Cornelliana.

Frederick W. Taylor, originator of "scientific management," will lecture here at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Monday, April 24. The lecture will be particularly for the students of the technical colleges and will be given in Sibley Dome.

Professor Chamot and Mr. Redfield have just published a new work entitled "The Analysis of Water for Household and Municipal Purposes." The book will be used as a manual for laboratory work in water analysis.

Professor Olaf M. Brauner of the College of Architecture is to give an exhibition of his paintings in White Hall next week. The display will include portraits, marines and landscapes. Some of the landscapes are scenes near Ithaca.

Seumas MacManus, writer of Irish stories, is to lecture in Sibley Dome on the evening of April 19 under the auspices of Frigga Fylge, a society composed of women of the College of Agriculture.

In order to put the finishing touches on the cast of "The Inspector General," which the Cornell Dramatic Club is to present at the Lyceum Theatre on April 21, rehearsals are to be held every evening from now until the play is produced.

Professor David A. Molitor, lately professor of topographic and geodetic engineering at Cornell, has just published a book entitled "Kinetic Theory of Engineering Structure." It is intended for the use of specialists and advanced students in bridge construction.

Professor Ralph S. Tarr of Cornell and Professor Lawrence Martin '04, of the University of Wisconsin, are to have charge of an expedition to Alaska next summer to study glaciers. The research committee of the National Geographic Society has voted $5,000 for the expenses of the expedition, which will be the third that it has sent to Alaska. The first was in 1909 and was in charge of Professors Tarr and Martin. The party last year was under the direction of Professor Martin, Professor Tarr being then in Europe. In 1905 and 1906 Professor Tarr was in charge of expeditions to Alaska sent out by the United States Geological Survey. This summer the glaciers of the Inside Passage, including the Muir and Taku glaciers, will be studied.

Rehearsals for "The Conspirators," which The Masque will present in Senior Week, have been commenced. The plan is to present "The Conspirators" next Junior Week and also to use it for the annual Masque trip.

It is announced that undergraduates, faculty members and residents of Ithaca are all eligible to become members of the Cornell Art Association, which proposes to hold art exhibitions in Ithaca. The annual fee is one dollar and membership may be terminated at will. Three hundred members are necessary to insure the success of the undertaking. The association now has 120 members.

A new quarterly magazine, the American Economic Review, has been established to take the place of the American Economic Quarterly. Professor E. W. Kemmerer is one of the seven editors. The current number has an article by Professor Kemmerer on "Seasonal Variations in the New York Money Market."

To meet the deficit of the Minor Sports Association, $392 has been collected in cash and about $300 in pledges. A systematic canvass is being made in order to give every undergraduate a chance to contribute.

Dr. V. A. Moore's presidential address, "Bacteriology in General Education," before the Society of American Bacteriologists last December, has been reprinted in pamphlet form from a recent number of Science.

DORMITORY SITE CHOSEN.

Prudence Risley Hall to be Placed North of Fall Creek Gorge, on Land to be Acquired by the University — Mr. Emerson McMillin Gives $18,000 for the Purchase of the Land—Meeting of the Board of Trustees.

A site has been selected by the Trustees for Prudence Risley Hall, the proposed dormitory for women for which Mrs. Russell Sage gave the University $300,000. The site is outside the present campus, but adjacent to it. The building will be placed on Cornell Heights, just across the Fall Creek bridge near Triphammer Falls.

The University will have to buy this site, and the funds needed for its purchase—more than $18,000—have been given by Mr. Emerson McMillin, of New York City, a member of the Board of Trustees.

By the acquisition of this piece of land the campus will be enlarged by about three acres, and its northern boundary will be extended beyond Fall Creek Gorge. The site of the proposed dormitory building is bounded on the north by Thurston avenue and on the south by the gorge. It will be within a few rods of the Triphammer Falls bridge. The land joins University property on the south. It is a piece approximately 1,000 feet long east and west and 100 to 400 feet wide north and south. The considerations which moved the Trustees to choose this location are said to have been the beauty of the site, its seclusion and easy accessibility, as well as its immediate proximity to the halls of instruction used by the women students of the University. It is only a few minutes walk from Goldwin Smith Hall or from the site of the proposed home economics building. The street railway line runs along Thurston avenue, on the north and east of the property. It is said that the selection of the site was in accordance with the wish expressed by the women students and graduates of the University.

