Law School & Engineering Library Get Gifts from Former Benefactors

GIFT of $1,000,000 has been announced from Emeritus Trustee Myron C. Taylor '94 toward the cost of a residence hall for the Law School. The new building, estimated to cost $1,400,000, will be erected west of Myron Taylor Hall along Cascadilla gorge. Its six floors will have living and dining facilities for 200 Law School students and an apartment for a resident Faculty family. It is being designed by the firm of Eggers & Higgins of New York City, who were architects for Anabel Taylor Hall. Construction is expected to start next year.

This is the third building that Taylor has given to the University. Myron Taylor Hall, built for the Law School, was completed in 1932. Anabel Taylor Hall, interfaith center for Cornell United Religious Work and World War II Memorial, named for Mrs. Taylor, opened in 1952.

Dean Gray Thoron of the Law School says that the new building will give the School residence facilities comparable to those of other leading law schools in the country. It will provide living quarters for most of the unmarried students in the School, who have been scattered in University dormitories and Ithaca rooming houses. "A close relationship among teachers and students has always been one of the outstanding features of a Cornell legal education," he said. "This new residence center, made possible by the continuing generosity of one of our most distinguished graduates, will increase still further the opportunities for interchange among students and between students and Faculty members."

Donor Has Distinguished Career

Taylor received the LLB in 1894 and was a member of the Glee Club while he was a student in the Law School. He was a Trustee of the University from 1928-53 and has been Trustee Emeritus since April, 1953. From 1927-34, he was chairman of the finance committee of United States Steel Corp. and from 1932-38, he was chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the company. From 1939-50, he was personal representative of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman to the Vatican in Rome and from 1950-53, he represented the President on special missions abroad. He served in numerous diplomatic capacities and as adviser to the Department of State and other government agencies. He has received numerous honorary degrees and foreign decorations and citations.

Carpenter '10 Endows Library

Walter S. Carpenter, Jr. '10 has supplemented his gift of Carpenter Hall, opened last fall, with an endowment of $250,000 for the Engineering College Library that is housed in the building. At the dedication of Carpenter Hall last November 1, Carpenter spoke of his special interest in the College Library and said that he hoped to help further its continued development.

Library facilities in Carpenter Hall have been called by University Library Director Stephen A. McCarthy "unquestionably the finest of any engineering library in the country." They are planned and furnished for comfortable and efficient use by students and Faculty members and to take care of reasonable expansion.

Income from the endowment given by Carpenter will be used to purchase books, microfilm texts of scientific works, professional magazines, and other literature. "It will help greatly," says Dean S. C. Hollister, "in our efforts to keep our Library abreast of progress in engineering. The demands of modern engineering education place a greater load upon our Library than ever before. Every advance, every step forward made by scientists and engineers, means that more and more volumes become obsolete. The literature of the profession is also expanding at an accelerating rate. We will be better able to meet this situation now."

Carpenter is chairman of the board of E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co., with offices in Wilmington, Del. He left Sibley College in his Senior year to work for duPont, and was president from 1940-48 when the company was a vast contributor to the country's war effort. He was a Trustee of the University from 1939-46 and has made numerous other gifts to Cornell. He played on Class football teams and was a Varsity broad jumper.

Ithaca Bankers

ALUMNI and Faculty members were elected at recent annual meetings of Ithaca banking institutions.

Joseph M. Hartnett '50 was named secretary of Tompkins County Trust Co. and continues as assistant vice-president. Paul Bradford '18 was re-elected treasurer; Charles E. Treman, Jr. '30, vice-president and trust officer; C. Wesley Thomas '25, vice-president and manager of the Trumansburg branch; and Charles D. Tinker '22, assistant treasurer. Re-elected directors for three years are Treman and Professor Paul M. O'Leary, PhD '29, Economics. Other directors are M. Van Cleef Booth '39, Charles E. Dykes '36, Roland G. Fowler '22, Professor Van B. Hart '16, Agricultural Economics, Director of the University Budget Paul L. McKeegan, Trustee Allan H. Treman '21, and E. Victor Underwood '13.

Stockholders of the First National Bank approved a proposal to change the bank's name to First National Bank & Trust Co. and the directors approved the promotions of George W. Miller '39 from assistant cashier to cashier and Anthony C. DiGiacomo '53 from assistant cashier to assistant vice-president. Re-elected to the board were President Deane W. Malott, Vice-president-business John E. Burton, University Treasurer Lewis H. Durland '30, Dean Martin P. Catherwood, PhD '30, Industrial & Labor Relations, Professor Harold L. Reed, PhD '14 Economics, Emeritus, Frederick L. Brown, Jr. '12, Henry A. Carey '12, Douglas G. Gillette '12, Charles H. Newman '13, Harold R. LaBonte '26, Joseph A. McConnell '46, and Leverett Saltonstall, Jr., PhD '48.

Re-elected officers of the Ithaca Savings & Loan Association were Professor

Carl Crandall '12, Administrative & Civil Engineering, president; E. Victor Underwood '13, vice-president; and Edwin C. Hanselman '27, treasurer. Dr. Norman S. Moore '23, Clinical & Preventive Medicine, and James F. O'Connor '30 were re-elected directors.

Professor Jorissen Dies

PROFESSOR ANDRE L. JORISSEN, head of Hydraulics & Hydraulic Engineering, died in Ithaca, February 27, 1958. He was forty-five.

A native of Liege, Belgium, Professor Jorissen received the CE in 1935 and DSc in 1949 at University of Liege and the MS in 1937 at MIT. From 1937-43 he held an assistantship at Liege, where he was awarded in 1941 the honorary title, Ingenieur des Travaux, urbains et coloniaux. He was an associate in the Belgian National Fund for Scientific Research from 1943-49 and in 1946-47 was an advanced fellow with the Belgian-American Foundation. He was a scientific adviser to the Laboratoire Central d'Hydraulique in Paris, France, in 1947-48.

Professor Jorissen came to Cornell in 1951, after two years as head of the hydraulics laboratory and professor of civil engineering at Pennsylvania State College. In 1954 he became an American citizen and was licensed as an engineer in New York State. He was the author of many scientific articles on measurement standards and had been a member of several international committees for the standardization of flow movements. Last fall he was awarded a John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Fellowship to study problems and methods of hydraulic measurement. Former secretary of the division of graduate studies of the American Society of Engineering Education, Professor Jorissen was a member of the International Association for Hydraulic Research, the ASME, ASCE, Chi Epsilon, Tau Beta Pi, Sigma Xi, and many European professional societies. He is survived by his wife and daughter.

Consider Civil Liberties

LECTURESHIP in civil liberties has been established at the Law School with a gift from Henry A. Carey '12, president of the Ithaca insurance firm of H. A. Carey Co., Inc. An original gift of $1000 provides for the Henry A. Carey Lectureship in Civil Liberties and $250 of each subsequent annual gift will be used to maintain the Lectureship. Funds beyond that figure are to be used for general University scholarships. The first lecture was given in Myron Taylor Hall, February 13, by Professor Harrop A. Freeman '29, Law, who spoke on "Civil Liberties: Acid Test of American Democracy." Professor Freeman is a member of the American Civil Liberties Union.

Reunion Classes Spur Annual Gifts

In the last five years, men's Classes holding Reunions have given $755,890 of the total $2,652,816 unrestricted annual gifts made by alumni. The amount and percentage of the total each year is shown above. In 1958 for the first time, the Fifty-year and Forty-five-year Reunion Classes have set special goals. Class of '08, with Herbert E. Mitler as Class representative, has a goal of $50,000 and Class of '13, headed by M. R. Niefeld, is working for $45,000 in gifts to the Cornell Fund. Other Reunion Class representatives this year are Paul C. Wanser '18, George W. Holbrook '23, James P. Stewart '28, Richard D. Vanderwarker '33, Larned S. Whitney, Jr. '38, John E. Slater, Jr. '43, Victor A. Lord '48, and Robert E. Dailey '53. Their Class committees are working under the general chairmanship of Richard K. Kaufmann '22 for the Fund year that ends June 15.

Carey received the LLB in 1912. He has been in the insurance business in Ithaca for more than forty-three years and has been a lecturer on insurance in the Hotel School for the last twenty-one years. He is a director of the First National Bank & Trust Co. of Ithaca and of Paramount Fire Insurance Co. of New York, a life member and former president of the board of managers of Ithaca Reconstruction Home, and a former trustee of Tompkins County Memorial Hospital. He is the father of Mrs. Henry E. Guerlac (Rita Carey) '37, Mrs. Hugh C. Troy, Jr. (Patricia Carey) '39, and Henry A. Carey, Jr. '42.

Watch Out for Impostor

MORE INFORMATION comes about a person posing as a Cornellian to get money from alumni. Last issue we reported that a man using the name of "Virgil R. Williams '43" had appeared in Chattanooga, Tenn. Now there is a report that a person using the same name obtained money fraudulently in Jacksonville, Fla.

Gert H. W. Schmidt '38 wrote to Dean Howard B. Meek of the Hotel School that "some time in December, a Mr. Virgil Williams came to see me claiming that he was a Cornell graduate and that he got my name from the College of Agriculture. He intimated that he had a letter from Dean Myers. He also claimed that he was an employee of Moorman Manufacturing Co. To see him through the week end until his check came from the company, he made a small loan from me; then used his interview with me and supposed Cornell connection to cash a larger check in one of the downtown banks, without my knowledge or approval. When the check was returned to the local bank marked 'No such account,' they asked me whether I knew anything about the man and I then recalled the interview several weeks before."

Schmidt wrote to Moorman Manufacturing Co. in Quincy, Ill. and learned that "a notorious character" named Robert Williams had worked for them for eighteen months in 1940-41. "This man," the company said, "has left a trail of marriages across the country with no divorces. He lived in the finest hotels and left a string of worthless checks and unpaid bills. He has frequently represented himself as employed by our company in a management capacity. He was arrested in 1943 and jailed for draft dodging. . . . Williams is now approximately fifty-four years old. . . ."

As noted in our last issue, there is no record of a Virgil Williams ever attending the University. Readers are urged to call the police and let us know immediately if they are visited by a person using this name who claims to be a Cornellian. Please send a description of the person and his story, so that publication of this information may protect other alumni from being victimized.

Museum Shows Glass

NEW EXHIBITION GALLERY for antique and modern glass has been opened in the White Art Museum. Twenty-two examples of glass are displayed on loan from the museum of Corning Glass Co., which has one of the most comprehensive collections of glass in the world. The earliest example of glass shown is a fragment from an eighteenth dynasty (1580-1350 B.C.) Egyptian vessel called an amphoriskos, a two-handled, egg-shaped container used to store wine, oil, or corn. Also on display is a complete amphoriskos thought to date from the sixth to the third century B.C. and examples of Roman, Persian, Venetian, French, Bohemian, Spanish, Irish, and American glass. The new gallery is on the second floor of the White Museum next to the Cornelliana Room.

For Summer Visitors

PHI GAMMA DELTA house above Fall Creek gorge will offer family vacation accommodations for alumni members of the fraternity and their guests next summer. Walter I. L. Duncan '20, who manages the house for the alumni corporation, says that members who have visited the University in summer have asked for a place to bring their families and friends for a vacation stay. He is arranging, as a trial, to have the house open and staffed to provide rooms for such visitors from August 16 to September 14, at rates of $2.50 a day for adults and $1 for children.

Students Plan Brazilian Capital City

WHILE the Republic of Brazil is starting construction of a new capital city about 600 miles north of Rio de Janeiro, a group of thirty graduate and fifth-year students in Architecture have come up with their idea of what the new capital should look like. The project was part of a course in City & Regional Planning under direction of Professor Frederick W. Edmondson '38, Landscape Architecture. Working from aerial photographs and reports and analyses of conditions in the interior of Brazil, the students have produced architects' drawings, diagrams, and a scale model of Brasilia, as the new capital will be named. The model, along with other material, will be presented to the Brazilian Embassy in Washington, D.C., May 18, during the national convention of the American Society of Planning Officials.

For Half-million Residents

Brasilia, as planned by the students, is a city of glass, steel, and concrete. It is designed to give Brazil a show place for its capital and to make it possible for its expected half-million inhabitants to live and work under near-ideal conditions. The students laid out the city in component parts which include centers for government, trade and shopping, recreational facilities, and a new university. Although some of these component parts are separated by open countryside, they are connected by high speed express highways which permit a rapid and easy flow of traffic. The design has the 500,000 citizens of Brasilia living in small communities of about 3000 inhabitants each on the periphery of the metropolis, thus enjoying the benefits of both big city and small town life. Even though the plans produced by the students are not the same as those being used by the professional city planners in Brazil, it is possible that there will be some similarity since both groups have been working from the same basic data.

Scale Models Show Plans

The three-dimensional model constructed by the students is five and one-half feet by six and one-half feet and would have cost about $10,000 had it been done by a professional model making firm. In building the model, the students used all kinds of small objects to represent things in Brasilia. Tranquilizer capsules became storage tanks, wire staples packed together were used for warehouses and airplane hangars, boats on a lake were represented by dill pickle seeds, tiny beads were used to depict houses, and small beads became automobiles on highways. The scrub forest surrounding the city was created out of a mixture of oregano, parsley, and poppy seeds. In addition, three other three-dimensional models have been created, each showing details of the larger model.

Cornell's connection with Brasilia goes back to 1954 when the firm of Donald J. Belcher & Associates, Inc., headed by Professor Donald J. Belcher, Director of the University Airphoto Research Center, was retained by the Republic of Brazil to locate and plan a new capital city. Under Professor Belcher's direction, aerial photographers took thousands of pictures in an area of about 20,000 square miles and made several hundred colored slides. Dean Thomas W. Mackesey, Grad '39-41, Architecture, and Professor Edmondson made several trips to Brazil that year, flew over the area, examined some of it on the ground, and studied the pictures and slides before the recommendation for the site was made. They took into consideration such things as accessibility, climate and rainfall, soil and rock formations, and potential for future development.

Group Uses Field Data

Last fall, Professor Edmondson decided to give his students in City & Regional Planning the assignment of developing their own design for Brasilia. "It was a natural for us," he said. "We had all the basic information in reports, analyses, aerial photographs and slides, and so on. The preliminary work had been done, and all this material was right here for their use. So I gave them the assignment: create a plan for Brasilia. It has been an academic assignment. They have not told the people actually constructing Brasilia what to do, but rather, they have told the Faculty of the College of Architecture what they would do, if they were doing the work. It has been a group project. Each student has had some single aspect of the over-all assignment to work on. They have learned to work together, as a group. This is important, because in the professional field such projects are carried out by groups or teams of people, working together."

Dance Club Performs

LOCAL DANCE enthusiasts were given an opportunity to see the work of young student dancers, March 12 & 13, when the Cornell Dance Club presented its annual concert in Willard Straight Theater. Although somewhat hampered by an absence of male dancers, the Club nevertheless presented an interesting and sincere program of compositions in group and solo form. Club President Jennifer Tipton '58, who plans a professional career in dance, choreographed two numbers and danced in all but two of the eight compositions on the program. Dance Director May Atherton contrib-Grossman '58, Cecile Baker '58, and Esther M. Schiller '59. William Ames, the Club's composer-pianist, provided four original musical scores well suited to the program.

Represent University

CORNELL DELEGATE at the inauguration of Robert Manning Strozier as president of Florida State University in Tallahassee, February 21, was Viola A. Graham '18 of Tallahassee. She was for many years professor of physiology at Florida State. The cap and gown worn by Miss Graham at the inauguration once belonged to Mrs. Andrew D. White, who gave them to Miss Graham.

Mrs. W. F. Van Heemskerck Duker (Corinne Lasater) '22 of Pauls Valley, Okla. represented the University at the inauguration of Jack Stauffer Wilkes as president of Oklahoma City University, March 6.

Dr. Fred H. Schaefer '14 of Des Moines, Iowa, was the University's delegate at the centennial of Iowa State College in Ames, March 22. Dr. Schaefer retired in 1948 after thirty-four years as a veterinary inspector with the US Department of Agriculture. He is president of the Cornell Club of Iowa.

Concerts Draw Crowds

ONE OF THE FIRST operas ever written, Monteverdi's "The Coronation of Poppea," composed in 1642, was given a modern and polished performance in Bailey Hall, February 28, by the American Opera Society. The difficulties of fitting a cast of twelve and a small orchestra of strings, harp, and piano in the somewhat limited facilities of Bailey Hall were solved effectively by using half the stage for the orchestra and the other half for the dramatic action. The players, who sang in English, wore evening dress and acted with a minimum of props and scenery. Heading a distinguished cast of singers were Leontyne Price, who recently starred in the production of "Porgy and Bess" that toured Russia; Robert Rounesville, leading tenor of the New York City Opera Company; and Mariquita Moll, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company. The orchestra was conducted by Arnold Gamson, who was also responsible for preparing the stylized version of the opera from the original manuscript in the San Marco Library in Venice, Italy.

Despite blizzard-like weather conditions outside, the Koeckert Quartet played to a near capacity house February 18 in the Willard Straight Theater.

The audience was well rewarded by a performance that was both sensitive and technically flawless. Included in the program were Mozart's "Quartet in A Major, K. App. 212," Beethoven's "Quartet in E Flat Minor, Opus 59 No. 2," and Smetana's "Quartet in E Minor ('From My Life')." The Quartet, which has played extensively throughout Europe, is making its first American tour.

The final concert in this year's Bailey Hall series was given March 9 by the Cleveland Orchestra, under direction of George Szell. Substituting for the originally scheduled Czech Philharmonic Orchestra which cancelled its American tour, the Cleveland Orchestra again demonstrated why it is considered by many to be America's finest musical aggregation by playing with great skill and understanding Berlioz's "The Roman Carnival," Schumann's "Symphony No. 3 in E Flat Major, Opus 97," and Richard Strauss's "Burleske" for piano and orchestra, with the Swiss pianist Margrit Weber as soloist. Also included in the program was "Partita for Orchestra" by Sir William Walton, who was commissioned by the Cleveland Orchestra to compose this work in honor of the Orchestra's fortieth anniversary this year. This was the Orchestra's twenty-sixth appearance at Cornell.

Four Varsity Teams Are Champions

A MOST SATISFYING and exciting climax took place in the final eight days of the winter sports season. Cornell teams won the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association championship, the indoor Heptagonal Games Association track title, the National Intercollegiate Polo championship, and the epee weapon title in the Eastern Intercollegiate Fencing Association. These victories were accomplished by a combination of resourceful tutelage and tough-minded determination to win on the part of the athletes. The four coaches—Erie J. Miller Jr. '44, wrestling; Louis C. Montgomery, track; Dr. Stephen J. Roberts '38, polo; and Georges L. Cointe, fencing—each in his turn credited his performers' resoluteness for the success of his team.

Wrestlers Gain Wide Margin

When Cornell's Ivy champion wrestling team upset all predictions and won the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association championships at Pittsburgh, March 14 & 15, it was the first time in twenty-eight years. Coach Miller was just about the only person who believed his team had a chance. Lehigh and Pittsburgh were the favorites and Lehigh took second and Pittsburgh, fifth. The margin of victory was substantial, too. Cornell had 64 to Lehigh's 49, Syracuse's 45, Penn State's 35, Pittsburgh's 27.

