DEVOTION TO DUTY IS A TELEPHONE TRADITION

High morale, devotion to duty, ingenuity in meeting new circumstances and the ability and will to work with each other and with the public are traditional characteristics of telephone employees.

Times like these not only demand these characteristics, they serve to create and extend them.

Now, more than ever, the creed of telephone workers is expressed in these simple words . . . "We'll do our best to get your call through."

ALUMNI CHILDREN INCREASE IN NUMBER

Twenty of Third Cornell Generation Enter University This Year

Tabulation of entering students who indicate their Cornell lineage, made annually by the Alumni Office, shows this year 325 sons and daughters of Cornellians. Last fall, 287 entering students were so identified.

Ernest E. Jenks '15 and Mrs. Jenks (Dorothy Tarbell) '16 of Great Neck, whose daughter Geraldine W. Jenks '43 was the first fourth-generation Cornellian to enter the University two years ago, have this year sent their son, James M. Jenks '45. Grandfathers of the two were the late George S. Tarbell '90 and the late Jeremiah W. Jenks, for many years professor of Political Economy. Their great-grandfather was the late Doctor Tarbell '72.

Of the approximately 2200 students who entered the University this fall, twenty trace their Cornellian lineage through three generations. The nineteen besides Jenks are listed below with their Cornell grandparents and parents. Last year, eight were so listed. Seven others this year noted alumni grandparents but not parents: John D. Barton '44, grandson of Lyman G. Barton '87; Harry C. Cushing IV '45, whose grandfather was Harry C. Cushing, Jr. '93; Anne E. Patterson '44, granddaughter of Eugene H. Ferree '91; Richard H. Brown '45, grandson of the late John J. Herrick '89; Frank A. Swingle '45 whose grandfather was William A. Kellerman '74; John R. Seidlitz '45, grandson of George B. Richards '87; and Elizabeth A. Hopkins '45 whose grandfather was William S. Wicks '76.

Besides these grandparents and great-grandparents, entering students reported 289 Cornell fathers and 58 Cornell mothers, with 276 other alumni relatives including brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, cousins, and two husbands.

In the lists following, all children are Freshmen unless designated "Grad" or with Class numerals. Asterisks (*) designate alumni who are deceased and a dagger (†) indicates step-parents. Since some students neglect to indicate their Cornellian relatives on the blanks provided when they register, these lists are probably incomplete. Additions are requested both for the University records and for publication. They may be sent to the ALUMNI NEWS or to the Alumni Office, 3 East Avenue, Ithaca.

Both Parents Alumni

Besides the five listed among the third-generation Cornellians, thirty-four other new students indicated that both parents are alumni. This is four more than entered last year. Mothers' maiden names only are given below.

NOW, IN MY TIME!

By Romeyn Berry

A score, perhaps, of the alumni who came up for the Yale game on November 8 did not go home afterwards. They stayed right on in Ithaca for the Dartmouth game the following Saturday.

That's a new thing we'd like to see develop into a general custom. It would be nicer to have the alumni stay around for a week and find out for themselves instead of getting high blood pressure at home and writing letters in the heat of passion.

A university is a university only on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. It isn't Cornell that the visiting alumnus sees when he comes up for one of the half-dozen big week ends dedicated to a football game, a boat race, or a Reunion.

What about girls lining up at the bar in the Dutch? What about Communists, Socialists, and instructors in Economics? What's this about having girl cheer leaders? How about professors who sneer at the United States Chamber of Commerce and the Association of American Manufacturers and are good-natured about picketing? How's this about fraternities having bars in the house now? (Easy! Easy! Remember what the doctor said about your blood pressure. Drink this and mebbe you'll relax and feel better.)

Some of it is true. Some of it is not the least bit true. Most of it is mixed. It is not true about girls lining up at the bar. They tried it for a while, but Mrs.

Causar wouldn't let 'em. Stopping girls lining up at the bar is women's work. The girls have to sit over at tables in the corner and have it brought to them. But they can carve their names in the table top if they want to.

That Socialist instructor who sneered at the United States Chamber of Commerce and defended picketing isn't here any more. He's got a new job: professor or something out at Wisconsin or some place.

Sure, they've got bars in some of the houses! They put them down cellar on the concrete floor to save the big rug in the library during Junior Week and when the alumni come back for football games. I dare say most of those bars were dusted off and started going again last Saturday; and for the first time since June!

Universities have changed a lot since your time and mine, but no more than golf clubs have. Fashions change in universities just as they do in knitted neckties, undergraduate customs, and automobiles. The only thing that never changes is the alumni. Perhaps they too would change—just a teeny, weeny bit—if more of them stayed up a whole week instead of dashing home immediately after the game.

Just now it's the fashion to be liberal and tolerant. A year from now we may be chucking foreigners, pickets, and instructors in Economics off the Triphammer Bridge into Fall Creek gorge. Bear patiently with us.

When you and I came to college, we were Republicans and Presbyterians and never thought of questioning a comma in the protective tariff plank or in the Westminster catechism; and we were in exactly the same spot when we graduated. We had kept the faith and had never permitted a new idea to slip in any place.

These boys and girls are different! They start right in throwing overboard the gold standard, the hats they came with, the Westminster catechism, and the McKinley tariff. They might even picket for an hour or two just to see what picketing feels like. After four years of it, they're apt to acquire some ideas and convictions of their own; wrong mostly, but their own and susceptible of prompt and painless modification with the years and more facts.

I think that's a wholesome change; you don't. But if you stayed up here a whole week, instead of dashing home with the last bar of "Alma Mater," you might come to realize that whether you like the changes in undergraduates or whether you don't, there isn't a darn thing you can do about them; and you might as well accept things as they are instead of getting purple in the face and putting a dangerous strain on your hardening arteries.

MISS BLANDING IN BUFFALO

Cornell Women's Club of Buffalo had fifty-six members to hear Sarah G. Blanding, Director of the College of Home Economics, at a dinner meeting October 16 at the home of Mrs. Kathrine Woodford Simpson '94. The speaker was introduced by Marjorie L. Shenk '38, president of the Club.

TRUSTEES ELECT CAREY '23

President Day announced November 6 that the Board of Trustees had elected William D. P. Carey '23 of Hutchinson, Kans., a member of the Board to serve the unexpired term of the late Bancroft Gherardi '93, ending next June.

Member of the law firm of Williams, Martindell, Carey & Brown, Carey has been admitted to practice before the US Supreme Court, Interstate Commerce Commission, Treasury Department, Board of Tax Appeals, and the Federal Communications Commission. He was born in Hutchinson, entered Arts in 1919, and in 1922 went to Oxford University as a Rhodes scholar. He won the Poulton Exhibition Prize in 1924, and in 1925 received the BA in the Honours School of Jurisprudence, the only Cornellian to receive first honours at Oxford. He returned to the Law School and received the AB and LLB in 1926. Oxford has since conferred on him the MA.

He was Freshman football captain, was a Varsity fullback in 1920, and played lacrosse here and lacrosse and rugby at Oxford. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, is a member of Chi Psi, Phi Delta Phi, and Sphinx Head. Vice-president of the Law Association, he is donor of the annual W. D. P. Carey Exhibition Prize. His brothers are Howard J. Carey '13, Charles E. Carey '15, and Emerson Carey, Jr. '27.