Several locations on the campus had been considered—between Sage College and Stimson Hall, and south, east and west of Sage College. Valid objections were found to every one of these sites. Opinion became so strong in favor of placing the new dormitory across the gorge instead of on the campus proper that the question was finally only a question of expense. The full Board of Trustees held a meeting in Ithaca on Saturday and the matter was laid before it. There was a long discussion. The Trustees inspected the various proposed locations, including the one on the Heights. When it appeared that the chief objection to the Heights plan was its expense, Mr. McMillin offered to give the money needed—more than $18,000—and the Trustees voted to acquire the land and put the building there.

Very little other business was transacted at the Board meeting.

Out-of-town Trustees present were: John Henry Barr, Syracuse; Willard Beahan, Cleveland, Ohio; George C. Boldt, New York City; John Nelson Carlisle, Watertown; William H. French, Chicago; Frank H. Hiscock, Syracuse; Henry Rubens Ickelheimer, New York City; Emerson McMillin, New York City; Robert Tuttle Morris, New York City; Raymond A. Pearson, Albany; William F. Pratt, Batavia; Henry Woodward Sackett, New York City; C. Sidney Shepard, New Haven, N. Y.; Henry Herman Westinghouse, New York City, and Thomas B. Wilson, Halls Corners, N. Y.

The following Ithaca Trustees were present: Charles H. Blood, Charles Ezra Cornell, Jared T. Newman, Jacob Gould Schurman, Charles Melten Tyler, Charles E. Treman, Robert H. Treman, Mynderse VanCleeef, Andrew D. White, Roger B. Williams, Secretary-Treasurer E. L. Williams, and Assistant Secretary-Treasurer C. D. Bostwick.

THE UNIVERSITY'S ATTITUDE TOWARD COLORED STUDENTS.

President Schurman on Monday wrote the following letter to Mrs. Gertrude S. Martin, the University Adviser of Women:

"My Dear Mrs. Martin: I received on Thursday, the 6th inst., your note with the enclosed two petitions on the subject of the admission of colored women to Sage College. One of these petitions, signed by 269 women students, begged that we deny the application for admission which you have recently received from two colored women students; the other petition, signed by 36 women students, objected to this discrimination on color lines.

"On Thursday and Friday my time was completely engrossed with committee meetings and otherwise in the preparation of business to lay before the Board of Trustees at their Spring meeting, which had been called for Saturday, the 8th inst. And I had so many important matters to bring before the Board that they remained in session from half past nine in the morning until half past six in the evening. I have therefore had no time to answer your communication or pass upon the petitions which it contained until this morning.

"I want in the first place to express my deep regret that some time before this matter had been brought to our attention it had been communicated to the newspapers, apparently with misleading statements which have given rise to a good deal of erroneous comment.

"The truth of the matter is very simple: Colored students have resided in Sage College in the past, and I see no good reason why that policy should be changed. At Cornell all University doors must remain open to all students irrespective of race or color or creed or social standing or pecuniary condition.

"The last colored woman student who resided in Sage College writes me that she was politely and considerately treated by the other women students, and that these years of residence in Sage College were the happiest in her life. Though I am compelled to deny the petition of the 269 women students I have not a particle of doubt that they will make the lives of the two incoming colored students equally happy and memorable.

"Very truly yours,

"JACOB GOULD SCHURMAN."

A delegation of four men represented Cornell at the annual convention of the Intercollegiate Civic League in New York City last week.

FROM SCIENCE TO BUSINESS.

Cornell Men Whom Commerce Has Drawn From the Government.

