Calliope, Drum Corps To Be Featured

Fireworks Are Scheduled For July 2

Ithaca's annual community fireworks show will be held this year on Wednesday, July 2, with rain dates of Wednesday, July 9 and Friday, July 11.

This event, which draws more than 20,000 people to the Schoellkopf Field crescent each year, plus thousands more on surrounding hill-sides, will again include a pre-dark show as well as the fireworks.

Fireworks will be by Joseph Speciale & Sons American Fireworks Manufacturing Co. of Utica, and will start as soon as it is dark. Speciale said this year's show will feature expanded ground displays in the stadium as part of the hour-long pyrotechnics.

The pre-dark show will get under way with opening ceremonies at about 7:45 p.m. One feature this year will be music both before and after the fireworks by Robert Bruce's Painted Post Calliope Company, a musical instrument played by compressed air and mounted on a restored, fully operational 1920 Model T Ford truck. The calliope also will be playing in the afternoon in downtown Ithaca and other areas in and around the city on fireworks day.

Marching groups on the field will be the Squires Junior Drum and Bugle Corps of Watkins Glen, a nationally ranked corps which has been New York State champions, and the Spirit of '76 Junior Ancient Fife and Drum Corps from Endicott, consisting of youngsters between 9 and 18 years old.

At last year's event, a pouring rain began just as the fireworks began, so that donations by people leaving the event were very small, cutting into the "cushion" the committee running the show had built up over the 30 years it has been held.

As a result, this year's chairman, Francis Benedict, has announced that the group will be more conservative about postponing the show if there is a chance of rain.

"We could stand one washout," he said, "but certainly not two in a row."

Each year, the amount of money tossed into barrels at each stadium exit determines the size of the following year's show. The university makes no charge for the use of the field.

In the event of weather problems, all area radio stations will be notified no later than noon of fireworks day if a postponement is necessary. Also, an aerial salute will be fired at Schoellkopf Field every hour, starting at 2 p.m., if the show is still scheduled to go that evening.

Gamelan Ensemble Will Perform Summer Concert Series Opens

The 1980 Summer Session concert series opens Monday, July 7, with an unusual program of Javanese music. The performance, featuring the Cornell Gamelan Ensemble and guest instrumentalists under the direction of Martin Hatch, will take place in the Memorial Room of Willard Straight Hall at 8:15 p.m.

Javanese gamelan (a Southeast Asian orchestra) represents the high point in the development of Southeast Asian musical ensemble playing. Instrumentation differs from that of Western orchestras. Metallophones provide a basic melody; gongs of various kinds punctuate it; types of lutes and xylophones elaborate on the basic melody; and drums maintain the rhythm and tempo. Each gamelan has its own character and tuning and is usually slightly different from every other set of instruments.

The Cornell gamelan is on loan from the Metropolitan Museum of Art, which received it in 1977 as a gift from Carroll C., Beverly and Garry S. Bratman. This beautifully handcrafted set, made in Java in the late 1950s or '60s, appeared in the Indonesian exhibit at the 1964 World's Fair in New York.

The Cornell Gamelan is composed of diverse members of the University community. They will be joined by three visiting musicians: Sumarsam, trained since early childhood in the varieties of gamelan which flourished in the royal courts of Java, has taught Indonesian music at Wesleyan University for seven years. He is artist-in-residence and director of the World Music Program there. Wayne Forrest and Curt Steinzor are graduates of the program. Steinzor is now at the California Institute for the Arts.

Hatch, who received his doctoral degree from Cornell in May, has just been appointed assistant professor of ethnomusicology, a new position funded by the Cornell Southeast Asia Program. He founded the Cornell Gamelan in 1972.

Monday's program of ensemble music includes pieces of introduction and greeting, a dance suite, a prayer for the well-being of Indonesia and music to accompany the departure of guests.

Tickets for July 7 and for the entire series of five Monday evening concerts are on sale at the Cornell Summer Session Office, 105 Day Hall, and will be available at the door.

The Cornell Gamelan Ensemble will open the Summer Session concert series with a program of Javanese music at 8:15 p.m. Monday, July 7, in the Memorial Room of Willard Straight Hall.

Sex Discrimination Ruling Issued

Howard G. Munson, U.S. District Judge for the Northern District of New York, has denied the application of Donna Zahorik, assistant professor of psychology, for a temporary restraining order against the university's termination of her services at the end of this month, according to University Counsel Walter J. Relihan Jr.

