REUNION PROGRAM Includes Tours and Exhibit

New feature of Class reunions this year, June 18-20, will be special exhibits and demonstrations arranged by members of the Faculties of several Colleges to show alumni some of the work being done. Visits to these will be scheduled Friday afternoon, but it is expected that many returning alumni will take the opportunity to renew acquaintance with Faculty friends throughout the reunion period and find interest in these recent developments in the Colleges in which they were students. Another feature that proved to be popular last year will be repeated: the boating of former crews on the Inlet Saturday afternoon. Some Classes are urging their complete crews which rowed at Poughkeepsie to come back and take part in this rowing pageant, which last year was to many one of the pleasantest features of reunions. New road construction makes easy access by car and plenty of room for spectators on the west bank.

With this President Farrand's last year in office, special interest, of course, attaches to the two talks he will give to alumni and their guests on Saturday, June 19. To accommodate the larger crowd expected, the morning's annual meeting of the Cornell Alumni Corporation, at which he has reported intimately each year the current developments of the University, has been moved to Bailey Hall; and the President will also speak at the traditional alumni rally there following the separate Class dinners on the Hill and about town Saturday evening.

Most Class secretaries and reunion chairmen of the twenty-five Classes scheduled to come back this year have already sent notices and special information about their own Class programs to all members. Alumni of reunion Classes who have not had such word may obtain it by writing their Class officers or to Foster M. Coffin '12, Alumni Representative, Alumni House, 3 East Avenue.

The reunion program follows:

- FRIDAY, JUNE 18
(Eastern Standard Time)
- Morning Registration, Drill Hall, all day.
Class and interclass games.
- 12-2 All Classes lunch in Drill Hall.
- 2:00 Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs annual meeting, West Lounge Willard Straight Hall, followed by reception in the East Lounge.
- Afternoon Tours of Campus. Visits to Colleges and departments of special interest.
- 5:00 Organ recital, Professor Luther M. Noss, Sage Chapel.
- 7:00 Senior and Alumni Singing, Goldwin Smith Portico.
- 8:45 Dramatic Club presents "Leave it to Psmith," by P. G. Wodehouse and Ian Hay, Willard Straight Theatre.

8:45 Musical Clubs Concert, "Rusticana," Bailey Hall.

ANOTHER WINS ROME PRIZE

John F. Kirkpatrick '34 last week became the tenth Cornellian to receive the Rome Prize in Landscape Architecture in the fifteen times it has been awarded. The award has a value of approximately $4,000, for two years of travel and study in Europe. From the twenty entrants in this year's competition, three finalists were selected and allowed four weeks to submit designs for the development of a large tract of land as a residential district. One of the other finalists was a graduate of the University of California, now at Harvard, and the other was a graduate of Pennsylvania State College. Professor Gilmore D. Clarke '13, Regional Planning, and Richard C. Murdock '27, a previous winner of the Rome Prize, were members of the jury of award.

Kirkpatrick entered the College of Architecture from Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1930; received the BArch degree in '36; and is a candidate for the BLA degree this June. His winning of the Rome Prize brings him also the Charles Goodwin Sands "first medal" awarded by the Faculty of Architecture for distinguished work. He is a member of Delta Upsilon.

THREE WIN AWARDS For Study Abroad

Three of the nine new appointments for advanced study in Belgium in 1937-38 made by the Commission for Relief in Belgium Educational Foundation, Inc. have been made to Cornellians. They are Richards A. Rowland and Mrs. Rowland (Helen I. Tucker) MS '28, both graduate students in Geology, and Eugene E. Pfaff, PhD '36.

Rowland has held the Long Fellowship in Structural Geology for two years, having entered the Graduate School in 1935 after receiving the degree of Geological Engineer at University of Cincinnati in '34. Mrs. Rowland received the AB degree at DePauw University in '27, and after a year in the Graduate School and teaching geology at DePauw, became an assistant in Geology in 1934. They were married March 21, 1936, and both have now completed their work for the PhD degree, which they expect to receive next June. Meanwhile, Rowland has been appointed assistant geologist for the State of Illinois and will work with the State Geological Survey in Urbana for seven months. Mrs. Rowland will be doing field work in Florida until June. Rowland's award is for five months' study in Belgium, from February, 1938; Mrs. Rowlands, for five months from September, 1937.

Pfaff received the AB degree at University of North Carolina in 1930 and the MA there in '34. He majored in History in the Graduate School, received the Doctorate last September, and is now teaching history at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. He will spend three months next summer in Belgium.

The CRB Fellowships are financed from funds remaining to the Commission for Relief in Belgium, headed by Herbert Hoover and raised in America following the World War. They are used both to bring students from Belgium for advanced studies in American universities and to provide opportunities for study abroad to Americans with teaching or research experience and who plan to continue as teachers.

Thirteen Belgian students have come to Cornell on CRB fellowships since they were established in 1920. Cornellians who have studied in Belgium with their assistance are Professor Herbert W. Briggs, Government; Wallace E. Caldwell '10, now professor of history at University of North Carolina; Paul D. Evans '13, professor and head of the history department at University of Vermont; John R. Knipping '10, vice-president, Albert Frank-Guenther Law, Inc., 131 Cedar Street, New York City; Professor Edward G. Misner '13, Farm Management; Professor Flora Rose, Home Economics; Professor Carl Stephenson, History; Professor James B. Sumner, Biochemistry; the late Professor Martha Van Rensselaer '09, Home Economics; and A. M. Wolfson '21, head of the biology department at State Teachers College, Murray, Ky.

THE PRESIDENTS REPORT

The President's Report for the academic year 1935-36 has just been published, and may be obtained by request to the University Secretary, Morrill Hall. President Farrand notes in detail the changes of last year among the Faculty and Trustees, and reports the official enrollment of students for the year as 6,019, compared with 5,910 the previous year.

"It is gratifying again to note," he says, "the increased interest and activity of the Alumni in different parts of the country in arousing an interest in Cornell among distinguished students in the graduating classes of the schools of their districts, and especially noteworthy is the continuing success of Cornell Day. All faculties of the University are concerning themselves seriously with the methods of determining qualifications for admission and the impression is general that the quality of the student body is improving from year to year."

Concerning the physical plant, the President calls attention "again to the outstanding and increasing demands for improved Engineering buildings, for accommodations for the College of Architecture, the Department of Music, the Department of Geology, and for Gymnasium facilities."

"The most pressing problem before the Trustees, in my opinion," the President says, "is the need for an adequate retirement allowance system for the officers of the University. Each year that passes without such provision obviously increases the difficulties and hazards of the situation. It is hoped that the Committee charged with the responsibility of analyzing the conditions and making recommendations to meet them in some degree, will report to the Board during the coming year with a plan within the financial possibilities of the institution."