There was an article in last Sunday's New York Tribune that told some interesting things about three Cornell men. The article was entitled "Uncle Sam Has to Yield His Scientists in Aid of Business." One of the men mentioned is G. H. Powell, B. S. A., '95, whose resignation as acting chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry to become secretary and manager of the Citrus Protective League of California was recently announced in the ALUMNI NEWS. The writer in the Tribune says:

"A few weeks ago a man who had conducted one of the most important commercial investigations and reorganizations ever undertaken by the government resigned a high post in the Department of Agriculture and went to California. His work had made him a well known figure in every nook and corner of the orange and lemon raising country of the West. He was regarded as one of the most valuable men in the Department of Agriculture, had been advanced to the post of assistant chief of the bureau of plant industry and for some time had been acting chief.

"The government paid this man, G. Harold Powell, a maximum salary of $3,000 a year. When he left public office early this year he took a place especially created for him in the California fruit raisers' organization at more than a trebled salary, $10,000.

"Mr. Powell had the task of reorganizing and readjusting the citrus fruit raising industry of California. He accomplished marvellous results. It is estimated that his changes and improvements in the conditions surrounding the handling and marketing of the California fruits is saving $250,000 annually to the growers. His motto has been to 'Put Science Into Business.'

"Mr. Powell, whose loss is keenly felt by the Agricultural Department, is nevertheless in a position to continue important work for the whole citrus fruit industry of the United States. The California growers embraced in the Citrus Protective League represent almost all of the producers of the West. Working as a government expert, Mr. Powell studied the problems and devised methods to improve conditions. Oranges were rotting in transit and storage. He showed growers how to pick without bruising; he studied transportation problems and worked them out. He organized the growers into co-operative handling and selling agencies; he even devised a plan for having all their railroad losses and damage claims handled by one man.

"Now, as head of the Citrus Protective League, he stands as the watchman over the citrus industry. If there is a wet season, if growers are inclined to speed up their operations and run the risk of bruising fruit, if any one of a hundred contingencies arises, Mr. Powell stands as the solemn warning of what ought to be done and what ought not."

Arthur C. Veatch, who was a student at Cornell in 1898-1901, is another scientist who has left the government service. "Recently the asphalt combination wanted an expert to investigate the asphaltum deposits of Venezuela. It looked for the man in the geological survey, and found him in the person of Arthur C. Veatch, head of the corps of experts who classify American mineral lands. Mr. Veatch was getting $3,600 from Uncle Sam. The asphalt magnates multiplied that by 5, and Mr. Veatch succumbed."

Of Louis C. Graton, B. S., '00, the article says: "L. C. Graton, an expert in copper investigations and statistics, stepped from the Geological Survey into a unique position in the commercial world. The copper producers wanted a man who could be trusted with the secrets of production of each company, but who would not betray the secrets of any one company to the other companies. They took Mr. Graton away from the government, set him up as the confidant of each concern and then instructed him to give out to all producers any facts of value which he could disclose without betraying the confidence of the respective companies. In other words, each company tells Mr. Graton its secrets, and he tells the other companies the general facts of the copper industry, as based on these secret reports."

Instruction was resumed on Tuesday of this week.

TAU BETA PI ELECTION.

The Cornell chapter of Tau Beta Pi, the honorary engineering fraternity, has announced the election of the following members from the junior class:

COLLEGE OF ARCHITECTURE.

George Bain Cummings, Brooklyn, N. Y.

COLLEGE OF CIVIL ENGINEERING.

Leigh Alvin Brown, South Apalachin, N. Y.; Morris Evans Brown, Montclair, N. J.; Merton Arthur Darville, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Henry Hortensius George, Richmond, Va.; Edward Hooker Taylor, Greenville, S. C.

COLLEGE OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERING.

Francis Kerr Atkinson, Ithaca, N. Y.; Alfred Willet Baldwin, Springfield, Mo.; Charles Harold Berry, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Edward Charles Gruen, Tonawanda, N. Y.; Percy Shephardson Lyon, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Joseph Pierce Ripley, Oak Park, Ill.; Rudolf Max Triest, Tompkinsville, N. Y.; Louis Richards Vautrot, Warren, O.; E. Fah Wei, Huchow, China.