Two Davids at the opposite ends of the weight divisions won individual titles: David C. Auble '60 of Ithaca at 123 pounds and David R. Dunlop '59 of Roselle Park, N.J., heavyweight. Two other Cornellians lost by a point: Captain Richard F. Vincent '58, 147 pounds, and Stephen Friedman '59, 157 pounds. Carmon J. Molino '58, 130 pounds, lost 4-2. Captain Vincent and Friedman had not been beaten in ten dual meets. Neither had Auble and he is still unbeaten.

"It was the most inspiring team performance I have ever seen," gloated Coach Jimmy Miller after his first championship in ten years as Cornell coach. He was 145-pound champion under Coach Walter C. O'Connell '11, whose team won last in 1930. Champions that year were Samuel Wakeman '30, heavyweight; Howard S. Johnson '30, 175 pounds; and Kenneth B. Trousdell '30, 135 pounds.

The Cornellians showed more aggressiveness than any of the other fifteen teams in the tournament. They drove incessantly after their men. Coach Miller expressed the view that Molino, Vincent, and Friedman could have come away with titles, too. Molino fell behind in his bout with John Johnston of Penn State and literally could not catch him after that. Captain Vincent was subjected to a couple of tough officials' decisions. Behind 3-2 in his final bout with Dick Santaro of Lehigh, he was denied a close edge-of-the-mat takedown and had a virtual fall situation just as the gong sounded. He also had a time advantage, but it was found at the gong that the timer's clock had run a minute too long, so the point to tie was denied him.

Auble's championship bout was with an old foe, Syracuse's Ed Carlin of Bainbridge, whom he met in high school wrestling and who was an earlier dual meet victim of the Ithaca boy. It was by decision this time, 6-2, the widest margin of the tournament. This bout sewed up the championship for Cornell, due to early points in quarter-final and semi-final results.

Team Members Work Hard

Dunlop's brilliant overtime victory over the defending champion, Tony Stremic of Navy, was a pleasant surprise. The 187-pound Dunlop besieged unmercifully his 208-pound adversary and just would not be beaten.

One of the finest performances was by John M. Gardner, Jr. '59 at 177 pounds, who beat Gallard of Princeton, 5-2, and top seeded Volgenau of Navy. He lost 3-1 to Garretson of Rutgers, but placed fourth. Cornell's other performers were James E. Carter '60 of Ithaca, 137 pounds, a first-round victim; and R. Walker Fillius '59 of Washington, D.C., who was eliminated in the second round of the 167-pound division. The summary:

123—Dave Auble, Cornell, decisioned Ed Carlin, Syracuse, 6-2.

130—Johnny Johnston, Penn State, decisioned Carmon Molino, Cornell, 6-2.

137—Joe Gratto, Lehigh, decisioned Guy Cuccione, Penn State, 5-3.

147—Dick Santaro, Lehigh, decisioned Dick Vincent, Cornell, 3-2.

157—Dave Johnson, Pitt, decisioned Steve Friedman, Cornell, 2-1.

167—Chuck Crosby, Rutgers, decisioned Bill Murphy, Syracuse, 7-6.

177—Pete Davidson, Lehigh, decisioned Bill White, Syracuse, 4-2.

Heavyweight—Dave Dunlop, Cornell, decisioned Tony Stremic, Navy, 3-2 (overtime).

The last dual meet, March 8, produced a 23-13 victory in a match at Princeton. This made it 6-0 in the League. Auble, Molino, Friedman, and Dunlop had pins. Ivy Wrestling League standings:

Cornell	6	0	0	Harvard	2	3	1
Yale	3	2	1	Penn	2	3	1
Brown	3	3	0	Columbia	0	5	1
Princeton	3	3	0

Auble, Dunlop, Molino, Vincent, and Friedman were entered in the NCAA championship meets in Laramie, Wyo., March 28 & 29.

Track Team Wins Heptagonal Meet

In as stirring a performance as was ever witnessed in Barton Hall, the scene of quite a few stirring performances, the Cornell track team won the indoor Heptagonal track championship before a jubilant sell-out audience of 4600. This was on March 8, and it was the sixth successive time that Barton Hall has been the scene of this grand team-show. They have all been wonderfully exciting productions, but this was the best. It had more brilliant individual performances: four new Heps records and another equalled; more dramatic finishes. But no more people than before, as it has always been a sell-out at 4600.

Cornell's title came with 52 points gained from six first places and by scoring in ten of the thirteen events. Coach Montgomery had his team at the very peak of competitive sharpness. It was not an easy win, however, as Army was a dangerously close contestant from the time the meet started at 1 p.m. until it was over at 10:30 p.m. Scoring in eleven events and winning two, Army was second with 46 points. The 1956 and 1957 champion, Harvard, with 28½, was third; Navy was fourth with 24; and favored Yale was a sad fifth with 22½. Next were Pennsylvania with 20, Columbia with 5, Princeton and Dartmouth with 4, and Brown had 2.

Competitors Break Records

Records were made by Co-captain John S. King '58 of Delmar, who won the high jump with a super-eminent 6 feet 8½ inch effort which set a new Heps, new Barton Hall, and a new Cornell record; Irvin Roberson '58 of Philadelphia, Pa., who set a new Heps mark with 24 foot 5¼ inch broad jump; Ed Bagdonas of Army, who threw the 35-pound weight 64 feet 7¼ inches to set a new Heps, Bacon Cage, and intercollegiate record; and Penn's John Gray's 14-1¼ pole vault was a Heps and Barton Hall record, erasing the oldest Hall record on the books, 14-1 by Wirt Thompson of Yale in 1934. Joel Landau of Harvard tied a Heps record with 0:07.4 in the high hurdles.

Cornell did not score in the hurdles, pole vault, or the mile relay. Had David C. Heasley '60 not hit the second hurdle in the final and been forced to drop out, he surely would have gained a place.

Had Albert M. Finch '60 not gone on probation, he probably would have scored in the vault. Co-captain John S. Ingley '58 tried his condition in the 600, which was depreciated by an enforced lay-off due to a muscle pull, and it was found wanting. He placed a poor fourth in a trial heat. He did not run on the mile relay team.

Roberson was a double winner. He won the 60-yard dash in 0:06.3. Last year he was second to teammate Earl S. McHugh '58, who was third this time, just in back of Steve Snyder of Yale. Last year, Roberson won the "Outstanding Performer" trophy put up by the Cornell Club of Ithaca for his first place in the broad jump and second in the dash. This year, his two first places were not enough to beat out Army's Ed Bagdonas for this special award. Roberson was second. Bagdonas's weight throw erased the collegiate and Heps records of Albert W. Hall '56 and was only 9/4 inches short of the world's record. The voting constituency, coaches and newspaper reporters, probably figured that anybody who could outdo Al Hall must be someone extraordinary! Hall was one of the officials in the event and was the first to congratulate the new record holder. Bagdonas took a Cornell man's record and Roberson erased an Army man's record. His 24 foot 5/4 inch broad jump was better than Bob Kyasky's 24-2 set in 1955. Roberson did 25 feet 1 inch, but fouled.

The crowd's real hero, however, was Michael Midler '58 of New Rochelle. He won the mile strongly in 4:17.7, highly respectable time on a flat track, and was the anchor man on the winning two-mile relay team. This was the event that insured victory for the Big Red. Midler, Tau Beta Pi Chemical Engineer, ran away from Tom Cathcart of Yale at the finish of the mile run. In the relay, he allowed Arthur Cahn of Harvard to pass him 150 yards from the finish, as the crowd groaned, and then dramatically nailed him, flew past him, and opened up a ten-yard lead at the finish. The crowd roared its approval and Mike, the hambone, grinned and waved his hand at his audience.

David C. Eckel '58 of Buffalo was another hero. His two-mile run victory in 9:32.4 was the only individual Cornell victory that was entirely unexpected. The favorite was Arthur Reider of Harvard, winner in 1956. Figured for second was last year's startling winner, Ed Sullivan of Brown. Eckel ran them both into the ground and right out of the race with his gruelling pace. Reider was fifth and Sullivan did not place at all.

David G. Cadiz '58 of Sea Cliff deserves mention. This gritty performer took third in the 600 and ran a brilliant third leg in the two-mile relay to give Midler a good lead for the final tour.

All of Cornell's point winners were

Seniors except two Juniors, Charles H. Hill, who was fifth in the 1000 and ran on the two-mile relay team, and Arnold Cummins, who ran on the two-mile relay team. It will be a long time before Cornell wins another Heps title. But this one will not soon be forgotten. The summary:

35-pound weight throw—1, Edward Bagdonas, Army, 64 feet 7/4 inches (new collegiate, Heptagonal and Bacon Cage records; old collegiate, Heptagonal and Bacon Cage records 63 feet 3/4 inches, Albert Hall, Cornell, 1956); 2, Al Dorris, Army, 55 feet 2 3/4 inches; 3, James Doty, Harvard, 54 feet 6 1/4 inches; 4, John DuMoulin, Harvard, 51 feet 1 1/2 inches; 5, Paul Boguski, Cornell, 50 feet 9 3/4 inches.

Broad jump—1, Irvin Roberson, Cornell, 24 feet 5/4 inches (new Heptagonal record; old record 24 feet 2 inches by Robert Kyasky, Army, 1955); 2, John King, Cornell, 23 feet 2 inches; 3, Karl Ripplemeyer, Navy, 22 feet 7 inches; 4, Robert Reed, Pennsylvania, 22 feet 5 inches; 5, Frank Covely, Brown, 22 feet 2 1/2 inches.

600-yard run—1, French Anderson, Harvard; 2, Peter Byrne, Army; 3, David Cadiz, Cornell; 4, Ronald Salter, Army; 5, Jere Boyle, Dartmouth. 1:13.1.

1000-yard run—1, Edward Slowik, Yale; 2, William Hanne, Army; 3, William Garrett, Navy; 4, Eugene Shahan, Princeton; 5, Charles Hill, Cornell, 2:16.9.

Mile—1, Michael Midler, Cornell; 2, Thomas Cathcart, Yale; 3, Thomas Monaghan, Navy; 4, Jerry Lewis, Army; 5, William Thompson, Harvard. 4:17.7.

60-yard dash—1, Irvin Roberson, Cornell; 2, Steve Snyder, Yale; 3, Earl McHugh, Cornell; 4, Nathan Dodge, Harvard; 5, Denis Dice, Army. 0:06.3.

Shot put—1, Carl Shine, Pennsylvania, 53 feet 11 1/2 inches; 2, Keith Nance, Army, 51 feet 9 1/2 inches; 3, William Markle, Yale, 50 feet 8 1/2 inches; 4, Roger Garrett, Cornell, 50 feet, 4 1/2 inches; 5, David Sikarskie, Pennsylvania, 48 feet 3 3/4 inches.

Two-mile—1, David Eckel, Cornell; 2, Jonathan Blake, Yale; 3, Richard Greene, Army; 4, Robert Kunkle, Navy; 5, Arthur Reider, Harvard. 9:32.4.

60-yard high hurdles—1, Joel Landau, Harvard; 2, Donald Cohen, Columbia; 3, Gilbert Roesler, Army; 4, Myre Maxson, Navy; 5, John McBlain, Army. 0:07.4 (ties Heptagonal record set by Robert Rittenburg, Harvard, 1955).

Two-mile relay—1, Cornell (Arnold Cummins, Charles Hill, David Cadiz, Michael Midler); 2, Harvard; 3, Dartmouth; 4, Army; 5, Brown. 8:00.9.

One-mile relay—1, Army (Jerry Betts, Russell Walters, Grant Schaefer, Peter Byrne); 2, tie between Pennsylvania and Harvard; 4, Navy; 5, Columbia. 3:27.6.

High jump—1, John King, Cornell, 6 feet 8 1/2 inches (new Heptagonal and Barton Hall records; old Heptagonal record 6 feet 8 inches by Richard Phillips, Brown, 1949; old Hall record 6 feet 8 inches by King on Feb. 22); 2, tie among William Fay, Army; John McBlain, Army; Gerald Knapp, Cornell; Stewart White, Princeton; Lewis Hilder, Navy, 6 feet.

Pole vault—1, John Gray, Penn., 14 feet 1 1/2 inches (new Heptagonal and Barton Hall record; old Heptagonal record 13 feet 7 3/4 inches by David McIntyler, Navy, 1957; old Hall record 14 feet 1 inch by Wirt Thompson, Yale, 1934); 2, tie between Robert Beaton, Navy, and John McMichael, Navy, 13 feet 6 inches; 4, tie between Barney Berlinger, Penn., and James Beckman, Yale, 13 feet.

Epee Fencers Take Title

Coach Georges Cointe's fencers pulled the surprise of the Eastern Intercollegiate

Fencing Association championships in New York City, March 14 & 15, when they won the epee title. In the three-weapon totals, Cornell placed fifth. The foil team was seventh; the saber team, sixth. Cornell had 58 points and finished behind Columbia, NYU, Navy, and CCNY. "I am very, very proud of my boys," said Coach Cointe. "If we had not lost some good men to academic probation at mid-year, we would have placed much higher in foil and saber and in the total scoring."

The last time Cornell won a fencing title was in 1956, when it won the foil and Richard W. Pew '56 was the individual champ. He later competed on the 1956 US Olympic team and took fourth in the Games. Wins in the foils were also accomplished in 1910, 1927, and 1954. This year is the first time Cornell has ever won the epee and it has never won the saber.

The three-man Varsity epee team won as follows: Ritchie T. Thomas '57, 7-4; Richard B. Cole '58, 8-3; John H. Wiley '59, 9-2. Cornell had 24 epee points; Columbia and Penn, 22; Princeton and CCNY, 19; Navy and NYU, 17; Harvard, 16; Yale, 15; Rutgers and MIT, 11; Brooklyn, 15.

March 8 in Teagle Hall, the fencers defeated Princeton, 14-13, and closed out a 6-3 dual meet season. All the weapon scores in the Princeton meet were 5-4. Richard D. Yellen '60 of Buffalo won his three foils matches.

Polo Team Wins Championships

The Big Red polo team took over from Yale the National Collegiate polo championship, 20-4, at the Squadron A Armory in New York City, March 8. Two previous matches against Yale Cornell had won, but by narrower margins. It was 15-11 at New Haven and 22-20 in the Riding Hall.

Peter D. Baldwin '59 of Hawaii received the US Polo Association plaque for outstanding player. He made 10 goals.

Yale was weakened by the incapacity of its outstanding player, Captain Frolick Weymouth, whose hand was injured in the Cornell game in Ithaca, February 22. He played briefly, but was ineffective. Another Yale rider, Pete Carleton, was hurt in the game when he fell from his horse.

Pablo Toro '58 of Bogota, Columbia, Stanley R. Woolaway '60 of Maui, Hawaii, and George M. Baer '59 of New Rochelle all turned in fine games. Toro made 5 goals.

Other Sports

CORNELL's showing in the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League championship meet was not spectacular, but it was a good showing in that classy field. At Annapolis, March 13-15, Cornell was fourth in the unofficial scoring, behind Yale, Harvard, and North Carolina.

Friday, March 14, George D. Mathias '58 was third, David G. Stiller '60, fourth, in the 100-yard breaststroke. They finished just the same in the 200-yard breaststroke, Saturday. Jim Stanley of Harvard won the 100 in 1:05.8 and Joe Koletsky of Yale was second. Koletsky won the 200 in record time of 2:27.1 and Stanley was second. Robert Coifman '59 was fifth in the 200-yard backstroke. His time was 2:18.3. Winning time by Army's Mahlon Kirk was 2:11.3.

The 400-yard medley relay team made the final, but was sixth of six teams as Harvard won in 3:57.5. The Red foursome was composed of Mathias, Coifman, E. Pitts Howard '60, and Captain R. Scott Wetzsteon '58.

Swimmers Fifth in League

March 8, the Red team swamped Penn in Teagle Hall pool, 71-14. It finished with a 6-5-1 season's record and 4-4 in the Ivy League. Mathias lowered his own 200 breaststroke record to 2:28.9. Coifman equalled the Cornell record of 2:16.4 in the backstroke.

Yale won its twelfth straight Eastern Intercollegiate League team title. Cornell was fifth. The final standing:

Yale	8	0	Navy	3	5
Army	6	2	Columbia	2	6
Dartmouth	6	2	Princeton	1	7
Harvard	6	2	Penn	0	8
Cornell	4	4

Gerrit A. White '61 of Loudonville set a new Freshman record in the 150-yard individual medley relay with 1:34.2 when the Freshmen defeated Albany Academy, 58-30, in Teagle pool, March 8.

Basketball Season Ends

Varsity basketball team ended a frustrating 11-11 season with a smashing 65-85 loss to Columbia at New York, March 8. Only team Columbia defeated in the Ivy League was Cornell and it beat the Red twice, in the opening and closing games.

Louis R. Jordan '59, scoring star, was hampered by a leg injury suffered in the Yale game at Ithaca the week before, but still managed to score 18 points. This was not enough to capture the individual scoring title for the gritty Red player. Rudy Milkey scored 26 for Columbia and this won the crown for him. He had 272 points. John Lee of Yale was second with 268; Larry Downs, Yale, third, with 264; and Jordan was fourth with 262.

Lee, Downs, and Jordan were picked on the all-Ivy team along with Rudy Larusso of the championship Dartmouth team and Dick Csencsitz of Penn. Cornell tied the champions from Hanover for the best defensive record in the League, allowing 915 points, but was last in offensive strength, scoring 868 points in the fourteen games. Ivy League standings:

Dartmouth	11	3	Harvard	7	7
Princeton	9	5	Cornell	5	9
Yale	9	5	Brown	5	9
Pennsylvania	8	6	Columbia	2	12

Hockey & Squash Teams Finish

Varsity hockey opened and closed its season with Lehigh; smart scheduling! The Red won, 9-1, on the strength of the shooting of Sophomore John C. Gillies of Darien, Conn., who made 6 goals. Cornell won three games—two of them were at Lehigh's expense, the other at Colgate's—and lost seven, tied one, for the season. Gillies, center on the Big Red first line, tallied twice in the opening period, once in the second, three times in the third. Paul C. Marcus '59 of New York City scored twice and Edgar L. Vaughn '58 of Orange, Conn. scored the other. Lehigh's scoring was by Bruce Cirkhton in the second period.

Only two victories could be chalked up against seven defeats for the Varsity squash team, but it was an improvement in its second year of competition. Penn, a 7-2 victim in the last game, March 1, and Buffalo A.C. were on the alkaline side. To the Intercollegiates in New Haven, March 7-9, Coach Richard Lewis sent Earl S. Dworkin '58, Herbert V. Whittall '58, and Robert C. Lawrence '60, but none advanced beyond the second round. Whittall was eliminated in his first match and Dworkin and Lawrence in their second.

Crews Get on the Water

Coach R. Harrison Sanford had his crews on the Inlet a few days in early March, but it is a late winter and there are ice chunks in the Inlet and solid ice in the area near the lighthouse. He had three days outdoors the week of March 3 and four days the following week. The tall coach is assembling a new Varsity boat to replace his graduated three-time championship crew and the 1957 Henley title and record holder.