He remarks that the reorganization of the Athletic Association "has resulted in a marked improvement in the facilities for physical education and athletics on the campus and in complete change of attitude and spirit in the student body as to this important aspect of the University life. The new Director of Physical Education and Athletics, Mr. James Lynah, has discharged his difficult responsibilities with ability and tact."

Subjoined in the President's Report are a "Summary of Financial Operations" by Comptroller Charles D. Bostwick '92 and detailed reports from the several

GIVE SCHOOL TROPHY

The Cornell Club of Western Pennsylvania has presented a trophy, to be known as the Cornell Relay Cup, to the Tri-State League consisting of Shady Side Academy in Pittsburgh, the University School in Cleveland, and the Nichols School in Buffalo. As the name indicates, it is for the annual relay race of these schools and is to become the permanent possession of the school which wins it three times.

NEW YORK WOMEN ELECT

The annual meeting of the Cornell Women's Club of New York was held May 20, at the clubrooms in the Hotel Barbizon. Those elected to office were Mrs. George A. Shedden (Dorothea Dickinson) '23, second vice-president; Mrs. Edward Meincke (Frances E. Meisse) '31, corresponding secretary; Anna K. Schmidt '29, treasurer; and Marion Quell '26, Isabel McCaffrey '29, and Marion R. Blenderman '36, directors. Dr. Mary M. Crawford '04 described the Mount Holyoke centennial celebration, which she attended as Cornell's representative; and Mary H. Donlon '20 spoke on the work of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs. Mrs. George W. Tucker, Jr. (Elsie F. Rand) '07, presided. At a supper before the meeting, Nellie H. Bingham '05 was hostess.

ALUMNI IN STATE COURTS

Thirty-five Cornellians hold positions in the New York State courts, according to a list compiled by Professor Edwin H. Woodruff '88, Emeritus, former Dean of the Law School.

Irving G. Hubbs '91 of Pulaski is a Justice of the Court of Appeals.

Supreme Court Justices include Clyde W. Knapp '93 of Lyons, Clayton I. Miller '93 of Pulaski, Harley N. Crosby '96 of Falconer, Rowland L. Davis '97 of Cortland, Ely W. Personius '98 of Elmira, Parton Swift '98 of Buffalo, George A. Larkin '00 of Olean, James O'Malley '01 of New York City, Edward L. Robertson '01 of Syracuse, Francis G. Hooley '04 of Rockville Centre, Benjamin Kenyon '07 of Auburn, John C. Wheeler '09 of Corning, Riley H. Heath '12 of Ithaca, F. Walter Bliss '13 of Middleburg, Harry E. Schirick '14 of Kingston, and John H. McCooey '21 of Brooklyn.

The nine who serve as County Judges are Willard M. Kent '98 of Ithaca, Barber B. Conable '01 of Warsaw, Thomas Downs '02 of St. Albans, Leon S. Church '08 of Interlaken, Lee L. Ottaway '09 of Jamestown, Henry J. Kimball '12 of Watertown, J. Ezra Hanagan '14 of Utica, J. Gordon Flannery '18 of Glenham, and William H. Coon '22 of Cortland.

D. Page Morehouse '06 of Oswego and Charles M. Harrington '15 of Plattsburg are Surrogate Justices.

Seven district attorneys include Nathan D. Lapham '95 of Geneva, Arthur G. Adams '06 of Ithaca, William H. Munson '10 of Medina, Cleon B. Murray '13 of Ellenville, A. Edward Krieger '15 of Salamanca, John R. Schwartz '20 of Poughkeepsie, and Abraham E. Gold '24 of Binghamton.

A CORNELL FAMILY RECORD

More than a half-century of loyalty to Cornell is typified in the family of Mrs. Patrick F. Milmo (Margaret E. Mooney) '86, Dean of the Canastota High School. Six of Mrs. Milmo's eight children came to Cornell, and she writes: "I send my best students to Cornell. I now have eighteen there, and some good ones entering next year." The Class of '86, at its thirty-five year reunion in 1921, presented Mrs. Milmo with a silver bowl as a tribute to her loyalty to Cornell.

Left with eight children when her husband died in 1918, Mrs. Milmo and her eldest son, Wheeler Milmo '17, then twenty, took over the family business of running a print shop and publishing the Canastota Bee-Journal, while the mother continued her teaching. Wheeler Milmo since 1934 has represented Madison County in the State Assembly, and this year introduced a bill for increasing the number and amount of the State scholarships. He is also secretary-treasurer of the Canastota Publishing Co., of which his mother is president. Margaret D. Milmo '19 left the University in her Junior year, and died in 1933; and James D. Milmo '22 died in the University Infirmary April 13, 1923.

Robert S. Milmo '23 is now an engineer with the City of Los Angeles, Cal., where he lives at 6152 Garrison Drive. Mary A. Milmo '27, who teaches home economics at Oneida High School, is on leave of absence studying at the University of California. She lives at International House, Berkeley, Cal. John G. Milmo '32 is an architect with the National Park Service at White Plains, where he lives at 46 Davis Avenue. Two other sons, this Cornell mother writes, "got away from me and went to other institutions."

Disclaiming any wish for personal publicity, Mrs. Milmo gives us permission to tell about her family "if you think a brief story might awaken enthusiasm in other alumnae to increase their family registrations at Cornell."

"It was my privilege as a child," she writes, "to know Ezra Cornell and his family intimately, as they had been friends and neighbors of my grandparents. I remember the first building as it stood alone on what is now our beautiful Campus. I have watched with growing interest and pride the construction of other buildings, both in the past and recent years. I remember running away from school to see the laying of the cornerstone of Sage College, and various other episodes connected with the early days of the University; so you see my children were quite naturally born with 'Cornell spirit' and that was probably why six of them went there.

"My life-time friend and Classmate, the late Dr. Charles H. Hull, was of invaluable assistance to me; a good friend and guide of all my children when they were at Cornell and of all other students that I sent to him for advice. His work and memory I know will never be forgotten there. Another Classmate who was ever ready to lend a helping hand and word of advice to students whom I sent to Cornell is Dr. George Merritt, recently retired."

GIVES RARE BOOK

A recent gift to the University Library is Horologium Osculatorium, by Christiaan Huygens, Dutch discoverer in 1655 of the application of the use of the pendulum in clocks. The volume describes the invention of the pendulum clock and discusses the theory of the pendulum, mathematically and from the point of view of chemistry and physics. It is extremely rare, and is considered second in scientific importance only to Newton's Principia. This copy is the gift of T. Clarence Sun '09, of Tientsin, China. It was published in 1673, by F. Muguet, Paris.

