AWARD MOAKLEY CUPS

New Trophy Presented

Track and cross country activity opened publicly October 17 with the annual "track get-together" sponsored by Spiked Shoe. About 150 track enthusiasts gathered in the Willard Straight Memorial Room for the presentation by Coach Moakley of the Moakley Cups donated by Cornell Clubs for members of last year's track team who showed the best spirit and attitude in their several events.

A new trophy, given in memory of Junius T. Auerbach '90 by his two sons for competition in cross country among members of the Heptagonal Games Association, was formally presented by R. W. Sailor '07, editor-in-chief of the ALUMNI NEWS. Auerbach was an ardent follower of Cornell sports, a founder of the Cornell Club of New England, and for many years until his death in 1917 a successful lawyer in Boston, Mass. For several years beginning in 1906 he gave a cup each year to the winner of the "Auerbach race" of ten-and-a-half miles from Dryden which was a feature of the fall sports season. His sons, the donors of the new Junius Auerbach Trophy, are both graduates of the University of New Hampshire, Eugene K. Auerbach, alumni secretary there, and Richard D. Auerbach, secretary to U. S. Senator H. Styles Bridges.

First competition for the new trophy will be the new cross country race between Cornell, Columbia, Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Princeton, and Yale, in Van Cortland Park, New York City, November 11. First to win it three times will have permanent possession.

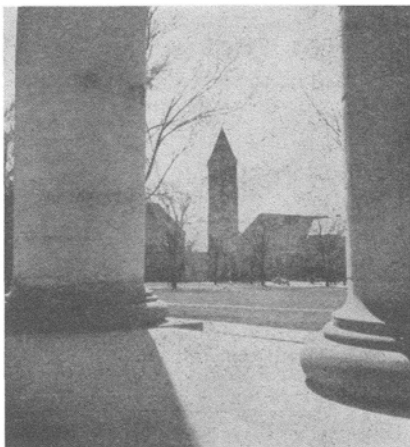

Emery G. Wingerter '40 of Red Bank, N. J., cross country captain, and Walter W. Zittel, Jr. '40 of Buffalo, track captain, presided at the Willard Straight gathering. The Moakley Cups were presented to Coach Moakley on behalf of the Cornell Clubs by Walter C. Heasley, Jr. '30, executive secretary of the Alumni Fund and former Varsity hurdler, and Moakley made the awards. Sailor presented the Auerbach Trophy to Robert J. Kane '34, Assistant Director of Athletics, former Varsity sprinter and assistant track coach, who accepted it for the Heptagonal Games Association. Other speakers were Professor Bristow Adams, Agriculture Publications, Faculty track adviser; Professor John R. Bangs, Jr. '21, Administrative Engineering and assistant track coach; and Edward G. Ratkoski '35, assistant coach. Motion pictures were shown of last year's meet with Princeton.

Moakley Cups were presented to James B. Pender '39, for most outstanding work; I. Reeve Swezey, III '41 of Huntington, 100-yard dash; Alexander E. Walker, Jr. '41 of Pittsburgh, Pa., 440-yard run; George M. Walker '40 of Somerville, Mass., and Willard C. Schmidt '41 of Rochester, 880-yard run; Matty L. Urbanowitz '41 of Buffalo and Nathaniel E. White '41 of Wenonah, N. J., mile run; James S. Hall '40 of Groton and George E. Ranney '40 of Ithaca, two-mile run; W. Harry Johns, Jr. '39 of Great Neck, high jump; Kirk Hershey '41 of Philadelphia, Pa. (and this year's football team), broad jump; Frederic W. West, Jr. '41 of Lansdowne, Pa. (also of the football team), shot put; John W. Borhman, Jr. '41 of Harrisburgh, Pa. (substitute back this year), javelin throw; Mervin G. Olinger '39, pole vault.

Cornell Clubs which to last week had participated by providing cups were those of Atlanta, Ga., Delaware, Elmira, New England, Southern Ohio, Philadelphia, Western Pennsylvania, and Washington, D. C. It is expected that other Clubs will take part in these awards, as they have in former years.

KANSAS CITY WOMEN

First meeting this season of the Cornell Women's Club of Greater Kansas City was a tea October 7, at the home of Gladys Beck, Grad '20. Bessie Gay Secrest '12 presided. Mrs. Ellsworth L. Filby (Marion C. Fisher) '19 reported on the meeting of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs in Ithaca last June, to which she was a delegate, and Margaret M. Gist '40, now employed in Kansas City, spoke on undergraduate life of the Campus. Mrs. N. R. Beagle (Hermione V. Jones) '12 was appointed Club chairman for the Federation Scholarship Fund.

WAR AND FOOTBALL

Cornell Club of Cleveland at its regular luncheon October 20 had as speaker Tell Berna '12, general manager, National Machine Tool Builders Association. He discussed "The Role of the Machine Tool Industry in Time of War." Harold D. North '07, former cheerleader, gave a spectator's report of the Princeton football game.

It was announced that the Club's special train to the Ohio State game was rapidly filling, and that "after much persuasion the Phi Beta Kappas have postponed their proposed discussion on 'English Prose' and relinquished Baggage Car No. 2" for an informal "Baggage Car Ball," with music and other entertainment!

About ATHLETICS

CORNELL 47, PENN STATE 0

The football team, playing a smashing game in the first half and with its reserves almost as effective as the Varsity, crushed Penn State, 47-0, on Schoellkopf Field last Saturday, with some 7,000 persons in the Crescent.

Penn State, undefeated, had been expected to provide the stiffest kind of opposition. But Cornell forced two "breaks" in the first ten minutes of play and converted them into spectacular touchdowns.

