

Rhodes to Address Meeting of Council

President Frank Rhodes is scheduled to attend the Campus Council's regular meeting today to discuss "The State of the University," and the council's ideas concerning membership on the new Ad Hoc Proxy Advisory Committee.

The meeting, which is open to the public, is scheduled for 4:45 p.m. in Room 701, Clark Hall.

Another item on the agenda is a report on the 1979-80 budgets for the Division of Campus life, to be given by William D. Gurowitz, vice president for campus affairs. Also scheduled is discussion of a proposed survey "to help ascertain the extent of community awareness of the council's purposes and activities."

Formation of a new ad hoc proxy advisory committee was one of the recommendations The Ad-Hoc Committee on South African Investments made in its report to the Board of Trustees last December. The report is printed in its entirety in the Dec. 7, 1978, issue of the Chronicle.

EDUNET: Sharing Knowledge

A local telephone call made in Washington, D.C. recently put the staff of a Presidential advisory group in touch with Cornell's IBM 370/370 computer for a simulation of how President Carter's wage and price guidelines would affect university finances.

In addition to making a case for the unusual financial circumstances of educational institutions, the simulation demonstrated how a rapidly advancing technology has made it possible for colleges and universities to share computing equipment, programs and data bases—usually by making a local phone call.

Cornell and 14 other institutions are now supplying computer resources to colleges, universities and other non-profit groups connected with higher education and research through a nationwide clearinghouse called EDUNET. As members of EDUNET they also have access to the specialized equipment, programs and data available at any of the other institutions.

"It's not feasible to provide everything that every computer user needs at a single facility," explained Douglas Van Houweling, associate director of Cornell's Computer Services and director of academic computing for the University. "In many cases it is more satisfactory to use someone else's equipment or data base to do the job. We think

Continued on Page 2

Rev. Martin Luther King Sr.

Black Gospel Festival Set Sunday

The Rev. Martin Luther King Sr., pastor emeritus of the Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta, Ga., will be the guest speaker at the Third Annual Festival of Black Gospel to be held at 1 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 11, in Sage Chapel. His topic will be "The Inescapable Christ."

King was pastor of the Ebenezer Baptist Church for 44 years. He received his bachelor of theology degree from the School of Religion, Morehouse College in Atlanta.

King is a member of the boards of trustees of Atlanta University, Morehouse College, Interdenominational Theological Center and the Morehouse School of Religion, among others. He is also honorary president of the Martin Luther King Jr. Center for Social Change.

The combined senior choirs of Calvary Baptist Church and St. James A.M.E. Zion Church will perform. Special music will be provided by the Pamoja Ni Singers from Cornell and the Sage Chapel Choir. Participants in the festival include the Rev. R.D. McClain, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church; the Rev. William H. Pinder III, pastor of St. James

Continued on Page 2

Health Care Topic For Symposium

Paul G. Rogers, who will give the opening talk at the University's Community Symposium on Health Care Saturday, has had an impact on health legislation in this decade rivaled only by Sen. Edward Kennedy.

This is the assessment of Roger M. Battistella, professor of medical care organization and head of the Sloan Program in Hospital and Health Services Administration at Cornell.

Rogers, a former Florida congressman, was a primary force behind the National Cancer Act, the National Health Planning and Resources Development Act, the Emergency Medical Services Act and the Health Maintenance Organization Act.

He will open the all-day symposium with a talk on "Health Care: When and How," at 10:30 a.m. in Bailey Hall. There will be six panel discussions in the afternoon. All sessions are open to the general public. (Details appeared in the Jan. 25 issue of the Chronicle.)

Battistella said that "In addition to his support of traditional public health programs, Rogers has been a strong supporter of medical education and health professional training, bio-medical research, health planning and important innovations in organization and delivery such as health maintenance organizations. His retirement has created an enormous gap in health policy leadership."

As chairman of the House Sub-Committee on Public Health beginning in 1971, Rogers became one of the major powers on health policy in the country, said Battistella, who will moderate a discussion of Rogers' morning talk.

Cornell Campaign Total Reaches $140 Million

The Cornell Campaign for $230 million continues to gain momentum, according to Jansen Noyes Jr., chairman of the campaign and chairman of the Board of Trustees.

At the end of 1978, the campaign total stood at $137 million, with $11 million coming in the last two months of the year. Nearly $55 million was committed to the campaign last year, the best since the five-year campaign began in 1975.

An additional $3.4 million was raised during January 1979, bringing the campaign total to $140.4 million at the end of the month.

Activity for the campaign is being carried on by more than 1,000 volunteers working on five committees.

The Major Gifts Committee, chaired by Noyes, raised $49.5 million through the end of 1978. Noyes said he is confident the committee will achieve its $95 million goal on schedule.

The largest single gift credited to major gifts is an anonymous bequest valued at more than $8 million. The committee has received 15 commitments from alumni and friends at the $1 million-plus level.

The National Area Campaign Committee has raised $27 million of its $45 million goal. Under the direction of Robert Cowie, the committee is working in 62 major metropolitan areas with chairmen and committee members calling on alumni for their support.

The committee began Primary Area Campaign Efforts (PACE)

Continued on Page 3

Vicki Saporta: Not Your Average Teamster

If Vicki Saporta's field were classical music, she'd be hailed as a female Leonard Bernstein.

But her field isn't music, it's labor. And her milieu isn't Carnegie Hall, it's the parking lots of factories. And she doesn't wear formal dress. More often than not, it's a T-shirt and jeans.

Vicki Saporta is a conductor in her own right, a general organizer for the international staff of the world's largest union, the Teamsters.

"I am out to sing songs that will prove to you that this is your world and that if it has hit you pretty hard and knocked you for a dozen loops, no matter how hard it's run you down and rolled over you, no matter what color, what size you are, how you are built, I am out to sing songs that make you take pride in yourself and in your work. And the songs I sing are made up for the most part by all sorts of folks about like you."

Vicki Saporta, 26, returned to her alma mater, Cornell, last Friday to speak to students in the

New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations, the school from which she graduated in 1974 after just three and a half years of study here and at the London School of Economics.

This was the first time she'd been back to the ILR School she speaks of - and boasts - with real affection, and hopes it will be the start of her contribution to Cornell.

She did to her ILR audience - and others she spoke to during a whirlwind visit - what she's done to out-of-work waitresses, big-bellied sheriffs and three-piece-suited captains of industry; overwhelmed them with her words, her enthusiasm, her missionary's zeal.

Saporta started working for the Teamsters while she was an undergraduate and has rarely stopped - even for a few minutes - since. Union leaders took an immense gamble in hiring her to do union organizing; she fits none of labor's traditional patterns or society's stereotypes.

An attractive, young, Ivy League WOMAN organizing for the Teamsters? C'mon. You gotta be kiddin'.

The gamble has paid off for the Teamsters but, more important, it's paid off for hundreds of workers in North Carolina who, thanks to Vicki's efforts and their belief in her, are now "union" in a state that ranks last in the nation in percentage of unionized workers.

Vicki is soon headed back to Davidson County, N.C., to pick up where she'd left off. And she'll probably be doing it with much the same strategy and tactics she employed before: "Teamsters are Beautiful" daisies, "Go Teamsters" T-shirts, sing-alongs at plant gates, basic training on workers' rights, legal, political and practical reminders to uneasy business and industry leaders that they're living in the second half of the 20th century.

("The songs and the tunes didn't have any race or color much, because what's right for a man anywhere is right for you wherever you are.")

Vicki Saporta

Without trying to, Saporta can evoke images of names like Woody Guthrie, Pete Seeger, Joe Hill; places like Coal Creek and Harlan County for many working class folks over 40. For "youngsters" of the same ilk, she can make them want to join her in the fight.

It's a 24-hour-a-day battle because Vicki finds she touches people's lives at all levels. She's just as likely to get a call at 2 a.m. about somebody's marital problem as she is about a fired factory worker.

"I hate to leave them. You can see what kinds of changes you can help people make. It's a cause for me. I'm a wandering minstrel; I'm not in it for the money," she says rapid fire, with intensity.

("None of the folks that I know have got smooth voices like dew dripping off the petals of the morning violet, and still they can and do sing louder, longer, and with more guts than any smooth voice I ever heard. I had rather sound like the ash cans of the early morning, the cab drivers cursing at one another, like the longshoremen yelling, like cowhands whooping, and like the lone wolf barking.")

Opportunities to relax are rare

Continued on Page 2

Thomas A. Smith

Smith Wins Rhodes

"Great surprise."

That's what Thomas A. Smith of Boise, Idaho, said was his first reaction when he learned in mid-December that he was one of 32 Americans awarded the prestigious Rhodes Scholarships.

A senior history and philosophy major in the College of Arts and Sciences, Smith is the 16th Cornellian to win a Rhodes Scholarship since the program was established in 1902 under the will of Cecil Rhodes, a British businessman.

Smith said he will major in philosophy, politics and economics at Lincoln College of Oxford University beginning in October. He had applied for admission to Lincoln before he won the Rhodes Scholarship and learned of his acceptance in the college and his selection as a Rhodes Scholar almost simultaneously.

Initial appointment to a Rhodes Scholarship at Oxford is made for two years. A third year is possible if the scholar's record at Oxford and plan of study warrant such an award.

When Rhodes established the scholarship, it provided 300 pounds a year for each student selected, enough to cover ex-

EDUNET

Continued from Page 1

that through EDUNET we can provide better service to our Cornell computer users and also make better use of our own resources."

The simulation that went to the White House, the EDUCOM Financial Planning Model, was generalized by EDUNET's parent organization, EDUCOM, from a model originally developed at Stanford. The interactive model can be tailored to the budget planning needs of any institution, and is available to all on a fee basis through the Cornell computer.

Cornell also offers, through EDUNET, a high speed numerical computation facility through an array processor; an econometric analysis, modeling and simulation package (TROLL); a computer matching system for identifying unknown organic compounds (PBM-STIRS); a regional input-output model for assessing policy alternatives (IDIOM); an urban transportation planning system (UTPS); an urban simulation game (METRO-APEX), two plant pest management simulation games (APPLESCAB and ORCHARD), a text-formatting program (SCRIPT), and a variety of statistical packages and other services.

The physical connection between institutions using EDUNET is supplied by commercial data networks. Cornell is served by both the TYMNET and Telenet systems, making its hardware and software accessible, usually for the price of a local phone call, from 145 U.S. cities, 55 Canadian cities and 12 foreign countries.

EDUNET acts as a clearinghouse to match the supplier institutions with those that need their resources. If a Cornell user were looking for the best programs to do non-parametric statistics, for example, Cornell's EDUNET liason, Michael Steinberg, could consult EDUNET's file of resources stored in Stanford's computer and come up with computer-printed abstracts of the services available at EDUNET institutions. The user then could choose the one that best suits the particular purpose.

Currently, any institution may use EDUNET simply by paying for computer services. Starting in July, only dues-paying members will be able to use the EDUNET services.

As sustaining members, Cornell and other suppliers will be asked to pay $7,000 annual dues. Regular members, primarily users, will pay dues ranging from $250 to $1300 depending on the size of the institution.

"We hope to get back some money from the services we offer but the main advantage to the Cornell computing community will be the greater range of computer services available at reasonable cost," Van Houweling said.

For more information on EDUNET, contact Michael Steinberg, Cornell's EDUNET liason, in G-24 Uris Hall. His telephone number is 256-7341.

Job Opportunities

The following are regular continuing full-time positions unless otherwise specified. Please do not inquire at individual departments. An equal opportunity employer. Individuals on lay-off status will be given preference in referrals.

(*) indicates new this week.

