Cornell University has an enduring commitment to support equality of education and employment opportunity by affirming the value of diversity and by promoting an environment free from discrimination. Association with Cornell, either as a student, faculty, or staff member, involves participation in a free community where all people are recognized and rewarded on the basis of individual performance rather than personal convictions, appearance, preferences (including sexual or affectional orientation), or happenstance of birth.

Cornell University's history of diversity and inclusion encourages all students, faculty, and staff to support a diverse and inclusive university in which to work, study, teach, research, and serve. No person shall be denied admission to any educational program or activity or denied employment on the basis of any legally prohibited discrimination involving, but not limited to, factors such as race, color, creed, religion, national or ethnic origin, gender, sexual orientation, age, disability, or veteran status. Cornell University is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer.

Concerns and complaints related to equal opportunity in education and employment based on aspects of diversity protected under federal, state, and local law, including sexual harassment complaints filed by any member of the Cornell community against an academic or nonacademic staff member, as well as complaints arising under Title IX, should be directed to the Office of Workforce Diversity: Equity and Life Quality, 160 Day Hall, Ithaca, NY 14853-2801 (telephone: 607-255-3976; fax: 607-255-7181; TDD: 607-255-7066; www.ohr.cornell.edu/workLifeDiversity/index.html).

Cornell University is committed to assisting those persons with disabilities who have special needs related to their educational pursuit or employment. Information on services provided to prospective and current Cornell students with disabilities can be obtained by contacting Student Disability Services, Center for Learning and Teaching, 420 Computing and Communications Center, Ithaca, NY 14853-6601 (telephone: 607-255-1545; facsimile: 607-255-1562; TDD: 607-255-7665; www.clt.cornell.edu). Prospective and current employees in need of a workplace accommodation pursuant to the Americans with Disabilities Act or New York State law should contact Workers Compensation and Disability Services, Surge 3 Facility, Ithaca, NY 14853-5700 (telephone: 607-255-3708; fax: 607-255-9649; TDD: 607-255-7066).

Members of the Cornell University community are strongly encouraged to report immediately any criminal activity and suspicious person(s) to the Cornell University Police Department. Incidents that may or may not be crimes may also be reported to "campus security authorities," which include, in addition to the Cornell University Police, those with responsibility for controlling access to buildings or facilities and officials having significant responsibility for students or campus activities. Licensed counselors and campus clergy (pastoral counselors) are exempt from reporting requirements. Cornell University encourages counselors and clergy, if and when they deem it appropriate, to inform those who they counsel of procedures for reporting crimes on a voluntary, confidential basis for inclusion in the Cornell University Police Statistical Crime Record.

For Cornell University directory information or general information, call 607 255-2000 or 607 254-INFO. The 2006-2007 Courses of Study is available on the web at cuinfo.cornell.edu/Academic/Courses/.
