RED LETTER DAY.

Saturday will be Eventful—Cornell Junior Crew to meet Rivals—Ball Game with Pennsy.

Arrangements are now complete for the most elaborate athletic festival ever seen at Ithaca, to be held on Friday and Saturday of this week. The combination of a baseball game and a big triangular regatta on the same day, with the Glee Club Concert and Navy Ball on the preceding night, is inducing many alumni to take advantage of the special rates offered on the railroads from all points in this state.

Interest in the regatta was increased by the announcement last week that the Central High School of Philadelphia had definitely decided to send a crew to Ithaca to participate in a preliminary race on the afternoon of Memorial Day. The idea of such a contest to add to the attraction of the day's program originated some weeks ago, when it was proposed that one or more of the Freshman crews row in the race which Caccadilla had arranged with the Philadelphia Central High School.

The preliminary race will be pulled off shortly after five o'clock, and the intercollegiate race will follow immediately.

The course as planned starts near what is called Norwood point, and runs close to the shore to a point about 1,000 feet north of McKinney's. The middle of the course will be at Esty's point. This arrangement means that there will be no obstacles to shut off the view of the race from the people on the observation train, as the track runs within a few feet of the shore through the entire two miles. Permanent distance markers have been erected at various points along the course, by cementing in the rock short pieces of pipe which will bear white flags.

Statistics of Crew.

The statistics of the men who will compose the eight are as follows: Stone, bow, prepared for Cornell in the Binghamton High School and never before rowed in a Cornell crew. He is 21 years old, 5 ft. 11 in. in height and weighs 168 lbs.

Snyder, 2, prepared at the Perkiemen Seminary at Pennsburg, Pa., and captained last year's Freshman eight, which won its race at Poughkeepsie. He is 26 years old, 5 ft. 7½ in. tall, and weighs 164 lbs.

Brandow is a Freshman from Catskill, N. Y. He is the strongest starboardman in his class and will row No. 5 in his class crew at Poughkeepsie next month. He is 21 years old, 6 ft. tall, and weighs 178 lbs.

Wadsworth, 4, came from Stevens School at Hoboken. He rowed No. 2 in the 1904 Freshman crew and in last year's Junior Varsity. He is 21 years old, 6 ft. in height and weighs 174 lbs.

G. W. Foote, 5, prepared at the Ithaca High School. He sat at No. 5 in his Freshman crew at Poughkeepsie last June, and also rowed in the Junior Varsity crew which defeated Harvard and Syracuse at Ithaca last Memorial Day. He is 21 years old, 6 ft. in height and weighs 179 lbs.

E. T. Foote, 6, is a Freshman, who also hails from the Ithaca High School. He will probably stroke his class crew on the Hudson next month. He is 6 ft. tall, 18 years old and weighs 156 lbs.

C. L. Edmonston, 7, captain of the crew, comes from Montclair, N. J. He rowed in the victorious Varsity fours at Poughkeepsie in 1901 and 1902, and in one of last year's Junior crews. He is 23 years old, stands 6 ft. 1½ in. and weighs 176 lbs.

R. W. Nutting, stroke, prepared at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn. He rowed in the 1904 Freshman crew and in last year's second Varsity. He is 21 years old, 6 ft. in height and weighs 176 lbs.

I. V. Buchanan, coxswain, prepared at Shadyside Academy at Pittsburg. He steered last year's Freshman crew and the Junior Varsity which rowed Columbia and Pennsylvania on the Schuylkill. He is 17 years old, weighs 89 lbs., and stands 5 ft. 3 in.

The second crew has been rowing in this order for nearly two weeks past, and has repeatedly beaten the Varsity in the daily scraps that mark the practice on the lake. Coach Courtney seems confident that the crew will make a good showing on Decoration Day, equaling or surpassing the form of last year's eight.

Columbia's decision not to participate has not detracted one whit from the enthusiasm of those who are to sit in the other boats. Coach Ward will bring a strong eight from the Pennsy quarters on the Schuylkill, while Harvard will be represented by its best second varsity material. These two crews and the high school eight are expected to arrive in Ithaca on Thursday.

Big Crowds Coming.

The most striking indication of the interest felt in the regatta is the unprecedented demand for seats on the observation train. The sale opened to holders of season tickets on Monday, May 18. At 7 o'clock in the morning, when the Lehigh Valley ticket office was opened, nearly 100 persons were waiting in line to secure choice of seats on the long train. By the time the advance guard of the general public had satisfied its demand on the following morning, all but 7 of the 34 cars were sold out. As no cars were reserved for other cities, the remaining seats have been rapidly disposed of. So eager a rush for tickets eclipses all previous records.

At 2 p. m. on Memorial Day the baseball game between the Cornell and Pennsylvania teams will be called at Percy Field. The closeness of the first game between the two nines at Philadelphia two weeks ago, which Cornell won in the last two innings by a final score of 7 to 5, gives assurance of an exciting contest. The game will be over in time for the spectators to reach the observation train. In the forenoon of the same day the final baseball game in the interscholastic league will be played at Percy Field.

COMMENCEMENT PLANS.

The Thirty-fifth Class to be Musteered Out With Appropriate Ceremonies.

