, 42 feet 4 inches; McGregor, Princeton, second, 41 feet 2 3-4 inches; Cosgrove, Cornell, third, 38 feet 6 inches. (P. 9, C. 9.)

High hurdles—Dwight, Princeton, and Talcott, Cornell, tied for first; Hoffman, Cornell, third. Time, 15 2-5 seconds. (P. 13, C. 14.)

Mile run—Won by McGee, Princeton; Grant, Cornell, second; Bean, Cornell, third. Time, 4:28 4-5. (P. 18, C. 18.)

Quarter-mile—Won by Hitchcock, Cornell; Ritter, Cornell, second; McConger, Princeton, third. Time, 50 2-5 seconds. (P. 19, C. 26.)

Two-mile—Won by Taylor, Cornell; Parsons, Princeton, second; McCune, Cornell, third. Time, 9:54. (P. 22, C. 32.)

High jump—Keasbey and Rossman, Cornell, tied for first at 5 feet 6 3-4 inches; Wells, Cornell, and Bumstead, Princeton, tied for third. (P. 22 1-2; C. 40 1-2.)

Half-mile—Won by French, Cornell; Whiteley, Princeton, second; Ebersole, Cornell, third. Time, 1:58 3-5. (P. 25 1-2, C. 46 1-2.)

Low hurdles—Won by Talcott, Cornell; Dwight, Princeton, second; MacKrell, Cornell, third. Time, 25 seconds. (P. 28 1-2, C. 52 1-2.)

220-yard dash—Won by Dawbarn, Princeton; MacArthur, Cornell, second; Blass, Cornell, third. Time, 21 4-5 (P. 33 1-2, C. 56 1-2.)

Hammer throw—Won by Talbot, Cornell, 167 feet; Simons, Princeton, second, 129 feet 3 3-4 inches; Bredemus, Princeton, third, 123 feet, 6 inches. (P. 37 1-2, C. 61 1-2.)

Pole Vault—Won by Cook, Cornell, 12 feet; Vezin and Bredemus, Princeton, and Mills and Dukes, Cornell, tied for second and third places, 11 feet 6 inches. (P. 39 1-2, C. 68 1-2.)

Broad jump—Won by Nixon, Cornell, 22 feet 2 inches; second, Carpenter, Cornell, 21 feet 6 inches; third, Dowd, Princeton, 20 feet 3 inches. (P. 40 1-2, C. 76 1-2.)

The senior cap and gown committee has decided that seniors shall wear caps and gowns, beginning on May 24.

The University Orchestra will give concerts in Aurora and Auburn on May 22.

NINE BEATEN BY BROWN.

Unable to Score—A 5-3 Victory Won over Columbia.

The 'varsity nine sustained its second defeat and first shutout of the home season last week Tuesday, when Brown won on Percy Field by a score of 5-0. On Saturday a 5-3 victory was won over Columbia. A change in the Cornell infield was made for the Columbia game, Fulton, who had been playing at second base covering the third sack in place of Howard, and Thompson taking second. This change was made to strengthen a weak spot in the batting.

Captain Caldwell was called upon to do most of the pitching during the week. In the Brown game he was in the box for seven innings, being relieved at that point by Gable. In the first inning of the Columbia game he supplanted Howes and pitched the rest of the game. The Columbia batters had found Howes easy, having made three hits and two runs and having a man on third with only one out when Caldwell took the center of the stage.

Columbia got six hits to Cornell's five and in addition played an errorless game, while seven errors were made by the Cornell fielders. The game was won by base running.

CORNELL 5, COLUMBIA 3.

The Columbia game opened with a crash. Schmidt, the first man to bat, drove a mile-a-minute grounder down the first base line. Williams got to the ball with the tip of his glove and it glanced off into foul territory, while Schmidt went to second. He was on third after Fulton had thrown O'Connell out at first. Then Wardlaw batted to left field and Schmidt scored a run. Lally let a pitched ball get through him and Wardlaw went on to second. Lommel singled to center field and Wardlaw came home. Three hits, two runs, a man on first and only one out—a bad outlook which suddenly became worse when Lally failed to stop the ball, which had been thrown in from center field, and Lommel went to third. When the Cornell team came down out of the air Howes was on the bench and Captain Caldwell was in the box, and all was serene again. Miltenberger hit to Fulton, who threw Lommel out at the plate, and Lally and Thompson spoiled Miltenberger's attempt to steal second.

