ANDERSON '89 GIVES Unallocated Professorship

Gift to the University of $200,000 from John W. Anderson '89, for the endowment of a professorship, was announced Friday by President Edmund E. Day at the annual banquet of the Cornell Club of Michigan in Detroit. The donor has specified that the President and Trustees may assign the professorship at their discretion to any part of the University. It is expected that the first incumbent of the John Wendell Anderson Professorship may be designated at the meeting of the Trustees April 27.

A special wire from Detroit to Anderson in Pasadena, Calif., where he is spending the winter, carried President Day's address announcing his gift. In a message to the Club, the donor said, "I am particularly pleased that the first announcement will be made at the Cornell alumni dinner in Detroit. I have been a member of that Cornell Alumni Association for many years and have often attended its annual dinners in the old days and spoke at them. I greatly regret that I cannot be present this time except in spirit."

A retired attorney and former director of the Ford Motor Company, Anderson makes his home in Grosse Point, Mich. He entered the Optional Course at Cornell in 1885 and remained one year, becoming a member of Chi Psi and of the Freshman banquet committee. He has retained active interest in the fraternity, and served as national president from 1923-30.

He received the LLB at the University of Michigan in 1890, and entered the practice of law in Detroit, forming a partnership with Horace H. Rackham there in 1896. In 1903, with Rackham, he became one of the incorporators and a principal stockholder of Ford Motor Co., and for many years their firm was counsel to Henry Ford and the Ford Motor Co. Anderson retired from active practice in 1924.

This is Anderson's second substantial gift to the University. In 1920 he gave $25,000 to the Semi-Centennial Endowment Fund. At this time, he says, it is his conviction that an endowment fund unrestricted in its allocation can be of greatest service to Cornell.

Last July he visited Ithaca in his yacht, tied up in the Inlet over night, and drove around the Campus with Professor Charles L. Durham '99.

NEWMAN CLUB at Cornell has elected United States Supreme Court Justice Frank J. Murphy an honorary member.

CLASS SECRETARIES TO MEET

Association of Class Secretaries will meet with Emmet J. Murphy '22, Alumni Secretary, March 9, at Midston House, 22 East Thirty-eighth Street, New York City. They will gather there for luncheon. Secretaries and delegates from all Classes will discuss plans for Reunions in Ithaca next June 14-16. Twenty-seven Classes are scheduled to hold Reunions this year: '69, '70, '71, '75, '80, '85, '87, '88, '89, '90, '95, '00, '05, '06, '07, '08, '09, '10, '15, '20, '25, '26, '27, '28, '30, '35, '38.

NEW MEDICAL SCHOLARSHIPS

Two new scholarship funds to aid students in the Medical College in New York were established by the University Trustees at their recent meeting.

The Jeremiah S. Ferguson Scholarship Fund of $5,000 memorializes a member of the original Medical College Faculty, secretary of the College since 1914, who died June 30, 1939. Income of approximately $200 a year will be awarded annually to outstanding students in the third and fourth years in need of financial need. Dr. Ferguson was the father of Dr. Albert B. Ferguson '17 and Dr. Russell S. Ferguson '18.

An anonymous gift of $10,000 endows the Charles R. Stockard Scholarships, in memory of Dr. Stockard, who had been a member of the Faculty since 1906 and died April 17, 1939. He was widely known for his research on the inheritance of physical and behavioral characteristics and other work with animals at the College's experimental farm near Peekskill, which he organized and directed.

NEW MANUAL TELLS HOW Alumni Work with Schools

To make high school principals and heads of preparatory schools throughout the country think instinctively of Cornell when asked by their best students for advice on choosing a college, and to implant the same idea in the students themselves and their parents, is a great undertaking. It calls for careful organization, persistence, and at times even for courage and sacrifice. But Cornell alumni are used to large undertakings, and are attacking the problem of secondary school relations with vigor and success.

Specific procedure for Cornellians to interest promising candidates for enrollment in the University is packed into a new Manual of Secondary School Relations, the Preface of which contains the foregoing paragraph. Published by the Alumni Association's committee on relations with secondary schools, the booklet is being mailed by the Alumni Office to officers of all Cornell Clubs and to members of secondary school committees of the thirty-six Clubs which have such committees. It may be obtained from the Alumni Office by any Cornellian who will work with his local schools toward interesting their best all-around students in Cornell.

The University's problem is not to get more students, but to improve steadily the quality of its student body. Of pocket size for convenient reference, the booklet's thirty-six pages outline concisely the procedures which have been developed by Cornell Clubs and individuals. It describes the various helps which the University supplies to interested alumni, a detailed program for establishing and maintaining relations with local schools, Cornell Day at Ithaca, school activities of Cornell Clubs, and information on Alumni Regional Scholarships and McMullen Scholarships in Engineering, with a brief statement on the University's policy on athletics. A calendar index suggests a program of secondary school work throughout the year.

The Manual has been in preparation for several months. Executive committee of the Alumni Association committee responsible for its publication is composed of William J. Thorne '11, Syracuse, chairman; Eugene C. Batchelar '02, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Robert C. Hosmer '03, Syracuse; Prentice Cushing '05, Albany; John S. Gorrell '05, Washington, D. C.; Alfred H. Hutchinson '09, Chicago, Ill.; Howard T. Critchlow '10, Trenton, N. J.; Clarence J. Pope '10, Orange, N. J.; Henry R. Gundlach '12, Baltimore, Md.; G. Gilson Terriberry '15, Summit, N. J.; Chandler L. Burpee '17, Philadelphia, Pa.; Marvin R. Dye '17, Rochester; Herbert R. Johnson '17, Buffalo; Frank Nitzberg '22, Detroit, Mich.; and Norman F. Bissell '27, Boston, Mass. Largely responsible for compiling and preparing the Manual were Thorne, Ray S. Ashbery '25, Alumni Field Secretary, and Raymond F. Howes '24.

