SET ALUMNI INSTITUTE Committee Plans Program

The first "Alumni Institute" at Cornell, tentatively referred to previously as the Alumni University, will start directly following the Commencement exercises on Monday, June 17, and will continue through Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, June 18, 19, and 20. The Board of Trustees authorized the Institute at its last meeting, upon the recommendation of the University Faculty. For several months, since the Cornell Alumni Corporation at its convention in October discussed the project and recommended its adoption, the Faculty and Trustees have been exploring the possibilities. Their favorable vote was influenced not a little by the many expressions of interest received from alumni in all parts of the country.

Professor Julian P. Bretz, History, is chairman of the committee appointed by President Farrand to develop plans and work out details. The other members are Dean Floyd K. Richtmyer '04 of the Graduate School, Dean George Young, Jr. '00 of the College of Architecture, Professor Donald English, Economics, S. C. Hollister, Director of the School of Civil Engineering, Frank A. Pearson '12, Agricultural Economics, and Robert S. Stevens, Law, with Foster M. Coffin '12, Alumni Representative, as secretary. The next meeting of the committee will be April 9.

Cornell men and women, with members of their families, will be invited to enroll as students, to attend lectures and round-table discussions on present-day social, political, and governmental questions, led by well-known professors. Among the members of the Faculty who will participate in the program are Provost Albert R. Mann '04; Dean Dexter S. Kimball of the College of Engineering; Professor George F. Warren '03, Agricultural Economics; Professor Harold L. Reed '14, Economics and Finance; Professor Robert E. Cushman, Government; and Professor Gilmore D. Clarke '13, Regional Planning. Further details of the program will be announced later in the ALUMNI NEWS.

The Alumni Institute will directly follow the class reunions, and it is expected that many alumni who come to Ithaca for the reunions from Friday to Sunday, June 14 to 16, will stay through for the week. The Commencement exercises will be held Monday morning. Registration for the Institute will be Monday afternoon, with the opening dinner that night. During the mornings and early afternoons of the three following days the sessions will be continued, with programs of sports and recreation, including music, exhibits, and other social activities, in the late afternoon and evening.

Most of the meetings will be held at Willard Straight Hall, and the "students" will dine there. Living accommodations will be available in the University dormitories. The Institute is to be conducted without expense to the University, and only such charge will be made as is necessary to cover expenses. It is expected that the total charge, including meals and lodging for the four days, will be approximately twenty dollars a person.

CHICAGO ANNUAL DINNER

The annual dinner of the Cornell Club of Chicago will be held April 4 at 7 p.m. at the Bal Tabarin, Sherman Hotel, with Professor Bristow Adams as the main speaker. Further entertainment from the College Inn, hotel night club, is promised by Mead Montgomery '24, chairman of the committee, who is making preparations for the biggest gathering ever held.

On March 21 the Club's luncheon speaker was Warren Piper, Chicago jeweller and one of the country's leading diamond experts, and former president and one of the founders of the Interfraternity Club. His subject was "The Romance of Precious Jewels."

ATHLETICS GROUP MEETS

The special committee of which Andrew J. Whinery '10 is chairman, appointed to "consider problems of organization to assure an adequate and continuous program of sports at the University on a permanent basis," held its second meeting on Saturday.

Continuing its task of gathering facts and recommendations from all parties interested, it heard reports from Romeyn Berry '04, graduate manager of the Athletic Association; from the committee on athletic control, of which Professor Herman Diederichs '97 is chairman; and from the committee of the Faculty. Professor Frederick G. Marcham, English History, is chairman of this committee and its other members are Professors Leonard A. Maynard, PhD '15, Animal Husbandry; Horace E. Whiteside '22, Law; Hubert E. Baxter '10, Architecture; and Dr. Wilbur H. York, Hygiene.

This subcommittee on the organization of athletics, having previously gathered information from undergraduates and alumni, is expected to digest its material and report on April 13 to the full committee, which in turn will report to the Board of Trustees, probably April 27.

WOMEN'S CORNELL DAY To Entertain May 4

Cornell Day for prospective women students, sponsored by the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs in cooperation with the Cornell Alumni Corporation, will be held at Ithaca on Saturday, May 4. This follows the same arrangement as last year, when fifty-eight secondary school girls were brought to Ithaca by alumnae of the participating clubs.

While a few guests will come from New York City, Buffalo, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Trenton, and other clubs sufficiently distant to require overnight accommodation in the dormitories, the greater number will come as the guests of nearer clubs in New York and Pennsylvania. They will drive to Ithaca in the morning and spend the day on the Campus, where the undergraduates will entertain them. Considerable interest has already been shown by alumnae, and the Federation has again this year been forced to limit attendance to a number for which satisfactory arrangements can be made. Quotas are being assigned to the clubs, and these quotas will be closely followed in order to avoid overcrowding.

Because of the limited enrollment for women at Cornell, the Federation discourages emphasis on numbers. Clubs are being urged to select carefully the girls whom they invite to Ithaca for Cornell Day. Many high school principals and headmistresses are cooperating in the arrangements, giving to the local chairmen the names of their students who are scholastically fitted for University work and who give promise of educational growth. Alumnae are interviewing these recommended girls, and invitations to Cornell Day on May 4 are being issued by a committee of each Club to girls selected as suggested by the Federation.

During the University spring recess a "flying squadron" of undergraduate women, selected for that purpose by the Women's Self-Government Association, will address the women's clubs and alumnae groups in several cities, to tell them about Cornell today and to interest them in the Federation's program for relations with secondary schools. Marjorie McAdoo '35, of Kew Gardens, president of WSGA, will speak at a tea to be given by the Cornell Women's Club of New York on April 6 for prospective Cornellians from the Metropolitan district, arranged by a Committee of which Mrs. Bernard A. Savage (Carmen Schneider) '27 is chairman.

Other undergraduates so far selected and the cities in which they will speak between March 30 and April 7, are:

Binghamton, Anita Boldt '35; Scranton, Ruth Marcus '35; Syracuse, Cornelia Morse '34; Cortland, Viola Henry '35; Auburn, Eleanor De Witt '36; Rochester, Norma Nordstrum '35; Geneva, Genevieve Harmon '35; Utica, Louise Odell '37; Buffalo, Mary Tillinghast '36; Trenton, N. J., Marjorie McAdoo '35; Washington, D. C., Mary Rowe '35; Baltimore, Md., Browneley Leesnitzer '35; Boston, Mass., Barbara Burr '36; Cleveland, O., Carol Cline '37; Poughkeepsie, Constance Sheedy '35; Bridgeport, Conn., Ethel Wadsworth '35; Batavia, Marie Prole '36; Pittsburgh, Pa., Ann Sunstein '36; Philadelphia, Pa., Dorothy Ferguson '35; Rome, Mildred Evans '35.

The committee in charge of Cornell Day is headed by Helen Gillespie '30, 711 Onondaga Avenue, Syracuse, and includes also Lillian Fasoldt '27, president of the Ithaca Club, and Mary Tillinghast '36, 109 Tripphammer Road, Ithaca, representing the undergraduates. William J. Thorne '11, chairman of the Cornell Alumni Corporation committee on relations with secondary schools, Foster M. Coffin '12, Alumni Representative, Ray S. Ashbery '25, Alumni Field Secretary, and Mary Donlon '20, president of the Federation, are cooperating with the committee on arrangements for May 4.