Miss Fitch Dies

RACHEL LOUISE FITCH, Dean of Women at the University from 1926-41, died March 12, 1958, in Tacoma, Wash., after a long illness.

Miss Fitch succeeded Georgia L. White '96 as Dean, coming from Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash., where she had been dean of women for two years. She received the AB in 1902 and MA in 1911 at Knox College, Galesburg, Ill., and did graduate work at University of California and University of Oregon. In 1932, Knox College conferred upon her the honorary LittD. Previously she taught in Illinois and North Dakota and had been editor and manager of the Galva (Ill.) Weekly News.

R. Louise Fitch—The former Dean of Women, who died March 12, is pictured in her office at the time of her resignation in 1941.

She was also a former editor of The Trident, publication of Delta Delta Delta, of the Journal of the American Association of University Women, and of other publications. In 1918, she went to France as a special reporter for the YWCA and from her observations there wrote a book, Madame France, which described the effect of war on a civilian population. After leaving the University, she worked for a time for Reader's Digest.

A past national president of Delta Delta Delta, Miss Fitch was known as a supporter of sororities while here. She contributed articles on them and on co-education to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. During the fifteen years of her administration, which included both the depression and pre-war years, the Balch dormitories were built. She was vice-president of the League of American Penwomen, national recording secretary of the Women's Overseas Service League, and a member of Mortar Board, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Lambda Theta, and Delta Kappa Gamma.

Hear Engineering Report

ALUMNI in Naples, Fla. met for luncheon at the Naples Hotel, February 24, with William V. Nixon, Director of University Development. They were invited by J. Wright Taussig '08, who is a member of the committee that is raising funds for completion of the Engineering College Quadrangle at the south end of the Campus.

Nixon told the group that $410,000 has been subscribed toward the goal of $1,-$500,000 that it is hoped will be completed next year. This will provide for the start of a building for Metallurgical Engineering, for housing a nuclear reactor, and for equipment and landscaping the new Quadrangle where eight buildings for the College are completed and in progress.

Those attending the Naples meeting with Taussig and Nixon were Howard Dingle '05, Stratford D. Mills '13, John C. Nulsen '14, Dr. Francis Ford '15, Alvin F. Griesedieck '16, Samuel E. Hunkin '16, Caesar A. Grasselli II '22, and William G. Tracy '45.

New Staff Member

A NEW WRITER takes over the page, "An Undergraduate Observes," with this issue. He is Eugene L. Case '59, third-year student in Architecture, whose home is in Moline, Ill. David S. Nye '57, who has conducted the page the last two years, graduated from the School of Industrial & Labor Relations in February and is working in New York City for Socony Mobil Oil Co. His writing continues in the NEWS as Class correspondent for '57 men.

Eugene Case has an extensive Cornell background. His father is Harry L. Case '29 and his mother is the former Elinor Irish '28. His grandfather was the late G. Harry Case '02. His father was editor of the Sun as a Senior and briefly in 1933 he was associate editor of the ALUMNI NEWS while he was a student in the Graduate School (PhD '34). Mrs. Case was for a time hostess in Willard Straight Hall.

Case won a National Scholarship and entered Architecture in 1955 from Central High School in Fountain City, Tenn. He won the Paul Dickinson Prize for the highest average grade in the Freshman Class in Architecture, and last year he was one of three winners of the Baird Prize for special competition in design. He has been active in Willard Straight Hall committees and has just been elected editor-in-chief of the Widow. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Thai Alumni Entertain

A "CORNELL EVENING" was spent in Bangkok, Thailand, last January when five Cornellians living in Thailand entertained for dinner Marcel K. Sessler '13 and his wife, who stopped in Bangkok while on a world cruise. The dinner was at the home of F. Jameson Bell, PhD '48, who is with an International Cooperation Administration mission advising the rice department of the Thai Ministry of Agriculture. Bell is on leave from North Carolina State College, where he is a seed and small grain improvement specialist. Other Cornellians present were Mom C. Chakrabandhu '34, director-general of the rice department and vice-director of Kasetsart Agricultural University in Bangkok; Sala Dasananda '39, deputy director-general of the rice department and professor of biology at Chulalongkorn University in Bangkok; and Pradsith Cheosakul, PhD '44, who is in the department of science, Ministry of Industry, and is deputy secretary-general of the National Research Council, and Mrs. Cheosakul (Ubolsri Palasiri), MNutrSci '55.

Sessler writes that "the rice department of the Thai government is the most important branch in it, because the entire economy of Thailand is completely dependent upon it. They have set out a large number of 'rice stations,' fine substantial buildings and grounds where rice is cured, chemically treated, and dispensed to farmers. The endeavor of this department is not only to increase the production per unit of planting, but to teach crop rotation for rebuilding the soil. This is especially important because of the very limited use of fertilizer."

Professor Harry H. Love, PhD '09, Plant Breeding, Emeritus, recently spent several years at Kasetsart University developing new varieties of rice for use in Thailand.

Johnny Parson Club to be Replaced

THE FALL of the house of Johnny Parson seems imminent. A recent Willard Straight Hall newsletter announces the opening of a "new, streamlined place for an old institution, the coffee date." The building being completed just south of Japes is Noyes Lodge, and its dedication is planned for April 11. The old building will be demolished after Noyes Lodge is opened.

This writer remembers just two things from his first trip to Cornell at the age of nine. One is a hike up Cascadilla Gorge and the other is the Johnny Parson Club. At that time we were impressed with the latter as the plush clubhouse of Cornell's elite, reeking of cigar smoke and ringing with the choruses of old Cornell songs. In the last two years, we have gotten to know it a little better, and if it does not live up to that early impression, it does possess certain qualities which endear it to Cornell.

Johnny Parson Club sells the best chocolate-chip cookies in Ithaca. It also sells the best bacon and lettuce and tomato sandwiches in Ithaca, although how they are produced in that tiny and antiquated kitchen defies the imagination. Johnny Parson Club keeps strange and unpredictable hours, such that only the initiated know when those oak doors will open and when they will not. If you are there with a date and you want to sit down, there is hardly room for the both of you, for Johnny Parson Club has the smallest tables in Tompkins County, if not in the world. Johnny Parson Club has a whole wall full of windows facing Beebe Lake, and yet you can never, never see through them; for which their architect should be commended.

But perhaps the best thing about Johnny Parson Club is the aura of Bohemia which exists there. Even the most ordinary people take on an air of dedicated study when they enter Japes, and if they do not wear a tie or grumble too loudly about the napkins that can never be found, they are accepted into the intelligentsia of Cornell.

Undoubtedly, the Johnny Parson Club is somewhat the worse for the wear of the last thirty-six years. Undoubtedly, the Department of Residential Halls has good reason for wishing it replaced. The facades have a droop and the floors a creak that make one tread lightly upon entering. But a lot of Cornellians will miss the Johnny Parson Club when it's gone.

Cornell Daily Sun a couple of Wednesdays ago carried a letter mourning the death of the Cornell Widow, who hadn't been seen on Campus since mid-December. The next day, the Little Old Lady herself (with disciples) appeared in the Straight lobby, very much alive and ready to dispel rumors of her demise. Some Cornellians suspected a plot to attract attention to the magazine and bolster sales, but the letter was written without the knowledge of the Widow staff. Those on the inside wink and insist that Her timely appearance is due solely to that mysterious sixth sense which only She commands.

Robert P. Merrill '59 of Paterson, N.J. has been elected president of the executive committee of Cornell United Religious Work for 1958-1959. Merrill succeeds Jack D. McFadden '58 of Glendale, Cal. Other new CURW officers include Deloyce Timmons '59 of Tallahassee, Fla., administrative vice-president; Terry L. Thompson '59 of Ashtabula, Ohio, program vice-president; and James F. Dowd '60 of Massillon, Ohio, vice-president for Freshman activities.

Doodles, those small, cryptic sketches that crop up among even the most carefully taken lecture notes, are having their day. The Straight placed a box in the lobby to collect them, and exhibited the best of the entries in the Art Room. Area art critics, as always on the lookout for undiscovered talent, were to be seen among the visitors.

Sorority women have chosen Barbara Sue McIntosh '59 of Fayetteville, president of Panhellenic Council. She is a Junior in Home Economics and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Student Agencies, Inc., student-owned business organization founded in 1894, presented a check for $250 to the University to be added to the Student Agencies Endowment Fund for grants-in-aid to qualified students. The Fund now has more than $5000.

Sage Chapel services "For Such a Time as This" were arranged by CURW for twenty minutes, six Tuesday noons before Easter. Students are participating and the successive speakers and their topics are "God's Voice in a Time of Silence," Wrestling Coach Erie J. Miller, Jr. '44; "God's Design in a Time of Disorder," Dean S. C. Hollister, Engineering; "God's Materialism in a Time of Things," Rabbi Morris Goldfarb, Jewish Chaplain; "God's Particularity in a Time of Conformity," Professor Jeremiah J. Wanderstock '41, Hotel Administration; "God's Truth in a Time of Self-oriented Education," Dean of the Faculty C. Arnold Hanson, PhD '48; "God's Intolerance in a Time of Tolerance," the Rev. Richard B. Stott, Episcopal Chaplain.

Heading of a recent "Flick List" kept at the Willard Straight Hall desk: "Try to go to a movie every week. You won't be able to afford it next year."

Finals of the basketball championship and the annual track meet highlighted the March calendar of intramural sports. For the second consecutive year the Kibos, an independent team, emerged victor in the basketball competition. They retained their title by turning back Sigma Nu, 31-28, in the final round of the elimination. The track trophy went to Delta Upsilon with Sigma Alpha Epsilon a somewhat distant second. DU swept the field events, while SAE dominated the dashes and runs. Fraternities now turn toward volleyball and, if the ground ever dries out, to softball.

Architects will remember St. Patrick's Day, 1958, as one of the best. Stalled for a moment by early morning examinations and words of warning from the Faculty, the parade soon got up momentum to cross the Quadrangle and burst into Goldwin Smith, leaving behind a trail of disrupted classes and green noses. Straight, Statler, and Olin Halls followed in quick succession. Campus patrolmen harassed the dragon, but seemed incapable of halting the creature or the throng of beer-drinking supporters that surrounded it. A new feature this year was a golden egg that pursued the dragon around the Campus squealing "Mama! Mama! Where are you?"

Scalawags broke into the Sphinx Head Tomb at the Stewart Avenue bridge and made off with several items. Ithaca police are investigating, and will no doubt soon have the offenders in chains.

Mark Van Doren, poet, author, and teacher, put in a brief appearance at Cornell to read selections from his poetry and to discuss his poems. Van Doren spoke to an overflow audience of students and Faculty in Olin Hall. In an interview with members of the Sun staff, the poet commented on the problem of rising enrollments at the college level. Education must not turn anyone away, he argued; "Otherwise we would have a lot of citizens who don't think their opinions are important, and that's fatal!"

THE FACULTY

"Epitaph for a Newspaper Publisher," a feature story about late Trustee Emeritus Frank E. Gannett '98, who was founder and president emeritus of the Gannett newspaper chain, has been sent out by the US Information Agency for world distribution through its 136 posts overseas. Purpose of the feature, the agency said, is to "demonstrate the independence of the American press. Mr. Gannett's life story is a perfect example of the point we wish to get across." USIA is the Government's worldwide service in the "war of words" against Soviet imperialism and communist suppression of freedom.

John E. Burton, University Vice-president-business, has been appointed to a five-man advisory council which will assist the New York State Legislature in its investigation of State payrolls.

Dean G. Stewart Sheppard of the Graduate School of Business & Public Administration was panel chairman of a session on business schools at the annual career conference sponsored by the alumni council of Amherst College, at Amherst, Mass., February 7-8.

William F. Durand, professor of Marine Engineering at the University from 1891-1904, celebrated his ninety-ninth birthday March 5. He has steadily improved from two mild strokes suffered last spring, but has been confined for the most part to his suite in the Mohawk Hotel, 379 Washington Avenue, Brooklyn. He is glad to hear from friends.

Oil painting, "Etna," by Professor H. Peter Kahn, Architecture, has been purchased by Munson-Williams-Proctor Institute in Utica. The work was one of seven purchased from the Institute's recent twenty-first annual exhibition of Central New York artists. Professor Kahn's print, "Greenhouse," took first prize in the graphic processes category of the first regional art exhibition sponsored by the Roberson Memorial Center in Binghamton last fall.

Director Robert R. Wilson of the New-man Laboratory of Nuclear Studies, designer of the University 1-billion-volt electron synchrotron, writes about recent developments in nuclear machines in the March issue of Scientific American. The article is titled "Particle Accelerators."

Professor David B. Davis, American History, contributes a study of James Fenimore Cooper's Deerslayer to a collection of critical essays on American novels, Twelve Original Essays on Great American Novels, edited by Charles Shapiro and published by Wayne State University Press.

Professor Robert M. Palmer, Music, discussed his "Sonata for Piano Four Hands," written in 1952, before the Philadelphia Composers Forum, January 19, in Philadelphia, Pa. The work and other four-hand music was performed at the lecture-recital by Monroe Levin '49 and Cameron McGraw, MA '53, former instructors in Music. Levin and McGraw gave the New York premiere of the sonata at Carnegie Recital Hall last fall and recently performed it at Bradford College and Gardiner Museum in Boston, Mass.

Second edition of An Introduction to the Phonetics of American English, by Professor Charles K. Thomas '21, Speech & Drama, has been published by Ronald Press. The book was first published in 1947.

Professor J. Thomas Reid, Animal Husbandry, was one of eight scientists who received Borden Awards for outstanding research achievements during 1957. The awards, of a gold medal and $1000 each, are made by the Borden Co. Foundation and administered by professional and scientific associations. Professor Reid was named by the American Dairy Science Association for his "numerous researches relating to dairy cattle nutrition."

J. Duncan Sells '49 has been appointed director of a newly created Office of Financial Aid for students. The new office is made necessary by increasing costs to students and larger amounts made available for their assistance. It will coordinate and keep records of scholarship awards, loans, part-time employment, and other financial assistance. Assistant to Sells in charge of student employment is Mrs. Olive Northup Snyder '22. Both were formerly in the office of the Deans of Men & Women.

Professor Jean T. McKelvey, Industrial & Labor Relations, was chairman of a discussion on "Impartial Umpireships: The Chrysler Experience," at the annual meeting of the National Academy of Arbitrators, January 30-February 1, in St. Louis, Mo.

Erich von Kahler, internationally known scholar and man of letters, is visiting professor of German Literature this term. He is conducting a seminar on Hugo von Hofmannsthal, twentieth century Austrian poet, and a course on "Aspects of German Culture." Professor von Kahler was visiting professor at the University from 1948-51, lecturing in the fall terms.

Professor John A. Evans, MD '35, radiologist-in-chief of The New York Hospital-Cornell University Medical Center in New York City, has been elected to the board of chancellors of the American College of Radiology.

Elizabeth Ann Thompson, Assistant Director of Nursing Service at the University Infirmary, died there February 2, 1958. She had been on the Infirmary staff since 1930.

Margaret L. Brew, former research administrator with the US Department of Agriculture in Washington, D.C., has been appointed head of the Textiles & Clothing Department in the College of Home Economics. She succeeds Professor Helen Powell Smith, who retired January 1. A graduate of University of Illinois with the PhD from University of Chicago, Professor Brew taught textiles and clothing at Oregon State College and was head of the department at University of Minnesota for seven years. She had been with the USDA since 1946.

March issue of Woman's Day contains an article, "1200 Ways to Scramble an Egg," by Mrs. Minnie W. Muensch, wife of Professor Walter C. Muensch, PhD '21, Botany, Emeritus. She uses herbs and other ingredients and various methods of preparation. She includes a list of herbs and suggestions for using them.

Robert J. McCarthy resigned, February 26, as Supervisor of the University Safety Division. Son of the late University Proctor John F. McCarthy, he joined the Safety Division more than nine years ago.

Prospective Lawyers Visit

LAW SCHOOL students and Faculty members were hosts for a day in February to students from Colgate, Hamilton, and Hobart who are interested in studying law, and their advisers. The visitors attended two first-year classes in the School and at a morning coffee hour between classes they had opportunity to meet Faculty members and students here from their own institutions and ask questions about the work here. They were guests at luncheon with Law School students and Faculty members and Dean Gray Thoron told them about the School.

"Shadow and Substance"

DRAMATIC CLUB presented a noteworthy interpretation of the Irish drama, "Shadow and Substance," by Paul Vincent Carroll. Four performances were given in the Willard Straight Theater, March 6-9.

The play depicts essentially a conflict of opposing ideas about Catholicism. It was made believable and exciting by a well selected cast directed by Professor George A. McCalmon, head of the University Theatre.

Frederick M. Congdon, Grad, of Kenosha, Wis. made the most of his role as the learned, imperious Canon Skerritt. The questioning schoolmaster, O'Flingsley, was convincingly played by Michael J. Crowley '59 of Mexico City, Mex. The foil between, understanding and loving them both to her own destruction, was Marian T. Johnson '60 of Omaha, Nebr., as the Canon's housemaid, Brigid. The supporting cast all took their parts well to contribute to the play's enjoyment. They were Terence M. Cannon '61 of Cincinnati, Ohio, and David W. Seidler '59 of Great Neck as the young curates; Bernard Lourie '58 of Kew Gardens and Sonya R. Frenkel '58 of Forest Hills as the fawning O'Connor, would-be teacher, and his aunt; Woody N. Klose '60 of Red Hook and Gertrude J. Schauffer '60 of Dunkirk as an Irish villager and his wife; and Norma L. Nichols '60 of New York City as the Canon's simpering step-niece, Thomasina.

The setting of the Canon's living room added to the action as designed and lighted by John R. Rothgeb of the University Theatre staff.

News of the Alumni

Addresses which appear in these pages are in New York State unless otherwise designated. Class columns headed by Class numerals and the names and addresses of the correspondents who write them are principally those of Classes which have purchased group subscriptions to the NEWS for all members. Personal items, newspaper clippings, or other notes about Cornellians of all Classes are welcomed for publication.

'99 PhB—Mrs. H. S. Upjohn (Estelle Leach), Box 2206, Ridgewood Road, Carmel, Cal., and her husband moved to Carmel in 1943. They have a son and daughter and five grandchildren. After leaving the University, Mrs. Upjohn taught in New York State for three years and later started the English department in the new high school in South Pasadena, Cal. She was vice-principal for a time until H. S. Upjohn of Kalamazoo and Chicago University came as principal, and that was the end of her regular teaching.

'01 ME—Frank D. Newbury had been Assistant Secretary of Defense for Engineering and for Research and Engineering for four years when the two offices were consolidated in February, 1957. He resigned in May and is now a part-time consultant with National Securities & Research Corp. of New York. He still lives in Washington, D.C., at 4000 Cathedral Avenue.

'09, '10 CE—Albert E. Frosch (above) of 155 North Raynor Avenue, Joliet, Ill., has retired after forty-six years as an engineer and government employee. He has been connected with the Ordnance Ammunition Command and Joliet Arsenal since 1940. From 1940-45, he was chief engineer for Sanderson & Porter, contractors who designed, built, and operated Elwood Ordnance Plant, now the Elwood Unit of Joliet Arsenal. Since 1947 he has held top posts at the OAC and its predecessor organizations at the Joliet ammunition headquarters. For several years he has been the principal negotiator for all OAC contracts and special assistant to the OAC commander. Friends at the OAC held a testimonial dinner for him January 4.