Rarely does a team score directly by recovering a fumbled ball in mid-air. Cornell scored its first two touchdowns in that fashion as Harold F. McCullough '41 of Brooklyn and Kenneth G. Brown '40 of Millerton stepped into the roles of opportunists. Rollins, the Penn State quarterback, was twice the victim. Smashing at Cornell's right tackle, he lost the ball. McCullough grabbed it as it spurted from Rollins' arms and ran unmolested 26 yards for the score. Nicholas Drahos '41 of Cedarhurst placekicked the point.

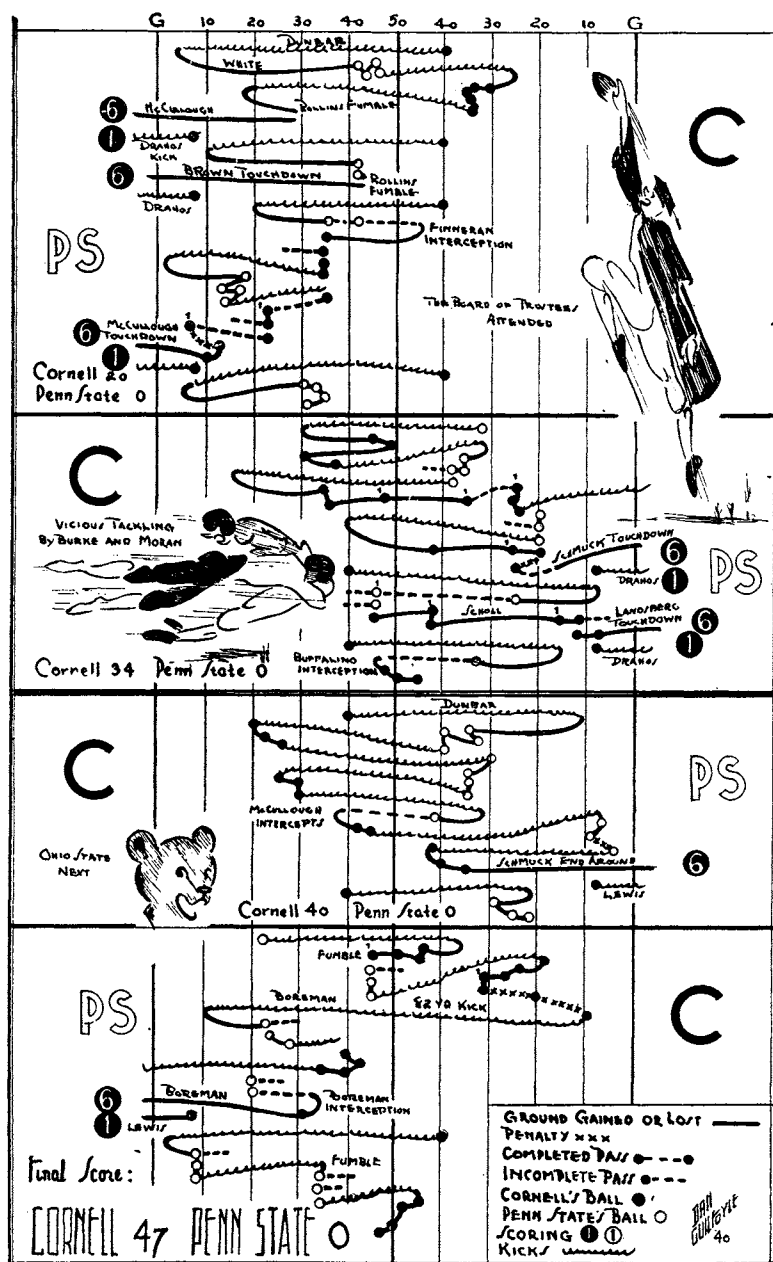

On the third play after the next kick-off, the same astonishing "break" occurred. Three Cornell tacklers hit Rollins as he skirted Cornell's right end. This time Brown snatched the ball and, with Dunbar contributing a vital block on the 10-yard line, raced 42 yards for the touchdown. Drahos's kick skittered off to the left, and Cornell held a 13-0 lead.

From that point, it was all Cornell. Penn State's running attack just could not function against the hard-charging Cornell line, and Cornell's secondary defense made only one miscue in generally snuffing out the flame of Penn State's twenty-three-pass aerial attack. The visitors, held to a net gain of fourteen yards rushing, made only one first down—a 30-yard forward pass play, Eigenrauch to Vargo.

With thirteen points stowed away, Cornell began to pour on the power. The third touchdown climaxed a 37-yard march as the first period drew to a close.

Brown signalled a fair catch of Ickes' punt on Penn State's 37-yard line. McCullough threw a 14-yard pass to Raymond Jenkins '42 of Philadelphia who had replaced the injured Alva E. Kelley '41 of Tarentum, Pa., at right end. On fourth down, with one completed pass ruled illegal, McCullough threw again to Jenkins for 18 yards and first down on State's seven-yard line. An offside penalty cost Cornell five yards, but McCullough found a hole in the right side of the Penn State line and burst through for a touchdown. Drahos converted with a placekick and Cornell had a 20-0 lead.

Stopped twice in the second period, once after moving the ball 67 yards, Cornell struck again for a score. Penn State punted, and Mortimer W. Landsberg, Jr. '41 of Mamaroneck returned the ball 20 yards to Penn State's 41-yard stripe. Landsberg cut through center for 14 yards and first down. James T. Schmuck '41 of Jamaica, on an end-around play, picked up six yards, but Cornell was set back to Penn State's 26-yard line by an offside penalty. There Walter Scholl '41 of Port Richmond fired a forward pass. A Penn State man tipped the ball—square into the hands of Schmuck just beyond the line of scrimmage. Schmuck shook off two tacklers and scored.