Miss Gillespie asks that the Women's Clubs and alumnae groups interested in Cornell Day communicate with her at once, as the tentative quotas are rapidly filling on the basis of reports already received.

HIS FACE WAS RED

The occasion was a dinner recently given a visiting team of debaters on the Campus.

A sophomore, striving to exercise the urbanity of college life, found himself seated at the head table next to a dignified elderly gentleman with whom he was unacquainted.

Reaching for the right hand of his neighbor, he introduced himself, saying: "My name's Snodgrass. What's yours?" "Farrand," said the other, solemnly shaking hands.

Having made the stranger feel thus at home, the sophomore chatted blithely through the meal.

The speaking program came on, and the toastmaster said: "I have the honor of introducing Dr. Livingston Farrand, president of Cornell University."

When the man in the seat next to him stood up in response to the introduction, our Cornell sophomore all but crawled under the table to hide his embarrassment. . . . President Farrand kindly forbore rubbing it in with any of the barbed comments for which he is famed at post-prandial affairs.

MCKIE TO ARMY BAND

Captain Robb S. MacKie, U. S. Army, since 1930 in charge of the ROTC band at the University, leaves in May to take command of the United States Army Band in Washington, D. C. Captain MacKie has been one of the most popular officers of the ROTC here, giving instruction in the first-year advanced infantry course as well as making the band one of the best drilled organizations in the country. At horse shows, football games, and other athletic events the ROTC band has attracted favorable comment whenever it has appeared.

Captain MacKie came to Ithaca in 1929, when Colonel Joseph W. Beacham '97 was in command of the ROTC and had personally underwritten the new red uniforms and completely reorganized the band. The next year Captain MacKie was assigned to drill the band, and it has since grown from sixty-four pieces to one hundred.

He was a member of the class of '19 at Hamilton College, left in 1917 to enlist in the Army, and served with General Leonard Wood organizing the Tenth Division at Camp Funston, Kansas. He came to Ithaca from duty at Fort Benning, Ga. He considers Cornell his "adopted Alma Mater," and says that he and Mrs. MacKie are only reconciled to leaving Ithaca by the very pleasant assignment he has in Washington.

PRESENT "UNCLE VANYA"

The Laboratory Theatre, comprised of students in Professor Alex M. Drummond's course in dramatic production, gave a finished and realistic first performance of "Uncle Vanya" by Anton Tchekov, in the University Theatre, March 22. They repeated the play on Saturday evening, and will give it again April 13.

All performers are excellent in their parts, making the audience realize to the full the depressing hopelessness of the life of the author's Russian country family dominated by the egocentric old Professor Serebryakov. Astrov, the doctor, played by Theodore W. Hatlen, Grad., of Pasadena, Cal.; Marina, the nurse, by Violet J. Brown '35 of Brooklyn; Ivan Voynitsky, by Julian Fossen, Grad., of New York City; and the old Professor, played by Herbert A. Yenne, Grad., of Lincoln, Nebr., were especially fine. The Professor's daughter, Sonya, is played by Mary O. Kimball, Grad., of Battle Creek, Mich.; his doting mother-in-law, Marya Voynitsky, by Elizabeth D. Worman '24, assistant in Public Speaking; his wife, Yelena, by Dorothy B. Sarnoff '35 of Brooklyn. William J. Galligan '34 of Concord, N. H. takes the part of Waffles, the family retainer; and Joseph North, Grad., of Trenton, N. J., that of the farm laborer.

Professor Drummond has directed the production, and it is strikingly staged with special settings designed by him and J. Colby Lewis '33 of Newark, N. J. The nineteenth-century Russian costumes were made by student members of the costume department under the direction of Miss Worman.

MOOT COURT APRIL 13

On April 13 in the Moot Courtroom of Myron Taylor Hall, four members of first-year class of the Law School will argue opposing sides of a case before three justices of the Appellate Division of the New York State Supreme Court who will come to Ithaca especially for the occasion. The court will comprise Hon. Charles B. Sears, presiding justice of the Fourth Department, Appellate Division; Harry L. Taylor '88 and Harley N. Crosby '96, associate justices of the same Court. That evening at the annual moot court dinner in Willard Straight Hall, the bench will announce its decision and comment upon the arguments presented by the students.

The right to appear at the moot court has been earned through a series of three preliminary rounds of argument which began early in the term. The entire class was divided into two leagues, with four clubs in each. The speakers for the winning Huffcut Club will be David A. Fraser of Syracuse, Hamilton graduate, and Joseph R. Mangan '34 of Rutland, Vt., with Thomas F. Steenberg '35 of Spencer and Robert S. Grant '34 of Ithaca, as alternates. The Pound Club will be represented by Frank C. Heath, Jr. of Weston, W. Va., Dartmouth '34, and Daniel C. Williams, Notre Dame '31, of New Haven; with William M. Sheffield of Northampton, Mass., Dartmouth '34, and Grover C. Bradstreet, Jr., Rochester '34, of Rochester, as alternates.

Moot courts have been held in their present form since 1926. Members of the winning clubs work with the speakers on their briefs.

CLEVELAND TO HEAR JORDAN

The Cornell Club of Cleveland announces its annual dinner for April 4, taking advantage of the visit of Professor Riverda H. Jordan, who will speak. At the March 21 luncheon, Frank N. Wilcox of the Cleveland School of Art spoke on "The Trails of Ohio."

CAPITAL DISTRICT MEETINGS

Cornellians of Maryland and the District of Columbia on April 2 and 3 will take advantage of the visit of Professor John G. Jenkins '23 and of several "professional alumni" from Ithaca to hold gatherings.

At 8:30 on April 2 at the Altamont Hotel, Baltimore, the Cornell Club of Maryland meets for dinner, with Professor Jenkins and Foster M. Coffin '12 and Ray S. Ashbery '25 of the Alumni Office as speakers. Headmasters and prospective Cornellians and parents will be guests.

That afternoon, alumnae will gather for tea at the home of Mrs. Karl E. Pfeiffer (Anne Bullivant) '12, 2701 Queen Anne Road, Baltimore, where the guests will be R. W. Sailor '07 and Mrs. Sailor (Queenie Horton) '09 and Coffin.

The next evening at 8:15 the Cornell Club of Washington has scheduled a buffet supper at the University Club, where Professor Jenkins and others will speak.

During that week, from April 3 to 6, The Cornellian Council, Alumni Office, and ALUMNI NEWS will be represented at the annual convention of the American Alumni Council at the Wardman Park Hotel in Washington. Those attending will be Archie M. Palmer '18, executive secretary, and Mrs. Sara B. Sailor (Sara M. Bailey) '09, assistant secretary, of the Cornellian Council; Coffin and Ashbery; and Sailor and Mrs. Sailor.

OBITUARY

EDWARD E. WILLEVER, since 1911 librarian of the Law School, died March 5 at his home in Ithaca after an illness of two years. He was 69. The late Judge Frank Irvine '80, while he was Dean of the Law School, brought Willever to Ithaca from his post as librarian with the Edward Thompson Company, law publishers at Northport. Previously he practiced law and represented the New York Life Insurance Company in Omaha, Neb. While a student at the University of Nebraska, where he received his law degree, he was librarian of the Omaha Bar library. Mrs. Willever died three years ago; Willever is survived by a son, George E. Willever of Ithaca, and by a daughter, who is the wife of Bourke H. Bayless '20, of Claremore, Okla.