'09 ME—Creed W. Fulton has become vice-president in charge of the Philadelphia district of The Work-Factor Co., management consultants and industrial engineers. The company has developed precise time-study standards for industrial production and offers consulting and management services for business and industry. Administrative offices are at 206 West Atlantic Avenue, Haddon Heights, N.J. Fulton is a former president of the Cornell Alumni Association and was a member of the Engineering College Council.

He evidently enjoys the throat routine more than his young patients do. We hope he will be on hand at our Fifty-year Reunion to take care of any casualties which may crop up during the festivities.

Here and there. Coggie Coggeshall writes: "Have now been retired four-and-one-half years. Doing consulting work for C. H.

Wheeler Manufacturing Co., Philadelphia; have been member of their board of directors for a couple of years. Chairman of State affairs committee of the Schenectady Chamber of Commerce, other civic work. Recreation: bowling, golf, and bridge. Still living in Rexford, across the river from Schenectady." Raymond B. Spencer, 525 Falls Building, Memphis 3, Tenn., says: "I am seventy and have been retired for four years, but have maintained an active interest in Cornell. Some years ago, led the Greater Cornell campaign for funds when Edmund Ezra Day was there, and always since have contributed annually to the Alumni Fund. Lately, I was appointed by William F. Lewis '22, national chairman, for two-year campaign for further funds for the Alumni Fund as chairman for the Memphis area, and to a distance of 100 miles in all directions. Quite a job, but I shall do my best. As to my family, I deeded my home to my daughter and son-in-law and live with them. I have a very fine little grandson, Raymond B. Spencer II, age ten, and hope he will attend Cornell."

We quote from "Hi" Coursen. "First on earth, first in heaven, Cornell I yell 1911." Leon R. Brown reports: "Only Cornell news I have is that my son-in-law, Robert Murphy '43, maintenance engineer for Solvay Process in Syracuse, has just quit his very good job and entered Princeton Theo Seminary at Princeton, N.J. My daughter, Dorothy (Brown) '43, remains at their home in Syracuse with their four children." John G. Turnbull, 125 Nassau Boulevard, Garden City, writes: "Glad to say life continues to move along comfortably. I shuttle between our home in Garden City and my office in New York as I have been doing for thirty-six years, with now and then a trip with Mrs. Turnbull here and there with sometimes our son, Tim."

'12 Women—Twelve women of the Class of '12, who were in New York for the annual Cornell women's luncheon, were entertained on the following day, February 9, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Klein (Janet Frisch). This has also become an annual event and is always a delightful affair, cocktails and dinner to which the Kleins invite the husbands. Those present this year at the Kleins were Mrs. T. Roland Briggs (Frances Ingalls), Marian Darville, Mr. & Mrs. William H. Emery (Violet Harrison), Mr. & Mrs. Clarence R. Haas (Harriet Skerrett), Mrs. Alfred Marchev (Martha Bovier), Marguerite McGuire, Florence G. Merrill, Mrs. Karl E. Pfeiffer (Anne Bullivant), Mrs. Harry B. Royer (Lucy Marsh), Nina Smith, Mr. & Mrs. George E. Thull (Beulah Bailey), and Mr. & Mrs. W. Denning Stewart (Margaret Thorp). Letters and messages were read from many members of the Class who could not attend.—M.T.S.

CLASS REUNIONS IN ITHACA, JUNE 13 & 14

states of Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, and Indiana. It was a one-day affair with seminar meetings devoted to bringing the alumni up to date on Cornell, with special emphasis on Cornell Club work, secondary school activities, and fund raising. There were four of us on hand from '13; Les (A. L.) Slocum from Milwaukee, Tink (George D.) Hardin and Kel (Kellogg) Logsdon from Chicago, and myself. It was good to see them. Tink was co-chairman of the seminar group on Annual Giving Program.

He told me they had a '13 dinner in Chicago in January where the local gang got together, and they all lined up to be at our Forty-five-year Reunion this June. This included Jack (John H.) Brodt, Eddie (Edwin T.) Jackman, Woodie (Ralph H.) Woodland, Buck (Fred L.) Starbuck, and Kel and Tink. Nice going. It will be great to get together again. Why don't some of you in other communities get the '13 bunch together and arrange a mass attendance at our Reunion.

Received an interesting letter from Tilly (Howard) Tilson. You remember Tilly was over in Europe for four years as chief of the industry division of the European Cooperative Administration. He returned to this country in 1955 and I thought we had him safely settled in our USA. But this letter came from Tel Aviv, Israel. So he's gone again, a little further this time, about 7000 miles from home. He wrote that he got "itchy feet; wanted to go overseas once more at least." So he is back with his old outfit, USOM, as industrial adviser, metal fabrication. Been there since December, and has been busy visiting various and sundry enterprises engaged in turning out metal products. For a country with no industrial history, he thinks they are doing a remarkable job. They have few executives trained in industry, but are strong on scientists and theoretical engineers. Drop him a line. His address is USOM, American Embassy, Tel Aviv, Israel.

Wes (Wesley H.) Bronson, 51 Prentiss Lane, Belmont, Mass., was tendered a testimonial banquet in January, at the Hotel Statler, Boston, upon his retirement after eighteen years as economist for the Whiting Milk Co., one of New England's largest independent dairies. After he completed his Ag course at Cornell in '13, he received the MS in 1923. Later he studied at Harvard. He has been active in the New England Milk Producers Association and the New England Dairies Association, serving as treasurer of the latter organization for two years. He also played an active part in the development of the first Federal Milk Order in New England, and he has been generally recognized as the dean of the New England dairy and agricultural economists. A fine record, Wes.

Just heard of a couple more who are going to Reunion with us. Lac (Alfred A.) Lacazette is coming all the way from Cuba (address: Calle 7, Esquina 12, Barreras, Playa Tarara, Havana, Cuba). Good for you, Lac! And Ced (Cedric A.) Major will be coming from New York (143 Liberty Street, New York 6), on the Lehigh Valley, I'll bet. (He's president of that RR.) Do you suppose he let's himself have a pass? How's that tennis racket working? Still using it? See you in Ithaca, Ced.

Sorry to learn that the name of a member of our Class was left out of our new 1957 Class directory. Please write in, in your copy, Harry H. Waters, 1000 Northcrest Avenue, Peoria, Ill. In fact, why don't you write him, just to prove you now have his address. If any of you know of any other omissions in our Class directory, let me know so that we can correct the alumni records, and I can bring my own records up to date.

Also, have a new business address for "J. P." (John Paul) Jones, our Class president. He is now located at 2975 North Country Club Road, Tucson, Ariz. Business: "consulting mechanical engineer." See you in June, J.P.

And that "See you June 13 & 14" goes for all of you!

Emerson Hinchliff
400 Oak Avenue
Ithaca, N.Y.

Now it can be told! In December, 1956, in his annual page of Christmas Greetings in The New Yorker, Frank Sullivan mentioned your correspondent and the Formerly Club. Odd name for a club, thought I, and so remarked in these Notes. I have been itching ever since to publish the following letter from Frank of January, 1957:

If you really want to know what the Formerly Club is, I'll be glad to enlighten you. There is and has been since early prohibition days a tavern on West 40th Street in NY, next door to the Herald Tribune, which has always been a great rendezvous for newspapermen, theatrical folk, and the Metropolitan Opera crowd in winter when the opera is in fling. It was known for some years after repeal as the Artist & Writers Club; I don't know why the Artist is singular and the Writers plural, but that's the way the sign above the door read. Some time ago the club idea was abandoned for some probably legal reason and the sign was changed to "Artist & Writers (formerly Club) Restaurant." That's the way it reads now, and a group of fifteen of the old customers had the idea of organizing themselves into the Formerly Club. The sole activity of the Formerly Club is that its members meet for lunch at the Artist & Writers on Saturday. We have a president, Mitch Rawson, of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. John Lardner was president, but was deposed when he left the country to go to Melbourne for the Olympics. I am a member, but have the doubtful distinction of never having been to a meeting. There is one woman member, Miss Ann Honeycutt, who is revered and honored by the other members. That's about all I can tell you of the Formerly Club. The Club is rather a secret, or was until I partially let the cat out in the Christmas verse; so may be better to give no publicity to the above. The boys are very shy, all except me.

Well, the "shy" boys had their copy-paper curtain rent asunder this February by a delightful editorial in the Herald Trib, illustrated by three Thurber cartoon studies of the Match Game. Sample phrases: "... a restaurant called Blake's, although it is spelled Bleeck's," and "ink-stained wretches of the press." Next day there was a racy follow-up story about the Club (called by those inside "the drugstore" or "the mission") and how the twenty-seven Thurber drawings were recovered by a safari out to Jack Bleeck's home in Manhasset, he having sold the restaurant in 1953 and kept the art work. Walt Kelly, creator of "Pogo," didn't want the panels back, feeling that one cartoonist is too many for any saloon. The first day they were back, he hung a sign on them saying, "This is a fake Thurber. A. Friend." The H. Trib has even a wider circulation than the ALUMNI NEWS, so I guess I can print now Frank's letter. From the ferocity depicted in the Match Game pictures, it may well be that Frank is wise to stay up in Saratoga.

F. Miller (Shanks) Wright wrote me from Penn Yan and enclosed a clipping from the New York World Telegram about a letter to the editor signed H. W. Peters. He asked if it could be from our Doc. I don't think so, since it was from Brooklyn and Doc lives in Summit, N.J. It said juvenile punks should get a "strap across their rear bumper." Wally might think that, but I don't think he would phrase it thus picturesquely. Ike Neuworth, chairman of the department of pharmacology & therapeutics of NYU's college of dentistry, has been elected president of its branch of the Scientific Research Society of America.

D. Douglas (Doug) Demerest, 14 North Court, Port Washington, sends in his six bucks with a 400-page letter saying he has no news. It is a good letter (in which he lets off quite a head of steam) which could very well be used in the front part of this magazine. (That's a suggestion, Doug.) He says: "I am still machine designer and one of the four owners of Linker Machines, Inc., Newark, N.J., whose machines are standard here and abroad in the meat packing industry. My latest machine that has just been tested lays brick, builds wall of small house in two days. We are going to the music festival in Salzburg and Bayreuth in July and August."

Carl R. Fellers retired from University of Massachusetts after thirty-two years. He was head of the department of food technology, is now president of University Laboratories, Amherst, Mass., a food technological consulting service. He would appreciate hearing from old friends.

Christopher (Chris) Magee, Box 926, Venice, Fla., experienced some discomfort during the recent cold spell. Daughter Cynthia is a freshman at Florida Southern College, business administration, and Chris, Jr. graduated there last June and is now a sports writer for Sarasota Herald Tribune. The adults are doing well.

John Markel, 507 Maple Avenue, Palmyra, N.J., writes: "Son George will graduate from Palmyra High School this summer and will enter Cornell this fall."

When he learned that this column was crying for news items, Samuel W. (Sam) Guggenheim, the Television Man, Box 52 Brighton Station, Rochester 10, sent in the following:

Sam, Sam, the television man,

He fixes sets like no one can;

When he gets through, you know it's right,

The picture's sharp and clear and bright.

Clayton W. (Doc) Cousens, 149 Hill Park Avenue, Great Neck: "Am still making top quality motion pictures at 600 Broadway. Have just finished a thirty-minute job for Old Crow Bourbon (National Distillers). Would like to hear from any Cornellians who use motion pictures in their business. I may be able to save them some headaches."

Meyer Drechsler, 163 West Seventeenth Street, New York City 11: "Actively engaged with the Corps of Engineers, US Army, on a large defense construction program. We have two children and (hope Walt Priester forgives) four grandchildren, all doing fine."

Brigadier General Robert C. Candee, 300 Wyatt Building, Washington 5, D.C.: "Enjoying life and working (life insurance and mutual funds) in the nation's capitol. No official connection with the Government since retirement from Air Force in 1952, except to draw retirement pay from the Military Department and turn most of it back to the Treasury Department."

This happened last summer, but it is still fresh news to those who did not read about it in the Eastern papers. Errol W. Doehler, Maple Lane, Southhold, was elected to the board of Associated Hospital Service of New York (Blue Cross). Errol is president of Long Island Lighting Co. He is also a director of Nassau Hospital and Nassau Council of Social Agencies.

Harold M. Stanley, Skaneateles, was re-elected secretary of the State Grange last fall.

Walter S. Seely, 125 North Main Street, Port Chester: "I still practice law; and as avocations I am active in Rotary of which I am a past district governor, in Masonry of which I am a past district deputy grand master, and the American Legion of which I am a past county commander." I'm sure you are still doing a lot for those organizations, Walt.

Howard G. Nichols, 4636 Hawthorne Lane NW, Washington 16, D.C. As previously reported here he retired in 1953 and the Nicholises travelled in Europe much of 1954. He sees Al Minnix once in a while, but has resigned from the Cornell Club of Washington because he wants to spend more time at home with his wife who finds it necessary to take things easy these days. However, they entertain guests for a game of bridge occasionally. Howard says he always looks for news in the '15 column and remarked upon the dwindling items of late. I don't make this stuff up. Unless I have the items, there is an embarrassing absence of news. Response to Ed's recent letter and Class dues bill are filling up the news till and we'll be ahead of the deadlines for many issues.

Robert B. Lea, 350 Lakeville Road, New Hyde Park, tried to get me on the telephone twice from Pompano, Fla. last January. Sorry you didn't send me a telegram, Bob, letting me know when and where I could telephone you. He writes: "Have just accepted chairmanship of a task force on the President's committee for employment of the physically handicapped to study the workshops throughout the country. A challenging assignment, which will take me to Washington and other parts of the country during the next few months."

Dr. Henry H. Kessler, world-famous orthopedic surgeon and director of Kessler Institute for Rehabilitation, in West Orange, N.J., was recently cited in a certificate of appreciation for advisory services by Secretary Marion B. Folsom of the US Department of Health, Education & Welfare.

Clarence (Moll) Kilburn will again stand for Congress from the Thirty-third Congressional New York District. He has served his ninth consecutive term in the House and is the second ranking member of the Banking & Currency Committee and a member of the Joint (Senate-House) Economic Committee.

S. W. Barnes was elected chairman of the Tompkins County Agricultural & Conservation Committee. Royal Bird is in the engineering division of the Rome Air Force and is a member of the Rome board of education. S. Everett Hunkin was recently elected a member of the board of directors of The Union Commerce Bank of Cleveland, Ohio. He is also a director of Republic Steel Corp. and of Naples Co., Naples, Fla., and is on the president's council of Case Institute of Technology.

January 9, at a meeting of the American Alumni Council, District II, in Atlantic City, N.J., various awards were made to colleges and universities and Cornell was the runner-up for outstanding service rendered to an institution and to the cause of education in general by organized alumni effort, Cornell's entry for that honor being The Class of 1916 Program. The citation read: "Nominated for the efforts of the Class of 1916 in creating a principal fund of $350,000 to endow the Class of 1916 Chair, established at Cornell on the occasion of its 40th Reunion. The Fund is held by the University with the income used for salary and such accessories as research, books, publications, travel and secretarial assistance. Set up in 1941 originally as a means of endowing its annual average gift to the Alumni Fund, the Class Fund has enjoyed wide participation from over 680 men and women members of the Class, and continues to grow. It has become 'the medium whereby the Class could be of greater service to Cornell' and has enabled it to combine support of the Alumni Fund with endowment of existing operations."

'17 Men—They're all doing it! Or, at least, many '17ers are! Retiring, that is. Saw Dave Cownie recently and he said he and Mrs. Cownie were leaving for two months in the South preparatory to retiring next year. Dave is an engineer for Erie County and resides at 2104 Delaware Avenue, Buffalo 16. Had a note from H. Harrison Glidden with change of address from Fort Leavenworth, Kans. to a temporary one at 6 DuPree Court, Alexandria, Va. He further wrote: "Am retiring February 28 and headed for Florida via Arizona and California. Will be looking for that Cap and Tie in 1945" (Harrison wasn't looking backwards! We presume he meant "at our 45th".) Hope Harrison visits the Campus before then; with all his retired "time," he can return often. If you don't, Harrison, we will C U in '62. Just received a copy of the latest issue of Community, publication of United Community Funds & Councils of America, which reminded us that our own Ralph Blanchard is executive director of this organization, a nationwide job. Ralph resides at 10 Alden Place, Bronxville, and nearby is Hugh J. Ennis at One Alden Place.

Ben Potar expects to take a trip down through Texas and out to California, returning in time for our annual New York dinner. Paul Harbach of Buffalo is taking a similar trip, following the same general route as Ben.

Good news and bad. Reverend W. H. (Pete) Weigle writes that he will attend our dinner at Cornell Club of New York, Monday, April 14, and will "come to town" sufficiently early to have lunch with the "early birds." Pete has his outstanding Four Ways Farm at South Egremont, Mass., where he also "fathers" a few Episcopalian country churches within a radius of several miles. After reporting that he would be with us April 14, Ernie Acker finds that he is committed on that date to speak at an evening meeting before one of the clubs in his home town, Poughkeepsie. Ernie says he will be with us in spirit and will look forward to our Class dinner in 1959. We will miss you, Ernie! George J. Hecht, publisher of Parents' Magazine, and Mrs. Hecht left January 23 for a second flight around the world. George will meet with representatives of the United Nations' Children's Fund at various stops, will visit schools and universities, offices of the US Information Service, and has been commissioned to write several travel articles. Also, George has been invited to be one of the 100 representatives of science, education, industry, and government to attend the conference on "America's Human Resources to Meet the Scientific Challenge" to be held at Yale University under the auspices of the President's Committee on Scientists & Engineers.

Remember our '17 Class dinner, Monday, April 14, at Cornell Club of New York. Bring a Classmate friend with you.

Louis Freedman's regional committees have completed their spring training and are now ready for the regular season. He reports that some fifty of his "regulars" have already reported to him on the names assigned them. As a result, we now have a total of 250 men who have given their absolute or conditional acceptance to join their Classmates in Ithaca this June. And lest the fifty hard workers be forgotten, Lou wants to thank them all through this column for the intensive drive they are making. He and Charley Muller hope shortly to get out another general Class letter to sustain the newly-aroused spirit of enthusiasm and co-operation.

Down here in the mid-South at least, the word is getting around and Reunion plans are being made. Bert Kinzey, who still holds the line in Richmond, has headed up the regional committee. In the nearby Washington area, he has Perk Coville operating with a double-barreled shotgun to get as many as possible Reunioners, and more and better pledges for the Cornell Fund.