The judge also declined to order a hearing on Zahorik's motion for a preliminary injunction, but allowed her further time to submit another affidavit to determine whether a hearing is necessary, Relihan said.

The judge announced his decision after oral arguments Monday on Zahorik's application for a temporary restraining order that would have kept her on the university payroll pending a final determination of a case she brought against the university under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Zahorik has claimed that her denial of tenure by the university was based on sex discrimination. The university has responded that the decision of the faculty of psychology, as affirmed by the dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and the provost, was based on sound professional criteria.

Garden Avenue Is Closed

Traffic on Garden Avenue will be restricted and subject to delays through this Friday. Utilities probes will be performed in the vicinity of the Industrial Labor Relations Conference Center, according to William E. Wendt, director of Transportation Services at the university.

Campus buses will not use Garden Avenue during those three days.

Temporary stops will be designated at the corner of Tower Road and East Avenue for passengers bound for the A Lot and north campus, and in front of Stimson Hall for persons going to the B Lot.

Persons who normally park on Garden Avenue, south of Barton Hall, will be able to park in that area.

Ithaca College Chaplain Is Sage Chapel Speaker

Susan K. Roll, Roman Catholic chaplain at Ithaca College, will be the speaker at the Summer Session Sage Chapel Service at 11 a.m. Sunday, June 29. Her topic will be "The Foreign Language of Faith."

Roll has been the Catholic Chaplain at Ithaca College since 1976. She is the first layperson in the Rochester diocese to be appointed a professional campus minister.

A graduate of Niagara University, Roll received her master's in theology from St. Bernard's Seminary in Rochester.

This summer Roll will be working on special projects for the Rochester Diocesan Office of Liturgy.

Music for Sage Chapel Services will be provided by the Summer Session Choir under the direction of Donald R.M. Paterson, university organist and Sage Chapel choirmaster. Graduate student Stephen May will be organist.

All interested persons are invited to sing with the Summer Session Choir. The first rehearsal will be Sunday, June 29, in Sage Chapel. Regular rehearsals are held on Tuesdays at 7:15 p.m. and Sundays at 9:30 a.m.

Arrangements for the services are made through Cornell United Religious Work and the Music Department in cooperation with the Dean of Summer Session.

Joseph Porter

Joseph Pullman Porter, a professor emeritus of ornamental horticulture and a pioneer in landscape architecture, died recently at the age of 86.

Professor Porter was on the faculty of the department of floriculture and ornamental horticulture of the State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences for 40 years until his retirement in 1957. Colleagues and friends affectionately called him "Tip."

A highlight of his career came in 1978 when Cornell presented him a special citation honoring his 65 years of unbroken ties with the University as a student, a faculty member, and an emeritus professor.

Sponsored Programs

The Office of Sponsored Programs, 123 Day Hall, 6-5014, wishes to emphasize that the information in this column is intended for post-doctoral research unless otherwise indicated.

Used Energy-Related Laboratory Equipment Grants

The Department of Energy awards grants of used energy-related laboratory equipment to educational institutions of higher learning for use in energy-oriented educational programs in the life, physical and environmental sciences and engineering.

Further information regarding available equipment and proposal submission may be obtained from the Office of Sponsored Programs, 123 Day Hall.

Multidisciplinary Centers of Gerontology

Applications for grants to support the development of long term care Gerontology Centers will be accepted by the Administration on Aging (AOA) until July 18, 1980.

The Centers will provide career and continuing education and training, the development of models of service delivery for functionally impaired elderly, and research.

AOA expects to award 2.8 million dollars for about 20 grants for the Centers Program.

Application kits and appropriate instructions may be obtained by writing to Long Term Care Unit AOA, Room 4644, DHHS North Building, 330 Independence Avenue SW, Washington, DC 20201 or by calling (202) 426-8403.

Community Service - Continuing Education

The new Department of Education is inviting applications for new projects under the Community Service and Continuing Education Special Projects Program.

Applications must be postmarked by July 21.

The purpose of the program is to assist institutions of higher education in carrying out special programs of continuing education related to technological, social or environmental changes.

Additional information on the funding priorities for this funding cycle are available in the Office of Sponsored Programs.

Application forms may be obtained by calling (202) 245-9868.