For the thirty-fifth time at Cornell a class of men and women will be mustered out from service in the undergraduate band of workers, June 14 to 18. Plans for the five days have been completed. It has been deemed inadvisable to change this order of Senior Week exercises this year as has been suggested. The list of events, therefore, is not essentially different from last year. The committee of arrangements consisting of Professors Bristol, Rowlee, Hull, Olmsted, and Dr. Hitchcock announces the following program:

Sunday, June 14—4 p. m. Baccalaureate Service in Sage Chapel. Sermon by Reverend S. Parkes Cadman, D. D. Admission by ticket only. A limited number of tickets will be given out at Barnes Hall, Friday, June 12, and Saturday, June 13. Members of the Senior Class will meet at Sage College at 3:30 p. m.

Monday, June 15—9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Exhibitions of drawings and equipment in the department of Civil Engineering and of Architecture in Lincoln Hall, of Mechanical Engineering in Sibley College, Physics in Franklin Hall, and of Chemistry in Morse Hall. 8 p. m., Dramatic performance by the Masque in the Lyceum.

Tuesday, June 15, Class Day—9:30 a. m. Class Day exercises in Armory Hall, and at 11:30 a. m., on the Campus. 3:30 p. m. Baseball game, Alumni against University, on Percy Field. 4:30 p. m. Organ recital in Sage Chapel by George G. Daland. 9 p. m. Senior Ball in the Armory.

Wednesday, June 17, Alumni Day—10 a. m. Meeting of the Board of Trustees in Morrill Hall. 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. Exhibition of the Conservatories and of the departments of Botany in Sage College, of Entomology and Intertribe Zoology in the north corridor of White Hall and of books and bindings in the White Historical Library in the Library Building. 12 m. Business meeting of the Women Graduates' Association in the west dome of Barnes Hall. 1 p. m. University luncheon in the Gymnasium. 4 p. m. Annual Meeting of the Associate Alumni in Barnes Hall. 5 to 7 p. m. Reception by President and Mrs. Schurman, at the President's house, for the members of the graduating classes with their friends, alumni and former students, members of the Faculties and of the Board of Trustees. 8 p. m. Concert by the University Musical Clubs in the Lyceum.

Thursday, June 18, Commencement Day—10:30 a. m. Thirty-fifth Annual Commencement in the Armory. The procession of Trustees, members of the faculties and candidates for degrees will form in front of Morrill Hall, at 10:15 a. m.

Inspection of Buildings and Museums—Besides the regular exhibitions noted above, the following buildings and collections will be open to visitors on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.: the Library; the Law Library, in Boardman Hall; the Museum of Casts, of Geology, of Physiology, and of Archeology in McGraw Hall; the Museum of Chemistry, in Morse Hall; the Sibley College Buildings; Lincoln Hall; Stimson Hall; the Museum of Botany in Sage College; the Buildings of the College of Agriculture; the Building and equipment of the New York State Veterinary College.

Information for Alumni. The headquarters are in Barnes Hall, where all Alumni are requested to register their names in the Commencement Book, and where tickets for the exercises of commencement may be obtained. The classes of '73, '78, '83, '93, '98, and 1900 will hold anniversary reunions on Wednesday. The time and place may be learned from the class-secretary or from the committee at Barnes Hall.

APPROVES CIRCULATION.

Library Council Supports Action of Faculty Favoring Circulating Library—New Scheme.

The library council at a recent meeting took action which practically assures the establishment of a circulating library next fall for the students of the University. Of the three plans recently outlined in the Alumni News, the council decided to reject the one approved by the University faculty, of throwing the general library itself open to students, substituting for it a special circulating library. The action of the council only requires the formal ratification of the Board of Trustees, which will undoubtedly be given at the spring meeting on June 10.

The new system which was proposed by Librarian Harris, is essentially as follows: The general University library will continue to be maintained primarily as a library of reference. In order, however, to afford to students greater facilities for home-reading, a circulating library will be established to supplement the other.

This circulating library will be made up in parts of duplicates and in part of such books not duplicates as might be readily replaced and might be transferred to the circulating library without detriment to the work of the University. These books are to be selected from the general collection with the advice of the professors in the various departments, care being taken in making the choice to respect faithfully the wishes of donors of special collections.

Another feature of the new plan is that Seniors designated by the professors, may be granted similar privileges in the University library to those now enjoyed by graduate students, who are permitted to withdraw as many as five books for two weeks.

It is intended to place the books of the circulating library on open shelves accessible to the students, between 5,000 and 10,000 volumes being made available at the beginning.

In order to provide room for the new library, in case the plan is adopted, the authorities will probably carry out a scheme that has been in view for some time, of abolishing the lecture room in the basement of the building and devoting it partly to a depositary for the new collection, with a special registering desk, and partly to additional stacks for the files of newspapers, patent report and other public documents, which have accumulated so rapidly as to outgrow the space available upstairs.

AROUND THE CAMPUS.

Short Notes of Interesting Happenings on the Hill.

..Professor L. H. Bailey left Thursday to make an extensive trip through the middle west. He will visit the agricultural colleges of the Mississippi valley and will arrive in Baton Rouge, La., on June 22d, when he will deliver the commencement address at the State University. He will then return immediately to Ithaca.

The juniors of the College of Civil Engineering are now taking their annual surveying trip. They will spend three weeks at the head of Dryden lake making some extensive surveys under the direction of the professors in the college. Professor Crandall, who left with the party will be at the University two days a week till the end of the year.