The following men of the senior class had been previously elected: H. A. Axtel, W. A. Bennett, M. E. Clark, D. C. Comstock, F. Davis, P. L. Day, O. DeCarre, A. J. Dillenbeck, C. V. Elliott, L. D. Emmert, J. W. Gavett, jr., K. Getchell, J. R. Hoffert, J. N. Irving, A. T. Johnson, S. B. Kent, J. C. McCune, E. McNaughton, W. R. Meier, W. E. Patten, H. P. Reid, L. B. Rhoads, A. L. Richey, C. S. Ricker, V. Ritschard, C. C. Trump, F. R. Wallace, H. T. Wheeler, E. P. Wilson, H. A. Vanderbeek, G. S. Frank. And from the junior class, O. D. Reich.

The following are the faculty and graduate members: C. W. Ham, E. E. Haskell, H. D. Hess, W. E. Humphrey, jr., H. S. Jacoby, F. H. Kroger, D. S. Kimball, C. A. Martin, E. C. Nesbitt, A. C. Phelps, J. F. Putnam, L. L. Vincent.

CHINESE AT CORNELL.

Of the 650 Chinese students who are enrolled in American schools and colleges, Cornell is giving instruction to a larger number than any other institution, there being 50 here. Preference for Cornell is shown both by the students who are sent to the United States by their families and by those sent by the Chinese government. Of the latter class there are now 116 in this country. Eighteen of these men are at Cornell. The Chinese students are scattered among about fifty institutions in the United States. The University of Illinois is second in the number of Chinese and the University of Wisconsin is third.

The reason for the increased number of Chinese students in the United States is that when the Boxer indemnity of $10,800,000 was waived by this government, the Chinese government decided to devote the fund to the education in America of young men for the government service. Fifty students are to be sent to the United States each year. An annual allowance of $960 for six years is given to each man. Most of the students enter colleges or universities directly.

HINDUS AT CORNELL.

Natives of India first came to Cornell as students in the fall of 1905, when six of them registered in the College of Agriculture. Twenty students from India in all have attended Cornell, and of these thirteen have received degrees. Three received bachelors' degrees, two in the College of Arts and Sciences and one in the College of Agriculture. Twelve have received masters' degrees, two in arts and the rest in agriculture. There is one student who has received three degrees, A. B., A. M., and Ph. D.

Of those Hindu students who have gone back to India after graduation, eight are in the service of the department of agriculture of the Province of Bengal. One is a professor of chemistry in the Khalsa College at Amritsar.

The number of Hindu students at Cornell is showing a tendency to diminish. The reason why there was a large number here at one time is that the government of Bengal had sent eight students to study here, and the rest came either out of preference for the institution or on account of the presence of their countrymen. Nowadays there is a tendency on the part of the Hindus to go to universities in the Middle West. Universities in that part of the country are offering special inducements to foreign students and they also take steps to advertise themselves in the Orient.

UNIVERSITY CALENDAR.

SATURDAY, APRIL 15.

Agassiz Club Field Trip—Leader, Mr. C. P. Alexander. Subject, Insects. McGraw Hall, North Wing, 2 p. m.

Baseball—Lehigh University vs. Cornell University. Percy Field, 3 p. m. Admission 50c. Reserved seats 25c. Season tickets good for admission.

SUNDAY, APRIL 16.

Sage Chapel—The Rev. Robert A. Hume, D. D. Missionary to India. Morning service at 11 o'clock. Vesper service at 3:15 o'clock.

UNIVERSITY PREACHERS.

President Schurman announces the following list of University preachers for the remainder of the present academic year:

April 16—The Rev. Robert A. Hume, D. D. Missionary to India.

April 23—The Rev. William F. Anderson, D. D. Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

April 30-May 7—The Rt. Rev. Ethelbert Talbot, D. D. Episcopalian. Bishop of Bethlehem, South Bethlehem, Pa.

May 14—The Very Rev. S. S. Marquis, D. D. Episcopalian. Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, Mich.

May 21—The Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick. Pastor, First Baptist Church, Montclair, N. J.

May 28—The Rev. Joseph H. Twichell. Pastor, Asylum Hill Congregational Church, Hartford, Conn.