Sun has been a railway engineer with several Chinese railroads since he received the CE degree at Cornell. Two sons are now Sophomores in the University: C. Henry Sun, Arts, and L. F. Wellington Sun, Engineering. Sun's gift was made through the School of Civil Engineering, and is said to be a valuable and needed addition to the University's collection of books on the sciences underlying engineering.

"LEAVE IT TO PSMITH"

A preview Saturday night of the Dramatic Club's Spring Day and reunion week show, "Leave It To Psmith," by Ian Hay and P. G. Wodehouse, was well received by a large audience in the Willard Straight Theatre.

Many of the players who made the most of the rollicking comedy are appearing in their last production as undergraduates. Some of those whose characterizations brought particular response from the audience are Caleb Paine '38 of Ithaca as the Earl of Middlewick, Mary W. Lauman '37 of Ithaca as Lady Middlewick, Charles M. Clark '37 of Geneva as Psmith himself, and Jeanne S. Paquette '37 of Norwich, as Aileen Peavey.

The play will be repeated May 28 and May 29, and again June 16 and 17.

About ATHLETICS

TO PLAY OHIO STATE

James Lynah '05, Director of Physical Education and Athletics, announced Sunday that Cornell will meet Ohio State in home-and-home football games for the first time. The first game will be October 28, 1939, in Columbus, and on October 26, 1940, they will meet on Schoellkopf Field. Cornell's last meeting with a Midwestern team was with Michigan in 1933, when the Varsity was beaten in Ann Arbor, 40-0.

TRACK TEAM WINS

Run off mostly between heavy showers, Saturday afternoon's track meet with Princeton was the closest ever held at Schoellkopf Field, and the only one in which a Cornell runner broke three meet records. Cornell won, 68-67, helped greatly by the record-breaking performances of J. Hamilton Hucker '38 of Buffalo in the high hurdles, the low hurdles, and the quarter-mile race. Delayed by the rain, the discus throw was the last event, and decided the meet, Cornell requiring either first place or the other two to win. Not many left the stands until two football players, Alfred F. Van Ranst '39 of Brooklyn and James E. Rutledge '39 of Highland Park, Ill., had gained second and third places, respectively, to clinch the matter.

Hucker's performances lowered records that had stood for a decade. Running the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.8 seconds, he clipped two-tenths of a second from the meet record set by Elmo Caruthers, Jr. '28 in 1927; his time of 48.4 in the 880 lowered that of 48.8 seconds set by S. Lewis Elmer, Jr. '31 in 1930; and his new mark of 23.8 seconds in the 220-yard low

J. HAMILTON HUCKER '38 WINS HURDLES

He is the first Cornellian to break three records in one meet: the 120-yard high hurdles, 220-yard low hurdles, and the 440 yard run.

hurdles beat the previous record of 23.9 set last year by Captain Irwin of Princeton, who followed him to the tape on Saturday. Captain John A. Meaden '37 broke a fourth meet record, of 1:56.2 for the half-mile, set in 1910 by Whitley of Princeton, when he did the distance Saturday in 1:55.4. All but the first mentioned of these new records were made on a soggy track after hard showers had twice interrupted the meet.

Cornell won first places in every track event, and all were close races except the two-mile, in which Princeton's Rosengarten stayed behind with Herbert H. Cornell '38 while William V. Bassett '37, the winner, went far ahead, closely followed by the orange-jerseyed Gilkes until he outstripped his Princeton rival in the seventh lap. First places in the field events were won by Van Ranst in the 16-pound shot put, and by Elliot H. Hooper '38 of Long Valley, N. J., another football player, in the javelin throw.

Winners of first and second places in this meet became thereby eligible for selection to represent America in the coming Cornell-Princeton, Oxford-Cambridge meet, to be held this year at Princeton, July 17. Following the Varsity broad jumping, won by Way of Princeton with 22 ft. 5½ in., Lester E. Murdock, of Buffalo and the Freshman team, jumped 23 ft. 6 in. in his first try, and thus also qualified.

The summary:

TRACK

100-yard dash: Won by Pender, Cornell; Kearney, Princeton, second; Wilson, Princeton, third. Time 0:10.1.

220-yard dash: Won by Nevius, Cornell; Pender, Cornell, second; Kearney, Princeton, third. Time 0:21.5.

120-yard high hurdles: Won by Hucker, Cornell; White, Princeton, second; Rossiter, Cornell, third. Time 0:14.8 (New meet record).

220-yard low hurdles: Won by Hucker, Cornell; Irwin, Princeton, second; Schwarz, Cornell, third. Time 0:23.8 (New meet record).

440-yard run: Won by Hucker, Cornell; Nevius, Cornell, second; Gould, Princeton, third. Time 0:48.4. (New meet record).

880-yard run: Won by Meaden, Cornell; Bradley, Princeton, second; Levy, Cornell, third. Time 1:55.4. (New meet record).

Mile: Won by Welch, Cornell; Bradley, Princeton, second; Boynton, Cornell, third. Time 4:20.

Two-mile: Won by Bassett, Cornell; Gilkes, Princeton, second; Rosengarten, Princeton, third. Time 9:37.8.

FIELD

Broad jump: Won by Way, Princeton, 22 feet 5½ inches; Tallman, Cornell, second, 22 feet 3¾ inches; Burgess, Princeton, third, 22 feet 3½ inches.

High jump: Tie for first among Wise, Scott, Robinson, all of Princeton, 5 feet 9 inches.

Pole vault: Won by Medina, Princeton, 13 feet; tie for second between Rainear and Paterson, Princeton, 12 feet 6 inches.

16-pound hammer: Won by Lynch, Princeton, 155 feet 11½ inches; Grace, Princeton, second, 150 feet 11 inches; McKeever, Cornell, third, 145 feet 8 inches.

16-pound shot: Won by Van Ranst, Cornell, 45 feet 8¾ inches; Wise, Princeton, second, 44 feet 8¾ inches; Buchman, Princeton, third, 44 feet 2 inches.

Javelin: Won by Hooper, Cornell, 177 feet 7 inches; Johnston, Princeton, second, 167 feet; Reiss, Princeton, third, 159 feet 8 inches.

Discus: Won by Bryan, Princeton, 129 feet 2 inches; Van Ranst, Cornell, second, 126 feet 9 inches; Rutledge, Cornell, third, 124 feet 1 inch.

FRESHMAN CREW WINS

The powerful Freshman crew won again Saturday afternoon on the Housatonic at Derby, Conn., finishing the two-mile course three lengths ahead of Yale, with Princeton in third place. In the boat were Stanley W. Allen, Jr. at bow; Theodore D. Gordon, 2; Anthony Sylstra, 3; Van Wormer Walsh of Weston's Mills (a newcomer), 4; Gordon Beh, 5; James A. Young, 6; William E. Fisher, 7; and Richard J. Lindo, stroke; with George A. Sears as coxswain. Their time was 10 min. 39 sec.