W. J. McCracken, the noted Pennsylvania football player and athlete of a few years ago, spoke at Barnes Hall Monday at 7:30 on "The Student Conference at Northfield."

Mr. Andraud, coach of the fencing team, set sail last week for Paris. He will spend the summer in the French capital and return to the University in the fall.

"The remarkable crews which Courtney sent to the Hudson last year," says Walter Camp in Collier's Weekly, "have again made the sharps very shy about predicting the defeat of any crew from Cornell. Furthermore, much of his material of last year is still available, and it is hard to see how a crew could be developed that should have much more power and pace than the Cornell University crew of last year."

The net proceeds of Spring Day will amount to between $900 and $1,000. The gross receipts of the Campus celebration were $684. E. M. Welles, '05, won the guessing contest held in the Lyceum lobby, his guess being $675. The sale of seats for the Lyceum performance was not as large as last year, but the Campus shows netted more.

The total amount of Andrew Carnegie's benevolences of all kinds is given as $90,912,223, of which $50,500 covered the Cornell filtration plant and the relief fund for typhoid patients among the students. The Infirmary committee, which has charge of this money, had a long meeting recently to audit the bills presented, but did not announce the total.

Senior frolic day was celebrated upon the Campus last week, the members of the graduating class taking advantage of the opportunity to be boys again for the last time before assuming their official garb, the caps and gowns, which were donned on Tuesday. They amused themselves with marbles, tops and hoops. The celebration was not so general as that of last year, probably on account of its proximity to Spring Day.

Dean Crane returned recently from New York where he attended a meeting of the College Entrance Examination Board on Saturday. The business was largely routine in nature, being aimed to improve the methods and character of the examinations. Dean Crane brought the gratifying information that the number of permits to try, the examinations issued to students intending to enter Cornell in the fall is considerably larger than last year.

Harvey Williams, formerly assistant professor of machine design at Cornell, is now connected with the bureau of steam engineering at the Navy Department, Washington. In addition to his regular duties, he has found time for a number of inventions. Frank Van Vleck, who succeeded Professor Williams in machine design here, has a position with the same bureau and is reported to be doing well. Mr. Van Vleck was formerly chief inspector of the army transports.

New Era Board.

At a meeting of the Era board held Friday it was decided to leave the election of the editor-in-chief with the old board and C. P. Obendorf, '04, was elected for the ensuing year. B. Humphreys, '04, will be business manager and E. W. Kelsey, '05, assistant business manager. The artistic editor will be C. S. Cobb, '05. The board for next year will be composed as follows: 1904—E. M. Slocombe, H. C. Hasbrouck and M. B. Garlock; 1905—E. H. Kelsey and W. W. Gail.

THE ALUMNI.

One purpose of THE ALUMNI NEWS is to keep Cornell men informed about one another. Every Cornell man, therefore, is invited to contribute to this column news concerning himself or any other student, and every contributor should remember that in sending news items he is conferring a favor upon other Cornellians.

'73, B. S.—Richard Bacon, a prominent lawyer of Cleveland, is visiting Professor Willard Fiske, at Villa Landor, Florence, Italy. Mr. Bacon was the lawyer for the Fiske-McGraw heirs in the litigation over their estate.

'75, B. M. E.—A. R. Gillis is master mechanic for the Solvay Process Company, of Syracuse, N. Y.

A. B. '76; M. A. '77.—Theodore Stanton had an article in the April Lippincott's Magazine on some unedited letters of Lafayette. The little budget of unedited Castelar letters which appeared in a recent number of the New York Independent was prepared for the press also by Mr. Stanton, who is now engaged in collecting materials for a biography of Rosa Bonheur.

'82, B. S.—Miss Madeleine S. Thompson, of the Astor Library, New York City, spent Sunday with her niece, Miss Caldwell, of Sage College.

'90, E. E.—George H. Wallbridge, who for ten years has been an executive officer of the J. G. Scott Company in New York, has recently been spending a few days in Ithaca. He lectured before the upperclassmen of Sibley College upon "The Commercial Training and Experience Required of the Engineer."

'90, E. E.; '94, M. M. E.—A son was born, May 17, to Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Fortenbaugh, in London, England.

'92, M. E.—F. M. Gilbert is in charge of the centrifugal pump department of the Gould Company, of 26 North Canal street, Chicago.

'93, M. E.—Bancroft Gherardi, jr., is chief engineer for the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, offices at 81 Willoughby street, Brooklyn.

'94, C. E.—On January 28th twins were born to Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Latting, of Mount Vernon, Ohio.

'94, M. E.—William H. Gallagher is consulting engineer for the C. D. & P. Telephone Company, of Pittsburgh. His address is 417 Seventh avenue.

'95, LL B.—R. L. Richardson is residing at 7 South Madison avenue, LaGrange, Ill.

'95, M. E.—Robert L. Gordon, who was formerly mechanical engineer for the Pressed Steel Car Company, now holds a similar position with the Standard Steel Car Company, of 149 West 105th street, New York. He is a member of the New York Railroad Club.

'98, M. E.—Harry Barnes Gear is chief inspector and in charge of the engineering of overhead systems for the Chicago Edison Company. His address is 139 Adams street, Chicago.

