THREE books by members of the faculty have recently been published. Professor G. L. Burr has edited a work entitled "Narratives of the Witchcraft Cases," dealing with witchcraft in the period from 1648 to 1706. Professor W. W. Comfort, head of the department of Romance languages, has translated Chrétien De Troyes' old story "Eric and Enid" for the Everyman's Library series. Professor H. S. Jacoby, of the College of Civil Engineering, has collaborated with Professor R. P. Davis of West Virginia University in the publication of a book on "Foundations of Bridges and Buildings."

The Cornell Era will appear next fall in enlarged form. The board has decided to issue the magazine on pages eight by ten and five-eighths inches, an increase of forty per cent over the present size. The larger pages will allow the printing to be done in two columns instead of across the page as at present, and will facilitate the placing of illustrations. Although the new size will increase the cost of publication the subscription price will remain the same.

The Cornell Chemist, the newest Cornell publication, announces its board for next year as follows: Dr. H. W. Redfield '00, editor-in-chief; C. V. Smith, graduate editor; A. A. Blue '15, associate editor; W. D. Van Arnam '16, associate editor. The magazine appeared three times this year, and will be published four times in 1914-15. Dr. Redfield succeeds Professor L. J. Cross as editor of the paper.

THERE WAS AN INTERCOLLEGIATE BALL GAME in Ithaca last Saturday which should get a place on the athletic page. It was between the editorial boards of the Princeton Tiger and the Cornell Widow. The Tiger was the Widow's guest. The final score was 5 to 4 in favor of the Widow. The winning run was a homer by J. L. Baldrige, made in the ninth inning with a man on first. Baseball was only one incident in a very busy intercollegiate day, which began with a drag ride up the hill after the early morning train came in, with Bud Stockstrom blowing the reveille all the way up Eddy Street and waking everybody up, and breakfast at the Kappa Alpha house. There was also a luncheon at the Kappa Sigma house, a dinner at the Dutch, and a smoker at the Senate. On Friday of this week the Cornell Sun will entertain the editors of the Yale News in a similar manner.

THE ANNUAL BANQUET of the Cornell Daily Sun will be held this (Thursday) evening at the Ithaca Hotel. The principal speaker will be Norman Hapgood, editor of Harper's Weekly. Other guests will be President Schurman and representatives of several eastern college dailies. Invitations have been sent to a large number of Faculty members, undergraduates and citizens of Ithaca.

LECTURES OF THE WEEK included "England's Contribution to Modern Civilization," one of the series on the history of civilization, by Professor Lunt; "Chemistry at the Bureau of Standards," by Mr. W. F. Hillebrand '74, chief chemist of the U. S. Bureau of Standards, before the Cornell section of the American Chemical Society; and "Woman and Her New Opportunities," by Mrs. Florence Kelley '82, general secretary of the National Consumers' League, before the Cornell Equal Suffrage Club.

A TRANSFORMATION has been made in the new quadrangle of the College of Agriculture by the transplanting of a dozen large elms. The trees stood in a row near the old poultry house, which was removed to make room for the new Soils, or Agronomy, building. They have been set in two rows along the north and south sides of the quadrangle. They are from thirty to forty feet high, and it was no small undertaking to transplant them. They are thriving, with foliage not a bit behind that of other elms in the neighborhood. The Soils building is now up the height of the first story. It stands just east of and is a companion of the Home Economics building, and will complete the north side of the quadrangle, the south side of which is formed by the main row of agricultural halls.

BAILEY HALL, the new auditorium, was expected to be an ideal place for the Commencement exercises, but if the weather permits, those exercises will be held out of doors again this year. At a meeting of the Commencement Committee last week the question was put to a vote and was decided in favor of the natural amphitheatre on the slope near McGraw Hall. Members of the graduating class were especially outspoken in favor of the outdoor feature. The last two Commencements took place on the slope and the surroundings there gave them a unique beauty. It was decided to have the baccalaureate sermon in Bailey Hall instead of in Sage Chapel. There will be an organ recital in the Chapel for seniors and their guests.

THE RIFLE RANGE of the cadet corps on the road to Varna is a busy place this spring. Last Saturday there were a hundred and twenty men on the range, and fifty of them were there in the afternoon, in spite of all that was going on at Percy Field. They were red-blooded men, too, Lieutenant Bull said. Seven hundred men have taken the course in marksmanship this spring. Interest has been stimulated by the competition for a trophy offered by Adjutant L. R. Lohr '16, of Washington, D. C.

DR. BEVERLY T. GALLOWAY, newly appointed director of the New York State College of Agriculture, has formally resigned his office of Assistant Secretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

THE WALLS of the Schoellkopf Memorial, which is to be the home of the university athletic teams, are now completed and the roof boards have been laid.

FRESHMEN HAVE been asked to "chip in" to defray the expense of drays and fuel for the bonfire in which they will burn their caps on the night of Spring Day.

The New Forestry Building Opened

Exercises were held last Friday to celebrate the opening of the new building of the department of forestry of the New York State College of Agriculture. The occasion was highly successful. About thirty institutions—colleges, forestry associations and conservation commissions—were represented by official delegates. They came from all over the East, representing territory from Kentucky to Quebec and from Maine to Missouri. Every state department of forestry in New England was represented. Among the colleges represented were Yale and Harvard, the University of Michigan and Ohio State University. Delegates were present from seven college forestry clubs, nine men coming from Michigan.

Canada sent as official delegate Clyde Leavitt '03, Forester of the Conservation Commission and fire warden of the Railway Commission. The Pennsylvania Railroad and the Delaware & Hudson Railroad sent their chief foresters, John Foley and H. R. Bristol respectively. New York State departments and institutions were well represented. T. V. Radigan and C. R. Pettis '01 came from the Conservation Commission; Dr. Dean from the State Education Department; Dr. Jordan, director of the Geneva Experiment Station; Dean Helyar, Dean Wright and Professor Storrs, respectively from the state schools of agriculture at Morrisville, at Alfred University and at St. Lawrence University. Dr. Stout officially represented the New York Botanical Garden, and Dr. Hall was a delegate from the Society for the Protection of the Adirondacks.

On Saturday was held an open meeting of the Society of American Foresters. This was the only meeting that society had ever held outside the city of Washington. It was so successful that the society voted hereafter to hold every year at least one meeting outside Washington in addition to the regular convention at the capital. The directors of the American Forestry Association also met on Saturday, and in addition there was a conference of the forest school clubs. To conclude the two-day gathering there was a boat ride and a camp-fire supper at Taughannock Point. There were eighty persons on that excursion.