SQUAD OF THIRTY-EIGHT OVERWHELMS PENN STATE

Drahos placekicked successfully to give Cornell a 27-0 lead.

Penn State, completing the long pass from Eigenrauch to Vargo, then made its only threatening gesture of the game, reaching Cornell's 45-yard line; but the visitors, stopped in the air and set back by a penalty, lost the ball on downs on their 42-yard marker.

Five plays later Cornell had scored its fifth touchdown. Louis C. Bufalino '42 of Swampscott, Mass., raced 25 yards through the line. Landsberg picked up seven more in two tries as one Cornell pass missed fire. Then, from the eighty-yard line, Landsberg smashed through center for the score. Drahos converted for a 34-0 margin.

Heavy rain began falling at the start of the second half, and the teams exchanged several punts. Cornell finally took possession on Penn State's 44-yard line and in three plays scored the sixth touchdown. John A. Lewis '42 of Bethlehem, Pa., picked up eight yards in two plunges at center. On the next play, Schmuck took the ball on the deceptive end-around maneuver and circled Penn State's right end for 36 yards and the score. Captain Alter of State blocked Lewis' placekick, and the score was Cornell 40, Penn State 0.

Despite two Cornell fumbles in the fourth period, both recovered by Vargo, Penn State could make no headway, and a poor punt by Ickes paved the way for the final Cornell score. The ball went out of bounds on Penn State's 40-yard line. Cornell kicked, then intercepted a State pass, John W. Borhman, Jr. '41 of Harrisburg, Pa., making the catch on State's 32. On the first play Borhman cut through the Penn State right tackle, reversed his field to the right to slip by three tacklers, and ran for the touchdown. Lewis, bucking center, converted the 47th point.

Coach Snavelly used a total of thirty-eight men, including nine Junior-varsity players whom he sent in together in the last minute of the game.

The line-ups:

CORNELL (47)	Pos.	PENN STATE (0)
Hershey	LE	Vargo

RUNNERS SPLIT AT ALFRED

The Varsity and Freshman cross country teams divided honors with Alfred at Alfred last Saturday. The Varsity lost, 30-25, and seven Freshmen finished in the first ten, to win by the excellent score, 18-37.

Frank P. Hoag '42 of Poughquag was the first Varsity runner to finish, placing second over the four and two-tenths mile course in 25 minutes 30 seconds. Rindall of Alfred, the individual winner, was timed in 25:06.

Captain Paul M. Kelsey of Ithaca won the two and one-tenths mile Freshman race in 11:39.2. Kelsey had been elected captain the week before the meet. He is the son of Professor Lincoln D. Kelsey, Agriculture Extension.

The order of scoring:

VARSITY
Rindall, Alfred	25:06
Hoag, Cornell	25:30
Burgess, Alfred	25:33
Gamble, Alfred	25:37
Ayer, Cornell	25:48
Wingert, Cornell	26:05.5
White, Cornell	26:05.5
Hall, Alfred	26:19
Dauenhauer, Alfred	26:19
W. Schmidt, Cornell	26:25
FRESHMAN
Kelsey, Cornell	11:39.2
Jameson, Cornell	11:45
Kane, Alfred	11:53
Worn, Cornell	12:12
Holden, Cornell	12:22
Kvasny, Cornell	12:23
Smith, Cornell	12:29
McGoffin, Cornell	12:36
Coleman, Alfred	12:51
Killog, Alfred	12:57

OTHERS WIN AND LOSE

Two other football teams broke even in contests last week.

The Junior Varsity eleven defeated the Penn State reserves, 7-0, in twilight and floodlight on lower Alumni Field last Friday. The 150-pound team lost to Princeton, 18-0, in an Eastern Intercollegiate Lightweight Football League game at Princeton last Friday.

John A. Lewis '42 of Bethlehem, Pa., scored all Cornell's points in the Junior Varsity game. He plunged over from the one-yard line after two first-period Cornell drives into State territory, and place-kicked the extra point.

Both Lewis, fullback, and Henry F. Pastuck '41 of Astoria, center, were taken out of the game to report for practice with the Varsity squad. Both appeared in the Varsity game with Penn State Saturday.

The Junior Varsity also dipped into the 150-pound squad to use Henry J. Wickert '41 of Albany at right end.

In beating the Cornell lightweights, Princeton ran its 150-pound victory string to nine straight. For two years now Princeton has won the League championship. Cornell this year has won one game and lost one. Assistant coach is George C. Rankin '36, who was on the Varsity squad under Coach Gilmour Dobie.

Wright Bronson, Jr. '40, son of Wright Bronson '12 of Akron, Ohio, has been elected captain of the 150-pound football team.

SOCCER TIES NAVY

For the second straight year, the soccer team played a scoreless tie with Navy at Annapolis last Saturday.

The record for the season is now one victory, one defeat, one tie.

Cornell's attack developed at least thirty-five shots at the Navy goal.

CAPTAIN EICHLER OUT

Leave of absence for the first term was granted E. Vincent Eichler '40, captain of the football team, last week.

Eichler injured a knee in pre-season practice. It failed to respond to treatment and caused him pain when he stood up. For the Syracuse game he left the Infirmary on crutches to see the contest from the sidelines.

Physicians advised a long course of treatment, and Eichler will stay in Ithaca for a few weeks. He hopes to recover sufficiently to return to the University in February. He will be eligible for football if he returns next fall.

The exact nature of the injury has not been determined. X-rays have shown no ruptured cartilage or ligaments.

ODDS AND ENDS

Four of Cornell's five future football opponents won last Saturday. Columbia was the lone loser, dropping a 14-7 decision to Princeton. Ohio State defeated Minnesota, 23-20; Colgate won from St. Lawrence, 31-0; Dartmouth defeated Lafayette, 14-0; and Pennsylvania defeated Harvard, 22-7.