THREE GET SERVICE AWARDS

Three Cornellians who are county agricultural agents in New York State have been awarded distinguished service certificates "for long and efficient service in the agricultural industry." Presentations were made in Chicago, Ill., by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents, to Don D. Ward '12 of Onondaga County, Ray F. Pollard '15 of Schoharie County, and Clarence M. Slack '16 of Washington County.

WESTCHESTER WOMEN

Cornell Women's Club of Westchester County had as guest at its January meeting Mrs. Robert C. Osborn (Agda T. Swenson) '20, of Ithaca, president of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs. She spoke of student life on the Campus and the work of the Federation. The meeting was January 30, at the home of Marguerite Hicks '26, in Pelham Manor. A secondary schools committee headed by Mrs. Georgina Halsey Schoof '10 is planning a tea for prospective Cornellians, and will arrange for girls to attend Cornell Day for Women in Ithaca, April 27.

At the previous meeting, December 9, at the home of Mrs. Roy W. Shaver (G. Marion Hess) '17 in Scarsdale, Christmas stories were read by Mrs. Edmund H. Stevens (Norma V. LaBarre) '15. The president, Mary E. Dixon '38, presided at both.

ALUMNI BRAVE UPSTATE BLIZZARD TO HEAR SNAVELY

Snow-blocked roads February 14 did not prevent some 175 men from attending a meeting of the Caledonia Lions Club and the Avon Rotary Club to hear Coach Carl G. Snavely talk about Cornell football and diagnose movies of the Ohio State game. Howard J. Ludington '17 (left), president of the Cornell Club of Rochester, and Robert L. Griffith, the photographer, braved the blizzard to get there. Next to Ludington is Joseph W. Ward '13, who was chairman of the meeting, then Dr. William H. Sutterby '16, Coach Snavely, and Thomas W. Morrissey '00, who walked five miles through the snowdrifts to get there. "Nothing could keep me away," he said.

About ATHLETICS

CORNELL 34, PRINCETON 33

The basketball team defeated Princeton, 34-33, at Princeton last Saturday to take second place in the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League, with Princeton now third and Dartmouth still in first place.

Howard S. Dunbar '41 of Roselle Park, N. J., set off a second-half rally that produced the victory. Totalling 10 points, he tied the score at 30-30 and broke it with a field goal from inside the foul circle. Princeton's Bartlett converted a free throw, but a substitute guard, Frank K. Burgess '42 of Aurora, Ill., caged a long set shot for a 3-point lead. Peters, Princeton center, scored a field goal and Stewart, trying a long shot sixteen seconds before the final gun, missed.

Princeton gained the lead in the first two minutes of play, but never led by more than 3 points. The score at the half was 20-17. With six minutes to play Princeton held a 5-point advantage, 28-23. Dunbar started his scoring rally, aided by Burgess, to send Cornell ahead.

The result left Cornell with six victories in nine games and Princeton with five victories in eight games. League standings:

	W	L	P	OP
Dartmouth	8	1	442	353
Cornell	6	3	347	301
Princeton	5	3	291	295
Yale	4	4	342	318
Harvard	3	5	293	339
Columbia	2	6	293	302
Pennsylvania	1	7	307	407

James E. Bennett '41 of Poland, Ohio, relinquished the lead in individual scoring to Broberg of Dartmouth. Broberg's total of 124 included 42 field goals and 40 free throws. Bennett threw 43 field goals and 28 free points for a total of 114. Wellington L. Ramsey '41 of Haverford, Pa., held fifth place with 85 points.

The Princeton game box score:

Score at half: Princeton 20, Cornell 17. Referees, Walsh and Kennedy.

The Junior Varsity basketball team won two games last week, defeating Ithaca College, 43-27, at Ithaca College February 21 and Rochester Business Institute, 46-26, in Barton Hall February 23. Ivan R. Wood '40 of Mount Morris scored 12 points against Ithaca and Angelo Repas '40 of Plattsburg 10 against RBI. In both games Cornell took an early lead and was never headed.

TRACK TEAM SECOND

For the fourth time in five years, the track team finished second in the annual quadrangular indoor meet in Boston, Mass., last Saturday night. Harvard won with 50 points. Cornell scored 40, Dartmouth 27½, and Yale 26½.

Emery G. Wingerter '40 of Red Bank, N. J., won the mile in 4:31.4; John L. Ayer '41 of Syracuse, the two-mile run in 9:49. Other first places were taken by the one-mile relay team (Rex W. Wood '41 of Mohawk, Kenneth I. Zeigler '42 of White Plains, George A. Knoerl '42 of Buffalo, and Captain Walter W. Zittel, Jr. '40 of Buffalo) in 3:27.9 and the two-mile relay team (Samuel D. Lambert '41 of New York City, George M. Walker '40 of Somerville, Mass., Elliott S. Washburn '40 of Wilmington, Del., and Wingerter) in 8:07.4.