The addresses given at the opening exercises on Friday were heard by large audiences. Room 122 in the forestry building, which seats 200, was packed morning and afternoon. The evening session was to have been held in the assembly room in Roberts Hall (the main agricultural building) but that room overflowed early and the meeting was held in Bailey Hall (the new auditorium) with an audience of 1500 persons.

The speakers Friday morning were Acting Director Stocking, W. B. Greeley, Assistant Forester, U. S. Forest Service; W. H. Vary, Master of the State Grange; Charles M. Dow, director of Letchworth Park, and C. R. Pettis, F. E. '01, Superintendent of Forests, New York State Conservation Commission. In the afternoon addresses were made by James W. Toumey, director of the Yale Forest School; F. L. Moore, president of the Empire State Forest Products Association; President Drinker of Lehigh University, who is president of the American Forestry Association; and J. S. Whipple, president of the New York State Forestry Association. Professor Crane presided at the large evening session. Addresses were given by Dr. L. H. Bailey on "The Forest" and by Gifford Pinchot, president of the National Conservation Commission, on "The National Movement for Conservation." Both those speakers received ovations from the audience. Mr. Pinchot expressed a very hearty endorsement of the work done by the department at Cornell, both when it was a separate college and now when it is a department of the College of Agriculture. He said that the Cornell forestry college had done splendid work. In his address he sketched the development of the conservation idea in this country and gave a forecast of the work of the next decade.

The new building is an ample three-story-and-basement structure. It stands directly east of the Carnegie Filtration Plant, on the top of the hill above Beebe Lake.

Education in Forestry

Address of Dr. Henry S. Drinker at the Opening of Cornell's New Building

Dr. Henry S. Drinker, President of Lehigh University and President of the American Forestry Association, said in part:

Our country is undoubtedly primarily indebted to ex-President Roosevelt for giving during his term of office, official and wide-spread publicity to the importance of the principles of Conservation of our Natural Resources and it is recognized that his attention was drawn to the subject by his friend Gifford Pinchot, then United States Forester. Undoubtedly it is to these two men that the country owes more than to any others, the public awakening that has come during the last decade to this very important phase of national economy and care of property held both nationally and individually.

Probably the first professional utterance on the subject of Conservation was the one made over forty years ago by the American Institute of Mining Engineers in the appointment, at the first session of the Institute held at Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, in 1871, of a Committee of eminent mining engineers "To consider and report on the waste in Coal Mining." This was long before our statesmen had awakened to the importance of the Conservation question, and in this matter, as in so many others, of progress and enlightenment, we may well recognize that the initiative came from our men of scientific training who spread the light on the path that others follow. Earliest of those who preached and impressed in America the lessons of forest conservation was Dr. J. T. Rothrock of Pennsylvania, who taught forestry in the Michaux Lecture Course of the University of Pennsylvania in 1877, and we all know of and appreciate Dr. Fernow's early and pioneer work here at Cornell, bringing as he did to America the teachings of one versed in the European experience and study that had reached high efficiency before our heedless people had begun to realize that the resources that seemed to them to be boundless had a limit. Today we know that the advance of knowledge and interest in Conservation has been so pronounced that it is recognized as a national question of importance to all our people. The need of conservation is no longer seriously questioned, but there is much difference of opinion, as to the methods to be pursued in putting into effect its teachings.

It is not the high-browed scholastically matured and cultured citizen who should be reached and taught. The west has shown us that we should go to the children and to the masses of our people, by appeals that are insistent in their plain speech and lurid illustrations in impressing the lessons of personal loss that come from neglect of the principles of conservation. For those who are interested in spreading these lessons, no better text-book can be had than the above report of the Committee on Publicity of the last Conservation Congress. It should be read and widely studied by the Conservationists and Foresters of the Country, in its discussion of the four leading topics of

1. Publicity at the meetings of popular and technical organizations.
2. Publicity of the forestry work of the Conservation Congress, both of the general Congress, and of the Forestry Committee.
3. Publicity through the press, looking particularly to the arousing of public interest in fire protection, taxation, and State Forestry.
4. Publicity methods and devices useful to fire associations and other forest protective agencies, and we should all carefully remember the conclusions reached by this able committee as follows,—that,
 "1. Progress in forestry depends more on what the public will permit than upon foresters and lumbermen. Consequently, public education is of primary importance.
 "2. Education is a matter of publicity and publicity is a trade in itself. It cannot be practiced intuitively.
 "3. Since no one else has the interest or the requisite forestry knowledge foresters and lumbermen must learn this trade.

ON THE QUADRANGLE BETWEEN LECTURES

"4. It is not forests, but the use of forests, that we seek to perpetuate. Therefore, to be sound and convincing, educational publicity must include the lumber business. So long as the public believes forestry good and lumbering bad, there will be confusion and no real progress."

Now granted that Public Opinion has been measurably aroused to the importance of the promotion of the Conservation of our Natural Resources, how are we to make it effective. What should we do to this end?

It seems to me that the report of the Forestry Committee above referred to covers this ground so exhaustively that while the repetition of its suggestions might count for emphasis, such repetition is not called for here in this assemblage of Foresters. What is now needed is that we all take these lessons to heart and that we individually and unitedly pursue the duty of bringing home to our fellow-citizens the lessons of Conservation.

While it is highly beneficial for Foresters to meet and take counsel, confer, and exchange views as is being done at this meeting,—we should remember that these meetings of experts are not the missionary meetings that spread the cause. Cornell is one of the great homes of Forestry. Here you know the things that elsewhere should be taught. For instance the American Forestry Association has arranged to hold its summer session this year at Chautauqua, New York. Two days of that great assemblage of thousands of our fellow-citizens are to be given to the discussion of Conservation and primarily of Forestry. There and in similar meetings we should reach the people who gather for the express purpose of education and improvement, who are receptive to lessons looking to patriotic effort and national needs, people largely lacking the advantage and experience of college or university training, but who nevertheless represent and are members of that large body of intelligent, reading, American citizens who are keen for intellectual advancement, and potent by their numbers in the formation and sway of public opinion.