Dissertation Grants in Aging

Applications for grants to support doctoral dissertations in the field of aging must be received by the Administration on Aging (AOA) by July 22, 1980.

The proposed dissertation project must fall into one or more of the following research areas: 1. The older person, family and society; 2. Public and private policies; 3. Community operated service systems.

Special emphasis is given to attracting minority professionals into the field of aging.

Application kits may be obtained by writing Dissertation Program, Division of Research and Evaluation, Administration on Aging, Room 4644, DHHS North Building, 330 Independence Avenue SW, Washington, DC 20201.

Advocacy Model Program Demonstrations

The Office of Domestic Violence announces a receipt deadline of August 4 for applications to the Advocacy Model Program.

The purpose of the program is to provide support for demonstration projects that develop model advocacy programs to assist battered women who are victims of domestic violence and their families in gaining access to services and support, and to demonstrate the effectiveness of this method of obtaining needed services for battered women.

It is expected that awards will be made to 3 institutions at the approximate funding level of $100,000 each for a 2-year program.

Application forms may be obtained by calling (202) 472-4205.

Additional information is available in the Office of Sponsored Programs.

Hutchins Is Appointed Judicial Administrator

Miriam B. Hutchins has been appointed the university's Judicial Administrator for a term beginning July 10 and ending June 10, 1982, it was announced by Cornell President Frank Rhodes.

Hutchins replaces Dale Arrison Grossman, who has left that position to become a lecturer in the State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

Hutchins has been a law clerk for Tompkins County Judge Betty D. Friedlander since 1977. She was also a part-time instructor at the State University of New York at Cortland where she taught courses in Race and Politics, African Politics and Society and Minorities and the Law.

"We are most fortunate to have someone with Mrs. Hutchins' qualifications joining us. Her work with family court matters, as well as her teaching experience, provide the kind of broad background needed to deal sensitively and knowledgeably with the people and issues she will encounter at Cornell," said Rhodes.

The judicial administrator at Cornell is the key person in the university's judicial system which covers all members of the Cornell community—students, faculty and staff. It is a full-time, paid position with a term of office for two years.

Brief Reports

Basketmaking Course Scheduled For July

A special course in contemporary basketmaking will be given July 8, 9 and 10 by Hisako Sekijima, under the sponsorship of Cornell's Southeast Asia Program, China-Japan Program and the North Campus Union Craft Studio.

Open to anyone, the class is limited to 25 persons and will cost $25 a student. The classes will be conducted each day from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the North Campus Union Craft Studio. Additional information and registration forms may be obtained by calling the Southeast Asia Program office, 256-2378.

Sekijima, who trained with a ratan craft master in Japan, outlined the workshop:

Part I: An introductory analysis of basket construction. Participants will make a free form out of pliable linear materials such as wisteria, grapevine and honeysuckle. Three aspects of baskets will be presented through a slide talk;

1. Space and Form.
2. Space and Texture.
3. Logics in Material and Structural Mechanism Relations.

Part II: Demonstration, Samplemaking and Individual Creative Activity in the following techniques:

1. Tee-twining Openwork Construction.
2. Various kinds of starting mechanisms and bordermaking.
3. Mosaic Weave.

Cornell Plantations

The Cornell Plantations is a 2,600 acre arboretum and environmental research area located throughout the campus. The main collections are located along Fall Creek as it goes eastward from the Agriculture Quadrangle.

Within the plantations' environment are lakes, ponds, streams, bogs, swamps, woodland areas and open pastures. These have been the outdoor laboratories for students of animal and plant life since the university's founding. They're also a fine place to take a walk, jog or picnic.

Currently over 200 acres are maintained as arboretum collections. These include herbs, azaleas and rhododendrons, nut trees, wildflowers and poisonous plants. Maps and supplementary materials about the various gardens are available from Plantations headquarters at 100 Judd Falls Road.

The Plantations are open at all times. A brochure describing self-guided tours may be purchased at the office between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays. In addition, guided tours may be arranged at a nominal cost. For further information call 256-3020.

Guitar Lessons To Be Given

The Willard Straight Hall Board will offer a six-week course in intermediate and beginning folk guitar this summer. Classes, which will be in the International Lounge of Willard Straight Hall, will be on Tuesday nights, July 1 through Aug. 5.

The cost for all six, one-hour lessons is $15, payable at the first lesson.