Cornell got into the batting almost as speedily. Magner was passed to first. Ebeling beat out a slow bunt, but was out at second on Caldwell's grounder to short. Magner went to third, however, and Caldwell stole second at the first opportunity. Then Williams brought two runs in with a pretty single to right field. He stole second and went to third when Thompson was thrown out at first, but Gable fled out to Shafer. In the second inning Cornell took the lead when Lally hit to left for two bases, went to third on Fulton's sacrifice and came home on a passed ball.

Columbia again tied the score in the fifth with the help of three Cornell errors.

With the score a tie, Ebeling opened Cornell's sixth inning with a base on balls and went to second on Caldwell's single, but was out at third on Williams's grounder to the pitcher. Caldwell and Williams executed a double steal, and then came a play which gave Cornell the game but which caused a long dispute. Thompson hit to Lee, who paused to see what the base runners had in mind and then threw to first. The ball beat Thompson there, but Miltenberger stepped squarely upon the bag and there was a collision. The ball was knocked from the baseman's hands and rolled thirty or forty feet and both Caldwell and Williams scored. The umpire called Thompson out and allowed both runs. His decision was questioned by the Columbia players, who argued with him for a quarter of an hour before they resumed play. The score:

BROWN 5, CORNELL 0.

Clark pitched a strong game for Brown, and, although Captain Caldwell's men got into the batting with determination and succeeded in making seven hits, they did not collect enough drives at any time to insure a run. Cornell had two men on bases with only one out in the fourth inning and again in the ninth, but the next batters could not bring them home. Caldwell pitched for Cornell till the seventh inning. He was steady at all times, and but for his good "head-work" Brown's score would have been much larger. Magner had an off day and missed three hot grounders that he would ordinarily have handled for put-outs. Six hits were made off Caldwell, and three off Gable, who took his place in the seventh inning. Gable was still troubled by the sprain he received on the southern trip.

Brown started the base running in the fifth inning. Orcott singled, advanced on Clark's sacrifice and went to third on Magner's fumble of Nourse's grounder. Nourse stole second, Giles drove a hot single to left field and Orcott scored, but Gable, with a pretty throw to the plate, assisted Lally to put Nourse out. Giles went to second on the play and scored when Magner let Nash's fast grounder get through him. Judson fielded the ball and threw for the plate, and Caldwell caught it and threw Nash out at second. Three hits, a sacrifice and a stolen base were Brown's record in the seventh, netting two runs, and in the eighth a single by Clark scored Staff, who had reached first on a fielding error, been sacrificed to second by Regnier and gone to third on Orcott's out. Orcott was caught trying to steal second. The score:

BIG REGATTA POSTPONED.

Races at Poughkeepsie to Be Rowed on Friday, July 2.

Announcement was made last Thursday on behalf of the stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association that the regatta at Poughkeepsie this year will be held on Friday, July 2, instead of Saturday, June 26, as previously announced. The cause of the change is the fact that the state of the tide on the afternoon of June 26 would make it necessary to row the races upstream. The stewards had planned to do this, but the West Shore Railroad Company made an objection. At Krum Elbow, which is ordinarily the starting point but which would be the finish if the races were rowed up-stream, the railroad tracks pass through a narrow cut. The railroad company feared that a crowd would gather near the tracks at this point and that there would be danger of the observation train causing a serious accident. So, in order to get an ebb tide for the races, they were postponed to July 2. This is the day after the Yale-Harvard regatta. The first race will be rowed at 3 o'clock.

NEW ENGLAND CLUB.

Smoker on Friday, May 28, before Intercollegiate Meet—Undergraduates Invited.

Boston, May 15, 1909.