George W. Peck '39, former Varsity halfback now in Elmira, came back to Ithaca October 14 as a football official. He was head linesman for the Ithaca-Olean high school game. Last Saturday, he assisted with the coaches' telephone atop the Schoellkopf Field press box for the Penn State game.

Kennedy Randall, Jr. '41 of Staten Island, captain of the tennis team, won the fall Varsity tennis tournament, defeating William E. Gifford '41 of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, in the final, 6-3, 1-6, 6-1. Gifford reached the final by defeating Louis C. Boochever, Jr. '41 of Ithaca, and Randall eliminated Jerome S. Affron '40 of Beacon in the other semi-final. The Freshman tourney was won by Leon C. Sunstein, Jr., of Elkins Park, Pa.

ATHLETICS SHOW PROFIT

For the third successive year, the Department of Physical Education and Athletics has closed its books with an operating profit, as shown in its financial report for the year ending last June 30, released by Director James Lynah '05 this week. Again, football is the only intercollegiate sport to show an operating profit, its surplus of nearly $142,000 serving in the main to carry the expense of all other sports.

The Divisions of Physical Education and Intramural Sports are sustained mainly from student fees and University appropriation; consequently, the program is limited according to this income.

Operating surplus of $8,290.64 was paid to the University to reduce indebtedness incurred in past years by the Athletic Association. It was derived after two major appropriations last year, of $25,000 for construction of a University golf course, and $6,000 for preliminary architects' studies for indoor sports buildings for men and women. During the year, also, nearly $21,000 was expended for improvement and repairs of the athletic plant. Expenses also included interest payments to the University of $10,572.43. After application of the operating surplus, the Athletic Association's debt to the University at the end of the year stood at $189,112.89.

MEET WITH PRINCETON MEN

Fifty Cornellians of Philadelphia were guests of about as many members of the local Princeton Club at a pre-football-game buffet supper and party at the Princeton Club, October 13. John Wurtz, Princeton '31, showed motion pictures of Princeton games, including the one with Cornell in 1937, and Howard H. Ingersoll '15 of Atlantic Refining Company showed sound pictures, "Atlantic Highlights," of crucial football plays of recent years.

PENN GAME LUNCHEON

All Cornellians who go to the Pennsylvania game this year, November 25, and Pennsylvania alumni, with their families and friends, are invited to a luncheon before the game sponsored by the Cornell Club of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania's General Alumni Society, Varsity Club, and Division of Intercollegiate Athletics. Luncheon will be served in the new and enlarged Houston Hall, Pennsylvania's union building, 3417 Spruce Street, from 11:30 to 1:45, at one dollar. For those who drive, parking spaces are convenient both to the luncheon and the game, on Thirty-third Street north of Franklin Field and on South Street south of the Field.

Reservations are requested before November 23. Remittance, with ten cents added for mailing tickets, should be made to The General Alumni Society, University of Pennsylvania, 3401 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

NOW, IN MY TIME!

By Romeyn Berry

Speaking of illuminated manuscripts—as we did two weeks ago in connection with the White Library—you might be interested in hearing about the time the University of Bologna became 900 years old and resolved to celebrate it.

The invitation to the party was a hand job in Latin, engrossed on parchment and embellished with gold leaf and water color. Morrill Hall replied, quite correctly, that it would be delighted to accept and had assigned the learned doctor, Estevan Fuertes, its Professor of Civil Engineering, to appear in its behalf and to present its greetings. So far so good, but unfortunately both the acceptance and the delegate's credentials were written on half-sheets of letter paper (from the job press of Andrus and Church) and were couched in Tompkins County English.

At that time we were pretty gauche in matters of pomp. This is no longer true. Such business now goes over the desk of Mr. Woodford Patterson '95, and Mr. Patterson is widely recognized as the Emily Post of academic punctilio. Nowadays, Bologna would get its Latin, its parchment, and its gold leaf right back and in the eye. But not then!

When Professor Estevan Fuertes got back from Italy in the fall he was still mad about his credentials being on that Andrus and Church letterhead, and he made a scene about it in the very first Faculty meeting. He said Cornell had been belittled in the eyes of European scholars. He himself had been personally humiliated. He would see to it that nothing of the sort happened again, and he bespoke the support of his colleagues in this high purpose. He got madder and madder as he went along, and the Spanish came out on him like a rash. He moved out into the aisle and plunged up and down as he gave a dramatic imitation of that painful episode.

First, he portrayed the procession of gaily-hooded delegates filing up to the rostrum and unrolling their illuminated, Latin addresses bright with every hue of the expiring dolphin. Salamanca, Upsala, and Oxford; Grenoble, Göttingen, and Lima; Cambridge, Utrecht, and the Sorbonne: each more fragrant than the last with the odor of antiquity, academic ceremony, and organ music.

And then he depicted Cornell blundering into the Middle Ages in the person of the poor old Mogue wearing his last year's Benny Rich suit and dropping into the font that lousy half-sheet of note paper from the job press of Andrus and Church. It was awful, he said. It was unspeakable! Never again could he lift his head in the company of self-respecting scholars.