CLERICAL POSITIONS

- * Lib. Asst. IV, A-17 (Univ. Libraries, Law)
- Admin. Clerk, A-16 (University Unions, WSH)
- * Head Account Clerk, A-15 (Office of the Bursar)
- Admin. Secy., A-15 (Alumni Affairs)
- Admin. Secy., A-15 (Division of Biological Sciences)
- Admin. Secy., A-15 (Dept. Mod. Lang. & Ling.)
- Admin. Secy., A-15 (University Investments)
- Admin. Secy., A-15 (University Press)
- Admin. Secy., A-15T (Chemical Engineering)
- * Princ. Clerk, A-14 (Career Center)
- * Sr. Acct. Clerk, A-13 (Office of the Bursar)
- * Dept. Secy., A-13 (Health Services)
- * Sr. Acct. Clerk, A-13 (Accounting - Endowed)
- * Dept. Secy., A-13 (Geological Sciences)
- * Sr. Clerk, A-12 (Accounting - Endowed)
- * Acct. Clerk, A-11 (Dining Services)
- Acct. Clerk III, NP-12 (Vet Administration)
- Steno III, NP-9 (Seed & Veg. Sciences, Geneva)
- Steno III, NP-9 (NYSSILR)
- Admin. Secy., NP-8 (Consumer Economics & Housing)
- Admin. Secy., NP-8 (Director of Instruction, CALS)
- Steno II, NP-6 (Rural Sociology)
- Records Clerk II, NP-6 (Media Services)
- Steno II, NP-6 (NYSSILR)
- Steno II, NP-6 (Agricultural Economics)
- * Steno I, NP-5 (Agricultural Economics)
- Steno I, NP-5 (Director of Instruction, CALS)
- Records Clerk, NP-4 (Education)

SERVICE & MAINTENANCE POSITIONS

- Prof. Chef, CPO5 (Dining Services)
- Electrician (Maint. & Svc. Ops., Union)
- Control Mechanic (Maint. & Svc. Ops., Union)
- Sr. Exp. Machinist, A-21 (Nat'l Astronomy & Ion.Ctr.)
- Sr. Experimental Mach., A-21 (Chemistry)
- Head Cook, A-20 (Dining Services)
- Admin. Aide II, A-20 (Graphic Arts Services)
- Maint. Mechanic, A-20 (Maint. & Service Ops.)
- Asst. Manager II, A-20 (Graphic Arts Services)
- * Ground Equip. Op. I, A-16 (Athletics)
- * Groundworker, A-14 (Hotel Administration)
- Asst. Cook, A-14 (Dining Services)
- * Custodian, A-13 (Statler Inn)
- Custodian, A-13 (Residence Life)
- Custodian, A-13 (Univ. Unions, NCU)
- Food Service Worker, A-11 (Dining Services)(2)
- Milk Plant Worker III, NP-10 (Food Science)
- * Animal Tech., NP-8 (Vet Micro., Baker Institute)
- Field Asst. II, NP-7 (Farm Services, Geneva)
- * Clerk I, NP-3 (Biomedical Communications)

TECHNICAL POSITIONS

- Radiation Safety Tech., A-20 (Radiation Safety, LSS)
- Production Controller, A-19 (Computer Services)
- Synch. Op. Tech., A-19 (Lab Nuclear Studies)
- * Jr. Lab Tech., A-13 (Lab Plasma Studies, I year)
- Programmer C, NP-13 (Entomology, Geneva)
- Lab Tech. II, NP-11 (Vet Micro., Baker Institute)
- Res. Tech. III, NP-12 (Vet Pathology)(2)
- Fishery Tech., NP-11 (Natural Resources, Adirondacks)
- Lab Tech. II, NP-11 (Animal Science)
- Experimentalist I, NP-11 (Vet Physical Biology)
- Lab Tech. II, NP-11 (Diagnostic Lab)
- Research Tech. II, NP-11 (Poultry Science)
- Sr. Arch. Engr. II, CPO7 (Design & Proj. Mgmt.)
- Sr. Computer Staff Spec., CPO6 (Computer Services)
- Sr. Res. Supp. Spec., CPO6 (Electrical Engineering)
- Comp. Tech. Admin. III, CPO6 (Computer Services)
- Sr. Computer Staff Spec., CPO6 (Computer Services)
- Comp. Tech. Admin. II, CPO5 (Computer Services)
- Life Safety Svc. Mgr., CPO5 (Life Safety Svcs. & Ins.)
- Res. Supp. Spec. III, CPO5 (Elec. Engineering)
- Elec. Engineer II, CPO5 (Design & Project Mgmt.)
- Appl. Programmer II, CPO4 (Computer Services)
- Appl. Programmer II, CPO4 (Animal Science)
- Appl. Programmer II, CPO4 (Computer Graphics)
- Res. Supp. Spec. II, CPO4 (Materials Science & Engr.)
- Comp. Tech. Admin. I, CPO4 (Computer Services)
- Res. Supp. Spec. I, CPO3 (Seed & Veg. Sciences, G.)
- Appl. Programmer I, CPO3 (Computer Services)
- Res. Supp. Spec. I, CPO3 (Appl. & Engr. Physics)
- Res. Supp. Spec. I, CPO3 (Nat'l Resources, New Paltz)
- Appl. Programmer I, CPO3 (Computer Services)(2)
- Admin. Spvr., CPO3 (Media Services)
- Res. Supp. Spec. I, CPO3 (Food Science & Tech., G.)
- Res. Supp. Aide, CPO2 (Chemistry)
- Res. Supp. Aide, CPO2 (Nutritional Sciences)

ADMINISTRATIVE POSITIONS

- Assoc. Director (University Relations)
- Attending Physician (University Health Services)
- Editor (University Press)
- Asst. University Counsel (University Counsel)
- Director of Utilities, CPO9 (Utilities)
- Exec. Staff Asst. IV, CPO8 (V.P., Finance & Plann.)
- * Dev. Officer III, CPO7 (University Development)
- Sr. Administrator I, CPO7 (Media Services)
- Develop. Officer II, CPO6 (University Development)
- Sr. Personnel Assoc., CPO6 (Personnel Services)
- Assoc. Administrator, CPO6 (Media Services)
- Regional Director II, CPO6 (Public Affairs, West)
- Shops & Stores Mgr., CPO5 (General Services)
- Student Dev. Spec. IV, CPO5 (Business & Public Admin.)
- Admin. Mgr. II, CPO5 (Cornell Plantations)
- Admin. Mgr. II, CPO5 (Agric. Economics)
- Budget Analyst III, CPO5 (Finance & Business)
- Admin. Mgr. I, CPO4 (Agric. Engineering)
- Staff Writer II, CPO4 (Media Services)
- Purchasing Agent II, CPO4 (Purchasing)
- Regional Director I, CPO4 (Public Affairs, Mid-Atlantic)
- SDS I, CPO3 (COSEP, State Programs)
- Student Dev. Spec. I, CPO2 (Financial Aid)

Continued on Page 4

Saporta

Continued from Page 1

for Vicki; she finds that as soon as people find out what she does and where she's been doing it, she's on." One night some friends convinced her to go out with them and lie to anyone who asked her what she did. "Say you're an airline attendant, or something like that," they urged. She did and admits it was fun — for awhile.

Someday, Vicki would like to run a local union. Unless she becomes president of the Teamsters. But there are other fights to be fought first. One might be against Kodak or Xerox, she said, relating tales that could bring her back home.

Her eyes shined, her face filled with delighted expression as she told story after story. They poured out in her strong central New York accent, the result of years at home in Irondequoit with her father, a tailor, and her mother, a homemaker (Vicki's word).

("I tell you of the men and women that bathed their eyes in the zig zag lightning and hugged and kissed in the rumbling thunder and about every union wheel that ever did run down a union road or down a union rail, and every puff of union smoke that ever did rise up out of a big high union smokestack.")

"When we'll all be Union
And we'll all be free
There's a better world a-com-

in'
Don't you see?"
(Parenthetical comments, and last four lines, from the stories and songs of Woody Guthrie.)

Robert W. Smith and
Barbara Jordan

CORNELL CHRONICLE

(USPS 456-650)

Published weekly during the regular academic year and distributed free of charge to Cornell University faculty, students, staff and employees by the University News Bureau. Mail subscriptions, $13 per year. Make checks payable to Cornell Chronicle Editorial Office, 110 Day Hall, Ithaca, N.Y. 14853. Telephone (607)256-4206. Editor, Randall E. Shew; Circulation Manager, Barbara Jordan.

Second-Class Postage Rates paid at Ithaca, N.Y.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the Cornell Chronicle (USPS 456-650), Cornell University, 110 Day Hall, Ithaca, N.Y. 14853.

Seven Small Computers Obtained for Campus Use

Under a special agreement with IBM, Computer Services has obtained seven small IBM 5100 computers for use by the Cornell community. One is available to the public in G-26 Uris Hall for $3 an hour. The others have been placed in various departments for instruction and research.

The IBM 5100 is a stand-alone desk top computer, designed for use by problem solvers rather than computer sophisticates. Problem solvers "talk to" the computer using either the APL or BASIC computer language. Although these are powerful languages, many problems can be solved by using the 5100 computer as if it were a very powerful calculator, according to Computer Services.

To demonstrate uses of the 5100, Mort Sinkoff, a specialist in man-machine interaction with IBM, will give two talks here. The first, "Solving Numerical Problems on Small and Large Computers Using APL", will take place between 2:30 and 4:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 12, in Rockefeller A. Sinkoff will discuss the APL language, its history and compare APL with other computer languages. He will also demonstrate problem-solving using the 5100 computer and analyze the cost of obtaining these solutions.

His second talk, "The Applicability of Small and Large Computers Using APL", will be given from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 13, in Rockefeller B and will cover some of the same material but will be directed to people unfamiliar with computers.

Former Student Trustee Airs Job Frustrations

Martin D. Robinson, Arts 79, who resigned recently as a student member of the University Board of Trustees, last Friday conducted the first of what he says he hopes will be a series of "Cornell Town Meetings."

Nearly 60 students attended the late afternoon session in the Memorial Room of Willard Straight Hall. Robinson, who has been on leave since last May and is currently slated to resume his studies by Jan. 1, 1981, called for more student involvement in the running of the University.

He has scheduled another meeting for tomorrow.

In a 45-minute talk in which he discussed his frustrations as a trustee in effecting changes, Robinson said students do have the power to effect change if they work together, even to the power to "shut down the University."

"The student movement is reborn, even though you don't see it in Ithaca," he said.

After his talk Robinson asked those present to divide into about 10 discussion groups to outline what he called "grievances." Topping the list was the increase in tuition. Other issues mentioned were South African investments, decreases in financial aid, shutting down of Sage Infirmary and a lack of effective student government.

Campaign

Continued from Page 1

last fall to increase alumni awareness of the campaign. The PACE program concentrates volunteer activity and University personnel in an area for a six-to-eight-week period.

The Corporate Gifts Committee has raised $14.5 million of its $25 million goal. Twenty-two of the nation's major business leaders serve on the committee chaired by Robert Hatfield, who recently expressed his gratitude to the corporate community "for the major support given to Cornell."

Corporate gifts has received one major grant of $750,000, several grants of $500,000 and many at the $250,000 level.

Foundations have contributed more than $22.5 million and are well on the way to achieving a $40 million goal, according to Raymond L. Handlan, director of development at Cornell.

Gifts to the Cornell Fund, the University's alumni annual giving program, are credited to the campaign. The fund has raised $17.2 million of its $30 million goal. Jerome H. "Brud" Holland is this year's Cornell Fund chairman.

Funds raised by the Cornell Campaign are being used in four areas:

Of the $230 million goal, $15 million is allocated for new programs and staffing to enhance the quality of a Cornell education; $50 million is for physical improvement to the campus and facilities; $65 million is for current operations and $100 million is for endowment in building maintenance and for the establishment of professorships and scholarships.

Ethics

Continued from Page 1

among others. They will be led by members of the Cornell community and by resource people such as Wes Pippert, United Press International White House correspondent; Brian Wilson of Stop the Olympic Prison Campaign, and Robert Terry, a consultant on institutional racism.

The conference, which is free and open to the public, is being sponsored by the Centre for Religion, Ethics and Social Policy and the Cornell United Religious Work.

First Prize To Goehner

Werner Goehner, an assistant professor of architecture, has won first prize in a design competition for an $8 million addition to the Cultural and Fine Arts Museum in Karlsruhe, West Germany.

His design, which is under consideration as the plan for the actual construction, was selected from a field of 40 entrants. The competition and proposed construction were commissioned by the state government of Baden-Wurttemberg.

The building program involves the integration of new facilities with an existing 19th century building surrounded by federal, civic and cultural landmarks. The expansion is expected to contain some 26,000 square feet.

Profile

She Prefers Wood

Is the appearance of your office depressing? Are the walls hospital green or grey? Does the metal desk with the plastic top feel cold?

Linda Hooper, administrative manager in the Department of Physics, had such an office and decided to do something about it.

"I can't stand the feel of metal," Hooper said. "When I started working in Clark Hall a year ago, the metal desk in my office was painted beige, the cement block walls were grey and I found that my office was a depressing place to work in."