ONLY ONE REAL AMERICAN IN UNIVERSITY

He is Solomon Cook (right, above), an Iroquois Indian of the Mohawk nation. Senior in Agriculture, Cook lives at Hogsburg on land that belongs to his nation; was never transferred to the United States. At the Cosmopolitan Club, he welcomes all other students as foreigners. Pictured with him are Shigeo Kondo '43, Japanese president of the Club, and Donald C. Kerr '12, University Counsellor to Foreign Students.

About ATHLETICS

TEAM OUTPLAYS YALE

Alumni Homecoming game with Yale last Saturday brought some 16,000 persons to Schoellkopf Field to see 7 points made each period, Cornell winning, 21-7. This was the first visit of a Yale football team to Ithaca in fifty-two years; the sixth game the two have played. Twice in 1889 Yale defeated Cornell, and again in 1936 and 1937. Last year the Varsity won at New Haven, 21-0.

Cornell made seventeen first downs Saturday, twelve by rushing. Yale's nine first downs were all gained by forward passing. Cornell piled up 192 yards rushing to six for Yale. Yale was superior in passing, completing sixteen of thirty-three passes for 184 yards, compared with Cornell's nine of twenty-one attempts for 138 yards. Of the 192 yards gained rushing, 121 were accounted for by Joseph L. Martin '44, Cornell's fullback and the outstanding player of the game. Martin gained almost at will through center, over the guards, in- or outside the tackles, and around the ends. He eluded tacklers or butted them out of the way. He scored one of the three touchdowns, and he threw several forward passes.

The entire team played well, as if to make up for the previous week's loss to Columbia. Line play was especially improved, so much so that Yale, held to twelve yards by rushing the first half, lost six yards on running plays in the second.

But Yale never gave up, despite the obvious superiority of Cornell. The visitors rallied their defenses to stop Cornell drives on the 13-yard line in the first period, the 3-yard line in the second, the 4-yard line in the third, and the 11-yard line in the fourth. Once Yale, recovering a Cornell fumble, drove to eight yards from the Cornell goal, and then, in the final minutes, put on a daring and well-executed pass offensive to travel eighty-five yards for its touchdown.

Cornell's first touchdown came after a forty-six-yard march in the first period. Opening exchange of kicks preceded a fumble by Yale's Harrison which Meredith R. Cushing '44, center, recovered on Yale's 37. Louis C. Bufalino '42, halfback, cut through left tackle for twelve yards and took a ten-yard pass from Martin for two first downs to put the ball on Yale's 15. There Yale held and punted. Bufalino returned the punt eight yards to Yale's 46 and then turned left end for thirteen yards. Martin passed to Raymond Jenkins '42, right end, just short of another first down on Yale's 24, and Martin cracked center for first down on the 15. Bufalino threw to Jenkins on Yale's 3-yard line, first down. Martin lost one yard, then made two. Bufalino scored through a guard slot, and Henry S. Dragon '42, reserve fullback, came in to placekick the point.

After the kickoff and a Yale punt which Bufalino returned eight yards to Cornell's 47, Cornell started another march. Martin split the line for nine yards and then circled right end to Yale's 30. Cushing recovered Bufalino's fumble, and Martin, hitting center again, ran to Yale's 8-yard line as the first period ended.

Two tries by Martin and an end-around play with Roy V. Johnson '43, left end, carrying the ball, netted five yards, and Ferguson spoiled Martin's fourth-down pass. Ferguson promptly punted, and Charles P. Weiss '44, who had replaced Bufalino, returned the ball twenty-six yards to Yale's 34. On the first play Weiss rifled a pass to Samuel R. Pierce '44, halfback, who was all alone on Yale's 10. He scored untouched. Dragon again converted with a placekick.

Taylor replaced Ferguson in Yale's backfield and started throwing passes. His first after the kickoff was to Greene, right end, and it gained thirty-one yards to Cornell's 48-yard line. It was Yale's first first down and the first time the visitors carried the ball into Cornell's half of the field. Cornell held, forced a punt, and made one first down on line plays before Weiss punted. Yale was stopped again, and Taylor punted out on Cornell's 21. On the first play, Martin fumbled and Harrison recovered on Cornell's 24. Taylor ran five yards, and Harrison passed to Greene for first down on Cornell's 8-yard line. Cushing threw Willoughby, Yale fullback, for a two-yard loss, and Taylor threw three incomplete passes, Cornell taking the ball on the 10-yard stripe. A punt, an exchange of losing the ball on downs near midfield, and one sixteen-yard pass, Taylor to Seymour, left Yale with the ball on Cornell's 39 as the half ended.

Martin returned Yale's kickoff twenty-three yards to Cornell's 34. In four plays, with Martin carrying on three of them, Cornell reached Yale's 35. Bufalino passed to Martin for twenty-five yards and first down on Yale's 9-yard line. Yale dug in and took the ball on its 4. Instead of punting, Seymour ran for five yards and Taylor passed to Harrison for nine yards and first down on Yale's 18. Taylor finally had to punt, but his kick was short and rolled out on Yale's 37. Bufalino threw a pass to Kenneth L. Stofer '43, in for Pierce at halfback, for first down on the Yale 25. Martin carried three times for first down on the Yale 14. Bufalino's pass to Jenkins gained nine yards, and Martin plunged for another yard and first down on Yale's 3-yard line. It took two tries for Martin to score. Dragon again placekicked the point.

Yale rebounded again, Taylor, the visitors' outstanding player, returning the kickoff twenty-five yards to Yale's 27 and throwing an eight-yard pass to Greene to the 35. There Harrison cut loose a long pass. Two Cornell defenders and the Yale receiver went for the ball. It bounced in the air and into Bufalino's arms on Cornell's 34 as the third period ended.

Stofer opened the final quarter with a quick kick that dropped the ball on Yale's 8-yard line. Willoughby fumbled and recovered inches from the goal line, but Yale tried a daring pass before Taylor finally punted to Weiss on Yale's 42. Stofer and Martin picked up first down on Yale's 28, and Weiss threw a pass to Stacy C. Mosser, Jr. '44, reserve left end, to Yale's 14-yard line. Kiendl intercepted the next pass on Yale's 11. Another fumble lost Yale nine yards. Again Yale passed, Taylor throwing to Captain Bartholemy, left end, but the gain could not make up the loss on the fumble, and Taylor punted. Stofer picked up a first down, then punted from Yale's 40, Taylor returning to Yale's 15.

In a brilliant display of forward passing Yale moved to its touchdown. Taylor threw to Bartholemy for first down on Yale's 27; to Bartholemy again for another first down on Yale's 38. Another pass, Taylor to Wallace, put the ball on Yale's 47 where Wallace fumbled, Theodore H. Lansing '44, reserve right end, recovering. On the first Cornell play Richard L. Quigg '42, a substitute halfback, also fumbled, and Wallace recovered on Yale's 49 to permit the visitors to resume their march. Taylor threw to Hoopes, a replacement for Harrison, for first down on Cornell's 40, then to Bartholemy again who ran to Cornell's 17. Greene dropped one of Taylor's passes for what would have been a touchdown, but caught another for first down on Cornell's 4-yard line. Wallace was stopped without gain, and Louis Daukas '44, substitute center, dropped Hoopes for a five-yard loss.

Then came a life-saver for Yale. As Yale came out of its huddle Charles R. Robinson '44, a substitute halfback was sent on the field. The ball was snapped just as he reached an official to report, and Taylor threw a pass, only to have it intercepted by Dragon. The play was recalled and Cornell was penalized five yards for having twelve players on the field. That put the ball back on the 4-yard line, and Taylor, running to his right, threw a cross-over pass to Wallace off the left flat for the touchdown. Hooper placekicked the point.