'95, E. E.—The engagement is announced of Miss Irene Botsford, of Chicago, to Bernhard Hoffman, '95, of New York City. Mr. Hoffman is manager of the pay station department of the New York Telephone Co. '96, M. E.—E. M. Gilbert is superintendent and chief engineer for the Underfeed Stroker Company of England. Mr. Gilbert has worked up to his present position from that of draftsman. His address is 31 Walbrook, London.

'96, A. B.; '96, LL B.—The engagement is announced of Miss Carolyn M. Wygant, of Peekskill, N. Y., to Joseph A. Greene, of Cold Springs, N. Y.

'97, M. E.—G. F. Gebhardt, who was formerly with the Phoenix Mining Company, of Bingham, Utah, is now professor of machine design at the Armour Institute of Technology, Chicago.

'97, M. E.—Arhur S. Garrett is treasurer for the American Water Supply Company of 914 Harrison building, Philadelphia. He is a member of Franklin Institute.

'98, M. E.—C. W. Gennet, jr., who was formerly draftsman with the Baldwin Locomotive Works, is now inspector in the test department of the Southern Railroad Company of Alexandria, Va.

'99, M. E.—Jesse Young Glenn is estimator for the American Car and Foundry Company, of Berwick, Pa.

'98, LL B.—The Rochester Herald's Spencerport (N. Y.) correspondent says of Mr. Sias: Carleton Sias, of this town, a bright young attorney, who has been practicing law successfully in Rochester for the past three years, has accepted a very flattering offer to become the attorney for the Leavitt & Johnson Trust Company and the Waterloo Savings Bank, at Waterloo, Ia. Mr. Sias expects to leave for Waterloo to take up his new responsibilities about the middle of next August.

Ex '98 — F. H. Fayant recently visited at the College of Agriculture. He is engaged in collecting material for a series of articles in Success on "Scientific Agriculture in America." Mr. Fayant is well known for his articles in the London and New York magazines describing the scientific and engineering sides of Cornell.

'98, B. S. A.—E. Dwight Sanderson is the author of a bulletin on "The Codling Moth," issued by the Delaware College Agricultural Experiment Station of New Jersey.

'99, C. E.—The last number of Harper's Weekly contains an interesting article on the work of a Cornell graduate in Africa. It says: "An American bridge building company represented by a boy of twenty-four years old has just completed twenty-seven railroad bridges for a British line in Uganda, Africa. The Uganda railroad is a line running from the coast above Zanzibar to Victoria Nyanza, the principal source of the Nile. Its construction presented numerous difficult engineering problems. After British bridge builders had taken two years to construct eight viaducts the work was placed in the hands of American engineers to finish in seven months. Through an unforeseen delay it required a year's time to complete the work."

"A. B. Lueder, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., a Cornell graduate, was put in charge of the work. One of the longest viaducts was put up by the American force in sixty-nine working hours to the surprise and amazement of the English engineers in charge of the line." A. B. Lueder is better known as "Pop" Lueder, one of Cornell's greatest football players. He graduated from the University in 1899.

Ex. '99.—David K. Goss, head of the last three years has been instructor in machine design, resigns that position this June to accept a position with the Richle Bros. Testing Company of Philadelphia.

'99, A. B.—David K. Goss, head of the American College at Strassburg, Germany, is spending a few days in the city. Upon his return to Germany he will be accompanied by Professor Jenks's son, Benjamin, and two sons of Mayor Thomas Osborne, of Auburn.

'99, M. E.—James E. Goodman, who was formerly superintendent and agent for the White Plains Lighting Company, and of the Mount Kisco district of the Westchester Lighting Company, is at present living in Miami, Indian Territory.

'00, C. E.—C. T. Chapman has been promoted to the position of assistant engineer of the Owego Bridge Company, Owego, N. Y.

'00, M. E.—Charles S. Gladden is with J. C. White and Company, engineers and contractors, of 29 Broadway, New York. He was formerly laboratorian in the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

'00, M. E.—James M. Gilchrist is secretary and manager for the Federal Electric Company, of 84 Market street, Chicago. He is also agent for the estate of G. S. Ingraham. His address is 5401 Washington avenue.

'01, M. E.—Harrison C. Givens is draftsman in the die department of the Presser Steel Car Company of 1001 California avenue, Alleghany, Pa. He was formerly with the Cayuga Lake Cement Co., at Ithaca, and the Ridgeway Dynamo Company, of Ridgeway, Pa.

'01, M. E.—Howard L. Gilbert is a special apprentice with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, of 820 South avenue, Wilkesburg, Pa.

'01, A. B.—S. K. Alfred Sze, arrived in San Francisco from China last week. He was accompanied by nine young men of China who will be educated in this country. Three will come to Cornell. Mr. Sze and his party will proceed immediately to Washington, but Mr. Sze will come to Ithaca on Memorial Day for the boat race.

'02, A. B.—M. R. Whinery, last year's baseball captain, has been visiting in Ithaca.

'02, M. E.—R. M. Bedell is employed in the engine department of the steamship "El Alba," which runs between New York and Galveston. His address is 20 N. Mountain avenue, Montclair, N. J.

'02, C. E.—H. B. Stevens has removed from Masontown to Scottsdale, Pa.