The Varsity crew lost the Carnegie Cup which it won last year at Princeton, to Yale, which covered the course in 10:13, 2 seconds behind the record set by Cornell in 1922. For the first mile-and-a-quarter there was no open water between the three shells as they swept down the river lined with 25,000 cheering spectators. Yale started at a 32 beat and led Princeton by inches soon after the start, with Cornell less than a deck-length behind as the stroke was increased to 33. Then Princeton went to 36, and passing the mile Cornell went to 34 and crept up on even terms with the orange and black and then passed her to cut Yale's lead to three-quarters of a length. For a quarter-mile the two leaders rowed together at 33, but Yale's longer and fuller stroke pushed her ahead again and Princeton, rowing a higher stroke, went by Cornell to take second place half-a-length behind the leaders, in 10:15; with Cornell finishing two-and-a-half lengths further back, in 10:20.

Likewise the Junior Varsity race brought Cornell third place, finishing in 10:50.6, two-and-a-half lengths behind Princeton, who trailed Yale by a length-and-a-half. Yale's time was 10:35; Princeton's, 10:40.6.

J-V's Beat Pennsylvania

On the Inlet at Ithaca, meanwhile, the 150-pound crew led the Pennsylvania lightweights over the mile-and-five-sixteenths Henley course from the quarter mile, and finished two-and-a-half lengths ahead, in 7:20.2. Both crews rowed heavy boats. This was the last 150-pound race of the season. Richard Aronson '26 of Syracuse was referee.

LACROSSE SEASON ENDS

The Varsity lacrosse team played through the rain Saturday afternoon on lower Alumni Field to close its season by losing to Penn State, 4-9. The visitors made 3 in the first period and were never headed. Cornell goals were made by Babson, Heit, Holochwost, and Sheeley. The team's only victory in five games this year was over Tufts. May 19 at Syracuse they lost to Syracuse, 5-19.

The Freshman team on May 19 defeated Manlius School, 14-1.

POLO RAINED OUT

A polo game which the ROTC team had scheduled with Princeton on upper Alumni Field Saturday afternoon was called off after a trial chukker convinced officials that the wet turf was too slippery for safety.

BEAT BROWN AT TENNIS

The Varsity tennis team closed its season at Providence, R. I. Friday afternoon, defeating Brown, 6-3. Singles winners were Simpson (undefeated in singles matches), Rathbun, Devine, and Boochever; and Simpson and Devine and Sobel and Boochever won their doubles matches. May 18 the team lost to Dartmouth in Ithaca, 4-5. Simpson, Diamond, and Devine won in the singles, but only Diamond and Rathbun won their doubles matches, all of which ran to three sets. The season has brought the team five victories and four defeats.

The Freshman team led Ithaca High School, 6-1, playing on the Cascadilla courts May 18, when darkness halted the meet.

GOLFERS BEAT SYRACUSE

The Varsity golf team ended its spring work May 19 by taking Syracuse, 5-1, over the Ithaca Country Club course. They have won seven matches and lost four this year.

BALL TEAM LOSES THREE

The Varsity baseball team lost two seven-inning League games to Princeton at Princeton Saturday afternoon, 3-5 and 5-9. Its League record now stands at one game won and nine lost, at the bottom, with but two more games, with Dartmouth, League leaders, May 29 at Hanover.

Princeton made 4 runs in the first inning of the first game, and another in the third. Gally made 2 for Cornell and Johnson the other; Lozier and Stehnach pitched. In the second game Princeton bunched 11 hits and tallied 6 runs before Cornell started to score in the fourth. Three Cornell runs were made by Schaeffer, the others by Johnson and Dodd. Stehnach and Dodd pitched.

Errors in fielding and not hitting behind the runners cost the Varsity a game with Syracuse on Hoy Field May 19, 4-5, with many of next year's available players replacing veterans in the starting line-up. Cornell led, 4-3, until Syracuse got 2 in the seventh and the Varsity left two men on bases. Sheffer made 2 runs and Johnson and Gannett one each. Dodd and Lozier pitched.

Freshmen Win

The Freshman team beat Ithaca High School downtown May 20, 3-2, in seven innings. The last scheduled game of the season, against Manlius, was rained out on Hoy Field Saturday afternoon.

SOCCER SCHEDULE

A soccer schedule for next fall of nine games has been announced:

- Oct. 2—Colgate at Ithaca
- 9—Syracuse at Syracuse
- 16—Princeton at Ithaca
- 23—Lehigh at Ithaca
- 29—Rochester at Ithaca
- Nov. 6—Swarthmore at Swarthmore
- 10—Army at West Point
- 20—Haverford at Ithaca
- 25—Pennsylvania at Philadelphia

CLEVELAND WOMEN

Cornell Women's Club of Cleveland held an evening meeting May 20 at the home of the president, Mrs. William J. Corrigan (Marjorie Wilson) '13. The Club will next year eliminate the office of president, and will plan each meeting at the one preceding. The office of secretary-treasurer will be retained, with Mrs. Willard Beahan (Bessie DeWitt) '78 in that post, succeeding Raymona E. Hull '32.

NEW YORK UNDERSTANDS

From New York City, where he has been sojourning the past week, Romeyn Berry (always the conscientious reporter) sends a local follow-up of Dr. Liddell's experiments with Achilles the pig, of which Berry's report on his page this week was written before he left. His column, "State and Tioga," in the Ithaca Journal has the following:

"Not since the Sophomore Class killed the colored cook with chlorine gas has there come out of Ithaca a newspaper story that impressed New York like this one about Achilles the pig, who was given the heebie jeebies from having to make decisions all the time. Wherever we go, our social status jumps at once from the-mere-dirt-under-your-feet to that of the-man-who-has-finally-got-something-on-Roosevelt the instant it comes out that we are from Ithaca and know Achilles and are buddies with all those Doctors out at Hanshaw Corners who are working on glands and nervous systems.

"All New Yorkers are either recovering from a nervous breakdown, or have arranged to have one the minute Steel pays the back dividends on the preferred, or are starting to snarl and snap right now. That puts the story of Achilles right down their alley. They love it because now for the first time they understand their own cases.

"It's the decisions they have to make all the time that makes New Yorkers jumpy. They can see that now. To get up and answer the telephone or let the darn thing ring? To take a profit now or hold on for a big rise? Renew the lease or start hunting for another apartment? Stay home and read or go to the movies? Scotch or rye? That's what makes them so sympathetic with Achilles and so eager to learn more about his case.

