Vol. XXI, No. 3

Ithaca, N. Y., October 10, 1918

AN enthusiastic Liberty Loan rally was held in the Stadium last Sunday afternoon. Preceding the program there was a parade of all the military organizations in Ithaca. Professor Charles L. Durham acted as master of ceremonies. Addresses were made by Messrs. Charles Vezin and Foster Debevoise. Music was furnished by the famous French Military Band, of fifty-six pieces. It is said that all the members of this band with but three exceptions have been wounded or gassed, and invalided home. The twenty thousand people assembled subscribed $245,000 toward the Liberty Loan.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT on Sunday was averted by the daring and presence of mind of Tex Marshall. After thrilling the crowds in the Stadium with some of the most wonderful flying ever seen here, including a falling leaf and a tail spin, he had planned to land on the field; but suddenly his engine stopped and he was forced down. Not caring to risk the lives of people in the bleachers, he took a chance of finding a landing place farther south, flew over the field only a few hundred feet above the ground, and at length brought the plane down near the water standpipe at East Ithaca. Some of the mechanism underneath the plane was smashed and one blade of the propeller was broken; otherwise little damage was done.

TOMPKINS COUNTY is called on to subscribe $1,870,000 to the Fourth Liberty Loan. Up to Saturday afternoon only $134,500 had been reported, of which $107,950 came from the City of Ithaca. To satisfy the Government requirements a daily average of $146,000 must be maintained for the remaining two weeks of the campaign. Active canvassing began on Monday.

THE S. A. T. C. has not been long allowed to remain intact. Eighty-nine of the inducted men were sent Monday to officers' training camps: seventy-five to the Central Officers' Training Camp for Infantry at Camp Lee, Virginia; six machine gunners to Fort Hancock, Georgia; and eight to the Coast Artillery camp at Fort Monroe, Virginia. Nearly all of these men are upper-classmen, and have also had previous military training.

MISS GEORGIA L. WHITE, the new Adviser of Women, has arrived and will occupy the house opposite Sage Chapel, owned for many years by the late Professor Charles Babcock and his family. The house is being somewhat altered for her use and is to be ready in a few days.

A SIGN INTENDED to represent a crossing sign has been erected at the corner of State and Tioga Streets. It reads: "Fourth Liberty Loan Crossing; Stop, Look, and Loosen!"

THE ITHACA WOMAN'S CLUB has prepared for the year a program on problems of the war. The following Cornellians are to speak to the club: November 4, President Schurman, "The Balkan Situation"; December 2, Dean Thilly, "The German Point of View"; December 16, Professor Burr, "Alsace-Lorraine"; January 20, Professor Burr, "The German Plan for Middle Europe"; February 3, Professor Burr, "The Pan-German Idea"; March 17, Mrs. Gertrude S. Martin, "The Changes in Education as a Result of the War."

THE COUNTY JAIL suffered a considerable falling off in business for a few days after Ithaca went dry. For forty-eight hours it was empty. The chief of police also reports that his business has suffered.

ITHACA PHYSICIANS, by giving up a part of their office hours, have been able to respond to the University's call for help with the physical examination of candidates for the S. A. T. C. Besides the local physicians Dr. Floyd R. Wright '98, of Clifton Springs, Dr. W. W. Root '90 of Slaterville Springs, and Dr. Keith Sears '03, of Trumansburg, have been secured as helpers. The work is going on from eight a. m. to ten p. m. daily. It must be completed by October 15.

CHARLES W. WHITEHAIR returned to Ithaca recently after spending some time with the British troops in Palestine. As the guest of General Allenby he spoke to about two-thirds of the troops, giving them a message from the soldiers of America. He brought back with him General Allenby's official statement of the situation in the East, and has been authorized to write the account of the capture of Jerusalem and the Palestine campaign, as well as a biography of General Allenby. He also brought with him several hundred photographs, among them copies of the Turkish official photographs which were captured when the British took Jerusalem. He spent only a short time in France, during most of which he was in the front line trenches with the Rainbow Division, where he underwent a gas attack, but came through unscathed with the help of a gas mask. He left again almost immediately to speak in the Southern States in the interests of the Fourth Liberty Loan.

LIEUT. COL. WILDER D. BANCROFT made an address before a recent meeting of the Columbus Section of the American Chemical Society on "Gas Warfare" and "Contact Catalysis."

FIRST LIEUTENANT ANDREW CARLIER, of the aerial photography section of the French Aviation Service, has been assigned to the Government School of Aerial Photography in Rockefeller Hall. He is giving advanced instruction in interpretation of photographs. Lieutenant Carlier has been in service on the western front for three and one-half years, and has been twice decorated for bravery.

DR. W. E. MULDOON, former professor of materia medica in the Veterinary College, has been promoted to the rank of captain in the Veterinary Corps, National Army. He is at present an instructor in the Veterinary Training School at Camp Lee, Va.

DEAN ALBERT R. MANN of the College of Agriculture has been appointed by Governor Whitman a member of the State Food Commission, filling the vacancy created by the resignation of President Schurman on his departure for Europe. The other members of the commission are John Mitchell, chairman, and Charles A. Wieting, formerly a member of the University Board of Trustees. By virtue of this appointment Dean Mann becomes also a representative of the State of New York on the Federal Food Board.

PROFESSOR BRISTOW ADAMS, of Cornell, was elected president of the Association of College Editors, at its sixth annual meeting held in Knoxville, Tenn.

ARMY AND NAVY

Cornell Dinner at Camp Dick

A get-to-gether dinner for Cornell men in the camps and flying fields in the vicinity of Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas, was held on September 28, at the Oriental Hotel, Dallas. The attendance was small, owing to the fact that all fields except Dick were under quarantine. A dance followed the dinner. Those who attended were: Cadets George W. Egbert '12, Arthur J. Brady '13, William E. Blewett, jr., '18, J. H. Cable '18, Charles F. Gilman '18, Robert H. Everhard '19, K. M. Reid '19, Willard W. Bushman '20, J. S. Pfluger '20, and W. H. Whittemore '20.

J. P. Hurley '07 Again Wounded

The casualty list of October 4 contains the name of John Patrick Hurley '07 among those severely wounded in action. This is the second time within a few months that Captain Hurley's name has appeared in the list of wounded.

Captain Hurley enlisted in the Sixty-ninth Regiment in 1910, and was soon commissioned a second lieutenant. In June, 1912, he was promoted to first lieutenant, and received his honorable discharge the following March. He re-enlisted in May, 1915, and was promoted to captain, and served on the Mexican border in 1916.

On April 4, he was slightly wounded when he went into action as acting major of a certain U. S. Infantry regiment, after its major had been wounded. On July 28, he led the first American troops across the Oureq in the Allied attack in the Soissons-Rheims salient.