If the doctrine of conservation we preach is right, and we believe it is, it is our duty to spread it far and wide. Great is truth and it will prevail, but its victory will be distant or near in proportion as its disciples labor for its success, and carry its light through the length and breadth of our land.

NOTICE TO 1909

Notice is given to members of the class of 1909 that at the coming reunion the class will elect a representative on the Cornellian Council, to fill the place which will be made vacant by the expiration of the term of office of R. E. Coulson.

"THE CORNELLIAN" ON SALE AT THE LIBRARY ARCH

Tackling Rooming House Problems

A plan designed to remedy the much discussed evils of the rooming house problem will be tried out next fall under the direction of C. E. Cornell, the University rooming house inspector, and R. W. White '15, chairman of the Freshman Advisory Committee, the originators of the scheme. An agreement has been made with the recognized rooming agencies whereby they will work under the supervision of Mr. Cornell and Mr. White and comply with the provisions set up by them.

The chief innovations which form a part of the campaign are as follows:

A list of officially inspected rooming houses will be published by the Secretary of the University to be sent to prospective freshmen on request, and all matriculants will be requested to cooperate in the adoption of the new plan.

The student shall bind himself to keep the room for one year and to keep his rent paid one week in advance, through a contract to which both he and the landlady become parties. To avoid disputes which landladies have with students who are forced to leave the University during the year for reasons beyond their control, a clause has been inserted in the contract which provides that "if the occupant leaves the University on account of illness, or for deficiency in University work, or for other good and sufficient reason, he shall pay the proprietor one-half of the required rental for the balance of the term during which he left the University, and this contract shall wholly terminate at the end of said term in which said vacancy occurred."

"The proprietor agrees to maintain furnishings of the kind and condition as at the time of making the contract; to properly care for and clean the room; that the room shall be properly heated and lighted; to permit the reasonable use of the telephone." Provision is also made for exemptions of payment during vacation, as follows: "occupant shall be allowed exemption to the extent of one week's payment for absence during the Christmas vacation, but no exemption from payment for the Easter vacation."

An official arbitration body to consist of C. E. Cornell; the chairman of the Freshman Advisory Committee, and the Proctor, will arbitrate all disputes between contracting parties, who agree that no further proceedings shall be taken until after a decision of these arbiters.

Rooming agents will be allowed a uniform rate of commission on all rooms rented, $2.50 being the sum agreed upon. This provision will do away with one of the worst evils of the present system by which agents receive as commission the first week's rent. Many freshmen are induced to sign a contract for a room more expensive than necessary by unscrupulous agents who wish to increase their profits.

The official rooming house agents will wear distinctive hats in the fall to enable the incoming men to recognize them. Heretofore the unsuspecting freshman stepped off the train at Ithaca only to be pounced upon by a horde of rooming agents, all eager to pilot him up the hill into the most expensive room possible. Under the new system the first year men will be able to pick out the official agents and trust in them.

Savages Produce a Gem

"Susan's Past," by F. J. Sullivan, Makes a Hit

An entertainment which the Savage Club gave at the Lyceum last Friday night was notable for the performance of one short play which would make a hit anywhere. That play was by Francis John Sullivan '14, of Saratoga Springs. It was entitled (not very happily) "Susan's Past," being a problem play of A. D. 1970. There are only four characters—Claude Dollingsworth, a debutant; his mother; a young woman, Susan McBills, who is courting him; and Archibald, "the man out of the past," whom Susan has married and then heartlessly abandoned to a life on the streets. The play deals with the innocent Claude's discovery of Susan's wild oats after he has accepted her offer of marriage. The part of the innocent debutant was well played by J. S. Smith '14, of Elmira; and Bert Hendrickson '14, of Brooklyn, fitted the rôle of the emancipated mother.

The rest of the entertainment was characteristically Savage. It included "The Savages in Quarantine," an amusing bit of nonsense by M. G. Bishop '13.

MANUSCRIPTS of several plays have been submitted in competition for the prize of $100 which The Masque offered last winter.

Minnix, H. A. Phoenix, F. F. Stoneman, H. T. Thurber, and R. W. White; from the class of 1916: Allan W. Carpenter, R. A. B. Goodman, Donald Lincoln, A. F. McCann, G. M. Stevens, and Hamilton Vose, jr.

SUNDAY NIGHT CLUB

The Sunday Night Club, which meets through the year at fraternity houses for talks by members of the Faculty, has announced the following elections from the class of 1915: Herbert Johnson Adair, John Lakin Balbridge, Willard Wilcox Butts, John Campbell Chadwick, William Curtis Collyer, Arthur Dole, jr., Walcott Brown Hastings, Winthrop Kent, John Alden Knight, jr., Henry Reed Mallory, John Ewing O'Hearn, William Francis Rienhoff, jr., Robert Sutton Saalfeld, Charles Shuler, Clement Leith Speiden, Frederick Frank Stoneman, David Fairman Taber, jr., William Harold Tyler, Robert Whitman White, Alfred Dawson Williams, Warden McKee Wilson.

W. D. SMITH'S '86 PRIZE

William Dudley Smith '15, of Schenectady, won the Eighty-six Memorial prize in declamation last Friday night for the delivery of a speech entitled "Inglorious Peace." The prize is the annual income of a sum of money left as a memorial by the class of 1886 and amounts to eighty-six dollars.

Smith has taken a conspicuous part in debating and declamation during the last three years. He has been the local winner of the Peace Prize for two years, winning second place in the state contest, and recently won the '94 Memorial Prize in debate. He has been a member of the intercollegiate debate teams for two years, leading the affirmative team last winter, and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Janus.

The judges of the contest were Lewis Henry '09, of Elmira; Nelson Drummond, of Auburn, and Albert H. Wilcox, of Rochester.

Nine other speakers competed.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

THE GROTON SCHOOL

Opportunities for Boys to Enter on Competitive Examination

Editor, Cornell Alumni News:

Representing the Groton School Alumni Association, may I ask the use of your columns to bring to the attention of the Alumni a matter of considerable importance to us, which we hope may prove interesting to some of them. When the School was started in 1884 an application book was opened in which were entered according to priority the names of all boys applying for admission. From this list each year the boys have been taken in their proper order. There resulted from this system a far greater number of applications than had been anticipated—many more than the School's limited capacity could accommodate. It was very natural that the bulk of these applications should come from near at hand, where the School was best known, and as a result the membership of the School represented a restricted geographical area. This situation led the Trustees in 1907 to supplement the plan of accepting boys in the order of their application by admitting each year, through competitive examination, a certain number of boys whether their names had been entered for admission or not. The object of the Trustees was to gain a wider geographical distribution of the pupils, believing, as they did, in the educational opportunities coming from broader contacts, and in the tonic effect of the introduction of this competitive element into the scheme of admission.