Other Cornell places: Frederick W. West, Jr. '41 of Lansdowne, Pa., third in shot put, 46 ft. 1½ in.; Hays Clark '41 of Suffern, second in weight throw, 45 ft. 7¼ in.; Frank P. Hoag '42 of Poughquag, second in one-mile run; Zeigler, second in 600-yard run; Zittel, third in 50-yard dash; Lester E. Murdock '41 of Buffalo, fourth in broad jump, 22 ft. 5½ in.; Willard C. Schmidt '41 of Rochester, second in 1,000-yard run; Zittel, third in 300-yard run; and Nathaniel E. White '41 of Wenonah, N. J., third in two-mile run.

Murdock participated in the jump despite an injury to his foot. During the Penn State meet in Barton Hall February 17, a spike worked through his shoe and punctured the skin.

The Freshman one-mile relay team (Gerald N. Bowne of Poughkeepsie, Paul M. Kelsey of Ithaca, John L. Carter of Jackson, Mich., and Arthur Smith of Elmira) won in 3:34.

WRESTLERS BEAT LEHIGH

For the first time since 1930, when Cornell last won the intercollegiate championship, the Varsity wrestling team defeated Lehigh, 15-11, in the Old Armory February 22. Seven intercollegiate championships since 1930 have gone to Lehigh; the other two to Penn State. This year's meet with Lehigh was marked by only one fall and two draws.

Cornell ran up a 9-0 lead as Joseph C. Littleton '42 of Corning, 121 pounds; Captain Robert H. Mathers '40 of Upper Darby, Pa., 128 pounds; and Joseph S. Mount '42 of Ithaca, 135 pounds, scored decisions in closely-fought matches. It was Mount's first bout since he underwent an abdominal operation last summer.

Quinn of Lehigh defeated Morton A. Serrell '40 of Holmdel, N. J., in the 145-pound class, and the visitors' outstanding wrestler, Masem, an intercollegiate champion, threw James N. Trousdell '40 of Glen Cove in the 155-pound class to make the score 9-8 in Cornell's favor. Masem put Trousdell down with a bar arm hold in 5:05.

Theodore K. Bowen '41 of Nedrow turned in another decision for Cornell in the 165-pound class, a result that actually clinched the meet, for the next two bouts were called draws, with the teams sharing the 6 points involved. Forbes H. Brown '42 of Broadbin wrestled in the 175-pound class and William R. Harrison '41 of Bantam, Conn., in the unlimited division.

BOXERS TIE ARMY

Army boxers made up a two-point deficit to tie Cornell, 4-4, in Barton Hall last Saturday night, as the spectators expressed prolonged disapproval of the referee's decision awarding the 175-pound bout to the Army.

Victories by John W. Brown '40 of Irvington, N. J., 120 pounds; Captain William Fine '40 of Canastota, 145 pounds; John M. Clark '41 of Ithaca, 155 pounds; and David C. Peace '41 of Rydal, Pa., 165 pounds, put Cornell into a 4-2 lead with two bouts to go.

Matty L. Urbanowitz '41 of Buffalo and Clay fought on virtually even terms the first two rounds of the 175-pound bout. To the spectators it seemed that Urbanowitz earned a distinct edge in the final round, but Referee Roy Martineau of Syracuse picked Clay.

Stella of Army proceeded to tie the score by scoring a knockout over Thomas A. Schultz '40 of Baltimore, Md., after thirty seconds of the third round of the heavyweight contest.

Losing decisions were John G. Rowe '41 of Rochester, 127 pounds, and Leonard D. Gluckson '42 of Atlantic City, N. J., 135 pounds.

FENCERS DEFEAT TWO

The fencing team turned in a one-sided victory over Penn State and Syracuse in Barton Hall last Saturday. Cornell defeated Penn State, 16½-10½, and Syracuse, 24½-2½. Penn State defeated Syracuse, 21½-5½.

Benjamin Suchoff '40 of Brooklyn won six straight saber matches, with thirty touches to eight for his opponents. Charles N. Lowenfeld '40 of New York City won five of six matches in foils, and Jack L. Ratzkin '40 of Brooklyn compiled the same record in epee bouts.

SWIMMERS LOSE

The swimming team won two first places in losing to Princeton, 52-23, at Princeton February 21.

Edward S. White '42 of Greenwich, Conn., captured the diving contest and the relay team won a 400-yard freestyle race in 3:53.1. In the relay were William W. Paty, Jr. '42 of Honolulu, Hawaii, Jeffrey W. Graham '41 of VillaNova, Pa., Theodore W. Lanman '41 of East Chicago, Ind., and Captain Eugene S. Thorpe '40 of Eden.

POLO TEAM LOSES

The ROTC polo team lost to Princeton, 17-5, at Princeton last Saturday, with Marcus M. Day, Jr. '42 of Detroit, Mich., scoring 3 of Cornell's 5 goals. Princeton took a 4-1 lead in the opening period and was held to a 2-1 advantage in the second. Princeton, however, opened up a scoring rally that produced 11 goals in the last two periods.

Captain James M. Easter '40 of Owings Mills, Md., and Herbert F. Schiffer '41 of Elberon, N. J., each scored once.

FRESHMEN KEEP BUSY

Freshman teams last week won three and lost two contests.