James B. (Ben) Morey writes admitting he's one of the waywards, but hopes to rally 'round the flag. Ben is in the Cincinnati technical section of International Nickel, with offices in the Carew Tower. John Hart also responds with the news he has just completed twenty-five years as manager of Hospital Services, Inc. (Blue Cross) and as managing director of Medical Services, Inc., (Blue Shield) in south-central West Virginia. Johnny seems to have just moved, to 201 Rutledge Road, Charleston, W.Va. John M. (Jack) Watt writes of his long career since he left the Campus back in 1920, and now hopes to be back there once more in June. Jack celebrated his thirty-third wedding anniversary last fall, and, if he does say so himself, has had a most interesting and traveled life; fourteen years in the sugar business in Hawaii, seven years in agricultural work (grains and citrus) in Arizona, shipbuilding in California during the War II years, to the Philippines for three years, Afghanistan to build roads, Eniwetok Proving Grounds for atomic bomb activities, Japan for Air Force construction, and back to California since 1952. His firm, Quinton Engineers, handles a wide variety of architectural and construction work, and life must be lovely with such a home address as Hollywood Riviera, Redondo Beach, Cal.

Ed Van Dyke wrote a while ago in a nostalgic mood as he thought back over the forty years since he played in George Brissett's University Band, and then later got a French citation in "our" war. John Krugh sends in word from Kansas City that he's still there, active in his own firm, John A. Krugh Realty Co. Which reminds me; John, like so many others of the Class, cites travel as his hobby. Hardly a letter comes in but some mention is made of a long trip planned or one that has just been happily concluded. Walt Palmer, for example, notes his plans for his first post-retirement travels, though he has spent most of his career in the Far East. And Royal B. Woodleton carries his love of the outdoors into such trips as to the bottom of the Grand Canyon, where he was last summer, and abroad, where he hopes to go maybe this year. He warns all '18ers who haven't been back to Reunion that they don't know what they are missing.

And now for some short notes. A newspaper clipping has come in belatedly telling of the marriage in New York City of Bert Nirenberg to Mrs. Sarah L. Brown. Les (Leicester W.) Fisher is proud of his Freshman son, Perry W. Fisher, a third generation Cornellian, who is taking Engineering Physics, "a course which his father could never have gotten through." Les still inhabits the canyons of Wall Street as vice-president of Van Strum & Towne, investment counsel, at 85 Broad Street, but happily lives in Westfield, N.J., where he plays his bridge.

Bernard Eger lives just over the Blue Ridge in Woodstock, Va., where he continues as a forester for the George Washington National Forest. Another forester, by the way, is Arnold Shaw, who is chief forester for Champion Paper in Hamilton, Ohio. It would be interesting one of these days to run through the Class questionnaires also to see just how many professors we managed to turn out. It will be a long list, proving there must have been a good quota of brains as well as longevity in us all.

'19 Mahlon H. Beakes
6 Howard Street
Larchmont, N.Y.

Our annual Class dinner will be held Thursday evening, April 24, at the Cornell Club of New York, 107 East Forty-eighth Street, under the able chairmanship of Ed Carples. There are about 200 of us young fellows of '19 who live in the Metropolitan New York area, and these dinners offer a convenient chance to chew over old times and see old friends. If you haven't attended one recently, or perhaps ever, it will do you good to join the old stand-bys who never miss.

Frank Veith, 22 East Fortieth Street, New York City 16. Speaking of the grandfather situation, Frank says: "I guess I take the booby prize; just one grandchild to date, more later." On the other hand, there are doubtless many distinguished Classmates who have nary a one!

George A. Spader, Morrisville. George sends information of interest to our brethren who boast of a green thumb. And what is more, his note is written in appropriate green ink, although this may be the Irish in him, as he signs himself "Spuds" Spader. In any case, the Men's Garden Clubs of America appointed George (or "Spuds") their executive secretary last June. Composed of more than 200 clubs with 10,000 members throughout the United States, according to George, gardening is now the greatest avocation in America, and he urges "form a club in your area." Sounds like fun for the green thumb boys, but me? Tomatoes I grow still cost $1.25 a pound!

Lester C. Ringe, who has his office at 5802 Metropolitan Avenue, Ridgewood, writes as follows:

After thirty-six years of private practice of the law, with only the whims and caprices of the Courts, the Legislature, my clients, my secretary, and my assistant to contend with, a new life has been opened to me. In April, I was elected president of Wyckoff Heights Hospital of Brooklyn, a 300-bed and -bassinet voluntary hospital, in which we have 550 employees, 170 doctors, average 900 ambulance calls a month, treat upwards of 10,000 patients a year in the emergency rooms, conduct about 5000 operations a year, have approximately 1700 live births a year, serve a total of more than 450,000 meals a year, and have approximately 90,000 days of patient care. Couple this with requests from friends and political "friends" and you have some idea of my present duties. Frankly, at times I miss the private practice, which I am still conducting (on the side?) with only the whims and caprices, etc., etc.

Just coast along, Les, until a year from June and then take that three-day week end in Ithaca for our Forty-year Reunion. The noise of the barrels rolling down the hill will be like a lullaby in comparison to your present activities.

Harold H. Moore, 16 Hopper Avenue, Pompton Plains, N.J. Harold's wife, Letitia, very thoughtfully wrote a note saying that he had suffered a heart attack in December, but happily is now recovering and possibly before you read this will be back at his desk. Mrs. Moore also says that their younger son, Malcolm Arthur Moore, is a junior at Princeton and that they usually manage to get over to Princeton when Cornell is playing there. Also, that their oldest son, Jerrold Northrop Moore, is working for the PhD in English at Yale.

Colonel Charles Ennis, RD 1, Lyons, writes: "Mrs. Ennis and I spent July in Anchorage, Alaska, visiting our daughter, Mrs. James Macklin (Sally Ennis) '52. Captain James Macklin, US Army, is completing an Alaskan assignment. A perfect time with family and two adorable granddaughters."

'20 Orville G. Daily

"April, April, laugh thy girlish laughter!" And as for you jesting jokers, now that you've had your fun with the pocketbook on a string, the red pepper candy, and the laundry soap cheese sandwich, let's see what the rest of the Class has been up to.

"Our Bill," that's Trustee William Littlewood (above), vice-president of American Airlines, has been made honorary fellow of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, the highest honor the Institute can bestow. The award was made at "honors night" during the annual meetings of the Institute in New York City. In addition to Bill's important contributions in the development of the many American commercial air transports, particularly the Douglas DC line, he recently set up the specifications for the Lockheed Electra turbo-prop and the Boeing 707 turbo-jet, two jet-types American has on order for future delivery. Such distinction is well deserved and the Class is proud for Bill.

Our perfectly praiseworthy prexy Walt Archibald recently blew into The Windy City with his delightful "Dottie" (we're palsy now) to sit in a few smoke-filled rooms at the Conrad Hilton and Edgewater Beach Hotels attending not one, but two conventions. We had a chance to prove that Kenilworth is more than a fly speck on the map, and enjoyed a merry memorable evening with them.

Charles E. "Tommy" Reese who struggles home to 1715 Ramapo Way, Scotch Plains, N.J., is project engineer for Turner Construction Co.'s new Chase Manhattan Bank in downtown N'Yawk. He took Christmas off to fly to California with Betty his love, to visit their daughter and four grandchildren at South Laguna. Tommy's back scrapping the sky again!

Henry G. Hamann, down Hyattsville way in Maryland, has made a career with the USDA in charge of grading service poultry products. No bad eggs in this family. A married daughter in Hartford, Conn., plus a married son with Capital Air Lines at home equals four grandchildren, hale and hearty. Henry and Grace run a cabin colony at Ticonderoga in the Adirondacks every summer, and before long it will become their major occupation. Ole retirement'll soon get him!

Didja hear that the talk of the sporting world at the New York Outdoor Show was the Pflueger 88? It has the speed of the Rocket 88 and the hitting power of a Lueger 45. It's the Pflueger Pushbutton, a spinning reel designed for lazy anglers like George

Stanton and Joe Diamant. All you do is collapse into a contour position in the bottom of the boat (or yacht), flip out the line, press the button, and presto—you have a fighting bass on the hook, or something! Pretty neat, huh? Of course, Johnny Pflueger himself was on hand to award a gold reel to the charming Miss Amelia Ballance, a raving beauty from Nawth Ca'lina, who holds the world's record for channel bass. Johnny kept his equilibrium, though, as he holds a few records himself, made mostly up and down the Hill, and as for a line, he's the greatest!

Walter "Brick" Marx, whom we remember as coxey of the crew, resides at 299 South Harrison, East Orange, N.J., and is the active head of Max Marx Color & Chemical Co., manufacturers of organic pigments. After wandering around like a lost sheep for many years (some call it single blessedness), Walter took to wife Sylvia Landau, a New York customs house broker. Nothing like getting prepared for a few European trips. Good luck!

Seems like we're always getting messages in code from certain characters. Latest one reads "N.B.C. is doing all right by H.C.B." Deciphered and expanded it means that Nancy, Barbara, and Carol, the three charming married daughters of Hosea Cushman Ballou have been keeping that old fossil in the grandfather race. The recent addition of two more grandsons brings his proud total to five boys and three girls. The way these reports keep coming in, we'll soon need Univac to compute the standings. Someone ought to write an essay on the proliferation of the issue of '20 men. It's astounding! If Cornell can make engineers out of half the '20 grandchildren, the USSR had better give up now!

We're glad to welcome some new cash customers and some new addresses, to wit: Linus Kittredge, 190 Middleneck Road, Port Washington; Raymond P. Allen, 2242 Soureik Road, Akron, Ohio; Gordon MacKellar, 37 Ferncliff Road, Morris Plains, N.J.; R. B. Purdy, 31 Spruce Terrace, Packanack Lake, Wayne, N.J.; Dr. Alden Russell, Baker Avenue, Concord, Mass.; Frank Slaff, 200 Mitchell Avenue, Dallas, Pa.; Claude Weinheimer, 1268 Balfour Road, Grosse Pointe Park, Mich.

Spring's in the air, and while you and Ike are rolling eggs on the south lawn, we'll be rolling South fast like a bunny, at least as fast as the law allows! Happy Easter, you eggs!

George Munsick, president of Morristown Trust Co., Morristown, N.J., and our Class treasurer for many years, can really be called the "heart" of our Class. Although the Class dues have been coming in at a very fine pace, he is still looking for a few stragglers to put our Class over the top. George is also very much responsible for our Class column, because most of the news items come from him. His love for Cornell does not limit itself only to our Class. He is a member of the University Council and active in many alumni affairs. Two of George's sons are already Cornell medical doctors. George also finds time to be president of the New Jersey Bankers' Association and president of the New Jersey Citizens' Highway Committee.

H. A. Metzger is vice-president of Creole Petroleum Corp. Ham has spent most of his time traveling the oil fields of the world, but now that he is about to spend more time in New York, we hope to see him again at Class functions.

Edgar J. Seifreath is president of The Seifreath-Elstad Machinery Co. of Dayton, Ohio. Seif is one of the country's experts in the all-important machine tool industry. His services are continually called upon by Washington.

W. Frederick R. Davis of Auburn is still practicing law at the old stand. Mike must be kept very busy, with three children and eight grandchildren.

Donald H. Warren lives in Amityville, L.I., and is with Thomas J. Lipton Co., Hoboken, N.J. His son, Don Warren, is a Sophomore in Agriculture.

J. Arvid Peterson lives in Houston, Tex. (You guessed it; he's in the oil business.)

Albert E. Nugent of Takoma Park, Md. is a marine engineer with the Navy Department. The Nugents spend their time between Maryland and their summer home at Yarmouth, Me.

Curtis T. Prout is a doctor in White Plains. He is also assistant medical director and clinical director of The New York Hospital, Westchester Division, and assistant professor of Psychiatry at Cornell Medical College.

Freeman S. Howlett of Wooster, Ohio is a power in the world of horticulture. As chairman of the department of horticulture & forestry at Ohio State University, he is active in many horticultural activities throughout the country.

Raymond B. Mead of West Cheshire, Conn., who is in the hatching egg brokerage business, is just recovering from a very serious automobile accident.

Ansley Wilcox II of Niagara Falls has been secretary and general counsel of Hooker Electrochemical Co., and was just elected vice-president. He is active in many philanthropic and civic organizations in his community.

Allan H. Treman practices law in Ithaca. He also lectures at the University. His musical accomplishments have made him active in the Savage Club and a leader of Cornell singing. Allan is one to whom we all owe the greatest debt of gratitude. As secretary, he has represented our Class all these years in Ithaca directly with the University. Allan and his wife Pauline are responsible for the rejuvenation of the Big Red Barn and its most welcome use as "Cornell Alumni Headquarters." Two years ago, Allan was elected a member of the University Board of Trustees, and very deservedly so.

'22 Men—Lawrence Eddy is a member of the Department of Education, State of Connecticut. According to Larry, the story of how he happened to switch from engineering to education is a long one, so we will skip it. He was recently named to head the development of pre-service and in-service education courses for the 450 staff members of the department's bureau of vocational-technical school. He is still active in the Army Reserve where he holds the commission of colonel. His home is at 25 Deepwood Drive, Manchester, Conn.

Robert G. Clark is vice-president in charge of manufacturing for Utah Oil Refining Co. Bob joined the company as a draftsman back in 1922 and later became chief engineer. Before his promotion he was refinery manager and a director. His address is PO Box 898, Salt Lake City, Utah.

George Q. Lumsden is in research on preservatives for poles and timbers at Murray Hill Laboratories of Bell Telephone. George was one of the Forestry alumni who attended a Reunion of those gentlemen in Ithaca last fall, conveniently on a football afternoon. His address is Childs Road, Basking Ridge, N.J.

Fred Conklin retired from Esso Standard Oil Co. last December and is contemplating becoming a teacher of mathematics. I can tell you, right now, that Fred's decision to quit big business was not because he had gotten old and feeble. If you were to bump into him, I'm sure you'd agree that he hasn't changed a bit in all these years.

Harold G. Soper is a farmer in Geneva, where he raises Black Angus beef cattle, grain, and vegetables. He is active in the Grange and the Farm Bureau and has been a member of the board of GLF since 1953.

Ed Ackerknecht is in the real estate and insurance business in Glen Ridge, N.J. Out of contact with the Class for thirty-five years, Ed finally showed up at the New York annual dinner. Another who came back into the fold is Charles Leighton, a practicing physician in Long Beach. His address is 217 Magnolia Boulevard.

Frank R. Denton, in addition to being vice-chairman of Mellon National Bank & Trust Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., will serve as president of the Federal Advisory Council of the Federal Reserve System for 1958.

William H. Mann, Queensbury Avenue, Glens Falls, has never missed a Reunion, and he'll be in Ithaca for our 35th. Bill is still in the nursery business, but has given up all landscape work. He had the misfortune, a few years ago, of falling and not only breaking his right arm, but also crushing the elbow joint, but with expert medical care, hard work, and a miracle, he says he's in pretty good shape for an old man. Bill, Jr. lives next door, and has a seven-year-old daughter.

Bill also tells us that Alfred (A-1) VanWirt lives in Glens Falls and is the head of the pigment color division of Imperial Wallpaper & Color Corp., probably the largest pigment color works in the world. He says, too, that Clifford M. Carpenter is at present living at Fort Miller, is still a bachelor, and has taken up oil painting quite seriously and is chairman of the board of the Fort Edward Art Center. Thanks so much, Bill, for this information.

You probably have received a bill for Class dues. When you send in your check to Johnnie Cole, don't forget to fill out the space on the bill for news about yourself, and it will be a big help to your reporter if you would print your name and address.

That's all, my friends. Uncle Sam's Form 1040 must still be quite a struggle for all of you. But when you get it all filled out, checking and double checking all your deductions, sit down and write some news about yourself, and don't forget to write that check for Class dues.

'23 Women—Elizabeth Ryckman Cornwell of Moriah has four children, eight grandchildren, and is a teacher at Moriah High. Alice Burnham Couper (Mrs. Walter J.), 68 Allen Street, Dobbs Ferry, has the Master's from Radcliffe, has continued her music career, plays organ, writes choral music, directs two children's choirs, has bell-ringing as a hobby. Marion Fish Cox (Mrs. William E.), 4510 Fifty-fourth Avenue, NE, Seattle 5, Wash., is on two national boards, vice-president of North Pacific region, AAUW, and also of American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. Dr. Elsie Curtis, 102 Llanfair Road, Ardmore, Pa., continues her practice of medicine, has been on the faculty of Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania for twenty-five years.

Dorothy Brennan Curtis (Mrs. Ralph R.), Westport Road, Wilton, Conn., has gardening as a hobby and is active in League of Women Voters. Frances Rice Darne (Mrs. Eppa W.), 7807 Garland Avenue, Takoma Park 12, Md., is a supervising electronic engineer in the Navy Department, a "ham" radio operator, belongs to the Cornell Women's Club of Washington, D.C. Mary Butler Davies (Mrs. Horace F.), 72 Court Street, Plattsburg, has a full-time banking job, but has time for local hospital and Women's Republican Club. Abby Stilwell Davis (Mrs. Samuel E.), Boulder Bay, Hadley, is assistant director of household at Skidmore College.

Dorothy DeLany, 6 Hillcrest Drive, Ithaca, is now a rural non-farm resident on West Hill overlooking Cayuga Lake. She retired December 31, but that is hard to believe. Kathryn R. Denniston, Rt. 1, Box 47-52, 81906 Avenue 50, Indio, Cal., teaches homemaking at Coachella Valley Union High School and does weaving as a hobby. Karen Jensenius Douglass (Mrs. Thomas B.), 3603 Circle Avenue, Reiffon, Reading, Pa., does volunteer hospital work, church work, and substitutes in the high school.

Gertrude Hicks Drake (Mrs. Percy W.), Freeville, lives on a farm, keeps busy canning and freezing foods that they grow. Eva Peplinski Drumm (Mrs. Willard C.), Box 148, Niverville, is chairman of a home demonstration unit and general chairman of the every member canvas of her church. Florence Foster Durkee (Mrs. Albert J.), 8 North Main Street, Homer, has four of her nine children still at home, but she also does a full-time job running a wholesale bakery, acting as purchasing agent, and doing other executive duties. With all that, she is active in her church and various clubs.

Albert J. Blackwood (above), has been selected as one of ten technical leaders in the oil industry named to the US committee of the Fifth World Petroleum Congress to be held in New York City in June, 1959. Al is associate director of the products research division of Esso Research & Engineering Co. He has been with the firm more than thirty years. Following his graduation, he taught experimental engineering for three years at Cornell. He married the former Pauline McIntyre '24. The purpose of the World Petroleum Congress is to exchange technical information relative to oil and allied industries. Al's responsibility will concern papers on the utilization of oil products.

George L. Weissenburger was saluted recently in Iron Age. He is president of Keokuk Electro-Metals Co. and at one time or another has been a member of the Iowa Development Commission, Iowa Manufacturers' Association, Quad-Cities Post of the American Ordnance Association, and a trustee of Parsons College. He is also a regional vice-president of the National Association of Manufacturers. His further list of activities includes local business groups, service groups, and county politics. Monty is an avowed believer in the necessity of outside activities. He is a "one-company man," having been with Keokuk Electro ever since graduation. While still in school, he worked there summers as a laborer and as assistant chemist.

Rox Fuller forwarded a copy of a letter from George Stahl. George reports he is "a grandfather a couple of times," lives in the same house he was born in, and does the same things in business and play as always, with one notable exception. He espoused painting as a hobby and joined the hundreds of thousands of "Sunday Rembrandts" and, a few years after starting, began selling his paintings. The hobby proved successful, so much so that he had to turn pro for income tax purposes. He reports that he has oil paintings "all over the country" and has now taken up portrait work. When not hobbying, George has a general insurance business with offices at 225 Superior Street, Toledo 4, Ohio.