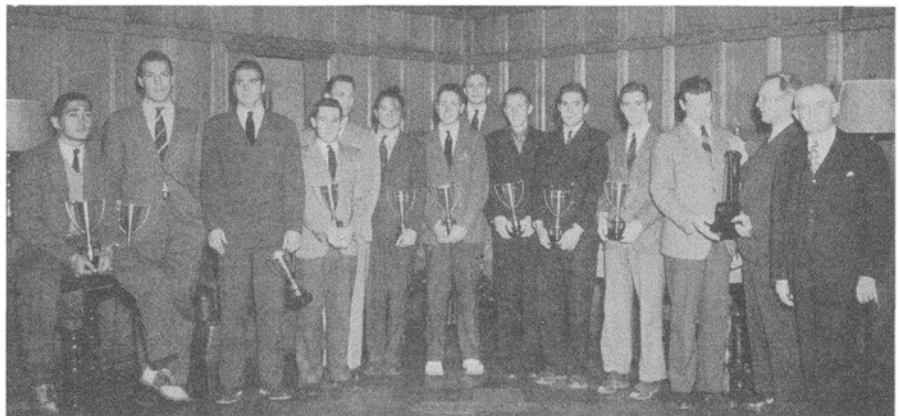

Professor Fuertes then sat down, glared all around him, put his head in his hands, and burst into a storm of tears.

There followed a tense and embarrassed moment in the Faculty meeting, Dean Hammond said, who told me these things many times; until Dr. Law got up and went at the situation with the tools of tact and winsome Scottish speech. Dr. Law said he could feel for the Professor of Civil Engineering. He, too, found himself frequently pained by the failure of the University to observe the traditional amenities of academic intercourse. He agreed fully, he said, that Cornell ought to put on more dog and he would gladly support the previous speaker in his proposed crusade. But he was far from agreeing that the University had been disgraced at Bologna. Indeed, he felt that we had brought honor and distinction upon ourselves by departing from custom in this instance; for whereas the other foundations had sent illuminated manuscripts to Bologna we had done a far, far better thing in sending an illuminated MAN!

That, of course, fixed everything up in a split second. Ravished by the delightful compliment, The Mogue staggered over to Dr. Law, threw his arms about the little Scot, and wept quarts of Spanish tears upon his vest.

The blot of Bologna having been thus wiped up, the Faculty meeting could—and did—turn to "new business" and take up what to do about the many regrettable features of the (then) recent Sophomore Banquet.

CHIEF BERNARD J. REILLY of the Ithaca Fire Department was tendered a testimonial dinner in the Department headquarters on Seneca Street October 11, celebrating twenty-five years in office. City officials and Chief Edward W. Gieselman of the Syracuse Fire Department and Lawrence Daw secretary of the State Underwriters' Association, paid tribute to Chief Reilly's administration.

Two of Cornell's staunchest football rooters are Fritz Swannstrom and Susie Martin, a brace of smart young advertising women whose joint baby at the moment is Knox Gelatine. That's the stuff that fires you full of energy and has the Big Red's opponents hanging on the ropes. You remember the box with the head of a Jersey calf on it. We used to cut them out as a kid because they matched our cut-outs of the Cow Brand Baking Powder's cow. Oldsters will be glad to know that the company's affairs are still being run by eighty-three-year-old Mrs. Knox up at Johnstown (the one near Fonda, not the one that floods).

The girls claim great things for their product. They pointed out that on the Saturday before the day we lunched with them, all their teams won or tied: Cornell, Notre Dame, Columbia, and one that's secret. They're probably known around the plant as the Gelatine League. They tell us that other colleges are beginning to prick up their ears and that they'll probably send gobs of it to Syracuse and Princeton after the season closes.

Incidentally, they think Cornell's trainer, Frank Kavanagh, is one of the smartest in the business. He knew all about the oomph value of gelatine almost as soon as the Knox people did, and was looking for them when they came around. Seems now they're finding that the stuff will do things for peptic ulcers and all kinds of miseries that football boys don't have to worry about until they come up into the stands for the balance of their lives.

Several Princetonians commented with disappointment that the highly touted Cornell band wasn't on the field at Palmer Stadium. For immediate release, that wasn't Cornell's dexterous ROTC clef and cymbal circus that graced the west stands, but a private troupe assembled by Francis T. Hunter '16, the great Cornell tennis player who had himself about 100 guests for the game. His band served to lead the tired business men and their group (which included Jack and Charlie, Billy Seeman '13, Sport Ward '11, et al) from the railroad siding to the stadium and back after the game; and they were as proficient on "From Blue Cayuga" as "Take Me Out To The Ball Game."

It wouldn't have been cricket to pit their dazzling girl baton twirler against the Tiger band's straight man, though. And while the plucky little group might have made a small baseball "C," they never could have marched off a football or crew letter, and they surely never would have stretched out even to the middle of the second syllable in "Ballantine's."

SHOTS OF THE WEEK: Walt Kuhn '12 at Princeton, sporting a Cornell hat calculated to "enhance the most fastidious rooter." . . . Coke Miller '29 in from Des Moines putting a war correspondent on the Rex. . . . Crab Magoun '12 and son Ace '40 passing like ships in the night, one bound back to Ithaca, the other to New England, dropping sail at the Club. . . . Professor Everett Ward Olmsted '91, whose Sunday nights endeared him to older generations of students, stopping in before going to his winter home in Mexico. . . . Retired now after completing forty-six years of teaching last year—first at Ithaca as Professor of Romance Languages and later at Minnesota as Dean—he rounded out fifty years in Beta Theta Pi last month and the boys marked the occasion with the gift of a handsome watch. . . .

PITTSBURGH WOMEN

Fifteen members of the Cornell Women's Club of Pittsburgh met at the College Club October 7, with their speaker Howard McKinney, Negro city detective who organized Hill City in one of Pittsburgh's slum districts, its government carried on entirely by the juvenile residents. Mrs. S. I. Lasner (Norene Fischer) '36 presided. Hostesses were Mrs. Peter H. Curry (Cecilia B. O'Neill) '98, Jane E. Anderson '09, Dr. Irene Davis Ferguson '21, and Helen Calkins, PhD '32.