The basketball team broke even, losing to Colgate, 48-29, February 21 and defeating Bucknell Junior College, 46-38, February 23. Both games were played in Barton Hall. Hugh N. Bennett of Poland, Ohio, scored 18 points against Colgate, more than the combined total of his teammates. High scorer against Bucknell, with 13 points, was Robert J. Roshirt of Detroit, Mich.

The swimmers defeated Colgate, 41-25, at Hamilton, and the polo team won over McDonough School, 16-9, in the Riding Hall last Saturday. In the Old Armory last Saturday, the wrestlers lost to Wyoming Seminary, 24-11.

HOCKEY CLOSES SEASON

The hockey team lost to Hamilton, 6-3, at Clinton last Saturday in its last game of the season. Hamilton scored 3 goals in the final period to break a 3-3 tie.

A game scheduled with Colgate on Beebe Lake February 21 was cancelled because of poor ice.

SKIERS RACE TWICE

The ski team finished fifth in the annual Intercollegiate Ski Union meet at Hamilton College last Saturday, one week after it had failed, by less than a point, to retain its New York State Intercollegiate Ski Association championship over the same course.

Amherst won the Ski Union title with 470.69 points. Cornell scored 435.65.

Ski Association championship went to Syracuse, runner-up in the Ski Union meet, with 276.55 points. Cornell, defending the title it won at Ithaca in 1939, scored 275.58 points.

In the two meets, leading Cornell performers were Frederick A. Potter, Jr. '41 of Saranac Lake and Robert T. Edmunds '42 of New Hartford, in cross country; William O. Nicoll '41 of Scotia, jump;

DEBATE ASSOCIATION held a discussion in Willard Straight Hall February 27 with students from Union College, on the subject, "How Can Relations With Latin-America Best Be Promoted?"

NOW IN MY TIME!

By Romeyn Berry

The current undergraduate, in our opinion, is a more admirable specimen than his father was at the same age and in comparable circumstances: more intelligent, more mannerly, a bigger, healthier, and more skillful animal. But the current undergraduate can't sing very well in the mass. In that department the father is still immeasurably his superior.

That conviction was born in on us last week at the Cornell Club in New York where some excellent congregational singing was enhanced by the fresh young voices of Messrs. Bill Forbes '06, Rollo Blanchard '10, Eddie Goodwillie '10, Charlie Beavers '11, Robert Burns '07, Roy Umstad '06, and another half-dozen unidentified gaffers named Stubby '09. Perhaps thirty-five years out of college on the average, this group clustered skull to skull and for five consecutive hours gave tongue like so many meadow-larks. It was a delightful entertainment, and in the field of casual singing the undergraduates are recommended to emulate the example of their progenitors.

This department has never subscribed to the traditional American university attitude toward alumni. Admitting that individual graduates are not infrequently charming, cultivated, and creditable, it regards alumni in the mass as the chronic headache of higher education in America, vastly more of a handicap to academic progress than a help; regards the kind words with which they are unceasingly buttered by campus stipendiaries as conventionalized twaddle.

On the other hand, alumni find much innocent enjoyment in just being alumni, and they have it in their power to contribute substantially (the older classes anyway) to the happiness of their fellow men through the medium of song.

With that thought in mind, we believe that Mr. Otto Affeld '97 was inspired on Monday night at the Cornell Club, when he suggested that all Class secretaries and Reunion agencies should concentrate on getting back at least 1,000 good singers this June and at all subsequent Reunions. Mr. Affeld argued at some length that if you get the singers back, all the others will come of their own accord, and you won't have to bother with them, or with anything else.

We agree entirely. The more singers you have and the more continuously you can keep them singing, the better for everybody. The more our older graduates are kept singing, which they are very good at, the less time they will have to tell how a university ought to be run, which they aren't the least bit good at.

SYRACUSE WOMEN MEET

Twenty-two members of the Cornell Women's Club of Syracuse met February 5 at the home of Mrs. Alfred J. Paolini (Elsie L. Clark) '29. Reports were given by Mrs. David A. Fraser (Marion E. Ford) '33 on plans for Cornell Day for Women and a Club tea for Syracuse girls; and by Mrs. Leonard E. Tiffany (Florence K. Snyder) '12 on the Federation Scholarship Fund. Silent tribute was paid to the memory of Mrs. Patrick F. Milmoie (Margaret E. Mooney) '86 of Canastota, who died February 2.

MRS. ROOSEVELT BECOMES STOCKHOLDER IN HOTEL EZRA CORNELL

Here for Farm and Home Week, the First Lady was presented the first share in the fifteenth annual "Hotel-for-a-Day," to be run by students of Hotel Administration, next May 10. ## FROM FAR BELOW . . .

By Bob Bliss '30

We like the way Mrs. Roosevelt keeps her appointments. It doesn't matter where she is or what she's doing, if her routine calls for her to be on a train bound for her next engagement, she grabs a sandwich and hops along, leaving the city fathers and notables still floundering in the soup course. Her fidelity to her Ithaca audience at Farm and Home Week is well known. What we liked was the way she bucked the blizzard to keep her date this year, the same way we've all battled our way to Syracuse and back during that annual Junior Week snow-fall to get the Vassar girls off the New York Central. The lady has pluck. And then, after doing her stint, she rushed right over to Elmira to grab the rattler to her next destination, wet feet and all.

You may or may not agree with the President on some of his policies, but we are sure you'll go along with us when we say that his helpmeet is one of the grandest characters of our time; and her sincere interest in current happenings is something. She puts us in mind of biology notes that tell about the seeing ability of the house-fly with its thousand-lensed compound eye, or the constantly waving feelers of the ubiquitous grasshopper.