Nearly a fifth of the boys now in the School have been admitted through competition, with results which we feel have justified the plan. But the idea which has been outlined is still known to comparatively few people. We believe firmly in the opportunities that are offered to a boy who comes to Groton, but we none the less recognize the limitation which has been set forth and our hope in bringing this matter to the attention of your Alumni is that some of them will care to have their sons take the competitive examinations.

Six places will be open this year. Boys of twelve and thirteen years of age, only, are admitted. The examinations will be held on June 3rd and 4th and are in English, Latin, Mathematics and General Information. Papers will be sent to boys who do not live in or near Boston, New York or Chicago, in which cities the examinations are regularly held. Full information regarding this method of admission can be obtained by writing the Secretary of Groton School, Groton, Mass. While it may be somewhat late for parents to take this matter under consideration with reference to the coming school year, perhaps there will be some whose plans for their sons will permit of its immediate consideration. We hope that others will be interested from the standpoint of another year.

F. L. HIGGINSON, JR.,

President Groton School
Alumni Association.

CORNELL RAILWAY ALUMNI

Ninth Annual Dinner at Atlantic City on Friday, June 12

For the past eight years Cornell men in the mechanical departments of the railroads and in the railway supply business who have attended the conventions of the American Railway Master Mechanics' Association and the Master Car Builders' Association at Atlantic City have met at a Cornell dinner at one of the beach front hotels during the convention. This year the ninth annual dinner will be held at Atlantic City on Friday evening, June 12th. The place and hour will be announced in the Daily Railway Age Gazette published during the convention.

The committee in charge would appreciate hearing in advance from any Cornell man who is likely to be in attendance so that there may be ample time for preparations. Names should be sent to Charles P. Storrs '95, Storrs Mica Company, Owego, N. Y., who is president of the association this year, or to E. A. Averill '00, Standard Stoker Company, Grand Central Terminal, New York City, who is secretary.

At these dinners for the past few years there has developed among the men in attendance an enthusiastic desire to further the prestige of Cornell in the railway mechanical field and to encourage Cornell graduates to enter railroad work. For the purpose of furthering this object it was decided last year to invite a representative of the Sibley Faculty to attend the dinner this year for the purpose of conferring with the alumni and acquainting them with the work being done in Sibley at the present time and offering suggestions that will help the alumni in being of service to the University.

Professor Dexter S. Kimball of Sibley College has accepted an invitation to attend the convention and he will be present at this dinner. The meeting promises to be of unusual interest. Last year there were thirty-one alumni present and a larger attendance is looked for this year.

THE ASSOCIATE ALUMNI OF CORNELL UNIVERSITY

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to directions of the Board of Directors and the recommendations of Clubs and local Associations the president of the Associate Alumni submits for adoption at the annual meeting to be held on June 13, 1914, proposed amendments of the By-Laws as follows (new matter in italics): Amend Article III, Section 10, and Section 11 to read as follows:

Section 10. Quorum at Directors' Meeting. Seven members of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum.

Section 11. Absence from Meetings. Any member of the Board of Directors who does not attend at least one meeting in each year during his term shall not be eligible for re-election.

Amend Article IV, Section 17 to read as follows:

Section 17. Duties of the Secretary. The Secretary shall give notice of all meetings and forums of the Association and of all meetings of the Board of Directors, and shall send written notice thereof to all clubs and local associations having representatives on the Advisory Committee. He shall conduct the general correspondence and keep the records and papers of the Association. In January of each year he shall send written request to each club and local association to recommend nominations for directors and other officers and include in such request the name and address of the Chairman of the nominating committee. He shall notify directors, officers and committeemen of their election or appointment. He shall keep a list of the clubs, associations and classes entitled to representation by delegates as provided in Article VI, together with the delegates, alternates and substitutes from time to time appointed by them. He shall act as Secretary of the Board of Directors and of all meetings and forums of the Association, and shall keep accurate minutes of such meetings, including a record of all votes, resolutions and other proceedings of the same. He shall prepare, and, after approval by the Board of Directors, present to the annual meeting of the Association, the annual written report of the Board and shall mail a copy thereof to the Secretary of every club, association or class entitled to a delegate, and shall furnish a copy to any member of the Association upon request. He shall perform such other duties as may pertain to his office or may be required by the President.

Amend Article IV, Section 19 to read as follows:

Section 19. Officers to be ex officio Directors. All of the officers of the Association enumerated in Section 12, supra, if they are not regularly elected directors, and also the president of the Association of Class Secretaries and the president of the Cornellian Council shall be and become, upon their election and acceptance of office, ex officio members of the Board of Directors, and shall have all of the powers and perform all of the duties of directors during their respective terms of office. The presence, vote or other action of the ex officio directors shall be taken, counted and regarded for all purposes as though they were regularly elected members of the Board.

Amend Article VI, Section 28 to read as follows:

Section 28. Voting by Members and Delegates. Each delegate of a club or association shall be entitled to ten votes as such delegate on any question coming to a vote at a meeting or forum of the Association except on the election of Alumni Trustees. At the option of any club or local association all the votes to which it is entitled may be cast by a single accredited delegate. Each delegate of a class shall be entitled to ten votes as such delegate on any question coming to a vote at a forum of the Association. Every member shall be entitled to one vote at such meetings or forums, which vote must be cast in person and not by proxy. The presence or voting of members of clubs, associations or classes shall not affect the number of votes to which delegates of such clubs and associations are entitled as above provided. Alternates and substitutes for delegates shall have the same number of votes as the delegates would have if personally present.

Amend Article V by adding at the end thereof a new section to read as follows:

"Section 23a. Advisory Committee. There shall be an Advisory Committee consisting of representatives of the organized clubs and local associations of Cornellians, one representative to be appointed annually by each organized club or local association entitled to a delegate or delegates to meetings or forums under Article VI, Section 24, of these By-Laws, notice of such appointment together with the name and address of the appointee to be immediately mailed to the Secretary of the Associate Alumni. In default of appointment of a representative by any club or local association, the Secretary of such club or local association shall be the representative. The duties of this committee shall be to ascertain from such clubs and associations ways for fostering interest of Cornellians in Alma Mater and for maintaining cordial relations with the Associate Alumni and to advise with and recommend plans therefor to the Directors at their meetings."