'02, E. E.—C. D. Young, captain of last year's track team, has changed his address to 515 East Broad street, Columbus, Ohio.

'02, M. E.—W. J. Norton, secretary of his class, is residing at 523 Linden street, Camden, N. J.

'02, A. B., et al.—The Physical Review for May contains an article by W. W. Coblentz and W. C. Geer on "The Infra-Red Emission Spectrum of the Mercury Arc," and a note by

Professor E. L. Nichols on "O. N. Rood."

'02, A. B.—Horace L. Field and wife were recently at the University. Mr. Field has an excellent position in the Regent's office in Albany, as examiner of Greek and Latin papers.

CLASS REUNIONS.

Cornell can learn a whole lot from Princeton about class reunions. The following clipped from a daily newspaper shows what the word means to the men of Old Nassau.

"The great day at Princeton, however, will doubtless be, so the speak, the evening of June 5. At that time will occur the reunions of the classes of '43, '48, '53, '58, '63, '68, '73, '78, '83, '88, '93, '96, '98, '00, and '02. These frisky sons of Princeton will doubtless "pee-rade," as they say at Princeton, class by class, those who have been out of college 60 years leading the procession. Many of them will have forgotten much that they learned in the class rooms, but none of them, it may well be believed, will have forgotten his loyalty for Old Nassau.

The Princeton class reunions illustrate forcibly one of the great benefits of going to college. College furnishes men with something upon which to exercise their faculties of loyalty."

Cornell must devise some scheme for developing class reunions. It will be noticed that at Princeton everything will give way for the alumni on the date set.

FOR UNDERGRADUATES.

Friends of the University have noticed with regret the growing tendency to raise the price of admission to the senior banquets. Although these functions are intended to be class affairs the price has been increased to such an extent that now a large portion of the seniors are barred from participation in the event by the mere fact that it is too costly.

Senior banquets should be in the nature of a final class reunion and not merely an elaborate spread. Class spirit is not nourished by frozen oysters, quail, fancy sealed bottles and beautifully engraved menu cards.

A banquet entirely satisfactory as far as the table goes can be served at a much smaller cost and just as much good fellowship can be developed. Indeed, would not the most modest kind of a lunch at twenty-five cents a plate, with all the members of the class present, be more satisfactory all around than a magnificent spread of style at three dollars and a half a plate, with only a small fraction of the class present?

And what holds true in regard to senior banquets holds true in regard to other class functions. No bar should be put up which will exclude half of the persons for whom the event is intended.

There is a point here, we believe, which should be considered by undergraduates.

New Memorial Seat.

A handsome memorial seat has been presented to Cornell University by Professor and Mrs. B. E. Fernow, in memory of their daughter, Miss Gordon Fernow, who died about a year ago while in her senior year at Cornell.

The seat is a square block of solid granite, about two by four feet and contains an appropriate inscription upon its face. By order of the Trustees it will be erected at once under the trees west of Morrill Hall, a favorite spot with the students, many of whom spend their vacation periods reclining on the grass.

The University now has three memorial seats, one presented by Goldwin Smith, which stands in front of Stimson Hall, and the President White seat west of the Library. Such resting places are very popular with the students, and the authorities welcome each addition to the number.

Lawyers Break the Law.

Nine Cornell law students went to Syracuse University last week to play the law school of the university and in doing so got themselves into difficulties. On their return they were individually called before Dean Crane and reprimanded for breaking section eleven in the rules for the guidance of students which says that no organization representing a whole or part of the University shall leave town without permission from the faculty. Otherwise it was pointed out the University may be represented by undesirable men or may meet undesirable competitors.

INTERCOLLEGIATE CHANCES.

Trainer Moakley Tells What Cornell Men Can Do—Does Not Predict Results.

The Intercollegiate meet next Saturday winds up the track season for this year. The chances for a good showing Friday and Saturday are purely problematical. It is impossible to state to a certainty the number of points we should score there, or in what events we will make our points. The three spring meets with Syracuse, Pennsylvania and Princeton, gave us a good line on what we might fear from them, but with Harvard and Yale and the many other colleges that will be represented there, Cornell has much to fear.

Outside of Harvard and Yale, we have easily the next best all around team in the country. Last year I believed the same of our team, but yet among such a galaxy of stars, Cornell was only able to score three points.

The Mott Haven team will consist of about fifteen men: Captain Warren and H. A. Rogers will run in the quarter mile. The former did 49 4-5 seconds in the Pennsylvania meet, while Rogers was close at his heels. F. W. Poate will run in the mile. He was beaten a scant yard by Bowen of Pennsylvania in 4 29 3-5. Schutt will run the two mile. He holds the collegiate record of 9m. 42 2-5 sec. G. P. Serviss, jr., and H. F. Porter are the entries in the high jump. Both cleared 6 feet 1 inch at the indoor meet with Michigan. Since the outdoor season opened, 5 feet 10 1/2 inches made by them against Princeton Saturday is their best work. Serviss sprained his ankle early in the year and Porter bruised his heel badly and neither of them have had much practice.

Cairns has broken the Cornell record twice this year in the low hurdles, the present record is 25 2-5 seconds. F. J. Porter is showing steady improvement in the shot, his present record being 43 ft. 7 in.

The above men, I believe, stand good chances of scoring, judging from the performances made by the other colleges this spring. They make a strong nucleus to start with.