We get lots of suggestions for subject matter, and Oscar Miller '11 mentioned one the other day that has set us thinking. One of the tough problems of any Cornell matters of record is up-to-the-minute mailing lists of graduates. There's a lot of alumni leakage. Charley Capivisy enters in '40, to graduate if he's lucky in June of '44. Charley gets to doing two-a-day at the flickers downtown and bending a bit with the boys at the Dutch, and busts out in '41. What becomes of Charley, as far as the University is concerned? Does anyone trail him between that time and the June of his pre-supposed Senior year when a Class Secretary is created? Does the Class Secretary have him on the list of Reunion prospects? Too many times, the guys in his own office don't know he went to Cornell until he's made president of the works and gives a fund for the new gym in the name of his brother who was a third-string back. In those long years in between he never gets back to Ithaca; never joins or works through a Cornell Club for the progress of his Alma Mater. He's a "leaked" alumnus. It's a good point, Oscar. We'll pass it along for you to Emmet Murphy, with our interest and regards.

You've probably seen the smart young couple in ski clothes that have been posing in Campbell Soup ads this winter in the prints. The good looking gal is the former Natalie Peace, daughter of Bill Peace '05, and the swain struggling with his harness is her husband, Bus Whitman '31, son of Ezra B., Sr. '01. Note to tourists: If you visit them at "In A Field" their home in Meadowbrook, the place is mined with Campbell's tinned goods, and they'll bail it to you 'til it comes out of your ears.

The Cornell Club bridge team had things pretty well their way for a while in the New York club league. They were well ahead in the club championships, until they were tripped up by Pennsylvania by a scant 280 points; the first time in the league recollections that a Quaker team trounced the Cayugas. That threw the league into a four-way tie for first, Yale, Princeton, and Williams having been eliminated, so now they've got to play it off again. In attempting to do it the hard way now, Cornell walloped Dartmouth last week and will play the survivor of a Penn-Columbia tilt for top dog. Bill Pellet '00 and Clark R. Wilcox '23 are still the league pairs champions.

NEW WOMEN'S CLUB

New Cornell Women's Club is that of Fulton and Montgomery Counties in up-State New York. President is Catherine L. Bower '36 of Fort Hunter; secretary, Lucy J. Collins, Hagaman.

ENGINEERS WRITE

In The Cornell Engineer for February, two alumni describe large engineering projects which they have constructed. Glen B. Woodruff '10, design engineer of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge, writes on the problems encountered there. Samuel E. Hunkin '16, executive vice-president of the Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co., describes "The Whitney Point Dam" which his company is building near Ithaca for flood control, under the U. S. Engineer Corps. His firm is also a partner with Pacific Constructors, Inc., in building Shasta Dam in northern California, second largest dam in the world. Willis H. Carrier '01, president of the Cornell Society of Engineers, continues his discussion of engineering education as seen by the employer.

1900 CLUB MEETS AGAIN

Seven Cornellians of a group which forty-six years ago pledged to dine together February 9 every five years so long as "health permits" gathered for this year's quinquennial meeting at the Waldorf Astoria in New York City. Those present were Greely S. Curtis '94 of Boston, Mass., Frederick P. Fuller '94 of Yonkers, John M. Parker '96 of Owego, Colonel Joseph W. Beacham, Jr. '97 from Atlantic City, N. J., Charles H. Blair '97 and Henry Sheldon '97 of New York City, and Ernest M. Bull '98 of New York City. Messages were received from eight of the other nine living members of the group. William F. Atkinson '95 and Ezra C. Blair '96, dining together in California, telegraphed their greetings, as did Norman B. Livermore '95 from California. Letters of regret were read from George P. Dyer '95 in Cuba, Frederick C. Fletcher '96 and John Wilkinson, Jr. '96 in Florida, and Morton K. McMillan '96 in California. Myron Upham '97 was confined to his home by illness.

The 1900 Club was formed by members of Psi Upsilon, February 9, 1894, when they pledged to meet in New York City at the Waldorf-Astoria, or its site, February 9, 1900. The idea came from an English novel, The Harlequin Opal, which told the adventures of a group of English schoolboys who signed such a pledge and of their adventures afterward. At the 1900 meeting, the pledge was renewed to meet five years later, and it has been renewed at each meeting. There have been twenty-eight members of the Club.

At this year's meeting, the pledge was renewed to meet in 1945, and an additional pledge was signed, to meet at the Psi Upsilon house in Ithaca during Reunions in 1944, "to help Steen Curtis and Shorty Fuller celebrate their Fiftieth Reunion." The group enjoyed color motion pictures recently taken, showing the present undergraduate chapter of the fraternity at work and play.

REPORT FROM FINLAND

ALUMNI NEWS December 21 quoted a New York Times report that Laurin Zilliacus '16 had piloted a plane carrying medical supplies from England to Finland. Now, Weyland Pfeiffer, '16 Class secretary, sends us a translation of an interview with Zilliacus published in the Swedish newspaper, Hufvudstadsbladet, of Helsingfors. He reached Helsingfors December 5, having been in England since the outbreak of the war between the Allies and Germany. The paper reports that he flew "over Tornea and had opportunity to see the stream of fugitives who, day after day, crossed our northern boundary into Norway to protect themselves and their families from the Russian so-called 'Will to Peace'."