JAMES HENRY GANNON '98 died on January 10 at his home in Bramley, Surrey, England, at the age of 58. Since 1926, when he was appointed London representative of the Chase National Bank, he had become an internationally famous financial adviser in England, Germany, Austria, and Spain. He was a leader in the American creditors' committee in the renewed standstill agreement of last year with German debtors, and was a director of the International Mortgage Bank. Gannon entered the course in Philosophy in '95 after a year at St. Lawrence University, and received the degree of PhB in '98. As a sophomore he played on the baseball team and became manager of baseball and a member of the Athletic Council in his senior year. He was on the board of the '98 Cornellian, and of the Widow in his junior year, and was a member of Sphinx Head, Theta Nu Epsilon, and Alpha Tau Omega. After graduation he joined the old New York Sun as a financial writer, then became railroad editor of the New York Evening Post, and in 1906 was appointed financial editor of the New York Times. Four years later he became assistant treasurer of the American Sugar Refining Company and in 1917 joined the Butterick Publishing Company as vice-president. He was elected a vice-president of the Chase National Bank in 1928. Gannon is survived by his widow and two sons, David, who is in the Berlin office of Chase National Bank, and James K. Gannon of Saratoga; and by a sister, Mrs. Frank Cooper of Albany.

CHARLES MERCER MARSH '03 died on January 1 at his home, 8 East Irving Street, Chevy Chase, Md. He was head of the commercial engineering department of the Potomac Electric Power Company, where he had been since 1909. He was born in Morris Plains, N. J., September 1, 1879, and entered Sibley College in 1898 from Cascadilla School. He took the Electrical Engineering course and received the ME degree in 1903. After a year with the General Electric Company in Schenectady, he did engineering work in connection with the Fifth Avenue bus lines in New York City before going to Washington. He is survived by his wife and three daughters.

WILSON H. GLASS '36 of Tulsa, Okla., a student in the Medical College in New York, was reported killed in an automobile accident near Lenhartsville, Pa. on December 22, 1934. With three companions, one of whom was also killed, he had started for his home for the holidays when their car was crowded off the William Penn highway and crashed into a guard rail.

DAVID CLAIR BRIMMER '37 of Owego died in Endicott, December 23, 1934, from injuries received under the wheels of a train the day before. He came home from the University for the holidays and with two companions had gone to a brick pond nearby to clear the ice for skating. The job completed, they hopped a freight train to go home and he slipped under the wheels, which severed both arms and a leg. He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. David Brimmer of Owego. He had graduated from Owego Free Academy in 1932 and entered the Chemistry course in 1933.

LAW ALUMNI TO DINE

The Cornell Law School Alumni Association will hold its annual dinner this year on April 4 in the ballroom of the Hotel Biltmore, New York City, at seven o'clock.

Supreme Court Justice William F. Bleakley '04, president of the Association, will be toastmaster. Many Cornellians high in state and Federal judiciary, in New York and other Eastern states, have accepted invitations to be present. Dean Charles K. Burdick and others of the Law School Faculty will be on hand, as will many of the present students. A delegation of former Glee Club members, headed by George F. Lewis '07, will lead the singing.

These dinners of the Law alumni have become widely known as congenial and worth-while gatherings of lawyers. Speeches are few, brief, and always significant; emphasis is upon reunion and acquaintance among the Cornell lawyers who come from many places. Members of the Law Association may invite as guests other alumni as well as undergraduates at Cornell and elsewhere who intend to enter the Cornell Law School.

Ex-Justice William L. Ransom '05 is chairman of the dinner committee and the secretary is Walter R. Kuhn '12, 115 Broadway, New York City. Tickets may be obtained from Kuhn or from the Law School office at Ithaca.

Concerning THE FACULTY

MRS. LIVINGSTON FARRAND judged the garden exhibits at the flower show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society in Boston on March 25.

MRS. ROBERT E. CUSHMAN was guest of honor at a bookseller's tea in New York City, March 22, publication date of her new novel, "But for Her Garden." The story was serialized in the Pictorial Review as "Judith."

MRS. LINNEA DENNETT, Home Economics, was struck by an automobile, driven by Irving D. Rosenman '35, on March 20 while she was crossing Thurston Avenue bridge. She suffered severe lacerations of the head and bruises.

DEAN GEORGE A. WORKS of the University of Chicago, who was Professor of Rural Education at the University from 1914 to 1927, recently characterized the talk of "college Reds" as a "tempest in a teapot." He is quoted as saying that "education tends to make one conservative. Universities have many times as many conservatives as they do radicals."

PROFESSOR GEORGE F. WARREN '03, Agricultural Economics, speaking in Springfield, Mass., recently, said that prices in gold are likely to return somewhere near to the pre-war level, but this rise will be a result of recovery rather than an aid to recovery.

PROFESSOR JOHN R. JOHNSON, Chemistry, and Mrs. Johnson (Hope E. Anderson), AM '25, announce the birth of a son on March 21. Their address is 200 White Park Road.

PROFESSOR GEORGE L. BURR '82, History, is spending the winter in Deep Springs, Cal.

EDWARD S. FABIAN '23, formerly instructor in machine design, is now teaching mechanics in the engineering college at the University of Tennessee at Knoxville.

THE CONTEST among the Extension forces of the College of Agriculture for the record day's work wages hotly. The person whom we reported last week as having driven 365 miles for two schools and two conferences within nineteen hours must have been loafing! This week, Extension Echoes reports another, likewise unidentified, who left the Hotel Utica at 5 a.m. after arriving there at midnight, drove 410 miles over icy roads in a day of twenty hours during which he surveyed fifteen farms, arrived an hour late to conduct a farmers' meeting, and left it at 11:30 to drive his last forty-five miles to a hotel. The editor, Professor Bristow Adams, still asks for records!

GILBERT ROSS, talented member of the Music Department staff, gave a violin recital in Bailey Hall on March 26, the fourth in the current series of Faculty recitals.

HARRY J. LOBERG '29 since last fall has been an instructor in Administrative Engineering. He teaches accounting, technical writing, and marketing, replacing C. Richard Kingston '27, who is now sales engineer for Taylor Instrument Company of Rochester.

NEW BRUNSWICK ORGANIZES

Twenty alumni of the vicinity met for luncheon March 15 at the Elks Club in New Brunswick, N. J. and organized the Raritan Valley Cornellians. They plan to meet monthly, and plan to entertain Coach John F. Moakley before the track meet at Princeton, May 11.

The first officers of the Raritan Valley Cornellians are Sydney B. Carpender '07, president; Herbert R. Cox '09, vice-president; and Edwin A. Gauntt '23, of the New Jersey Experiment Station, secretary-treasurer.

Others who attended the organization meeting were Albert E. F. Schaffle '15, Alton Gabriel, PhD '30, Hermann F. Vieweg '21, C. Beverley Benson '17, Peter A. vander Meulen '13, Louis R. Gons '13, James R. Varley '20, William H. Mathee '19, George B. Howell '20, Loren Morris '26, Ira H. Degenhardt '28, Orley G. Bowen '16, Leo C. Smith '25, William F. Knowles, MS '29, Forrest C. Button '16, and William H. Fries '03.

WOMEN ELECT OFFICERS

Women students of the University at their annual mass meeting in Bailey Hall on March 22 combined a fashion show sponsored by Ithaca merchants with the election of officers of the Women's Self Government Association and presidents of the various dormitories.