"If the Hanshaw Corners Medical Center, which made Achilles a social outcast and a heel, succeeds in curing him, the New York papers will, we think, take a thousand words a day about it. The beast's fellow twisters, yippers, and jumpers will be crazy to learn how it was done and all the details."

DR. DAY IN JERSEY JUNE 4

The thousand Cornellians of northern New Jersey are being invited to attend an all-Jersey Cornell party and dinner for Dr. Edmund E. Day, arranged by the Lackawanna Cornell Club Friday evening, June 4. It will be at the Canoe Brook Country Club, between Summit and Chatham, the crowd gathering in business clothes at 6:30 and dinner being served at 7:15.

A record crowd, including "the Old Guard of all the Alumni Clubs of Northern New Jersey, on hand and in good voice," is expected to greet the President-elect, according to William A. Schreyer '23, 18 Plymouth Road, Summit, N. J., who is secretary-treasurer of the Lackawanna Club.

FARRAND CLASSES ORGANIZE

A committee of two representatives, a man and a woman, from each of the sixteen Classes which has attended the University under Dr. Farrand's presidency, is urging the more than 20,000 alumni of those Classes to contribute generously to this year's Alumni Fund as "the most fitting way to honor Dr. Farrand on his retirement in June." Co-chairmen of the committee are George R. Pfann '24 and Caroline K. Dawdy '30.

The Alumni Fund on May 20 had reached a total of $96,152.27, from 4,729 contributors. Leading Class in amount contributed is '10; and thirty-five Classes have now given more than $1,000 each. The Class of '36 still leads in number of contributors; and twenty-three Classes have so far enrolled 100 or more subscribers each. In amount, '10 is followed by '91, '20, '16, '90, '24, '11, '98, '94, and '13. In number, the Class of '35 is next to the leader, with '16, '12, '13, '18, '34, '22, '26, and '32 following in order.

Two Oldest Sororities Build New Houses First at Cornell To Be Specially Designed

First sorority lodges at Cornell to be designed and built for the purpose are those of Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Alpha Theta, now being erected on the sites of their former houses. Both were designed by Carl C. Tallman '07, and Cornellians are having a large part in their construction. Both, furthermore, embody a new type of fabricated steel construction, of which they are the first to be erected in Ithaca. These two were the first national sororities to establish chapters at Cornell, Kappa Alpha Theta in 1881 and Kappa Kappa Gamma in 1883.

Kappa Kappa Gamma First Started

The Kappa Kappa Gamma house, at 508 Thurston Avenue, the first to be started, will have its housewarming next September 17 and 18, when the Cornell chapter will be hostesses to a convention of about 100 delegates from its college chapters and alumnae associations of the Northeastern States and Canada.

The house is designed to accommodate twenty-four girls and a chaperone. A large living room, library, "date room," dining room, and service rooms occupy the first floor; with a chapter room and archive room in the basement; and on the two upper floors studies arranged for two, three, and four girls, dormitories, and sun deck. Margaret W. Read, of Boulder, Colo., architect of the national sorority, was consulting architect with Tallman in planning the house.

The site of the new Kappa Kappa Gamma house, with its former frame and shingle house now demolished, was purchased by the chapter in 1921. Pending the completion of their new home, Chapter members are this year living in the women's dormitories.

The board of Psi Corporation, Kappa Kappa Gamma, which is in charge of building the new house, comprises Mrs. E. Franklin Phillips, president; Mrs. Robert L. Webster (Alice E. Schade) '31, secretary; Mrs. Peter W. Claassen, treasurer; and Dr. Mary M. Crawford '04, Mrs. Richard Baker (Delphine K.

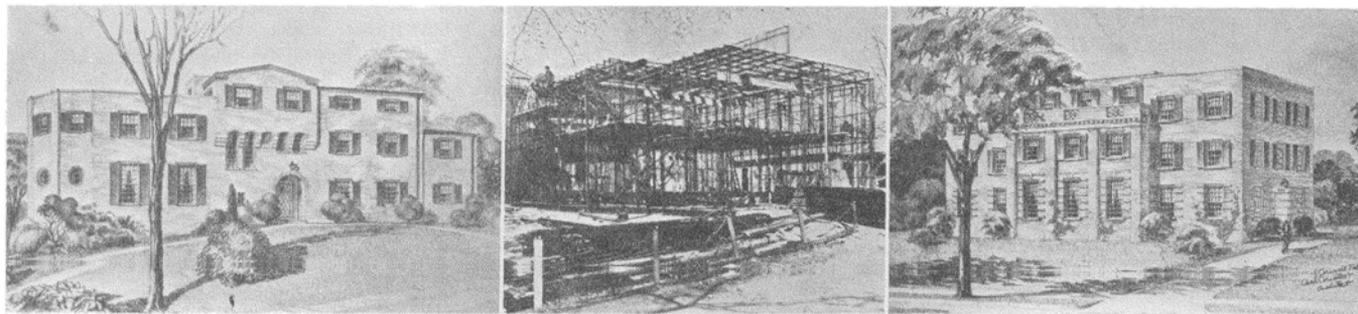

Charles) '20, Mrs. Frederick O. Bissell, Jr. (Annabel M. Needham) '27, and Marjorie E. Beatty '31.

For Twenty-six Kappa Alpha Thetas

The Kappa Alpha Theta house will provide living quarters for twenty-six girls, with studies and sleeping rooms for one, two, three, and four and a sun deck on the second and third floors. Besides the living room which occupies all of one end, the first floor has a chaperone's suite, alumnae room, "date room," and office in the other end, and in a wing at the back service and dining rooms with an open terrace off the latter. In the basement is a combination chapter room and game room, and an archive room.

The Kappa Alpha Theta property at 118 Triphammer Road was purchased by the Chapter corporation in 1920, largely through the interest of Mrs. Anna Botsford Comstock '85, who saw advantages in its nearness to the women's dormitories and its availability for building a new and modern house later. The former house, built in 1904 by Professor Frank A. Fetter, PhM '92, Political Economy, was demolished after Easter recess, due care being given to preserving a maple tree set out by Professor Fetter and a spruce which Professor George L. Burr '81, History, Emeritus, planted. The chapter moved for the rest of the term to 212 Fall Creek Drive.

Members of the executive board of Iota Corporation of Kappa Alpha Theta, in charge of building, are Mrs. R. W. Sailor (Queenie N. Horton) '09, president; Mrs. George R. Chamberlain (Grace W. Caldwell) '92, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Elias R. B. Willis (Mabel C. Almy) '00, Mrs. W. Forrest Lee (Ruth J. MacClelland) '13 Sp, Mrs. James F. McKinney (Louise C. Bontecou) '14, Mrs. James M. Sherman (Katherine Keiper) '24, Mrs. Herman J. Brueckner (Elinore H. Gibbs) '29, and Mrs. Louis P. Smith, who affiliated with the chapter in 1920. L. Pearl Green, grand secretary of Kappa Alpha Theta, who is also a resident of Ithaca, has cooperated in the planning and building of the house.