Breckenridge '20 at Limburg

Lieutenant Wilder Breckenridge is detained at a German prison camp at Limburg, on the Dutch border, according to a letter received by his mother, Mrs. Shepherd Stevens, of Ithaca.

Breckenridge enlisted in the Royal Flying Corps in Canada last winter and went to France in the spring. In June he was reported missing, and it was thought he was dead, but his mother received a card from him a short time later, stating that he had a broken leg. He was traced by the Red Cross, and located at the camp at Limburg. His letter follows:

"There is a French committee in the town near by which has been taking care of us, furnished me with paper, as you see, and clothes, and 'Gott sei dank' a a tooth brush. Some French girl has heard that there is an American here and has adopted me, much to my delight, as she has excellent perception of what I lack. Sent me two cakes of soap—mighty generous with soap at five marks per cake. We are only allowed two letters and four post cards a month so I haven't had a chance heretofore to give any particulars.

"I got shot down on the 9th as you know. Fifteen of us were out on an early morning patrol and at twelve thousand feet we ran into the whole German flying corps, it seemed.

"I dove on one and my machine guns jammed after three shots from each. I was a goner sure if I hung around trying to remedy them so I went down in a spin to twenty feet. One German, however, followed me down and when I flattened out and started for home he got me. Grazed my head and knocked me out. Of course I crashed. Was thrown clear of the machine and when I hit the ground got a cut in the forehead and a splintered ankle.

"Am in bed now; head is quite healed and I have a barbarous contrivance like an ice-lifter on my heel with a six-pound weight tied to it to stretch the bones into place. The more you pull the farther the spikes go into you. I've only got to have it two more weeks and then I'll have a plaster cast and hobble around. Am very well treated by the Germans.

"Send to my squadron for my kit and send me a pipe, several pounds of tobacco, $5, some grub and a few cigarettes and SOAP. You might send a packet about twice a month."

Duckham '17 Cited and Promoted

First Lieut. William A. Duckham '17, of Pittsburgh, has been cited for bravery, and promoted to captain, under date of July 12.

Duckham was a member of the Marine Corps, having enlisted at Pittsburgh in April, 1917. He was soon commissioned a second lieutenant and sailed for France in June with the 5th Regiment. He was later promoted to first lieutenant, and took part in the battle at Chateau-Thierry.

Lattin '11 Severely Wounded

Captain Jay D. B. Lattin '11, of Albion, N. Y., is reported in the casualty list printed September 30, as severely wounded in action.

Lattin was assigned as first lieutenant to the 19th U. S. Cavalry at the time of its organization in June, 1917, at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt. He was later promoted to captain, and transferred with his company, which had been made the 77th Field Artillery, to Camp Greene, Charlotte, N. C. He sailed for France last spring, and was at that time attached to the 7th Machine Gun Battalion, Third Division. He was on the Lorraine front when last heard from.

Association of French Homes

American officers and Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. men are being entertained by the Association of French Homes. It is announced that those present can all speak English. Mme. Chausson, Countess Guebhard, Countess de Bryas, and Mme. Alitini are among those who have thus entertained.

Graduates from Zachary Taylor

Following is a partial list of Cornell men who graduated as second lieutenants from the Central Field Artillery Officers' Training Camp, Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Ky.: F. A. Mack '12, M. V. Earnes '14, G. L. Buck '14, C. H. Bechel '15, T. A. Knapp '15, J. A. Sanford '15, T. C. Rogers '16, W. S. Young, '16, C. H. Abramson '17, J. F. Driscoll '17, T. F. Tomlines '17, R. C. Edmunds '18, A. L. Hoffman '18, H. J. Senecal '18, E. J. Truthan '18, W. R. Buell '19, E. D. Upstill '19, W. J. Kuhrt '20.

Information on Casualties

After discussion with the authorities of the American Red Cross the Executive Committee of the American University Union voted to send to the Trustees of the Union for transmission to the various universities and colleges that are members of the Union the following statement. More detailed information on the subject may be secured from Professor Paul van Dyke, chairman of the Hospital Committee at the Union.

For supplying information and for answering enquiries from relatives and friends concerning American casualties and prisoners of war, the American Red Cross has established a Bureau of Home Communications (Hospital and Home Service). To relieve the demands on the cable and to secure, as far as possible, prompt, consistent, and satisfactory service, answers to enquiries are sent through the Red Cross Office at Paris to their office at Washington and thence transmitted to the parties concerned. Acting in harmony with suggestions from the Red Cross the American University Union in Europe transmits to the Red Cross Bureau such enquiries as it receives, together with the name and address of the enquirer, and replies are in turn sent by the Red Cross Bureau in Paris for transmission through their Washington office.

From Paul King '16

Paul King, of Emporia, Virginia, a graduate of the College of Civil Engineering of the class of 1916, is now a first lieutenant in the 32d U. S. Engineers, in active service in France. In a recent letter to Professor F. A. Barnes, King wrote:

"You might be interested to know that the two schools I attended, viz., the Virginia Polytechnic Institute and Cornell, furnished from their former students and graduates the same number, and each separately a greater number, of officers for this regiment than any other college. Vivent les deux institutions!"

THE NEW MILITARY MEDALS

The Jackson City Club News for September has a cut showing the new honor medals. Captain André Smith '02, who designed the cover of the ALUMNI NEWS which has been in use since November 1911, is one of the designers of these medals. We quote the Club News:

"In Secretary Baker's bill, now before Congress, three classes of decorations are provided for: Medals of Honor, Distinguished Service Cross, and Distinguished Service Medals. The Medal of Honor is to be presented by the President, and takes the place of the Congressional Medal of Honor heretofore awarded only by special act of Congress. It is to be conferred upon a soldier for having, in action, in actual conflict with the enemy, distinguished himself conspicuously, at the risk of his life, above and beyond the call of duty. The terms of its bestowal make it similar to the French Croix de Guerre with palms, or to the Victoria Cross, considered the highest British distinction. The medal is of gold, composed of a five-pointed star with laurel leaves and oak leaves enameled in green. The medal is to be suspended from a blue silk ribbon, spangled with thirteen white stars.

"The Distinguished Service Cross is to be awarded to soldiers for acts of bravery and conscientious performance of duty, not necessarily in the face of the enemy or at the risk of their lives. The cross will parallel the French Croix de Guerre or the British D.S.O. The ribbon has a center of blue bordered with a stripe of white edged with red.

"The Distinguished Service Medal is the third in importance of the awards for valor or gallantry in action. It is of bronze with the seal of the United States forming the center design. The ribbon will have a center band of white bordered with blue edged with red.