Sidney W. Little, dean of the school of architecture & allied arts at University of Oregon, has announced his resignation from this administrative position and return to academic status as professor of architecture. The change is to be effective July 1 and will be followed by a six-month sabbatical leave for travel in Europe and the United States before returning to University of Oregon in January, 1959. Sid has been in the administrative post for the last twelve years, and went to Oregon from Alabama Polytechnic Institute, where for eight years he was associate professor of architecture. In Oregon, he has been prominent in both American Institute of Architects and professional affairs and more recently has been deeply concerned with the problems of complete rehousing and organization of the extensive program of the Oregon school of architecture. The extensive new quarters of the school are now being occupied and will be dedicated early this spring. Several years ago, as a member of the survey commission for the American Institute of Architects, he contributed to recommendations for strengthening the program of education for the professional practice of architecture. He later served on the AIA national and regional committee on education on the program for implementation of these items. He is currently chairman of the committee of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture for their major program in postgraduate refresher education for the architect in private practice. Sid's address is School of Architecture & Allied Arts, University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore.

W. Gerould Clark, Jr. of 67 North Dean Street, Englewood, N.J., sends in this note: "My two sons, William Goodman Clark '54 and W. Gerould Clark III '53, were married during 1957. We have a future Cornelian in William Goodman Clark, Jr., born in December, which makes me a grandfather!"

Frederick F. Schurr advises he is still with General Electric apparatus sales office in Pittsburgh (Oliver Building, Mellon Square), handling service for public utilities, mining, and transportation customers. He is active in church work: elder, Bower Hill Community Church, Presbyterian, and member of board of managers, Camp Crestview, a youth camp for Pittsburgh Presbyterians.

Bernard Tolces of 62 West Walnut Street, Long Beach, writes: "I am a professional engineer with the Barrett Division of Allied Chemical & Dye Corp. I am married. My hobby is making color woodcuts."

'27, '53 WA—Colonel Carroll K. Mofatt (above) has been named commanding officer of the Bay Area Army Transportation Terminal Center with headquarters at Fort Mason, Cal. He had been deputy commanding officer of the terminal center since late last year. Called to active duty in 1940, he served in the Southwest Pacific area during World War II and later was transportation officer of the 7th US Army in Europe. His awards include the Bronze Star Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters. He is married to the former Claire Moody '29 and they have one son, William E., now a student at University of San Francisco.

'27 AB, '33 PhD—Stephen M. Herrick has been awarded by the Atlanta Federal Personnel Advisory Council a citation in recognition of his nomination as Greater Atlanta's "Federal Civil Servant of the Year" for 1957. He is staff stratigrapher for the Ground-water Branch, US Geological Survey. He has been concerned with the subsurface stratigraphy of the Atlantic and Gulf Coastal Plains as it pertains to the finding and delineating of the sources of ground-water supply, and has been successful in determining new sources of municipal water supply in Georgia. Herrick also has the MS from University of Pittsburgh. He is the son of Professor Glenn W. Herrick '96, Entomology, Emeritus, and the late Mrs. Herrick (Nannie Burke) '97. He is married to the former Janice Deringer, MA '32, and they live at 306 Mimosa Drive, Decatur, Ga.

Edward R. Fiske, Jr. (above) was recently promoted to the new position of manager, personnel development & employment division, of Leeds & Northrup Co.'s industrial relations department. Ed joined this organization, which is located in Philadelphia and manufactures electronic controls, immediately after graduation and has progressed through its various departments to his present position. He is a former president of the L&N cooperative association. With his wife and two sons, Ed resides at 7342 Rural Lane, in the Mt. Airy section of Philadelphia. He is an elder and benevolence treasurer of the Presbyterian Church of Chestnut Hill and treasurer of the Germantown Boys' Club.

Charles W. Mattison is information consultant in the US Forest Service, Washington, D.C. Matty is a director of Conservation Education Association and chairman of the public relations division of the Society of American Foresters, and has contributed to the Encyclopedia Americana, Agriculture Yearbook 1955, American Forests. He and his wife, the former Elizabeth R. Towne '30, have two daughters, one a senior at Russell Sage, the other a junior at Cornell. Matty maintains his home at 10014 Greenock Road, Silver Springs, Md., and his hobbies include antiques, photography, woodworking, and guns. He has visited nearly every major college campus in the United States and says he still finds Cornell's the most beautiful.

William E. Petty also is in Forestry, being with the New York State Conservation Department as district forester in charge of the central part of the Adirondacks. Bill is vice-president, Adirondack Council, Boy Scouts of America. He resides with his wife and two daughters at Saranac Lake, and address for mail is Box 210. His hobbies are hunting, fishing, and golf.

While in Chicago recently, your correspondent arranged a luncheon at the Palmer House for Classmates from that area. We talked about Cornell in general and our Thirty-year Reunion next June in particular. Much interest was expressed in our Reunion and a good representation from Chicago and vicinity can be expected. It was gratifying to learn that a good number of sons and daughters are planning to matriculate or were already attending Cornell. Those from Chicago who were present at the luncheon were Walt Emerson, Ed Howe, John McKee, Bud Mordock, John Trussell, and Phil Will. In addition, Dutch Hoekelman and George Hall came in from Gary, Ind., Sam Etnyre from Oregon, Ill., and Tom Steen from Western Springs, Ill.

Your executive committee has selected Wednesday, April 23, as the date for the Class of '28 annual spring dinner. This will take place at the Cornell Club in New York City and more details will be forthcoming shortly. If you plan to be in New York at that time, write me for further information.

'29 Men—Captain William R. Franklin, US Navy, is stationed in London, England. Address: Cincinnati Staff, Box 9, FPO, New York City. Nicholas A. Milone has been a resident lecturer engaged in teaching and research for the last nine years at the school of public health at University of Michigan, in Ann Arbor. Arturo Fisher is a claims approver for Equitable Life. He lives at 31-09 Forty-ninth Street, Woodside.

'29 AB—Louis A. Kass of 152 Irwin Street, Brooklyn 35, is delivering a series of ten New York pleading and practice lectures once a week at Yale law school. He delivered the same series at University of Virginia law school in 1957. The last time he visited the Yale campus was in 1929 when he went there as a member of the Cornell Varsity basketball team. A new book by Kass, Wills-New York Law, was recently published by Gould Publications, Inc., Queens Village.

'31 Bruce W. Hackstaff

Huntington, N.Y.

We have included news of Edward and Virginia Ryan Palmquist in earlier issues of this column. In their last letter to us, they included a "Report from the Philippines." We are taking the liberty of devoting this column to two members of our Class and their three children, Robert D. Palmquist '58, 21, Judy, 18, and Bill, 15.

Late last spring none of us thought that we would be spending Christmas anywhere but in our home in Columbia, Mo. Bob was winding up his third year at Cornell; Judy was graduating from Hickman High School and Bill from University Junior High School, in Columbia. Virginia and Ed were just well initiated in their new work as staff members in the comptroller's and deans' offices at University of Missouri.

Cornell then opened up an entirely new vista by requesting Ed to spend eighteen months as visiting professor of botany at University of the Philippines college of agriculture at Laguna, about forty-five miles south of Manila. The whole family voted "Yes!" and Missouri granted a leave of absence until February, 1959.

After spending three refreshing days on the beach at Waikiki, Hawaii, on our flight from Columbia to Manila, we arrived here August 12. Now Bob and Judy are attending college classes here and Bill is enrolled in the U P Rural High School. Ed is teaching a "demonstration" class, doing some research, and visiting other parts of the Islands. Virginia is attempting to manage three servants and maintain American home standards.

We live in a community of sixteen American families on "Faculty Hill," surrounded by coconut palms, papayas, bananas, orchids, and a host of less familiar flowering plants. Judy has a pet monkey and Ed and Virginia have eaten python steak, killed on "the hill." On our weekly trips to the American Embassy commissary in Manila for provisions, we drive along narrow roads which run through broad fields of rice paddies in which natives are at work with their constant companion, the carabao (or water buffalo). Road hazards include scrawny dogs, hogs, and chickens, mats covered with drying rice and laundry, naked children, and natives toting all sorts of commodities on their heads or on bamboo poles across their shoulders. Greater menaces are slow-moving calesas (pony-drawn buggies) and recklessly driven, ubiquitous jeepneys (jeep jitneys), the most popular form of public transportation.

All these, in addition to the frequent electric power failures in our house, are more than compensated for by the warm friendliness and gracious hospitality of the Filipino faculty members and their families. We go from one fiesta to another and are struggling to avoid overweight and the gout.

We expect to have the greenest Christmas we have ever had and we hope yours will be your happiest yet. We would like to hear from you.—Ed & Virginia Palmquist & Bob, Judy & Bill, USOM, APO 928, San Francisco, Cal.

Colonel Donald J. Decker, US Marine Corps, has returned from an extended tour of duty overseas concerned mainly with the Middle East. He is now on duty with the Middle East Planning Committee of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington, D.C., and lives at 6012 Brookside Drive, Kenwood, Md.

Feeling that news is all that's fit to print,

we pass along some recent quotes, verbatim:

From Caius M. Hoffman, Manhasset: "Married twenty years and have three children, Connie, Carole, and Bob. Am a lieutenant colonel of Infantry in active reserve, and teacher of modern languages in Manhasset High School. Summer home in Delhi."

Robert A. Eyerman, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., writes: "Very happy to report that our only child, daughter Jean, will graduate from Cornell University-New York Hospital School of Nursing this June, thus taking her place as a Cornell alumnus with Dad and Mother, Alice Hopkins Eyerman '32. Jean plans to get married in June, shortly after graduation."

From Dr. Harold D. Jacobs, Washingtonville: "Moved to this small community, fifty miles from New York City, in 1955, where we enjoy the pleasures of rural living and I doubly enjoy the practice of dentistry. I'm still close enough to New York City to maintain a part-time office at 30 East Sixtieth Street. My sentiments about rural living are echoed by my wife, son, and daughter. Visited Cornell two weeks ago for the first time in four years."

From Donald A. Russell, Annandale, Va.: "Daughter at Mary Washington College and son at VPI. Isabel and I are fine, broke most of the time, but happy nevertheless."

Harry P. Reed writes from somewhere in Brooklyn: "Married; wife Ada, daughter Ellen, age 14, son Harvey, age 12. Employed by Devenco, Inc. as project engineer."

Manual P. Marin checks in from Durango 167, Mexico: "No news at present, but most sorry to have missed the Twenty-five-year Reunion."

And, finally, from Charles H. Ogden, Newburgh "I am a sales supervisor, E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co. Children: Donna, 10, John, 14. Living a full life and proud to be a Cornellian."

'33 AB—A daughter, Amy Elizabeth Wels, was born January 26 to Richard H. Wels and Mrs. Wels. Wels is a member of Moss, Wels & Marcus, 341 Madison Avenue, New York City 17.

'34 Men—This column announces a new correspondent to the NEWS. Hereafter send your news to Bob Grant, GLF Exchange, Terrace Hill, Ithaca.

Don't wait until you are elected president to tell us where you are. Some of your Classmates might like to know just your address so they could call you up. I am catching up on information supplied me from many sources, some very old, some, I hope, new. If you have heard it before, I hope you will not mind my repeating it.

Robert R. Thompson, ME, recently joined Hudson Paper & Pulp Co. as a manufacturing consultant. They are located at 477 Madison Avenue in New York City, but he is living at 434 Stockton Street, Princeton, N.J.

G. Gordon Brode (Steve), CE, lives at 144 Chapman Avenue, Newcomerstown, Ohio. He is vice-president of W. M. Brode Co., railroad & highway contractors, and having completed a year as president of the Ohio Contractors Association, is now a national director of Associated General Contractors of America. He has three children: Barbara, 14, George, 10, and Susan, 7.

We have a clipping a year or more old telling about the boat designing of Brooks Stevens. It is announced that he graduated from Cornell in '33, but we believe that this is Brooks Stevens, '34 Arch. If it is, he has won wide renown as an industrial designer with his own firm of Brooks Stevens Associates of Milwaukee, which had a part in designing the civilian version of the jeep and recently has produced new and popular outboard motor boat designs. He is married to the former Alice Kopmeier, one-time Milwaukee tennis star, has two sons, David and William, and a daughter, Sandra.

We hear that Karl F. Schmidt has been transferred by his company from Houston to the office of Foremost Dairies, 4500 Parrish Street, Philadelphia 39, Pa.

Herman Arbenz, CE, is with Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad and has recently been transferred to their main office in Huntington, W.Va. His particular specialty is designing engineering in their operating department and his home address is 331 West Sixth Avenue, Huntington, W.Va.

William G. Richter wrote sometime ago that he operates the Snack Jack Restaurant in Bunnell, Fla. At least that is what I think he wrote and if I'm wrong, I hope to be corrected either by Bill or someone who stops to see him this winter.

Revere Copper in Rome has promoted Fred Meiss, Jr. to assistant works manager. Fred is the old football and lacrosse player. He lives at 916 North James Street in Rome, and has two daughters, Marilyn and Margaret.

Most of my dope has come from H. Alfred Stalfort, who sends along the information when you send him your checks for the Cornell Fund. Al is vice-president of Consolidated Engineering Company, Inc., St. Paul & Franklin Streets, Baltimore 2, Md., and is doing an outstanding job for Cornell and the Class of '34. Keep sending your checks and information.—Bob Grant

'34 BS—The above picture of Mrs. May Bjornsson Neel, husband Harry, son Bryan, daughter Stina, and an obliging St. Bernard was taken at St. Moritz, Switzerland, last year. The Neel home is at 1621 Massee Street, Albert Lea, Minn.

'37 Alan R. Willson
State Mutual Life Ins. Co.
Worcester, Mass.

Richard N. Outwin practices medicine at 534 Kearny Avenue, Kearny, N.J. Dick is a lieutenant colonel in the Marine Corps, serving as regimental surgeon for the famed Essex Troop. Dick married a nurse and they have two sons and a daughter.

Another one of the gang who took the Hippocratic Oath is Wilbur M. Dixon. Will practices at 103 Main Street in Binghamton, where he lives with his wife and two children. He is a diplomat of the American Board of Obstetrics & Gynecology, a fellow of the American College of Surgeons, and a founding fellow of the American College of Obstetrics & Gynecology. Like some of our other doctor pals, Will says one of the nicest things about our Reunions is getting away from the telephone.

Middletown is the home of Middletown Veterinary Hospital operated by Donald V. Hughes. Don is married and has four children, and says he has "enough energy left to return for another Reunion."

Morris Siegel lives at Rock Rouge Clinton Avenue in South Nyack with his wife and two youngsters. He, too, is a practicing veterinarian, owning Nyack Animal Hospital. Morry is active in the PTA, the Rotary Club, and in a realty company in addition to his practice.

'37 Women—No, it's not a printing error, or April Fool! A photo of Ed Whiting '29 (above, right) and Jack Shaw '34 does belong in this column. For at least two good reasons: 1. A picture of two such distinguished gentlemen dresses up a women's column. 2. These two particular (very particular) Cornellians earned the right and privilege of appearing in such select company by marrying into the family. (Their expressions plainly show their admiration for the '37 Women parading past them in Barton Hall when this photo was taken at Reunion last June.) Unfortunately, the '37 gals they married, Ruth McCurdy Shaw and Evelyn Carter Whiting, are not very good correspondents, and we had to resort to paid spies for the following report on their family activities and interests:

Milton R. "Jack" Shaw, Director of Residential Halls at Cornell. Past-president, Association of College & University Housing Officers. Member, Board of Governors of Willard Straight Hall. Prominent for many years in Community Chest and United Fund activities in Ithaca. Hobbies include hunting, bowling, collecting antique implements for use on farm and in home. Refinishes furniture. Makes lamps from antique whatzits. Killed his first deer and is so delighted with venison he has decided to hunt for meat from now on and not purely for pleasure.

Ruthie, mother of eight ('37 record-holder!). Bridge Club, League of Women Voters, Theta alumnae. She sews, knits, skates, arches, and target shoots!

Linda, 18, Arts '61, lives in Clara Dickson, works in Home Ec cafeteria, attends numerous houseparties at men's colleges. Katie, 17, Ithaca High School senior. Legislative Assembly. Harmonettes, president of Pep Club. Judy, 15, sophomore IHS, captain, JV cheerleaders, water skier. The most likely to follow in her Dad's footsteps, good cook, interested in "Hotel." Bill, 10, fifth grade, Small Fry catcher, hockey player, winner of first prize (English bike) in recent Kline's Drug Store sales promotion contest. Peggy, 8, third grade, Brownie, dancing lessons. Susan, 7, first grader. Polly, 4, learned to dive at ten months of age. Ginny, 2.

Shaw family pets include Trixie, a Beagle, and Jennifer, a parakeet who is very fond of eating glue on lampshades. Family spends summers at cottage on West Shore of Cayuga Lake, a couple miles north of Taughannock. All the kids are expert swimmers, sailors, and canoeists.

Edgar A. "Ed" Whiting, Associate Director, Willard Straight Hall and Residential Halls. Secretary-treasurer, Association of College Unions; consultant to Association of College Unions on proposed construction of new union buildings. Member, Cornell Society of Hotelmen, City Club of Ithaca, campaign committee of United Fund. Former member, board of directors, Co-op Food Store. Chairman of Committee on Conferences of Cornell University. Campaign chairman for 1956 Community Chest. Advisor in Youth Fellowship, First Presbyterian Church.

Evelyn, mother of three, is member of two bridge clubs, Cornell Women's Club, Service League (operated for benefit of Mental Health Clinic), Harriet Hibbard Aid (a group that sews for Reconstruction Home), Campus Club. She also does typing and book-keeping for Association of College Unions.

Carolyn "Kiki" is junior at Ithaca High, was treasurer of sophomore class, played flute in band, is member of Legislative Assembly. Nancy, a sophomore at IHS, is involved in many school activities. John is a red-haired fifth grader and Cub Scout. They have a little black mutt, Pepper, and a parakeet. They have lots of fun at the cottage on east shore of Cayuga which they share with several other families.—Carol Cline

Harry Johns writes on his way to Colorado or California that he has seen Austin Kiplinger and Brud Holland so far and that he expects to see Tom Boak later in his trip. The latest address for Harry is Bay Road, RD 3, Dover, Del. I would like to quote part of Harry's letter: "In Dover I enjoyed a visit with Brud Holland. Brud surely is alive to the doings of Cornellians and his acquaintances run vertically, horizontally, and circularly through contact patterns made in sports, education, Ag College, Campus administration, Arts College classes, postgraduate industrial life, and postgraduate study (PhD at Penn). He brought me up to date on many of his football teammates."

An article from the Dover Journal of February 24, states: "Dr. Jerome H. Holland, president of Delaware State College, will receive the first annual Freedom Citation from the Chapel of the Four Chaplains at Temple University next Sunday." The citation was awarded for Brud's "outstanding career and his contributions to human relations." This was the occasion of the seventh anniversary of the sinking of the USS Dorchester when four military chaplains of various faiths went down with the ship, linked arm-in-arm, and singing hymns, after giving their life preservers to troops.