ASHBERY IN BUFFALO

Ray S. Ashbery '25, Alumni Field Secretary, spoke on Campus activities and the University's alumni program at the regular luncheon of the Cornell Club of Buffalo October 20 at the Buffalo Athletic Club. Sixty members were present. President Neil M. Willard '18 announced that the Club has reserved a special room at the Buffalo Athletic Club every Saturday afternoon where members may gather to hear broadcasts of Cornell football games. Walter S. Merwin '35 announced that Professor Frederick G. Marcham, History, would be guest of honor at a Club smoker October 27. Harry E. Harding '05 said that President Day would speak at the annual banquet February 24, 1940.

BOSTON WOMEN

Cornell Women's Club of Boston, Mass. had twenty-three members at a meeting October 19 at the home of Mrs. Louis C. Graton (Josephine E. Bowman) '00 in Cambridge. Mrs. James B. Palmer (Martha L. Kinne) '24, president of the Club, presided, and reports were given by chairmen of committees: Mrs. Samuel S. Evans, Jr. (Ella M. Behrer) '27, scholarship; Mrs. M. Gregory Dexter (Jennie A. Curtis) '24, membership; Mrs. Clyde J. Heath (Betty M. Lowndes) '33, program.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Graton described and showed maps and motion pictures of a geological survey trip through New Zealand, Australia, and Bali which she and Graton '00 took in 1937-38.

EZRA COUNTY FAIR, the second open house of the year at Willard Straight Hall, complete with cider barrel, apple-bobbing, a husking bee, and square dancing, attracted about 900 student members of the Hall.

PENNSYLVANIA LUNCHEON

Announced elsewhere in this issue, the luncheon run by the University of Pennsylvania before the "Thanksgiving Day" game November 25 should be a welcome event for visiting Cornellians. Not only does it eliminate the confusion of a quick lunch and hurried trip before the game, but it gives opportunity—or at least paves the way—for wider acquaintance and better understanding between alumni of Pennsylvania and Cornell.

If the innovation is as much of a convenience as it seems to be, readers of the ALUMNI NEWS will help it along by sending in their reservations promptly.

COMING EVENTS

ON THE CAMPUS AND DOWN THE HILL

FIRST BROADCAST by the University Theatre of a weekly series on New York State themes will be "Scenes From the Life of Ruloff," from Station WESG October 29 at 1:30. Career of the famous philologist and murderer of the Finger Lakes Region began about 1842 and ended in the hangman's noose at Binghamton in 1871.

VISITOR in Ithaca last week was William H. Forbes '06 of Cleveland, Ohio, Cornell's representative on the board of stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association. He stayed at Willard Straight Hall, paid a visit to the boat-house and the ALUMNI NEWS, and stayed for the Penn State game.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB opened its season October 16 with its annual reception to foreign students, at the clubhouse, with about 300 persons attending. The Club will cooperate with the board of managers of Willard Straight Hall this year in celebrating national holidays of the countries which have students here with displays of their flags in the lobby and a brief description of each holiday thus noted.

FRANCHOT TONE '27 came back last week to the Willard Straight Theater where he played as an undergraduate member of the Dramatic Club. This time, though, it was on the screen, for two well-attended performances of "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer," with Gary Cooper and Richard Cromwell.

PENN STATE ALUMNI of Ithaca numbering about thirty met in Willard Straight Hall Friday evening with Edward K. Hirschman, Penn State alumni secretary. President of their Ithaca club is Professor John E. Perry, Railroad Engineering.

CEREMONY after the game on Schoellkopf Field, and broadcast over the network, was presentation to Coach Carl Snively of a gold cup which his football team of fifteen years ago at Bellefonte Academy won as national preparatory school champions. Presentation was made by James R. Hughes, formerly headmaster of Bellefonte Academy, which school was discontinued some years ago. Snively coached there from 1923 to 1927.

ROTC BAND marched and played in the rain on Schoellkopf Field last Saturday in eleven files of ten men each with two more as file-closers. Some say they need a band shell built at Schoellkopf, both to reflect the music from across the field to the Crescent and to protect men and instruments when it rains. Drums were played with their covers on Saturday.

TWO-DAY MEETING of the Board of Trustees Friday and Saturday brought nearly a full complement to Ithaca, including three State officials, Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Poletti, Dr. Frank P. Graves, Commissioner of Education, and Holton V. Noyes, Commissioner of Agriculture, ex-officio members of the Board. Friday, the Board had luncheon in the Green Room of Martha Van Rensselaer Hall, the meal prepared and served under the direction of Richard E. Cummings '40 of Knoxdale, Pa., entirely by students in Hotel Administration and Home Economics. Then the Trustees were taken in ten Faculty cars through a beautiful fall afternoon for a two-hour tour of the 1800 acres of University farm lands, out the Fall Creek valley through the site of the proposed Arboretum, along the foot of Turkey Hill, and back along Cascadilla Creek and to the University orchards to see some of the experiments being carried on there by the Department of Pomology. The tour was led by Dean Carl E. Ladd '12, Agriculture, and even some Alumni Trustees said they had learned a lot about their far-flung University.

"I KNEW A SAINT," by Hendrik Willem Van Loon '05 is the leading article in Omnibook Magazine for September. Van Loon pays tribute to a person unnamed whom he met at the train when Van Loon first visited Ithaca. The Sun reprinted the article and next day reported that speculation in Ithaca could not decide between Frank (Lehigh) Winger and Professor George L. Burr '81. Most alumni, we think, would decide that it is Burr that Van Loon writes about.

SAGE CHAPEL PREACHER October 29 is Dr. Rufus M. Jones, professor of philosophy in Haverford College.

