Wartime readjustments . . . #8

BEFORE MOTHER GOES MARKETING, THE McARGLES ALWAYS CALL A KITCHEN CONFERENCE TO FIGURE COUPON POINTS

AMERICANS are willingly adjusting themselves to wartime rationing, but every one will be happier when the need is over.

The burden is heaviest on Mother. She's getting a taste of the severe budgeting that could become permanent, if she were left with inadequate life insurance.

No man wants to ration his family for life—for lack of life insurance. With taxes and War Bonds, money for life insurance may be hard to save—but the effort is doubly worth while in wartime!

For life insurance premium dollars are fighting dollars. Through investment in basic war industries—and in Government Bonds—premium dollars support the war program, combat inflation, and provide protection for American families.

Talk things over today with a New England Mutual representative . . . so your family won't be rationed in the post-war world!

New England Mutual contracts meet present-day needs because:

- 1 DIVIDENDS begin at the end of the first year.
- 2 CASH VALUES begin at the end of the second year.
- 3 A PREMIUM LOAN is available beginning with the second annual premium.

Call another kind of conference!

A little study makes ration coupons go farther—and makes insurance dollars go farther, too.

But you don't need an adding machine, an abacus, and a family huddle to readjust your wartime insurance program. One able underwriter is enough.

A number of them are listed below. They're alumni of your college and they talk your language. They are also trained representatives of the First Mutual Life Insurance Company Chartered in America.

Out of their experience you'll get practical, constructive suggestions. They'll help you make the most of your limited life insurance dollars—help you protect your present policies with premium loans if necessary. Call an insurance conference and check your protection now when you need it most.

NAVY QUOTA HERE TO INCREASE TO 2600

University Leases Seven Fraternities to House Women

Announcement came last Saturday that the University had been notified that a minimum of 1642 apprentice seamen will be assigned to Cornell for the Navy College Training Program which begins on or about July 1. A letter from Rear Admiral L. E. Denfield, USN, assistant chief of the Bureau of Naval Personnel, said that 1100 men would be ordered here for engineering training, 100 men for pre-medical instruction, and 442 for what the Navy designates as basic training.

Cornell Reservists Stay Here

It is understood that this quota will include both present undergraduates at Cornell and from some other colleges who are in the Naval Reserve V-1 and V-7 on inactive duty, and a second group of high school graduates newly enlisted in the Naval Reserve V-12 and qualified enlisted men who are on active service in the Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard.

A news release from the Office of War Information quotes a Navy Department announcement that "80 per cent of the men who will be called to active duty July 1 in the Navy V-12 college program will be inactive reservists already in the colleges. The other 20 per cent will be high school graduates who have enlisted in the Naval Reserve. High school graduates will enter immediately on the prescribed Navy curricula, but the college reservists will be permitted to pursue additional studies under their existing academic programs. Thus, four-fifths of the student reservists who go on active duty July 1 will either stay where they, are to complete their college careers according to previous plan, or, if enrolled in a college having no Navy quota, will be transferred to a Navy-allocated college offering similar courses in the field of their major interests. Hence, colleges under contract to the Navy will not be deluged with freshmen; on the contrary, they will receive transfers at all levels, from second-term freshmen to second-term seniors, plus entering freshmen classes of approximately normal size in relation to the total quotas for all classes."

Academic instruction of the Navy men here will be given by the regular staff of the University, the Navy prescribing a basic course for all its men to include English, mathematics, physics, engineering drawing and descriptive geometry, Naval organization, and with physical education to be taught by the University staff. The Navy students will be in uniform and on Navy pay, under command of Captain Burton W. Chippendale, USN, commanding officer of the present Naval Training School. They will be quartered in some twenty-eight houses located between Cascadilla and Fall Creek Gorges, most of which are fraternity houses which the University will lease unfurnished. The houses selected are those closest to the Navy mess hall below West Avenue, which the University has already started to enlarge.

The present Naval Training School at the University which is giving indoctrination training and courses in Diesel engineering, steam engineering, and for deck duties to 1,000 Naval Reserve officers will be continued, the Navy Department has announced. Thus the Navy will have approximately 2600 men training at the University after July 1, with indication that the quota of apprentice seamen may be increased if facilities can be made available.

Women to Occupy Fraternities

To house women students after July 1, the University has signed leases for seven fraternity houses north of Fall Creek. It has also announced that Freshman women will live and take their meals in Balch Halls and Prudence Risley Hall, with some women of the other classes as dormitory officers. The others will live in the present Theta Xi house at 534 Thurston, Seal and Serpent at 305 Thurston, Alpha Zeta at 214 Thurston, Alpha Gamma Rho at 203 Highland Avenue, Tau Kappa Epsilon at 105 Westbourne Lane, Kappa Delta Rho at 306 Highland Road, and in the four University-owned cottages on The Circle back of Bailey Hall, at 5 Reservoir Avenue, Risley Cottage at the north end of Triphammer Bridge, 302 Wait Avenue, 225 Fall Creek Drive, and the former apartment house at 207-11 Fall Creek Drive.

These fraternity houses, like those for the Navy, are being leased by the University unfurnished, and the Department of Residential Halls will furnish them and operate them. (To page 370)

UNIVERSITY TO AWARD SERVICE CERTIFICATES TO STUDENTS

This certificate, printed on heavy paper 10¼ by 8 inches, will be awarded, upon request, to any student who has left the University to enter the armed forces before completing the requirements for a degree. Request for it, accompanied by evidence of enlistment showing date of beginning of active service, should be addressed to the Secretary of the University, Morrill Hall, Ithaca. All students who have withdrawn for military service since the passage of the Selective Service Act in 1940 are eligible to receive it. The certificate was authorized by the Trustees "in recognition of the patriotic services of undergraduates."

FROM FAR BELOW . . .

By Frank Sullivan '14

The annual meeting of the Cornell Club of New York and elections to the Board of Governors and Committee on Admissions were held April 29 and were followed by an eminently successful smoker and entertainment.

As for the elections, there was no disorder at the polls. Everything went off very quietly and no one, as far as your correspondent could learn, grew prankish and wrote in the names of Hedy La Marr or Secretary Ickes. When the ballots were counted, the following members found themselves officers of the Club:

Harry F. Byrne '16, to serve on the Board of Governors until April 30, 1945.

Herbert W. Ballantine '18, Charles H. Blair, Jr. '97, Walter I. L. Duncan '20, and Bernard A. Savage '25, to serve on the Board of Governors until April 30, 1947.

Edmund L. G. Zalinski '37, to serve on the Committee on Admissions until April 30, 1945.

Erle L. Austell '04, Thomas E. Curran Jr. '42, Edward R. Gerken '20, Bruce W. Hackstaff '31, and William J. Harding, Jr. '15 to serve on the Committee on Admissions until April 30, 1946.

For the buffet which followed, Bert Colborne, the wizard major domo, had performed miracles, or so the victuals seemed for these rationed times, and 150 members helped themselves, or were helped by Bert, to steak and kidney pie and viands to match.

After supper in the dining room, the members adjourned to the grill where they heard Stan Lomax '23, well-known sports broadcaster, discuss the sports outlook informatively and entertainingly. There was an astounding demonstration and exposé of card cheating and gambling frauds by Mickey McDougall, the card wizard, and later the members raised their voices in music and song until the clock struck twelve and everyone had to run, or see his gasoline buggy changed into a pumpkin. John P. Nell '33, head of the Club activities committee, arranged the smoker, and deserves a bow for its success.

Now then, our general officers for the year 1943-1944 are Walter L. Pate '99, president; Charles H. Blair '97, Frederick B. Hufnagel '00, John T. McGovern '00, Victor Emanuel '19, and Walter R. Kuhn '12, vice-presidents; John P. Nell '33, secretary; Wallace B. Quail '19, treasurer; and Dr. Henry P. deForest '84, librarian.

On April 28, a group of 1910 alumni gathered for luncheon at the Club to fete their Classmate, John K. Dorrance of Houston, Texas. Those who foregathered, in addition to the honored guest, were Brad Delehanty, Clarence Pope, Ed Goodwillie, Hal Edwards, and Willis "Bud" Rose from the Class of '10, and also Vic Herriman '08, Eddie Gibson '07, Cy Weed '09, Charlie Blair '97, and Walter Wing '07.