"The Distinguished Service Cross and Medals were designed by Captain André Smith and Captain Aymar Embury, of the Camouflage Section of the Army. They were modelled by Private Gaetano Gecere. After the first type of Distinguished Service Cross had been struck, and about one hundred crosses had been made, the War Department concluded the design was too ornate; it was changed to the second type."

DIED IN THE SERVICE

Stuart E. Edgar '13

Lieutenant Stewart Emmet Edgar '13, of the 103d Aero Squadron, was killed in an airplane accident in France on August 17.

Lieutenant Edgar was the son of Mrs. Louise G. Edgar, of Nutley, N. J. He was born on February 25, 1890, and prepared for college at the Riverview Academy, Nutley, entering the Law School in 1909. He was a member of Chi Psi and Undine.

At the completion of his sophomore year, he joined the staff of the New York Evening Sun, where he remained until his enlistment. He went to France first in the ambulance service, but later, after graduating from a French aviation school at Pau, was assigned to the Lafayette Flying Corps, and was soon transferred to the American Army, as a ferry pilot, transferring planes from factories near Paris to the front.

John H. Wilder '17

First Lieutenant John Hayhurst Wilder '17 was killed in action on August 23.

Lieutenant Wilder was born on April 20, 1895, and was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wilder, of Fredonia, N. Y. He attended the State Normal School at Fredonia, and entered Cornell in 1913, in the course of arts. He was a member of Kappa Phi and the Aero Club, and was secretary and treasurer of the Cornell Life-Saving Association.

Soon after war was declared, Wilder enlisted in the aviation service and began his training at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, completing his training and receiving his commission in Italy. He was commissioned about six months ago, and had been doing advanced work in France.

Thaddeus W. Phelon '19

Thaddeus Westcott Phelon '19, a member of the 645th Unit of the U. S. Ambulance Service, died on September 17 at the Debarkation Hospital at Ellis Island, from injuries received at Verdun last April. While he was driving his ambulance an enemy shell exploded, throwing him from his seat, and he was struck by another ambulance, injuring his hip. Complications set in from which death resulted. He was removed to the hospital at Ellis Island about a month ago. He had been in France since December.

Phelon entered the College of Civil Engineering from the Manual Training High School, Brooklyn, in 1915.

He was twenty-one years old. He is survived by his parents, three sisters, and a brother.

Howard J. Bush '20

Howard Jackson Bush died of pneumonia on September 5 at the Naval Hospital, Newport, R. I.

Bush prepared for college at the Gloversville High School, and entered the College of Civil Engineering in October, 1916. He was a member of Phi Kappa Psi.

He enlisted in the Naval Reserves on May 7, 1917, but was permitted to return to the University, and succeeded in completing his second year. He was called into service on July 30, and ordered to the Naval Torpedo Station at Newport. He was stricken with pneumonia on September 9, and when his condition became critical his father was summoned.

He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Bush, and a sister, Miss Winifred Bush, of Gloversville, N. Y. He was twenty-one years old.

Howard U. Snyder '21

Corporal Howard Urquhart Snyder, a member of the class of 1920 in the College of Architecture, was killed in action on July 15.

Snyder received his training at Madison Barracks, and left for France December 5, 1917. He was attached to Company E, 6th U. S. Engineers.

He was born September 5, 1895, and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson E. Snyder, of South Bend, Ind.

THE BOULEVARD LIGHTS of Ithaca were reduced one-half as a fuel conservation measure, beginning October 3.

Life in the S. A. T. C.

Reveille at 6:25. Taps at 10. Free Saturday Noon to Monday.

A summary of General Orders No. 2, issued October 2, will give some idea of what life in the S. A. T. C. barracks is to be.

Reveille is to be sounded at 6:25 a. m. Between then and eight beds will be made and barracks swept and dusted. If necessary, bath rooms and furnace rooms will be regularly policed. The company commander is to inspect his barracks between eight and eleven daily.

University work as usual will begin at eight o'clock. The big course in War Issues, required of all students in the S. A. T. C., will be given at eleven o'clock. On Monday there will be a lecture. For this purpose the class will be divided into four sections, the lecturers for which will be President Schurman, Dean Thilly, and Professors Orth and Willecox. For class work the class will be divided into sixteen sections, which will recite on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday. The third weekly session will be held on Saturday at either eight or nine. Engineers will devote this third hour to English work.

Other courses are to be given between eight and twelve in the morning and 1:30 and 3:30 in the afternoon. On Saturdays there is no academic work after ten. Retreat will be at ten o'clock.

Conditional upon satisfactory academic and military work, and on good behavior, no duty will be required of S. A. T. C. men between Saturday noon and reveille Monday. During this time the men may visit the city of Ithaca without a pass. At any other time in the week students in the S. A. T. C. may not visit Ithaca without a written pass. This will be given only for necessary purposes. No student in the S. A. T. C. will leave Ithaca without written authority. Men leaving on pass or furlough will be properly uniformed and must be neat and clean; they will be inspected before leaving.

Men will bathe at least twice a week.

Where practicable, company commanders will assemble their entire company for reveille roll call and retreat. But where company barracks are so far apart as to make this impractical, the officer or N. C. O. in charge of a detached barracks will perform the duties for the company commander at reveille and retreat, reporting to the company commander as soon after as possible.

Officers' call will be at 11:30 a. m. daily except Sunday, at which time all officers will assemble at headquarters, call for their mail, and remain until dismissed by the Executive Officer.

Members of the S. A. T. C. will at all times be subject to military discipline such as is in effect at the various cantonments and will be subject to all Army rules and regulations.

Fraternity House Barracks

Most of the Houses Taken Over by the S. A. T. C.

The fraternities are fortunate in being able to cooperate with the University by offering their houses as barracks for the S. A. T. C. and Naval training unit. Practically all the fraternity houses were offered to the University for this purpose, as well as a large number of outside houses. The University, recognizing the fact that the fraternity houses had some claim to be considered a part of the University system of dormitories, and that the financial problems of the fraternities at the present time are serious, restricted its choice of houses to the fraternities. It was unable to make use of all the houses, but took as many as it could use, assigning to each house only so many men as could be conveniently handled. It chose the houses on the basis, first, of convenience of location, and secondly, of adaptability to the purpose, in respect not merely to the number of rooms but also to the character of the toilet and bath facilities. Thus far forty-five houses have been leased. In a few cases seventy-five men have been assigned to a house; in most instances, however, the number is either twenty-five or fifty.

The Government allows the University twenty cents per man per day for lodging. The University pays over seven and one-half cents of this to the individual house and then undertakes to provide heat, light, gas, and janitor service, and at the end of the year will divide up the sum remaining (which it is believed will be a substantial one) pro rata among the owners of the houses. Thus it will be seen that the University takes no profit from the transaction.