Fortunately, not all of her working time was spent in her Clark Hall office. Among her other responsibilities, she is the contact person for maintenance in Rockefeller Hall, the home of the teaching labs for physics.

While getting to know every nook and cranny of Rockefeller, Hooper discovered the attic was filled with discarded furniture from the early 1900s.

"It was wooden! In some cases you couldn't tell what you were looking at. There was dirt and dust all over everything and some of the furniture had pieces missing," she said, "but I saw my chance to get rid of THE METAL."

When Hooper returned to her office in Clark and announced her intention of furnishing her office with "Rockefeller wood," she was told that Clark Hall has its furniture and the change would be against Clark Hall policy.

"I had made up my mind and nothing was going to stop me," she recalls. She had the furniture removed from the attic of Rockefeller and taken to the carpenter shop in the basement of Clark where it was cleaned and repaired and moved to her office.

The walls in Hooper's office are now painted white. Her desk, chairs, filing cabinet and glass-front bookcase are oak. In one corner stands a 1920s vintage wooden clock that registers the seconds, minutes and hours of the day, all on separate dials. The pendulum has mercury in it, which adjusts to temperature changes, and the clock is accurate to within one second per year.

One part of her office has the aura of a University office at the turn of the century, yet the "conference" corner of her office contains four wooden contemporary directors' chairs and a round wooden table located in front of a large picture window overlooking the Arts Quad.

Linda Hooper

Hooper says of her office, "The wood furniture softens the cinderblock motif."

Although Hooper has an interest in the old, she also has an interest in "the new," specifically Cornell students. She felt that physics majors were not really included in department functions and has organized the "Annual Homage to Groundhog's Day Party" for the students, faculty and staff in physics. She has also been working with the undergraduate students to set up a lounge in the basement of Rockefeller.

To furnish the lounge, Hooper is, once again, combing the attic of Rockefeller.

— Barbara Jordan

Brief Reports

Senior Phonathon

Some 50 Cornell University seniors will be on the telephone to their classmates Feb. 19, 20 and 22 seeking contributions to the senior class project, the renovation of the Willard Straight Hall Music Room.

The three-night phonathon will be conducted from Room 701, Clark Hall, from 9 p.m. to midnight.

A total of $3,832 was pledged to the class gift project during a phonathon in the fall, according to Kathy Best, co-chair of the class gift committee. Some 500 Cornell seniors pledged financial support to the music room project during the first phonathon, she said.

Academic Manual

Material to update the Academic Appointment Manual was distributed to all college and department offices in early November. Persons who have a copy of the Manual but have not received the material for updating may obtain it by calling Jo Brewer at extension 6-7256.

Stein to Lecture

Peter G. Stein, Regius Professor of Civil Law in the University of Cambridge, will speak on "Adam Smith's Jurisprudence—Between Morality and Economics" at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 15 in the Moot Court Room of Myron Taylor Hall.

His talk is under the auspices of the Cornell Law School's prestigious Irvine Lecture Series.

A fellow of the British Academy, Stein received law degrees in 1949 and 1950 and a master's degree in 1951 from Cambridge. He earned his doctorate from Aberdeen University in 1955.

He was on the law faculty at Aberdeen from 1953 until 1968 when he returned to Cambridge as Regius Professor. He was dean of the faculty of law at Aberdeen from 1961 to 1964.

He is a Fellow of Queens College at Cambridge, serving as the college's vice president since 1974. He has been a visiting professor in the United States at the University of Virginia, the University of Colorado and Louisiana State University.

ILR Has Series

Lester Moon, a 1978 graduate of the State School of Industrial and Labor Relations, will speak to ILR students at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 13, in the ILR Conference Center.

Moon, now a college staffing specialist for Fairchild Camera & Instrument Corp. in San Francisco, will be the second speaker in a nine-week series intended to introduce ILR students to careers in various fields.

The series opened last week (Feb. 2) with a talk by Vicki Saporta, a 1974 alumna and now an organizer with the Teamsters Union. It is co-sponsored by ILR's Office of Resident Instruction and the Office of Special Programs and School Relations.

All presentations are being videotaped for later showing to ILR students unable to attend the sessions. In addition, a booklet on career opportunities based on the talks is being prepared.

History Colloquia

Two historians from North Carolina will present colloquia sponsored by the Society for the Humanities at the Andrew D. White House on Feb. 12 and 13.

Joan W. Scott, professor of history at the University of North Carolina, will speak at 4 p.m. Monday (Feb. 12). Her colloquium is titled "Female Allegory, People's Theatre and Municipal Socialism in Late 19th Century France."

Donald M. Scott, associate professor of history at North Carolina State University, will deliver the second colloquium at 4 p.m. Tuesday (Feb. 13). His topic is "A Theatre of the Mind: Popular Lecturing and the Making of an American Public."

Joan Scott, a fellow in the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton University this year, is the author of two books: "The Glassworkers of Carmaux: French Craftsmen and Political Action in a Nineteenth-Century City" and "Women, Work and Family."

Donald Scott, a fellow in the Davis Center for Historical Studies at Princeton, is the author of "From Office to Profession: The New England Evangelical Ministry, 1750-1850" and "Pastors and Providence: Changing Ministerial Styles in Nineteenth-Century America."

Handicapped Program Moving, But Slowly

A productive life and a reasonable life style are often accomplished by the handicapped only after a long, slow, sometimes painful struggle.

So too, it seems, with the accomplishment of goals established by the Cornell Committee for the Handicapped.

"Despite the setup and commitments, it hasn't worked as well as possible because the University is not yet geared to meet all the varying needs of individuals with different handicaps," said Ruth Darling, campus coordinator for the handicapped.

"On paper, the system looks good," she said, "but we're not yet able to make it work effectively to provide modifications (in facilities) tailored to particular, individual needs."

Part of "the system" referred to by Darling is Cornell's transition plan for making the University more accessible to the handicapped. Preparation of the plan, which has three years to be implemented, was completed in December 1977, as mandated by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

Under "504," as it is known, institutions receiving federal aid are required to remove obstacles—physical and otherwise—preventing handicapped persons from fully participating in educational programs and employment activities.

A handicapped person is defined by 504 as any person qualified for employment or academic study who has a physical or mental impairment which substantially interferes with one or more of life's major functions.

Darling said there are 22 students with identifiable disabilities and at least six faculty and nine staff members who are handicapped.

A number of changes have been made to improve accessibility and there are many more to come. Curb cuts and ground work is the most advanced project with 72 of 80 curb cuts, 90 percent of the total, completed.

Bathroom modifications, ramps and chairlifts, telephones and signage are on the project list, along with a number of individual tasks.

Of 100 bathrooms, 10 now have provisions for the handicapped. Work is in progress on nearly 20 more and is scheduled for the remaining ones.

More than half of the 44 ramps scheduled for construction are now in place, with most of the remaining work to be done on an ad hoc basis. The "ad hoc" buildings are in a low use, low demand category.

Some 22 buildings are scheduled for telephone modifications; others now have appropriate equipment available. Signs to designate bathrooms, telephones, ramps, exits, parking spaces and some cross walks will be installed as work progresses.

"The work is on schedule according to the transition plan," said Barbara Goren, an architect and engineer in the Department of Design and Project Management.

"The bulk of the design work shall be done this winter and spring," said Goren, who is a member of the Committee for the Handicapped. "Construction will take place mid-spring and pick up its pace through the summer and maintain it until completion. Our target date for completion is June 1980."

The committee was established in the fall of 1976 to develop specific programs to aid handicapped students, though Cornell had provided individual assistance over the years to handicapped persons. With the issuance of 504, the committee's charge was broadened to include handicapped faculty and staff, as well as students.

The committee's first major task was the development of the transition plan, working with the Department of Design and Project Management. The total cost of that plan will be $400,000.

The committee completed a self-evaluation report on Cornell's programs and services for the handicapped in June 1978, as required by HEW. The report was prepared by the institutional self-evaluation committee, one of nine standing subcommittees.

The other subcommittees at work in 1978-79 are: physical facilities, external funding, employment, communications, auxiliary aids, community education, program for securing volunteers to assist the handicapped, parking and transportation.

"The University committee has two priorities," Darling said: "to try to meet the needs of people here now and to make buildings, walks and roadways accessible where it is necessary to make every University program available to the handicapped."

Public buildings, those with the most traffic, are the ones that have been or are being dealt with first, Darling explained. Next are buildings that could be made accessible at a modest cost ($10,000 per building) and with modest work. Finally, there are those buildings where major renovations—in excess of $10,000—are needed.

Difficult problems are faced at the entrances and interiors of such buildings as Willard Straight, Sibley, Franklin, Lincoln and White halls.

In situations where it will be costly and slow to make physical modifications, emphasis is placed on other methods of improving accessibility: rescheduling classes, provision of aides, wheelchair lifts, portable ramps, or any combination of these methods.

Chronicle Comment

'Rejected Aim of Department'

Editor:

The Sun's reporter has further burdened an already grotesquely misperceived proposal by flatly misquoting me. In talking to him I specifically rejected the aim of a department for "Ideas, Texts, and Contexts." (The writer refers to an article in the Sun, Friday, Feb. 2, on Page 3.)

Unfortunately, I am familiar with the experience of being misquoted in the Sun. But I am not at all used to the idea of having my colleagues at a faculty meeting accuse the proponents of a modest academic proposal of being engaged in a dark "conspiracy" to promote "sexist" and "jazzy boondoggles." As a historian of ideas, I recognize that "Ideas, Texts, and Contexts" is part of what is now done in the departments of literature and history. Our proposal was designed only to highlight that part in the minor matter of a "minor," and as a supporter of interdisciplinary studies, I felt obligated to support colleagues in the foreign literatures and history who suggested the "concentration." Some of them were, I knew, sympathetic to the French invasion of critical theory, which I am trying to repel in my own work, but argument is the life of reason and universities exist to provide occasions for it.

There are serious questions (which trouble me too) about the definition of our program, but it is naive to expect philosophical tidiness in institutional arrangements. Does an English department cover all English-speaking writers? Does everybody agree what constitutes "literature"? Or what counts as "history" and how to do it? Obviously not. The crucial question is always whether or not there is some group of actual persons who, here and now, see a chance to join intellectual forces on some important problems.

Unfortunately, the proposers of the concentration had not enough time before the meeting to canvass all those who might be interested in such a venture, but we assumed that any list of courses we presented was merely provisional and subject to extensive amendment. Further delay would have prevented faculty action in time for the catalogue. But all beginnings have to be arbitrary; otherwise there is only the usual inertia.

Academic muddle is common enough, but this response to a modest venture is hyperbolic muddle. If we are to have a debate, let us begin by abandoning the cheap shots, defamatory rhetoric, and false reporting that we have been treated to so far.

Cushing Strout
E.I. White Professor of American Studies

'Get Facts Straight'

Editor:

I am responding to a letter to the editor about the appearance of articles about lesbians in "Dialogue," a Publication for "Women in the Work World." The writers state that "That's all that seems to be talked about in every issue," and they also make an assertion that Dialogue "Gives the majority of its contents to the gay rights issue."

First of all, the signers of this letter should get their facts straight. Over the lifetime of this important publication the topic of gay persons has been a very minor theme and topics have included a wide range, including the two-career family, managing money, going into business for yourself women in management, rape, alcoholism, etc.

Of the approximately 50 issues that have been published in the last 5 years, with an average of 15 pages per issue, very few have been on homosexuality or any aspect of sexuality. There has been an increased interest in the topic nationwide in the last few years and during this past year with about 150 pages in Dialogue, less than 10 percent of the space has been on any aspect of sexuality or homosexuality, hardly what the letter writers should call "all they talked about" or "the majority of its contents."

The second question is whether this is an appropriate topic, even though it is a minor one for a publication dealing with women at work. A claim is made that about 10 percent of all women are either now actively engaged in gay activities or have done so at some time in their life. If so, this topic which has been considered as taboo for a long time might be discussed at a university where there is freedom of speech.

Is this group of persons trying to keep these topics under the rug? If so; what is their motivation? I feel confident in this age of enlightenment that open discussion of topics of interest to a minority of women should be considered acceptable. Fortunately, we still have freedom of speech to discuss this issue.

Harold Feldman
Professor
Human Development and Family Studies

'Promoting Understanding'

Editor:

The letter in the January 17 Cornell Chronicle criticizing the editors of Dialogue was surprising. The letter writers say Dialogue is trying to "promote lesbianism" by giving "the majority of its contents to gay rights issues."