June 4—The Rt. Rev. Charles E. Woodcock, D. D. Episcopalian. Bishop of Kentucky, Louisville, Ky.

June 18—Baccalaureate Sermon. The Rt. Rev. Frederick Courtney. Episcopalian. St. James' Church, New York City.

ATHLETICS.

Alumni Field Plans Adopted.

A meeting of the committee in charge of the development of Alumni Field was held in Ithaca last Saturday, and plans for the arrangement of the field were adopted. All the members of the committee were present—Messrs. Bacon '92, Sackett '75, Treman '78, Blood '88, and Rowlee '88. A complete change of plan for the field was made necessary last winter when the Trustees arranged to take the eastern end of the original athletic grant for the College of Agriculture and to give the field an equivalent area of eleven acres on the southwest. By the plans adopted on Saturday the Playground will remain as it is now. At the south end of the Playground will be a training house. Next to the training house on the south will be the football field, with a large stand for spectators on its eastern side, against the slope of Kite Hill. West of the football field, and at a considerably lower level, will be a baseball diamond and a practice field. Places will also be found for tennis courts.

As soon as specifications can be prepared the committee will advertise for bids for the grading, and the work of construction will be rushed.

The committee also approved sketch plans for the interior arrangement of the proposed training house.

Baseball.

As this paper goes to press the varsity nine is still in the South. Two games were played last week. The game scheduled for Thursday with the American League team of Washington was cancelled before the Cornell players left Ithaca on account of an unfinished grandstand. On Friday Cornell was defeated by Georgetown by a score of 8 to 1. Burkhart, Hightower and Nesbit were in the box for Cornell and McCormick was behind the bat. The score:

R. H. E.
Georgetown . 0 0 3 0 1 1 0 3 *—8 11 3
Cornell 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 —1 5 2

This game was virtually the first outdoor practice the Cornell squad had had. The weather in Ithaca had kept the men in the gymnasium right up to the time they went South. On Saturday Cornell met the Eastern League team of Baltimore and was defeated, 7 to 2. According to the newspapers, "the collegians made a creditable showing." Krogstad and Carvajal pitched for Cornell and Abbott caught. The game was called after seven innings on account of rain. The score:

Baltimore . . 1 0 3 1 0 1 1—7 10 2
Cornell 0 0 0 0 0 1 1—2 7 4

Soccer.

The varsity soccer football team played two games in Philadelphia last week and lost both—the first to Pennsylvania, 3 to 1, and the second to Haverford, 2 to 1.

Lacrosse.

Insufficient opportunity for outdoor practice handicapped the varsity lacrosse team on its southern trip. The Cornell twelve was beaten by the Naval Academy Thursday, 12 to 0, by the Mount Washington Lacrosse Club Friday, 3 to 2, and by Johns Hopkins Saturday, 3 to 1. Details of the games had not been received in Ithaca up to the time this paper went to press.

Intercollegiate Rifle League.

During the winter the annual contest of the Intercollegiate Indoor Rifle Shooting League has been in progress and the Cornell team has been making a much better record than in previous years, being now tied with Columbia and Washington State College for third place. The Massachusetts Agricultural College and the State University of Iowa are tied for first place, neither of the two having been defeated. Two more matches are yet to be held before the end of the season.

The college teams consist of ten men, each firing ten shots standing and ten shots prone at fifty feet, using .22 caliber rifles at a target having a bull's-eye one-half inch in diameter, counting 10. Possible score for a team, 2,000; for an individual, 200. The qualifications for the rifle team are about as strict as those for the athletic teams. The ten men who make up the team must be in good standing in scholarship. The shooting is done at each range under the supervision of a judge appointed by the National Rifle Association. The teams shoot on their own ranges one of the first three nights of each week or on the Saturday night of the preceding week and the report is sent to the offices of the National Rifle Association at Washington. A handsome trophy is given to the team that finishes first in the league and the individual members of the winning team receive silver medals. The members of the second team get bronze medals.

Cornell won from the University of Arizona last week by a score of 1,782 to 1,775. The remaining matches on the Cornell schedule are with California and Minnesota.