Both new lodges have brick exteriors, as will be seen from the architect's drawings reproduced over. Both have the new "light load" steel framing, as shown in the center photograph. This method was developed by the Bethlehem Steel Company and the steel, fabricated to the architect's specifications, is supplied by William M. Reck '14, Bethlehem's local district representative. The floor beams, studding, rafters, and other framing members are welded together, this work being done by the Bentley Weldery, Inc. of Syracuse, under the personal supervision of its president, Harold P. Bentley '18. General contractors for the Kappa Kappa Gamma house are Donald McPherson '31 and his father; and for the Kappa Alpha Theta house, Ward Construction Co., Inc., of which Albert A. Ward '13 is president. Donohue & Halverson, of which James P. Donohue '30 is president, are installing the plumbing and heating for Kappa Alpha Theta and the heating for Kappa Kappa Gamma.

NEW CALF AT STONEPOSTS

When we sold Roosevelt and the pigs we did not foresee how much the transaction was going to upset the balance of nature. In the absence of Treman and King and the bull calf, the skim milk began to back up on us like the Johnston flood. We made all the things you can make out of skim milk (which isn't very many or very good) and put the cats, the dog, and the chickens to work on the problem. But anybody could see that in spite of their best efforts we were losing the battle.

So Mrs. State and Tioga hitched up the Nash and went after another calf to veal. Mr. Van Riper of Spencer, who was up here helping us out last week, went along to see fair play.

Mr. Owen Hoffmire of Perry City sold her a nice calf at a fair price. He tied the little thing up in a sack and put in on the floor of the back seat, but though an excellent farmer, Mr. Hoffmire has a lot to learn about tying calves up in packages for the retail trade. In almost no time the calf got out of the sack and up on the chandelier trying to go back to Perry City through the roof.

It was fortunate that Mr. Van Riper went along to see fair play in the trading. Instantly he leaped over into the back seat and pinned the frantic animal (momentarily) with a half nelson and body scissors. For the next six miles the bout proved an excellent one, with the competition very even and both contestants entitled to much credit.

Mrs. State and Tioga, who has seen lots of good wrestling at the University and understands the fine points, said she'd hesitate to render an official decision because she missed so much of the match from having to look at the road once in a while in order to keep out of the ditch, and it's hard to see everything in the little mirror anyway. She'd be inclined to think, however, that the calf won the first bout with a flying mare and the third with a hammer lock and a terrible kick in the pants. Mr. Van Riper was entitled to the second, she thought. He undoubtedly took that with a head scissors and a lot of bad language.

The skim milk situation is better, but the back seat of the Nash hasn't improved any.—R. B. in "State and Tioga," Ithaca Journal.

DR. FARRAND AT STRAIGHT

Willard Straight did special honor to President Farrand at a dinner May 18. The President has spoken at each of the annual dinners in May of the incoming and outgoing members of the boards of managers, and this year all members of the earlier boards were invited. Many of those who could not attend sent letters to Dr. Farrand. Other guests were members of special committees of the Hall. More than eighty persons attended.

John M. Batten '37, president of the Hall, presided. Besides Dr. Farrand the speakers were C. Reeve Vanneman '03, president of the Cornell Alumni Corporation and member of the Willard Straight board of governors, and Foster M. Coffin '12, Director of the Hall.

Subject to the usual restrictions of space and good taste, we shall print letters from subscribers on any side of any subject of interest to Cornellians. The ALUMNI NEWS often may not agree with the sentiments expressed, and disclaims any responsibility beyond that of fostering interest in the University.

THE BROADCAST

To THE EDITOR:

Last night sixteen alumni at the bar of the Cornell Club of New York were so incensed about a recent Cornell broadcast sponsored by the manufacturers of a low-priced popular automobile that practically all of them are going to write to Bull Durham about it.

The one they are really after is the so-and-so that let the co-eds sing and what-not.

Later, two cooled off enough to absolve me from any guilty participation in the crime, and to admit that I was a pretty good guy (according to Ithaca standards); and said that Tubby Sailor if he had any brains ought to get me writing again for the ALUMNI NEWS.

I thought you might like to know, because a man in your position ought to keep abreast of alumni thought, if any.—R. B. '04.

ON THE CAMPUS AND DOWN THE HILL

By Romeyn Berry

{Special from New York}

TO THE AMERICAN Psychiatric Association convened at Pittsburgh recently Professor Howard S. Liddell, PhD '23, Physiology, announced with pardonable pride that he had succeeded in giving his pig, Achilles, a nervous breakdown. What did the business was forcing him to make frequent, important decisions with respect to an edible apple under varied and complicated situations. Achilles finally got the heebiejeebees from having to decide things all the time. You can see, of course, the importance of this experiment to human welfare. "We believe," says Dr. Liddell, "that the experimental neurosis is caused by the equivalent of the human conflict situation." Achilles has been given a long vacation on full pay until he gets over hating telephone bells—if ever.

PROFESSOR ROBERT A. POLSON, Rural Social Organization, told the Ithaca Federation of Women's Clubs recently, that a community will stand just so many organizations and no more; that this community had probably passed the saturation point; and that an application of Flit to excess organizations the purpose of which had departed, or which had been created to "exercise pressure through propaganda," would probably be a good thing. That's telling 'em, prof!

CHESTER BROWN, colored, former houseman at Willard Straight, pleaded guilty a year ago to the charge of slashing his brother-in-law with a knife. He was given a suspended sentence by Judge Kent. Last week Brown was up again, charged this time with slashing his wife with the same weapon. Judge Kent didn't even bother to have a law suit. He just sent Brown to Attica for two to four years on the original charge and until he got his knife habits under better control.

EIGHT HUNDRED persons attended the opening of the second annual Local Artists' Show in Willard Straight Hall Sunday afternoon. Eighteen members of the Faculty, their wives and other Ithaca artists showed examples of painting, sculpture, models, photographs, and drawings. The exhibit will continue to June 7.

MUSICAL CLUBS elections this year showed a Cornell family batting average of .666. The new manager (who succeeds David L. Ten Broeck '37, son of the late Floyd G. Ten Broeck '95) is John S. Kittle '38 of Indianapolis. Kittle's father, of the same name, is a member of the Class of '06. Assistant manager is William Y. Hutchinson '39 of Chicago, Ill., the son of Alfred H. Hutchinson '09. William J. Fleming '39 of Bryn Mawr, Pa. is the Clubs' advertising director.

