Cornell Hosts First Annual Leadership Academy

By Michael Rosenthal 955

From March 2 - 4 the Cornell chapter played host to Acacians from all over the northeast at the first Northeast Regional Leadership Academy. Seventy-five Acacians representing 15 chapters came from as far west as Ohio and as far south as Johns Hopkins to join the Cornell chapter, Executive Director Darold Larson, Leadership Consultants Erik Church and Barrett Byrne, and Acacia Fraternity Foundation President Scott Houston for the week-end-long event.

The program was a great success. Chapters started arriving on Friday. Everyone was impressed by the condition of the chapter house and amazed by its size. The Cornell brothers were amazed that we could sleep 100 people in the house. We spent that evening getting people registered for the weekend and introducing them to Ithaca nightlife.

On Saturday morning everyone was up early for breakfast and for the opening session of the Academy. At the first session brothers brainstormed about the good points and the bad points associated with fraternities. The meeting then broke into small groups to emphasize the good and correct the bad. The groups then reported their results to the entire body.

After lunch we all headed down to campus for the second part of the program. We split into two groups to attend talks on subjects such as ritual, pledge education, alumni relations, and a presentation on insurance and liability given by Randy Stevens, Cornell's Greek Advisor.

Dinner followed the day's events and gave everybody a chance to talk about what they had learned. Following dinner, the Cornell chapter hosted a party that stressed risk management, showing that you can have good parties where alcohol consumption is kept under control. Our guests at the party included the sisters of Gamma Delta Phi and Delta Phi Zeta from Ithaca College.

The Academy wound up with a Sunday brunch and a wrap-up discussion.

All the brothers of the Cornell chapter put forward a great deal of effort to make the Academy an enjoyable event for all. We are looking forward to hosting a similar event in the future.

An Invitation To Return To Your College Home

By Jonathan Jacoby 967

As the spring 1990 semester approaches its end, we are proud to announce that we have just initiated the largest pledge class since the reorganization. These new brothers bring much hope to the house and with these hopes, great plans for the next academic year.

We would especially like to thank the three alumni who returned this year to help us initiate the new brothers. John Friedlander 877, John Graham 883 and Christopher Nolan 947 were all present to share our secret rituals with the pledges.

The best part of their visit was when we had a chance to sit down and discuss how the ceremonies have evolved over the years. This gave us new ideas for our future pledges.

The Cornell chapter would like to cordially invite any alumnus to return to the house for initiation or for any other reason throughout the year. The knowledge you hold and the advice you could give may help the Cornell chapter of Aca-cia international fraternity rise to a new level of excellence.

A Message From Our New Venerable Dean

The future is looking bright here at 318 Highland. We have seven new brothers who have already made a huge impact on the chapter. This was the largest pledge class since the reorganization, rising for the third straight year. All indications are that the upcoming year will bring even more men into the Halls of Acacia.

The house is also looking great, thanks to the installation of a new ceiling over the pool table and an extension to the bar. We have also painted the bar room and plans are underway to paint the upstairs before the end of the semester.

We hosted the first Northeast Regional Leadership Academy in March. Seventy five Acacians from 15 chapters, and the International Staff, spent a weekend at 318. Two Ithaca College sororities joined us for a brotherhood social that weekend, improving inter-chapter and local sorority relations.

Our athletic teams are faring better, as we posted wins in bowling, volleyball, and box lacrosse.

We are also gearing up for our next philanthropy event where we will once again raise money for the local S.P.C.A. We are aiming to raise even more money than the $800 we raised last semester.

The Chapter would especially like to thank John Friedlander, John Graham, and Chris Nolan for coming back to Ithaca to join us in our initiation ceremonies last month. Their input added a lot to the initiation.

On a slightly sadder note, however, this May marks the graduation of the last of the men who reorganized our chapter. We can only wish them the best of luck in their future endeavors.

Alumni Donations Down From Previous Years

The 1989-90 Academic year has been fairly uneventful. That is, however, a welcome relief from previous years. The only notable exception was a burglary during Winter Recess. Many doors and entry locks were damaged, and we are in the process of making repairs.

The Corporation Board is anxious and willing to continue fixing up the Chapter House, as we have been for the last several years. However, we have extremely limited funds with which to work, and rely on the generosity of our Alumni to keep us going. For some reason, the amount of dues and donations received this year has not yet been as good as in previous years. I urge you to please respond to this Traveller with a check if you have not already done so. Our annual dues remain at $25, and if you all responded, Acacia would have sufficient funds for many necessary improvements.

I look forward to seeing you at the Annual Meeting (5/5/90) or whenever you next visit.

Frank Agel '26 (0232) [Bay Village of Sarasota, 8400 Vamo Rd., Apt. 609, Sarasota, FL 34231] reminds us that his college roommate was Edwin Ball (0220), who passed away about 15 years ago.

John Clarkson 'GR (0309) [Presby Home C-213, Clinton, SC 29325] and wife, Margaret, were planning to take a cruise in January on the Cunard Line Vista fjord from Ft. Lauderdale to L.A. via the Caribbean and Panama Canal.