Four juniors were elected officers of WSGA for 1935-36: Marjorie S. Kane of Far Rockaway, president; Julia S. Hardin of Ithaca, vice-president and chairman of organized groups; Helen L. Smith of Trumansburg, secretary and chairman of activities; and Harriett T. Blatt of Atlantic City, N. J., treasurer and president of the Class of '36. Katherine E. Skehan '37 of Newark, N. J. is president of Risley and Frances G. White '37 of Lockport, president of Sage. President of Cornell University Religious Work is Catherine H. Stainken '36 of Brooklyn; and of the Women's Athletic Association, Nellie M. Gordon '36 of Lawyerville. Esther M. Dillenbeck of Buffalo is president of the Class of '37, and Patricia S. Prescott of Sandy Creek, of the Class of '38.

2,880 GIVE TO FUND Classes Shift Ranks

Sixteen classes had given more than $1,000 each to the Alumni Fund to March 15 since the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1, 1934, according to Archie M. Palmer, executive secretary of The Cornellian Council. From 2,880 contributors, of all but five of the sixty-six classes which have graduated from the University, the Council has received $38,949.35 in the eight-and-a-half months. The five classes not represented are '69, '70, '71, '73, and '75.

The Class of '26, which at the last report led all the others in amount, number, and percentage of subscribers, has now been passed by five classes in percentage of contributors, by two in number, and in amount by the Class of '10, which now leads with $1,841.00.

The Class of '34 now leads in number, with 132 contributors, and is fourth in percentage. Palmer says they bid fair to establish an all-time record for "freshman" alumni.

Many classes have changed their rankings in all three classifications from the report published in the ALUMNI NEWS of March 7, but the only newcomer to the first ten is the Class of '16, which is now tied with '20 for tenth place in number of contributors.

Following '10 in amount, '26 is now second with $1,701.60. '23 still doggedly holds third place, but with its total increased to $1,587.84; and '22 climbs from seventh to fourth, with $1,521.01, nosing out '24, '21, and '85 to fifth, sixth and seventh, with $1,476.34, $1,391.83, and $1,320.00, respectively. The Class of '20 stays at eighth, with $1,305.29; '08 at ninth, with $1,293.50; and '25 at tenth, with $1,151.83.

Four classes so far have exceeded their total gifts of all of last year: '21, '25, '26, and '76.

The Class of '26 drops from first to third place in number of contributors, with 121; '24 retaining its place at second with 123, nine below the leader. Fourth place is now occupied by '22 with 119 subscribers; and '13, previously tied with '12 for seventh, is now fifth with 105, leading the "perpetual reunion class" by three. This shift pushes the Class of '23 from sixth to seventh, with 101; and '21 from fifth to eighth, with 100. Ninth place is still held by '33 with 92, and '16 and '20 are tied for tenth with 86 each.

In percentage of living members subscribing to the Fund, '85 climbs this time from third to first, with 9.68. Four other classes are ahead of '26, leader at the previous report: '13 comes from eighth to third, with 8.61; the baby class, '34, from tenth to fourth, with 8.54; and '12 from sixth to fifth, with 8.43. Following '26 in sixth place with 8.32, Palmer now reports that '00 has climbed from ninth to seventh, with 8.22; but the other three of the first ten classes have dropped: '24 from fourth to eighth, with 8.10; '22 from seventh to ninth, with 7.73; and '84 from fifth to tenth, now reporting 7.58 of its members as contributors.

The period of largest receipts, Palmer says, is just ahead, and he expects many changes in the first ten of all three classifications by the time of the next report, which we shall publish April 18. The average gift is smaller this year than last, but increasing numbers of alumni are giving.

QUESTION SPRING DAY

In Areopagus for March, Douglas C. McGowan '37 and Gretna Parrill '36, under the title, "Spring Day—More Fun?" criticize the shows of the last two years and suggest that if it is to be continued "the circus must be a fete which will embody Cornell traditions rather than a brawl that will disguise them." The article contains a brief history of Spring Day, the facts credited to Romeyn Berry '04. The Sun agrees editorially that the affair should be novel and original rather than perfunctory, and suggests that this year on May 18 a chariot race with the vehicles drawn by goats should be the pièce de résistance.

This issue also contains an editorial urging all students to think and speak on the athletic situation, an exposé of the gambling houses in Ithaca, now closed by the police, by Milton I. Roemer '36; an unsigned letter on "Mass Hypnosis in Germany"; and "A Challenge to Independents," to form a new club of their own, by Eugene E. Doll '36.

CORNELL LAW QUARTERLY

The Law Quarterly for February contains an analysis of "The Commerce Clause and the New Deal" by Dr. Forrest R. Black, chief attorney, Office of the General Counsel, AAA; and of "Manner of Stating Cause of Action," by Professor Carl C. Wheaton of St. Louis Law School.

Dean Charles K. Burdick reviews The Termination of Multipartite Treaties by Harold J. Tobin; John T. McGovern '00, Lord Reading and His Cases by Derek Walker-Smith; and Horace G. White, Jr., Grad., Business Organization and Combination by Richard N. Owens.

Contributors to the section of "Notes and Comment" include Alfred J. Swan '36 of Forest Hills, Robert S. Pasley, Jr. '36 of Maplewood, N. J.; Robert W. Purcell '35 of Watertown; David Altman '35 of Rochester; John M. Friedman '36 of Rockaway Beach; George N. Stevens '35 of Masontown, Pa.; M. Harold Dwyer '35 of Syracuse; Frederick W. Whiteside, Jr. '36 of Camden, Ark.; James R. Withrow, Jr. '35 of Columbus, O.; J. Franklin Maddever '36 of Niagara Falls; and A. Marcus Connelly '36 of Ashville.

NO PAPER NEXT WEEK

The spring recess of the University begins March 30 and ends with the resumption of classes on April 8. Our publication schedule is for thirty-five issues a year. That they may be as full of news as possible, we accordingly suspend publication for two weeks. Appropriately enough we have just received from her publishers the new book by Mrs. Sidney Greenbie (Marjorie L. Barstow) '12, The Arts of Leisure. Part of ours will be spent in reviewing it.

The next ALUMNI NEWS will be that of April 18.

PENN STATE TO MEET

The Cornell Club of Penn State is holding a dinner April 5 at State College, Pa. Professor Clyde H. Myers, PhD '11, Plant Breeding, will be the guest speaker.

HOW ONE PROF. TEACHES

"Working for the Profs," by Professor Herbert H. Whetzel, '02-'04 Grad., in Areopagus for March is an illuminating exposition of one professor's philosophy of teaching. He thus summarizes what he calls his "instruction obligations":

"First, to provide every facility within my power to enable the student to get the facts, and then leave it to him to get them; how many and which facts, his judgment and inclination must dictate.

"Second, and here is where the teaching comes in, it is my duty to exercise his mind in the use of the facts which he has accumulated (if any) in solving problems, making judgments, testing hypotheses and theories, and arriving at conclusions. This I do in personal conferences, on the average at least one a week. Since I am required to judge the student (give him grades), I try to base this judgment solely upon his accomplishment in thinking with the facts. Obviously he can't think without facts, so I give him no credit for having them. It is taken for granted (by me from the first, by him very soon) that he will have a working body of facts on the subject in hand when he comes to conference.

"There are no specific attendance requirements either as to lecture or laboratory periods. He is free to come and go as he chooses.

"And how does it work? Ask my students."