Yale kicked off, and Cornell ran two plays as the game ended.

RUNNERS TAKE SECOND

The cross country team relinquished the championship of the Heptagonal Games Association on the Van Cortlandt Park course in New York City last Saturday, finishing second to Dartmouth.

Dartmouth captured the first three places and scored 39 points. Cornell, with Captain Frank P. Hoag '42 finishing fifth and with two other runners in the first ten, scored 61. Harvard scored 63, US Military Academy 106, US Naval Academy 118, Yale 119, Princeton 132, Columbia 190, Pennsylvania 207. The Military and Naval Academies competed with the seven members of the Association on invitation.

Behind Captain Hoag for Cornell came John F. Kandl '44 in ninth place; William C. Taylor '44, tenth; Robert A. Beck '42, fifteenth; and Everett W. Jameson, Jr. '42, twenty-second. Donald G. Boegehold '44 finished thirty-fifth and George E. Hiebeler, Jr. '43, thirty-seventh.

Individual winner was Burnham of Dartmouth, timed in 27:23.6 for the five-mile course. He succeeds John L. Ayer '41 as individual champion. Captain Hoag was timed in 28:17; Kandl in 28:50, three seconds ahead of Taylor; Beck in 29:03; and Jameson in 29:33.

Cornell and Dartmouth each now hold one leg on the Auerbach trophy, given by the sons of the late Junius T. Auerbach '90. Cornell and Harvard tied for first in the first race in 1939 and Cornell won last year.

SOCCER WINS AGAIN

The soccer team pulled out a 3-2 victory over Haverford on Alumni Field last Saturday, with William H. Starr '44, center forward, scoring the winning goal one minute before the final whistle.

Cornell had to come from behind to win its fourth straight Middle Atlantic

SCRUBS BEAT DICKINSON

The Junior Varsity football team rolled over Dickinson Junior College, 39-0, on Alumni Field last Friday, scoring three touchdowns on long runs, two on short plunges winding up long drives, and one on a pass.

First to score was Thomas E. Mc-

TOWN HALL CONCERT PATRONS

Professor Weaver Comments on Program

Program for the concert November 24, by Cornelian artists in Town Hall, New York City, promises to be especially interesting says Professor Paul J. Weaver, chairman of the University Department of Music. "It will give the three musicians opportunities to appear at their best," Professor Weaver observes, "and will at the same time combine really great music with that popular appeal which will hold the interest of the musical amateur."

"The opening group by Bruce Boyce '33 is devoted to German songs; three of Schubert's greatest, Tschaikowsky's "None But the Lonely Heart," and Loewe's setting of the dramatic ballad "The Erlking," a setting almost more remarkable than the more familiar one by Schubert."

"The second group is of English songs, to be sung by Dorothy Sarnoff '35. It opens with the great Purcell aria, "When I am Laid in Earth," and continues with songs by the early American composer Frances Hopkinson and the early English composers John Dowland and Henry Carey."

"Egon Petri, quite rightly, occupies the central position in the program. His first group contains a Nocturne and a Ballade by Chopin; his second, two pieces by Liszt including the great Twelfth Hungarian Rhapsody. Petri has the largest repertoire of any living concert pianist; but Chopin and Liszt seem to be his special territory. Critics all over the world have agreed that their music is literally re-created when he plays it."

"The last part of the program will consist of second appearances for Miss Sarnoff and Boyce. Her group is entirely modern French songs, by Duparc, Poulenc, and Lecocq; his, two Negro songs, two Scottish songs, and Moussorgsky's famous ironic aria, "The Song of the Flea." These two groups of songs give Dorothy and Bruce great opportunities for projecting their personalities as well as their musicianship. I hope they will sing duets as encores at the end of the program."

Cornell Women's Club of New York, which is sponsoring the concert to benefit the Federation Scholarship Fund for assistance of women students at the University, has announced as honorary patrons and patronesses President and Mrs. Edmund E. Day, Governor and Mrs. Herbert H. Lehman, Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr. '13 and Mrs. Morgenthau, and Dr. and Mrs. Walter Damrosch.

The concert promises to be an outstanding event of the musical season. Professor and Mrs. Weaver are among the patrons and patronesses, and other Cornellians announced include Benjamin R. Andrews '99 and Mrs. Andrews (Elizabeth Russell) '00, Mrs. John W. Arnold (Dorothy McSparran) '18, Harold L. Bache '16, Neal D. Becker '05, Dr. Anne Seligman Belcher '17, Charles H. ### GLADYS SWARTHOUT SINGS

Gladys Swarthout, mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company, was warmly applauded at her first appearance in Ithaca November 4, opening the University concert series in Bailey Hall. Her varied program of both classical and modern music, her clear enunciation and expressive rendering, and the informality and apparent rapprochement between the singer and her accompanist, Lester Hodges, won the audience. Miss Swarthout was recalled to the stage for four encores and Hodges for two after he had played piano solos.

GUESTS AT ROCHESTER "PAST PRESIDENTS' PARTY"

Griffith '29

Miss Swarthout sang in English, French, Italian, and Spanish. She opened her program with arias from Handel's operas, "Rinaldo" and "Ottone." Then followed five songs by the Russian composers Tchaikowsky, Cui, Medtner, Borodin, and Rimsky-Korsakoff, with an encore, "None But the Lonely Heart" by Tchaikowsky. Two arias from "Mignon" by Thomas gave variety, with the sprightly Gavotte especially well received. These were followed with selections from the modern Latin composers, Mignone, Tabuyo, and Pittaluga, and a request performance of the Habanera from "Carmen." The final group, after her accompanist's piano solos, Miss Swarthout opened with "Sing, Oh My Heart," written for her by Charles Kingsford. Then she sang five more by the contemporary American composers Charles Griffes, John Sacco, Charles Naginski, Clara Edwards, and Richard Hageman, with "Comin' Through the Rye" and another humorous bit as encores.

ARCHITECTS BREAKFAST

Twelve Cornellians attending the convention of the New York State Association of Architects in Syracuse, October 16-18, breakfasted together. They were Egbert Bagg '06, Clement R. Newkirk '07, Charles A. Dewey '12, Wakefield Worcester '14, Frank H. Day '15, Harold R. Sleeper '15, Paul H. Harbach '17, Phillips B. Nichols '23, Olive F. Tjaden '25, Conway L. Todd '26, Helen E. Gillespie '30, and Richard J. Heidelberger '32.

1889 YALE GAME

TO THE EDITOR:

Your comment on the last Yale game in Ithaca was interesting. It was the first football game I witnessed as an undergraduate, and I remember it as if it was yesterday.

The game was played on the Quadrangle opposite Morrill, not where Stimson Hall stands. So far as I know, all football games at Cornell were played on the Quadrangle until Percy Field was established. A glance at the ground around Stimson ought to convince anyone that a worse field for a game could not be found. Baseball games were played there, but never football.

I remember Osgood well. He was killed in Cuba, fighting for the insurgents before the United States entered the conflict.—WALTER W. EDWARDS '93.

PRESIDENT REPORTS ON LAST YEAR

Cites University's Efforts for National Defense

Effects of the war abroad have prominent place in the President's Report for 1940-41, published last week. "Throughout the year," says President Edmund E. Day, "the administration's basic problem was to maintain as far as possible the normal functioning of the University, and at the same time to maximize the University's direct contributions to the defense program."