Fresh from the Army Air School at Eagle Pass, Texas, Lieutenant Richard J. Wanvig '39 was in the Club again, looking some slimmer than when he left for the Army a year ago, but fit as the noted fiddle. Lieutenant Wanvig is attached at the moment to Mitchel Field.

LOU LITTLE, Columbia University football coach, has enrolled for a Cornell Farm Study Course in Victory gardening.

NOW IN MY TIME!

By Romeyn Berry

Both the Lehigh and the Lackawanna are bringing in War Bonds by every mail train; through the Inlet Valley in the one case, past the second switch and down South Hill in the other.

The Classes were told, you recall, that all Reunions had been called off but that they might find it amusing to contribute to the kitty the approximate amount of their Reunion expenses in the form of $25 War Bonds.

Some Campus dwellers are astonished by the overwhelming response to this plausible but confused suggestion. But not the experienced observer! From the start, we have regarded that Bonded Reunion idea as just crazy enough to appeal to middle-aged vestrymen and bank directors who, as undergraduates, had cut their classes to promote (1) the 1901 combat between the rat and the ferret in the cellar underneath Hank Norwood's dogwagon, (2) the Soup Contest for stray cats that was pulled off on Eddy Street in the cold winter of 1903, and (3) the more recent Duck Race at Beebe Lake.

How time flies! It seems only yesterday that your reporter was training a cat for the Soup Contest, to the complete neglect of his academic tasks, and had the pot practically won until the Theta Deltas slipped our entry two pounds of Hamburg steak the night before the event. Remind us to tell you sometime about the big Soup Contest of 1903!

There is just enough non sequitur, just enough youthful futility, about the suggestion that you stay away from your Class Reunion and mail in $18.50 instead, to appeal to any man who has been to college and there participated in Duck Races, Soup Contests, and Ferret Fights.

Our research indicates that one-third of the business and professional men who attend their Class Reunions, take off their pants and put on Scottish kilts, do it because they want to. Another third do it because the coercive measures adopted by the committee have proved effective. And the remainder find themselves present because Mother and the children have pushed them into the thing realizing that Father has been getting stodgy, irritable, and set in his ways, and this Reunion might be the last chance to loosen him up and make him part way human again.

But whatever the device that fetched them, all have a good time, are delighted they came, vow they'll never miss another, and then—just as soon as they get home and settled down—look forward with dread to the next Reunion.

We would not have you get the impression from all this that we are cynical about Class Reunions. Not the least bit! It's just alumni we're cynical about. These are the only people in the world irrational enough to make a practice, in middle life, of returning periodically to the Quadrangle, taking off their pants and putting on kilts. Likewise, they are the only species, who, being told that they didn't have to do it this year, would recall with a chuckle Soup Contests, Ferret Fights, and Duck Races and then delightedly mail in $18.50 for the privilege of staying away.

CLASS OF '43 ENLISTS TO SUPPORT ALUMNI FUND

Sixty-eight Senior men and women volunteers dined together in Willard Straight Hall to open last week's Class of '43 campaign for the Alumni Fund. President Edmund E. Day (left) told them of the importance of the Fund to the University. Next above are Mary E. Rolfs and William T. Dunn, Jr., Class Alumni Fund representatives; Walter C. Heasley, Jr. '30, executive secretary, and Mrs. Olive Northup Snyder '22, assistant secretary of the Fund; and Roy B. Unger, president of the Student Council and a team captain for the campaign.

CASCADILLA SUMMER TERM

Cascadilla School has issued an attractive illustrated booklet describing its 1943 summer session, July 1 to August 19. Headmaster Clarence M. Doyle '02 is receiving inquiries that indicate a considerable summer attendance of students preparing to enter Cornell and completing high school studies. Among the Cascadilla summer faculty will be Helen M. Knox '97, Latin and German; Sara C. Knox '99, Latin; Frederick H. Stutz '35, history; James W. Killian '42, advanced mathematics; and Mrs. Chester J. Hunn, whose husband was the late Professor Hunn '08, Spanish.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK-END

Seventy-fifth annual Commencement of the University will be at eleven o'clock Monday, May 24, in Bailey Hall. President Edmund E. Day will be the Commencement speaker. It is estimated that approximately 650 first degrees will be conferred and about 100 advanced degrees. Some, of course, will be in absentia to those Seniors who have been called to military service since March 20 and who were in good standing when they left and would have completed the requirements for degrees by the end of this term.

Academic procession of the Trustees, Faculty, and Seniors will march from Goldwin Smith Hall to Bailey Hall for the baccalaureate sermon, to be delivered Sunday at four by the Rev. Bernard C. Clausen of the First Baptist Church, Pittsburgh, Pa. Similar procession will precede the Commencement exercises the next day. A baseball game with Colgate is scheduled for Hoy Field the afternoon of Commencement Day, and that evening the Class of '43 will gather for the last time to sing together as Seniors and for their Class Day exercises, at the Goldwin Smith portico.

Saturday morning, May 22, the Cornell Alumni Association and Cornell Alumni Fund Council will hold a joint annual meeting in Willard Straight Hall at eleven. Officers and executive committee of the Alumni Fund Council for 1943-44 will be elected, President Day will give his "annual report to the stockholders," and the election of Alumni Trustees will be announced by the committee to canvass the ballots.

ALUMNI GET GUGGENHEIM AWARDS

Five Receive Fellowships for Creative Endeavors

Five Cornellians are among the sixty-four creative workers of demonstrated ability who have received this year's fellowships of the John Simon Guggenheim Foundation. For eighteen years the Foundation, established and endowed by the late US Senator Simon Guggenheim and Mrs. Guggenheim as a memorial to their son, has made its awards, usually of $2500 a year, to foster research and creative work to develop the values that make civilization.

Guggenheim Fellowships are granted to scientists and other scholars, artists, and creative workers in all fields, usually between the ages of twenty-five and forty years, who by their previous work have shown themselves to be persons of unusual ability. Men and women who are citizens or permanent residents of the United States, citizens of Canada and of certain Latin-American countries, are eligible.

Among those for Latin-American studies this year, Dr. Kenneth E. Caster '29 received an award for a field study of the Paleozoic strata of the Northern Andes in Colombia and adjacent Venezuela. He received the AB in 1929, the AM in 1931, and the PhD in 1933; was instructor in Geology until 1935. After teaching for a year at Geneseo State College, he went to the University of Cincinnati, Ohio, as assistant professor of geology. Mrs. Caster is the former Anneliese Schloh '31.

Among writers receiving awards is Signe K. Toksvig '16 of Newton, Conn., for a biography of Emanuel Swedenborg. Her book will "endeavor to interpret the kind of man he was, with some reference to his scientific achievements but with special emphasis on his ideas concerning human survival after death, linked to a comparison of modern ideas on the same subject, and to be written from a non-theological point of view." Miss Toksvig is the wife of Francis Hackett, novelist and biographer, and is the author of a biography of Hans Christian Anderson and several other books and magazine articles. Born in Denmark, she received the AB in 1916 and lived in Denmark for several years, until two years ago. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and was editor-in-chief of The Cornell Women's Review and a member of Der Hexenkries.

An award in the field of science was made to Esther V. Hansen, PhD '30, professor of classical languages at Elmira College, for a book on the Attalid dynasty, rulers of the ancient city of Pergamum in Asia Minor, including the constitutional and economic organiza-

Four alumni staff officers in large armored units are pictured in this official War Department photograph. At left is Lieutenant Colonel John A. Chambers, graduate of Wisconsin and the US Military Academy who received the CE in 1925 and former acoustical engineer with Johns-Manville in Boston, Mass. Next is Lieutenant Colonel Alexander N. Slocum, Jr. '25, son of Alexander N. Slocum '01 of Decatur, Ga., who was with Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. in Paterson, N. J. Captain George R. tion of their kingdom and their role as patrons of art and learning. Receiving the AB in 1921 at Vassar and the AM at Wisconsin in 1922, she came to the Graduate School in 1926; taught for two years at Wells College; and from 1930-32 studied in Europe as a Fellow of the American Academy in Rome, going to Elmira College in 1934.