Dated New York, May 13, 1914.

Respectfully submitted,

ROGER LEWIS,

President, Associate Alumni.

ALUMNI PROGRAM CHANGED

Organ Recital Takes the Place of the Glee Club Concert

Several changes have been made in the program for the two alumni days, Friday, June 12, and Saturday, June 13. They were agreed upon at a meeting of the Commencement Committee on May 13.

The exercises attending the presentation of the Comstock Memorial Library to the University will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, instead of 2 o'clock. This was done in order not to encroach on the time allowed for the alumni luncheon, which is scheduled to begin at 1 o'clock.

It was decided to have an organ recital in Bailey Hall, the new auditorium, at 8 o'clock on Friday evening. This recital will take the place of the undergraduate and alumni Musical Clubs concert which was to have been held in the Lyceum Theatre. It will be preceded by a senior singing in the Quadrangle, beginning at 7:15.

NINETEEN-NINE

We know that those who were present at the Three Year Reunion will all be back for the Five Year Reunion. The committee is preparing just such a good time as we all had on our first one in 1912. If you are looking for a real, six-cylinder, self-starting, left hand drive, center control, 1914 model good time, be in Ithaca on June 12 and 13.

If you haven't written your roommate yet you had better get busy, and if you haven't told the boss you are going to be away you had better get busy some more.

The 1909 special five-speed truck will be on the job again. Connie Roland is signing up the best cabaret talent on Broadway for the class banquet, and, believe us, Connie knows. The costume is a blinger. Jim Cox will be on hand with the graflex and you will be able to get some pictures which you will cherish for the rest of your life.

Really the wonders of the reunion can only be expressed in the 4th power, but Pat says space is limited. So, 1909, get busy. Make your reservations early.

ANOTHER series of proposed amendments to the by-laws of the Associate Alumni is published in this number. This series was drawn up by Roger Lewis, president of the association, in obedience to instructions received from the board of directors at the Pittsburgh meeting in March. The purpose of these amendments is to give local clubs and associations a larger and more direct representation in the acts of the Associate Alumni than they have at present. That purpose is the same as is intended by the amendments which the Cornell Club of Rochester has proposed. Readers will, however, note that two quite different methods are advocated. The Rochester plan is to have the local associations elect each a director, that large board of directors then to elect an executive committee, which is to have powers and duties virtually superseding the powers and duties of the present board. Mr. Lewis's plan is to leave the board of directors substantially as it is, and to give the local associations representation in an advisory committee, whose duties shall be "to ascertain from such clubs and associations ways for fostering interest of Cornellians in Alma Mater and for maintaining cordial relations with the Associate Alumni and to advise with and recommend plans therefor to the Directors at their meetings."

A FABLE

Taken, together with apologies to Mr. Ade, from the Michigan A. C. Record.

There was Once a Man who went to College and Stuck Around until he succeeded in Annexing a piece of Sheep's Hide. Whereupon he at once Disappeared.

For a few Years his erstwhile classmates were Wont to inquire "What has Become of the Pride of Our Class?" but after a Time they stopped asking. Nobody knew Much about the Man.

Meantime the Pride was busy, digging for Success. He was so Eager in his Search that he failed to Notice that he was settling into the Pit of his own Digging. At last he could see Nothing but his Work.

One day a Traveler stopped to see What the man was Doing. He recognized the Pride, and Lifted him out of the Rut. When our Hero got up and looked around He discovered that there were many Things outside of his own Work. All at once he Bethought him of his College, and decided to return and See what It looked like after many years.

Curiously enough, it chanced that Many of his old companions had the same Hunch, and when they all got Together they had the best Time since their Graduation.

Moral.—It sometimes requires a strong pull to get a man away from his work, but he will thank you for it afterward.

THE SMOKER AT BOSTON

The Cornell Club of New England announces that its Crew and Track Smoker will be held at the Westminster in Boston at 8 p. m. on Friday, May 29.

ALUMNI DAYS are Friday, June 12, and Saturday, June 13.

NEW YORK LAWYERS, ATTENTION

The Cornell Lawyers' Association desires the co-operation of all Cornell men who are members of the Bar and who are practicing or resident in the City of New York. A circular letter has been sent to all such men whose names are on a list compiled by the assistant secretary and treasurer of the association, Leslie H. Groser, Room 1109, 52 Broadway, New York. There may be many whose names are not on the list and who have not received the circular. Any such man is requested to send to Mr. Groser his name, residence, business address, and business telephone number, whether or not he cares to be enrolled as a member of the association.

The object of the association, as set forth in the by-laws, is "to render such assistance as is necessary to the College of Law of Cornell University, to assist the graduates thereof to secure situations in New York City, to encourage its members to cultivate the science of jurisprudence, and to conserve among its members high standards of honor, integrity, and courtesy." The membership dues of the association are $2 a year.

In the work of assisting graduates of the College of Law to obtain situations in New York City, the co-operation of all Cornell lawyers is requested whether or not they are enrolled as members of the association.

The officers of the association, besides Mr. Groser, are: President, Henry W. Sackett '75; vice-president, Merritt E. Haviland '77; James B. Walker, jr., '12, secretary and treasurer; executive sub-committee, John T. McGovern '00, chairman; William M. Sperry, 2d, '11, and Vernon C. Ryder '12.

Tennis.—The team took a three day trip last week to Cambridge, New Haven, and New York. It lost to Harvard, tied Yale, and defeated Columbia. Against the strong Harvard team not a match was won. Captain C. O. Benton '15 won his match against Gates of Yale, and with W. J. Bowers '15 defeated Gates and Brown in one of the doubles matches. F. T. Hunter '16 won from Cunningham of Yale. The other two singles matches were lost as was the remaining doubles match, the team score being 3-3. Against Columbia the Cornell team was successful in all but one doubles match, winning by a score of 5 to 1.