Zilliacus told the newspaper of the great indignation against Russia in England and of British admiration for the Finns. All British political parties except Communists and Fascists, he said, "were unanimous that the root of the evil is in Hitler's regime and that Hitler once and for all must be crushed." The Communists and Fascists he described as having become suddenly united in a belief that "the struggle against Hitler . . . has become purely imperialistic. Now it has gone so far that the Communists defend Hitler's regime; just one more cynical paradox in this age of paradoxes."

Opposition in England to Chamberlain and his government was cited on the ground that British war preparations are "too closely tied to too many big private interests" instead of "gathering together the entire powers of the nation in a single solid block." Zilliacus was further quoted:

"In England, there is the definite impression that Finland by the position which it has taken during these recent weeks has performed two invaluable services for the world. For one thing, Finland once and for all has torn the mask from the present Russian regime; and for another, our country has given an outstanding example of how a thoroughly convinced democratic state such as Finland meets a serious crisis which leads to war simply because of the lust for power of the other party—calmly, with dignity, smoothly, and with absolute faith toward the basic principles of democracy. Personally, I must say that I think the Englishman's admiration for Finland's attitude is mixed with a certain portion of envy. A small country has shown the world what union and co-operation, these two simple words, can mean when they are most seriously used. Whatever may happen, Finland has lighted a torch in the world conscience."

SEVEN CORNELLIANS RENEW PLEDGE OF 1894, AT QUINQUENNIAL DINNER

Sixteen alumni are living of the twenty-eight members of the 1900 Club, pledged to dine together every fifth February 9 at the Waldorf Astoria, New York City, "or its site." Left to right, those present this year were Ernest M. Bull '98, Frederick P. Fuller '94, Charles H. Blair '97, Greely S. Curtis '94, John M. Parker '96, Joseph W. Beacham, Jr. '97, and Henry Sheldon '97.

Laurin Zilliacus attended school in England, entered the Chemistry Course in 1912 and remained until 1914. Several years ago he founded the first so-called "progressive" school in Finland, the Tolo Swedish Coeducational School in Helsingfors. He is married and has two children.

TUCSON STUDIES GAME

Ohio State football game movies were a feature of the annual banquet of the Cornell Club of Tucson, Ariz., January 26 at the Pioneer Hotel. Dr. Alfred Atkinson, MS '12, president of the University of Arizona and retiring as president of the Club, was toastmaster. He introduced the new president, John L. Creveling '95, who spoke briefly to the thirty-one members present.

SNARELY IN SCHENECTADY

Cornell Club of Schenectady had 110 men and women, including alumni of several other universities, at a Washington's Birthday gathering to hear Coach Carl Snarely speak on football and describe motion pictures of the Ohio State and Princeton games. Theodore C. Ohart '29 presented P. Paul Miller '18, who introduced Coach Snarely. Hubert H. Race '21 led the singing of Cornell songs.

ITHACA WOMEN AT WORK

Cornell Women's Club of Ithaca has embarked upon an intensive campaign to raise $10,000 for the Federation Scholarship Fund, to provide financial help to deserving women undergraduates at the University. This sum will endow one scholarship of $400 a year or two of $200, it is estimated. Broadcasts are being made from the University radio station, WESG, talks are being given before Ithaca organizations, and chairmen for each Class of Ithaca alumnae have been appointed.

General chairman is Mrs. Alpheus M. Goodman (Clara W. Browning) '12; with Mrs. Simon H. Gage (Clara C. Starrett) '18, chairman of the scholarship award committee; Ruth E. Davis '17, treasurer of the fund; and Mrs. Robert C. Osborn (Agda T. Swenson) '20, president of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs.

NEW ENGINEERING COUNCIL

Engineering College Council, charged "to study the work of the College of Engineering, to advise the Administration and Board of Trustees with regard to policies and programs concerning the College, to add to available resources, and in other ways to strengthen the work of the College," has been recently reconstituted by the Board of Trustees.

Besides President Edmund E. Day and Dean S. C. Hollister, ex-officio, membership of the Council now comprises Colonel Frederick W. Scheidenhelm '05, consulting engineer; John C. Wilson '06, vice-president of the Cutler Hammer Co.; Alexander W. Dann '07, executive vice-president of the Dravo Construction Co.; James W. Parker '08, former Alumni Trustee of the University and vice-president of the Detroit Edison Co.; Thomas Midgley, Jr. '11, vice-president of the Ethyl Gasoline Corp.; J. Carlton Ward, Jr. '14, vice-president of United Aircraft Corp.; Oliver E. Buckley, PhD '14, executive vice-president of Bell Telephone Laboratories and chairman of the Engineering Foundation; Harold W. Elley, PhD '16, assistant director of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co. research laboratories; and Walker L. Cislir '22, assistant chief engineer of the electrical engineering division, Public Service Electric and Gas Co. Cislir was elected to the Council by the Cornell Society of Engineers, of which he is a past president.

CRIME IN ROCHESTER

Two Cornellians concerned with prevention of crime are speakers at successive Wednesday luncheons of the Cornell Club of Rochester. Dr. Floyd S. Winslow '06 covered the subject from a medical point of view, February 28, and Supreme Court Justice Nathan D. Lapham '95 speaks March 6 of his experiences as district attorney and judge.