Even before the S. A. T. C. plans were worked out, it had been understood that the Fuel Administrator would not allow the fraternities to supply their houses with coal unless the houses were fairly well filled. It is probable that the houses will be in better condition at the end of the year than they would have been if closed up through the winter.

The list of houses leased for barracks is as follows: Kappa Alpha, Psi Upsilon, Sigma Phi, Delta Upsilon, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Theta Delta Chi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Chi, Zodiac, Delta Tau Delta, Zeta Psi, Chi Phi, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Seal and Serpent, Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Nu, Alpha Sigma Phi, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Pi, Sigma Phi Sigma, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Chi Psi, Phi Gamma Delta, Alpha Delta Phi, Theta Chi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Eleusis, Scorpion, Phi Kappa Psi, Alpha Zeta, Kappa Delta Rho, Theta Xi, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Chi, Phi Delta Sigma, Zeta Beta Tau, Huntingdon Club, Cosmopolitan Club, Alpha Chi Rho, Delta Phi, and Kappa Psi.

America and the War

President Schurman's Address at the Overseas Cornell Reunion

Le Journal des Debats for September 8 published a French translation of President Schurman's address at the Cornell dinner at the American Union on September 4, the occasion described in our issue for last week. From this translation we extract the following summary:

The present irresistible advance of the Allies, the President said, is due in part to Allied superiority in numbers and resources, in part to the brilliant and effective strategy of Marshal Foch, which has given us the certain promise of victory.

The speaker then alluded to the approaching anniversary of the birth of La Fayette and that of the Battle of the Marne as being appropriately celebrated by driving the Hun from the soil of France, Alsace-Lorraine, Belgium, Italy, Serbia. Only when this has been accomplished, said he, can we talk of peace.

Then there must be restitution. The dead, alas, cannot be recalled to life, nor can many of the horrors of the war be blotted out; but the deportations, the systematic outrages, and the deliberate atrocities can and must be punished. The criminal nation, like the criminal person, must make civil reparation.

The great war is not merely a conflict between national interests. It is a struggle between brute force and moral law. There can be no compromise as to the issue.

We make war to compel Germany to submit to moral principles; we shall continue until German militarism is destroyed root and branch. This is the meaning of America's extension of the draft to increase the American Army in France next year to 3,600,000 men.

President Wilson has declared the goal of the Allies to be a decisive victory by arms: this means no compromise, no bargaining, no peace by conciliation. "The invasion of Belgium, the devastation of Serbia, the brutal Machiavellism of the treaties with Roumania and Russia, the wilful devastation of French territory, the ruthless submarine warfare, the indescribable atrocities committed upon the civil population of all countries which the German armies have occupied, all these are crimes which cry for justice. The hatred of the world, which Germany has deserved, is testimony to the eternal supremacy of the moral law."

Lord Charnwood to Lecture First Lecturer Under the Revised Schiff Foundation

Lord Charnwood, who comes to the University this month to give a series of fifteen lectures under the Jacob H. Schiff endowment for the promotion of studies in human civilization, was last Saturday at Springfield, Illinois, when the State of Illinois celebrated the centenary of its admission to the Union. Lord Charnwood's part in the celebration was an address on Abraham Lincoln.

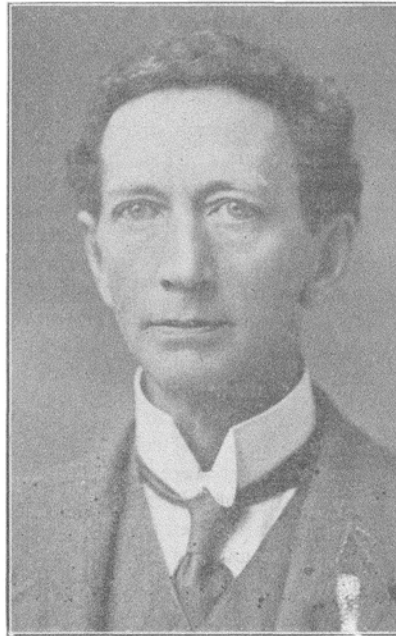

The subject of Lord Charnwood's fifteen lectures to be given at Cornell is "The Contributions of the British Empire to Civilization." There will be five lectures a week for three weeks, beginning on Monday, October 14.

In the course of his stay in this country, until early in January, Lord Charnwood will visit Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and Washington, and will go to Canada. On December 27 and 28 he will be a guest of the American Historical Association in Cleveland.

His visit to this country is opportune. He is a Liberal, a supporter of Gladstone and Home Rule, an ardent admirer of Lincoln and a student of his life and times, and seems to be peculiarly fitted to promote understanding and sympathy between his country and the United States.

Born in 1864 of Quaker stock, son of a country gentleman, William Benson of Alresford, Hampshire, the future Baron Charnwood spent his school days at Winchester and was graduated in 1887 from Balliol College, Oxford. After two years as a lecturer under Jowett at Balliol, he became interested in politics and in 1892 was elected to Parliament. In 1897 he married Miss Dorothea M. Roby Thorpe, the only grandchild of the late Rt. Hon. A. E. Mundeller, who had been a member of the Cabinet and who was the first to form a board of conciliation between employers and employed in his own industry. At the King's coronation in 1911, Godfrey Rathbone Benson was created the first Baron Charnwood.

For years before the war Lord Charnwood was an earnest advocate of a national and compulsory system of military training. Since the outbreak of hostilities he has had much to do, first with voluntary enlistment, and later with the administration of the Military Service Acts. He is a lieutenant colonel in the Home Defense Service.

The Royal Society of Literature has recently appointed a Committee for Promoting an Intellectual Entente among the Allied and Friendly Countries. This committee has appointed a sub-committee on America of which Lord Charnwood is chairman.

As stated in the ALUMNI NEWS last week, Lord Charnwood will stop at the Officers' Club in the Telluride house during his stay in Ithaca. President Schurman reserved a membership in the name of the University to accommodate University guests.

LUNCHEONS IN NORTH CHINA

A card has been issued by Y. S. Djang, of Tientsin, secretary of the Cornell University Association of North China, calling out the Tientsin Cornellians for a bi-weekly luncheon. The method of identification to be used by these distant Cornellians is ingenious. The full text of the card is given below, omitting for obvious reasons certain Chinese characters intended to guide the lunchers to the hotel.

"Among other things, Cornell taught us Efficiency, Self-sacrifice, Co-operation, and Fellowship. Yes, we, her sons and daughters, all know that.

"Then, the geographical remoteness that separates her from us, should in no way impair our ever-lasting loyalty toward our Alma Mater and her noble teachings. Cornell spirit and Cornell Culture must flourish in North China.

"Therefore, let us get together oftener than we do. We shall hereafter eat together at least twice a month. Come to the New Grand Hotel, Asahi Road, Japanese Concession, Tientsin, every second and fourth Sundays of each month. We will eat at noon. 'Dutch treat'—pay your own bills, 75 cents a plate.