An open letter to alumni and undergraduates:

A committee headed by "Eddie" Savage '98 and ably seconded, among others, by "Ken" Roberts '08, ten years behind him as the University calendar is reckoned but, as is needless to say, not ten seconds behind him, or anyone else, in Cornell hustle and Cornell ginger, has about completed arrangements for a Smoker at the Boston Tavern, on the evening of Friday, May 28, the fame of which will be so wide spread that hereafter the beaneaters of this vicinity will figure time from that night and will refer to events as occurring before or after the "Cornell Smoker of 1909." The alumni members of the club will be out in full force. All alumni not members of the club are cordially invited to attend. Undergraduates coming East with the track team must attend, "stoodes" not excepted. Jack Moakley says all track men who do not qualify for the finals in the intercollegiate can attend, but that doesn't help us much, for we expect to see every man on the team qualify. And we will be at the Harvard Stadium to help them win. We want some undergraduates right off the hill at this smoker, for we want the men in Ithaca to know that there is a bunch of Cornell men here in New England who, notwithstanding the freezing atmosphere of the Back Bay, still have the interest of the University "far above Cayuga's waters" at heart and still have enough red blood in their veins to give down the yell and hold forth the hand of welcome to every other man who has ever cheered for the Red and White. Come to the Smoker and you'll find this is true. Other smokers have been held, but, as compared to this one, they will be like birthday cake candles compared to a flaming arc lamp. And this won't be a birthday party, either. It's going to be the real thing. Don't miss it.

WARREN G. OGDEN, Secretary.

Spring football practice was ended last week.

Philadelphia Club's Outing.

The Annual Spring Outing of the Cornell Club of Philadelphia will be held at the famous Old Mohican Club House, Morris-Junction-on-the-Delaware, on Saturday, June 12, 1909. There will be a ball game in the afternoon which will be followed by a shad dinner.

E. C. BATCHELAR, Chairman.

New York Smoker a Success.

"Cornell" was the unifying note at a gathering of several hundred graduates of the Ithaca institution in the Astor Gallery of the Waldorf-Astoria last night. Most of them not having yet reached their "teens" in the record of "since leaving college" time, it was mainly an occasion when all references to the place "above Cayuga's waters" easily got the medal on points for enthusiasm and other sorts of noise scored.

The new plan of the young Cornellians in running a "smoker" at the Waldorf-Astoria met with so much approval that it is likely to be repeated. Edward Burns, jr., '08, who looked out for the entertainment, put up a rattling good display of talent, home bred in the hill town above the lake. Mr. Burns himself sang "Sullivan," and got away with it; and there were songs, solos and ensemble and both mixed together, piano solos by "Teddy" Lindorff, who composed the music of the Ithacan warcry, "The Big Red Team"; fancy dancing, dueling bouts, a talk by Franklin Matthews, and a few drinks for each and all.

Though owing to the earliness of the hour at which the smokers ceased puffing no vote was recorded as to the success of the occasion, it is expected that next-to-the-day-after opinions will show that the affair ought to be continued as an occasion for bringing the Cornell graduates together.—New York Tribune, May 8th.

The freshman baseball team has been doing some more base running. Last Thursday it defeated the Cascadilla School team 17 to 1, and on Saturday morning it beat the University of Pennsylvania freshmen 10 to 9. "Doc" Umstad's coaching is developing some good players.

Lacrosse Team Beats Harvard.

On Monday of last week the 'varsity team defeated Harvard on Percy Field by a score of 8 to 2. Cornell played a steady and consistent game. Preliminary games scheduled with Hobart and Rochester have been cancelled on account of bad weather. The Cornell team is playing as follows: A. H. Thatcher, '09, captain, guard; R. E. Chapman '11, or C. P. Cannon '10, point; F. A. Haist '11, cover point; W. D. Carlton '11, first defense; L. S. Henry '09, second defense; C. L. Devitt '10, third defense; G. M. Rittenhouse '10, or W. H. Fries '11, center; R. E. Chamberlain '11, third attack; H. E. Kiep '10, second attack; R. O. Walbridge '10, first attack; Roy Taylor '10, outside home; R. E. Christensen '10, inside home.

The following members of the sophomore class have been elected by the class to edit the 1911 Cornellian: H. J. Kimball, Watertown; J. E. Bennett, Youngstown, O.; R. E. Chapman, Brooklyn; S. H. Divine, Binghamton, and E. M. St. John, Ithaca. The women of the class have elected Miss Anna W. Keichline, of Belfonte, Pa., a member of the board. For business manager A. H. Badeau, of Hartford, Conn., and for assistant business manager H. H. Miller, of Ithaca, have been chosen by competition.

Daily Princetonian 17, Daily Sun 5; Tiger 5; Widow 3. Those were the scores of two friendly games of intercollegiate baseball played on Percy Field last Friday afternoon. The artists and the writers tried hard to play real baseball and kept a large crowd amused trying to do so. By a series of brilliant errors the Sun enabled the Princetonian to score fourteen runs in the third inning. The other game was closer.