Among awards for work in American political and economic history, Fred H. Harrington '33 received a grant for a study of diplomatic aspects of the growth of American enterprise abroad, with emphasis upon the formative years, 1865-1900. He received the AB in 1933 with honors in History, received the PhD at New York University in 1937 and was a member of the faculty, and taught at the University of Wisconsin before going in 1940 to the University of Arkansas, where he is head of the department of history and political science. Member of Theta Chi, he was associate editor of the Cornellian.

In the field of English history and literature, David H. Willson, PhD '25, has received a second Guggenheim Fellowship to complete his biography of James I, King of England and Scotland. He received the BS at Haverford College in 1921, entered the Graduate School that year, and went in 1924 to the University of Minnesota where he is associate professor of history. In 1932-33 he studied abroad with a Social Science Research Council Fellowship, and received a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1941-42. He is the author of several books on English history.

Member of the committee of selection for the John Simon Guggenheim Foundation Fellowships is Professor F. Wallace Notestein, PhD '27, of Yale University.

ALUMNI VOTING

"No duty is pleasanter than voting for alumni trustees. The balloting is done by mail, of course, and our college sends us a helpful little folder containing biographical sketches of the candidates and photographs. This year we are to vote for two out of a field of five: three men and two women. We have just spent a very happy half hour studying the faces and the records of performance, becoming for the moment a follower of form, weighing a man who has developed colored granules for asphalt roofs against a man who once made a trip to England about some metal fasteners, pitting a woman who is with the Student Christian Movement of New York State against a woman who is with the Twelfth Air Force, and stacking the bunch of them against a fellow who, in four years of intercollegiate wrestling, never lost a match. Such a half hour is both innocent and provocative. What is there in the human face that reveals the human heart and mind? What makes a trustee trustworthy? Certainly there is great reading in even the mildest biographical sketch: the curious burning glass which concentrates a lifetime in a tiny point of light. Well, we have marked our X's in front of the two names. Pray God we are right!"

TRACK TEAM SECOND

The track team topped other members of the Heptagonal Games Association in the annual meet on Franklin Field at Philadelphia, Pa., last Saturday, but the US Military Academy, a guest, won the meet with 88 $\frac{5}{6}$ points.

Cornell took second place with 38. Other scores: Pennsylvania, 27 $\frac{1}{2}$; Princeton, 35 $\frac{1}{2}$; Columbia, 28 $\frac{1}{2}$; Dartmouth, 12. Harvard, the defending champion, and Yale did not compete.

Cornell's only individual champion was Clark R. Sanford '44 of Potsdam, who threw the hammer 143 feet 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches. Captain Charles E. Shaw '43 of Scarsdale was dethroned in the 100-yard dash. Shaw finished second to Kelsey of Princeton in 0:10. Other second-place winners were Howard W. Blose '44 of Dayton, Ohio, with 44 feet 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches in the shot put, and David A. Scott '46 of St. Louis, Mo., in the 220-yard low hurdles, won by Cassiday of the Military Academy in 0:25. Calcagni of Pennsylvania won the shot put with 45 feet.

Other Cornell scorers: Paul M. Kelsey '43 of Ithaca, third in the mile; John F. Kandl '44 of New York City, third in the two-mile run; Robert W. Larson '44 of Dover, N. J., who was in a three-way tie for second place in the high jump at 5 feet 9 inches; Audenreid Whittemore '45 of Bronxville, fourth in the discus throw with 131 feet 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches; Andrew D. Miller '44 of Wyomissing, Pa., fifth in the shot put with 42 feet 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches; Walter G. MacFarland III '45 of Huntingdon Valley, Pa., fifth in the 120-yard high hurdles; Robert A. W. Pullman '43 of Boston, Mass., fifth in the 220-yard low hurdles; and Strabo V. Claggett '43 of Pelham Manor, fifth in the hammer throw with 98 feet 5 $\frac{3}{8}$ inches.

The mile relay team of Pullman, Ward F. Moore '43 of Kenmore, William R. Bromstedt '45 of Highland Park, Ill., and Robert N. Adair '45 of Maysville, Ky., placed third; and the 440-yard relay team of Charles W. Pressler '44 of Lakewood, Ohio, David B. Shaw '44 of Scarsdale, Bromstedt, and Captain Shaw, placed fourth.

The meet's only new record was the 6 feet 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches of Vessie of Columbia in the high jump. This broke the record of 6 feet 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches set in 1940 by Lester E. Murdock '41 and tied in 1941 by Blount of Dartmouth.

Points were scored 6 for first place, 4 for second, 3 for third, 2 for fourth, and 1 for fifth.

COLGATE WINS BASEBALL

In its only appearance last week, the baseball team lost to Colgate, 1-3, at Hamilton May 5, as it failed to make a single hit. The one run came in the first inning when Lowe walked Wilfred R. Loeser '46, who went to second on a sacrifice by Edward S. Steitz '43, and then passed Carl W. E. Almquist '45 and Captain Jerome A. Batt '43. Lowe's wild pitch permitted Loeser to score. After that, only one Cornell player reached first, Captain Batt drawing a walk in the sixth inning.

Donald R. Clay '45, who has won two Eastern Intercollegiate League victories, was touched for nine hits and walked five batters. Twice, however, with the bases loaded, he pitched his way out without permitting a score.

As a result of other games in the League during the week, Pennsylvania took undisputed possession of first place with victories over Columbia and Princeton. The standings:

| | W | L | PC |
|--------------|---|---|------|
| Pennsylvania | 5 | 1 | .833 |
| Cornell | 3 | 1 | .750 |
| Columbia | 1 | 2 | .333 |
| Princeton | 2 | 5 | .286 |
| Dartmouth | 1 | 3 | .250 |

CREW FINISHES THIRD

The 150-pound crew finished third in a race on the Charles River at Cambridge last Saturday, bowing to Harvard and MIT over a mile and five-sixteenths course.

The crews were slowed by rough water and a strong head wind. The times: Harvard, 8:03; MIT, 8:15, and Cornell, 8:19.

The boating:

Bow, Donald L. Johnson '43 of Chicago, Ill.; 2, Barron T. Connolly '44 of Short Hills, N. J.; 3, David H. Belt '43 of Baltimore, Md.; 4, Richard Littauer '45 of New Rochelle; 5, Commodore Henry W. Bolling '43 of Chicago, Ill.;

Frank F. Collyer III '45 of Chelsea; 7, Burton Preston III '45 of Mansfield, Ohio; stroke, Carl C. Teipel, Jr., '44 of Perrysburg, Ohio; coxswain, Robert G. Platoff '45 of Weehawken, N. J.

TENNIS WINS, LOSES

One-sided scores marked the victory and defeat of the Varsity tennis team last week. Playing at State College, Pa., May 5, Cornell defeated Penn State, 8-1. At Annapolis May 8, the team bowed to the US Naval Academy, 9-0.

Line-up for the Penn State match had Peter W. Stone '45 of Staten Island No. 1, Hollis D. Young '46 of Oyster Bay No. 2, Captain John E. Slater '43 of Yonkers No. 3, James B. Dinneen '44 of Sherburne No. 4, Gordon B. Blatz '43 of Philadelphia, Pa., No. 5, and Francis J. Worcester '43 of Middletown No. 6. Young and Blatz won in straight sets, but Stone, Slater, and Worcester had to play three sets to win.

In the Naval Academy match, Captain Slater played No. 1, followed by Stone, Young, Dinneen, Worcester, and Blatz.

GOLFERS PLACE SIXTH

Cornell finished sixth in a field of nine in a two-day tournament at Princeton last Saturday and Sunday. The US Naval Academy and Princeton qualified for the final team match, the Academy winning, 7-2.

Cornell was represented by Clarence H. Hutt '44 of Buffalo, Henderson G. Riggs '44 of Elmira, Robert E. Dillon '44 of Williston Park, Edwin M. Sampson, Jr. '44 of Columbus, Ohio, John D. Keenan '45 of Caldwell, N. J., and Frank J. Thomas '46 of Meadville, Pa.

FOOTBALL PLANS

Harvard announced last week a decision to abandon intercollegiate football for the duration. Yale announced it would play a twelve-game schedule and invited applications for four games in September in addition to eight already booked for October and November. Princeton, Dartmouth, and Columbia have indicated they would go ahead with football plans.