First, we believe that the editors are trying to promote an understanding of the employment problems that some lesbians face.

Second, we call attention to the fact that, between 1974 and 1977, Dialogue published 615 pages of articles, of which part of one page was devoted to gay rights. In 1978, Dialogue published 133 pages, of which 12 were devoted to gay rights.

That seems far from excessive to us.

A.M. Wilkinson, Chairperson
(for Cornell Women's Caucus)

Job Opportunities

Continued from Page 2

Staff Writer I, CPO2 (Computer Services)
Visual Specialist I, CPO2 (Communications)
Dining Spvr., CPO2 (Food Science)
PART-TIME AND/OR TEMPORARY POSITIONS
*Temp. Svc. Clerical (Vet Student Admin., temp. pt)
Temp. Svc. Key punch (Computer Svcs., pt, shift work)
*Admin. Secy., A-15 (Chemistry, perm. pt)
*Admin. Secy., A-15 (Bursar, 9 months, parttime)
*Library Spvr., A-13 (U. Libraries, Engineering, pt)
Data Clerk, A-13 (U. Libraries, Mann, pt)
Searcher I, A-13 (U. Libraries, Olin, perm. pt)
Steno, A-11 (Learning Skills Ctr., COSEP, perm. pt)
Admin. Secy., NP-8 (Biochem., Mol. & Cell Bio., perm. pt)
Admin. Secy., NP-8 (NYSSILR, Buffalo, temp. ft)
Steno II, NP-6 (NYSSILR, perm. pt)
Steno II, NP-6 (NYSSILR, temp. ft)
Steno I, NP-5 (Entomology, 1 yr., pt)
Temp. Svc. Stockkeeper (Chemistry, temp. pt)
Delivery Person (Graphic Arts Services, perm. pt)
Short Order Cook I, A-14 (Dining Services)
Cashier II, A-11 (Dining Services, 9 months, pt)
*Temp. Svc. Svc. (Statler Inn, temp. pt)
Temp. Svc. Svc. (Campus Store, casual)
*Custodian, A-13 (Dining Services, 9 months, pt)
*Food Service Worker, A-11 (Dining Svcs., perm. pt)
*Food Service Worker, A-11 (Dining Svcs., 9 month. pt)
*Stockkeeper I, NP-5 (DCS-Pharmacy, 30 hrs. week)
Temp. Svc. Tech. (Nutritional Sciences, temp. pt)
*Temp. Svc. Tech. (Lab Nuclear Studies, temp. ft)
Temp. Svc. Tech. (HD&FS, Syracuse, pt)
Temp. Svc. Tech. (Coop. Ext. Admin., Brockport)
Temp. Svc. Tech. (Pomology & Viticulture, temp. pt. G.)
Temp. Svc. Tech. (Biological Sciences, perm. pt)
Lab Tech. I, NP-8 (DCS-Mastitis Control, perm. pt)
Electronics Tech., A-19 (Computer Svcs., 1 yr., pt)
Lab Asst. II, A-12 (Biochem., Mol. & Cell Bio., temp. ft)
Lab Asst., A-11 (Biochem., Mol. & Cell Bio., perm. pt)
Systems Programmer III, CPO5 (Computer Svcs., 1 yr.)
Admin. Mgr. II, CPO5 (Mat'l Science Ctr., 6 mos. ft)
Systems Programmer II, CPO4 (Computer Svcs., 1 yr.)
Regional Director, CPO4 (U. Develop., Cleveland, pt)
Systems Programmer I, CPO3 (Computer Svcs., 1 yr.)
*Temp. Svc. Prof. (Hum. Dev. & Fam. Studies, temp. pt)
Temp. Svc. Prof. (Rural Sociology, temp. ft)(2)
Temp. Svc. Prof. (Communication Arts, temp. pt)
*Sr. Administrator I, CPO7 (Rural Sociology, temp. ft)
Res. Supp. Spec. I, CPO3 (Ecation, temp. ft)
Ext. Supp. Aide, CPO2 (Animal Science, 30 hrs. week)
Res. Supp. Aide, CPO2 (Education, temp. pt)
Editorial Asst. I, NP-10 (Media Services, perm. pt)
*Announcer-News (WHCU, perm. pt)
ACADEMIC-FACULTY POSITIONS (Contact Department Chairperson)
*Asst. or Sr. Asst. Librarian (U. Libraries, Uris)
*Asst. or Sr. Asst. Librarian (U. Libraries, Olin)
*Asst. Professor, Developmental Biology (Section of Botany, Genetics & Development)
*Research Associate I, CPO3 (Agronomy, temp. ft)
Extension Assoc. II, CPO4 (NYSSILB)
Professor of Biochemical Pharmacology & Chairperson of the Department of Physiology, Biochemistry & Pharmacology
Assoc. Librarian, CPO3 (U. Libraries, Law)
Asst. Professor (Microbiology)
Asst. Professor-Agriculture & Occupational Education (Education)
Lecturer, part-time (Section of Biochemistry, Molecular & Cell Biology)
Research Assoc. II, CPO4 (Agric. Microbiology)
COOPERATIVE EXTENSION (Contact 212 Roberts Hall)
*Extension Assoc., CPO4—Sea Grant (Riverhead)
*Extension Assoc., CPO5—Fruit Business Mgmt. & Marketing (Ulster Cnty. Highland, NY)

Volunteer Placements In the Community

By MARY MCGINNIS
COORDINATOR, CIVITAS (256-7513)

The CIVITAS office locates volunteer placements for students and other members of the Cornell community in social agencies and the public schools. We talk personally with every potential volunteer to set up a placement which matches a community need with the volunteer's experience and talents. We also try to create positions for volunteers whose interests are unique. An increasing proportion of students view volunteering as a way to explore career options and gain job experience. Others seek a balance to their exclusively academic pursuits and wish to be in touch with people living in the community. The personal reward derived from helping others is also a frequently mentioned reason for volunteering.

Not all CIVITAS workers are volunteers in the strict sense of the word. Some students who find work through CIVITAS are getting course credit in a field placement or independent study situation. However, only Cornell faculty can grant credit; CIVITAS helps locate a suitable placement. Most people volunteer 2-3 hours of their time each week. A selective list of community requests for help appears in our Cornell Sun ad every Wednesday and in the Cornell Chronicle every Thursday. Specific requests are also broadcast over WVBR.

NEWFIELD HIGH SCHOOL: Teacher of high school art classes seeks help from volunteer with background and interest in design. An opportunity to offer your talent under the supervision of a qualified art instructor. Mon.-Fri. between the hours of 8:3011 a.m. of 1-2 p.m. CIVITAS will make the contact for you. WILLARD PSYCHIATRIC CENTER: The CIVITAS car still has room for volunteers who wish to work with patients at Willard. Tues. afternoons, leaving the campus about 12:30 p.m. and returning about 4:30 p.m. Volunteer opportunities include activities in theatre and music, homemaking, games, simple crafts and workshop skills.

REHABILITATION PROGRAM FOR D.W.I. OFFENDERS: Seeks bilingual volunteer to assist Spanish-speaking client having difficulty with English instruction. Feb. 7, 8 from 7-10 p.m. and Feb. 15 and 22 from 7-9 p.m. Please help this offender to help himself.

ITHACA ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS FRIDAY AFTERNOON ACITIVITY CLUBS: Seek leaders in short recreational and/or educational programs. From approximately 1:30-2:15 p.m. each week. These youngsters will appreciate your sharing a hobby or talent with them on an informal basis as a reward for their week's hard work.

ELDERLY (88 YEARS OLD) WOMAN WOULD WELCOME HELPER: To take her out shopping once a week and provide friendly companionship. A little of your time could bring cheer to her life. Close to the campus, and times are flexible.

CAMPUS CHEST: Alphi Phi Omega seeks dorm solicitors for Campus Chest drive, Feb. 19-March 2. Each solicitor covers 1-2 floors which takes 2-3 hours. Call APO (256-7432), CIVITAS (256-7513), or sign up outside Room 521, Willard Straight, before Feb. 12.

ARE YOU AVAILABLE ANY WEEKDAY FROM 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m.? Nutrition Program for senior citizens depends heavily upon volunteer assistance to fill a variety of needs: meal delivery to homebound individuals or to communal sites; assistance in kitchens with actual meal preparation and cooking; educational or recreational demonstrations and entertainment of general interest to senior citizens; helpers with skills in audio/ visual presentation to run projectors or present slide shows; assistance with vehicle maintenance upon which program depends heavily. An opportunity to learn about a growing area of social need: the elderly and their desire to continue living independently.

TO RESPOND: PLEASE CALL CIVITAS (256-7513), Mon.-Fri., 10-2, or drop in 125 Anabel Taylor Hall during these hours.

'Report' Now Available

The first "Report of the President" by Frank Rhodes has been published by the Office of University Publications.

Members of the Cornell community may obtain copies by

Grad Student Wins a First Humphrey Prize

Michael E. Brown, a Ph.D. candidate in the Department of Government, has won a Hubert Humphrey Fellowship in the first year of the program's existence, according to Richard Rosecrance, the Walter S. Carpenter Jr. professor of International and Comparative Politics at Cornell.

The $3,900 annual award, granted by the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, is for Brown's Ph.D. research on "The Development of the U.S. Strategic Bomber from the B-36 to the B-1."

Brown, a native of Lansdale, Pa., who holds bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Pennsylvania, is studying this year at the Brookings Institution in Washington, D.C. He is surveying the cognitive, political and technological factors which led to the development of each strategic bomber.

Brown's work is based on new theories in the arms control field which suggest that countries in a so-called "arms race" respond as much to their own technological possibilities, imperatives and programs as they do to programs of adversaries.

stopping in at the University Publications office in Sheldon Court, by telephoning the office (6-4945), or by writing to it at 420 College Ave.

The booklet begins with a five-page "State of the University" message from Rhodes. He discusses Cornell's people, programs, policies and 10 major goals, as well as five methods to achieve financial stability.

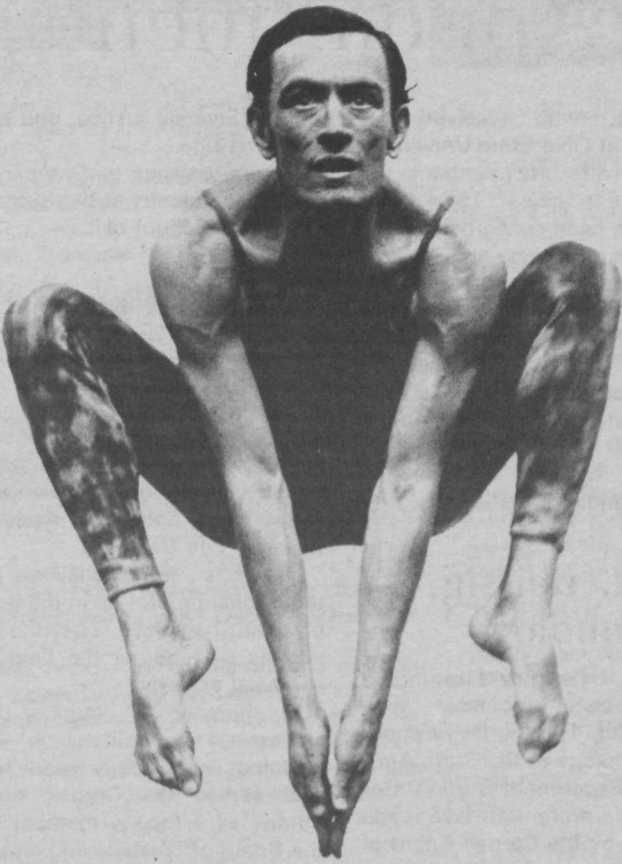

"One underlying mission that we have — the goal to which everything else is subservient at Cornell — is that we remain a major university of the first rank. Everything else is secondary. Sound buildings, beautiful grounds, adequate library support, winning football teams — all those are important, but our focus must always be upon remaining a university of the first rank," Rhodes wrote.

A section called "The Year in Review" concludes the publication.

Ornithology Lecture Set

John Confer of the Department of Biology at Ithaca College will speak on "Recent Studies of Blue-winged and Golden-winged Warblers and Their Hybrids" at 7:45 p.m. Monday, Feb. 12, at the Cornell University Laboratory of Ornithology, 159 Sapsucker Woods Road.