ON THE CAMPUS AND DOWN THE HILL

ONE INDUSTRY that is thriving in Ithaca just now is the making of long wooden paddles, for use in fraternity initiations. Each Freshmen supplies his own, which is duly used on him in the traditional manner and is then inscribed with the brothers' names and kept as a permanent memento. Paddles are a stock item with several local lumber dealers.

JUNIOR WEEK combined committees, through the treasurer, Marne Obernauer '41 of Pittsburgh, Pa., reported to the Student Council last week anticipated net profit from the Ice Carnival and Junior Prom of $2,500 to $3,000.

STUDENT COUNCIL has given official approval to the formation of a Cornell United Student Peace Council, to be composed of representatives from all Campus groups with student membership of more than fifty, "unless their purposes clearly have nothing to do with peace." Object is stated as being "to create interest among Cornell students in problems of maintaining peace for this country, to promote free and full discussion of the solutions of that problem." Councilman Isaac N. Groner '40 of Buffalo proposed the plan; is the Student Council representative.

ENGLISH CLASS of Professor John C. Adams '26, on Shakespeare, chartered a bus last week to take the twenty members to Rochester to see Maurice Evans in "Hamlet."

LEAP YEAR DANCE in Willard Straight Memorial Room February 29 is being run entirely by the women, who invited the male guests, bought the tickets, and even manage a "doe line" (as contrasted with the usual "stag lines"). Chairman of the committee was Marjorie S. Baker '40 of Newfield, N. J.

PROFESSOR JAMES E. RICE, Poultry Husbandry, Emeritus, secretary of the Class of '90, visited Ithaca during Farm and Home Week. Down from his home in Mexico, he saw old friends and made arrangements for a record-breaking Fifty-year Reunion of his Class next June.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON was officially reconstituted at Cornell February 16-18, when its merger with Scorpion was completed and the Scorpion Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon was installed by the fraternity's national officers, with delegates present from several other chapters. First established here in 1923 from the local fraternity, Kappa Psi, Tau Kappa Epsilon became inactive five years ago, its undergraduate members then joining Scorpion. Home of the new chapter is the former Scorpion house at 105 Westbourne

BACON PRACTICE CAGE is being used fully these late winter afternoons as the hours of daylight lengthen and the snow lies deep outside. Jumpers, weight throwers, and pole-vaulters share the space with baseball candidates limbering up to be ready for the spring trip south. Over in the former heating plant behind the Old Armory, candidates for the golf team practice their swings three afternoons a week. Spring is on the way!

Lane, just off Highland Avenue, which was built in 1928. Walter G. Seely '14, a founder of Scorpion, was toastmaster at the installation banquet.

PLAY DAY sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association February 24 brought more than 100 visitors from Alfred, Elmira, Keuka, Rochester, Wells, and William Smith colleges and universities for an afternoon of competition in sports. They fenced and played basketball and badminton in Barton Hall; held a swimming meet in the Old Armory pool. Later, all went to tea in Balch Hall. Cornell teams won in fencing and swimming.

COLLEGE OF ARCHITECTURE students have elected Robert H. Eisele of West Orange, N. J., their president, and reelected Mary C. Cole of Tulsa, Okla., secretary-treasurer. Both are Seniors in the College.

STATEMENT of Coach Allie B. Wolff, asking spectators to keep silence during bouts in accordance with intercollegiate boxing rules, was read over the loud speaker by Louis C. Boochever '12 before the Army meet in Barton Hall Saturday night. Nearly 3,000 persons filled the stands which surrounded the lighted ring, and they obeyed the request well until the referee's decision in the 175-pound match was announced, when their disapproval was evident. On the ringside bench with the Cornell team were boxing captains of the last two years, John G. Tausig '38 and Moses L. Goldbas '39, both now in the Law School.

UNIVERSITY THEATRE began February 25 a subscription series of seven Sunday evening programs from the Museum of Modern Art Film Library, illustrating the history and technique of the motion picture and the theater. For two weeks, a collection of "stills" from noteworthy pictures was exhibited in the Willard Straight art room, and February 23 Iris Barry, author, editor, and curator of the Museum of Modern Art Film Library, lectured on "Art in Our Time: The Motion Picture," on the Schiff Foundation.

FORMER HOME of the Seal and Serpent Fraternity, at the edge of the Campus, 102 West Avenue, has been leased as a residence hall for boys of the NYA Work Experience Center, formerly housed in the old Club Lido just outside the city on the Trumansburg road.

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO alumni who live in Ithaca entertained Professor Ralph W. Gerard of Chicago, at dinner in Willard Straight Hall February 21. It was in preparation for their alma mater's fiftieth anniversary celebration, which will start next October. An informal alumni club was organized by the twenty-five Ithacans present, with Professor Julian P. Bretz, History, as chairman, and Professor Leonard S. Cottrell, Jr., Sociology, secretary.

SAGE CHAPEL PREACHER March 3 is the Right Rev. Malcolm E. Peabody, bishop coadjutor of Central New York.

VISITOR on the Campus last week was Tell Berna '12, general manager of the National Machine Tool Builders' Association, of Cleveland, Ohio. He described to Seniors in Engineering the government plans for industrial production in the United States should a war emergency arise; called briefly at the offices of the Alumni Fund and the ALUMNI NEWS.