Cornell has eight games scheduled and expects to play them with team candidates from among the Navy men detailed here. Practice will start July 15. Coach Carl Snavely said: "We feel that football will be a more important contribution to the training of boys this year than ever before."

ETA KAPPA NU, honor society in Electrical Engineering, has elected Moody C. Thompson '44 of Ithaca, Howard G. Turner '44 of Omaha, Neb., Jose del-Palacio '44 of Durango, Mexico, Charles G. Mallery '44 of Albany, Robert B. Trousdale '44 of Ithaca, and Harrison C. Whitman '45 of Salem, Mass.

REUNION BONDS MOUNT Classes Build Alumni Fund

Bonded Reunions to replace the usual Class Reunions in Ithaca at Commencement time this year had brought to the Alumni Fund office through last Monday 185 gifts of $25 Series F War Savings Bonds for Cornell, or their equivalent, from alumni who are thus using the cost of a Reunion trip to benefit the University and the country's war effort. Thirty-five Bonds were received on Monday, and the daily rate is increasing as the normal Reunion time nears.

Lehigh University cites in its current Alumni Bulletin Cornell's leadership in originating Bonded Reunions and quotes the endorsements of the idea sent out from Washington by Henry Morgenthau, Jr. '13, Secretary of the Treasury, and Joseph B. Eastman, Director of the Office of Defense Transportation. Lehigh, like Cornell, has cancelled Class Reunions on the campus and urges its alumni to send Bonds. Inquiry about the Bonded Reunions idea was also received this week from Cornell College at Mt. Vernon, Iowa, following a notice of the Cornell plan published in the American Alumni Council News for professional alumni workers of most American colleges and universities.

Reporting to members of Class committees for the Alumni Fund, Secretary Walter C. Heasley, Jr. '30 said May 6 that the Fund that day had passed $100,000. May 1, the Fund stood at $96,661.04 from 3,803 contributors, which compares with $50,079.19 May 1 last year from 3,615 contributors. April this year brought 10 per cent more gifts than in 1942, totalling approximately 25 per cent more in dollars. The Class of 1916 led all others May 1 in number of contributors, and the Class of '09 had passed the Class of '10 in amount contributed, leading $15,845 to $14,909.

A letter from President Edmund E. Day recently mailed to all Cornellians pointed out the University's decreased enrollment at midyear of 19 per cent and predicted that the fiscal year ending June 30 may bring an operating deficit of $250,000. Response to this appeal is already coming in, alumni contributing generously to meet the urgent need described by the President.

Heasley says that if the record of last May and June is upheld or exceeded, the Alumni Fund when the books are closed June 30 may reach more than $150,000 given for Cornell since last July 1.

STATE APPROPRIATIONS

New York State Legislature, changing the fiscal year from July 1 to April 1, appropriated $2,799,678.66 to the State Colleges at the University. The College of Agriculture received $1,839,747; Home Economics, $354,400; the Veterinary College, $212,061.66; and the Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva, $393,470. In addition, $12,500 was appropriated for the State Drill Hall and the Land Scrip appropriation for 1943-44 amounted to $34,428.

The original State budget provided $229,344 less for the College of Agriculture than in 1942-43. The reduction was intended to affect only resident teaching, but it necessitated eliminating eighty-nine positions and approximately $65,000 in maintenance, affecting research and extension as well as teaching. Supplementary appropriations restored $89,147, of which $10,000 is for extension work on farm animals, approximately $35,000 for maintenance in research and extension, and the rest to restore some of the important research positions.

ROCKEFELLER GRANTS

Annual report of the Rockefeller Foundation for 1942 reports three grants to Cornell University during the year. For three-year research on the chemistry of enzymes, directed by Professor James B. Sumner, Biochemistry, the sum of $22,000 is reported. For summer programs dealing with the history and culture of the Far East, British Commonwealth of Nations, and Latin America, $15,000 was appropriated for three years. A grant of $18,000 was made to extend for five years studies of the folklore of Upstate New York. Several of the fifty British medical students supported in this country by the Foundation are at the Medical College in New York.

Professor William I. Myers '14, Agricultural Economics, is a trustee and member of the executive committee of the Rockefeller Foundation.

WESTCHESTER WOMEN

Eighteen members of the Cornell Women's Club of Westchester County met for tea April 17 at the home of Mrs. Robert L. Schmidt (Avalon Adams) '23 in White Plains. Following a business meeting at which the Club president, Juliette E. Way '29, presided, Mrs. Walter Zimmerman, who lived twelve years in Thailand, told of the native life there and of her experiences.

NEW BUFFALO OFFICERS

Cornell Club of Buffalo at its annual dinner at the Hotel Buffalo April 17 elected Paul E. Fitzpatrick '20, president, succeeding George A. Newbury '17. Fitzpatrick is president of American Lubricants Co.

VanLoan Whitehead '08 and James W. Oppenheimer '32 were elected vice-presidents and Herbert R. Johnston '17 was re-elected secretary-treasurer, with William G. Conable '36 assistant secretary-treasurer and John Pennington '24 athletic director.

MID-WEST CLUBS GATHER

Professor John C. Adams '26, English, and Director William L. Malcolm, PhD '37, Civil Engineering, were recent guests of Cornell Clubs in four cities of the Middle West. They told of the war changes taking place at the University, showed colored pictures of the Campus and answered questions of alumni and of the prospective students who attended some of the meetings.

Among the thirty persons at a smoker of the Cornell Club of Dayton, Ohio, at the Engineers' Club April 27 were twelve Army officers from nearby Wright and Patterson Fields. One of these was Major Emmet J. Murphy '22, on leave as Alumni Secretary of the University. Four boys were on hand from Dayton high schools. George Siebenthaler '27, secretary of the Club, arranged the meeting and introduced the speakers. Edward C. Lewis '27 was elected president of the Club; Charles D. Boehme '35, vice-president; John S. Brown, Jr. '35, secretary; and H. Roger Williams '34, treasurer.

Next day in Cincinnati, the Campus travellers were dinner guests of seventeen members of the Cornell Club of Southern Ohio, at the University Club. They were introduced by L. Bartlett Shapleigh '24, president of the Club.

Cornell Club of Indiana had a score of alumni at a dinner April 29 at the University Club in Indianapolis. Chairman was John F. Modrall '34.

Fourteen schoolboys, parents, and high school principals were entertained by an equal number of alumni at a Cornell Day luncheon of the Cornell Club of Michigan at the University Club in Detroit, May 1. The party was arranged by Ralph F. Shreve '06, and Allan W. Dow, Jr. '20, president of the Club, presided. After the University speakers had finished and shown their pictures, questions and general discussion of Cornell went on until four o'clock.

ADVICE TO CHILDREN

Beware of Parents. By George Jean Nathan '04, illustrated by Whitney Darrow, Jr. Farrar & Rhinehart, Inc., New York City. 130 pages. $2.

George Jean Nathan '04 has occupied the same bachelor apartment in West Forty-fourth Street for nearly forty years. Real estate agents have frequently cited this instance as the Manhattan record for steadfastness, endurance, and stubbornness on the part of the tenantry.

Now from the depths of his experience Mr. Nathan, having purged the theater, takes up the cudgels for little children and in this latest book dauntlessly sustains the thesis that American fathers and mothers, having demonstrated their inefficiency, should not be trusted to rear tiny tots.

Moreover, George states his case with a plausibility, a cogency, and a sincerity that leaves the outraged parent baffled and totally unable to refute his charges. The chapter headings are "Parental Hypocrisy, Parental Paralogia, Parental Dietetics and Craniostosis, Parental Monophasia, and General Complaints. Which gives you the general idea!

Farrar & Rhinehart (both parents themselves) are the publishers, in case you wish to go on with the matter and put Mr. Nathan in his place. But we'd advise you not to. Through the crowding years, experts have tried and failed dismally, after decades of all-out effort in the quest.—R. B.

WRITER'S MANUAL

New Highways in College Composition. By Homer A. Watt '06, Oscar Car-gill, and William Charvatt of New York University. Prentice-Hall, Inc., New York City. xv+1066 pages. $3.25.