His talk, part of the laboratory's Monday evening seminar series, is free and open to the public.

Don Redlich

Dance Company to Perform

The Cornell Dance Series will present a performance by the Don Redlich Dance Company at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 14, at the Strand Theatre.

Don Redlich has directed his own company since 1966. He is not an exponent of any single modern dance tradition, but his works range from funny to profound, from grotesque to whimsical, as they explore the human condition or probe new ways to use sound, spaces, or environments.

The five dancers in the company are Robyn Cutler, Jennifer Donahue, Joan Finkelstein, Billy Siegenfeld and Redlich.

Tickets for the concert are $2.50 for students and senior citizens, $3.50 for all others, and are available at the Cornell Dance Office, Nippenose, and at the Strand Theatre. This event is made possible in part with public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts.

Kahn Paintings on Exhibit

New paintings by H. Peter Kahn, professor of art history at Cornell University, will be on exhibit and for sale from Wednesday, Feb. 7, through Saturday, March 10, at The Upstairs Gallery, 307 N. Tioga Street.

Kahn was born in Leipzig, Germany, and came to this country in 1937. He studied in New York City with Hans Hofmann, William Baziot, Vytacil, Tony Smith and others. He was a teaching assistant to Hofmann in New York and in Provincetown from 1945 to 1948. He joined the Cornell faculty in 1957 and has bachelor's and master's degrees from New York University.

Author Plans Reading

Author John Gardner, called "an artist of rare imagination and power" by Saturday Review, will present a reading from his fiction at 4:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 15, in the Hollis Cornell Auditorium of Goldwin Smith Hall.

A novelist, critic and biographer, Gardner's seven novels include "Grendel," "Nickel Mountain," "The Sunlight Dialogues" and "October Light." He has written a book on literary criticism, "On Moral Fiction," and a biography of Chaucer. He is a professor of English at the State University of New York at Binghamton.

"Gardner would rank among the top five in almost any critic's list of current American novelists," according to Lamar Herrin, assistant professor of English at Cornell.

"The book on literary criticism has become a center of controversy," Herrin said. "Gardner's position is that meaningful fiction must stand on a strong moral base, a base which he finds missing in the work of many of his contemporaries."

"His novels are set in small-town New York or rural Vermont and the values they uphold are the increasingly embattled ones of the Christian humanist."

Cornellian Is 'In Touch' With City's Handicapped

A 1952 New York State College of Human Ecology graduate, whose consumer news is heard by millions every weekday, is now focusing on a new audience as well: New York City's blind and physically handicapped.

Elaine Rose Ruderman, known to WCBS radio listeners minus her last name, specializes in mass communication for Cornell's Cooperative Extension programs in the city. After six successful months on the most listened to all-news station in the country, Rose agreed to participate on the In-Touch Network, a service to several thousand blind and other handicapped New Yorkers.

She recently discussed "Food Safety: Is There Anything Left to Eat?" on the nonprofit network which began in April.

The organization supplies special receivers to pick up a subcarrier frequency of WKCR-FM. For some 15 hours a day, listeners can hear newspapers, magazines and popular books read, as well as feature shows.

"It's exciting to think we reach a million plus people on WCBS," said Ruderman, who has worked for Extension in the New York area for some 20 years, "but talking to the people who listen

The Arts

Violin, Piano Concert Scheduled

Violinist Lynn Chang and pianist Richard Kogan will present a free public concert 8:15 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 10, in Barnes Hall.

They will perform Sonata in B flat, K. 454, by Mozart and Sonata in A Major by Cesar Franck. Kogan will be piano soloist in Chopin's Ballade No. 4 in F minor; Chang will play the Ysaye Ballade for solo violin.

Earlier this week Chang and Kogan performed in Kaufmann Auditorium in New York City as one of the attractions on the 1978-79 Young Concert Artists series.

In January, Chang, a visiting violin instructor at the University, toured Taiwan, with Kogan and cellist Yo-Yo Ma, where they presented a series of chamber music recitals. As trio-in-residence under sponsorship of the College of Chinese Culture, they gave master classes, lectures and lessons to individual students at the university.

In a review, the China Times commented: "the blending of the instruments was like that of milk and honey."

Film Date Wrong

The Frederick Wiseman film, "Sinai Field Mission," will be shown on Feb. 14 — not Feb. 17 as listed in the Chronicle last week — at 8 p.m. in Uris Auditorium.

on the In-Touch Network is more than exciting: It's an honor."

She began doing weekend taped reports on food prices, credit problems, product safety and similar consumer-oriented topics on WCBS last June. She was so well received that WCBS soon asked her to broadcast live every weekday.

Freshmen Share Essay Prize

Freshmen Jennifer Park of Clarence, N.Y., and Alan G. Dexter of Topsfield, Mass., shared the $50 Elmer Markham Johnson Prize for the best essay in the Freshman Seminar Program during the fall semester.

Park's essay was on the work of English philosopher Richard Taylor. Dexter's paper was an account of a visit to the Herbert F. Johnson Museum of Art at Cornell.

The Johnson Prize, named for a former chancellor of Telluride and a freshman English instructor, was given for the first time in the spring 1978 semester, according to Barbara Rosecrance, assistant professor of English and chairman of the prize committee.

New Appointments, Promotions

Joe P. Bail, Education

Joe P. Bail has been appointed chairman of the Department of Education for a three-year term at the State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

A specialist in assessing career opportunities and educational needs for both youth and adults, Bail succeeds George W. McConkie, who is now at the University of Illinois.

He has written more than 80 articles and publications based on his research on occupational education programs and counseling, and has served as a consultant on career and occupational education for other universities and school districts.

Dale Bauman, Animal Nutrition

Dale E. Bauman has been appointed associate professor of animal nutrition, with tenure, in the Department of Animal Science at the State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Cornell University.

Bauman is an international scholar on the nutrition and metabolism of dairy cattle particularly as it relates to lipids in mammary gland metabolism. He comes to the college from a similar position at the University of Illinois.

Carol Meeks, Human Ecology

Carol B. Meeks has been elected associate professor, with tenure, in the Department of Consumer Economics and Housing in the State College of Human Ecology.

Cornellian's Book Wins Pfizer Prize

The author of a book published last year by the Cornell University Press has won a 1978 Pfizer Prize for outstanding achievement in the history of science.

Roe Smith was awarded the prize for his book "Harpers Ferry Armory and the New Technology: The Challenge of Change."

Meeks, who received her degrees at Ohio State University, has been a faculty member in the department since 1974. Her work has been concerned primarily with housing and related matters and has brought her recognition from her peers throughout the country.

Her research has included studies of housing codes in New York State, housing allowances, consumer problems in buying homes, mobile homes and tenant-landlord relations.

W.H. Reissig, Entomology

W. H. Reissig was promoted to associate professor with tenure Oct. 1 in the Department of Entomology at the State Agricultural Experiment Station, Geneva. This promotion was made effective by the Cornell Board of Trustees at a recent meeting.

Reissig has been a member of the Geneva Department of Entomology since March 1973 after completing work for his Ph.D. degree at Oregon State University. His major research projects center around the apple maggot, a very damaging pest of apple in New York, and related species of insects.

Reissig received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Kansas State University in 1969 and 1970 respectively, and his Ph.D. degree from Oregon State University in 1973. He is a member of the Entomological Society of America, Kansas Entomological Society, Alpha Zeta, Gamma Sigma Delta, and Sigma Xi.

Larry Palmer, Law School

Larry I. Palmer, a specialist on the problems of legal sentencing, has been elected professor in the Cornell Law School.

A member of the Cornell law faculty since 1975, Palmer is completing a project under funding from the Ford Foundation on the role of appellate courts in mandatory sentencing. His findings will be published later this year.

Palmer's major fields of study are criminal law, criminal procedure, juvenile justice, and law and medicine.

Before coming to Cornell he was on the faculty at the Rutgers University School of Law.

Paul P. Feeny, Ecology

Paul P. Feeny has been elected professor in the Section of Ecology and Systematics, Division of Biological Sciences, in the State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

Feeny has established an international reputation in the field of plant-herbivore coevolution and as a leader in the field of chemical ecology.

A member of various departmental committees in entomology and ecology, Feeny has also served the Cornell community as a faculty member on the Board of Trustees and on the Faculty Council of Representatives and the Cornell Council.

Feeny received his first appointment to Cornell in 1967, after receiving his degrees in chemistry and zoology at Oxford University in England.

Maurice Tauber, Entomology

Maurice J. Tauber, an authority on biological control and insect behavior, has been elected a professor at Cornell, effective Nov. 1.

He has been on the faculty of the Department of Entomology at the State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences since 1966. His research is focused on the utilization of beneficial insects and on insect seasonality and behavior.

He received degrees from the University of Manitoba, Canada, and his doctorate from the University of California, Berkeley.

Mueller-Lazar, Human Ecology

Board of Trustees has recently promoted B. Jeanne Mueller-Lazar to professor in the Department of Community Service Education in the State College of Human Ecology.

Mueller-Lazar's career has been devoted to the field of social work, focusing on aging, mental health and child development. She received her degrees at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, where she taught until her appointment to the College of Human Ecology.

Since coming to the college, she has developed an undergraduate program in social work education which was accredited by the National Council of Social Work Education in 1974-75.

At that time she was asked to become a member of the Council's accreditation site visit team and has accepted several assignments. Also, she has developed and administered a program of child welfare training for social workers in New York State and the Virgin Islands.

Mueller-Lazar teaches undergraduate courses in human behavior, social policy and social work practice and has taught graduate seminars on social problems, human development, social gerontology, mental retardation, and community mental health.

H.P. Monaghan, Law School

Henry P. Monaghan, an authority on constitutional law, has been named the Robert S. Stevens, professor of law as of July 1, 1979.

Monaghan, who is currently on the faculty of the Boston University School of Law, will succeed former Cornell Law School Dean William Ray Forrester, who has been named the Robert S. Stevens Professor of Law, emeritus.

The Stevens professorship was established in 1970 in memory of Dean Robert S. Stevens, who served in that capacity from 1937 until his retirement in 1954. The chair was established by his widow, Mrs. Robert S. Stevens, other members of the family and students and friends of Dean Stevens, after his death in 1968.

Monaghan, according to Dean Roger C. Cramton, is recognized as a leading scholar in the field of constitutional law.

In announcing the new appointment, Cramton said, "Monaghan has great creativity and energy. His scholarship on constitutional law subjects is providing the basis for widespread discussion of the sources and limits on the Supreme Court's discretion in interpreting and applying constitutional provisions. He will add great strength to the teaching and scholarship of the Law School."

The author of numerous articles in his field, Monaghan was a visiting professor at Cornell during the 1977 fall term and gave an Irvine Lecture at Cornell in 1976.

Born in Holyoke, Mass., in 1934, he was graduated from the University of Massachusetts in 1955 with a bachelor's degree. He earned law degrees at Yale University in 1958 and at Harvard University in 1960.

Arthur Ruoff, Engineering

Arthur L. Ruoff, professor of materials science and engineering, has been named the Class of 1912 Professor of Engineering at the University.

Ruoff has received wide acclaim for his research, particularly in high-pressure phenomena, ultimately aimed at creating metallic hydrogen, and for his innovations in undergraduate teaching.

He is currently serving the first year of a five-year term as chairman of the Department of Materials Science and Engineering in the College of Engineering. As the 1912 Professor of Engineering, he succeeds George Winter, who held the professorship from 1963 until 1975, when he was named the Class of 1912 Professor of Engineering emeritus.

Ruoff joined the Cornell engineering faculty in 1955, the year he received his doctorate in physical chemistry and physics at the University of Utah. He earned a bachelor of science degree in chemistry at Purdue University in 1952.

The author of more than 90 published scientific articles he has also written three textbooks on material sciences and has developed an audio-tutorial course in introductory materials science and a slide-tape presentation on "Concepts of Packaged Courses."

Special Seminars

Agriculture and Life Sciences

AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS: "Quantitative Analysis of International Stabilization Policy," David Blandford, 4 p.m., Monday, Feb. 12, 401 Warren Hall.

AGRICULTURE ENGINEERING/ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES: "Sludge Management Strategies for New York State," William LaRow, New York State Department of Environmental Conservation, 3:30 p.m., Friday, Feb. 9, 105 Riley-Robb Hall.