"Husbands or wives of Cornellians, as the case may be, are equally welcome. Cornellians visiting Tientsin are cordially invited.

"Introduce yourself. To facilitate recognition, wear something that signifies Cornell University. If you have a Cornell pin or a Cornell watch fob, wear it visibly. If you haven't either, do the following:

"Cut a piece of thin white earboard, 2 centimeters square, (an ordinary calling card will answer well). Tie a red string thro one of its corners. Visibly hang it on your body. It identifies you.

"We designate a time and a place, when and where we eat together, so as to give you and us a chance of seeing more Cornellians, and seeing them oftener. Of course, no one is obliged to go to each of these 'Dutch parties.' But whenever possible, always give yourself and others that chance. Don't forget it! If you happen to be forgetful, pin this on your wall.

"Cornell University Association of North China.

"Mail address of the secretary:

"Y. S. Djang, Tientsin.

"(The expenses of this propaganda are paid by two Cornellians.)"

Published for the Associate Alumni of Cornell University by the Cornell Alumni News Publishing Company, Incorporated.

Published weekly during the college year and monthly during the summer; forty issues annually. Issue No. 1 is published the last Thursday of September. Weekly publication (numbered consecutively) continues through Commencement Week. The number of monthly issues and of double numbers will depend somewhat on the University calendar, which is likely to be irregular for the period of the war. Issue No. 40 is published in August and is followed by an index of the entire volume, which will be mailed on request.

Subscription price $3.60 a year, payable in advance. Foreign postage 40 cents a year extra. Domestic rates apply to addresses in the American Expeditionary Forces. Single copies twelve cents each. Double numbers twenty-four cents a copy.

Should a subscriber desire to discontinue his subscription, notice to that effect should be sent in before its expiration. Otherwise it is assumed that a continuance of the subscription is desired.

Checks, drafts, and orders should be made payable to Cornell Alumni News.

THE LOAN

We have already learned the importance of morale. It is absolutely indispensable to the success of the Allies that their morale shall be kept high, and that the morale of the Huns shall decline. For this reason bonds are as valuable as bullets or bombs.

The Potsdam gang has lately tried to make the German people think there is a growing desire for peace in this country. It is a lie; but if we don't subscribe the full amount of the Loan, and more, the Germans will believe it.

And what will the boys in the trenches say if we fail? Facing a perfect hell of lead and shrapnel, pouring out their blood like water, what will they say of people at home who haggle over the amount they subscribe, who plead hard times and take fifty when they ought to take a thousand?

Are you making war on Germany, or are you making money. On your honor, answer.

We must oversubscribe every Liberty Loan. Let us not deceive even the Hun. We demand a complete victory. We will pay for it.

FRATERNITY SUPPORT

The fact that the University has leased the fraternity houses for the year must not lead the backers of fraternities into the belief that their troubles are over. Besides current overhead chagres for interest, taxes, and insurance, there remain many back bills to be liquidated; and moreover there looms up the certainty that during the reconstruction period there will be at least a short time when both the colleges and the fraternities must face the fact of a great scarcity of students. The supporters of fraternities must be alive to this situation, and the wise ones will begin now to prepare for the lean months or years which will inevitably precede the era of prosperity which we hope and believe will come later.

The fraternities that are on a sound financial basis will weather the storm; the fate of the others is less certain.

E. J. GREGSON '06 LIVING

On May 18, 1916, the NEWS published the obituary of Edward J. Gregson '06, who was reported killed in action while fighting in the Canadian Army. On June 15, 1916 the NEWS was able to state that the report was happily untrue. Unfortunately, in publishing Cornell's Roll of Honor in the issue of August, 1918, we included Gregson's name among those who have died for the cause. J. J. Matson '15, secretary of the Cornell Club of Schenectady, writes that Gregson has been heard from as late as September 4, 1918, and is still in active service.

FOOTBALL UNIFORMS NEEDED

"Need five hundred football uniforms."

This cable dispatch has been received by William H. Edwards from John Evers.

Mr. Edwards has appointed a large committee to make the collection; among the names we note those of Percy Haughton, Al Sharpe, Glenn Warner '94, George Sanford, and Daniel Reed '98.

Mr. Edwards has written the committee in part as follows: "There is much of the football spirit in this war. You men know what 'team work' in football means. The men 'over there' are finding that the football spirit they learned at college is helping them very much in this war. If we here at home can help our boys 'over there' by contributing jerseys, sweaters, belts, football trousers, stockings, and shoes, you will be doing your bit. If the boys 'over there' are willing to fight for us over here, we are doing very little in a day's work if we contribute something which they can get a little bit of sport out of, and in so doing help to make them better fighters. You may not be able to get to France, but think of the wonderful privilege you have of sending your football clothes cross seas. Send your check, anyway."

MOTT, Y. M. C. A. STATESMAN

Robert J. Cole writes in Munsey's for June concerning "John R. Mott, the Statesman of the Y. M. C. A." The beginning of Mott's unique career of world-wide service, says Mr. Cole, was in an incident of his student life at Cornell which is related thus:

"Mott is just fifty-three years old. He is the son of a clergyman, and was born at Livingston Manor, New York, but his boyhood was spent at Postville, in northern Iowa. He went back to his native state to study at Cornell, with the intention of becoming a lawyer.

"It is said that the first suggestion of another career came to him from a young Englishman—Studd, the famous Cambridge cricketer, who devoted his life to missionary work in China. On his way to the East he delivered an address at Cornell, and one passage of it made an indelible impression upon Mott:

"'Young man, seekest thou great things for thyself? Seek them not.'

"Mott has always sought great things, but not for himself—except as they have given him increased power to serve his fellow men. When he graduated from Cornell, in 1888, he had already begun to think in large terms. The size of the field in which he would sooner or later work was never uncertain; it was only a question of means and method."

LITERARY REVIEW

Why Steel Hardens

A Few Secrets of the Metallurgist Simply Told. By Gerald W. Hinkley '15. Dunkirk, N. Y. Atlas Crucible Steel Co. 1918. Sm. 8vo, pp. 101. Price, $1, postpaid.

Mr. Hinkley designs his little book to furnish a brief outline of some of the great principles of metallurgy for the layman, and has chiefly undertaken to answer simply and in untechnical language the question, "Why do steels harden?" This he well succeeds in doing.

The relations of the tool steel industry to the war are discussed in a chapter which is full of interest. One illustration given has to do with the shells, a million of which are shot daily. A three-inch shrapnel shell contains seventy drilled holes or a drilling of 19¼ inches in depth. This "means that over three hundred miles of drilled holes are shot away every twenty-four hours on the battle fronts of Europe."