This is a revision of the same authors' Highways in College Composition, first printed in 1930.

The first 300 pages, called "The Rhetoric," tell the student how to write, with liberal examples of good and bad form and usage and a "Work Program" to summarize each chapter. Part II, "The Reader," has selected examples by contemporary writers of simple narratives, short stories, essays, criticisms, critical biographies, reviews, and debates. Part III, "The Handbook," is a convenient guide to the rules of writing, outlined for ready reference.

MARYLAND ELECTS

Annual meeting of the Cornell Club of Maryland, at the University Club in Baltimore, April 30, elected Ralph Bolgiano '09 president for this year. He succeeds Edward H. Carman, Jr. '16, who was continued as chairman of the secondary schools program. Vice-president of the Club is John DeB. Shepard '29; secretary, Roy H. Ritter '30; treasurer, George W. Snibbe, Jr. '22.

INSIDE THE WPB

James S. Knowlson '05, now back in Chicago, Ill., as president and chairman of the board of the Stewart-Warner Corp. after sixteen months in Washington with the OPM and WPB, writes in The Atlantic for May "The Conclusions of a Dollar-a-Year Man." He describes intimately the difficulties of converting the country's industries to war production and the personalities of the men responsible, including Lieutenant General William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman of the OPM, Donald Nelson, Leon Henderson, and others of the WPB, where Knowlson was director of industry operations and then until January, vice-chairman.

"Down the line" he says, "there was many* another businessman who, like me, paused for a moment between 'obscurity' and 'oblivion' to take his small part in this gigantic job. . . . Personally I learned that a lot of businessmen took to bureaucracy like a duck to water, and that so-called government red tape is not so much the result of governmental inefficiency as of the necessity of dealing with problems so large that the decimal point gets pushed way over to the right. I lost ten pounds and a lot of prejudices. . . . It is a serious thing to lose ten pounds and so many prejudices. So I am glad to be back on my old job. At the same time, I have an idea that I shall always be glad that I was part of that conglomerate mixture of bureaucrats, and Democrats, and Republicans, and New Dealers, and manufacturers, and professors, who argued and scrapped through those trying days, but who all worked for a common objective."

CALIFORNIANS MEET

Meeting for luncheon at the San Francisco University Club April 7, sixteen members of the Cornell Club of Northern California enjoyed a description by the Club secretary, Carroll R. Harding '10, of how perishable freight is moved from Mexico into the United States by the Southern Pacific Railroad of Mexico. Harding is assistant to the president of the Southern Pacific Co. and district director of the Cornell Alumni Association.

HOTEL EZRA CORNELL

Eighteenth annual Hotel Ezra Cornell, conducted by students in Hotel Administration May 1, had 110 guests at the dinner, prepared and served by students, this year in the auditorium of Martha Van Rensselaer Hall. To open the evening, a trumpet fanfare and dimmed lights introduced Dorothy Cothran '43, on the stage, who sang the National Anthem. For the serving of champagne sherbert for dessert, the curtains of the stage parted again to disclose a huge champagne bottle in a spotlight. From it burst six women students of the Department, bearing the desserts for the speakers' table.

Guest speaker this year was F. Harold Van Orman, president of the American Hotel Association. James H. Barrett '43 of Old Forge, managing director of Hotel Ezra Cornell, was toastmaster. After dinner, Willard Straight Memorial Room was filled to capacity for the annual Hotel Ezra Cornell dance.

Cornell Society of Hotelmen, meeting that morning, elected Milton R. Shaw '34, manager of dining rooms at Willard Straight Hall, first vice-president, and Jacob S. Fassett, 3d. '36, proprietor of the Jefferson Hotel, Watkins Glen, second vice-president. Professor John Courtney '25 was re-elected secretary-treasurer. The president of the Society is elected by mail vote. Directors elected for two-year terms are Alfred L. Olsen '25, re-elected, Ruel E. Tyo '27, Kenneth W. Baker '29, Kevin E. Howard '31, Chester C. Coats '33, George R. Barns '35, Mrs. Eugene Winberg (Alma Wigle) '37, James A. Rockey '39, Mrs. Gordon H. Hines (Priscilla Blaikie) '41, and James H. Barrett '43.

Professor Courtney presented his report as secretary-treasurer, Edgar A. Whiting '29 reported as editor of the Bulletin of the Society, and Walter C. Heasley, Jr. '30, secretary of the Cornell Alumni Association, spoke on the new alumni program.

ENGINEERS ACCELERATE

Further streamlining its program to meet war needs, the College of Engineering has announced that all its students will be required to attend for three terms a year. The summer term starts on or about June 28, and it is expected that most entering students will begin with the summer term when the usual Freshman Engineering courses will be offered. Fall term will open October 25 and the spring term, February 28, 1944.

Readjustment in the College scholarships provides for additional financial assistance which summer attendance may require. McMullen Regional Scholarships, both for new students and for those now holding them, will carry the same stipend for each term that the holder would otherwise receive, and will continue for the number of terms required to obtain the first Engineering degree. McMullen War Scholarships of $100 a term will be awarded on an annual basis, depending upon financial need and scholastic records, with preference given to upperclassmen if funds are not sufficient for all approved applicants.

For the duration of the war, the course in Chemical Engineering, which has required five years, is reduced to eight terms for present students who will complete three terms or less in the School this month, and for all entering students. The degree of BS in Chemical Engineering will be conferred upon completion of eight terms, instead of that of Chemical Engineer.

STUDENT PLAYS WIN PRIZES

Forbes Heermans Prizes for the best one-act plays by students on American themes were awarded this year to Patricia A. Colbert '44 of Youngstown and Katherine Thompson '44 of Tucson, Ariz. Miss Colbert won first prize of $100 for her two plays, "Private Performance," a comedy concerning a group of girls enlisted for farm work on an Upstate farm, and "Fair Day Thursday," described as a sophisticated comedy of character. Second prize of $50 went to Miss Thompson for "Ten Cents Worth of God-Helps-Us," a farce about a matrimonial bureau conducted by an Adirondack guide. Walter Scheinman '44 of Kew Gardens received honorable mention for his play, "Retreat," a wartime melodrama based on a recent newspaper story of two recluse brothers in New York City. A Faculty committee headed by Professor George J. Thompson, Law, judged fifteen plays submitted by five men and two women. The University Theatre plans to produce at least two of the prize-winning plays.

CHANGES IN STAFF

University Board of Trustees at its spring meeting in Ithaca approved leaves of absence to four members of the staff. Professor William T. Miller, Chemistry, was granted leave to work with Dr. H. C. Urey, chemist at Columbia University. Professor Juan E. Reyna '98, Agricultural Engineering, goes to Washington for three months to help prepare educational materials to assist underprivileged farmers in Latin-American countries. Mario B. Rodriguez, graduate instructor in Romance Languages, is appointed a US vice-consul in South America. Leland G. Cox, PhD '42, Ornamental Horticulture, will work on the rubber project at the University.

Lucile Petry will become September 1 the first Dean of the recently-affiliated Cornell University-New York Hospital School of Nursing. For the last two years senior public health nursing consultant in the US Public Health Service, Miss Petry received the AB at University of Delaware in 1924 and graduated at the Johns Hopkins School of Nursing in 1927. She studied psychiatric nursing at the Henry Phipps Clinic in Philadelphia, Pa., and holds the MA of Columbia; was head nurse and supervisor in the Johns Hopkins Hospital; and taught in the University of Minnesota School of Nursing, becoming assistant director in 1940.

STUDENT SCULPTOR WINS HONOR

Jane T. Spargo of Rome, Senior in Arts and Sciences, with some of her work for which she was recently elected to membership in the National Association of Women Artists. Next to her arm is her portrait head, "Basin Street," and at right, her head of Albert J. Mangones '42 of Port-au-Prince, Haiti, who worked with her under direction of Professor Kenneth L. Washburn '26, Architecture. A third composition, "The Harvester," was included in the Women Artists' Association exhibit at the American Fine Arts Gallery in New York City. Miss Spargo's head of Mangones won first prize of $10 for sculpture in the Willard Straight Hall student art show. First award for paintings went to Eugene Lessere '45 of New York City. Fenner since 1924, was advanced to become professor of Pharmacology.