NATURAL RESOURCES: "Ungulate Management in New York Compared to the British Isles and Scandinavia," William Severinghaus, Severinghaus Wildlife Consultants, Inc., and former wildlife chief, New York Dec., 4 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 15, 304 Fernow Hall.

NUTRITION: "Cadmium: Intestinal Absorption and Effect on Calcium Metabolism," Curtis Fullmer, 4:30 p.m., Monday, Feb. 12, 348 Morrison Hall.

RURAL SOCIOLOGY: "It Must Have Been Something in the Water," Joe D. Francis, 4 p.m., Monday, Feb. 12, 32 Warren Hall.

SCIENCE AND ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION: "Research and Technology in the Energy Future—Viewpoints from Cornell," W. Travers, W. Jewell, D. Stipanuk, 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 13, 7 Stone Hall.

Arts and Sciences

COMPUTER SERVICES: "Writing EXECs," S. Woronoa, 3:30 p.m., Friday, Feb. 9, G-14 Uris Hall.

ORGANIC/INORGANIC CHEMISTRY: "Carbohydrates as Chiral Templates in Organic Synthesis," Stephen Hanessian, University of Montreal, 8:15 p.m., Monday, Feb. 12, 119 Baker Laboratory.

GENERAL CHEMISTRY: "Gas Chromatography—Infrared Spectroscopy," Thomas Isenhour, University of North Carolina, 4:40 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 15, 119 Baker Laboratory.

PSYCHOLOGY: "The Misrepresentation of Representation," John Heil, visiting fellow, Cornell, 3:30 p.m., Friday, Feb. 9, 202 Uris Hall.

WOMEN'S STUDIES: "Textual Criticism: The Feminist Perspective," Nelly Furman, 12:15 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 15, 494 Uris Hall.

Biological Sciences

BIOCHEMISTRY: "Membrane Energy States and Chloroplast Coupling Factor Vulnerability," A.T. Jagendorf, 4:30 p.m., Friday, Feb. 9, 204 Stocking.

ECOLOGY AND SYSTEMATICS SEMINAR: "Grunt, grunt, grunt, grunt, grunt and one more grunt—Natural History Observations on the Life History of Pomadasys," William N. McFarland, 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 14, Langmuir Penthouse.

NEUROBIOLOGY AND BEHAVIOR: "Regulation of Acetylcholinesterase Appearance at Neuromuscular Junctions In Vitro," Lee Rubin, Harvard Medical School, 12:30 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 13, Langmuir Penthouse.

NEUROBIOLOGY AND BEHAVIOR: "Behavior and Ecology of Fish," J.H.S. Blaxter, Scottish Marine Biological Station, 12:30 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 15, Langmuir Penthouse.

PLANT PHYSIOLOGY: "Flowering, Bolting and Hormones," Jan A.D. Zeveaart, Michigan State University, 11:15 a.m., Friday, Feb. 9, 404 Plant Science.

Boyce Thompson Institute

"Renewable Resources and the Objectives of the NSF," Oscar Zaborsky, ASRA, National Science Foundation, 4 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 14, BTI Auditorium.

Engineering

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING: "The Oxidation Kinetics of Aqueous SO₂ Solutions and Its Effects on Wet Scrubber Performance," Phooi K. Lim, University of Illinois, 4:15 p.m.,

Monday, Feb. 12, 145 Olin Hall.

GEOLOGICAL SCIENCES: "Tectonics of the Southern Appalachians," Robert Hatcher, Florida State University, 4:30 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 8, 203 Thurston Hall.

MATERIALS SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING: "Amorphous Silicon," D.G. Ast, 4:30 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 8, 140 Bard Hall.

MATERIALS SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING: "Model for the Diffusion-Controlled Formation of Porous Polymeric Membranes," Claude Cohen, 4:30 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 15, 140 Bard Hall.

MECHANICAL AND AEROSPACE ENGINEERING: "Viscoplastic Finite Element Analyses of Steady State Forming Processes Including Strain History and Stress Flux Dependence," Paul R. Dawson, Scandia Laboratories, 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 12, 282 Grumman Hall.

PLASMA STUDIES: "Laser Fusion as a Power Reactor," Robert Conn, University of Wisconsin, 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 14, 282 Grumman Hall.

THEORETICAL AND APPLIED MECHANICS: "Dynamics of Gas Bearings as Relaxation Damping Systems," Dmitry E. Chegodaev, Kubyshev Aerospace Institute, USSR, and Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering, Syracuse University, 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 14, 205 Thurston Hall, Law School.

"Adam Smith's Jurisprudence—Between Morality and Economics," Peter G. Stein, University of Cambridge, 3:30 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 15, Moot Court Room, Myron Taylor Hall.

Veterinary Medicine

MICROBIOLOGY/PATHOLOGY: "The Antigenic Analysis of the Larvae of Trichinella Spiralis," Dickson D. Despommier, Columbia University, 4:30 p.m., Monday, Feb. 12, G-3 Vet Research Tower.

PHYSIOLOGY: "Effect of Age on Intestinal Calcium Absorption and Adaptation to Dietary Calcium," James Ambrecht, Veterans Administration Hospital, St. Louis, MO., 4:15 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 20, G-3 Vet Research Tower.

There are still a number of opportunities to apply for fellowships for 1979-80. Check the Fellowship Notebook at your Graduate Faculty Representative's office, or at the Fellowship Office, 116 Sage Graduate Center for additional information on the awards whose deadlines were previously listed in the Jan. 25 issue of the "Chronicle" as well as for those awards whose deadlines are listed below:

- Feb. 15: Swedish Bicentennial Fund Grants.
- Feb. 23: CIS Graduate Student Research Grants.
- Mar. 1: CIES Postdoctoral Research Grants in Spain.
- Mar. 1: Inter-American Foundation Masters Program Learning Fellowship on Social Change.

- Mar. 1: Lindbergh Fund Grants.
- Mar. 1: Military Order of the Purple Heart Awards.
- Mar. 2: Southern California Horticultural Institute-Davis Scholarship.
- Mar. 15: Atlantic Urban Corps Educational Internships.
- Mar. 15: Canadian-Scandinavian Scholarships and Research Grants.
- Mar. 15: Regional Economic History Research Center Doctoral Fellowships.
- Mar. 15: Scottish Rite Schizophrenia Grants.
- Mar. 16: Woodward-Clyde Foundation Fellowships.
- Mar. 31: DAAD Short-Term Research Grants.

Career Center Calendar

- Feb. 8—Health Careers Brown Bag Session: Tips for Studying for the MCAT. 1:25 p.m., Career Center.
- Feb. 8—Using Career Center Resources to Research Financial Aid for Graduate Study. 10:30 a.m., Career Center. Take it from the Top: An Overview of the Law School Application Process. 3:30 p.m., Uris 202.
- Feb. 8—SUNY Albany will have a representative at the Career Center to discuss the 80 different graduate programs available at the School. 9:00 a.m.-noon.
- Feb. 9—Cornell Medical School Summer Program for Minorities: An Information Session. 4:00 p.m., Uris G-94.
- Feb. 12—Health Careers Brown Bag session: Tips for Studying for the DAT. 12:20 p.m., Career Center.
- Feb. 13—Health Careers Brown Bag Session. See Feb. 12 listing. 12:20 p.m., Career Center.
- Feb. 13—How to Use the Career Center Resources to Learn About Study Abroad. 4:30 p.m., Career Center.
- Feb. 13—The Job Hunt: Part I—Analyzing your qualifications, interviewing. 4:30 p.m., Career Center. This is a three part program; attendance is limited. Please sign up ahead of time at the Career Center.
- Feb. 13—Resume Critiques. 3:00 p.m., Career Center. Please sign up in advance.
- Feb. 14—Health Careers Brown Bag Session. See Feb. 12 listing. 1:25 p.m., Career Center.
- Feb. 14—The Job Hunt: Part II—Looking for a job when you don't know what to look for. 4:30 p.m., Career Center. Please sign up in advance.

- Feb. 15—Career Forum on Banking with Citibank. 7:00-9:00 p.m., Uris G-94.
- Feb. 15—Health Careers Brown Bag Sessions. See Feb. 12 listing. 1:25 p.m., Career Center. Preparing for the LSAT: An introduction to test-taking and to LSAT prep resources. 3:30 p.m., Rockefeller C.
- Feb. 15—The Job Hunt: Part III—Resumes and Letter Writing. 4:30 p.m., Career Center. Please sign up in advance.
- Feb. 15—Information Session on the New York State Public Management Internship Program. Master's degree candidates in public management, hospital administration, business, ILR, government, or industrial administration are eligible. 3:30 p.m., Goldwin Smith 264.

Calendar

Continued from Page 8

- Ethically Neutral University." William Rogers, United Ministries Chaplain. Anabel Taylor Forum.
 - 4:30 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "Ethics Without God." Morris Goldfarb, Jewish Chaplain. Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.
 - 4:30 p.m. University Lectures Committee and Society for the Humanities present John Gardner, English, SUNY Binghamton, reading from his fiction. Goldwin Smith Hollis E. Cornell Auditorium.
 - 7 p.m. Cornell Karate Club (Shotokan) beginners class. All welcome. Martha Van Rensselaer Auditorium.
 - 7 p.m. The Christian Science Organization welcomes students, staff and campus visitors to the weekly readings and testimonies meeting. Anabel Taylor Founders Room
 - 7 p.m. Cornell Women's Varsity Basketball-Keuka. Helen Newman.
 - 7 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "The Cutting Edge of Criminal Justice: Are Prisons Obsolete?" Richard Gilbert, Pastor, First Unitarian Church of Rochester. Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.
 - 7:30 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "Forming a Personal Ethics in Response to the New Age." Jim Connolly and Tom Koester, Catholic Chaplains. Anabel Taylor Forum.
 - 7:30 p.m. Ethics and the Edge of a New Age: "The President, The Media and Morality." Wes Pippert, White House Correspondent, United Press International. Sponsored by the Evangelical Community. Anabel Taylor Founders Room.
 - 7:30 p.m. Israeli Folk Dancing. Anabel Taylor One World Room.
 - 8 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Black River." Co-sponsored by CUSLAR and 3rd World Board. Uris Hall Auditorium.
 - 8 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "Disarmament: Will There Be A New Age?" Phil Bogdonoff of the Peace and Social Action Committee of the Ithaca Friends. Uris Hall 202.
 - 8:15 p.m. *Department of Theatre Arts presents Dance Theatre. Goldwin Smith Kaufmann Auditorium.
 - 8:30 p.m. Black History Week film: "Bill Cosby on Prejudice." Sponsored by Noyes Center Program Board. Noyes Center Pub.
- ### Friday, February 16
- 10:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Writing Center's Walk-In Service. Rockefeller 302.
 - 12 noon. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "The Search For An Interreligious World Ethic." Robert Beggs, Interreligious International Ministry. Anabel Taylor Forum.
 - 12:10 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "Christian Freedom and Ethical Responsibility at the Edge of a New Age." Nelson Reppert. Anabel Taylor G-7.
 - 12 15 p.m. Catholic Eucharist. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.
 - 12:15 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "The New Age: Agriculture, Food and Health." Paul Buck, Food Science, Cornell. Warren 32.
 - 12:15 p.m. Women's Studies Friday Seminar: "Step-mothering: A New Job for Many American Women." Kitty Campbell Mattes, Public Programs Coordinator, H.F. Johnson Museum. Ives
 - 1 p.m. SALAT-AL-JUMA (Friday prayer for Muslims). Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.
 - 2:30 p.m. Muslim Education and Cultural Association and Africana Research and Studies Centre present Islam Lecture Series: "Islam in African History." Akbar Mohammed. Uris Hall G-92.