CHEMISTS TO LUNCH

Cornellians who are in New York City for the convention of the American Chemical Society the week of April 22, and resident alumni, will gather for luncheon on Wednesday, April 24, at one of the convention hotels. The committee in charge is August Merz '93, chairman, Alvin C. Purdy '20, Jack Miscall '23, and Franklin H. Bivins '27, whose address is c/o Foster D. Snell, Inc., 305 Washington Street, Brooklyn.

Bivins writes that Cornell luncheons at previous conventions of the Society have been well attended, and it is hoped to have the largest gathering ever at this one. Preparations are being made for at least two hundred.

On Monday, April 22, at the Hotel Pennsylvania, Professor Arthur W. Browne of the Chemistry Department will be the guest of honor at a tea to be given by his former students attending the convention.

OUR CARTOONIST AGAIN PORTRAYS CURRENT CORNELL HAPPENINGS

BRIEF NEWS OF CAMPUS AND TOWN

DRIVEN by a strong south wind and weakened by several days of spring-like weather, the ice went off the Lake suddenly the night of March 18, carrying with it several docks along the east shore near Willow Point. On Wednesday of last week three Varsity boats rowed two miles along the west shore, and by Friday a freshman crew and the 150-pound boat went with them. Meanwhile, up the Hill, Coach Eckley has been at work with the baseball squad on Hoy Field, and Nick Bawlf drills his lacrosse candidates daily on Upper Alumni Field.

SPRING came in earnest with the first thunderstorm on Saturday morning, and another that night, accompanied by hail and a driving downpour which crippled the lighting system so as to leave the Drill Hall in darkness for several minutes during the last indoor track meet of the season.

HOTEL EZRA CORNELL, which opens at Willard Straight Hall May 3, will this year celebrate the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Hotel course, whose students run it. Frank H. Briggs '36 of Long Branch, N. J. will be the manager.

SCARAB, honorary scholastic society of the College of Agriculture, entertained more than a hundred members of the Faculty at a smoker in Willard Straight Hall on March 20. Bo I. B. Adler '35 of Ithaca presided, and Provost Albert R. Mann '04 was the speaker. The Savage Club furnished entertainment by holding its meeting on the stage, each member being called upon for an extemporaneous performance.

MADGE FAIRFAX, mezzo-soprano, appeared in Willard Straight Hall on March 24 in the series of Sunday afternoon recitals sponsored by the board of managers of the Hall.

A SPRING SHUFFLE was given in the ballroom of Martha Van Rennselaer Hall on March 22 by The Greeters, freshman society in Hotel Administration. The proceeds are to help furnish the student lounge rooms of the Department. Vincent T. Burns of Richmond Hill was in charge of the dance.

DISCUSSION of the Senior Class Poet broke into the editorial columns of the Sun last week when it announced that the Class Day Committee had this year decided (for the first time, so the Sun said) to allow a woman to hold the honor. The editor saw in this decision that "the restrictions and barriers of the past are slowly falling before a saner and more rational attitude of the student body." Next day, however, not questioning the editor's conclusion but his facts, R. W. Sailor '07, editor of the ALUMNI NEWS, wrote that "it might be news if a man were class poet. . . . It isn't worth the effort to go into it in too great detail, but the Classes of 1902 to 1908, inclusive, each had a woman poet. . . . That makes eight out of eight that I have looked up," said Sailor.

WESG, University broadcasting station, last Sunday as an experiment broadcast the New York Philharmonic Orchestra concert through a hook-up with Columbia Broadcasting System.

SCHOLARSHIP AND SONGS occupied the annual Pan-Hellenic tea in Willard Straight Hall on March 22, at which prizes were awarded to the highest sorority in each of the two fields of activity. Alpha Epsilon Pi won the scholarship cup, with Kappa Kappa Gamma second, and Alpha Xi Delta third. Delta Delta Delta made a perfect batting average in the song contest, winning for the second time in the two years of this event. Alpha Phi sang next best, and Kappa Kappa Gamma proved its versatility by coming in third.

PROFESSOR WESLEY C. MITCHELL of Columbia this week concludes his Messenger lectures on "National Planning," giving the eleventh in the series March 25 and the last on March 29. Other lectures of the week include the Phi Delta Kappa initiation address by Dr. George M. Wiley, Assistant Commissioner, New York State Department of Education, on March 26 in Willard Straight Hall; and on March 28, Dr. Parker H. Willis, Columbia University professor of banking, "The Future of American Banking," on the Schiff Foundation; Dr. Max Dessoir, emeritus professor of philosophy at the University of Berlin, "The Creative Activity of the Artist," a Goldwin Smith lecture; Rev. Bernard R. Hubbard, S.J., ("The Glacier Priest"), of Santa Clara University, an illustrated lecture on Alaskan explorations, "The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes"; and Professor Arthur J. Hill, chairman of the department of Chemistry at Yale, on "New Contributions to the Chemistry of Local Anesthetics," before the Cornell section of the American Chemical Society. The Hillel Foundation brought Dr. Horace M. Kallen to deliver two addresses in Barnes Hall last Saturday and Sunday: "Jews in the World Crisis" and "The New Deal; Is There an American Way Out?"

SAGE CHAPEL PREACHER last Sunday was Rev. David Jones Evans, Professor of Preaching at the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School. Dr. Albert W. Beaven, president of the School, who was originally scheduled, was unable to appear.

LOUDLY APPLAUDED by the audience in the Drill Hall Saturday night were the interfraternity relay races, in which ten teams of four men each ran in two groups and against time; and the intercollegiate medley relay race where the first entrant from each college ran 440 yards, the second 220, the third 330, and the fourth a half-mile. Amid great excitement and frenzied exhortations, Sigma Chi won the former; with the Hopfuls, an independent quartet, second; Chi Psi third; and Scorpion fourth. Agriculture finished first of the college teams, followed by Arts, Mechanical Engineering, and Hotel.

ALL-STARS defeated Phi Delta Theta on March 12, winning for the third consecutive year the men's intramural basketball championship of the University. Meanwhile the Yearlings of Balch Halls II and III brought the women's intramural basketball cup to a dormitory for the first time, defeating Sigma Kappa.

A DEBATE between Hamilton College and Cornell was broadcast at 3 p. m. March 25 over Station WESG. Gustave U. Gants '35 of New Rochelle and Philip Goodheim '36 of Gloversville represented the University. The subject was: "Should the nations agree to prohibit the international shipment of arms and munitions?"

JAPAN'S VIEWPOINT on the manufacture and control of armaments will be upheld by three Cornell members and an equal number of technical advisers at the League of Nations model assembly to be held at New York University, April 11 to 13. Various Eastern colleges will send delegations, each to speak for one country which is a member of the League. The Cornell delegates have not yet been announced.

CAYUGA HEIGHTS residents held a caucus on March 12 to nominate as trustees of the Village Dr. Charles H. Webster '04, who has sold life insurance to generations of Cornellians, and Dr. A. W. Crowley, Ithaca dentist. Mayor Arthur J. Heinicke, PhD '16, Professor of Pomology, appointed as a committee to look into the condition of the sidewalks of the village Dean George Young, Jr. '00 of the College of Architecture, Professor Alexander D. Seymour, Jr., Architecture, Professor Leonard A. Maynard, PhD '15, Animal Nutrition, and Professor Carl Crandall '12, Railroad Engineering. Cayuga Heights should have artistic and durable sidewalks.

MANY CORNELLIANS were among the hundred-and-fifty extension agents from fifty-five counties of the State who gathered for their annual professional conference at the College of Agriculture from Wednesday to Friday last week.