The Trustees approved additional appointments to the staff of the Engineering, Science, and Management War Training courses of the College of Engineering, in which enrollment of 3200 persons this spring is the largest since these courses were started in 1940. Evening courses of sixteen weeks are being given in the Buffalo-Niagara Falls area to 1860 persons and to 500 in Ithaca, 240 in Binghamton, 165 in Elmira, 126 in Auburn, 140 in Corning, and to lesser numbers in Endicott, Jamestown, Dansville, Penn Yan, Wellsville, and Hornell.

NO ISSUE NEXT WEEK

Term examinations—probably the last until after the war for a substantial number of students—begin Monday, May 17. Already the lights are burning late in dormitory and fraternity and sorority rooms.

As is our custom, the ALUMNI NEWS will suspend publication for the week of finals. Our next issue will be that of May 27, with a report of the University's wartime Commencement and the alumni meetings of May 22.

SPEAKER to Seniors in Hotel Administration May 7 was Archie M. Palmer '18, associate director of the food rationing division of the OPA in Washington, D.C.

ate dining rooms in the present Theta Xi, Seal and Serpent, and Tau Kappa Epsilon houses, but will not run the women's dining room in Sage College as it has this year. The house at 410 Dryden Road given to the University by Albert R. Mann '04 and Mrs. Mann (Mary Judd) '04 and the former Omega Tau Sigma house at 413 Dryden Road, which this year housed undergraduate women, will be used for women in the Graduate School and in the Law School.

A YALE MAN'S PRAISE

F. Ellis Jackson '00 has obtained permission for the ALUMNI NEWS to publish the following letter written to Jackson by a friend in Providence, R. I., who is a member of the Yale class of 1902:

Confirming many talks we have had, this is to put in writing something of the record of the Cornell men who served in the last war under my command or as associates at Rock Island, Camp Dodge, and in France. About the best way one can size it up is to say that whenever there was a Cornell man assigned to a job worry ceased, as he would invariably accept responsibility and the job was as good as done when given to him.

At Rock Island, I had a school of some eighty officers, men ranking all the way from lieutenants to colonels, as well as a school for Ordnance enlisted personnel. I would say that a majority of the officers and many of the non-coms were Cornell graduates, and without exception, in my experience, gentlemen of the highest professional technical and engineering skill. Entirely on their own, they prepared a hundred-page book adapting the outworn Taylor system to the demands of a base which was being multiplied one hundred-fold almost overnight. This book received the highest praise from the Secretary of War, although it was never used in France as the AEF fortunately adopted the British system of keeping stores. But that is beside the point, which is that Cornell men everywhere seem to be natural leaders and certainly in the Ordnance field a large part of the success which attended our work was due to Cornell men. A Yale man can honestly say, it is a wonderful University; if not the best, at least one of the best technical training schools in the world.

AGRICULTURE CHANGES

College of Agriculture has announced that its Freshmen, most of whom are expected to enter next fall after a summer of farm work, may substitute the more practical agricultural courses in their first year for the previously required beginning English and science courses. Restricting this optional program, the Faculty has ruled that first-year "students whose background and future plans indicate a need for orientation to agriculture shall be required to take at least twenty-four credit hours of courses offered in the College of Agriculture." Other students, under guidance of their Faculty advisers, may take either the usual prescribed six hours of English, six hours of biological science, and six hours of physics or chemistry, as part of their required thirty or more hours of Freshman work, or may substitute for all or part of these, additional courses in Agriculture.

Professor A. Wright Gibson '17, Director of Resident Instruction in Agriculture, points out that the new arrangement "will enable entering students to get a better background for farming or related work. Many will be able to complete no more than one or two terms in college before they enter military service or full-time farm employment. Some of these seventeen-year-old students will find instruction for actual farming most useful in the limited time. Others who have adequate background for the work they wish to take may prefer to follow the usual Freshman program which emphasizes study of science."

Change in permitted arrangement of Freshman courses does not change the requirements for graduation, Professor Gibson says, but only makes the order of instruction more flexible. Required English and science courses will be taken after those giving practical farm training and background, if students choose the new Freshman schedule. The revised program is planned only for the duration of the war.

RAVEN AND SERPENT, Junior women's honor society, has elected as next year's chapter Phyllis C. Avery of LeRoy, Nancy C. Barone of LeRoy, Eleanor Dickie of White Plains, Thelma E. Emile of Staten Island, Margaret Hammersley of Hamburg, Ina Hunder of Bronxville, Virginia M. Lowe of Jenkintown, Pa., Patricia A. Orling of Upper Darby, Pa., Sally Willcox of New York City, and Maralyn Winsor of Ithaca.

ON THE CAMPUS AND DOWN THE HILL

FRATERNITY RUSHING will be allowed this summer, but no pledging will be permitted until after the interfraternity Council meets the day before registration for the summer term, scheduled to begin on or about June 28. The matter was discussed by the Council at a meeting May 9, after the announcement that the Navy would be quartered in some houses but without exact information as to which ones would be leased for this purpose by the University.

CHIMES COMPETITION, in which the efforts of the unidentified competitors are judged by invited undergraduates and other members of the University, resulted in a decisive vote for G. Elizabeth Finley '45 to be added to the staff. Student in Arts, her father is an Army officer stationed in Sherman, Tex. Head Chimemaster, beginning with the summer term, will be Robert H. Frankenfild '45 of Buffalo. He succeeds Phyllis F. Dittman '43 of Walden.

SPHINX HEAD chapter for next year will be headed by William S. Wheeler of Evanston, Ill. Other Senior officers will be Peter P. Miller, Jr. of Schenectady, vice-president; Albert Beehler, Jr. of Baltimore, Md., secretary; Russell T. Kerby, Jr. of Summit, N.J., treasurer; and J. Russell Geib of Binghamton, master of ceremonies.

CORNELL-IN-CHINA Club is seeking to add to the $700 given by students through the Campus Chest to assist needy Chinese students in the University of Nanking. The Rev. John D. W. Fetter of CURW is secretary-treasurer of Cornell-in-China, Inc.

TO THE VESTRY of St. John's Episcopal Church in Ithaca, Professor John N. Tilton '13, Architecture, has been re-elected and Martin W. Sampson, Jr. '37, Administrative Engineering, is a new member.

MASS MEETING of all undergraduate women in the University in Bailey Hall May 4 was to install the new officers of WSGA and for Mortar Board to present its awards to the women with highest scholarship in each College. Highest of all was Beatrice G. Gottlieb '45 of New York City, in Arts, with an average of 94. Other awards were made to Dorothy R. Mooney '45 of Lake Hiawatha, N.J., and Marisa Colombo '45 of New York City, Architecture; Patricia Child '46 of New York City, Electrical Engineering; Inez M. Leeds '46 of New York City, Chemical Engineering; Gertrude I. Huntington '44 of Ithaca and Jeannette B. Snyder '46 of Rochester, Agriculture; H. Jane Semanek '46 of Binghamton, Home Economics; Lisbeth M. Kraft '45 of HISTORY was made in the downtown Cornell Daily Sun offices the night of May 5 when the news editor for next day's paper was Mary J. Hall '45 of Jersey City, N.J. Daughter of Perry O. Hall '18 and granddaughter of the late Thomas Hall '94, she is the first woman member of the board to have responsibility for "putting the paper to bed," and has since been followed in the job by other women of the staff. WSGA and the Counselor of Students have given permission for women night editors to "take the trick" until the 2:30 a.m. deadline, the only restriction being that they must ride in a taxi up the Hill when they have finished. Thus the Sun is able to meet its wartime manpower shortage.

Ithaca and Anne H. Gott '45 of Pittsford, Veterinary; Mary R. Wright '45 of Herkimer and Barbara D. Schminck '45 of Maumee, Ohio, Hotel Administration; and Dorothy Socolow '45 of New York City, Arts.

CORNELL DAILY SUN two days after the women's mass meeting reported that one of the attractive "young ladies" present walked home to Balch Hall with others, called at Anna Comstock house where "she" was introduced to the chaperone as Miss Diana Esperson, and from there was carried off by his fraternity brothers from the Theta Xi house.