STATE GETS FUERTES PAINTINGS

A dispatch from Albany on May 14 said that Mrs. Russell Sage had contributed to the State Museum enough money to acquire a series of 106 bird paintings by Louis Agassiz Fuertes ('97), of Ithaca, for the museum. The exact amount contributed was not made public. These paintings were made by Mr. Fuertes within the last two or three years for reproduction in a comprehensive book on the birds of New York State, which the State has recently published. Dr. John H. Finley, the new Commissioner of Education, saw the book and asked the curator of the museum where the original paintings were. The curator's reply was that they were still in the possession of Mr. Fuertes because the museum had no money with which to buy them. Dr. Finley said he would see that the money was obtained.

THE COSMOPOLITAN CLUB gave a farewell dinner to its senior members at the clubhouse on Tuesday evening. One of the speakers was Dr. George W. Nasmith '07, director of the International Bureau of Students and one of the directors of the World Peace Foundation.

ALUMNI DAYS are Friday, June 12, and Saturday, June 13.

Cornell, 7; Princeton, 4

At Percy Field on Saturday the team won its second victory over Princeton. The score was 7 to 4. The victory was earned by hard hitting in the third inning against Wood, the Tiger's veteran pitcher; four Cornell men in succession hit cleanly and three runs came in. In the next inning Wood gave place to Copeland, who held Cornell hitless except in the eighth inning, when two runs were made. The game was an interesting one to watch, for something happened in almost every inning.

Bryant pitched the entire game for Cornell, and had almost perfect control. He struck out the first two men at bat in the first inning. Cook, the third man up, hit a fly which Halsted muffed. Cook went to third but Greene was an easy out, Regan to Keating. Captain Schirick hit the first ball pitched for a single over second base. Donovan sacrificed, but Bills and Grossman were easy victims.

The second inning was eventful. For Princeton, Rhoads singled and was safe at second. Adair made a poor throw on Law's grounder, but was forced out at third on Gill's grounder to Bryant. Gill was out at second on Wall's grounder to Bills. Then Law on third and Wall on first started a double steal. Keating made a poor throw to the plate. Law ran into Captain Schirick and knocked him out. The ball rolled over toward the grandstand and Wall scored. Schirick recovered and resumed play after ten minutes. Regan retired the side by striking Wood out.

For Cornell, Taber was out on a foul fly. Adair singled and stole second. Halsted walked. Keating was out at first. Then Bryant made a neat three-bagger to right field, scoring Adair and Halsted. Schirick hit over Gill's head, but the Princeton third baseman pulled the ball down with one hand.

In the third, after Donovan and Bills had fled out, the next four Cornell batters made a clean single apiece. They were Grossman, Taber, Adair and Halsted. The first three of them scored. Halsted was left at second when Keating went out, Bolton to Rhoads.

Princeton got three hits and two runs in the sixth. With one out, Cook, Greene, and Rhoads all singled, Rhoads's drive to the right bringing in two runs. Rhoads was caught trying to steal second, and Law struck out. Princeton did not again get a man to second base.

Cornell's two runs in the eighth were made by Adair and Keating on a two-bagger to center field by Schirick. Schirick was left at second when Donovan struck out.

Good pitching by Quaintance and excellent support by his team-mates enabled Michigan to shut out Cornell at Ann Arbor last week Wednesday. Regan pitched for Cornell. He allowed eleven hits, but he was so effective with men on bases that the Wolverines scored only three runs. Captain Sisler's work for Michigan in left field prevented some Cornell runs.

The first scoring was in the fourth, when Sisler doubled, Baker drew a base on balls, and then Hughitt and Baer both singled. In the sixth Michigan filled the bases with only one out but failed to score. Their third run was made in the eighth by Hughitt, who was safe on a fielder's choice and scored on Quaintance's single.

Cornell had chances to score in several innings, but was weak at the bat in the pinches. Donovan drew three passes in four times at bat.

Golf.—Cornell was defeated by Harvard last Saturday at Manchester, Mass., in a golf match by a score of four games to two. Captain W. A. Mathews '15 lost to Allis of Harvard, E. B. Prindle '15 lost to Sargent, D. D. Cooke '16 was defeated by Simmonds, and W. J. Snively '16 lost to Griffin. C. T. Lansing '16 and J. D. Newman '15 won their matches against Heyburn and Weeks respectively.

Freshman Baseball.—The freshmen played errorless ball against the Princeton freshmen on Alumni Field Saturday, winning by a score of 5 to 1. The Cornell cubs played a high class game in every respect, getting eleven hits and cutting off almost certain runs for the Tiger youngsters by remarkable fielding on the rough diamond. Mosser, the Cornell pitcher, allowed only six hits

Track

Cornell, 71; Pennsylvania, 46

The track team won its dual meet with Pennsylvania at Percy Field last Saturday in such fashion as to make the outlook for success in the intercollegiates more encouraging. The final score was 71 to 46, chiefly on account of the large number of second places taken by Cornell men.

There were several surprises in the meet, chief of which, perhaps, was the fast time made by Speiden in winning the mile run from Madeira. Speiden's time was 4:19 4-5, a new record for the track, better than Jones ever did at Percy Field, although it is more than five seconds slower than Jones's world's record at Cambridge last year. Reller proved his return to form by taking first place in the hundred, and Ingersoll was second in that event, finishing ahead of Patterson and Marshall of Pennsylvania. Van Winkle, a Cornell sophomore, beat the Pennsylvania sprinters in the 220 yard dash. Sewell, of Pennsylvania, furnished a surprise by defeating Fritz and Milton in the pole vault. Fritz had been under the weather for a few days and did not overexert himself. Two of Pennsylvania's best men, Lippincott and Lockwood, did not take part in the meet. Patterson told Moakley that he himself was not at his best in the sprints, having lost sleep the night before because he could not get into a sleeping car till the train reached Bethlehem.

Cornell won seven first places and ten second places. There was not an event in which Cornell did not take either first or second, and there were four events in which she took both. In all three of its big dual meets, the team has shown itself to be uncommonly well balanced.

The mile run was about the most interesting event of the day. Speiden defeated Madeira by a sprint in the last lap. Brown of Cornell set pace for the first lap, followed by Hartman and Madeira of Pennsylvania. The time was 62 seconds. Madeira held the lead through the second and third laps, with Speiden at his heels, these two opening up a gap of 25 yards over Hartman. At the pistol shot for the last lap, Speiden took the lead from Madeira, and Souder of Cornell came up into third place, passing Hartman. Speiden let himself out on the backstretch of the last lap, and when the runners came around the steel stand he was twenty yards ahead of Madeira. He ran his last quarter in 65 2-5 seconds. Souder was able to keep third place from Hartman.