- 2:30 p.m. La Tierra Collective of CRE-Alternative Agriculture working group meeting. Anabel Taylor Alternatives Library.
- 3 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "Does the New Age Need Prisons at All?" Brian Willson, Coordinator, Stop the Olympic Prison Campaign. Sponsored by the Unitarian Community. Anabel Taylor Founders Room.
- 3 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "Energy Options and the American Style of Life: Looking Ethically at the Future." William Gibson and Ingrid Olsen-Tjensvold, EcoJustice Project. Anabel Taylor One World Room.
- 5 p.m. Cornell Karate Club (Shotokan) beginners class. All welcome. Martha Van Rensselaer Auditorium.
- 5:15 p.m. *Cornell JV Basketball-Cortland. Barton.
- 5:30 p.m. Shabbat Services (Conservative). Anabel Taylor Founders Room.
- 5:30 p.m. Shabbat Services (Reform). Anabel Taylor Chapel.
- 6:30-9 p.m. The Cayuga Bird Club will sponsor an owl search (by playing taped call to lure a response). Public is invited. Group will leave from the Cornell Dairy Bar.
- 7:30 p.m. Twig Bible Fellowship sponsored by The Way of Cornell. Balch Unit 2 study lounge.
- 7:30 p.m. "Islam and Muslims" sponsored by Muslim Educational and Cultural Association. Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.
- 7:30 p.m. Meeting of Cornell Christian Fellowship for singing, teaching and prayer. Morrill 106.
- 7:30 p.m. Pentangle II Free Film Series: "Jacob the Liar" (Beyer, 1974. G.D.R.); short: "A Movie" (Conner, 1958, U.S.). Uris Hall Auditorium.
- 7:30 p.m. *Cornell Varsity Basketball-Brown. Barton.
- 8 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "Disarmament: Will There be a New Age?" Uris Hall 202.
- 8 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "New Age, Old Ways and Dreamtime." Peter Fortunato, poet. Poetry readings. Anabel Taylor Commons Coffee House.
- 8:15 p.m. *Department of Theatre Arts presents Dance Theatre. Goldwin Smith Kaufmann Auditorium.
- 8:15 p.m. *Faculty Committee on Music presents Anton Kuerti, pianist. Works of Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Scriabin. Statler Auditorium.
- 9:30 p.m. Black History Week Disco sponsored by Noyes Center Program Board. Noyes Center 2nd floor.
- 9:45 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Mr. Klein." Uris Hall Auditorium.
- 12:15 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Eraserhead." Uris Hall Auditorium.

Saturday, February 17

- 9:15 a.m. Shabbat Services (Orthodox). Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.
- 9:30 a.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "Institutional Racism." Robert Terry, consultant on institutional racism. A Thorp Lecture and workshop. Anabel Taylor One World Room.
- 10 a.m. Shabbat Services (Conservative). Anabel Taylor Founders Room.
- 10 a.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "Global Futures Game." William Gibson, Eco-Justice Project. Anabel Taylor Commons Coffee House.
- 1 p.m. Cornell Women's Varsity Swimming-Cortland. Helen Newman.
- 1:30 p.m. *Cornell JV Hockey-St. John's University. Lynah.
- 2 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "The Ethical Outlook of Contemporary Islam." Four guest speakers, sponsored by the Muslim Community. Anabel Taylor One World Room.
- 2 p.m. Cornell Varsity Swimming-Dartmouth. Teagle.
- 4:30 p.m. Catholic Sacrament of Reconciliation. Anabel Taylor G-24.

Bulletin Board

Show Explains Computing at Cornell

Computer Services is now offering an "Introduction to Computing at Cornell," a slide and sound show for those interested in learning how to use the computer system at Cornell. The show is also a good teaching aid for anyone teaching courses which require the use of a computer. "Introduction to Computing at Cornell" is available at Computer Services, G-26 Uris Hall or at the media room in Uris Library.

Dance-Mime Scheduled

"Workers," a dance-mime piece created from Studs Terkel's book "Working," will be presented by the Theatre Arts Department at 8:15 p.m., Feb. 15-17, in Kaufmann Auditorium. The performers are Cornell students Doug Craw, Emily Heebner, Bill Rosenzweig, assistant director and mime coach, Lynn Paltrow, and Susan Hargrave, choreographer. Tickets for the performance will be on sale at the door the nights of the performance. Cost is $1.00.

Changing Sex Roles to Be Discussed

Sandy Stein, counseling coordinator in the Office of the Dean of Students, will present a talk, "Changing Sex Roles in a Changing Society," at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 20, at the Brown Center, Hasbrouck Apartments. Stein will present research findings which reveal shifting trends in sex role expectations within male/female partnerships.

Cecil Murphy Is Guest Speaker

Cecil Murphy, director of Employee Relations, will be the guest speaker at the Brown Bag Luncheon scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 8. All Brown Bag Luncheons are sponsored by the employee elected trustees and members of the Campus Council and are held from 12 to 1 p.m., 202 Uris Hall.

ILR Disco Party Slated

A disco party open to all students and staff at the State School of Industrial and Labor Relations is scheduled from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. on Saturday night, Feb. 10, in the third floor lounge of Noyes Center. A $1 donation is requested.

- 5:15 p.m. Catholic Eucharist. All welcome. Anabel Taylor Auditorium.
- 5:15 p.m. *Cornell JV Basketball-Ithaca College. Barton.
- 7 & 9:30 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Mr. Klein." Uris Hall Auditorium.
- 8 p.m. *University Unions Program Board in cooperation with North Campus Union, North Campus Dining, Alpha Phi Omega, and Thirsty Bear Tavern present "Mardi Gras." Advance sale of tickets only and will go on sale February 7 at Willard Straight Hall. No one under 18 admitted. North Campus Union.
- 8 & 10 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "High Anxiety." Statler Auditorium.
- 8:15 p.m. Cornell Polo-Toronto. Oxley Polo Arena.
- 8:15 p.m. *Department of Theatre Arts presents Dance Theatre. Goldwin Smith Kaufmann Auditorium.
- 8:15 p.m. Department of Music presents student recital: Mark Taggart, saxophonist. Barnes Auditorium.
- 8:30 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "The Role of Women in Ministry." Sister Joan Sabella, St. Bernard's Seminary. Anabel Taylor Founders Room.
- 12 midnight. *Cornell Cinema presents "Eraserhead." Statler Auditorium.

Sunday, February 18

- 9:30, 11 a.m. & 5 p.m. Catholic Eucharist. All welcome. Anabel Taylor Auditorium.
- 9:30 a.m. Episcopal Eucharist Worship Service. Faculty, staff, and families welcome. Church School and nursery care. Coffee hour following service in Founders Room. Anabel Taylor Chapel.
- 10:45 a.m. The Lutheran Church Worship Service. Nursery care provided. Coffee hour following the service. Church school prior to service at 9:30 a.m. 119 Oak Avenue.
- 11 a.m. Sage Chapel Convocation: Robert W. Terry, International Consultant on Institutional Racism; Senior Partner, Organizational Leadership, Inc., Adrian, MI.
- 11:15 a.m. Protestant Church at Cornell. Anabel Taylor Chapel.
- 12:30-4:30 p.m. Writing Center's Walk-In Service. Rockefeller 302.
- 2 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Heidi and Peter." Co-sponsored with Ithaca Youth Bureau. Uris Hall Auditorium.
- 2 p.m. Korean Church at Cornell. Young M. Paik, Pastor. Anabel Taylor Chapel.
- 6 p.m.-midnight. Writing Center's Walk-In Service. Rockefeller 312.
- 7:30 p.m. International Folk Dancing. All welcome. Straight North Room.
- 8 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Le Million." Uris Hall Auditorium.

Exhibits

Goldwin Smith Gallery: Art exhibit by young local artist, Nurit Richenstein. General public welcome to attend. Gallery hours: Monday-Friday, 8:30-4:30 p.m. through Feb 16.

Olin Library: "Modern Artists as ILLUSTRATORS: Picasso, Matisse, Baskin, Abbe and others of the 20th century."

Herbert F. Johnson Museum: "Permanent Collection," through Feb. 11; "Bronze Sculptures," through Feb. 11; "Louis M. Eilshemius: Selections from the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden," through March 18; "22 Polish Textile Artist," Feb. 17 through March 18; "Art Insights: Making Senses. For more information call 256-6464.

Calendar

February 8-18

All items for the Chronicle Calendar must be submitted by mail or in person to Fran Apgar, Office of Central Reservations, 32 Willard Straight Hall, at least 10 (ten) days prior to publication of the Chronicle.

* Admission charged

Attendance at all events is limited to the approved seating capacity of the hall

Thursday, February 8

10-11 a.m. Fine Arts Series sponsored by Cornell Campus Club: "Male and Female on the Sistine Ceiling," Creighton Gilbert, Art History, Cornell. Herbert F. Johnson Museum of Art Lecture Room.

12:15 p.m. Catholic Eucharist. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

12:30-4:30 p.m. Writing Center's Walk-In Service. Rockefeller 302.

4-5 p.m. Antibody Club Seminar: "Studies of Alloreactive Lymphocytes. Part II," D.F. Antczak. James A. Baker Institute for Animal Health.

4:30 p.m. Geological Sciences Seminar: "Tectonics of the Sothern Appalachians," Robert Hatcher, Florida State University. Thurston 203.

4:45 p.m. Cornell Campus Council meeting. Clark 701.

6 p.m.-midnight. Writing Center's Walk-In Service. Rockefeller 302.

7 p.m. Cornell Karate Club (Shotokan) beginners class. All welcome. Martha Van Rensselaer Auditorium.

7 p.m. The Christian Science Organization welcomes students, staff and campus visitors to the weekly readings and testimonies meeting. Anabel Taylor Founders Room.

7:30 p.m. U.S.-China People's Friendship Association Lecture: "China's Economy and Foreign Trade," Roland E. Berger. Goldwin Smith Hollis E. Auditorium.

7:30 p.m. Israeli Folk Dancing. Anabel Taylor One World Room.

7:30 p.m. Pre-Law Society Lecture by U.S. Attorney Robert J. Del Tufo. Ives 110.

8 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Welfare." Uris Hall Auditorium.

8 p.m. Society for the Humanities presents David Warren reading from "Natural Bone," a new novel. Goldwin Smith Temple of Zeus.

8:15 p.m. *Faculty Committee on Music presents The Canadian Opera Company: Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro," fully staged production, conducted by Timothy Vernon. Bailey Auditorium.

8:15 p.m. Plant Pathology Colloquium: "Vascular Wilt Fungi and Xylem Dysfunction," Carl Beckman, Plant Pathology, University of Rhode Island, Kingston, R.I. Plant Science 404.

Friday, February 9

11:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Writing Center's Walk-In Service. Rockefeller 302.

12:15 p.m. Introduction to Talmud Class. Bring bag lunch. Anabel Taylor G-34.

12:15 p.m. Catholic Eucharist. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

12:15 p.m. Alternative Agriculture Seminar: "Project Reach: Prospects and Problems," Robert Bates, director of the Rural Development Project of Project Reach. Co-sponsored by CRESO and Rural Sociology. All welcome. Warren 32.

12:15 p.m. Women's Studies Friday Seminar: "A Private Space: Personal Diaries of Women," Metta Winter, Ithaca writer, teacher, diarist. I&LR Conference Center 105.

1 p.m. SALAT-AL-JUMA (Friday prayer for Muslims). Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.

2:30 p.m. Muslim Educational and Cultural Association and Africana Research and Studies Centre present Islam Series Lecture: "The Spread of Islam," Omar Afzal. Uris Hall G-92.

3 p.m. La Tierra Verde Collective of CRE-Alternative Agriculture working group meeting. Anabel Taylor Alternatives Library.

4:15 p.m. Coalition for the Right to Eat general meeting/study group. Anabel Taylor Forum.

5 p.m. Cornell Karate Club (Shotokan) beginners class. All welcome. Martha Van Rensselaer Auditorium.

5 p.m. Cornell Varsity Wrestling-Princeton. Barton.

5:30 p.m. Shabbat Services (Conservative). Anabel Taylor Founders Room.

5:30 p.m. Shabbat Services (Reform). Anabel Taylor Chapel.

7 & 10 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "2001: A Space Odyssey." Statler Auditorium.

7:30 Islam and Muslims sponsored by Muslim Educational and Cultural Association. Anabel Taylor 314.

7:30 p.m. Twig Bible Fellowship sponsored by The Way of Cornell. Balch Unit 2 study lounge.

7:30 p.m. Cornell Christian Fellowship meeting for singing, teaching and prayer. Morrill 106.

7:30 p.m. Pentangle II Free Film Series: "The Man Who Tred on the Tiger's Tail" (Kurosawa, 1945, Japan) and "A Girl in the Mist" (Suzuki, 1955, Japan). Uris Hall Auditorium.

9:45 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Joseph Andrews." Uris Hall Auditorium.

12 midnight. *Cornell Cinema presents "Monty Python and the Holy Grail." Uris Hall Auditorium.

Saturday, February 10

9:15 a.m. Shabbat Services (Orthodox). Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.

10 a.m. Shabbat Services (Conservative). Anabel Taylor Founders Room.