ONE-MAN SHOW of forty-four landscapes and animal paintings in oil by Professor Walter King Stone, Architecture, opens in Washington, D.C., in the US National Museum of the Smithsonian Institution, June 4, to continue through June 27. Professor Stone will be in Washington for an opening reception. His paintings include several of the region about Ithaca. They are hung in the Willard Straight art gallery this month.

WAYSIDE AFTERMATH, women's social society, has voted to continue its activities through the summer term. New president is Inez C. L. Johnston '44 of Ithaca; vice-president, Marion E. Fenelly '46 of New York City; recording secretary, Nancy G. Harrington '45 of Attica; treasurer, Gilberta A. Stevens '45 of Beacon.

CORNELLIAN staff elected as editor-in-chief for the 1944 volume Richard B. Hillman '44 of Upper Darby, Pa., in place of Russell C. Marron '44 of Rochester, who has left the University for the Army Air Forces. John C. Barker '44 of Shaker Heights, Ohio, is managing editor and Barbara Gans '44 of New York City is women's editor. Business manager will be A. Nancy L. Green '44 of LeRoy.

CONTINUED RAINS and a resultant Lake level a foot higher than the usual maximum have backed up the creeks and last week made the Tompkins County Fair grounds the best fishing spot hereabouts. Men, women, and children were scooping up six- to ten-pound pike on the Fairgrounds with their hands, hats, and spears. Out toward Stewart Park, large carp were plentiful in a backwater along Cayuga Street extension. Strong winds on the high Lake last week did a considerable amount of damage to cottages along the shore.

QUILL AND DAGGER Senior officers for next year are William A. Basse of Highland Park, Mich., president; James A. Purdy of Hinsdale, Ill., vice-president; Philip C. Collins of New Kensington, Pa., secretary; Jackson R. Pope of Kenosha, Wis., treasurer.

MASTERSERGEANT Charles W. Marks, US Army, retired, who was detailed to the ROTC at Cornell from its start in 1919 until last August, has been sworn in as a full-time deputy in the Tompkins County sheriff's office. His son, Donald V. Marks '43, is a second lieutenant in the Signal Corps, at Camp Murphy, Fla.

DRAMATIC CLUB presented some of its newer members in three one-act plays in the Willard Straight Theater May 7 and 8. They were "Hullabaloo," an English comedy by Philip Johnson; the Pyramus and Thisbe scene from Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream;" and "A Man Should Have a Wife" by Elizabeth Raushenbush '25.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION president for next year is Grace M. Davis '44 of Yonkers. Patricia A. Orling '45 of Upper Darby, Pa., is vice-president; Norma A. Alessandrini '44 of Schenectady, secretary; Suzanne Spitz '45 of New Rochelle, treasurer; Josephine Borland '44 of Oil City, Pa., social chairman; Marianna L. Ricciardi '44 of Leonia, N.J., intramurals manager.

ALPHA EPSILON PHI won the sorority scholarship cup presented by the Panhellenic Association for the year ending last January. This was the second year of its leadership. With a scholastic average of 80.28 for the period, Alpha Epsilon Phi was followed by Delta Delta Delta with 78.58, Alpha Omicron Pi 78.43, Delta Gamma 78.17, Chi Omega 77.92, Pi Beta Phi 77.79, Sigma Kappa 77.66, Kappa Kappa Gamma 77.30, Kappa Alpha Theta 77.29, Kappa Delta 77.24, Alpha Xi Delta 77.23, Sigma Delta Tau 77.22, and Alpha Phi 76.00. Kappa Kappa Gamma won the term award for the most hours spent in making surgical dressings in the Red Cross workroom.

'86 PhB—ISAAC HOWARD RUSSELL, March 27, 1943, in North East, Pa. He was superintendent of Erie County, Pa., schools for twenty-two years until his retirement in July, 1930.

'89 ME(EE)—ALLAN CHRISTOPHER BALCH, April 30, 1943, in Los Angeles, Cal., where he lived at the Biltmore Hotel. He was active in the organization of the San Gabriel Light & Power Co., the Southern California Gas Co., and the San Joaquin Light & Power Co. Retiring after the sale of these utilities fifteen years ago, he and Mrs. Balch (Janet Jacks), Grad '86-'88, had become leading patrons of educational and cultural interests in Southern California. In 1929 they built and furnished Balch Halls as a residence for undergraduate women of the University. Mr. Balch was a trustee of California Institute of Technology since 1925 and president of the board since 1933. He helped establish the Kerckhoff Biological Laboratories and in 1929-30 he and Mrs. Balch founded the Balch School of the Geological Sciences at California Tech, where they also gave the Athenaeum, a social center for the Institute. They gave Janet Jacks Balch Hall to Scripps College, Claremont, Cal. Mr. Balch was a director of the Southern California Symphony Association, the Hollywood Bowl Association, a member of the board of governors of the Southwest Museum and the Los Angeles Museum and of the finance committee of the Huntington Library and Art Gallery. He stroked the '87 Varsity crew, was vice-commandore of the Navy, president of the Athletic Association, and business manager of The Crank, Cornellian, and Magazine. He was vice-president of the Cornellian Council, 1929-39; member of Alpha Delta Phi and the Cornell Club of Southern California. A Trustee committee was appointed at the Board meeting May 1 to draft a memorial resolution to Mr. Balch.

Concerning THE FACULTY

TRUSTEE EDWARD R. EASTMAN, editor of the American Agriculturalist, addressed the annual meeting of the US Chamber of Commerce in New York City, April 27. He said that after the peace, "demand for food will rapidly decrease. Even if the Old World needs food what will it use for money with which to pay for it? Should employment fall off, the present high per capita consumption of food will, of course, go down. Therefore, with continued high production on one side and lowered consumption on the other, farmers may face a surplus that could eventually result in a depression that would make the last one look like thirty cents."

PROFESSOR WILLIAM I. MYERS '14, Agricultural Economics, has been elected a trustee of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York City. He is a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, a trustee and member of the executive committee of the Rockefeller Foundation, and a member of the research advisory board of the Committee for Economic Development. He was Governor of the Farm Credit Administration and president of the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation.

DONALD H. MOYER, University Councillor of Students the last two years, reported at the US Naval Training School at Columbia University May 8, a lieutenant in the Naval Reserve. He expects to be detailed as an administrative officer in the Navy college training program which begins in selected colleges and universities about July 1. Graduate of Harvard in 1927, Lieutenant Moyer is the son of the late Fayette E. Moyer '96.

PROFESSOR MORRIS G. BISHOP '13, Romance Languages, on leave since November with the Office of War Information, was in Ithaca May 4 preparing to go to London, England. He has been in the OWI New York City office, in charge of short-wave broadcasts to Italy.

PROFESSOR LYMAN P. WILSON, Law, president of the Association of American Law Schools, predicts a "ferment of ideas centering about the ever-expanding field of public law" after the war, and that American legal education will have a much broader base of general university training than at present. Saying that "even the small business man will require more legal advice, especially in his frequent relations with the ever-expanding number of public regulatory commissions," he cites the Yale-Harvard experiment of combining law school work with training in business administration and programs at the Universities of Minnesota and Chicago which require four years in law school preceded by two or three years in the undergraduate schools. Results of these and other experiments are being weighed at Cornell, along with realization of the need for "teaching law in action rather than law in theory."

WHITNEY R. CROSS, Curator of the Regional History Collection, and Mrs. Cross have a son, Jonathan R. Cross, born April 26. They live at 115 Eddy Street.

A CHINESE PLANT, the native yam bean used by the Chinese for poisoning fish and killing insects, sent to Cornell by Shin Foon Chiu, Grad '39, is a possible source of insecticide. Professor T. Roy Hansberry, Insect Toxicology, says, "If the yam bean proves as good under field conditions as it does in laboratory tests, it may help to protect millions of dollars' worth of vegetables in 1944 from such insects as pea aphids, Mexican bean beetle, and cabbage worm."

AN OIL PAINTING by Professor Kenneth L. Washburn, Fine Arts, titled "The Undersigned Will Sell at Public Auction," was given special commendation by Edward A. Jewell, New York Times art critic, in his review of a recent exhibition at the National Academy of Design in New York City. The painting is one of a series in which Washburn depicts the life of the farm and small town in Western New York. Professor Washburn was chairman of the jury of selection for a recent exhibition of paintings, ceramics, and prints at the Syracuse Museum of Fine Arts.