Clarence Bent '39 (0334) [2096 US 19S, Lot 1704, Clearwater, FL 34624] and wife, Ruth spent a lovely time with Ray Rider '39 (0356) [533 N. Leavitt Ave., Orange City, FL 32763] at Ray's home and restaurant. It was the first time they'd been together since graduation. Clarence now has over 48 years perfect attendance in Nashua, NH Rotary (most make-ups at Clearwater East).

Carl Cook (0358) [8720 SW Tualatin Rd., Apt. 116, Tualatin, OR 97062] recently moved to be near his oldest son.

Robert Snowdon '39 (0364) [33 Gladstone House, 775 John Ringling, Sarasota, FL 34236] is still a member of his condominium board and is now president of the Sarasota-Manatee Cornell Club. A March 1 gala evening with President Frank Rhodes was scheduled.

"Our Teams Sure Will Lace Ya"

By Bill Cammuso 965

Athletic participation at Acacia is at its highest level in five years. Although we haven't nailed down any championships yet, we appear to be well on our way to eventually bringing home those precious all-sports points.

The black and gold's greatest success by far has come in the kegler's corner — and not necessarily the bar room. Behind the bowling mastery of John Carpenter, Dave Kantor, Jim Waxmonsky, and "Iron" Mike Rosenthal, we came oh-so-close to our first winning record in quite some time. The Four Horsemen were able to secure wins over TKE, ΦΣΚ, ΑΤΩ, and ΨΥ.

As for the other sports, we weren't quite as successful on the victory rostrum, but made a good showing nonetheless. A scoring misunderstanding cost our doubles tennis duo of John Carpenter '91 and Devin Van Zandt '90 a key tiebreaker. In ice hockey, we risked recruiting violations and my own personal ineligibility to make a very impressive showing against eventual semifinalists and perennial puckheads ΧΨ. Our volleyball team was always right in the hunt.

The house is looking forward to strong performance in lacrosse, softball, and single's tennis. The resumes of the actives include representing Cornell in crew, hockey, and, of course, rugby. Hopefully the athletic skills developed there will turn into Acacia victories on the fields named after one of our brothers.

News From Around The House

CALIFORNIA U. OF PENN CHARTERING

It is relatively rare for a brother to witness the induction of a chapter into our International fraternity. However, with the chartering last month of our colony at the California University of Pennsylvania, a majority of actives in the house have been to at least one chartering as an active member.

Representing Cornell at the C.U.P. chartering were Andrew Brenner 953 and Jonathan Jacoby 967. The two, who were the only undergraduate representatives from any other chapter, joined International Executive Director Darold Larson, the legendary George F. Patterson, Jr., and local Masonic and University officials in welcoming Acacia's newest chapter. For their efforts, Brothers Brenner and Jacoby were awarded the "Idiots Who Travelled So Far" Award at the Banquet.

HAYRE, A QUILL AND DAGGER

Newly-initiated brother Paul Hayre 970 was selected for membership in the elite honorary Quill and Dagger society. For Brother Hayre, it was yet another award, as he recently was elected Engineering representative on the Student Assembly.

RUGBY LEADER

Brother Nick Strenk 963 also recently "took a greater part" on campus when he was elected President of the Cornell Rugby Club. Brother Strenk is currently applying to the Johnson School of Management for his M.B.A. Nick, who has played rugby since he was a sophomore, is often to be found wandering around the Halls of Acacia holding his Mitre rugby ball.

ACACIAN AT OXFORD

This semester, Nicholas Bunning 968 was awarded the Prince of Wales Scholarship to study architecture at Oxford University and at the British Academy in Rome. Nick, after completing his architecture requirements this spring, is planning to transfer to the Hotel school to receive a dual degree in finance. Nick has been instructed to carry the Acacia spirit across the Atlantic.

DEPARTURES

There are a total of five men who will graduate this year. Of the five, two are going to law school, one to graduate school, and the other two are actively seeking employment. Michael Rosenthal 955 will attend Harvard Law School in the fall, while Andrew Brenner 953 will be across the river at Boston University School of Law. Ronnen Levinson 956 will go west to the University of California at Berkeley, where he will be studying Mechanical Engineering. David Kantor 958 is currently looking for a job after graduation. Devin Van Zandt 962, the resident Irishman (3/4 Irish, 1/4 Dutch), is graduating with a degree in Electrical Engineering, and also has yet to land the job.

JOBS NEEDED

Brothers Rosenthal and Brenner are currently seeking summer employment in the New York City area. Brother Van Zandt is seeking a permanent job in Electrical Engineering. Please consider hiring your brethren. If you know of any openings, please call (607) 257-8028, or write.

Changes to Our Chapter House

The past year has witnessed several changes at 318. The faux-wood paneling was removed from the room known as "Limbo", thus bringing the decorative scheme of the room firmly into the nineties. In addition the hallways on the third floor were given a fresh coat of paint at this time, as well as two of the "armpit" rooms.