LECTURES this week include Professor Carl Becker, History, February 28, before the Philosophy Club, on "Historical Relativism"; Professor B. E. Warren of MIT, on "The Structure of Crystalline Silicates and Silicate Glass," before the American Chemical Society, February 29; an Institute of Human Relations March 1 on the theme, "Religion and a Platform for Social Living," sponsored by the CURW, with Dr. John P. Boland, chairman of the State Labor Relations Board, Dr. Henry S. Leiper, secretary of the World Council of Churches, and Rabbi Harold Saperstein, of Temple Emanuel, Lynbrook; and a luncheon forum March 2 with Dr. Boland, on "Democracy Speaks to Labor."

HE HUI HAWAII gave a pleasant "luau" February 25 in the Plant Science Building. Nearly sixty former residents of Hawaii enjoyed lau-lau, baked bananas, koele palau, lomi-lomi salmon, coconut haupia, and other native dishes. Special guests were Dean Carl E. Ladd '12, Agriculture, and Mrs. Ladd. B. Hale Austin '08 drove down from Phelps with Mrs. Austin and their four daughters. Arrangements were in charge of Philip J. Westgate, Grad, and Mrs. Westgate. Frank N. Rothwell '41 of Honolulu showed motion pictures of the Islands.

Concerning THE FACULTY

A NEW SPECIES of wood warbler, which ornithologists have been unable to identify, has been found in West Virginia by Karl W. Haller, teacher at Wheeling, W. Va. He proposes to name the new bird, which is gully gray with a lemon yellow throat and breast, Sutton's warbler, in honor of Professor George M. Sutton, PhD '32, Ornithology and Curator of Birds.

EDITORIAL OFFICES of the journal, Growth, have been moved from McGill University to the Dairy Building at Cornell. Professor Otto Rahn, Bacteriology, is a member of the editorial council of the journal, devoted to studies of development and increase.

PROFESSOR HENRY H. DUKES, Veterinary Physiology, on leave of absence second term, and Mrs. Dukes have left by automobile to travel in the South and Middle West. Professor Dukes will study at the Harvard Medical School in Boston, Mass., and at the Mayo Foundation, Rochester, Minn.

WILLIAM A. LEWIS, Jr., director of the School of Electrical Engineering, is co-author with J. E. Hobson, of "Regulating Transformers in Power-System Analysis," the latest issue in the reprint series of the Cornell Engineering Experiment Station.

PROFESSOR EDWARD S. GUTHRIE, PhD '13, Dairy Industry, was honored at a recent meeting of the Tompkins County Council of Churches at Jacksonville for his thirty years service as a volunteer worker for the improvement of teaching in the Sunday schools and in weekday religious education.

PROFESSOR JOHN R. BANGS, Jr. '21, Administrative Engineering, has been reappointed chairman of the committee on development and placement of engineering graduates of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education. In June he will preside at a meeting at the University of California and will present a paper on "Industry's Desires and Needs along Personnel Lines."

PROFESSOR HELEN CANON, PhD '30, Home Economics, has returned from a three-month trip to Mexico, the Southwestern United States, California, Oregon, and Washington. She was on leave of absence for the first term.

ONE OF THE HIGHLIGHTS of the 17,000 mile trip made by Professor Samuel L. Boothroyd, Grad '05, Astronomy, on leave of absence the first term, and Mrs. Boothroyd, was a visit to the Mt. Wilson observatory near Los Angeles, Calif. and to the Mt. Wilson laboratory at California Institute of Technology at Pasadena. Leaving in September, they traveled through thirty-four states and the District of Columbia and British Columbia; visited many observatories and other points of interest along the way.

BURGESS PUBLISHING COMPANY has published a new book by Professor Otto Rahn, Bacteriology, entitled Mathematics in Bacteriology.

PROFESSOR JOHN N. TILTON, Jr. '13, Architecture and assistant Dean of the College, is on leave of absence the second term. After traveling through the Canal Zone, he intends to go to Chicago, Ill., where his address is 11 South La Salle Street.

JANUARY ISSUE of The American Journal of Physiology contains an article on "The Influence of Reproductive Condition upon Growth in the Female Rat" by Professor Sydney A. Asdell, Animal Husbandry.

IDAHO BUREAU OF MINES AND GEOLOGY has published a pamphlet, "Geology and Ore Deposits of the Atlanta District, Elmore County, Idaho," by Professor Alfred L. Anderson, Geology.

PUBLISHED IN OCTOBER, The Farmer's Shop Book, by Professor Louis M. Roehl, Sp '22, Agricultural Engineering is now in its second printing. A third edition of his book, Fitting Farm Tools, has just appeared.

ELIZABETH S. FOOTE '34, assistant to Louis C. Boochever '12, Director of Public Information, resigned her position February 17, and was married February 24 in Fairport to Robert B. Roe '39, son of Mayo E. Roe '04. They will live in Los Angeles, Cal., where Roe has been transferred by the Sperry Gyroscope Co. Ruth M. Mattox '34 of Newton Centre, Mass. is the new assistant to Boochever; recently she has been working in journalism at Indiana University.

MRS. MISSOURI B. PHILLIPS, mother of Professor E. Franklin Phillips, Apiculture, died at her home in Painesville, Ohio, February 11. Phillips, on leave of absence the second term, is visiting colleges in the Southern States.

PROFESSOR JOHN W. MACDONALD '25, Law, and executive secretary of the New York State Law Revision Commission, spoke on the relationship of a permanent Law Revision Commission to the present status of judicial precedent at a meeting of the Cincinnati and Ohio State Bar Associations at Cincinnati, Ohio.