The standing of the teams is as follows:

	W.	L.
1. Massachusetts Ag. College	13	0
2. State University of Iowa	13	0
3. Columbia University . . .	10	3
4. Cornell University	10	3
5. Washington State College	10	3
6. University of Missouri . .	8	5
7. Dartmouth College	7	6
8. Purdue University	7	6
9. New Hampshire College . .	5	8
10. Rhode Island State College	5	8
11. University of Minnesota . .	5	8
12. Princeton University . . .	4	9
13. North Georgia Ag. College	3	10
14. University of Arizona . . .	2	11

During the Easter recess the candidates for the varsity crews remained at Ithaca, and favorable weather enabled the men to get regular practice.

D. G. Roos, who won the individual fencing championship, has received a special gold medal from the Intercollegiate Fencing Association.

Nayati, a local fraternity which was organized in October, 1907, has bought the former home of Professor John V. Van Pelt, on Cayuga Heights. The price is said to have been about $28,000, and the purchase includes three acres of land. The house will be enlarged and the addition is to be ready for occupancy on September 15 next.

Among the foundation members of the American Universities Club of London, now housed at 68 Pall Mall, London, S. W., are President Schurman, President Jordan, John R. Cautley '06, Manchester, England; Howard B. Grubb '09, South Croydon, England; John R. Mott '88, New York City; and Willard D. Straight '01, of New York and Peking.

Governor Dix has asked Director L. H. Bailey of the College of Agriculture to become State Commissioner of Agriculture in place of Raymond A. Pearson '94, whose term of office will expire on April 29. Cornell men who know Mr. Pearson will subscribe to the following opinion expressed editorially by the Buffalo Express: "Of course, no one can say a word against the proposal of Governor Dix to appoint Dean Liberty H. Bailey of the state school of agriculture at Cornell, except that the office of state commissioner is already well filled and Dean Bailey is invaluable in his present position."

In all probability the class reunions will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 20 and 21. There has been talk of having them the last two days of the preceding week, and there has also been talk of having them the last of May, but so far as we have heard neither of these suggestions has come to anything.

There will have to be some change in the program because the alumni-varsity baseball game cannot be played on Wednesday. The varsity nine will be in Philadelphia that day. It may be played on Tuesday, in which case Wednesday afternoon will be open for meetings of the Cornellian Council, the Class Secretaries, etc., if these organizations choose to meet at that time.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The Election of Alumni Trustees.

Editor of the Cornell Alumni News:
The alumni of Cornell University are this year to select two out of three candidates nominated to represent them on the Board of Trustees. One of the nominees is a woman. There is no woman on the present board. This letter is an appeal to the men to elect the woman who is the unanimous choice of the federated clubs of alumnae. The reasons which lead me to write it are:

1. The presence of women students in a proportion of about ten per cent. of the total number throughout the last thirty years is in accordance with the adopted policy of the University, and demands special provision for their needs in proportion to their number in exactly the same way that special provision is made for the needs of the several groups of men. A representation of one woman on the Board of Trustees is not only not unreasonable, but is eminently fair.

2. New matters of special provision for women are the establishment of a School of Home Economics—the foundations as yet scarcely begun—and the recent gift for a second dormitory. Most of us who have any experience of family life have learned that not all, nor all of the best, wisdom and initiative in matters of this kind originates in our masculine brains. The aid of women is bound to be required in the development of these projects.

3. The woman proposed by the alumnae, Mrs. William Vaughn Moody (Harriet Converse Tilden '76), has demonstrated, by her business experience and professional work, her fitness to represent not only the women, but the men, in the solution of the problems coming before the Board of Trustees. In the words of Professor Corson: "She is an educator in the true sense of that much-abused word." Her established business not only covers a large section of this country but crosses the Atlantic.

I submit that the loyal alumnus, whichever man he supports, should not lose this opportunity to vote for Mrs. Moody and give to his alma mater the benefit of her special qualifications for its service and incidentally to the alumnae the representation on the Board of Trustees which is their fair right. The proportion of electors being nine men to one woman, it is clear that only by the active co-operation of the men and by their votes can this most desirable result be accomplished. Let any doubting alumnus read the letter sent out with the ballots and, if he still doubts, write to his Chicago friends for confirmation of it.