The University of Pennsylvania freshmen won a dual track meet with the Cornell freshmen on Franklin Field last Saturday morning by a score of 72 to 45. Cornell men won the following events: 220 yard dash, W. P. Ferguson, 22 2-5 seconds; mile run, W. H. Tappan, 4:37 3-5; two-mile run, T. S. Berna, 10:19; hammer throw and shot-put, G. S. Donnan.

THE NEW CLUB HOUSE.

Those members of the Cornell University Club of New York who have been working hard to get that organization a new home deserve the thanks and congratulations of all Cornell men. The house which the club has occupied has been too small and it could not be made a credit or an attraction to the many hundred Cornell men in the City of New York. In that town, if any, there ought to be a Cornell Club worthy of the name. For the next ten years the old Huntington house will make a very pleasant home, and by the end of that period it ought to be outgrown. On January of this year the resident members of the club numbered 342. Of these only 35 were men who had been out of college less than three years. The greatest service a college club can perform is to provide cheap and comfortable social quarters for such men as these. To Cornell men who do not live in New York but who visit the city occasionally the news of the decision to take a larger and better house will be good news. Within ten years the club's membership ought to be more than quadrupled. Instead of being of doubtful credit to the University by reason of its unattractive quarters, the club has put itself into a position to be of great service.

Newspaper Comment.

In the spring as the Wanderlust grows hot, college professors vote that they be passed around from school to school, after the fashion of the German-American academic exchange. The idea is not without reason. Yet an interchange of students might be much more beneficial. Parochialism still rests too heavily upon the undergraduate. He goes to his ancestors' college or to the school favored by the vicinage; and, once there, he is held fast by every bond of custom. He must be loyal to the football team, he must stand by his class and venerate his instructors. It is only the failure or the traitor who shifts about. From natural beginnings, this belief has been forced to unnatural extremes by the competition among colleges; and it has become at once one cause and one effect of low scholarship and high athletics. Were our young men encouraged to pass easily from Harvard to Princeton, or from Berkeley to Wisconsin, they might not all be scholars at the pilgrimage's end; but they would at least have rid themselves of certain encumbering superstitions and acquired a breadth of view.—New York Evening Post.

Football followers generally are glad to see the renewal of cordial relations between the Ithacans and John Harvard. For over 10 years there have been no games between the two universities, although they have met annually on track, diamond and river. The Cornell game comes two weeks before the Yale game, and with the Dartmouth game coming the week after, means a hard finish for the Crimson gladiators. Cornell plays a fast and hard game of football, with many All-America possibilities in her line-up, and this means more work for the Cantabrigians than did the Indian game.—Boston Traveller.

The President on Fraternities.

At the request of several fraternities, President Schurman last week repeated in Goldwin Smith Hall an address on "The University and the Fraternities" which he had delivered at one of the chapter houses. After asserting his belief in fraternities and his desire on account of that belief to point out existing evils, the president said, in substance:

"If fraternities are to prosper in the university, some way must be found of getting more work done. The intellectual life must be quickened. One evil of the system is the tendency to divide into groups. To me nothing seems worse than, on the one hand, a body of men in comfortable, sometimes, palatial houses, while on the other hand are a great number of poorer students. I ask that you recognize these inherent tendencies, and that you do all you can to lessen the evil.

"One thing especially I ask you to guard against is the competing for a larger and more luxurious lodge than any other on the campus. It is not easy for men to work when their main purpose is to live in fine houses, to have a good time, and to give what is left to the professors. The university does not exist for this. The percentage of students forced to leave college each year is much larger in fraternities than outside. Now and then you hear of a house being not merely decimated but even emptied.

"This condition makes the fraternity system and its accompanying enjoyments hardly worth while. I believe that the greatest danger to you is the temptation to shirk work, but unless you study and learn to cultivate the intellectual life and maintain a high standard of morals, you will lose in the end."

In a triangular debate held in Ithaca, New York and Princeton on Friday and Saturday of last week, Cornell freshman teams defeated teams representing the Princeton and Columbia freshmen.

REUNION REMINDERS.

Ninety-Four.