About ATHLETICS

RIFLEMEN BREAK RECORDS

The ROTC rifle team broke all records for shoulder-to-shoulder matches, so far as is known, when they shot 1408 against 1346 for Elmira in the Drill Hall on March 21. Previously they had shot 1424 of a possible 1500 in a postal match against Drexel Institute and were credited by the National Rifle Association with having made the highest score ever attained in intercollegiate competition.

Captain Jonathan P. Blount '36 of Ithaca led the team last week with 95 of a possible 100 standing, a remarkable score, and a total of 291 of a possible 300. The other scores were John J. Serrell, Jr. '37 of Elizabeth, N. J., 281; M. Chandler Redman '37 of Bangor, Me., 280; Laurence S. Carroll '35 of Cutchogue, 278; and Stephen C. Fordham, Jr. '38 of Tivoli, 278.

Saturday afternoon in the Drill Hall the team defeated Colgate, 689-610, in its fourth intercollegiate match. Fordham was high gun with 139, but Carroll tied with him for first place. Richard M. Bleier '35 of New York City and John W. Humphreys '36 of Hollis shot 138, and Robert G. Smith '36 of Poughkeepsie was fifth with 135.

On March 16 in Syracuse the team won its third intercollegiate shoulder-to-shoulder match, defeating Syracuse 682-659. They had previously defeated Syracuse in the Drill Hall and Navy at Annapolis. Carroll and Serrell failed to place, but others came up to bring the individual scoring of the first five above all but the best two Orange shooters. Captain Blount again was high gun with 143, making one of the team's three perfect high scores in the prone position and 48 kneeling.

On April 6 at Annapolis, the team will compete in the annual sectional shoulder-to-shoulder matches for the intercollegiate championship. Last year the ROTC team took second, losing to Navy by a scant margin. On March 30 they shoot against Army at West Point.

Women Also Shoot

A rifle team of women under the managership of Rita D. Ross '36 of Brooklyn and coached by Sergeant L. W. Brown of the Military Department, has won against four, lost to four and tied one woman's team of other colleges. They opened their season February 23, shooting 490 against South Dakota 488, and Carnegie Institute of Technology, 500. On March 2 the team shot 491 against Penn State 487, Louisiana State 486, Syracuse 491, and University of Washington 500. March 9 the women shot 487 against Massachusetts State 480, University of Nevada '494, and Wichita 497.

The women's squad is composed of Mrs. Alice C. Blount '37, wife of the men's team captain, Mary C. Capewell '37 of Yonkers, Janet B. Collidge '37 of Greenfield, Mass., Stephania Czech '37 of Poughkeepsie, Grace H. Jones '37 of Topeka, Kans., Elinor S. Mayer '37 of Flushing, Jean Thompson '37 of Washington, D. C., Merle M. Elliott '38 of Brooklyn, Helen L. Reichert '38 of Niagara Falls, and Barbara E. Sturges '38 of Ithaca.

POLO INTERCOLLEGIATES

The ROTC polo team met defeat Saturday night, 2-12, at the hands of Pennsylvania Military College in its first entry in national indoor intercollegiate championship matches. Playing in Squadron A Armory in New York City, the Red team was beaten by superiority in mounts and by a more experienced team.

The summary:

CORNELL (2)	Pos.	PMC (12)
Roberts	No. 1	Jones
T. Lawrence	No. 2	Combs
J. Lawrence	Back	Young
Score by chukkers:
Cornell.....	½ 1 ½ 0-2
PMC.....	2½ 3 2½ 4-12

Goals: Cornell, Roberts 1, T. Lawrence 2, J. Lawrence 1. PMC, Jones 5, Combs 6, Young 4, credited to pony, 1.

Fouls: Cornell, Roberts 1, T. Lawrence 2, J. Lawrence 1. PMC, Jones 1, Combs 4, Young 3.

Referee: Phillips.

The same evening a Junior Varsity team, playing their first game except in scrimmage, lost to Essex Troop, New Jersey National Guard, 2½-7½, in Newark. Bartholomew Viviano '34 made 2 goals, playing at No. 2. Albert J. Lindemann '35 of Milwaukee, Wis. played back, and Henry Untermeyer '36 of New York City and Howard E. Babcock, Jr. '36 of Ithaca each played half the game at No. 1.

TENNIS PROSPECTS GOOD

The spring tennis schedule, just announced, includes nine matches, of which five will be played at Ithaca. The first of these is on April 13, with Colgate here. On April 19, the team plays Princeton at Princeton and the next day, Columbia at New York City. On April 27 they meet Syracuse at Ithaca; on May 4, Navy at Annapolis; May 7, Temple at Ithaca; May 11, Syracuse at Syracuse; May 18, Spring Day, McGill at Ithaca; and May 25, Penn State at Ithaca.

At 2 o'clock on opening day, April 13, Professor V. P. Young '99, head of the Department of Physical Education will sponsor a series of exhibition matches in which Ellsworth Vines and Hans Nusslein, William T. Tilden and George Lott will be paired in single matches, and Lott and Nusslein will meet Tilden and Vines in a doubles match.

Coach Vladimir Terentief has been running in the Drill Hall this winter a series of ladder matches, in which any aspirant may challenge any other and points are kept of ratings toward the team and University championships.

On March 3, Samuel J. Tilden '35 of Scituate, Mass. and Lloyd A. Doughty '36 of Bayside won the University doubles championship, defeating Bernard Marcus '36 of Mount Vernon and William J. Simpson '37 of Larchmont. Tilden and Doughty won every match of the tournament; last year Doughty and Marcus won the title.

Stephen J. Hamilton, Jr. '35 of Wilmington, Del. last spring won the singles championship without a defeat, and is this year's captain. Finals of this year's singles tournament will be held in the spring. Meanwhile Hamilton competed last week in the national indoor tennis tournament in New York City.

Last year's Varsity team, which lost only to Princeton and Harvard is intact except for Captain Henley A. Sklarsky '34. Last year's freshman team, which won all its matches, is also available for the Varsity squad except Lyman Middle-ditch '37 of Highlands, N. J., who is not in college this year.

TO MAKE BASEBALL TRIP

Coach Paul W. Eckley '17 takes his eleventh Varsity baseball team on a spring training trip of four games which opens April 3 at College Park, Md. against the University of Maryland, and includes another game with the same opponents the next day and with Temple and Drexel Institute at Philadelphia on April 5 and 6. On April 12 the team plays Pennsylvania at Philadelphia and on April 13, Princeton at Princeton.

The first home game is with Lafayette on April 17; on April 20 they play Dartmouth at Hoy Field, and meet Syracuse here April 24. On April 27 a double-header is scheduled with Columbia at New York City.

Sixteen men will make the spring recess trip, of whom seven are veterans of last year's team, runner-up in the intercollegiate league, and two more are the battery of last year's freshman team. Coach Eckley takes as catchers Rudolph A. Doering '37 of the 1934 freshman nine and Stanley M. Krukowsky '35 of Southold. Of the four pitchers, Philip Pross '35 of Passaic, N. J. and Daniel Lindheimer '35 of New York City are veterans of the mound last year, and John M. Batten '37 of Cape May, N. J., who won his letter in football last fall, was a freshman twirler. The fourth is George Walton '35 of Montour Falls.