"The morale of students and faculty alike has been excellent. On all hands there seems to have been a general realization of the fact that the University, in training men of special intelligence and abilities for the critical years that lie ahead, is making a contribution of inestimable value to the country's comprehensive program of all-out defense. There could be no finer manifestation of the present strength of the University, nor of the high promise of its future, than this spirit of sustained and unwavering endeavor with which the work of the past year went steadily forward."

The President speaks of the appointment of the University Council on National Defense, established early in the year to consider important questions of policy and program; of the increased enrollment in the ROTC which will result in the commissioning of approximately 170 Seniors each year as second lieutenants in the US Army; and of the fact that the Navy "accepted a number of Cornell undergraduates — mostly engineers — in the course of the year, and at the Commencement exercises in June commissioned forty-seven of these men as ensigns." He describes the special program worked out with the Navy Department by the College of Engineering for training Reserve ensigns in operation and maintenance of Diesel engines.

War Causes Adjustments

"The most obvious impact of the defense program on the University," he says "has come in connection with the Selective Service Act." The total number of students who registered on October 16, 1940, under the Act, was 1682. Because college students were granted deferment until June, the draft had little effect on enrollment last year, but in his opinion, "uncertainties as to the timing of the call to service and the lure of available lucrative employment will almost certainly lead a good many students to abandon their program of formal education, at least for the time being."

Major adjustments of the academic program to meet the defense situation have come largely in the Law School and the Medical College, although all other divisions of the University have given extended consideration to various plans. "The Law School has actually shifted from a semester to a trimester organization of its courses. . . . Both the Law School and the Medical College have decided to accept for the present emergency outstanding students with three years of acceptable collegiate preparation. . . . Upon the whole, however, it has not been deemed wise to introduce any radical changes in the established structure of the University's offering."

President Day declares that "one of the most striking contributions which the University has made to the defense program has been the development of Engineering defense courses designed to develop fully the abilities and usefulness of men already employed in the defense industries." Offered in training centers at Buffalo, Elmira, Binghamton, Geneva, and Ithaca, they enrolled a total of 2641 students in the last academic year. "Additional centers of instruction will be established during the academic year 1941-42, and it is anticipated that the enrollment will be approximately double that of the past year."

Research Aids Defense

He adds, "Still another direct contribution by the University to the national defense program has been the conduct of scientific researches bearing upon defense problems. This work, maintained under special agreement between the University and the Federal authorities, is, of course, cloaked in secrecy. It can be reported, however, that such work is in progress on the Campus and that the University is eager to engage its staff and facilities in this type of defense service."

"At the very close of the year, representatives of the Board of Trustees and of the University Faculty . . . took action looking toward the establishment of a University School of Nutrition. The importance of specialized training and research in this field was never so evident as it is today. It is confidently expected that, through the work of this new school and the expanding program of the nearby Federal Nutrition Research Laboratory, the University will be further enabled to make highly significant contributions to the long-range defense of the nation."

"There is every reason to believe that one of the most important services rendered by the University in this time of national emergency has consisted of the release from regular duties of many members of the professional staff in order that they may assume responsibilities in the work of a wide variety of agencies, public and private, engaged in the defense program. Certain departments, notably the Departments of Physics and Economics in the College of Arts and Sciences, have been . . . seriously depleted."

FROM OUR WINDOWS

ALUMNI News cover October 23 was a picture taken in the rain through the west window of our office, toward the Old Armory and Myron Taylor Hall.

For our cover this week our photographer, Jay B. Leviton '44, turned his camera out the opposite window from the third floor of Alumni House and caught the Crescent illuminated by floodlights, with the moon showing through the clouds above.

Darkness comes early these fall days, and every evening the lights blaze to the east of us, as the football team carries on. Frequently the baseball cage, black in this picture, also shows lights through its glass roof with track men preparing for the coming season.

MISSIONARIES STUDY HERE

Registered as special students in the College of Agriculture this year are thirty missionaries, at home from their work in foreign countries. Their denominational mission boards have sent eighteen women and twelve men to take courses especially arranged for them in Agriculture, Home Economics, and Arts and Sciences. Men and women alike are studying Foods and Nutrition, Sociology, Social Anthropology, Rural Education, Rural Missions and Extension Methods, and a composite course in basic agriculture in which lectures are given and laboratory work is conducted in several departments of the College.

Twenty or more will remain at the University through this year. The others will go to Merrill-Palmer School in Detroit, Mich., at the end of the first term for a six-weeks' training course in Home and Family Life Education, and will then study Extension methods in the South for six to eight weeks.

All of the group are college graduates; some have brought their families to be with them in Ithaca. Representing six Protestant denominations, they have come from missions in China, India, Africa, Burma, Korea, French Cameroon, and the Belgian Congo. Largely responsible for interesting the mission boards to send them here was John H. Reisner, MS '15, executive secretary of Agricultural Missions, Inc., New York City.

HOSTS FOR PENN GAME

Cornell Club of Philadelphia invites alumni who are in town Friday evening, November 21, before the Pennsylvania game, to its annual Stag Party at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel. The program will include singing and a few speakers, with dinner served about 8.

For luncheon before the game, the Club suggests Houston Hall on the University campus near Franklin Field, where University of Pennsylvania invites alumni of both universities. Reservations with payment of $1 a person are requested to be sent to the General Alumni Society, University of Pennsylvania, 3401 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

After the game, Cornell headquarters will be the Viennese Room at the Bellevue Stratford. Here alumni will gather as has been the custom for many years.

ATHLETICS

Donald '44 on a forty-yard run. He also placekicked the extra point. Winslow W. Stilwell '42 took a twenty-two-yard pass from Charles R. Robinson '44 to score the second touchdown and give Cornell a 13-0 lead for the first period. Stilwell scored again, this time on a forty-five-yard run, in the second quarter, with George C. Urschel '44 converting.

In the third period, Howard W. Blose '44 scored twice on runs of thirty-six and three yards, with Urschel again placekicking one of the points. Urschel scored the final touchdown in the last period on a two-yard plunge.

FRESHMEN LOSE AND TIE

Freshman cross country and soccer teams lost to Penn State freshmen at State College, Pa., Saturday; the former by a score of 46-17, the latter, 1-2.

First Cornell runner over the finish line was David R. Bulk of Babylon, in fourth place. Henry J. DeNicola of the Bronx and Frank C. Slovak of New York City finished tenth and eleventh, and three other Cornellians came in sixteenth, seventeenth, and eighteenth. In their dual meet season, the Freshmen have defeated Colgate, Alfred, and Morrisville and had previously lost to Syracuse.

This last game of the Freshman soccer season was the only one they have lost. November 5 on Alumni Field, they battled the Colgate freshmen to a scoreless tie. The team defeated Ithaca College freshmen twice, Syracuse, and Cortland Normal.

ON THE CAMPUS AND DOWN THE HILL

ALUMNI HOMECOMING brought a goodly number of Cornellians and their families for luncheon in the Drill Hall and the football game with Yale. After the game, more than 600 persons were served hot spiced cider and doughnuts in Willard Straight Memorial Room, and that night 200 couples attended the Yale Hop. Leading editorial in the Sun Saturday morning suggested that although alumni tastes in entertainment when they come back to Ithaca may seem queer to undergraduates, "perhaps it would be well to observe these folks more understandingly . . . because perhaps these are the very things that will mean a lot to us someday."