Potter and Hoffmire tried hard to keep Captain Wallace McCurdy from winning the two mile, but he was too much for them. They had him boxed, but in spite of that he went around them in the last lap. Hoffmire made a desperate effort to overhaul him, but was beaten by ten yards at the tape. There were ten men in this race. Clark of Cornell made pace for the first half-mile, and then Hoffmire and Potter went to the front with McCurdy third. They held this order and in the sixth lap had about 30 yards lead of the next man, Langner of Pennsylvania. The gap was a hundred yards in the seventh lap. On the backstretch of the final quarter McCurdy got out of the pocket and proved to have a good deal more in reserve than either of the Cornell runners. His time for the last quarter was 63 2-5 seconds. Corwith of Cornell came through in fourth place.

Caldwell won the 440 easily from Kelly and Church of Pennsylvania, but was beaten by Meredith in the half-mile. The latter race was run on the 440-yard course with one circuit of the oval and the finish at the clubhouse. Speiden was one of the starters in the half-mile but was not in the race after 300 yards. At the halfway point Meredith was leading with Church second, Irish third and Caldwell fourth. Caldwell started his sprint at the turn from the 100-yard straightaway. Meredith answered his challenge and broke the tape ten yards to the good.

100 Yard Dash, first trial heat—Won by Reller, Cornell, easily; Marshall, Pennsylvania, second; Dimico, Pennsylvania, third. Time, 10 4-5 seconds. Mullen and Cornwell of Cornell distanced.

Rowing

The Schedule

May 23—Navy Day, Cayuga Lake: Princeton Yale and Cornell Varsity Eights; Princeton and Cornell Freshmen; Final for the Cornell Collegiate Rowing Championship.

May 26—Harvard vs. Cornell at Boston.

June 26—Annual Intercollegiate Regatta at Poughkeepsie.

Promise of a Good Race with Yale and Princeton on Saturday

After numerous shifts Mr. Courtney has placed eight oarsmen in the varsity boat in a combination which will probably face Yale and Princeton in the Spring Day regatta on Cayuga Lake next Saturday. At present the men are rowing as follows: bow, Ellms; 2, Duffie; 3, Eddy; 4, Gilman; 5, Welles; 6, Bird; 7, O'Brien; stroke, Spransy; coxswain, Rand.

This combination includes only two members of the varsity crew which finished second at Poughkeepsie last June, namely, Eddy, who rowed bow, and Spransy, who was No. 6. Bird, who is now rowing at six, is the only other man who has rowed in a varsity boat before this year. He stroked the victorious four last June. Ellms rowed in the junior varsity crew last year. Duffie was a member of the winning 1916 crew at Poughkeepsie, as were Commodore Gilman and Welles. O'Brien rowed on the junior varsity last year. Rand was coxswain of the 1916 freshman boat. Butts, the only other varsity man left from last year, has been supplanted by Duffie at 2 because of his two illnesses this spring and consequent lack of continuous practice. He is the port substitute.

Trials during the past week have shown the new combination to be rowing better than ever before this spring, the varsity having defeated the freshmen in several close finishes. Mr. Courtney is fairly optimistic as to the result of the regatta, having stated last Saturday that "if the rowing weather is good for the next few days the varsity will be in such condition that it will take a mighty good crew to beat it."

The freshmen are still rather ragged but are unquestionably a strong crew. They have many times beaten the two junior varsity eights and sometimes have beaten the varsity.

The Yale crew as it stands now averages 171 pounds, while Princeton averages 174, one-half pound lighter than Cornell.

The statistics of the two Cornell crews are as follows:

Cornell Wins Honor by Defeating Harvard

Cornell defeated Harvard in lacrosse at Cambridge on Saturday by a score of 7 to 2, thereby winning the championship of the northern division of the Intercollegiate Lacrosse League for the first time in seven years. The game was played after the Harvard-Yale track meet before a crowd of 15,000 persons. Cornell played a remarkably fast game, completely outclassing Harvard after the first few minutes of play.

THE ASSOCIATE ALUMNI OF CORNELL UNIVERSITY

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

TO THE ASSOCIATE ALUMNI OF CORNELL UNIVERSITY :

The Cornell Club of Rochester having appointed the undersigned members of the Associate Alumni of Cornell University a committee to propose amendments to the by-laws of said Association which will give clubs and associations entitled to delegates under Article VI Section 24 thereof representation on its Board of Directors, notice is hereby given, pursuant to Article XII, Section 40, of said by-laws, that at the annual meeting of said Association to be held in Room B, Goldwin Smith Hall, Ithaca, N. Y., on June 13, 1914, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, we will propose and move the adoption of the following amendments to said by-laws :

1. To amend Article III, Section 4, thereof to read as follows :

"Section 4. Election. Five directors at large shall be elected by ballot at each annual meeting of this Association. Each club or association entitled to a delegate or delegates under Article VI, Section 24, may elect, triennially, at a regular or special meeting, from its members, one local director, provided that notice of such election shall be given in the call for said meeting, in accordance with regulations made by the Board of Directors of this Association; and immediately after such election shall transmit to the Secretary of this Association the name and address of such director, and the date of his election."

2. To amend Article III, Section 5, thereof to read as follows :

"Section 5. Term of Office. Each director at large shall take office immediately upon his election and hold office for a term of three years. Except as hereinafter provided, each local director shall take office at the close of the annual meeting of this Association next following his election and hold office for a term of three years. Each local director elected prior to the annual meeting of this Association in June, 1915, shall take office immediately upon his election and hold office until the expiration of his term of office, which shall be determined in the following manner : at said meeting such local directors shall be divided by lot by the presiding officer into three classes, equal or as nearly equal as possible in number, the first of which shall hold office for three years thereafter, the second, for two years thereafter, and the third, for one year thereafter. Each director shall hold office until the election of his successor. Each director now in office, except directors ex-officio, shall be known hereafter as a director at large, and shall continue in office until the expiration of the term for which he was elected."

3. To amend Article III, Section 6, thereof to read as follows :

"Section 6. Annual and regular meetings. The directors shall hold their annual meeting in Ithaca, for the adoption of their annual report and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before them, prior to the day set for the annual meeting of this Association, and on some day of the seven immediately preceding Commencement day. They shall hold two other regular meetings annually; one in Ithaca after the annual meeting of this Association and on the same day or the day following, at a time and place to be fixed by the President and announced at said annual meeting by its presiding officer; and the other in November, at such time and place as the Board may appoint or as, on failure of such appointment, the President may direct. At least ten (10) days' written notice of all annual and November meetings of the Board must be given by the President or Secretary, either personally or by mail, to each director."