The Correspondent's gold medal for this issue goes to Joseph C. Naglee, 867 Campbell Avenue, Los Altos, Cal., for his suggestion that our Classmates put me on their Christmas card list, especially if they send the mimeographed letter kind or will add a personal note to the card. Please don't send any cards signed "Bill"!

More about Joe. He's a life member of the Million Dollar Round Table and has been a member of the president's council of New York Life Insurance Co. He has six children (three of each sex), wife is former Elizabeth Bennett '41. Their hobby is growing more than a million conifers of thirty-two species on the family Evergreen Farms (a free catalog sent on request), and the whole family enjoys a special hobby within a hobby, Bonsai culture, the growing of dwarf trees by confining them to small dishes through root pruning, scarce water, wiring of limbs to create within a few years the aged appearance of a gnarled timberline pine.

A new address (this one indicates a new house) is reported for William T. Fine. The house, and the Fines, can be found on RD 2, Bellefonte, Pa. If you want him during the day, look up Det. 12, ROTC (Army), Penn State University, University Park, Pa. Wife, Martha, daughter, Betsey, Betsey's dog, Toby, and Betsey's horse, Sunny, moved to the new home at the same time Bill did.

Richard M. Bilger reports that son No. 2 checked in a few months ago. Dick, and his sons, plus their mother, live in Baltimore 4, Md., at 917 Fairway Drive.

John W. Little has been out in California for the last three years. He is on the staff at Las Encinas, a neuropsychiatric hospital in Pasadena, doing internal medicine. Jack, age 13, is shaping into a fair football player and wants to go to Cornell. Suzie, 10, specializes in dancing and music. John says, "They have been a big comfort to me during their mother's long illness."

The "flight to the fringe" has another advocate in Bennett Woods. He is enjoying suburban living at 514 Boulevard, New Milford, N.J., along with wife (Vivian Kasden '41) and two teenage daughters. They often see Grace (Moak) '41 and Sidney Meisel '37 who live near them.

A 1957 wedding is reported with Herman Grubin and Linda Burritt Wilson as the principals. Linda, Pembroke '51, comes from Westerly, R.I. and the Grubins now live at 253 East Seventy-seventh Street, New York City.

'41 Men—A few days ago you may have received the first ALUMNI NEWS Group Subscription Plan letter asking for underwriter volunteers. The letter went to a special group of '41ers who have been actively in touch with Cornell since undergraduate days. If you have already completed the agreement which accompanied the letter, please consider yourself a charter member of the Class project and accept our hearty "thanks." If you have put it aside, please dig it out and send it along. The necessary underwriters must be lined up before the plan can proceed. If your name was missed or your letter lost, kindly drop a line to Class Secretary Robert L. Bartholomew, 51 North Quaker Lane, West Hartford 7, Conn. The more underwriters, the better; and the quicker this column and all the many features of the NEWS can reach our proposed circulation of 1074 men of '41.

With extreme sadness we report the death of Classmate Robert M. Rublee, 148 Roycroft Boulevard, Snyder, following a long illness. He was vice-president and treasurer of Buffalo Fire Office, general insurance agency, having joined the company in 1946. Prominent in numerous business and community organizations in Buffalo, Bob held leading positions in many. During World War II, he served as a lieutenant in the Air Force. He was past-president of the Cornell Club of Buffalo, member of the '41 Class Council, and attended our Fifteen-year Reunion in June, 1956. During undergraduate days, Bob's activities included the Dramatic Club and Varsity cheerleading. He is survived by his wife, two sons, and a daughter.

Hampton A. Leedom, 2230 East Bradford Avenue, Milwaukee 11, Wis., is an insurance broker and from last reports has remained single. From the same city, word has been received from Arthur J. Emma, 4056 North Downer Avenue (also Milwaukee 11), indicating that he is very much married with three sons and a daughter. Mrs. Emma is the former Ruth Wolf '44. Art works for Gimbels as merchandise manager.

Poultry and egg dealer in the Binghamton area, Guilford K. Woodward has been active as secretary of the newly-formed Kiwanis Club of Maine. Address RD 2, Endicott. The Woodward family has three girls and a boy.

Gerald S. Page, 75 Briarcliff Road, Larchmont, lists his business as Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey. He also mentions three boys and follows with his activities, Boy Scouts.

'44 AB—Mrs. Marion Kazmann Richards became assistant professor of English at San Jose State College, San Jose, Cal., this fall and her address is now 1044 Longfellow Avenue, Campbell, Cal. She shares an office with Charles D. Ludlum, Jr. '48. She has seen a great deal of old friends Marilyn Wise Douglass '44 and Gael T. Douglass '43, also Hazel Shaeffer Morgenstern '45 in Berkeley. Her parents, Dr. Harold A. Kazmann, director of surgery at Monmouth (N.J.) Memorial Hospital, and Mrs. Kazmann (Frances Bayard) '19, plan to go to California to live after he retires next summer.

'46 Men—Word has come about William Work, who is an associate professor of English in the speech & drama department of Eastern Michigan College, where the State of Michigan is building a $600,000 theatre. Dr. Paul Frisch, 746 McCarthy Lane, Jericho, is assistant professor of psychology at Adelphi College and chief psychologist at the Mental Health Center. Another doctor heard from is Dr. Arthur S. Samuels of 121 Maryland Drive, New Orleans 24, La. He opened an office last year for the practice of psychiatry at 1524 Aline Street, New Orleans, which of course helps to support his wife, Ruth Steinman '49, and their two children, Sheppie, 5, and Marianne, 3.

'47 Men—An immediate result of the recent Fund mailing to the Class was the return of an envelope for John J. Nifosi. John has moved from Glen Rock, N.J. to 326 Cross Street, Fort Lee, N.J.

Let's continue with that article written by Charlie Lockwood in the last issue of the Bulletin, poop sheet for hotelmen: "... Having a short one with and on Paul Gillette '49 who tells of how young his students get every year. He teaches Hotrod Racing 102, I believe, at Fairleigh-Dickinson College. Sneering at Howie Heinsius '50 who, of course, can't sing as well as I. (He did lead a rouser or two that night, though.) Trying to see the girly line around pear-shaped Joe Kosakowski '48 who has a new job at the Hotel Thayer, West Point. Kibitzing with Jack Boyle '48 has many children and no other hobbies, he says. Trying to get a pass to the Miss America Pageant from Lew Malamut '49 who manages the entrants each year, we understand in Atlantic City. (Where else?) Many other impressions, other names, other friends, but then they probably didn't remember my name either.

"Received a nice form letter from Ted

Minah '32, who is director of dining halls at Duke U, suggesting that the N.C. chapter of jolly ole CSH be revived. I concur, Ted; will drop you a line soon. Nice chat, martini, and some laughs at a surprise meeting with Ben Amsden '49 at a cocktail party while in New York. We didn't realize that we had so many mutual friends until we started picking them apart. Ben is in South Dakota at The Sheraton Johnson, Rapid City, and shoveling snow by now, I'm sure.

"Christmas cards from: Roy Niel '48 who is a fellow-sufferer at a beautiful club at Virginia Beach, Va. Jim Bennett '47 who says, I think, (ever read his handwriting?) "... probably go back East this season ... might be down in your part of the country," and still no return address. DOES ANYONE KNOW WHERE HE IS? Waikiki and Howie Donnelly '47 who tends the Moana and Surfrider Hotels. 'Mele Kalikimka,' he says. Wozzat?

"More Xmas cards: From Cyra Gross, which, of course, means nothing to you, or to me either until it figured that she is Bob Edward's '46 first wife, lives in Los Angeles, and present husband's partner is Bob Murphy's cousin. Now, isn't that exciting? From Charlie Butler '47 who said not a word about leaving Florida. But he did. Whahopen? A very interesting card from Leonardo Domonte '46, Hotel Guararapes, Recife, Brazil, which reads 'Boas Festas e Prospero Ano Novo.' Thanks a lot, Leo; I hope that means a free night's lodging and breakfast on my next hop to Brazil.

"Thanks to all nice contributors this time. You, too, can get free advertising in this publication by writing to Charlie Lockwood, Greensboro Country Club, Greensboro, N.C."

How about this postal from Max Bluntschli dated February 15? "This is the ultimate racket, going to Switzerland on business. Yes, on business, although you wouldn't know it from the perfect long week end I'm enjoying here in Zermatt. The sun and the snow couldn't be better, really like spring-skiing." Max, you scroungy old dog; but thanks for the remembrance. Frankly, I've been snowed in here in Ithaca and couldn't get to a ski slope.

Hollis Hatfield moved to Pennsylvania in mid-January where he is now research and legislative director for the Pennsylvania Farmers Association (Farm Bureau). Last summer Hollis and his wife, Kathleen Kendrick '53, enjoyed some cross country camping in the Bad Lands, Tetons Yellowstone, Glacier National Park, and Lake Louise. The Hatfields are expecting their first baby in May. Address, please.

It's the end of my Gray Audograph disk, and I'm off for New York and Pittsburgh! George Gurnee continues to please me by visiting my office in Day Hall frequently. He's still in Binghamton working for the Navy, and we have had luncheon together occasionally. Good times for me.

Beers (Beersman) was appointed manager, sales promotion, for Chrysler Corp.

Halbert E. Payne of Procter & Gamble Co. in Cincinnati, Ohio, reports that he "is very fat and jowly . . . stomach works well on a soft diet. Has family of 2 plus kids; slow starter." Walter J. Henry lives in Eden and has three children. William Berley, 26 Range Drive, Merrick, married Isabel Mayer '47, has two children, and is in the real estate business, Berley & Co. Inc.

Dr. William H. Jeffreys, RD 6, Danville, Pa., is on permanent staff of Geisinger Hospital and Foss Clinic practicing internal medicine and neurology, is married and has three sons. Arthur Behrer, 457 Van Emburg Avenue, Ridgewood, N.J., is married, has two children, is a construction project engineer, and is looking forward to "grand ball on the Ten-year Reunion." Daniel C. McCarthy, Jr. has been appointed director of the manufacturing planning office of Chrysler Corp.

Herbert Hartwig, 109 Worth Street, Ithaca, became Noble Grand of the Odd Fellows, Fraternal Order. Marvin H. Touse, 197 Midland Road, Mentor, Ohio, is married, has two children, and is purchasing analyst for Thompson Products of Cleveland, Ohio. Lee Rothenberg and wife, Sonia Ries '47, have moved into a new home 174 Thornbury Road, Scarsdale. Neal Hospers, Class president, writes from his beautiful Cross Keys Restaurant in Fort Worth, Tex. some news from the West: Vince di Pasquale is catering manager of the Los Angeles Ambassador.—Bob Colbert

'49 Men—George E. Griffith writes that he has moved from Caracas to Valencia as plant manager with Colgate-Palmolive, Apartado 172, Valencia, Venezuela. No report on conditions since the recent "referendum!" Dick Hawkins is still working for Montgomery Ward, managing their cafeteria and dining room in Oakland, Cal. He has been in California for three years and likes everything except the dampness. At 16135 Via Chiquita, San Lorenzo, Cal., he and his wife have two boys, 10 and 8, and a year-old daughter. Vice-president of Dawson Bros. Construction Co. is Joseph W. Dawson, 114 Winkworth Parkway, Syracuse. He has three children plus a dog that keep him busy. In Levittown, Ralph Pickus and his wife have bought a house at 6 Serpentine Lane. He is standards engineer at Sperry Gyroscope.—Jack Rupert

'50 Men—There are many news items telling about jobs, promotions, and the like which should be of interest to all. Let's start this one with some of same: As you might expect, Glenn Ferguson, 119 Byron Road, Pittsburgh 9, Pa., continues to be very active wherever he is and now serves as assistant dean at University of Pittsburgh's new graduate school of public & international affairs. Glenn has also been named an assistant professor of administration at the school. Having received the AB with our Class, he got the MBusAd in 1951 at Cornell and later a law degree at Pittsburgh. Before getting his last degree, he also studied oriental government at University of Santo Tomas in Manila. He served as a psychological warfare officer during the Korean war with the Air Force. In 1954, he was staff associate with the Governmental Affairs Institute in Washington; in 1955-56 he was assistant secretary-treasurer and assistant editor for the American Judicature Society. At Pitt, where he was administrative assistant to the chancellor before being named to his present position, Glenn joins forces with the former Dean of Cornell's Business School, Edward H. Litchfield, who is chancellor of University of Pittsburgh.

IBM announces the promotion of James R. Noonan to project engineer in the magnetic tape devices department of the IBM products development laboratory at Poughkeepsie. Jim and his wife live in Hyde Park and have two children. IBM has also named a manager of engineering education in the same department and he, too, is a Classmate. Lawrence T. Deabler, 8 Shamrock Circle, Poughkeepsie, in his new position, is in charge of all laboratory training programs, professional orientation, and the Syracuse University graduate program. He and his wife have three children.

Houston I. Flourney was appointed last May assistant professor of government at Pomona College, Claremont, Cal. Hugh had served as legislative assistant to H. Alexander Smith, Republican Senator from New Jersey, and also was an instructor at University of California extension in Korea and at Princeton in the department of politics.

George F. Miller, 14 Adelaide Street, Rye, is now staff assistant to the controller of Walworth Co. in New York City.

Howard Stevenson, Jr., son of H. A. Stevenson '19, editor of the ALUMNI NEWS, is administrator for the new building project at Tompkins County Biggs Hospital in Ithaca. For his firm of Thomas H. McKaig '11, engineers, he is liaison man with the general contractor on the new wing of the hospital and is coordinating the reconstruction job that is also being done.

The news is coming in very well. Don't forget to send in your dues of $5 if you haven't done so already. Next time we'll take up more than just promotions and job changes. Your comments are welcome.

—John Maloney

'50 Women—Notes continue to pour in in response to Sally Wallace Murray's recent Class newsletter. Mrs. C. W. Farrow (Leonilda Altman) writes from 2345 Linwood Avenue, Coytesville, N.J.: "We moved to the above address last August, but are still happy working at Bell Labs. We have also bought a lot on a hillside overlooking the ocean in Atlantic Highlands, N.J. This is in anticipation of Bell Labs building a new location about five or ten miles away from our lot. This won't be done for several years yet, but if everything works out as we expect, we'll be building a modern house on the land with an ocean view from every room. At least, that's our dream!"

From Montreal, Canada, comes news of Mrs. David M. Bloom (Naomi Muscatine):

microwave engineers

- The Hughes Research and Development Laboratories are engaged in basic and applied research and development programs in a wide variety of fields, including antennas, radomes, microwave and storage tubes, masers, ferrite devices, microwave circuitry, instrumentation, and other fields.

One of the several interesting problems is the design of feedback loops for locking the local oscillator klystron to an available reference signal. The requirements—good stability and low noise in a very trying environment.

"We arrived here last July. Dave is now at the Montreal Neurological Institute. Our son Peter was born November 22." The Blooms live at 1477 Chomedey Street. Mr. & Mrs. Stanley Metzger (Eleanor Maistel-man) write that they now have two children, Amy, 2½, and David, one year. Their address is 22 Milnew Avenue, Albany. Mildred Fendell Postoff, 15 Glenwood Avenue, Poughkeepsie, reports that she is president-elect of the Mid-Hudson Dietetic Association for 1957-58 and that she will automatically become president next year.

Mrs. Thomas R. Hudson (Jean Thomas) now lives in Ontario, Cal., where she and her husband run a realty office. "Before marriage I worked in Cleveland and then St. Louis. I met Tom at work in St. Louis and was married in March, 1952. We bought a 'mobile home' and came to California on our honeymoon. The experience was much like the movie of Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz in 'The Long, Long Trailer.' Then we were in several professions until last August when we opened our own branch office of Strout Realty. I try to do as much office work as I can besides housework, yardwork, and taking care of our two girls, Carrie May, 4, and Martha, 1." The Hudsons, Jean wrote, planned to move again up to US Highway 66 in Ontario "where any Easterners (Cornellians included) coming to California can find us. If they want a home, a ranch, or business, we will find it for them! Write us ahead of time c/o Strout Realty, 1023 East Fourth Street, Ontario, Cal. Jean added that she was expecting Stuie Cooper, now Mrs. George Rodgers of Lodi, Cal., for a week end visit with her husband and two-year-old son Eric.

Mrs. Gerald V. Sullivan, Jr. (Shirley Smith) reports that they now have two boys, Gerald Vincent III, born June 4, 1956, and Timothy James, born August 24. They live at 84 East End Avenue in Binghamton. And Mrs. John M. Cope (Pat Speidel) writes that a son, John David, arrived in April, 1957. The Copes live in Kankakee, Ill. at 647 Beckman Drive.

Still another Classmate has made the mighty move from East to West. The Bruce McClintics (Nancy Thomas) have left Scotia and now live at 1900 Cabana Drive in far-away San Jose, Cal. And Diana Amoss is now Mrs. Diane A. Robinson, although she still gives the same address: 1620 Massachusetts Street, Lawrence, Kans.

Please continue to send news items to me at 306 East Fifty-second Street, New York City.—Marion Steinmann

'51 Men—Recently moved to Wilmington, Del. is Jack Buckley who is to be an industrial relations assistant in DuPont's employee relations department. And from 359 Heron Road in Corpus Christi, Tex. comes word of a new Texan, a daughter, for Dr. Dick Salsitz.

Spending his vacation in college is Gene Stanislauskis, c/o University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa. Gene is usually found in Saudi Arabia; hence is entitled to a somewhat longer vacation than the usual two-week model.

Howard and Dorothy (Rosenberger '52) Jensen are with their new daughter at 530 Woodside Road, Royal Oak, Mich. Howard is a sales engineering trainee with Mechanical Handling Systems, a Detroit firm. They expect a spring move following his completion of the course.

Al Underberg, now a barrister in Rochester, passes along word that Captain Bob Cornetti, USAF, is with Air Force headquarters in the Pentagon in the war plans division. Bob lives at 1228 North Powhatan Street, Arlington, Va. He suggests wider dissemination of my address, so here goes: 2519 Bristol Place, New Orleans 14, La. Of course, news items sent to the ALUMNI News, Day Hall, Ithaca, wend their way to me here in Mardi Gras town. And, while we're on the subject, Bob Caplan's address is 96 Bayard Drive, Claymont, Del. As Class secretary-chairman he's always ready for comments, suggestions, and volunteers for help with Class activities.

So far 184 Class members have gotten on this year's News 'n' Dues Bandwagon by sending their news and $3 to Keith Seegmiller, Walloomsac Road, Bennington, Vt. How about you? If not, climb aboard today.

'51 Women—"On the go" describes the life of Peg Blanck Stevens. She, hubby, and four children (Michael, 6, Peggy Anne, 4, Patrick, 3, and Kevin, 1) are now living in Angouleme, France. Their move to France is the tenth move in seven years. Mail will reach them c/o Lieutenant Colonel A. L. Stevens 0-51506, Headquarters US Army Ordnance Depot, APO 211, New York City.

Another traveller has recently arrived in Nurnberg, Germany, for assignment as a service club director with the Army's Special Services staff in Europe. She is Terry Geherin, lately of Ithaca. As a Special Service worker, Terry will provide entertainment and recreation for Armed Forces personnel. Fans or bubbles, Terry?