The book is not well printed and there are some bad misprints. The paper is good, however, and the illustrations come out well.

Books and Magazine Articles

A valuable article on "America and the Russian Dilemma," by Jerome B. Landfield '94, appears in International Conciliation for July.

In Science for August 30, Professor Simon H. Gage '77 describes a method of preparing "Hand-made Lantern Slides."

In Harper's for August Charles Wellington Furlong '02 describes his experiences in "Climbing the Shoulder of Atlas." The article is finely illustrated.

Professor Herman L. Fairchild '74 writes in Science for August 16 on the late Grove Karl Gilbert. In the same number Professor James G. Needham reviews Henry B. Ward and George C. Whipple's "Fresh-water Biology."

Professor Christian A. Ruckmich, Ph.D. '13, of the University of Illinois, writes in Science for August 23 on "Pseudo-Psychology."

A paper on "The South's Pension and Relief Provisions for the Soldiers of the Confederacy," by Professor William H. Glasson '96, has been recently published in the "Proceedings of the Eighteenth Annual Session of the State Literary and Historical Association of North Carolina."

Professor William S. Franklin, D.Sc. '01, of Lehigh, is joint author of an article on "The Fundamentals of Dynamics" in Science for August 2. In the same number Professor George A. Miller, of the University of Illinois, formerly of Cornell, writes on "Scientific Activity and the War," urging devotion to pure science on the part of those who cannot engage in war work, "in order that the applied sciences whose active development is being encouraged by immediate needs may not suffer later on account of a lack of theoretic impulses."

Science for July 5 includes a note on "A New Marine Tertiary Horizon in South America" by Dr. Carlotta J. Maury '96. In the issue for July 19 Professor Alexander D. MacGillivray '00 favorably reviews Frank E. Lutz's "Field Book of Insects" (Putnam).

School and Society for July 6 includes an article on "Americanization and the Schools of Hawaii" by Professor Vaughan MacCaughy '08 of the College of Hawaii. The issue for July 20 contains a review of Charles L. Robbins's "The School as a Social Institution" (Allyn and Bacon) by Professor Charles A. Ellwood '96.

In the issue for August 24 is published Professor Robert M. Ogden's address on "The Obligations of Intelligence in the Present Crisis" delivered at the University of Tennessee commencement on May 29.

Hendrik W. Van Loon '05 writes in The Yale Review for July on "Holland's War Policy."

The American Historical Review for July prints three papers by Cornellians read at the meeting of the American Historical Society in December: "Oriental Imperialism," by Albert T. Ohmstead '02, "Greek Imperialism," by William S. Ferguson, A.M. '97, and "Roman Imperialism," by the late George W. Botsford, Ph.D. '91. Professor Abbott P. Usher writes on "Interpretations of Recent Economic Progress in Germany." Professor C. H. Hull '86 reviews Frank W. Pitman's "Development of the British West Indies, 1700-1763" (Yale University Press).

In The Journal of Political Economy for July "The Nature of Peace and the Terms of Its Perpetuation," by Professor Thorstein Veblen, '91-92 G., is reviewed at some length and not altogether favorably by Professor George H. Mead, of the University of Chicago; and "Trade Unionism in the United States," by the late Professor Robert F. Hoxie '92 (A.B., Chicago '92), is reviewed by Crdway Tead.

Professor Charles A. Ellwood '96 writes in The International Journal of Ethics for July on "Democracy and Social Conditions in the United States." In the same number Grace Neal Dolson '96 reviews William M. Salter's "Nietzsche the Thinker—a Study" (Holt).

Professor Lane Cooper contributes to Classical Philology for July an article on "The Fifth Form of 'Discovery' in the Poetics of Aristotle."

The Sibley Journal of Engineering for July and August includes an article on "Lateral Stability of an Airplane" by Professor Frederick Bedell.

Henry Holt and Company announce the publication of "The Expansion of Europe (1415-1789), a History of the Foundations of the Modern World," by Professor Wilbur C. Abbott, '92-95 G., of Yale. The work is in two volumes and sells for $6.50.

In School and Society for July 27 Professor Lane Cooper publishes an address on "Teacher and Student." He attacks Matthew Arnold, Charles W. Eliot, and Nicholas Murray Butler, calling them Sophists, and alleging that they have attempted to teach without being students.

Professor William Baird Elkin, Ph.D. '94, of Indiana University, writes in The Indiana University Alumni Quarterly for July on "German Philosophy of War."

The Sibley Journal of Engineering for September begins a serial article by Philip L. Scott '15 on "Conserving Our Natural Resources by the More Extended Use of the Diesel Engine." There is also an article on "Miniature Electric Letter Signs" by Paul L. Raymond '17.

Science for September 6 includes an article by Dr. Vaughan MacCaughy on "The Olona, Hawaii's Unexcelled Fibre-plant." The same number contains Dr. Marcus Benjamin's nine-column obituary notice of Richard Rathbun '75, and a review by John C. Branner '82 of Nellie B. Allen's "South America" (Ginn).

SERGEANT THOMAS C. McDERMOTT '18, a member of the championship cross country team in 1916, took third place in a five-mile cross country race at Sann, France, on June 2, in a field of fifty entries. He entered the race without training.

ATHLETICS

Plans Begin to Take Shape

An organization for the direction of athletic activities of the Students' Army Training Corps is being perfected. Prof. Charles V. P. Young, professor of physical culture at the University, has been appointed director of athletics for the Students' Army Training Corps. The appointment puts Professor Young, who has directed gymnastic and recreational activities among students for many years, in general charge of the entire recreational program of the student soldiers.

John F. Moakley has been named director of track and Dr. Albert H. Sharpe director of football. All three appointments came through Lieut. Col. Frank A. Barton.

Hours that have been set aside for recreation and sport purposes are Wednesday afternoons from 4 to 6 o'clock and Saturday afternoons. An additional period has been granted for practice of the football team, from 4 to 6 o'clock Monday afternoons. Thus the football team will have four hours' outdoor practice a week besides Saturday afternoon for playing such games as it may be possible to arrange.

As the War Department is emphasizing athletics for recreation, track athletics are likely to be of an informal character not unsimilar to the programs that Jack Moakley has arranged in the past for intercollege and intercompany games. An attempt will be made to provide sports and exercises that will be of physical benefit and at the same time be entertaining.

The general scheme of recreation that Professor Young will work out will be of an intercompany nature. Competition will be stimulated among the various units of the S. A. T. C., the Naval men, and the marines, and efforts will be devoted to encouraging a large number of men to take part in the games. Each company will organize teams to take part in the competitions.