8 Cornell Chronicle
February 8, 1979

10:30 a.m.-12 noon. Community Symposium: "Health Care: When and How Much," Paul Rogers. Commentary by Arthur Webb, Theodore Cooper and Richard Berman. Roger Battistella, presiding. Baily Auditorium.

12 noon. Cornell JV Wrestling-Westchester Community College. Barton.

1:30-3 p.m. Community Symposium: "Better Health Through Changing Lifestyles?" Robin Williams, Jr., moderator. Panelists: Eric L. Cassel, William W. Lambert, Barry Edmonston. Ives 120.

1:30-3 p.m. Community Symposium: "Improving Access for Underserved Populations," John Ford, moderator. Panelists: Harold Hunter, Bonnie Howell, James Curtis, John Simons. Ives 110.

1:30-3 p.m. Community Symposium: "Psychiatric Health Care: Implications for the future," Sander Gilman, moderator. Panelists: Robert Michels, John Talbot, Ronald Leifer. Ives 215.

2 p.m. Cornell Varsity Wrestling-Pennsylvania. Barton.

2 p.m. Cornell Women's Hockey-Brown. Lynah.

3-4:30 p.m. Community Symposium: "Assuring Safety and Efficacy in Medical Services," Allyn Ley, Moderator. Panelists: Robert Crane, Thomas Rundall, Hibbard Williams. Ives 215.

3-4:30 p.m. Community Symposium: "Imperatives for Medical Cost Containment," David Thompson, moderator. Panelists: John Kern, Spencer Johnson, David Calkins. Ives 120.

3-4:30 p.m. Community Symposium: "Nutrition and Environment-Keys to Better Health," Malden C. Nesheim, moderator. Panelists: Ronald Brickman, Kathleen Gaffney, Sander Kelman. Ives 120.

4:30 p.m. Catholic Sacrament of Reconciliation. Anabel Taylor G-24.

5:15 p.m. Catholic Eucharist. All welcome. Anabel Taylor Auditorium.

7 & 10 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "2001: A Space Odyssey." Statler Auditorium.

7:30 p.m. Cornell Women's Varsity Gymnastics-Springfield and Syracuse. Helen Newman.

7:30 & 9:45 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Joseph Andrews." Uris Hall Auditorium.

7:30 p.m. *Cornell Varsity Hockey-Dartmouth. Lynah.

8:15 p.m. Cornell Polo-Unadilla. Oxley Polo Arena.

8:15 p.m. Department of Music presents Lynn Chang, violinist and Richard Kogan, pianist. Works of Mozart, Ysaye, Franck, Chopin. Barnes Auditorium.

12 midnight. *Cornell Cinema presents "Monty Python and the Holy Grail." Uris Hall Auditorium.

Sunday, February 11

9:30 a.m. Episcopal Eucharist Worship Service. Faculty, staff, and families welcome. Church School and nursery care. Coffee hour following service in Founders Room. Anabel Taylor Chapel.

9:30, 11 a.m. & 5 p.m. Catholic Eucharist. All welcome. Anabel Taylor Auditorium.

11 a.m. Ithaca Society of Friends (Quakers). Discussion and First Day School. Babysitting provided. Anabel Taylor Forum.

10:45 a.m. The Lutheran Church Worship Service. Nursery care provided. Coffee hour following the service. Church school prior to service at 9:30 a.m. 109 Oak Avenue.

11 a.m. Ithaca Society of Friends (Quakers). Meeting for worship. Anabel Taylor Forum.

11:15 a.m. Protestant Church at Cornell. Anabel Taylor Chapel.

12 noon-4 p.m. Ecology House Open House. For more information call 256-5305. Triphammer Road.

12:30-4:30 p.m. Writing Center's Walk-In Service. Rockefeller 302.

1 p.m. Sage Chapel Convocation: Festival of Black Gospel. Sermon by Martin Luther King, Sr., Atlanta, GA; music by Choirs from Calvary Baptist and St. James A.M.E. Zion Churches and the Sage Chapel Choir.

2 p.m. Korean Church at Cornell. Young M. Paik, Pastor. Anabel Taylor Chapel.

2 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "The Magic Flute." Co-sponsored with Ithaca Youth Bureau. Uris Hall Auditorium.

6-12 midnight. Writing Center's Walk-In Service. Rockefeller 302.

7:30-11 p.m. International Folk Dancing. Teaching for intermediates 7:30-8:30 p.m.; requests 8:30-11 p.m. Straight Memorial Room.

7:30 p.m. Ecology House Lecture: "Albany's Pine Barrens: Its History, Ecology and Development," Don Rittner, Pine Bush Historic Preservations Project. Triphammer Road.

8 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "The Magic Flute." Uris Hall Auditorium.

Monday, February 12

12:15 p.m. Catholic Eucharist. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

12:30-4:30 p.m. Writing Center's Walk-In Service. Rockefeller 302.

12:20 p.m. Agricultural Engineering Seminar: "Micro-computer Applications in Homes and Small Businesses," Henry Vaughan, Computerland of Ithaca. Riley-Robb 400.

4 p.m. Society for the Humanities and Women's Studies Colloquium: "Female Allegory, People's Theatre and Municipal Socialism in Late 19th Century France," Joan W. Scott, Fellow, Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton. A.D. White House Guerlac Room.

5-6 p.m. Zen Buddhist Meditation Group one hour zazen (meditation). For more information call Tim at 539-7299 or Boyd at 277-0496. Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.

7 p.m. Cornell Karate Club (Shotokan) beginners class. All welcome. Martha Van Rensselaer Auditorium.

7:30 p.m. Twig Bible Fellowship sponsored by The Way Ministry of Cornell. Balch Unit 2 study lounge.

7:30 p.m. Food Science 150 Seminar: "Proteins," Dennis Miller, Food Science. Uris Hall Auditorium.

7:30 p.m. America and World Community: "Interdependencies of Global Population, Food, Economic Growth, and Human Control of the Environment," Kenneth Robinson, Agricultural Economics. Anabel Taylor One World Room.

7:45 p.m. Ornithology Seminar. Lyman K. Stuart Observatory, 159 Sapsucker Woods Road.

8-11 p.m. Cornell Country Dance Club contra dance with live music. All dances taught. Beginners welcome. Straight Memorial Room.

8:30 p.m. Black History Week Film: "Black History: Lost, Stolen, or Strayed?" Sponsored by Noyes Center Program Board. Noyes Center Pub.

9 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Journey Into Fear." Film Club members only. Uris Hall Auditorium.

Tuesday, February 13

12:15 p.m. Catholic Eucharist. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

12:30-4:30 p.m. Writing Center's Walk-In Service. Rockefeller 302.

4 p.m. Society for the Humanities Colloquium: "A Theatre of the Mind: Popular Lecturing and the Making of an American. Public," Donald Scott, Fellow, Davis Center, Princeton. A.D. White House Guerlac Room.

4:15 p.m. Food Science Seminar: "The Intrinsic Chemistry of Fructose," Robert Shallenberger, Food Science and Technology. Geneva. Stocking 204.

4:30 p.m. Fundamentals of Jewish Thought. Anabel Taylor G-34.

5 p.m. Cornell Karate Club (Shotokan) beginners class. All welcome. Martha Van Rensselaer Auditorium.

6-midnight. Writing Center's Walk-In Service. Rockefeller 302.

7 p.m. Cornell Women's Varsity Basketball-Colgate. Helen Newman.

7 p.m. Cornell Women's Varsity Swimming-Oneonta and St. Lawrence. Helen Newman.

7:30 p.m. *Cornell Varsity Hockey-R.P.I. Lynah.

7:30 p.m. Folk Dancing for Couples. Singles, beginners, all ages welcome. Martha Van Rensselaer Auditorium.

8 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "The Goalie's Anxiety at the Penalty Kick." Uris Hall Auditorium.

Wednesday, February 14

12:15 p.m. Catholic Eucharist. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

12:30 p.m. Lutheran Eucharist Service. Anabel Taylor G-15.

12:30-4:30 p.m. Writing Center's Walk-In Service. Rockefeller 302.

3:15 p.m. Statistics Seminar: "Optimal Design for Comparing Treatments With a Control in Incomplete Blocks," R.E. Bechhofer, Operations Research and Industrial Engineering, Cornell. Uris Hall C-14.

4:15 p.m. Japanese Free Film Series: "Sword of Doom." Sponsored by the China-Japan Program. Uris Hall Auditorium.

4:30 p.m. Biological Sciences Seminar: "1 HNMR Studies of Small Molecules in Perdeuterated Phospholipid Vesicles," Gerald W. Feigenson, Biochemistry, Cornell. Clark 700.

4:30 p.m. FCR meeting. Ives 110.

4:30 p.m. Mini Micro Seminar Series: "Data Communications for Mini and Micro Computers," Jim Harman, MSC Computing Facility, Cornell. Uris Hall G-14.

4:30 p.m. Cornell Women's Varsity Bowling-R.I.T. Helen Newman.

5 p.m. Wilderness Reflections committee meeting. Straight Loft III.

6 p.m. Hebrew Conversation. Anabel Taylor 314.

7 p.m. Johnson Museum of Art Film Program presents "The Fall of the House of Usher," (Watson and Webber, 1928, U.S.) and "La Chute De La Maison Usher" (Epstein, 1928, France). H.F. Johnson Museum.

7 p.m. Cornell Karate Club (Shotokan) beginners class. All welcome. Martha Van Rensselaer Auditorium.

7:30 p.m. America and World Community: "Interdependencies of Global Population, Food, Economic Growth, and Human Control of the Environment," Kenneth Robinson, Agricultural Economics. Anabel Taylor One World Room.

7:30-11 p.m. International Folk Dancing. Teaching for beginners 7:30-9 p.m.; requests 9-11 p.m. Straight Memorial Room.

7:30 p.m. Twig Bible Fellowship sponsored by The Way of Cornell. Balch Unit 2 study lounge.

8 p.m. The Agricultural Circle Program presents "Toward A Just and Sustainable Future," Richard A. Baer, Natural Resources. Husbanda and guests invited. BradfieldEmerson 135.

8 p.m. The Centre for Religion, Ethics and Social Policy and Cornell United Religious Work presents a campus conference on religion: "Ethics At the Edge of a New Age." "The New Age: No Room for Nukes," William Sloane Coffin, Pastor, Riverside Church, New York City. Anabel Taylor Auditorium.

8 p.m. *Cornell Cinema presents "Sinai Field Mission." Uris Hall Auditorium.

8:15 p.m. *Dance Concert by the Don Redlich Dance Company sponsored by the Cornell Dance Series. The event is made possible in part by public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts. Tickets on sale at Cornell Dance Office, Nippenose and The Strand. Strand Theatre.

Thursday, February 15

10-11 a.m. Cornell Campus Club presents Fine Arts Series Lecture: "The Eilshemius Exhibit at the Johnson Museum," Cynthia McCabe, Coordinator of exhibits at the Hirshhorn Museum in Washington, D.C. H.F. Johnson Museum Lecture Room.

11:30 a.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Era: "How Ethics Get Taught in the University," Gurdon Brewster, Episcopal Chaplain. Anabel Taylor Forum.

12:10 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "Christian Freedom and Ethical Responsibility at the Edge of a New Age," Nelson Reppert, Wesley Foundation Chaplain. Anabel Taylor G-7.

12:15 p.m. Women's Studies Graduate/Faculty Colloquium Series: "Textual Criticism: The Feminist Perspective," Nelly Furman, Romance Studies. Uris Hall 494.

12:15 p.m. Catholic Eucharist. All welcome. Anabel Taylor G-19.

12:30 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "Poverty: Women, Children and Slaves," Emilio Monti of Mutuality in Mission. Anabel Taylor Edwards Room.

12:30-4:30 p.m. Writing Center's Walk-In Service. Rockefeller 302.

3 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "Biblical Foundations for Social Justice," Jim Connolly, Catholic Chaplain; Millard Baublitz, graduate student in Physics. Anabel Taylor Founders Room.

3 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "How Growth Led Me to Think Small-A Spiritual and Ethical Concept of 'Enough,'" Anabel Taylor Alternatives Library.

3:30 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "A Hard Look at the Dynamics of Racism," Gurdon Brewster, Episcopal Chaplain. Uris Library 310.

4 p.m. Ethics at the Edge of a New Age: "The Myth of the

Continued on Page 7