Having taught nursery school for a year, Margaret Martin McPherson (Mrs. Warren D.) now manages her own private one, enrollment being limited to Ellen, 5, and Douglas, 4. The classes are held at 233 East Main Street in Fredonia, where Warren sells insurance for Heppell-Robinson Co. of Dunkirk.

Florence Schelleng Skiff reports that her husband John has the MD and is now engaged in cancer research and working toward a specialty in internal medicine. They live on RD 1, Castleton-on-Hudson, with their three children: Billy, 4, Ellen, 2½, and Freddy, 1.

Two other Cornellians now residing in Castleton-on-Hudson are Jim ('48) and Ruth Redden Rushby. The whole family (besides Jim and Ruth, there are Robin, 7, Susan, 4, a dog and a cat) enjoys their new ranch home at 4 Van Buren Avenue. Jim is plant engineer for the Fort Orange branch of Sutherland Paper Co. Both Jim and Ruth are active in community affairs.

The Cornell Women's Club of Delaware boasts a '51er as its vice-president: Nancy Hinner Miller (Mrs. J. Statler Miller) of 713 Woodsdale Road, Wilmington, Del. Between her activities with the Women's Club and keeping up with Mikell Ellen (3) and Allison Yorke (1), Nancy leads a busy life.

Helen J. Anderson has been awarded one of three Pulitzer Prizes given annually to graduates of the Pulitzer School of Journalism at Columbia University. She is the first woman to receive this prize, and is a member of the editorial staff of Ladies' Home Journal. She will spend three months in Europe gathering material for magazine articles.—Doris Paine Kirchner

'52 Men: Philip A. Fleming
3324 Valley Drive
Alexandria, Va.

My nomination for the most travelled member of the Class easily goes to Leon Hirsch, 1105 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge 38, Mass., who wrote me a very newsy letter recently, indicating that he had just returned from three years abroad in connection with a Ford Foundation grant to study Indian business conditions. Lee spent a year in England, then "motored" to India where he spent a year and a half, and returned to the US via air, making a number of stopovers in the Far East.

As Lee put it, "During the time I was abroad I visited approximately forty-three countries; all of non-communist Europe except Finland and Portugal, all of non-communist Asia except for the Arabian peninsula, Israel, Laos, and South Korea." Lee goes on to say: "It would be impossible to relate even a fair number of things which happened. Among others, I shot a bear in Kashmir, was the guest of a Maharaja in a former Indian Princely State, in Sikkim was asked to bring up the case of the Lepchas in the UN, was offered the hand of a beautiful Indian girl (which I did not accept), and almost died of jaundice which manifested itself in Cambodia, by turning me yellow to the eyeballs. This last wasn't so bad for I had to go to Bali to recuperate when I left the hospital."

In spite of the obvious time-consuming nature of the above chores, Lee adds: "During my time in India I managed to do a good bit of research on sugar marketing in North India. I'm now up in Cambridge, for the center for international studies at MIT has hired me as a research associate to write up my material. It's keeping me busy, turning it out for a summer deadline. I'm also a doctoral candidate at Harvard Business School, and will be able to use this same material for my thesis. . . . Eventually plans are to go into the international field." Seems to me, Lee has already been in the "international field," and come away the clear winner. He's anxious to hear from Cornellians with whom he lost contact while on his Odyssey.

Another Ford Foundation item concerns Mike Scott, 2328 Fernwood, Ann Arbor, Mich., who is currently finishing his third year of law school at University of Michigan. Mike notes that he has been awarded a Ford Foundation study grant by the law school, and that he and Cynthia plan to spend next winter in Europe (probably Geneva), studying international law and economics.

Bill Scazzero turned "emcee" at the Cornell Club of Westchester sports dinner in White Plains in late February, and apparently did so with considerable success. Some 200 schoolboy athletes and coaches attended, and in addition to Bill they heard from Coaches James and Sanford of the University.

Here's a note for apartment-dwellers who haven't yet figured out a solution to the problem of accumulating old magazines, and who don't want to take the easy way out by moving into a house. Drop a note (together with a self-addressed, stamped envelope) to a public-spirited New Yorker by the name of Harry Plissner, 345 West

Fifty-eighth Street, New York City, and tell him you'd like the name of someone overseas who is interested in receiving your old magazines. He'll send you a letter from some such person, and your magazine problem is solved. Harry estimates that several million interesting American magazines are destroyed every week, and that a large number of folks overseas would be quite interested in the pictures and ads alone, if not the text, of many of these magazines. I think he's probably right, since in my one brief residence in the Far East I discovered ten-year-old Life magazines selling for as much as fifty cents in Hong Kong. A word of caution, though, on the basis of my recent experience. I sent four magazines (Time, US News & World Report, The New Yorker, and Life) to a young man in Indonesia, whose name was supplied to me by Harry, and within three weeks a rebellion broke out over there.

'52 Women: Mrs. C. D. Graham, Jr.
2211 The Plaza,
Schenectady 9, N. Y.

You'll be glad to hear that '52 was well represented at the January Class officers' meeting in New York City. Attending in our behalf were Pat Dexter Clark, Jean Brown Craig, Libby Hunsberger Craver, and Lorette Bode Dybvik.

Another of those terrific Class newsletters is in the wind. (They always make me a wee bit jealous, 'cause they bring out more news in one issue than I can drum up in a year!) Jean Brown Craig is picking up the newsletter where Phebe Vandervort Goldstein left off, and it promises to be very interesting reading. It has been decided to send the newsletter to the entire Class membership, but, of course, that takes m-o-n-e-y. So Treasurer Barb Galvin Rittenhouse would appreciate it if all you gals who haven't yet paid your $2 Class dues for the next five years would please ante up. Mail your dues to: Mrs. O. William Rittenhouse, 4 Highland Street, West Concord, Mass. All contributions will be much appreciated and will help insure continued Class activities.

It's a girl for Konrad '55 and Dell Tauscher Bald. Dell writes that the arrival of Christine Anne February 13 makes them a balanced family. Christine has a two-year-old brother, Michael.

Life sounds pretty cheerful with Pat Thornton Bradt. Pat writes: "We're now living at 3770 Mountain View Avenue, Easton, Pa. We moved over here from Bethlehem (a few miles away) in October. We had our house built and had lots of fun watching it go up. Our clan now numbers two little ones, Jimmy age 2½, and Julie, age 14 months, and they keep me stepping! Jack '52 is managing the S. I. Handling Systems here in Easton, a division of Safety Industries in New Haven, Conn. I saw Joan Rothman Kaimer and Mickey MacDonald McFadden last summer and fall; both live in Allentown. Bob '52 and Ellie Hospodor Conti have recently moved to Easton, and Don '52 and Mibs Martin Follett '51 and family will be moving here soon. So, we're seeing more Cornellians all the time."

Don't forget to send in your dues, and don't save all your news for the newsletter; give this column a break!

'53 Men: Dr. Samuel D. Licklider
Colorado General Hospital
 Denver 20, Colo.

It appears things are definitely under way for our Five-year Reunion. We are fortunate to have Tony Quartararo take the post of Reunion chairman; in his last year at the Law School, Tony is in good position to do full justice to this onerous but important task. Let's give him our hearty support, beginning with the matter of Class dues which he has amply discussed in his recent letter. Reunion can and should be much more than a good party. It should be a time when loyal Cornellians seek to reacquire themselves not only with their old college pals and places, but further to reacquire themselves with the spirit and future purposes of that unique institution of higher learning which Ezra Cornell and Andrew White founded in the latter years of the American renaissance. Let every '53 man, who can, begin this June to make Reunion time a recurring tradition in his life.

"I'm keeping myself occupied with a freshman counselorship and an assistantship here at Yale," writes Arthur Kover. "The graduate schools (and especially the law school) here are riddled with Cornell people; just about every day seems to be Reunion day." Since he finished his tour as an Army intelligence officer in Germany, Art has been working toward the PhD in sociology.

Robert Ashton is in engineering with Procter & Gamble. Participating in the Cornell Club, the Cincinnati Ski Club, and in tennis, sailing, squash, and private flying, Bob has just been out this way for an Aspen ski outing. He maintains a residence along with several other young bachelors at 50 Elm Avenue, Cincinnati 15, Ohio.

In preparation for the ministry, Russell A. MacLeod has begun his studies at Andover Newton Theological School.

Ayres Holmes Stockly has wed Doris du Pont Silliman of Montchanin, Del. and Vassar College. The wedding was held in Christ Protestant Episcopal Church of Greenville, Del., December 7.

C. Fredric Hobbs, Box 657, Pebble Beach, Cal., has been accorded a one-man exhibition for his paintings at the Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco, June through July 27. Fredric exhibits through the Artists' Guild of America; he also teaches advanced painting and history of art at the Robert Louis Stevenson School in California.

C. Oliven remains with The Kansas City S*T*A*R, morning-evening-sunday-weekly, Kansas City 8, Mo.

Phil Foster, 719½ West Kalamazoo, Lansing, Mich., is doing extension work with Michigan State after spending some time pursuing the PhD at Columbia a year ago.

Ernie Hardy and Jane Little Hardy '53 are living with son Edward on Enfield Falls Road, RD5, Ithaca. Ernie is working on a survey of upstate New York farming while Jane continues with her garden features.

Married July 20, 1957, in Columbus, Mike and Helen Rulison honeymooned two months coast-to-coast, camping in Rocky Mountain, Grand Teton, and Yellowstone National Parks. Having settled at 2445 Union Street, San Francisco 23, Mike has found a paying job with the California State Chamber of Commerce.

WHO IS Safe FROM CANCER?

Nobody—young or old—is safe from cancer, but there are two things you can do about it.

One is to have regular check-ups every year. Many cancers may be cured if detected and treated early. The other is to fight cancer with a check.

Presently employed by McCann-Erickson, advertising agency in New York City, Peter B. Hallock recently won $100 with his paper "Industrial Design in Small Business." The prize was presented at the February 18 meeting of the Sales Executive Club, New York City. Pete finished the MBusAd last June.

'53 Women: Mrs. A. B. Boehm, Jr.

A note from Mrs. G. Victor Wintriss (Ann Wheeler) gives their new address as 620 Lake Drive, Princeton, N.J. The move took place last November when Vic was discharged from the Navy. He is now working for Wintriss, Inc. in New York City. Ann also tells of an addition to the family, their third daughter, Sarah Alice, born December 19. Lynn is four and Robin is two years old. In answer to Ann's request for the address of Nate '54 and Nona (Sutton) Pond, I believe they are living at Goodhill Farm in Woodbury, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. (Peggy Doolittle) Vickroy '52, 136 Frank Avenue, Mamaroneck, announce the birth of Theodore Sears January 14.

Also Mr. & Mrs. W. C. (Barbara Hathcock) Mooney, 340 Woodstock Avenue, Stratford, Conn., announce the arrival of Katherine Jean, November 25. The baby's grandfather is James S. Hathcock, PhD '27.

Eugenie Gilbert has moved to 33 Bellewood Place, Elizabeth, N.J., where she is teaching French and English.

Mike Rulison '53 sends word that Mrs. Tim (Margot Pringle) Liberty is developing an adult education program among the Cheyenne Indians in Birney, Mont. "A job," she says, "as nerve racking as it is fascinating. Suffice it to say that the work is richly varied and the insights into human nature are as wonderful as they are alarming." Margot is now local news correspondent for three small newspapers. She has started work on the Master's in anthropology by doing field work in Indian religion.

Martha Ann Hopf, 310 East Thirtieth Street, New York City 16, is now a fashion publicist for The Wool Bureau, 16 West Forty-sixth Street, New York. Max F. Schmitt '24 is president of The Wool Bureau. Prior to this, Marty was director of publicity promotion for Skillmill, Inc. of New York. She was assistant to the fashion publicity director of Bonwit Teller for nearly two years. Before that, she was assistant to the merchandise and fabrics editor of Mademoiselle as well as college merchandising editor.

A couple of plane jockeys are Douglas Bancroft and Allan Christensen. Doug reports tersely that he is "still single" and flying tankers out of Lake Charles, La. Air Force Base. Allan is stationed nearer to the Hill at McGuire AFB in New Jersey. He, wife Elizabeth Anne, and daughter Bobbie live at 46 Llewellyn Avenue, Hawthorne, N.J. Incidentally, both flyers carry first lieutenant around as a title. Navy Lieutenant John Crane writes that he has accepted a regular commission and is serving as operations officer aboard the USS Courtney, one of the newest of the Navy's destroyers. John is also single and lives at 2 Kensington Court, Hempstead.

'54 Women: Ellen R. Shapiro
44 East 74th Street, Apt. 1B
New York 21, N.Y.

Our Class continues to produce its share of future Cornellians, with the news of several more arrivals to '54 women. Dr. & Mrs. (Rosalyn Roth) Albert '53 Treger are the parents of a daughter, Flora, born February 8. Roz writes that her husband is working at the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Md. and that they live at 102 A Ames Road, Silver Spring. She'd like to hear from Classmates in her area.

Girls, incidentally, seem to predominate this month. Anne Elizabeth was born December 28 to Mary Jane (Matson) and William P. Woodcock '51. Sylvia (Taub) and Maynard, MBusAd '54, Bernstein of 49 Laurel Drive, Scranton, Pa., are the parents of Linda Ellen, born December 24.

A second daughter, Marjorie Amy, was born December 27, to Selma Pollets Roen, who's still keeping house at 1153 Oak Avenue, Lawton, Okla. She writes that they plan to return to the East in September when her husband, Sheldon, expects to be discharged from the Army.

Alan '52 and Carol (Stitt) Sokolski spent a mid-winter vacation in Florida, Cuba, and Nassau, just missing the strike in the latter place. Alan is a project engineer in the nuclear division of Foster Wheeler Corp., while Carol teaches kindergarten in the Island Trees Public Schools in Levittown. They live at 141-65 Eighty-fifth Road, Jamaica 35.

'55 Women: Mrs. Harry C. Olsen
ROICC Area III

A letter from Mrs. S. J. Mann (Jona Spiegel) comments on the acute shortage of school teachers nowadays. As a result, says Jona, "I can now be found teaching the fourth grade at Stelton School in Metuchen, N.J." Included in her new round of activities are graduate courses at Rutgers U. For free advice on "Will Johnny ever read?," she lives at Apt. 1C-3, Redfield Village, Metuchen, N.J.

Have a briefing from Marggy Doorty on her activities since graduation. She and Julie Scott went to Paris in September, 1956, where Julie was on a Fulbright Scholarship studying architecture. Marggy and William B. Kerr II '52 were married in Paris, March 12, 1957, with Julie as maid of honor. After touring France and Italy, the Kerrs returned Stateside and Bill is now studying Law at Cornell. Their address is 522 The Parkway, Ithaca.

A snow-spotted letter made its way here from another Ithacan, Tay Miller (Sarah Fehr). She and husband, Richard S. Miller '56, are at Resident Apt. 6, University Halls, Dick finishing his last year at Business School and Tay teaching at Boynton Junior High School with a few Cornell Education courses thrown in. The Millers went to Bermuda to see what sunshine looks like over the holidays. Added bit of news: the John Browns '50 (Joanne Burford) had a baby.

Mrs. John Tarr '53 (J. Lou Roberts) writes enthusiastically about their life on the farm at RD 1, Waterloo. They are most busy remodeling their farm and also have a wee one, John Alan, who was born prematurely, December 7, but is doing fine. Lou is also teaching in the Waterloo adult education program. Another young 'un to join the ranks was born to the Alan Reichenbachs '54 (Nancy Martin) December 12, Brian by name. The Reichenbachs are at 5868 Access Road, Dayton 3, Ohio, where Al is counting the days to the end of his Air Force stint.

Lots of news from Mrs. Michael J. Greenberg '53 (Rima Robbins). First, "the stork beat St. Nick" and December 24 John Kirsch Greenberg joined the family. Going back a bit, after collecting various degrees from Florida State U. (Mike the Master's and Rima finished the AB), they are now at 1010 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, Mass., where Mike hopes to collect the PhD in biology at Harvard this June. Rima's energies are mostly consumed by John and his older brother, Peter, who is 2. Rima did so well reporting that I think I'll just quote. "Mary Lou Brann is working in a home-ec capacity for a local gas or electric company; address 18 Prospect Street, Cambridge, Mass. Jerry Voss '54, wife, Jean, and two-year-old daughter Cindy are at 6 Linnaean Street, Cambridge. He is a grad student in design at Harvard. The Tim Goldsmiths '54 (Mary Helen Martin) are both working for doctorates in biology at Harvard. Whew! Marilyn Hecht married Dr. Paul Mandelstam in Bristol, Va., February 2. They will be living in St. Louis, Mo. where Marilyn will continue working for the PhD in pharmacology at Washington U med school. The Stan Grays (Myrna Stalberg) of 761 Van Court Avenue, West End, N.J., had a daughter, Stacey Ellen. Their son, Marc Jeffrey, is two." Many thanks, Rima! Reunion, Reunion, Reunion.

Your professional advancement is accelerated by our company-sponsored self-development programs: our full-time, off-the-job Graduate Engineering Training Program and the Tuition Refund Plan for after-hours college study. Engineers are important to all phases of Western Electric's job as manufacturer, purchaser, distributor and installer for the Bell System.

Your professional advancement

Western Electric offers real opportunity. Some 55% of the college graduates in our upper levels of management have engineering degrees. And 7,000 management positions must be filled by newly promoted people in the next ten years. Many of these positions will be taken by Western Electric engineers.

Opportunities spring from the work we do. As the Bell System's manufacturing unit, Western Electric is the world's largest maker of communications equipment. We are equipped to produce some 65,000 different parts which are assembled into a vast variety of apparatus and equipment. Add to this our steady, varied defense assignments, and you see why engineering skill gets top priority here at Western Electric.

CHOOSING a company with which to spend your professional life is one of the most important decisions you have to make. Choose carefully, for your professional advancement and rewards depend to a large degree on the opportunities presented you.

Be sure the company itself is growing on a solid foundation . . . doing important work that has a permanent part in the nation's economy and future. Be sure the company offers challenging work and opportunities in your chosen field . . . for you will be happiest and develop faster doing what you like. Be sure the company you choose is "engineering-minded" . . . and has demonstrated an active interest in the development of its engineers.

Before you decide, look around . . . ask . . . compare. You will find all these opportunities at Western Electric.

Opportunities exist for mechanical, electrical, chemical and civil engineers, and physical scientists. For more information pick up a copy of "Your Opportunity at Western Electric" from your Placement Officer. Or write College Relations, Room 1111C, Western Electric Co., 195 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y. And be sure to sign up for a Western Electric interview when the Bell System recruiting team visits your campus.

Principal manufacturing locations at Chicago and Decatur, Ill.; Kearny, N. J.; Baltimore, Md.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Allentown and Laureldale, Pa.; Burlington, Greensboro and Winston-Salem, N. C.; Buffalo, N. Y.; North Andover, Mass.; Lincoln and Omaha, Neb.; St. Paul and Duluth, Minn.; Kansas City, Mo.; Columbus, Ohio; Oklahoma City, Okla. and Teletype Corporation, Chicago 14, Ill. and Little Rock, Ark. Also Western Electric Distribution Centers in 32 cities and Installation headquarters in 16 cities. General headquarters: 195 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y.