BIRTHDAY of Andrew D. White, November 7, was commemorated with a special Chimes program of his favorite music, played by William J. Sowerwine '42 of Westfield, N. J., head chimemaster.

REPORT from New Haven, Conn., Monday morning was that Charles L. Willoughby, Yale fullback, had suffered a broken leg when he dived for a fumbled ball on Schoellkopf Field Saturday. He was taken off the field with a sprained ankle after he had recovered his fumble in the fourth quarter, and the break was not discovered until an X-ray examination was made in New Haven.

CONCERT in Willard Straight Memorial Room Sunday afternoon featured music of the clavichord and harpsichord. The former instrument was played by Professor Carl Parrish of the music department of Wells College, and Professor Frederick M. Watkins, Government, played his harpsichord which was built for him in Boston.

FORTY STUDENTS in Hotel Administration took over operation of the Hotel Commodore in New York City November 10, with Frederick R. Haverly '42 of New Rochelle as acting president. Accompanied by eight members of their Faculty, they attended the annual Hotel Exposition in Grand Central Palace, were taken on a tour of the Pennsylvania Hotel, and fraternized with hotelmen at the annual smoker sponsored by the New York City branch of the Cornell Society of Hotelmen.

CORNELL-IN-CHINA, Inc. has elected Professor Walter F. Willcox, Economics, Emeritus, chairman of the board, and Dr. Hugh Moran, secretary-treasurer. To the board of directors were also elected Mrs. Dorothy Riddle, Home Economics Librarian, Professor Dwight Sanderson '98, Rural Sociology, and John H. Reisner, MSA '15. President of the Cornell-in-China Club is Martin C. Yang,

STUDENT COUNCIL decreed that all Freshmen must attend a Class meeting in Bailey Hall Monday night, to hear speeches by the candidates for Class officers, elections following the next day. From pictures of Freshman women thrown on the screen, the Class was also expected to select a court of those to lead the Freshman figure at the Jack Frost Formal in Barton Hall December 5. It was announced that roll call of the Class would be taken, but penalty for staying away was not announced.

Grad, of Tsingtao, China; Mrs. Albert Foster (Grace M. Kuchler) '41 is secretary. Dr. Moran announced at the annual meeting that $356.91 had been forwarded to Nanking University from Campus Chest contributions.

CORINTHIAN YACHT CLUB sailors defeated those of Syracuse University Yacht Club November 2 at an invitation regatta on Onondaga Lake. Leading skipper was Bruce A. Pope '43 of River Forest, Ill., with Wallace C. Ross '45 of Bayshore, second.

UNDERGRADUATES of three religious faiths spoke at an Armistice Day meeting in Barnes Hall. Joan A. Bottstein '42 of Lynbrook represented the Jewish faith; E. John Egan '43 of Syracuse, the Catholic faith; and Everett H. Schenck '43 of Staten Island, Protestants.

RITA ROSENTHAL '42 of Trenton, N. J., has a painting, "Still Life," in the annual water color and print exhibition of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, in Philadelphia November 2-December 7. Professor Kenneth L. Washburn '26, Fine Arts, is showing two water colors, "Cortland County" and "Connecticut Hill."

SAGE CHAPEL PREACHER November 16 is the Rev. Boynton Merrill, minister of the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, Mass.

LECTURES this week include Paul Hagan, on "Aims of the Anti-Nazi Germans," November 12; and Professor John R. Moore of Indiana University, "Defoe, Stevenson, and the Pirates," on the Goldwin Smith Foundation, November 13.

TWO CORNELLIANS sang on nationally broadcast radio programs November 9. Listeners to the Metropolitan Opera auditions at 5 heard Mrs. Marie Maher Wilkins '23 as one of the contestants, and Mary L. Klauder '43 of Niagara Falls was the special guest representing Cornell on the "Hour of Charm" program at 10.

ITHACA VOTERS elected as mayor Melvin G. Comfort, present police commissioner and proprietor of an automobile service station. He defeated Richard C. Llop '30, the Democratic candidate. Fitch H. Stephens '06, Republican, was elected special county judge and surrogate over D. Boardman Lee '26. Armand L. Adams '31 was elected to the common council, and Harry N. Gordon '15 was elected supervisor from the Town of Ithaca. William H. Coon '22 of Cortland was elected justice of the Supreme Court.

MAJURA, honor society of the Junior Class, has elected Louis G. Helmick of Fairmount, W. Va., Eben O. McNair of Northbrook, Ill., and John A. Newman of Shaker Heights, Ohio.

CCC CAMP at Robert E. Treman State Park, formerly Enfield Glen, has been closed by the government. Since 1933 its enrollees have constructed bridges and cabins and repaired flood damage at the park; for a time the camp numbered more than 200 officers and men, but lately it has dwindled to about eighty-five.

FIELD HOCKEY teams of Cornell women defeated Ithaca College women 2-0, and lost, 3-0, on the playing fields behind Balch Halls last week.

DELAWARE GATHERS

Twenty-eight Cornellians enjoyed an afternoon outing of the Cornell Club of Delaware October 11, at Mendenhall's farm near New Castle. A touch football game occupied some, while others listened to football broadcasts, renewed old acquaintances, and made new friends. In charge of the party was John M. Clark '29, president of the Club.

CALIFORNIA CLUBS COMBINE

Sixty-seven alumni and wives and husbands gathered for dinner October 28 at the Mona Lisa Restaurant in Los Angeles for the first combined meeting of the men's and women's Cornell Clubs of Southern California. It was unanimously voted a most pleasant occasion. Guests of honor were Dr. Elam J. Anderson, AM '15, president of the University of Redlands, and Mrs. Anderson (Colena Mitchell) '14. He spoke on "The University Man in Today's World," saying that continued discipline and learning is necessary if university graduates are to provide needed leadership in the present state of world chaos. Mrs. Elizabeth Valentine Loudon '02 gave a reading from Shakespeare's "Macbeth."

Concerning THE FACULTY

PROFESSOR ERNEST J. SIMMONS, English, warned members of the Ithaca Exchange Club "that the United States would be in great peril if Russia were defeated," November 3 in the Hotel Ithaca. He called the playing down of the seriousness of the Russian military situation "bad propaganda," and asserted that the British have been "guilty of the stupidity of fearing the Communists rather than the Nazis," and that "we are going to make the same mistake if we don't wake up." Professor of Russian Literature, Simmons has visited Russia five times since 1927.

PROFESSOR CLYDE B. MOORE, Rural Education, was recently elected treasurer of the New York State School Boards Association.

DR. HARRY A. ROSS, PhD '24, has been elected vice-president of the Borden Co. of New York. Already a director, Ross will continue to supervise research activities and will serve in a general executive capacity. He has been with this company since 1929; had been instructor and professor of Marketing previously. William H. Marcussen '10 is president of the Borden Farm Products Co., a subsidiary of the Borden Co.

CHARLES GULLION, father of Coach Blair Gullion, basketball, died November 2 in Richmond, Ind.

TALKS ON FOLKLORE by Professor Harold W. Thompson, English were given October 13 at Buffalo, when he spoke before the Association of Teachers Colleges and Normal Schools on "How to Collect Folklore," and "Riding the Whirlwind on a Blue Ox," and October 25 when he addressed the Empire State Press Association (editors of high school papers) in Syracuse on how to use folklore in their papers.