4. To amend Article III, Section 7, thereof to read as follows :

"Section 7. Special meetings. Special meetings of the directors may be called by the President at any time and shall be called by him upon written request of six (6) directors for such time, within thirty (30) days, and for such place as he may designate. Such request must specify the business to be considered at such meeting, and no other business shall be considered thereat. At least twenty (20) days' notice of special meetings shall be given by the President or Secretary either personally or by mail, to each director. Such notice must state the purpose of the meeting, and must be accompanied by a full copy of the request therefor."

5. To amend Article III, Section 8, thereof to read as follows :

"Section 8. General powers. Except as hereinafter provided, the entire charge and control of this Association and of its affairs, funds and property shall be vested in its Board of Directors."

6. To amend Article III, Section 9, thereof to read as follows :

"Section 9. Particular powers. In addition to the general powers conferred and duties imposed upon the directors by law and by these by-laws, they shall have the following powers and duties :

"(a) They shall prepare and present at each annual meeting a report of the business transacted during the year preceding such annual meeting."

"(b) They shall make such arrangements as they shall deem advisable for the celebration of Commencement; for the Annual Meeting of the Association; for the presentation of annual reports from the alumni trustees; for the conduct of forums and gatherings of the alumni; for the management of all affairs which require organized effort or participation by the alumni; for the proper representation of the alumni at functions and ceremonies; for keeping a list of all members of the Association with their addresses; for the transmitting, at least annually, of information concerning the University to each member; and for establishing an alumni bureau for the promotion of the interests of the members."

7. To amend Article III, Section 10, thereof to read as follows :

"Section 10. Quorum. Ten directors shall constitute a quorum."

8. To amend Article III, Section 11, thereof to read as follows :

"Section 11. Forfeiture of office. Any director, who fails to attend three consecutive regular meetings during his term, and any local director, who ceases to be a member of the club or association which elected him, thereby forfeits his office."

9. To add to Article III there of three new Sections to read respectively as follows :

"Section 11-a. Vacancies. Each vacant directorship at large may be filled for the remainder of the term by the Board of Directors. Each club or association whose local directorship shall be vacant may fill such vacancy for the remainder of the term in the manner provided for the election of local directors. For the purposes of this section, the death or resignation of a director, or the forfeiture of his office, shall create a vacancy."

"Section 11-b. Substitutes. In case any local director shall not be present at any meeting of the Board of Directors, a substitute, elected or appointed by the club or association which he represents, may serve in his place and stead, and, while so serving, shall have all of his powers and be subject to all of his duties, and shall be deemed to be a director for the purpose of counting a quorum, provided, however, that each such substitute must present to such meeting a certificate, signed by the president and secretary of the club or association so electing or appointing him, and showing such election or appointment and the date thereof."

"Section 11-c. Letter-Ballots. A review by the Board of Directors of the action of the Executive Committee may be had by letter-ballot on a written request therefor signed by at least five (5) directors and filed with the Secretary of this Association. The Board of Directors shall prescribe reasonable rules and regulations for such review, and may in like manner provide for a letter-ballot on any other matter within its jurisdiction."

10. To amend Article IV, Section 17, thereof to read as follows :

"Section 17. Duties of the Secretary. The Secretary shall give notice of all meetings and forums of this Association and of all meetings of the Board of Directors and of the Executive Committee; conduct the general correspondence and keep the records and papers of this Association; notify directors at large, officers and committeemen of their election or appointment; keep a list of the clubs, associations and classes entitled to representation by delegates, as provided in Article VI, and of the names and addresses of the directors and delegates and alternates from time to time elected or appointed by them; act as secretary of all meetings of the Board of Directors and of the Executive Committee and of all meetings and forums of this Association, and keep accurate minutes of each such meeting and forum, including a record of all votes, resolutions and other proceedings of the same; prepare and, after approval by the Board of Directors, present to the annual meeting of this Association the annual written report of the Board and mail a copy thereof to the Secretary of each such club, association or class, and furnish a copy thereof to any member of this Association upon request; and perform such other duties as may pertain to his office or be required of him by the President, Board of Directors or Executive Committee."

11. To add to Article V thereof a new Section to read as follows :

"Section 23-a. Executive Committee. There shall be an Executive Committee of the Board of Directors, consisting of seventeen (17) members. The President and Secretary shall be members ex-officio of this Committee, and the President shall be its chairman. Fifteen (15) members thereof shall be elected annually by the Board of Directors at their first regular meeting after the annual meeting of this Association, not more than a majority of whom shall be elected from the directors at large and not more than four of whom shall be residents of the same state. Each member shall take office immediately upon his election and hold office for a term of one year, provided, however, that no person in any event shall continue to be a member of this Committee after he shall cease to be a director of this Association. Subject to the approval and control of the Board of Directors, this Committee shall have the powers conferred, and be subject to the duties imposed, upon that Board by Article III, Sections 8 and 9, hereof, to fill vacancies in its own membership, and such other powers and duties as may be conferred or imposed upon it by the Board of Directors; and shall prepare and, at the annual meeting of that Board, present a report of the business transacted by the Committee during the year preceding such annual meeting."

12. To amend Article VI, Section 28, thereof to read as follows :

"Section 28. Voting by Members and Delegates. Each delegate of a club or association shall be entitled to ten (10) votes as such delegate on any question coming to a vote at a meeting or forum of this Association except on the election of Alumni Trustees and directors at large. If any such delegate be absent from such meeting or forum, and no alternate be serving in his place, the votes to which he would be entitled, if present, may be cast by any other delegate or serving alternate of the same club or association, who holds a certificate, signed by the president and secretary thereof and showing that it has authorized him so to do. Each delegate of a class shall be entitled to ten (10) votes as such delegate on any question coming to a vote at a forum of the Association. Every member shall be entitled to one vote at such meetings or forums, which vote must be cast in person and not by proxy. The presence or voting of members of clubs, associations or classes shall not affect the number of votes to which delegates of such clubs and associations are entitled as above provided. Serving alternates shall have the same voting powers and privileges as the delegates would have if personally present."