Football plans are not yet complete but the S. A. T. C. will turn out some sort of team. On account of limited material, limited time for practice, and a very late start, it will not be possible to turn out an eleven that will maintain the standard of football played by Cornell in recent years. Inasmuch as all other colleges are facing the same conditions, however, no one team will have any special advantage over another.

Under a ruling of the War Department no out of town trips can be played until after November 1. As no squad had been organized at the beginning of this week it is improbable that any games can be played at all until late in the month. Probable opponents include teams from the aviation, photography, and vocational schools.

No football schedule has yet been framed, however.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Ellen Kelley Hooker '86

Mrs. Ellen Kelly Hooker died in New York on September 29, after a brief illness following a stroke of paralysis.

Mrs. Hooker was born on May 23, 1833. In 1855 she became engaged in educational work in Wisconsin with her husband, Dr. Samuel Lucius Hooker, and in 1871 they went to New York, where she spent several years of work in private educational institutions. In 1882, after the death of Dr. Hooker, she entered Cornell, remaining only one year, and in 1888 was appointed principal of Sage College, retiring in 1897. She was afterward an instructor in literature in the Saginaw High School, and from 1907 to 1909 was an instructor in the National Cathedral School in Washington. She had been an instructor in the Le Roy Academy, and established the Park Place Seminary, a boarding and day school for young women, in Batavia.

She was the mother of the late Samuel Percy Hooker, who was for several years Assemblyman from Genesee County. Her only immediate survivor is her daughter, Miss Agnes Hooker '95, who is principal of the Finch School in New York.

Thomas H. Dowd '92

Word has been received of the death on August 1, of Thomas Harry Dowd '92, of Cortland, who was a student in the Law School from 1890 to 1892.

George W. Ward '93

Judge George Washington Ward died at his home in Dolgeville, N. Y., on October 3. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Ward of Sprout Brook, N. Y., and was born in Belvidere, Ill., on March 17, 1870. He entered the Law School in 1891 and was admitted to the bar in April, 1893. From 1901 to 1907 he was district attorney of Herkimer County and county judge and surrogate for several years thereafter. For the last twelve years he had been engaged in the manufacturer of felt shoes and slippers at Dolgeville. Two years ago he accompanied the Wicks Investigating Committee on their examination into the milk and dairy situation.

John M. Haag '97

John Michael Haag '97 was accidentally killed on February 7, 1918, while felling trees on his farm at Windham, Ohio.

Haag was born November 11, 1862, and entered the College of Civil Engineering in 1893. He received his degree in 1897, and was employed until 1907 as United States Inspector of Yards at Key West, Florida, and in Cuba. He then returned to his home in Cleveland, and soon afterward took up farming at Windham, Ohio, following this occupation until the time of his death.

Thomas H. Cowdin '00

Thomas Hill Cowdin '00 died on September 8 at the German Deaconess Hospital in Buffalo. He was taken ill with diabetes while in New York and returned to his home in Silver Creek; on September 6, when his condition did not improve, he was removed to the hospital in Buffalo.

Cowdin was born in Batavia on June 18, 1877, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Norton Cowdin. He was graduated from the Batavia schools, and entered Cornell in 1896, receiving the degree of M.E. in 1900. While in college he was a member of the Fencers' Club.

After graduation he became associated with the Huntley Manufacturing Company of Silver Creek, N. Y., makers of cleaning and grading machines. He was past master of the Silver Lodge, F. and A. M., of Silver Creek.

He is survived by two aunts.

Walter H. Tracy '05

Walter Hoyt Tracy '05 died at Albuquerque, New Mexico, in May, 1918.

Tracy was born at Towanda, Pa., on August 18, 1880, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Tracy. He attended the Towanda schools, and entered Cornell in 1901, receiving his C.E. degree in 1905. He was a member of Pyramid.

He was levelman with the Pennsylvania lines until 1908. Then, on account of ill health, he went into the West and Southwest, first, in 1909, as a civil engineer in Silver City, New Mexico. In 1910, he was a surveyor for the United States Government at Keams Cañon, Arizona, in 1911 he became associated with the Whitman Steam Company, contractors, of Denver, and in 1912 he returned to Silver City. His health continued to fail, and in 1915 he went to the Presbyterian Sanitarium at Albuquerque, New Mexico, where he remained until his death.

Julius F. Brauner, jr., '05

Julius Frederick Brauner, jr., died on September 4 at his home, 409 South Albany Street, Ithaca, at the age of thirty-eight.

Brauner attended the Ithaca High School, and the Boston Latin School, entering Cornell in 1901, and receiving his C. E. degree in 1905.

Upon his graduation, he entered the employ of Ford, Bacon and Davis, of New York, and in 1910 returned to Cornell as an instructor in the College of Civil Engineering. This position he held until 1916, when he resumed his former position in New York.

Brauner leaves his widow, two daughters, a son, and two brothers, Professor Olaf M. Brauner, of Ithaca, and Henry A. Brauner '09, of Staten Island.

The funeral, at which Dr. William Eliott Griffis officiated, was held from the home on September 6.

Mrs. Cecil M. Horton '06

Mrs. Cecil M. Horton '06 died at her home in Peoria, Ill., on September 29. She was taken ill about a week before with influenza, but her illness was not regarded as serious until pneumonia developed.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Horton was Cecil Watkins Mabee. She was born on October 26, 1883, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Mabee. She attended the Ithaca schools, and entered Cornell in 1902, receiving the degree of A.B. in 1906. She was a member of Der Hexenkreis, Raven and Serpent, Sennightly, Ichthus, and Kismet, and played on her class basketball teams during the first three years of her course.

Soon after her graduation she went to Peoria, and on December 28, 1910, was married to Philip Zell Horton '10. They lived in Parkersburg, W. Va., for a short time but later returned to Peoria.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Horton is survived by a son, Philip Zell jr.

Jacob Biersuck '13

Jacob Biersuck '13 died at the Charlotte, N. C., Sanitorium on January 25, 1918, after an illness of only a few days with cerebro-spinal meningitis. He had been exposed to the disease in his work as head of the Welfare League of South Carolina, and it is thought that he so weakened himself by his devotion to his work that he was an easy prey to the disease.

Biersuck was born in Brooklyn November 26, 1890, and prepared for college at the Boys' High School. He won both State and University scholarships, and entered Cornell in 1908, graduating with the degree of C.E. in 1913. He was for two years a member of the cross country team.

After graduation he was employed by the New York State Public Service Commission of the First District, of New York City, and later by the City Transit Department of Philadelphia. For six months previous to his death he had been structural and hydraulic designer for the Southern Public Utilities Company.

He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Biersuck, one sister, and one brother, all of Brooklyn.

John M. Hogan '19

John Meredith Hogan '19, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hogan, of Taylorville, Ill., died at his home on September 14, following a seven-months' illness.