RAVEN AND SERPENT, Junior women's honor society, has elected for its this year's chapter Elizabeth L. Alt of Buffalo, G. Barbara Benson of Hartsdale, Helen E. Bourne of Hamburg, Ruth E. Cothran of Gasport, Agnes D. Hansen of Scotia, Margery G. Huber of Buffalo, Shirley A. Richards of Staten Island, Dorothy J. Talbert of Teaneck, N. J., Mary J. Webb of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, and Angelina S. Wessels of Blue Mountain Lake.

NEWMAN CLUB, celebrating its silver anniversary this year, has elected Anthony J. DeFino '40 of Brooklyn, its new president; vice-president, Mary M. Neselbush '41 of Buffalo; secretary, Georgina M. Selzer '40 of Earlville; treasurer, Donald W. Bunte '41 of Prescott, Ariz.

PHEASANTS are plentiful this fall in Tompkins County, and many hunters got the limit opening day, October 16. More ducks are to be seen on the Lake than usual, too, and other game is abundant. First of the season's deer to be killed by an automobile was on the Brooktondale-Wilseyville road last week, and down at the airport they caught a gray 'possum in a trap.

FIRST FROST came the night of October 17, when the temperature fell to 28.

TRIPHAMMER BRIDGE over Fall Creek on Thurston Avenue is closed for new planking and sidewalks. City Engineer T. Frederick Marble '24 says that every effort will be made to have the bridge opened again for Alumni Homecoming November 4.

JUDGING TEAM of the College of Agriculture took third place in an inter-collegiate contest at a recent livestock show in Baltimore, Md. They followed University of Maryland and University of North Carolina. Robert H. Stevely '41 of Palmyra was individual winner.

MAPLE SYRUP industry leaders of North America met in Fernow Hall October 20 for their third annual conference to discuss prevention of lead contamination of maple products. Professor Joshua A. Cope, Forestry, presided, and the forty-five present included research men and administrators from Canada, Washington, D. C., Albany, the Geneva Experiment Station, and Montpelier, Vt.; representatives of all manufacturers of maple syrup equipment; and those of all wholesale dealers in maple products. One of the latter was Robert B. Willson '17 of the John G. Paton Co., Inc., New York City.

LECTURES for the week, besides the speakers at the convocation at Bailey Hall October 25 celebrating the centenary of the birth of Professor Robert H. Thurston, include Professor Alexander G. Christie, Grad '05, of Johns Hopkins, president of the ASME, before the Ithaca branch, October 24; and the British musical scholar, Dom Anselm Hughes, Prior of Nashdom Abbey, Burnham, Bucks, England, on "John Dunstable, Leader of Fifteenth Century Composition," October 25, on the Goldwin Smith Foundation.

ARMISTICE DAY will be celebrated this year with a panel discussion in Bailey Hall at 11, November 11, on the subject, "Can America Keep Out of War? If so, How?" Student speakers are being invited from Colgate and Columbia, and the Student Council has made an appropriation for expenses of the committee.

NECROLOGY

'97 LLB—CHARLES STANLEY PRICE, September, 1939, in Los Angeles, Calif. He had lived in Salt Lake City, Utah, and of late years in La Angelica, Calif.; practiced law in both states. He was a Spanish-American War volunteer. Entered Law in 1895; Delta Chi.

'06 LLB—HARRY CLARK BALDWIN, October 17, 1939, in Ithaca where he had lived most of his life. After graduation he practiced law with Morris S. Halliday, LLB '06, of Cleveland, Ohio. In 1918 he was appointed acting city judge of Ithaca and held that office intermittently until 1931 when he was chosen acting county judge and special surrogate. His life work had been to build the Ithaca Savings and Loan Association, established in 1915. At that time he was made secretary-attorney of the organization and held the position until January, 1939, when he was made president. He was also president of the Family Welfare Society; attorney for the Federal Land Bank of Springfield, Mass.; president of the Saving and Loan Bank of New York State; past president of the Tompkins County Bar Association; member of the executive committee of the New York State League of Savings and Loan Associations; a director of Ithaca Enterprises, Inc.; and in the attorney's division of the United States Building and Loan League. He organized and reorganized the financial structure of many of the fraternities in the University. Entered Law from Ithaca High School in 1902; Theta Lambda Phi; Sigma Phi Epsilon.

'31 Grad—DANIEL HUGH VERDER, June 7, 1939, in Orlando, Fla. He lived at Lowry Hall, Kent, Ohio. He entered the Graduate School from Columbia University in 1931; received the AM degree from Harvard University in 1917.

'42—ROBERT HASSLER THAYER, August 30, 1939, in Buffalo. He entered Administrative Engineering in 1938 from Bennett High School, Buffalo; recipient of two scholarships—one district and one State.

EXTENSION ECHOES, published in the College of Agriculture, nominates Professor Louis M. Massey, PhD '16, Plant Pathology, to select the team to play in the Rose Bowl this year. He has three qualifications: was elected president of the American Rose Society; won a recent prize of Station WESG for naming winners in a football contest; and won thirty gallons of gasoline for the closest prediction of the Cornell-Syracuse game score.

Concerning THE FACULTY

DR. LIVINGSTON FARRAND, President Emeritus, is to be the speaker at a luncheon during the annual Girl Scout Convention in Philadelphia, October 23 to 27. Dr. Farrand is technical advisor for the American Children's Fund and chairman of the health and safety advisory committee. He will speak on how to carry out a comprehensive and effective health and safety program for Girl Scouts.

PROFESSOR LYMAN P. WILSON, Law, addressed the annual meeting of the Ithaca section of the American Society of Civil Engineers, October 19, in Willard Straight Hall. His subject was, "A Lawyer Looks at Languages," with special reference to engineering contracts and specifications.