TRAINER FRANK J. KAVANAGH received word November 3 that his father, Patrick J. Kavanagh, had died that morning in Cork, Ireland, where he had long been an attorney.

MONOGRAPH on "The Prediction of Personal Adjustment," recently published by the Social Science Press, contains work done by Professor Leonard S. Cottrell, Jr. and Dr. Louis Guttman, Sociology. Professor Cottrell belongs to the subcommittee on prediction of social adjustment which supervised the study, and Dr. Guttman contributed an outline of statistical theory in practice, a method for multiple correlation, and a new theory and method of scale construction to the technical appendix of the report.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The President reports that in 1940-41 Cornell granted 1647 degrees, the largest number in history, had a record enrollment of 7315 students, reorganized the program to give students medical care, assumed full control of the operation of Radio Station WHCU, completed the first phase in the development of the Arboretum, reorganized the Faculty in Education and instituted five-year programs for training secondary school teachers and for training teachers of art both in elementary and secondary schools, and offered for the first time a six-year program in Fine Arts for a new degree of Master of Regional Planning.

"Not in recent years," he says, "have so many improvements been made in the physical plant." He lists extensive alterations in Stimson and McGraw Halls, the addition to Sage Chapel, a new carpenter and paint shop completing the group of service buildings at East Ithaca, and the beginning of two new buildings for the College of Engineering: the High-Voltage Laboratory and Olin Hall of Chemical Engineering. "The significance of Olin Hall," he says, "can hardly be exaggerated. In a way that is at the same time magnificent and convincing, it initiates the construction of the new Engineering College plant at the south end of the Campus. When Olin Hall is completed, it will provide the School of Chemical Engineering with the finest accommodation of its kind anywhere to be found. The action of Mr. Olin, long a member of the Board, in providing the funds with which to make this splendid addition to the University's plant is an event of the greatest importance in the life of the University."

Declaring that "once more satisfaction can be taken in the financial outcomes of the year," the President notes an operating surplus of $866, an earned income rate on endowment of 4.2444 per cent, an increase in the General Reserve, and the largest total of gifts since 1932-33, amounting to $2,262,753. "The amount turned in to the University in the course of the year through the Alumni Fund was most gratifying. Unrestricted funds which came from this source, representing as they do the free-will offerings of a large number of individual Cornellians who wish thus to express their interest in and loyalty to the University, are particularly welcome. But the gratitude of the administration is not only toward these devoted small givers but to the whole company of those who have, through their generous aid, made it possible for the University to add still another year to its long record of public service."

Reports of the several Deans, of the Director of Admissions, Registrar, University Placement Bureau, Director of Physical Education and Athletics, Clinic and Infirmary, Department of Hygiene, Military Training, Extramural Courses, and the University Librarian are included as appendices in the President's Report. Alumni may obtain the booklet from the Secretary of the University, Morrill Hall.

HOTELMEN PLAN LUNCHEON

Philadelphia branch of the Cornell Society of Hotelmen sponsors a "Cornell Rally Luncheon" before the game November 22 at the Stephen Girard Hotel on Chestnut Street west of Twentieth. Buffet luncheon will be served from 11 to 1:30, with Cornell cheers, songs, and entertainment promised. William H. Harned '35 is manager of the Stephen Girard.

CLEVELAND WOMEN

At a meeting October 21 of the Cornell Women's Club of Cleveland, Ohio, thirteen members were entertained with a talk by Mrs. William J. Corrigan (Marjorie Wilson) '13 on her travels in Central and South America. With the president, Mrs. Edward MacLennan (Rika Gillett) '25 in the chair, a brief business session was devoted to means of raising contributions to the Federation Scholarship Fund. The meeting was at the home of Mrs. Charles C. Torrance (Esther McCormick) AM '32.

GOVERNMENT SEEKS MEN

University Placement Bureau is co-operating with the Division of Civilian Supply of the Office of Production Management to fill urgent need for men to assist in operating important industry branches. These branches are pulp and paper, printing and publishing, lumber and building materials, plumbing and heating, automotive farm equipment and transportation, rubber and rubber products, electrical appliances and consumers' durable goods, industrial machinery, and state and local government requirements.

Graduate engineers and economists between thirty and fifty-five are wanted, who have had substantial experience in production, sales, and public contact and who can carry on liaison work with national defense problems as they affect civilian supply. Salaries, under US Civil Service Commission grading, range from $3200 to $5600 a year.

"Above all," says a notice from Washington headquarters, "we want men who will go all out with us in the gigantic defense task before us; patriotic men who will work hard and long, knowing that with each ounce of effort they put forth, the security of the United States will be that much strengthened."

Communications may be addressed to Herbert H. Williams '25, Director, University Placement Bureau, Willard Straight Hall, Ithaca, or to Norris B. Gaddess, Acting Executive Officer, Division of Civilian Supply, Office of Production Management, Washington, D.C.

CORNELLIANS IN SERVICE

Directory of alumni in the armed forces is continued from last week. Additions to the list will be published soon as possible after receipt. Please send name, branch of service, rank, and present address. Asterisks (*) denote men who have died in service; a dagger (†) that that person has been discharged from active duty.

Concerning THE ALUMNI

Personal items and newspaper clippings about all Cornellians are earnestly solicited.

'90 BL—Estate of the late J. DuPRATT WHITE, on the west shore of the Hudson River at Nyack, has been sold to Bozo Banac, a Yugoslavian shipping man now in this country. The great house on the estate was built in 1925 with stone which White had brought down from Ithaca. It was designed by FREDERICK L. ACKERMAN '01, architect of Balch Halls and other University buildings.

'92 ME; '92 ME—Major HENRY C. NELSON writes to his Classmate, ROBERT T. MICKLE, that he is now at 962 South Catalina Street, Los Angeles, Cal., and will be there for the next six months, but will return East for '92's Fifty-year Reunion next June. Mickle's address is the Stephen Girard Building, Philadelphia, Pa.

'94 AB—"Stop Fighting," an article sent by Mrs. Herbert D. Brown (HARRIET C. CONNOR) to the America First Committee, is included in the 1941 edition of We, The People, a Yearbook of Public Opinion recently issued by The Paebor Co. This company, which collects "outstanding letters of public-spirited citizens," was attracted to Mrs. Brown's work when she wrote to the Evening Democrat of Fort Madison, Iowa, in response to an attack on the National Council for the Prevention of War. She lives in Glenora-on-Lake-Seneca, Dundee.

'95 ME—HARRY J. CLARK is deputy superintendent in charge of the plant of the Syracuse Department of Public Instruction, with offices at 130 West Genesee Street, Syracuse. Clark, Class representative on the Alumni Fund, was one of eight who attended the Fifty-year "Freshman Reunion" of his Class, September 27 in Ithaca.

'98 ME; '12 AB—Octave Chanute medal for the best paper in electrical engineering presented before the Western Society of Engineers, 1940-41, has been awarded to CHARLES W. GENNET, JR., vice-president of Sperry Rail Service, a branch of Sperry Products, Inc., of Chicago, Ill. Gennet's paper was on "Progress in the Detection of Defective Rails," describing equipment and methods developed during the last decade for discovering defects in railroad rails. Last year's winner of this award was GUSTAV EGLOFF '12, for his paper on "Motor Fuels of the Present and Future."

'00 PhD—HARVEY DEW. GRISWOLD moved October 7 from Bridgeport, Conn., to 33 Blackamore Avenue, Cranston, R. I.