Hogan was born at Taylorville on July 30, 1897, and entered Cornell in 1915, taking the course of arts. He was a member of Kappa Sigma and of Quill and Dagger, and was elected business manager of The Widow for 1918-19.

Although under military age, he applied for admission to the First Officers' Training Camp at Fort Sheridan, Ill., but was rejected following the physical examination.

Last February he underwent an operation for appendicitis, and had gradually declined, although every means was exhausted to improve his condition.

William Kent

William Kent, the eminent engineer, who lectured here several times, died at Gananoque, Ont., on September 18. He was sixty-seven years old. He had been an editor of several engineering papers, among which was Industrial Engineering, and was a voluminous writer and an extensive lecturer. Among his books were "The Strength of Materials" (1879), "The Strength of Wrought Iron and Chain Cables" (1879), "The Mechanical Engineer's Pocket Book" (1895, 9th ed., 1915), and "Steam Boiler Economy" (1901).

He had taken out over twenty patents and was an expert on structural steel and iron and on reinforced concrete for building purposes.

Frank B. Moody

Professor Frank Benjamin Moody, extension professor of forestry at Cornell from 1913 to 1915, died suddenly in a hospital at Madison, Wis., on August 21. He graduated A.B. from Bates College in 1902 and received the degree of M. S. F. from Michigan in 1906. He was a member of the Wisconsin Forestry Commission and lecturer in forestry at the University of Wisconsin.

SAGE CHAPEL PREACHERS

The following clergymen have been appointed preachers in Sage Chapel for the first term:

October 13—The Rev. William R. Taylor (Presbyterian), Brick Presbyterian Church, Rochester.

October 20—The Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick (Baptist), Union Theological Seminary, New York City.

October 27—The Rev. Ambröse W. Vernon (Congregationalist), Harvard Church, Brookline, Mass.

November 3—The Rev. R. Bruce Taylor (Presbyterian), principal of Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario.

November 10—The Rev. Samuel A. Eliot (Unitarian), president of the American Unitarian Association, Boston, Mass.

November 17—The Rev. Charles W. Gilkey (Baptist), Hyde Park Baptist Church, Chicago, Ill.

November 24—The Rev. George Hodges (Episcopalian), dean of the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass.

December 1—The Rev. Francis G. Peabody (Unitarian), Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

December 8—The Rev. William F. McDowell (Methodist), bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Washington, D. C.

December 15—The Rev. Tertius Van Dyke (Presbyterian), Park Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City.

THE CITY OF ITHACA is now a barred zone, and every enemy alien has had to leave or else secure official permission to remain in town. The Federal order comprehends the whole city because of the wide separation of Government interests and institutions, some in the business section, some at the Inlet, some on South Hill, and some at the University. A United States marshal came to Ithaca to issue the permits.

ALUMNI NOTES

'89MME—Major John H. Barr, Ordnance Department, U. S. Army, is assigned to the Aircraft Armament Section, Engineering Division, Washington. He lives at the St. Nicholas Apartments, 2230 California St.

'91AB—Colonel Ervin L. Phillips, who was with the 307th Cavalry at Del Rio, Texas, is now attached to the 51st Field Artillery at Camp Bowie, Texas.

'93LLB—James T. Rogers, for many years a member of the State Assembly and one of the most prominent Red Men in New York State, was elected Great Inchoonee of the Improved Order of Red Men of the United States at a meeting of the Great Council in Cleveland in September.

'94LLB, '95LLM—Charles B. Mason is practicing law in Utica, N. Y., with offices in the Mayro Building. He lives at 137 Proctor Boulevard, New Hartford, N. Y.

'97ME—Clarence W. Gail, who is in charge of the steel department of the American Shipbuilding Company, Cleveland, Ohio, has changed his residence address from the University Club to 1455 Waterbury Road, Lakewood, Ohio.

'02AB—Charles A. Taussig and Miss Damaris Risner (Columbia '18) were married in New York on June 26, by the Rev. Dr. Henry Clay Risner, father of the bride. J. Hawley Taussig '97, a brother of the groom, acted as best man. They spent a three-weeks' wedding trip in the Adirondacks and Canada.

'02AB—Albert H. Huntington, who was for several years a teacher of mathematics in the Central High School, St. Louis, and during the past year was assistant principal of the new Ben Blewett Junior High School, of St. Louis, has been called to the Lincoln School, New York, as a teacher of mathematics. The Lincoln School is an experimental school, connected with Teachers College, Columbia University.

'04CE—Haines Gridley is manager of the Oro Fina Mining Company, Placer County, Calif., and of the Stockholders' Mining Company, Calaveras County, Calif. He lives at East Auburn, Calif.

'06AB—Roger S. Vail severed his connection with H. S. Vail and Sons, actuaries, of Chicago, on June 17, to enlist in the American Red Cross. He spent some time at Camp Custer and Camp Grant, and sailed for France about September 10.

'06ME; '09AB—A daughter, Annette Sailor, was born on June 27 to Mr. and Mrs. Horace Price Sailor, of Shanghai, China. Mrs. Sailor was formerly Miss Sarah M. Bailey, of Ithaca.

'07CE—Gordon B. Canaga is an engineer in charge of the Designing Section, Division of Ship Yard Plants, U. S. Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation, Philadelphia, Pa.

'08—Second Lieut. Ralph W. Hiatt, A. S., Signal R. C., is now stationed at Headquarters, Air Service, American Expeditionary Forces. His address is Information Section, Air Service, A. P. O. 717.

'09CE; '10CE—Robert W. Clark and Frank G. Foster are with Fred T. Ley and Co., Inc., Mobile, Ala.

'09AB—Sergeant Harry R. James has been assigned to U. S. A. Base Hospital No. 11. His address is A. P. O. 767, American Expeditionary Forces.

'09AB—The Trustees of the Baltimore Fund, of which Roscoe C. Edlund is secretary, have issued a comprehensive report for the first year. The fund corresponds roughly to the Ithaca War Chest, but includes local welfare work. It was established in April, 1917. It has pledges totaling $700,055 (payments divided principally over three years), and up to April 30 last had paid out, through local charitable organizations and the Red Cross, $280,011; it has cash on hand amounting to $43,484.58. The report is a model of conciseness, and the social worker will find it worth perusing. Edlund's address is McCoy Hall, Baltimore.

'09CE—Lieut. Robert B. Stanton, jr., has been assigned to Company 5, Engineer Officers' Training Camp, Camp Humphreys, Va.

New Students will want to benefit by the experience of others

It takes a long time to build up a reputation worth while. The Co-op. went at it slowly, and it has become the custom for the students to trade at the Co-op. because we work for them. Whether you want to buy any thing now or not is immaterial, come and get acquainted. Dividends are payable to students of last year on November 1st.