PROFESSOR PAUL J. WEAVER, head of the Department of Music, was invited by Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, to attend a conference on inter-American relations in the field of music in Washington, D. C., October 18 and 19. On October 21, he attended a meeting in New York City of the National Musical Council, which he helped to organize last winter. The organization parallels to a large extent the National Council for the Advancement of Science. Its membership includes over thirty national musical organizations, representing various aspects of the music profession. The Council acts as a super organization correlating the work of the separate groups and acting as a central fact-finding and propaganda body for movements of national scope involving any phase of the music profession or industry.

FOSTER M. COFFIN '12, director of Willard Straight Hall and past president of the Association of College Unions, spoke at the dedication of the new Houston Hall at the University of Pennsylvania, October 12. Houston Hall, which has now been almost doubled in size, was the first student union building in this country.

PROFESSOR LEONARD S. COTTRELL, JR., Rural Social Organization, and Professor Ernest W. Burgess of the University of Chicago have written a book, Predicting Success or Failure in Marriage, based on examination of 100 detailed case studies and 526 questionnaires from married persons. Cottrell said in an interview to the Sun that premarital economic factors such as income, savings, regularity of employment, etc., had a very low correlation with marital adjustment. He emphasized that economic factors are much more important after marriage than the premarital economic history of the couple.

IN AN EDITORIAL of a recent issue of Nature Magazine, Professor E. Laurence Palmer '11, Rural Education, wrote of DeWitt Clinton's travels through this section of the country in 1820, and of some of his observations. According to Palmer, Clinton referred to the Finger Lakes Region as "The West" and described it as "the finest wheat country in the world." Dr. Palmer is director of nature education, The American Nature Association. The same issue of Nature Magazine printed a photograph of and a short article by Professor Simon H. Gage '77, Histology and Embryology, Emeritus.

PROFESSOR ROLLINS A. EMERSON, Plant Breeding, and Mrs. Emerson have returned from more than a month's stay in Europe, where they traveled in England, Scotland, Norway, and Sweden. They remained in Edinburgh, Scotland, for ten days, while Professor Emerson attended the International Genetics Congress.

PROFESSOR JOHN R. BANGS '21, Administrative Engineering, addressed the International Business Machines Club at a dinner at the IBM Country Club, Endicott, October 10. The title of his address was "Management Looks to the Future."

Concerning THE ALUMNI

Personal items and newspaper clippings about all Cornellians are earnestly solicited.

'89—Dr. Nathan B. Van Etten, president-elect of the American Medical Association, considers "unwise" the government designs "to bring American medicine under the governmental thumb." He says that "thirty per cent of the country's hospital beds are unoccupied right now," but that the government wants to establish more hospitals. Van Etten will take office in June, 1940, as the Medical Association head.

'01 BSA—A bronze marker near the edge of the Gabriels-Paul Smith's highway in the Adirondacks designates the grave of Clifford Pettis '01, known as the "father of the New York State forest preserve." After graduation he was State Forester for eight years, and from 1910 until his death in 1927 was superintendent of the State forests.

'04 BS; '04 AB; '36 AB, '39 MD—Albert R. Mann, former University Provost, now vice-president of the General Education Board of the Rockefeller Foundation, and Mrs. Mann (Mary D. Judd) '04 have moved from New York City to 3 Midland Avenue, Bronxville. Mann was awarded Doctor of Agronomics, Honoris Causa, by the University of Sofia, Bulgaria, on its fiftieth anniversary in May. He writes that their son, Dr. Malcolm J. Mann '36, is living at 171 Raleigh Street, Rochester.

'06 AB, '11 MD; '17 Sp Ag—William F. Lee, son of Dr. W. Forrest Lee '06, and Mrs. Lee (Ruth J. MacClelland), Sp '17, received the AB degree in June from Dartmouth College.

'08 AB, '13 PhD—Burton J. Lemon, engineer in the United States Rubber Co., writes that he "keeps busy week-ends rehabilitating an ancestral farm at Bethel."

'09—George M. Chapman is with the General Electric Co., 225 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

'10 ME—George E. Robinson has moved to 15403 Stahelin Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

'11—Paul V. Shields of Shields & Co., brokers, 44 Wall Street, New York City, is chairman of a committee to draft brokerage rules. The committee will make a detailed study of the advisability of separating the brokerage and underwriting functions of Stock Exchange member firms.

'12 BArch; '12 BS; '14 AB; '14; '11 BArch; '11 DVM—In a letter to Donald C. Kerr '12, Carlos L. Locsin '12, wrote, in speaking of the Cosmopolitan Club, "I have lived several long months in those rooms during the first days of the clubhouse. ... We did not have radiators then; we got our heat through the tile in the concrete floor. Racing to and fro in full overcoat while studying was an ordinary sight." His son is studying pulp and paper technology in the University of Maine and Locsin hopes that he "will some day have occasion to take a special course of some kind at Cornell." Referring to the appointment of Dr. Hu Shih '14, as Chinese Ambassador to the United States, he said, "I could not help opening my old picture album, and there I found a picture of 'Doc' Hu playing chess with Nai Nab (Nai Nab Salakshana) '14 of Siam. I wish 'Doc' Hu could see it. . . ." Locsin also wrote that Tomas Mapua '11, "has his MIT in Manila (Mapua Institute of Technology), one of the leading schools in the Philippines;" and that Dr. Victor Buencamino '11 is manager of the National Corn and Rice Corporation and president of the Manila Rotary Club.

'13 ME—Edmund W. Butler, former Varsity football captain, has assumed ownership and management of the Midwood Grill, 1143-1151 Flatbush Avenue at Dorchester Road, Brooklyn.