In the infield, Alwin J. Froehlich '35 of Rockville Center, last year's right fielder, will be at first; John J. Kreimer '36 of Cincinnati, O. shifts from shortstop last spring to second base; Matthew W. Jordan '35 of Buffalo plays short; and John H. Mayer '36 of Kansas City, Mo. is in his last season's position at third.

Captain William D. Dugan '35 of Hamburg, southpaw slugger of last year, is again at left field; and Ernest A. Downer '36 of Poughkeepsie, at center field, and Walter D. Switzer '35 of Williamsport, Pa., at right field, are recruits from the football team, the former also winning his letter in baseball last year. Substitutes making the trip are William A. Buckhour '36 of Pleasantville, Glen J. Weaver '36 of Clarence, and Anthony J. Nastasi '37 of Brooklyn.

Thirty-five candidates for the team have been practicing in the baseball cage since March 11, with the first opportunity to get out-doors coming March 18, when the infield of Hoy Field was still too soft for play.

LACROSSE MEN AT WORK

Alumni lacrosse men will help to condition the 1935 Varsity squad in the opening game of the season on Alumni Field April 13. From the New York City group whose organization dinner we reported March 14, several former players are expected, and alumni now in Ithaca will join with these to give the undergraduates a battle. Among those expected from New York are Frank L. Sundstrom '24, Samuel G. Tiemann '30, George C. Wallace '31, and Kenneth T. Fairfax '31.

William D. Sargent '30 and Marcus M. Mason '33, now in the Graduate School; Richard H. Beyer '33 and Nathaniel E. Kossack '34, respectively junior and sophomore in Law; Homer R. Geoffrion '34, senior in Administrative Engineering; and Philip M. Winslow '33, are among the resident alumni who will play.

Following this opening game, the Varsity next plays Hobart April 24 in Ithaca; on April 27, Princeton at Princeton; May 4, Hobart at Geneva; May 11, Penn State at Ithaca; May 17, the day before Spring Day, Dartmouth at Ithaca; and on May 25, Syracuse at Syracuse.

Immediately after the close of the hockey season, Coach Nick Bawlf called out candidates for lacrosse; since the first practice, March 4, sixty aspirants have been practicing daily in fine weather and foul. They include about thirty members of last year's squad and twenty freshmen. Coach Bawlf is being assisted this year by two former captains, Beyer of the 1933 team, and Geoffrion of last year's aggregation. He says he has at least two Varsity teams that look promising.

Members of the 1934 team now practicing include Captain Phily E. McEachron '35 of Salem; Oleg P. Petroff '35 of Montclair, N. J., who also played soccer and hockey; Frederick H. Baugh, Jr. '36 of Baltimore, Md.; John H. Mount, Jr. '35 of Red Bank, N. J., basketball manager; William H. Borger '36 of Pearl River; George Fauerbach '35 of Yonkers; and one of the versatile Dugans of Hamburg, Howard D. '36, soccer captain-elect, the other two being out for baseball.

BREAK TRACK RECORDS Team Wins Easily

The track team closed its indoor season Saturday night in the Drill Hall in a blaze of glory, gaining victories in eight of the thirteen events and sweeps in five, to score 76 2/3 to 34 1/3 for Syracuse and 5 for Colgate. Members of the Red team placed in every event but the half-mile, broke seven of the eight meet records that were shattered, and two local all-time records, in the one-mile relay and the broad jump. They took eight firsts and tied for another, eight second places, and eight thirds, tying for the ninth.

Without real competition because of the withdrawal of the Syracuse team, the four-man Red relay team ran the mile in 3:24.2, breaking the Drill Hall record of 3:27 set by Yale in 1930. The anchor man, Robert E. Linders '36 of Jersey City, N. J., ran the fastest quarter ever made in the Drill Hall, 50 seconds flat, after he had taken second in the 75-yard dash. Robert A. Scallan '36 of Terrace Park, O. led off with 51.8 seconds, bettering the new meet record of 52 which he had set in winning the 440-yard dash. James H. Hucker '37 of Buffalo took the baton next to run his quarter in 51.7, and Edward G. Ratkoski '35 of Dunkirk, third man, ran his in 50.7 seconds.

The afternoon broad jump in the baseball cage brought an unusual tie of 23 feet, 5/8 inch between Henry S. Godshall, Jr. '36 of Lansdowne, Pa. and Trento of Syracuse, who also made a strong bid for first in the 440 against Scallan. The tie jump broke the cage record and that for this meet.

Other first places and meet records went to Captain Walter S. Merwin '35 of Buffalo in the high hurdles; to John B. Harlow '35 of Montclair, N. J. in the 35-pound weight throw; to Walter D. Wood, Jr. '36 of Summit, N. J. in the 16-pound shot put; to Grandin A. Godley '36 of Tenafly, N. J. in the high jump; and the time of 8.3 seconds made by Hucker in winning the low hurdles equals the meet record. Bruce D. Kerr '35 of Ithaca won the two-mile race with little competition.

Second places went to Linders in the 75-yard dash; to Edmund V. Mezzitt '37 of Weston, Mass. in the mile run; to Ellison H. Taylor '35 of Springfield, Mass. in the two-mile; to Charles Y. Neff '37 of Buffalo in the high hurdles; to Merwin in the low hurdles; to Robert A. Reed '35 of Dunkirk in the hammer throw; to Donald T. Houpt '36 of Ambler, Pa. in the shot put; and to Robert B. McNab '36 of Missoula, Mont., who bettered the previous Cornell pole vault record with 13 feet, but failed by 8 1/8 inches to equal the new meet record set by Captain Stutzman of Syracuse.

Third places were captured by Norman M. Rosenberg '37 of Canisteo in the 75-yard dash; by Ratkoski in the 440; by Norman H. Agor '37 of Mahopac Falls in the two-mile race; by Godley in the high hurdles; John L. Messersmith '36 of Westfield, N. J. in the low hurdles; Joseph L. Leone '38 of Ithaca in the weight throw; and William C. McLaughlin '36 of Poughkeepsie in the shot put. Robert D. Price '36 of Willoughby, O. and Fred C. Sorenson '35 of Plattsburg tied for third in the pole vault, as did Herbert E. Sandresky '35 of Buffalo and Charles R. Scott, Jr. '35 of Montclair, N. J. with Wehrfritz of Syracuse in the high jump.

For upwards of twenty minutes the lights were out in the Drill Hall and the ROTC band entertained the 1,800 spectators, playing nobly without either visible leadership or music. Finally, after three lights had been rigged to the sound truck which brought Romeyn Berry's voice as announcer over the microphones, the officials ran off the half-mile race in the semi-darkness, with instructions to the runners to stop in their tracks if those lights should fail.

Besides the amplifier for the announcer, another innovation was a "victory stand" of three steps (draped with the Syracuse colors) where after each event the three winners were called upon to stand to receive certificates of their victories from Professor Bristow Adams, track adviser of the Athletic Council.

TO HOLD ELECTRIC SHOW

The School of Electrical Engineering will hold its annual electrical show this year in Franklin Hall on May 10 and 11, coinciding with Cornell Day. Exhibits of electrical equipment and apparatus of interest not only to students but to the general public will be arranged by students of the School.

This year the School solicits exhibit material from alumni to be loaned for the exhibit—new and useful pieces of electrical equipment of general interest, or spectacular display material illustrating some phase of electrical development. Material should be sent to Director Paul M. Lincoln, Franklin Hall.

