

WEEK OF OCTOBER 22, 1989

STATION NOTES

DIRECTOR TO OUTLINE STATION's INTENDED FUTURE TUESDAY

Director Plane will deliver "The Geneva Plan," a slide presentation given last week to the CALS Advisory Council, at a meeting of all employees Tuesday, October 24 beginning at 11 a.m. in the Jordan Hall auditorium.

The presentation places research activities in the perspective of today's agri-economic climate. It establishes research thrusts and areas of program concentration developed following meetings and deliberations by faculty committees and individuals concerned with the Station's future. Included are projections involving personnel acquisitions, facilities development and financial affairs.

As with all employee meetings, questions and comments about The Geneva Plan or any other facet of Station life are welcome. For those wishing to submit their concerns in writing either before or after the meeting, response cards are available at department and units offices, in the Director's office, Personnel, or in the Sawdust Cafe.

BOOK SALE/CRAFT SHOW UPCOMING NOVEMBER 11

One of the area's most popular and impressive pre-Christmas craft shows, with a book sale as an added attraction, will be held in the Jordan Hall auditorium Saturday, November 11 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Station craftspeople still have time to reserve table space by contacting Mary-Howell Martens at x 239 or Rose Sticht, x 324.

The main purpose of the show and sale is to raise funds for the Station Library. Folks having books they wish to give to the sale will receive one book for every three donated. Contact Mary VanBuren or any member of the Library staff.

The show and sale has grown from just a few to many craft vendors who offer such diverse items as ceramics, watercolors, woodworked goods country designs, Christmas ornaments, honey, baked good etc.

This is a fine opportunity to pick up some special gift items, and help the Station Library at the same time. Mark the calendar... November 11.

POLICIES, PROCEDURES AND PEOPLE

Retirement Party Set

Harold Hebding, Research Support Specialist in the Department of Entomology, retired on October 12, after more than 30 years with the department.

A dinner in his honor will be held Sunday, November 19, at the Geneva Country Club. Anyone interested in attending the dinner or contributing towards a gift for Harold should contact Janice Allen, Entomology, ext. 323.

Photographers to Roam

This week and next, Station photographers will be cruising the labs, offices, greenhouses, shops, orchards, vineyards and fields in search of pictures to be used in the 108th Annual Report slated for publication next month. Situations typical of Station activities are particularly of interest. All ideas are welcome. Please call Dick Schading, x249.

SOUVENIR ITEMS AVAILABLE TO CCU PARTICIPANTS

To mark International Credit Union Week, an assortment of free items including pocket calendars, snap-together coin banks and auto litter bags are available in Personnel. These are being offered on a first-come, first-served basis while they last. Several Station people have taken advantage of the university's Credit Union plan and the souvenirs are intended to recognize their participation.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Tuesday, October 24, 11:00 a.m., auditorium, Jordan Hall, Station meeting for all personnel

Wednesday, October 25, 4:00 p.m., director's office, Geneva department chairs' meeting

SEMINARS

ENTOMOLOGY

Date: Monday, October 23
Time: 11:00 am
Place: Room 310, Barton Lab
Speaker: Dr. Sandy Walde
 Dalhousie Univ., Nova Scotia
Topic: Density Dependents and the Control of the California Red Scale

Speaker: Dr. Jerzy "George" Puchalski
 Assistant Professor,
 Botanical Garden, Polish Academy of Sciences, Warszawa, Poland
Topic: Development in Applied Botany
 Research in Poland with Special Emphasis on Biochemical Genetics and Germplasm Management.

HORTICULTURAL SCIENCES

Date: Monday, October 23
Time: 11:00 am
Place: Lunch Room, Food Science

PLANT PATHOLOGY

Date: Wednesday, October 25
Time: 3:00 pm
Place: A-133 Barton Lab
Speaker: Dr. Anne Marte Tronsmo
 Department of Plant Pathology
 Norwegian Plant Protection Institute
Topic: Resistance to Snow Mold Diseases

CLASSIFIEDS

FOR SALE: Open-backed reprint storage files. Two sizes, 25¢ each or 5/$1.00. First come, first served. Library, Jordan Hall.

LOST: Two set of keys and set of Allen wrenches. Please contact B.J., Hedrick Hall, or leave message with B&P, ext. 301.

FOR SALE: Electric stove with ceramic cook top, excellent condition., bathroom sink and toilet all sold at best offer. Call Thomas at x277 or 789-3204.

FOR SALE: Four-burner gas stove/oven., light gray carpet 6' x 9', beige carpet 8'10" x 12', boy's bed. Call Geoff Rule, ext. 362.

SAFETY-WISE ADVICE

Good lighting will prevent falls around your home. Make sure every stairway and hall is adequately lit. A simple night light will help in each bedroom, bathroom, and hallway. Be sure garages, sheds, and cellar areas are well lighted. A safety message form Cornell Life Safety Services.