It was also decided at the beginning of the year that increased headroom was needed in the pool table area of the bar. A new drywall ceiling was installed by the brothers during an energetic house work session. The results look very smart indeed. Nicholas Bunning 968 decided to carry on the good work by remodelling the South end of the bar. An additional four feet were added to the length of the the longest bar in the Ivy League, thus securing Cornell Acacia's stronghold in College Bar History. A telephone extension was also installed for the bartender to facilitate easy summoning of the ladies when required. The entire room was then repainted using a light grey color scheme.

As Acacia is now home to several enthusiastic pianists the grand piano in the Commons has been rebuilt. Nick installed a new keyboard, and with the re-regulated action has transformed the piano into a very decent instrument.

On the mundane subject of laundry, the brothers started a fund to replace the incinerator (dryer). Three weeks ago there was much rejoicing when a brand new Whirlpool dryer was installed.

At the end of this semester, the entire house will be repainted on the interior, in order that the house look its absolute best for Fall Rush.

Meet Acacia's Newest Brothers

Paul Hayre '91 was born in Houston, Texas, and has lived there since — except for his Cornell years. Currently a junior studying electrical engineering, Paul has been heavily involved with campus governance, the Indian Students Association, and countless campus committees and legislative bodies. Recently, Paul was elected to represent the Engineering College to next year's Student Assembly. Paul says that he looks forward to his next year on the Assembly and to life in the Acacia house.

Jonathon Lammers '93 is a freshman biology major in the Ag school. Jon was born in a suburb of Chicago, and presently lives in Marion, New York, which is about 20 miles east of Rochester. In addition to being a full-time student, Jon plays rugby and works at Wegmans, "the #1 grocery store in customer satisfaction in the U.S.," from whom Jon received a scholarship.

Andrew Regenbaum '93 is an agricultural economics major in the school of Agriculture and Life Sciences. Currently he lives in New City, N.Y. which is a suburb of New York City. Here at Cornell, Andy is a member of the Lightweight Crew team. School, the fraternity, and practice take up most of his time, but Andy also enjoys playing basketball and baseball, and he is a die-hard N.Y. Rangers fan.

Nicholas Bunning '92 arrives with a broad range of experiences. Originally from England, he was a student at the Southern California Institute of Architecture, and held positions with two prominent Southern California architectural firms, as well as at MTV Networks in New York. When out of school, Nicholas divides his time between his homes in Manhattan, NY, and Newport Beacon, CA.

Nicholas' enthusiasm for the chapter will surely lead Acacia back to its rightful position of prominence within the Cornell greek system. He is currently at work on a budget for renovation of the house's interior, as part of an overall plan to firmly reinstate the traditional ideals of fraternity. These include personal and chapter pride, as well as elevated faculty/chapter and alumni/chapter relations.

Adam Goldstein '93 is a biology major in the Ag school. Adam likes skiing, parties, bodybuilding (6'2", 145 pounds), and rugby. Born and raised in Muncie, New York, Adam is looking forward to balancing Acacia's checkbook next year, as well as attempting to disprove his nickname.

Andy Nolan '91 is an Ag Engineering major in the College of Ag and Life Sciences. Andy spent four years in the active U.S. Navy and another four years in the reserves, first as a diesel mechanic and then as a Navy diver. He is presently a volunteer fireman captain of his firehouse's underwater recovery unit. He is also a member and diver for Cayuga County Underwater Recovery. He enjoys skiing and scuba diving. Andy feels Acacia will definitely bring him a lifetime benefit, and he plans to do much for his fraternity.

Martin Scutt '92 is an Animal Science major in the Ag School. He is planning to apply to vet school. Martin plays rugby, likes water skiing, and he enjoys the outdoors. He feels that Acacia will bring him "proper social etiquette."

Andrew Deetz '94 wrote the chapter while at sea on the U.S.S. Eisenhower. He will be cruising the Med for the Summer, and will return to the U.S. this September.

Warren Walker '81 wrote to Andy Brenner on his computer terminal from the Rand Corporation, where he does policy analysis. [If you can access the BITNET or other computer network, you can write to the house through Andy Brenner at computer address

KZQY@CORNELLA].

Notice Of Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting of the Acacia Fraternity Corporation will be held on Saturday, May 5, 1990 at 11:00 a.m. at 318 Highland Road, Ithaca, NY 14850. A barbecue lunch will follow the meeting.

An Invitation to Return To Acacia This Summer

Acacia is, for the first time, extending an invitation to those Brothers and their families attending their class reunion to stay at the Chapter House. Donations are appreciated and space is limited. The reunion weekend is 6/7/90 (Thursday) through 6/10/

90 (Sunday). Please write to the Reunion 1990 Committee [318 Highland Road, Ithaca, New York 14850] or call Jim Showacre '50 (607-257-2261) or Steve Stein '73 (607-277-3125) for reservations or more information. Deadline for reservations is 5/12/90.