SIBLEY JOURNAL

The Sibley Journal for March contains a discussion of "Balancing the Design Budget" by Theodore C. Ohart '29 of the special lamp bureau, General Electric Company; an extract of the talk, "The Technical School Prepares for Marketing," given last September by Professor John R. Bangs, Jr. '19 before the National Industrial Advertisers Association and briefly noticed in the ALUMNI NEWS of January 31; and a description of "Progress in Transportation During 1934," by W. D. Bearce of the Transportation Engineering Department, General Electric Company. The page of "Personalities" is devoted to John W. Todd, Jr. '35, son of John W. Todd '06 of Pittsburgh, Pa.; and James D. Willcox, Jr. '35, son of James D. Willcox '07 of Birmingham, Ala.

The February number is dedicated to Maxwell M. Upson '99, former business manager of the Journal, who was recently co-opted to the Board of Trustees.

Bruce H. MacLeod '35 of Milwaukee, Wis. writes on "Why Not Mining Engineering?" and John C. Wilson, Jr. '35, also of Milwaukee, describes the opportunities in hotel engineering under the title, "A Place for an Engineer." Both are students in Administrative Engineering. Professor William N. Barnard '97 contributes a history of "The Lowly Steam Engine and the Birth of the High Speed Type," describing the invention of Charles T. Porter. Professor Karl D. Wood '20 explains "Variety in Notation" and the personal pages carry sketches and photographs of Willis H. Carrier '01 and two seniors, James E. Keister of Sharon Springs, and Eugene C. Schum of Erie, Pa. "A Semi-Intelligent User" explains "Why I Am Not Going to Buy a New Radio Receiving Set This Year," mainly because he wishes to purchase programs and service rather than merely apparatus.

This issue announces the election of three new assistant editors: Gerald Phillip '37 of Syracuse; Theodore C. Rehm '37 of Haledon, N. J.; and Jay A. Noble, Jr. '38 of Lockport.

Concerning THE ALUMNI

'72 BS—Delmar M. Darrin writes that he will be 86 years old next June, and is much interested in the University. He lives in Addison.

'74 BS—Herman L. Fairchild, emeritus professor of Geology at Rochester University, in an article in the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle says that enough water flows daily through the preglacial valley of the Genesee River to supply Rochester for six weeks, and that the use of this would solve the city's water supply problem.

'81 PhB—"Servant of Mankind," an editorial in the March 16 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, eulogizes the late Dr. Theobald Smith '81, notice of whose death appeared in the ALUMNI NEWS of January 17.

'84 PhB—Philip W. Ayres, forester of the Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests, received the Pugsley Medal for 1935 for park service. The medal was awarded to him by the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society for his work in developing the National Forest in the White Mountains.

'06; '85; '85—The Associated Hospital Service of New York City, new non-profit corporation, of which Dr. Walter

T. Dannreuther '06 is vice-president and Robert J. Eidlitz '85 is a director, was organized under the auspices of the United Hospital Fund. Groups of workers in New York City can pay ninety cents a month into a fund to purchase hospital service—three weeks of semi-private hospital care and admission on the recommendation of the member's private physician. The plan, according to the New York Times, has been endorsed by the Medical Society of New York State, the American Hospital Association, and the American College of Surgeons. Mrs. Eidlitz was Sadie S. Boulton '85.

'89 ME; '92 AB, '94 LLB; '22, '25 EE; '04 CE; '08 Sp; '09, '10 BSA; '91 ME (EE); '08 ME—Louis G. Merritt '89, treasurer of the Merritt Engineering and Sales Company of Lockport; Frank A. Bell '92 of Waverly; Charles H. Churchill, Jr. '22 of Cortland; Professor Seymour S. Garrett '04, Administrative Engineering; Walter H. Morse '08, president of City National Bank of Binghamton; Hart I. Seely '09, president of the Waverly Sun; Frank J. Tone '91, president of Carborundum Company of Niagara Falls; Robert T. Turner '08, vice-president Shepard Niles Crane and Hoist Corporation of Montour Falls; and Professor James E. Boyle, Rural Economics, are members of the New York State committee for the revival of private enterprise, a State-wide organization of consumers to encourage recovery through revival of private enterprise; to oppose legislation which may strangle legitimate industry.

'92 ME(EE)—Major Henry C. Nelson and Mrs. Nelson left Los Angeles, Cal. on March 30, after spending the winter there and in San Francisco. They returned through the Panama Canal. Their address is Pine Grove, Falls Village, Conn.

'92 BL; '92 ME; '02—The Hudson Guild, founded by Dr. John L. Elliott '92 in 1895, celebrates its fortieth anniversary this year. Dr. Elliott started the work in various rented rooms in the Chelsea district in New York City, which he used as boys' and men's clubs, supplemented by an improvised gymnasium under a Ninth Avenue mattress factory. He lived in a Chelsea tenement and has lived in the section ever since. The work was incorporated as the Hudson Guild in 1897 and at present is housed in a four-story building, built in 1908, at 436 West Twenty-seventh Street. Dr. Elliott is head worker and also senior leader of the New York Society for Ethical Culture. Mark A. McClosky, associate head worker says, "It is essentially a practical plan of community organization, a successful attempt to demonstrate, in one of the city's most congested areas, something of a finer type of democracy. The building serves as its center, bringing to wage earners, and, in recent years, to large numbers of unemployed, opportunities and facilities for finding better ways of living and doing useful things together. For the children . . . it marks out new paths of interesting and worthwhile work and play. . . . We try especially to touch the interest and get the attention of the tenement child before the hardness of life has stunted personal growth." Alfred E. Smith, in accepting the honorary chairmanship of the Fortieth Anniversary Committee, said of Dr. Elliott, "he is not content to have been a pioneer forty years ago. He is as much the pioneer, in 1935 as he was in 1895, looking at today's complicated social and economic problems with the same understanding and insight that he brought to the totally different conditions of his earlier years. Intellectually and spiritually, he is one of the youngest of our elder statesmen in social welfare and education." George W. Bacon '92 and Henry Bruere '02 are also members of the Committee of Sponsors.

'94 ME(E)—William L. Colt was elected to the board of directors of the Automobile Merchants' Association of New York, Inc. at the annual meeting on March 5 in New York City.

'94 LLB—Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, in the annual report to stockholders on March 11, reported that the company had made further progress from the low point of 1932; deficit for 1934 reduced by $14,833,343; volume of business increased; 10 percent increase in number of employees; payroll increased 1/3; and effects of the Steel Code beneficial because it eliminated unfair practices and tended toward stabilization of business.

'95 ME(EE)—Richard C. Phillips, father of Ellis L. Phillips '95 of Plandome, president of the Long Island Lighting Company, died March 10, in Prattsburg, at the age of 91.

'97 CE—Joseph P. Carlin, 405 Lexington Avenue, New York City, is a member of the board of trustees of the Brooklyn Public Library.

One Special Friend...

will thank you, now, for bringing the Alumni News to his attention. It needn't cost you anything. The next time you write to that particular friend of college days, just say, as so many others are doing, "Have you seen the Alumni News lately?"

- Or send us his name and address and we'll mail him a sample copy, telling him it comes at your suggestion.
- Better yet, of course, ask us to enter him as a subscriber and send you the bill. It costs only four dollars a year. He'll thank you for your thoughtfulness each week as he reads the news of Cornell. Your request on a postcard will do.

Dr. Henry P. deForest, secretary of the Class of '84, writes us: "At the Cornell Club of New York, of which I am the librarian, the Alumni News has been much more in demand during the past few months than for some years past."