Carroll, Fredericks and Phillips will compete in the pole vault. Each has done 11 ft. or better this spring. There is a possibility of Fredericks and Phillips getting out of the erratic rut they are in and with Carroll's steady improvement, we can hope for points in this event. Both Moxley and Hutton have thrown the hammer 137 feet in competition; a slight improvement on this might add another point winner. Ketchum in the high hurdles has reached the last six in the semi-finals at Berkeley Oval for the past two years. He has improved enough this spring to reach the last four in the final heat.

Foster who won third place in the two mile event last year, will not be with the team. The severe illness which he had in the early spring left him in very weak condition and he was unable to reach his form of the preceding year. Several members of the track squad may go with the team and compete there for the benefit they will gain for future competitions.

JOHN F. MOAKLEY.

CORNELL WINS.

Track Team Defeats Princeton by Score of 67 to 50 in Meet at Albany—The Events.

Our Varsity track team defeated the Princeton track and field athletes at Albany on Saturday for the third successive time in a dual competition by a score of 67 to 50.

Cornell gave an excellent exhibition of team work. Each aggregation took six firsts, while one event was tied. But while the number of points on firsts were evenly divided, Cornell took second and third places in five of the events in which Princeton men finished first, while the Tigers took second and third in only two events where Cornell won firsts.

On the track Cornell won 45 points to 27 for Princeton, while the Tigers with the aid of DeWitt managed to beat Cornell by only one point in the field events, the record being 23 for Princeton and 22 for Cornell.

Warren's Work.

The contests were notable in that they proved Captain Warren the best point winner of the Ithaca team. He took first in the 100-yard dash, second in the 220 and second in the 440, making a total of 11 points. Warren is said to be the only captain in several years who has won a first place in a dual meeting after being chosen captain, and as a performer he is a marked exception to the rule. His time of 10 seconds flat in the 100-yards after being penalized one yard for a false start was remarkable.

Carroll's defeat of Horton, the intercollegiate champion pole vaulter, was also a notable feature of the meeting.

Cairns did well in the hurdle races, winning one and getting second in the other. The work of Armstrong was a great surprise to the Cornell men, and he proved himself much better than they thought he would be.

Cornell won the first event, the 100-yard dash. McCarthy led for 80 yards, but at that point Warren and Phelan, who had started three feet behind the mark, passed him, while Ogle crept into third place. The next event made the score an even break, for Armstrong won first in the high hurdles, with Cairns second and Ketchum third. Cairns was beaten only in the last few yards.

Other Races.

In the mile run Schutt and Camp alternated in the lead almost the whole distance. Swann of Princeton was strong, however, and followed the Cornell men into third place, Camp beating Schutt in the last few yards.

The quarter mile was a pretty race. The three Cornell starters, Warren, Rogers and Wallis, outgeneraled the Princeton men, Rogers and Warren running into first and second places respectively.

Only the quarter intervened between the mile and two-mile races, and Schutt was saved for the half mile. Eisle of Princeton, Foster and Poate of Cornell were well bunched for almost the entire distance, but in a long sprint Poate slowly drew away from Eisle, winning first by five yards. The Princeton man was three yards ahead of Foster. The slow time in the race was partly due to the strong wind.

In the low hurdles Cairns led all the way, winning the race handily from Armstrong, who had captured the high stick event.

In the 220 dash Warren, after having competed in the 100 and the 440, again met Phelan, who had run only in the 100. Phelan won the event after a close contest, but Warren took second and Rogers third.

Schutt led the runners in the half-mile until the finish of the race. Overman then came forward with Adsit of Princeton, and the latter worked into first place. Overman ran an excellent race and beat Schutt for second.

Field Events.

In the field events Cornell took a larger number of points than was expected. DeWitt was a sure winner in the shot and hammer, but Cornell took second and third in each. The good balance of the team was shown in the hammer, where Hutton, who has been throwing farther than Moxley in practice, was beaten by Moxley for second. F. J. Porter's shot-put of 43 feet 5 1-2 inches practically equalled the Cornell record.

Longnecker was not in condition for the broad jump and stopped after a few easy attempts. In the high jump Serviss, H. F. Porter and Tooker tied at 5 feet 10 1-2 inches. The bar could be raised only two inches at a time, and none of the jumpers could clear 6 feet 1-2 inch the next higher jump. Had the bar been moved more gradually one or the other of the Cornell men would undoubtedly have beaten Tooker. In the event Cornell was given six and Princeton three points.

Trainer Moakley has begun to cut down the squad. Foster, Hibbard, McCarthy, Longnecker and Tanner have left the table. The team for the intercollegiate meeting on Friday and Saturday will be picked this week. Several New York papers devoted much space to Cornell's chances but all have made various misstatements. Sears will not compete for Cornell, while Longnecker will be out of it. Serviss will, on the other hand, be a competitor.

The Cornell-Princeton summaries follow

100-yards dash—Warren, Cornell, won; Phelan, Princeton, second; Ogle, Princeton, third. Time, 10 seconds.

120-yards hurdle—Armstrong, P., won; Cairns, C., second; Ketchum, C., third. Time 16 seconds.

TWICE DEFEATED.

Nine Loses to Manhattan and Michigan on Home Grounds— The Score.