IN SPITE OF THE FACT that she was married May 24, Miss Fallon will be back at the Cornell Club of New York after a short wedding journey. This is good news to many of the older members, who were very indignant about her getting married, anyway. Besides seeing that everything is kept spic and span around the Club, Miss Fallon ties a mean dress tie. Many of the older members who had come to rely on Miss Fallon to give their dress ties a last lick before they stepped out, cannot now accept any dinner invitations until she gets back. Silly idea—marriage!

FIVE-MILE DRIVE out of Ithaca in the direction of Elmira, Harrisburg, Washington and the South is still the old road that winds under the hill past the Wheelman's Rest and Buttermilk Falls. A new one now in construction is going out straight across the flats and avoiding the past. Civic leaders hope to beautify the new road to make it a noteworthy Parkway, as suggested by Harry W. Eustance, '24, former City Engineer.

CITY AND COUNTY relief rolls, which once were vastly higher, now number no more than twenty-seven employable persons, and these it is expected will be rapidly placed.

SAGE CHAPEL PREACHER May 30 is the Rev. Donald B. Aldrich, Rector of the Church of the Ascension, New York City.

ARMY ENGINEERS working with the School of Civil Engineering have built and set up in the channel leading to the Hydraulic Laboratory above Triphammer Falls, an exact, working model of the Chenango River (and river valley) just above Binghamton. By experimenting with the model they expect to devise channel changes, dams, and revetments which when applied to the river itself will prevent further flood damage in the Binghamton sector. The model is 140 feet long and 16 feet wide. The river in the model is four inches deep at "flood stage." By use of a comparable model of the Mississippi at Vicksburg, changes were devised which abundantly met the test of recent floods down there.

THE NEW mysterious structure to the north of the dairy barns, turns out to be a research laboratory for experiments in flood control. Here Army Engineers working with the College of Civil Engineering test and study different kinds of soil with respect to their permeability and supporting power.

CAMPUS DWELLERS of the older generations never cease to marvel at the rapid succession with which the seasons follow each other in Ithaca. Last week two hundred Freshmen tossed their caps into a huge bonfire on upper Alumni Field and celebrated at a Bailey Hall mass meeting afterwards the cessation of Freshman rules. This week, Senior singing starts, to be held on the Goldwin Smith portico each Thursday and Sunday evening the four weeks until Commencement.

MORE THAN 600 persons enjoyed the spring horse show of the ROTC held in the Riding Hall Friday and Saturday evenings. Mrs. Livingston Farrand, Mrs. Henry J. Kimball of Watertown (whose husband is a member of the Class of '11), Lieutenant-Colonel Ralph Hospital, formerly of the ROTC and now at Trenton, N. J., and Major Charles E. Boyle, Captain George M. Williamson, Jr. and Captain R. R. Raymond, Jr., now assigned to the ROTC, judged the twenty classes of men's and women's events.

NINE SOPHOMORES survived to the final competition for the '86 Memorial Prize of $86, held in Willard Straight May 18, with Professor Harry Caplan '16, Classics, presiding. The winner was Owen H. Klepper of New York City. His oration, "Free as Air," criticized the "violation of the American right of free speech" in the censorship exercised by owners of broadcasting stations and the Federal Radio Commission.

AMONG OUTBOARD motor boat drivers in the annual race down the Hudson from Albany to New York City last week was Arthur J. Wullschleger '40 of Larchmont. As he was repairing a twisted propeller off Hudson, a passing wave washed him overboard and lost his fuel line. Much later, he borrowed the gas line of a discouraged contestant who came by, and with it finished the race. A racing driver of three years' experience, Wullschleger will take part in the Eastern intercollegiate championship races June 22, then sails to participate in four European regattas, and will return for the world championship races in Richmond, Va. and the Midwest championships at Marietta, Ohio.

AS A RESULT of time and the big flood of 1935, retaining walls along the banks of city streams have been found to be in bad shape. Part of the Cascadilla wall near Cayuga Street caved in recently and the Six Mile wall is said to hang by a hair in spots. Neither of these streams are in their original positions. Both follow artificial channels and the wishes of the Mayor and Common Council.

NECROLOGY

'92 ME—WILLIAM GROSVENOR ELY, June, 1936, in Schenectady, where he had lived at 1141 Adams Road since his retirement May 14, 1927. Having received the PhD degree at Brown University, he joined the General Electric Company, Schenectady, and in 1902 became manager of the contract service department. He remained with the Company until his retirement. Alpha Delta Phi. Son, Robert G. Ely '26.

'05, '06 AB—BENJAMIN OLIVER WILLIAMS, May 2, 1937, at his home, 638 West California Street, Pasadena, Cal. For several years he had been in the investment business with the Leo G. MacLaughlin Company. He had been a resident of Pasadena since shortly after graduation, first connected with Grable and Austin, real estate, and later in the automobile business. Chi Phi; Quill and Dagger; Aleph Samach; Undine; Bench and Bowl; Mummy Club; Junior Promenade committee; manager, football.

'12—JOHN EDMUND DOWD, May 13, 1937, in Cortland, where he had operated an insurance business for twenty-five years. Dowd entered the Arts course in 1908 and remained for one year. He had previously been in the Syracuse office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

'12 AB—EUGENE DUGAN, early in 1937, in Phoenix, Ariz. Beta Theta Pi; Kappa Beta Phi; Quill and Dagger; Sunday Night Club; baseball; Senior Ball committee.

'19—MALCOLM MONTGOMERY NESBIT, April 23, 1937, in Louisville, Ky. He entered the Arts course in 1915 and left in 1917 to enlist in the Naval Reserve Force. After three months he enlisted in the Royal Air Force and remained in service in Canada and England until 1919, being commissioned a First Lieutenant. Since the war he had been a salesman-engineer in the steel business in Pittsburgh, Pa. and lived in Oakmont. Alpha Delta Phi; Majura.

'19 AB—CHARLES WELLINGTON ELMER, May 18, 1937, at his home, Sunset Farm, West Hartford, Conn. From September, 1918, through January 1919, he was in the Field Artillery Officers' Training School at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky. In 1920 he received the AM degree in economics with honors at Princeton University, and as an officer of the Bank of America in New York City he became a recognized authority in foreign banking. He had been ill with asthma for the last eight years. Beta Theta Pi; Phi Beta Kappa; Quill and Dagger; Student Council; manager, basketball. Father, the late Professor Herbert C. Elmer '83, Latin; brothers, Basil B. Elmer '13 and

'23 BArch—LAMBERT BISHOP PICKWICK, May 16, 1937, at his home, 6 Washington Road, Maplewood, N. J. He had practiced architecture for several years, and designed many residences in Newark, Plainfield, the Oranges, and Maplewood. Previously he had been in the architectural department of the Public Service Production Company. He organized and directed the department of architecture at the Newark Technical School. His wife is the former Margaret B. Mashek '24. Phi Kappa Psi; Spring Day committee.