FLIGHT OFFICER in the Dutch Royal Air Force, Jan Petri, son of Egon Petri, Pianist-in-Residence, has been detailed to a speaking tour of munitions factories in Great Britain. He spoke on the Allied cause and sold bonds to workmen in Leicester Square. The London Evening Standard published a picture of Flight Officer Petri carrying a banner which read, "25,000 workers work not only with their hands but with their hearts. The women are magnificent. I am honored that I can fight for them."

PROFESSOR EDWARD A. TENNEY, PhD '32, and Dr. R. M. Wardle, English, are authors of an English textbook, recently published by F. S. Crofts & Co., which is being used in nearly 100 universities and colleges besides Cornell. The importance of teaching freshmen to read judiciously is pointed out. The authors' Introduction says: "When a student has been trained to make the words of any page of general writing yield their full meaning, he has in his possession the primary instrument of all higher education."

Concerning THE ALUMNI

Personal items and newspaper clippings about all Cornellians are earnestly solicited.

'82 AB; '84 AB, '85 AM—JAMES F. TUTHILL and his brother, LEWIS H. TUTHILL '84, live at 1418 Rollin Street, South Pasadena, Cal.

'97 AB; '30—EDWARD N. CARPENTER is a member of the law firm of Carpenter, Nay, Caiger & Harding, 73 Cornhill Street, Boston, Mass. He lives at 12 Ocean Avenue, Swampscott, Mass. WILLIAM T. CARPENTER '30 is his son.

'02 AB, '05 PhD—WILLIAM C. GEER of Ithaca, addressing Seniors in Engineering April 30, predicted that a 100,000-mile tire will appear after the war with development of certain synthetics that will outlast natural rubber. The synthetic product, he said, is superior in resistance to sunlight and oil and many types are superior in resistance to abrasion, but natural rubber resists heat better, which is important in severe service. For small tires on popular cars, he considers the all-synthetic product adequate. Dr. Geer is a former vice-president of the B. F. Goodrich Co.

'07 BArch; '09 ME—HAROLD F. WARDWELL has been elected president of the Detroit Steel Products Co., Detroit, Mich., and RANDOLPH W. WEED '09 has been promoted to vice-president of the company. KASTNER '43, recently ordered to duty as a member of the ERC, is now a private in the Field Artillery at Fort Bragg, N. C. He won the varsity "C" in rowing; was a member of the unbeaten Freshman crew in 1940 and of the unbeaten JV crew last year. His father says that Donald's "big regret is his inability to finish the present rowing season."

'13 AB—Mrs. Jane Urquhart (JANE DALZIEL) is secretary of the Medical Disposition Board, Station Hospital, NN 66, Fort Belvoir, Va.

'14 ME; '14 CE; '14 AB—DONALD ALEXANDER is vice-president and a director of E. G. Budd Manufacturing Co., Philadelphia, Pa., and of Budd Wheel Co., Detroit, Mich. BURTON W. BRODT '14 is with the Budd organization in Detroit, and Provost H. W. PETERS '14 will shortly join Budd Manufacturing Co. March 27, General Campbell, chief of Army Ordnance, told in a radio speech about a new tank buster rocket bomb that Budd is making, nicknamed the "bazooka." He spoke of a German officer's surrendering his tank thinking it was being shelled by 155 mm. guns when it was stopped by these bombs.

'15 ME—ALEXANDER M. BEEBEE has been elected a director of the Rochester Gas & Electric Corp. He is superintendent of the gas department and vice-president of the Rochester Engineering Society.

'16 AB—Major COWLES ANDRUS, ★ Army Air Corps, is assigned to the Army Air Base, Bowman Field, Louisville, Ky.

'17 CE—FRANCISCO FERNANDEZ-GRAU is manager of a raw sugar factory in Central Jaronu, Camaguey, Cuba.

Surviving, besides her husband, are a daughter, Gwendolyn A. Grohmann, and a son, Victor Grohmann. Grohmann is president of the Cornell Society of Hotelmen and a vice-president of the Alumni Fund.

'28 AB—SIDNEY KINGSLEY's "The ★ Patriots," was voted the New York Drama Critics Circle award for the best play of the season. In the citation accompanying the prize plaque, the Critics Circle noted the winning play's "dignity of material, its thoughtful projection of a great American theme, its vigorous approach to the characters portrayed and, in spite of certain limitations, its driving final effect on the stage." The plaque and scroll were given to Kingsley, now on duty as a sergeant at Governor's Island, at the Circle's annual dinner held at the Algonquin Hotel, New York City, May 2, when a scene from the play was broadcast. In the New Herald-Tribune for April 11, Kingsley explained that "The Patriots" was not begun with the intent of making Thomas Jefferson the central figure. "The Patriots" was undertaken," he says, "in a search for first principles. It was an attempt to cleave through post-World War scepticism on the one hand and Fourth of July fustian on the other; to rediscover the American faith. It approached the subject with no prejudice. It went to the original sources and documents of his antagonists with as much eagerness as it went to Jefferson's. And if Jefferson then became the hero of the play, it was only because on the basis of facts he emerged as the great protagonist of democracy."

'29 AB—MORTON SINGER writes ★ that he is "about to enter the armed services as a V.O.C." He adds, "Keep the News coming, as it is the only contact with Cornell that I now have, and it is very important to me." Singer was an attorney and counsellor at 45 John Street, New York City. CAMP OTTER

33d SEASON

FOR BOYS 7 TO 17

With a Corne'l Background

Intelligent parents ask three important questions about summer camps:

1. Will the camp be able to get enough nutritious food, under rationing?
2. Is the leadership adequate?
3. Does the camp program meet the needs and desires of my boy in this restless wartime period?

Camp Otter's answer to these three questions is YES:

1. Our own farm and dairy produces most of our food, including milk, butter, meat, fresh vegetables, and maple syrup. Staple goods are already assured.
2. Camp Otter counsellors this year will include a former associate of eighteen years' experience: Bill Crewson, licensed Canadian guide of twenty-six years' background; the director of the last twenty years. In addition, there will be a Cornell Faculty member who has camped in the Northwest, a high school physical director who formerly ran a boys' camp, the camp naturalist, from Cornell, and three Otter counsellors of former years.
3. In its thirty-two years, Camp Otter has built its own Camp ways and traditions that our boys thoroughly enjoy and never forget. Many former Otter campers send their sons.

We still have room for a few more boys this season.

LAST YEAR'S BONDS GOT US STARTED

THIS YEAR'S BONDS

ARE TO WIN!

★ Last year saw nearly 30,000,000 workers voluntarily buying War Bonds through some 175,000 Pay-Roll Savings Plans. And buying these War Bonds at an average rate of practically 10% of their gross pay!

This year we've got to top all these figures—and top them handsomely! For the swiftly accelerated purchase of War Bonds is one of the greatest services we can render to our country . . . and to our own sons . . . and our neighbors' sons. Through the mounting purchase of War Bonds we forge a more potent weapon of victory, and build stronger bulwarks for the preservation of the American way of life.

"But there's a Pay-Roll Savings Plan already running in my plant."

Sure, there is—but how long is it since you've done anything about it? These plans won't run without winding, any more than your watch! Check up on it today. If it doesn't show substantially more than 10% of your plant's pay-roll going into War Bonds, it needs winding!

And you're the man to wind it! Organize a vigorous drive. In just 6 days, a large airplane manufacturer increased his plant's showing from 35% of employees and 2½% of pay-roll, to 98% of employees and 12% of pay-roll. A large West Coast shipyard keeps participation jacked up to 14% of pay-roll! You can do as well, or better.

By so doing, you help your nation, you help your workers, and you also help yourself. In plant after plant, the successful working out of a Pay-Roll Savings Plan has given labor and management a common interest and a common goal. Company spirit soars. Minor misunderstandings and disputes head downward, and production swings up.

War Bonds will help us win the war, and help close the inflationary gap. And they won't stop working when victory comes! On the contrary—they will furnish a reservoir of purchasing power to help American business re-establish itself in the markets of peace. Remember, the bond charts of today are the sales curves of tomorrow!

You've done your bit  Now do your best!