Cornell was defeated by Michigan at base ball last Saturday on Percy Field in one of the poorest exhibitions of the game played this year. The score at the end of the ten innings was 9 to 8 in favor of the visitors.

Chase and Utley, the rival twirlers broke even for honors. Each played with judgment and coolness but both allowed a great many hits. Chase's support was poor at critical points. Lewis was the only man who played a satisfactory game in the infield.

Errors by Lewis and A. Costello allowed Utley to make the first score for Michigan.

In the second inning Roche got first on a dead ball, was advanced to second by Utley's hit and both scored on Ferguson's error that brought in the third run.

Brewster made Cornell's first run by hitting a long three-bagger to left and coming in on Chase's single. Lewis walked to first, was advanced two bases on Chase's hit and scored while Chase was being caught out at second.

In the sixth two more were made and the tally was tied. Two more runs were made in the seventh, but Michigan on errors by Ferguson and Umstad got Bird and Cutting on bases. A hit by Carrothers brought them in. Redding got a base on balls and a hit by Cole brought both home.

Michigan finished the ninth inning apparently a winner with a lead of two scores. But after two men were out Cornell made two exciting runs. Champaign got first and second on a fielder's choice and came home on Brewster's second three-bagger. Brewster then scored on a hit by Ferguson. These runs tied the score.

In the tenth Captain Utley saved his own game by hitting a two-bagger, and coming home on Cutting's long hit. Cornell went out in one, two, three order.

Manhattan Game.

Cornell lost the first game after the return from the Eastern trip to Manhattan College on Wednesday by a score of 4 to 0. The visitors played an errorless game and showed an expertness that was up to the best professional standard.

The pitcher for the visitors, Minnihan, was an enigma for the home team, who succeeded in making only four hits. Cornell had a good chance to score in the fifth when Chase with a two base hit advanced Ferguson to third with no one out, but the good work of Minnihan prevented a score.

Only once after the fifth, except when Lewis made a three base hit, did Cornell succeed in getting to first.

Work of the Individual Men on Eastern Trip Shown by Full Tally as Requested.

Owing to lack of space, we were unable to print, in our last issue, the box scores of the baseball games of the recent Eastern trip. Several requests for us to do so have been received during the past few days, and in compliance with these, we print the score below. It was impossible to secure the full score for the Williams game.

WINS EIGHTY-SIX PRIZE.

E. H. Kelley, '05, Carries off Honors in Annual Declamation Contest.

The seventeenth annual contest for the '86 Memorial prize was held Friday night in the Armory before an audience that comfortably filled the auditorium. The prize was awarded to E. H. Kelley, '05, who delivered a selection from the speech of Senator Thurston in advocacy of intervention in Cuba. Mr. Kelley was one of the strongest speakers of the stage, probably showing more force than any other speaker and impressing all with the sincerity of his convictions. Directness and intensity were his leading characteristics.

H. J. Richardson, '05, opened the program by effectively delivering a selection from Grady, "If Ye but Live 'Till Tomorrow."

William A. Murphy, '04, gave an oration entitled "John Brown." He held his audience by the originality of his delivery and the perfect naturalness of his vocal renderings.

Miss K. V. Larkin, '05 Law, spoke a difficult selection on poetry and patriotism with simple directness and excellent enunciation. Her voice filled the hall. She merited the hearty applause that followed.

Sidney Rossman, '05, was the only speaker who spoke an original oration. This fact may have accounted for the unusual effectiveness of his plea for tolerance. He was not free from faults of gesture and position, but that he was effective was very evident.

R. P. Butler, '05, did not have a selection with an inspiring message, but he spoke what he had in a very creditable manner.

E. B. Nell, '03, had a selection from "The Leopard's Spots" in eulogy of the Anglo-Saxon. He spoke with fire and enthusiasm, urging that the negro be eliminated from the political life of the south.

F. S. Auerbach, '04, gave a fine interpretation of Cousin's "Heroes of the Maine." His voice was beautifully moderated and expressed the minutest shades of meaning.

John R. Redmond, '05 Law, spoke forcefully on the Mormon question as related to polygamy.

E. A. Rogers, '05 Law, continued the discussion of the negro, with a selection from Grady. He won his audience by his mellow voice and sympathetic tones, which made his delivery unique.

W. P. Allen, '05, found his audience wearied, but he awakened their interest in the subject of education and did well to hold it.

O. A. Molatch, '04, concluded the program with a dramatic account of Sergeant Prentiss's first plea that held the audience to the end. He did not speak sufficiently at his audience. What faults he showed were possibly inherent in his selection.

The judges were Brainard G. Smith of Ithaca, Jervis Langdon, '97, of Elmira, and Professor Henry White of Hamilton College.

Sibley Journal Appointments.

At a meeting of the Sibley Journal board the recent election of W. H. Price, '04, and G. R. McDermott, jr., '05, was ratified. W. N. Hodge, '05, was chosen by the retiring board as the result of a competition. W. H. Kniskern and C. A. Dawley were elected as the senior members for the coming year.

DEBATING WORK.

New Scheme Presented for League Contests—Plans for Next Year—Great Interest Developing.