The beginners section of the course will be on Tuesdays at 7 p.m. For those who have some knowledge of basic chords and the ability to change chords, the intermediate section will be on Tuesdays at 8 p.m. All participants are expected to bring a guitar.

Anyone who is not sure which section he or she should attend may go to both. The fee covers both sections and anyone who wants to may take both sections, according to Phil Shapiro, who will be teaching the course.

Band Concert At Local Park

The Ithaca Concert Band will present a free public concert at 7 p.m. Sunday, June 29, at Taughannock Falls State Park. The concert will be held on the State park's showmobile at the swimming beach.

The Ithaca Concert Band, under the direction of Henry Neubert, is comprised of local musicians from a wide variety of backgrounds. Members come from Ithaca and the surrounding towns such as Trumansburg, Dryden and Newfield. Their programs are informal and offer an appeal to all ages and musical tastes. The Sunday night program is the third concert in eight scheduled for their "Summer Nights of '80" series.

Persons interested in attending the concert can reach the park by boat, bike, car or foot. Those wishing to reach the park by bicycle are encouraged by the Finger Lakes State Park and Recreation Commission to take back roads in order to avoid high speed traffic and tough hills. The suggested route is as follows: Route 96 north past Tompkins County Hospital, take a right on DuBois Road, go about four miles, take a right on Kraft Road, then left on Taughannock Boulevard. Total cycling time is about 1 1/2 hours.

Sports Facilities Open For Summer

Softball diamonds on Upper Alumni Field, tennis courts situated around the campus, squash and handball courts and the University golf course are among the athletic facilities available to Summer Session students and other visitors.

Teagle Hall hours for the summer run from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. weekdays. Basketball courts, volleyball nets, weightlifting equipment, a steam room and showers are available. Coed swimming is from noon to 2 p.m. Teagle is closed on the weekends.

Helen Newman swimming hours for women only run from 1 to 3 p.m. Coed swimming is from 3 to 4 p.m. Swimmers must provide their own suits and caps; towels are provided. The gymnasium will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. though you must bring your own equipment. Helen Newman is closed on weekends.

Barton Hall will be open this summer from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and from 4 to 10 p.m. weekdays for running, volleyball and basketball. Note that the varsity basketball court is not to be used.

The Cornell summer riding program offers two one-hour lessons per week for six weeks at a cost of $84. Lessons are in the evening and are for basic, intermediate and advanced levels of riding ability. There are trail rides for advanced riders. For more information call the Cornell stables at 256-3625 or 256-5199. Lessons begin registration week.

The Cornell golf course is located on Warren Road and is a par 72 course designed by Robert Trent Jones. The pro shop and course are open from 7 a.m. to sunset weekdays and from 6 a.m. to sunset on weekends and holidays.

The Cornell Sailing Club offers all members of the Cornell community the opportunity to sail as much as they like this year as summer members of the club. Members will have unlimited access to two Lasers, four Banshees, a Flying Junior and a boat for lessons. Dues for the summer are $35 and include sailing lessons from club employees. Contact Gene Imhoff at 273-0407 for further information.

Library Offers Tape Program

The Ann Carry Durland Memorial Library is a special unit operated by the Centre for Religion, Ethics and Social Policy. Located in 122 Anabel Taylor Hall, it provides resources for personal, social and ecological transformation.

The library includes books, periodicals and cassette audio tapes on alternative energy sources, spirituality, small-scale agriculture, ecology and justice, and sexuality.

This summer, beginning July 1 and running for six consecutive Tuesdays, the alternatives library will offer a "Tape of the Week Program." The six programs will start at noon each week and will include discussion sessions after each tape.

The program schedule is:

- July 1, "The Last Slide Show." A proposal for solving the arms race.
- July 8, "On Death and Living," by Dr. Elizabeth Kubler-Ross.
- July 15, "Healing Thru Love and Sound," by Patricia Sun.
- July 22, "Rolling Thunder Speaks." Insights of an American Indian Medicine Man.
- July 29, "Nuclear Holocaust," by Dr. Helen Caldicott.
- Aug. 5, "Small is Beautiful," by E.F. Schumacker.

Red Cross To Have Summer Safety Classes

The Tompkins County Chapter of the American Red Cross will hold regular cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and standard first aid classes this summer. Classes will begin on Tuesday, July 8.

There is no fee for the course instruction. However, there will be a small fee for materials, payable at the time of registration.