'04 AB, '06 MD; '08; '44—Dr. EDGAR G. CUDDEBACK is a physician and surgeon at 21 East Main Street, Port Jervis. His daughter, JULIA D. CUDDEBACK, a graduate of Mt. Holyoke in 1940, is a member of the Class of '44 in the Medical College, and his brother is FRANK E. CUDDEBACK '08.

'06 LLB—ABRAHAM W. FEINBERG has been elected Ithaca city chairman of the Tompkins County Republican committee, following the resignation of FRED A. ROGALSKY '16.

'08; '08 AB; '33 BS—PHILIP D. CARMAN is managing partner of the P. D. Carman Co., Ltd. of Manila, P. I., and also a director of the Manila Building & Loan Association and the Philippine Motor Association. His wife is the former EDNA L. MERTZ '08 and his daughter is RUTH CARMAN LANE (Mrs. William P.) '33. Mailing address: Arias Building, Manila.

'10 AB; '42—HARRY M. ST. JOHN, superintendent of the brass foundry and forge shop of the Crane Co., Chicago, Ill., writes: "Making brass valves and fittings for Uncle Sam with no lesiure at present for extra-curricular activities." He is the father of HARRY M. ST. JOHN, JR. '42; may be reached at 6720 Merrill Avenue, Chicago.

'10, '12 ME—ELMER D. SPICER (above), assistant to the vice-president in charge of general manufacturing operations of the General Electric Co., has been elected one of five new vice-presidents of that Company, and is in charge of manufacturing in the apparatus department. A native of Wellsville, he was chief engineer and factory manager of the Kerr Turbine Co. there until he joined GE in 1924. He directed the turbine insulator and brush department, 1925-34, then managed the Schenectady works until last May when he became assistant to the vice-president. One-time supervisor of the radio department, he also directed the newly-formed refrigerator division for two years. Father of Lieutenant ELMER F. SPICER '38, now serving with the 50th Ordnance Detachment in Iceland, he lives at 1065 Avon Road,

Schenectady; is a member of Sigma Phi Sigma.

1911 MEN

*By Oscar G. Miller, Class Secretary
60 East Forty-second Street, New York City*

ROBERT W. GASTMEYER and family recently spent a week end in Ithaca, the occasion being the Colgate game. Bob is assistant district manager of H. H. Robertson Co. with offices at 112 East Forty-second Street, New York City.

FITCH BOSWORTH is long overdue for a Reunion. His duties as St. Louis district manager for the China Belt Co., also the Falk Co., keep him in the Midwest. He resides at 7816 Delmar Boulevard, St. Louis, Mo.

HOWIE DIX has been promoted to Lieutenant-Colonel and is on active duty handling inventions coming to the Ordnance Branch of the War Department. He is also secretary to the Army and Navy Patents Advisory Board.

'12—RALPH HINCHLIFF is still with the Burson Knitting Co. in Rockford, Ill.

CLASS OF 1913

By Class Correspondent

WALTER K. SHAW, vice-president of Turner Construction Co., has undertaken to head up this year 1913's drive for the Alumni Fund. WALTER A. BRIDGEMAN, who has handled for many years the task of keeping '13ers reminded of the time for sending in their Alumni Fund checks, asked to be relieved because of pressure of other duties.

Your correspondent does not know just what Bridgeman told the Class Secretary, but he could have pointed out that he had carried on through the hard years while a more effective headquarters organization was being talked about and through the first year of the new set-up so as to get 1913's part thereof functioning. Having done that, he could have claimed that he richly deserved a rest.

But the above is all imaginary. All the official news your correspondent has is a line from the Class Secretary: "After all his years of swell work on the Alumni Fund, Spide Bridgeman floored me by insisting he had to quit; but thank goodness Walt Shaw, busy as he is, agreed to carry on."

'14 BS; '11, '12 AB—JOHN C. KEPLINGER is vice-president of the Hercules Motors Corp., Canton, Ohio. He is the brother of ROBERT B. KEPLINGER '11; has two sons and lives in Hills and Dales, Canton.

1915 MEN

*By Hugh C. Edmiston, Correspondent
Short Hills, N. J.*

Due to numerous complaints and threats (unjust and unfounded though they may be) about recent Class notes, several members of the Class have graciously consented to show how it ought to be done, and have offered to serve as guest writers for the Column.

For an auspicious start, CHUCK COLYER and STEW BAKER will take off in one of the November issues, and give us up-to-the-minute news of 1915 in and around Cleveland. They will be followed, in close order, by RUBE INGERSOLL and HERB ADAIR for Philadelphia, ART DOLE and DAVE TABER for Chicago, HERB MICOU and MATT CAREY for Detroit, ED HANRAHAN and BILL RIENHOFF for Baltimore, the Terrible Trio for Davenport (Iowa), and AL MINNIX and WIS KINGSBURY for Washington, D. C.

There has been such a clamor to get on this list at early dates that electioneering motives were suspected. That is the reason for no Class news to date (that and something else). In due course, further guest writers will be allotted dates. At present writing, it looks as if BILL KLEITZ will be reported by TED BLAMCKE and BUD WILLIAMS—unless he beats them to it.

1916 MEN

By Harry F. Byrne

Our perpetual host, FRANK HUNTER, tendered a banquet to the Reunion Steering Committee at the 21 Club in New York City, October 22 last. Present were the host, BUB PFEIFFER, PAT IRISH, TED JAMISON, COWLES ANDRUS, COLLIE COLLINS, DAVE FREUDENTHAL, HAROLD BACHE, HARRY BYRNE, and our adopted son, CHARLIE CROSS. The fare was regal as only Frank knows how to provide. Bub Pfeiffer made his report on the Reunion in general, and on the financial results, which showed a small profit by some miraculous process. Charlie Cross entertained with songs even though his indispensable microphone was lacking.

It was decided to send the financial report of the Reunion to the entire Class and also to make up a Reunion brochure with pictures and related matter and send this out also. Frank Hunter, Pat Irish, and Harry Byrne were deputized for this purpose. The 1916 Class Fund was discussed at length and the procedure in regard thereto was decided upon. You will hear more of this from now on.

Collie Collins was warmly congratulated for the outstanding job he did in providing the Reunion music. Bub Pfeiffer exhibited an amazing scrap-book covering the past five years' activities preparatory to the Twenty-fifth Reunion. It will be a valued archive some day.

These dinners of Frank's are always wonderful affairs and this ran true to form, from the red and white floral decorations, the green turtle soup with sherry, the foot-long steaks, and some unrecognizable but marvelous vegetable pot pourrie, all to the melodies of our own private pianist. Again, as usual, we are grateful to Frank for his generosity and his unfailing interest in the Class.

1937 WOMEN

*By Carol H. Cline, Class Secretary
1053 Cumberland Avenue, Dayton, Ohio*

We recently returned from a two-month jaunt which impresses us again with the truth of "All 'Round the World, Cornell." In February we ran into Mrs. MONROE S. GOULDING (LAURA JOACHIM) '09 and ELLIE GOULDING SMITH '36 and Ellie's husband, Bob Smith, while eating in a restaurant in Mexico City, and in Merida, Yucatan, we met a man from the Class of '92. In March we visited GLENNA VREELAND WILCOX '37 in Tucson, Ariz., where she lives at 111 North Park. Glenn's husband, Ed, is assistant manager of the Personal Finance Co. in Tucson. Spent two delightful evenings with MARGARET THOMPSON, formerly Assistant Dean of Women at Cornell, and now filling that position at State College, Santa Barbara, Cal. In San Francisco, had lunch at Fisherman's Wharf, discussed the war and labor situations, and drove to the top of the steepest hills with AUSTIN KIPLINGER '39, now a reporter on the San Francisco Chronicle.