'39—ROBERT ARCHIBALD FROST, of Caribou, Me., May 16, 1937, in an automobile accident near Binghamton. A student in the College of Arts and Sciences and a member of the 150-pound crew, he was returning from the Henley Regatta at Princeton with Robert Lund '40 of Pelham Manor and Edwin Murck '40 of Brooklyn, both of whom are reported to have suffered brain concussions. Lund was driving and Frost is said to have been asleep in the back seat when the crash occurred. Beta Theta Pi.

POSITIONS OPEN

"Positions Open" in Bulletin 35 of the University Placement Bureau include several jobs for engineers, a time study man with a general knowledge of office procedure, representatives to sell investment service, a general manager of a rubber plantation, and a woman for chemical analysis. Necessary information as to training and experience, with photograph if possible, should be sent by applicants to Herbert H. Williams '25, Director, University Placement Bureau, Willard Straight Hall.

WITH ARMSTRONG CORK

Nine Cornellians are now employed by the Armstrong Cork Company, with headquarters in Lancaster, Pa. Leslie V. Bergman '29, Marshall S. Eldridge '36, Harry G. Jones, Jr. '33, John D. Lyall '30, Henry V. Oberg '29, and Bruce Taylor '34 are industrial or project engineers. Charles M. Reppert, Jr. '34 is a salesman in the floor division, and Louis M. Bentley '29 is an assistant foreman in the Lancaster Cork Works of the Company. Charles Meeker '36 is employed at the Arrowhead plant.

The Armstrong Cork Company manufactures various products, including linoleum, insulation materials, fire brick, and noise-quieting acoustical products. It operates twelve factories in the United States, several in Europe, and several preparation and baling stations in cork-producing countries.

Each year a group of college graduates enter the company's employ as student salesmen, and are given a training course. They live at Armstrong Manor in Lancaster, with its own golf course, tennis

Concerning THE FACULTY

PRESIDENT LIVINGSTON FARRAND presided at a luncheon of several hundred leaders in preventive medicine, public health administration, and social welfare work, held at the New York Hospital Nurses' Residence, 1320 York Avenue, New York City, prior to the dedication of the new Kips Bay-Yorkville Health and Teaching Center, 411-421 East Sixty-ninth Street. This Center will be conducted with the cooperation of the New York Hospital and the Medical College. Dr. Wilson G. Smillie, professor of Public Health, was one of the principal speakers at the luncheon.

PROFESSOR EMILE M. CHAMOT '91 was awarded an Edward Longstreth Medal by the Franklin Institute at exercises in Philadelphia, Pa., May 19. The award is in recognition of his work in the development of chemical microscopy. Medals are given annually by the Institute to individuals who have contributed the most to scientific advancement. Professor Chamot is a recognized expert on the purity and purification of water and industrial microscopy. He is the author, with Professor Clyde W. Mason, PhD '24, Chemistry, of the Handbook of Chemical Microscopy, and a frequent contributor to the professional journals.

MRS. WILLIAM A. HAGAN, wife of Dean Hagan, MS '17, of the Veterinary College, is recovering satisfactorily from a major operation performed May 12.

PROFESSOR FREDERICK BEDELL, PhD '91, Physics, has been given judgement of $100,563 against the Dictograph Products Company, Inc., by the Appellate Division, Third Department. The case was originally tried at Ithaca in March, 1936. It involved royalties on Dr. Bedell's invention of a bone conduction hearing aid.

PROFESSOR GEORGE T. PACK, Surgery, of the Medical College in New York, spoke on "Recent Developments in Cancer Research" at the third annual Institute of the New York Counties Registered Nurses Association.

MRS. CHESTER J. HUNN, wife of Professor Hunn '08, Ornamental Horticulture, underwent an operation in the Memorial Hospital, Ithaca, May 14.

PROFESSOR WALTER F. WILLCOX, Economics, Emeritus, is one of eighty-three scholars given grants by the Social Science Research Council, New York City, for his Essays in American Demography. These grants total more than $100,000 for research in this country and are research grants-in-aid not exceeding $1,000, designed to assist mature scholars in the completion of research projects already under way.

DR. JACOB GOULD SCHURMAN, former President of the University, celebrated his eighty-third birthday May 22 at the Bedford Hills home of his son, George M. Schurman '13. In vigorous health, Dr. Schurman returned March 31 from a three months' trip to South America. In June he will visit another son, Robert Schurman '07, in San Francisco, Cal.

PROFESSOR ROBERT E. CUSHMAN, Government, and Mrs. Cushman sailed May 21 for London, England, where Professor Cushman will study the regulatory agencies in England. They will live in the country near London and Mrs. Cushman will work on a new novel. They will return October 4.

ELMER G. PEARSON, father of Professor Frank A. Pearson '12, Agricultural Economics, died May 18 at his home in Beaver Dam, Pa.

PROFESSOR E. FRANKLIN PHILLIPS, Agriculture, has sailed on the Carinthia to attend the Rotary International convention at Nice, France, June 6-11. As chairman of the committee on international service, he will first attend the Rotary International Assembly at Montreaux, Switzerland, May 31-June 4, and will return to Ithaca about July 6.

HARRISON L. GOODMAN '26, Experimental Engineering, and Mrs. Goodman have a son, born May 16.

PROFESSOR FLOYD A. HARPER, '32 PhD, Marketing Extension, is in Puerto Rico, aiding with farm management surveys in the coffee section. He will soon join Sol I. Descartes, MS '34, in studying the consumer demand in the area around San Juan.

DR. EUGENE F. DU BOIS, professor of medicine at the Medical College, New York City, has been elected vice-president of the Association of American Physicians.

BOYS ENJOY IT HERE

Nowhere at Cornell will your boy find a more comfortable, convenient, and pleasant place to live than Sheldon Court, at the College Avenue entrance to the Campus. The rate is low, from $120 a year.

Rooms and suites are comfortably and completely furnished (some with wood burning fireplaces), warm, well-lighted, and clean. Under the same roof is a restaurant, book store, and physician's office; and we have our own tennis courts and ample parking space for cars.

During our thirty-four years of the same management, we have come to know boys and have learned how to make them comfortable and happy. The first year is most important, not only to your boy's college career but to his whole life. The friends he makes then, the habits he forms, and his happiness in living conditions will have much to do with his later success.

Send your son to Sheldon Court, as so many other alumni have done through the years. Reservations are now being made for next year. Our folder giving complete information and room diagrams will be mailed promptly on request.