For further information and for advance registration, call the Red Cross at 273-1900 between the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Golder Wins Johnson Prize

Golder's winning essay, "Troilus and Cressida: Contradictions of Love, War and Moral Choice," was written for English 127, Shakespeare and Politics.

The Johnson Prize, named for a former chancellor of Telluride and a freshman English instructor, was given for the first time in the spring of 1978.

Medical College Receives Grant

A grant of $10,000 in unrestricted funds from Research to Prevent Blindness, Inc., has been made to Cornell University Medical College, according to Dr. Jackson Coleman, ophthalmologist-in-chief at New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center.

The grant, one of more than 50 made each year to institutions to support the study of eye diseases, brings to $60,000 the total awarded to the medical center over 11 years.

Noting the value of the funds in developing increasingly successful ways of managing eye diseases, Dr. Coleman said, "They enable us to move quickly to meet promising research opportunities, avoid delays and deal with problems for which other funds may not be available."

According to Dr. Jules Stein, chairman of Research to Prevent Blindness, Inc., "Scientists at laboratories are producing near miracles in the preservation and restoration of sight. Their work is demonstrating the huge potential of research in vision and the critical need for public support of this still under-funded science."

Camhi Awarded Fulbright Grant

Jeffrey M. Camhi, associate professor of neurobiology and behavior at Cornell University, has received a Fulbright Award, allowing the researcher to travel to Hebrew University, Jerusalem, where he will prepare a textbook on neuroethology.

The 14-month grant was made through the Mutual Education and Cultural Exchange Program of the Council for International Exchange of Scholars.

A graduate of Tufts University with master's and doctoral degrees from Harvard University, Camhi has specialized in the study of the nervous system of insects—in particular, the locust and the cockroach—as a model for more complex animals, including humans.

In recent research, the neurophysiologist determined that cockroaches can overcome the loss of one of their two sense organs used to warn of approaching predators. Within a month of the time the air current sensing organ called a cercus is lost, the insect is again able to turn and run in the correct direction to escape danger, Camhi's experiments have demonstrated.

Research into how the insect's nerve tracts carry signals for escape reactions may lead to knowledge of how other animals learn to compensate after losing certain abilities to illness or accident, Camhi believes.

Steven L. Kaplan has been elected professor of European history in the Department of History. Kaplan is internationally renowned for his work in French history, in particular the social history of 18th century France. He has established a European Colloquium in the history department and serves as acting director of the university's Western Societies Program. He received the A.B. in 1963 from Princeton summa cum laude, his M.A. in 1966, his M.Phil. in 1968 and his Ph.D. in 1974, all from Yale University. Kaplan was assistant professor at Cornell from 1970 to 1976, and has been associate professor since then.

Charlotte Cohen, lecturer in the Women's Studies Program, and editor-in-chief and co-owner of the Ithaca Times, has been awarded a National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) Fellowship for Summer Study. Cohen, a 1965 graduate of Cornell, will attend a four-week Summer Seminar for Journalists, from July 21 - Aug. 15, at the University of California campus at La Jolla. The topic of the seminar is "Freedom of Speech, the Press and the Electronic Media."

Martin Alexander, soil microbiologist at Cornell, has received the 1980 Fisher Scientific Company Award for Applied and Environmental Microbiology. The award, consisting of a $1,000 prize and a plaque, recognizes Alexander's scientific contributions to the advancement of environmental microbiology. Alexander is a Liberty Hyde Bailey Professor in the department of agronomy in the New York State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

Charles D. Gates has been elected professor of civil and environmental engineering, emeritus, effective July 1.

A member of the engineering faculty since 1947, Gates is a specialist in environmental quality control and waste management.

He received a bachelor's degree from Williams College in 1937 and a master's degree from Harvard University in 1939. He came to Cornell from private practice as a water quality engineer.

In 1971 he received a Presidential Commendation for his contributions to water pollution control in New York State.

He served as director of Cornell's Water Resources and Marine Sciences Center in 1976-77.

Also he has served as chairman of the former Department of Water Resources Engineering, 1966-71, and as acting chairman of the Department of Environmental Engineering, 1972-74.

Dr. Bruce Widger of Marcellus, a member of the Cornell University Board of Trustees since 1961, last month was elected Grand Master of Masons of the State of New York. He was graduated from the New York State College of Veterinary Medicine at Cornell in 1951.