Debating for the year is at an end. It remains for the Debate Council to work out a definite policy for ensuing years, out of a tangle of conflicting possibilities and wishes. The year has in many respects been one of transition for the debating interests of the University, and if it is to be judged solely by debates won, it has not been a conspicuous success; but those who have been in touch with conditions and know of results not measured or even indicated by judges' decisions, are neither discouraged nor dissatisfied.

This was the first year in which Cornell has undertaken two intercollegiate debates. During the past year, Varsity teams have met Pennsylvania and Columbia, losing to both, and Cornell Congress, the champion debating organization of the University, won from Alfred University. The freshman club lost to Jamestown high school at Jamestown, April 24.

Judging by the debates won and lost, it would seem that the policy of more than one debate a year has been a failure. This inference is hardly warranted. On the other hand a larger number of men have gained experience in debate and public speaking; a larger number have become interested in this work, and today it is not exaggeration to say that there is in the University and unprecedented number of men regarded as good material for intercollegiate teams. More opportunities for attaining debating honors have brought more men into the work. Cornell is thus in good position for next year and for future years. Debate has moved up to a more prominent place among undergraduate activities. Indicative of this is the change in debate management to student control and responsibility.

Next Year's Work.

A definite statement with reference to next year's debates cannot be made at this time. Cornell has for some years sought the formation of a triangular debating league with Columbia and Pennsylvania. At the time of the Columbia debate this year, representatives of the three universities met in New York and drew up the tentative agreement published in the Alumni News some weeks ago. Certain incidents of the Columbia debate nearly led to the defeating of this agreement by Cornell. It was proposed by some to continue the annual contest with Pennsylvania and to substitute for the Columbia debate a contest with some leading western university. This idea found much favor.

At a meeting May 23 the Debate Council finally ratified the proposed agreement, conditional upon the adoption of a plan for conducting the debates proposed by the University of Pennsylvania. Under this plan, all three debates will be held on the same night and on the same question, each institution putting in the field both an affirmative and a negative team. A possible schedule under this plan would be

	AFFIRMATIVE	NEGATIVE
At Ithaca .....	Cornell.....	Columbia
At Philadelphia .....	Pennsylvania.....	Cornell
At New York .....	Columbia.....	Pennsylvania

In behalf of this plan it is urged that it will obviate difficulties in dates; will afford satisfactory adjustment as to questions; and will put each university on an equal footing with the others. It is thus in accord with the highest debating ideals, and marks a distinct improvement in the management of intercollegiate debating.

If this plan is acceptable to Columbia, the league will be perfected at once. If Columbia does not accept the modification proposed by Pennsylvania, the future of the league is uncertain.

If the league arrangement falls through, or if it cannot begin operation until 1904, Cornell will debate Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in December, and in March will debate with some leading western university, probably Wisconsin, Iowa or Chicago, at Ithaca. Many students are strongly urging a Western debate as an annual event, on the ground that it would increase interest in debating and would be of much more service to the University than a contest in New York. It has been definitely ascertained that it would be possible to secure a desirable western debate, and thus two contests for next year are assured. The prevailing preference, however, is the inception of the league.

After the Easter vacation a number of the debate organizations within the University will have outside contests. Congress will again meet Alfred; Hamilton College has expressed a desire to meet the Senior Club; debates are in view for the junior and sophomore clubs, and the freshmen will meet some preparatory school which has attained distinction in debating. It is felt that these contests will be training-ground for Varsity debaters.

Next year promises to be a period of unusual activity and interest in debating, and the prospects for success are good.

Inspects Soldiers.

Captain Edwin V. Bookmiller, U. S. Army, was detailed to make the annual inspection of the Cornell University cadet corps, in accordance with war department regulations. The inspection took place at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Captain Bookmiller is an officer of the Ninth Infantry, the regiment which probably has had harder service in the field than and other regiment of the Army engaged in recent campaigns. This regiment, after participating in the Santiago campaign, was transferred to the Philippines, where it saw service of the most active nature, suffering great losses in action.

—The standard for graduation in architecture was materially raised at the meeting of the faculty of the college held Saturday. For the ten hours of freshman mathematics the student will now take 12 hours of senior design in his junior year and the work of the senior year will be correspondingly advanced.

—Alfred Huger, '03, who was Cornell's delegate at the Central Oratorical League contest held at Morgantown, West Virginia, Saturday, was given fourth place. Mr. Huger delivered the oration which won the Woodford prize recently. Hall T. Keener of Indiana University carried off first prize.

PLANS TO REBUILD.

Chi Phi Fraternity will Repair Damage Wrought by Fire—Many Personal Effects Saved.

Plans for rebuilding the Chi Phi lodge which was partly burned last week are already under way. The house was so badly damaged that it will have to be practically rebuilt. It is expected that it will be ready for occupancy at the beginning of instruction in the fall. A survey of the havoc wrought by the fire shows that it is much more extensive than was at first apparent.

The fire after it started in the second floor west end its way to the third story and thence spread to the attic. After the flames had been put out a large section of the roof fell in. The water soaked down to the lower floors and ruined the draperies and damaged greatly the hard wood floors. An appraisal puts the total loss at about $12,000, which is covered by insurance. The personal loss of the students is slight. All that was of value in the lower floors was removed.

Till the lodge is rebuilt a rough shed to be built in the tennis court will shelter all that was rescued from the house. The homeless members of the fraternity were cordially and promptly received into the neighboring lodges as guests for the rest of the year.