Well, now, you have the long-looked-for circular in which we give you an idea of what we have prepared for you. What are you going to do about it? You are coming, of course, but when are you going to write the committee and say so. Sit down and do it at once. We must know at the earliest moment possible how many to provide for at the various entertainments. We are still on the job and if you don't get on the job it will be your own fault if you miss a big bunch of fun. But you must get on the job. That's all there is to the proposition. We know all '94 men are loyal to '94 and to Cornell and once they get aroused nothing can stop them. They are getting aroused and if you don't answer the circular at once and be sure to say you are coming and be sure to come you will be one of the poor members who in years to come will say, "Oh! if I had only gone to the Fifteen Year Reunion!" "A word to the wise is sufficient." Answer.

Ninety-Nine Bulletin.

Here we are again. You didn't think our Reunion was all off, did you, just because you've seen nothing about it in these columns for a couple of weeks? Well, it isn't. It's booming. You've all received a picture of the Ninety-Niners whose practice reunion made Ninety-Eight's serious affair look like a two-spot. Didn't that picture make you sorry you weren't in it, you busy men who stayed away? Didn't it make you resolve then and there that nothing will prevent your being on hand this year? And didn't the same picture bring back vividly to all who were in it the memory of the best day they had had since June, 1899; and didn't it renew the resolutions made last year by each to come back again this June?

Look over that picture carefully, you who weren't in it. Don't you find there anywhere from one to thirty-one fellows you'd travel a good many miles to meet? And don't you think of many others you'd travel far to meet, too? Well, those thirty-one and those many others are to be on hand this June. From a

Announcement of the SUMMER COURSES of theUniversity Preparatory School

Nineteenth Summer Session—Eleven Weeks

BOARDING AND DAY DEPARTMENTSOpens July 6th, Closes September 17th

THE SUMMER SESSION of the Preparatory School will be divided into two terms: (a) the first term five weeks, July 6th-August 10th; (b) the second term six weeks, August 10th-September 17th. A Special Three Weeks' Review will be given from August 30 to September 17th, inclusive.

FACULTY—Our faculty collectively represents seventy-seven years of successful experience in college preparatory work.

EXPERIENCE—During the past Eighteen Years the school has assisted over 1,000 students in successfully passing one or more subjects in the Fall Entrance Examinations to Cornell University.

ACQUAINTANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS—Eighteen years of close study of the needs of students entering the various departments of Cornell University, has given us an intimate knowledge of the topics which are at once pertinent and necessary to successfully pass the Entrance Examinations. We are thus enabled to eliminate the unimportant and base our Examination Training on the things that are most needed.

THREE CLASSES OF STUDENTS BENEFITTED—Our summer courses are especially designed to meet the needs of three classes of students: (a) Those wishing to prepare for the Fall Entrance Examinations for Cornell University; (b) college students who have either Entrance or College Conditions to make up; (c) those who wish to begin their college preparation in order to anticipate their normal time of entrance under the ordinary conditions.

NEW CLASSES in all subjects will be formed on July 6th and August 10th, respectively. However students may enter at any time during the summer term.

CURRICULUM—The curriculum includes all of the academic subjects demanded in the Entrance Requirements to any and all of the courses in Cornell University.

GENERAL INFORMATION—Classes are small and carefully graded so as to insure the maximum amount of progress. In the boarding department, rooms are assigned in the order of application. Admission blanks will be mailed on request and any information desired will receive prompt attention.

THE REGULAR ACADEMIC YEAR for 1909-1910 opens Thursday, September 30th, for registration. Illustrated catalogue will be mailed on request. Address all correspondence to trip to Ithaca every one will draw fresh life and inspiration. But we know Ninety-Nine has not fossilized in ten short years and never will. Now let's get busy and make our Ten-Year Reunion a record-breaker. Write the men whom you're most anxious to "reune" with in Ithaca and tell them you'll be there. Tell them the rest of the crowd will be there, too. All Ninety-Niners are ex-officio members of the Reunion Committee.

1906 to the front! Your committee has just selected a costume. It is the right thing in every particular. It looks good either on or off. The size of the buttons has, by special conference with the costumer, been reduced to four inches in diameter. Not more than twelve different colors may be found anywhere in the costume under the most careful scrutiny. Answer at once to the Secretary at Ithaca saying that you want the costume and that you have your two dollars ready to pay for it when the solicitor meets you at Varna.