Spent a grand evening atop the Mark Hopkins Tower enjoying the view and talking Cornell with PAT PRESCOTT KLEPS '38 and RALPH KLEPS '37. Also had a dinner in Chinatown with LUCIA ANGELL '37, who works for the Shell Oil Co. there. In Santa Fe, N. M., we solved The Great '37 Mystery, or Whatever Happened to JEANNE PAQUETTE? Jeanne is now Mrs. Van Clark. Mail reaches her at Box 14, Santa Fe. Van teaches in the high school and Jeanne is dramatic teacher in a private school for girls. They both write radio scripts and Jeanne gets "rave notices" in the papers when she directs or takes leading parts in the plays of Little Theatre there.

'37, '38 BArch—WILLIAM R. GRIEST is an architectural designer with the Armstrong Cork Co. He has a son, William, Jr., two years old; lives in Lancaster, Pa.

'37 BS, '38 MS—ALFRED D. LONGHOUSE is "an itinerant teacher-trainer of farm mechanics in vocational agriculture," at the University of West Virginia, Morgantown. He and his family spent last summer at the Cornell Summer Session.

'37 AB, '39 LLB—C. MARSTON BLUNT has opened a law office in the Savings Bank Building, 75 South First Street, Fulton.

'37 Grad—"The Globe" of the Cosmopolitan Club reports that GODBER GODBERSEN of Kiel, Germany, was married last April.

CLASS OF 1938

Women

*By Mary E. Dixon, Class Secretary

Our sincerest sympathies go to MARGARET BUCKLAND TANG whose husband was drowned in Chengtu, China. Bucky and her two-year-old son, Carl are living in Chengtu, Sechwan, China, in care of the University of Nanking. If you wish to write, the regular 5¢ postage is uncertain; air mail in China costs about 30¢ a half ounce. JIM (Siang-Yu) TANG received the PhD in 1938.

BOBBIE SUMNER is now Mrs. John Cutler. Her husband is a graduate of Harvard University and received the PhD degree there in 1937.

DOTTY HOPSON and Charles P. Wells were married recently. They live at 901 Abbott Road, East Lansing, Mich. Doty has a position with the nursery school at Michigan State College.

JEAN ATKINSON and Dr. Russel C. Parker, Syracuse '32, were married October 11 in Ithaca. EVELYN CARTER WHITING and VIOLET HAMILTON, both '37, were bridesmaids. Dr. Parker practices on Long Island, where they live at 225 Littleworth Lane, Sea Cliff.

Men

*By William C. Kruse, Class Secretary
St. Davids, Pa.*

RAY RIDER is working for GLF in Sherburne.

Lieut. GARRY STONE married Eleanor D. Martin in Sage Chapel in July.

ALDEN H. BACON married Bertha M. Hare in Etna, July 14.

GARRY PEAVY writes that his new address is 17300 South Park Boulevard, Shaker Heights, Ohio. Garry resigned his position with Neisner Brothers in June to become a department head with Montgomery, Ward & Co. He is in the Marion store. Garry says, "Fall is a nice time. One of the things that makes it even nicer is the fact that the ALUMNI News, which I like so much, starts to come again weekly." Thanks for the plug, Garry.

TOM RICH, former basketball ace and captain, has been appointed basketball coach at Ithaca High School. He succeeds Edward I. Pierce at the latter's request. Good luck to Coach Rich.

Setting for the Traveler

If you could take the largest and busiest city in the world and create in its center several square blocks of inviting oasis . . . on the edge of both business and pleasure yet in an historic and delightful neighborhood . . . there, you would say, is where I'd like to stay when I visit New York.

And that's where you can stay. The Grosvenor, conveniently in the city's heart yet apart from the clatter of traffic, offers you larger-than-average rooms (with tub and shower and running ice water in each), an excellent restaurant and delightful bar, at agreeably moderate prices.

RUTH MITCHELSON is a student dietitian at the Long Island Hospital in Brooklyn. She writes that she's anxious to see you other '41 people in the big city.

KATHREN CLARK got herself located nearer home; she's over in the Homer Academy and High School, teaching French and Latin (but only part time; I've seen her in Ithaca on weekends).

BETTY NILES has just the kind of job she wanted; working in a testing laboratory for Standard Brands, Inc. She's living in 96 Perry Street, New York City.

The other evening GINNY BUELL was in town and called with the latest: she's working with the director of industrial training of the Eclipse machine division, Bendix Aviation Corp., which is a right smart title for any of us. Her address: 2002 Davis Street, Elmira.

If any of you girls are interested in rounding out your winter sports wardrobe, just drop in and see EDITH LEWIS at Arnold Constable in New York.

ELEANOR WEARNE, who's attending Yale School of Nursing, (address: Nathan Smith Hall, 62 Park St., New Haven, Conn.), writes that SHIRLEY MUNSON is also there in process of becoming a nurse. BARBARA KASCIENKO was going to join them in nursing, but changed to bacteriology, still at Yale.

*By Ensign Raymond W. Kruse, Class Secretary

DICK LEE wrote October 2 that he was taking advantage of the draft board's delay to "squeeze in another concert tour on the West Coast before the Judgment Day . . . hoping to tour several private schools in California, entertaining and making contacts for the future."

BOB HEATH wrote that he is enjoying "long hours and swell pay" with the propeller division of the Curtiss-Wright Corp. at Caldwell, N. J., and planned to take in the Yale game and Homecoming.
He lives at home, 16 Jardine Road,
Morristown, N. J.

“There are No Islands any more”

There once was a time when a man could withdraw after college to a life of pure research, to a snug little business his father had built up for him, or even to a tropical island.

There are no islands any more. Priorities get into laboratories — taxes and the SPAB have their way with businesses — submarines and bombers use tropical islands for bases — and selective service finds its men no matter where they go.

Like it or not, the news is happening to all of us today—in college and after college. And it is only common sense to understand what is happening and what is on the way to happen—so we can adjust our lives and all the ways of our living to the strange new world the news is making.

And that is why TIME can be so continuously useful to you in the months ahead. For TIME's only purpose is to keep intelligent people well informed about the racing torrent of today's news—which is a bigger and more important job now than it has ever been before.

If You're Not Feeling Fit, Send Today for the Free KNOX BUILD-UP PLAN!

Are you turning down good times because you feel worn at the end of the day? Then here's a tip:

Send the coupon below for your free copy of the Knox Build-Up Plan. Follow this easy plan faithfully for one month and see what it can do for you.

A "COMMON-SENSE" PLAN

The Knox Build-Up Plan is simple. It's "common sense." It includes basic health rules . . . helps you check on such important essentials as sleep, fresh air, plenty of vitamins, minerals, protein in your diet. And to help supplement other proteins, the Knox Build-Up Plan suggests drinking Knox Gelatine.

KNOX IS ALL PROTEIN

Knox is a pure, wholesome protein. It has seven of the ten protein parts essential for health and well-being. And drinking Knox is such an easy way to help get the quantity and variety of protein you need. (Your "Big Red" Teams drink Knox as part of their training to help keep in condition.)