The result should be certain.

CHARLES S. FOWLER '88.

New York, April 7, 1911.

The NEWS has received a letter from Albert J. Himes '87, of Cleveland, Ohio, expressing the same opinion as Mr. Fowler and giving similar reasons. Mr. Himes says: "The needs of the women students require the active interest of a Trustee who is not only well versed in their affairs but one whose interest is more sympathetic than that of the men is apt to be."

CLASS REUNION.

The five year reunion will be held this June. Write the secretary at once of your coming so that your costume may be ordered and a place reserved for your comfort. There will be no soliciting of funds, so do not start to dodge. Plans only will be made at the reunion for the payment of all class debts.

CHARLES H. TUCK, Ithaca.

By the will of the late Dr. Samuel Alexander of the faculty of the Cornell Medical College, his surgical instruments and apparatus and pathological and anatomical preparations are to be given to the college.

ATTENTION,
Pittsburg and Vicinity!

April 22 is the date that has been set for the eleventh annual banquet of the Cornell alumni in and about Pittsburg. The work in connection with the banquet has been in the hands of a committee under the leadership of E. C. Batchelar for several weeks and strenuous efforts are being made to have this gathering eclipse all previous ones in every possible way. The eats, the music, the speeches, cigars, cigarettes and even the ginger ale will be the best ever, and it is expected that a record breaking crowd will be on hand.

Delegations are being planned from Cleveland, Youngstown, Altoona, Johnstown and numerous other towns within a reasonable distance of Pittsburg.

H. E. Longwell of the class of '83 will serve as toastmaster in his customary efficient manner. Dan Reed, head football coach, will be on hand from Ithaca with a genial smile and speech, while L. A. Osborne, second vice-president of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company, will have a few things to say. The remaining details will be published in next week's issue of the ALUMNI NEWS.

A notice of the banquet with a ticket has been sent to each alumnus in the vicinity of Pittsburg and it is up to each man to come across with three washers for the occasion. If any one has failed to receive a ticket for any reason, will be communicate with E. C. Batchelar, 1122 Farmers Bank Building, Pittsburg, at once and make a reservation at the head table with all the high-brows? The members of the committee are: R. C. Warner, R. S. Findley, T. M. Jackson, W. W. Matchneer, J. W. Todd, C. Van Blarcom, H. W. Douglass, C. V. Lally, W. L. Umstad, and E. C. Batchelar, chairman.

Cornell Women's Club of New York.

On Saturday, April 1, the Alumnae Club of New York met at the home of Miss Ethel Stebbins. Committees reported upon the location of Prudence Risley Hall and upon the progress of the Bureau of Occupations. The social portion of the meeting was in charge of Miss Elsie Rand; Miss Gildner, Miss Charlotte Crawford and Miss Thomas entertained the club.

A TENDERFOOT WITH PEARY

By GEORGE BORUP, YALE '07

George Borup in a book recounting the "tenderfoot's" experiences on his first exploring journey, pays a deep and sincere tribute to his comrade, Professor Ross G. Marvin of Cornell, who lost his life on the expedition.

The adventure and interesting details are all recounted—exciting walrus hunts, the queer dogs, the very human Eskimos and their squaws.

It's a book in a thousand.

With 45 illustrations from photographs that catch the spirit of the book; $2.10 net; postpaid $2.27.

Don't Count Lock Parts Until You See Them in the Gun Ready for Action

- ❑ All gun makers claim a simple lock but no amount of paper-talk will make a lock simple.
- ❑ The gun itself must consist of the fewest possible parts—advertising cannot accomplish this.
- ❑ We do a little advertising but this is no reason why you should buy an ITHACA—the reason is in the gun itself.
- ❑ Compare our lock, set up, ready for action, with any other make—if we haven't the simplest lock we'll give you the gun—let the gun talk for itself.
- ❑ If you see more than one hole in a hammer, look out for toggles or stirrups not shown.
- ❑ Our hammer is all in one piece, only one hole, no toggles or stirrups attached.
